He was returning to the court room after the noon recess before which he had just completed an exhortation of over an hour to the jury.

Judge Smith sentenced Harold Bright and Hubert Hosking to one year each for breaking and entering the home of D. E. Mather. The couple pleaded guilty to the indictment of the Grand Jury when they were arraigned last Friday before the circuit judge.

A motion for continuance was granted by Judge Smith in the case of William Clark, charged with larceny of a cow. The case came up for trial Monday and the defendant was represented by S. J. Nix.

Frank King, negro, indicted for first degree murder was tried on Monday and a jury found him guilty of manslaughter. He was represented by Attorney E. F. Housholder.

Ben Senor, charged with assault with intent to commit murder, withdrew his plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty to charges of aggravated assault. Sentence was withheld pending good behavior.

Tuesday Fred Whiddon was found guilty of robbery and armed as set out in a grand jury indictment. Alleged accomplices in the holdup of the Triangle in the highway south of here, namely Andrew Tucker and Charlie Montes, entered pleas of guilty to the charges when arraigned before Judge Smith.

Maydelle Orlesby, indicted jointly with William Shultz on charges of breaking and entering, withdrew her previous plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty. A motion by the counsel John G. Leonard, to nolle prosequi the case against Shultz was granted.

Raymond Gatlin and General H. Turner were tried today for larceny of a heifer. They were represented by G. W. Spencer.

New Internal Problems Face Three Nations

Five insurgent planes planged 18 bombs on the railway outside the Spanish border town of Alpu shortly after the American had crossed into France. The casualties and damage were not determined immediately. The Americans escaped unharmed.

A permanent organization of the Training Union has also been organized here and it will replace the B. Y. P. U.

Diet Of Baby Pandas Is Experiment At Zoo

CHICAGO (AP)—Fighting out what baby pandas should eat is a matter of experiment at Brookfield zoo.

Mel Mei weighed 21 pounds when she arrived from China, February 18. Today she weighs 150 pounds and has never ceased liking her infant diet of cereals, milk and wheat in cream, topped off lately with some apples, celery, lettuce, chard, spinach, carrots and green corn stalks. She deviated recently by adding dog biscuits to the list.

Let Him Have It

As a result of Prime Minister Chamberlain's realistic policy of dealing with the dictators, Italy is now demanding "Tunisia, Corsica, Nice!" That was the cry raised in the Italian Chamber of Deputies as Foreign Minister Ciano, Mussolini's son-in-law, explained the part Italy had played in the Peace of Munich.

Now Tunisia, Corsica and Nice are for part of an isolated, unprotected kingdom like Ethiopia that could be stolen surreptitiously while the rest of the world sleeps, but are part of the French empire. Nice, a city within the French nation itself; Corsica, a Mediterranean island belonging to France for many years; Tunisia, a part of the French African empire.

There are, of course, a good many Italians residing in all three of these places. Tunisia, a province, an African province belonging to Italy, and about half of its white population is composed of Italians. Mussolini has been to great pains in recent years to see to it that it was populated with Italians. And Nice and Corsica once belonged to the Italian empire, though that was a long time ago, and for that matter most of Europe since belonged to the Italian empire.

But whether there is any basis for the Italian claim to these areas or not, it is being made and it is being made in much the same manner as the Italian claim to Ethiopia was made. The Japanese claim to South China was made, and the German claim to Silesia and Poland was made. "Well take what we want and if you don't like it, we'll blow you farther than a kite."

There were those who said, when Hitler began his "re-arming" all over Europe trying to get a little help in his efforts to keep from being swallowed up by Mus-solini's Legion, that the best thing to do was to let Mussolini have Ethiopia. He would be a long time in digesting it, they said, but he would leave them alone in the end.

That was about two years ago. Since then Germany and Japan have been busy bringing off large chunks of the rest of the world. Most of China all of Austria, and a large part of Spain, have all been pocketed by during this brief two-year period. Now comes "Tunisia, Corsica, Nice."

Of course, there will be those who will say, "They are very small parts of the great sea French empire. They could be given to Italy without being missed by France." But France gave them to Italy, and Italy may satisfy her. Then we will have peace for our times, at least.

Those who do not want to start a world war over such a little thing as "Tunisia, Corsica, and Nice." This will be the argument of men like Prime Minister Chamberlain.

Those who have had experience with bullies, however, will know that it does not pay to submit even to a little kick in the pants. The way to send Mussolini back to his knitting is to seize a little Italian territory, and if he wants to fight, let him have it. There is no way of satisfying a man like Mussolini by making concessions to him.

The Burden Of Taxation

If people wonder why the cost of living is so much higher than it was a quarter of a century ago, or why it is so much harder to live on an income which may be as large as it was then, let them remember that about one-fourth of their income today goes to the support of government.

According to W. F. Mesbane, executive secretary of the Associated Merchants and Property Owners, one dollar out of every four dollars of family income today goes to the tax collector, whereas in 1913 only one dollar out of every $15.50 was devoted to the cost of government.

Of course the actual increase in the cost of government, because in 1913 most governmental affairs, from the school or drainage district, right on up to the federal government, were paying their way out of tax monies, while today, the money raised by taxation represents a comparatively small part of the total cost of government. An enormous proportion of it is borrowed.

According to Mr. Mesbane, taxation will bring fully $12,800,000,000 into all government coffers this year. Of this total, he added, $8,122,500,000, almost two-thirds, are "hidden taxes," buried in the prices of goods sold at retail.

"Tax authorities have figured that the tax drain on the public amounts to one-fourth the income of millions of Americans making less than $2,500 a year," Mr.
Mesbane said. "Nearly all of this $600 a year or $50 a month is taken by the tax collector without the family realizing it."

The family table bears a heavy burden of "hidden taxes," according to Mr. Mesbane. There is 6.4 percent tax on a loaf of bread, an 8.14 percent tax on a pound of beef, and a tax of 8.01 percent on the same amount of pork chops, he declared.

"Twenty-five cents of every dollar the consumer spends goes for taxes he cannot see," Mr. Mesbane said.
"These 'hidden taxes' are an invisible thief in the kitchen."

THAT'S WHERE ALL THE LITTLE BIRDS HAVE GONE

ATTENTION, SANFORD LADIES!

By SADYE MOSES

Christmas is only three weeks away and our stores and shops are filled with all the lovely and useful gifts anyone could wish for.

For ten years I've been trying to get up the nerve to tell the Ladies of Sanford that they are greatly responsible for Sanford's stagnant condition!

Do you ladies know that you are responsible for the rapid growth of Orlando?

I don't think you realize how fast you are sapping Sanford's strength and building Orlando.

It is known that Orlando merchants are dependent on Sanford for 1/3 of their revenue. This isn't an idle remark.

Orlando merchants will tell you the same. Remember, I had a shop in Orlando for two years, thinking that I'd get the Sanford business in Orlando. But I had forgotten the psychology of human nature, that is, that Sanford shoppers felt a little cheepish about coming into my shop in Orlando for various reasons.

2nd. There are only a few stores of any prestige who extend credit in Orlando, and I'll venture to guess there aren't 100 Sanford residents who have charge accounts in Orlando.

3rd. Our Sanford population who shop in Orlando pay cash for their wares.

Ladies, those of you who say "We can't find what we want in Sanford." Don't you realize we can't carry the stocks we should just in the event you won't get the chance to go to Orlando first.

Orlando hasn't a thing we haven't. If you want popular priced merchandise Sanford has stores that can supply you. If you want better merchandise Sanford has that also, and the joke is we can undersell Orlando any day, due to economic reasons.

Enough of that, the point I am trying to bring out is this:
Your money is made in Sanford if you live here. Directly or indirectly your incomes depend on conditions in Sanford.

Whether you are a merchant's wife or professional man's wife, a laboring man's wife or an independent worker, Orlando doesn't supply your incomes (without which you couldn't exist).

Please wake up to the realization that it isn't so "smart" to get up parties and spend the day shopping in Orlando! Again no merchant in Sanford would be foolish enough to ask you to do without an item if it couldn't be secured in your home town—But we could all have better selections of everything from nails to cars if we had our share of the money you spend out of Sanford.

If any of you read the Special "Mail-away edition" the Orlando Sentinel printed last week you will see that we are considered a part of the City now. The Big Tree, Colquhoun Fields, St.
Johns River, all these were pie-

In Bucharest three men who assassination of Floru Stefan-

Police said the trio tried to es-

Their deaths followed by three days the shooting, also in followers.

Anglo-American Treaty Will Not Throttle Nazis

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—As one looking for the New Anglo-American trade treaty to draw a throttling curtain around the neck of German trade likely will be disappointed.

Trade experts point out that German exports to this country are largely goods in which Germany specializes.

Since the German exports to this country are mostly her own specialties, trade experts say English goods are not likely to replace them extensively even with the concessions granted by the U. S. in the treaty.

Any blow at Germany will be found in the "intangible" factors in connection with the treaty. These treaties and others already negotiated have linked France, England, Canada and the United States in a trade group pledged to treat one another fairly and without discrimination.

Among these nations and others willing to reciprocate trade will be on a non-preferential basis as distinguished from the German-style barrier basis which has proved onerous to some nations.

It should be remembered that both the United States and the British Isles enjoy extensive trade with Germany in spite of barrier difficulties. It is a fairly advantageous trade in both instances.

Both the United States and England find Germany a good market for petroleum products. England also sells Germany coal, iron ore and copper, of which she has either plenty or access to plenty.

In turn, the United States sells to Germany cotton and a host of agricultural products, just such products as she sells to England. In recent years the cotton market has largely failed, being usurped by Brazil which is able to absorb in exchange for her cotton a large share of German manufactures than this country's competitive industries will permit, in 1934, how-

Sheriff Gets Candy For His Prisoners

DECATUR, Ill.—(AP)— Sheriff Emory Thornell says that some of his county jail prisoners get candy—if they can pay for it.

He got the idea from an inmate who said that the only thing the jail needed was candy for prisoners "coming off a drunk."

"A man shut off from his liquor craves something sweet," the prisoner said, "and if you satisfy that craving you will create a better prisoner."

The sheriff tried it and found the theory worked well. So now Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Smith, night turnkey, gets candy for the prisoners willing to buy it.

Problems To Be Discussed By Shippers

State's Celery Handlers Will Convene For Second Meet In Lakeland Tomorrow

Acres Control Quotas Are Set Growers Have 15 Days To Protest Goals Set By Committee

As celery growers in this section are planning a concerted attack on pressing problems, celery shippers, too, are seeking solutions for a number of their pressing problems and for this purpose have organized an association of shippers which will hold a second meeting in Lakeland tomorrow afternoon to hear reports of committees which have been authorized to investigate various problems.

In the meantime, County Agent C. R. Dawson announced that the Agriculture Adjustment Administration has approved celery quotas for all farmers in Seminole County and that everything is set in order for operation of the program this year.

The program is an experimental effort of the AAA to assist farmers through a crucial year by restoring the acreage which is hoped will bring a corresponding increase in price. Mr. Dawson said that the growers have been advised of the farm quotas and that they have 15 days to make complaints and file requests to the Seminole County Soil Conservation.

U. S. Truck Crops To Be Smaller In '39, Survey Shows

Slightly smaller truck-crop acreages for the 1939 harvests compared with the acreage planted in 1938 are indicated by the Federal Bureau of Agricultural Economics. According to the Bureau's report on the truck-crop outlook for the coming year, the 1938 season has been one of rather unsteady factory returns to growers. As is usual following seasons of relatively low prices, the total acreage and production of fresh-market truck crops in the United States is expected to be smaller next year. Smaller acreage are in prospect for lima beans, beans, cabbage, celery, cucumbers, onions and tomatoes. On the other hand, acreages may be somewhat larger for asparagus, snap beans, cauliflower, lettuce, spinach, and watermelons.

If production of the truck crops for fresh market shipment is reduced next year, as now seems probable, and if consumer purchasing power increases as much as is now anticipated, "prices and incomes for producers will be somewhat higher than in 1938," the Bureau said.
