Bad Winds, Blinding Snows, and Quakes Conspire to Harass Suffering populace

After weather continued over Europe today Balkans, snow and rock avalanches destroyed telegraph lines and interrupted all traffic at Chambéry and Thonon Les Bains, France.

The Black Forest and Rhine Valley in Germany were buried under a heavy snowfall.

New England and upstate New York's storms lifted with drifts up to 16 feet high left on the ground.

The Balkans rumbled for the fourth time as disintegration continued beneath the Greek mountains. These were new fissures but no additional damage of consequence.

JACKSONVILLE, Mar. 10 (AP)—Winter's belated march through Florida brought light frosts as far south as Miami.

The mystery surrounding the death of Rosetta Kane, a colored girl whose body was found in a bed in a tumble-down shack near the farm of D. E. Wurt, Lake Mary, late yesterday afternoon, remained unsolved at noon today.

According to the Gadsden woman who was employed as a wash woman on the farm, she was left in charge of the child by her parents, who had gone to work in the local center in the day.

CHILDREN GIVEN PROPAGANDA BY WETS, IS REPORT

Dry Leader Says Success Of Prohibition Depends Upon Youth

ST. PETERSBURG, Mar. 10 (AP)—Charges that wet propaganda is being deliberately "fed" to thousands of school children throughout the country by forces opposed to prohibition were made yesterday at the Anti-Saloon League session, by F. B. Ebbert, Los Angeles.

"This is a deliberate charge that probably will shock you," Ebbert told the organization's southern convention delegates.

"Our fight is to save prohibition. We are going to win or lose in the next five years. The wets have an advantage and we have to admit it. But the dries are going to make a terrific fight."

"These children today are laughing at prohibition, but they know not at what they laugh. Tomorrow, we turn this government over to these boys and girls and they are to determine the future policy of the country."

"Probably 90 percent of them are in the hands of the wets. They have no basis on which to make a comparison of present conditions with those which existed when saloons were here."

"But this propaganda is being deliberately fed to them. We have in our schools thirty million of boys and girls. There are tens of thousands who would not be there were it not for America's prohibition law."

"About 1,500,000 of them reach voting age every 12 months. Since the Eighteenth Amendment was put into effect, 18,000,000 have arrived at the voting age. By next election, 6,000,000 boys and girls, who could not vote at the last election, will be eligible to vote."

GANDHI HAILED ON JOURNEY BY HIS ADMIRERS

People Hail Him Anew As India's Apostle of Peace During Long Trip

AHMADABAD, India, Mar. 10 (AP)—Mahatma Gandhi last night inaugurated his eight-day, 24-hour trip marked by continuous acclamation from ecstatic throngs who hailed him anew as the apostle of India's peace and liberty.

A year ago almost to the day—it was Mar. 12—Gandhi set out from Ahmadabad on the historic march to the sea which later landed him and thousands of followers in jail but resulted last week in a partial victory.

Today the gaunt little torch-bearer of freedom returned victoriously as a peacemaker, carrying in his pocket the terms of a truce which freed his adherents, ended the civil resistance movement and pledged the nationalists to work for self-government in cooperation with the British.

Gandhi traveled all the way from Delhi, where he conferred with Viceroy Lord Irwin, with his own mattress, a bundle of food and his tin utensils slung over his shoulders.

It was a long trip of nearly 900 (miles) miles that the Mahatma shunned the first-class accommodations of the train and spent Sunday night on the hard wooden seats of a dilapidated third-class compartment. This gesture of humility and simplicity made a tremendous impression upon the Indian masses.

At every station, as the train pulled out, hundreds of Gandhi's worshippers clamored to precariously perch on the running boards, coupling blocks and roofs and rode with their leader until they became exhausted and fell headlong. Many suffered minor injuries.

At the railroad terminal at Ahmadabad, a motor crowd surged toward the tiny 63-year-old sage, and for a time it was feared he would be crushed to death. He was rescued by volunteers of the Congress party.

Throughout these unprecedented acclamations, the Mahatma remained speechless because this was his weekly day of silence.

Plans Are Laid For Auto Show To Be Staged Friday And Saturday At Mayfair

At a meeting of the several Sanford Automobile Dealers' Association committees at the Waldorf Hotel today, the official opening of the annual Sanford Automobile Show was set for Friday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Mayfair Hotel. At that hour, the last word in automobiles, refrigerators, radios, and sundry appliances, will be on display to what is expected to be a record-breaking attendance.

The show will remain open on Friday until shortly after midnight, and will re-open again on Saturday morning for another day of display. At least 50 automobiles of various types and makes will be on the floors of the spacious ballroom and lobby of the Mayfair Hotel, and together with a large number of smaller exhibits, including those of numerous oil companies and insurance dealers, will present a picture of progress in vehicular transportation which has not before been equaled in Sanford.

Sam D. Highleyman, general chairman of the committees, announced this morning that plans were progressing smoothly, and that every indication pointed to a successful show. "We're going to have cars here in Sanford for this show which were recently on display at the New York automobile show, and when it comes to class, price range, and general utility, I don't think you'll find a better representation than you will see at this show," he said when asked what would be seen this year in the automobile line.

Seven dealers, handling 12 popular automobiles, will display their wares. The Wright Bros. Co. will feature Hudson, Essex, Chrysler, and Plymouth cars; the White-Highleyman Co., Inc., will show the last word in Chevrolet; Kent Motor Co. will have a supply of Graham and Willys-Knight on display; Edward Higgins, Inc., will feature Ford; W. E. Wells hall will display Reo, DeSoto and Plymouth cars, and Sid Rye has a shipment of Pontiac's which will be here especially for the show.

The following dealers will be on hand throughout the show to conduct interested visitors through and answer questions concerning the automobile industry: Sam Highleyman, Al White, Volle Williams, Ralph Wright, Floyd A. Palmer, Grady Gallant, J. C. Truwick, Edward Higgins, Harry Kern, Sid Rye, W. E. Walthall, and Warren I. Tyler.

SOLUTION IS SEEN 'NUT' ON SUICIDE NEARER IN VIVIAN GORDON'S DEATH

Many "Crazy Theories Have Been Eliminated", Says Attorney

NEW YORK, Mar. 10 (AP)—The law pulled no strings yesterday, hunting for one that might lighten Vivian Gordon's slayer.

There was Vannie Higgins, known to the shady side of Broadway, there were men and women friends of acquaintances of the woman whose life came to a sudden tragic end Feb. 26. From the days' development came an encouraging word from District Attorney McLaughlin of the Bronx.

"I feel much better about the case this week. We have eliminated many crazy theories. We are now going through a real elimination process."

He was asked if he had eliminated Patrolman Andrew J. McLaughlin, who arrested Vivian Gordon on a prostitution charge in 1923—a charge she always insisted was a "frame." The district attorney replied he had not.

Pierre M. Franklin, brother of Miss Gordon, was reported somewhat improved at the psychopathic ward where he was taken Sunday after suffering a nervous breakdown from the strain of events—first the murder of his sister, then the suicide of her daughter, 16-year-old Benita Bischoff.

Vannie Higgins, from whom it had been indicated important information might be forthcoming, was before the grand jury for an hour.

COLOUR OF EYES HAS SPOTLIGHT IN COURT CASE

Parentage Of Man, 54 May Hinge Upon Scientific Theory Governing Inheritance

A Chicago court has been asked to dispose of $1,000,000 and decide the parentage of a man by a scientific law governing the color of eyes.

Longley had completed his case, alleging he was born 18 months before his mother married the late Albert W. Longley, when the manufacturer's third wife, Miss Mary Caroline Longley, introduced witnesses who testified that Longley and his first wife had blue eyes. George Longley's eyes contain various shades of brown.

The trial had progressed several weeks when a physician attending the family of one of Mrs. Longley's attorneys suggested to him "Why don't you try to show by the law of Mendel that two blue-eyed parents could not have brown-eyed children?"

Since then scientists with many degrees behind their names have paraded to the witness stand. Led by Dr. Charles H. Davenport of the Carnegie institute, they agreed two parents with pure blue eyes could have nothing but blue-eyed offspring.

The scientist also argued that pure blue eyes are a rarity and that nearly all apparently blue eyes have some brown pigment—adding that brown is more likely to be inherited than blue.

"We have proved the Mendelian law for the first time in any court," says Mrs. Longley's counsel.

The judge will give it no consideration," says attorneys for George Longley, pointing out that no expert testimony was introduced on the eye color of their client's alleged parents. "This is not a case of blue-eyed parents. Such parents of brown-eyed children may rest easy."

Many have not "rested easy," if the size of Judge Michael Feinberg's mail is a criterion. He has received hundreds of letters defending the paternity of children whose eyes contrast with those of their parents.

No Early Meet Of G.O.P. Committee Is Slated, Says Burke

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10 (AP)—James Francis Burke, general counsel of the Republican National Committee, said today there will be no early meeting of the national committee because the country is suffering from an overdose of politics.

In a formal statement issued shortly after Senator Fess, Ohio chairman of the committee, said at the White House that plans are being laid for the intensive work of organization, Burke said the committee would not attempt "to usurp the functions of the national convention in shaping the political policy. An overdose of politics is one of the worst maladies that can afflict a nation, particularly when it is struggling to recover from an economic disaster and business depression."

Nationwide Body To Espouse Prohibition Is Urged By McBride

ST. PETERSBURG, Mar. 10 (AP)—Plans for a nationwide organization to espouse the cause of prohibition were outlined before the Anti-Saloon League's southern convention by Dr. F. Scott McBride, general superintendent. The dry crusader suggested formation of units of prohibition supporters in townships and counties throughout the country to assist state organizations which in turn would correlate work with the national association.

"If we are going to take care of a second campaign against largely on what I deem back home in the counties and townships, we are depending on a legislative program."

HEAVY DOCKET IS HEARD BY JUDGE SHARON MONDAY

Liquor Violations Occupy Big Portion Of Charges On Blotter

Alertness on the part of C. A. Whiddon, proprietor of a local pressing club, cleared up the mystery surrounding the theft of two suits of clothes from Harry Hall, local high school student last January, and today, Willie Curry, negro youth is in the County Jail to await trial for larceny.

Curry was arrested by Officer R. L. Kennedy last week on a charge of the theft of a box of candy from the fruit stand of Steve Drees, East First Street, and was placed in jail. While he was confined there, he asked that his room mate, Lewis Donaldson, look after his clothing. Donaldson sent the two coats to the pressing club to be cleaned, and Mr. Whiddon, remembering that they belonged to the Hall youth, notified police officers, who immediately placed Donaldson in jail on suspicion of larceny.

In police court yesterday afternoon before Judge James G. Sharon, both the colored youth pleaded not guilty, but Judge Sharon turned them over to the County Court for further action.

Clifford Harris, colored, arrested by Chief Roy Williams and Officer Geo. Gray, on charges of reckless driving and possessing liquor, was unable to prove his innocence, and Judge Sharon ordered that his case also be turned over to County authorities. Ed. Brown, colored, whose occupation is listed on the blotter as "bootlegger," and who was with Harris at the time of his arrest, was charged with possessing liquor, and his case will be heard in County Court.

Officers Williams and Gray also brought about the arrests of the following: Horace Smith, colored laborer, who estrated a $10 bond on a charge of being drunk and disorderly; Step Jones, colored, fined $5 for disorderly conduct; Ed. Betts, white, fined $5 for being drunk; and John's Little, colored, fined $10 for reckless driving. Chief Williams also arrested John Durant, colored, who was fined $10 for being drunk and disorderly.

Officer Shaffer was the arresting officer in the cases of Katherine Taylor, colored, whose disorderly conduct case was continued until next Monday; Ed. Randall, white tailor, who estrated a $10 bond on charges of being drunk; J. C. Cooper, colored laborer, who was fined $15 for an assault on his wife; and Ernest James, colored, who was fined $25 on an assault charge. Officers Shaffer and Kennedy arrested P. J. Rucker, colored, who was found not guilty of making threats, and Will Nash, who was found not guilty of disorderly conduct.

Commission Acts Upon Violation Of Verbal Understanding With Bondholders' Group

The first suggestion of a verbal agreement between the Sanford City Commissioners and the Bondholders' Protective Committee, called to the attention of the City Commission, meeting at the City Hall last night in its monthly session, resulted in City Attorney Fred R. Wilson being ordered to notify the Committee members that the City of Sanford expects to abide by every phase of the agreement made some weeks ago when a temporary settlement of the City's financial difficulties was arrived at, and that it expects the same consideration from the attorneys and members of the Bondholders' Protective Committee.

What the NEW HUMIDOR PACK

means to Camel Smokers*

COMPARE a package of Camels with any other cigarette and note the difference in the technique of packing.

Note that Camels are completely enclosed in an outer transparent cover of moisture-proof cellophane and sealed air-tight at every point.

We call this outer shell the Humidor Pack. It differs from the ordinary cellophane pack and while it is egg-shell thin, it means a lot in terms of cigarette enjoyment.

It means, for instance, that evaporation is checkmated and that Salt Lake City can now have as good Camels as Winston-Salem.

While Camels are made of a blend of the choicest Turkish and mellowest domestic tobaccos, it is highly important, if you are to get full benefit of this quality, that these cigarettes come to you with their natural moisture content still intact.

The Humidor Pack insures that. It prevents the fine tobaccos of Camels from drying out and losing any of their delightful flavor.

Aside from cheap tobacco, two factors in a cigarette can mar the smoker's pleasure:

Fine particles of peppery dust if left in the tobacco by inefficient cleaning methods sting and irritate delicate throat membrane.

Dry tobacco, robbed of its natural moisture by scorching or by evaporation gives off a hot smoke that burns the throat with every inhalation.

We take every precaution against these factors here at Winston-Salem.

A special vacuum cleaning apparatus removes dust and now the new Humidor Pack prevents dryness.

Check the difference yourself

It is a very simple matter to check the difference between Humidor Packed Camels and other ordinary dry cigarettes.

First of all you can feel the difference as you roll the cigarettes between your fingers. Camels are full-bodied and pliable. A dry cigarette crumbles under pressure and sheds tobacco.

If you will hold a cigarette to each ear and roll them with your fingers you can actually hear the difference.

The real test of course is to smoke them. And here's where the new Humidor Pack proves a real blessing to the smoker.

As you inhale the cool, fragrant smoke from a Camel you get all the mildness and magic of the fine tobaccos of which it is blended.

But when you draw in the hot smoke from a dried cigarette see how flat and brackish it is by comparison and how harsh it is to your throat.

If you are a regular Camel smoker you have already noticed what proper condition of the cigarette means.

But if you haven't tried Camels in the new Humidor Pack you have a new adventure with Lady Nicotine in store.

Switch your affections for just one day, then go back to your old love tomorrow. If you can't

The Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory chart above graphically shows you that only the Camel Humidor Pack delivers cigarettes to you in prime condition.

...STANDARD TOBACCO COMPANY

New York's Shame

"Oh, what a tangled web we weave when once we practice to deceive!" The disclosures and devious ramifications in connection with the killing of Vivian Gordon, characterized in police records as a woman "of wide acquaintance" who "did not earn her money by any lawful occupation," provide a fitting climax, if a climax at all, to investigations of certain methods of New York police who are accused of "framing" and "blackmailing" members of that class of society to which Miss Gordon belonged.

In a case of this kind, it does not matter that this woman had served time in the penitentiary for stealing, or that she emerged to suddenly surround herself with luxuries to which she was unaccustomed or to be frequently seen in the company of wealthy men-about-town at expensive night clubs and other entertainments. Undoubtedly she was a woman more reprehensible than respectable, but it was perhaps on this account that she knew so much of gangster life in New York City, of the inside murkiness of police corruption that she was feared, feared to such an extent that someone thought it necessary to strangle her to death.

On February 7 Miss Gordon announced that she had information concerning the "framing" of women by police officers. On February 20 she visited the board of inquiry which was conducting an investigation into questionable practices of the police department, and told her story, at least a part of it, the part which related to an officer against whom serious charges were pending.

So her body was found with a rope around the neck in a thicket in Van Cortlandt Park. Can anyone believe that this is a case of suicide, or that her death and her testimony before the board of inquiry are unrelated facts?

But the tragedy did not end with the slaying of Miss Gordon. As is so often the case innocent parties were drawn into the tangled web. Living in eminent respectability, comparatively in a little New Jersey town, was this woman's daughter, unaware apparently of her mother's real character. This tragedy, with the consequent revelations concerning her life, the various amazing details gathered from her diary, proved too much for the sixteen year old daughter, who found the quick and penetrating glances and whispered conversations of her friends unendurable, and who within a week had brought an end to her own life in a gas-filled room.

In like manner, Miss Gordon's brother, a quiet easy-going man from Montreal, who went immediately to New York upon hearing of his sister's tragic end, found the sordid facts of her life too much for human endurance. His nervous system cracked under the strain and after ten days of morbid grief, mystery probing, interviews with police and reporters, and mental punishment of every description, he was taken to the psychopathic ward of the Bellevue hospital.

Such facts as these are a tremendous challenge to the decent citizens of this country's greatest city. It is not that a profligate woman is found murdered—prostitution and murder have flourished since time immemorial—or that an innocent, grief-stricken daughter and brother are made to suffer, that should startle law-abiding New Yorkers from their apathetic state of public inertia; rather the fact that in all this revolting story of spiritually mangled lives, the police department of New York City, once reputed as America's finest, upon whom the public must depend for protection from just this sort of thing, figures prominently from start to finish.

And if this case goes to join a host of others in the ranks of unsolved murder mysteries, the public can put it down that the police department knew too much, not too little, of the intimate details of this sordid affair.

Trouble Brewing

"United we stand, divided we fall" is a sentence sermon which leaders of the Democratic party would do well to consider following the party conference in Washington a few days ago. The recent trend of events has been most favorable for a Democratic victory next year, but the threatened split between Roosevelt and Smith, and the injection of the prohibition question into party plans by Chairman Raabob have not failed to carry encouragement to Republican chiefs.

"It would seem to us," says the Bradenton Herald, "that Mr. Smith would be satisfied to leave the control reins to another after his miserable defeat in 1928. No one could ask more than was given him then but which a final analysis showed to be worth less than nothing and which would develop exactly the same value should the party be so foolish as to nominate him a second time. Mr. Smith should realize this since he is a man of wonderfully keen perception yet instead he is going steadily ahead with a program that will bring only grief to his party. In this effort he is supported by Chairman Raabob of the party's national executive committee who foolishly sees a dripping wet plank as the proper mud-sill for the platform on which the party's candidate will be stood and which will, if adopted, further alienate the southern vote.

There can be no excuse for the impasse toward which the party leaders are moving. That Mr. Smith should presume to dictate to Governor Roosevelt who is favorably mentioned as their party's standard bearer smacks strongly of ingratitude in view of the support accorded him in his unsuccessful effort to win the presidency. Certainly the Smith plan had a fair trial. All of us know what happened and most of us believe the same thing will occur again should it be attempted a second time.

Conditions developing under the Hoover administration have paved the way, so far as a democratic victory in the next election provided the party uses ordinary intelligence in the presentation of its case before the people. But a row between Messrs. Smith and Roosevelt will be without beneficial effect. The former can help the party most by remaining silent.

TELLING THE WORLD

Conductors all of these kinds... I said No. Thank you very much and there's a lot of money in it and I've had a lot of time, experience and I thought maybe you could write them and they'd both make a pile of jack.

"I'm not interested," I said. He then Lefty told me all about the time he'd travelled to Hollywood to play the front part of the film in a swell picture there, and how some trash extra fed the lions Lefty so he got all choked up and couldn't roar so good, and that gunned the film. And then how he travelled East again so he'd get in the lineup of the unemployed, but it wasn't as profitable as he had been led to believe. So he dropped out and travelled to my office. And here he was. That was his story. His most recent one.

"When did you eat last?" I enquired.

And just as Lefty was about to reply his wife entered and there ensued one of those far-famed tri-angle problems between Lefty and his wife and Lefty's charge.

Like one of the family. And Lefty's contributions, though they continued, were inaudible. Which didn't make me mad.

After a certain period, Lefty sidled out between epithets and a voice followed him—a voice which started crescendo and diminished gradually as its owner moved farther away. Lefty called up later to ask if I had an unemployed dollar. He said he had a swell job for it and would I please meet him on the corner. So I did.

After all we men—Lefty and his boy so truly observed and sat back together.

And now I have a neat little card printed and tacked to the outer side of the swinging door. It reads: "Do not disturb. Sleeping." I hope Lefty works while asleep.

A BIG MISTAKE
SARASOTA HERALD

People who go north at this time of year make a big mistake in doing so. In the first place, they are taking their lives in their hands in leaving the mild climate of Florida and plunging into the cold weather of northern springtime. We have known of quite a number of people who have returned too early and paid the penalty by giving up their lives. It is in the spring months that pneumonia stalks through the north. People who migrate from Florida are exposed to it not only on account of the cold weather, but on account of the shut-in life which cold weather makes necessary. After living in the open air in Florida, in the enjoyment of Florida sunshine and seabreezes, the close, stifling, germ laden air of the north proves to be a menace to health. Continuous cold weather would not be so bad, but when the weather changes quickly and extremes of cold and heat are experienced almost in succeeding days, there is a serious situation which, if it does not inflict with disease, at least impairs the vital forces and robs returned visitors of the benefits they have derived from their sojourn in this state.

Again, it is a mistake to return north at this time of the year because, of all the months in the year in South Florida, March, April and May are the most delightful. In the north it may be true that there is nothing so "rare as a day in June." Here in Florida, we can say, and say truthfully, that during the spring months, practically every day is as rare as a day in June. In the year, before we came to Florida to make it our home, we found ourselves, when in the state, expressing ourselves with enthusiasm about the fine spring weather. Now that we have been here several years, and had a more extensive experience of it, we can say more enthusiastically. During the spring months, it is a delight simply to live here, for the sun shines brightly, the air is fresh and sweet and all nature seems exultant with a new life. There is a special charm about south Florida in the spring months that we have experienced nowhere else. We are sure no sensible person will ever regret purchasing or not stay at least until fall.

And another reason why it is a mistake to go north at this time of the year is that one does not get the pleasure one's self at the spring months before the summer months, which can be anticipated in without a moment's delay. First of all, there is nothing more there, in not that place to fish in the waters of Sarasota. The mackerel will not be running there until about the middle of the season, and the snook will not be running until about the middle of the season.

Of course, are staked in the springtime, verdure, the turf is fine and the air salubrious. There is a sort of bathing, than which nothing is more healthful or enjoyable. Much of the social life of the community takes on an outdoor aspect in the spring months in beach parties, fish fries, motor trips to nearby resort centers and other diversions that conduce to health and happiness. Considered from any angle we regard it as a great mistake for anybody who has been visiting in Florida, to return north at this time of the year.

SUNSHINE MELLOWS Heat Purifies

LUCKIES are always kind to your throat

Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why the "TOASTING" process includes the use of the Ultra Violet Rays. LUCKY STRIKE—made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED"—an extra, secret heating process. Harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos are expelled by "TOASTING." These irritants are sold to others. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

The advice of your physician is: Keep out of doors, in the open air, breathe deeply; take plenty of exercise in the mellow sunshine, and have a periodic check-up on the health of your body.

MEETING BY CITY HEADS MONDAY NIGHT

and a motion was made authorizing a resolution thanking Mr. Landis for his efforts in behalf of the City; congratulating him on being appointed Attorney-General; and requesting the Mayor, Mr. Landis' letter of resignation is as follows:

"The Honorable Fred H. Davis having been elevated to the Supreme Court Bench, and the Governor having tendered me the appointment as Attorney-General, and having accepted same, it becomes necessary for me to sever my connection with individual clients. Thus it is that I am forced to tender you this my resignation as Assistant City Attorney, to take effect at this time.

"I wish to assure you and each of you that my association with you has been most pleasant and the severance of such relations is always painful, but I trust that when you are in Tallahassee, and whenever I can serve you, it will be my pleasure.

"With assurance of my high respect and my kindest personal regards to each of you, I am, Very sincerely yours, Carey D. Landis.

The first reading of two proposed ordinances then came up. The first ordinance will provide an increase of 50 cents in the minimum water rate throughout the City. The new rate will be $1.20, and users of water are given an additional 1000 gallons of water, making the minimum amount 4333 gallons each month.

The second ordinance provides for the establishment of an aviation board, composed of three members, which shall have power to enforce City and Federal law concerning the operation of aircraft in and about Sanford.

The Commissioners agreed to accept the offer of the Atlantic Coast Line Railway to convey to the City by quit claim deed, a right of way 50 feet in width for the proposed Seminole Boulevard through the Coast Line Orange Belt Terminal property for a distance of 150 feet, subject to the following conditions: "The riparian rights are not to be conveyed. The railroad company has at any time the right to extend its tracks across this property mentioned, and is to be relieved of any obligation for the construction, maintenance or removal of the proposed highway. The conveyance is not to be used as a right of way for the railroad company in the event legal proceedings are instituted by the City to enforce collection of the alleged bulkhead fee."

Acting upon the recommendation of the Sanford Lions Club, as expressed through Hawkins Connolly, the Commissioners ordered Chief of Police Roy G. Williams to make arrangements at once to put new parking rules in effect on Park Avenue. While details were not worked out completely, the new plan is to provide single parking on that thoroughfare to be alternated from block to block, it becomes effective at once, and the date is being notified to abide by the change.

The bid of E. Holly and F. A. Walker, who are bidding to rent the City farm on the West Side at a price of $500 per year for a three-year term, the rent to be paid in advance on the first day of July each year, was tentatively accepted. At the suggestion of Commissioner Spear, Mr. Holly will be asked to pay the rent in six months, a plan which will reduce the City's cash being required nearly 500, since Mr. Holly can now pay City bonds at a low rate of 5 per cent.

The City will continue to be terminated the official reading of the City Charter, City Clerk J. C. ...
