Alexander Begins Training Of Local Team's Candidates

Powerful Outfield To Make Sanford Nine Strong Contenders To Loop Pennant

The 1939 baseball season for Charlie Bradshaw's Sanford Lookouts of the Florida State League officially got underway this afternoon at 1:00 o'clock when Manager Dale Alexander, who has arranged to take over pilot duties, sent a squad of 12 men through the initial workouts.

The Lookouts, according to Manager Alexander, will workout only in the afternoons until the season begins since the Chattanooga Lookouts have use of the park in the mornings.

Power, the dream of every baseball manager during his regular nightmares after the opening of the season, appeared to be plentiful during the workout today as Sanford's hard hitting crop of prospective outfielders pounded the apple into every corner of the park. Pee Gee Souter, pint sized package of dynamite from Atlanta, did the most with his line drives but Mays Langston and Will Sheen, others who will have regular berths on the Sanford nine, showed up well.

Unless something goes wrong, the Lookouts will have the fastest and hardest hitting outfield in the league. The infield is still an unknown quantity for several places are still vacant and battles will be going on for several days before Skipper Alexander chooses regulars for these jobs.

In the infield, Alexander himself will hold down the initial corner. The second, short and third base position will be settled between Freddie Bramble, Bobby Stith, Red Marion, Oscar McClure and Whitely Campbell.

Several of the prospective infielders arrived yesterday and have not had the opportunity to display their ability before the alert eyes of manager Dale so far. However, each one is said to be fast and excellent ball players.

Officials of the Lookouts seem optimistic over the probable outcome of their struggle to sign good men for this season's team.

The hurling department, which boasted three of the league's best last season, will strengthen the club more than any other department. Slicker Sid Hudson, Cleo Jeter and Jumpy Joe Pinder will be back for another season's work on the hill. Hudson will no doubt have his usual sweeping curve ball and his fast one on top. While Pinder's hoppy fast one and his speeding curve will have opponents fooled more than once.

Pinder, although wild most of the time last season, did get in some fine pitching. Lack of control was his greatest defect but if that detail is corrected, the league had better keep its eyes open.

Jeter is in excellent condition and ready to go. Jeter may get Alexander's call for mound work Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when the locals open their exhibition schedule with the Chattanooga Lookouts.

Frank Langston, the Lookouts' general manager, said yesterday afternoon that a complete exhibition schedule would be announced in several days.

Prxy Bradshaw has let no detail undom in preparation for the opening of the season. The park is in as fine a condition now as the day it was built. The Lookouts have new stationary bleachers and a renovated grandstand with new protection screens. The playing field is in excellent shape although the outfield is still a bit sandy due to the dry weather.

The Lookouts will be one of the best dressed teams in the loop whether or not they are the best players, as Bradshaw will have them decked out in new white home uniforms of the latest styles and light gray suits for road games. These uniforms will not appear until the opening day.

NEW RELIEF BOSS

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Public Works Administrator Harold L. Ickes today appointed Harry A. Wertham acting PWA regional director for Florida, Georgia, North and South Carolina, Virginia, Alabama, Kentucky and Mississippi. Wertham's headquarters will be at Atlanta.

Slaying Of German By Jew May Bring Nazi Retaliation

Britain, moving swiftly to forestall another blow by Hitler, was understood to have asked the nine-nation declaration as a counter-suggestion to Mussolini's call for a six-power conference. Britain tentatively accepted the Soviet proposal but argued that considerable delay would be involved and that Hitler might strike again before the conference could be brought about.

As result, British diplomats in Paris, Moscow, Warsaw, Ankara, Bucharest, Belgrade, Sofia and Athens were said to have been told to seek an immediate nine-power declaration which would condemn Germany's absorption of Cascho-Slovakia and outlaw it by refusing recognition to the Nazi rule—as Britain, France, Russia and the United States already have done.

Proclaim the readiness of the nine nations, which form a ring around Germany and the nations in the path of any "drang nach Osten" (drive to the east), to oppose any new act of aggression.

Proclaim the readiness of the nine governments to remain in constant consultation with a view to organizing for "common action" in case of a new emergency.

The French government rapidly was being brought to a war footing exceeding that ordered during last September's crisis.

Soviet Russia's proposal for an immediate six-power conference—backed by the strength of a peace-time red army boasting 2,500,000 troops—would bring together Britain, France, Russia, Turkey, Rumania and Poland.

The Russians asked that the conference be held in Bucharest, as a further impressive warning to Hitler.

There were indications in some quarters that the conference, if held, might be enlarged to include Yugoslavia, Greece and Bulgaria, which are directly concerned with Rumania's late seizure of their Little Entente and Balkan Entente ties.

King Carol II last night summoned his military leaders into emergency council at the Royal Palace following unconfirmed reports that four columns of the German army were marching across Slovakia toward the Rumanian frontier.

Rumania's fears of a swift blow at her frontier, either by Germany or neighboring Hungary, led to bank hoarding and a small run on banks by depositors.

A few hours before he summoned the military council King Carol received British Minister Sir Reginald Hoare, who told him of efforts underway to form an international bloc which would support Rumania in resisting any Nazi aggression.

Increasing tension along the Rumanian-Hungarian border, and the rumors of German troop movements eastward along the Danube were aggravated by a dispatch from Budapest indicating that Chancellor Adolf Hitler had asked permission to move German troops across Hungary.

Demonstrations, and disorders in Transylvania, once Hungarian territory and hotbed of Hungarian minority demands, were reported from Oradea, Arad, Timisoara and several other villages. Rumanian officials alleged that the disorders had been fomented from the Hungarian side of the border.

The Budapest radio station was alleged to be broadcasting messages to the Hungarian minority in Rumania assuring it of "forth coming liberation."

Rumania had poured about 200,000 troops into the border areas during the last five days under a "state of readiness" and was prepared to call 2,000,000

Citrus Canners To Attack Price Law In Federal Court

(Continued From Page One) the State tribunal, Mr. Eckerson declared there were many phases of their contracts with growers which were not considered and he appeared confident that there is sufficient grounds for his company's plea for reconsideration of the contracts which he asserts protect the growers to a greater extent than do the contracts of co-operatives in that the growers are protected from total loss of his fruit. The co-operative contracts have not been contested.

At Winter Haven State Chemist J. J. Taylor said last night that he was "confident" that the Supreme Court decision of last Friday, holding invalid a "cooperative" contract used by Eckerson Grapefruit Canners, Inc., of Sanford, had "cleared the atmosphere" and that both canners and growers had conceded that the growers' cost guarantee law would stand any legal test.

He said that investigation yesterday had indicated that there was a general compliance with the law throughout the canning branch of the industry.

Taylor added that reports coming into his office had shown that the statement issued by Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo last Saturday, warning canners that the law would be strictly enforced had taken effect "right where the commissioner intended."

In the meantime there were indications throughout this section last night that there would be litigation before the citrus commission in its meeting in Lakeland today, seeking to set up a "canning grade" under the 32-cent price pegging plan allowing canners to buy that type fruit at less than the figure set as the "average reasonable cost of production". The consensus was that 25 cents would be the maximum to be suggested for the canning grade.

Action On Labor Law Hearings Is Delayed For Week

(Continued From Page One) members who voted to delegate further congressional authority to the President through this measure would be "kept home" in 1940, and "I'm not so sure that they should be."

Author of an amendment, bitterly opposed by the administration, which retains in congress the veto power over Presidential projects dealing with reorganization of federal bureaus and agencies, Wheeler said:

"The American people are sick and tired of congress outstripping its legislative functions to the executive. If you think that they are, look at the November election returns. And I believe that those of you who voted for this bill as it is, will be kept at home next year. I'm not so sure that they shouldn't be."

Republicans across the aisle met to the colors under general mobilization if necessary.

Members of the second army corps stationed in Stuchinast awaited momentary call to the colors as Carol met with his defense leaders.

Hungary was understood to have about 500,000 soldiers on war footing, many of them along the border areas.

At the same time Rumania sought to offset her new economic concessions to Germany by pushing through a trade agreement with Soviet Russia in an effort to preserve as much neutrality as possible in the face of Hitler's drive along the Danube toward the Black Sea.

The election of officers and a discussion of legislative matters sponsored by the Jaycees will be the highlights of the program for the regular meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the Valdez Hotel tonight at 7:00 o'clock, according to President James Rowland, Jr.

A party of checker players from Orlando will be the guests at the weekly meeting of the Chess and Checker Club in the Valdez Hotel tonight at 7:30 o'clock, according to an announcement today by J. R. Stewart. All interested in checkers are invited to attend the meeting.

checked. They have adopted virtually the same strategy they used in the fight against the court bill and have allowed the Democrats to fight the issue out among themselves. The Democratic lineup against the bill is similar to that which beat down the court proposal, but last night it appeared that the vote on the Wheeler amendment would be close.

In its present form, the bill provides that reorganization proposals prepared by the President are to become law if both houses do not reject them within 60 days of the time they are offered. Wheeler's amendment would require affirmative action within 20 days of submission of the plans to congress if they are to become law.

FILIPINO POPULATION UP

MANILA, P. I., —(AP)—The population of the Philippine islands is probably between 11,000,000 and 18,000,000, says Hurley, census adviser, has reported to commonwealth officials. The population of Manila has doubled in the last 20 years, he said, and now stands at about 600,000.

With a total population of some 130,000,000, there are in the United States 118,000,000 insurance policies of all types, 42,000,000 savings accounts, and 14,000,000 family-owned homes.

A survey indicated the use of machinery displaced 20,000 families from farms in Texas during 1937.

The most prominent mountains visible on the moon are a range 456 miles long known as the Apennines.

It takes the planet Neptune 165 years to travel its orbit around the sun.

Commission Hears Reports Of Price Law Violations

(Continued From Page One) ture an agreement among Florida citrus men, launched plans to collect money to regulate this year's crop and make surveys so as to start early next fall on the 1939-1940 fruit.

Thomas B. Swann of Winter Haven was elected chairman; H. L. Pringle of Leesburg, vice chairman, and Harry L. Askew of Lakeland, secretary.

Committeemen suggested one-quarter of a cent assessment on each of the approximately 10,000 boxes of fruit to be shipped during the remainder of the season. They did not act this figure finally, however, but called a meeting for Friday morning to settle this and other details.

R. J. Kepler of Deland, a member of the committee, said most growers expected little results from the federal marketing agreement until it included again control of volume—proportion of the amount of fruit that may be shipped from the state.

Work Relief Or Dole Again Is In Controversy

Congress Is Given Old Question For Reconsideration

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—(AP)—Work relief or the dole for the unemployed millions?

The President and Congress come once again to that same old question that plagued the nation in the dark days of 1932 and has remained to plague it ever since.

Dress them up, garish them any way you will, but the hot words about relief and economy crowding onto page one of your newspaper these days add up to just that issue. There's simply no way around it.

Thumb back fast through eight swift years of relief history in the United States and you'll see why.

In 1932 Congress avoided the issue temporarily by providing a quick $500,000,000 for the relief bill in the various states, thus passing the buck to 48 other governments. The states by and large passed it on to the localities. The counties and cities made no bones about the choice. They picked the dole, because it was cheaper and simpler. And the dole it still is in most states, counties and cities, whether they call it general relief, direct relief, or any other name.

In 1933 Congress faced the question again. This time the nation had shown a dislike for the dole. Even though cities clung to it so money would go farther per unemployed citizen, it was not the preferred way. The national lawmakers, therefore, chose work relief, despite its higher cost, and confirmed the precedent in semi-permanent WPA two years later.

In the Federal Government, it has been work relief ever since.

Gradually two pools of unemployed citizens formed at the bottom of the economic ladder.

One was the work relief pool, sponsored by the WPA. Into it went citizens conforming to an unemployed standard labelled "employables". The "employables" are cared for to the limit of federal funds at a cost varying around the $200,000,000 annually. Just now there are about 3,000,000 persons in that pool, with more than twice that many dependent on them.

In the other pool are the dole-ees. They include all the destitute who can't work, and the WPA waiting list of employables as well. Just now there are about 1,500,000 persons in this less desirable pool, with many more dependents.

The fellow on the dole gets an average of $23 a month, depending on the state or city he lives in. The fellow on relief receives an average monthly wage of $32.50. It costs little more than $25 a month to keep a man on the dole, at that rate. But it costs $75 a month (including wages and materials), to furnish a man with work relief. Therefore, the dole is the way of rigid economy; it makes a dollar go a long way. Work relief is the way of higher cost and greater satisfaction.

As times get better, the population of those two pools may dwindle some, perhaps a few hundred thousand by June 30. But the actual number doesn't affect the fundamental.

If the President gets the $150,000,000 he has asked for to carry WPA in the end of the fiscal year on June 30, that will merely mean the federal pool will be kept just as full, proportionately, as it now is. There will be no change in the Congressional policy to furnish work relief to employables.

But if Congress does not vote the money, then people turned away by the Federal Government will simply drain back into the dole pool operated by the states, counties, and cities. Intentionally or otherwise, Congress will be leaning toward the dole.

That's why a mere $18,000,000 in these times of billion-dollar demands is so important. It is a small fraction of economy at hand from the national debt to provide the statutory money to finance also the problem of trying to give unemployed workers a job.

There are questions Congressmen will be worrying about when they vote on that $154,000,000. There is work relief versus the dole versus economy.

Memel Is Added To Expanding Germany

Lithuania Surrenders Principal Port After Nazi Threats To Occupy Country

Hoare Proposes League Meeting

Nations In Southeast Europe Have Troops On Every Frontier

Adolf Hitler today wrested Memel from Lithuania—his second territorial prize within a week, marked by mounting European tension. Tiny Lithuania yielded to Nazi pressure by ceding the Memel territory bordering Germany's northeastern frontier along the Baltic.

Although the Memel seizure itself brought little opposition, home secretary Sir Samuel Hoare told the British house of commons the government was considering calling a special meeting of the League of Nations to consider Germany's rapid expansion.

The cabinet discussed a proposed "stop Hitler" bloc of nations which would include France, Poland, Soviet Russia and Britain. Hitler is taking over Memel, added 1,000 square miles with a predominantly German population of 150,000 to his rapidly growing empire which was swollen a week ago with the absorption of Czech-Slovakia and a year ago by the annexation of Austria.

Lithuania lost her principal port and a territory increasingly troublesome since Nazi ideology fills the air.

Nations of southeast Europe had troops on virtually every border fearful of development. Rumania in particular kept a watchful eye on Hungarian and Bulgarian frontiers. France bolstered military preparations, while Italy in a statement by Premier Mussolini warned joint action to halt the Rome-Berlin axis might cause war.

It was reported in Kaunas, Lithuania capital, that Hitler had threatened to occupy the entire country if Memel were not handed over.

Sir Samuel Hoare said in his commons' speech in London that Germany had threatened military action if demands were not met.

Rumania had night called up several classes of military reserves to "counter-balance" similar measures in neighboring countries, following unannounced reports of a clash between Hungarian and Rumanian troops on the Grassyvank frontier.

The partial mobilization of Hungary was reported.

Jax Air Base Site Is Again Navy's Choice

$15,000,000 Project May Be Included In Naval Base Bill

WASHINGTON, Mar. 22.—(AP)—The Navy again chose Jacksonville today as the best site for a new air base.

Reaffirming a former recommendation, the Hepburn naval base chose the North Florida location over determined bids from Miami and other southeastern cities. The decision was read to the House naval committee by a clerk.

The development gave the southeastern facility a good chance of inclusion in the omnibus naval base bill, now before the Senate naval committee.

As before, the board recommended establishment of a supplement base on Banana River near Cocoa. The cost of the smaller base was estimated at $1,500,000, while the Jacksonville base would cost $15,000,000.

The board recommended construction to begin immediately.

WPA Probe Is Requested By House Group

Georgia Representative Is Author Of Proposal Given Overwhelming Vote

WASHINGTON, Mar. 22.—(AP)—The House Rules Committee today approved a resolution directing the Appropriations Committee to make "thorough investigation" of the Works Progress Administration. The members said the Rules Committee voted overwhelmingly for the proposal.

Rep. Cox (D-Ga.) is author of the measure, which may be brought before the House later in the week. It contains no references to particular points, but the inquiry should touch upon:

The House Appropriations Committee approved the $185,672,028 deficiency bill for "critical" Army equipment and seacoast defenses.

The Senate debated the move to reverse the 46-43 vote by which it sharply limited the president's powers under the house-approved government reorganization bill.

Legislation designed to "fix the profits out of war" by a drastic step-up in incomes taxes was introduced in Congress yesterday by 50 Senators and four Representatives.

Senator Bone (D-Wash.) who offered the Senate the bill bearing more than enough signatures to pass it through that chamber said the legislation would "make it impossible for any human being to profit in case of war."

Bone explained that, in case of war, taxes on individual incomes would range as high as 93 percent of net income, in excess of $20,000, with a similar step-up in corporation income.

The legislation has been advocated for several years by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and other civic and peace groups.

The bill was entitled a measure "to tax the profits out of war by steeply graduated income and other taxes, in order to provide for an effective national defense, to promote peace and encourage national unity, to discourage war profiteering, to distribute the burden of war, and to keep democracy alive."

Senators Andrews and Pennington were among those signing the proposal.

Judge Akerman To Consider Price Peg Law Tomorrow

Mayo Will Withdraw Active Enforcement Until Ruling

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 22.—(AP)—County Attorney of Agriculture Nathan Mayo said today the future of the Florida 32-cent tax minimum price for grapefruit depended upon a decision by Federal Judge Akerman of Tampa in a case filed by Canner organizations contesting the law.

Akerman is to consider the case tomorrow.

Mayo said he had decided to withhold active enforcement of the price schedule until Akerman makes a decision.

Fourteen other grapefruit canners joined C. H. Eckerson of this city in a federal court attack on Florida's fruit growers' cost guarantee law.

He said the state supreme court recently "evaded this issue" when it passed on a case involving contracts his firm made with grapefruit growers. Hence, he declared, the canners will take the question before Federal Judge Akerman.

Most canning plants close when the minimum price law went into effect. Eckerson's plant and some others made contracts to handle fruit for the growers without actually buying it. The supreme court said this form of contract violated the intent of the minimum price program.

Plans for participation of the local part in the State convention to be held in Fort Lauderdale, Apr. 12 to 15 were made following the election and a number of those attending the meeting expressed intentions of attending the affair, according to Commander Webstater. Plans were also discussed for raising funds to send the Sons of the Legion Drum and Bagge Corps to the convention. Attractive uniforms are being made for the corps.

$50,000 WPA Street Repair Project Submitted By City

Monday evening Mayor Edward Higgins and City Clerk H. N. Sayer signed a $50,000 WPA application for 18 1/2 blocks of repaving and widening of the City streets.

With the City now acting as sponsor for the project the application will be forwarded to the Daytona Beach district office of the Public Works Administration for their approval before sending it on to the regional office in Jacksonville and thence to Washington if approved in the district and regional offices.

Outlining the activities, accomplishments and aims of the American Legion in its 20 years of existence, State Commander William T. Comer, of Orlando, was the principal speaker at the anniversary meeting of the Campbell-Lossing Post Monday night. George Weinstein was also named commander of the post for another year during the election of officers.

Observing the 20th birthday of the organization, a large number of local legionnaires turned out for the dinner-meeting and heard the State Commander compliment highly the achievements of the local post.

The annual election followed the anniversary program and those named to offices for the ensuing year were: Mr. Weinstein, commander; E. A. Montfort, first vice commander; Joel Fields, second vice commander; Fred Kelly, third vice commander; R. W. Deane, adjutant; J. O. Huff, finance officer; the Rev. J. B. Root, chaplain; L. F. The purpose of the affair, it was pointed out, will be to raise funds to send a delegate to the Legislature in an effort to get an open season on spring in this County. A small admission will be charged for both the barbecue at 1:30 P. M. and dance which will last until midnight.

There will be several speakers during the afternoon, including an official from the State Conservation Board in Tallahassee. A special invitation was extended County officials.

Huge Cost Of Crime Cited By Chapman

Prison Head Says Enforcement Of Laws Costs Floridians 12-Million Annually

Suggestions Made For Crime Curb

Talk Made At Combined Meet Of Rotary, Lions And Kiwanis

Four recommendations for the elimination of "The Luxury of Crime" were presented by L. F. Chapman, superintendent of the State Prison Farm at Raiford, at a combined supper meeting of the Kiwanis, Lions, and Rotary clubs at the Mayfair Hotel last night.

Mr. Chapman said that crime costs the people of Florida $12,000,000 a year, or three times as much as the actual cost of operating the constitutional branches of State government, and that while the courts, the sheriff's, the police departments and the detective agencies are powerless to prevent crime, the people of the State themselves are in a position to stop it, if they want to.

Prior to Mr. Chapman's address George Rollins, president of the Rotary Club, was presided, introduced John Melchior, Jr., president of the Lions Club, Dr. H. D. Caswell, president of the Kiwanis Club, and O. P. Herndon, who in turn presented County Commissioner W. B. Ballard, J. E. Patten, F. A. Dyan, O. J. Pore, W. G. Kilgus, and County Attorney R. F. Haskins.

Mr. Chapman commended the spirit of good fellowship which he had found in Sanford as exemplified by the meeting together of these three civic clubs and Rotary, and also praised the beauty of the surrounding countryside. The rotary field, he said, provide one of the show spots of the State.

The State of Florida has $2,200,000 invested in plant and equipment at Raiford. Mr. Chapman declared, adding that this investment covers some 17 shops and factories, 1,500 acres of farm land, 1,000 head of beef cattle, and 200 dairy cows. The average prison population, he said, consists of about 1,800 persons.

Being that "crime collects," and that every person in the State pays his share of the $12,000,000 a month revenue crime toll, Mr. Chapman listed the cost of court houses, salaries of judges, sheriff, police and State attorneys, the loss of productive power among criminals, their destructive power while engaged in their illegal activities, and the rehabilitation essential to carrying for their families, as part of the cost of crime.

The four recommendations for the prevention of crime were listed as follows: 1—the development of a greater sense of responsibility to the public among the legal profession; 2—the treatment of crime impersonally by the public; 3—the training of young people not to be delinquents; 4—a change in the idea of the value of money.

Stressing the fact that his remarks were not directed at all lawyers, but at what he called a "5 percent minority," Mr. Chapman declared that some attorneys connive with criminals to defeat the law even before the crime is committed. Then, instead of helping the jury toward clear and accurate thinking with respect to the case, they seek to belabor the minds of the jurors, to falsify the evidence, and confuse the issues, so as to free their client and defeat the aims of justice.

Mr. Chapman said he did not deny to any man the right of a fair trial or representation in court.
