JETT, Ill., Mar. 15.—While the search for John Dillinger, missing for the past two weeks, was under way for six weeks, it was stated at the Joliet jail that he had been missing since March 15.

The Tribune was purchased from W. E. Stovall early in 1925 by a group of Tampa business men for the sum of $1,200,000. After operating the newspaper for nearly two years, the owners have disposed of the plant at a loss of about $250,000.

U.S. WILL NOT AID SENATOR KING IN ENTERING HAITI

Solan Whose Exclusion Is Desired By President Of Little Country, Will Visit
On His Own Responsibility

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15—(INS)—U.S. Senator Wm. H. King (D) of Utah attempts to enter Haiti, despite his exclusion by President Horne, will do so entirely upon his own responsibility.

In view of his official capacity as a worker and translator messenger sent to and from him in Spanish Delgado said he knew of the original plan which required him to make arrangements for freedom.

Delgado of Chicago, paroled from the penitentiary last December, is the mastermind of the plot.

King, now in Puerto Rico, is reported in press dispatches as intending to try to enter the country under the existing order against him.

Asked what would be the attitude if the Haitian authorities would actually jail the Senator, department officials indicated that a protest might be made, but no action could or would be taken in his behalf.

King has aroused the ire of President Horne, and of Gen. John H. Russell, commander of the American occupation force, by his criticisms of Haytian rule. He charged in the Senate that Russell was the real ruler of the country, and Horne "a puppet."

As an indication that the Boron-Bell exclusion order is directed solely at King and not at Congressmen generally, the State Department today received from Russell a report on the arrival in Port au Prince of a congressional junket party of 83 persons.

President Horne greeted the tourists, Russell report said, and proposed a visit to the President of the United States, to Congress and to American officials generally.

COURT DENIES SINCLAIR PLEA FOR ACQUITTAL

Justice Bitz Rules That Questions Which Magnate Refused To Answer Were Pertinent To The Inquiry

Defense Challenges
Committee Rights

Defense Avers Solons Had No Right To Call Witnesses And Question Them

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15—(INS)—The defense motion for an instructed acquittal on the Harry P. Sinclair contempt trial was denied today by Justice William Bitz in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia.

The wealthy oil man is on trial for contempt of the United States Senate for refusal to answer certain questions before the Senate Teapot Dome investigation committee on March 22, 1924.

In sweeping aside the defense plea, Justice Bitz ruled all the questions which Sinclair refused to answer were pertinent to the inquiry of the Senate oil committee.

Defense attorneys, in their appeal for a directed verdict, challenged the right of the committee to summon and swear witnesses on the date involved, basing their plea entirely upon technical grounds furnished by an error by the Senate itself in the wording of a resolution empowering the public lands committee to carry on the inquiry into oil leasing policies of the Harding administration during a recess of Congress.

The government's case was attacked on the ground that Sinclair had not been legally sworn, as required by law; and, secondly that the Senate committee was without power to summon witnesses in the oil inquiry after its appointment.

Upon his own responsibility, Horne will do so entirely upon his own responsibility.

The first plea was based upon an error in a Senate resolution adopted Feb. 5, 1924, in which through a typographical error the Senate authorized the committee to continue the wrong inquiry during the then approaching recess of Congress.

This error, the defense argued resulted in the expiration of the committee's powers with the end of the Sixty-Seventh Congress by constitutional limitation.

When Sinclair appeared before the committee on March 22, 1924 he was not sworn, the senator still bound him. Having never been sworn under the new authority, the witness was not amenable to the law requiring testimony, the defense argument continued.

As an indication that the Boron-Bell exclusion order is directed solely at King and not at Congressmen generally, the State Department today received from Russell a report on the arrival in Port au Prince of a congressional junket party of 83 persons.

President Horne greeted the tourists, Russell report said, and proposed a visit to the President of the United States, to Congress and to American officials generally.

Miss Rosalie Jones Becomes The Bride Of Washington's Senator

COLD SPRINGS HARBOR, N. Y., March 15—(INS)—Miss Rosalie Gardner Jones, who was prominent in the suffragette movement in New York State, was married to Senator Clarence C. Dill, of the Episcopal Church of St. John.

Only the most intimate friends of the bride were present, Miss Jones, older sister of the bride, was her only attendant. The bridal costume was of white velvet, trimmed with gold lace. A bouquet of lilies of the valley and long stemmed white roses was the sole floral adornment.

The ceremony was exceedingly simple in accordance with Miss Jones' wish. Late today a reception at the Gotham Hotel New York was to be held for the bridal party.

KEY WEST, Fla., March 15—(INS)—Philip Albany and John Smith, of Miami, pleaded guilty in Monroe county criminal court of record today to charges of looting two yachts anchored in Key West waters. Sentence will be passed next week.

Capt. Frank Russell, of Miami who commanded the boat on which Albany and Smith came to Miami, pleaded not guilty, his case was set for March twenty second.

Arrest of the trio followed the wholesale looting of the yachts of visiting yachtsmen.

LAKEVIEW, Ore., Mar. 15—(INS)

Mother love which sacrificed herself for her baby was expected today to save the life of the 15-month-old baby of Mrs. D. W. Amburger but the mother may die and two of her children are dead.

Miss Amburger, her legs frozen below the knees, was found by a searching party in the timbered mountain district near here after being missing for three days. Two of her children, aged five and three, were dead beside her but the infant huddled close to her breast while

Mary Cabell's Escapade Ends When Father Finds Her In The Adirondacks

HUDSON FALLS, N. Y., Mar. 15—(INS)—Her "escapade" ended, Mary C. Cabell, 16-year-old daughter of Hartwell Cabell, wealthy New York city attorney, was on her way home today with her father.

Mary Cabell was found in an ice cream parlor at Lake George last night after she had been mysteriously missing from her home since last Wednesday.

"Hello dad, I am glad to see you but I had good time," said Miss Cabell when her father walked into the Carlton Hotel here this morning.

When Cabell took his daughter in his arms and kissed her she broke down and cried. Father and daughter then walked out of the hotel, got into an automobile and were whirled away toward New York.

NEW YORK, Mar. 15—(INS)—Mary C. Cabell, 16-year-old girl who has been missing since Wednesday, was found early today at Lake George in the Adirondacks. Her identity was betrayed when she inquired from the station agent the price of a ticket to Hudson Falls. She was determined, she said, to have a career in the movies.

Planes And Specifications
Call For New Monarch Of Skies To Be 750 Feet In Length, Engineers Report

Size Will Eclipse
Proposed British Ship

Engineers Have Been Considering Project Nearly Year, Late Report Reveals

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15—(INS)

The United States Navy is receiving designs and specifications for the largest rigid dirigible ever conceived by aeronautical engineers.

The new monarch of the skies, initial appropriations for which were approved in the regular session of Congress just ended, will be 280 feet long, with a maximum "span"
of 130 feet.

The cubic volume of its gas chambers
will be 6,000,000 feet, against 2,500,000 feet in the Los Angeles, the largest dirigible now in service.

The Los Angeles is but 60 feet from tip to tip and 91 feet through its greatest breadth.

General details of the latest dirigible undertaking were revealed today, two days after the British Air Ministry had announced plans in the House of Commons for two new sky monsters of 5,000,000 cu-feet each.

In both countries the projects had been under consideration for more than a year, but revelation of the exact limits of the building specifications came as a surprise to aeronautical engineers.

Craft of these dimensions, some engineers believe, represent additional to a dirigible design only a little less revolutionary than the electrifying theories embodied in the first Zeppelin fifteen years ago.

No confirmation could be obtained
early today of a published story that "Daddy" Browning had lost his suit and that "Peaches" had won her counter suit.

The division may be filed today or tomorrow at White Plains, N. Y., or at Carmel, N. Y.

NEW YORK, Mar. 15—(INS)—The New York American in a copyrighted article today stated that Edward W. "Daddy" Browning has won the separation suit he brought against his wife, the former Peaches

Browning, who had lost her counter suit.

Sir Robert Horne, British Air Minister, presented the English specifications to the Commons in the budget estimates Thursday.

American naval authorities have been familiar with the engineering resources involved in the British design for almost a year.

The new super-drawbacks of the air will have a cruising range of 4,000 miles without refueling.
maximum speed of 10 miles an hour,
and room for 200 passengers or troops.

Each will be equipped, in addition, with hangars in which it will carry along its own small squadron of monoplanes, for scouting service.

"Peaches" has lost her counter suit against "Daddy" and with it any chance of getting alimony, according to the American.

In denying "Peaches'" separation claim, the newspaper said, it is understood that Judge A. H. Seeger found her charge of alleged adultery true, and in some instances he found it difficult to credit her testimony.

Justice Seeger's dismissal of "Peaches'" separation suit will not affect such an offer if made, and that his practical consideration
would be elimination of his mother-in-law, Mr. Carolyn Hen-man, from the domestic establishment.

Observers of the case, however, consider it probable that he would accept such an offer if made, and
that his practical consideration
would be elimination of his mother-in-law, Mr. Carolyn Hen-
man, from the domestic establishment.

father so badly that he died shortly thereafter in a hospital.

ment, is convalescing from an attack

First Business Session Of Radio

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15—Radio went on the official operating table today—the surgical processes may be both brutal and painful, but according to predictions
the lusty infant will survive.

The federal radio commission appointed by President Coolidge to formulate policies for bringing broadcasting and radio telegraphy under the government's control, held its initial meeting at the Commerce Department.

Its first concern was the complicated problem of checking inter-station interference.

Officials admitted that the radio listeners, numbering probably 20,000,000 nightly, will find no real benefit from the new regulations before autumn, while

Billy Sunday Raps Sinclair Lewis For His New Book "Elmer Gantry"

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Mar. 14.—(INS)—Thomas A. Edison, despite his skeptical attitude toward the present value of radio, has expressed in an interview with International News Service, in reality has contributed tremendously himself to the development of wireless communication, especially in the field of broadcasting. Robert H. Marriott, radio expert and first president of the Institute of Radio Engineers, stated today.

It was bad enough when cigarettes appeared dropping from the orner of juveniles' lips; it was worse when flasks began to bulge at a youthful hips—but that was before the era of dynamite.

The dynamite isn't any new thing for the contents of a flask, either, it is real.

Parents, teachers, and police everywhere today over the country have for several days been carrying around sticks of dynamite in their pockets as usually as they might carry lead.

PROSPERITY OF NATION SEEN IN TAX PAYMENTS

Revenue For Income Tax Is Estimated At Six Hundred Millions For 1st Quarter

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—(INS)—The high tide of the American prosperity, reached last year, was reflected today as the advanced sum of dollars began flowing into the Treasury on income tax returns for 1926.

With initial payments due by March 15, Treasury experts predicted the income tax revenue would total at least $600,000,000 in the first quarter of the year. This will mark an increase of $100,000 over the revenues on March 15 last year when $499,000,000 is paid into the Treasury.

Government officials viewed the aspects of this golden flood with satisfaction. They anticipated it would provide a surplus of $60,000,000 in the Treasury at the end of the present fiscal year.

"With a surplus of this magnitude, it was pointed out, wholesale tax reductions will be better when Congress convenes at December."

The principal reason for the sharp increase in revenues, officials said, was the widespread industrial and commercial prosperity throughout the country last year. A scattered spot of agricultural depression, it was added, had little effect upon the tax revenues because the agriculturists pay but a small portion of the National tax burden in any year. In 1926, it is said, the agriculture depression was confined to a few states, but industrial and commercial prosperity was nation wide.

A second reason for the increased revenue, it is said, will come in the increase in the corporate business throughout the country.

The tax itself was raised by last Congress from 12½ per cent to 13½ per cent, and Treasury officials estimated this advance will bring in $50,000,000 alone in increased revenues.

The payments on income tax, which are due within a week, will show last year's business, said the tax collector. The year just past was one of the most prosperous in all the history of our country and this prosperity will be reflected in the tax revenues.

Edison Gives Much To The Development Of Radio Invention

New York For Income Tax Is Estimated At Six Hundred Millions For 1st Quarter

NEW YORK, Mar. 14.—(INS)—Thomas A. Edison, despite his skeptical attitude toward the present value of radio, has expressed in an interview with International News Service, in reality has contributed tremendously himself to the development of wireless communication, especially in the field of broadcasting. Robert H. Marriott, radio expert and first president of the Institute of Radio Engineers, stated today.

In answering Edison's charge that the radio of today is not worth while, Marriott pointed to the 15,000,000 "fans" who now enjoy the product of scores of broadcasting stations throughout the United States, and said that this number was increasing rapidly each year. There must be some reason, he declared, for this popularity.

Marriott paid tribute to the inventor for inventions which have made present-day radio possible. Some fifteen years ago, Marriott said, Edison maintained that, while although they did not effect their desired purpose at the time, nevertheless contained the idea upon which radio communication is based. The vacuum tubes used in radio also are based on an Edison invention, he said.

Speaking of the "skip distance" which Edison characterized as the greatest difficulty in the use of the short wave, Marriott declared that this apparent fault may eventually be turned into a decided virtue, since by controlling the "skip" messages may be sent to one particular desired point, and not to other points for which they are not intended.

Curtains Asked For Railroad Locomotives

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—(INS)—The Wisconsin Railroad Commission today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to order approximately five hundred railroads throughout the country to equip locomotive cabs with curtains and other devices to protect employees from inclement weather.

This action was taken following the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court, holding that the Wisconsin Law and the regulations of the Wisconsin Commission requiring the installation of such devices were void. The Court held that the Interstate Commerce Commission has full authority in the matter under the Boiler Inspection Act.

Appropriations For State Colleges To Have Big Boost If Solons Pass On Budget

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Mar. 14.—(INS)—The board of control received only

"If the legislature follows the recommendations of the budget commission this coming session, state contributions to the institutions to our institutions of higher learning will be 250 per cent higher in this administration than they were during the previous one, and if this ratio increases to follow the recommendations of the governor, our universities will be well taken care of indeed," Governor John W. Martin said in a statement concerning the recent action of the budget commission in slashing the appropriations asked by several institutions.

"It is difficult to keep taxes down and at the same time enable the various state departments to do their work," he said. "Even with the necessity for helping taxes down, the budget commission trimmed this sum to $250,000, practically one-third."

"The trouble with money," Kellum said, "is that they don't realize that the future of the state is the young women and men of today. They will build roads and houses and look with pride upon the construction because it is a material thing and can be seen. When it comes to education, it is a spiritual thing and can not be seen physically; and therefore is neglected merely because it can not be seen every day."

Kellum pointed out that there were almost 25,000 students before graduation from Florida high schools annually and only about five per cent per year receive the opportunity of a higher education because of the lack of facilities in the state.

Business Manager J. G. Bad Manners

Alexander Kerensky, an exile from his native land, recently arrived in New York City to write and lecture about Russia. At his first appearance, a meeting held in the Century theater to commemorate the tenth anniversary of the revolution which overthrew the tsarist government, a woman approached him on the stage with a bouquet of roses. He presented it, then slapped his face.

Kerensky proved himself to be not only a gentleman, but possessed of unusual self control. In spite of the general uproar which followed his unorthodox act, he remained perfectly calm and waved back certain of his fans who moved to resent the insult. At his own request she was allowed to go free after being ejected from the theater.

It will be recalled that it was this same Alexander Kerensky who as premier of the provisional government, immediately after the "bloody revolution," gave Russia the only free government in which the people have had a voice in over a thousand years. It was he who organized Russia's shattered troops and led them in their last grand advance against the Germans.

Kerensky found his government gone and his people throught the hands of Bolsheviks, Lenin and Trotzki. Then followed the "Terror" of the Bolsheviks, surpassing in horror the scenes of the French Revolution. Ever since, bolshevism has reigned in Russia, a government more despotic, more ruinous to the people and the country than any other has ever experienced.

The Kerensky hopes were blasted. He has made his home in Paris in recent years since 1925 his newspaper, the Dawn, has no desire to return to the political lectures, to quicken the return of Russia to their sense in order that they may the sooner assume their proper position as the peoples of the earth.

Kerensky proved himself on more than one occasion to be a man of the highest caliber and deserves better treatment than was accorded him in the New York theater.

Gambling For Death

In his column last night Arthur Brisbane writes about an interesting case in Bolivia. There are gamblers who murdered a former Bolivian president. All four men involved in it which has not been solved. But a judge rules that an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" is enough. Four men should not pay the penalty for man's death. They must cast lots to decide which shall die.

Editor, Sanford Herald: I am informed that an Evans, now conducting meetings in Boston, Mass., June 3, 1882. Mrs. Eddy, a widow, a member of Christian Science, which she founded, died in Boston, Dec. 31, 1910.
