

Leagues To Change Training Camps If Becomes Necessary

By JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK, Dec. 16. (AP)—The major leagues Tuesday reiterated their hope that they could go through with training camps in Florida and California even though some of the clubs said they were already considering alternate arrangements in line with a government hint that they be prepared to move their Spring bases.

SEMINOLE COUNTY SCHOOL NEWS

The Senators have minor league affiliates in both cities. Griffith recalled that the Senators trained for five years at Charlottesville, Va., which he said was "all right, but a little cold." He pointed out that he already had pared the original training mileage of his club 80 percent.

Football Sponsors

The eyes of the crowd were turned expectantly to the right end of the football field during the half, longing to get a glimpse of the sponsors chosen out of the senior girls by the Celery-Fed football team to preside over their Home-Coming Game against Leesburg.

Japanese Ordered To Hold Positions In New Guinea To Last Man

Statement Issued Before Big Allied Assaults In Buna And Gona Sectors

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—Navy divebombers striking at Japanese ships in the Solomons hit and damaged one enemy destroyer on cruiser, the Navy reported today. While flying fortresses engaged and destroyed 12 Japanese Zero fighters, nearly an entire force of Zeros which attacked the fortresses destroyed one fortress whose crew was rescued. One divebomber failed to return. This brought to 112 the number of Japanese ships announced sunk or damaged in the Solomons.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS in Australia, Dec. 17. (AP)—Captured Japanese intelligence officers told Emperor Hirohito gave orders to troops on Nov. 28 to hold their New Guinea positions to the last man. The order was given after the Emperor heard of the pounding his men were getting from MacArthur's soldiers in the battle preceding the capture of Buna and Gona by the Allies.

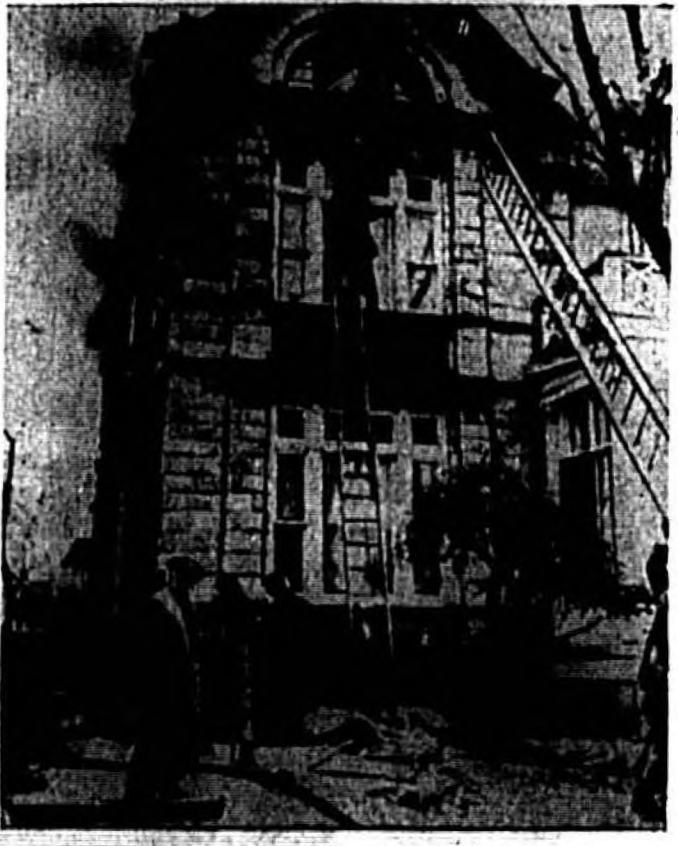

In the Buna area of New Guinea, Allied soldiers are fiercely engaging the Japanese in three main pockets of resistance. There is heavy fighting at the Buna government station, the Buna military camp, and the Japanese base at the Buna river mouth, where many of the Japanese soldiers were reported slaughtered.

It was believed that only a small proportion of the men brought to the area in a Japanese convoy Monday made strenuous attempts to land their scattered stores. They tried to swim to shores with floating barrels and drums of fuel and other supplies but these made an easy target for the airmen for the Japanese had marked the equipment with white and blue flags.

Other Allied airmen dumped a number of 500-pound bombs on the drome at Lae, New Guinea, and a dozen 500-pounders on the Japanese airfield at Gasmata, New Britain. Of 12 Japanese planes which met the Gasmata attack, five were reported shot down or disabled by one four-engine B-24 "Liberator" bomber.

These reports said two Japanese planes crashed in the sea and disappeared in flames beneath the clouds and parts flew off two others.

Army Needs To Keep Production Control

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson said Wednesday that the United States must keep the war if the Army is deprived of its control over military production.

Patterson expressed his views in a statement to the Senate committee investigating the national defense program. Civilian agencies, he said, must have charge of providing materials, of directing their flow to the proper places, and of seeing that enough is turned out for military production.

Soviets Smash New Offensive On Stalingrad

Russians Disclose Capture Of Five More Strongholds West Of Rzhev

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS: In a correlated squeeze against the Axis, the Red army today smashed a big Nazi winter-offensive southwest of Stalingrad and captured five more strongholds west of Rzhev. Elsewhere along a 1000-mile segment of the snow-covered front from the Soviets closed a breach in their lines south of Stalingrad, overran inhabited points in a sudden advance in the Moudok area of the Caucasus and dislodged the enemy from a base point west of Rzhev, the midnight communique announced.

German counter-attacks, continued on both the central and southern fronts, but once again they were repulsed and more than 100 enemy officers and men were killed, the communique reported.

The newly-captured town in the Don loop, lay west of Surovino, itself 14 miles due west of Stalingrad on the east-west railway linking the Volga city with the Moscow-Rostov line.

Full-Scale Fighting Resumed In Tunisia-Bizerte Sector As Monsoons Slacken

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS: The British eighth army has cut Marshal Rommel's retreating African Corps columns in two along the road to Tripoli trapping armored formations already heavily mauled and suffering heavy casualties, the British announced today.

Indications are again strong that the Allies have won mastery over the air in Tunisia. It is reported that the impending major assault will be met in the Tunis-Bizerte area of Tunisia as attacking formations engaged a swift renewal of the unbroken fighting.

Meanwhile, a dispatch from Winston Churchill, Associated Press correspondent with the Allied forces in Tunisia, said the Allied forces had strongly fortified the area of Medjer El Bab, 35 miles southwest of Tunis, and a major battle for Tunisia was shaping up.

The British command in Cairo announced that its forward forces were being actively impeded by the German armor. The British command in Cairo announced that its forward forces were being actively impeded by the German armor.

THUMBNAILED HISTORY OF U. S. ARMY DIVISIONS

ELEVENTH DIVISION
 The Eleventh Division, less artillery, was organized at Camp Meade, Maryland, in August, 1918. The 24th Field Artillery Brigade was organized and based at West Point, Kentucky. The 17th and 8th Infantry were organizations of the Regular Army, but all units were made up largely of drafted men. The Division was prepared for departure overseas in November, 1918, when the signing of the Armistice stopped all further troop movement. Major General James M. Carter was assigned to its command. Except for Regular Army units it was demobilized in February, 1919. Its insignia is a hand of Leda with a blue serpent around a red disk.

TWELFTH DIVISION
 The Twelfth (Plymouth) Division, composed largely of drafted men from the New England States with a nucleus of men from regular units, was organized at Camp Devens, Massachusetts, in August, 1917, and sent to the front lines in France in November, 1918. The Division was prepared for departure overseas in November, 1918, when the signing of the Armistice stopped all further troop movement. Major General James M. Carter was assigned to its command. The Division was demobilized in February, 1919. Its insignia is a blue diamond upon which is superimposed the figure 12, placed by a bayonet.

TWENTY-SIXTH DIVISION
 The Twenty-sixth Division, popularly known as the "Texas Division," was organized in Boston in August, 1917, from National Guard units of the New England States supplemented by a small quota of Regular Army men. It arrived overseas in August, 1917, and went to the front lines in France in November, 1918. It was demobilized in February, 1919. Its insignia is a red cross on a white background.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DIVISION
 The Twenty-eighth (Laysan) Division, composed of troops of the Hawaiian Islands, was organized at Camp Meade, Maryland, in August, 1918. It arrived overseas in August, 1918, and went to the front lines in France in November, 1918. It was demobilized in February, 1919. Its insignia is a red cross on a white background.

Mrs. Dewey Looks At Her Life In Terms of Jobs

By ADELAIDE KEHR
 AP Features Writer
 MRS. THOMAS DEWEY, the wife of the New York governor, has led a life in terms of jobs. And she loves her.
 Her job is being wife and mother in the Thomas E. Dewey family.
 She manages the Dewey household—a 20-acre milk farm near Pawling, N. Y. There is the big colonial house and its hostess at the gatherings there. She has her own marketing plan, the meals, the two boys—Thomas, 10, and John Martin, 7. Answers all her own letters which bring her flocks of requests. Besides that she reads and discusses the books she reads and discusses the problems with them.
 To that composite family job she will add two more after January 1: those of being the governor's wife and mistress of the executive mansion in Albany. But she has nothing to say about that new life or any plans she has for it.
 "My husband's plans are my plans," she said with a smile when I called on her in New York after Dewey's election. "They are his, but I don't want my children to be apart from other women at all."
 Mrs. Dewey has not the slightest desire for the spotlight. She does not make a flashy story, but she must make a wonderful companion. She likes people so much that she even enjoys the campaign.
 She has a lovely face, a warm smile and a pair of pretty little feet. Add to that a friendly charm which will be worth a lot when she becomes mistress of the executive mansion. Add a sense of humor which bubbles through her speech.
 She was born Frances Hitt in Sherman, Tex., and was schooled there and in Dallas, Okla. Early in her teens music became her greatest interest and at 16 she came to New York to study singing. A summer session at Chicago Musical College brought her and Tom Dewey together. And so it fell the young law student came to New York to complete his study of music and law.
 A few years later, Frances Hitt gave up her dream of a concert career to marry young lawyer Dewey and keep house in a little uptown flat.
 "As Thomas Dewey climbed from the ranks of the southern district attorney to the presidential nomination Mrs. Dewey went quietly and smilingly along. After 14 years of marriage, she says with a smile: "I didn't get a very early start. He had lived 21 long years before I met him." Piano music still fills a big place in her life. Her relaxation time is to play a difficult piece, which she does with ease and skill.
 She likes clothes, too, and wears charming, simple ones to suit herself. She doesn't waste any time at all. Take the shopping trip she made the day she and the governor-elect left for Georgia vacation after the campaign. She drove into town in the morning, bought a hat, dress, shoes, took them next door to the tailor and sewers at a haberdashery for alterations, and left on the two o'clock train that afternoon.
 In 1918 there were about 30 Thomas Jeffersons in often called government agencies, as com- the postfather of the U. S. Married with 81 today.

RIGHTS OUT?

When This Happens In Your Home . . . These Few Pointers Will Help You Solve the Trouble!

1. TRACE THE CAUSE. When a fuse "blows out" a faulty appliance or a frayed or defective cord may be the reason. Trace the cause and disconnect the lamp or appliance.

2. REPLACE THE FUSE. Replacing a "blown out" fuse is as simple as replacing a lamp bulb. Simply follow the directions below. Better get a supply of extra fuses and keep them handy. Be sure the family cord or appliance is repaired before it is put back into service.

Daily Exercises Are Fine To Gird Youths In Wartime

By MARSHALL KERNOLKE

 WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. Many boys might have a long time during their four-minute drill that they can't do anything but sit and wait for their bodies in flight.
 (Special races, however, are not to become as familiar to high school boys and girls tomorrow as they were yesterday.)
 A lot of this program is to be given necessary American boys have gone far away from the platoon. Army officers, advising the Office of Education in preparation of this physical fitness program, said:
 "American youths do not have the ability to live comfortably and safely in open country."
 The War Labor Board ruled Tuesday it had no power to decide whether private, voluntary state or municipal agencies and their employees should be required to be able to do physical work. The board's decision was reached in three days in which the board had to decide whether to order the employers to pay for the cost of the physical fitness program. Lost Footprints
(From The Washington Star)
The little women
Arrive at night,
Dettling tall towers
With sporadic light.
Albac corridors,
Door strung on door,
Jankknifing knees,
Eyes to the floor,
The little women
On soaped hand rail,
Gather lost footprints
Into a pall.

Someone has said that the pub-what we are fighting for. But perhaps we had better postpone that battle until we finish this one.

Folk who think that the early victories in the African fighting presage an early end to the war should consider the words of Secretary Stimson who says that the main Allied offensive is yet to come. When the Axis has been finally driven from North Africa, the continent of Europe will remain to be invaded.

If your Life and Time don't come on time this week, it may be because of a strike affecting Donnelly & Sons, an open shop, handling part of the working of printing these great magazines.
If Donnelly would fire all those not belonging to the union, replace them with unavailable union labor, Life and Time would arrive as usual.

Five million newspaper readers are going without their news

The great and mighty New York Times, Herald Tribune and other newspapers, have been struck down like straw men by the newspaper ratic people must have facts, must have newspapers, if it is to remain democratic.

Christmas is getting nearer that there are only twelve more shopping days before the important growing scarcer. — Melbourne six more shopping days.

The State-wide Agricultural Labor Committee says there is plenty of labor in Florida if it can be induced to work. But why should colored women used to working in the fields continue to labor when their sons in the Army send home $50 a month?
Why should men who can make more in three days than they need to make in six, labor for six full days when they can't spend the money already hanging in their pockets? That is the real problem in an industrial campaign to increase the public that only if workers work can we hope to win the war.

Some of the unemployment

Before Hitler

Germany has been unfortunate in her national heroes.
Before Hitler, who seems to have been highly acceptable to his people as long as he was winning, his people's great idol was their Chancellor from 1863 to 1890, Count Otto von Bismarck.

Bismarck unified Germany. That is an achievement for which Germans will praise him. Others cannot forget that his was, in his own words, a policy of "blood and iron." Honorable scruples were as foreign to him as to Hitler.
He made a pretext for the Franco-Prussian war by falsifying a telegram. Liberty was an ideal despised by both Hitler and Bismarck.

His merit, as far as the world as a whole is concerned, was his prudence. He knew when Germany had gained enough, and when he had brought her to the top of the European pile, he sought no further adventures. The last 19 years of his rule were years in which his main effort was to keep the peace, and millions might well thank him for that. But it was policy, not conviction. His harshness cuts a poor figure beside the uprightness of Washington and the magnanimity of Lincoln.

One problem that the peacemakers must solve is how the Germans can be persuaded to worship a different kind of hero.

For Happier Racial Relations

The Valdosta (Ga.) Times publishes the text of a resolution adopted by a committee of Negro citizens of that community and presented to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce of Valdosta that is worthy of special attention at this time when certain elements among both Negroes and whites are trying to stir up racial hatreds in the South.

"We, a committee of colored citizens of Valdosta," the resolution reads, "make the following recommendations for your consideration and discussion:
"We have carefully and prayerfully studied the problems with which we are faced in this present crisis, and find that they are many.
"Our first thought is the labor problem, and we wish to recommend the following:
"We will double our efforts in encouraging our people in all public meetings which will be designated to create an enthusiasm to inspire our people throughout Lowndes County to double their efforts in the field of agriculture and industry, so as to prosecute the war on to victory with a greater speed.

"We suggest a publicity committee composed of the colored ministers and school teachers throughout the county to keep this all-out work program before the public and emphasize the all-out work effort for the safety of our country.
"Furthermore, we wish to State that in some way it should be worked out that these workers will get a guarantee as to the market value of their over-production and that the wages in our industries will be enough for the laborers to be satisfied.
"We wish to say that at the discretion of the employer, we will offer a speaker at the plant or any other place available to enlighten and encourage our group.
"We have given this our serious thinking as related to the colored boys, who have been sent away for service in the United States Army and the alarming percentage of them that have been returned. We feel that something should be done about this at once. These men that have been returned to our county for venereal diseases should be forced to take treatment until they are pronounced well by a physician. We suggest that the men with these diseases be incarcerated as much as as these women in our city. To let them run around here loose is dangerous, and we are urging the city and county to get a check on these men, and see to it that they are treated for these diseases. Gentlemen, this is urgent and we want something done about it.
"We find that we need a truant officer here to see to it that the colored children go to school from the age of 6 to 16 years so as to reduce the illiteracy in our county. We are informed that some of these men have been returned to us on account of illiteracy. We do know that the better educated our citizens are, the better they are prepared to serve their country. They make first, better law-abiding citizens, better workers and better soldiers. We suggest that an officer be appointed by our city to see to it that these children, who are laying out of school, get in school and stop running the streets during the hours of school.
If this meets the directors' approval, will they recommend the same to the city authorities.
"The lack of sewerage and running water in housing is a feeder to the diseases among our group. If these were remedied, living conditions would be so much better among our group. The best way to fight disease is with cleanliness. We wish you to give this your serious consideration."
That is the kind of enlightened approach to common problems in the South that deserves sympathetic attention.
It is typical of the intelligence we have noted on other occasions that the colored people of that section are handling their problems. It is the kind that brings the utmost efforts on the part of the white people toward fairness and energetic treatment of common problems.—Times-Union.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

BY RUSSELL KAY
The thought advanced some time ago that it might be possible to hold the coming legislative session to 30 days, while receiving general approval from public and press, failed to gain momentum or arouse any enthusiasm when the legislature group gathered for Homecoming in Gainesville.

It appears, however, that the issue is far from dead and that certain members of the legislature are sincere in their desire to effect every possible economy.
In a recent letter to Speaker Designate Richard H. Simpson, T.
Franklin West, representative from Santa Rosa county, points out that the situation responsible for waste of time is the enormous amount of political trading and maneuvering resulting from the efforts of individuals to shove bills or complete programs.

State City and County officials and various groups of citizens concerned with their own special interests are largely responsible.
One of the favorite practices, West contends, particularly in connection with bills of vital importance and which are apt to have wide approval, has been to withdraw the bill or legislative proposal on the day of its introduction and then attempt to shove it through at a time when members are preoccupied with other bills of less importance. The most important feature of the session are not given proper or careful consideration.

West expresses the belief that if this suggestion is carried out it would be possible for the legislature to complete its work in 30 days and at the same time insure all important measures being given the proper consideration both by the legislature and the public.
Lomas Trotter, representative from Marion county, followed West with an alternative suggestion in a letter to Speaker Designate Simpson last week.
Expressing himself in hearty agreement with the latter's suggestion, Trotter questions the possibility of arranging a special session of the legislature which would fall on individual members of the legislature, but would include all bills of importance and of vital importance to the state.

CAPTAIN OF INFANT-TREE AWAITS ORDERS!

rights to come extent would be prejudicial thereby. Why not promulgate a rule, upon convening the legislature, that no bills could be introduced after a lapse of 21 days from the date of convening? This procedure would obviate the necessity of a preliminary caucus, and still would permit ample time for the introduction of bills with as much time as needed for debate. Also it would be possible to wind up the session in a shorter time than it has heretofore required.
Trotter said that his suggestion was made in view of the present restrictions on travel facilities and was "in no wise intended to obstruct the very good suggestion of Mr. West." Speaker Designate Simpson has given ample evidence of his sincere desire to attend every possible session of the legislature, and it is gratifying to find individual members of the House concerning themselves in the same direction for suggestions advanced by both West and Trotter deserve careful consideration, not only from legislative members but from citizens and taxpayers as well.
Anyone familiar with legislative sessions knows that there is plenty of room for improvement both from the standpoint of time saving and the economy of operation. If the people really WANT such action and make their want known to their representatives, they will get them. But if they remain indifferent and fail to give evidence of their interest, in all probability the coming session will follow the pattern of those which have preceded it, despite the sincere efforts of a few legislators to bring about a change.
What the coming legislature does and what it costs is as much your problem and mine as it is the problem of those who have voted to represent us. The time to think about it is NOW. Talk it over with your Senator and Representative, get their reaction, and at the same time make your wishes known.

Knapp Says State To Be Free From Ticks
TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 17.— (PNS)—Dr. J. V. Knapp, secretary of the State Livestock Sanitary Board, expressed the belief this week that within a year Florida would be a tick-free state.
The 20-year fight to rid the state of cattle ticks has now reached the stage where the pest is confined to a limited area and work is now progressing in the Bermole Indian reservation of Collier and Hendry counties where deer are being exterminated to prevent spread of the tick. The board estimates that $5,000 will be sufficient to complete the program. Plans are being made to treat the area with deer after the tick has been exterminated and $50,000 was appropriated by the last legislature for this purpose.
Monthly attendance in USO clubs has now passed the 7,000, 000 mark.

Farmer Thinks Aerial Bombing Has Started

CHICKASAW, Okla., Dec. 17 (AP)—Hoot Tucker thought the day of aerial bombing had struck in Oklahoma.
He was shuckling corn and minding his own business on a farm near Tabler when there was a terrific blast nearby, a big hole was torn in the ground, and flames spouted 20 feet high.
Tucker's team ran away. He admitted he felt like doing the same thing but he had to investigate, found a high-pressure natural gas line had burst.

Soldier Thinks Of Way Out Of Army

CAMP UPTON, L. I. Dec. 17. (AP)—This soldier thought he had an easy way to get out of the Army. One of the camp's chaplains saw him in civilian clothes on a bus, on his way home. Asked where he was going, the soldier said: "I got up this morning and I told the sergeant I had been in the Army 12 days and that I was tired of it and wanted to go home. The sergeant said, 'Get out of here.' So I did."

Texas Team Has Come Long Way From Beginning Of '38 Season

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
 AP Features
 AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 16.—The University of Texas, as champion of Southwest Conference football, is going to play Georgia Tech in the Cotton Bowl.

A far cry from a certain blue Monday in October of 1938. Dana H. Bible sat at his office in the huge Gregory gym, before him a stack of letters and telegrams.

A few of them were sympathetic; most of them were harshly critical of Bible and his Texas football team that had just been slaughtered by Arkansas—42 to 5.

Texas hadn't won a game and could hardly hope to win one. It was the all-time low in Longhorn football.

The chunky, ball-headed man had a grim, drawn face.

"This is going to be a long, hard fight," he said, "but I say to you we are going to win it."

There was chagrin and stubbornness and a note of prophecy in the face of this disappointed man, who a year and a half before had left his husky Cornhuskers at Nebraska to start from the bottom building Texas' depleted football fortunes.

So Bible built from the ground up. He had what he and everyone else thought his masterpiece in 1941. It was called "the greatest team in Southwest Conference history," but it stumbled in the stretch and lost the championship and a fling at Rose Bowl glory.

Well, the other day Bible stood on the sidelines and screamed: "We did it, we did it!" His Texas team had just finished beating Texas A. and M. for the conference championship, the brilliant, erratic outfit of 1941 could not attain.

It's not a sensational team—one that spurts. It's a team that does the hard way. Even in its greatest triumph—the defeat of Texas A. and M. Thanksgiving Day—the team had to do it that way. It came ripping and snorting into a tough Aggie line. Once it was stopped but back it came.

Sparkplug of the team is Roy McKay, a 190-pound fullback who led the conference in ground gaining and ranked with the best punters and passers. But there also are Jackie Field, a speed demon; Max Minor, another trackman halfback; and Spot Collins, a great blocker and defensive man. The line is a thing of beauty—Audrey Gill, center; Harold Fischer and Jack Freeman, guards; Stan Mauldin and Zuchl Conley, tackles; Wally Scott and Joe Schwartzing, ends. And there is reserve strength to burn.

Georgia Tech may beat Texas in the Cotton Bowl but it will know it's been in a ball game. "The finish is what counts," says Dana Bible.

Grid Officials In '52 Will Have To Be Fast, Smart

By ELLIOTT CHAZE
 AP Features
 NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 16.—Your football official of 1952 will be something between a grab-hound and a quiz kid, notable because of the pioneering of R. Hutchens, a crusty little Floridian who heads the Southern Football Officials' Association.

That, at least, is the opinion of Johnny Lynch, perhaps the No. 1 referee of the Southeastern Conference. "The men who run the game are getting younger and faster and smarter all the time," says the 36-year-old Lynch, who breaks from his sea of referees every year.

At 27, Hutchens is a young man, but he has been on a competitive basis for years to pass speed tests, mental examinations and a road test. Lynch of the Louisiana State University and only Lynch is allowed to get an annual license rating and only Lynch is allowed to referee a game when any adult male could be named an official by the simple expedient of borrowing a striped shirt.

The average age of today's big-time official is 45 years to date and it is 45 years to date that Lynch was able to handle 200 yards in seven seconds. It took him 100 yards to get an eye out.

Lynch, the most football-wise referee in the Southeastern Conference, is in the 200-yard race with Tommie Hutchens, current ref. is that Lynch and Hutchens are used by officials to symbolize at least 24 inches of the playing rules. He's lobbying for a wider variety of signals and more descriptive ones.

"Take the signal for slugging," Hutchens says. "You indicate slugging with a full military salute. Hutchens thinks a guy low enough to slug deserves a lot of attention. But not a salute."

Citizens Seem To Be Abiding By New Speed Regulations

Most people are abiding by government rules in regard to speeding designed to save gas and tires during the present emergency," said Police Chief Roy Williams yesterday.

"Those who don't stand out like sore thumbs," Chief Williams added, "and they not only are subject to fine in court, but to action by the Rationing Board."

In City Court Friday evening Judge F. L. Miller again gave maximum penalties to drunken drivers, while speeders drew fines.

Asa were Roy Artes, Casey of Orlando, driving while drunk $200 and costs ($175 suspended) and 90 days and drivers license revoked.

Chief Williams said that 25 percent of the cases of drunken driving were reported by citizens.

MONROVIA, Liberia, Dec. 17.—The suppression of slave camps from circulation has become one of Liberia's foremost problems. Government officials believe many are being buried in the interior, never to be recovered.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and capel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature in soothing and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly clears the cough or you are to have your money back.

Japanese Ordered To Hold Positions In New Guinea To Last Man

Statement Issued Before Big Allied Assaults In Buna And Gona Sectors

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17, (AP)—Navy divebombers striking at Japanese ships in the Buna area of New Guinea hit and damaged one enemy destroyer or cruiser, the Navy reported today. While flying fortress engaged and destroyed 12 Japanese Zero fighters, nearby an air force of Zeros which attacked the fortress destroyed one fortress whose crew was rescued. One divebomber failed to return. This brought to 142 the number of Japanese ships announced sunk or damaged in the Solomons.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS in Australia, Dec. 17, (AP)—Captured Japanese artillerymen today told intelligence officers that Emperor Hirohito gave orders to troops on Nov. 23 to hold their New Guinea positions to the last man. The order was given after the Emperor heard of the pounding his men were getting from MacArthur's soldiers in the battle preceding the capture of Buna and Gona by the Allies.

In the Buna area of New Guinea, Allied soldiers are fiercely engaging the Japanese in three main sectors of resistance. There is heavy fighting at the Buna government station, the Japanese main air strip, and Sannan Point, northeast of Buna village.

The Japanese action against the paper Japanese landing at the Mambare river mouth, while many of perhaps 1000 Japanese soldiers and sailors were reported slaughtered.

It was believed that only a small proportion of the men brought to the area in a Japanese convoy Monday made strenuous attempts to land their scattered stores. They tried to swim to shore with floating barrels and other supplies but these made an easy target for the air force which with white and blue flags.

Other Allied planes dumped a number of 500-pound bombs on the Japanese airfield at Gasmata, New Britain. Of 12 Japanese planes which met the Gasmata attack, five were reported shot down or disabled by one four-engine B-24 "Liberator" bomber.

These reports said two Japanese planes crashed in flames beneath the clouds and parts flew off two others.

University Graduates Group Of Lieutenants

GAINESVILLE, Dec. 17, (Special)—One hundred and sixty-eight men received second lieutenant's commissions Wednesday in the first graduation of the Army Administration Officer Cadets School No. 2 here on the University of Florida campus.

Significant is the fact that only one before in the history of the Nation have limited service men graduated from an officer candidate school, and that only a week ago. Approximately 80 percent of yesterday's graduates are classified for limited service.

Highlighting the graduation program was a speech by Col. E. T. Marco, commanding officer of the OCS, and Dr. John J. Tigert, president of the University of Florida.

Rescue Child at Chicago Fire

Chicago firemen rescue a little girl from the upper floor of a three-story rooming house after it took fire. Three other persons were hurt when they jumped out of windows to escape the flames. Two of the injured are lying at the foot of the ladder. An invalid, who could not be moved, perished in the fire. This is a phonograph.

Braves President Optimistic About Spring Training Here

President Bob Quinn of the Boston Braves, who arrived here yesterday to make a preliminary survey to determine if conditions here are favorable for an event a decision is made to train in Sanford again, stated that as before, he had found the Municipal Ball Park in excellent condition, and other local conditions appeared also to be satisfactory.

"Baseball men in general have, however, positively made up their minds to carry out the wishes here are favorable in an event a decision is made to train in Sanford again," he added, "I am of the personal opinion that he will favor us in this respect, we will not do much traveling or practice games other than to nearby towns like Orlando or DeLand. Then when we go north, no exhibition games will be played that are out of line of travel in this way, we intend to live up to what Mr. Eastman wants us to do.

Officer Commends Sergeant Chandler

Mr. Robert W. Chandler, the former Lucille Debie, recently received a letter from Capt. William E. Bickley, commanding officer of the medical detachment, 11st Station Hospital, commending her husband, Staff Sgt. Chandler.

Capt. Bickley wrote of Sgt. Chandler, whose address is c/o Postmaster, "It gives me a great deal of pleasure to be able to report to you that like all red-blooded American youth, your husband ranks high in the organization as a good soldier. You may well take pride in the reputation he has established for himself among the officers and enlisted men of this unit.

Army Needs To Keep Production Control

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17, (AP)—The secretary of War Robert P. Patterson said Wednesday that the United States might lose the war if the Army is deprived of its control over military production.

At the same time he denied charges that the Army endeavored to obtain control over the civilian economy.

"I am convinced that the Army is not in a position to take over the civilian economy," Patterson said. "The Army is not in a position to take over the civilian economy."

Soviets Smash New Offensive On Stalingrad

Russians Disclose Capture Of Five More Strongholds West Of Rzhev

(THE ASSOCIATED PRESS) In a correlated sequence against the Axis, the Red army today reported it smashed a big Nazi counter-offensive southwest of Stalingrad and captured five more strongholds west of Rzhev.

Elsewhere along a 1000-mile Russian front, the snow-covered Soviets closed their lines against a breach in their lines south of Stalingrad, overrunning three inhabited points in a sudden advance in the Mordok area of the Caucasus and dislodging the enemy from a base point west of Rzhev, the midnight communiqué announced.

German counter-attacks continued on both the central and southern fronts, but once again we repulsed and more than 100 enemy officers and men were killed.

The newly-captured town in the Don basin, southwest of Stalingrad, itself 74 miles due west of Stalingrad on the east-west railway linking the Volga city with the Moscow-Rostov line.

Behind 305 guns of various calibers and 1500 motor vehicles, the Russians seized two trains loaded with war supplies, ammunition dumps and much other war material, the communiqué said.

Southwest of Stalingrad, Soviet forces routed enemy troops who had broken through their lines near Verkhedumki in a do-or-die attempt to relieve Axis units encircled between the Don and the Volga. Fifty tanks belonging to a regiment of motorized infantry from the Sixth German Tank Division were "disposed of" in a two-day battle, the communiqué reported.

Thirty-five more German planes were shot down Wednesday, including four transports engaged in flying supplies to the trapped Axis units.

The southwestern outposts of Stalingrad itself, small Soviet patrols penetrated the enemy lines and blew up gun emplacements with their gatling guns, the communiqué said.

The Germans lost 200 officers and men and five tanks in full-scale counter-attacks northwest of Stalingrad.

Cossack guardsmen who captured three inhabited points in the Caucasus killed 400 Axis troops and knocked out 13 tanks and 100 motor vehicles in beating off subsequent Axis counter-attacks, the communiqué revealed.

The Germans also attempted to smash back Soviet forces south of Stalingrad, but were repulsed after losing 60 men and five tanks. Five enemy planes were shot down and six others damaged.
