Ryan Quits Post As Port Boss; Cites Health Problems

By MAX KHEILETYAN
Herald Staff Writer
Jim Ryan, Seminole County Port Authority (SCOPA) director for the past nine and one-half years, has wired his resignation to Port officials. The telegram, sent from New York City, was received by port offices Monday. Prior to sending the telegram, Ryan discussed his resignation with his 19-year-old daughter, Stephanie.

"He is in New York and he has had some physical problems," said Miss Ryan today. "We talked about the resignation before he sent the telegram and agreed it would be best."

Ryan said health was the reason for his resignation, according to Stephanie. "There were health reasons involved," commented Blackbeare. "Basically his leaving was to get some medical attention."

Blackbeare said he got word in Ryan that the SCOPA board would be considering his resignation. "I had talked with the family and asked that they tell him to contact me should they get in touch with him," said Blackbeare.

"I was under a lot of pressure here," she said. "The time away has done him good. She is a heart at truck two leads a trump from dummy and ducks when East plays the jack. West is in with the queen and the contract is safe. Suppose East plays his king of trumps? If he does that our expert has to pay off the same as the others."

Assistant To The City Manager for Public Safety Ben Russell declined to repeat what the caller said to the two women.

RALLYING TEACHERS DONATE MONEY TO SUPPORT CANDIDATES

Complaints of obscene telephone calls are relatively common to most police agencies. Generally, if the caller persists, the receiver is advised to change her telephone number. There was an arrival for making an obscene telephone call in Sanford Tuesday.

The phone receiving the call: The Sanford Police Dept. 1000.

Detective W. Leri Nichols notified road patrol at 8:18 p.m. that the department had an obscene caller on the telephone and she could hear traffic noise in the background.

Complainant Melissa Johnson was also on the telephone and the women were advised to keep the caller talking.

And both they did, for eight minutes.

Det. L. B. Russell spotted a man in a telephone booth at the corner of French Avenue and 20th Street.

Vis his car radio, Russell told the dispatcher to listen for his car honking three times. They radioed back and forth until the 19-year-old man, according to records.

Assistant To The City Manager for Public Safety Ben Russell declined to repeat what the caller said to the two women.

Seminole Teachers, Board Meet Today Over Free$e

A request for a standby federal arbitrator, a suggestion to have teachers do only "what they are contracted to do" and a pledge of staff and money support from a national teachers' association were three new elements injected Tuesday into the ongoing contract dispute between teachers and the Seminole County School Board.

Ryan cited health as the reason for his resignation, according to Stephanie. "There were health reasons involved," commented Blackbeare. "Basically his leaving was to get some medical attention."

Blackbeare said he got word in Ryan that the SCOPA board would be considering his resignation. "I had talked with the family and asked that they tell him to contact me should they get in touch with him," said Blackbeare.

"I was under a lot of pressure here," she said. "The time away has done him good. She is a heart at truck two leads a trump from dummy and ducks when East plays the jack. Alleging Sunshine Violation Suit Filed Against Layer And Cowley

By LEONARD EKLANDORF
Herald Staff Writer
A civil suit alleging the Seminole County school system was violated by some Seminole County school officials for negotiating a contract settlement with clerical union representatives at an unscheduled meeting has been filed by the clerical union's chief negotiator.

Filed on co-defendants in the action are School Superintendent William Layer and the school district's chief negotiator Ernest Cowley.

The suit was filed in circuit court at Sanford by Gene Groves, chief negotiator for the Seminole Educational Council and executive director of the Seminole Education Association (SEA).

Groves is asking the court to require the unscheduled and unannounced meetings in the future.

Two weeks ago the clerical union and the board negotiating team reached agreement at a scheduled meeting.

These representatives SECA at the table claimed they were denied with the program Groves was making in the negotiations.

Because of the dissatisfaction, several members of SECA asked Cowley if they could meet with him the same night he was negotiating with the board.

Muller Dies On His Anniversary

Stanley T. Muller, 54, member of the Seminole County school system for the past 29 years and a director of Seminole County Community Action since it was organized in 1964, died at Florida Hospital North.

Muller had been admitted for diagnostic tests to Florida Hospital North where he died at 2 p.m. Saturday while undergoing a test. It was his 26th wedding anniversary. He and his wife, Bernice, had met in the early 1940s.

Muller began his association with the school system in 1949 first as a teacher at Orlov Junior High School. He was promoted to principal of the Jackson Heights School when it was an elementary school in 1952 and had been principal since that time.

The teachers and the board have been negotiating since May with agreement having been reached on 12 of the 34 items.

SEA PRESIDENT BILL MOORE ADDRESSES RALLYISTS

...Mediator Sought

The contract expired July 31. In addition to the mediator, tonight's bargaining session at Lyman High School could result in the way teachers perform their job.

A work rule statement is currently being drafted and whether it is completed will depend on what progress is made at the negotiating table, SEA President Bill Moore said.

According to the association president the work rule concept involves teachers "doing the work only legally required and no more, no less."

Some of the duties which may be affected by the idea is teachers not taking home homework to grade, not being a club sponsor and not participating in bus duty, Moore said.

Moore said the exact nature of the concept will have to be outlined in the final language. "To see exactly what we can and cannot do as teachers."

Once the exact information is received copies will be distributed to the schools. "Those interested in participating will be asked to sign the document so we can get some idea who would be behind this idea," he said.

In addition to Moore and Grooms, the audience heard from Jim Williams, associate director of the National Education Association (NEA).

Cowley agreed, noting later that the members who came to him represented a majority of the bargaining unit.

Grooms had been asked to participate in those negotiations, but declined, saying it was an unproductive meeting and did not include all of the bargaining team members.

Several days after that agreement was reached, Grooms filed an unfair labor practice charge against the school board claiming the meeting was unproductive and that the people negotiating the contract did not represent SECA.

In commenting on why he now took the reported action on the alleged Sunshine Law violation for the southeast region. "Whatever it takes whether it be money, staff or anything else the NEA is behind you," Williams told the group.

He added that one effective measure the teachers can take is at the ballot box. He urged the group to support the candidates who have been endorsed by the Seminole Educators Political Action Committee (SEPAAC).

SEPAAC has endorsed incumbent Roland Williams, and challengers William Kroll, Margaret Reynolds, and Robert Czakmakowicz. Williams voted against the salary freeze.

Current school board members are Williams, Pat Telson, E.C. Harper Jr., Allan Keith and Robert Feather. Feather is the only one not up for reelection.

Several ballots were then passed around to collect money to support the candidates and once completed $973.22 was collected.

Williams also said if necessary he would get the support of the Coalition of Governmental Employees (CAPE).

CAPE has "several million members," according to Williams including local government employees, public workers and nurses.

Williams said the exact help CAPE can give is still undetermined and will depend on what is needed.

Also addressing the audience was Don Cameron, executive secretary of the Florida Teaching Profession (FTP). "The school board will try to Blacksheare and Seminole County Commission liaison SCOPA Bob French agreed Dolger will probably be appointed to take over the administration of the port at least on an interim basis.

"That's something the board will have to deal with tomorrow," French said of replacing Ryan. "But I don't feel we have any choice but to do what has been done for the past two months and that is let Dennis run the thing."

"He has apparently done a very competent job. I know he handled the gas spill very well and stayed right on top of things until everything was under control."

"The board can handle that procedure any way they want," Dolger said.

The port has undergone several personnel changes this summer in an effort to cut expenses.

Mate-Slaying Trial Delayed 60 Days

By DENNIS FEOLA Herald Staff Writer

The first degree murder trial of Jacqueline McCann Dancy, scheduled to start today, has been postponed for at least 60 days at the request of her attorney.

A continuance in the case was granted Tuesday at the Seminole County Courthouse by Judge Volie Williams.

In his motion for continuance, Dancy's attorney, Roger Berry of Sanford, said he has not had adequate time to locate and interview some witnesses who will be called in the case.

Mrs. Dancy was indicted by the Seminole County Grand Jury for the New Year's Day strangulation and shotgun murder of her 29-year-old husband, Edward Dancy.

Also indicted in the slaying is Mrs. Dancy's boyfriend, Charles Ira Hackett, 24, of Fern Park. Hackett is scheduled to stand trial Sept. 11. Dancy's body was discovered

She was arrested June 22 in Biloxi, Miss., where she was working as a go-go dancer under the name Sara Reinhardt. On the day of her arrest, it was revealed in The Evening Herald that Mrs. Dancy had written a letter to authorities confessing to the murder.

In the letter, the 29-year-old woman said she alone shot and strangled her husband and made it appear as if Hackett had committed the murder. Court records indicate a key witness in the trial will be a friend of Mrs. Dancy and Hackett.

The man told police Hackett telephoned him at 2 p.m. on Jan. 1 and told him Dancy was dead and asked him to provide an alibi for Mrs. Dancy.

Dancy's body wasn't discovered until 3 p.m. that day by two men walking in the area of the ditch. The 29-year-old woman said she alone shot and strangled her husband and made it appear as if Hackett

Longwood To Skylark: Fix Drainage Or No Permits

By DENNIS FEOLA
Herald Staff Writer

"Skylark In The Swamp." That's what Longwood Councilman Ray Lieberperger termed the Skylark in The Woods subdivision in connection with its drainage problems.

"And the city council agreed the drainage problems are serious enough to withhold certificates of occupancy from homeowners in the subdivision until the problems are resolved."

The vote to withhold the certificates of occupancy "for the health and safety" of residents was unanimous.

Lieberperger said water that filled the streets 18 days ago is still there and has not drained.

"If you want to get their attention, withhold their certificates of occupancy," City Attorney Ned Julian Jr. suggested.

"So moved," Lieberperger responded.

Also at Monday's meeting, the council was informed by Building Inspector David Chacey that a "friendly" suit will be filed, challenging Julian's interpretation of a section of the zoning ordinance.

Several members of the council have said they disagree with Julian's opinion on the matter, however, they have agreed to let the issue go to court for a judge to decide.

After the meeting Chacey identified the firm involved as Ace Builders and the lot as 639 on Jessup Avenue.

Julian has said a home cannot be built on a 39-foot lot if the owner has a contiguous lot.

The only exception is if you owned a single, 50-foot lot before the zoning ordinance was passed in 1969, Julian said.

Reilly, Sr. Simpson has argued with the city. City ordinance allows construction of homes on as many 50-foot lots as there is an existing when the ordinance was passed, regardless of who owns neighboring lots.

In other business, the council passed, 4-1, an ordinance amending the proposed city charter which will be on the ballot Sept. 26.

The amendment provides for candidates running for city council to reside in a specific district, but be elected by all of the city's voters.

Lieberperger, who favors a previously approved plan of candidates residing in a district and only the voters in the district deciding the race, cast the dissenting vote.

A motion by Lieberperger to delay the election for six weeks to allow residents additional time to consider the change died for lack of a second.

A public hearing on the issue of Sunday sales of beer and wine which will appear on the Sept. 26 ballot, should be expanded to include all alcoholic beverages.

There are no package liquor stores in Longwood, however the ordinance was expanded in the event the questions passes and a liquor store decides to open in the city.

Hours for Sunday sales of liquor were set at noon to 2 a.m.

Council-President J. Russell Grant and Councilmen June Lormann and Stephen Barton made their appointments to the board of adjustment.

However, the council was virtually unanimous in its condemnation of the state legislature for passing a law requiring an appointed board whose decisions cannot be appealed by the council.

The board of adjustment will decide requests for variances. Appointed were: Graham Lane, Percy White and Bill Krall.

While the meeting was in progress, it was noted that more than 500 homes and 1,600 people were without water in the Shadow Hills subdivision. Public Works Director Tommy Jackson said the water pipe while working on the Tibron subdivision. Service was restored in about four hours.

Mrs. Lormann announced that bookkeeper Cheryl Kleison has resigned effective Sept. 1. The council was unanimous in its praise. "She's been the best thing that ever happened to this city," Grant said.

"I've been sick about it all day," Mrs. Lormann said of the resignation.

Mrs. Lormann said the bookkeeper preferred not to be specific about her reasons for resigning in her public letter of resignation.

Mayor Troy Piland, during public hearing Tuesday night on the city's proposed 1982-1979 budget for the 1978-1979 fiscal year, said a "friendly discrepancy" appears in the proposal and a workshop on the finances was set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday to work it out.

The mayor, pointing to a financial statement for the month of August, said the city currently has $273,794.00 total cash in the bank and "there is no way the city is going to spend all that money in the 22 days remaining in the current fiscal year."

"Talk about an increase in revenues," he said, adding the budget recommended by Councilman John Daniels, the city's finance officer, only shows a $30,000 cash carryover into the new fiscal year.

Daniels, however, said Piland's remark was a "gross overstatement" and reminded that some of the money is committed for restricted funds, including an escrow of $66,000, for converting part of the community building into city hall offices, reserves for paying and reserves for construction.

"I am concerned with surplus of funds," said Piland, adding that some city services could be beefed up with money on hand.

Daniels insisted that the August financial statement could not be entirely accurate since the month is not completed as yet. He said he has been the city's finance officer for the past four years and has always been conservative in cash estimates.

"By fiscal year end," said Piland, "the city will have about $20,000 in cash to carry over into the new year." The fiscal year ends Sept. 30.

Councilman Laurent Pellerin said he will not vote for a tax increase. Councilman Bart Logan said he also would not vote for a tax increase but he would like to see accurate cash-carry-forward figures in the budget.

Councilman Thomas Craven said that a knowledgeable person will estimate revenues conservatively.

Asked from the audience what effect would be seen in the city budget if the Tusculvella deannization effort is successful, Piland said that revenues would be affected to an extent.

But, he said, city services would not be cut down, but rather the same number of employees would serve a smaller city and thus services would be enhanced.

City Attorney Thomas Lang was again asked to explain actions which council may take on the requested deannization of Tusculvella.

Lang said a notice of public hearing within four weeks had to be published and has been. The hearing is scheduled for Sept. 19. He said that after the hearing, the council could vote to approve the deannization in which case deannization would occur or could defeat the ordinance and deannization would not occur. The council, Lang said, at any time of its own volition, would place the matter on the ballot for a vote of the voters of Tusculvella.

Another option, he said, would be for the Tusculvella voters to submit a petition containing the signatures of 15 percent of the registered voters in Tusculvella requesting a referendum and the matter would then be out of the council's hands and a referendum would be called.

Election Set

Qualifying times for the Nov. 7 general election in Winter Springs to fill three city council seats have been set by Mayor Troy Piland.

Piland said the qualifying period for the candidates will open Sept. 1 and close Sept. 18. The offices to be voted for are those held currently by John Sabatini, John Daniels and Thomas Craven.

Voter registration books for the city election will remain open until Oct. 7, Piland said.

Three polling places have been designated for the election including the fire station on Moss Road, the fire station in Tusculvella and the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

In other business, Piland instructed Police Chief John Govershuk to approach the state Department of Transportation and bring to its attention that Like anyone else, a funeral director has to make ends meet. He has facilities to maintain, cars to buy, salaries to provide and, of course, taxes to pay.

This means he must have a strong business sense. He must keep expenses within reason so as to keep his prices within every family's means. As we do.

POLITICS IN BRIEF

Frey: Eckerd Using Old Endorsements In Campaign

ORLANDO (UPI) — Aides of Republican gubernatorial candidate Lou Frey have accused his opponent, Jack Eckerd, of using campaign "dirty tricks" by quoting four-year-old endorsements and using the name of a man since appointed the party's state finance chairman.

The Frey aides said the Eckerd campaign has continued to use an endorsement by L.E. "Tommy" Thomas since he was named GOP finance chairman Aug. 1. They also accused the Eckerd campaign of using endorsements of Eckerd by former California Gov. Ronald Reagan and Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., when Eckerd was Florida's GOP nominee for the U.S. Senate in 1974.

Teen Car Washes For Frey

Teen-agers for Lou Frey are rallying statewide to raise money for mass media and television coverage for the final days of the campaign, according to Julie Frey, Youth for Frey director and daughter of the Republican candidate. In the next two weeks, there will be a series of car washes from the Panhandle to the Keys.

Little: Labor Day Finish

Joe Little, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, has literally run across Florida — almost — in his bid for a seat on the Florida Cabinet. Little, a 43-year-old former mayor of Gainesville, began his run in Daytona Beach on July 4 and will finish in the Gulf of Mexico in Pinellas County on Labor Day.

2 Endorsements For Hazelton

Don Hazelton (D-West Palm Beach), candidate for state treasurer-insurance commissioner, announced the endorsement of the Florida Council of Handicapped Organizations, and of the Congress of Senior Citizens.

Bircher Wins Primary Race

ATLANTA (UPI) — Rep. Larry McDonald, D-Ga., a national officer of the John Birch Society, rode a surge of late returns early today to a narrow victory over challenger Smith Foster in a Democratic primary runoff.

Resort Tax In Pinellas?

CLEARWATER (UPI) — Voters in Pinellas County will cast ballots Oct. 5 in a referendum on imposition of a 2 percent resort tax on hotel and motel room rentals, and on rents of apartments occupied for less than six months of the year.

Brown Names 3 Chairmen

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Speaker designate Hyatt Brown revealed his choices for three key House chairmanships Tuesday, naming veteran lawmakers John Ryals, Walter Young and Gene Hodges to head the agriculture, education and industry committees.

Brown tapped Ryals, D-Brandon and a legislator for 12 years to head regulated industries. Young, D-Hollywood and a junior high school principal, will take over education, and Hodges, D-Cedar Key will handle agriculture.

'Pinnocchio Award' To Shevin

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Robert Shevin beat out Hans Tansler last week to capture the first weekly "Pinnocchio Award" given by governor candidate Jim Williams to the man he says is the biggest fibber on the campaign trail.

Williams said Tuesday Shevin continues to make whatever campaign promises are necessary to win the particular audience he's addressing.

Williams also announced he's accepting ex-Gov. Claude Kirk's invitation to engage in a debate on casino gambling in Fort Lauderdale on Sept. 6. Williams is against gambling; Kirk is for it.

Brantley Names Key Aids

Bobby Brantley, vying for the Republican nomination for House District 34, has named Ed Bergman of Leesburg as his Lake County campaign coordinator.

Florida: Still More Demos, But GOP ...

TALLAHASSEE, (UPI) — The GOP is edging up, but there still are more than twice as many registered Democrats as Republicans in Florida.

The secretary of state also reported Tuesday that there are a half million more voters in Florida today than there were in 1974, the last time Florida chose a governor.

The total registration is 4,136,307. That includes 2,762,546 million Democrats and 1,355,861 million Republicans. That is 223,386 more Democrats and 120,371 more Republicans than were registered to vote four years ago when Gov. Reubin Askew won a second term.

The other 217,289 voters are registered as Independents or in minor parties and can't vote in the Sept. 12 primaries. Black registration of 410,162 is up 54,887 over 1974, but only 10,000 above 1971, a presidential election year.

Dade (Miami) still is the leader, accounting for 501,249 Democrats and 126,004 Republicans. Although up 75,000 over Dade's 1974 registration, it's a drop of 9,181 voters under 1978. Statewide registration has climbed by 80,711 voters since 1974.

The biggest Republican registration is 177,100 in Pinellas, but Democrats still have the edge with a total registration of 192,388. Only Collier and Sarasota Counties have more registered Republicans than Democrats.

The largest concentration of black voters is 102,128. Only Dade, Broward, Palm Beach, Broward, Hillsborough, Pinellas, Orange, Brevard, Polk, Sarasota and Volusia Counties are the only ones with more than 100,000 registered voters, explaining why the candidates spent 75 percent of their time in these areas. Combined, they account for over half of the total state vote.

Second to Dade's total of 677,941, including 301,349 Democrats, 130,894 Republicans and 66,800 others, are:

- Broward, 651,440, including 309,250 Democrats, 132,553 and 29,637 others.
- Pinellas, 383,809, including 192,399 Democrats, 177,100 Republicans and 24,451 others.
- Orange, 167,916, including 100,868 Democrats, 37,111 Republicans and 9,931 others.

Seminole County Charter Push To Update '78 Unit

TALLAHASSEE, (UPI) — Planning to spend most of his time fighting casino gambling, Gov. Reubin Askew has left to Constitution Revision Commission leaders the job of convincing the voters to update the constitution.

Askew appointed CRC Chairman Talbot "Sandy" D'Alemberle of Miami Tuesday to direct Update '78, a group created to coordinate efforts to ratify most or all of the 107 proposed amendments going to the Nov. 7 ballot.

Also appointed were CRC leaders LeRoy Collins, once Florida's governor, Jesse McCrary, who is interim secretary of state, and Doby Amey of Tallahassee, a former Ethics Commission chairman, and incoming House Minority Leader Curt Kiser of Clearwater.

"While I plan to spend a great deal of time campaigning against casino gambling, I do intend to speak out whenever I can on many of the important proposed constitutional revisions, most of which I plan to actively support," the governor said.

He has been in agreement with newspaper editorialists of neglecting the move by constitution revisionists to abolish the Cabinet as he can concentrate on an amendment also on the Nov. 7 ballot legalizing casinos in Miami Beach.

Microwave Is Like Magic For Fixing Dessert

The most frequent request from microwave owners is for microwave directions for convenience foods.

Apple Pie Gingerbread: Sprinkle cake with gingerbread mix and 1 cup water with a fork in microwave for 3 minutes. Cool on flat surface, not wire rack.

Four fruit and sauce mix from a 16-oz. jar. Stir until mixture begins to thicken, about 1 minute. Wait 4 minutes, until blended, about 1 1/2 minutes.

Place pan on top of inverted glass pan and microwave at FULL POWER (high) for 8 minutes then at low for 3 1/2 minutes. (For microwave

Colorful 'VIF' Casserole Likely To Rate An Encore

Never before has the common chicken occupied a more prominent role in American eating habits. As homemakers search for appealing low saturated fat dishes to tempt their families, the chicken has become a "Very Important Food."

And more doctors are urging Americans to decrease the amount of saturated fat in their menus and increase the amount of cholesterol-lowering foods. This means eating fewer dairy products and fatty meats and more poultry, fish and vegetable oils.

Chicken plays a big role in the program. More enticing ways to serve the "V.I.F." are needed. This Chicken and Rice diet is a good solution. It is a one-dish meal which means little cleanup. And it is low in saturated fat and high in polyunsaturates. Various spices and vivid green peas, chopped tomatoes, parsley and onion co-sar with rice, chicken and corn oil margarine.

This colorful casserole combination will evoke the time-honored praise of all successives: ENCORE!

CHICKEN AND RICE
2 tablespoons corn oil margarine
3 tablespoons vegetable oil
3 pounds chicken parts
1 can (1 pound 3 ounces) tomatoes, chopped
1 cup chicken broth
1 cup sliced onion
1/4 cup chopped parsley
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 medium bay leaf
1 medium clove garlic, minced

Heat corn oil margarine and oil in Dutch oven and in large heavy saucepan. Add chicken and brown well. Add tomatoes, chicken broth, onion, parsley, salt, pepper, bay leaf and garlic.

Cover and cook over low heat 25 minutes. Add rice and cook 10 minutes; stir occasionally. Add peas and cook 10 minutes longer, or until done and all liquid is absorbed. Makes 6 servings.

Chicken gets titled "Very Important Food" in a new eating style that's nutritious, healthy and easy on the heart and pocketbook.

How To Avoid Gelatin Jitters At Un-Molding

Preparing your gelatin mold went well. You followed the directions carefully, you were a genius at choosing a recipe with a nice mix of color and texture, and your gelatin dessert looks great. Now, you can't wait to unmold it and wow your guests with your culinary creation. If you are like most people, however, you are just a little jittery at this crucial point.

And you have reason to be, for even the most carefully prepared gelatin dessert can turn soupy around the edges, especially if you follow standard instructions for unmolding: "Dip mold, almost to top of rim, into warm water for about 10 seconds. If one dipping does not loosen gelatin, repeat." Well, you may get away with one quick dip without drowning your dessert, but don't press your luck a second time. Better yet, DON'T DO IT THE FIRST TIME!

Instead, before you pour the gelatin mixture into your mold, grease the mold very lightly with your favorite cooking oil, or spray with one of the new spray coatings on the market. To unmold, place a serving dish over the dessert, turn the mold upside down, tap the top once or twice lightly with a flat knife, and voila—the gelatin dessert will slide out to you beautifully, without dripping, dripping, or divine intervention.

Another tip to ensure an attractive gelatin dessert is to use the right sized mold. Aluminum gelatin molds range from 4 to 16 cups, according to Hillware, a leading manufacturer of gelatin molds and cake pans. A company spokesperson points out that the consumer also has a wide choice of patterns, tabular and non-tabular coatings, and humped and lightly patterned finishes.

Traditional Food Marks Holy Days

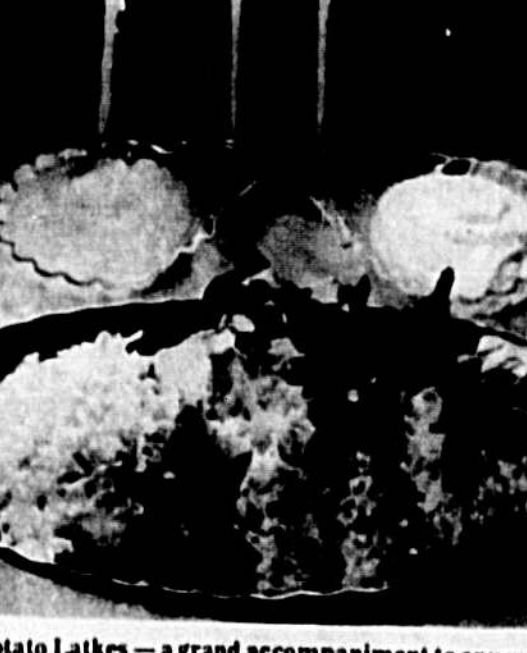

With the lighting of candles at sundown Oct. 1, Jews throughout the world begin observing Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year. The holy season continues with Yom Kippur, the day of atonement, which begins on the evening of Oct. 18.

Jews spend the high holy days in prayer and earnest self-justification. Traditionally favorite foods are prepared as families and friends gather.

Menus often include gefilte fish, chicken soup, a main course of lamb or roast chicken with potato and liver stuffing, potato latkes and a traditional honey dessert, such as honey loaf.

LAMB DELUXE
8 1/4-inch thick rib lamb chops with stuffing pocket
1 clove garlic
1/4 cup cooled rice
1/4 cup chopped pecans
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 teaspoon salt
one-third cup peanut oil
1/4 cup apple juice
Rub meat surfaces with garlic clove. Combine rice, pecans, parsley and salt with 2 tablespoons peanut oil. Toss well.

POTATO PANCAKES (LATKES)

1/2 medium onion, grated
2 tablespoons flour
2 eggs, beaten
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1/4 cup vegetable oil
Applesauce
Sour cream (optional)
Coarsely grate potatoes. Pat dry with paper towels. Add onion, flour, eggs, salt, pepper, nutmeg and parsley. Mix thoroughly.

Potato Latkes—a grand accompaniment to any meal

Break Away From The Burger Rut

Cheeseburger and barbecued hamburger fans can break out of the rut. Next burger time, place a surprise filling of sautéed onion, fresh tomato, Danish cheese and spicy mustard between your ground beef patties.

Broil or grill hamburger slowly until the cheese inside melts, about 10 to 15 minutes. Just before serving, melt another slice of cheese on top. Serve on fresh-baked bread with fresh vegetables.

DANISH SURPRISE HAMBURGERS
2 medium-size onions, sliced
1 tablespoon butter
2 pounds lean ground beef
5 tomato slices, 1/4-inch thick
10 slices Danish Havarti or creamy Havarti cheese, 1/4-inch thick
1 tablespoon spicy mustard
Salt and pepper

Staples Offer Variety Dishes

Potatoes and corn are staples that offer the cook a choice of dishes ranging from simple to complex.

OVEN-CHEEPPED POTATOES
4 Idaho potatoes, thinly sliced (do not pare)
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Grease a large, shallow baking dish. In it, arrange potato slices in layers. If desired, serve with melted cheese sauce. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

TUNA CORN Cakes
1 1/2 cups unbleached all-purpose flour
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
5 eggs, beaten
1 package (10 oz.) frozen white kernel corn
2 cans (7 1/2 oz. each) tuna in vegetable oil
1/4 cup diced green pepper
1/4 cup diced red pepper
1/4 cup chopped onion
1-3/4 cup milked oil

In a large bowl, mix together flour, baking powder, salt and pepper. Add beaten eggs and milk. Add corn, tuna, green pepper, red pepper and onion. Beat until a drop of water added to the oil sticks. Drop the batter by a 1/4-cup measure into the hot oil. Brown cakes well on both sides, turning once.

Maintenance For Good Dietary Plan

Dr. Lamb
DEAR DR. LAMB - I read your article on weight reduction and am very pleased with it. I think it is something I could live with for the rest of my life. However, there are some items that I would appreciate knowing about and I am including a list of these in the hopes that you might comment on them.

DEAR READER - Of the items you have on your list, cottage cheese is an excellent food, particularly if you use the unsweetened cottage cheese, because it contains very little fat. It's a low calorie food which contains a lot of good quality protein plus calcium.

Bring beans are fine and are a low-calorie food so long as you don't add fat in their preparation. Most of the fruits, if you don't go overboard, are fine for people and should be part of a normal balanced diet. As you will notice, orange juice is included on the diet and you could substitute an orange for a glass of orange juice.

You asked about eggs and they are acceptable in a small amount and, again, it depends on how you prepare them. The American Heart Association recommends that men not have more than three egg yolks a week from all sources because of the cholesterol content.

You might ask about some of the egg substitutes that are on the market that contain no cholesterol, but I'm sorry to say most of these are commonly used today also contain a lot of fat, although it is unsaturated fat.

The diet is probably better if you limit the fat intake. As far as the jack and cheddar cheese are concerned, these are high in fat and frequently high in cholesterol. A little bit of these processed cheeses add a large number of calories to the diet as they should be used sparingly, if at all. You can prepare gravy and cream sauces and cream soups with non-fat dry milk powder and proper seasonings so the calories are limited without losing calories. Unsweetened canned pineapple is a reasonable source for fruits and often goes well with unsweetened cottage cheese.

You also ask about butter and margarine. If you are losing enough weight or maintaining your weight at the level that you want to, then you can use these in moderation. But all fats, whether they come from margarine, butter, vegetable oil or all types or from meats of all types contain a lot of calories. A diet that is too high in calories will need to limit its intake of fatty foods as well as the foods that contain lots of sweets or concentrated sugars.

In the last analysis, the test of whether a diet works for a person or not is whether it safely enables him to gradually lose excess fat or enable him to maintain his weight at the desired level. In addition to meeting this requirement, the diet should be sufficiently well balanced to provide all the necessary vitamins and minerals. Unless a person learns these features, the diet efforts won't be very effective because most of these people lose weight and then regain it as soon as they return to their previous dietary habits.

Summer Dining Moves Indoors Menu Gets A Touch Of Autumn

The golden harvest of Autumn has long been treasured around the dining table. All summer, outdoor cooking prevailed and good cooks performed their miracles under a fall or setting sun. Now the talents turn indoors, and the same good foods so popular on the patio take on new importance.

A brace of golden brown duckling sets the stage for our Autumn dinner and is served with langy spiced cling peach halves. Broccoli spears are topped with creamy Zesty Cheese Sauce.

A second indoor scene stars rye duckling quarters served over rice pilaf. A crunchy green fruit cocktail combined with cream cheese, all neatly frozen in a one-pound coffee can.

Wash, drain and dry duckling quarters. Sprinkle salt over both sides of quarters. Arrange quarters, skin side up, on rack in shallow roasting pan. Bake in low oven (325 degrees F.) until tender, 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 hours. Turn quarters skin side down at the end of 1 hour. Bake 30 minutes, then turn skin side up for remaining roasting time. Serve on Rice Pilaf with Cranberry-Orange Sauce. Yield: 4 servings.

Combine water, rice, chicken bouillon cubes and salt in medium saucepan; bring to a boil. Cover and simmer at low heat until liquid is absorbed, about 15 minutes. Melt butter in large skillet. Add celery and onion; cook until almost tender, about 5 minutes. Add mushrooms; heat. Fold in hot, cooked rice. Yield: About 6 cups.

Wash and drain duckling. Pat dry with paper toweling. Season neck and body cavity using 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon black pepper. Cook cavity in butter over low heat until almost tender. Stir in remaining ingredients. Fill neck cavity with aluminum foil. Tie legs together loosely. Place breast side up on rack in shallow uncovered roasting pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until meat is tender (about 1 1/2 hours, about 3 1/2 to 4 hours). Yield: 4 servings.

Alabama Exports Um, Uh... Culture

ANNISTON, Ala. (UPI) - One of Alabama's exports this year will be, of all things, culture. Theater, to be exact.

The Alabama Shakespeare Festival, which grew from its modest first performance before 28 people in 1973 to a critically acclaimed festival that drew 25,000 in its third year this summer, is taking to the road this fall.

The troupe will leave its quarters in the town of 25,000 in both green hills of east Alabama to perform and give workshops in seven southeastern states in October and November. Festival officials hope the tour will broaden the festival's audience.

Anne F. Zimmerman, managing director of the festival, said the new tour is intended to extend the festival's season and extend its services to more people. "It's mostly an effort to

Those Turkeys At Grandma's This Year Will Cost More

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Those turkeys at grandma's house this Thanksgiving will be considerably more expensive than last year.

"Prices are going to be quite a bit higher this year," said Agriculture Department economist William Cathcart.

There are several factors—some short-term and others long-term—that are pushing up turkey prices.

High beef prices encouraged consumers to look elsewhere for meat, so that consumer demand has pushed up the price of pork, chicken and turkey.

Turkey producers had expected 1970 would be a mediocre year, but it is turning out to be one of the best years ever.

Cathcart said, "A year ago everyone was looking for a lot more pork and it didn't look very good for turkey prospects in 1970."

But when pork producers failed to increase production as much as had been expected, consumer demand for chickens and turkeys increased.

Turkey producers, who had lost money for the first nine months of last year, did not increase the size of breeding flocks so much as they could have to meet the stepped up demand. The result is a situation all producers dream of in which a record crop is expected, but supplies are short of demand.

Cathcart said the wholesale price of turkeys may average

60 cents a pound this summer, compared with 50 cents last year.

The department's Crop Reporting Board estimated this week that the 1970 turkey crop will be a record 141 million head, one percent above the 1969 record.

Yet a department publication that went out to institutional buyers of food this week indicated that turkey supplies would be merely "adequate," even in a record production year.

That indicates that turkey meat that had been held in cold storage has been sold.

"It will not be enough production to offset the lower cold storage stocks," said Cathcart. "The demand has been exceeding supply so they've taken all that was produced and a little more."

The turkey business has shifted dramatically the past couple of years toward more production of processed meats and sales of cut turkey pieces, such products as turkey ham

Producers can get more profit from larger turkeys by spreading basic costs over more pounds.

Emphasis is now placed on heavier birds of 12 pounds and more instead of the birds lighter than 12 pounds.

Heavier turkeys, projected at 134 million head, are expected to be up 7 percent. Lighter birds, projected at 7.62 million head, are expected to be down 37 percent.

Until recently light turkey production had been stable at about 15 or 16 million head.

The small number of turkey producers (last year 20 of the largest firms produced 80 percent of the total turkeys federally inspected) are expected to take advantage of the higher prices and increase breeding flocks soon.

"Production during seasonal light months of the first half of 1970 will likely be sharply above 1970," said Cathcart.

If supplies increase, maybe the 1971 Thanksgiving turkey won't be as expensive.

Wrap biscuit around cheese, covering completely. Roll and dip rolls in egg. Coat with corn flakes. If desired, place rounds down on prepared cookie sheet. Bake at 400 degrees 10-12 minutes or until golden brown. Serve warm. Makes 10 sandwiches.

SPICY FRANKFURTER BREAD

Add 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper to 1/2 cup boiling water, stirring to mix butter; pour over vegetables. Place plates of frankfurters on top and sprinkle with 1/2 cup Parmesan cheese. Cover lightly and cook slowly 10 to 15 minutes or until frankfurters are done. Bake in oven with potatoes and cabbage with potatoes. 6 to 8 servings.

Salary Row Action Delayed; County Teachers Eye Meet

By LEONARD KRANSDORF
Herald Staff Writer

Actions planned earlier this week by teacher union officials to show their dissatisfaction with the freezing of salaries have now been put on the back burner — at least until the outcome of another negotiating session planned for next week.

This is the course of action today for the Seminole Education Association (SEA) as a result of an almost seven-hour negotiating session Wednesday between the SEA and the school board.

The next session is scheduled for Wednesday at 4:15 p.m. at Lyman High School.

At a Tuesday night rally Gene Grooms, executive director of the Seminole Education Association (SEA), said he had asked that a federal mediator be placed on a standby basis in case the negotiations did not show positive gains.

After Wednesday night's negotiations, Grooms said he was satisfied that some progress was made and will postpone asking for the mediator.

SEA President Bill Moore echoed Grooms' remarks, noting that the proposed work-rule document will not be sent out until after future negotiations. The work rule concept outlined by Moore would have had teachers do just the work they were contracted to do.

He had said earlier this could mean not taking homework home to grade, not being a club sponsor and not directing traffic.

Wednesday, Moore said the document will be written this weekend, but will not be distributed until it is seen how the next negotiating session goes.

At Wednesday's session, the SEA team lowered its base salary proposal from $9,822 to $9,322.

However, the board bargaining unit resubmitted its offer of a flat 4.50 percent pay raise which would be a $400 increase over the current teacher base pay of $8,700.

School board chief negotiator Ernest Cowley noted that even though it was a $400 increase on the lowest base pay, some teachers with several years of experience and higher base pay would see an increase of $1,000.

Cowley responded that the figures do not take into consideration such factors as new teachers, and the increase in salaries paid to teachers as they move from one year of experience to two or more.

The two sides also failed to agree on the item of class size.

The board wants to retain the present system of having the class size determined by an overall district average while the union wants the size to be determined on an individual class basis.

The two sides also disagreed on the association use of a courier system.

The school district began the courier system in 1968 and the SEA has been using it since that year.

The board now contends that since the SEA is a private organization, the board has no obligation to let it use the system.

The association takes the opposite position noting that the cost for the service is negligible to the board.

The system consists of two trucks leaving the school board office on a daily basis and taking packages and other mail to school facilities throughout the county for the school district.

SEA negotiator countered that even the $400 on the low base is not an adequate figure for the teachers to live on.

Kirk: 'Chronic Liar' Shevin Should Quit

TALLAHASSEE, (UPI) — In his sharpest attack yet on the front runner in the Democratic race for governor, Claude Kirk today called Robert Shevin a "chronic liar" who let four top aides "rape" the retirement system.

Kirk said Shevin, the attorney general, lied twice — once under oath — and should resign.

He gave each Capitol reporter a notebook which he called the "Black Book Brief" on Shevin and said it was filled with documentation of the allegations.

The former governor also failed to inform the public of the Shevin matters, although each has been the subject of news articles over the past four years.

They included: —Shevin's sworn promise, notarized and filed with the secretary of state July 7, 1976, to not seek re-election if crime was not substantially reduced during his first four years as attorney general. Crime went up, but he ran and was re-elected.

—A May 31, 1977, letter from Shevin to the National Rifle Association, saying "in my years in public service, I have never supported any form of gun registration ... I would actively oppose any suggestions for the registration of firearms of any kind."

In May, 1977, as a senator, Shevin sponsored legislation (SB 85) requiring registration of all sales of firearms, including pistols, rifles and shotguns.

—Letters in which four Shevin aides, including Jim Flach, James Barrett, Dan Deering and Louis Wainwright Jr., resigned, withdrew between $7,500 and $7,000 in vacation and retirement pay, then were rehired a few days later.

Kroll's Name Withdrawn For Position In Longwood

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Longwood Councilman Steve Barton will withdraw the name of School Board candidate Bill Kroll as a possible appointee to the city's new board of adjustment.

Barton announced the withdrawal of Kroll's name when it was disclosed there is a legal question about whether Kroll can hold an office while seeking another office, the terms of which would overlap.

Barton said he will make a new nomination at next Monday night's meeting.

For the second time in two weeks Monday Barton mentioned Kroll as a candidate for the newly created city board of adjustment. The board was created by the city as mandated by state law. The city council had been serving as the city's board of adjustment.

City Attorney Ned Julian Jr. said the board will have five members and will have power to make decisions concerning variances on the zoning laws. Their decisions are appealable only in circuit court.

Barton first brought up Kroll's name at a council meeting on Aug. 14. During a recess in the meeting, Barton introduced the school board candidate to several citizens attending the meeting.

Barton said he discussed the possible appointment with Kroll two weeks ago and that Kroll at that time indicated a desire to serve.

Kroll said today, however, he was unaware his name was to be submitted for appointment.

Kroll had served in an advisory capacity previously on a city paving committee.

The candidate also is serving on a county parks board, having been appointed to that position first by County Commissioner John Kimbrough and reappointed by County Commissioner John Alexander. He also is president of the Woodlands Parent-Teacher Association.

Of his park board service, Kroll said today he has been told that he can serve on other boards as long as payment for service is not involved.

Neither the parks board nor the city board of adjustment members are paid a salary or expense allowance.

Kroll and two other persons' names were placed in nomination by city council members Monday night, but a vote was not taken.

After the three nominations were made, councilmen questioned the necessity of having a board from whose decisions citizens could not appeal to the city council.

Also discussed was whether terms for persons appointed should properly be three years which would mean that the appointee would serve beyond the term of the councilman making the appointment.

Port To County: Help Us Get Loan

By MAX EKIMLEYAN
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County Port Authority (SCOPA) is lobbying with members of the county commission for support on a resolution that would back the port's bid for a $1,500,000 loan to consolidate all the port's construction debts and expand its petroleum tank farm.

Built into the loan plan is a $100,000 "sinking fund." That money is a reserve to be used to make loan payments for up to 18 months should unforeseen problems prevent the port from meeting those payments in the ordinary manner.

"The sinking fund gives us 18 months in essence to work out whatever problems may have occurred," explained Jeff Eichberger, director of the Office of Management Analysis and Evaluation (OMAE).

There is also a provision for $175,000 for anticipated expansion of the petroleum tank farm operated by Exxon Oil Co. The loan money could facilitate an expansion of one to 1.5 million gallons in the tank farm's capacity. Current capacity is 2.5 million gallons.

The port has been discussing with a Birmingham, Ala., investment banking firm of Hendricks, Yardley and Moore arrangements for the loan, according to assistant Port Administrator Dennis Dolger.

Two options for county support of the loan have been proposed by the port. However, one calling for the commitment of property tax revenue to back the loan is believed to be illegal, according to Eichberger.

A second option calls for the county commission to pass a resolution authorizing the idea of a debt consolidation loan to the port.

"Under that option," said Eichberger, "there is no

MARTHA ZIMMER SWAMPED WITH AWARDS

'Little' DAV Unit Home A Winner

The convention hall at the San Francisco Hilton was packed with delegates from 16 states and Puerto Rico, as award winners were announced at the National Convention of the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary, Commander Martha Zimmer of Seminole Unit 30 attending.

As she heard the name of her unit called out, she could not believe her ears. She was frozen to the chair.

"Aren't you going up to accept your award?" those sitting next to her inquired.

"Was I dead or?" Mrs. Zimmer said, "my legs were shaking so hard I could hardly walk. It was quite an honor. I never dreamed our little unit could be that exceptional."

"Last year at the state convention we took six citations, but to win first out of all those other auxiliaries in the nation — that was something I never imagined."

She no longer got back to her seat when it was announced the unit had received another first-place citation.

The Seminole unit took first place for membership growth, Veterans' Administration Hospital work, and legislative projects and was awarded a citation of merit.

Also representing the local unit in San Francisco were Adjutant Florence Williams, now traveling with a singing group in Europe; and Edith Martin, state executive woman. Representing the DAV chapter at the DAV convention at the same time were Commander Bert Zimmer, Martha's husband, and Captain Joe Martin, Edith's husband.

Bert and Edith are the first husband-wife team to command the chapter and auxiliary in the history of the Seminole Chapter.

"There were 50 women in the auxiliary and we stood up 30 new members. Our quota for the coming year is 57 members," she said.

"There are quite a few young members who are married to or related to Vietnam War disabled veterans. We're on the move."

"We visit Lake City VA Hospital once a month and we get a trophy from the state convention this year," she added.

Altamonte Burglary: $50,000-$100,000 In Antiques

Between $50,000 and $100,000 in rare antiques were stolen in a burglary at a home near Altamonte Springs.

The detective working on the case for the Seminole County Sheriff's Department, John Therpe, said a complete inventory is still being prepared.

"They took some very rare pieces," Therpe said.

The collection belongs to Jack Fraily, 55, of 305 Summit Drive. Fraily and his wife were away on a brief vacation when the burglary occurred.

A handmade Royal Dux porcelain figurine, depicting a desert scene of two women and a camel, was made in the late 1800s. Fraily said Therpe he searched 10 years for that particular piece and paid $1,000 for it 10 years ago.

Also reported stolen was a Persian rug, six-foot by nine-foot, handmade in Iran. Three smaller rugs were also taken in the burglary.

A forlorn cup, gold colored with 14 karat gold, is four inches tall and decorated with blue and white flowers.

Several antique Lalique plates were valued at $50 each.

Four cut glass wine glasses were valued at $50 each.

A cherry pitcher was made in the 1700s in England.

A Lalique vase and three mosaic glass figurines were also reported stolen.

Two decanters made in the 1800s were taken and glass figurines having such names as Queen-Henry, Gallo and Fabrice are being hunted for detectives.
