Parade Honors Veterans

In a Veterans Day salute to men and women who have served in the nation's Armed Forces, representatives of local veteran's organizations paraded through downtown Sanford Tuesday morning to Veterans Memorial Park on the lakefront.

Some 400 persons attended the ceremonies hosted for the first time by the Sons of the American Legion. Other groups participating were American Legion Post 53, Disabled American Veterans Seminole Chapter 30, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post, Fleet Reserve Association Branch 147, Amvets and Knights of Columbus.

Leading the parade were units of the Sanford Police Department, which also provided the rifle squad, and Seminole Sheriff's Department. The color guard was made up of Army recruiters Sgt. F/C Lewis Coleman, Staff Sgt. Scott Gunnell, both of the Sanford recruiting station; Sgt. James Ray and Sgt. F/C Smith Gregory and Staff Sgt. George

County Agrees There's Need

Children's Home Sought

By Paul C. Schaefer
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole 'desperately' needs a shelter home for children taken from their parents by court action because of neglect or abuse, say Seminole area children's advocates.

Barbara Studwell of the Guardian Ad Litem program, which is lobbying to get such a facility built, told Seminole County commissioners Tuesday 150 county children will be removed from their homes by court action this year and dependent children between the ages of six and 12 have no shelter-type facility to be housed during the difficult time.

She said the facility would become a temporary home for children when they are removed from their parents. Children could be there for two-to-three months, she said.

"They need a place to stay during the court process," she said.

She also noted that her group would like to see the facility built in a central county location so the children could attend the same school they were in, and not be cut off from their normal environments and peers. The central location would also provide easy access for relatives, Health and Rehabilitative Services officials and parents.

Judge Kenneth Leffler, who supports the proposed facility, suggested a location south of Sanford on U.S. Highway 17-92 at "Five Points," where the county owns land. He said those who support the idea hope to raise enough money to build a facility, which would then be turned over to the county. The county, however, would not operate the facility, nor would it be a primary source of funding.

Operating money would come from HRS, private contributions, and the United Way, Leffler added.

Leffler said while the HRS approved idea is good, it is difficult to raise money for the project, when no site has been selected.

He said the Rotary Club of Longwood has already donated $5,000 for the project, and the Junior Women's Club of Sanford has donated $1,000.

Leffler said the spearhead group for the effort is Sharing Concern for Seminole County Shelter Children, Inc., a not-for-profit organization with the sole objective of building and providing for the operation of a shelter home. He said the group has been successful in having Children's Home Society of Florida submit a proposal to HRS to operate the facility.

The group had previously won tentative approval from Seminole Youth Ranch to provide a site in Winter Springs, but the deal fell through when The Grove counseling center decided it may need the site for its own residential facility, so the youth ranch offer was withdrawn.

'Mouse'-hap

BILLINGS, Mont. (UPI) — The mouse nesting in Walter D. Miller's auto dashboard vent was minding his own business until, driving along, Miller decided to turn on the heater.

Startled, the mouse jumped onto Miller's chest, then scampered into his coat, causing him to run the car off the road.

Miller, 59, of Silesia, said he let go of the steering wheel when the mouse started scurrying around in his clothing, the Montana Highway Patrol said Tuesday.

Miller caught the mouse, but the car veered off Interstate 90 and into some snow, causing about $500 in damage. Officer Dallas Adkins said of the Monday night mishap.

Miller squashed the mouse but kept it to back up his story. He was not cited.

Seniors Get Exercise Tips

'Never Too Late To Get In Shape'

By Kathy Tyrity
Herald Staff Writer

"It's proven that exercise makes for a better attitude, a better body, and prolongs your life," Dr. Chester Miltenberger, a world-class swimmer, told the gathering at a Sports Medicine Seminar Tuesday night at the Civic Center.

About 65 older athletes learned what to do about their particular problems and listened to other tips on how to keep fit at the seminar sponsored by Central Florida Regional Hospital. Doctors and staff of the hospital told them how to get the most out of exercise and how to prevent problems.

"There's plenty of time to get started in anything you do," Miltenberger said. "It's never too late to get in shape. But the important thing is to maintain your exercise program. It has to be something that is not only good for you but also enjoyable. When it gets to that point it will last you the rest of your life."

To pick out a sport or physical activity, he said, don't look at what you did in high school or college. "The idea is to get out and do something. It might well be something new."

Competition will provide that extra incentive to finish and make the game fun once you get into it, he added. "The important thing is to get out there and do it and finish (if you're in the Golden Age Games). Then say next year you'll try to do a little bit better."

To begin, he said, choose an activity that will get you moving strenuously for 20 minutes, three times a week; then work up to four and five times.

Prodding Prompts Hotel Repairs

Recent prodding with fines and city commission waivers on building department requirements have apparently prompted Florida Hotel owner Peggy Nestor to expedite efforts to eradicate code violations, some of which were cited nine months ago.

However, along with the latest city commission waiver allowance, which prevented start-up of a $50-a-day fine, comes word Mrs. Nestor owes the city more than $8,000 and the figure mounts each day.

The waiver Mrs. Nestor received from commissioners Monday will, she said, assist her efforts to secure an occupa-

Baseball Star Describes Cocaine Habit Horror

The questions eighth-graders wanted to ask star pro-baseball player Tim Raines of Sanford Tuesday centered on why people take drugs and how Raines kicked a one-year cocaine habit that nearly ended his career.

"People turn to drugs because of pressures, but a lot of people try to find reasons to use drugs," Raines told the students at Greenwood Lakes Middle School.

"I finally looked at myself and saw a person who was completely changed by drugs. I had turned from a soft-spoken guy to a loud-mouth. I stayed awake for three and four days and ended up sleepin' on the bench. These people were paying good money for me to play baseball and what was I doing? Sleepin' on the bench."

"It wasn't pretty. My batting dropped from .304 to .277. I realized I had to change to the man I used to be or I couldn't go on livin'."

For a "country boy" who always depended on the advice and counsel of his mother growing up, he found himself away from home in a big city, and other people were offering him drugs.

"I felt I was cool — in the big city now, so I could do some things I wasn't supposed to do. I wish it never would have

Smoking While Driving Alerts Deputy

A Seminole County sheriff's deputy, who saw what he believed was a marijuana cigarette in the hand of a woman who was holding her hand at the top of her car's steering wheel as she drove along U.S. Highway 17-92 at Lake Mary Boulevard, mopped her and she was arrested.

The woman was charged with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and drug paraphernalia after the deputy in addition to the cigarette in her hand reportedly found partially smoked pot cigarettes in her car, a bag of marijuana, cigarette rolling papers and pipe in her car.

Mary Ellen Mazlarz, 26, of 204 Flamingo Drive, Sanford, who was arrested at 6:51 p.m. Monday has been released from jail on $500 bond.

RETURN FRAUD
A 36-year-old Winter Park man who allegedly used a fake receipt to try to return for a refund a ceiling fan to Scotty's, State Road 436, Altamonte Springs, has been arrested by Altamonte Springs police.

Store personnel alerted police to the attempted fraud and said when the incident occurred on Sept. 24, the suspect ran from the store and escaped. A suspect was traced through a vehicle left at the scene.

Arrested on a grand theft charge at his home at 11:45 a.m. Monday was Mark Edward Bender, of Strawberry Fields Apartments, State Road 436. He has been released on $1,000 bond to appear in court Dec. 1.

Monday with a stolen video recorder valued at $270 was arrested by Sanford police about three hours later.

Edward Lewis Berry, who has been charged with burglary and theft, was arrested at his home at 915 1/2 S. Park Ave., Sanford. He was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

GUN ARREST
Sanford police who were searching for a suspect who had been involved in a dispute stopped a man who matched the suspect's description and reported determining that man was carrying a gun.

Clemmie Hudson Jr., 37, 916 Pine Ave., Sanford, was charged with carrying a concealed gun. He was arrested in an alley in the 600 block of Sanford Avenue. He was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS
A $500 pony disappeared from a pasture belonging to Shirley J. Caines, 48, of 256 Lazy Acres Lane, Longwood, between Nov. 5 and 7, a sheriff's report said.

Two video recorders, a television and jewelry with a combined value of about $2,000 were stolen from the home of Brock Bunnell, 21, of 109 Country Hill Drive, Longwood, Friday, a sheriff's report said.

Ulysses Frances, 45, of 1100 Jackson St., Oviedo, reported to sheriff's deputies that his 1971 Plymouth valued at $500 was stolen when he left it parked with the engine running at 162 Dennis St., Oviedo, Saturday.

A sales manager of Willet Toyota, U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood, reported to sheriff's deputies a 1986 LeVan valued at $15,800 was stolen from that dealership between Nov. 3 and Saturday.

Jewelry and a wallet containing $6 were stolen from the home of William Ellis, 270 Church St., Sanford, Friday or Saturday. A sheriff's report estimated the total of the loss at $400.

John B. Herahberger, 42, of 1401 Madrid Way, Winter Springs, reported to sheriff's deputies that 32 cassette tapes, tools and fishing gear with a combined value of about $1,800 were stolen from his vehicle Friday or Saturday.

Charles Brougher, 38, of 259 Palm Park Circle #207, Longwood, reported to sheriff's deputies that a motor valued at $600 was stolen from his boat at Sabel Point boat storage yard, Longwood, Monday.

A chainsaw, a Weedeater, an edger and trimmer were stolen from the home of Robert S. LaSeur, 43, of 2595 Modac Trail, Maitland, between Nov. 1 and 8, a sheriff's report said.

Susan D. Mellott, 39, of 2971 Brantley Hill Court, Altamonte Springs, reported to sheriff's deputies that her 1985 Pontiac valued at $1,000 was stolen from her home Sunday or Monday.

About $300 worth of wood supplies was stolen from lot 156 Pickett Downs Drive, Chuluota, Nov. 2, according to a report a construction supervisor filed with sheriff's deputies.

Sanford police investigated an armed robbery at 3 Lake Monroe Terrace recently. Marcelle Pierre, 31, of those apartments, told police that a Haitian known only as Telly entered the apartment with two other men and robbed him at gunpoint. He was made to lie on the floor while the men took his wallet, containing $415.

Prosecutor, TV Reporter Deny Collusion In Arrest

The Seminole-Brevard State Attorney's Office and an Orlando television reporter have been accused of combining efforts to orchestrate bad publicity for a Casselberry man.

"Absolutely, positively, no. Zero. It could not be farther from the truth," said Beth Rutberg the state attorney handling the case. "I don't know where this one is coming from but it's a wild one," she said Tuesday.

The accusations were contained in motions filed Monday at the Seminole County Clerk's office by Orlando attorney Ed Leinster who is representing Howard Wampole Minner, 55, of Mobile Homes Sales of Central Florida. Minner was charged by the State Attorney's office with grand theft in July after reportedly selling a mobile home for a couple and giving them a $12,500 bad check.

Minner is also charged with failure to have a mobile home dealer's license and failure to have a Seminole County occupational license. He has also been arrested on a worthless check charge, court records show.

Leinster accused Mrs. Rutberg, who handles consumer affairs prosecution, and Ellen McFarlane of WCPX-TV television of arranging Minner's arrest at a convenient time for the television station. Ms. McFarlane has denied to reporters there was any collusion and said she developed her information from different sources.

Leinster said he wants the case moved to another jurisdiction and the Seminole-Brevard State Attorney's office disqualified from handling the case.

The issue is scheduled to go before Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor on Monday.

Man Pays Alimony To Dead Wife For 2 Years

MIAMI (UPI) — Natale Sposato mailed a $300 alimony check to his estranged wife every month for more than two years before learning she was dead.

Sposato, 94, a retired railroad employee, was separated from his wife Grace in 1982. He was ordered to pay her $300 a month as part of an alimony-without-divorce settlement.

Sposato stayed in the couple's Miami home and his wife moved to Orlando to live with her daughter, Victoria Forni.

—Once a month, Sposato sent a $300 check to his lawyer, Bruce Crown, who in turn sent a check to Grace Sposato's lawyer, Robert Brake.

—And once a month, Brake sent a $300 check to Grace Sposato in Orlando.

—And once a month, someone cashed the checks — even after Grace Sposato died.

"I've been in court 17 times since the day she died, and the other side has been screaming about arrearages and they neglected to tell the court she died," Crown said. "It makes me very, very angry."

Court records indicate that Grace Sposato's lawyer repeatedly claimed that Natale Sposato was behind in the monthly payments. For every complaint, Crown filed an answer listing payments and dates.

Brake, who became Grace Sposato's lawyer in April 1984, told The Miami Herald he had never met his client.

"I would be told by Mrs. Forni that payments were in arrears. I'd file a petition. We'd have a court hearing," Brake said. "Mrs. Forni told me she was alive. Everyone told me she was alive."

In July, Brake scheduled a hearing before Dade County Circuit Judge Amy Steele Donner. Forni first said her mother was too ill to attend. Then she said her mother was dead.

"She told me to drop the case," Brake said.

Donner suggested at a hearing last week that Crown request an investigation by the Orange County State Attorney's Office. Crown said he plans to subpoena Forni to question her about the checks.

Burning, Stoning, Bombing, Strikes Plague South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Black radicals burned and stoned two other blacks to death near Johannesburg and two bomb blasts about half an hour apart injured 23 people, three of them critically, in the mining town of Newcastle, officials said today.

In Port Elizabeth, an autoworkers strike against two General Motors plants entered its third week today. Workers said GM vehicles could become targets in black townships if the company fails to meet demands for severance pay and pension benefits.

In Katsheing, on the eastern edge of Johannesburg, about 70 black youths torched a house and stoned a black woman to death.

The bureau said 23 people were injured Tuesday in two separate rebel bomb attacks in Newcastle, a Natal province mining town about 160 miles southeast of Johannesburg.

French Hostage Reported Dead

PARIS (UPI) — One of two Frenchmen freed unharmed by Lebanese militants in Beirut said he was told another French hostage, Michel Seurat, died a natural death in Lebanon as a captive of the pro-Iranian Islamic Jihad.

Marcel Coudari, 55, who arrived in Paris from Damascus, Syria, Tuesday night with Camille Sontag, 85, expressed optimism more hostages in Beirut would be freed soon.

"I can tell you there are things that are going to happen soon," he said. Coudari said he was told that Seurat, who the Islamic Jihad said it executed March 5 to protest French expulsions of two Iraqi dissidents, was dead. The group produced a picture of him at the time but his body has never been recovered.

According to what I learned from an official source, a credible source, Michel Seurat indeed died a natural death," Coudari said. There was no immediate comment from the government.

The two men, smiling and bearded, appeared in good health on their arrival. Sontag was swept into the arms of his wife, Blanche, 84, on the airport tarmac. He had been held captive six months, Coudari said.

Officials Testify In Mafia Trial

ROME (UPI) — Two government ministers told a court trying 467 suspected members of the Mafia that the Sicilian crime organization has political support across party and ideological lines. They did not give names, however.

Defense Minister Giovanni Spadolini and Justice Minister Virginio Rognoni testified Tuesday behind closed doors on the Sept. 3, 1982, murder of crime fighter Carlo Dalla Chiesa, a Carabinieri general, and his wife in Palermo, the Sicilian capital.

The judges summoned Foreign Minister Giulio Andreotti, president of the foreign affairs commission in the Chamber of Deputies at the time of the killing, to testify today.

During Tuesday's session at the Court of Cassation, the presiding judge and his assistant asked Spadolini to shed light on a letter to him in which Dalla Chiesa referred to "the most tainted political families in the place," attorneys told reporters.

Asked which parties the families belonged to, Spadolini said, "All of them are in it a little." He did give any names.

Mubarak Assails Shamir

CAIRO, Egypt (UPI) — President Hosni Mubarak, opening parliament with a new Cabinet, said today Israel's new prime minister violated an Israeli commitment by pledging to promote Jewish settlements in occupied Arab lands.

Mubarak also said he expects Yitzhak Shamir to honor an agreement reached with the Israeli prime minister's predecessor, Shimon Peres, on the need for an international conference to bring peace to the Middle East.

Red China Honors Sun Yat-Sen

PEKING (UPI) — China staged its most lavish ever commemoration of Sun Yat-sen's 120th birth anniversary today with a renewed appeal for reunification talks with the nationalist leader's successors on Taiwan.

Aquino Shrugs Off Rumors Of Coup

TOKYO (UPI) — Philippine President Corazon Aquino, reacting to rumors of a coup plot back home, said Tuesday she will "not tolerate a non-democratic challenge" to her 8-month-old government from any faction.

"There is no room in the new Philippines for those who will not accept the ways of democracy," Aquino said in a speech at a luncheon hosted by Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone on the second day of a four-day official visit.

"While I am anxious to resolve the communist insurgency bloodlessly," she said in reference to the government's 17-year-old battle against the 25,000-strong communist New People's Army, "I will not tolerate a non-democratic challenge to our government and people from any quarter."

Aquino, who was swept into power after a Feb. 25 revolt that ousted then President Ferdinand Marcos, left her armed forces chief, Gen. Fidel Ramos, in charge of protecting her government from a rumored coup attempt by disgruntled military officers.

The 53-year-old president said she will "continue the work of democratic change begun by my electoral victory and soon to be completed by the establishment of necessary institutions of democracy."

"While the process is not complete, there is no reason for apprehension for it proceeds from the unshakable foundation of the people's victory in my election to the presidency," she said.

Aquino later urged members of Japan's Parliament, or Diet, at a reception to have confidence in her government's ability to restore democracy and foster economic development.

"Our people want a democracy back," she said in a speech at the official residence of House of Representatives speaker Kenzaburo Hara. "The past eight months have been an effort to restore it as fully as possible."

She said the return to parliamentary government will begin formally when a draft constitution is submitted to a referendum in February.

"But even while these political efforts must be made, we are working to rebuild the economy that was ruined by the previous government," she said.

Aquino, whose visit is aimed at securing more investment and economic assistance from Japan to boost the ailing Philippine economy, won a pledge for a $250 million special loan Monday.

She met Tuesday with executives of leading Japanese companies who promised to step up business activities and operations in the Philippines, an Aquino administration spokesman said.

The spokesman said major trading houses agreed to increase export shipments of goods manufactured by Japanese firms in the Philippines to $1.1 billion next year, an increase of 25 percent over the 1985 figure of $845 million.

In the evening, Aquino attended a banquet given by Emperor Hirohito at the moated Imperial Palace.

New Pollutants Reported In Rhine

STUTTGART, West Germany (UPI) — A Swiss company used the dumping of a reported 1,000 tons of poison from a fire at a nearby firm to hide its own illegal dumping of pollutants, a state government official charged Tuesday.

The toxic waste has confronted Europe with one of its worst ecological disasters in years and threatens to turn the mighty Rhine into a dead river.

Officials in West Germany, France, the Netherlands and Switzerland — four countries through which the vital river flows — have said hundreds of thousands of fish have been killed.

Many communities have taken emergency measures to protect drinking water supplies from the chemicals, which include large amounts of the deadly toxin mercury.

Gerhard Weiser, environmental minister of the West German state of Baden-Wuerttemberg, said at least one other firm appeared to have used the Nov. 1 fire at the Sandoz chemical Co. outside Basel, Switzerland, to cover its illegal dumping of toxins.

'Tough' Challengers Spice Checkers Matches

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

John Eklund turned plastic into gold when he captured top prize in the Golden Age Games checkers match.

Eklund, 71, said luck was with him, because early in the eliminations he was pitted against two "not highly skilled" players in the field of 16. Against them he said he "made sure to make moves that weren't in the book. If I drew a player that just knows the book."

But when it came down to the wire, Eklund, of Wachula, Fla., was face to face with last year's champ, 73-year-old Jessie Scott, of Trenton, Tenn.

Scott, who in the semi-finals, beat out the 1984 checkers gold-getter, Hugh Banks, 77, of Orlando, who was second to Scott in the 1985 games, said before the final match with Eklund, "There's a lot of players better than me." Over all, he called this year's challengers "tough."

But spectators were offering high praise for Scott, a retired farmer, who ended up taking the silver. "He can sure tear you up," one said, while Banks said, "You can't make any mistakes with Scott, that's for sure."

Eklund, a former draftsman and proofreader with an eye for detail, said he had to keep an eye on Scott to avoid his gaming traps.

"I happened to see the trap he was playing to get me off the board," Eklund said. "He made a move that wouldn't be in the book and I happened to see the trap." Eklund took the bronze in the 1985 checkers match and the gold in 1983.

Scott said he had no secrets in his game, but said, without an explanation, that being a Tennessean is the key to his mastery of the game he learned as a boy.

Eklund, too, first came to the board as a boy and said he has since studied the game, but no longer has time to play.

Scott said his game is really dominoes, which he plays every evening. However, in the Golden Age Games, he wins glory in checkers, but goes winless in the dominoes games in Sanford.

Eklund said he was undaunted during the final round of best two-out-of-three games with Scott, who is deaf, even though Scott unconsciously and loudly clanked Eklund's captured checkers in his hands like the Capt. Queeg character in "Caine Mutiny" who rolled clattering metal balls nervously in his hands.

Checkers gold medal winner John Eklund, of Trenton, Tenn., Tuesday in the last round of what became their 2-man duel. Wachula, faces silver medalist Jessie Scott.

He was scheduled to participate in the 5-mile Mini-Marathon, before the 9 a.m. Tuesday checkers match at Howell Place, but Eklund said he decided to skip the run, because he's 10 pounds overweight and didn't expect to take a medal. If he had run the race, he said, he doubted if he would have been sharp as he was in the checkers match.

In addition to the line up of Eklund — gold; Scott — silver; and Banks — bronze, Frank Reed, 64, of Woodbury, Tenn., played in the semi-finals and came in fourth, falling to Eklund.

...Exercise

"It must be an activity that gets you to maintain a 75 to 85 percent maximum heart rate for the exercise period," he stressed. That figure is arrived at by taking the number 200 or 210 and subtracting your age.

First, however, he advised persons see a doctor for a physical including perhaps a stress test and EKG.

"Then, go at your own rate." It may take six months to get where you want to be with your heart rate, "but you'll find you won't be as tired as you used to be," the doctor said.

The biggest problem for anyone, he said, is "burnout."

"You just get sick of it, or maybe you take too long a vacation and don't exercise. That's what generally happens." But, he said, realizing how good the program is for one will help motivate.

"If you really want to live a long life and an active one, stick with it and don't get discouraged," he said.

He said it is important to remember to warm up and cool down — and don't eat for an hour afterwards to avoid cramping and nausea.

Why compete?

Miltenberger said the physical advantages to the body seem to be enhanced when in competition, more so than when practicing.

"Competition is really good for you," he said, "and these Golden Age Games are great."

One of the problems common to older runners, pointed out by Miltenberger during the seminar, was panting and shortness of breath.

The hospital staffers said to practice breathing exercises as follows: Lie down flat with a book on your upper abdomen (the diaphragm just below the ribs). Breathe in, and make the book rise. Then breathe out through pursed lips, so you will get all the air out. That way, you expel more carbon dioxide and can take more air in, they said.

Rain Hard On Electronic Gear

Rain dampened some Golden Age Games events Tuesday but only slowed a synchronized swimming event at Lyman High School in Longwood.

Diving competition had just finished and the swimming underway when the clouds closed and the sprinkling began. Bathing-suited contestants grabbed for towels and headed for shelter.

A decision was made that as long as there wasn't any lightning, the meet would continue. Then it really started to rain.

Photographers, judges and record keepers scrambled for overhangs and umbrellas. Though one quartet decided it would be memorable to have their photo taken in the rain.

The greatest problem facing the drenched participants was rain on the public address system and cassette records used to play music for the synchronized swimming event.

Despite the downpour, several women swam their routines before rain stopped the competition.

The swimming event at the high school pool followed diving competition.

Bowlers Roll In Sanford, Final Competition Friday

By Loren Talley
Herald Staff Writer

Bowl America lived up to its name Tuesday as Golden Age Gamers from all over the county hit the alleys with championship style. The bowling competition runs three days, Monday, Tuesday and Friday, with winners determined after all scores are added up Friday afternoon.

The alleys were crowded Tuesday with 104 competitors, each vying for the gold in one of six age categories. The fever of competition was, however, mixed with a generous dash of camaraderie.

This was especially true for 30 bowlers who came from Ormond Beach to compete. During the week they bowl together in the senior league at Bellair Lanes in Daytona, and their league organizer, Mary Meisheid, said the gregarious group "is having a great time in Sanford."

"We're making a day of this," she said. "After bowling it's off to the Lakeside Holiday Inn to enjoy lunch."

Mrs. Meisheid, 59, also proudly introduced the league's elder stateswoman, Hazel Roberts who, at 82, said she has been bowling "forever — and I still have a lot of strikes left in me."

"My daughter tells me I should slow down, but I know better. This," Mrs. Roberts said sweeping her arm across the alley, "is what keeps me going."

As for Mrs. Roberts' scores Tuesday, "I'm doing terrible so far, but I'm not giving up."

Sarge Fafard, 73, from Altamonte Springs, is facing surgery on his hips Dec. 1, but said he "wouldn't have missed this for anything." The statement applied not only to bowling, but for plans he and his wife, Loretta, have to compete in the dance contest and again trip the light fantastic during Friday night's talent show.

"There's no stopping him, he's just tremendous," Mrs. Fafard said.

Wayne Bickell and Doug McClean, both 64 and from Ormond Beach, said they were not up to their games Tuesday, but enjoying themselves nonetheless. "I'm having a great time, but doing pretty poorly today," Bickell said. "I'm just planning to come back strong."

"The same goes for me," McClean said. "From here on in it's nothing but strikes."

John Wurgess, 72, is in from Michigan for the games and said he was "doing pretty well" on the Sanford alleys. The league bowler said his high game that day was 195 and his high scoring strategy "is to throw it and hope it does what it's supposed to."

For Sanfordites Esther Lansing, 79, and Barbara Drenniak, 65, it was home court advantage all the way. The Bowl America leaguers were rolling some impressive scores. Mrs. Lansing came in with an astounding 174, "when you consider my average is 120," while Mrs. Drenniak knocked them down to come up with a 181.

Longwood, County Consider Sewage Disposal Pact

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Longwood Mayor Larry Goldberg has told the city commission that he has met with Seminole County Commission Chairman Bob Sturm and city and county staff members to negotiate a sewage disposal agreement. He said he hopes to have a contract ready to present to the commission Monday.

The proposed agreement calls for elimination of Longwood's sewage treatment plants and the sewage being pumped to the county's Greenwood Lakes facility located north of the city.

If the agreement is approved by both the city commission and the county commission it will mean the proposed 600,000-gallon-per-day Grant Street treatment facility will not be necessary. The city's engineering consultant is now reviewing bids on that facility with Wharton-Smith being the apparent low bidder with a lump-sum base bid of $1,515,200. Bids were received Oct. 22 and the city had 90 days to make a decision.

The city has borrowed $2.5 million from Sun Bank to build the new sewage treatment plant. It has been estimated that more than $100,000 has already been spent on the project for plans, tests and engineering.

To use the funds for connecting to the county's system will require the approval of the lender and bonding company.

Goldberg said a "sensible and feasible contract that would fit in financially with the amount of money the city is borrowing" is being drawn up by City Attorney Ann Colby and County Attorney Nikki Clayton.

In expectation of the proposed agreement, an ordinance increasing the Development Assistance fee from $5 a gallon per day to $8.50 a gallon per day for new sewer hook-ups in Longwood was tentatively approved by the city commission. A public hearing was set for Dec. 1 before final action.

City Administrator Ron Waller said in discussions with the county he talked about raising the fee and to avoid a rush of developers coming in advance of the increase he was not collecting any more of the fees until the new fee amount is set.

He said the increase would be enough of a cushion to help pay for the sewer mains needed to connect to the county, but if it is not needed the rate could be dropped back again.

He emphasized the increase applies to new taps only. He said there is no truth to the rumor going around in Columbus Harbour and Skylark areas that the residents' sewer rates will be doubled. "We won't change rates now in force in Columbus Harbour and Skylark," he said.

The commission voted unanimously for the increase on a motion by Deputy Mayor June Lormann.

Commissioner Ed Myers commended Mayor Goldberg and Waller for the hours they put in negotiating with the county for sewer service. In other business, the commission voted 4-1 to reconsider bids on a generator for the new police station now under construction. Myers voted no on the motion to set aside the commission's previous action in awarding the contract to Modern Power and to reconsider bids. Myers said he was of the opinion that the commission voted on this last time and didn't see any reason to reconsider it. Police Lt. Jack Bisland said it was discovered after the meeting that the low bidder, Cummins Southeastern with a bid of $14,882, was not evaluated by a mechanical engineering firm when the other bids were because of a slip-up in the police department.

Murph The Surf Paroled

ORLANDO (UPI) — Jack "Murph the Surf" Murphy is free on parole after accepting God while serving 16 years in prison and nearly two years at a religious halfway house on two life sentences for murder and armed robbery.

Murphy's conditional lifetime parole, which could send him back to jail for any lawbreaking, was to begin today but came a day early due to the Veterans Day holiday for state officials.

Murphy, 48, his former surfer's blond hair streaked with gray, gained notoriety 20 years ago for spectacular jewel thefts, including the Star of India sapphire.

He was convicted in 1969 of killing Terry Rae Frank, one of two California secretaries whose bodies were found in Fort Lauderdale's Whiskey Creek. He was convicted the following year of robbing a Miami Beach socialite and handed two life sentences.

Since December 1984, Murphy has lived at The Bridge halfway house, refusing several requests for interviews. He told hearing officers for the Florida Probation and Parole Commission he plans to remain at the house to counsel other inmates and work as a minister.

Under terms of Murphy's parole he must agree to be searched for drugs at any time, is prohibited from going to Dade or Broward counties, where he committed crimes, and must pay $2,500 to a Dade County senior citizens Meals on Wheels program.

That amount would have gone for the funeral of his victim, but her survivors requested the charitable bequest instead.

Murph the Surf became known in Florida during the 1950s while competing in surfing contests and helping to make the sport popular on the East Coast. He ran a surfboard company in Brevard County.

The vote to release Murphy was 5-2.

Sanford Ups Effluent Site Offer

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford commissioners have upped their offer on a potential effluent disposal site to $2.2 million, although "it's not nearly enough to be taken seriously," according to representative of the site's 46 owners. They want "no less" than $4 million, he said.

Commissioners increased their offer to $2.2 million Monday, after being told their $1.872 million had been rejected by the site's owners. When contacted today, Henry Wight, the owners' representative, said commissioners' latest offer "is just about as bad as their first one. It won't be accepted."

While commissioners' offer comes to about $1,000 an acre for the roughly 2,200 acre parcel, Wight said his clients could get $2,400 per acre. He said the city was being offered the site at a $4 million "wholesale price" because "it would be a cash deal."

Commissioners have been considering purchase of the parcel in recent months to make up for possible loss of conditional permission the city has to dispose 1 million daily gallons of effluent in Lake Monroe.

During negotiations for the parcel, commissioners have gone from $1.872 million to $2.2 million. The site's owners started at $5,317,000, pared it to $4.9 million, then to $4 million.

Appraisals the city had done on the site came in at $4.9 million and $1.872 million. A review appraisal the city secured concurred with the lower price.

The review also said commissioners "could realistically offer a little more," according to City Commissioner John Mercer, who proposed the $2.2 million offer Monday.

It was unanimously accepted by his commission colleagues, although apparently will not be by the parcel's owners.

Sanford Engineering and Planning Director Bill Simmons will nonetheless make the proposal to the owners this week, and report back to commissioners when they meet next week.

Regardless of the negotiation's outcome, the owners will end up with $10,000 from Sanford, the amount commissioners paid for the purchase option in May and its extension last summer. The money is applicable to purchase price, according to terms of the option contract.

The parcel is located off State Road 46, extending south of its Lake Jesup crossing.

If not purchased this year, commissioners may want to consider acquiring it through condemnation sometime in the future, according to Simmons.

Condemnation is judged the most viable of preliminary "contingency plans" staff is looking at to address the potential end of purchase negotiations and possible loss of the lake permit. Sanford won't know for about three years if the state's "conditional" permission for lake disposal will be pulled, Simmons said. The state will complete water quality studies of the St. Johns River before the determination is made.

Simmons termed condemnation perhaps Sanford's "most feasible" solution to loss of the lake permit, "except in the unlikely case the parcel has been developed in the relatively short intervening time."

Mercer also has a suggestion for staff to consider. His proposal involves effluent transmission lines the city would have to run to the 2,200 acre site. He suggests the possibility these lines still be run east of the city, but instead of going to the site, they could go to agricultural lands in the area, for irrigation at a fee.

The lands' owners could contract for the service and Sanford would then be able to dispose its highly treated effluent for payment. Instead of paying steep price for a disposal parcel, he said.

Mercer also offered a "prediction" Monday night that Sanford will benefit by recently elected officials "changing" state wastewater management constraints.

Aside from the 1 million daily gallon lake disposal, the rest of Sanford's effluent will be disposed through irrigation at sites the city already owns. Development of the city's land application system is required by the state Department of Environmental Regulation, which has prohibited the majority of Sanford's effluent from continuing to go into the lake.

Staff's other preliminary alternatives include increasing irrigation at city-owned sites, although this would be difficult and costly, Simmons said.

Another alternative, well injection near the lake, would cost Sanford $100,000 just for studies, and there is no guarantee these studies would garner state approval for the system, Simmons said.

The city could also look into disposing the effluent in Lake Mary, as extension to an anticipated service agreement between the two cities. As currently discussed, Lake Mary would only be disposing an amount of effluent equal to that it ships to Sanford for treatment.

Sanford could also look for a new site if the lake disposal is prohibited, although Simmons said he is not too optimistic "one would suddenly be found just when we happen to need it."

Planned County Impact Fee Schedule Said To Be 'Unique'

By Paul C. Schaefer
Herald Staff Writer

The transportation impact fee ordinance Seminole County expects to enact in December will be "unique" and better than those adopted by other counties, according to a consultant who is helping county commissioners develop the new law.

The ordinance is in its final stages of development, and commissioners expect to formally adopt and enact the fees Dec. 23. The fees will be used to mitigate the impacts of new development on county roads by assessing developers for the additional traffic created by growth.

The fees will be paid by all new development in the county, including residential, commercial, and industrial construction, when the ordinance is adopted.

Randy Young, of the consulting firm of Henderson, Young & Company, which is helping the county develop the fees, updated commissioners on the process of drawing the ordinance in a Monday morning work session.

Young cited five points that make the ordinance a unique document, custom designed to the needs of Seminole County for the next 20 years.

Young said the fees are "improvements driven" instead of "standards driven". The difference is that improvements driven fees are "based on a list of specific road projects," while standards driven fees are based on hypothetical theories, such as how many trips per day a home or business is projected to generate, and what road improvements will be needed.

"The improvements driven fees are more accurate, because you've already determined the roads to be improved. You've put your cards on the table," Young said. "They are a lot more accurate than those based on theory."

He also said projected costs for the different projects should be made at 100 percent, with no deletions.

"Put 100 percent on the table and leave it there," Young said. 100 percent funding includes the costs for right-of-way purchases, road design, construction, and inspection. He said funds from the county's share of local option gas tax money can be used against impact fee collections, so a road project isn't funded by impact fees only in some cases.

He also said the fees collected can be spent only on a road project directly impacted by growth.

He added that the improvements driven method of fee assessment will assure a developer is paying his "fair share".

not more or less.

"You have to acknowledge that some improvements are necessary for what we need now," Young said. "Impact fees can only be used to correct new-growth related road needs."

Young said all county roads are taken into consideration in the road improvement plans, including county roads that run through cities, such as Lake Mary Blvd, which runs through the city of Lake Mary, and Montgomery Rd, which runs through Altamonte Springs. He said, however, that state roads are not included in county programmed improvements, but that the county should have ongoing communication with others about road plans.

Young said the final point of the fees is that there must be a connection between the fee payer and the improvement the fee is used to fund.

For single family dwelling units, Young said the Seminole fees will be "very competitive with other counties."

He said Lee County charges about $1,000 per unit, while most of the Seminole fees will be in the $700 per unit range.

The fee ordinance is scheduled to be considered for adoption by the county planning and zoning board and then the commission in December.

"In a single month our new hot water system saves enough money to pay for three months of outdoor lighting. But it was FPL who told us about it."

And for good reason, FPL is encouraging everybody to manage their energy efficiently because lowering peak energy demand delays the need for new power plants — an expense everyone must share.

A heat-recovery water heating system takes exhausted heat from your central air conditioning system or heat pump and uses it to heat your water. And it can cut your water heating costs up to 50%. The best time to have it installed is when you get a new air-conditioning system or when you service your existing one.

To encourage you to make this energy-saving improvement, we'll even pay part of the cost. But first, we'll send an energy specialist to your home to see if a heat-recovery unit is right for you.

SCC Shoots Down Falcons For 4th Straight Win

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Bill Payne doesn't know if it's open season on Falcons yet or not, but his Seminole Community College Raiders came away with a pretty big prize Tuesday night in a battle of the state's top birds.

The Raiders, who are ranked fifth in the state, shot down the seventh-ranked Florida College Falcons, 88-79, in junior college basketball Tuesday night at Florida College's Temple Terrace (near Tampa) gym.

FC, which won a state title several years ago, is tough enough to beat anywhere, but taking the measure of the Falcons in their own gym is next to impossible.

"We survived 1,000 screaming fans and 25 college coaches," Payne said Wednesday. "It was really a nice win. The kids played well."

Payne's only other victory came at Florida College three years ago. "We beat them in overtime," he said. "This one was close but it was convincing."

Basketball

We had the lead as much as 23 or 24 points at one time."

The Raiders again combined youth and experience for their fourth consecutive victory.

"Our freshmen have really come through for us," Payne said about the play of 6-7 Barry Dunning and 6-0 Malcolm Houston. "I never expected us to be 4-0 without Tony Roberts (lost to ineligibility)."

Payne said the Raiders continue to receive steady efforts from sophomores Vance Hall in the middle, 5-8 Darris Gallagher at guard along with 6-7 forward Claude Jackson and super subs James Morris and Efram Brooks.

Hall, who finishes with 22 points, carried the Raiders in the early going as he hit 5 of 7 first-half attempts as SCC built a 41-24 halftime bulge.

Defensively, the Raiders were in FC's face for 20 minutes, limiting the hosts to just 29 percent field-goal shooting. The Falcons could manage just 10 of 34 field-goal conversions. Jackson and Houston, who combined for seven steals for the night, continually harassed the Falcons into mistakes.

The Raiders picked up where they left off in the final 20 minutes as a Dunning steal and slam upped the margin to 63-37 with 13:52 to play. Three minutes later, Santiago and Dave Mlachnik, who finished with 19 points, shot the Falcons within 67-50 with 9:59 left but FC could get no closer.

Free-Agent List Swells To 78 Filers

NEW YORK (UPI) — More than 10 percent of all major-league players formally entered baseball's open market Tuesday when the deadline expired to file for free agency.

The Major League Baseball Players Association said 78 players as of late Tuesday night had declared themselves free agents and were eligible to negotiate contracts with the highest bidder, but most were expected to re-sign with their clubs. Those seeking free agency had until Tuesday midnight EST to notify the players' union.

Among the top names available in a plentiful market were pitcher Jack Morris, catchers Lance Parrish and Rich Gedman, outfielders Tim Lincecum and Andre Dawson and infielder Bob Horner.

Much of the maneuvering among clubs for talent — or lack of maneuvering — will rest on a decision expected to be announced in a few weeks by baseball arbitrator Thomas Roberts. The union, in the aftermath of last season's drought of free-agent signings, has charged the 26 club owners with collusion in spurning the free agents.

There likely will be no movement of players to new clubs until a decision by the arbitrator is reached.

Of the 62 players available last year, only five — none a star player — signed with new teams.

Baseball Commissioner Peter Ueberroth, hired by the owners, described the development as "independent financial responsibility."

Detroit outfielder Kirk Gibson and California reliever Donnie Moore were the premier free agents last season. They received no offers from any other teams, and both re-signed with their former clubs at terms less attractive than what they were seeking.

Teams have until Jan. 8 to return their own free agents, after which clubs are prohibited from such signings until May 1. If a new club does not make him an offer, the player must wait until May — missing spring training and the first month of the season — before his old club may sign him.

Free agents carrying salaries of more than $1 million a season are: Horner, Raines, Dawson, Tony Armas, Ron Guidry, Tom Seaver and Steve Carlton.

Raines, an excellent base stealer who led the National League in batting this season with a .334 average, and Dawson, who had

Tim Raines was one of 78 major-league baseball players to file for free agency.

Raines, the 1986 N.L. batting champ, has played with Montreal for six years.

a .284 average with 20 homers and 78 RBI, are two of baseball's best outfielders.

The Montreal Expos, perhaps protecting themselves from the possible loss of either or both, recently signed Dave Collins, a fast but high-priced outfielder who was released by Detroit despite batting .270 this year.

The National League West champion Houston Astros had four players file: catcher Alan Ashby, infielder Phil Garner, pitcher Larry Andersen, and utilityman Davey Lopes.

Tommy John of the New York Yankees filed late Tuesday afternoon. The 43-year-old left-hander is to coach baseball at the University of North Carolina next year but the college season concludes in May.

With teams likely to hold rosters at 24 next season, as they did in 1986, and 624 places available across the league, the marketplace may be less accommodating than in the early years of free agency to such aging and expensive players as Seaver, Carlton, John, Armas, Reggie Jackson, Rick Burleson, Rick Dempsey and Dave Kingman.

To become a free agent a player must have six years of major-league experience and his contract must have expired.

Griffith's 33-Footer Blows Away Dallas

United Press International
Utah guard Darrell Griffith, nicknamed Dr. Dunkenstein at the University of Louisville, became a monster of a different sort Tuesday night.

Griffith, who has become one of the NBA's best three-point shooters since leaving the Doctors of Dunk six years ago, hit a 33-foot bomb at the buzzer to give the Jazz a 104-103 victory over the Dallas Mavericks.

Utah trailed 103-99 with 7 seconds left when Bobby Hansen's driving layup cut the deficit to two points. Sam Perkins' inbound pass was intercepted by Utah guard Rickey Green at midcourt. Green fed Griffith before hitting the floor.

Griffith, who usually electrifies crowds with dunks, had the Salt Palace in a frenzy after his long-range jumper.

"I couldn't have designed it better. It felt good all the way," Griffith said. "You would have thought we won the NBA championship, but we didn't get no trophy."

The 6 foot-4 guard missed all of last year with a foot injury, but he is being counted on to score more because of the departure of Adrian Dantley to Detroit. Griffith scored 15 points and had Jazz Coach Frank Layden, who trimmed 30 pounds off his massive physique in the offseason, up and about.

"This was the greatest comeback victory I've ever been associated with," Layden said. "We may have come back from a bigger deficit to win, but not this kind of a comeback in such a short time."

Karl Malone led Utah with 23 points and 15 rebounds, while Hansen had 20 and Thurl Bailey 14.

In other games, New York defeated Phoenix 111-105. New Jersey got by Boston 114-110. Houston routed San Antonio 116-95. Chicago edged Atlanta 112-110. Milwaukee outscored Indiana 102-84. The LA Clippers beat Denver 115-112. Sacramento defeated Cleveland

Basketball

119-115. Portland routed Golden State 126-108 and Philadelphia shaded Seattle 121-114.

Knicks 111, Suns 105
At New York, Gerald Wilkins scored 23 points, including 7 in the final five minutes to lead the Knicks.

New Jersey 114, Boston 110
At East Rutherford, N.J., Albert King came off the bench to score 22 points, and New Jersey held Boston without a field goal over the final 2:28 to help the Nets snap a four-game losing streak.

Rockets 116, Spurs 95
At Houston, Akeem Olatuwon had 21 points and 18 rebounds to lead the 4-1 Rockets. Olatuwon led seven Houston players in double figures.

Bulls 112, Hawks 110
At Chicago, Michael Jordan scored 34 points and the Bulls dealt the Atlanta Hawks their first defeat of the season.

Bucks 102, Pacers 94
At Milwaukee, Ricky Pierce scored his team's final 15 points to lead the Bucks.

Clippers 115, Nuggets 112
At Los Angeles, Mike Woodson, subbing for injured Marques Johnson, scored 23 points — including 2 free throws with 43 seconds left — and Benoit Benjamin added 22 points and 14 rebounds to lead the Clippers.

Kings 119, Cavaliers 114
At Sacramento, Calif., Brooke Stepp hit a 10-foot jump shot and rookie Johnny Rogers scored from the corner in the last 1:30 to lift the Kings.

Trail Blazers 126, Warriors 108
At Portland, Ore., Kiki Vandeweghe's 29 points and a 22-point, 11-rebound performance by Steve Johnson led the Trail Blazers.

76ers 121, Seattle 114
At Seattle, Cliff Robinson scored 27 of his game-high 35 points in the second half to rally Philadelphia.

Broad Brush, Palace Music Are Favored

LAUREL, Md. (UPI) — Horse of the Year candidate Broad Brush and Palace Music were the early favorites for Saturday's $600,000 Washington D.C. International at Laurel Race Course.

The purse is a record for the 1 1/4 miles turf classic, which could boast a 14-horse field, the largest in the race's 35-year history.

Angel Cordero has been signed by trainer Dick Small to ride Broad Brush, who finished third in the Kentucky Derby. Gary Stevens will be aboard the Charlie Whittingham-trained Palace Music, who was second by a head to longshot Last Tycoon in the Breeder's Cup Mile.

If all 14 horses are formally entered Thursday, the race will be the largest since 13 started in 1955 and 1962, worrying some trainers who believe the field will be bumping and banging going into the first turn.

Racing

Also contending will be the noted English horse Teleprompter and Korab, the first horse from Poland ever to run in the International.

Storm on the Loose and Royal Treasurer, invited at the last minute by Laurel owner Frank DeFrancis, will represent Canada. Double Bed and Apeldoorn are the two entries from France and Premier Mister is from Morocco.

The other U.S. horses are Southjet, Dance of Life, Wollaston, Derby Wish and Lieutenant's Lark.

The International's $600,000 purse — up $200,000 over 1985 — is an attempt by Laurel officials to maintain the prestige of the race.

The International, up until perhaps a decade ago, had been the top fall race for 3-year-olds and older, but the Breeder's Cup and other rich races have led to smaller fields and fewer horses.

"I've never won it, but I've been there," Mack Miller, Dance of Life's trainer, said. "The International has been a great race. A long time ago, when there weren't so many big races at the end of the season, the International was a social happening. And it meant something if your horse won."

Campus Burglary Check Leads To Probe Of Drugs At Colorado

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI) — A campus security investigation into a burglary has led to a drug probe and admissions by four University of Colorado football players they used cocaine during the past year, according to a published report.

The Rocky Mountain News, in a copyrighted story, reported in their Wednesday editions unnamed sources said quarterback Mark Hatcher, fullback Anthony Weatherspoon, cornerback William Harvey and third-string placekicker Steve Nottoli admitted to campus security they used cocaine.

A security spokesman said no drug charges would be filed against the players.

"We did investigate the drug aspects of the case. As far as focusing on other people, we did focus on some people who were football players and on many people who aren't," security officer Timothy McGraw said in the report.

McGraw also said in the story the investigation was aimed at tracking down the potential source of the drugs.

Athletic Director Bill Marolt said the four football players were allowed to remain on the squad because the incidents occurred before the university's drug testing program was tightened and switched from regular to random testing.

"Because we established this program and we're building for the future, we're not there to deal with past mistakes," Marolt said. "We're there to deal with future growth and improvement."

Marolt said the alleged admissions of drug use were irrelevant because "we're dealing with past mistakes."

The newspaper said the alleged drug use surfaced during a security force investigation into a May 6 campus burglary and a traffic accident that killed two CU students.

'Super Nate' Leaves Defenders Clutching For Silver Hawk Cape

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Opposing coaches have scratched their heads red trying to figure out how to slow down Lake Howell's Nate Hoskins. They've stacked linebackers. They've spread defensive ends. They've cheated defensive backs.

They're tried it all. Everything and anything to stop the Silver Hawks' biggest little threat. Little: 5-8 and 161 pounds. Big: 83.5 yards and eight touchdowns.

Their problem, however, can't be found on any film. And, it's too late to detect once the senior running back prances onto the turf. The key to stopping Nate Hoskins is before the game.

Before the game?
It's simple: Remove the pay telephone booth.

You know, the pay telephone booth that Hoskins slips into before the game and pulls on his Superman T-shirt.

Superman T-shirt?
"Well, I looked down and saw it laying there," Hoskins said about a shopping excursion last year. "I said, 'Hey, that's me. I think I'll wear it.'"

He found his first telephone booth minutes before the Oviedo game last year. It was the Silver Hawks last contest of the year. "I did pretty well. I ran for 78 yards," Hoskins said. "After that, I've worn it every game."

And Lake Howell has won eight of those nine games. Only a 10-7 setback to Apopka has marred the "Super Streak." Included are two back-to-back "Man-sized" victories over Winter Park (31-14) and Orlando Evans (14-7). Prior to those was a satisfying 28-0 blowout over rival Lake Mary. Last week, the ninth-ranked 5A Hawks methodically marched past Lyman, 25-0.

Yep, "Super Nate" leaves defenders clutching for his Silver Hawk cape.

Hoskins has been a major factor in each win. He ran for over 100 yards in each win except Evans and accumulated four touchdowns in those four pivotal victories.

"The kid is consistent," Lake

Football

Howell coach Mike Bisceglia said about Hoskins. "I think he's only been under 100 yards two games all year. Both of those were against tough defenses. At Evans, was sloppy conditions and at Apopka, we didn't have the ball much (nine carries for Hoskins)."

Superman T-shirt or not, all involved are surprised — not at Hoskins' success — but not at the success of his success. Hoskins rumbled for 161 yards on 22 carries last week to push his yardage to 835 for the year. That's 105 more than Oviedo's Willie Gainey who is second with 730 yards. Both have played eight games.

Like his teammates, Hoskins' goals are predominately team oriented. "I just wanted to start, having a winning season, win conference, district and the rest," he said about his pre-season goals. "Personally, I wanted to be the standout running back each game."

Which he has done most of the time, although junior teammate Cornel Rigby gives him a good run for his yardage every week. Rigby, who will be the meal ticket next fall, has 616 yards for the fifth-best total in the county.

"We're surprised at how well Nate has done," Bisceglia said. "We thought that Nate and Cornel would complement each other well, but we knew that Nate would have to be the mainstay."

Enough of a mainstay that he now can open some college doors that were closed before. Bisceglia said scouts are starting to ask "Who is that No. 22?" The Lake Howell coach said Hoskins could be a Division II player and he is going to really push him to the colleges the rest of the year.

Hoskins, too, is a bit taken back by all of the real estate, but he has kept his perspective. "My goal is on target," he admitted. "But I never thought I'd be able to do it to this extent. I have to give my line most of the credit. It's a monster line and the receivers have been doing a good job of stock blocking (down field).

"They (the defenders) have trouble seeing me out of backfield," he added. "I can get lower than they can."

Hoskins, who can bench press almost triple his weight, prepared himself mentally and physically for '86. A preparation Bisceglia said has been the difference between a running back casting a short shadow and a scabbard trailing a cape.

"Nate improved his weight from 135 to 161 pounds. His strength is much better, too," Bisceglia said. "That helped him tremendously, as did his whole off-season program. He's worked with jump ropes, form running and box jumping. He can really explode on those boxes."

Whereas the physical part can be accomplished by most hard-working athletes, it's what up top that counts. And Hoskins has it upstairs, too. He carries a 3.8 grade-point average in honors course. "That big 'S' could just as easily stand for 'Smarts' as 'Super.'"

"If you don't think you can do it, you're not going to," Hoskins said. "I believe it (success) is 80- to 90-percent mental."

Another cerebral Silver Hawk — offensive guard Ken Joseph — is the first to agree. Joseph, the mainstay of the line, carries a perfect 4.0 grade-point average in those same honors courses and provides a perfect escort.

running back has opened a 105-yard lead over the nearest challenger for the Seminole County rushing championship.

The future doctor said it hasn't surprised him the way Hoskins has carved up the opposition.

"I've played with Nate since my freshman year, but I've watched him a lot longer," Joseph said about Hoskins' SYSA football days in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. "He's always been the hard-working little guy."

Joseph described Hoskins' success in two words.

"His want," the articulate senior said. "Nate lifts all the time. He is always working and running around the track. He has a great attitude toward playing."

This attitude, Joseph said, makes Lake Howell's 240-pound-per-man offensive steamroller give it a little more, too: "If you give Nate just a little break, he'll do something," he said. "He wants something to happen. He makes us look good. All we have to do is shield block and he gets through. That lets us get down field and throw him an extra block."

Hoskins has been so incredible, he's even got his teammates believing he's Superman.

"Hey, I believe in that," Joseph said seriously about the Silver Hawks' undergarments. "I've been wearing the same shirt under my pads all year. There's a got to be something to it. 'It's working.'"

West Orange, Edgewater, Seminole, Lake Mary, Winter Park, Orlando Evans and Lyman will attest to that.

winner, picked up nine first-place votes and 88 points. Scott and Valenzuela were the only pitchers named on all 24 ballots. Mike Krukow of the San Francisco Giants was third with 15 points. Each voter was asked to select three pitchers in order of preference and points were awarded on a 5-3-1 basis for votes from first through third.

Others receiving votes were Bob Ojeda of the New York Mets (9 points), Ron Darling of the Mets (2), Rick Rhoden of the Pittsburgh Pirates (2), Dwight Gooden of the Mets (1) and Sid Fernandez of the Mets (1). Gooden was the 1985 Cy Young winner.

Among Scott's victories was a division-clinching no-hitter against San Francisco on Sept.

25. Scott also beat the Mets twice during the NL playoffs, but all balloting for the Cy Young Award was conducted before the postseason.

The Mets accused Scott of doctoring his pitches with sandpaper, a complaint among many hitters during the season when they were unable to hit the split-fingered fastball.

Scott, the first Houston pitcher to win the Cy Young Award, was obtained by the Astros from the Mets in December 1982 for outfielder Danny Heep. He worked on the split-fingered fastball last spring training and became overpowering this year. He notched five shutouts among his 18 victories and became only the 10th pitcher in baseball history to reach the 300-strikeout plateau.

Valenzuela, 26, reached the 20-victory plateau for the first time in his six-year career with a 21-11 record.

Rewarding Struggle

HOUSTON (UPI) — Struggles during the early days of his professional baseball career make winning the National League Cy Young award even more important to Houston Astros pitcher Mike Scott.

"I went through some rough times, especially in New York," Scott said Tuesday from his home in Los Angeles. "I came over to Houston and had a pretty good first year. Then I missed a couple of months and, after that, had a really bad year."

"If you never struggle, you think it's too easy, which isn't the case for most baseball players. So I guess it's fortunate for me that I did struggle. It'll make me appreciate more."

Peltzer, Polgrea Win Bayhead Doubles

Bayhead Racquet Club held one of its most successful annual club doubles championship this past weekend with 60 of the club's members participating in the event and many, many more were on hand to watch.

The competition was very intense, but when the dust had settled late Sunday afternoon, Mike Peltzer and Ed Polgrea walked off with the winner's trophy in the men's division and Karen Perce and Joann Baker took top honors in the women's division.

In the men's championship match, Peltzer and Polgrea outlasted the team of Rick Moreland and David Terwilliger in a long three-setter, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4. This was a very well-played match with many exciting and long rallies. The women's team of Perce and Baker had a much easier time of it in their championship match as they handily defeated the team of Fran Henry and Louise Turner, 6-1, 6-3.

In the men's consolation championships, Bob Walters and John Ziccardi defeated John Morgan and Bill Brumley, 7-6, 6-7, 6-4.

The women's consolations were won by Mary Jane Duryea and Camille Moreland over Mary Beth Mergo and Sylvia Mergo, 6-2, 6-4.

A tip of the tennis hat to all the winners and indeed to everyone who played in the tournament. You played well and produced some great tennis.

The two people most responsible for the success of the Bayhead doubles tournament were Steve and Simone Peltzer. In fact, this husband and wife team have done wonders at Bayhead ever since they were hired a few months ago.

Larry Castle
TENNIS
ANTHONY?

The composition courts of the club are in fantastic shape. I have played on a lot of soft courts, but none that play any nicer than Bayhead's. New windbreakers have been put up and the general appearance of the club and grounds is probably better than at any other time in the history of Bayhead.

Steve and Simone are also doing clinics and lots and lots of lessons. In fact, they are doing anything and everything that it might take to make Bayhead a good and fun place to play tennis.

These two young pros are not afraid of hard work and it's really starting to show. Almost anytime you drive by Bayhead you will see them working on the courts or giving lessons or any of the hundreds of things that need to be done each day.

It is this writer's opinion that Bayhead will grow and prosper in the years to come and the main reasons will be Steve and Simone. They are a class act and we are glad they are here.

Casal Scrambles Past Schapers

LONDON (UPI) — Sergio Casal scrambled by Michiel Schapers Tuesday to set up a probable second-round clash with John McEnroe at the $375,000 Benson and Hedges grand prix tennis tournament.

Casal saved three match points to push home 2-6, 6-2, 7-5 over the Dutchman and earn a repeat clash with McEnroe, provided the New York southpaw beats Australian Pat Cash Wednesday.

Casal, a qualifier, was left as the only Spanish contestant in the tournament when sixth-seeded Emilio Sanchez was eliminated by Johan Kriek of Naples, Fla.

Sanchez, winner of three grand prix tournaments this year, is primarily a grass court player and could not match the pace set by Kriek, who won 5-7, 6-4, 6-4 in 1 hour 54 minutes.

In another upset, Dave Pate of the United States defeated eighth-seeded Thierry Tulaane of France, 6-7 (6-8), 6-4, 6-2. Pate made the semifinals of this tournament last year.

Third-seeded Yannick Noah of France dismissed Jonathan Canter 6-4, 6-4, avenging his defeat against the American in the Toronto Open earlier this year.

In other first-round action Tuesday, Mike DePalmer of Knoxville, Tenn., defeated Australian Paul McNamee 6-4, 6-3.

IN BRIEF

Canada II Tops Stars & Stripes; New Zealand Maintains Record

FREMANTLE, Australia (UPI) — Canada II, racing a redesigned old boat, knocked Dennis Conner's Stars & Stripes down to fourth place with a 29-second upset Wednesday in the America's Cup challenger competition. Stuck for the third straight day with a heavy weather yacht in unexpectedly scant 11 knot breezes, Conner came from behind on the sixth leg only to watch eighth-place Canada II sail past on the last tack.

Conner's loss vaulted Great Britain's White Crusader to the No. 3 spot with 43 points, 13 behind second-place America II.

New Zealand's KZ7, 21-1, maintained its grip on first place with a stunning 5:47 win over Italia, 11-11. The New York Yacht Club's America II, 20-2, sailed to an easy 4:18 rout of Heart of America, 5-17.

Skipper Harold Cudmore's White Crusader, 15-7, thrashed the Newport Harbor, Calif., yacht Eagle, 8-14, by 3:18.

In other challenger races, Tom Blackaller's U.S.A., 14-8, outdistanced Challenge France, 2-20, by 8:04, and Marc Pajot's French Kiss, 12-10, trampled Italy's Azzurra, 2-20, by 4:12.

Lanham, Hittinger Won't Return

Tony Lanham and Mike Hittinger, two University of Central Florida football players who have expressed displeasure with the Knights' program, said Tuesday they would not play for UCF next fall.

Lanham, a junior and currently starting quarterback, was upset at playing behind Darin Slack for the Knights' first six games. He charged UCF coach Gene McDowell with "politics," playing Slack ahead of him because Slack's father, Steve, was a good friend and big booster for the university.

Linebacker-defensive lineman Hittinger, a sophomore and starter last year but plagued by frequent knee injuries, said he was embarrassed by McDowell on several occasions.

McDowell said no attempt would be made to dissuade the pair, but the program would like to "have them both back."

He said neither is expected to play in UCF's last game Saturday against Samford (Ala.) because of knee injuries.

Hampton's OT TD Drops Bucs

Freddie Hampton scored two touchdowns, including the game-winner in overtime, to lift the Steelers to a 12-6 victory over the Bucs for the Sanford Recreation Flag Football Midget League championship.

Hampton scooted for a 30-yard touchdown in the first half for a 6-0 lead and the Bucs could not score in the first half. The Bucs tied it, though, in the second half when Joshua Watson tossed a TD pass to Charles Jones.

The game went into overtime tied at 6-6 when Hampton scampered 60 yards for a touchdown to give the Steelers the victory.

Tribble Charged: Speeding, DUI

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Brian Tribble, who faces trial in connection with the cocaine-induced death of University of Maryland basketball star Ben-Blaas, has been charged with speeding and drunken driving in an unrelated incident, police said.

Tribble was arrested early Tuesday after police clocked him going over 50 mph in a 30 mph zone along New York Avenue, NE, said Sgt. David Thompson, a spokesman for the District of Columbia police department.

Thompson said Tribble also failed to pass a sobriety test.

Veteran Yeoman To Step Down

HOUSTON (UPI) — Houston Cougars football coach Bill Yeoman, who took over the program in 1982, says he will step down at the end of the season and take an administrative position to raise funds for the school's athletic department.

"It wasn't, as far as I'm concerned, that difficult (a decision)," Yeoman said Tuesday. "Everyone has been coming up to me, with a degree of sadness in their eyes, and I don't want to appear unappreciative, but I'm sorry, I'm kind of excited about it."

Stocks Open Higher

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened higher today in active trading of New York Stock Exchange issues.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which rose 3.66 Tuesday, was up 5.06 to 1901.01 shortly after the market opened.

Advances led declines 495-295 among the 1,276 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape.

Early turnover amounted to about 9,648,000 shares.

The stock market ended narrowly mixed in moderate trading Tuesday, with buying concentrated in oil and retail issues and companies involved in takeover situations.

Analysts said trading was slow because many banks closed and trading in government securities was suspended for the Veterans Day holiday.

Looking ahead, though, Elliot Fried, director of equity research at Shearson Lehman Brothers said he expects stocks to trade in a narrow range at least until Thanksgiving. A break to new highs is more likely to come close to year-end, he said.

Fried said Wall Street is divided between those who believe the economy is not going to improve and those who think it will but are waiting for more evidence to confirm that forecast.

happened, but I can't say it didn't. I thank God that He pulled me through it, and I'm continuing on with it."

He said he felt really sorry he had let his mother down especially, and he talked about "family" in a way that evoked cheers and waves of applause from the students.

"As a child, I always followed behind my mother and I never really got into any trouble. I could always go home and discuss it with Ma. She always pressed me to go on and do the best I could. I never thought of drinking or taking drugs or alcohol."

"But as the years went by I got farther and farther from home and Mom couldn't help me."

What he was really trying to tell the kids is that despite all the love and caring you receive at home, when you become an adult you have to depend on yourself.

Dollar Mainly Lower As Gold Moves Up

By United Press International

The dollar opened mainly lower on major foreign exchanges today. Gold moved up.

The dollar eased against the Japanese yen on the Tokyo foreign exchange market, closing at 161.80 yen, down 0.85 from Tuesday's closing rate of 162.65.

Dealers said many market participants were on the sidelines as they waited for reports on U.S. retail sales and other economic figures scheduled to be announced Friday.

The dollar opened at 2.0290 German marks in Frankfurt, down from Tuesday's close of 2.0347. It was 1.6850 Swiss francs in Zurich, down from 1.6897; and 2.2905 Dutch guilders in Amsterdam, down from 2.3010. It opened at 1,402.25 lire in Milan, down from 1,406.20.

L.A. To Get Mazda Center

TOKYO (UPI) — Mazda Motor Corp., Japan's third-largest car maker, Wednesday announced it is building a $23 million research and development center in Los Angeles.

The company said the new facility, scheduled for completion in early 1988, is in line with its program of expanding its research and development facilities in the United States, Europe and Japan.

The center will be run by Mazda's wholly owned subsidiary Mazda North America Inc. and will be used for various programs designed to explore new automotive technologies and design concepts.

"Through strong R and D we hope to create unique and attractive products that meet the needs and tastes of our customers," Mazda North America president Hisao Kaide said at a groundbreaking ceremony last week.

Completion of the new facility will follow the beginning of car production by the company at its factory in Flat Rock, Mich., in late 1987. Production is set to begin at an annual rate of 240,000 units.

Mazda will be the third major Japanese automobile manufacturer to produce subcompact cars in the United States, following Honda and Nissan.

Shopping Center Builder To Discuss Pulled Permit With Longwood Staff

The builder of a 52,000-square-foot Longwood shopping center under construction, who had his building permit revoked, is scheduled to meet with the city building official and consulting engineer Thursday.

Developer Frank Schrimsher of Schrimsher Construction Co. of Orlando was notified Monday in a letter from Longwood Building Official B.L. "Slick" Helms that his building permit for the Plaza Del Sol Shopping Center located at 1155 W. State Road 434 has been revoked.

Helms said that everything is being worked out and it was not a matter of sub-standard construction, but just that it was different from the approved plan.

"I stopped work because I did not have the correct set of plans," he said. "They have agreed to bring it up to code and submit a survey," Helms said. "Apparently the owner and the architect both thought the other had given us the revised plan, but it never got to us."

Schrimsher first received a six-month permit for the project in December, 1985, and later was granted an extension. Helms said the permit was revoked because construction plans were changed after being approved by the city commission and it will be necessary to obtain a new permit because of the change. The violation came to light, he said, when the inspector noted the pad had been poured and concrete block walls of the structure were being constructed differently than called for in the approved plans.

Helms told Schrimsher to contact the building department to set up a meeting between the contractor, HDS Consultants, and city officials so the violations can be brought into compliance with the Standard Building Code.

lational license, her lack of which is a violation of city code. The waiver is for a sprinkler system that will avert replacement of 26 doors at the hotel. Commissioners said Monday the license can only be obtained when the sprinkler system is "installed, operational and inspected."

The Sanford code enforcement board on Oct. 30 found Mrs. Nestor guilty of operating the hotel without a license but agreed a $50-a-day fine for the violation would only begin if commissioners refused her waiver request.

Mrs. Nestor was first cited for code deficiencies in February, under a Sanford ordinance requiring completion of a number of on-site upgrades by Oct. 24, 1985. The code board began leveling fines against her in September, to prod action on the cited violations.

And, according to the code board member Joyce Malone, until all necessary work is complete, city code violation fines that add up to $8,375 as of today should continue to accrue at $275-a-day.

Ferry Sinking

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (UPI) — Catholic-run Radio Soleil said today 20 people survived the sinking of a crowded ferry that went down with 200 people on board off an island northwest of Port-au-Prince.

Earlier a Haitian Coast Guard spokesman, who refused to give his name, said in the capital that the ferry sank Tuesday afternoon with about 120 passengers and put the number of people missing and presumed dead at 100.

Architect Frank Hill said plans call for a 5,000-square-foot building which would include four bedrooms to house up to 12 children.

"We want to create an environment where the children can feel safe, secure, comfortable, and be in a home-like atmosphere," Hill said. He said he envisions the home as "having a front porch, and the warmth of a home." He said it should look more like a house than an institutional holding facility.

He estimated the cost of the building to be between $225,000 and $250,000.

Ms. Studwell added, "The kids are desperate. If the county has the land we'll take what we can get rather than wait another year."

Commissioners however said the Five Points area may not be the best location, because if its close proximity to the county jail and juvenile detention center.

"I think there's a better solution," to the site location said county administrator Ken Hooper.

Commission chairman Bob Sturm added, "The board agrees with the idea in concept, but we need to examine possible sites."

The board directed Assistant County Administrator Montye Beamer to review possible county owned sites, and added that private citizens who would like to donate or sell a three acre parcel for the facility should contact Ms. Studwell or Jim Berko, at 323-2036 or 831-2411.

Ms. Beamer is to report the results of her search in December.

Blake, Longwood recruiting station.

Certificates of Appreciation for high dedication to community awareness, participation and involvement were presented by the state commander of the Sons of the American Legion Tom O'Brien to Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith, the principal speaker, for her work in the fight against drug abuse. Sheriff John Polk, who served as master of ceremonies, and Linda Kurtze, Veterans Day program chairman.

Pattie Tripp, past commander of the Disabled American Veterans, sang, and the Seminole High School Band played.

The Rev. William J. Boyer, U.S. Navy chaplain and pastor of Grace United Methodist Church, gave the invocation.

Cyndi Lauper's Tour Underway

Cyndi Lauper's much-postponed tour is finally getting started.

Lauper has an old friend on hand to play guitar — Rick Derringer.

His track record goes all the way back to the McCoy's ("Hang on Sloopy") and it includes work with everyone from Edgar Winter to Weir Al Yankovic.

Derringer, who has taken a break from record production, is accompanying Cyndi on the road as lead axeman.

It was Derringer, coincidentally, who played on the original demos Cyndi made when she disbanded her group Blue Angel.

The demos eventually landed her an Epic Records deal. (BU) Rumor in Los Angeles has it that the opening song on "Pee-Wee's Playhouse" — the best kiddie show ever made for adults — is not by vocalist Ellen Shaw, as credited, but by a certain Miss Cyndi Lauper.

Other musicians contributing to Pee-Wee's project include Devo's Mark Mothersbaugh, Todd Rundgren and seminal metalhead Mitchell Froom.

(BU) Iggy Pop's latest video "Cry for Love," was directed by "Absolute Beginners" director Julien Temple. He chose the underside of Terminal Island Freeway outside Los Angeles as a location.

Temple said the spot seemed to him "a wasteland of American dreams."

Amid assorted wreckage, the clip intersperses some of Pop's own impressionistic paintings as props — including the closing shot of a white dog, which metamorphoses into Iggy himself.

(BU) What's good for the goose is good for the gander:

When ex-Durannie Andy Taylor went solo, he hired ex-Missing Persons drummer Terry Bozzio for his band.

Now, Duran Duran have tagged Bozzio's old guitarist, Warren Cuccurullo, to replace Taylor in DD.

(BU) The press release began with the words "This is not a joke." And we understand why.

Seems King Karl Gustav XVI of Sweden, who is 40 years old, is a major fan of the heavy metal band Saxon. On Oct. 19, the monarch hosted a command performance by the headbangers at the Swedish Royal Palace in Stockholm.

He dressed the palace guard in band T-shirts for the occasion.

Commented Saxon lead singer Biff Byford: "It is the fervent hope of Saxon that we continue to win over heads of state around the world, not only for the long-term benefits of world peace and brotherhood — but because kings and presidents throw such great parties!"

Cook Of The Week

Minister's Wife Puts Family's Health And Happiness First

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

"One of the nicest things about moving from place to place is finding special recipes and finding all those good cooks," says Carolyn Bule, our Cook Of The Week. As the daughter of a Methodist minister, the Rev. Millard C. Cleveland, and now as the wife of the Rev. George A. Bule III (Archie), pastor of Sanford's First United Methodist Church, Mrs. Bule has had the opportunity to share and sample some of the finest foods. "I find that ministers' wives are usually pretty good cooks," Mrs. Bule says.

Being involved with people is very interesting and rewarding according to Mrs. Bule. "As a little girl, waiting to go home after church, many times my folks would take somebody with us," she says. "Older ladies would tell me stories of when they were little girls and I would be fascinated. People are so interesting."

A native of St. Petersburg, Mrs. Bule and her brother, Paul and Bill, often watched their mother in the kitchen. "We sat in there and watched her and talked to her a lot," says Mrs. Bule. "That was our best place to talk to her and so a lot of it just happened, I guess. We'd help peel potatoes and things like that. She was always happy for us to be in there to help, and, of course, we were always licking the bowl. She was a good cook and always enjoyed cooking and entertaining a lot. Mama was a real nutritious cook. She read a lot and did a lot of things then that are now popular like having whole wheat bread instead of white bread."

As a student at Florida Southern College in Lakeland, where she majored in Christian education and psychology, Mrs. Bule met her future husband. "He had been a friend of my brother in college," she recalls. "After walking me home from the library one night, he asked me out. We went on a triple date to see 'The Sound Of Music' in Winter Park, but just as we got up to the box office it was sold out! So the three couples went to the Yum Yum shop and had ice cream and strolled around Winter Park for a while and then went back to campus." After a 2-year stint in the U.S. Army stationed in Alaska, Rev. Bule entered the seminary and began corresponding with Carolyn. "and we became very good friends through correspondence," says Mrs. Bule.

Married in 1971, the Bules have spent many wonderful years in the ministry while raising a family of their own. "When we were first married," says Mrs. Bule, "we lived in Lakeland for two years where Archie was the associate pastor at First Methodist Church. It was a large church and we thoroughly enjoyed that. Then we moved up to Palatka which wasn't far from Lake City which was his home. We enjoyed being at Trinity Methodist Church in Palatka. We had lovely people in that church, and it was a very nice experience." Twelve year old Ben and Maribeth, 10, have enjoyed traveling with their parents on family vacations.

"Several years ago we decided

that Ben and Maribeth were both old enough, and had had just enough history in school," says Mrs. Bule, "and it would help them in school if they learned how to visit restored areas and historic places." After a family reunion one year, the Bules continued their vacation into Ozarks, Ga., where a wealth of history can be found. "They could see what the restoration was like on a smaller scale," Mrs. Bule explains. "And what it was like to go into an old home and start learning about architecture and furniture and things like that." A subsequent trip to Williamsburg, Va. has helped the children to understand and appreciate this great country of ours, "and," says Mrs. Bule, "I find that a lot of their speeches and things that they do in school now come from their trips — something they learned or saw."

A memorable trip through the Ozarks was another enjoyable vacation for the Bules "where we tried to get a real feel of what the Ozarks were like," says Mrs. Bule. "We went to a place where they had restored a lot of their crafts and preserved their music and we learned a lot about how they used to live." On the home front, Mrs. Bule likes to be an active participant in her children's school programs. "I try to be as active as I can in the PTA, and also chaperone field trips," she says. "That's been a marvelous experience — I love to learn new things and I enjoy being able to help out."

Ben and Maribeth both find themselves sharing the same experiences at Sanford Middle School where they are members of the band. Ben plays the trumpet, while Maribeth displays her talents with a flute. The youngsters enjoy playing tennis, "and are very much a normal sister and brother," says Mrs. Bule.

One of the nicest ways to get to know people better, says Mrs. Bule, is to visit the various women's circles that meet regularly at the church. "When I first came here, I really wanted to get to know the people better, and fit their names and faces together," she says. "I decided that if I can get to all those circle meetings, that would really help me get to know them. I love to go to all the circles or Sunday School classes or get-togethers. It's so interesting to be with people."

The circles are all part of the United Methodist Women who meet in small groups for Bible study, mission work or perhaps a special project. "The idea is to help women grow," says Mrs. Bule. Our cook is a personable young woman whose spontaneous laugh is an asset when working with young people. "I've been working with the junior high young people, and we had a big Halloween party that was a lot of fun," says Mrs. Bule. "They had fun dressing up in their costumes and all. I love them and have enjoyed working with them."

Keeping her family healthy and happy is one of Mrs. Bule's priorities. "A lot of things that I enjoy doing, I will do later on," says Mrs. Bule, "but they're just postponed right now while I have children. I love my family and my home, so there are some things that I say 'no' to sometimes." One of her most pleasurable pastimes is riding her bike to visit someone. "A good many people can't get out much anymore," says Mrs. Bule, "and just to have somebody different come and say 'hi' is a real treat for them and I enjoy doing that." For exercise, Mrs. Bule uses the wee morning hours to walk with a good neighbor for about three miles. "It's fun and we jabber the whole way," laughs Mrs. Bule.

"I like collecting recipes from other people," says our cook. "When I've had something and enjoyed it, and I know it's good, then I don't have to worry about a cook book."

Listed below is a delicious collection of tried and true recipes from Mrs. Bule's kitchen:

CHICKEN DREAMBURGERS
2 cans (5 oz. each) boned chicken (1½ cups chicken)
1 cup grated cheese
2 Tbls. chopped onion
2 Tbls. chopped pimiento
½ cup mayonnaise
Salt and pepper to taste
Combine all ingredients and spoon onto 8 hamburger buns. Bake at 400 degrees for 10 minutes. Serves 8.

CHEESE SQUASH
6 tender summer squash
3 eggs
½ cup milk
1 cup grated cheese
½ tsp. salt
Boil squash until tender. Drain and mash. Beat eggs well; add milk, cheese and salt. Pour into greased casserole and top with crushed cornflakes. Bake at 350 degrees until set, about 20 minutes. Serves 4 to 5.

CHRISTMAS CAKE

Microwave Magic

Cranberries Spark Festive Holiday Table

Cranberries, the wonderful tart berries that we associate with this time of the year have begun appearing in the produce department of the grocery stores. The berries have a fairly short harvesting time — late October through December. Cranberries freeze well in the bag. Buy some for now and freeze some to use later.

CRANBERRY-ORANGE RELISH

A cranberry relish is a welcome accompaniment for turkey, ham or roast pork.

1 package (12 ounces) fresh cranberries
1 cup water
1/2 cup sugar
1 package (3 ounces) orange gelatin

1 can (11 ounces) mandarin oranges, drained

Combine cranberries, water and sugar in a 2-quart batter bowl. Microwave on 100% power, uncovered, 8-9 minutes or until cranberries begin to pop, stirring once or twice. Mix in gelatin until dissolved. Cool slightly. Stir in oranges; cover and refrigerate until served.

CRAN-RASPBERRY JAM

Cranberries mixed with another sweet berry flavor equals a pretty red jam. Could be used as a gift idea.

1 package (12 ounces) fresh cranberries
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/4 cup water
1 package (3 ounces) raspberry gelatin

Place cranberries in a food processor. Process until coarsely chopped. Combine with sugar in a 2-quart batter bowl. Let stand at room temperature 1 hour to develop juice. Stir water into cranberries. Microwave on 100% power uncovered, 9-10 minutes or until cranberries are transparent and mixture is thickened, stirring once or twice. Stir in gelatin and continue stirring until dissolved, about 2 minutes. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Spoon mixture into sterilized jars, filling to within 1/2 inch of top of the container. Cover. Let stand 12 hours at room temperature. Freeze for long term storage.

CRANBERRY NUT BREAD

Use your microwave oven and the conventional oven or convection oven when you make this quick cranberry sauce.

2 tablespoons butter
1 cup sugar
1 egg
3/4 cup orange juice
2 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons hot water
1 cup halved fresh or frozen

cranberries
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 teaspoon butter

Microwave butter on 100% power 15-30 seconds or until softened. Mix in sugar until creamy. Beat in egg. Stir in orange juice. Mix in flour, soda, baking powder, salt and hot water until smooth. Stir in cranberries and nuts. Grease bottom and sides of a 9x5-inch glass loaf pan. Spoon batter into dish; spread evenly. Bake in a preheated 400°F oven 15-20 minutes or until top is golden brown. Transfer to microwave oven. Set hot dish on towel or hot pad. Microwave on 100% power, uncovered, 4-6 minutes or until toothpick inserted near center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pan. Brush with 1 teaspoon butter; cool completely. Wrap tightly. Refrigerate at least 24 hours before slicing. Store in refrigerator.

FRESH CRANBERRY SALAD
(Makes 8-10 servings)

This tasty salad is great with turkey.

1 package (12 ounces) fresh cranberries, ground
1 whole orange, ground
1 cup sugar
2 3-ounce packages cherry gelatin

1 1/2 cups hot water
1 cup chopped pecans
1 1/2 cups chopped celery
1 8-ounce can crushed pineapple

Combine ground cranberries, orange and sugar. Let mixture sit overnight. Microwave water 2 minutes on 100% power and add gelatin, stirring to dissolve. When mixture starts to jell, add remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly. Pour into an oiled mold. Refrigerate until set. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

CRANBERRY CHUTNEY

A chutney is a mixture of fruit and nuts. This one has lots of flavor and looks pretty on the table.

1 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon allspice
1 pound fresh or frozen cranberries
1 medium apple, cored and chopped
1/4 cup chopped walnuts or pecans

Combine sugar, spices and apple juice in a 2-quart batter bowl. Stir to blend. Add cranberries and apple. Cover. Microwave on 100% power 8-10 minutes or until the skins of berries just begin to split and the liquid slightly thickens. Stir in the nuts. Pour into serving container and let cool.

Prevent Fires During Holidays

Holiday trees, festooned with lights and fancy ornaments, are symbols of joy and celebration. But every holiday season, accidental fires involving indoor tree displays spell tragedy for too many families.

The key to preventing tree fires and other holiday mishaps is common sense and advance preparation, according to home safety specialists at the National Safety Council in Chicago.

The safety experts offer these guidelines for the upcoming season:

TREE SELECTION

Since most trees remain on display for at least a few days, make sure the tree you choose is as fresh as possible at the time of purchase.

Start with your sense of smell. The stronger the evergreen scent, the fresher the tree.

Next, give the tree a bend test. The tips of fresh trees bend easily but tend to snap and break in older, drier trees.

If the tree passes the bend and sniff tests, put it through the bounce routine. Bounce the trunk end on the ground a few times. If the tree rains needles, it's too dry, so look for another. If just a few needles fall, head for the cash register.

Artificial trees, a popular alternative to the real thing, may be combustible. Buy only a tree that is tagged fire-resistant. If the tree has a built-in electrical system, make sure it carries the UL marker.

TREE CARE

When you get the tree home, lop off one to two inches from the original cut, sawing at an angle rather than straight across. Stand the tree in a container of water mixed with dirt or sand as soon as possible, and be sure to add water daily. It's a good idea to make one person in the household responsible for the daily water check.

Place the tree in a shady part of the room (sunlight will dry it out) and away from heat sources (registers, radiators and fireplaces). Position the tree at a distance from foot traffic and close enough to an electric outlet to eliminate the need for extension cords.

When handling the tree, keep your face away from its branches.

50th Anniversary

The Westfalls Honored With Surprise Cruise

Helen and Keith Westfall Sr., 1351 Mellonville Ave., Sanford, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Nov. 11. They were married on that date in 1936 in Sodus, N.Y., and moved to Sanford Dec. 1, 1936.

Westfall said he has lived in Sanford since he was "two or three years old" and met his wife while he was in the produce business in New York.

He recalls being brought up in Sanford and attending local schools. Westfall was self-employed in his teen-age years as a carrier for The Sanford Herald. "I delivered the paper when it was a nickel apiece and fifteen cents a week," he said. Westfall remembers The Herald publishing an "Extra" when Lindbergh flew across the Atlantic.

He spent most of his life in produce and since retirement, he likes to fish and hunt.

Mrs. Westfall has always been a homemaker whose special interests include ceramics, crafts and sewing.

The couple are the parents of four children: Mrs. Curtis (Betty) Parker, Deltona; Keith Westfall Jr., Altamonte Springs; Mrs. John (Kathy) Smith, Waynesboro, Va.; and Mrs. Danny (Deborah) Byrd, DeBary. There are nine grandchildren and one great grandchild.

For their anniversary, the Westfalls are guests of honor at a dinner on the town given by their children.

Joining the celebration was Mrs. Henrietta Zorn, Westfall's sister, from Sanford.

The children also presented their parents with a surprise cruise for their golden wedding anniversary.

Finding Source Of Weakness Important

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — My husband is 87 and had polio as a child. He's been very active, but now both legs have gotten so weak that he has to use a walker. He also has a tremor in his hands, is sometimes mentally confused and doesn't always grasp what I say. Is this post-polio syndrome or is it due to the Cogentin his doctor recently prescribed?

The disease is characterized by a lump (or lumps) of cellular jelly, made up of a class of cells that act as scavengers in the body. The lumps tend to occur in bones of the skull, ribs or thighs, and sometimes in the soft tissue of the lungs. As the lumps grow, they damage surrounding organs.

removed. If there are multiple areas affected, medicine, radiation or chemotherapy will kill the islands of cells. The disease can undergo spontaneous cure; that is, it can heal by itself. However, medical or surgical treatment may be necessary.

DEAR READER — That's hard to say. Cogentin could cause weakness and confusion, so maybe your husband's doctor would consider reducing the dose or stopping the drug.

On the other hand, post-polio syndrome is a likely cause of your husband's weakness. As people grow older, they become weaker. This happens to everybody. Polio victims already have a degree of weakness; therefore, as they age and become weaker, the weakness may become more pronounced, out of proportion to the usual weakening of the elderly. Despite his age, your husband might benefit from a program of rehabilitation and physical therapy. Ask his doctor about this.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What causes long, stretchy strings in the stool? Should anything be done about it?

DEAR READER — Long, stretchy things in the stool usually are seen in people who eat long, stretchy things. In particular, vegetable fiber can pass undigested through the intestine. Mucus threads can look this way, too; so can some forms of intestinal parasites, like worms. The mystery can be solved by a stool analysis, ordered by a doctor and performed in any qualified laboratory.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What is eosinophilic granuloma and what are the chances of it recurring?

DEAR READER — Eosinophilic granuloma is now classified as Langerhan's cell granulomatosis, a benign disease that tends to affect males in childhood or early adulthood.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

South got to a slam after North had used Jacoby two no-trump as a forcing major-suit raise. Although a different lead from West could have beaten the slam, declarer's play is still note-worthy.

South's three-club bid showed a singleton, and North-South cue-bid their way to slam. Of course South should have passed four hearts, but he pushed to a thin slam by cue-bidding the spade king.

West led the club ace and then switched to the diamond 10. Declarer knew that West would not lead away from the diamond king, so he played low from dummy and won the ace. He then played a heart to dummy's jack and ruffed a club low. After a spade to dummy's queen, another club ruffed low, a spade to dummy's ace and the last club ruffed with his heart ace, declarer played a low heart to dummy's queen. Now the heart king picked up West's remaining trump as South shed a diamond. Then dummy's last trump tightened the noose around East's neck. Declarer discarded his last diamond and poor East had to release the diamond king or unguard the spade suit. Either way, the slam made.

Although I dislike admitting it, the bidding should have prompted West to lead the diamond 10 at trick one. Now declarer cannot trump out dummy's clubs without first allowing East to take the setting diamond trick. Why not take the club ace right away? When West knows that South holds a singleton, he should wait, since he may be either setting up the club king, if dummy has that card, or giving the declarer time to ruff some clubs.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY
NOVEMBER 13, 1986

Your desires for accumulating worldly goods will be heightened in the year ahead. The techniques you'll use will appear strange to others, but they'll make sense to you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You have several opportunities hovering about you today, and each one could spell personal gain. You'll recognize them for what they are. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Matchmaker set can help you understand what it might take to make the relationship work. Mail #2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You have made a favorable impression on someone influential you've recently met. Don't be surprised if you hear from this person today, with a request for a get-together.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) This is one of those delightful days where you should be lucky in love as well as in money matters. Make the most of each.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't be intimidated by challenges today. Instead, beard the lion in his den. Beneath his ferocious veneer, he's just a pussycat.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your financial prospects are inordinately bright today, but in ways that might not be obvious. Be alert for unique windfalls.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You could be quite fortunate in a joint venture today, provided the person with whom you are associated is as ambitious and clever as you are.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It's nice to have good friends. Today, two pals will be working behind the scenes for you to cover bases you've neglected to touch.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) This can be a fun and exciting day for you if you associate yourself with active companions. Select pals who aren't restrained by schedules.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're going to get an unexpected boost today from a co-worker who admires your spirit and boldness in striving for a worthy goal.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) The most constructive ideas you get today will not be for yourself, but for those you love. Take active measures to put the wheels in motion.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Commercial dealings you have today are not likely to be conducted along normal lines. However, when the arrangements are tied down, they'll result in something profitable.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You have a winning combination going for you today: boldness and brilliance. You'll use both of these ingredients to achieve success.

Food Pendulum Swings Back To Basic America

The food pendulum in the last five years has swung between many ethnic cuisines — French nouvelle, Oriental, Hispanic and Italian, for example. Now it's home, and basic American dishes are in style. For today's generation, this could mean preparing dishes that are completely new to them.

What is more American than a pot pie served with a mulled toddy? Here is a simple recipe for use with your leftover holiday turkey, chicken or beef.

MULLED TODDY
 3 cups vegetable cocktail juice
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 1 orange slice, cut in half
 In a 1-quart saucepan, combine all ingredients. Simmer over medium heat a few minutes to blend flavors, stirring occasionally. Ladle into mugs. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 3 cups or 4 servings.

ORANGINA
 1 1/3 cup plus 3 Tbsp Orangina
 1 1/2 tsp unflavored gelatin
 Grated zest of 1/2 orange or 1 tangerine
 3 large eggs
 1/3 cup sugar
 1 cup heavy cream
 Make a collar of wax paper around the top of a 3-cup mold. Set the mold aside.

In a heavy-bottomed saucepan, bring 1 1/3 cups of Orangina to a boil and reduce by half, to 2/3 cup. This should take about 6 minutes. Pour into a bowl to cool.
 Dissolve the gelatin in the remaining Orangina. Place the liquid in a bowl, then place the bowl in a shallow pan of hot water and cook over low heat until the gelatin is dissolved, about 3 minutes. Combine the reduced Orangina, gelatin mixture and zest (rind).
 Beat the eggs with the sugar in an electric mixer until thick and pale in color. Slowly add the gelatin mixture to the egg mixture, whisking constantly.

Place the bowl with the mixture into a larger bowl containing water and ice. Whisk frequently until the gelatin mixture begins to mound. In a separate container, whisk the heavy cream until soft peaks form.
 Fold the cream into the gelatin mixture and pour into the prepared mold. Refrigerate until set, 4 hours or preferably overnight. To serve, remove the collar (mousse will look like a risen soufflé) and garnish, if you wish, with rosettes of whipped cream and orange fruit slices.

CHUNKY SPLIT-PEA AND VEGETABLE SOUP
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 1 cup shredded lettuce
 1 medium clove garlic, minced
 1/2 teaspoon dried thyme,
 crushed
 1 can (19 ounces) split pea and ham soup
 1/2 cup cooked turnip cut into strips

MICROWAVE METHOD: In a 1 1/2-quart casserole dish, combine butter, lettuce, garlic and thyme. Cover. Microwave on High for 3 minutes.

Add soup and turnip. Cover. Microwave on High for 5 minutes or until hot. Stir once during heating. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 2 1/2 cups or 2 servings.

CONVENTIONAL METHOD: In a 2-quart saucepan over medium heat, cook lettuce with garlic and thyme in hot butter for 2 minutes, stirring often.
 Add soup and turnip. Heat to boiling. Reduce heat to low. Cover; simmer 5 minutes, stirring occasionally.

VEGETABLE-TURKEY POT PIE
 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 1/2 teaspoon dried marjoram leaves
 1 can (19 ounces) vegetable soup
 1 can (10 3/4 ounces) condensed cream of potato soup
 3 cups cubed turkey, chicken or beef
 1/3 cup cooked spinach or greens
 1/2 teaspoon pepper

Pastry for 1-crust pie
 In a 2-quart saucepan over medium heat, cook onion with marjoram in hot butter until tender. Add soups, turkey, spinach and pepper. Heat through.

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. On floured surface, roll pastry 1 inch larger all around than 1 1/2-quart casserole dish and cut into strips of equal width.
 Pour the soup mixture into casserole dish. Crisscross pastry strips over filling to form a lattice top. Fasten ends to edge of casserole. Crimp edge. Bake 25 minutes or until crust is golden brown. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings; 380 calories per serving; 1031 mg. of sodium per serving.

HAM-AND-CHEESE SANDWICHES REUBEN-STYLE
 8 slices rye bread
 Thousand Island dressing
 1 1/2 cups well drained sauerkraut
 1 tablespoon chopped pimento
 1 tablespoon chopped scallions
 4 slices boiled ham
 4 slices American cheese
 Spread bread with dressing. Toss kraut with pimento and scallions. Place ham on 4 bread slices; top with kraut mixture and cheese slices. Top with remaining bread. Broil 3 inches from heat source about 5 minutes or until cheese melts. Turn sandwiches once. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings.

Holiday Fare

Have Your Cake And Eat It, Too, Guilt Free

It's a well-known fact that the sweet tooth often wins out over rational dietary promises. But this Holiday, you can have your cake and be guilt free and sugar free too!

A few simple recipe changes — replacing empty calorie sweets with low-calorie sugar replacement — is the solution. Since it's a spoon for spoon, cup for cup replacement for sugar and since you can bake with it, (Equal cannot be used in baking since the protein bond that makes the product sweet breaks down when heated) SugarTwin can make traditional favorites sugar-free. For every cup of sugar replaced you save 896 calories.

Fruit is always a healthy dessert and is naturally low in calories. Dress it up for the Holidays with a tempting sugar-free glaze.

For a finale that takes only minutes to prepare before it's popped in the oven, but looks like you spent hours slaving away, try Baked Apple Eden. Serve in delicate bowls underlined with a festive gold doily. Sit back and enjoy the rave reviews. After all, look what apples did for Eve!

Baked goods made with love are always perfect Holiday gifts. Be doubly good to your family and friends this season with a sugar-free cookie sampler. Frosted Ginger Squares made with SugarTwin surrounded by sugar-free Chocolate Chip, Oatmeal Drops, and Peanut Butter Cookies arranged on a Holiday paper plate, covered with plastic wrap and all tied-up with a big red bow makes a great gift.

For more sugar-free goodie recipes write to: SugarTwin Goodie Book, 2525 Armitage Ave. Melrose Park, Ill. 60160. If you send a self-addressed, stamped envelope, before Dec. 5, you will get the recipes in 10 days. The Goodie Book has sugar-free recipes that are appropriate for year-round as well as Holiday sweets.

BAKED APPLE EDEN
 4-6 apples
 Butter or margarine
 Brown SugarTwin
 Red food coloring, if desired
 Preheat oven to 350°. Peel top 3/4 inch and core 4 to 6 apples. In each cavity place 2 teaspoons Brown SugarTwin. Dot each with butter or margarine.
 Place apples in pan containing at least 1/4 inch water. To water add 1 tablespoon Brown SugarTwin for each apple and 2 to 3 drops of red food coloring.
 Bake at 350° for 1 hour or until apples are tender, basting frequently. Sprinkle tops with Brown SugarTwin before serving, if desired. Makes 4 to 6 servings. 174 calories/serving.

FROSTED GINGER SQUARE
 Cookie layer:
 1/2 cup skim milk
 1/4 cup sugar ground ginger
 1/4 cup margarine
 1/4 cup SugarTwin
 1 teaspoon molasses
 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 2 eggs, slightly beaten
 1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 1 teaspoon cider vinegar
 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
Frosting
 1 package (3 ounces) low-calorie cream cheese
 1 teaspoon SugarTwin
 2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
 For cookie layer, mix milk and vinegar; set aside.
 Cream together in a small bowl: butter, SugarTwin, molasses and vanilla extract. Beat in eggs.
 Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda and spices. Alternately add dry ingredients with milk to creamed mixture, beating just until blended after each addition.
 Pour batter into greased 8-inch square pan; spread evenly. Bake at 350° for 40 to 45 minutes, or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 5 minutes in pan; remove and cool on rack.
 Frosting: soften cream cheese in saucepan over low heat. Stir in SugarTwin and lemon peel. Spread over cooled cookie layer. Cut into squares. Makes 16 squares. 77 calories per square.

Unique Russian Tea Room Home To Artists For Nearly 60 Years

By John DeMers
UPI Food Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — When Faith Stewart-Gordon left Spartanburg, S.C., for the theaters of New York and the sound stages of Hollywood, she had every intention of seeing her name in lights.
 Despite early success, however, she watched her life's medium evolve along the way from show business itself to one of the world's most famous show business restaurants, The Russian Tea Room.
 As the eatery prepares to celebrate its 60th anniversary — a tribute to its owner's perseverance — Stewart-Gordon cites the uniqueness of it all as the reason today's celebrities come back with the same enthusiasm as their predecessors from the Russian opera, theater and ballet.
 "There aren't too many Russian restaurants around, not to mention European cafes with Russian cuisine," she observed. "Yet under it all, this place represents New York City — a confluence of personalities."
 "There's always been that feeling here of having to do with the arts, and it has always been a sort of home to artists."
 After its founding as a hangout for refugees from the Soviet Revolution, The Russian Tea Room attracted the best musicians, dancers and actors to find their way from St. Petersburg and Moscow — opera stars like Chaliapin and ballet legends like Mordkin, Lifar and Fokine.

 For their part, these stars introduced other non-Russian celebrities to the Tea Room, and they in turn spread its fame as close as New York's Publishers Row and as far away as Beverly Hills.
 Those in possession of fame and fortune were followed to the place by those aspiring to or giving the impression of same, making for a colorful mix that mirrored at any given moment the meeting of many lives.
 "Some come to create the atmosphere and others come to absorb it," said Stewart-Gordon, who met her first husband, Sidney Kaye (nee Kalmanovitch) at the restaurant he owned and took over running it after his death.
 "The older people come and say, 'Oh the restaurant has never changed' and I never know whether to laugh or cry because we've made so many changes. Yet I guess we always took the long view, that we wanted to maintain the basic image that we have."
 Maintaining the image meant plenty of hard work and more than a few hard times after Kaye died in 1967, as Stewart-Gordon struggled to pay off outside investors, lay a long-term mortgage to rest and then concentrate on the kind of theater that kept theatrical people standing in line.
 The owner, now married to James Stewart-Gordon, says recent years have been a little easier. Skyscrapers have been going up on any side not previously claimed by Carnegie Hall, and even that grand old landmark has undergone an overdue renovation of fate.

 Happily, the scaffolding that framed every element of the Tea Room's exterior for what seemed an eternity is about to come down.
 With a festive 60th anniversary in the planning stages, Stewart-Gordon is looking forward to concentrating again on 1,000 to 1,400 meals a day, all put together by a staff of 150 from 22 countries and speaking 44 languages.
 And for the first time in recent memory, the Tea Room's four-man force of brass polishers won't have to climb through construction debris to shine up the lovely, ornate Russian samovars.
 "In Europe we always thought of us as American," said Stewart-Gordon, owner of the world's best-known Russian restaurant. "But in America we always think of ourselves as New York. Where else could something like this happen, an oddball combination like this?"
 Here is The Russian Tea Room's dramatic alternative to shish kebabs, a wonderful presentation of marinated lamb fillet, loin and kidney grilled on skewers.
KARSKY SHASHLIK
 Marinade:
 1 cup salad oil
 1/2 cup fresh lemon juice
 1 tsp salt

1 tsp freshly ground pepper
 2 garlic cloves, crushed
 2 large bay leaves
 1 1/2 tsp dried dill or 2 Tbsp chopped fresh dillweed
 4 pieces loin of lamb, trimmed of all fat and gristle
 4 pieces fillet of lamb, trimmed of all fat and gristle
 2 lamb kidneys, cut into halves and trimmed
 Combine all the marinade ingredients in a large bowl (do not use aluminum) and mix thoroughly. Make a small incision on both sides of each loin and fillet piece to prevent puckering during cooking. Add the lamb (but not the kidneys) to the marinade and toss with a wooden spoon to coat evenly.
 Cover and refrigerate for three hours, or overnight, turning two or three times. Drain and reserve marinade. On each of four 16-inch skewers, thread one piece of loin, one of fillet and 1/2 kidney.
 Arrange on a large broiling rack. Brush with reserved marinade and broil about four inches from the heat as follows: 10-12 minutes for rare, 15-20 minutes for medium, 20-25 minutes for well done.
 Turn skewers frequently to allow shashlik to cook evenly and brush frequently with the reserved marinade. Serve with cooked red cabbage and rice pilaf. Serves 4.
