PEACE TREATY AND WILSON MEAN MUCH

FOMER SANFORD RESIDENT IN SWITZERLAND THINKS AMERICA IS THE LEADER AND GUIDE OF ALL NATIONS

Lausanne, Switzerland, July 4, 1919.

To Bob Holly, Editor Sanford Herald. The writer has just read the last issue of the Herald and he is thinking of you and the dear old Sanford.

This is a memorable day and a glorious day, and a happy day, for America, and for all Americans wherever they happen to be. Yes, happy day because—as President Taylor in his inaugural address, congratulated the nation, on the fact that the U. S. was at peace with all the world and the rest of mankind) we are now at peace with the whole world.

Since the signing of the Great Peace Treaty at Paris by the representatives of many if not all the States, Nations, Empires, Kingdoms and Principalities on the Globe. Yes this should be the proudest anniversary since the Star Spangled flag was hung to the breeze—and the shouts and huzzas of victorious America—after the end of a seven years' war.

From my window, I am gazing out over the tops of the great buildings, churches and Cathedrals of this ancient and most interesting educational center and city; at some of the high snow-capped Alps; across and beyond Lake Geneva and musing and thinking soberly and seriously of the past, the remote past, the recent past and the present hour, and "Says I to myself says I" "It is doubtful whether Bob Holly or I realize to its full extent the great fact that he and I have lived and are now living in the grandest period and era of recorded time, and that we see almost every passing day the actual evidence of the highest and grandest achievements of human endeavor along every line of "mind activity" till we come to the point and admit that there is practically nothing that the mind of man, in its loftiest flights of imagination has conceived that the Yankee can not accomplish either on land or on the sea or under the sea, or in the air.

We are inclined to take it all as a matter of course and do not halt "to Stop, Look, Listen" for the mighty engines of progress and advancement, and fail to realize the fact that the signing of the Treaty of Peace at the Congress of Nations and Parliament of the world and the creation of a League of Nations at Paris on June 28th A. D. 1919 was by far the most momentous event and achievement of all the Cycles of Centuries in this beautiful world since God under the most extraordinary and peculiar circumstances procured "an ordinary spare rib" and converted it into a thing of beauty, yes into a thing so beautiful, charming and lovely that He called it WOMAN and then and there gave her the name of Eve.

You probably remember the bible story. That act of achievement was the act of a God, yes of our God and Saviour of the World. The Treaty of Peace and League of Nations was the act and achievement of men, REAL MEN, the principal one being Woodrow Wilson.

The poignant and tragic events and facts of recent history convince us that the grand and momentous achievement referred to was one most happy result of the very recent world-wide conflagration that involved and enveloped the entire world in a monstrous war of unparalleled savagery, cruelty and ferocious brutality and in which rivers of blood were shed and Eight Millions of brave, patriotic, red-blooded young men—the hope of the world—among them Three Hundred Thousand of our boys, yes our boys, some from Sanford, and the very cream and pick and flower of America's young manhood, gave their lives for their country and are now sleeping that dreamless sleep that knows no waking in the bosom of shell-torn and shot-riddled France. Who can estimate our loss? May they all rest in peace till they shall respond to the call of Roll on the morning of resurrection.

Now, Mr. Bob Holly, is it not wonderful, strange and startling, when we look "facts in the face" and discover that "quite or about 80 millions of human beings of all nationalities, tongues and religions throughout the earth, the direct posterity and progeny of that same mother, Eve who so miraculously was created, stand today hats off and eyes turned Heavenward, thanking God for Woodrow Wilson and for the grand work he has done and still trying to do for better world conditions and for the amelioration of human woe and misery and the avoidanced of war?

In the face of these facts, historic facts, is it not passing strange and provoking that U. S. Senators like Lodge and others should exert themselves on partisan grounds and for political effect to embarrass the President in every possible way to prevent the creation of a "League of Nations" and a "Congress of Nations" and Parliament of the world? Many people denounce their conduct as contemptible.

The World exonerates Senator Lodge unmercifully and among other things says that he is insincere economical of the truth and that he despises President Wilson and hates Democrats generally and has no more conscience than a Jack-Rabbit.

ROAD BONDS OF SEMINOLE ABOVE PAR

SOLD TO TOLEDO FIRM AT FINE FIGURE. COUNTY TO GET AID FROM STATE.

Seminole county claims the distinction of being among the smallest youngest and most progressive counties in the state. Not only is this county the leader in good roads movements but the leader in the growing of winter vegetables, in fruits, in transportation facilities and "everything".

Our latest sale in road bonds taking place here Tuesday was a record breaker the bonds issue of $300,000 selling for $312,861 and accrued interest. The buying was very spirited and the lucky firm getting these gilt edged bonds was the W. L. Slayton firm of Toledo Ohio.

On the heels of the bond sale comes the news from Tallahassee that Seminole will get a great big lift from the state road fund as the following dispatch dated yesterday indicates:

"The sum of $4,932,000 was apportioned by the state road department from Federal and state aid funds for completing the unsurfaced gaps on the main trunk highways forming the state road system of Florida, during its meeting here yesterday and today.

The funds apportioned will, in the majority of cases, be used in conjunction with funds provided through county bond issues; in fact, many of the apportionments were made with the provision that the counties provide either stated amounts or amounts sufficient to complete the gaps when added to the state and Federal aid funds provided by the department.

In making these apportionments the department did not fix any standard of road mileage, population or cost per mile; but made sufficient to meet the needs of each particular case and upon the merits hereof.

The roads covered by the apportionments were:

Road No. 1, from Pensacola to Jacksonville

Road No. 2, from the Georgia state line to Fort Myers, via Jasper, through Hamilton, Columbia, Alachua, Marion, Lake Orange, Ocala; Polk and De Soto counties.

Road No. 3, the St. Johns river scenic highway, through Putnam, Volusia and Seminole counties.

Road No. 4, from the Georgia state line via Hilliard, Nassau county Jacksonville, and down the east coast to Miami

Road No. 5, from High Springs to Sarasota, via Brooksville and Tampa, and several other roads not yet numbered.

THE FINE NEW VALDEZ HOTEL

NOW IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION WILL BE MODERN IN EVERY RESPECT

The cut above does not give a good view of the new Hotel Valdez as it is taken from an architect's drawing and not an actual photograph but one can gain some idea of how the new hotel will look when it is finished.

The fourth floor is now being built and the building is assuming some of the proportions of a real classy hotel. The new Valdez will be ready for occupancy on or about the first of November and will be the home of tourists and transients as it will be most modern in every respect.

The location of the Hotel Valdez is ideal in every way being close enough to the lake shore as to afford a good view of the lake and is also located right in the heart of things in a business way and a trip over the hotel now gives one the impression that the hotel will be one of the coolest and cosiest of hotels in this state.

The Hotel Co., expects to spend about $100,000 in building and furnishing the hotel and it will add greatly to this city as a tourist resort. The company also own sufficient property to the east of the main building to give plenty of room for garden and flower space and as the hotel grows to expand and add on a hundred more rooms.

The Hotel Valdez is being constructed by W. P. Richardson & Co of Jacksonville who are well and favorably known in the building trade all over the state and the new hotel when finished will be the pride of the city and country.

BALL GAMES FOR THE WEEK

BOX SCORES OF ALL GAMES PLAYED BY SANFORD TEAM

The ball fever is as strong as ever and no amount of rain can cool the ardor of the fans who are out to every game played here and even follow up the team when it plays further south.

The pennant is being flaunted in the faces of at least three of the teams now and it is anybody's rag that will step up lively and take it off the pole. Lakeland tried it this week and almost succeeded but Sanford would not stand for it and when they allowed them one game just to keep them in good humor came back in the second game and showed them that the old celery pep was still there.

Sanford suffered some with crippled players and the usual run of luck but we undoubtedly have the best team in the league regardless of whether Orlando will acknowledge it or not and at the present writing we are holding the flag and all the prospects are good for Sanford to take the first series.

Sanford Wins at Tampa

Says the Tampa Tribune: 7:30

The Celery Feds favor the slight Smoker sinner his first facing of season, sending him to cover and then peppered Corcho soundly for the tying and winning tallies. Undaunted by the spurt the Smokers fought fiercely even through the tenth, recovering half of the lead that raced across on Inman's dumpy left back of first base in the front end of the tenth.

Tamp has seen teams come from behind, in fact that is the one spot where the Smokers have been strong, but there never was a gamer rally staged on Plant field than that four-fush finish of the Sanford outfit that piled up six runs to win.

MILLIONS OF POUNDS IN FOODSTUFFS

WILL BE OFFERED TO CONSUMERS BY GOVERNMENT THROUGH POSTMASTER AT COST PRICES.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Through the postmasters of the country, the war department today will offer direct to consumers its present available supply of surplus foodstuffs, amounting to approximately 341,000,000 pounds. The surplus, consisting of canned vegetables and meats, is expected to be sold within a week at prices representing the cost to the government, plus postage.

Arrangements for the sale of the foodstuffs, directed by a resolution passed yesterday by the house, were made today at a conference held by Secretary Baker with the post-office officials and Representative Kelly, of Pennsylvania, author of the resolution.

Secretary Baker at the close of the conference said a price list covering the entire available surplus would be prepared at once by Assistant Secretary Crowell. This list, it was said, at the postoffice department, would be sent out to each of the 54,000 postmasters of the country and to every rural route carrier. The Postmasters and carriers in arrangements made at the conference, will act as government salesmen, informing interested consumers of the prices and methods of sale and taking orders for the foodstuffs. Payment will be made by buyers at the time the orders are given the postmasters and carriers, who will issue receipts which will be redeemable in cash in event of inability to fill orders through the exhaustion of the supply.

Will Be Distributed

In accordance with the house resolution the foodstuffs would be distributed by parcel post, and the prices to be quoted at each postoffice will represent the original cost of the foodstuffs to the government and the parcel post transportation charges from the nearest war department depot having the foodstuffs in storage.

The prices quoted, officials said, would be considerably below the prevailing market prices.

While the amount of foodstuffs in each class has not been estimated hearings before a house war investigating committee recently showed the value of the surplus available July 8 to be approximately as follows:

Canned vegetables, $23,000,000; corned beef, $24,000,000; bacon, $23,000,000; hashed corned beef, $10,000,000; roast beef, $20,500,000; fresh frozen meats and poultry, $20,000,000.

THE SEMINOLE HOTEL OPENS DINING ROOM

MANAGER KRAUTH WILL OPEN DINING ROOM SUNDAY MORNING AT BREAKFAST

The Seminole Hotel will have the real opening of this fine place Sunday morning when the dining room will be open for the first time at the breakfast hour.

The Seminole recently placed in first class shape was obliged to open the rooms on account of the insistent demand from the public that they be accommodated and since that time the hotel has been crowded to the capacity.

The dining room had not been opened as Mr. and Mrs. Campbell were inclined to wait until they could procure the right man to take charge of this, the most important part of the establishment. Such a man was finally procured in the person of Kay Krauth for many years associated with the Gilreath restaurant in Jacksonville and a man with years experience in every department of the restaurant and hotel business.

Mr. Krauth has been here for the past week waiting for the fixtures and equipment to be shipped and while all the material has not arrived he has decided to open the dining rooms on Sunday next and already the bookings for places the first day have been heavy and the popularity of this first class place is already assured.

The Seminole Hotel is undoubtedly one of the best hotels in the state and the only objection is that there are insufficient rooms to accommodate the many people who want to make this hotel their home while in the city. B. W. Herndon the owner of the building looking ahead to the needs of the city remodeled the entire building a few months ago and made over the first floor into a dining room, the kitchen in the basement and added more rooms to the hotel on the first floor with a nice lobby and ladies room and all the conveniences of a modern hotel in every respect. This was done after he had secured Mr. and Mrs. Campbell to take charge of the hotel. Mr. Campbell is the popular representative of the Lewis-Chitty Co., of Jacksonville and being a travelling man knows what they want in the hotel line and for several years past Mrs. Campbell had an idea that she could do nothing better than giving the commercial men and the tourists a real hotel in Sanford and the Seminole Hotel is the result—all that can be desired in this line.

With the opening of the dining room next Sunday the new hotel enters upon its initial entree and makes its formal bow to the public with the best wishes of the people of Sanford for a grand success.

Mrs. Henry Purden Entertains

Mrs. Henry Purden entertained a few friends at her home on Palmetto avenue on Wednesday afternoon in honor of her sister, Mrs. Hewett of Waynesboro, Georgia and her school-mate, Miss Rebecca Padgett of Gainesville.

The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with flowers and ferns and trailing vines and the rooms were most cool and inviting to the guests.

Three tables of bridge and five hundred for those who wished to play and other diversions helped to pass a most pleasant afternoon and gave Sanford people the opportunity to meet Mrs. Purden's guests.

Teed tea and delicious sandwiches and cake were served to the guests at the close of the card games.

Mrs. Hewett has many friends here having visited in Sanford as Miss Louise Blount. Miss Padgett is one of Gainesville's fairest daughters and at present is taking voice culture in one of the largest studios in New York.

Another French Bride

Martin Temple has arrived home from France where he served during the war being stationed the greater part of the time at Brest. He brought home a French bride being the second Sanford boy to marry in France. They are the guests of Mr. Temple's sister, Mrs. W. H. Hines.

BALE YOUR HAY

The time has come when every farmer must save every sprig of hay he can, the Spring crop has been practically a failure, but every Farmer will make lots of hay if he will take care of it. The only way to take care of it is to Bale it, the only way to handle Hay is to Bale it. Why not buy a press and Bale your hay when from three to four tons will pay for the press, then you will have one for the next 15 years. Hay is selling right in your home town at $50 to $60 per ton.

CATTLEMEN IN MEETING AT ORLANDO

State Live Stock Sanitary Board. Following adoption of the resolutions a number of the cattlemen requested Dr. E. M. Nighbert, representing the government in Florida, to state the government's attitude. He said that during his eighteen year's experience in eradication of cattle ticks in several of the quarantined states he never knew of any county where the people were unanimously in favor of the work until after it had been completed, so he believed that the good old democratic doctrine of letting the majority rule should be followed in counties where elections have been favorable to compulsory dipping of cattle. At the same time the government encourages the working of large areas of quarantined territory in units to facilitate the handling of cattle on the ranges, and the important matter now for the several counties where systematic work has been started is to get ready by providing the necessary dipping vats and funds for conducting the work, continually emphasizing the educational feature to secure cooperation of the greatest number possible.

The action of the convention has no effect on the progress of work in Seminole county, where the vote at election on July 16th of last year was 185 for compulsory dipping of cattle to only 34 against, and it is expected that the work in this county will continue in full force until the county is cleaned up and released from quarantine, giving our cattlemen the advantage of open markets for their surplus cattle.

Ways of Young Sparrows.
After the young sparrows leave the nest, they gather in flocks, which with other birds return every night to the same roosting place, writes Frank W. Chapman, in "Our Winter Birds." Sometimes this is in a densely-folaged tree, at others in ivy or other vines. The birds all seem to chatter together in a chorus which is fortunately hushed by the approach of darkness.

Author of the "Doxology."
The author of the "Doxology" was the English bishop Thomas Ken (1625-1711), who in 1689, was deprived of his see (Hatch and Wells) as a non-juror. His most widely known hymns include the morning and evening hymns, "Awake, My Soul" and "Glory to Thee, My God, This Night," both of which end with the words "Doxology." "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

Three Capital Crimes.
"When I was a boy," states Mr. Patch in Stockton Herald, "there were three capital crimes—murder, blasphemy, and lying abed in the morning. Of the three, murder and blasphemy might sometimes be forgiven, but late rising never. One of my grandfathers frequently got up at four o'clock on a winter morning, built a fire in the cook stove and then would sit down by it and go to sleep."—Kansas City Times

DURANT CAR RECOVERED
Good Work of Sheriff's Office Locates Car at Palatka

The Ford car of H. C. Durant, who lives near Lake Mary was stolen early last Saturday morning and Sheriff Brady and his force were early on the scent and tracked the car south. Deputies Whidden and Tillis went as far as Haines City and lost track of the car there as the thieves turned north.

The sheriff's office kept the wires hot meantime and sent post cards describing the car all over the state and early Thursday morning Sheriff Hagan of Putnam county nailed two negroes in the car near Palatka. They failed to halt at his command and he shot them bringing the car to a halt. It proved to be the Durant car and the two negroes were recognized as men belonging to an organized gang that has been operating in the state for some time and these two had twelve indictments hanging over them for various robberies.

Mr. and Mrs. Durant are greatly pleased to get back their car as they had only owned it for a few weeks and it was new and in good condition.

Sheriff Brady and his efficient deputies deserve credit for their prompt work in leading off the thieves before they could get out of the state or dispose of the car.

RACE RIOTS IN CHICAGO
State Troops Ordered out to Quell Trouble

Chicago, July 30. - The state troops were ordered from the armories tonight to various points regarded as danger centers. Requests for the troops was made to Adjutant-General Dickson by Mayor Thompson to control the race riots.

The decision to use troops to patrol the dangerous parts of the trouble zone was taken tonight as a precautionary measure after Adjutant-General Dickson had made a round of the South Side negro district and its environs.

The situation was more serious than twenty-four hours before. It was not deemed necessary at the time the mayor asked for the troops to proclaim martial law and whether Governor Lowden was prepared to take that step was not made known. It seemed to be generally believed that placing the militiamen on patrol duty would prevent further serious rioting.

"From what I have seen this afternoon and evening, I should judge the situation and temperament of the people is more serious than it was at this time the night before," said the adjutant-general.

There were four deaths and a score of persons wounded or beaten in a continued rioting today. The outbreaks were widely scattered. Of the four deaths, all of which were the result of shooting, two were the result of wounds received in the rioting of Monday and Tuesday nights.

Tonight the official death list for four days showed thirty, of whom seventeen were negroes.

RETURN WIRE LINES
Government gives Telegraph and Telephone Lines to Owners.

Washington, July 31. - Government control of telegraph and telephone properties will end at midnight tomorrow night. Orders for their return to private owners were issued today by Postmaster-General Burleson as required under a resolution adopted by congress and signed by President Wilson ten days ago.

Mr. Burleson, in a statement accompanying his order, said sound public opinion ultimately would determine "how this trust has been met" and that he was content to abide by the result. Besides this reply to criticisms of his management of the wire companies the postmaster-general also took a parting shot at the Postal Telegraph Company most of the officers of which were removed several months ago because of which he termed interference with government management.

The postmaster-general did not mention the company by name, but said that "with one notable exception the reason for which is thoroughly understood by those who have kept informed," every wire company had given him loyal co-operation.

Under the resolution of congress directing the return of the companies, government-fixed intrastate telephone rates are to remain in force for four months, unless sooner changed by state commissions, but no provision was made as to telegraph rates. Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Postal Telegraph Company, in urging congress to progress for speedy return of the properties said his company could reduce rates 20 per cent. and still retain a profit and a rate war between the telegraph companies was viewed in some quarters as a possibility.

Telegraph rates were increased approximately 20 per cent. last March to meet increased salaries of operators and other employes and rising costs of materials.

DAIRY IMPROVEMENT

Roseland Dairy Obtains Pasture and Building New Barns.
The Roseland Dairy realizing the growth of Sanford and the future business of dairying has leased 700 acres of pasture lands near Monroe and will erect barns and houses and everything suitable for the carrying on of the dairy business upon a large scale.

The present location of the dairy was somewhat cramped as the celery farms were encroaching upon the pastures year by year and Mr. Stapler, the manager, cast about for a pasture of sufficient size and in a location where he could get the use of it for many years to come and found this place near Monroe where the St. Johns prairies are covered the year around with the best grass and where all kinds of forage grasses can be planted and dairy feeds of all kinds can be raised. The new buildings at Monroe will be equipped with the Louden fixtures which are supposed to be the last word in sanitary dairy fixtures and the Roseland Dairy will be up to date and clean and sanitary in every sense of the word. Mr. Stapler believes in giving his patrons the best of dairy products and keeping them clean and sanitary in every respect and his new plant will be one of the best in the state when it is finished.

Jacobs Return from Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Elden Jacobs of Chuluota have returned from a trip of several weeks spent in Ohio and Kentucky visiting friends and relatives. The family reunion which had been planned and which was to be held in Colorado was postponed on account of the death of Mrs. Jacobs' father who died in Colorado a few weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs will open the Lake Monroe school on September 1st and will teach there during the coming winter as they did last year.

A Chief Is Among Ye Taking Notes and Faith, "He'll Print 'em".... So Says Saunterer.

Just An "Idea"
It was just an "idea"—that was all that he had— Columbus, those ages ago. It was just an "idea"—but wrought to be glad. For it gave us our country, you know.
It was just an "idea" in George Stevenson's mind. When he saw the steam motor the little, For the railroads made brothers of the separated.

With their wonderful horses of metal.

It was just an "idea" Thomas Edison caught. But the light without flame we got from it.
With another "idea" was the photograph brought. And the "movies" that came like a comet.
So—next time you hear someone say with a sneer, I'll not pay for that for it's just an idea.
Remind him that there isn't a thing that he says. That doesn't date back to this source of ideas.
And, tell him there isn't a tool or machine that he says, which isn't an idea.

But he'll find it, if he troubles to trace it began.

NOW—and here is the convincing reason why:—

We have raised the Diamond Adjustment bases more than 40 per cent—

on Fabrics to 6,000 miles;
on Cords to 8,000 miles.

On the old adjustment bases, claims for adjustment kept going down and down in number till they almost vanished—while sales kept going up and up.

That was proof that Diamond's quality was better than the old adjustment figures indicated—so much better that we raised the adjustment bases more than 40 per cent.

That's how good Diamonds are. Now's the time to put on Diamonds—all 'round.

The new adjustment bases also apply on all Diamonds now in use or in the hands of dealers.

PEACE TREATY AND WILSON MEAN MUCH

No. Senator Lodge has never been proven guilty of accepting and eating Armour and Co.'s free gift roast beef like Congressman Mann but he should quit "cussin" and unite with the millions of human beings all over the world where the flag of Christianity and of civilization floats and work and hope and on bended knees pray to God that President Wilson's grand plan to make this old world a fit place in which to live and to die may prove to be a triumphant success.

In my humble opinion the man who works and fights against the Grand Plan on partisan grounds and for political purposes merits the profound contempt of Christianity, and the execrations of mankind in general and of every father and mother whose boy crossed the Atlantic ocean to fight the German or died in camp.

And I am wondering whether the immortal Shakespeare was permitted to lift the veil of futurity and saw Woodrow Wilson, like the eagle soaring in his pride of place and being hooted and hawked at by partisan moussing owls like Lodge and Reed Knox and Borah. Don't you think he was permitted to do so? It is quite sure that Congress will ratify the Treaty of Peace and adopt the "League of Nations" Covenant.

President Wilson is human and like Washington and Lincoln and all the rest, he has made mistakes. "To err is human" and many fail to win complete success because "the only is exempt from failure, who makes no effort." He failed to avoid the war just ended and now makes this new effort. He aimed high and has won the confidence and respect of a waiting world that took notice of his mighty honest and noble effort to set up and establish a League of Nations the chief purpose of which is to improve world conditions and avoid future wars. And the result is that by solemn decree civilization has chiseled the name of WOODROW WILSON on the pantheon of fame's Pantheon and it will remain among the few, the immortal names that were not born to die. Whether his grand plan proves an overwhelming success or not.

The peace treaty and the League of Nations are the grandest and the most important things that have ever happened in the world. They will bring about a new era of peace and prosperity. We must support them with our hearts and our hands. We must not let any man or any group of men stand in the way of them. We must make them a reality. We must make them a blessing to all the people of the world.

As well as of other things, and of its present prosperity as shown by the Herald and its bright and rosy future just ahead of us.

Your recent letters and editorials have been deeply interesting, encouraging and inspiring. The Herald pack full of news reaches us regularly and we are ever and always delighted to see it. It keeps us in close touch with Sanford and Sanford people as well as Florida and the U. S.

With kind remembrances and good wishes for you and yours and all Sanford, I remain,

Yours truly,
A. M. THRASHER.

P. S. The flag of our union is floating on our balcony today.

The Baptist Temple
One hundred and fifty in the Sunday School last Sunday.

The Auditorium was filled at both morning and evening hours of worship. Dr. Hyman, the pastor, preached in the morning. Dr. Brownlee of the Presbyterian church in the evening.

On Saturday night, Dr. Hyman performed the marriage ceremony of Mr. Lawtie Oglesby and Miss Effie Burnette at the Pastorium. Mr. J. A. Williams and Mrs. Heater Bellagio were also married by Dr. Hyman at the home of Mrs. Lyons.

An interesting and enjoyable swimming party was given on Thursday afternoon for Dr. and Mrs. Geo. Hyman at Palm Springs. Mesdames Forest Gatchel and J. B. Calder were givers of the party.

The monthly Missionary society of the Temple was entertained by Mesdames W. C. DeCoursey and David Speer. A most enjoyable social was this.

Bigger Brotherhood will be the general subject of a series of morning sermons at the Temple for August. Next Sunday at 11:45 "Beginning Bigger Brotherhood" will be the first of the series. Do not miss a single sermon.

The Sunday evenings will be address by Dr. Hyman on "What I saw abroad and relation to future Christianity." Next Sunday night he speaks on "Welfare Organizations with the A. E. F. as I saw them."

Service begins at 8:30. Special music under direction of Mrs. A. M. Phillips.

Join the Temple congregations.

Gentlemen:—
A Mr. Will Waechter of this country has some hogs that were down with cholera and had given up all hope of saving them and would not spend one penny on them. I gave him one 15 pound pull of your B. A. Thomas' Hog Powder and he has just come in and paid me for it, and advises that every one of his sick hogs got well and that he killed them and now has them in his smoke house and that all were as fine as any he had killed this year.

I want to add that he said his hogs were down and so sick that he had to pry their mouths open and his wife poured the powder down their throats.

Please find check in full of my account and with kindest regards we beg to remain,

Yours very truly,
Bankston Bros.

PREVENT HOG CHOLERA

The B. A. Thomas Hog Powder has a record of 95 per cent cures of Hog Cholera. If you feed your hogs as directed you need never fear hog cholera or any other hog disease. And the directions are very simple, just about what you are doing, plus a few cents' worth of B. A. Thomas' Hog Powder in the feed twice a week.

Usually, though Cholera gets in before we know it. Then it requires close attention to each hog each hog must be dosed, and if you will dose them as directed, you will save better than 20 per cent. If you don't the B. A. Thomas medicine costs you nothing. We are not some distant manufacturer, but your money back.

Man named Scharfswerd runs
the Ford station at Okeechobee.
He should change his name to Ford at once.

Rumors of another wholesale grocery here means that other wholesale concerns will soon recognize the claims of this city as a commercial center.

A cold storage plant to have a capacity of fifteen carloads of fruit and vegetables is one of the many improvements planned for Sanford.

Seminole county roads bonds sell at a fine premium. There is no investment better than bonds of a Florida county that is improving itself permanently.—Tampa Tribune

Our campaign for apartment houses in Sanford will bear fruit in the near future so we are informed.
Let them come at once. It is the best investment in the United States.

Stonewall Jackson Triplett of the Okeechobee News says he will not print the name of any candidate for office in his paper unless the notice is paid for. Quite right, old chap, quite right.

It is a sad commentary on the general business of things to note that so many of our people invest their money in out of town enterprises where there is such a gift of investment right at their very doors.

Remember that the Daily Herald is published on so about the first of October. It will be a real daily paper giving you all the news of the city and county.

The cooperative plan is the only
one that will give the worker a share in the prosperity and they will be satisfied. In case the business
does not make good on account of
some unforeseen or unaccountable
circumstances and the employee
working at a reasonable wage can
be shown that it has not made a profit we believe that ninety nine
out of one hundred men will be satisfied to take a living wage and
go at it another year closely associated
with their employer and in
his confidence and put their shoulder
to the wheel to try and make a profit
for the next year.

In other words there should be a
getting together of employees and
employers and the cut throat methods
of strikes and counter strikes
of employees and the same cut
throat methods of the big trusts
and corporations should close for they
are leading us into chaotic condition
from which we can not
recover and all are suffering
as the natural consequence.

Let us all get together.

There is no better advertising in the world than your local paper and
it is really surprising how the local paper will eventually induce people
to come here when no other form of advertising will do it. The old adage about the constant dripping wearing
away the stone is true of all forms
of advertising and especially true
of the newspaper. People who are living in distant states and have an idea of coming to Florida want the
local paper and they take a great interest in all our doings from the time that they get the first issue
until they finally pack up and come here to make their home. It is the constant reading of the progress we
are making along every line as told
in the paper that finally gets them.
They know that the city and the

surrounding country is prosperous
when they read a live newspaper.
The locals attest it and the advertisements
attest it and the whole
paper breathes the spirit of the community.
Thus it is almost certain
that a man contemplating making a change of location can be irresistibly
drawn to Sanford if he is able to get a three month subscription
to the paper. He reads every line
of it though he does not know any one here. He soon becomes familiar with all our ways and all our people
and all our struggles for those things
that we should have and finally
he reads that we accomplished these
wonders in city building or farm
improvements and he decides that Sanford and Seminole county is
the place for him and he comes down
to look it over for himself with the result that we gain a citizen right
now. Many of the progressive counties
of the state backed by the board of trade are sending out three months subscriptions of the local papers and getting rich returns in new people. This county does not do this and in the absence of any preconceived movement along that
line it would be well for our people
who have relatives or friends in other states that are interested to send them a copy of the Herald
every week. You will be surprised at the results. As the Times Union truthfully said last week about the
newspapers:

"Day after day and week after
week, year by year the newspapers
of Florida present the most valuable
sort of information, facts concerning
the development and growth of Florida, facts that are of inestimable
value to all who read these daily
and weekly publications of the state.
If any one should take the time and
the trouble to garner these items and
articles, which tell of Florida enterprise
and achievements he or she
would have volumes of material, all
more or less valuable as information
concerning the state, of the work
and the achievements of its people
of the varied products of its soil and its industries and the very many things that go into the making of
a commonwealth great and prosperous.
The aggregate gathering of
these facts for a single year would
be amazing in volume and astounding
in value as a record of achievement."

Everybody has their own particular
ideas and cures for all ailments
and the editor of the Herald can only see from this distance a getting together of labor and capital along
every line if the world is to move
and the people are to live. The succession of strikes will not solve
the question. The raising of railroad
rates follow the raise of employees
wages and the same employees today
at greatly advanced wages are not saving any more money than they
did at half the wages years ago
before they paid the freight.

We should call a halt and begin
to improve the situation. If we can bring the dollar down to one hundred
cents of value again where we can
buy a dollar's worth for the dollar
we will all be better off and things
will be improved.

The cooperative plan is the only
one that will give the worker a
share in the prosperity and they will
be satisfied. In case the business

interest in all our doings from the
time that they get the first issue
until they finally pack up and come
here to make their home. It is the constant reading of the progress we
are making along every line as told
in the paper that finally gets them.
They know that the city and the

surrounding country is prosperous
when they read a live newspaper.
The locals attest it and the advertisements
attest it and the whole
paper breathes the spirit of the community.
Thus it is almost certain
that a man contemplating making a
change of location can be irresistibly
drawn to Sanford if he is able
to get a three month subscription
to the paper. He reads every line
of it though he does not know any
one here. He soon becomes familiar
with all our ways and all our people
and all our struggles for those things
that we should have and finally
wonders in city building or farm
improvements and he decides that Sanford and Seminole county is
the place for him and he comes down
to look it over for himself with the result that we gain a citizen right
now. Many of the progressive counties
of the state backed by the
board of trade are sending out three
months subscriptions of the local
papers and getting rich returns in
new people. This county does not
do this and in the absence of any
preconceived movement along that
line it would be well for our people
who have relatives or friends in
other states that are interested to
send them a copy of the Herald
every week. You will be surprised
at the results. As the Times Union
truthfully said last week about the
newspapers:

"Day after day and week after
week, year by year the newspapers
of Florida present the most valuable
sort of information, facts concerning
the development and growth of Florida, facts that are of inestimable
value to all who read these daily
and weekly publications of the state.
If any one should take the time and
the trouble to garner these items and
articles, which tell of Florida enterprise
and achievements he or she
would have volumes of material, all
more or less valuable as information
concerning the state, of the work
and the achievements of its people
of the varied products of its soil and
its industries and the very many
things that go into the making of
a commonwealth great and prosperous.
The aggregate gathering of
these facts for a single year would
be amazing in volume and astounding
in value as a record of achievement."

Everybody has their own particular
ideas and cures for all ailments
and the editor of the Herald can
only see from this distance a getting
together of labor and capital along
every line if the world is to move
and the people are to live. The
succession of strikes will not solve
the question. The raising of railroad
rates follow the raise of employees
wages and the same employees today
at greatly advanced wages are not
saving any more money than they
did at half the wages years ago
before they paid the freight.

We should call a halt and begin
to improve the situation. If we can bring the dollar down to one hundred
cents of value again where we can
buy a dollar's worth for the dollar
we will all be better off and things
will be improved.

The cooperative plan is the only
one that will give the worker a
share in the prosperity and they will
be satisfied. In case the business
does not make good on account of
some unforeseen or unaccountable
circumstances and the employee
working at a reasonable wage can
be shown that it has not made a
profit we believe that ninety nine
out of one hundred men will be satisfied to take a living wage and
go at it another year closely associated
with their employer and in
his confidence and put their shoulder
to the wheel to try and make a profit
for the next year.

In other words there should be a
getting together of employees and
employers and the cut throat methods
of strikes and counter strikes
of employees and the same cut
throat methods of the big trusts
and corporations should close for they
are leading us into chaotic condition
from which we can not
recover and all are suffering
as the natural consequence.

Let us all get together.

SEND OUT THE HERALD
There is no better advertising in
the world than your local paper and
it is really surprising how the local
paper will eventually induce people
to come here when no other form of advertising will do it. The old adage
about the constant dripping wearing
away the stone is true of all forms
of advertising and especially true
of the newspaper. People who are living in distant states and have an
idea of coming to Florida want the
local paper and they take a great
interest in all our doings from the
time that they get the first issue
until they finally pack up and come
here to make their home. It is the constant reading of the progress we
are making along every line as told
in the paper that finally gets them.

"In Union There Is Strength"
THE principle applies quite as much to banking as to soldiers or states or governments.
It is most fortunate that the Federal Reserve Banking System has been in operation during the war.
The advantages of this organiza-

SHOP MEN WALK OUT

About 300 A. C. L. Employees Here Go on Strike

Over 300 of the shop men of the Atlantic Coast-Line stopped work at ten o'clock this morning pending a settlement of the question of higher wages that has been in abeyance for several weeks. It was thought last night that some agreement would be reached and it is said that the vice president of the international union wanted the matter held up until something could be done by the government and the head of the union and it is almost certain that some agreement will be reached in a few hours. Lakeland and Sanford shops walked out this morning and it is not known how many more will be affected.

Everyone here is hoping for a speedy settlement of this strike as it will effect every line of business here.

The City Council will meet at 8 o'clock P. M. Monday August 11th 1919 to hear complaints if any from owners or agents of Real Estate or personal property the assessed valuation which has been raised.

Lefler-Murrell

The announcement of the marriage of Miss Kené E. Murrell to Mr. W. A. Lefler comes as quite a surprise to their many friends in Sanford and elsewhere. The ceremony took place in Daytona, the evening of July 26th at the parlors of Saint Mary's Guild. Rev. Arthur Searing Peck, rector of Holy Cross Church, Sanford, Florida officiated. Only the immediate members of the families being present.

The bride never looked lovelier than in her going away gown of tan tulle, with hat and accessories to match. Mrs. Lefler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Murrell of this city, and is a graduate of Woman's College of Tallahassee of the class of 1916. While in Sanford she has won many friends by her charming personality.

Mr. Lefler is the son of the late Mr. W. N. Lefler and is a young man of fine physique and high character. He is a graduate of the University of Florida.

BETTY'S DINNER

By LOIS EMERY.

"Betty," said Mrs. Thurlow, as she put the last touches on the cream pie she was preparing for the Sunday dinner, "why don't you ask Mr. Somers to dinner some time? He must think it rather funny for you not to, where you go out together so much."

"I know, mamma, but I don't believe I want to, yet awhile."

"You know how terrible the boys act, and they are so refined at his house. The night I was there to dinner everything was served in courses. I don't know what he would think of us—everything on the table at once and the boys yelling like wild Indians."

Betty stooped and kissed her mother lightly. "It's awful sweet of you to think of it, but let's not bother about it yet awhile."

Then minutes later, as she was going down the old creek road with Jack Somers, her heart began to sing in full time of happiness.

"They had gone fully a mile from home before they noticed that the big oak tree behind the barn was hidden behind black clouds, and that the air had grown very oppressive."

"Why," said Betty, as she looked up at the sky, "what's that—thunder?" She jumped a foot, where they had been sitting on the grass as a drop of rain splattered her new hat. "Why, Jack, it's raining!"

Jack jumped up and looked about with worried eyes.

"Gracious, Betty, I'm afraid you'll get wet. Wish I'd taken an umbrella."

"There are no houses around here and we can't possibly get home without getting wet," said Betty, resignedly.

The thunder drew nearer now, the wind was rising, and it was getting very dark overhead.

"I'm awfully sorry, Betty—I should have—"

"Who?" The elements now seemed at war with one another. Rain fell in torrents and the thunder boomed, crashed and rumbled, filling the air with one continuous, deafening roar.

Half an hour later the two streaming figures were met on the piazza by the whole Thurlow family.

"Good land, Betty, we were most worried to death," said her mother as she bustled forward anxiously. "You go right up to your room and change those wet clothes. Your father will take care of Mr. Somers."

As Betty was removing her wet garments she sighed unconsciously. "Why, what father and the boys will do!"

Presently Jack's red face and the boys' shrill yelps began to come from her father's room. Betty could not keep from thinking, as she glanced Jack's slender figure in her father's clothes.

"Hurry up, Betty," whispered her mother up the back stairs. "Mr. Somers is going to stay to dinner and it's most time to take it up."

"Oh, dear!" Betty hurriedly threw her dress over her head and hurried down the stairs. "I wonder what that table looks like, anyway!"

"What are you going to have for dinner, mamma?"

"Macaroni, with tomato sauce, dear," answered her mother soberly.

"Oh, mother," said Betty, with horror in her voice.

"I didn't ask him, Betty. I would have known better. It was your father. He acted as if he was awful pleased because pa asked him. Now don't worry, dear. There's that nice cream pie I made this morning, and I've got a chocolate cake, too. Here they come now. You sit right down here, Mr. Somers."

The young man gave her a pleasant smile and sat down beside Betty. It seemed to her that the boys never acted worse.

She wondered if this horrible meal would ever come to an end. Everything else was already at an end, she thought miserably. Jack Somers would never have any use for her with a family that acted like this.

They were all beginning on pie now, excepting Jack, and he was having a second helping of macaroni.

At last dinner was over, and Betty and Jack went out on the piazza. It was just growing dusk and the air was full of that delicious sweet coolness which follows summer rain.

Jack moved nearer to Betty. His shoulder grazed hers lightly. "Betty," he said at last, "you've got the nicest family I ever saw. Everything here at dinner tonight was so homelike and jolly. You know it doesn't seem much like home at our house. I don't know when I've enjoyed a meal as much as I have tonight."

He put his arm around her and gently drew her toward him. "Betty, I can't put it off any longer. Do you love me well enough to marry me?"

Betty drew her breath in tremulously and then dropped her head on his shoulder and began to cry.

"What's the matter, Betty? Don't you love me well enough?"

Betty nodded shyly. Her arms slid up around his neck.

"I'm all right," she answered, "just so—so happy, I guess, Jack."

JUDGE CITY BY ITS STREETS

Importance of Well Laid Out and Properly Kept Thoroughfares Cannot Be Overestimated.

Streets are the lines of expression in a city's face. They are the blueprints of time, recording the thoughts, visions, impulses of the city-soul which dwell within. They are as surely the indices of a city's character as the lines on a human face, a betrayal of whatever is ugly and sordid, an earnest of whatever is serene and gentle and strong.

"There are mean streets," says Balzac, "and streets that are merely honest; there are young streets about whose morality the public has not yet formed any opinion; there are murderous streets—streets older than the oldest houses; streets that we may esteem—clean streets, unkindly streets and commercial streets. Some streets become well and end badly."

In a city where the trees have been discarded to promote convenience and advantages of commercial thoroughfares there are just such streets which distort and mar its beauty. It is a custom with us here in America, with the encouragement of business upon a residential district, tree-lined, shady and inviting to its life with verdant foliage and full of trees. Planting them may then be suspended over the sidewalk to arrest the attention of the passerby, display windows may be set on a level from either side of the sidewalk. There is an irony in such a position. Beauty and charm have been thrust to the uses of better and truer.

LAY PARKS TO FOLLOW WAR

Splendid Idea Which Has Arisen in Canada Might Well Be Emulated in This Country.

Play parks for children, which will be established in all the principal cities of Canada if plans of the Canadian Municipal League, sponsored by the Ottawa playground association, are carried out.

The purpose of the park will be "to help make impossible for coming generations the reality of another war; to hold up for emulation for all time that spirit of unselfishness which entered those of this generation and enabled them to secure for mankind the advantages of peace; and to encourage all those who enjoy the first fruits of civilization which shall have the significance of a guaranty that life in the future shall have a fuller measure of joys and rewards."

The parks, according to plans, will enable children to enjoy summer and winter sports and recreations. They will be centers for holding annual peace celebrations. In them some memorial will be erected—a tablet, perhaps—on which will be recorded each year some of the dominant benefits peace has conferred upon the world.

Sensitive Plant

When rain is about to fall, the sensitive plant (Mimulus lewisii) ever shuts its leaves. It has three leaves on a stem, the middle one being the largest. The blossoms are also gathered by enclosing leaves which are round.

Horibill's Remarkable Nest

Most wonderful of all is the nest of the horibill. The hen bird lays her eggs in a hollow log tree, and as soon as she is settled on them the male bird walls her in with clay, leaving just space for her head to stick out. He feeds her, and there she sits, until the young are hatched, but until the young are old enough to fly out.

Untying the Knot

There is a marriage custom among the Santals, a tribe in India, by which, after a cash price has been set on the bride by the parents, the fiance and his only the a knot in a string for each day to untie before the wedding. Then the parents of the bride, by any a knot is untied, when the end of the string is found, the knot is free.

Hand in Hand

One of the main reasons why there has been such a marked improvement in the wholesomeness and healthfulness in food products the last ten years has been on account of the co-operation between pure food officials and domestic science teachers. These two elements have been working toward a common end—our protection against unscrupulous manufacturers who have not based their claims to business on the quality, but rather on cheapness and who, in their endeavor to market their products on price or quantity, have often resorted to substitution and to the use of unwholesome material. Though progress has been made, yet much remains to be done.

Mr. Harry L. Eskew, Food Commissioner of Tennessee, has been very active in his efforts to safeguard the health of the people of his State. In the New York Journal of Commerce he has the following to say about so-called Self Rising Flour, which is used in certain sections:

"I would not tolerate flour products like some of the 'self-rising flour' sold in a large part of the South, the concomitants of which are alike unknown and not to be ascertained by the consumer and whose purity in the matter of phosphate is open to serious question as a deceptive agency."

When the need of improvement of certain food products is pointed out so definitely and at the same time is backed up by thousands of domestic science teachers throughout the country, it is quite natural that American housewives will gradually become schooled in the proper selection of food products, and at the same time demand proper labeling of all food products.

Maria Maria Castello

NOTE—Miss Castello is already well known to most of the ladies of our city. She is of the Domestic Science Branch of the University of Chicago, a graduate of Lewis Institute, Supervisor of Domestic Science in Public Schools, Special Lecturer on Domestic Arts and Economy, Special Lecturer to the Women's Clubs.

We are publishing a series of her most important articles.

TREES FOR THE ROADSIDE

Western Journal Advocates the Planting of Apple and Various Other Kinds of Fruits.

The example of a Minnesota village which is planting rows of apple trees along its roadsides instead of the more conventional Lombardy poplars, Norway maples, box elders and white elms, is a case of adaption to almost every American community. The practice, like a good many others which now commend themselves to favor, is the result of individual initiative. About 20 years ago, it seems, a retired minister introduced fruit trees to the roadway running through his own property. The school district, seeing their value, has now arranged for planting 250 more apple trees of an approved variety and has committed itself to care for them. These are theoretically the property of the lot owner, but it is a safe guess that the public will harvest a good deal of the crop.

It is nevertheless a pleasing custom, and one which is not likely to interfere seriously with the commercial side of fruit growing. The spring months must be particularly beautiful in this part of Minnesota, to say nothing of the annually recurring harvest festival every autumn. One would not begrudge the passer-by his share of the ripe homes, and it is practically certain that the privilege would not be greatly abused if planting of this kind were general. The experience of orchardists in such regions, for illustration, as the great prune-growing belts of Oregon and Washington shows that when certain fruits become reasonably common loss from pilfering is negligible. But part of the value of the roadside tree would be the tacit invitation to share in the product thereof.—Portland Oregonian.

Happiness and Interests.

Personal happiness is almost synonymous with personal interests; the wider the range of the latter the higher is the degree of happiness.—Lillian Whiting.

First Land Sale.

We should say the first land sale on record was the purchase of the field of Machpelah by Abraham, who paid 400 shekels of silver for the field, in which he buried his wife.

Columnist's Fate.

On the twentieth of May, 1900, Christopher Columbus died at Valladolid, Spain, at the age of seventy. His whole life had been devoted to exploration and discovery for the aggrandizement of Spain, yet his last years were overshadowed by the ingratitude shown him by the nation.

Amphibious Soldiers.

A Frenchman has suggested that with a little training the soldier may be made into a "amphibian." It is a body of soldiers with their arms and accoutrements, and a stream of feet wide by merely walking across on the bottom with the water over their heads.

Official Peace Day.

May 18 in 1899 was called "Peace day." It was the opening of the international peace conference at The Hague, Holland, which established the permanent subject of arbitration for the settlement of all international disputes among the great nations. The conference was first proposed by the czar of Russia.

The night was starless, there was a promise of rain and fierce blasts of wind shook the old house. Abel Lane, its owner, paced the living room nervously. His daughter Miriam was clearing away the supper dishes, but her feet were at every unusual sound as if she were the most depressed and of her father. She was startled and gave a little jump as there came a knock at the door.

"Could you give me a bite to eat?" spoke the tramp who faced her from the doorstep. "They've ordered me out of town. It's ten miles to the next and I'm so weak from hunger that I can't make it."

"Step in, please," directed Miriam and closed the door against the night. "Father," she said, going to the sitting room doorway, "there's a stranger wants a meal."

"Give it to him," replied Mr. Lane directly. "I don't think Vance will be here tonight and there's plenty to spare."

So Jerry Moore sat down amid warmth and comfort to a repast that would make his thin, bony face flush with new vitality and cheer.

"You're a life saver, lady," he declared, as with an enjoyable sigh of fullness he arose and regarded his slimmer gratefully. After he had gone Abel Lane confined his restless promenade and Miriam, her work done, sat at the window watching the street in a tense, expectant way.

"I do hope nothing has happened to Vance," spoke her father, after the lapse of half an hour. "I think I'll go down to the river and see if there's any sign of him. He crossed it in a boat going, but if he tries to come back the same way he'll take a big risk."

Vance Denlow was the fiancee of Miriam. He was a young engineer and had been away for six months. Mr. Lane had called him back to Bellville a few days previous. Vance was the sole witness to a document made a year back in which his evidence would prevent the loss of all he possessed to the father of his promised bride. Vance was to appear in court the next day. Mr. Lane buttoned his coat tightly, pressed his cap firmly down, over his head and went to the kitchen and lighted a lantern. "It will go hard with us Miriam, if anything should happen to Vance wouldn't be on hand in the morning," he spoke.

"Take care of yourself, father," pleaded Miriam anxiously. "I shall be worrying greatly if you don't get back soon. Don't you think if there is no sign of Vance that you had better go down town and telephone Leeville to see if Vance has remained there for the night?"

"I'll do that, Miriam, yes," replied her father, but he left the road and took the footpath along the river shore. As he stepped over a tree root, went flat, and the lantern, torn from his hand by the contact, rolled several feet ahead of him and its light went out.

The man who stumbled as he went had to pause for a minute. "It's a mile back home and as much further to the nearest house town-wards. I'll keep on to the turnpike, light or no light. Hello!"

Abel Lane had proceeded a little distance when he took back first in time to escape a mud bath. His feet had met an hole. He stepped, landed as a broken form arose to its feet.

"I see who you are now," returned Mr. Lane. "Say, friend, you don't happen to have a match about you do you?"

"Why, isn't that strange?" exclaimed Jerry Moore. "I happen to have, and just one. I was going to use it before I fell asleep to have a smoke, but, thinks I, it's my last, a regular life saver, and I won't risk it till I find a sheltered spot from the wind. Easy and careful now, if you want to light your lantern."

With infinite care the two shielded that last match. It was nearly blown out, but the wick of the lantern finally flamed.

"What's that," abruptly exclaimed Jerry.

It was a faint yell. Then it was repeated. Mr. Lane set up a great shout and hastened in the direction from which it had come. And near the shore, clinging to a broken pile, was the man he was seeking—Vance Denlow. His boat had swamped in mid-stream. He had managed to swim to the pile, but was so exhausted that, but for shouting as he saw the lantern glare and the opportunist arrival of his rescuers, he would soon have collapsed.

"Your last match did it," pronounced the relieved and grateful Abel Lane, and Jerry Moore was a welcome guest at the Lane home for a long time after that.
