

Italy Makes Gains In Economic Fight

By PHIL NEWSON
ROME, Italy (UPI)—A solid defense will bar Soviet expansion in the Mediterranean. At least as a month ago, the same could not be said.
Two developments were decisive.
One was settlement of the Cyprus dispute which had turned Greece and Turkey against each other, thus threatening NATO's East Mediterranean defense line. The other was formation of a strong Italian government under Premier Antonio Segni.

Unlike the two governments which preceded him, Segni rules with a solid majority expected to keep him in power as long as any politician here can foresee. As measured in United States terms, that may not be long. But he should have at least a year.

Meanwhile, the present Berlin crisis, with its deadline of May 12 or June 27 or July 27, or whatever Nikita Khrushchev finally makes it—will have become history.

There is solid support here for a firm stand against Khrushchev's attempt to drive the Western Allies from Berlin, although it is a source of injury to Italian pride that Italy is not consulted more often on major decisions.

Italians point out that their 600,000-man army is the largest currently in Western Europe. The French army is larger, but most of it is in North Africa.

They have consented to establishment of U. S. missile bases here.

Italy Holds Defensive
Strategically, Italy holds the Adriatic. Without Italy, Russian submarines operating out of Albania would have a clear run into the Mediterranean.

These factors, Italians believe, enable them to a high place in Allied councils.

Italy also is a strong and enthusiastic member of the European common market.

After World War II, she received some three and a half billion dollars in U. S. aid. But she has received none since February, 1957.

Her financial position is strong, with hundreds of millions of dollars in reserve. Her currency also is strong and suffered not the slightest tremor when the common market nations, along with Britain, declared their currencies convertible.

Senate To Decide On Suspensions Of Public Officials

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The 1959 Senate will have the final say on the suspension of 11 public officials by Gov. LeRoy Collins.

The Senate usually upholds the governor's suspensions unless there are strong objections.

The officials are automatically reinstated and received all back pay if the Senate refuses to confirm the suspensions. The senators discuss the cases in closed session and only the ultimate decisions are made public.

Duval County Sheriff Al Cahill and Board of Control member Hollis Rinehart, Miami, head the list of ousted officials.

Rinehart was suspended after he was indicted and later convicted in federal court on mail fraud charges.

Cahill was removed for incompetency and neglect of duty following a grand jury investigation at which he refused to testify. Collins said prostitution flourished in Duval County while Cahill was sheriff. He also blasted Cahill for not testifying before the grand jury.

Other suspensions to come up include:

Jack Hooten, Lake County commissioner; Joe P. Brown, Collier County justice of the peace; Volusia County justice of the peace F. C. Beard; J. T. Kinchen, Volusia County constable; Martin County Judge Harris Lowry; Walton County Constable W. T. Cox; St. Johns County Constable Merrill R. Green; Palm Beach Notary W. E. Staela, and Steve J. Tarzanski, Duval County Justice of the peace.

He Obeyed Order, But Boss Inside

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A 34-year-old Donald Cox, newly employed at a drive-in, was told by boss Santo Celatino to always lock the door of the walk-in refrigerator if he wanted to hold his job.

When he found the door open Sunday, he slammed it and locked the padlock. Only trouble was Celatino was inside with the padlock key in his pocket.

It took firemen 20 minutes to get him out.

Oxford Student Dies In Devil's Cave

CASTLETON, England (UPI)—Oxford student Neil Moss, 20, died today in a corkscrew-shaped death trap 1,000 feet below the surface despite the heartbreaking attempts of hundreds of rescuers to pull him from the cave where he was trapped Sunday afternoon.

Foreign Pay Okay In Newest States

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government still pays a "foreign duty" allowance to soldiers, sailors and airmen serving in the new states of Alaska.

The same is true for Hawaii, which now will become the 50th state.

The Pentagon said today that the extra pay allowance runs from $4 to $12 a month depending on rank.

The law provides such foreign duty pay, the Defense Department said, for military men serving "outside the continental United States and in Alaska."

The comptroller general of the United States has been asked for a ruling on whether a quirk could expand the numbers drawing foreign duty pay.

The law providing foreign duty pay specifies that no resident of a territory or possession shall draw the extra pay for service in that territory or possession.

Since Alaska is no longer a territory and Hawaii soon will not be either, the comptroller general has been asked whether foreign duty allowances should be given to residents of the new states serving at military installations in their own states.

The Pentagon said there has been no ruling yet.

Prima And Keely Sued By Producer

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Bandleader Louis Prima and his singer-wife, Keely Smith, were sued Monday for $3,500,000 by producer Irving H. Levin for alleged breach of contract.

Levin charged in the Superior Court suit that the couple failed to fulfill terms of a contract concerning production of a television film for a proposed TV series.

Probably the most deadly of all African snakes is the black mamba. It is said to have the speed of a galloping horse.

His death was officially announced 44 hours after he first became wedged inside the peak cavern in the Derbyshire hills. He became unconscious Monday and rescue efforts were redoubled, at noon Chief Inspector William Sheffield announced, "The boy is dead."

Attempts were still being made to pull the body free from the crevice.

Two doctors who crawled through the slimy blackness to keep vigil near the dying youth certified his death. One of them was RAF Flight Lt. John Carter who had piped oxygen into the limestone tomb in an effort to keep him alive.

But at last, the stale, foul air that had balked rescue attempts finally snuffed out his life.

Hundreds of volunteers had rushed today to the cave, a popular tourist attraction outside this tiny village but they were too late. Rescue teams reported the situation worsening constantly and Carter hastened back to the 40-foot cleft to listen for his labored breathing.

Heroes of the rescue effort were Carter and Dr. Robert Willis 30, of nearby Buxton, who spent six hours underground Monday, and Ron Peters, 25, an experienced potholder known as the "ferret" because of his slim, 5-foot, 3-inch build. Peters alighted head first into the crevice and tied a rope around Moss.

Warmup Threatens To Trigger Floods

United Press International
A rapid warmup in the Midwest threatened today to trigger severe flooding in Wisconsin.

Mild, spring weather bathed most of the nation, although a pocket of cold air in New England dropped overnight temperatures there into the 20s.

Somewhat cooler readings were predicted from the northern plains, the upper Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes, but it will not be cold enough to prevent melting snows from swelling Wisconsin rivers.

More than 30 communities in the state are threatened with flooding, most of them in southwestern Wisconsin where record crests were expected at some points.

Crests as much as seven feet above flood stage bore down the Ixcapoca and Kickapoo rivers toward Darlington and Blanchardville today.

The most serious flooding was due on the Wisconsin River and its tributaries between now and next Sunday. The weather bureau said the communities of La Farge, Reedstown and Steuben face record floods Wednesday.

Temperatures averaged 10 to 15 degrees higher overnight from the southern Rockies east to the Atlantic. Temperatures in the 50s and 60s extended into Illinois and Iowa, while the 40s predominated over the Ohio Valley and the mid-Atlantic coast.

Two Abducted Youngsters Found Safe

ATLANTA (UPI)—Two small children, missing since their father abducted them Monday and later shot himself to death, were found safe early today.

The discovery of Brenda Gall Norton, 3, and Eddie Norton Jr., 5, at a nursery ended an intense search that lasted through the night.

Officers returned the children to their mother, Mrs. Eddie M. Norton, who had feared they might have been killed.

Their father, a 29-year-old shipping clerk, took his own life about 30 minutes after taking the children away from the home of his estranged wife.

While more than 500 police, civil defense workers and volunteers hunted for the children during the night, they were safe and sound in the nursery, whose staff knew nothing of the case.

Operators of the nursery said Norton left the children there Monday. Members of the staff learned of the big search this morning and notified authorities.

Mrs. Norton had left her apartment to request a peace warrant against her husband when he took the children away.

Norton returned to the home alone. Just as Mrs. Norton and her brother arrived, he shot himself through the head with a shotgun.

Mrs. Norton notified authorities the youngsters were missing and the search began. Despite extensive coverage of the case by local newspapers and radio and television stations, operators of the nursery failed to hear of the abduction until this morning.

Norton left a note, indicating he was going to kill himself after murdering his wife. He pleaded for his children to be brought up in a Christian way. This gave hope to police that the children were not harmed.

In his suicide note, Norton said "I know I have done wrong in the past five years. I changed but it did not help."

Norton left his job early Monday, borrowed a car and a shotgun, and drove to his estranged wife's apartment. He had attempted to effect a reconciliation and had lived with his own family for the last week.

Norton's brother-in-law, Franklin Lewis, disarmed him when he arrived at the apartment Monday morning, but returned the unloaded shotgun to Norton.

Soraya And Prince Close, But Apart

ROME (UPI)—Former Empress Soraya of Iran and the Italian prince she is rumored about to marry remained closeted today in their separate apartments just two short blocks apart. If they made any contact at all, it was by telephone.

Newsmen and photographers thronged the entrance to the Hotel Excelsior, where the princess is staying, and Prince Raimondo Orsini's palace until the early hours of the morning. They reported no sign of contact between the two.

The princess, who arrived with her mother from Germany Monday for an Easter-week holiday in Rome, spent a quiet evening in the hotel.

Prince Orsini, 25-year-old son of one of Rome's most noble families, remained with his mother in their palace.

Orsini, who Italian newspapers say will marry the divorced wife of the Shah of Iran, did not appear at the airport Monday to greet her on her arrival in Rome.

West To Stand Firm On Berlin

Russia Is Warned By French Leader

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle served notice on Russia today that if passage to West Berlin is blocked "the Soviet troops stationed in Germany would have the Western powers to deal with."

De Gaulle, speaking at the first press conference ever by a French chief of state, plunged directly into the question of Berlin.

"The crisis opened by Soviet Russia in connection with Berlin is plunging the world into heavy anxiety," De Gaulle said.

He said the Moscow diplomatic offensive posed these major questions:

The possibility of measures which would obstruct the movement of American, British and French military elements between West Berlin and the Western zone of Germany.

Division of the German people which would be caused by the separation of Germany into two states.

The disarmament in Europe of a zone essentially enveloping Germany.

De Gaulle rejected any suggestion that France was looking for advantages in Germany similar to those of the Soviet.

"It is not our policy," he said. "The present day German does not menace us in any way. It constitutes one of the essential elements of the life of Europe and the entire world."

He said he had received assurances from Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany and Italian Premier Antonio Segni that their policies were the same as those of France.

Dirty Tiddly Winks Just Isn't Cricket

LONDON (UPI)—It wasn't cricket but the Duke of Edinburgh wanted his team to play dirty tiddly winks.

Queen Elizabeth's husband so instructed his champions, London's Empress Club. The club met defending world champion Cambridge University for the tiddly winks title Tuesday night.

In a cable from the royal yacht, Prince Philip ordered his club to play "an even dirtier game than the Goons" from Cambridge.

"I expect the contest to be carried through in the usual thoroughly un sporting manner which befits all great tiddly winks matches," he said. The Empress Club "had better win this time or I shall see to it that their winking license is withdrawn."

The Cambridge Goons, recalled they were Phil's champions last year and played their usual dirty game.

Tuesday night's game, played for the benefit of the Duke's favorite charity, saw the defending Goons rout the Empress Club, 88 to 25.

Cambridge Captain P. J. Downes then challenged the duke next year to tiddly his own winks personally.

"A dirty business, what?"

Coffee Club Plans To Honor Wright

Jim A. Wright will be the special guest of the Chamber of Commerce Coffee Club tomorrow.

Wright is manager of the Ox-Fibre Brush Company, which now is celebrating its Diamond Jubilee.

The Ox-Fibre Brush Co. has been in its present location at Benson Junction since 1926. When first organized, the brush firm occupied the location on the lake-front where the Legion Hut now stands.

During this entire year, the company is celebrating 75 years of brush manufacturing.

The Coffee Club will be held at 10 a. m. in Mrs. Appleby's Valdez Restaurant. Newcomers to the Sanford business world will be introduced.

She's 69, He's 19; Children Unhappy, But Bride Pleased

MEMPHIS (UPI)—Mrs. Lola Tipton Dunn, 69, whose six children all are older than her new husband, vowed today that she and 19-year-old Paul Dunn would cling together despite the opinion of the children.

Mrs. Dunn, whose first husband died almost 20 years ago, married Dunn Monday without telling her children. She said some of them said "they don't want people to know they are my children."

"They have their opinions and I don't try to change them," she said. "But it doesn't affect the way my husband and I feel."

Dunn, a student at a business college here, was a boarder in his bride's home. They decided 10 days ago to get married, and Mrs. Dunn said that "Paul is very happy about it."

Sanford Short On Workers, Not Jobs

Sanford was termed a "labor shortage area" today by Dan Hahn of the Florida State Employment Service.

Demands for skilled labor cannot be filled. Expanding business firms, such as the clothing manufacturer, HarCar Aluminum and York Manufacturing are taking trainees, in lieu of experienced workers.

Positions are always open for clerks, typists and stenographers. "There are plenty of jobs for people who want to work for the wages offered and no reason for any willing person to be without a job."

"Workers who come from the north are critical of the low wage scale," he added. "But then they admit there was no work for them in that area, and living conditions are considerably cheaper in Florida."

There is no charge for the employment service, to either employer or employee. The office is a government agency, and keeps a file of several hundred applicants.

Training schools, such as the continuous sewing machine class, are held throughout the year. Applicants may take aptitude and vocational tests at the office.

"The business people in Sanford have been most cooperative," Hahn said. "They hesitate to em-

Ike For 'Summit' Only If Results Can Be Achieved

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower said today he would be inclined to agree on a series of summit meetings if he thought they could be arranged under conditions which would permit useful discussion and lead to beneficial effects for the U. S.

He added, however, that it was rather difficult to visualize such a thing as truly informal sessions because of the spotlight glare which follows world leaders.

The President made it clear that he was not going even to next summer's proposed summit meeting unless progress is made at the May Geneva foreign ministers' meeting which justifies it. He said if anyone thinks he has agreed to an automatic trip to the summit, that is different from what he meant.

The President acknowledged that it would be difficult to reach really worthwhile agreements with Russia unless there were a meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev himself. He said it was clear that only the Soviet Premier had any real authority to negotiate.

There probably is some validity to the argument that if the major powers are to reach any valid agreement, Khrushchev would have to be brought into the picture at some point, the President said.

He added that this does not mean that anybody will be forced into a meeting with Khrushchev by bluff and blackmail. The summit conference, the President said, has to represent a group of people acting voluntarily in the belief that real measures of agreement can be discussed.

Baseballers Busy; Games Scheduled

With a few practice sessions behind them, the Pacific Coast League champion Phoenix Giants today took on the Minneapolis Millers in their first exhibition baseball game of spring training.

Phoenix was scheduled to play five practice games. All were called off due to the lack of activity during a week of rain.

In an attempt to give his youthful charges experience, Manager Red Davis was scheduled to field a complete rookie team for the 1:30 p. m. clash.

Scheduled to go three-inning stints against the Millers were Gaylord Perry, Mike Lee and Andy Yetko, in that order.

Corpus Christi, champs of the Texas League, yesterday beat Omaha, 5-3, in Sanford's first exhibition game of the season. The Texas broke a 3-3 deadlock in the fourth with two runs. Corpus Christi got six hits, Omaha seven.

Tomorrow, Phoenix will take on Houston in a Sanford game. Corpus Christi travels to Kelly Field, Daytona Beach, to play Tulsa.

Parrots In Trees, Chains Going Up Around City Zoo

Chains and "keep out" signs are going up around the Sanford Zoo. The signs will keep people out after dark. Violators will be arrested.

The action was taken several weeks ago by the City Commission. Molestation of animals and birds has become a problem.

Night before last, vandals cut the wire on the parrot cage. Two of the small green and yellow birds are still loose in the trees above the zoo.

More than 3,000 adults and children come to see the animals weekly, according to Mrs. Arnold Hood, superintendent. "It is a shame that a few people feel they must abuse something that is free for everyone to enjoy," she said.

Reds Can't Impose Formula For City

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said today the West would not let the Soviet Union impose a formula for the existence of West Berlin.

He told the House of Commons that he and other Western leaders agreed that the 2,500,000 residents of the city must be allowed "to live the life of their own choice."

"This is a basic principle to which we must hold firm," he said.

Macmillan was making his first report to the House of Commons on his recent peace mission to Paris, Bonn, Ottawa and Washington where he conferred with his allies on the results of his mission to Moscow.

He returned Tuesday night and reported to the Cabinet this morning that hopes of a limited cold war settlement in Europe appeared brighter now than they have for months.

Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd were greeted by loud cheers.

Macmillan said that he and President Eisenhower agreed on the main points of the Western reply to the latest Soviet note on Berlin.

Labor Party leader Hugh Gallacher drew a laugh when he asked whether a summit conference would be held this summer regardless of the outcome of the planned East-West foreign ministers' meeting.

"As regards the likelihood of a summit meeting, I would say that everyone seems to think there will be one," Macmillan replied.

Services Planned For Good Friday By Local Ministers

The Seminole County Ministerial Association will present the Good Friday service at the First Presbyterian Church in Sanford, March 27.

The inspirational service, based on the seven last words of Christ spoken from the cross, will begin at noon and continue until 3 p. m. Brief devotional messages will be presented by the ministers of local churches during seven 25-minute periods.

The public is invited to attend the entire three-hour period, or one or more of the devotional segments of the service. Each of the seven segments of the service will contain a hymn, scripture reading, musical rendition, devotional and a time set aside for silent prayer and meditation.

The ministers will speak on Christ's last utterances in the following order: the first word, Rev. D. Gravenmier; second, Rev. E. Bollek; third, Rev. T. O'Steen; fourth, Rev. D. S. Carnes; fifth, Rev. G. Smith; sixth, Rev. R. Spear and seventh, Chaplain W. C. Fuller.

Organists will be Miss Joan Wilke, Mrs. R. D. Grinnem, Mrs. Albert Hickson and Mrs. George Touhy. Soloists will be Mrs. Richard Galloway, Mrs. Nick Pfeiff, Miss Sonja Monforton, Mrs. Clyde Savage, Robert Crumley and Mrs. Rudy Sloss.

The Chapel Choir of the First Methodist Church will sing during the service.

Mother Sweeping, Finds Girl's Body

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—A mother sweeping under her bed found the body of her 13-year-old daughter today. Police said the child apparently had been strangled.

A wide search was ordered immediately for the slayer of a dark-haired Shirree Davis, missing since Tuesday afternoon. Neighbors said they saw the stepfather, Ray E. Daughtry, 52, come home about 1:30 p. m., stay a few moments, and then drive away.

The mother, Mrs. Ray Daughtry, 35, had slept all night on the bed, apparently unaware that her daughter's body was beneath it.

Criminal investigator R. W. Grant said Daughtry, a carpenter, took his wife to work Tuesday and then returned to the couple's home just outside the city limits. Grant said he was told that when Daughtry arrived home he told his two other stepdaughters, Darnell, 12, and Maxine, 10, to come straight home after school and was sure he and Shirree returned from a shopping trip.

Mrs. Daughtry came home after work and told officers she was disturbed because her husband and Shirree were not there. But she said she lay down on her bed and went to sleep.

She did not awaken until early today. She began cleaning the house, and while sweeping under her bed she discovered the body.

Tear Gas Flushes Negro From Home

Frank James Riley, 23, was captured last night in Midway after tear gas was thrown into the house in which he was hiding. The young Negro had beaten and attempted to cut Mary Frances Grant, while threatening to kill her, officers said. He was forced to drop the butcher knife he was holding when John Archie Harris intervened with a hammer.

Riley was carrying a pellet type pistol. When residents called Sheriff's deputies, he fled to the home of Eola Webb on Siles Ave., and broke into the house to hide.

Deputies Marion Driggers and W. R. Brown made the capture. Riley was charged with assault and battery, carrying a concealed weapon, breaking and entering and evading arrest. His bonds total $1,000.

The Grant woman's injuries were limited to bruises. Eola Webb was in Tavares when Riley entered her residence.

PTA Delays Vote On Stay Or Leave

The Seminole High School PTA tabled a motion to vote on withdrawing from the state and national groups last night at a called meeting.

The group will vote on the matter at a regular meeting, April 28, at the high school.

Mrs. F. Earle Rankin, state study group chairman for the Florida PTA conference, told the group of the many things which the state and national groups do for their members.

"Our object is to promote the welfare of youth, not only in the schools, but in the home, the church, the community and everything that concerns the child," Mrs. Rankin said.

Mrs. Rankin told the group that when a member of a local PTA pays his dues he also has paid dues for state and national PTA membership.

She pointed out that five of the 50 cents for dues goes to the national congress and 15 cents goes to the state congress, which leaves 30 cents for the local group.

Mrs. Rankin said that a "permanent action platform" was adopted at the state convention two years ago for fact-finding and possible legislation of different problems brought up before the group. "The platform covers three areas—the home, school and community," Mrs. Rankin said.

D. M. Ladd, former FBI agent who has spoken to three other PTA groups in Seminole County, told high school PTA members of the controversial issues involving UNESCO.

"My object is to fight Communism in all its forms," he said. "This has been my work for the past 28 years, and I intend to stay with it."

"Some years ago, a crackdown was made in the government offices and it was found that many Communists had been working in some of these offices. These people were asked to resign. And when they did, it of them went right to work in the United Nations."

Asked to express his opinion as to whether there are Communists working in the national PTA congress, Ladd said, "No, I do not think there are any Communists working there."

He asked the group, "Do you want your child to be taught one-worldism or do you want them to be taught patriotism?"

Mrs. Harry Edwards, district president from Marietta, pointed out "there are Communists in UNESCO, in the United Nations and in the U. S., but we shouldn't ditch the national PTA because of this."

Governor Defends Milk Commission; Odham Is Praised

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. LeRoy Collins says the Florida Milk Commission, the target of much criticism, has done a "fine and outstanding job."

Collins made the statement Tuesday in reply to a letter by J. B. Frazier of Tallahassee, president of the North and West Florida Dairy Farmers Assn.

The association charged the Commission is destroying the milk industry and harming consumers. It also blasted Commission Chairman J. Bralley Odham of Sanford.

The farmers have gone into court in an effort to withdraw from the Commission's control. Leon Circuit Judge Hugh Taylor has the case under advisement and has temporarily enjoined the Commission from enforcing regulations against the producers in North and West Florida.

The Association said in its letter it wants the milk control law intact so it can be used at some future date "under a qualified chairman."

Collins, in his letter, said the group is entitled to take any legal action it wishes.

"But I will not accept through the mails a copy of your letter... without stating that I am in absolute disagreement with your conclusions."

Collins said the Commission has done a "fine and outstanding job" for both the dairy farmers and the consuming public.

He said the agency has done more to reduce the retail price of milk and guarantee producers a fair return for their milk than reasonably could have been expected under the law as it is presently written.

He also disagreed that the agency could serve the public better under a different administration.

Jaycees Planning 'Baskets Of Joy'

"Baskets full of Easter joy" are in store for Seminole County children Sunday at 9 p. m., when the Jaycees hold their annual Easter egg hunt in Fort Mellon park.

Children from one to ten are eligible. According to Chairman Jack Erickson, a large turnout is expected from Sanford and Seminole County.

"Contributions of eggs and money for eggs have been very generous," Erickson said. "The Sanford merchants have donated wonderful prizes for children finding specially marked eggs."

Children have been asked to bring their own baskets or bags for the hunt. Contributions may still be made at the Jaycee information Booth.

Fight Flares Anew In Tibet's Revolt

KALIMPONG, Indian - Tibetan Frontier (UPI)—The Chinese Communist have crushed an uprising in the Tibetan capital of Lhasa but fighting is raging more fiercely than ever in other parts of the Himalayan kingdom, it was reported here today.

The Indian government political agent at Gangtok, Sikkim, told a 30-member Tibetan delegation today there had been no fighting in Lhasa for 18 hours and that he regretted he had no information on the whereabouts of the Dalai Lama, Tibet's spiritual and temporal ruler.

Tibetan sources in Gangtok, about 20 miles from the border, said the uprising had spread to other areas and that they believed it was more widespread than on March 20 when the uprising reached a peak.

Nationalist intelligence reports reaching Taipei said a well-armed Communist army of 30,000 men had driven the Tibetan insurgents out of Lhasa but that the fight continued elsewhere in Tibet. Forces were studying means of aiding the anti-Communist movement.

Errol Flynn Files Charges Of 'Abuse'

HAVANA (UPI)—Errol Flynn appeared in court here Tuesday, conveyed by two beautiful secretaries, to make formal charges of "abuse of authority" against Cuban tourist police Lt. Jack Shea of Brooklyn.

Shea was not present at the proceedings, which amounted to a preliminary hearing on a charge the Hollywood actor filed two weeks ago.

Flynn said the Cuban official, "in a drunk and disorderly condition," had "flourished two guns" at the Comodoro Hotel on March 11 while the actor was giving a party.

When newsmen asked the Hollywood hero why he didn't throw the intruder out, Flynn replied, "I never argue with a .45, particularly when it's in the hands of a drunk."

Flynn's only companions were identified as blonde Connie Woods, of New York City, and red-headed Myrna Albadalejo, of Atlanta.

Mrs. Duncan Sane, Appeal Is Planned

VENTURA, Calif. (UPI)—Elizabeth Duncan, 54, found sane at the time she hired two men to kill her pregnant daughter-in-law, will be formally sentenced to death April 5.

Judge Charles P. Blackstock, who ruled the Santa Barbara matron sane Tuesday, will pass the sentence committing her to death in the gas chamber and on the same day also will hear arguments by her attorney for a new trial.

Mrs. Duncan, who along with her son, Frank, 30, heard the sanely ruling with composure in the same courtroom where a jury of eight women and four men convicted her of the for-hire murder of Frank's wife, and then condemned her to death, said she thought her appeal would be successful.

"I think I have a good chance," Mrs. Duncan said.

Taxpayers Paying For Service Twice

By FRANK ELEAZER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Initially the Defense Department witness didn't have copies of his statement for us reporters, and we thought we must have misheard him.

It sounded like what he said was that the department set up a privately-run school for its foreign aid people after deciding this kind of school couldn't be "financed" by the military itself.

Later I got the text of his statement. Sure enough, that's what he said.

The witness was John L. Holcombe, whose title in the Defense Department is impressive and too long to go into here and who meant, apparently, that the military just couldn't get into orbit with a school like this on its own.

Anyway, the upshot of the decision was that the department turned its training job over to a firm called the American Institute for Research, which set up classes last fall in a plush apartment house near the Pentagon with sundeck on top and an excellent view of the river.

Converting the apartments into coffee bar, lounge area, auditorium and classrooms cost us $274,170, including $16,000 for the institute. The institute then got an 11-month contract for $333,115, including a 6 per cent fee, to train 100 aid officers monthly.

Members of a House subcommittee on manpower waste had some trouble understanding the need for all this, and they seemed downright baffled at the way the institute, when it came time to hire teachers, went right back to the military, picking 14 retired officers.

Director of the school, they learned, is a brigadier general named Henry C. Newton, who draws military retirement pay of $6,027 yearly and gets $14,500 a year from the school. That totals $20,527.

All of this is paid by us taxpayers, and what Chairman James C. Davis (D-Ga.) and Reps. H. R. Gross (R-Iowa) and August E. Johannsen (R-Mich.) couldn't understand was why if the government needed Newton to run the school it didn't just recall him to duty, at pay and allowances of about $14,000 and without any 6 per cent fee to anybody.

Holcombe, Newton, and Dr. John Flanagan, president of the American Institute for Research and a professor of psychology at the University of Pittsburgh, were told to come back later to label the whole arrangement "an apparent dodge" of laws designed to discourage drawing two government pay checks at once.

And Johannsen said it looked to him like Flanagan's institute was "on the prowl—to the make—to find projects that can be financed by the taxpayers' money."

Chandler Watches Tense Coal Fields

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI)—Gov. A. B. Chandler kept a watchful eye on the tense strikebound eastern Kentucky coal fields today despite assurances by union leaders it would be unnecessary to call out the National Guard.

"With this sort of thing you can't wait for something to happen. Then it would be too late," said Chandler, who sent troops to the coal fields during his first term as governor in 1933.

Chandler alerted the guard Tuesday after State Public Safety Commissioner Don Sturgill reported that a crowd of 1,000 members threatened to destroy and burn a mine little at Colson in southeastern Kentucky's Letcher County.

The situation eased a few hours later, however, when Carson Hibbitt, president of United Mine Workers Districts 28 and 30 gave assurance that pickets at the Camp Fork Coal Co. tipple would be kept at a minimum and there would be "no further demonstration of force there."

Tuesday's incident at Colson was the most serious since the UMW went on strike to enforce demands for a $2 per day wage increase from operators on March 15.

Episcopal To Hold Special Services

Special services will be held at Holy Cross Episcopal Church during Holy Week.

The institution of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated at 8 p. m. Maundy Thursday. The service will be an "explained" eucharist, with lay-readers of the congregation giving explanations throughout the service.

This is the first such evening communion service held in Holy Cross in many years.

A three-hour meditation service on Good Friday will be held from noon to 3 p. m. The Passion of Christ will be observed, with meditation on the seven last words.

The lighting of the Paschal Candle will denote the beginning of the Holy Saturday observance at 8 p. m. Communicants will renew their baptismal vows.

Services on Easter Day will be held at 7:30 a. m., 9 a. m., and 11 a. m. Families will attend the 8 a. m. service, while children will bring their mite boxes and flowers for the slower cross.

Would-Be Bandits Foiled By Teller

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Two would-be robbers handed Bank of America teller Filamena Miller a note Tuesday telling her to "put $100 in a sack or we'll blow up the bank."

"What is this—a joke?" she snapped. "Get out of here this minute."

The robbers grinned sheepishly, said "All right," and fled.

Moreover, since one of them had signed the note, police had no trouble tracing them. The two foiled desperadoes—aged 9 and 13—burst into tears when apprehended.

Even Texans Admit Size Is Handicap

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—There are times when even Texans have to admit it's a handicap to be too big.

College men at Texas Western squeezed and squeezed but could put only 19 men into a telephone booth.

That was far short of the record set by Modesto, Calif. Junior College where 32 students sardined themselves into a booth.

It was four short of the 23 sophomores who squeezed themselves into a booth at St. Mary's College, Moraga, Calif.

But it tied the mark set by Hatfield College of England.

2 Children Killed, Bodies In Basket; Family 'Drugged'

HIBERNIA, N. J. (UPI)—Two children of a chemist were found murdered and their bodies stuffed in a clothes basket Tuesday night. Their mother and two other children were heavily drugged apparently by sleeping tablets.

The father, Brooks Church, a chemist for the Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Co. of Morris Plains, N. J., was being questioned by police. Police said the mother also would be questioned following hospital treatment.

Police Commissioner Thomas Oakes said no charges would be placed "until we are on firmer ground." Police investigators said the two dead children definitely were murdered.

The bodies of Catherine Church, 2, and Kenneth Church, 7 months old, were found wrapped in blankets in a clothes basket in a playhouse near their home on Dudaek Road in this tiny community about 35 miles from New York City.

Rockaway Township Police Chief Ernest Howard said another daughter, Elizabeth, 14, telephoned the Rockaway rescue squad at 9:45 p. m. and said that they were needed.

Rescue squad members found the bodies of the tiny victims, Elizabeth and a brother, Stephen, 10, were treated for drug poisoning and their stomachs pumped.

Police said Catherine was killed with a blunt instrument. Kenneth's body bore no marks of violence, police said.

Quotable Quotes

HAVANA, Cuba — Actor Errol Flynn replying when asked why he did not eject Cuban tourist policeman Jack Shea from a party that Flynn said Shea crashed in a drunk and disorderly fashion: "I'm a hero in all of my films, but I will not argue into the barrel of a .45, particularly when held by a drunk."

Weather Fickle; New Snows Arrive

United Press International
Fickle March weather brought heavy snows in the West, floods in Wisconsin and balmy weather in the East today.

Weathermen issued heavy snow warnings from eastern Colorado and northeastern New Mexico into southwest South Dakota, western Nebraska and northwest Kansas. The snowstorm began Tuesday night in the central Rockies, dumping one to three inch accumulations over southern Wyoming and northern Colorado.

Northerly winds of 20 to 30 miles an hour whipped the snow area and were expected to pile up drifts as the snow worsens during the day.

In Wisconsin, colder temperatures postponed expected flood crests until Thursday and weathermen urged residents along the Kickapoo, Pecatonica and lower Wisconsin rivers to take protective measures. Coast Guardsmen at Milwaukee, Kenosha, Racine, Sheboygan and Sturgeon Bay, Wis., were on 24-hour alert. Gov. Gaylord Nelson ordered 30,000 sandbags.

A record flood crest was predicted for the Wolf River at New London, Wis., and severe flooding also was expected on the Yellow, Lambeau and Baraboo rivers and at stages on the Wisconsin River.

'Legal Notices' Give Valuable Information

What you don't know could hurt you, the old adage to the contrary notwithstanding.

Clifford McKibbin, chairman of the Zoning and Planning Board of Sanford made this point in discussing the readership of legal advertisements. Many times, McKibbin told the City Commission, people don't know that their neighborhood is being re-zoned until someone starts to build something objectionable.

The "fine print" in The Herald notifies the public of proposed changes in zoning rules and regulations, of hearings on re-zoning and many other matters, such as delinquent taxes, sheriff's sales, auctions, etc.

Casual readers, no doubt, skip these valuable little items. They are unaware, therefore, that something of interest to them was not read. Included in these "Legal Notices" are invitations to bid on various items purchased by governmental agencies, examination notices for employment and many other types of interesting information. In the latter category are those "I will no longer be responsible for debts other than my own."

The Herald staff often glean interesting items for news stories from such legal notices. Many readers peruse the legalese just to "find out what's going on." Quite a few read them to keep abreast of zoning and other developments.

The moral of this story would be: also read the fine print, be it in an insurance policy, contract or other written matter.

Legal notices are published in The Herald by officials because state laws say they must be published. State laws say they must be published so that the public can be informed.

A footnote to this: The Herald is the only legal newspaper in Seminole County. The notices do not appear in other publications which circulate in this county.

Green To Have Voice

Just as predicted a couple of months ago, State Comptroller Ray E. Green will have a strong voice in deciding the level of property assessment in Seminole County.

Green will meet with the local legislative delegation and Mrs. Mary Earle Walker, tax assessor, on April 9 to discuss the matter. On Monday, he talked to County Commissioners, County Atty. Mack Cleveland Jr., officials of the School Board and Zoning Board.

Commission Chairman John Krider said the Tallahassee meeting was concerned with "talking over the problems." He said "no one person" was criticized.

This is the spirit in which officials concerned with the matter should approach the problem. Discussions settle many problems, arguments rarely do.

New Boss Of Army Sees Red Menace

United Press International

Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, the new Army chief of staff, expects the Communist menace to go on unabated and rejects the idea that nuclear weapons reduce the need for Army manpower.

He believes the Army should be modernizing its equipment at a more rapid rate and increasing the need for increased funds in the future to support "essential levels" of manpower and weapons.

In World War II Lemnitzer joined Gen. Mark Clark in the secret submarine mission which led to the African landings in October, 1942. In intervals between command and staff duties during the war, he negotiated with Italian representatives for Italian capitulation and with the German high command for surrender in Italy and southern Austria.

He was instrumental in getting American military aid under way in 1949 as special assistant to Defense Secretary Louis Johnson.

At the age of 51, Lemnitzer was determined to become a paratrooper. He took the airborne course and won command of the 11th Airborne Division.

That was in December, 1950. The next year he commanded the 7th Infantry Division in Korea. After a tour as deputy chief of staff in Washington, he returned to the Far East in 1955 first as Army forces commander and then as U. S. Far East commander. He was named vice chief of staff in April, 1957.

WE DO, AND ARE SORRY TO ADMIT IT

Assignment Washington

By Ed Kuterba

WASHINGTON — There they were in this little side room on the first floor of the Capitol. These were the peanut vendors from downtown toasting their peanut politicians and roasting our ears.

I hung around, since it was a free feed for hungry reporters, as it was for nearly 100 starving lawmakers.

It was some repeat. Almost everybody was balancing a plate of peanut butter, nut rolls and a cup of peanut soup and a slice of banana-peanut pie in the other. If they could only balance the budget that well!

Soon, breathing space had shrunk so, that I figured either that room had gotten smaller or the folks had gotten fuller.

"What about calories in peanuts?" I kept asking everybody. The munchers and crunchers kept shushing me, saying that, after all, this festival was subsidized by the National Peanut Council, and guests should avoid bad words. The council's excuse for the fancy lunch was that it was Peanut Week.

Senator John Sparkman (D-Ala.) finally gave in. "Calories," he said. "Ho, ho, just enough to give you the energy you need."

He then spoke on behalf of all those peanut growers in Alabama. "I like peanuts so much that I eat them raw — right out of the patch in my backyard!"

"The man in the dark suit who represented the peanut people said it wasn't the peanuts that had the calories but the stuff people doctored them up with, like when the nuts are boiled in fat."

Dorothy Yon, secretary to Representative E. L. Forrester (D-Ga.) emerged from hither bearing some peanut cake for Representative Frank Boykin (D. Ala.). "I'm always eating peanuts," she said. She was slim and pretty. Boykin, the court's jester of the House, sang out: "Why, you all know peanuts are made for love. Everything's made for love." He said that any human or animal could survive on peanuts alone if they drank enough water.

The man from the peanut people said: "Ever see a monkey, the way he goes after peanuts? Monkeys are smart!"

Representative Dan Flood (D. Pa.) sailed into the room. "You grow peanuts in Pennsylvania?" I said. "No," he said, "but I know as much about peanuts as anthracite coal." And he introduced a man from his district, Frank English, president of Planter's Peanuts out at Wilkes-Barre.

Flood drifted back into the conversation and poured it on our Secretary of Agriculture. "I found out," he said, "that Benson just dropped the price support on peanuts $25 a ton." His stiff-tipped black mustache quivered and he said, "I think we ought to drop Benson — at the earliest possible moment."

After that, the guests spent more time shelling poor Mr. Benson than they did eating peanuts. The party went off well, except that it started a bit late because the chef, Ernest Zohn, cut his finger slicing the peanut-fed ham. Someone took him to Doc Claver's office and then down to the Health and Welfare dispensary at the bottom of the Hill.

He would have been back in time except somebody in calver's office filled out the form incorrectly. The form stated that Zohn cut his thumb, and the poor fellow couldn't get treated until the error was corrected.

Back to Senator Sparkman. He skipped the peanut desserts and went across the corridor to the House restaurant for a glass of buttermilk.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, Sanford Herald:

I was happy to note your editorial of Monday, March 16, entitled, "Jaycees are Seeking U. S. Tax Overhaul."

As you probably know, I have introduced a tax bill which would effect a complete overhaul of the Federal tax structure along the lines proposed by the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce. As a matter of fact, it is my bill which is being supported by the U. S. Jaycees.

This is very helpful and I appreciate it.

Most sincerely,
A. Syd Herlong Jr.

Washington See-Saw

By Win Pendleton

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN — Just in case you need reminding, April 15 is the dead-line for paying Uncle Sam his cut of what you earned in 1958. This is about the only time of the year that you will ever hear us complaining about our wonderful democracy. But, we think the income tax is wrong—at least the way it is being handled.

We realize the Government must have taxes to operate on and to furnish us with all the services that we demand. We know that taxes are necessary—but we don't think that torture is. It isn't so much the amount we must pay sometimes, as it is the terrible ordeal we go through in trying to pay it. Every year the Government changes the rules. Every year the forms change. They get worse instead of better. And everybody knows that no matter how careful you are, you just can't pay the exact amount of the tax. You are never sure. You hate the thought that you might have over-paid—and you are fearful that you might have under-paid, and that Uncle will send somebody to check up on you.

The other day when we were fussing about it, we found a most sympathetic ear on Capitol Hill. The car belongs to a man who ought to know something about the problem because he is on the Ways and Means Committee. He is one of the men who helps write the tax laws—Congressman Syd Herlong.

"It's wrong the way it is set up," Herlong said. He explained that he has a plan that would make radical changes in the income tax structure. "As it is," he said, "the graduated scale of taxation discourages men of ability from earning money. Beyond a certain point, it is silly for a man to work for money, the Government will take 90% of what he earns. This law stifles incentive. I think it is wrong for a young man to grow up knowing that he can never get rich in this country. And he can't—with things like they are today."

Herlong said that in many cases when a man reaches a high bracket of earning power, he will purposely slow down and stop trying to earn more money. "Often," according to testimony before our committee, "when these men stop pushing forward, another hundred men who depend on him will be deprived of the employment which his leadership normally would create."

Herlong's bill would revise the entire structure of our income tax laws. He would do it slowly—taking five years for the process. He would raise some rates and reduce others. He seeks to make the income tax easier to pay and to make it more equitable. "When Karl Marx was writing about Communism," Herlong said, "he said that the capitalistic governments would destroy themselves if they ever adopted a steeply graduated income tax. And that's exactly what we have today. We are playing right into their hands!"

Science Fair Set At Seminole High

Two exhibits will draw special attention at the science fair, April 23, at Seminole High School.

The exhibits will be the prize-winning displays made by Clifford McKibbin III and John Dinkins. McKibbin's continuous cloud chamber detects the presence of radiation in the clouds. Dinkins' structural design shows the use of lightweight material to support massive weights.

The boys, both seniors, have been selected to participate in the state science talent search April 9-11 at Florida State University. They are among 40 students chosen from a statewide competition.

The science fair will be held in the chemistry classroom and laboratory at Seminole High School. The public is invited to see the exhibits.

Interesting displays have been entered by Henry Schumacher mechanical stroboscope; Harrison Smith, magnetic propulsion and particle acceleration; Leo Turner, Van de Graff generator, and Aubrey Moretz, high voltage telescope.

The models will be shown again April 4 at Stetson University during the district science fair.

Paul Hiekkon, science teacher at Seminole High School, has received recognition for his outstanding work with the students in his class.

Hiekkon has been selected by the Summer Institute for Science and Mathematics Teachers in receive a National Science Foundation stipend. The stipend will permit him to participate in the institute program at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala.

Hiekkon will attend the course, June 10-Aug. 22. In a letter informing Hiekkon of the honor, Ernest Williams, director of the Summer Institute said, "That you have been designated as a recipient of one of the 75 available stipends attests the high regard the members of the Awards Committee have for your record as a teacher, and your potential for further development in the teaching profession."

"Two things I am fighting for, even though many of my friends are not in agreement with me: reduced Government spending and a new income tax payment scale. Today, we are living like a man who has a charge account at a store where he never has to pay. We must reduce our spending if we ever expect to reduce taxes. And we can enjoy reduced taxes if we will remember that economy is like charity—it should be given."

Syd also said we had better go ahead and pay our income tax now and not wait for his tax reform bill to take effect. Otherwise Uncle might be around looking for us.

Dream Home Plans Being Made Now

By Jeanne Warnke
'I wouldn't live anywhere else but Sanford—especially not in the North with all that snow!' says Barbara (Mrs. Jack) Morrison, a gracious brunette who came to Florida from New England around thirteen years ago.

Barbara Morrison, one of two children, was reared in Scituate, Mass., which she describes as a lovely coastal town near the Cape.

It was while Jack, son of long-time residents, Laura and Charlie Morrison, was stationed aboard a Navy mine-layer in port at Boston that he met Barbie. And that meeting involves a rather complicated arrangement that Barbara tells amounted to something like "his best friend aboard ship was from my hometown and was the boyfriend of one of my closest friends."

Barbara attended Virginia Intermont College in Bristol, Va., where she majored in Fine Arts and Interior Decorating and minored in Piano—and she now recalls the fact that "after all those hours at the piano and I haven't played in years." She also muscled how her mother, (often a Sanford Winter guest) would feel if she knew that the art training had amounted to, in the last few years, one house with a fresh coat of paint! (Anyone passing her 20th street home recently would have seen her busy with brush and paint).

Barbara Morrison is a person who believes in getting things done. Some time ago when she decided she wanted a recessed wall planter with special lighting effect she had one section of their living room wall knocked out—the planter put in and it was none other than Barbara who plastered and painted the niche back to a dramatic focus point of interest.

Her background in interior decorating will be put to good use in a couple of months since she and Dr. Morrison are completing plans for their "dream home" in Loch Arbor. "For thirteen years I've dreamed of this house," says Barbara, "and for the past two years I've been making detailed drawings." And her plans, with the aid of a contractor, will be initiated in the travel modern colonial house which will be situated on Lake Amory amid a scattering of tall pines.

The Morrison home will have five bedrooms, three and a half baths and with all sorts of "Barbara inspired features" such as an all black bath and double stair case. The dream home will have fifteen foot hearth, exposed beam ceilings and sliding glass doors that open out onto a patio facing the lake.

Barbara is known for her favoritism to a modern black and white combination and so naturally the interior of the house will have that decor. In fact, she laughed, "If nothing else, at first, the orange crates will be covered in black and white!"

Barbara feels that black and white together is smart in any room. And with it she likes to use color accents in accessories. The main thing the Morrisons strive for is a lot of room for their four children and large boxes, "Hans" whose dignified name is somehow changed in pronunciation to "Honks" by little Morrisons who are slatratep sizes. Jack, Charles, Jr., is 10, Cyndie, is 7, Martha Jay, 7 and chubby little Lori Lee, 3.

Although their present home is "popping at the seams" with the family Barbara recalls the "really cramped days of our lives" when she, Jack, two children—and one on the way—doubled up in a trailer while Jack studied to become a dentist. It was in Atlanta, after pre-med at Stetson University, that he studied until the late hours of night and was up at four a. m. to be on his paper route before classes. "Many a time we didn't have a bite to eat in the trailer" said Barbara, "not until we'd all hurry out on Saturday to collect from the route then rush to the grocery store."

In the Morrison living room is a panel of exquisite floral prints that Barbara painted several years ago—"anyway, on a day that I can remember as having three babies climbing all over me as I worked". And the new house will have one room especially planned for quiet seclusion where she can spend more time with oil painting and sewing which is another special interest.

At college Barbara lettered in field hockey which she explained is like ice hockey only played in a field. Now her favorite sport is golf and she is an officer of the Woman's Club golf association. She is an avid bridge player, can design clothes and takes pride in dressing her small daughters. Which all adds up to a versatile and busy nerana.

But one more question, Barbie—"Can you cook?" and the answer was, "I cook because I have to!" But outside information has leaked out that she is an excellent cook too and her party specialties are always prepared with an artist's touch.

Sanford Well Represented At Orlando Central Deanery

Sanford was well represented at the Spring Deanery Meeting of the Orlando Central Deanery, National Council of Catholic Women. Those attending were Mrs. Clifford Milliken, Mrs. Helen Comstantine, Mrs. Charles E. Witt, Mrs. J. C. Berrenbacher, Mrs. Anna E. Jansen, Mrs. Paul Hrelka, Mrs. W. V. Roberts and Mrs. G. C. LeFils.

The meeting was begun by a Mass at the St. Charles church and Father Barick officiating. After a light breakfast the group of 250 women were divided into study groups. At these groups there was a moderator with a priest as moderator and a presiding chairman giving the instruction.

A new Workshop was started this year namely the "President's and President Elect Workshop". Here all the outgoing and newly elected presidents met. The presiding chairman was Mrs. J. Schreiber of Melbourne and the pastor was Father Weinheimer of Azalea Park.

The other workshops were "Spiritual Development", "Family Life and Parent Education", "Libraries and Literature", "Catholic Charities", and "Organization and Development".

After a luncheon prepared by the St. Charles Parish Council and headed by President Mrs. Dorothea Turkowski, general chairman, Mrs. Michael Dulark, reservation chairman Mrs. Francis McKean and Mrs. Kohontas, the meeting was held. This was highlighted by the election of Mrs. Charlotte Peck of Clermont as deanery president, retiring Mrs. Raymond Olech of Orlando.

Here is where the layettes which every affiliation of the Council prepared were judged. And as in previous years they were more beautiful and many hours of preparation were put into assembling them. The winner and rightly so was the layette prepared by the Melbourne affiliation.

The meeting was adjourned and completed with Benediction at St. Charles.

The chapter's colors, yellow and black, were used in table decorations. A black ceramic bowl held an arrangement of yellow roses on the linen covered table, and the hostess served individual lemon pies, nuts, mints and coffee.

Other members of Gamma Lambda are Mrs. Joe Corley, Mrs. Dick Nelson, Mrs. Helen McCall, Mrs. Clyde Robertson, Mrs. Alfred Green, Mrs. Gordon Fredricks, Mrs. Frank Voltaine, Mrs. R. Cushing, Mrs. Don Howe, Mrs. Garnet White, Mrs. R. Cowan, Mrs. Gerald Covington and Mrs. Clark Brustle.

Mrs. Turner Tells Of Florida History

The Sallie Harrison Chapter, of the D. A. R. met recently at the home of Mr. L. P. Hagan with Mrs. Charles L. Park, Sr., Mrs. Lena Belle Jennings, Mrs. Stuart Brown and Mrs. Mary Sue Compton as co-hostesses.

The highlight of the meeting was a historical paper on the Florida Indians as compiled and read by Mrs. Deane Turner which is as follows:

The history of Florida is divided into four periods—first, the first Spanish occupation from 1565 to 1763, 198 years; second, the English occupation, 1763 to 1783, 20 years; third, the second Spanish occupation, 1783 to 1821, 38 years; fourth, Florida as a possession of the United States since 1821.

During the first Spanish occupation no attempt was made at road building in what we now know as Florida. The waterways of the country were the highways traveled by Menendez and his successors. But, there were well defined Indian trails leading from one section of the country to another, and among them a Timucua trail leading up from the lower Florida coast along the Indian River to the Tomoko settlements, and thence to St. Augustine. From St. Augustine the trail led to the Hlaka, the Indian name for the St. Johns River. Hendricks Avenue and Ferris Street in South Jacksonville follow the line of this trail to the river.

Here the river was forded by the aborigines. They called it "Wacca Pilatka", which meant a fording place, interpreted by the whites a place where the cows crossed over. Jacksonville was called Cowford, even long after the town was platted and effluents named in 1822. In the early Territorial acts this locality was frequently mentioned as Cowford. The trail was taken up on the north side of the river, at the foot of the present Liberty Street, then a bluff of considerable height.

Early Spanish maps show an Indian village on this bluff called Osaehie. This is the first written name applying to the locality of Jacksonville. Upon reaching the top of the bluff at Liberty Street, the trail turned northwest, crossing Main Street about where it intersects with Munroe, at this time a swamp and on towards the St. Marys River following practically the same route as the present Kings Road to Dunsmore, Callahan, and on to the St. Marys River. This is practically the line followed by the Dixie Highway, known as State Road No. 1. Upon approaching the St. Marys River the road veers a little to the right of the old trail and crossed the river about five miles to the east of the original crossing.

English Settle Here The English began to settle in Florida in 1763. They soon saw the advisability of a road from St. Augustine to Georgia, to connect by land with the other colonies.

The matchless judgement of the Indian in choosing the line of least resistance situated the route selected was that of the Indian trail to the St. Marys River, thence to Fort Barrington on the Altamaha River a few miles above Darien, Georgia. The Kings Road, or the Great Road, as it was sometimes called, was started in 1763, through the voluntary contributions of a number of public spirited Englishmen in Florida, including Governors Grant and Moultrie. Among them may be mentioned familiar names in Florida's history—Forbes, Fish, Izard, Pinckney, Gerard, Walton, Manigault, Ozward, Henry, Laurens, Elliot and Murrey.

An erroneous impression must not be formed by the name Kings Road or Great Road. It was not a paved highway, like those of Porto Rico. It was scarcely more than an opening cut through the woods, with rude corduroy construction for the passage of bogs and swamps. There were few bridges, streams were forded in those days travel was almost entirely by horseback.

An attempt was made to build a road of the same character from St. Augustine southward to New Smyrna, and considerable work was done on it, but the main effort was placed upon the St. Augustine-St. Marys route, to connect with the more popular districts of the north. It will be remembered that this was before the American Revolution.

When the Spaniards returned to Florida for their second occupation, they made no attempt to keep up the improvements of the English, and the roads soon returned to their primeval state. That part of the Kings Road between the St. Johns and the St. Marys was seldom traveled and became overgrown with brush, the travel course of the Spaniards northward of the St. Johns being by boat through the inside passage. The road between Cowford and St. Augustine was kept open to afford communications with Fort San Nicholas, which was located in South Jacksonville where Lacarne is now. South of St. Augustine the road was completely abandoned.

Toward the end of the second Spanish occupation travel to St. Augustine from the north was principally by way of St. Marys, Georgia, thence by boat through the inland waterway to the mouth of Pablo Creek, and overland, crossing Diego Plains to the mouth of the North River opposite St. Augustine. This was the situation as to the Kings Road when the U. S. acquired Florida in 1821. Duval County was created in 1822, and Jacksonville was designated the county seat. It was only a hamlet of a few houses then and while the Superior Courts were held here the judges and nearly all of the lawyers lived in St. Augustine. They complained a great deal about the "badness of the Kings Road", which they had to travel to attend court at the Cowford, and many of them wrote articles for the St. Augustine newspaper on the subject. It was even attempted to change the county seat from Jacksonville to another place on account of the condition of the road. The publicity resulted in territorial legislation and the improvements of the old Kings Road were started in 1828. In the same year the road was reopened south of St. Augustine to Tomoko, a distance of about forty miles, and in 1836 it was opened to New Smyrna in connection with the military operations of the Seminole Indian war.

Florida In 1821 When the U. S. acquired Florida in 1821 there were but two settlements of any consequence—Pensacola in the west and St. Augustine in the east, four hundred miles apart. The intermediate space was occupied by the Indians. There was no established communication between these towns, except by boat through the Gulf of Mexico. These facts suggested the idea of attaching West Florida to Alabama and East Florida to Georgia, and considerable effort was made to accomplish the arrangement. The general government and the majority of the inhabitants of Florida, however, were opposed to it. Then it was suggested to move the Indians to the lower part of the peninsula and locate in the middle district a common seat of government for the Territory. This resulted in the selection of Tallahassee, and the influx of settlers to that section dates from that time.

Prior to this, Jacksonville was connected with West Florida by an old Indian trail, though it was only after the establishment of the Territorial government at Tallahassee that it became a travel route for the white man. This trail branched off from the Kings Road at Duval and Laura Streets and followed precisely the present day highway, around the headwaters of the Olatue to Alligator, now Lake City. It crossed the Suwannee River near the "upper mineral springs", which we now call White Springs, thence on to the Indian towns of Anasaha, Aucilla, Mickasky and Tallahassee.

Pitching Sparkles In Exhibition Tiffs

By FRED DOWN
United Press International
 Warren Spahn served notice today that he's ready to get the Milwaukee Braves off winning in their April 10 National League opener.

The 37-year-old southpaw who has had nine 20-victory seasons highlighted another day of brilliant all-around Grapefruit League plying Tuesday when he went the distance in a 3-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. Spahn thereby took the play away from Los Angeles' Don Drysdale and Pittsburgh's Vern Law, each of whom also hurled nine innings, as well as San Francisco's Jack Sanford who turned in a powerful seven-inning performance.

Joe Schaffernoth, a 21-year-old rookie, ruffled out the string of fine mound jobs when he pitched seven shutout innings in the Chicago Cubs' 4-2 decision over the Cleveland Indians.

Cards Spahn's Cousin
 Spahn scattered three hits, walked two and struck out three in a masterful showing against his favorite cousin, The Cardinals, who have lost 21 decisions to Spahn during his National League career, got only one man to second base — on a fourth-inning double by Chuck Pessiegan. Drysdale, the comeback kid of the Dodger camp, pitched a six-hitter and beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 1-0, when Jim Gentile tripped across a run in the fourth inning. Drysdale, who has given up two runs, walked five and struck out 17 batters in 24 innings this spring, used 109 pitches and fanned only 31 batters Tuesday.

Law, who had a 14-12 record last season, pitched a four-hitter as the Pittsburgh Pirates scored a 3-1 win over the Detroit Tigers. Gail Harris' second-inning homer produced the only run for Detroit. Hank Foiles had a homer and two singles and Rocky Nelson also homered for the Pirates.

Sanford Sparks Giants
 Sanford, who the Giants hope will approximate his 19-win total of 1937, pitched seven innings and was touched for five hits to lead San Francisco to a 10-4 decision over the Boston Red Sox. Andre Rodgers hit a double and a 400-foot homer to knock in four runs and pace the Giant attack. Rodgers had collected 14 hits in his last 21 tries.

Schaffernoth, a right-hander on the San Antonio roster, faced only 23 batters in his seven-inning outing for the Cubs. The Cubs snapped a 2-2 tie in the eighth inning when Ernie Banks delivered a two-run double as a pinch-hitter. Cub pitcher Taylor Phillips was struck on the head by a line drive in pre-game practice but X-rays proved negative.

The New York Yankees beat the Chicago White Sox, 6-4, the Baltimore Orioles walloped the Kansas City Athletics, 11-3, and the Washington Senators edged out the Cincinnati Reds, 7-6, in other exhibition activity.

Youngsters Start Baseball In City; Leagues Planned

Supervised baseball for Sanford youngsters began yesterday when the Lions Club League started its season in Fort Mellon Park.

The Sanford Recreation Department announced that a Little League would be formed as soon as two more sponsors could be secured. Plans call for tryouts the third week in April. Teams will start practice on May 4, league games are scheduled to start June 1.

All league games will be played under the lights at the new Little League Field at Ft. Mellon Park. Boys 10-12 will make up the league with the sponsors furnishing the uniforms.

The Sanford Babe Ruth League has been organized as an outgrowth of the Rotary League and six sponsors will furnish complete uniforms, catching equipment and accident insurance.

Elected as officers of the league are Sonny Powell, president; George Morgan, vice president; and Ronald Perry, secretary-treasurer. Team sponsors are Rotary, Kiwanis, Shrine, Elks, Civitan and C.P.O. Clubs.

Tryouts will be held in the third week of April with the first game May 4. League games will be played on the practice field at the Giants' Spring Training Grounds, with boys aged 13 through 15 making up the teams.

The American Legion Post will sponsor a team as Sanford's first entry in the District Junior American Legion League. Organization plans call for practice tryouts the first part of May for boys 13-17.

Stengel Picks Yanks To Win

(Editor's Note: This is the ninth dispatch on the prospects of the major league clubs in 1950.)

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Don't take too much stock in what rival American League managers are saying about the Yankees—that they can be beaten.

Casey Stengel says they can't. Stengel, who has guided the Yankees to nine pennants in his 10 years as manager, picks Detroit as the club most likely to give his team trouble.

"But what the hell, let's face facts," Stengel said. "We have players on our bench, what the hell we even have players in the minors who would be regulars on any other club but the Yankees. They say I've got problems. Well, then who say it should have the same ones. They'd be happy. My problem is to decide which players to keep. We only have major leaguers. The other clubs have to decide what minor leaguers they want to carry."

Wants More Pitching

Stengel admits he would like more pitching, but adds "what team doesn't?" He thinks he has enough as it is, but as insurance he would like to pick up Dick Hyde from the Senators in case his relief specialist of last year, Ryne Duren, should not recover completely from his knee operation.

He also has to consider Whitely Ford's sore arm and Don Larsen's ailing shoulder. Casey, however, isn't worried about either. Bob Turley, the hero of the Yankees come-from-behind World Series triumph over the Braves last year, will be his No. 1 pitcher. He had a 21-7 record in 1948 and looks better than ever this spring.

For other starters there are Ford (14-7), rated one of the best clutch pitchers in the business; Larsen (9-5); Johnny Kucks (8-9); Tom Sturdivant (3-3); Duke Maddox (11-3) and Art Dittmar (8-8). Backing up Duren (6-4) in the bullpen, he has Bobby Shantz (7-6), who also can be spotted as a starter; Zack Monroe (4-2) and two veterans, Murry Dickson (10-7) and Virgil Trucks (2-2).

Of the Yankee rookie hurlers, Mark Freeman, who won 13 while losing 10 at Denver last season, has the best chance to make it. One Position Set—Mantle's. Actually no position on the Yankees, outside of centerfield where Mickey Mantle will hold forth, is set. It looks like it will be Hank Bauer in right and Norm Siebern in left with the 43-year-old Ben Slaughter in reserve.

But Stengel has more outfielders than that. Yogi Berra, long the Yankees' No. 1 catcher, can play right field and Elston Howard, who probably will take over for Berra as the top catcher this season, can play left. Any way Stengel wants to shift them, he isn't hurting.

John Blanchard, who hit .291 at Denver last year with 19 homers and 96 runs batted in, also is in the catching picture, as is last year's No. 3 man, Darrell Johnson.

Until Tony Kubek gets out of a few weeks—Stengel will shuffle in fielded around. Moose Skowron figures to start at first, but Howard also can play that position. Also there is Marvin Throneberry.

Another Yankee Pennant? Bobby Richardson probably will be at second, Gil McDougald at short and either Andy Carey or Jerry Lumpe at third. But when Kubek returns, he figures to take over the shortstop post with McDougald taking over second from Richardson.

Stengel has a fine glove man in Fritz Brickell, who can play either short or second and who hit .266 at Denver last season. There is Glenn Boyer, who batted .304 at Richmond and who can play the infield or outfield.

The Yankees have plenty of outfield possibilities—so many in fact that Stengel admits he does have "one problem."

"They're all so good, it's going to be hard to decide which players to keep," he explains.

Whichever ones he decides to keep, they figure to make a shambles out of the American League pennant race in 1950—just as they did last year.

Player Representatives Boot Baseball Attorney

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—J. Norman Lewis, ousted as attorney for the major league baseball players as the result of a drive apparently headed by Phila pitcher Robin Roberts, insisted today, "this is not my exit from baseball."

Lewis, first retained by the players in May 1935, reached the end of that arrangement Tuesday when a majority of the 16 player representatives voted not to renew his current one-year contract which it ends on March 31.

The attorney got the word directly from Roberts, who United Press International learned has been spearheading an anti-Lewis movement for three years, assisted by catcher Sherman Lollar of the Chicago White Sox.

"The answer is 'no,' Norman," Roberts told Lewis when the representatives ended a 30-minute meeting on the subject. "They voted not to retain you."

Lewis, who indicated without specifically saying so that he feels Roberts has acted in the interests of the big league club owners, openly indicated coolness toward the Phillies' star when he observed:

"I feel a sense of deep satisfaction at the gains I helped to achieve for major league players, and I believe they are appreciated by all the players except, perhaps, Robin Roberts."

But the attorney added, "I don't feel I wish to get into any controversy, and this definitely is not my exit from baseball."

At present Lewis still represents the International League Players Association, and in addition there are two minor court cases pending action which he expects to be wound up by the end of the summer.

Lewis' dismissal highlighted a lengthy meeting of the player representatives. They elected Harvey Kuhn of Detroit as American League player representative, succeeding Eddie Yost of Detroit, who has resigned.

Little Guys Beat Towering Cagers In Benefit Game

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The "little guys" defeated the "big guys," 19-16, in a basketball game Tuesday night but one big guy, Maurice Stokes, is the big winner today in his fight against paralysis.

More than $5,000 was collected from a crowd of 5,528 to help meet the mounting medical expenses that the former St. Francis (Pa.) College and Cincinnati Royals star has incurred since he suffered a brain ailment about a year ago.

The "little guys," a collection of Pittsburgh area college stars are under six feet tall, used rebounding speed to come from behind in the second half to edge their opponents, all of whom stand over 6-5. All the players were drawn from colleges in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia.

The "midsize" were led by their tallest teammate Jamie Kimbrough of Indiana (Pa.) State Teachers, who is an even 7-0 tall. Kimbrough tossed in 20 points and was followed by Duquesne University's Herbie Matthews with 18 and Pitt All American Don Hennon who made 16.

Matthews dropped in a jump shot with 5:35 left in the game to give the pint-sizers a 64-63 lead, which they kept.

Don Falenski, 6-4 St. Francis star, led the stringbeans with 19 points, while Herb Lake, of Youngstown (Ohio) University, had one last.

Fred Schaus, 6-5 coach of West Virginia, coached the little winners, while Ed Duddy Moore, La Salle College mentor, handled the big fellows.

The crowd was the largest ever to watch a basketball game at the University of Pittsburgh Field House.

Zimmer Promises No 'Lip Flipping'

VERO BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—General Manager Buzzie Bavasi of the Los Angeles Dodgers said today that outpoken infielder Don Zimmer "has agreed to stop popping off" and just try to win a job with the club.

Zimmer has been widely quoted all spring in the effect that he is in the Dodger doghouse and that the Milwaukee Braves "could probably get me for a dozen baseball bats."

"Zimmer has assured me that he will stop popping off," Bavasi commented after a 20-minute talk with the infielder. "We are agreed that (Manager Walter) Alton will choose his nine best players when it comes time to make out his opening-day lineup."

Zimmer, a 28-year-old native of Cincinnati whose career has been plagued by tragedy, has made only two hits in 18 tries this spring and has been hobbled with a pulled leg muscle the last three days. He hit .262 in 127 games for the Dodgers last season.

Zimmer has been playing second fiddle to rookie Bob Lillis all spring.

Dapples Favorite At Track Tonight

Dapples, leading winner at the Sanford and Kennel Club, bids for his 11th victory in the midweek "hot box" tonight.

Keith Dillon's smooth-striding greyhound will take on seven other splendid sprinters in the five-sixteenths mile test. The race actually could be billed as a sprint championship, for the track's best distance runners are being held out for the Derby slated Friday night over the three-eighths mile.

The flashy octet heading post-ward tonight consists of those greyhounds rated best over the standard SOKC racing course.

Dapples, who received little fanfare earlier in the campaign, won the big race Saturday night by two lengths for his second straight and 19th in 24 starts. He went off at 7 to 1 Saturday, but will probably get stronger backing this time, especially since he has drawn the one box.

Simla, possibly the most consistent greyhound at the Sanford-Orlando track, looks dangerous in the number three hole. Ben Jacques' speedy miss boasts eight wins, 11 seconds and two thirds in 27 tries against the best here.

Ladies Night and the Derby Consolation are set tomorrow.

Gonzales Defeats Cooper In Match

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Pancho Gonzales defeated Ashley Cooper 6-2, 7-3 Tuesday night in the feature match of Jack Kramer's professional tennis tour.

Gonzales took top prize money of $500 by ending the match with two straight service aces. The victory was his 12th against six losses on the tour.

Earlier, Lew Hoad defeated Stan Anderson 6-2, 6-1. Hoad has a 14-4 tour record. Cooper is now 6-11 and Anderson 3-14.

Hoad and Cooper beat Gonzales and Anderson 10-8 in a doubles match.

Rollins Defeats NYU Baseballers

WINTER PARK (UPI)—Rollins College uncorked an eight-run fifth inning Tuesday and went on to defeat New York University 12-3.

It was the second loss of the day for NYU, which bowed in the first game of a doubleheader, 7-4 against Ohio State.

Rollins batters collected 10 hits off three NYU pitchers. They scored eight runs in the fifth off Frank Cheradi and Bob Williams when they got four hits and sent three runs across on a center field error.

Petit And Hagan Spark Hawks' Win

United Press International
 Bob Pettit and Cliff Hagan are taking turns in spearheading the St. Louis Hawks toward a successful defense of their National Basketball Association championship.

Pettit gained scoring honors for the first time Tuesday night as he dropped in 38 points to lead St. Louis to a 121-97 win over Minneapolis and a 2-1 edge in their Western Division playoff finals. Hagan connected for 28.

Boston seeks to take a controlling 3-1 margin tonight when the Celtics meet Syracuse on the Nationals' home court. The Celtics have scored a pair of 22-point victories in the Eastern Division finals, while Syracuse has managed to eke out a two-point decision.

St. Louis need to a 9-0 lead over the Lakers and lifted the margin in 34-21 at the end of the first quarter. The Hawks built the lead to 63-38 at halftime, erasing any chance Minneapolis had of catching up. Pettit sank 17 of 27 shots from the floor as St. Louis piled up a .480 percentage. Ziggy Baylor and Ed Fleming had 15 each for the Lakers.

The fourth game of the series shifts to the Lakers' court Thursday with the teams returning to St. Louis Saturday for the fifth encounter.

Will America Follow Example Of France?

The honesty of a sovereign government cannot be taken for granted. This has been proved hundreds of times throughout recorded history.

The most recent of these horrible examples is France, where, within a lifetime, the politicians have managed to reduce the value of the people's money to 1/100 of its initial value by constantly unbalancing the budget and issuing money to make up the difference.

Our own horrible example is that our politicians in Washington, have, so far, managed to reduce the value of our money to one-half its pre-war value by unbalancing the budget and using printed paper to make up the difference. And the end is not in sight.

When our Senator Smathers, and other politicians, say that "an unbalanced budget doesn't compare with a world war," they infer that it is necessary to unbalance the budget to improve our military strength. The exact opposite is true. The most important thing that our Washington politicians can do is to keep our money sound, by spending no more than the government takes in. Tax us for the additional cost, but don't unbalance the budget.

The sole power of regulating the value of our money is in the hands of our federal government. In turn, we, the voters, are responsible for electing our government and to see to it that it stays honest by not spending more than it takes in.

Over the past three decades, we have allowed our federal government to spend more than it has taken in, and allowed it to make up the difference by running printing presses, thus reducing the value of our money.

In plain, simple and honest language, we have allowed our government to steal our money, in addition to taxing us, both directly and indirectly.

Unfortunately, the greatest sufferers are the ones who can least afford it, the people living on fixed income. It has made a joke of thrift and saving for old age, of life insurance, of government savings bonds.

Politicians glibly blame business and labor, the wage-price spiral. The latter is the result of, not the cause of, the cheapening of our money, when taken in conjunction with the monopoly powers that we have allowed our government to grant to labor unions. If the money hadn't been cheapened by our government, unduly high wage increases would simply mean that a company would go bankrupt, and that is proper punishment for economic sins.

The only power that can stop the tragedy of our dishonest federal government is the voter. We must elect politicians who will live up to a promise of maintaining the value of our currency. The battle cry must be: "Tax us, but don't steal from us."

The author of this article, Mark Shoeld, is a 70-year-old retired chemical engineer who lives in DeBary.

Born in Sweden, he was taken in China at the age of three months by his missionary parents. He spent his childhood in China. His primary education was provided by his mother, who had been a school teacher. His secondary education was received in Sweden. He did post-graduate study in Switzerland, Germany and Austria.

Shoeld came to the U. S. in 1911, became a citizen shortly afterward. Before retiring, he was the technical director, chief of development and research and a consultant for Davison Chemical Co., a division of W. R. Grace & Co. During World War I, Shoeld designed and built plants to produce necessary war chemicals which, prior to that time, had been imported from Germany. During World War II, he developed the catalyst for aviation gasoline and contributed to the synthetic rubber catalyst. Shoeld is a retired citizen, living on a fixed income. He requested that readers clip this article and attempt to have it reprinted in all types of publications in all parts of the U. S.

Farm Has Gone To Seed, Special Fly Crop Raised

El Centro, Calif. (UPI) — Operators of the Desert Seed Company know their onions when it comes to raising violet cabbage, red-headed lettuce and their own flies.

It's part of a seed-growing operation at three stations in California and two in Oregon run by Robert C. Tang, Henry Jones, John Studer and Russ Waggoner, who produce 714 varieties of vegetable seeds, not to mention 204 types of flowers.

They ship squash seed to Mexico, tomato seed to India, lettuce seed to Australia, carrot seed to Argentina and radish seed to France. The firm has eight kinds of onions, one of which is a sterile male line which has been crossed with other varieties and shipped to the South and South-west.

In the course of continuous research, the firm has also produced red-headed lettuce by crossing a breed of red romaine and a green Great Lakes variety. It's particularly pretty in salads along with violet cabbage, which is really called "flower cabbage," was developed in Japan and introduced into the United States last year.

The flies are raised on the seed farm — started in a main street store in 1941 — to pollinate onions and carrots. They are kept strictly apart from houseflies and their like.

They spend their lives buzzing from plant to plant, working for a living.

Margaret O'Brien 'Poor Rich Girl' Since Mother Died

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Ex-child star Margaret O'Brien, making her first movie in four years, is the "poor little rich girl" come to life.

Though she earned $100,000 on television shows last year, and has a sizeable fortune set up in trust funds, the fragile little actress admits she is lonely.

"It's been seven months since mother died," Margaret said. "She was a tower of strength to me. Now that she's gone I find myself spending more and more time alone."

Most sheltered of all child performers, Margaret rarely was seen without her mother who made all the decisions for her talented daughter.

"Mother took care of my contacts and finances," Maggie went on. "I was terrified at first about taking over such big responsibilities. I didn't think I could do it. Now I'm facing my obligations because I realize no one else is going to do it for me."

Margaret just turned 21, and is free to kick up her heels. But she continues to lead the almost austere life laid down for her by her mother.

"I've never wanted to break loose and raise heck," she said. "I've seen too much of that kind of life all around me. My few friends are not part of the Hollywood crowd. I guess Anna Maria Alberghetti is the only friend I have in show business."

Last Christmas Margaret became engaged to commercial artist Robert Allen, 24, whom she plans to marry next September.

Meanwhile, she lives alone in a Beverly Hills duplex which she owns, renting out the other eight-room apartment.

Light With You, Odds Against You

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UPI) - You apparently stand a better chance of getting killed in Rhode Island by crossing intersections with the traffic light than against it.

According to the Automobile Club of Rhode Island, 110 percent of all pedestrians killed at intersections in 1957 were crossing the signal, while 6 percent were crossing against it. These figures prove conclusively that it is dangerous to assume that the "go" signal on the traffic light relieves the pedestrian of the need for alertness."

Grandma Is Happy Delivering Mail

TYNGSBORO, Mass. (UPI) - For 21 years, a 105-pound grandmother has covered a 28-mile R. F. D. route here six days a week. "I really like it," says Mrs. Laura A. Shipley, 59. She delivers an average of 200 letters a day. With four children and six grandchildren, she also does a lot of baby sitting.

Just Seeds Of Crime

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) - Minnesota has so many lakes there just aren't enough names to go around. In fact, the Minnesota Historical Society collected 99 bottles of water called "Long Lake," "Ninety-one" were dubbed "Mud Lake" and 78 "Rice Lake."

To make matters worse, some of the state's 11,000 lakes have three or more names each.

Anderson To Leave Sanford; Accepts Lakeland Position

Elery B. Anderson will leave Sanford April 1 for Lakeland, where he will assume management of two Mather's furniture stores.

For the past 11 years, Anderson has supervised Mather of Sanford. He came here from Burlington, N. C., after 20 years as manager of the Manufacturers and Stores Corporation.

Although he was born in Chattanooga, Tenn., Anderson attended school and was married in Lakeland. He will return after an absence of 32 years. Mrs. Anderson's mother and brother are residents of that city.

The couple has one daughter, Mrs. Frank Roberts of Ormond Beach, and three grandchildren. "We regret leaving Sanford, and the many friends we have here," Anderson said, "but when a promotion is offered it is foolish to turn it down."

Chester Muse will become manager of Mather of Sanford after Anderson's departure. Muse has been assistant manager for more than two years.

South (New York) Ready To Secede

NEW YORK (UPI) — If a growing group of New York City residents has its way there will be a 51st star on the U. S. flag before long—for the state of South New York.

Present indications are that it will take New York City considerably longer to get its own star than it took Hawaii and Alaska.

Nevertheless, some tax-weary residents of the nation's greatest city are whooping rebel yells and holding secessions.

State Sen. Joseph Zaratecki, a key boy and Democratic majority leader in the state Senate, takes seriously enough to have offered an amendment to the state constitution setting up the city as a separate state.

Unfortunately for the cause, his proposal fared badly in the Senate Tuesday. It was brought to a vote and just about everyone voted loudly and whimsically for it, but Speaker Malcolm Wilson ruled that it had been voted down.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner said recently that secession would have a "great deal of benefit for the city and should be given thought" despite the obvious difficulties such a move would have.

New York City is having trouble getting enough funds to keep going. Wagner has proposed various new taxes but must get consent of the Legislature, meeting in Albany, to levy them.

Several of the mayor's pet schemes have been turned down by the Legislature, dominated by upstate interests and the Republican Party.

New York City pays between 55 and 60 per cent of the state's total revenue, according to Wagner, and gets back only about 35 per cent of that revenue. When a state budget exceeds two billion dollars, as this year's does, that gets into the vicinity of big money.

Egyptians Suspect Soviet Doubletalk On Israeli Issue

CAIRO (UPI) — The Egyptians suspect they are getting diplomatic doubletalk from the Russians.

No matter what other preoccupation may occupy the Arab world, there is one that is constant—their enmity for Israel.

And it is in the matter of Israel that they think they are getting double talk from the Soviet Union.

The Israeli issue was at the top of the agenda of this spring's meeting of the Arab League.

The league headquarters sits in the middle of downtown Cairo. It is a solid-looking building of yellow stone set in the midst of a sandy courtyard. Spring flowers line the driveway approach to the entrance. There is a reception hall and high-ceilinged rooms on either side.

In one of these rooms is the office of Abdul Halek Hassouna, secretary general of the league which ranks Israel as its bitterest enemy.

The main topic was the flow of Jewish refugees from Romania.

Russia, he said, has given the league blanket assurances that no Russian Jews would be permitted to emigrate to Israel. Romania has said its emigration is limited and is for humanitarian purposes.

"But," he said, "when we hear Mr. David Ben-Gurion (premier of Israel) asking for more refugees and planning to get into Israel 100,000 in 1959 and know of the existence of receiving centers in Vienna and the activities of agents in Italy looking after them and facilities for their trip to Israel, we cannot help but feel there is a planned program for this purpose."

An Egyptian government official echoed Hassouna but in stronger language.

"The Russians may say they are not permitting emigration," he said, "but we don't believe them."

Thirty-five per cent of U. S. married couples spend more time at home gardening than at any other pastime, according to a survey report by the American Association of Nurserymen.

Washington Window

By LYLE G. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Robert Amory Jr. probably is the second-best or third-best informed American on what the Russian Communists are doing, thinking and planning.

Amory is deputy chief for intelligence of the Central Intelligence Agency. CIA is the United States spy apparatus or, in more polite language, it is a counter-intelligence organization.

This well informed American was making a speech the other day in Columbia, S.C. Amory's speech did not get the publicity it deserved despite the fact that what he had to say was pretty good news for U. S. citizens.

His story was that the Soviet Union is neither ready nor preparing for a war; that the Kremlin does not want a war although Communist Russia would fight if it must. Amory said the Russian leaders decided 18 months ago that their Communist economy had to have 15 years of peace to achieve their internal development plans.

"Their economy is by no means mobilized for war or preparing for war," Amory said. "They strike a balance between military and other expenditures just as we do."

He believes the Soviet Union is not ready to risk a nuclear war over Berlin. Nikita Khrushchev, Soviet premier, can force the West to "chicken out."

"If the West is resolute," Amory said, "then I believe that the Soviet Union will be the ones to back down."

During the 15 years of peace which Amory is convinced the Soviet Union must have and urgently wants, the CIA expects the Kremlin to follow this general pattern:

Play its Sputnik diplomacy to the limit.

Stand pat against all pressure in the areas now dominated by communism.

Insist either upon two-nation talks between the Soviet Union and the United States or demand that satellite powers sit beside Soviet conferees in numbers equal to the number of allies sitting beside the Americans.

Maintain at high pitch work of trouble-making among the peoples of non-communist nations.

But softening this Fifth Column activity with some show of willingness to cooperate with governments over which the Kremlin exercises no control.

Continue an effective foreign policy of "no strings" foreign aid toward nations which neither are Communist allies nor expected to become allies.

Chiang Promises Aid For Tibet

Nationalists Plan Fight On Mainland

TAIPEI (UPI)—President Chiang Kai-shek said today he would lead his Nationalist Chinese forces against the Communists if the Tibetan rebels carry on their fight.

Chiang, in his first statement since the anti-Communist revolt broke out in Tibet, said the Nationalists are "making every possible effort" to aid the revolutionary forces.

Coffee Club Hears Speech By Wright, Manager Of Plant

James Wright, manager of the Ox-Fibre Bruah Co., Benson Junction, spoke to members of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Coffee Club this morning.

The Ox-Fibre Bruah Co. is celebrating its 75th anniversary, although Wright hastened to say that he was not celebrating his.

Wright's pride in the company he has served for 33 years was evident.

He cited the firm's longevity and recognition as a leader in the brush industry, and praised its board of directors as "frugal, conservative and progressive men."

"I must say, however," Wright said, "that they are possessed with a strange, and sometimes boring insistence that management show a profit."

Wright thanked Sanford for being such a friendly neighbor. Sanford was once the home of Ox-Fibre. His amusing remarks caught the interest of Coffee Club members and held them spellbound, until he left the microphone in a hearty round of applause.

Charlie Morrison introduced guests and new members of the club. Among them were Ward Goodrich, business manager of the Sanford Greyhound Bus Station, and Joseph Kuramal, mayor of Sanford. Other members of the club included Cecil Tucker, county agent; Bob Carroll, associate of Harold Kautner; Milton Stua, new owner of Celery City Printing Co.; John Piro, owner of Piro Manufacturing Co.; his associate and son-in-law, Jerry Ferraro; Marvin Meltzer, manager of Sanford Manufacturing Co.; and Roy Wright, of the Sanford Atlantic Bank.

Chiang's declaration followed reports from Nationalist intelligence sources that the insurgents have cut the two mainland routes from Red China to the remote Himalayan kingdom.

Chiang addressed his 500-word message to the people of Tibet.

"If you remain firm and courageous and if you continue to carry on the fight soon I shall lead your compatriots, civilian and military alike, to join forces with you on the mainland and to fight shoulder to shoulder for the successful fulfillment of our sacred mission of national salvation," Chiang said.

The 70-year-old generalissimo said "the government of the Republic of Nationalist China is making every effort to give you continuous and effective aid."

He did not disclose what the aid was. But key Nationalist officials have been meeting day and night during the past 72 hours to find ways to help the uprising.

The Chiang statement came as the London Times, in a dispatch from Kalimpong on the Indian-Tibetan frontier, said the Khabag, Supreme Tibetan Cabinet, had declared itself independent of Chinese Communist control.

Reports reaching New Delhi indicated Lhasa was quiet but that there was widespread fighting in other areas of Tibet and that the rebels were holding the town of Gyantse which controls an important road through Tibet.

Adenauer Worried About Red Parleys

BONN, Germany (UPI)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer was nagged by fears today the Western powers might weaken West Germany's position in negotiations with the Soviet Union.

He was reported particularly worried that the Western powers will accept something less than general controlled disarmament—a settlement that might weaken West Germany defensively.

His aides and others who see him regularly said this explains the 63-year-old Adenauer's extreme suspicion of and extreme sensitiveness to public statements by other Western leaders.

Adenauer's suspicions, which have infected many of his advisers and most of the newspapers which normally stay close to his foreign policy line, have caused a series of crises in German-British relations.

Only this week Adenauer instructed his ambassador in London to determine the truth about reports Britain was considering some kind of "freeze" on atomic weapons in central Europe.

Mother Confined For Tots' Deaths

MIAMI, N. J. (UPI)—Mrs. Ellen Church, who told police she bludgeoned two of her children to death with a toy tomahawk and a hammer, was confined to an institution today as insane.

"I thought we were all insane," she told officials Wednesday in explaining why she took the lives of two of her children and tried to kill two others by feeding them overdoses of sleeping pills in fresh raspberries.

Mrs. Church, a den mother for Scout Cub Pack 62 in Rockaway township, also had tried to commit suicide by taking sleeping pills after the attack on her children.

Larceny Charged To House Painter

The charge against Cliff Bowen, 51-year-old house painter, has been changed from petty larceny to grand larceny, according to Deputy Sheriff L. J. Kris.

Kris said a television set, stand, radio and jacket were found beneath Bowen's house at 516 West First St. The articles were stolen from the Palma Hotel, 420 West First St. They were identified by one of the residents, Walter Fellen.

Bowen is in the Seminole County jail under $500 bond. He was charged with petty larceny at the time of his arrest.

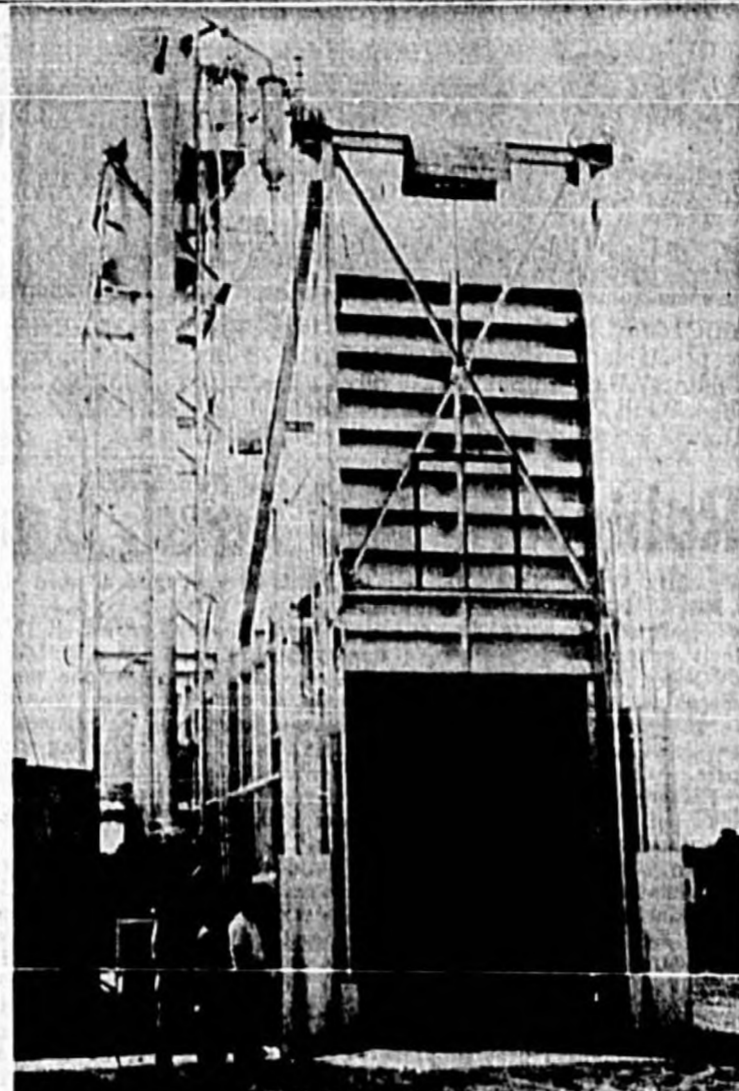

Mrs. Anna Minor, Ex-Resident, Dies

Mrs. Anna Kathryn Minor, 68, former Sanford resident, died Tuesday in a Winter Garden hospital. She was born in Ovidio, and moved to Winter Garden from Sanford in 1936.

Among her survivors is one brother, Lewis M. Leinhardt, Sanford. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the Ocoee Christian Church. Dr. Paul H. Packard will officiate. Hawthorne Funeral Home, Winter Garden, is in charge of arrangements.

PRE-COOLER OPENS — Jet-Vac, Inc., today opened its huge vegetable pre-cooling plant in Sanford. Located on Seminole Blvd., the plant can cool vegetables in truckload lots. Looking at the tall structure are Cecil Tucker, county agent; Harry Valdou, secretary-treasurer of Jet-Vac, and Joseph Kuramal, Jet-Vac field director. (Staff Photo)

Pre-Cooler Plant Starts Operating

The giant pre-cooler on Seminole Boulevard went into operation today.

Built by Jet-Vac Coolers Inc., of Philadelphia, the plant can process a full trailer load of vegetables within minutes.

Brokers and growers in the Central Florida area will utilize the service to remove moisture and cool crops of celery, corn, cabbage, lettuce and beans. The plant is expected to boost area vegetable production and bring better prices for vegetables.

The automation of pre-cooling machinery allows one man to operate the process. A trailer load of vegetables is driven into a large steel chamber. The doors of the chamber are closed and sealed.

A mobile power plant creates steam through jets. The jets create a vacuum in the chamber, pulling all air and moisture from the vegetables. Then the power plant refrigerates the contents of the chamber to 35 degrees. The doors open and the load is ready to go about its business—north, south, east or west—the vegetables will remain in fresh condition for a minimum of ten days.

The jet process pulls moisture from the very heart of the vegetable. Many pre-cooling plants simply demisterize the first few layers or leaves.

Two similar plants now are in operation in Cedarville, N. J. and Oswego, N. Y. Another is under construction in Pine Island, N. Y.

The Sanford operation was built at a cost of $150,000, according to Harry Valdou, secretary-treasurer of Jet-Vac Coolers Inc. Valdou is in town informing growers and brokers of the new service.

The local operation will be handled by Joseph Kuramal, field director of the Philadelphia firm. Valdou said Sanford was chosen for its central location. He added "We know the truckers have to come through Sanford to deliver their produce to the north. Also, it is just between the large centers of Hastings and Zellwood."

Stekley Selected 'Driver Of Month'

Jerry Stekley, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stekley, has been chosen "driver of the month" at Seminole High School.

The award of an engraved silver plaque and 20 gallons of gas was made Tuesday morning during a program at the high school.

The plaque was given by Kader Jewelry, and the gas by Dodson's Phillips "66" service station.

Charlie Morrison, public relations director of the Chamber of Commerce, made the presentation. Stekley was chosen from registered students at the school who make a practice of courtesy and safety rules on the highway.

Mrs. Michael Carol is chairman of the safety committee for the PTA, which sponsors the Driver of the Month award.

Civilians To Meet

The Sanford Civitan Club will meet at 7 tonight at the Pinecrest Inn. Guest speaker will be Virginia Conn, city editor of The Herald.

Farmers To Meet, Plan Pipeline Fight

Seminole County farmers will meet in the courthouse tomorrow morning to discuss strategy in their battle to prevent a natural gas pipeline company from "chopping up some of the best farms in Florida."

Ways and means of combating a decision by the Houston, Tex. Gas & Oil Corp. to take rights-of-way through local farms will be discussed. The pipeline company has filed suit against Herbert Behrens for a right-of-way across a field which Behrens values at $50,000.

Meanwhile, John Kader, chairman of the Seminole Board of County Commissioners, said that the Board had passed a resolution to allow the company to lay the pipeline, bringing natural gas to Central Florida, along county roads.

Kader said "they don't have to go across the fields."

W. C. Hutchinson Jr., attorney for Behrens, termed the company's decision "arbitrary" and questioned the selection of one farmer as the target of an eminent domain suit.

"We take a dim view of this matter from the standpoint of the taxpayers," Hutchinson declared. "Individual cases like this, when there are other property owners who have not signed, will tie up a court and jury. Taking individual cases could be prolonged and expensive. By taking this one piece of land, they wouldn't complete the right-of-way."

Kader and Hutchinson said they understood that the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad had offered rights-of-way in much the same fashion

Dynatronics Given $192,000 Project

Dynatronics Inc. has received its first defense contract to be developed and manufactured at the Seminole County plant.

The $192,000 contract calls for the design, development and manufacture of a pulse code modulation recording system. The system will be used at the Atlantic Missile Range.

The transaction was handled through Brig. Gen. William L. Rogers, vice commander of the Air Force Missile Test Center, George F. Anderson, vice president and general manager of Dynatronics, accepted the contract.

The project, first of its kind in Seminole County, will be under the direction of Robert P. Bishop, senior production engineer for Dynatronics.

Otham & Tudor, Sanford, has cleared the ground and completed preliminary work for construction of the plant in Spring Hammock, near the Big Tree in Seminole County. Actual construction is scheduled to begin Monday.

The building is scheduled for completion by June 15. Dynatronics plans to occupy spacious new quarters by July 1. Work on the government contract will begin immediately, Dynatronics officials said.

The electronics firm announced a couple of weeks ago that it would move into Seminole County. Parker Palmer Jr., president of the firm, said at the time that it would create employment from "the current 100 to about 400 in the next three or four years."

Local officials have predicted that the young firm will become one of Central Florida's largest employers.

Decision Delayed On Plea By Plant

A decision on the re-zoning of the area around Five Points yesterday was postponed until next Wednesday by the Seminole County Zoning Board.

Residents in the area protested plans to construct a paint and plastic plant. The decision was postponed since only three members of the board were present.

John Kader, chairman of the County Commission, said this morning, "We shouldn't let a few homeowners prevent us from putting an industry in this obviously desirable location. Already, the area contains a large fertilizer plant, a cow pasture and a beer tavern. I won't tell the Zoning Board what to do, but I'm disappointed that they did not approve the change to industrial."

Victim Identified From Fingerprints

The drowning victim found last Saturday in Lake Monroe was identified this morning as Walter Stevens Jackson, of Cleveland, O.

A report from the FBI in Washington to Constable Slim Galloway said that Jackson was born Jan. 27, 1916. He was picked up for drunkenness in Tampa, March 4, when he gave his address as P. O. Box 334, Englewood.

According to the FBI, Jackson was a drifter and mechanic, who had been in and out of jails all over the country since 1934. Identification was made by fingerprints sent the FBI by Galloway.

His body was recovered by police on the east side of Lake Monroe, in a badly decomposed condition. Authorities are attempting to locate relatives or friends in Englewood.

The body is at Brison Funeral Home.

Red Radio Claims West Backing Out

LONDON (UPI)—Moscow Radio complained today that the West is getting ready to back out of any summit talks.

The official radio voice of the Soviet Union suggested in an English language broadcast that the U. S. was leading the way among "certain Western circles" which do not really want the talks.

A Moscow Radio commentator said although no official communication was issued after the talks between Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and President Eisenhower "newsmen almost unanimously underscored that the U. S. and British leaders were ready to go to the top-level conference regardless of the outcome of the foreign ministers' meeting."

But Wednesday, Moscow said, "American officials warned that the convening of a top-level conference should not be considered as something already settled."

"This leads one to believe that certain Western circles, mainly American, are preparing the ground for backing out," the commentator said.
