3,400 Men Will Be Stationed At Navy Base Here

"Only Difference Between Our Boys and Yours Is Uniform," Commander States

Two United States Naval units, each consisting of 1,300 men and 300 officers, a total of 3,400 men, will be stationed at the Naval Operational Training Base here and "every effort is being made to have them come here as soon as possible," Commander Robert H. Gamble, USNR, special assistant to Rear Admiral A. B. Cook, chief of the Air Operational Command, revealed to day as he praised City, County and Chamber of Commerce officials for their attitude in regard to the Navy and the steps they have taken to extend all possible facilities to the enlisted men when they come here.

Commander Gamble, who came here at the request of local officials to discuss possible problems that may be caused by the sudden influx of the 3,400 men declared, "The only difference between our boys and yours is uniform. Their character and personality are the same. They have been prepared and their ability is certain. In order to produce fighting men they are your own boys in uniform, and they will present no different problem than would 2,800 of your boys gathered to gether."

"The problem is," the commander said, "that they are all brought here at one time, and large groups will be released on liberty at different times. He added that he has a facility of handling problems that may arise that will be satisfactory to the community and he said he was "delighted with the Naval Affairs Committee that has been organized here to render every possible assistance to the enlisted men."

Commander Gamble, met

2,000 Pounds Of Scrap Rubber Is Taken From Lake

While swimming in a nearby lake, a group of people found over 2,000 pounds of old tractor tires near the shore and turned them in on the scrap rubber drive. S. D. Highleyman, who is in charge of the campaign, in the community, said today, "We have a rubber tire and half of old rubber has been collected here. There are about 40,000 pounds in a carload."

In another instance, a rubber ashtray tire, weighing a few ounces, was donated by the Defense Council, he added. "No matter how small or how old we want every ounce of scrap rubber that is available in the county," Mr. Highleyman said. "Just call 970, and we will come and get it."

This drive for rubber, now so sorely needed by Uncle Sam, offers an opportunity for everybody on the home front to help win the war. A few ounces of rubber in a hot water bottle, or a few pounds of rubber in a discarded hose may not seem very significant, but multiply them by millions and the volume of rubber created in the nation is sure to be a good many more.

Nazis Report Forces Close In On Tobruk

British Hold On To Egyptian Border Positions, Harrassing Axis Invaders

(By Associated Press)

The German broadcast today that Axis forces are closing in on Tobruk, laying siege to the last British stronghold with nine-inch guns. The British reported to be holding Egyptian border positions, attempting to harass the enemy and reduce the pressure on Tobruk, isolated 80 miles away. Rome claimed the capture of 1,000 prisoners.

Informers persons expressed the belief that Nazi Marshal Rommel would try quickly to cut the coastal road as a preliminary to a grand assault on the fortress of El Alamein in the Nile valley and the middle east would be in an immediate danger, however.

Although British tank strength is "additively" strong, Rommel's no big Allied formations have been trapped. Withdrawals have been conducted skillfully and at high cost to the enemy.

So much of Rommel's offensive power has been spent that it is possible the most he has to do is to hold the British clear back to the Egyptian frontier.

Had he succeeded in his original goal of taking Tobruk in the first few days of his offensive, the story might have been different.

The German plan now seems to be to try to take Tobruk, use it as a port of entry and build up for a possible autumn offensive against the Middle East.

Tobruk is too deep water harbor, but of tremendous importance to both sides; to the Nazis because its capture would eliminate their bugbear of an 800-mile supply line from their main base at Tripoli, and to the British for the like reason of a maintenance problem over hundreds of miles of desert.

The most costly Japanese communiqué indicated the fighting at Sevastopol showed no signs of slackening and said the German losses were heavy.

In other sectors it was stated officially, fighting continued but there were no essential changes. On the Kharov front activity was limited by thunderstorms which drenched the battle field where the Russians had stood firm against a nine-day German offensive.

Sevastopol admittedly was hard pressed by the battering land and air assaults which started June 6, but according to official sources in Moscow the lines had not yet been penetrated.

Rise In Living Costs Comes To Standstill

WASHINGTON, June 19. (AP)—Price Administrator Henderson reported today that, for the first time since November, 1940, the steady rise in living costs had come to a standstill—actually declining slightly—and he credited the country's overall decline in prices.

Henderson declared that a special survey of 21 cities, made by the Bureau of Labor Statistics for the period from May 15 to June 2, showed that "if we are really serious about it, the battle against inflation can be won."

From the outbreak of the war in Europe until imposition of the minimum price regulation May 18, the cost of living had climbed 17 1/2 percent, his office said.

Paper Says Gable Is Seeking Commission

WASHINGTON, June 19. (AP)—Clark Gable took his chances on a commission at Bolling Field yesterday, unannounced, in the Army Air Forces. The paper said it learned from a source outside of the War Department, Gable conferred with Gen. Arnold. It is understood he will make service for the air forces if accepted. He has been inactive publicly since the death of his wife, Carole Lombard.

He also proposed that all men under 45 years of age be called up for military service.

Gravity Of Libyan Situation May Postpone Second Front In Europe

Japs Will Attack Siberia In July, Chinese Declare

Kai-Shek's Forces Doggedly Battle Dozen Nin Columns

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, June 19. (AP)—Attack for the third time in the past three days Japanese heavy bombers, 16, along with a formidable fighter escort struck Port Moresby Harbor installations today. It was the sixth raid and the largest to date in New Guinea.

Bombed were 1,600 children in schools participating in the School Program and 1,198 students and 230 spectators from income groups whose eligibilities had been certified by district welfare staff.

In addition, the State Welfare Board distributed 1,000 sacks of wheat, 1,000 cans of a fair total value of $427.44, to nearly 1,000 clients.

The dollar value of the commodities distributed while considerable should not be permitted to be equally practical because resulting from an improved nutritional standard among those who are not able to provide them for themselves. Mr. Holler commented.

Stepped up school activities, particularly health and better morale, were planned by the Chinese government.

Japan, who has lost at least 10 planes since these bases in the last week without once inflicting serious damage to our naval forces, was last night.

Nine other Japanese planes have gone down before the guns of Allied forces, and Chinese operations, who are fighting to the death, have captured the bombers. Eleven Allied planes have been lost in all during the past week.

The most costly Japanese venture of the week was again Davao, which was attacked four straight days, Saturday. At least 10 Japanese bombers were destroyed, but were sent against us and were shot down and an unconfirmed number were believed to have crashed into the city in which all 11 lost planes were lost.

"Now there must undoubtedly be a good many former students from Seminole County who are in the armed forces are sent to us," Mr. Wright added.

"Japs Fly Like They Are Crazy Or Drunk," Former Aviation Cadet Says

You have to give the devil his due. There was nothing wrong with the marksmanship of the Jap pilots that staged the surprise bombing attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7. Jennings Hurt, who was stationed at Hickam Field at the time of the attack, told today. "I always heard that the Japanese were fanatics. Now I know they are. The way they fly airplanes, they would have to be crazy or drunk. It was all very exciting until you started seeing the destruction and death it brought.

The fighters of course had only one man and had a retractable landing gear and were armed with machine guns and two 20 mm cannons. After they got through bombing us they hung around machine-gunning everything in sight," added Hurt, who is present in routine in the Hickam Field commandant. "I saw them hanging around machine-gunning everything in sight, and many of the anti-aircraft knew one off."

He added that Neal and Morris' planes often passed over him and many of the anti-aircraft knew one off. "They thought when the日本 plane flew over, that it was just American strafing practice.

Third Member Command at Hickam Field.

It was all so exciting as hell, just like a big Fourth of July celebration with an air show thrown in—that is, until you saw the destruction wrought and the terrible ships and planes falling.

After awhile you don't feel anything at all, it's all you can do to keep from being sick. Sharp and really random with anything it comes in contact with, I saw some wonderful things on that day. The fighters and dive bombers operated so low while their machine-gunned us you could almost see their teeth grit and shut eye. It really made you feel good when you'd see the anti-aircraft knock one off."

He added that Neal and Morris' planes often passed over him and many of the anti-aircraft knew one off.

They thought when the Japanese plane flew over, that it was just American strafing practice.

They Fought For Freedom

Churchill May Seek Aid In Middle East; British Commandos Raids To Increase

(By Associated Press)

Some quarters in London believe one of the main purposes of Prime Minister Churchill's visit is the enlistment of additional United States help in holding the Middle East against expected Axis thrusts from Libya toward Egypt and from the Ukraine into the Caucasus. The extreme gravity of the Libyan situation is viewed by competent sources as likely to postpone until 1943 any really big United Nations land offensive in North Africa, although commando raids may be increased.

In Tokyo Churchill's visit was called a publicity showing the extent of the Allies' interest in the Far East. The Japanese claim the Allies do not intend to send reinforcements to the island, claiming it impossible.

A here White House announcement last night disclosed that Churchill had reached this country secretly and safely for immediate conferences with Mr. Roosevelt. It kept his exact whereabouts secret, except that he was absent from Washington, and nothing about his mode of travel to this country, but the British ministry passed a London dispatch saying that he came by air.

President Secretary Stephen Early told reporters without the highest degree of qualification that he thought population was perfectly justified on the possibility that the Japanese do not intend to withdraw the bulk of their forces from the Far East.

The conference will begin immediately. Early asserted, "The subject of the conference will be very naturally the war, the conduct of the war and the winning of the war."

Comments about a second front developed rapidly inasmuch as General George C. Marshall, who just returned to Moscow from highly important meetings in London and Washington, which brought about a complete understanding among the United States, England and Russia on the urgent tasks of creating a second front in Europe in 1942.

You Can Help

Everyone, young and old, male and female, can and should do his bit toward helping to win this war. If you do not know what you can do, read the following which appeared in the Belvoir News Letter, and see if you do not get some good ideas:

1. I can be a good husband and a good father—devoting time to the solidification of an adequate and happy home life for the family.

2. I can accept the restraints of war economy as essential to the ultimate victory of the ideals of my country and help disseminate information as to their value, to the end that hoarding, chiseling and black markets, will be eliminated.

3. I can be a good citizen—observe the laws of my country—yes of course—but more—exhibit patriotism without profit—actually serve my community in any one or more of a myriad of ways too numerous to tabulate—vote, serve on jury—help in civilian defense—be a worker in the unarmed forces on the home front—serve on election boards, on registration boards, on rationing boards, etc.

4. I can refrain from engaging in "rumoritis"—not pass on rumors thereby helping in the maintenance of high morale.

5. I can be a leader in young people's activities—Scout Master—serve on a Scout Court of Honor—help give merit badge tests—assist in giving vocational information, etc.

6. I can invest my money in the future of my country by buying its bonds—I can pay my taxes on time without grumbling.

7. I can be economical—thrifty—avoid waste and save everything of value.

8. I can give attention to helping in development of national thinking concerning the post-war world—not forgetting of course that the war must be won—but that the ideals for which we fight to maintain must be preserved.

I can study the statement of the Rotary Post-War Committee along with other similar statements and be an intelligent conversationalist in each group of which I am a part.

9. I can help support to the best of my ability organizations such as the Red Cross—the U. S. O., etc., or similar organizations within my country.

10. I can extend hospitality to the men and women in the armed forces—remembering that they have their periods of loneliness—I can invite them to my home—I can share what I have with them—recalling my own lonesomeness in the World War I when I was in a strange country thousands of miles from home.

Tourists Next Winter

There is no reason to believe that the war will last forever, or that business, more specifically the tourist business, won't pick up after the war is over. There will be plenty of tires, plenty of gasoline and plenty of new automobile models within a few months after the war and people who are now saving their money will want to spend it, taking a rest from the arduous duties of war time and seeing the country.

So, while it is well enough to adjust ourselves for the time being to conditions imposed by the war, we should not forget that these conditions will change just as they did after the last war, and we should look ahead and make our plans in order to take up the shock of the post war adjustment period and to resume our efforts toward making Sanford a great inland resort.

According to Tom Griffith, head of the St. Petersburg advertising agency which handled the Seminole County account this year, there are good reasons to believe there will be some tourists, vacationers, or soldiers and industrialists on furloughs, in Florida next winter, and he advises some advertising for them. Some of the people who can be appealed to even now, he lists as follows:

1. Retired people, too old for military service or war production.

2. Disabled people, whose health requires a warm winter climate.

3. People living in crowded defense areas but not engaged in military service or war work, who could rent or sell their homes and live in Florida for the duration.

4. Farm settlers—people who can now sell their farms for good prices and do the things they have long wanted to come to Florida.

5. Industrial and business men, looking for opportunities now and after the war.

As for means of getting here, he points to the railroads and bus lines. "Mr. Griffith expounds good reasoning," says the Bradenton Herald. "People will come to Florida if they have the means to bring them here. They are going to come in thousands next winter—not as usual, but despite the fact that things are not as usual."

Father's Day

NOTHING HAS TOLCHED me more than the act of the National Father's Day Committee. By profession I am a soldier and take pride in that fact, but I am prouder, infinitely prouder to be a father. A soldier destroys in order to build. The father only builds, never destroys. The one has the potentialities of death, the other embodies creation and life. And while the hordes of death are mighty, the battles of life are mightier still. My hope is that my son, when I am gone, will remember me not from the battle but in the home repeating with him our simple daily prayer, "Our Father who art in heaven."—General Douglas MacArthur.

Illustrating the difference between the truth and the fact, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt joined the Navy. His wife promptly got a divorce. Now the truth is that the couple actually separated over a year ago and had been in the process of getting a divorce for some time before he joined the Navy.

A friend of ours tells us in his opinion the government debt by the time the war is over, let's see now 4 percent interest on 400 billion, that's 16 billion dollars a year. And the entire cost of government, including interest and sinking fund during the boom year of 1929 was but a little over 4 billion.

Oriental boasts a pretty little Japanese girl who dates American boys in soldier's uniforms—that is, she did until she was picked up by the police at a G-man's suggestion. Martin Anderson, who writes an interesting column on current topics, reports that the Japanese cut a concentration camp (not along Nashi) where she would be treated as we would want an American girl stranded in Tokyo to be treated.

Sailors are being taught to swim long distances through flaming oil under water. They are also being taught to jump feet first from a boat through oil burning on the surface of the water, thus exposing the flames and smoke beneath the level of the water. After they have been taught as much as possible under water without air, they pop up above the water, pushing the smoke back with their arms take a deep breath to the best and survive another long swim without air or flame.

In spite of us are qualities represented by all the elements of nature. There is color, movement, fragrance, taste, sound, touch, taste, smell, etc. These qualities are the chief elements of life.

he urges, "Don't forget to write the boy's letter. They'll appreciate that most."

Clyde Hurt has received his orders and will leave next week for Camp Wheeler, Macon, Ga. Send us your address, Clyde, when you get located so your friends can get in touch with you. And here's to you, kid! Jennings, Clyde's brother, has come home for a few months now. He looks great and tries to get him to write you boys out there a little story one of these days, if he will, to pep up this little ole soldier's column. How about it, Jennings?

A big bomber flew over Lakeland last Thursday afternoon and crashed when it had nearly lost control. Major Milton Ward Melton came up to attend the Methodist Conference. He is now a Chaplain with the 325th Air Base Group, Base Sqd., Sarasota, for group training. His wife is in Sarasota with him. We were told that the bomber had a capacity for nine persons. Well, Melton, if you think losing all that weight sometime back, you would have needed every inch of that capacity. Remember the old foot-ball days?

Melton's father, Judge Ware, met him there and they had a grand visit. Here's too good luck, Parsons!

Our Company "D" boys are up there at Ft. Benning with their base ball. They just caused the upset of the season by defeating the Company "E" Cubs, 3 to 2. Our boys are the Phils and they gave the cubs their first defeat of the season. Good for you, Company "D". They say it was a swell game.

And from Lake Monroe. Here we come!

Sidney Stafford has recently been home on furlough. He is with Company "D", 124th Infantry, Ft. Benning, Ga.

Eddy Boyette is at the Navy Yard, Norfolk, Va.

Ray Stimson with the 1st Platoon, 124th Infantry, Ft. Benning, Ga., is with the Signal Corps.

Urban Lee, Corporal, was driving a jeep when last heard from. He is another Monroe boy with the 124th Infantry at Ft. Benning. He was home a short time ago for a little visit.

Sergeant Carl Baham is still around with the 124th Infantry and he too came home on leave not long ago. He had a very special reason, too. He came to see the little girl he married a few months ago.

Jack Hill, brother of Josh, is at Benning Co. "D" 124th Infantry.

Joe Bass is with the Army at

Et. Benning, Georgia. Emil Kasserman is a first Sergeant with the Medical Detachment at Benning. Mrs. Kasserman used to be postmistress at Lake Monroe, but she has resigned and joined her husband at his station.

J. H. Stapler, PFC, is also with the Medical Detachment 124th Infantry at Benning.

Jas. C. Stapler is a Staff Sergeant with the same outfit. Philip Murray is with the U. S. Navy.

Buddy Stafford has been in service for many years. He is with the Navy and stationed at Miami.

Louis Stevens is on a U. S. Navy cruiser.

Tillman Whitmore is with the Navy in Australia.

Clyde Hargrave is also in Australia, but with the Air Force U. S. Army.

Lake Monroe, you are proud of these boys, we know, and proud of you too, for such wonderful response to the colors. We doff our hats to all of you. If we've omitted one, please let us know.

And now if we can manage to

Medwick's Spikes Start Big Riot In Top Field In Hale Dodger -Card Tilt

Brooklyn Emerges On Top, 5-2; Neither Team Wins Fight

BROOKLYN, June 19 (UPI)—The Hatfields and the McCoys of the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers and the St. Louis Cardinals, fought with their fists again last night in a decision fight, but the Dodgers emerged from the riotous struggle with a 5 to 2 victory.

They turned the trick with three-run rally in the eighth, hitting, snapping a seven-game winning streak for St. Louis and putting the Cardinals 3½ games behind.

It was difficult to tell whether the 21,220 fans who turned out for the opening tussle of this crucial five-game series were more excited by the Dodgers' triumph. ## Enemy Craft Shells Barren Oregon Coast

No Damage Results; Civilians Urged To Leave Hawaii; Japs On Aleutians

HONOLULU, June 22.—Lieut.-Gen. Edmund Tada urged all civilians not engaged in war work to leave the Hawaiian Islands as soon as possible. General warning that the United States Mid-Pacific victory gave the people a false sense of security. Edmund said: "It is dangerous to assume the enemy will not return."

From six to nine shells from an unidentified craft landed on a barren coast today near North Seaside, Oregon, a small resort city. No damage or casualties resulted from the 16 minutes of firing shortly before midnight last night. There are no objectives of any kind in the vicinity.

The Japanese have put forces ashore at Kiska Island and apparently are attempting to establish some sort of base on that Aleutian island only 580 miles from the Navy's Dutch Harbor base.

This second enemy foothold in the Western Hemisphere was made known in a communiqué which said the Americans had shelling the harbor at Kiska, had sunk a transport and apparently hit a cruiser.

"Tents and minor temporary structures were observed to have been set up on land," the communiqué said.

This indicated that the enemy had made some progress since a Navy communiqué on June 12 reported Japanese ships in the harbor at Kiska and the landing of small forces at Attu. The Japanese also said they had seized Kiska in the Aleutian chain which stretches out from Alaska toward Japan.

In reporting the Army bombardment, the Navy's communiqué said its ships in a search for developments in the Aleutians advised that operations against the Japanese "continued to be restricted by considerations of weather and great distances."

Roosevelt And Churchill Talks Are Satisfactory

WASHINGTON, June 22 (UPI)—War conferences between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill are described by White House as progressing day and night in a "very satisfactory way." Also, conferences between the United States and Britain. A joint statement will be issued by the Allied Nations leaders later.

As the Roosevelt-Churchill conference continues, Britain's State Hall declared yesterday that "before the end of another year" the Axis powers will have discovered that they underestimated the ability of their adversaries.

A full discussion of the plan of the meeting revealed the following facts: persons over 60 are eligible to receive the annuity, starting with $10 monthly and increasing to $20; the money would come from a two percent gross income tax. It was pointed out that if the plan were put in operation, the poor fund and public would be eliminated.

The Townsend Plan would do more than reduce taxes. It would provide a system for preventing the appearance in the future of huge public debts. For the Townsend Plan introduces a "pay as you go" method of taxation," it was stated.

Japs Are Halted By Chinese Defenders

CHUNGKING, June 22 (AP)—The Chinese high command indicated today the Japanese have been held virtually at bay in the six days of fighting for the 60-mile central section of the Chekiang-Kiang railway.

Reorganization Of WPB Is Probable

WASHINGTON, June 22 (UPI)—A complete reorganization of the War Production Board, including the reshuffling of some top officials, will probably be announced this week. The indications are that the WPB's future operations will be more tightly controlled by military strategy.

WPB chairman Donald Nelson and Army and Navy chiefs of staff would be brought into closer contact.

Seminole Turns In 80,000 Pounds Of Scrap Rubber

Carload Left Sanford Saturday, June 20; Field Contributors

Two carloads of scrap rubber totaling nearly 80,000 pounds, is Seminole County's contribution so far to the nationwide rubber collection campaign. S. B. High, Seminole County Salvage Committee chairman, received the carloads this morning from his San today, and the other is nearly ready.

We are pleased with the results and we are going to mop up this week," he said. "We have received everything from huge tractor tires to ancient hot water bottles and little string ties. We are glad to get every bit of rubber."

Over 6,000 pounds of rubber in discarded tires have been turned in by Joel Field, well known contracting carrier. Mr. Field who saved old tires from his fleet of trucks for the purpose of turning them in orange groves to combat armyworms, collected them to help the nation in its war effort.

The Boy Scout troops of Sanford, who have been working diligently in the drive, still are assassing rural districts and surrounding towns. Many citizens have called upon the Scouts to transfer useless rubber to the collection centers.

Scouts, who are having a camp under the direction of Mr. Frank, are urged to call 910, and the Scouts will pick it up. Trucks also are available to gather bags full of scrap.

The public has shown fine response so far, and we hope to top it up this week," Mr. Highleyman added. "The campaign is an important part in the war effort of the United States. It is every patriot's duty to help as much as possible."

Forced Spending Is Called Heart Of Townsend Plan

Enforced spending is the "heart" of the Townsend Plan, it was brought out at a meeting of the Sanford Townsend Club meeting Thursday with President J. P. McClelland presiding. It was reported Saturday.

Under the plan, money paid eligible citizens must be spent by them within 90 days, and thus, money remain idle. It was stated a full discussion of the plan at the meeting revealed the following facts: persons over 60 are eligible to receive the annuity, starting with $10 monthly and increasing to $20; the money would come from a two percent gross income tax. It was pointed out that if the plan were put in operation, the poor fund and public would be eliminated.

The Townsend Plan would do more than reduce taxes. It would provide a system for preventing the appearance in the future of huge public debts. For the Townsend Plan introduces a "pay as you go" method of taxation," it was stated.

Fuel Oil Shortage Faced By Orlando

ORLANDO, June 22 (AP)—Orlando's street lights were dark last night as the city conserves its electric power in an effort to combat an emergency created by a fuel oil shortage.

There is a possibility that traffic lights will have to be cut off starting tomorrow. The Orlando Utilities Commission is scheduled to meet today to decide upon other economy measures.

The commission said Saturday that fuel oil on hand would operate the power plant only a few longer than planned. Orlando and Oil Company at Port Tampa had advised its supply was exhausted and future deliveries were problematical.

BANDITS KILL 3 NEW DELHI, India, June 22 (AP)—Bandits held up a train near Simla last night and killed three British officers aboard. One was Wing Commander H. R. G. Compton, commanding officer of the Indian Training Center.

LONDON, June 22 (AP)—A fateful military disaster of such magnitude that it may have blighted the Allies' hopes for a Second Front in Europe in 1942 was acknowledged to-day by the British with great anxiety. All sources agreed the Allies had a crisis. The next few weeks, they said, will decide whether Germany can be beaten in 1942, or 1943, or 1944.
