Belgian Bulge Is Narrowed To Our the Line

Himmler Is Reported Leading Fresh Nazi Attack On Villages Near Strasbourg

(By Associated Press) Marshal Von Rundstedt's Germans in the Belgian Bulge fell back toward the Ourthe River line while the American Third Army hacked doggedly at the southern flank. However, in the south the Germans lashed out with fresh armor in the Strasbourg area in an assault perhaps led by Gestapo Chief Himmler.

British and Americans still are locked with Nazi rear guards west of the Ourthe River in delaying actions east of Bastogne. The Third Army reduced the German Bulge on the Alsatian front, but the French lost Oberlin, 15 miles south of Strasbourg and the U. S. Seventh lost Hertzheim 12 miles northeast of the Alsatian capital.

The Germans in Budapest were squeezed by the Russians into an area about two miles long and a mile wide. Berlin reported the Nazi garrison under "increased pressure" has evacuated Budapest's eastern railway station.

Savage German attacks west of the Danube failed again, but the Garrison any hope of relief. Moscow reported 16,000 Germans killed in ten days. The Hungarians are said to be surrendering en masse in order to abort any attempt to give up.

Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's troops cut in half powerful box positions southeast of Bastogne from which the German divisions had been hammering at his line from the east. The neck out of the box now was no more than two miles wide.

Resistance in the remainder of this area was reported collapsing rapidly as the Germans sought off guard by the unexpected blow. Foundered into the snow drifts and woods toward the uncertain haven of Witt, ten miles east of Bastogne, where other Third Army forces lie in wait.

The last major battle of the box was cut by capture of Doncel, near its center, and the Germans had no choice but to strike out through the woods to escape annihilation.

In the first 11 hours of the assault, which jumped off at 1 P. M. in the heaviest of near-zero weather, 400 prisoners were taken and a front dispatch from Associated Press correspondent Lewis Hawkins said the final count would be much more.

The German High Command admitted it was quitting all the (Continued On Page Two)

Morrison Report Shows Many Jobs Awaiting Vets

More than a half million man hours of employment will await returning service men and women of Seminoles County in order to satisfy post-war needs of growers, business firms, store operators and home owners in Seminole County, according to a report released by Edward Higgins, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

The report was based on a survey made during a period of more than two months by Charles Morrison and covered approximately 75 percent of the county's farm, business and home needs, and according to Mr. Higgins, is very accurate.

At a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Post War Employment Committee of which Ned Smith is chairman, the report was presented by Mr. Morrison and accepted as final. Members of the committee include: (Continued On Page Two)

WACs In France Regulating Traffic

WITH THE UNITED STATES ARMY IN FRANCE—the first Traffic Regulating Group to be composed entirely of WACs was recently activated and put on duty with Transportation Corps Headquarters in France. The company under command of Captain Joy E. Plummer, 446 (transportation), Santa Fe, New Mexico, is the first company of Transportation Corps WACs in the European Theater of Operations, included in its personnel was Pvt. Marie C. Prior to the war Mack was employed by the Oxford Budget Company. He has been in the Navy for the past ten months.

Truce Is Reached Between Factions In Greek Strife

LONDON, Jan. 12. (AP)—Authoritative British quarters today reported that the Allies permitted to ship supplies to Russia via the Dardanelles. No details were given out but information indicated the negotiations were handled chiefly through military channels.

ATHENS, Jan. 12. (AP)—A truce has been reached in Greece's bloody civil war to enable left wing ELAS representatives and the Greek government to discuss fundamental differences. At a request of the ELAS, hostilities will cease at 1:00 A. M. Jan. 15, a British announcement today said. The ELAS are to withdraw from designated areas and surrender military prisoners in exchange for an equal number released by the British.

Delegates of the ELAS, leftist Greek political organization whose resistance to a Greek government disarmed under tutelage of civil war early last month, have been conferring since Tuesday at the headquarters of Lt. Gen. Ronald M. Scobie, British commander in Greece, on the terms of an agreement which would bring an end to hostilities.

Alexander Svolos, former EAM supporter and deputy prime minister in the George Papandreu government which preceded the present regime of Gen. Plastiras, issued a statement calling for immediate peace.

Little opposition was being encountered by British armored and infantry columns fanning out from Athens.

48 Hour Week Seen As Manpower Need

ORLANDO, Jan. 12. (Special)—War prisoner and migratory foreign labor would not be needed in Orlando if citrus pickers would conform to the 48-hour work week requested by the War Manpower Commission as a means of alleviating the critical labor situation, C. H. Bruce, manager of the United States Employment Service office in Orlando said yesterday.

Bruce pointed out that there is enough labor in numbers in Orlando to meet all needs, but the labor, earning higher wages than ever before, will not stick to the jobs on a 48-hour week. Though wages are increased, to the point where a few days on the job provides a week's living, the work is still there to get out. And because the laborers are not sticking to their jobs for the full time, the UREB has had to import prisoner-of-war and foreign labor.

There is no way to enforce this condition upon workers, he said. "We can only urge them to work for patriotic reasons and surely the critical war needs should be sufficient reason for workers to stay on the job," he said.

He explained that employers in the Orlando area are cooperative in allowing for the 48-hour work week, but the employees have not been nearly so helpful.

More Guns To Be Built In Coming Year

Civilian Production Will Be Cut As Need For War Materials Increases

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12. (AP)—Half of all war production programs will rise at a "tremendous rate" under the new speedup which includes a three-fold increase in critical aircraft in six months, WPA Chairman Krug announced today. About $2,500,000,000 worth of new arms will be added to the 1945 schedule, partly to equip the French army. This boosts the 1945 total output to about $64,500,000,000.

The War Production Board has ordered drastic new restrictions further curtailing civilian goods production, a government source said today. They will wipe off the books a large percentage of consumer projects already authorized under the spot production program, due to a sharp cut in the allocation of metals.

At the same time Selective Service revealed that some 330,000 men will be drafted from farm and factory by July 1 to meet increasing military requirements, and Secretary of War Stimson warned that "there seems to be no escape" from a program of virtually all physically qualified men under 30.

As Stimson was telling a press conference that full scale national service legislation was needed, the house military affairs committee heard Col. Francis V. Keessling of selective service disclose that the deferred classification of industry and agricultural workers must be tapped to help meet requirements for 202,000 men for the armed services during the first half of 1945.

Stimson said that the army was upping its monthly demands on selective service from 80,000 in January and February to 100,000 for March, and that the army wants young, physically able youths with aggressiveness and endurance.

Mrs. Emma Nelson, Pioneer Resident Dies At Age Of 90

Mrs. Emma Mattilda Nelson, a pioneer resident of Seminole County and Sanford, died Tuesday morning at her home at 215 Elm Avenue after an illness of two weeks.

During the early settlement of this section, Gen. Henry F. Sibley brought over from Sweden a number of workers to the site of a grove of 100 acres, then regarded as one of the best in the state.

Mrs. Nelson and her husband, Hans Nelson, arrived here in 1845 from Sweden to settle in this grove more than 60 years ago. Mrs. Nelson has lived in this section ever since that time. She was born in Sweden, July 7, 1854.

She is survived by three daughters, Miss Anna Nelson and Mrs. Alfred Van Ness of Sanford and Mrs. J. White of Jacksonville; three sons, Edward Nelson of Palatka, H. H. Nelson of Jacksonville and Ernest C. Nelson of Sanford; four grandsons, Walter Van Ness of Sanford, California and William J. White, USN, stationed in St. Petersburg; and three granddaughters, Margaret Louise and Katherine Emma Van Ness of Jacksonville and Katherine Marie Nelson of Palatka.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 P. M. at the First Presbyterian Church of which she was the oldest member. The Rev. Dr. E. D. Brownlee will officiate. Burial will be in Lake View Cemetery.

Sale Of New Automobile License Tags Almost Doubled In One Day

Motor vehicle tag sales took a big jump Thursday following announcement in The Herald Wednesday by Tax Collector Jno. D. Jenkins that there would be no extension of time for obtaining these after the deadline, Monday, Jan. 15, as ruled by Governor Millard Caldwell.

Thursday tag sales amounted to $2,971.15, an increase of $1,232.30 over Wednesday sales of $1,738.85.

Much time is lost by registrants for tags, due to fumbling among pockets and handbags for license certificates and registration cards. Mr. Jenkins said, and he offered the following suggestions which he declared would save time of everyone concerned.

Yanks On Luzon Advance 10 Miles Capturing Nearly One Hundred Towns

(By Associated Press) American carrier planes are attacking a Japanese sea force off the Indo-China coast in a daring offensive thrust to insure the safety of supply lines to the Philippines invasion. Admiral Nimitz said they are merely bombarding the enemy between Saigon and Camranh Bay.

Tokyo reported 100 planes raided the Cochinchina sector centering around Saigon for nine and half hours and claimed 50 American carrier planes were shot down but offered no further details.

Admiral Nimitz failed to reveal whether the attack was made against a naval force or a reinforcement convoy headed for Luzon. It is the danger of a bold first penetration over Japanese-controlled waters.

On Luzon 250 miles to the northeast, the Yanks advanced in a new nearly ten-mile advance toward Manila after capturing nearly 100 villages. Tokyo said the invasion forces consist of one tank and two infantry divisions and that heavy fighting is in progress. It claimed that American ships were sunk and 13 damaged.

Gen. Walter Krueger's Sixth Army units have been advancing for two days as far and as fast as reasonable caution and the movement of supplies has permitted.

The Americans have now taken nine towns and more than a score of villages.

The 48-hour advance has carried the Americans well south of the maze of swampy country at the mouth of the mandarin Agno River and across the river line along which the Japanese might have been able to make a delaying stand.

Only on the extreme left flank along the Pinaricun road have the Americans run into anything more than isolated and quickly-eliminated sniper resistance.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique today made the first mention of "combat contact" near Pinaricun at the end of the 48-hour advance. The San Francisco Institute said it is a confirmation of the severity of the fighting there.

The original 10-mile beachheads were widened to at least 25 miles with the capture of the mouth of the Agno, which empties into the Lingayen Gulf west of captured Lingayen town.

Nine miles represented the deepest point of penetration in the capture of the mouth of the Agno. Since the communique always lags 24 hours behind operations, it was (Continued On Page Two)

Ford Will Outline Farm Bureau Aims

John Ford, secretary of the Florida Farm Bureau, will outline the farm bureau aims and accomplishments at a supper meeting to be held Monday evening at 7:15 o'clock at the Hotel Mayfair, it was announced by M. C. Cullum, president of the Seminole County Farm Bureau.

A two reel film secured from the Gainesville Extension Service will be shown which depicts methods and short cuts in seed bed plantings, also stump puller operations.

Mr. Cullum (Cleveland) will give a short talk on methods of fire protection for growers.

A report will be given on the housing project plan for farm workers, in which the Farm Bureau is cooperating with the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Cullum said, County Agent C. R. Dawson will report on progress in securing additional farm labor.

"This meeting is open to all growers, whether Farm Bureau members or not," said Mr. Cullum. Reservations may be secured for the supper by telephoning Secretary J. E. Wathen at 1100.

He pointed out also that only 51 counties of the state among them Seminole, had met their bond quotas, and that this county had oversubscribed its quota by $124,000.

"When one considers that Seminole is a small county of not much more than 22,000 residents of whom not more than 12,000 are white people, it is considered the fact that in the Sixth War Loan campaign Seminole County has subscribed more than eight million dollars, a most remarkable achievement, and I am proud to have been associated with those who helped the government to that end."

Mr. Rowland, in thanking Mr. Evans for his talk, which was unanimously applauded, asserted that "a lot of the success of the drive had been due to capable management."

Leon James Robson was welcomed as a member of the Lions Club.

Leon Joe Meich was given authority by the club to have two signs erected on the highway approaches to Sanford by the highway department, one for the Service Men a Ride.

Blanding Officer Gets Medal of Honor

CAMP BLANDING, Jan. 12. (Special)—First Lieut. Beryl Newman, infantry officer now assigned to duty training doughboys at Camp Blanding's Infantry Replacement Training Center, was one of seven service men to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor from President Roosevelt at a White House ceremony Wednesday.

Lieut. Newman, a fighting aviator from Baraboo, Wis., whose current ambition is to win a Florida home for his wife and three children, won the honors at Anzio last May 26, when he led his platoon in the breakout from the beachhead.

During the course of his action, Lieut. Newman killed two Nazis, wounded two more, captured 11, and silenced three machine guns, standing in this detail personally well in front of the platoon he commanded.

An ex-National Guard and ROTC man, Lieut. Newman went to Ireland in 1942, and participated in the invasion of North Africa and Sicily receiving wounds each time and recovering to participate in the Anzio action where his "valor over and beyond the call of duty" won the Congressional Medal of Honor and inspired green troops to fight like veterans.

Advancing through an orchard

The report as of Oct. 15, was compiled by Mr. Morrison after he had visited and interviewed farmers, business men, store owners and many residents in the county and was initiated by the Chamber of Commerce as a means of aiding returning veterans to secure work and of providing post war needs for improvement throughout the county.

Total outlay for farm and city needs plus $90,000 for City of Sanford construction and $70,000 for county road building will be an estimated $1,937,867.

Farm buildings, new construction and repairs, will require the greatest expenditure, it was revealed by the report which estimates the amount to be spent on this work will be $531,700. This, it is figured, will require 132,025 man hours of work, based on average pay of $1.60 an hour. Total estimated farm needs will cost $668,470.

Next in importance is new construction in business, stores, offices and homes amounting to an estimate of $381,240. This will require an estimated $2,730 man hours of work. Remodelling and re-roofing needs will require an outlay of $108,105, and new plumbing and repairs $8,223.

Outlay of $99,000 will be required for painting of structures and interiors and will require 42,473 man hours of work at $1.50 an hour. Total business transportation and home needs will cost $309,507, it was estimated.

Much new tilting is needed for sub-irrigation and drainage of farms in the county and this will entail an expenditure of $72,540 and will require 45,250 man hours of work.

on a hill. Lieut. Newman went forward from his platoon to join his scouts 200 yards ahead, and two Nazi machine gun opened fire. As his men dropped in cover Lieut. Newman shouldered his rifle and ordered his men to advance in full view of the machine gun with his own tommy-gun blazing. Two Nazis were wounded, stopped firing.

Then his tommy-gun sprayed the other gunners, killing two and silencing the second machine gun. From across a third Nazi machine gun opened fire, but the one-time schoolboy heavy-weight boxer merely kicked the front door open and demanded that the Germans within surrender. Eleven well-armed Nazis waved by his daring, came out with hands high.

A week later Lieut. Newman was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor and a tank he was riding struck a mine, and he returned to this country.

The first offered resistance was at the left flank east of the Sixth Fabian beachhead. There the Sixth Army troops had met an invasion from the south had been reported, were unable to move their forces from the south in sufficient strength to impede the American progress notably.

Enemy air activity was reported still negligible. A MacArthur spokesman said gains reported in the semicircle covered operations up to midnight, Sunday, the second day of fighting.

In expanding their beachhead westward the Americans seized Labuan on the opposite side of the Apo River. A seven-mile perimeter was now beyond Monday at its western edge of a valley and plain that leads southward to a point on the main north-south highway in the west.

Before World War II, U. S. forces, during one of the operations, had captured a Japanese plane and a few Japanese airmen.

OWI "Salesgirls" Learn To Manage With Necessities

Scouting for airmen in Africa. Italy, Reykjavik, Stockholm and Beirut. They are Uncle Sam's first traveling saleswomen, whose job in the Overseas Division of the Office of War Information, is helping to "sell" Allied and neutral countries on the part America is playing in World War II.

In addition they are waging psychological warfare all over the world. Their work began in 1942 when Eleanor Barry packed a bag and went to London as an OWI cipher clerk. Now 325 strong—they are scattered all over the globe doing a job which, even ten years ago, would not have been considered women's work at all.

Look in on Hazel Howard, head of the OWI publications division in Cairo. You will find her working in close collaboration with the office chief directing a staff of editors, writers and translators in producing booklets and posters for distribution in Beirut, Damascus, Baghdad and Istanbul. Her office produces 5,000 news picture posters weekly as well as a photo review magazine in Arabic, French and English.

Harriet Root directs three libraries—in Sydney, Melbourne and Wellington, Australia—where standard works of American history, biography, travel and law are available to Australian writers, radio commentators, teachers and public. In Bombay, India, Seville McMillan arranges photo exhibits, showing America's part in the war, for display in hotels, restaurants and clubs. She also answers stacks of correspondence inquiries concerning America's way of life, agriculture, science, people, music and schools.

Others work in radio. In London Sara Lampert reads off radio scripts in French for information broadcasting to France, Diana Bourbon produces radio features, Michelle Cuyper announces Dutch radio programs which are beamed to the continent, and Edie Martin analyzes Nazi English broadcasts. ### Fact Behind Price Ceilings Is There Is Beef Scarcity

By OVID A. MARTIN WASHINGTON—Behind the debate over proposals to establish ceilings on prices of five cattle is the simple fact that there is not enough beef.

Beef production is at a record level, but non-military supplies are insufficient to satisfy wartime purchasing power.

A mad scramble among consumers, merchants, and slaughterers has led to bidding up of prices of cattle, particularly the better grades. Slaughterers who offer the highest prices naturally get the cattle. Their wholesalers, retailers and final customers get beef.

The Office of Price Administration has imposed ceilings on the retail price of beef. Some Get Beef.

Some slaughterers, particularly large concerns, usually are able to pay higher prices for cattle and sell their meat to retailers in line with retail ceilings. Some less efficient slaughterers contend that if they bid high enough to get cattle, they soon would be forced into bankruptcy, or have to sell at above-ceiling prices.

There are some slaughterers, as well as distributors, who have been willing to ignore the ceiling prices on beef and sell in the so-called "black market."

Out of this bidding-up of cattle prices has come the demand for a ceiling on prices for cattle which would allow all slaughterers to obtain cattle at prices in line with retail beef ceiling prices.

The OPA favors such ceilings. It contends cattle ceilings would eliminate black markets and provide a more equitable distribution of cattle among all slaughterers, and beef among all retailers.

Cattleman Object. Cattlemen, on the other hand, oppose ceilings and in this they have been supported by the War

Escaped Nurse Is Going Back To Corregidor

By BONNIE WILEY AP Newsfeatures Writer SAN FRANCISCO—Ann Bernattius, Navy nurse who escaped by submarine from Corregidor a scant two days before "The Rock" fell, is going back.

"I hope it will be to the Philippines. That's what I'm counting on," said the attractive Exeter, Penn. girl, while awaiting transportation from San Francisco to the war zone.

Lt. (jg) Bernattius to whom the days of the fall of the Philippines seem like a terrifying nightmare, wants to see the tables turned on the Japs.

Only Navy nurse on Bataan or Corregidor, Lt. Bernattius, eleven Army nurses and a Navy wife, crept aboard an Australian-bound submarine in the black of night on May 3, 1942, while Japanese searchlights swept the Corregidor shore in a vain hunt for human life.

First thing the submarine crew did was serve us hot tea and cake and we all cried because we'd forgotten there were such things as tea and cake. I remember one week we had nothing else to eat—and for breakfast, that's not good. I haven't eaten any rice since."

Ann Bernattius reported for duty at the U.S. Naval hospital, Canacao, Philippine Islands, in July, 1940. She recalls: "After the first Jap attack we evacuated our patients to the Army hospital at Manila. I was in a surgical team that was assigned to Bataan, so on Christmas day we were setting up our hospital along the Camp Limay beach."

From dawn until midnight the understaffed hospital crews worked on an ever-increasing number of patients.

Two days before Bataan fell, another evacuation came, this time to Corregidor.

Governor Caldwell says he for one is not in favor of legalizing the gambling in the state of Florida either for moral or financial reasons. Such a system, he says, "might be a step toward the state of evil for another with a net gain in state revenue, but a net loss in other and more important values." Well said, Governor.

In connection with the proposal to close all night clubs in the country for the duration, Dr. James Thomas, OPA director for Florida, says "it would not be to fulfill a desire on the part of the federal government to obtain manpower employed by night clubs but to alleviate absenteeism among war workers participating in too much night club activity. Now isn't that something!

Most people will agree that some form of National Service legislation is necessary to make some people work at a time when everybody should work in order to shorten the war, but the Tampa Tribune wonders whether if a person is drafted for war work he will have to pay a fee to some union boss before he can go to work. Just what would the situation be, wonder, if a person were drafted for war work and refused to join a union.

Valls Williams who attended the recent gubernatorial inauguration in Tallahassee, reports that it seemed very much like old times to run into George Melroy there. George used to be representative from this county in the State Legislature during the Carlton administration, served many years in the National Guard, and went with it into the Army in 1940. He landed in France as a lieutenant colonel on D Day and spent the next four months performing a good many rather arduous duties. At present he is hospitalized in Thomasville, Ga.

Three years ago when General MacArthur was losing the battle for the soldiers in the Philippines he was being pushed into the narrow Bataan Peninsula and cornered at Corregidor, he was taking a good deal of punishment and probably would have to be taken to a Japanese general, committed to a hospital, but being an American, he managed to return three years later to give the Japs a taste of their own medicine. He will be back another day, as someone long before us, has said: The American way would seem to be such a better one.

Marriage Rates

The boost of the marriage rate by our entry into the war has about run its course, and the country is entering a period when marriage will fall even below the peacetime average. Figures from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company reveal that it is shown that 1944 was the second successive year in which the marriage rate for the country as a whole declined from the peak established in 1942.

While over-all figures show a decline in marriages, the Metropolitan finds many variations in pattern in the records of individual cities of 100,000 population or more. In general, cities of New England, the Middle Atlantic and East North Central States, have experienced a decline in marriages ever since 1942. In urban centers of the West North Central States, as a whole, the decline began only in 1943, while among Southern urban centers, the decline did not set in until 1944. An actual increase in marriages is reported in 1944 in the larger cities of the Mountain and Pacific Coast States, although the gain over the preceding year was small.

Using 1941, the last pre-war year as a base, the Metropolitan shows that the decrease in marriages graded from east to west, with the sharpest declines among New England cities, and lesser reductions westward through the Middle Atlantic, East North Central and West North Central States. New York and Chicago fell behind year by year, while Philadelphia and Detroit the decline began after 1942. Decreases of more than 40 per cent over the three-year period were reported among others from Cincinnati, Toledo and Youngstown, Ohio.

While the South reported its first decline in 1944, only four of its cities had fewer marriages than in 1941. Norfolk, Va., site of an important naval base, more than doubled its 1941 marriages in 1944, and 75 per cent increases were recorded in Jacksonville, Miami, and Tampa, Fla.

Marriages in the large cities of the Mountain and Pacific Coast States as a whole showed a 70 per cent increase in 1944 over 1941. In California, San Diego had about 8 1/2 times the number of its 1941 marriages. This increase is attributed to a large naval base and the growth of neighboring aviation industries. Marriages in San Francisco, Sacramento, and Oakland more than doubled, while further north along the coast, Spokane, Wash., almost doubled its rate. However, the statisticians anticipate a reversal in the trend for Mountain and Pacific Coast States during 1945.

Two main factors emerge as causes of the recent conflicting local changes in marriages: the migration of population brought about by war industries, and the induction of young men into the armed services. Despite the recent great fluctuations, the insurance company's statisticians believe that later on, when the marriage rates for the periods immediately preceding and immediately following the war, together with the war period itself, can be observed, the general average of the marriage rate over the period as a whole will not be very far different from the usual peacetime figure.

Veteran Loans

"No piece of legislation outside an actual wartime measure ever held so much significance for so many people as the G.I. bill." That is the opinion of Horace Russell, general counsel for the U.S. Savings and Loan League, one of the nation's authorities on that bill.

In a public address he has mentioned the major benefits of the bill, such as education at government expense and mustering-out pay with particular emphasis on the loan features. He stressed the fact that, while the government will guarantee loans to veterans up to a maximum $2,000, those with good credit rating may borrow more on regular terms.

It will mean, he estimates, an average loan of about $5,000 to each of perhaps 5,000,000 men and women, which will nearly double mortgage credit totals now on the books of the nation's loan organizations. This comes about after all precautions are taken by the Veterans' Administration to make sure that individual projects are practicable and within the estimated means of the seekers, thus safeguarding veterans against dishonest operators or future debt.

Propheying that if private concerns do not make these loans, government agencies will, he urges that every bank, loan company and law firm prepare now by assigning some competent member to become a specialist on the bill, and a consultant to whom all inquiries can be directed for handling. It is intelligent and farsighted advice.

Living Silk

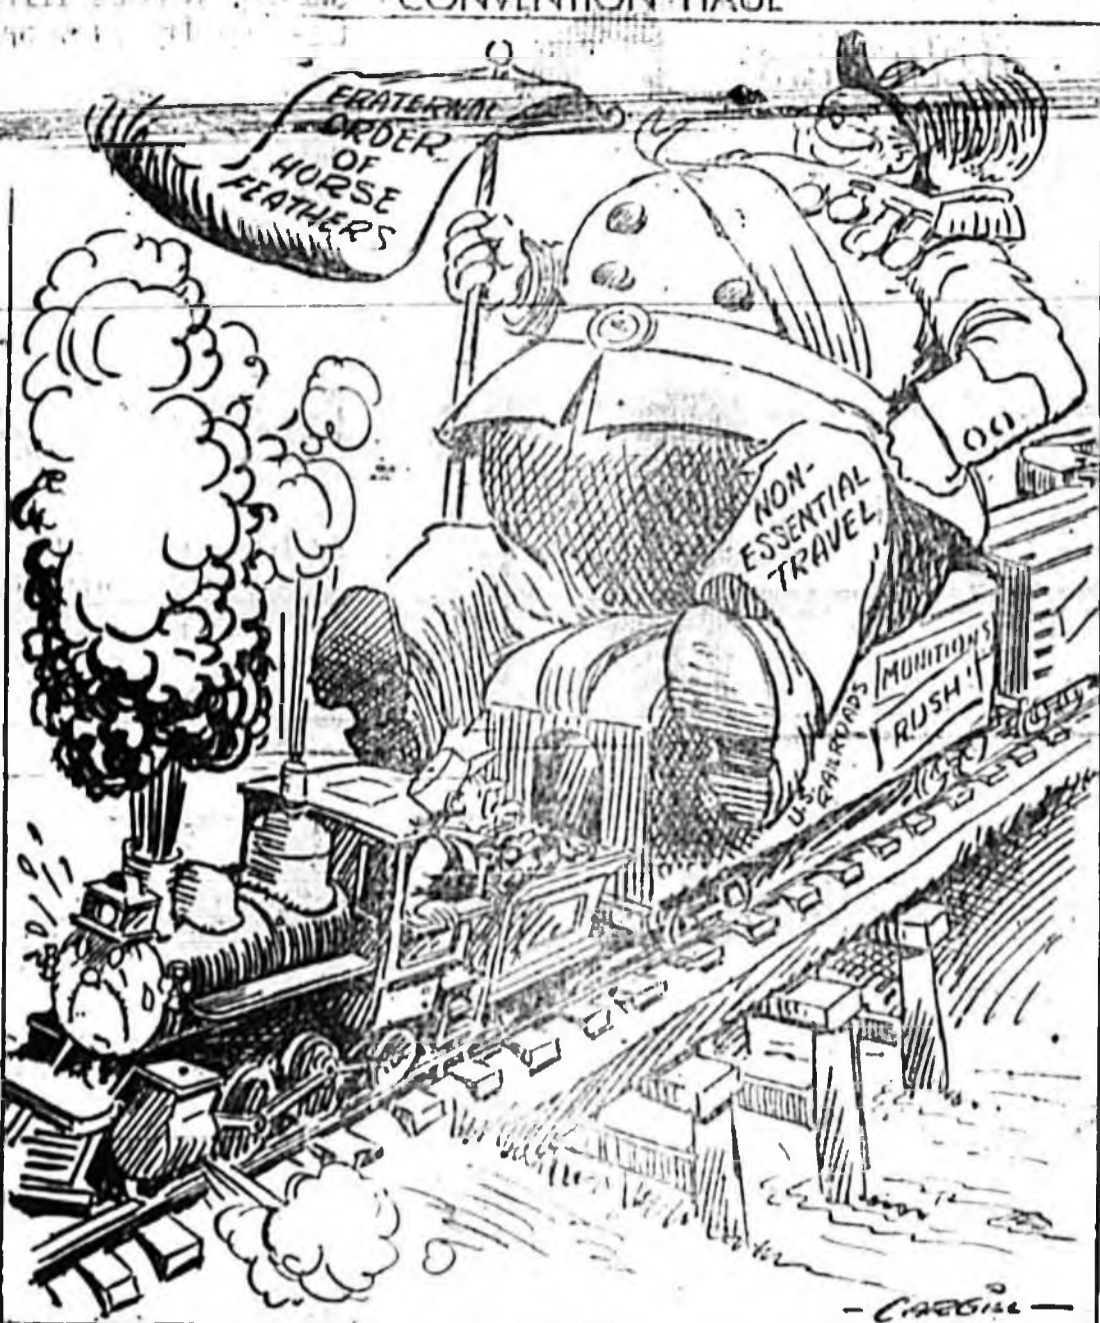

A feminine reader browsing idly through a pile of newspapers came upon a picture of a holiday wedding. The khaki-clad groom stood proudly beside a bride wearing a heavy satin gown which had been in the family for a hundred years. As she picked up a second paper the reader contemplated sadly the fate of brides of 1935 whose guests for ancestral gowns would have to be answered by: "But, child, you forget, I was married during a war, when silk was hard to get. Only heavy silk can last this long."

Sighing gently, she ran her eye down another column, to find her pity wasted. For here was a second bride whose granddaughter would have to look no further. And what was the material which would live so long? Parachute-silk! Not silk-worm silk, as we used to know it, but that fine, strong and beautiful fabric which had saved the bridegroom's life in that silkless year for civilians of 1944. What better omen could there be for the marriage of an air-age child, than a dress of the stuff which had once saved a family life? And what better proof that in spite of horror and death the race endures?

Owing to the air resistance, it takes about 19 seconds for a bomb to reach the earth when dropped from an airplane a mile high.

Attorney General Asks Recognition Of Amendment

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 12, (AP)—Attorney General Tom Watson yesterday called on Florida workers and employers to recognize the Anti Closed Shop Amendment as part of the fundamental law "until some superior authority has assumed, or issued, a contrary order or directive."

He said "both employers and employees now have a constitutional duty to say to any group that the right to work in Florida cannot be denied or abridged because of membership or non-membership in any union."

"We must insist, all of us, in taking courses of less resistance demanded by either employer, bargaining agent, business agent, or group of employees, and must refuse to subject ourselves to liability for the violation of constitutional rights, or punishment for infractions of criminal law."

The Attorney General said he felt there is sufficient authority to enforce the amendment under a 52-year-old State law which makes it a crime to "conspire, combine or confederate together for the purpose of preventing any person from procuring work."

Watson said he, "with the aid of our prosecuting officers and courts," was adopting and pursuing a program in line with his interpretation that the amendment is now effective.

On December 15 he issued a statement in which he said he was "not disposed by any directive, opinion or other official act, to force an issue in the ranks of labor or employers" until legal questions involved in the dispute over the amendment are settled.

He said today's statement merely supplemented the previous one so he would "not be understood to be advocating that the amendment be disregarded."

"The sovereignty of the people in this country as citizens of the states first, and of the United States second, is uniformly recognized by all authorities in American constitutional law," he declared.

"The right-to-work amendment to Florida's constitution is such a people's law."

LINGAYEN GULF (map above), a hundred miles north of Manila on Luzon Island in the Philippines, is revealed by Gen. Douglas MacArthur as the area where U.S. Sixth Army forces have seized four initial beachheads and begun the final campaign to destroy Jap power in the Philippines. Our landing losses have been insignificant, MacArthur states. The General himself is reported to have gone ashore with his troops and to be commanding in person from headquarters on one of the beaches. (International)

Steve Early Seen As Eager To Quit As FDR Secretary

WASHINGTON—One of the most recurrent rumors here over the years (at least eight of them) has been that Stephen T. Early, the President's secretary in charge of press relations, is on the verge of resigning.

There's reason for it. Steve himself refuses to discuss the matter with any one who might publish it. But intimate friends say very emphatically that he has been wanting to resign for nearly eight years.

Steve, now 35, has seen his three children grow from child hood to maturity since he has been on the White House executive staff. He has earned them $120,000 a year, which may sound like a lot to some, but in the big time in Washington Living in Washington with a family and keeping up the necessary front, commensurate with an important governmental position, has cost him more than $1,000,000.

If even half the rumors are true Steve has been offered some mighty attractive civilian jobs in recent years. To many, the surprising thing is that he hasn't jumped at some of them before now. But to insiders and his intimates there's no particular mystery about it.

In the first place, Early is a good soldier. He served in World War I. He was originally lieutenant in a machine gun company, one of the most strenuous fighting groups of that war, and steadily under fire from the very first to the last. He was one of the few who were not wounded.

MENUS

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS

Associated Press Food Editor: Winter vegetables needn't be tasteless and colorless if the cook uses any imagination. Yellow turnips, also known as rutabagas, have a good rich flavor when properly prepared. They can be complemented, too, with foods which enhance color and flavor. White and purple turnips also make good eating.

Ever eaten turnips raw? If not, you're missed something! I have one friend who's never able to serve cooked turnips in her house—not because they're unpopular, but because the children eat them raw at meals and salt.

For turnip sticks use crisp, fresh turnips, either white or yellow. Pare them and cut them into thin match-stick pieces. Sprinkle with paprika for beauty and serve plain or with smoked salt. They can be used as appetizers, in salads, or as an accompaniment to soup.

Here are a few recipes for making exciting cooked dishes with turnips:

Turnip Cups With Frosted Peas and Herb Sauce: 1 large white tender turnips, 1 package frosted peas, 1 small white onion, 2 tablespoons fortified margarine, 1 1/2 teaspoon thyme or oregano, Dash cayenne, if desired, Salt to taste.

Pare the turnips half way, leaving half the purple coat cut off the top. Place top and turnips in pan of boiling salted water and cook quickly, uncovered, until just tender. Scoop out the center of the other half of the turnip and cut into small cubes. Cut the tops into small cubes, too. Add several tablespoons of the hot water left from cooking turnips to the peas. Add small onion, thinly sliced. Cook quickly to desired tenderness. Add the margarine, the herb, cayenne and salt to taste. Add the cubed turnips. Mix well and fill the turnip cups. Serve hot with a garnish of watercress. Serves four generously.

Glazed Turnips: 6 to 8 small white turnips, 3 tablespoons fortified margarine, 1 cup boiling water, 1 bouillon cube, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons honey, 1 1/2 teaspoon ground meat.

Wash and pare turnips very thin. Cut in halves. Cover with cold water and boil 5 minutes. Drain. Melt the margarine and brown the turnips lightly. Add boiling water, bouillon cube and remaining ingredients. Simmer about 15 minutes until liquid is almost absorbed and the turnips are tender and coated with a shining glaze. Serves 4 to 6.

Pecan Rutabaga: 1 large rutabaga (about 1 1/2 pounds), 1/2 to 1 cup pecan meats, 4 tablespoons fortified margarine, 4 tablespoons minced parsley, Salt and pepper.

Cut rutabaga in halves and quarters, then pare as thinly as possible. Cut into small, neat cubes. Cover with boiling salted water and cook until tender. Drain. Add remaining ingredients, toss together lightly. Serves 4 to 6.

During the Civil War, the number of mowers manufactured to offset the enlistment of farm labor more than tripled.

Most of the farm machinery which has revolutionized the world's agriculture originated in the United States.

Bottles were used for the first time in England during the eighteenth century for the purpose of maturing wine.

Halifax's Son Urges Unity To Avert New War

Tells Wounded Veterans U. S. and Britain Must Seek Accord

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12, (AP)—A fuller understanding must be attained between Great Britain and the United States to make democracy work effectively to prevent a third world war—a war which would "almost certainly mean the end of our civilization," Richard Wood, son of the Earl of Halifax, British Ambassador, told a group of wounded war veterans at Walter Reed Hospital early this week.

Instead of putting democratic principles into effect after the world war, an action that would have brought about a "freer and better world," American and British "drifted for 20 anxious years into another, worse war," Mr. Wood said.

In a prepared address entitled "The Problems of the Peace," Mr. Wood said that a world security organization is necessary to prevent a third world war and offered the following suggestions:

"Close co-operation and understanding between all peace-loving nations; and for that I know no better cement than close understanding between your country and mine.

"The readiness of public opinion in these countries, and especially in the United States and Great Britain, to face what may be hard realities and to be prepared to enforce whatever security settlement, the peace-loving nations may desire."

Getting down to current questions, Mr. Wood discussed the troublesome problems with India and Greece.

"We do not clear out of India, as we are so often told to do, because we are not prepared to submerge our work of the last 150 years, during which we have gone far toward solving the problem, in a bloody civil war between the Hindus and the Muslims," he said. He added that when the kindly Indian problem is solved India will be just as free to take herself out from us as Canada or New Zealand are today."

In Greece it is the "motives of our actions" which seems to be at stake, Mr. Wood said, explaining, "There are two alternatives either we are fighting the E. I. A. S. forces for the sake of maintaining a reactionary regime, which will be friendly to us and to our policy in the Mediterranean or else, as Mr. Churchill has repeatedly said, we are fighting because we intend to see a Greek government elected by free ballot and not imposed by force of arms." He added that it would be "rash" to believe the first alternative and be "blind" to the truth of the second. Mr. Wood, who lost both legs in combat while serving as a lieutenant in the British Army, kept his date today despite the fact that the embassy car was not able to get up the steps leading to the hospital. Many of the men in the audience are all expressed admiration at his pluckiness in tackling the steep, sleek walk to the hospital.

Nazi Columns Fall Back To Siegfried Line

New Russians Offensive Hit Germans On 600 Mile Front In Poland, Prussia

PARIS, Jan. 15. (AP)—Allied armies have captured 37,894 Germans since the Nazi counter-offensive began on Dec. 16. This increased the number of prisoners since the French invasion to 844,891.

Meanwhile the American First Army drove to within a mile and a half of the communications center of Houffalize, the pivot of the new improvised German defenses in the flattening Belgian Bulge. Fog, snowstorm and cold slowed the pace of the three Allied armies elsewhere and also grounded the airmen late in the day. The First and Third Armies established contact southeast of Larochette, cutting off another segment on the western end of the salient. Nearly 1,300 American bombers and fighters from Britain pounded four railroad yards in southern Germany without interference from Nazi fighters. They raided Freiburg, Augsburg, Ingolstadt, Reutlingen.

Where Yanks Blast The Enemy

IN THE DEEPEST PENETRATION yet of the South China Sea, U.S. Third Fleet units have hurled hundreds of carrier-based planes against four Japanese convoys believed to have been on their way to Luzon, sinking twenty-five ships and damaging thirteen. At the same time, attacks were carried out on installations between Saigon and Camarone Bay in French Indo-China and thirty-nine planes destroyed. These heavy well-known messages used by the enemy for repair work and units of the Japanese fleet may also have been struck by our fliers (International).

Director Wilson Hits Price Rise For Strawberries

Says It Is The Most Ridiculous Rabbit Pulled Out Of Hat

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 15. (Special)—Master magicians at the Washington office of the OPA have often mystified our growers with their strange tricks, but the most ridiculous rabbit they have ever pulled out of their magic hat is the 3 cent price increase just allowed on strawberries as a compensation for storm and freeze damage. William I. Wilson, Director of State Farmers' Markets, said in his report and market review today, "Senator Pepper advises me that he is joining me in a strong protest against this ridiculous action," he continued. "To arrive at that raise of 3 cent per pint the OPA must have done some weird juggling of figures. About 1,500 acres are planted to strawberries in the Plant City area this year. Through December of last year our market there handled only 220 pints for the same year, 1943, with only 600 acres planted to berries, 57,791 pints were sold on our platform, and in December of 1942, with about the same acreage as this year, shipments totaled 260,148 pints. Plant City is the principal strawberry growing section of Florida, as there probably is not more than 300 acres of berries in all the rest of the State. The market for strawberries is described as follows:

Watchmaker's Job Is Told Rotarians By W. E. Kader

Importance Of Accurate Time Pieces Shown At Luncheon

A luncheon program was conducted at the Rotarian Club today by W. E. Kader, who also gave a short talk on his classification of "watchmaker." He said that "Time is the greatest asset in our human race today. Declaring that each job done in a watch should be the best ever done, Mr. Kader revealed that he began his career as an apprentice at the age of 15 1/2 years when he served a year without pay and then was rewarded for his hard work by being raised to 25 cents a week. Pointing out the careful inspection made of all watches on the railroad, he said that no railroad engineer is allowed to leave his station without knowing that his watch is on time. He declared that certain instruments used in the Navy require adjustments to 1/100 of a second. Mr. Kader was introduced by G. A. Speer, who had charge of the program. President Roy Holter, who presided over the meeting, welcomed Calvin Hines back to the club after an absence of several months. Visitors included W. A. Pickens of Orlando, G. W. L. Thorne of Orlando and Chandler H. Lasher of Huntington, Fla.

Capt. Pat Miller Is Reported As Missing In Action

Serving In Infantry Son Of Judge Miller Fought Nazis

Capt. Frank L. Miller, son of Judge Miller, has been reported as missing in action since Dec. 16. He arrived in Sanford last October.

Capt. Miller is in the Infantry and was in the Philippines when he was reported missing. He is the son of Judge Miller, who was a member of the United States Senate from 1914 to 1921.

T. Sgt. James Kelsey Is Back From Pacific

MIAMI BEACH, Jan. 15. (Special)—T. Sgt. James Kelsey, 39, Ovidio, Fla., has arrived at Army Air Forces Redirection Station No. 2 in Miami Beach for reassignment processing after completing a tour of duty outside the continental United States.

He flew 700 hours as a C-47 mechanic during 23 months in the Southwest Pacific and won the Air Medal with cluster. He is married to Charles T. Niblack, Ovidio, before joining the AAF May 14, 1942. His father, R. E. Kelsey, lives at the same address, while his wife, Paula, lives at 609 Ninth Court, Tampa.
