Moral Values 'In Preventing Wars Stressed At Meet

Men's Club Speakers Support UNO And Call For Strong World Police Force

General agreement that a rebirth of moral and spiritual values throughout the entire world is essential to the preservation of peace was voiced by five prominent speakers as well as by those who entered into the discussion from the floor, at a joint meeting of the men's clubs of Sanford's churches held last night at the Episcopal Parish House.

A belief that the United Nations Organization is a step in the right direction, deserves the undivided support of American and world public opinion and should be backed up by a strong international police force, was also generally expressed. Several speakers emphasized the importance of the United States remaining well armed until the peace of the world is fully assured.

The Rt. Rev. Henry Louttit, Suffragan Bishop of the South Florida Diocese of the Episcopal Church, sounded the keynote of the meeting when he said, "Our failure after the first World War was that we didn't convert Japan to the gospel of Jesus Christ. But we can still do it, and we can still do it."

The conference of the men's clubs was arranged by Randall Chase as program chairman for the Men's Club of the Episcopal Church of what W. A. Lott, who presided over the meeting, is president. Brig. General Joseph C. Hutchison served as master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers including Senator L. P. Wolfe, H. H. Coleman, Fred R. Bishop, Edwin S. Bishop, and Bishop Louttit.

Senator Wolfe, who served in the Coast Guard during the war, introduced the speakers.

Growers Refuse Plan To Destroy 40 Percent Of Crop

Failure of 90 percent of the celery growers of the state to approve a proposal of the celery division of the Florida Vegetable Committee to plow up 40 percent of celery planted prior to Dec. 1 resulted in defeat of the measure following a canvass of growers during the past week. It was reported by the committee today.

MacArthur's Plan Ahead To Cut Forces

Only 203,817 Army Officers And Enlisted Personnel Remain In Japan

TOKYO, Feb. 5. (AP)—General MacArthur is ahead of schedule on his announced program to cut United States occupational forces in Japan to 200,000 men in six months.

The six months period has not yet expired and there now are only 203,817 American officers and enlisted men in Japan. That figure includes the Air Force.

At its maximum strength, the American occupation force probably numbered 450,000. The exact figure is not available. That was when troops were pouring in from the Philippines and other Pacific island bases.

Since Japan's surrender five months ago, General MacArthur has sent home 324,829 Pacific veterans under the point discharge system.

Surprise was expressed in official Washington when MacArthur announced on Sept. 17 that he expected to reduce the occupation force to 200,000 men within six months. President Truman said he had not known about it. The State Department commented that such a cut must not interfere with the army's function as an instrument to carry out the occupation policy which is destruction of Japan's will to make war.

During the five months of occupation there has not been a single incident of resistance. Men and officers go about unarmed except for members of the Military Police Corps when on duty.

Greenwich Plans Stormy Session Over UNO Site

Committee Head Says Protests Have Not Affected Report

LONDON, Feb. 5. (AP)—The United Nations interim committee has given tentative approval to the selection of the Westchester-Greenwich-Stamford area as a permanent home for the world body. One member of the 15-man committee, Australian delegate W. R. Hodgson, protested the selection, saying he will renew his efforts to have San Francisco chosen.

The choice will be placed before the full 51-member committee on headquarters tomorrow.

A storm of protest already has arisen in Greenwich and other communities in the 42-square-mile area of Westchester County, New York, and Connecticut recommended for the UNO permanent headquarters.

About one-third of Greenwich—home of many wealthy New York City lawyers, bankers, and businessmen—lies in the area.

Most of the residents objecting to the selection of the area are doing so because they fear they will be forced to leave their homes. The general spirit is good, but there are people everywhere who make a noise. We expected that.

Yukon Rescue Ships Hindered By Snowstorm

Coast Guard Cutter Cedar Attempting To Remove More Of Ship's Passengers

SEATTLE, Feb. 5. (AP)—Hampered by a heavy snowstorm, rescuers are trying to remove several hundred passengers from the stricken Yukon, which is grounded on rocks in Johnstone Bay, off the Alaska coast. The Coast Guard cutter Cedar is trying to remove the passengers, and other vessels are standing by to take a turn in the rescue effort.

The Coast Guard says that at least the bow section of the ship was firmly on the rocks. All the survivors are believed to be on that part of the ship. The Coast Guard headquarters at Ketchikan, Alaska, is hopeful that all of the nearly 500 persons who were aboard the vessel will be saved. Rescuers took off 47 women and children last night.

All B-17 flying fortresses equipped with power boats have been ordered by General Dolos Emmons at Anchorage to join the life saving attempt. The Army also has sent a transport plane loaded with doctors and nurses to Seward, 10 miles north of the scene of the disaster. They are to minister to the 47 women and children already taken off the wrecked steamer by the Coast Guard cutter Onondaga. In addition, a specially equipped first aid team is being rushed from Seward.

So far, the Onondaga is the only rescue vessel known to have reached the wrecked ship, which was bound from Seward to Seattle.

Lt. L. W. Faville Is Discharged From U. S. Army

First Lieut. Louis William Faville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Faville of 1509 Palmetto Avenue, has been discharged from the United States Army at the Separation Center, Fort George G. Meade, Md.

Lt. Faville was attached to the Chemical Warfare Service and his last station was Edgewood Arsenal. He received his basic training at Camp Pickett, Va., and served at Camp Sibert, Ala., and Public Steel Corporation at Niles, O.; DuPont Company at New Martinsville, W. Va.; Vigo Plant C.W.S. at Terre Haute, Ind.

He graduated from Seminole High School and later attended the University of Florida, University of Minnesota and Louisiana State University. He is a bacteriologist and prior to entering the service he was employed by the U.S. Civil Service Commission.

Lt. Faville was married on May 5, 1944, to the former Miss Kathleen Barnes of Frederick, Md. At the present time, he is stationed at Camp Pickett, Va.

M-Sgt. Dan Brainard Is Back After U. S. Army Service In European Area

M/Sgt. Dan Brainard, former hurrier with the Sanford Lookouts of the Florida State League, back in 1937 and husband of the former Carolyn Biggers, has returned to the United States and been discharged from the United States Army after serving 16 months with the Corps of Engineers in the European Theater of Operations.

Sgt. Brainard entered the armed forces Jan. 15, 1943, and was sent to Camp Beale, Calif. for basic training. He later received advanced training at Camp Gruber, Okla. Immediately prior to participating in the maneuvers staged during the winter in the California-Arizona maneuver area, Sgt. Brainard underwent special training at the Normandy Ordnance Depot in Texas.

Following the maneuvers period, he was sent to Camp Swift, Tex. and assigned to an Engineer Intelligence team. In August, 1944, he received two weeks of special technical training in booby traps and mines at Fort Belvoir, Va. Sgt. Brainard went overseas and landed at Omaha Beach in September, 1944. Following a short period of service there, he was assigned to the 2942nd Engineer Combat Intelligence Team and attached to the III Corps of the Third United States Army. Before entering Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany for further service, he underwent six weeks of engineer training in Paris.

Sgt. Brainard declared that his most interesting experience was participating in the capture of the Remagen bridge across the Rhine River which eliminated the Rhineland Campaign. Brainard's team, in addition to aiding in the capture of the structure, also removed the explosive charges which were placed there by the retreating Nazi forces.

Brainard sailed for America aboard the United States Army Transport Thomas Berry which docked recently in New York. He was discharged Sunday afternoon at Camp Blending. He is currently under contract with the Milwaukee Brewers of the American Association and the six-foot-four-inch mountaineer plans to undergo Spring training activities with the club at Mineral Wells, Tex.

Safford Admits He Undertook To Clear Kimmel

Navy Captain States Admiral Was Not Aware Of Campaign

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (AP)—Capt. L. E. Safford of the United States Navy today told Congressional investigators that he undertook the campaign to clear Admiral Kimmel of the blame for Pearl Harbor on his own initiative and without Kimmel's knowledge.

Murphy asked the witness about "Admiral Kimmel did not know I was doing this."

Safford added that he went to New York and saw Kimmel in February, 1944— one month after he wrote a fellow-officer that he believed Kimmel had been framed.

Under questioning by Democratic Representative John Murphy of Pennsylvania, the veteran Naval intelligence officer described his meeting with Kimmel. He said he happened to be in New York on leave, that he saw Kimmel on his own volition—that he, Safford, took the initiative, not Kimmel.

Plans To Place NAS On Caretaker Status Revealed

Anderson Joins Truman In Request To Extend Food Subsidies, Price Controls

ATLANTIC CITY, Feb. 5. (AP)—Agriculture Secretary Clinton Anderson has changed his mind regarding food subsidies and price controls.

The cabinet officer added his voice to that of President Truman today in asking that Congress extend these measures beyond their June 30 expiration date.

Last Fall, he had advocated letting the subsidies expire. They have been costing the government more than $7,500,000,000 a year. As he now explains it, prospects then indicated some decline in food prices and the whole cost of living. But now, says Anderson, it is evident that his department had "underestimated the tremendous demand for food and the great buying power in the hands of workers and returning veterans."

Pauley Put His Own Pocketbook Above Public Interest Says Congressman

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.— (AP)—Further accusations were hurled today at Edwin W. Pauley, the California oil man whom President Truman has nominated for undersecretary of the Navy. Again, Senator Charles Tobey of New Hampshire attacked the nominee's fitness.

Tobey spoke before the Senate Naval Committee which is considering Pauley's appointment. The committee at the same time voted to strike from its records the names of two former California legislators who had been accused of having worked for Pauley's company.

Representative Cecil King and representative John Evans were the legislators named by John Packard, Los Angeles attorney, in a letter read to the committee yesterday by Senator Tobey. On a motion of Senator David Walsh of Massachusetts, Naval committee chairman, their names were removed from the record. Walsh said the statements concerning them were hearsay evidence.

Meanwhile, another Truman nomination came today before the Senate Banking Committee. The nomination is that of Commodore James K. Vardman, now Mr. Truman's Naval aide, to be a member of the Federal Reserve System Board of Governors. The banking committee voted for a closed inquiry before a subcommittee.

L. B. Mann Advocates Program To Prevent Glutted Celery Markets

Proposes Creation Of $500,000 Fund To Buy Up Celery And Remove It When Markets Become Congested

Creation of a half million dollar fund with which to buy up celery on a statewide basis and remove it from the market when glutted, and when its price is depressed as at present, was today proposed by L. B. Mann, himself a grower, who advocates a 10-cent assessment on every crate of celery grown in the state as a means of raising the fund.

"I have noticed with regret the celery glut which is being experienced in the state," Mr. Mann said. "I am also mindful of the fact of the recurrence of this glutted condition that happens about four years out of five some time during the year. No one can figure out just what time of the year this will hit. There has never been any plan devised to regulate the planting of it, no more than there has been a plan to regulate the time which it should be harvested."

The celery industry of the state of Florida is too great to continue haphazardly or uncoordinatedly and unless there is some way planned we can expect to meet these conditions every year.

"I am strongly of the opinion," he added, "that the problem could be handled on a statewide basis through assessment per crate for every crate of celery grown in the state, beginning the first year at 10 cents per crate and running annually at that figure until a fund of $500,000 has been accumulated. Then when these congested conditions appear that fund can be tapped to buy up a whole week or ten days output, and let it be destroyed in the field at the cost of every grower in the State. Because of the fact that no grower even during a glutted time, feels that he should destroy his or any percentage of his crop of celery to make a market of any shipments of which

Just a few figures on Florida

what is even more important, the

Senatorial Candidates

As the time for qualifying as candidates in Florida's coming Democratic primary came to a close last Friday night, former Governor Spessard Holland suddenly found himself confronted with what may prove to be sizeable opposition. Lex Green, former congressman from the third district and unsuccessful candidate for governor against Millard Caldwell in 1944, tossed his hat into the ring.

So did Henry M. Burch, Orlando real estate man, who has just completed a tour of duty with the United States Army. Mrs. Polly Rose Balfe of Fort Lauderdale, who for some time appeared as the only candidate against Governor Holland, did not withdraw. So as the race gets under way there are four entries: Governor Holland, Lex
Green, Henry Burch and Mrs. Balfe.

It appears at the present time that the principal interest will center in the candidacies of Governor Holland and Lex Green. Both are veteran campaigners well known throughout the entire state. The other two, no matter how capable, are not sufficiently well known to be considered as important factors.

As between Governor Holland and Lex Green, our readers will have no difficulty in ascertaining our choice.
We have frequently expressed ourself as to the character, intelligence and capacity of Governor Holland. Our dislike for Mr. Green's political demagoguery was made well known in 1944 and was not diminished by the political commission he received in the Navy.

We have no doubt that he will make the campaign interesting and probably poll a substantial vote, but with all his promises we seriously doubt if he can vitally affect the outcome of the race.

Printing The News

Every now and then we hear the suggestion that newspapers should omit accounts of instances of juvenile law-breaking. Here's the apt answer of the Des Moines Register to the idea:

We have just heard a high school student
make a speech (prepared in advance, of course) about how the newspapers were chiefly responsible for juvenile delinquency because they kept putting these things in the paper and giving other boys and girls "ideas." And we went home and took a nap and had a terrible nightmare.

In this nightmare, the newspapers didn't print
a word about any of the misdemeanors that were committed in the community, so naturally nobody was aroused about it. The community slept peacefully while things went from bad to worse, until something really awful happened and nobody could keep it a secret any longer.

And then the people up and down the streets began screaming, "Why were we not told about these things? What right had the press to hide them from us? Does it consider us children, that we mustn't know the truth, even if it is unpleasant? See how we could have dealt with this growing menace, and perhaps forestalled the tragedy that has now occurred, if only the newspapers had been honest with us. For shame, for this censorship of news that the community has a normal right to know, day by day!" Well, this mob was screaming all this and pounding on our doors (in the nightmare) when we awoke, all cold and wet. And we decided to let that be a lesson to us not to take naps lying on our back (which is how we always have nightmares), especially after going to hear speeches by high school students.

The Des Moines editor's nightmare had the right angle. When a newspaper begins to self-censor legitimate news, it begins losing the respect of its reader-public.

Hardy Soul

Lincoln Ellsworth, the Antarctic explorer must be hardy. He is 65 years old, yet plans next year to go to the Antarctic for the fifth time. In the meanwhile, just to keep in exploring trim, he will spend a year in East Africa doing geological exploration.

The mere thought of a man going to the Antarctic when he doesn't have to chill the blood of the average Floridian, for whom going out to milk the cow on a chilly morning is enough hardship to last all winter.

which was given yesterday to the nimore by the Chamber of Commerce, their regular meeting today

An outline of the city improvement program was given members of the Chamber of Commerce at their regular meeting today by Mayor Ernest Laska, who presided in the absence of the president, Edward Higgins.

The mayor stated that items
of major importance on the program for the near future are the widening of Park Avenue and other streets running north and south, the completion of the new boulevard on the lakefront, the beautifying and widening of Ninth Street to the Atlantic Coast Line railroad station and the equipping of the gas plant and the water station in order to care for the rapid increase in consumption of water and gas, due to the growth of the city during the past year.

residing on Celery Avenue, who was injured Jan. 28 in an auto accident, is reported to be still confined to the hospital at Daytona.

A message received today from H. W. Pearson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that Sanford, Florida, was named

Congressman Peterson and I described to me as the best fish-

The President will be accompanied on the major part of his cruises, if not all of it, by former Prime Minister Winston Churchill now vacationing at Miami Beach. Although not publicly announced, the President may visit an old friend, whom he has previously visited and who is now in ill health on the west coast of Florida. It will be the President's first visit to the west coast of Florida, in the Panama section, if the President does get to make this trip. We have encouraged the President to take a motor trip through the southern part of the State, with Mr. Churchill. We felt that the scenic beauty of that section would be of immense pleasure to Mr. Churchill and that the sunshine and the good air, as well as that panorama of beauty and our hospitable people's warm reception would be good for both the President and our distinguished British visitor.

We have relayed to the President and Mr. Churchill the invitations of many of our communities and many fine organizations in the State to visit them and take part in some appropriate public ceremonies, but Mr. Churchill, through the British Ambassador, has informed me that he came to our State for a rest and he begged to be excused from public engagements. President Truman, too, says that he badly needs a rest, although he is bringing work and practically all of his staff down with him and he asks us to spare him public commitments so that he may have a few days of reflection and recreation in our fine

Mr. Walter E. Brown, Executive Vice President of Victor Chemical Company has announced that it is acquiring some tidewater property in western Florida near the richest phosphate fields in the nation and that construction of an electrically controlled and operated phosphate producing plant will be started as quickly as materials are available. Initial construction will be about two million dollars in value and the company contemplates quadrup-ling this plant's capacity as markets for elemental phosphorus and phosphate products increase.

The phosphate industry is one of our great industries in Florida and we are proud to see it grow, and especially developed by private enterprise.

I have the pleasure of dictating
this in the presence of representatives of the good city of Melbourne, who are in Washington in behalf of their city and area acquiring facilities and equipment
formerly constituting the Melbourne Naval Air Station. I have done all I could to encourage the various school boards, municipalities, and other public bodies in Florida to file applications for the acquisition of surplus property previously operated by the Government as a part of the war effort. I think every city or town should carefully examine the property to be found at any Army or Navy base nearby to see if the city, perhaps in conjunction with the school authorities and public health authorities, cannot acquire all of such establishments and equipment. Certainly one of the things we want to do is to keep all the hospital equipment which the Army and Navy has had in Florida in operation for the benefit of our people and the use of the medical service in our State. If you have trouble in getting the matter

worked out, get in touch with me and I will assist in every way I can.

I am preparing to foster legislation which would protect sugarcane producers and sugar mills which might come into the sugar
business in Florida in case the quota system should ever be put back into effect. This period, when the quotas are in a state of suspension, is the first period we had since 1935 in Florida when our people were free to grow sugarcane, or to install sugar mills. The only danger is that in spite of all that we from Florida could do in the Senate and the House, the quota system might sometime in the future be put back into effect and tend to jeopardize some new production and new milling operations which may have been instituted. That we are trying to prevent by legislation.

Pepper Warns 'Sinister Hands' Imperil Peace

Tells P.A.C. Dinner Anti-Sovietism Main Weapon Of Enemies

NEW YORK CITY, Feb. 5, (AP)—American foreign policy is in danger from "hands that are sinister as well as from the shortsighted," Senator Claude Pepper, Democrat of Florida, said last week at the National Citizens Political Action Committee foreign policy dinner.

Asserting that the nation still faces enemies and still has battles to win if a lasting peace is to be maintained, Senator Pepper said that there are "selfish and unscrupulous men" at work to wreck world peace at all costs.

"Chief among the weapons of these sinister forces today is the weapon of anti-Sovietism," he said. "Not a morning passes but that I read in the newspapers some new and conscienceless attack upon our great Ally—that Ally, be it remembered, which for nearly two years single-handedly held the line against the engulfing hordes of the Nazi."

Equally dangerous right now is the campaign which is being waged by many of these same forces of reaction against the loan of $3,600,000,000 to Great Britain, which President Truman proposed in his message to Congress," he continued. "Men and organizations of little faith who would sell America short are among the powerful forces opposing the loan to Britain and aid to other countries."

"We must watch every step we take now, both on the national and international front," Senator Pepper said. "Every move we make is a move which will count in the long struggle for world peace and world prosperity."

"It is not like American to fail, or, if failing once, to fail again the same trust," he concluded.

Mann Advocates Preventing Glutted Celery Markets

(Continued From Page One) he might not participate in; and as it is a deal of every grower, it concerns every grower to take action as to the market conditions.

"Under a plan similar to this, there could be a stabilized minimum price of whatever price seemed feasible, and thereby avoiding selling celery at anything lower than the price which this fund accumulated, and when this fund reaches $500,000, the annual assessments could be reduced.

"Assessments could be on a fluctuating scale according to conditions of the country to meet the need at any time. These congested market conditions are a new thing in the celery industry. Most old growers can remember even 30 years ago when shipment out of the state was less than 2,000 cars per year that we ran into the same conditions, and I believe a plan of this kind set up in the state of Florida rather than a bureaucratic control over planting would prove more satisfactory," he concluded.

GAINESVILLE, Fla. — The timber-grazing-game program for Florida timber and grazing lands, proposed several years ago by L. T. Nieland, forester with the University of Florida Agriculture Extension Service, is described in a new bulletin which is already attracting considerable favorable comment.

Declaring that Florida's future and expansion depend, to a large extent, upon the constructive use of its 41 million acres of unutilized land, Nieland says "when this vast acreage begins to produce in maximum amount, under the ownership and management of those who live on the land, all of the timber, grass and game each acre is capable of producing, a new wealth and wellbeing in magnitude as yet undreamed will come to the state."

The attractively illustrated bulletin suggests a way to combine timber and grazing to form a better basis for the utilization of land, provide effective fire barriers in wide strips and bring benefits to the timber owner, the cattleman and the State. Copies can be obtained free from County agents or by writing the Extension Service in Gainesville.

Negro Wrecks Car Last Evening On Country Club Road

While attempting to take the turn of the Country Club Road near the home of E. F. Lundquist at high speed at 9:45 o'clock last evening, the Chevrolet sedan driven east by Willie Patterson, colored, left the road and crashed into some grapefruit trees in Mr. Lundquist's yard, it was reported by L. C. Bender, state highway patrolman.

The car was torn up, and Patterson's head was cut and he received bruises. He was taken to Fernand-Loughlin Memorial Hospital, and has been scheduled for arrest, according to Patrolman Bender, on a charge of reckless driving.

Another smash up reported by Bender was that of a 1938 Plymouth sedan belonging to a Jacksonville resident. The car was found wrecked at 1:00 o'clock this morning, where it had hit a palm tree at a curve of Road 203 near Wagner.

Moral Values In Preventing Wars Stressed At Meet

(Continued From Page One) the Rainbow Division during the first World War and was awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received in action; spoke on the political and economic factors affecting peace between the Axis and the attack of Pearl Harbor. He mentioned the failure of the United States to support Woodrow Wilson's peace plan and the League of Nations, and he characterized the enactment of the Hawley-Smoot Tariff and the non-intervention aggression of an economic war.

Tracing the international events that followed, he recalled the invasion of Manchuria in 1931, the effort of Secretary Stimson to bring Anglo-American pressure against the Japanese, the seizure of Shanghai in 1932, and the attempt to conquer all China beginning in 1937. He also recalled the Italian conquest of Ethiopia in 1936 and the failure of the League to take steps to prevent aggression. He also recalled the policy regarding the Spanish civil war establishing Hitler and Mussolini to establish a friendly fascist government in Spain.

Among the lessons learned from the "phony peace" of 1918-1919, Senator Bile said were: 1. No nation can enjoy security through isolation. 2. The United States needs the world and the world needs the United States. 3. The United States cannot afford to ignore its international responsibilities. 4. There is a need for an international organization of world powers with authority to direct and maintain the peace of the world by force, if necessary.

Mr. Coleman, who is president of the Madison County Chamber of Commerce and a veteran of both the first and second World Wars, spoke on why the peace failed from a moral and spiritual standpoint. He recalled that while the first World War was fought to make the world safe for democracy and to end future wars, it was in reality sowing the seeds of the second World War. This was so, he said, largely because of the moral and spiritual decline which set in among the people of the world once the Armistice was signed. Illustrating his point by pointing to France, which felt secure from foreign enemies behind its Maginot Line and big standing army while it was weakened by moral and spiritual decay, he said the other great powers, including our own, were not without blame.

Calling attention to the moral letdown in our government during the Harding administration, he said the people of this country were more conscious and pleasure mad during the flapper era of the jazz crazy twenties. He spoke of widespread gambling, bootlegging, racketeering, marathon dances and leopold stiffs which characterized this era when Hitler and Mussolini were rising to power and the groundwork for the second World War was being laid.

Yamashita's Fate In MacArthur's Hands

TOKYO, Feb. 5, (AP)— Final decision on the fate of General Yamashita is up to General MacArthur and the War Department since the United States Supreme Court has rejected the appeal of the former commander of Jap forces in the Philippines, who was sentenced to death in Manila.

Allied headquarters officers have disclosed that MacArthur has the records of Yamashita's Manila trial. But they gave no indication of when he will act. The Supreme Court's decision confirmed that the trial of war criminals is "the responsibility of the military."

United Nations Organization, he said that it is at present endorsed by only 56 nations which have agreed to enforce compliance among its members, as well as members. He explained that the Security Council yields the big stick and that any member of the Big Five can veto action by the Security Council.

Mr. Wilson, speaking on the prospect for future peace, quoted President Roosevelt as saying that the preservation of world peace would succeed if there were the desire, the will, and the strength to make it succeed. Emphasizing the need for full, frank, sincere, and unreserved co-operation among all nations, he said they must approach their problems with confidence in each other and without distrust or suspicion.

Expressing the need for a spiritual rebirth and regeneration throughout the world if the horrors of a future war are to be averted, he recalled that more than 1900 years ago a formula was given for the conduct of affairs among men which, if it had been observed, would have prevented all wars. It was: "As ye would that men should do to you: do ye even so to them."

BISHOP LOUTTIT, a former rector of Holy Cross Church of Sanford, who served with the 31st Division in the South Pacific, said that the recent war has taught the importance to each and everyone of us of world events and international problems. Declaring a need for such an organization as the UNO, he said that it is important for us in America to remember that we cannot put ourselves under the protection of the UNO without making some sacrifices for its development and perpetuation.

Peace, he said, "will be quite as expensive as war."

But just as the individual states in America gave up some of their sovereignty to the federal government so that a strong United States might emerge, he explained, so it is necessary for the individual nations of the world to sacrifice some of their sovereignty for the development of a world government and for the future betterment of mankind.

Calling attention to basic psychological characteristics which impel men to fight, Bishop Louttit said it is essential to effect some change in human nature so that men really want peace and so that there will be a strong world opinion to back up the international police force in enforcing peace.

In America, he added, we want peace largely because we have all been exposed to the teachings of Jesus Christ. Not all nations have had the benefit of Christian teaching, do not believe in peaceful pursuits, and hence it is necessary, he said, for us to bring the gospel to them so that they too may desire peaceful nations.

Among those who entered into the discussion from the floor were the Rev. Max Carpenter, G. E. Marshall, E. B. Crumley, Rev. W. P. Yeager, W. H. Dymally, E. L. Dean, Harry Witte, Jr., Alex. Johnson, and Dr. W. P. Shuck. Dr. E. D. Brownlie presided over the discussion.

Stalin, Attlee Looked Upon To End Dispute

Delegates At London Conference Await Message Which May End First Crisis

LONDON, Feb. 6, (AP)—Generalissimo Stalin and Prime Minister Attlee are looked upon today as the last resort in effecting a compromise settlement between Russia and Britain in the dispute over Greece.

The whole question now has been turned over to the highest levels of the London and Moscow governments. United Nations sources are hoping for a satisfactory solution to end the fledgling organization's first major crisis.

The Russians have charged Britain with endangering the peace by maintaining British armed forces in Greece. Moscow has demanded that Britain withdraw the troops at once, although the Russians have indicated they would agree to a delay in the withdrawal. Moscow has refused to accede to a British demand that Britain be exonerated of the charges.

The Soviets have threatened to use their veto power should the UNO Security Council drop the charges against Britain.

As a result, the matter has been turned over to the British and Russian governments for solution rather than being left with the two delegations at the UNO assembly.

United Nations delegates are awaiting tensely the messages which will pull the world peace agreement out of its crisis, some announcement of the separate conferences of the British and Russian governments may be made before the UNO Security Council gets under way at 10 P.M. Eastern Standard Time.

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin went before the British cabinet to get its decision on a compromise proposal in his tangle with Russia over the Greek situation. However, the compromise wouldn't settle anything—it would merely drop the case altogether and let the Security Council get on with other business. Under this out, Britain might claim exonerated while Russia would not be forced to vote against any statement clearing the British. The Council also would get out of having to issue a formal repudiation of the Soviet charges that British troops in Greece endangered the peace.

Soviet authorities are believed to be holding a similar powwow in Moscow.

Security Council Chairman Norman Mackin of Australia offered his plan for a settlement last night after a secret big five conference failed to reach any decisions on the matter. Bevin and the Soviet vice foreign minister, Andrei Vishinsky, promptly referred it to their higher-ups.

The Council meeting tonight will be the fourth attempt to settle the Greek question. The answers on the compromise are expected to come through from the British and Soviet governments before the council session begins.

Automobile Hits Telephone Pole At Rands Siding

Theodore Cook, negro, driving north along a road leading to First Street west of Rands' siding at 12:40 o'clock this morning, failed to make the right hand turn when he came to First Street and crashed into a telephone pole.

He was unhurt, as was also Willie Louis Massey (colored) and an unidentified colored girl. Cook was arrested by State Highway Patrolman L. C. Bender on a charge of reckless driving. The car was taken to Raliff's wreck yard.

Patrolman Bender reported this morning that he had arrested two drivers for passing a school bus when it had stopped to let off children. Another arrest was that of the driver of a gasoline truck fully loaded which stopped on the highway and failed to display safety devices.

Mr. Williams was granted a permit to erect a frame dwelling at a cost of $5,000 on East Fourth Street between Cypress and Locust Avenues.

Order To Arrest Shimomura And 18 Others Issued

Minister Believed Responsible For Execution Of Fliers

TOKYO, Feb. 6, (AP)—Japan's post-surrender war minister, General Sadashi Shimomura—has been ordered arrested as a major war criminal suspect. General MacArthur has directed the Japanese government to arrest Shimomura and 18 other Japanese ministers for their role in the Doolittle raid on Tokyo in April, 1942.

Authoritative Allied quarters have disclosed that Shimomura is the Japanese officer who signed the final orders for the execution of three American fliers who took part in the Doolittle raid on Tokyo in April, 1942.

The 18 other Japs also are suspected of crimes against American and Allied prisoners of war. All hold comparatively high rank in the Japanese Army.

American military officials in China who investigated the murder of the Doolittle fliers are said to have established the fact that Shimomura was responsible for the final execution order.

However, shortly before the order for his arrest was issued the Jap general told the Associated Press in Tokyo in an exclusive interview that the responsibility for the murder of the American airmen rested with higher Jap authorities in Tokyo and China.

Meanwhile, commanders of four sections of MacArthur's headquarters have asserted that the reduction of American forces in Japan has left their departments so sharply undermined that their work is handicapped.

Fred Anderson obtained Saturday at the City Hall a building permit to erect a five room concrete block house on Park Avenue between Twenty Fourth and Twenty Fifth Streets at a cost of $4,000.

Scores of Miami Hotels Are Swamped As Tourist Rush Hits All Time Peak

MIAMI BEACH, Feb. 6, (AP)—Scores of Miami Beach hotels were thrown into confusion yesterday as the mid-winter "gold rush" milled to an all-time peak.

Swarms of refugees from the frigid North—where snow, rain, sleet and gloomy skies prevailed over most of the country—were reported descending like locusts upon this resort city already overcrowded with tourists, and the headaches for hosts and would-be guests were multiplying hourly.

South Florida's famed sunshine was operating on schedule, but hotelmen frankly confessed that otherwise the situation was out of hand.

Even guests with confirmed reservations were frequently being met with the bleak tidings, "No room."

Veteran hotel officials blamed unscrupulous fly-by-night operators who grossly overbook reservations on rooms, throwing the whole system into chaos.

However, the Miami Beach Hotel Association, which represents hundreds of Miami Beach hotels, said that many of the troublemakers had been spotted. Since then, the members of the association had been dropping their names to the

All Personnel Aboard Yukon Are Rescued

100 Survivors Landed On Beach While Others Are Aboard Ships Or In Seward

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, Feb. 6, (AP)—All 496 passengers and crewmen have been rescued from the wrecked ship, Yukon, says a Ketchikan newspaper, the Chronicle.

The dispatch states that about 100 survivors have been landed by breeches buoy on the nearby beach, while the rest are in Seward or aboard the rescue ships. Presumably, it adds, all the survivors will be taken to Seward.

Rescuers have been fighting to save all lives on the stricken liner Yukon since it split in two Sunday night on the rocks of Johnstone Bay. They moved in with power boats, life rafts and the breeches buoy as the gale winds died down and the sea began to calm. Last night Brigadier General Harry Johnson flew over the scene and reported that survivors on the beach were huddled around bonfires.

The Coast Guard says that breeches buoy will transfer those on the shore of the disaster scene to rescue vessels. So far, no loss of life has been reported.

Capt. Williams Landed Yesterday At Hamilton Field

Capt. Volie A. Williams, Jr., Army Air Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Volie A. Williams, Sr., after a flight from Japan.

Capt. Williams, personal pilot for General Walter Kruger, Sixth Army Commander, flew the general's C-47 from Japan to Hawaii. During a short layover there, he visited his parents over trans-Pacific telephone.

Capt. Williams is spending a few days in San Francisco with friends while waiting for the arrival of General Kruger, who is making the journey via water after the general's arrival. Capt. Williams will fly General Kruger to Washington and other points in the United States. He plans to arrive in Sanford in approximately one month.

Rivers And Harbors Bill Before Congress

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6, (AP)—A $500,000,000 appropriations bill has been laid before the House of Representatives, leaving it to the approval of the appropriations committee. The measure would provide funds chiefly for rivers and harbors projects laid aside during the war. It is the first such bill to be offered since the close of hostilities.

The large allotment is more than one hundred and ten million dollars for general flood control work on 62 projects throughout the country. This is exclusive of $40,000,000 for flood control work on the Mississippi River and its tributaries. In the rivers and harbors category, the largest and most controversial item is a sum of $15,000,000 for the cross-Florida barge canal. This project has been debated backwards and forwards in congress for many years.

David Andrews rated alcoholism as Public Health Problem No. 1, and termed it a progressive disease. He quoted Dr. Robert Fleming of the Yale Clinic as stating that there was no record case of a drink addict becoming a moderate drinker. Alcoholics are allergic to whiskey, he said, meaning that their systems cannot tolerate it. A doctor may tell a diabetic patient not to take sugar, and he will comply, but the alcoholic is unable to comply.

Marvin A. Dyal of Holler Chevrolet Company was inducted by Sanford Doudney as a Kiwanian. Ed Lane was appointed head of a committee including H. C. Hessel and Major Allan Whorton to transport celery donated by growers to members of the baseball school here. Guests were Capt. Roy D. Green, Jr., and Capt. Rosser of the Key Club.

Fire Causes Small Damage At Mayfair

Some damage to the frame boiler adjoining the building housing the help at the Hotel Mayfair resulted from fire that broke out at 1:00 o'clock this morning as a result of some kindling boards becoming ignited, according to Fire Chief Mack Cleveland.

As a result of prompt action by the Fire Department the charred boiler still stands and the oil heated boiler is in operation today. Electricians were busy this morning restoring wire connections. Minor damage was done to the servants' quarters.

Ship Reduces Speed To Ease Seasickness

ABOARD THE S-S QUEEN MARY, Feb. 6, (AP)—An effort to ease the seasickness of British war brides and their children heading for the United States has caused a reduction in the speed of the Queen Mary. The liner now is running at 20 knots instead of 23.

Most of the passengers are said to have recovered quickly, but there are still a few described as "Too sick to die."

The infirmary aboard the Queen Mary has been kept busy dealing with seasickness victims. Many drops and seasickness pills

Kolar, Andrews Main Speakers Before Kiwanis

Discuss Method Of Restoring Health To Many Alcoholics

The success of "Alcoholics Anonymous," an organization of 30,000 devoted to restoring alcoholics to health and happiness, was today outlined to Kiwanians by two members of the A.A.'s organization, John F. Kolar of Orlando and David Andrews of Winter Park, who told how they themselves had been benefited and in turn were seeking to benefit others in need of assistance.

They were introduced by the Rev. J. E. McKinley who with P. P. Campbell had charge of the program.

Alluding to the program as that of "Good Samaritans," Mr. Kolar told of the loneliness of an alcoholic and of how health begins to go. Referring to his own experience he said that on one occasion on Lincoln's birthday he had contemplated suicide but had gotten too drunk to get to the execution. He declared that his neighbors had not known how heavily he drank as he would go away from home during these periods and stay for several months.

"He told of profitless treatments at various institutions until finally he had gotten to the point where he first heard of "Alcoholics Anonymous." He contacted the speaker after the program and as a result was helped by the organization. "There is no shot in the arm in the treatment," he said, "just plain living and turning the life over to God." He added that hundreds of thousands of alcoholics had been benefited by the program, and estimated that there were 600,000 hopeless alcoholics and 6,000,000 drunkards in this country.

David Andrews rated alcoholism as Public Health Problem No. 1, and termed it a progressive disease. He quoted Dr. Robert Fleming of the Yale Clinic as stating that there was no record case of a drink addict becoming a moderate drinker. Alcoholics are allergic to whiskey, he said, meaning that their systems cannot tolerate it. A doctor may tell a diabetic patient not to take sugar, and he will comply, but the alcoholic is unable to comply.

Democratic Committee To Sponsor Hospital

WILLISTON, Feb. 6.—Levy County Democratic Executive Committee at a meeting in Bronson accepted sponsorship of a hospital for Levy County.

The hospital has been recommended by the County Commissioners heretofore, but nothing has been accomplished. Officials state there are several sites available for the hospital, but the one most favored is the Montbrook field near Williston.

Women Who Decide To Spearhead Back To Work Movement Change Minds

DETROIT, Feb. 6, (AP)—Here's an account of a meeting which certainly did not go as planned. In Detroit, two housewives, Mrs. Ralph Ide and Mrs. Marshall Hadley, called a session designed to spearhead a back-to-work movement at the General Motors Corporation.

Some 300 women crowded into a Genesee County Court room to discuss the question. A few men turned up, too. But it was a woman's day, as far as talking was concerned. Only one of the men attempted to say anything and he was shouted down.

One of the first persons to gain the floor was Mrs. Catherine Gelles of Detroit, international secretary-treasurer of the CIO United Auto Workers Women's Auxiliary. Mrs. Gelles traced the union fight with General Motors from the days of the sit-down strike in 1937 to the present.

That was the beginning of the meeting's change of viewpoint. Other union auxiliary leaders from Pontiac, Detroit and Flint took over. The meeting adopted a resolution calling on President Truman to "take immediate steps to force GM to come to satisfactory agreement with the union." The resolution was passed in the name of housewives of the three cities.

The two sponsors of the session—which was to be a back-to-work movement—changed their own stand. They agreed to attend a union auxiliary rally next Tuesday.

What's more, Mrs. Ide—wife of a Flint airlines mechanic—volunteered to work in a strike kitchen. Mrs. Hadley—wife of a Buick shop worker—signed up for picket line duty.

Steelworkers Union Faces Fourth Suit

Jones And Laughlin Steel Corporation Charges Mass Picketing In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 6, (AP)—The CIO Steelworkers Union is faced with its fourth injunction suit since it started its nationwide walkout.

The Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation charges mass picketing at its Pittsburgh plants. It asks that pickets be limited to ten at each gate, with 25 feet between each picket.

The suit differs in two respects from that brought by Carnegie-Illinois for its Homestead, Pa. plant. This charged the CIO steel union with violating a no-strike contract clause and named CIO leader Philip Murray as defendant. A temporary injunction was granted limiting the Homestead pickets to ten per gate.

The court dismissed a similar petition by Carnegie-Illinois at Joliet, Ill.

At McKees Rock, Pa., the Continental Gas Company was granted an injunction against mass picketing last Friday.

New lay-offs throughout the industry have brought strike-able figures to more than 850,000. Of these, about 750,000 are directly involved in the wage dispute; the remainder have been put on the production sidelines by the general strike.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6, (AP)—A new wage has developed in the White House. It is the national wage-price policy in an effort to restore industrial peace. Last-minute differences over proposed changes have arisen and President Truman now may be forced to delay his announcement of the policy.

There has been indications the White House will not issue a statement today.

However, top-level advisers of the President are striving to reach an agreement on the new differences which have developed apparently between recreation director John W. Snyder and OPA chief Chester Bowles. Snyder and Bowles have been in price agreement repeatedly over dispute policies, although it had been thought the two men had recently reached an acceptable compromise.

The modified price policy is to affect all industries currently involved in wage disputes with organized labor. It is aimed primarily, however, at effecting a quick settlement of the crippling nationwide steel strike.

Administration advisers have contended right along that settlement of the steel strike will bring about a speedy end to strikes and wage disputes in the auto, electrical and meat packing industries.

Disputants in a score or more strikes and controversies in smaller industries would be expected to fall quickly into line with the settlement of the nation's major labor troubles.

TB Association Is $300 Short Of Goal In Campaign

Mrs. Mary Rawlins of the Seminole County Tuberculosis and Health Association today thanked the people of Seminole County for their generous response to the Christmas Seal sale but added that the association is still $300 short of its goal.

This fund provides milk for tuberculosis patients and free X-rays for contacts and suspects, she said, and that it will furnish educational health films which will be shown in the schools and various gatherings. She also stated that many other services by the association would be made possible through this fund.

"There are many people who have unintentionally forgotten to mail their contributions to the association and there are others who have been thought about giving," she declared. Mrs. Rawlins urged those who have not contributed to do so and make it possible for the association to perform a vital and worthwhile program in Seminole County.

JAYCEES MEET TONIGHT

The Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its regular weekly meeting tonight at 8:00 o'clock at the City Hall. A delegation from the Ocala Junior Chamber of Commerce will be present.
