W. German Traitor Can Give Comms Much Secret Data

BONN, Germany, (AP)—West Germany's newest traitor—a trusted deputy of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic party—is in a position to betray many government secrets to the Communists in the Soviet zone. Karl Franz Schmidt-Wittmack, 30, has at his disposal all the confidential information he gathered in closed-door meetings of Parliament's committees on the European army and all German affairs. East and West German sources alike agreed he would place all this at the disposal of the Communists. The Parliament member, deputy chairman of the Christian Democratic party in Hamburg, drove casually into the Soviet zone last Thursday with his wife and 11-year-old daughter, ostensibly on a business trip to West Berlin. Instead, the Communist East German Interior Ministry announced last Saturday night that he had requested and received asylum. It stressed significantly that he would continue his "political activity" in the East. East Berlin sources boasted today that Schmidt-Wittmack would campaign publicly against Adenauer's pro-American policies in the same fashion as Dr. Otto John, who deserted as West German security director July 20. In Bonn, Adenauer's party lieutenants were still virtually speechless today at the Hamburg deputy's switch. They had named him to the two most important Bundestag committees "yesterday" he was elected last September to the lower house.

Beating Victim's Condition Serious

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A young Birmingham mother, heavily beaten by an assailant at her home three days ago, remains in a serious condition at a hospital today. Mrs. Minnie Lou Fennell underwent a five-hour brain operation to repair damage caused by the assault. A discharged lumberyard employee, Roland Crumshaw, 19, was being held without bond on a charge of assault with intent to murder. He denied attacking Mrs. Fennell. An Associated Press spokesman in Birmingham reported that the attack victim had also been raped. A physician at the hospital said there was no evidence of rape and that his remarks were misinterpreted by a reporter who quoted the story originally.

30 Young Airmen Suspected As Members Of Terror Group

CHAMBLEE AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (AP)—Air Force officials announced yesterday that 30 young airmen had been selected as suspected members of a secret youth terrorist society they called "Pachuco." Col. Grover Wilson, technical training group commander at the base, said the men are in the guardhouse being held for questioning. He said the questioning concerned "acts of violence and lawlessness ranging from AWOL, to fornication and marijuana addition to knife assaults on those who had informed on the gang after signing a pledge in blood to obey the laws of 'Pachuco.'" The Air Force revealed that Lt. Robert D. Whitley, chief of the juvenile division of the Los Angeles Police Department, flew to Chamblee Friday to aid in the roundup. Wilson said Whitley briefed air police on how the Pachucos operate and said he has had experience with similar gangs on the West Coast. Saturday morning, segments of the base's complement of 15,000 airmen were assembled and ordered to strip to the waist. Some 175 were found with "unexplained marks or tattoos." Many carried switchblade knives. After extensive questioning, all but 30 of the 175 were released but kept under post-arrest. The remaining men, said Col. Wilson, were "sullen and arrogant and living up to the code of Pachuco." He said all had a "sign of Pachuco" carved into their palms or chest. This sign, he said, resembles a cross, with slashes added to honor "particularly outstanding acts of violence committed by the member." He said he had a Pachuco "code" in his possession under which no information must be given to law enforcement officials and requiring that knives be carried at all times. Lt. Whitley said Pachuco gangs are common on the West Coast and usually are made up of "young hoodlums of Mexican extraction." However, Col. Wilson said the men at Chamblee are "young toughs of all nationalities and seem to follow no pattern of race or background." He said he expects court-martial charges will be made against the gang members.

President Vetoes Pay Raise

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower today vetoed a 5 per cent pay increase voted by Congress for 1,500,000 federal workers. In a statement at his vacation headquarters, the President said he was announcing his veto of the legislation "in order that federal workers must not have to undergo a period of uncertainty as to my action." Congress passed the bill and sent it to the White House last Friday. Just before the bill passed on legislative matters. "This measure," the President said, "because it ignores the administration's recommendations for postal rate increases, would add $12,000,000 to the cost of operating the Post Office Department which is operating at a deficit of $9 million dollars this year." He said he would remember that since 1945 the accumulated postal deficit has reached the staggering total of four billion dollars. Like this, this measure would add more than 200 million dollars to Civil Service pay without providing any savings to meet it. The federal pay raise was voted in the closing hours of Congress over administration objections and after wangling on Capitol Hill extending back almost to the start of the 80th Congress.

Led by chief Deputy G. G. Oaso, the searching party entered the home of Viola Brown on Elms Ave. in Midway and discovered three plots of moonshine. For A Good Vacation

Ida E. Garvin, chairman of the Committee for the Handicapped, Brooklyn, N. Y., suggests to readers of the New York Times that it is a happy gesture of friendliness for people about to go on their own vacations to help pay for vacations for blind or otherwise seriously handicapped people. Shelter Island Camp, near Montauk Point on Long Island, is maintained for that purpose by the Brooklyn Bureau of Social Service and the Children's Aid Society. For two-week periods its guests find coolness, relaxation and friendly company there.

There are other such means of giving pleasure to people who need it most, scattered throughout the country. Camps for crippled children, diabetic children, Y-camps for city boys and girls—all these and more are useful and pleasant expressions of good will. A donation to any one of them helps someone. Nor need the donation be large—though if you would like to give a million dollars it would probably not be refused. But if you are in the dollar or five dollar or fifty-cent class, that will not be refused either.

It really is a jolly idea, as you pack for your own trip, to know that some unknown person is having a good time, too, because you are helping.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

As far as the east is from the west, so far hath he removed our transgressions from us.—Psalm 103:12. God is like the father of the prodigal son, he does not seek to get even with us nor to torture us, he just wants us to stop sinning and come back home.

Royal Love Affair Ends Mysteriously

NEW YORK (AP)—Since the movie maker seems to be in the middle of an "Egyptian cycle" just how it is surprising that they have overlooked one of the great love stories of that fascinating land.

It involves a queen, and a mysterious tragedy.

She was the lovely Nefertiti and you doubtless have seen copies of the famous head—the king, arching neck and perfect profile, the wide, almond shaped eyes, all balanced by a massive royal head-dress.

In the wall engravings that have survived these 3500 years, she appears as a slim and beautifully formed woman, almost as tall as her husband, the king. And this is a description of her in the words of some forgotten writer—

"The heiress, great in favor, lady of grace, sweet of love, mistress of the south and north, fair of face, ray with the two plumes, child perfect of the king, whom he loved, lady of the two lands, great of love, Nefertiti, living forever and ever."

But in the city where this appears, there is a ruined building that breathes of tragedy. It evidently was her home and it indicates that after perhaps 15 years of perfect marriage, she left the palace and her husband never to return.

Why? Did she quarrel with the king and leave voluntarily? Or was she sent away, blasted by some terrible disgrace? The secret has never been unlocked, but here is the story up to the point where it disappears in voiceless dark.

Her husband, Akhaton, was an extraordinary man. If you read that excellent book, "The Egyptian," you learned a good deal about him. He is known as the "great heretic."

He broke away from the powerful and established priesthood that had gripped Egypt for thousands of years before his day. He introduced the concept of a single deity—an astonishing forerunner of Christianity—eliminated the elements of fear and dread that characterized the old religion.

In short, he abolished the thousand gods and demons of the old ways, and taught his people to worship in a spirit of joy and light. Again, the parallel between these patterns and the Christian concept,

Way Down South In Sanford, Florida

By C. R. Dawson, BSA, MSA.

Sanford farmers thought out on their way out to the plant when the horse declined, and lost interest to the extent that only 10 years ago, 80% of the oats in the leading oat-producing state graded No. 3 or worse. But more oats are being used in poultry feeding than were ever fed to horses and due to hard work of research scientists in experiment stations, new disease resistant varieties were developed, and today oats again rank as a major crop. In 1953, 10 years ago, 85% of the crop in the leading oats state now grades No. 1 or better.

COWS — Dairy Field Day will be held at the University of Florida on September 16-17 and winners of the Efficiency Dairy Production Contest will be announced at the Banquet the night of September 16.

PASTURE — Being prepared to supply additional water when it is needed may prove to be good insurance against pasture loss during the hot, dry months of summer and fall.

TROUBLE — Vegetable crop residues left on the land after the crop is harvested can be the source of serious trouble later. The wisest thing for farmers to do is to destroy such residues immediately.

BEAT THE HEAT — Air conditioning industry ranked up $2 billion in sales of equipment last year. The industry was a result of necessity being the mother of invention. It was about 1902 when it happened in a print shop. Some lithographing was going on and the summer heat caused paper size to fluctuate with humidity, colors over-lapped or failed to match and ink flowed at a different rate every day. Willis Carrier devised a system of ducts, a large fan and cooling coils. Carrier's careful balance of coil temperature and air flow had produced perfect humidity control.

HOW DID THEY FIND OUT — The mail here is heavy and various. Recently we got a questionnaire on Alcoholics. The letter of transmittal says in part, and I quote, "It is from persons, such as yourself, who are intimately acquainted with various phases of the problem of excessive drinking that we will draw the greater part of our information." By WALTER CHAMBLIN JR.

The controversy in Congress over atomic development points up sharply the long pending issue of whether business is to continue under private management or to be operated under government supervision.

A big hue and cry would be raised if the controversy were described as a struggle between Free Enterprise and Socialism. But basically that is the correct way to describe it. . . as the current controversy is just another of the initial skirmishes leading up to an out and out Free Enterprise-Socialistic war.

The New Deal philosophy of government supervision of business has moved cautiously but nevertheless relentlessly toward its objective. The TVA project was initiated as a flood control/navigation project. Power development was incidental. But, now, with atomic energy there is a bolder approach. . . and the advocates of government control are in the open with the flat demand that the government have authority to build atomic plants and sell the power produced.

To virtually insure government monopoly in the atomic power field. . . the proponents of this philosophy would prohibit the private ownership of patents by requiring the compulsory licensing of all patents for five years. This would give the government a five-year start, as neither business firms nor individuals would be disposed to invest much money as long as patent ownership was denied.

To further bring about government monopoly in the atomic field every effort is being made to dislodge this government-owned ship philosophy. . . the agents which was to appear many centuries later. It is most startling. Meanwhile, his life with his queen, Nefertiti, must have been a romantic idyll. The engravings show them in his arm around her (supporting her in a chariot (holding her hand as she dispenses gifts) (the king and queen playing with their daughters).

Then something happened. She left him and went to live in an house on the north side of the royal capital that he had built.

Sobody knows why.

But there is a theory that in his later years, Akhaton recoiled from the fearful step he had taken, the rejection of the ancient gods. Perhaps the priests slowly were him down.

There is a belief that Nefertiti, for political reasons, was an even more fierce enemy of the old gods than he was. And perhaps this was the basis for a terrible quarrel that caused her to leave him. Much of the story has been lost.

Which leaves room for the scenario writers to graft a happy ending on it.

Anti-Red Bill Is Passed Quickly

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress today passed a bill that would strip Communist party legal privileges and force its members to register with the government. The bill goes now to President Eisenhower to be signed into law.

Because it was shipped to the President in a hurry, it was not given the usual Senate floor debate. It was passed in a matter of hours.

Under this bill the party could not put candidates on the ballot in any federal election. And the party could not make contracts where federal laws were involved or sue in federal courts. That much seems clear.

What is less clear is what rights, privileges or immunities it might have under state laws. One law, which followed this legislation closely, said that while Congress could strip the Communist party candidates of federal ballots it could not tell states what parties could appear on their state election ballots.

It seems a safe bet the party will fight this legislation all the way to the Supreme Court, or try to get the grounds it is unconstitutional. But if the party loses there and folds and later reappears under another name, will the government have to go through another long court fight to prove it's the same old Communist party? That can't be said now.

The party may have to fold anyway before it ever gets up to the Supreme Court on this legislation. That act requires that the officers and members of the Communist party to register with the federal government if the Subversive Activities Control Board, after hearings, decides the party is a "Mexicool" tool. The board, after long hearings, made that finding and ordered registration.

As was to be expected, instead of registering the party went to court, protesting that the McCarran Act is unconstitutional and therefore the party members should not have to register. The Supreme Court is expected to give the final answer on this by next spring.

If the court rules against them it would be a crime for the party leaders and members not to register. But the leaders already have indicated they would never register. The board will be jailed and fined if they don't.

If the late overtook them while they were fighting yesterday's legislation in the courts, they'd no doubt have to abandon the latter.

So there is plenty of machinery for hammering and hamstringing the party, at least until the Supreme Court speaks. But just what this legislation can do to help the

Lawyer Aids Wrong Youth

STUART (AP)—A local attorney received a telephone call that a teen-ager being held in Martin County jail wanted to see him.

The lawyer went to the jail and talked to the youngster, who was held for allegedly breaking a window in a storehouse in Salerno and taking a suitcase.

The lawyer explained he had been hitchhiking in Salerno where he had been promised a job. He said the suitcase was his, that he'd left it at the storehouse, then finding the place locked, had broken the window and taken his belongings.

The lawyer thought the story sounded true, and persuaded the sheriff to turn over the lad to him. He went to Jupiter and the story checked out. Sentence was deferred pending the boy's good behavior.

"I sure appreciate what you've done for me, mister," the boy said, "but who are you?"

"Why I'm the lawyer you sent for," he replied, "That was the guy in the next cell."

The mother of the bride wore a light blue Chantilly lace dress over tulle with matching accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

For the wedding the bridegroom's mother chose a dress of blue nylon tulle with pink accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

The reception was held in the parish hall with the bride's table being overlaid with pink satin under an heirloom cloth of imported lace. The four-tiered wedding cake was decorated with white sugar roses and a miniature bride and bridegroom doll.

At the Lions Club luncheon today Capt. David Gatchel, commanding officer of the National Guard's Co. I, 124th Infantry, explained the workings of the Guard and introduced technical sergeants who demonstrated basic infantry weapons.

Capt. Gatchel said the Guard's primary aim is to enlist and train young men of high school age. A guardman is only drafted as long as he successfully fulfills his duty in the national guard.

"I have for draft dodgers," he said, "anyone who joins the Guard with the intention of beating the draft will be considered out and turned over to the draft board."

Getulio Vargas Commits Suicide After Ouster From Presidency

North Sea Combed By Search Crews For Dutch Airliner

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower told the nation's voters last night the Republican 83rd Congress checked out a fine record toward restoring a stronger, better America. He urged them to remember that when they go to the polls in the November congressional elections.

In a nationwide radio and television address, the President sounded an optimistic note about the country of Western Europe in the face of collapse of European defense talks at Brussels.

"Don't be discouraged," he said.

In his great statement of Europe to the friends, he said, "They will find peace as much as you will."

"They are not licked yet," he said. "Let us not lose faith in them. There is still something to be done in that region, and we are going to do it."

The only other evidence of the crash site of the Dutch coast were a few charred packages and papers and two small customs carrying the KLM insignia of the Royal Dutch Air Lines.

The plane, a Douglas DC-6B, had been reported only 20 miles out of Amsterdam when radio contact was lost.

The air line's Amsterdam office said 12 passengers, most of them Americans, and 9 crew members were aboard the plane. It showed a report from KLM's New York office that two main passengers boarded the aircraft at Shannon, Ireland, its last stop before the crash.

Senatorial Race Remains Quiet As Time Wanes

County Clerk P. Herndon announced today he has received an executive order from Acting Gov. Charles E. Johns calling for a special election in the 10th senatorial district, composed of Seminole and Bradford counties.

The date set for Nov. 2 is the same as the coming general election.

The next move is up to the state Democratic executive committee, which will set a primary election date in advance of the election, and a second primary if necessary.

Several rumors have circulated regarding the failure of the executive committee to name a primary date as election time draws near. One is the belief that any delay in setting the date will benefit any candidate well known in both counties.

A second rumor walking the downtown street corners is a lack of money to stimulate the state committee.

Section 100(11) of the election code says, "If time does not permit or for any other reason it is not practical to assemble the appropriate executive committee, then in that event the governor shall fix the date for the primary election."

If any other vacancy in the county should occur the county executive committee must assemble and set the date of that election. Presumably it would be the same as the date set by the state committee for the primary election. However, a little more than two months remain before the scheduled general election.

Woman Sees Her Husband—Really Sees Him—First Time

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—The wife of a U. S. Army chaplain stepped from a plane here and walked straight into the arms of her husband, "really seeing him" for the first time.

Chaplain and Mrs. Sam B. Jones were married 15 years ago, but her eyesight was failing then and doctors feared she would eventually go blind. She saw things through a haze.

Fourteen months ago her husband, now 41, left the United States for a new post near Munich. After Mrs. Jones, 40, had two successful eye operations at Washington's Walter Reed Hospital, her eyesight was almost perfect as she stepped out of the plane from New York yesterday. She kissed her husband, and then told reporters of a new post near Munich.

"It's wonderful to see him again—to really see him."

"I can see things now," she said. "I've never seen them before. Every day I experience a new thrill."

During the operations at Walter Reed, two undamaged corneas, one from a sergeant and the other from a colonel, were transplanted in her eyes.

The sergeant and the colonel each have a good eye left, and Mrs. Jones says she corresponds with them.

She said each had to give up an eye because of disease that left the cornea untouched.

She identified the sergeant as M. Sgt. Roy Kilburn (address unavailable) but declined to name the colonel.

The chaplain, a major whose home address is Paducah, Ky., was never joyed.

"We celebrate our 15th wedding anniversary on Wednesday," he said. "I'm looking forward to seeing Europe with her."

Mrs. Jones is the former Clonelle Graves of Knoxville, Tenn. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Graves, live at Leesburg, Fla.

Brazil's Ex-Chief Shoots Self

Generals Force Leader To Quit

Army Officers Pledge Support To Vargas

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazil's old iron man, Getulio Vargas, shot a bullet through his heart and died in his place today after 58 generals forced him to quit as president.

"The wrath of my enemies I leave the legacy of my death," said a note left by the 58-year-old ex-president.

"It was the wrong of not being able to do what I had to do."

Vargas' resignation came from a promise he had made Sunday night—that he would leave office only under arrest or death. That was after 26 general officers of the air force asked him to resign to calm a tense political and military situation. They said 32 general officers of the army joined in the demand for Vargas' ouster.

The army officers' petition was presented to Vargas this morning at Cavalite Palace. It was announced the president should come to power in 1950 and ruled all but five years ago. He had agreed to ask Congress for a leave of absence. Four months later he was deposed in 1945. Vargas, vice president since 1945, was in line to succeed Vargas.

The death of Getulio Vargas' body was buried Aug. 25 with the laying of an air force major.

Vice-President Regarded Here As General Man

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Juan Cafe Filho, the Brazilian vice president here in the role of that country's chief minister is regarded in official Washington circles as a general man with a long history of leadership for the United States.

Secretary of State D. B. DeLoach is the first U. S. official to comment on the coming news of the resignation and death of Getulio Vargas, long-time Brazilian iron man. He held a news conference he had sent a note to the Brazilian government expressing his profound sympathy.

The secretary did not, however, comment on Cafe or give his own views on the events which precipitated the death of Vargas.

Diplomatic sources said they were struck by the fact that Vargas' death had taken his own life.

Robert Vaz, during an attempt to assassinate Carlos Lacerda, 42, in 1950, was shot and killed. He was a member of Vargas' personal body guard and was in the line of fire when Vargas was shot.

The crisis broke information Aug. 11 following a mass for Maj. Vaz. Two persons were injured and captured posters for Vargas' Brazilian Labor Party (PTB) were burned down.

"Vargas' death" shocked the mob. The military acted quickly to prevent further disturbances. The army, navy and air force issued a joint declaration pledging their support of the constitution.

Meanwhile the air force and police arrested Chimerio Eurides de Almeida, member of the guard, and Jose Antonio Soares, a palace employee, as involved in the Lacerda plot. They also seized Joao Alcino de Nascimento, as the alleged trigger man.

This situation arose at a time Brazil was undergoing severe economic stress. Last week the price of coffee was forced down in terms of American dollars, and there have been predictions of further blows against Brazilian currency.

The air force, with Vargas' permission, obtained the personal papers of Gregorio Fortunato, presidential head of the disbanded presidential guard, and these papers may have provided material for the final push against Vargas.

NAME STILL SAME

A letter was received today from F. E. Roumillat Jr. calling attention to the fact that the drug store referred to yesterday in The Herald as Roumillat and Saiz is still named Roumillat and Anderson.
