Apopka Trio Jailed In Kidnap; Victim Critical

From Staff And Wire Reports

A New York woman, abducted in Apopka, was in critical condition today while three Orange County men charged with shooting, raping and leaving her for dead are in jail.

The woman and her brother were kidnapped when they stopped to make a call at a laundromat Wednesday evening. The brother was also shot, but not critically injured.

The 21-year-old woman was listed in critical condition with guarded improvement in Florida Hospital-Orlando. She was shot once in the mouth and the bullet lodged in her chest.

Investigators said the New Yorkers were shot at different times and left to die in different orange groves in Apopka. However, both fled to safety and alerted authorities.

The man was treated and released. A bullet grazed his neck.

"We were lucky nobody was killed," said Apopka Police Chief Tom Collins of the Wednesday night incident.

The three suspects were arrested in Orange County after they were spotted driving the victims' car.

Eddie Fencher, 22, Michael Bryant, 22, and Willie McCarthy, 18, all of Apopka, were being held in the Orange County jail without bond.

They were charged with attempted murder, involuntary sexual battery, armed robbery, commission of a felony with a firearm and grand theft. Charges of false imprisonment are also expected to be filed.

All three suspects have prior felony arrests, said Collins.

"Basically, I think they did it for money," Collins said of the Wednesday night attack.

The brother, 28, and his sister, 21, whose names were not released, live in Angola, N.Y., and were traveling in central Florida to locate the brother's son regarding custody matters.

An Orange County sheriff's spokeswoman said the woman was making a call from a pay telephone next to a laundromat in Apopka when she was approached and abducted by three armed men.

The men took her back to her car, robbed more than $100 from the victims, forced the brother into the trunk and drove to a wooded area. The brother then was taken out of the trunk, told to lie face-down on the ground and shot in the neck with a handgun.

Investigators said while the bullet only grazed the man's neck he remained still and the gunmen drove off with the sister.

They drove to another wooded area, where the woman was raped several times, said sheriff's spokesman Joyce Drazen.

The gunmen then shot the woman in the mouth, dumped her onto the side of a road and drove off. The woman made her way to a nearby farm house and called authorities.

The gunshot broke the woman's jaw, damaged several teeth and a bullet fragment lodged in her chest. The bullet has been recovered.

Longwood Family Gets Rabies Shots

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

In the first confirmed case of rabies in Florida this year involving a domestic animal, several persons exposed to a rabid kitten from The Springs residential area near Longwood were scheduled to receive rabies shots today.

Dr. Jorge Deju, Seminole County director of Health and Human Services, said the shots would be administered at 2 p.m. at the Longwood Health Clinic.

The 4-month-old kitten became ill on Nov. 21 and after it died Wednesday its brain was sent to the state Health and Rehabilitative Services lab for analysis. It was learned Thursday that the tests proved positive and Deju sent to Jacksonville for the vaccine which was scheduled to arrive here this morning.

Deju said those exposed include the owner, Ruth Ann Nazareth and her three children (two toddlers and a teenager), two children who sometimes spend a few minutes in the house while waiting for a ride to school, two neighbors who handled the kitten after it was attacked by a wild raccoon on Sept. 29, and employees of a Casselberry veterinary clinic who handled the sick kitten.

He said employees of an emergency animal clinic in Winter Park where the kitten was taken after it was attacked fall under the auspices of the Orange County Health Department. There may be as many as 25-29 persons involved in the two counties from the one case, he said.

Deju said the rabies shots are voluntary, but strongly recommended them. The treatment requires five muscular injections (as compared to the 21-23 injections required in the

Retail Sales Not Very Merry

By United Press International

The nation's retailers have reported lackluster November sales as consumers postponed Christmas shopping until the last minute in face of unseasonably warm weather and the slowing economy.

"Consumers are buying closer to their needs, which is why we believe the Christmas sales season will come later this year ... after Dec. 1," Monroe Greenstein, analyst at Bear Stearns & Co., said Thursday.

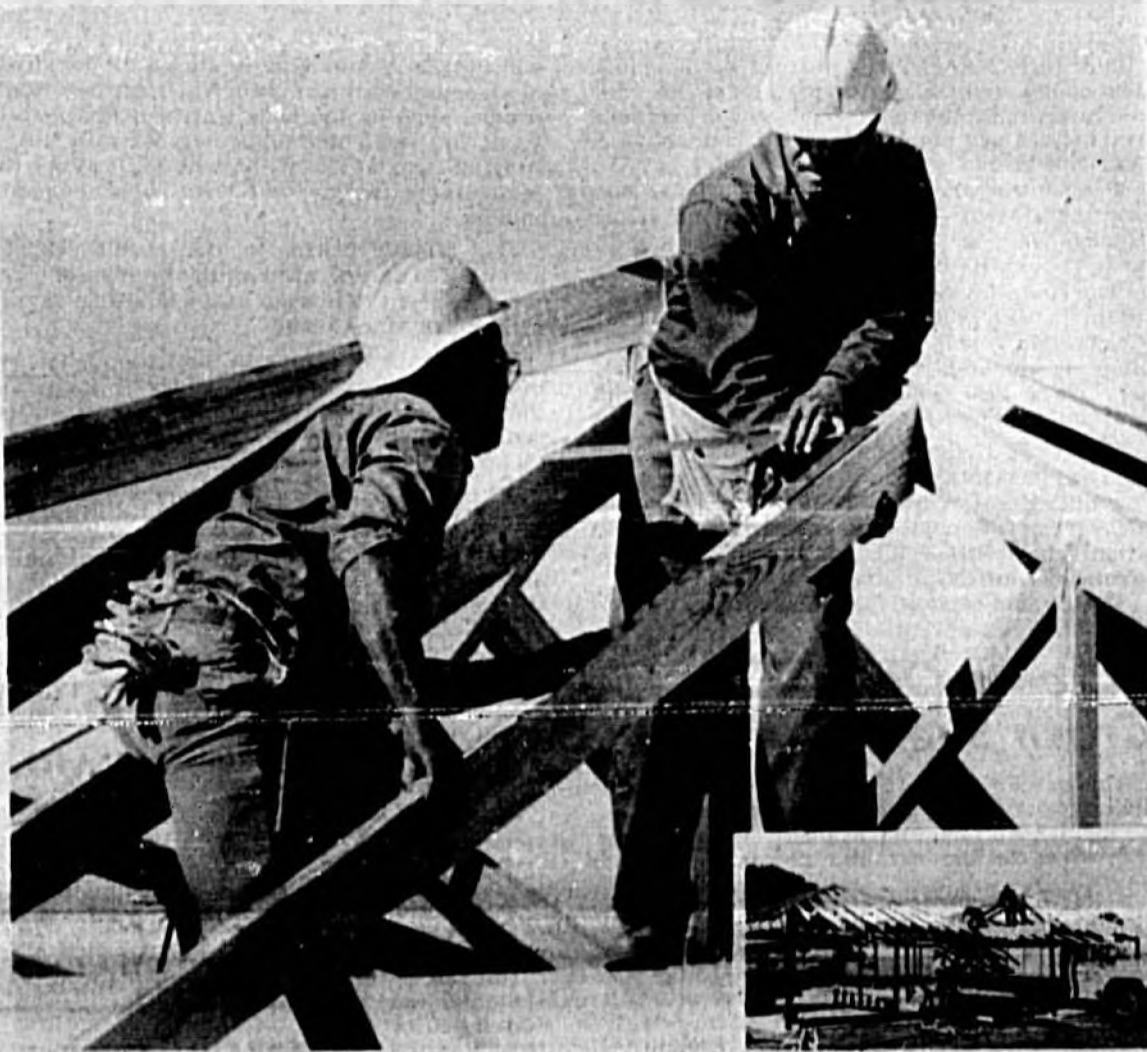

Analysts have predicted that retailers would have an 8 to 10 percent gain in December sales.

"The weak November sales would have been a lot worse if it had not been for a pickup late in the month when stores resorted to very aggressive promotional activity," said Jeffrey Edelman, analyst at Dean Witter Reynolds Inc. "Sales early in the month were impacted to some degree by the warm weather."

Sears, Roebuck and Co., the nation's largest retailer based in Chicago, reported its sales for the four weeks ended Nov. 24 rose 3.1 percent to $2.08 billion from $2.01 billion in the same period last year.

Hold Spending To '85 Levels, Reagan's Tentative Decision

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan has tentatively decided on a 1986 budget that holds total government spending to 1985 levels as part of his plan to reduce the federal deficit to $100 billion by the end of his second term, officials said.

The budget for fiscal year 1986, which began Oct. 1, is more than $900 billion. Reagan's advisers have warned him that unless cuts are made, the fiscal 1986 budget could top $1 trillion for the first time.

Reagan scrapped a scheduled Cabinet meeting today to discuss the plan in more detail with his so-called budget working group, which spent Wednesday and Thursday showing Reagan where cuts will have to be made to reduce the swelling federal deficit without raising taxes.

The decision to hold the 1986 budget to current levels does not mean that spending for government programs will be frozen across the board, a White House official said. Instead, Reagan will seek to reduce or eliminate some programs so spending in other areas, like defense, can increase at least slightly.

'...we're not talking about 5 percent off this or 6 percent off that. We're talking about eliminating programs.'

However, Republican congressional leaders warned Reagan and a balking Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger Thursday that any plan that slashes such politically sensitive areas as Medicare, Civil Service and veterans' benefits must be accompanied by scaled-back military spending to stand a chance of passage on Capitol Hill.

House GOP leader Robert Michel of Illinois said the meeting was marked by a "rather heated discussion" on defense between him and Weinberger over the need to scale back growth in the Pentagon budget.

But deputy press secretary Larry Speakes said Reagan has made it clear he does not want any cuts that might weaken the U.S. stance at arms talks in Geneva, Switzerland, in January between Secretary of State George Shultz and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Cuts recommended to Reagan included 15 to 20 programs, including farm supports, mass transit assistance, the Small Business Administration and the Lake Mary Boulevard:

Four Lanes By 1986, Sturm Says

By Rick Brunson
Herald Staff Writer

Lake Mary Boulevard, swiftly becoming one of the most-traveled roads in Seminole County, will be four-laned between Markham Woods and Rinehart roads by 1986, according to Seminole County Commissioner Bob Sturm.

Sturm said enough funds should be raised from gas taxes, Sanford and Lake Mary city taxes and contributions from developers with properties along the highway, to pay for an engineering study and widening of the highway in two years.

Sturm made the comment during a meeting of the Lake Mary Boulevard Citizen Advisory Committee. The committee was updating a study it made in 1982 calling for the widening of the boulevard from U.S. Highway 17-92 to Markham Woods Road.

The widening is needed because of traffic congestion in the rapidly-growing area. The road could be handling 55,000 cars a day by the year 2005, according to a study cited by Larry Sellars, county public works director.

Committee chairman David Farr said a proposed interchange at Lake Mary Boulevard and Interstate-4 is on schedule while the widening of the main road is two years behind. The interchange — a $14 million cloverleaf — is to be constructed in 1989.

The widening project has been slowed because $200,000 was needed to pay for a mandatory center-line engineering study.

"There is a possibility that the improvements to the interchange could be complete and we'll not have done a dad-burn thing about Lake Mary Boulevard," Farr said.

Sturm disagreed, saying the county commission is ready to collect the funds and get the project going.

"Within two years we will have four lanes between Rinehart Road and Markham Woods Road," Sturm said.

Meanwhile, Seminole County Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff said the highway should not just be widened. It should be extended east, he said, past U.S. Highway 17-92 and Sanford Avenue, all the way to the beaches of Volusia County. That, he said, would convince the Florida Department of Transportation that the highway was a state road and it should help foot the bill.

In a move that direction, he said the commission has already upgraded the boulevard's status by naming it county Road 415.

In addition to being held up by funding problems, the project has another obstacle — disagreement over how property along the boulevard should be zoned.

Some parcels along the road have been designated urban, with narrow rights-of-way, while others have been designated rural, with wider ones. The committee also recommended in the study that the land generally be zoned for commercial, professional and office use.

Lake Mary developer Larry Dale said these recommendations have not been followed and cited the construction of Groveview Village — a Sanford housing development along the boulevard — as an example.

Farr said a committee was needed to handle zoning disputes and make sure the recommendations of the study were followed. He dusted off the Lake Mary Boulevard Technical Advisory Committee and placed it under the supervision of Sellars

Inmate Stores Drugs, Then Overdoses

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

Squirreling away prescription drugs for three weeks, then overdosing on them bought a Seminole County jail inmate postponement of his sentencing for escape. It also cost him two days in the hospital.

Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. delayed the sentencing of Robert N. Montigny Jr., 28, of Pennsylvania, until Feb. 20. Montigny pleaded guilty to the charge Sept. 21. The postponement came Wednesday after Montigny was transported to the courtroom from Central Florida Regional Hospital where he was treated for overdosing on Adapin, a mild sedative. He was admitted at 5:50 a.m. Monday and released at 8:55 a.m. Wednesday.

Montigny's public defender, Gary Anderson, asked for the delay to permit a psychiatric evaluation of Montigny since his overdose was apparently deliberate.

According to sheriff's spokesman John Spolski, Montigny, who faces a 15-year sentence for escape, was prescribed the sedative three weeks ago after he became distraught over family matters. The prescription was issued by the jail physician, Spolski said.

Apparently instead of swallowing the sedative, Montigny "mouthed" the drug and saved the doses. He was receiving mild dosages during the day and stronger ones at night, Spolski said.

Montigny apparently was able to fake the swallowing of the drug because substitute personnel were dispensing the sedative rather than the usual jail nurse who was on vacation, Spolski said.

Montigny is now in the county jail under a suicide watch and will receive close supervision until a psychiatric evaluation, Spolski said.

Montigny was serving 5 years for burglaries in Orange County when he escaped from a prison road crew in Oviedo in 1979.

According to court records, Montigny, of Wilkes Barre, Penn., left a Department of Transportation work crew to go to the bathroom and did not return.

Montigny was extradited to Florida in August from Pennsylvania where he serving time in a state prison on charges of unauthorized use of a vehicle and possession of a controlled substance.

Ruckelshaus Replacement Receives High Praise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Toxic waste expert Lee Thomas, who came in with William Ruckelshaus to help clean up the Environmental Protection Agency, says he is comfortable in taking over for his boss because, "I'm part of an administration team."

President Reagan named Thomas to the job Thursday, just one day after Ruckelshaus announced his resignation. Ruckelshaus, who personally favored Thomas as his replacement, praised his toxic waste chief as one of the best government managers he has ever known.

Environmentalists also praised Thomas, but said they still doubted the administration's commitment to serious protection of the environment.

Thomas, 40, the head of the EPA's toxic waste unit, met with Reagan three hours before the nomination was announced and said he is convinced the president is committed to protecting the environment.

Hijacker Ends 4-Hour Standoff

ATLANTA (UPI) — Judson Dean Talley, an ex-Marine with a drinking problem, hijacked a commuter plane and held the pilot hostage for four hours at Hartsfield International Airport before being talked into surrendering by his girlfriend's aunt.

No one was injured during the tense drama Thursday and FBI agents said Talley, who had threatened to blow up the Eastern Metro Express commuter plane, had no explosives or weapons.

Talley, 20, who had been a patient in an alcohol and drug abuse unit at the Georgia Regional Hospital in Augusta until Wednesday, was charged with air piracy and faced an arraignment today before a U.S. Magistrate.

Ten other passengers aboard flight 1962 from Augusta to Atlanta left the plane shortly after it landed on schedule at 11:44 a.m.

'Scouts Not In Danger'

FORT A.P. HILL, Va. (UPI) — Health officials say initial tests give no cause to suspect 32,000 Boy Scouts were exposed to dangerous levels of dioxin during a 1981 National Jamboree.

Initial tests of the area by the Army and Environmental Protection Agency showed dioxin concentrations exceeding the 1 part per billion considered hazardous by national Center for Disease Control in Atlanta.

But Charles Walters of the CDC said Thursday the Scouts weren't exposed long enough to cause harm.

The CDC sent a letter to parents saying the Scouts would have to be exposed to 1 ppb for 70 years to be in any danger.

The 1985 National Jamboree is also scheduled for the sprawling Army base 80 miles south of Washington that is used for artillery research and National Guard exercises. But Scout officials will wait for the results of the new tests before deciding whether to move the Jamboree.

Country Fair And Concert To Benefit Autistic School

The work of many Seminole County artists will be featured Sunday at the Country Antique Fair in Orlando. The event will be held from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Lake Pineloch Village, 1200 E. Michigan Ave.

On display and for sale will be a wide variety of handmade crafts, collectibles and antiques.

At 5:30 p.m., there will be a lakeside concert with country singers Eddy Raven and Stella Parton. Raven is a native Or-landoan who currently has a hit song on the charts. Ms. Parton comes from a long line of country crooners — her sister is Dolly Parton.

Admission to the fair only is $2.50 for adults. Children 12 and under accompanied by an adult get in free. Admission for the fair and concert is $10.

All proceeds will go to the Threshold School for Autistic Children in Goldenrod. Tickets are available at Select-A-Seat outlets.

More Citrus Canker Found, This Time In Mature Trees

AVON PARK, Fla. (UPI) — Citrus nurserymen waited nervously for state pathologists to announce how they would battle the latest outbreak of canker, discovered at a grove that provided bud grafts to several nurseries.

Laboratory testes confirmed that canker bacteria was present at more than 100 budwood trees in an Avon Park grove adjacent to the nursery where the plant-destroying disease was first diagnosed in August.

The discovery, made Wednesday at Scion Grove 608, is the first to involve mature trees and marks the first time in weeks that Florida inspectors have uncovered new evidence of canker.

A decision on how to tackle the problem was expected to be announced late today by a team of pathologists. Canker has no known cure and burning or defoliation are the only known forms of eradication.

Eradication procedures probably will affect at least eight nurserymen who have bought budwood grafts from the grove since September 1983, said Anita McGrady, a spokeswoman for the state Division of Plant Industry.

Roland Dille of Florida Citrus Nursery in Avon Park purchased 28,000 "budeyes" from Scion Grove 608 and faces the loss of thousands of trees.

Scion Grove 608 is owned by G. Franklyn Ward, who also owns Ward's Nursery where the canker was first discovered in August. The nursery's entire stock was burned and Scion Grove 608 was placed under quarantine.

Since then, a total of eight nurseries and more than 6 million infected or exposed seedlings have been destroyed throughout the state.

McGrady said no lesions had been found on trees at the grove, but laboratory tests confirmed the presence of canker bacterium.

The latest canker discovery came the same day state Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner announced a quarantine on some nurseries would be relaxed.

All nurseries within Florida have been prohibited from selling trees to commercial groves since the canker outbreak.

Conner's actions will allow shipments from nurseries that have been cleared by three inspections in the last 90 days and did not purchase stock from any infected nursery after Sept. 1, 1983.

The move is expected to help growers in the northern part of the state who lost millions of mature trees in last year's Christmas freeze.

Reagan To Be Sworn In Twice

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Instead of the mink limousines and black-tie parties of his first swearing-in, President Reagan's second inaugural ceremonies will emphasize youth, free activities and patriotism.

Reagan will take the oath of office twice to start his second term — privately in the White House Sunday Jan. 20 and publicly on the Capitol steps the next day.

The four-day extravaganza, tied with the theme, "We The People ... An American Celebration," will open with fireworks Friday Jan. 18, and end with nine inaugural balls Jan. 21. There also will be a "young Americans pageant" at the Jefferson Memorial.

The 1981 Hollywood-style inaugural celebration included $500-a-plate candlelight suppers.

White House deputy chief of staff Michael Deaver and Ronald Walker, the inauguration chairmen, released the schedule for the long weekend Thursday.

Deaver said between 50,000 and 80,000 people will flock to Washington to attend the hundreds of inaugural events, most of which are free. Some events, such as the balls with a ticket price of $125 and two entertainment galas with tickets ranging from $75 to $200, will help pay for the inauguration, which has a price tag of about $12 million.

The 50,000 tickets to the events will be allocated to states based on the number of votes they delivered to Reagan in his landslide victory of 49 states, officials said.

For only the 11th time in the nation's history, Inauguration Day falls on Sunday — triggering the need for the double swearing-in, once on the constitutionally mandated day — Jan. 20 — and a second the next day in public.

It is not, officials insist, because the Super Bowl falls on Jan. 20 this year.

The last time Inauguration Day fell on a Sunday was in 1957, when Dwight Eisenhower followed a similar procedure.

Parents Of Girl Killed In Car Crash Sue Driver, Car Owner

The parents of a 15-year-old DeBary girl killed in a one-car accident have filed suit against the driver of the car and its owner.

Kenneth Crotty and Elaine Kobak, parents of Kimberley Lynne Crotty, filed suit Tuesday against Michael A. Behnke and Jeanene M. Behnke, of Sanford.

The suit is asking for an unspecified amount of damages in excess of $5,000. The case has been assigned to Seminole Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. No trial date has been set.

According to Florida Highway Patrol records, the Behnkes were southbound on U.S. Highway 17-92 in a 1976 Ford at an excessive rate of speed when Michael Behnke, 18, lost control of the vehicle and hit a power pole. The accident occurred at 10 p.m. on Sept. 23, just south of the Seminole-Volusia county line.

While Miss Crotty received fatal injuries in the crash, Behnke received head injuries and was released from Central Florida Regional Hospital after a few days of treatment.

Behnke has been charged by FHP with DUI manslaughter and driving with a suspended or revoked driver's license. Records show Behnke's blood alcohol level after the accident was 0.2 percent, twice the concentration needed to be considered driving under the influence, which is 0.1 percent.

In the suit, Miss Crotty's parents claim that Behnke negligently and carelessly operated the vehicle, causing the accident. They state he had the permission of Ms. Behnke to drive her vehicle.

Bionic Ear Now Reality

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The developer of the first U.S.-approved device to replace one of the five senses says "the barrier of deafness" has finally been smashed.

Dr. William House, head of the House Ear Institute in Los Angeles, said his electronic inner ear will help free many deaf people from a feeling "of being enclosed in a glass cage as the world passes silently by."

"Patients report the sound is like that of a radio not completely tuned in."

The Food and Drug Administration Thursday approved his cochlear implant, which enables the deaf to hear everyday sounds — car horns, door bells and even normal speech — although they will be somewhat muffled.

The sound is too crude to permit words to be understood but supplies important clues, such as rhythm and varying volume, that can enhance a deaf person's ability to read lips as well as to speak.

Federal approval means the device can be covered by private insurance companies as well as Medicare and Medicaid. The implant device costs about $5,000, with another $6,000 for surgery and therapy.

The device, designed for totally deaf adults who cannot benefit from a hearing aid, will be marketed by 3M Co. of St. Paul, Minn. The firm, in working with House since 1979, placed the product experimentally in more than 400 patients.

House said about 10 percent of the estimated 2 million Americans who do not have sufficient hearing to understand speech may be appropriate candidates for a cochlear implant.

Short Seminoles Will Be 'En Guard' Tonight

"En Guard." Seminole basketball coach Chris Marlette knows two things about his 1984-85 basketball team. It is short and loaded with guards.

"That's all we've got are guards," he said Friday morning. "We're really going to have to get after people if we're going to be any good."

Seminole will get after Titusville tonight as the first Seminole Sunrise Kiwanis Basketball Tournament opens at Seminole High School. The Tribe-Titusville match will follow the 6:30 p.m. Apopka-New Smyrna Beach opener. The winners meet for the title Saturday at 8:30 p.m. while the loser play a consolation game at 6:30 p.m.

Marlette's nucleus if formed by two seniors and a sophomore. James Rouse and Ken Gordon, two aggressive 6-2 seniors, are both zonebusters and fierce competitors. Rouse has played at the varsity level for three years and Gordon for two.

Seminole's best all-around player, though, may be sophomore Rod Henderson, who reminds one of a young Ronnie Murphy. Henderson, a smooth 6-3 guard-forward-center type, tore up the freshman and junior varsity levels last year.

After leading the frosh to a perfect season, Henderson moved up to the JV for the final few games of the year and averaged 22 points per game. He is an adept shoot blocker, good free throw shooter, sharp passer and strong rebounder.

"He's got it all," said Marlette about Henderson. "He's the best sophomore in the Five Star Conference and one of the best in the state."

Lake Howell coach Greg Robinson, who marveled at Henderson's play in last year's 15 and under AAU-Junior Olympic tournament, agreed. "Henderson has got the talent to be one of the best players to ever come out of this county," said Robinson. "They isn't anything he can't do with the basketball."

While those three are proven commodities, the success of the Tribe will probably depend on the performances of senior Rod Alexander and junior Alvin Jones.

Alexander, a brilliant student, would like to bring that same expertise to the hardwood. He will open at guard with Rouse and run the attack. Jones, who gave up a promising football career to concentrate on basketball, is a great leaper despite his 5-11 size. He wasn't counted on as an original starter but has impressed Marlette with his defense.

"Alvin has played so well, you can't keep him out," said Marlette. "About two weeks ago, he really came on. His defensive play has been excellent."

Backing up at guard are 5-7 Daryl Williams and 5-10 Mike Wright, another good football player who retired his cleats. Jo-Jo McCloud and Kevin Patrick will also play some guard while Leroy Richardson and Robert Hill provide depth at forward.

Titusville, meanwhile, was district champion last year but lost all of that team. "We're extremely young this year," said second-year coach Bill Johnson. "We lost six lettermen from last year's team and we have several key players still playing football."

Barry Clinger, a 6-5 senior, Scott Rota, a 6-1 junior, and Kevin Hawkins, a 6-2 senior, are the Terriers' mainstays.

In tonight's early game, New Smyrna Beach coach Roy Kidd makes his varsity debut after seven years as Barracuda junior varsity coach. "We have a tough schedule," said Kidd. "But we should be pretty good in our district."

Brian Spann, a 6-3 senior, and Chad Michaelson, a 6-2 junior, are the top returnees. Jeremiah McCray, a 6-2 sophomore, is the top newcomer. Senior Vince Thompson moved into the starting lineup at guard.

Earl Stokes, a former Seminole Community College performer, begins his second season as Apopka coach. Stokes is impressed with his team's attitude and said the progress is coming.

"We had so many that played football, it's been a slow start," he said. "We should come around about Christmas, though."

Kent Elmore, a 6-1 senior, is the Blue Darters' inside threat along with 6-2 junior Earl Clayton. Jeff Sims, a 6-3 junior, is the top newcomer.

Lady Raiders Host Tourney

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Seminole Community College's Lady Raiders will find out what the competition outside of the state is like tonight when they host the SCC Tournament. Action at the SCC Health Center starts at 8 with Panola, Texas squaring off against South Georgia and the Lady Raiders take on Brunswick, Ga., at 8.

The Lady Raiders have started the 1984-85 season in fine fashion with victories over Edison Community College and Indian River CC.

Freshman point guard Tammy Johnson, a Lake Howell High graduate, has had the hot hand for the Raiders in the early going of the season. She popped in 20 points against Edison in her college debut and came back to pour in 28 against Indian River.

Johnson is joined in the backcourt by sophomore Pam Lee who coach Ileana Gallagher said, "Hasn't come out of her shell yet, but should be ready to."

Kim Lemon, a Lyman High grad, scored 18 points against Edison and 11 against Indian River. The other forward for the Lady Raiders is sophomore Juana Coletti who has been a powerhouse inside in the first two games. Coletti is the team's leader in rebounds with 15 in the first game and 14 in the second. Coletti, out of Clearwater Central Catholic, has also scored in double figures in both games, with 15 against Edison and 11 against Indian River.

Vikki McMurrer, another Lyman High product, starts at center. McMurrer took the 1983-84 season off before returning for the '84-85 campaign. The 5-11 freshman has played well inside for the Raiders and has also displayed the fine outside shot that made her one of Seminole County's top players at Lyman High.

Bench strength for the Raiders is provided by freshmen Ann Hopson, Raysha Roberts (DeLand High), Elizabeth Dietrich (Lake Howell), Andrea Johnson (Lake Mary) and Leah McClure.

Last-Second Shot Stuns SCC, 55-54

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

The way things were going at the Seminole Community College Health Center Thursday night, the outcome of the game between SCC and Manatee's Lancers wasn't too surprising.

It started during the announcing of the starting lineups. First, Manatee's five were announced, but with just two SCC players announced, the microphone went on the fritz. Then, during halftime, the lights went out, leaving everyone in the dark for about 30 seconds.

But the mechanical failures at the Health Center didn't compare with SCC's fundamental flubs on the floor. Add to that the brutal physical play of the Lancers and you have a game that would have had James Naismith reaching for some aspirin.

The Raiders shot just 35 percent from the floor and missed a number of free throws and layups down the stretch which enabled Manatee to stay within striking distance.

Then, with just four seconds left, Manatee's Hubert Thomas turned the lights out on the Raiders for good as he swished in a jumper that gave the Lancers a 55-54 victory.

Fifth-ranked SCC fell to 5-3 with its second straight loss while Manatee, the ninth-ranked team in the JUCO poll, improved to 5-1. The Raiders return to action Saturday night as they travel to Tampa to take on Florida College.

It was the lowest scoring game of the season for the Raiders, who went in Thursday night averaging 90 points per game.

"We just couldn't put the ball in the basket," SCC coach Bill Payne said. "We didn't play very well in the clutch either. We missed too many layups and a lot of crucial free throws. You don't win when you don't get clutch performances."

SCC's starting five managed just nine points in the first eight minutes of play Thursday, but

Basketball

Manatee could only come up with 10 points. After Brent Baird, the Mid-Florida Conference's leading free throw shooter going into the game, missed a pair of free throws, Payne sent in a fresh five hoping to get something going.

Before the new five even broke a sweat, Thomas came up with a steal and bolted down court for a layup and a 12-9 Manatee lead with 9:47 left in the first half.

Sophomore guard Linny Grace's three-point play tied it at 12-12 and the Raiders hit five of six free throws in the next three minutes to take a 19-18 lead. Grace's layup off an assist by Rob Brantley gave the Raiders a 25-18 lead, but Thomas came back with a pair of jumpers to pull the Lancers within one, 23-22.

SCC came back with six straight points though to take a 29-22 halftime lead. Greg "Skywalker" Bates started off the scoring string with a jumper off Brantley's assist and Kenny Edwards sunk a pair of long range jumpers in to give SCC a seven-point halftime lead.

Manatee scored the first four points of the second half, the first two on Jeff Fulwood's jumper and the second two on a gorilla dunk by Fulwood. Manatee regained the lead, 32-31, with 16:35 left to play on a jumper by Thomas.

The teams traded baskets the next nine minutes until SCC built a six-point lead, 48-42, with 7:19 remaining as Willie Strother made one of two free throws.

Manatee came back with four straight points to pull within 48-48 and the Lancer reclaimed the lead, 51-50, with 3:40 left on Greg Freeman's three-point play.

SCC tied it at 51-51 on Strother's free throw and SCC had a chance to increase its lead when Bates went to the line for

Homecoming

Lyman-Bred Trio Returns With Oviedo

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Homecoming comes early for James Stewart, Mark Stewart and Allen Unroe tonight. All three played for the Lyman Greyhounds last year, so when the Oviedo Lions come to Longwood for tonight's 8 o'clock tip-off, it will feature more than your normal intercounty rivalry.

Unroe, a 6-3 junior at Oviedo, has taken more bounces than a basketball. He played his freshman season at Lake Brantley, moved to Lyman for half of his sophomore year and then moved to the Oviedo district last year at midseason.

The Stewart brothers lived in the Lyman district for their first two years but moved to Oviedo last year. They finished the season at Lyman, then started the school year at Oviedo this fall.

"(Lyman coach) Tom Lawrence did a good job with these guys," said Oviedo coach Dale Phillips. "Tell him, I appreciate it. I'm not putting it up in the locker room, 'Revenge on the Greyhounds,' but I am tickled to have them."

He should be. Unroe and Mark Stewart will each start tonight along with 6-3 sophomore Rob Hughes, 5-10 sophomore Cary Justice and 5-10 junior Bernell Simmons. "We were going to be a real young team anyway," said Phillips, who counts James Stewart as his only senior performer. "You never know about transfers, but I think we can be pretty tough."

Phillips said he will look for Unroe and Hughes to pick up the scoring slack of graduated Mike Schwab, who led the county in scoring last year by averaging over 20 points per game. "Unroe is a good shooter and Hughes came score inside and outside," said Phillips.

Hughes, son of Seminole County Superintendent of Schools Bob Hughes, was one of the top freshman in Central Florida last year. Phillips said he is counting on the sophomore to fill the rebounding void left by graduated Darrin Reichle.

James Stewart, a 6-5 senior, will be used as sixth man tonight, but Phillips said he will be starting half of the time.

Oviedo's depth comes from 6-0 sophomore Randy Ferguson and quick 5-8 junior Andrew Smith. Terry Campbell, another 6-0 sophomore, and Ronnie Ashe, a 5-6 junior, complete the roster.

"We'll be exciting," said Phillips. "But I don't know if we'll be excitingly good."

Lawrence, meanwhile, has a few pretty good players remaining. His starting lineup tonight features 6-4 Ralph Philpott at the pivot, 6-2 senior George Smith and 6-3 Brett Marshall at forwards along with 5-11 Reggie Douglas and 5-8 T.J. Scaletta at guards.

"Philpott is an excellent rebounder and his shooting has improved," said Lawrence. "Our guard play should be real good, too. Scaletta is a smart point player and shoots well. Douglas is fantastic at times."

Scaletta was one of the top sophomores in the area last year. When he was promoted to the varsity at the end of the season, he averaged 10 points per game. Douglas was also a

10-points-per-game scorer. Lawrence said he is unsure about his forwards. "Smith is a transfer from Texas and Marshall didn't get a lot of varsity playing time last year," he said. "I don't know if we'll be experienced enough, although most of them did play a lot last year."

Lawrence's depth comes from 6-3 Shawn Newton, 5-10 Robert Thomas, 5-8 David Burgess and 6-2 Tony Williams. All are juniors.

Lake Brantley, Hawks Meet In Tip-Off Finals

By Chris Fister

Five players scored in double figures Thursday night as Lake Brantley's Patriots rolled to a 98-48 thrashing of Eatonville Wymore Tech's Bobcats in the Patriot Tip-off Tournament at Lake Brantley High.

Lake Brantley will face Seminole County rival Lake Howell in the finals tonight at 8. The Silver Hawks advanced with a 57-49 victory over St. Cloud.

The Patriots ran off the first eight points of the game Thursday before Wymore Tech came out of its shell and back within four, 14-10. Lake Brantley took a five-point lead, 22-17, after the first quarter.

Lake Brantley then pulled away in the second quarter, outscoring the Bobcats, 28-12, to take a 48-27 lead at halftime.

"We put full court pressure on them (Wymore Tech) in the second quarter," Lake Brantley coach Bob Peterson said. "They really had a hard time with the pressure and we took over at that point."

Mike Moser led the Brantley scoring parade with a game-high 23 points. Greg Courtney, the Patriots' 6-8 senior center, toosed in 18 points and pulled down 10 rebounds. David Hardwick and Steve Wittig added 12 points each and Austin Hodges contributed 10 points and seven rebounds.

Basketball

Lake Howell had a much tougher time getting to the finals than the Patriots. The Silver Hawks led by as many as seven points in the second quarter, but St. Cloud came back to take the lead by one at halftime.

Lake Howell held on to a slim lead after the third quarter and throughout much of the fourth. But St. Cloud battled back to tie it at 41-41 with three minutes left before the Hayward Beasley gave the Hawks a 44-41 lead. Lake Howell got the ball back and then went to its spread offense.

In the junior varsity division Thursday, Lake Brantley upended Wymore and Lake Howell got by St. Cloud to set up today's 5 p.m. final between the JV Patriots and Silver Hawks.

In the varsity consolation game, beginning at 6:30, Wymore Tech battles St. Cloud.

FSU's Defense Is On The Line Against Gators

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor
TALLAHASSEE — Isaac Williams has heard the story — too many times. "I know, I know," he says disjunctedly. "Everybody on Florida's offensive line can bench press 400 pounds."
No big deal, he says. "Everybody on our defensive line can bench press over 400 pounds," says Williams. "And one guy can bench press 500 pounds. But nobody ever writes anything about that, nobody knows."
Bench pressing, though, doesn't win football games. Still, Williams says, when the Florida Gators and the Florida State Seminoles line up for Saturday's 3:50 kickoff (Orlando's WFTV, Channel 9) in FSU's Doak S. Campbell Stadium, the lines will probably decide the outcome.
"The defensive line is our strength," says Williams, a tackle. "The offensive line is their strength. It's a natural matchup."
Williams says he ranks tackle Lomas Brown, guard Crawford Ker and center Phil Bromley as the Gators' top blockers. "Brown and Ker have good size," says Williams, a 6-2, 280-pounder himself. "But Bromley might be the toughest. He really stays with his block."
Williams has never been on an FSU team which has beaten the Gators and the intelligent junior would like this year to be the first. So would coach Bobby Bowden, who hasn't beaten the Gators in three years. The last

Football

Seminole victory came at Tallahassee in 1980 by a 17-13 score. Florida leads the intrastate war, 19-6-1. Nine of the meetings have been decided by a TD or less, although last year the Gators won, 53-14.
Although the ledger is lopsided in favor of Florida for the 26 meetings, Bowden has broken even. After losing in 1976, he won the next four before losing the last four for a 4-4 mark.
The Gators topped Kentucky last week for the school's first Southeastern Conference championship — something Bowden hopes will help his Tribe. "Boy, as I glad they won that thing," he says. "They have been coming in here every year and taking it out on us."
The smooth-talking coach said he ranks Florida with the nation's elite and a victory Saturday will be tough. "Florida is a great football team. In fact, I think they are as good as anybody in the country," says Bowden. "We will have to play our very best football to stay with them. From what I've seen, they do everything well."
FSU, 7-2-1, has been inconsistent defensively. Bowden and Williams said they both know a lackluster performance this week will have the scoreboard lighting up like a pinball machine against the explosive Gators.

FSU defender Isaac Williams (45) fights off c block against UT-Chattanooga.

Williams says a penchant for giving up the big play has hurt the defense. "Mental breakdowns have killed us," he says. "We'll be doing a pretty good job and have them in the hole when someone breaks one for 90 yards on us."
"Defense is like a chain. If one person messes up, it breaks up the whole connection."
Williams says he would like to see another performance like the Seminoles had against Miami. FSU went down to Hurricane country and turned Bernie Kosar into a mild storm with a 38-3 victory in the third game of the season. Williams, especially, had a good day, contributing two sacks.

The Seminoles, though, have had more bad days than good days defensively. For every Miami or University of Tennessee-Chattanooga (shutout) or Tulane (six points), there has been an Auburn (42 points), Arizona State (44 points) or South Carolina (38 points). "We must have a good game defensively," he emphasizes.

"Otherwise...it might be a long day."
COUNTY CLASH — On occasion Saturday, look for Williams to line up opposite former Lake Brantley standout Scott Trimble, who is a backup at guard and tackle for the Gators.
Another former Patriot, Dan Morris, is starting at guard for Florida State. Morris, a 6-1, 245-pound junior, opens the hole for tailback Rosey Snipes, who replaced All-America Greg Allen when he was injured.

Schwartz: No Rebuilding For Rams

After losing two-time state champion Jack Likens, massive heavyweight Robert Rawls, Med Holbyvansen, Bob Olson and Willie Green, one would think Lake Mary wrestling coach Frank Schwartz would be pulling out the rebuilding blocks this year.
Cancel the blocks, this program is on a roll. Schwartz, who is ably assisted by former UCF All-America Doug Peters, said he doesn't know if he'll have any state champions this year, but he expects just as good a team as last year.
"After losing all those studs, I wasn't sure what quite to expect," he said Thursday. "But our summer program has really helped us. We should have a pretty good team."
Lake Mary will open the 1984-85 wrestling season tonight at 8 against Lake Brantley. Junior varsity action begins at 6:30 p.m.
Although the Rams did lose five key people, not all of the stars are gone. Ivan Carbia, a four-year wrestler who posted a 28-5 record last year, returns for his senior year. Carbia was a district and conference champihadn't separated his shoulder in the semifinals.

Prep Wrestling

At the upper weights, either Paul Owen or Jim Cook will handle 220 while sophomore Troy Jackson is the heavyweight. Jackson, from Sanford, weighs 385 pounds.
In the lower weights, Schwartz predicts immediate stardom for freshman Enrique Carbia, Ivan's brother. The tough little 98-pounder has over 300 matches under his belt over the past four years in Lake Mary's club.
"Enrique will one of the premier 98-pounders in Central Florida...this year," said Schwartz.
At 105, Ed Shuckman or Craig Johnson will get the call tonight. Shuckman was the county junior varsity champion last year. Johnson was third in the Five Star Conference and third in the district.
At 112, it will be Johnson or Dale Reisenhuber. Reisenhuber is a seasoned performer who came through several times last year in varsity matches, according to Schwartz.
Schwartz said he expects his middle weights to carry the team. He ticked off the names of Junior Matt Broberg (126), Junior Tom Olson (132) and Sanford senior Steve Charles are the grapplers to watch. Charles brother, Robert, was a top-notch heavyweight a few years back for Seminole.

"Broberg is going to really shock people," said Schwartz. "He was wrestling with mono last year and people didn't see the real him. Tom Olson is just a tough kid. Robert Charles was county JV champ."

Rivers Runs Irish To Win

United Press International
All these years Digger Phelps has been in the wrong place. The Notre Dame coach should have been at Houston or Nevada-Las Vegas or some such run-and-gun factory.
"Some people won't believe this, but I've always been a zone press coach who loves to run and shoot," Phelps said Thursday night following a 79-61 victory over Northwestern. "But you have to have zone press players who can run and shoot."
No question, he now has one in Dave Rivers. The freshman point guard provided 15 points and 9 assists and some zip to a Notre Dame offense that has been breathing stale air for years.
"The fellows weren't used to running a fast paced game," Rivers said of his indoctrination at Notre Dame. "But they got used to it. Everyone understands the type of players we have and what we're capable of doing."
Rivers was backed by Scott Hicks with 17 points and Tim Kempton and Ken Barlow with 14 each Frank Schwartz, who had a powerhouse wrestling team last year at Lake Mary, doesn't need to rebuild his team despite key losses.

Skins Scalp Vikings

United Press International
Beating Minnesota Thursday night gave the Washington Redskins some breathing room; for the Vikings the loss provided more gloom.
Even so, the 31-17 defeat at the Metrodome was not as bad as it could have been.
The Redskins built a 31-0 halftime lead behind two touchdown passes from quarterback Joe Theismann — including a 68-yard bomb on the first play from scrimmage — and two fumble recoveries that resulted in scores. But they had to battle to hold off the Vikings in the second half.
"The 'Skins are happy. It's good to be 9-5. I think this came at an important time for us," said Washington Coach Joe Gibbs. "It gives us a chance to take a blow and regroup for the rest of the season."
The victory gives the Redskins a slight edge in the NFC East with two games remaining. Dallas and the New York Giants are 8-5 heading into the weekend.
Minnesota was led by backup quarterback Archie Manning, benched this season after a poor outing, who fired touchdown passes of 14 and 8 yards to lead a late charge.

High Blood Pressure? Shed That Extra Flab

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 5 feet 9 and once weighed 199, but I'm down to 178. I'm taking blood-pressure pills, since my pressure was as high as 200 over 90. For the past six months, it has been 158 over 78 as a result of reducing my weight, restricting my salt intake and being careful about what I eat.

still fairly heavy for your height. Anyone who has a high blood pressure problem should get really lean. Judge this by how much fat is under your skin. If your blood pressure is high and there is still a roll of fat around your waist, you need to get rid of it. The leaner you are, the more likely you will be able to decrease or do without blood-pressure medicines. Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Would it not be OK if I used monosodium glutamate on my vegetable salads? Would it affect my high blood pressure? I'm 66.

DEAR READER — Congratulations on losing 20 pounds. The most neglected, and often the best, treatment for high blood pressure is to eliminate excess body fat. In many instances, the patient who has lost weight can stop taking blood pressure medicine, or at least decrease the amount.

Some people definitely benefit from restricting their sodium intake. A recent well-publicized report that people who didn't get enough sodium had high blood pressure is interesting, but the study was not well designed, and it failed to prove the point. In contrast, several decades of clinical experience have shown that restricting sodium is quite important in treating some patients with high blood pressure. In fact, the diuretics that lower blood pressure work by eliminating sodium through the kidneys.

That is important in answering your question. Monosodium glutamate is fine for most people, but not for those who need to restrict sodium for any reason. If you really want to use it, you should discuss it with your doctor. If you do use it, you may need to increase the amount of diuretic you take to eliminate sodium.

I'm sending you The Health Letter 15-8, Your Vital Blood Pressure, which will answer many questions for you. I suspect that your blood pressure will improve even more if you lose more weight. You are

Answer to Previous Puzzle

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
North's jump to four spades showed very good trump support, but no outside ace, king, or singleton. When partner is forcing to game in spades, Q-x-x-x does qualify for this jump bid. Knowing that North was weak in the outside suits, South should probably have passed four spades but, mesmerized by his first-round controls, he carried on to six.
To declarer, it looked as if slam depended only upon the favorable location of two out of three key cards (the heart honors and the club king). Declarer trumped the opening lead, played a spade to the queen and a low heart to the 10, losing to West's queen. A diamond came back. South ruffed, played a carefully preserved low spade to dummy and tried the heart jack.

When this was not covered, declarer took another heart finesse and then returned to dummy for the club play. With that king offside, the result was down one.
Because opposing spades were 1-1, it would have cost nothing for declarer to play as follows: At trick one, trump with the spade ace and lead the eight to dummy's queen. Now trump another diamond with the king and lead the spade six to the seven. Ruff a third diamond with the jack and lead the spade four to dummy's five. Now a heart lead back toward declarer's 10 will be won by West's queen, but South's careful play has earned a dividend. West has no more hearts and must either lead into the A-Q of clubs or give a sluff and a ruff, allowing declarer to discard a club from either hand.

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY
DECEMBER 1, 1984
Possibilities for personal accumulation look good for the coming year. However, you will have to resist urges toward extravagance that will pop up rather frequently.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Treat others generously today, but by the same token, don't be a patsie. You're not under obligation to pay the freight for everyone involved. Gardening

Newly Planted Shrubs Need Special Care

Now that you've gone out and planted those new trees and shrubs, you need to be especially careful about the treatment they get during the next few critical months. There are several things you need to think about if you, in fact, have just planted some trees and shrubs.

One reason a new plant needs special care is because it doesn't have a strong root system. It takes a few months for a plant to become well-rooted. And, during this period of root development, the plant needs careful and frequent watering. You should water thoroughly, so water moves well down into the root zone. Shallow watering encourages shallow root growth, and makes the plant more subject to drought stress. However, overwatering is bad too, because it can cause the roots to literally drown. The trick is to keep the soil moist, but not saturated. Once the plant is well-established, you can water it normally.

Mulches are important for new plants because they help conserve moisture. Insulate the soil and add organic material. Pine needles (straw), bark nuggets, and wood chips make good organic mulches for ornamental plants. A two- or three-inch layer of mulch is just about right. Be sure to keep the mulch a few inches away from the plant's trunk. Mulched too close may cause trunk rot.

Alfred Bessesen
Urban Horticulturist

Ext. 151

If you've planted bare-root trees and shrubs, they may need some pruning. This is because the exposed roots are damaged slightly in packing and shipping, and the plants cannot take up water as well as they should. Pruning off some of the top portion of a plant will reduce its need for water. This establishes a balanced relationship between the foliage and the roots. You can remove about one-third of the plant's top. Prune the branches one at a time, so you can be sure you're shortening the plant the same amount all over. If you planted balled-and-burlapped specimens or container-grown plants, you won't have to do such trimming.

In the case of newly planted trees or very large shrubs, you have one more step to protect your investment — staking or guying the trunk for support. These newly planted trees do not have well-established root systems to hold them in place. Strong winds, heavy rains and even dogs or children can knock over newly set trees.

Depending on the size of the tree, you may need to provide temporary support with stakes or guys. For plants with trunk diameters of three inches or less, you can generally use stakes. For larger trees and shrubs, you'll probably need to use guy wires.

If you choose to use stakes, the trunk diameter will determine the number you'll need. For a plant with a trunk less than two inches, use a single pressure-treated two-by-two wood stake. For a two to three-inch trunk, you'll need to use two or three stakes. The stakes should be rigid and long enough to stand about two-thirds as high as the tree or shrub.

Put the stakes in during planting. Space them evenly, right next to the soil ball, and drive them about 18 inches into the soil. When you've finished, tie the plant to the stakes with cable or wire. Don't tie the stakes so tightly that the plant has no flexibility. Usually you need tie the tree at one point. This allows for the greatest normal trunk movement.

If you've placed the stakes at the right height, you can usually put the tie about six inches from the top of the stake. To protect the bark of the tree, it's a good idea to cover the wire or cable with a short piece of garden hose or plastic tubing. After one growing season, you can usually remove the stakes.

If you need guy wires instead of stakes, set them up at planting time, too. Start with three or four short anchor stakes, about 12-18 inches long. Space these evenly around the tree, and drive them into the soil at an angle about six or eight feet out from the trunk. Run wire or cable from each anchor stake to the tree. Attach all guy wires at one point, about two-thirds of the way up the tree. Again, protect the bark by running the wires through short lengths of garden hose.

If the wires become loose, tighten them by twisting, or use turnbuckles which are available from any hardware store. You can remove the guy wires when the plants appear to be well-established — usually after about a year. In any case, do not leave the wires in place more than one year.

Staking or guying trees and shrubs is just another of the many aids you should use in helping your plants become established. It's not a difficult practice. And, especially in the case of larger trees and shrubs, it can pay real dividends in early protection. By following proper planting practices and with good cultural care, you can get your newly set landscape plants off to a great start.

Happy gardening!

Youth Award

Mike Cushing, 17, center is congratulated by Harold Hunziker, president of the Sanford Rotary Club, left, and Mike Potter, chairman of the club's Youth Committee, as the first recipient of the club's Youth Leadership Award. Based on service to school and community, a similar award will be made by the club monthly to a deserving Seminole High School senior.

Bachelorhood Has Its Share Of Advantages And Disadvantages

DEAR ABBY: My old hunting companion of many years and I are both 67 years old and now widowers. We were discussing the pros and cons of remarrying. He is presently considering it, and even has a lady in mind.

He asked me what I thought were the advantages and disadvantages of remaining a bachelor, so I wrote them down and suggested that he do the same. Here's my list:

THE ADVANTAGES of remaining a bachelor:

1. I can eat any time of the day I feel like eating.
2. I can go in and out of the house any time of day or night (no questions asked).
3. I can shave when I feel like shaving.
4. I can let the dog sleep on my bed when he feels like it.
5. I can watch any TV program I feel like watching.
6. I can lie around the house all day without getting dressed if I feel like it.
7. I can eat what I want to eat.
8. I don't have to go to church if I don't feel like it.
9. I don't have to go to her relatives' house for Christmas dinner every year.
10. There is nobody nagging me about what has to be fixed around the house: I can let it go until I'm in the mood to fix it.

Dear Abby

THE DISADVANTAGES:

I have to cook, sew, do laundry, clean house, scrub floors, vacuum, go to the grocery store and keep my checkbook balanced.

I was married for 45 years to a wonderful woman who was a fine wife and mother. However, if there is such a thing as reincarnation and I have to come back as a housewife, I'm not coming.

MACK N. IN HUNTINGTON BEACH, CALIF.

DEAR MACK: Forget reincarnation. Just don't remarry in this life. And if your friend decides to get married, I'd like to see his list.

DEAR ABBY: Please rush your answer, as there are five of us waiting for it.

How much board per week should children pay who have graduated from high school, have paying jobs (40 hours per week) and still live at home?

One child might eat 21 meals per week at home, the other two.

How do you figure this?

Would non-relative boarders pay the same?

US IN WORCESTER, MASS.

DEAR US: There is no flat fee. Much would depend upon the parents' finances. Are they well-to-do, or just getting by? How about the "working" children? What other financial obligations have they? Car payments? Insurance? Clothing? Laundry? Medical bills? Spouses?

Each family has its own set of circumstances to consider. Some parents expect their children to pay the same as any other boarder. Others do not. Work it out in a manner that will satisfy all concerned.

DEAR ABBY: Don't you think it's rude when a person makes a long distance telephone call to say hello, only to be answered by, "We're right in the middle of dinner now; can I call you tomorrow?"

It was no special dinner, and the person I called should have known I would talk only a few minutes because it was long distance. She returned my call three days later!

What I'm saying is if people think enough of you to call long distance, please be nice enough to talk to them, because they might think twice before they call again. I know I will!

HURT FEELINGS

DEAR HURT: Some people resent being interrupted during the dinner hour. Obviously your friend is one of them. However, there are more gracious ways to say, "We're right in the middle of dinner," etc.

DEAR ABBY: I have some advice that might help some parents. Don't push your children through school too fast. I did, and now I'm sorry. Our oldest son graduated from high school when he was barely 17. Now he's gone away to college and his room is empty. What was our rush?

He was always a fine student and way ahead of his classmates, but I'm afraid we encouraged him to skip grades because we were so proud of him. If I could turn back the clock, I would have kept him in classes with children his own age.

I don't expect to see this in print, Abby. I guess I just needed someone to hear my heartache.

DAVID'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Perhaps you shouldn't have sent him away to college at such an early age, but please don't regret not holding him back in school.

Children who are far ahead of their classmates intellectually become bored. To have kept him in classes with children his age wouldn't have been fair to him.

Bono Files For Divorce

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sonny Bono, who gained popularity with his pop singing career in the mid 1960s as Cher's nasal-voiced partner, has filed for divorce from his third wife.

Court papers revealed Monday that Bono claimed irreconcilable differences with wife Susie Coelho Bono in seeking the divorce.

The couple was married New Year's Eve 1981. They had no children.

Bono, 49, won acclaim with second wife, Cher, on such hits as "I Got You, Babe" and "The Beat Goes On," and later with their highly successful television variety show.

Their marriage, one of the most celebrated in rock history, broke up in 1974. They had a daughter, Chantilly. Bono and his first wife, Donna Rankin, also had a daughter, Christy.

Bono has since given up entertaining to run his Italian restaurant in Hollywood.

Susie Coelho Bono is an actress and model. She made her movie debut with Lee Majors in "The Norseman," followed by the CBS television movie, "The Island of Beautiful Women."

She worked with Bono before their marriage on a stage production of "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" in Ohio and Michigan, and they co-hosted the Sonny and Susie Bono Pro-Celebrity Tennis Tournament in Maui, Hawaii to benefit victims of Cooley's anemia, a fatal blood disease.

They separated June 1, 1984, divorce papers stated.

Shaping Up For The Slopes

Better Start Shaping Up Now

Schussing Down The Slopes Is Hard Work

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

Recreational skiers who jump onto the slopes this season without preparing their bodies will get a familiar bouby prize — rubbery legs on the third run down the mountain and sore muscles that last a week.

If you're among the many Central Floridians planning to head for the mountains for some winter snow skiing this season you might want to shape up in advance so you'll spend your time on the slopes instead of limping around complaining of those aches and pains.

"Snow skiing doesn't look very strenuous. You're kind of swishing down the mountain and it looks real easy, but it's got to really get you winded and every muscle comes into play, muscles you don't normally use," said Casselberry health club instructor Mary Willmann.

Miss Willmann said it would take about a month, using a basic workout plan, for an

...it looks easy, but skiing requires a great deal of strength, endurance, and flexibility out-of-shape would-be Jean Claude Killy to get their body sufficiently fit for skiing.

Building endurance and muscle strength are the two basic areas of importance in a pre-skiing fitness plan. Special attention should be given to the muscles that support the ankles, knees and hips, Miss Willmann said.

"Your arms, your sides, back, your abdominal muscles play important roles in skiing too," she said.

Thirty-two-year-old Bill Gans, who has been skiing for 20 years and who shares his expertise with his customers at an Orlando ski shop, said that bicycling is an excellent way to get your legs in shape for 'Skiing is probably the best exercise to prepare your body for skiing. When you ski you use your muscles in a different way than when you do any other type of exercise.'

—skier Bill Gans

sking. Swimming and dancing can build endurance, and sports such as basketball will develop your hand-eye coordination.

When you get to the slopes, Gans said it's important to warm up before skiing. "Stretching out is probably the most important thing," he said.

Ironically, "skiing is probably the best exercise to prepare your body for skiing. When you ski you use your muscles in a different way than when you do any other type of exercise. It's a total body sport, but if your body is flexible and your muscles are strong you're less likely to be injured if you take a spill."

However, if you're one of the many who don't heed this advice and hit the slopes unprepared, then heed this: Gans said the best medicine is to "get up and do it again the next day. The pain goes away real quick." He added that a soak in a hot tub might make you feel more like trying to make it back out on your skis.

Former U.S. ski team member Peter Dodge of Stowe, Vt. has developed a program to prepare skiers for the rigors of the slopes. The exercises can be done almost anywhere and it takes only 30 minutes. Dodge promises that these exercises will help ensure that you have the agility, strength and endurance needed for skiing. He recommends working out to lively music because the rhythms of skiing are similar to dancing.

Dodge outlined the three parts of his ski conditioning program:

First, warm up and stretch by jogging, skipping or dancing in place for one to two minutes to get the blood flowing and the heart rate up. Finally, bend down slowly, touching the toes and hold it there for one minute.

Second, the aerobics. This part of the program consists of eight exercises each to be performed 5-10 times. Move quickly from each exercise to the next. After a break the circuit can be repeated up to three times depending on your fitness level. Jog, dance and stretch easily between each full circuit for a minute or two. If you are a beginner, start easy doing each exercise for five repetitions and later working up to 10 or 20.

1. Box Jumps. Stand with feet together in front of a box or cushion and jump back and forth over it. Repeat the exercise jumping from side to side. This will build strength, coordination and endurance.

2. Twist Jumps. Jump up and twist 180 degrees, then repeat in the other direction.

3. Slalom Run. Set two cushions 10-12 feet apart on the ground or floor and run a figure eight around them simulating a slalom course. This improves speed and coordination.

4. Box Jumps #2. With a cushion or box in front of the feet, hop over the obstacle from foot to foot, outside foot to outside foot.

5. Stepups. Step up onto a stool or chair, then step down. Repeat with other leg to strengthen legs and build endurance and coordination.

6. High Jumps. Jump up, bring the knees to the chest as high as possible to develop stamina and leg strength.

7. Agility Jump. Make a small circle on the floor with a rope or cord. Stand in the center and jump out straight, then jump back in. Then jump to the left and back in. Jump to the right and back in.

8. Shuttle Run. Set up two cushions 10-12 feet apart and run sideways between them, bending down to touch each cushion with the nearest arm. This helps your lateral movement as well as your ability to crouch down and rise up as in skiing.

Third, cool down by jogging, skipping and dancing easily for a couple of minutes. Then do situps for your abdomen. Lie on your back with your knees bent and hands behind your head, bringing the upper body to the knees 5-15 times.

Curis come next. Lying in the same position with legs straight, curl arms up while bending your knees to meet the arms. Repeat 5-15 times. Strong stomach muscles will help lower back problems that can develop in skiers.

For upper body strength do 10-15 pushups. Start on your knees, place your arms in front of you, keeping the back straight. Lower your body until your chest touches the floor. Then return to a full extension of your arms to strengthen the arms, shoulders, abdominal muscles and back.

Stretch down as in step one then relax.

Now you're ready for the slopes!

Most Singers Fake It When Appearing On TV

DEAR DICK — Please settle a family feud. My twin sister and I have a very large bet with our parents and if we're right, we will receive another car identical to the one we now have to share (which is a problem at times).

Do performers on "Solid Gold" and music videos, etc., really sing or do they just move their lips? We say they lip-sync. Our parents say they actually sing. Do we have our '84 Corvette or not? — B & C, Bolivar, Mo.

I would judge you have your new car. It is not a hard-and-fast rule, but in most cases the performers do lip-sync to their previously recorded music. They generally cannot duplicate the electronically enhanced sound on the record except by lip-syncing. In a few cases — Anne Murray, for example — the singers actually sing, but in 90 percent of the cases, no.

DEAR DICK — On this season's new show "Punky Brewster," George Gaynes plays a man named Henry Warnimont. How did the writers come up with his last name? It is not very usual. The only ones I know of in this country with it are my relatives. Do I have a relative who is a TV writer? — B.W., Essexville, Mich.

Writer-producer David Duclon gave Henry Warnimont his name. Duclon says he grew up in Rockford, Ill. where there was a Warnimont family. He says he always liked the sound of the name and felt it was right for the character in "Punky Brewster."

DEAR DICK — I would like to know the address of Irving Berlin, the songwriter. Years ago, I began writing song poems and wanted to know where I might interest someone in writing the music. I would be willing to pay for that person's work, or go into partnership. Mrs. H.B.B., Houston.

It's good to aim high, but Berlin is 95 now and hasn't done any songwriting in at least 20 years. Even when he did, he would never work with an amateur. Your best bet is to find someone locally — in a city the size of Houston, there must be hundreds of composers looking for lyricists. Call some local disc jockey or the music department of a local college. There is never a shortage of ambitious young songwriters.

DEAR DICK — Some years ago, I was told there was a songwriter of some renown whose last name was Koehler and who lived in Hollywood. Supposedly, he had written or collaborated in writing some well-known popular songs of years ago. I would greatly appreciate knowing more about him, and the titles of some of the songs he did write. — J.K., Oceanside, Calif.

Ted Koehler was indeed a distinguished lyricist. He collaborated with great composers such as Harold Arlen, Duke Ellington and Jimmy McHugh, and among his credits are: "Get Happy," "Between the Devil and the Deep Blue Sea," "I Love a Parade," "I've Got the World On a String" and "Stormy Weather." He is no longer alive.

Switch from commercial to show, and the women are less likely to be in the kitchen and more apt to eat in the dining room — a room one couple in a convenience food commercial can't even find.

The one advantage commercial women hold over their soap opera counterparts is — soap. It's a rare moment to catch a daytime drama star in tub or shower. But in the ads, women are forever washing their hair, taking refreshing showers or luxuriating in bathtub fantasies.

'Finder Of Lost Loves' Is High-Class Garbage

By David Handler

ABC-TV's "Finder of Lost Loves" is corny, obvious and manipulative. It's junk. It's also so smooth and effective that you can't help from getting caught up in it. You get mad at yourself, but you do keep watching.

Here is yet another romantic vehicle from Aaron Spelling, the producer who has given us "The Love Boat," "Fantasy Island" and "Hotel." This one's particularly shrewd.

Meet Cary Maxwell (Tony Franciosa), cupid detective extraordinaire. Cary runs a small, discreet agency that specializes in reuniting old flames. And in happy endings.

From its schmaltzy opening theme song to its blubbery finale, this show is unabashedly sentimental. It's not about sex. It's about true love.

That's something Cary believes in. His wife died a few years ago, and he's never gotten over it. He devotes himself now to making others as happy as he once was.

He does well at it. He owns a mansion, a beach house, a Jaguar and a plush suite of offices, where he raises roses. He's a softy. Sensitive. He even cries at particularly happy moments.

Franciosa, always a top-level acting talent, shows just how good he is here by actually managing to pull this off. His Cary is attentive, sincere and — somehow so believable.

In keeping with the show's central theme and its fondness for corn, there's a lost love right under Cary's nose. His comely associate, Daisy (Deborah Adair), positively melts when she's next to him. However, it's never meant to be.

Each week, clients come to Cary and Daisy with their woes. A woman's teen-aged son is dying of leukemia. He needs a bone marrow transplant. His father is the only possible donor. Trouble is, she isn't married to the boy's real father — and neither her husband nor the kid know that.

The real father is a naval officer she dumped 15 years ago and hasn't seen since. Cary finds him, but the officer is still bitter and refuses to help her or their son.

Cary convinces him to help. He even convinces him to keep the woman's secret safe. Whatta guy!

A trucker falls in love with a voice over his CB radio. Daisy finds the woman, only to learn she's actually a sociologist who was merely studying the trucker. Daisy brings the two together anyway. True love ensues. Whatta girl!

Sometimes, Cary gets a little too involved. When an old man hires him to find his missing heiress granddaughter, he discovers she's become an alcoholic. Seems she's been destroyed by her husband's suicide.

What's Wrong With A Little Ring Around The Collar?

By Joan Haubauer
 UPI TV Reporter
 NEW YORK (UPI) — Show me a woman whose husband has ring around the collar and I'll show you a wife who has her priorities in place. The writers of soap operas have the same idea.

While the women in the commercials suffer from compulsive housework, the characters on the soap operas they sponsor seldom worry about dirty collars, dingy wash or waxy yellow buildup on See SOAPS, page 4
