Weather

Mostly cloudy with showers with portions this afternoon and tonight. Otherwise partly cloudy and wide scattered showers through Saturday. Little change in temperature.

WORLD SERIES—This scene was typical throughout the city yesterday afternoon as business activity took a sudden slump and thoughts turned to a more important topic—the World Series. Some seemed a bit leery about having their picture taken, but the above group at the St. Johns Health Co., 116 N. Park Ave., watching the game on television held its ground. (Staff Photo)

Ex-Governor Advises Adding 200 Patrolmen

Caldwell Offers Suggestions Today At 6th Annual State Safety Parley

ST. PETERSBURG (AP)—Former Gov. Millard Caldwell today proposed adding 200 more patrolmen to the Florida Highway Patrol and setting up a point system for drivers as two ways to curb Florida's highway death toll.

Caldwell, who also was former federal civil defense administrator, gave these ideas in a speech at the sixth annual highway safety conference here.

He explained the state should measure the performance of drivers. A driver would be given points for unsafe performance of drivers.

When a certain number of points appear on the driver's record and if he continues his violations he is called into a hearing which may result in license revocation or suspension.

Caldwell said the "greatest incentive for safe and sensible driving is the sight of a state highway patrol car. If we can put more of them on the road for more hours of the day we will save lives, in figures and property."

Explaining there now are 200 patrolmen, he suggested the next Legislature add 100 more patrolmen and the 1957 session put another 100.

"I recommend that each patrol car be assigned to two men and that they, between them, keep that car on the highway 15 or 16 hours every day. There will be some inconvenience for the patrolmen in having to divide the time of the car in such manner but it can be done and great benefits can be enjoyed by the public."

He put out a third suggestion for improving highway safety: Examination of the effectiveness of high school driver education. He explained only about 15 per cent of the public (but those taking driver education and he was not in a position to say whether such training is effective. He said the matter should be studied and if it is a step in the right direction more emphasis should be put on it.

The safety conference, started during Caldwell's administration in 1946, is a group working with state officials who have anything to do with safety.

Caldwell said he did not think the conference has accomplished as much as they should have, but he said the public itself can say just how effective a highway safety program it wants.

"Before the state can take remedial action it is necessary that the citizens express the degree or relief we wish to enjoy. The public has the power to reduce the number of accidents by 10 or 20 per cent, but course must be determined by the number of lives we wish to save."

Acting Gov. Johns was to make the principal talk this morning. Caldwell, former acting dean of the College of Business Administration.

ACTING DEAN NAMED AT LEAF GAINESVILLE—The University of Florida yesterday named Richard B. Fisher acting dean of the College of Business Administration.

87th BIRTHDAY—Mrs. Emma Hartline celebrated her 87th birthday yesterday with ice cream and cake in her home at Moore's Corner. An open house was held and friends and neighbors dropped in throughout the day. Mrs. Hartline has lived in that area for the past 25 years.

ALTA MONTANE SPRINGS—The Streamliners, a four-piece, all-girl orchestra will play for a dance at American Legion Old Glory Post No. 102, Altamonte Springs, Saturday night from 9 to 12:30 o'clock. The post home is located at Prairie Lake on Highway 17.

The public is invited to attend Joe Pavichak and Charlie Miller are co-chairmen for the dance committee, and the post commander is Walt Bonder of Fern Park. Proceeds from the dance will be used to make payments on a mortgage now on the post home.

Today marked the beginning of garbage service without any extra fees. Local residents with alleys at the rear of their properties are to place garbage cans at the back property lines, while those without alleys are to place them back of the front line of their houses. Garbage cans are not to be placed at curbs as such action is illegal.

Communists Trying New Attack

FBI Director Hoover Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today U.S. Communists are peddling a new party line based on pretended cooperation with American ideals. But, he asserted, "do not be deceived—the conspiracy is still with us."

"The true Communist party line remains unchanged," Hoover said. "The overthrow and destruction of our constitutional democracy by any and all means at their disposal remains the aim of the Communists."

Hoover discussed the current attitude of the Communist party in a signed editorial in the October issue of the FBI's monthly law enforcement bulletin, which is distributed to law officers throughout the country.

"The Communist party is like a braver from the gutter, like a dirty boxer who fights with no holds barred. Constantly shifting from the attack to the defense, it fights a war and gives ground one moment only to lash out with renewed fury the next. It bobs and weaves and ducks to avoid punishment."

Whenever a chance presents itself, it hits below the belt, gouges an eye and uses an elbow.

The latest twist in the long frayed line of Communist party dogma, claims Hoover, is a new goal which can be established peacefully and through constitutional means.

"Erecting a false facade of cooperation, the party now says, 'we are ready to work with all Americans no matter what our past relations or present differences may be, to block war and fascism, to save U.S. living standards, to restore free exchange of ideas and debate on the great issues facing the nation. We propose a coalition together of all progressive and democratic forces to consult with each other and to make such consultation and working together a habit.'"

"The new line bleats for the consumption of those who are glib that the party advocates a peaceful path to socialism."

Giants Win 3rd 6 To 2

The New York Giants crept to within one game of the world championship today, by beating the Cleveland Indians, 6-2, in the third game of the World Series. The Giants have won all three games of the series.

The day dawned muggy and cloudy and more than 400 gathered at Municipal Stadium early to get brachy and standing room tickets. The 60,000 reserved seats and box tickets were sold in advance. The 20,000 others went on sale today.

Opposing pitchers were Cleveland's Mike Garcia, who won 19 and lost eight during the regular season, and New York's Ruben Gomez, a right hander with a 17-9 record.

Ground crew men at the huge stadium, largest for baseball in the world, turned out before sun up to remove a tarp they had put down to protect the playing field from yesterday's storm.

After winning the first two games, the Giants were favored to win the series by 12-5 in the betting at Reno, where bookmakers are legal.

The best of seven series calls for third, fourth and fifth games to be played in Cleveland. If any more are needed, the clubs will go back to New York.

GIANTS FIRST—Lockman's Garcia's first pitch for a single but after Dark fanned was forced at second by Mueller. A bad throw by Strickland, attempting a doubleplay, let Mueller go to second. Mays brought Mueller home with a single to right—his first hit of the series. Garcia walked. Thompson Irvin fouled to the catcher.

One run, two hits, one error, two left.

INDIANS FIRST—Smith walked on four pitches and Avila sacrificed him to second with a surprise bunt, but Bobby Tied to Mays and Dark made a catching catch. Werth's sinking line over second.

GIANTS SECOND—Williams walked and took second on a wild pitch but Watson fanned. Gomez lined to Doby and Avila made a nice running catch of Lockman's high foul fly.

INDIANS SECOND—Majewski fouled to Lockman. Philley walked but was forced at second when Gomez made a leaping stop at Strickland's highouncer and threw to Williams. Thompson threw out Hegon.

HANTS THIRD—Dark singled and on a hit and run play, Mueller singled through short, sending Dark to third. Mays rapped off third. But Dark evaded the tag long enough to let Mueller reach third and Mays get to second. Thompson was purposely passed, loading the bases, and Dark hit into a double play. The pinballing went on as second first pitch into right, scoring two runs and sending Thompson to third. Williams was safe on a bunt when Garcia hesitated and then overthrew first, scoring Thompson. Westrum tapped back to the mound and was out but Rhodes and Williams advanced. Gomez struck out.

Three runs, three hits, one error two left.

INDIANS THIRD—Rhodes went into left field for the Giants. Bob Lemon held for Garcia and fanned. Smith lined to Gomez and Thompson threw out Avila.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

GIANTS FOURTH—Art Houtteman goes in to pitch for Indians. Lockman thrown out short to first. Dark flies out to right and Mueller pops to second.

Big 3 Foreign Ministers, Adenauer Meet To End W. German Occupation

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS SERVICE—Roy F. Mann (left) and O. C. McBlide, vice-president and assistant cashier respectively of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank, are both celebrating 25 years of service with that institution. They both began as bookkeepers for the bank on Oct. 1, 1926. (Staff Photo)

Two Employees Of Local Bank Observe 25th Anniversaries

This afternoon Roy F. Mann and O. C. McBlide were honored with a party at the Sanford Atlantic National Bank upon their 25th anniversaries at that concern, both began work in the bank as bookkeepers on Oct. 1, 1926.

"After spending 25 years in the bank, I have finally decided to make it a lifetime job," Mann said. It is a very pleasant atmosphere to work in. I hope to be here another 25 years."

Born in Farmington, Mann moved to Sanford from Orlando shortly before starting at the bank as a bookkeeper. He was soon raised to the post of teller, became an assistant cashier in 1943, became cashier in 1944 and was promoted to vice-president the first part of last year.

The father of two children, Mrs. Helen, 7, Mann was recently elected second vice president of the Kiwanis club, and is a member of the board of school trustees, treasurer of the Salvation Army and a member of the Sanford of the First Presbyterian Church.

McBlide, the bank's other 25-year veteran, also began as a bookkeeper after working for three years in the now defunct First National Bank at Sanford. He has served as a teller and as made assistant cashier early in 1948.

Born and reared in Vidette, Ga., McBlide came to Sanford in March, 1926. He is married, but has no children.

Who's asked how to spend working in the banking business, McBlide said, "I wouldn't mind staying with it for so long."

He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the First Presbyterian Church, and is a former member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Union Action Averts Strike Against Bell

ATLANTA (AP)—Union spokesmen for about 50,000 non-supervisory workers have withdrawn their notice of termination of contract with the Southern Bell Telephone Co.

Louis B. Dan's, chairman of the bargaining committee for the Communications Workers of America (CWA), said last night the withdrawal means "the workers will continue under the old contract, which expired this week."

He said, however, that it does not signify any agreement with the company.

The withdrawal of notice was interpreted as meaning that, under the Taft-Hartley Act, there could be no strike by the employees immediately, since notice of contract termination must be given at least 60 days before a strike.

Negotiations plan to resume talks here at 11 a.m. Monday.

The union has protested a "no-strike" provision in the new contract.

John W. Phillips Dies At Residence

John W. Phillips, 60, died at his home in Geneva at 3:15 p.m. yesterday after an illness of about two years.

He had lived at Geneva for the past 33 years. He was born Oct. 1, 1891, at Cassville, Ga. He was a retired farmer and citrus grower and a member of the Geneva Baptist Church.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Minnie R. Phillips, one sister, Mrs. Emma Cleveland, San Antonio, Texas, one brother, B. H. Phillips, Baytown, Ga., and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday at the grave site in the Geneva Cemetery. The Rev. W. B. Kiser, minister, pastor of the Geneva Baptist Church, will officiate.

Friends may call at the Brinsun Funeral Home, Sanford.

Registration Ends Tomorrow

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Registration for the Nov. 2 general election ends tomorrow, and Secretary of State R. A. Gray reminded county registration supervisors today they were required to report to his office within five days the number of registered electors.

The secretary of state's office estimated total registration would run close to the 1952 general election figure of 1,339,536 even though current interest is less now than in that red-hot presidential election year.

Primary registration last spring totaled 1,335,823, divided as follows: Democrats 1,197,437; Republicans 131,204; and other parties 7,182.

Racial Integration Suffers Set-Back

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The mingling of white and Negro pupils caused demonstrations in at least seven Baltimore public schools today and 11 Negroes failed to appear at a Milford, Del., school attended by members of their race earlier this week.

Just before classes started at Southern High School in Baltimore this morning, some 500 pupils milled about noisily. Some carried placards reading "Negroes not allowed" and "no strike." Teachers snatched the placards from them.

Police in squad cars and a patrol wagon broke up the demonstration, telling the pupils to go to school or return home. Meanwhile, 39 Negroes registered at the school entered the building in a group and no threats were feared.

At other Baltimore schools there was picketing, noise and talking about.

The 11 Negroes at Milford stayed home, integration having suffered a setback yesterday when a new school board announced it was sending an integration order to the Lakewood Ave. school. Ten had been attending classes and about two-thirds of the white students had been staying away in protest.

With the Negroes absent attendance at Lakewood Ave. jumped sharply.

The Milford board said it rescinded the integration order in the interest of the welfare of the children and the community as a whole.

Milford for weeks has been torn with bitter division over the integration question. Negroes were admitted to the high school when it opened, but threats of violence later forced the school to close for a week.

The Milford Board of Education resigned last week after the State Board of Education had criticized it for admitting Negroes without receiving prior approval from the state. New board members were sworn in yesterday, and their first action was to advise to remove Negroes from the high school.

About two-thirds of the high school's 1,500 white students have been boycotting classes.

There were several other integration developments in Southern and border states yesterday.

A group of white parents in Baltimore picketed the admission of 12 Negro children to a kindergarten class. The women also announced plans to picket at least four other schools in the city.

Baltimore faced school integration when this session began, getting on a ruling by the city superintendent's office Maryland at large continuing segregation.

In Washington, the committee on the Interstate Commerce Commission ruled that neither the constitution nor federal laws prohibit segregation of passengers in interstate travel.

Senators Fredson ruled against Mrs. Sarah Keyes of New York, a Negro who attempted to ride with white passengers on an interstate bus in North Carolina. The case now is expected to receive a full review by the ICC.

The State Democratic convention in Georgia threw full support behind a "private school" amendment.

Remaining candidates are Douglass, Falmagne, Enders and the governor-nominate, Marvin Griffin. The amendment would clear the way for the state to replace public schools with "private schools" to maintain segregation.

Brady Withdraws

F. E. Brady, Sanford, said today that he has withdrawn from the race for State senator.

He said he had no comment to make until after the election.

MEMPHIS (AP)—A regular quarterly dividend of 15 cents per share of common stock, payable Oct. 15, was announced yesterday by National Airlines.

Delegates Display Agreement

Dulles, Eden Are Anxious

LONDON (AP)—The western European foreign ministers met with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today to draw up a general agreement—perhaps by night-fall—to end the nine-year-old occupation of Western Germany.

A quick grant of political independence to the 78-year-old Adenauer, Bonn government appeared virtually certain as the international conferences of freeing and reuniting west Germany resumed.

The final success of the negotiations depends on the willingness of West German troops to a defense alliance against Communism, which would be a condition of a comprehensive plan for a general German reunification.

Delegates predicted the conference would end successfully tomorrow.

The delegates will leave behind groups of experts to work out details of the program and to draft the necessary treaties. These would be signed later and submitted to the various parliaments for ratification.

Under the plan, West Germany, formed in 1949 by Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. At the same time, West Germany also would be taken into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as its fifth member.

Dulles and Eden were especially anxious to get the sovereignty program underway immediately so as to bolster Adenauer's sagging political clout at home.

The chairman of the strong Socialist opposition, which opposed West Germany's entry into NATO, picked up important votes after Adenauer's recent reelection of the 1950 European Army plan.

The four ministers had before them recommendations prepared by their committee of experts as a guide for framing a grant of sovereignty.

Informally said Dulles and Menzies. France says it will be ready to sign with a proposal by Eden for an immediate end to the occupation of West Germany.

Meanwhile, the Allies would refer without delay additional political and economic rights to the Germans in return for guarantees from Adenauer's government.

An agreement to work out a common policy with the three occupying powers to have entering negotiations with the Russians for a peace treaty and reunification of Germany.

How understanding of the spiritual nature of reality brings on healing, harmony, and progress—will be set forth at Christian Science services, Sunday.
The Lesson—Sermon entitled "Reality" includes the following from I Peter (1:21, 23): "For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away. But the word of the Lord endureth forever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you: From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following correlative passage will be read (333:27-29): "Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal. Nothing unspiritual can be real, harmonious, or eternal."
The Golden Text is from I Corinthians (13:13): "As it is written, He that loveth, let him glory in the Lord.

How understanding of the spiritual nature of reality brings on healing, harmony, and progress—will be set forth at Christian Science services, Sunday.
The Lesson—Sermon entitled "Reality" includes the following from I Peter (1:21, 23): "For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away. But the word of the Lord endureth forever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you: From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following correlative passage will be read (333:27-29): "Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal. Nothing unspiritual can be real, harmonious, or eternal."
The Golden Text is from I Corinthians (13:13): "As it is written, He that loveth, let him glory in the Lord.

ALL OVER THE WORLD

Glance at an atlas or give your globe a spin. It's a vast world, encompassing continents, oceans, mountains, deserts and valleys. Its inhabitants number in the billions, and they in turn are divided into many nations, each with varied tongues, creeds, and religions.

But here at last we have struck upon a common denominator — religion. For all peoples in all times have recognized a superior power — their creator.

On World Wide Communion Day, Christians all over the world unite in their churches to partake of the Lord's Supper, one of the holiest rituals of the Church. Together, in His house, their prayers attain a new significance. Their voices blend into one universal voice, from which stems new power and meaning.

Go to your church on World Wide Communion Day. You will be in the fellowship of millions of worshippers, receiving with them new hope for peace of mind and soul—and peace for the world.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

To the Newspaperboys of Florida:

It is an honor for me to pay tribute to our many boys who are faithfully fulfilling their responsibilities as newspaperboys. I am happy to learn that October 2, 1954, has been set aside as National Newspaper Day.

These young newspaperboys are an American tradition which reflects our American appreciation of the value of individual enterprise.

At an early age they learn responsibility to be applied throughout the length of their career.

Loyalty, perseverance and thrift mark the activities of our career veterans and each of these qualities is a necessary part of good citizenship. It is in honor of all newspaperboys—past and present—that I, Charley E. Johns, Acting Governor now, but once a boy who sold papers, do hereby proclaim October 2, 1954, to be Newspaper Day in Florida.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Florida to be affixed at Tallahassee, the Capital, this 8th day of September, A. D. 1954.

Tangerine Puree Doubles Output

LAKELAND (AP)—One of the Florida citrus industry's newest by-products—tangerine puree—is picking up marketing strength.

The puree, which is used to make sherberts, was produced in a 1,000,000-pound volume last season and that's double the output of the preceding season, reported Philip C. Morse, general manager of the Florida Tangerine Co-operative.

price for tangerines sold in the fresh fruit market in the 1953-54 season, was $2.07 per box, an increase of 31 cents above the 1952-53 figure.

Early explorers found wild tangerines in New England long before settlements were established. Roy James Butler noted in 1905 that "wild tangerine and wild rose bushes" were growing on the island of Monhegan off the Maine coast.

VOTE!! TUESDAY VOTE!!
October 5, 1954

Dear Voter:
On Tuesday, October 5, 1954 you will have the opportunity of voting in the special Democratic Primary.

You are responsible for selecting the men who will fill the offices being voted upon.

As a candidate for the office of County Judge of Seminole County I ask that you consider two things in deciding who you will support:

1. Is he qualified?
2. Can he fairly and impartially carry out the duties of office?

I feel that I am qualified in both respects and I would appreciate your VOTE.

Adenauer also has indicated he is ready to satisfy French demands for a guarantee that the proposed 12 division German army would never be used independently in any attempt to take over Communist ruled East Germany by force.

The compromise rearmament plan, proposed by Belgian Foreign Minister, Paul Henri Spaak, resolved differences over how the controls against runaway German rearmament should be administered.

The Spaak plan calls for the establishment of a seven nation European Army Authority to supervise the output of all the countries except Britain. This group would have the power to set upper limits on arms and armaments of the member states. But NATO will set up minimum troop and armament requirements for each of the seven nations.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the non-reading people throughout the United States are dependent for the prompt provision of their news papers each day upon the services of their newspaper boys; and

WHEREAS, the newspaper boys in keeping the public well informed through the medium of prompt and regular delivery of their papers, must devote their efforts, their energy, and their loyalty to a service which requires performance even at times under the most adverse conditions, whether of rain or sun, heat or cold, day or night, and the performance of such service, while developing the character and endurance of these boys, nevertheless goes all to often unrecognized and without proper tribute; and

WHEREAS, it is appropriate that public recognition be given to the services of the newspaper boys who day in and day out meet the needs of the public, and that such recognition be made known through the designation of a National Newspaper Day;

IT IS HEREBY PROCLAIMED that the day of October 2, 1954, in Sanford, Florida, shall be known as National Newspaper Day in the City of Sanford, Florida, and that all citizens, hereafter, from the services performed by these boys, be called upon to render and the general welfare of the community be promoted.

Douglas Stenstrom As Senator Would Give Good Representation

Eligible voters of Seminole and Brevard counties should be sure to participate in the polling for a new State senator Tuesday.

We feel it our duty to call to the attention of Seminole County voters that the neighboring county, Brevard, has been able to capture two of the three offices which are filled from the two counties.

Both the offices of circuit judge and assistant state attorney are filled by Brevard residents. This leaves only the office of State senator open for representation by a Seminole County resident.

Qualified for this office, in our estimation, is Douglas Stenstrom, former County judge.

We feel that Mr. Stenstrom would do a conscientious, capable and honest job for both counties if he were elected to this office.

"Doug," as he is called by his friends, has proved his capabilities in public office through his public service as our County judge, serving us well during his tenure of office before resigning to be a candidate for senator.

Also joining in the endorsement of Mr.

JAMES MARLOW

What Happened To Marshall Case?

By ED CREAGH
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—For dressing down a one-star general, Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) gets roundly criticized by a "grand jury" of fellow senators.

The Watkins committee says his handling of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker was "reprehensible" and "inexcusable." The committee says the whole Senate should censure McCarthy on this and other grounds.

And yet for assailing a much better known military figure—a five-star general, in fact—McCarthy goes scot free as far as the Watkins group is concerned. Its official report calls for no re-consideration of the 1951 speech in which McCarthy said Gen. George C. Marshall made "common cause" with the Russians after World War II.

What's the difference? Both the Zwicker and the Marshall incidents were cited among the 46 original accusations against McCarthy. Why did the Watkins committee throw out the Marshall case, yet use its strongest language in condemning McCarthy for the Zwicker affair?

The basic reason, the committee says, is that McCarthy made his speech against Marshall on the Senate floor. And the committee says that while it "may disagree" with statements made in the Senate about public figures, it does nothing about them "would tend to place unwarranted limitations on the freedom of speech in the Senate."

McCarthy had his act set to with Zwicker on the other hand, far from the Senate floor—at a New York hearing of McCarthy's own permanent investigations subcommittee. And there, says the Watkins committee, McCarthy's conduct "was not proper under the circumstances."

What was McCarthy's conduct? "Failing Zwicker, among other things, he questioned either the general's honesty or his intelligence. And saying Zwicker, a much decorated World War II veteran, wasn't fit to wear the uniform of a general. This wasn't abuse, McCarthy argued—it was just vigorous cross examination to Stenstrom to represent the 37th senatorial district is the weekly, the East Coast Trade-Winds, Merrit Island, which states as follows: "Douglas Stenstrom is a man who knows no county boundaries. If he is elected to fill the unexpired term of Senator Boyle, he will strive diligently to serve with equal impartiality all of the best interests of the people of his district as well as those of the state at large.

"The activities of this candidate for the past six years have schooled him in the principle of impartial dealing with problems confronting him. Since 1948, Doug Stenstrom has served continuously as judge of the County Court and Juvenile Court of Seminole County.

As County and Juvenile Court Judge, Stenstrom has met daily a vast number of the vital problems facing our state and nation. He has been in a position to ponder over these problems and to contemplate a solution to them. His years on the Seminole County bench will not be lost if he is given the opportunity of taking his knowledge on to the State Senate in Tallahassee."

Vermont Picks A Woman

The Vermont Republicans have nominated a woman for lieutenant-governor, Mrs. Consuelo Northrop Bailey, now Speaker of the state House of Representatives. Here the Republican nomination has been a guarantee of election. Vermont being one of several states constituting a Republican Solid North, corresponding to the better-known Democratic Solid South.

If Vermont continues its practice of promoting lieutenant-governors, four years from now Mrs. Bailey will become governor. This would be a departure for New England, where conservatives have not been eager to elect women. A few have won legislative posts and minor state offices. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine stands alone in attaining a United States senatorship. No woman has as yet been elected governor in New England.

If Mrs. Bailey does not gain this distinction, other women will in time. Little by little the conservative prejudices against women in office will yield to respect for the records they have made.

get the truth from what he called an evasive, arrogant witness.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy appeared today to face an uphill fight in fending off a vote of censure when the Senate meets Nov. 8 to weigh his conduct.

Some of his associates privately conceded as much, but they said the Wisconsin Republican will fight vigorously and that the picture may change before the Senate returns nearly six weeks hence.

Thrown into the balance yesterday was the unanimous report by three Republican and three Democratic senators recommending that their colleagues officially criticize certain of McCarthy's past actions. The six comprise a special committee set up to study the issue.

McCarthy was silent on the course he will pursue, and his chief attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, said McCarthy would have no comment at this time on the committee's report, based on nine days of public hearings.

The Chicago Tribune, however, quoted McCarthy as saying that if the Senate upholds the accusations against him it will have taken a long stride toward "abdication of its constitutional right to investigate wrongdoing in the executive department."

"I do not care whether I am censured or not," the Tribune quoted him, "but I will fight against establishing a precedent which will curb investigative power and assist any administration in power to cover up its misdeeds."

McCarthy, under treatment for a sinus ailment, was reported in seclusion by Williams and in too much discomfort to do much planning now to meet the censure move.

One McCarthy associate, declining to be quoted by name, said he suspects that as of now McCarthy might "lose" the votes of as many as 15 of the Senate's 48 Republican members on a censure test, and that he doubts that many Democrats would rally to McCarthy's cause. He said the

By WALTER CHAMBLIN JR.

The coming November elections constitute far more than a struggle for the mere control of Congress. . . for these elections will determine whether Mr. Eisenhower will be able to complete his program or whether he will be forced to modify it materially as a result of a hostile Congress.

Take, for instance, the field of fiscal affairs. . . Although the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 has been on the statute books only a few weeks, there already is talk about tax legislation for next winter.

Early next year a situation must be faced involving a potential annual loss of $3 billion in revenue, with a $3 billion estimated deficit for 1955. . . The Administration in the face of an April 1, 1955, the 62 per cent corporate tax rate is scheduled to drop to 47 per cent. . . a revenue loss of $2 billion. . . in the same amount, how the Administration in the face of an April 1, 1955, the 62 per cent corporate tax rate is scheduled to drop to 47 per cent. . . a revenue loss of $2 billion.

Whether the corporate reduction will go into effect is dependent on the budget situation. . . and there is serious doubt that the rate will be lowered unless unforeseen further substantial budget cuts can be achieved.

As to the excise reductions, President Eisenhower has maintained that the $10 billion level of excise revenues existing when he took office should be retained, although last winter he did acquiesce in reduction in some rates amounting to a revenue loss of about $1 billion.

At present it would appear that the Administration will recommend the inclusion of more items in federal excise tax coverage, and might possibly propose a uniform broad-based excise tax.

Since there is doubt that the $3 billion in tax reductions scheduled for next April can be affected, it is a foregone conclusion that large-scale personal income tax cuts are not in prospect for 1955.

In addition to possible new excise tax policy, Congress and the Administration will be working on at least two Presidential recommendations that failed of enactment during the Congressional debate on the International Revenue Code of 1954. These are:

Tax treatment of foreign business income. . . and elimination of the penalty tax on consolidated returns and intercorporate dividend.

There may be different on the actual showdown in November, however, after the congressional elections and after McCarthy has entered his defense.

Woman Has Allergy To Money

NEW YORK (AP)—Pickup items from a pavement plate. It is not at all unusual for people to have an allergy to money although generally it's the other way around—money seems to be allergic to us.

What most of us seem allergic to is the fact we often get less money for a job than we feel we should. But even here we protect ourselves against the allergy with the consolatory remark, "But, after all, it's nothing to sneeze at."

Some years ago I knew a young woman who actually suffered physical distress from handling money. Everytime she touched cash, her hands broke out in a rash.

Ironically, she worked as a cashier. The only way she could keep the post was to wear white cotton gloves.

Life was quite a problem to her until she met and married a well-to-do business man. He gave her a big checking account, and that cured her hand rash almost overnight.

Somehow nobody ever seems allergic to a checkbook. For that matter, I never heard of a man being allergic to cash. It must be an occupational disease peculiar to women.

Our odd notions about foreigners are equalled only by their odd notions about us.

An Italian lady, who came to Long Island to live after marrying a former American Army officer, recently returned to her homeland for a visit. She found the Italian children in her village wearing cowboy suits, and even some of the old folks wanted to know how she guarded herself against Indian ambushes in the United States.

"Is it true that the Americans when they finish a meal put their feet up on the dinner table?" asked one child.

All American presidents, at one time or another, have their brushes with the legislative branch.

No exception was President Theodore Roosevelt. Reminiscing about a verbal collision with one senator, he expressed regrets that he hadn't brought a live lion back from his African hunting trips.

"I could have turned him loose on the floor of the Senate," he said wistfully.

"Aren't you afraid he'd eat the wrong man?" asked a friend.

"Not if he was there long enough," replied Roosevelt cheerfully.

Which came first—the chicken or the egg? That is one of the human race's favorite riddles.

Recently I puzzled the small daughter of a lady at a school in this department, who forwarded her child's solution.

"The chicken must have come first, mama," reasoned the child.

"I can see how God could make a chicken—but I can't imagine him laying an egg."

ADULTS match children in the art of breathing in or swallowing foreign substances. The peanuts, pennies, and safety pins discovered in the air and food passages of children are surpassed by the fish, chicken and steak bones and even parts of dental plates that are found in the eating and lung tubes of adults.

Age Groups Involved
Different objects are, of course, swallowed by the different age groups. Safety pins are more often swallowed by children between seven months and two years of age. Peanuts seem to be the nemesis of 18 months to four years of age. It is not uncommon to find a carpenter who has swallowed tacks by mistake, while many adults choke on chicken bones.

Use of X-ray
Sometimes a parent is not sure whether or not an infant has swallowed anything. Many children will deny swallowing an object. X-ray or fluoroscopy can often settle the question.

The first symptoms are a violent choking and gagging. This quickly subsides as the object travels farther down into the system. There it may remain fixed for several days and there may be no symptoms at all until it perforates or breaks through and affects other organs. Some of the other symptoms are hoarseness, coughing, and shortness of breath.

The best treatment is its prevention by precaution. As soon as it has been discovered that a child has swallowed something, he should be rushed to his physician, who will usually be able to remove the object by the use of special instruments.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
Mrs. J. B.: An uncle of mine has cancer of the prostate. He is taking female hormones. Will they cause breast enlargement?

ANSWER: In many instances, the taking of female hormones by a male will cause his breasts to enlarge.

The trouble with columnists is they like to make big, flat-headed generalizations they can't prove. I find myself in this pickle.

The other day I made the bold statement that never in the history of the world lived there a woman who hadn't, sometime secretly, searched the trouser pockets of her husband or growing boys.

Today I have a rebuttal from Mrs. Cora Holmes of Big Spring, Tex., who has reared two sons and has been twice widowed.

"I hereby make oath and affidavit that I never put my hands (either of them) in any pocket of any of these men at any time, never—not once," she wrote in a letter that bears the seal of a Texas notary public.

All I can say in self-defense is that this is just one more proof that Texas has everything. My apologies, ladies.

Jet-Powered Tank Shown By British

CHERTSEY, England (AP)—The jet-motored British yesterday showed off the world's first jet-powered tank.

Tree inquisitive Russians were denied a peek. They arrived at the gates of the research establishment and said they had heard a demonstration of the new-fangled tank was open to the public.

British security authorities took them aside, asked a few questions and then informed the Russians the show was by invitation only.

The Russians had no invitations. After the Russians left, visiting King Faisal II of Iraq, several military attaches of countries other than Russia and a group of photographers watched the new tank do a few tricks.

With a high whine, the tank crossed a bridge and drove around a test track at nearly 20 miles an hour.

The tank looks like a mounted. The gas turbine engine is mounted in a gas turbine engine in a turret, which does not have a turret. The engine is a 1,000-horsepower gas turbine turning over at about 17,500 rpm. solutions a minute.

A MESSAGE

To The People Of Our Senatorial District

I wish that I could send each of you a personal letter concerning my candidacy for the Senate. However, such letters cost about eight cents each for the approximate 25,000 voters in our district. The expense of $1,800 is, for me, prohibitive; therefore, I should appreciate it if you would accept this statement as a personal message.

Most of us, I am convinced, recognize the need for men in public office who will not compromise on moral principals nor yield to the pressure of private interests to the detriment of public welfare. It is my desire to make you that kind of a Senator.

I have learned that most of you want public officials who not only have the time, but will take the time, to talk with you in a straightforward manner concerning your needs and problems. As your Senator, holding an important public office, I would want to make you that kind of an official, and I would not regard the office as simply a high honor bestowed on me.

For the past six years I have served as a County Judge and a Juvenile Judge. During that time I have become acquainted and worked with Florida's State Hospital for the Mentally Ill, the State Farm Colony For Feeble-minded and Epileptic Children, our State Industrial Schools for Boys and Girls, the Department of Public Safety, our State Highway Patrol, The Fresh Water Fish and Game Commission, the State Board of Health, The State Welfare Board, the Florida Children's Commission, and other departments of our State Government.

I have worked with the leaders of many of these institutions and agencies on various committees of the Florida County Judge's Association and Juvenile

SINCERELY,
DOUGLAS STENSTROM
Candidate For State Senator

MACARONI AND SHRIMP CASSEROLES

Modern living with its more casual approach to meal-preparation has brought about the increased popularity of casserole cooking. With a package of macaroni, spaghetti or egg noodles the young housemaker today can produce a mouth-watering baked dish in less than half the time it took her grandmother to make a good main course. Any protein food... meat, fish, eggs, cheese or poultry... is a perfect taste-mate for macaroni products. And there's the added advantage that macaroni casseroles can be prepared early in the day and popped in the oven to cook by themselves when there are children to watch or dinner guests to entertain. Whatever type of meal you're planning—buffet, dinner party or simple family supper—there's a place for a hearty macaroni casserole on every menu.

National Macaroni Week, October 21st to 30th, is the ideal time to buy a good selection of macaroni products, for chain stores and supermarkets everywhere are featuring them at special money-saving prices.

Here are two kitchen-tested recipes recommended by the National Macaroni Institute. In the casserole shown above, shrimp is combined with sliced mushrooms and macaroni in a flavor cream sauce. A crisp green salad tossed with freshly-squeezed dressing is a simple and delicious accompaniment.

MACARONI AND SHRIMP CASSEROLES

- (Makes 4-6 servings)
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 - 1/2 cup onion, minced
 - 1/2 cup mushrooms, sliced
 - 1/2 cup shrimp, fresh or frozen
 - 1/2 cup grated processed Cheddar cheese
 - 1/2 cup macaroni
 - 1/2 cup milk
 - 1/2 cup cream
 - 1/2 cup salt
 - 1/2 cup pepper
 - 1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Melt butter or margarine over low heat; add mushrooms. Cook over low heat until mushrooms are tender. Add onion and parsley. Add flour and blend. Gradually add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Meanwhile, clean shrimp and cook in boiling salted water 3 to 5 minutes, or until tender. Drain and add to mushroom sauce. Combine shrimp-mushroom sauce and cooked macaroni; turn into greased 1 1/2-quart casserole. Top with grated cheese, if desired. Bake in moderate oven (350°) 25 minutes.

LAYERED HAM AND NOODLE CASSEROLES

- (Makes 6 servings)
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 - 1/2 cup onion, minced
 - 1/2 cup mushrooms, sliced
 - 1/2 cup ham, sliced
 - 1/2 cup macaroni
 - 1/2 cup milk
 - 1/2 cup cream
 - 1/2 cup salt
 - 1/2 cup pepper
 - 1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Melt butter or margarine over low heat. Add flour and blend. Gradually stir in milk and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add cheese and stir until cheese is melted. Add mustard, salt to taste, onion and parsley. Combine sliced ham, cheese sauce and cooked noodles; mix thoroughly. Chop mushrooms. In 6 greased individual casseroles arrange alternate layers of noodle mixture and mushrooms. Bake in moderate oven (350°) 30 minutes, or until lightly browned on top.

Mrs. Mary Strong Is Main Speaker At UDC Meeting

The United Daughters of the Confederacy met recently at the home of Mrs. Zeb Ratliff, 300 Park Ave., with Mrs. W. B. Kirby and Mrs. Claude Herndon as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Ratliff, president, called the meeting to order and Mrs. F. E. Roumillat Sr. led the group in the pledge to the American flag and the salute to the Confederate flag. Mrs. A. K. Rosetter gave an inspiring devotional taken from the scripture, Matthew 5:13-16.

Mrs. Ratliff called to the attention of the members the 61st annual UDC national convention to be held in Roanoke, Va., Nov. 9-12.

Mrs. G. D. Bishop, invited the chapter to meet with her in October with Mrs. E. H. Laney as her co-hostesses. Mrs. Frank Adams was introduced as a visitor.

Delegates to the state convention were elected and they are Mrs. W. B. Kirby and Mrs. J. M. Hayes with Mrs. F. E. Roumillat Sr. and Mrs. J. M. Caskill.

This convention will be held in Miami at the McAllister hotel on Oct. 12.

At the conclusion of the session Mrs. Mary Strong gave an informative paper on the founding of the UDC 60 years ago. She used as the subject "Happy Birth Day".

Mrs. Strong related, "The United Daughters of the Confederacy having arrived at the 60th milestone will do well to pause and remember some of her events along the way. After all, it is not the length of the life that matters but how it has been lived. The organization has had a full life.

"Many soldiers and their families were helped financially and in other ways during the first years of the organization or until most of these men had marched away into the sunset.

"Great monuments, as for Jefferson Davis in Richmond, Va., and Fairview, Ky., to all the soldiers at Shiloh, Tenn., and at Arlington in the nation's capital have been erected. Some of these were started by the veterans finished by the Daughters, and some were entirely a UDC undertaking." Education of the descendants of Confederate soldiers has been an important part of UDC.

"Other important works are a system of pensions that was begun, Jefferson Davis Highway of which she is chairman, an auxiliary of a junior organization, the chapters of the Confederacy formed, and memorial parks and museums have added interest to many localities.

Mrs. Strong concluded by saying the society has chapters in 47 of the 48 states.

At the conclusion of the session the hostesses served a delicious salad course to the following: visitor, Mrs. Frank Adams, Mrs. A. K. Rosetter, Mrs. J. M. Hayes, Mrs. Mary Strong, Mrs. J. M. Caskill, Mrs. E. H. Laney, Mrs. J. H. Truluck, Mrs. E. H. Laney, Mrs. G. D. Bishop, Mrs. W. B. Kirby, Mrs. F. E. Roumillat Sr., Mrs. L. A. Bromley, Mrs. Claude Herndon, Mrs. W. B. Kirby and Mrs. Zeb Ratliff.

Woman's Auxiliary To Medical Society Meeting Changed

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Seminole County Medical Society will meet Friday, Oct. 8 at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Vincent Roberts, 118 Shirley Ave.

The meeting will be held on this date instead of the third Monday of the month because of the district meeting on Oct. 13.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Vin P. Carr are the proud parents of their first child, a 6 lb. son born last evening at the Orlando Air Force Base Hospital. He has been named Robert Earl. Mrs. Carr will be remembered by her friends as the former Miss Janette Ratliff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Ratliff.

Thomas A. Edison, inventor of the first practical electric light, was born in Milan, Ohio on Feb. 11, 1847.

Seminole Hi

Everybody be sure to come out to see us beat Leesburg tonight at the municipal ball stadium. There will be a dance afterwards so all you boys be sure to get a date and come on down.

The 1954-55 Freshman class has chosen its class colors, which will be green and white.

All you juniors and seniors be sure and remember you must have a coupon for your pictures in the annual and the deadline is Oct. 30. Try-outs for the junior play will start in about two weeks. All you future actors and actresses be giving some serious thought to the type part you think you are best suited for.

Sure hate to hear that Patti White will be moving in the near future to Fort Myers, but it isn't too far away and maybe she'll be coming back to visit us real often. Remember Patti the welcome mat is always out. You'll make lots of new friends here and also keep your old ones here.

Some Gossip - Sara Jacobson seems to be playing the field this year but my bet is that she's crazy about... I'd better not say—but come on Sara, you can't let the girls in a perfect ditch. What's the matter Bobbie? Could it be that Randy Reynolds was home last weekend? Wasn't he? Jimmy Miller and Ross Hannum, Joe Pickens home again. We have a Don Juan in our midst girls. Joe Davis—he's got a lot to be proud of. He's got a heart to give.

Betty Bryan dated Alvin Thompson over the weekend. Said she had had a lot of fun. What about you, Alvin? How about you, McKee and Linda Hodley aren't seeing eye to eye these days. Too bad about them, they made such a cute couple too. It's been said that James now has a crush on Minnie Lee Metts. That true James? Dick Warren is the man with the girl. He's always together lately. You can't tell who likes whom the better, both seem to be real good over each other.

Gene Bax and Norma Bands are a real cute couple being seen around the school quite often. James Kinlaw seems to be getting around a bit lately. I believe she still likes Lawrence Skates a lot though. You know the old saying "out of sight, out of mind." Jim Hawkins hasn't decided who he will ask either. Her fingers crossed, it might be you Barbara. Malair has been dating Denton Prevall lately.

Last and Found—Lost one pocket edition of "Walk the Crooked Stairs." If found please return to Bonnie Clark or tell me how it ends. Guess that's all for now. Be seeing you.

Miss Betty Doris Williams, Oct. 25 bride-elect, was honored with a tea yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Tom Metz and Mrs. Roy Britt at the latter's home on Catalina Drive.

The guests, greeted at the door by the hostesses, the honor guest, and her mother, Mrs. W. O. Stansell, were ushered by Mrs. Spencer Harnden into the party rooms where they wrote their best wishes for the bride-to-be in the guest book.

Miss Williams was attractive in a gray and pink dress of embroidered silk, complemented with black accessories.

Reflected in a mirror on the living room mantel was a beautiful miniature bride doll in a lovely garden setting flanked on each side by white vases.

The refreshment table was covered with a pineapple linen cloth and silver and crystal appointments held sandwiches, petite fours, nuts, and punch. Centering the table was an arrangement of white gladioli and greenery. White burning tapers were used on the table and throughout the entertaining rooms along with fall flowers and fruit creations.

A vocal solo, "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" by Stella, was sung by Mrs. Richard Galloway. The hostesses then presented Miss Williams with pieces of china in her chosen pattern.

Assisting Mrs. Metz and Mrs. Britt in serving were Mrs. Galloway and Mrs. Chandler Vail. Approximately 50 guests called between the designated hours of 4:30 and 6 o'clock.

Methodist Church To Have 2 Services Sunday Morning

In observance of World Wide Communion Sunday, and a church-wide Rally Day program in all Methodist churches, the First Methodist Church announces that there will be two morning services of worship for this Sunday, October 3.

Each service will be identical, the first service beginning at 8:00 a. m. and the second at 11 a. m. The communion meditation for both services will be delivered by the Rev. Milton H. Wyatt.

The Rally Day program will be identical, the first service beginning at 8:00 a. m. and the second at 11 a. m. The communion meditation for both services will be delivered by the Rev. Milton H. Wyatt.

Intermediate Dept. Plans Beach Party 1 p. m. Tomorrow

The Intermediate Department of the First Methodist Church is planning a beach party on Saturday afternoon. The group plans to leave the church at 1 p. m. to go to New Smyrna Beach.

Each person is requested to bring $5 for transportation and food costs.

The evening meal will consist of a winter roast on the beach, followed by group singing, recreation and a brief service before returning home.

USO Will Stage Hurricane Dance Tomorrow Evening

Miss Mary Ann Nichols will be in charge of the Hurricane Dance at the USO tomorrow evening from 8 until 11 o'clock. Refreshments will be served.

All servicemen and junior hostesses are invited to join for the fun. The dance will be held at the USO building from 8 until 11 o'clock. Junior hostesses will be Miss Margaret VanHorn.

Mrs. George Stine Attends Fall Meet Of District Pilots

The fall council meeting of district No. 4 of Pilot International was held last weekend at the Long Max Hotel in Fort Lauderdale and was attended by Sanford's delegate, Mrs. George Stine who was accompanied by Mr. Stine.

The session opened Friday evening with a reception with the Anchor Club of Fort Lauderdale High School acting as hostess group. Saturday afternoon a luncheon was given on the patio of the hotel overlooking the Atlantic Ocean.

At 2 p. m. Mrs. Ruth Campbell of Daytona Beach, district governor, presided over the business meeting that featured a question box with Mrs. Edith McHride Cameron of Gainesville acting as moderator and past district governors made up the panel. Questions were based on how to get Pilots more interested in attendance.

The delegates were treated to a Hawaiian luncheon which was complete with orchid leis ordered from Hawaii for the occasion. Geni Doherty of St. Augustine, treasurer of Pilot International, gave the code of ethics for the invocation and Mrs. Cameron, president elect of the organization, brought greetings from International.

A highly entertaining show was presented by Paulani and her Hawaiian troupe of graceful dancers.

Sunday morning more business was centered on with the standing committee of district chairman of Pilot International reporting. Mrs. Vivian Craig, president of the Pilots of Daytona Beach, extended an invitation for the spring convention to be held there the latter part of April.

With deep regret a letter was read from Mrs. V. C. Messenger who had resigned as editor of the Pilot Wave because of ill health. Replacing her will be Miss Mildred Parrish of Tallahassee.

Personal Triumph Scored At Premiere By Judy Garland

HOLLYWOOD — Judy Garland's comeback was complete today as a star-parked first night audience and critics hailed her new movie.

The little girl with the big voice, considered washed up in pictures four years ago, scored a personal triumph at the world premiere of "A Star Is Born" last night. Her arrival was given a hysterical reception by fans at the Hollywood Pantages theater and most of the first nighters agreed she is a shoo-in for an Oscar next March.

Arriving with husband Sid Luft, who produced the picture, Judy looked radiant in a black velvet gown with jeweled collar and cap. She greeted friends, posed for photos and admitted she was "happy but nervous." She added, "I'll be glad when it's all over with."

She was a far cry from the Judy whose tantrums led to an end of her long MGM contract. She started the comeback trail with her hit at New York's vaudeville shrine the Palace. Warner Bros. agreed to star her in a re-make of the 1937 classic "A Star Is Born." The film had a stormy history and the bill mounted to a whopping six million. Critics agreed it was worth it.

Indians Termed Poor Risk Today;

Team Dejected Upon Return To Home Field

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians were a poor security risk today, and they knew it. The special train which rolled through the night to bring manager Al Lopez's dejected troops back to the home folks and the third game of the World Series was a very unhappy one.

Not only were the once-proud American League champions down 3-0 in games to the surprising Giants, but they were down as well to the third and last wanted member of their "Big Three" pitching punch, Mike Garcia. They knew they were in bad trouble and would only hope they were about to come out of the hitting slump which had left 26 of their number stranded on the Polo Grounds bases the last two futility days.

As for Len Durocher's Giants, they came out of yesterday's concurring 3-1 victory over Early Wynn dead certain they had it beat an even chance of losing it out by tomorrow night.

Their second pitcher, young Johnny Antonelli, had throttled the Tribe in the pinches after seeing his first pitch knocked clear out of sight by Al Smith, Cleveland's left-fielder. Today they were going with Ruben Gomez, the sad-eyed Puerto Rican screwballer who won 17 games in his sophomore season. His teammates firmly believe he would tie the Indians in knots.

Seldom, again, has a World Series seen such an abrupt and early change in fortunes. It is difficult to realize that the Cleveland club, winner of 111 games, opened the series only two days ago as nearly 3-1 favorites. The failure of Lopez's sluggers to hit all men on base has been in evidence.

Almost equally incredible had been the success of Durocher's men in that respect. They solved Wynn, the 23-game winner, for only four hits in the second game—half as many as the Tribe socked off Antonelli. Yet only one of them was wasted, and only three Giants died on the sacks.

Antonelli pitched a gritty game. The young left-hander could have pitched at the Giants' bullpen almost any time during the afternoon and see at least one of his hill mates getting ready. But at the end the bonus kid from Rochester, N. Y., still was master of every situation.

Dusty Rhodes, the pinch-hitter extraordinaire who broke up the opener with his dramatic 10th inning homerun, again struck the Indians deep into the visitors.

It was Rhodes who knocked his fellow Alabama Willie Avila across with the tying run in the fifth, and put the frosting on the victory with a towering smash against the right field facade in the seventh. He's now within one of the series record for pinch hits.

As it happened, Antonelli had the privilege of knocking in the winning run as well as blinding the Indians with his fast ball and sweeping curves every time they stretched out for pinch hits. The effort was only a four-out ground-out to second-base in the big fifth, but it was sufficient to bring Hank Thompson dashing home from third with the big run the Tribe never get back.

There is little doubt the Indians are being seriously handicapped by the manifold injuries of their star third-baseman, Al Rosen. So far, Al has contributed nothing much to his team's attack, and he is so stove up in one leg that his presence on the bases is more of a hindrance than help.

But he has not been the only one to fall Lopez. Bobby Avila, American League's leading hitter, had pounced only two singles and left two men stranded with third-outs yesterday. Larry Doby, the team's left-handed power, struck out three times in the second game, the third time with two aboard and none out in the sixth. Shortstop George Strickland left five runners his first two times at bat.

It could be said with equal justice that Willie Mays also had been a hitting bust. The Giants' biggest gun hadn't delivered anything resembling a hit. But again yesterday Willie played an important part in the triumph by drawing a lead-off walk in the fifth—the first man to reach first off Wynn—and scoring the tying run on Rhodes' dropping single in the seventh.

The second game did not end small the opener in sustained fashion, despite all the threats the Indians made to knock Antonelli loose. After his team gave Johnny a 2-1 lead they somehow was a feeling that he wasn't going to need any more help.

GIANTS TENTH
Rosen, the big man of the Indians' batting order, was disgusted with himself.

"I don't know what to do," he said. "I want to play, but I'm not helping the club. One minute I say to myself that we ought to get a healthy guy in there. Then I think that this is the World Series and you never know when you might get into another. Then I want to play."

Surprising Duce, rated seventh after shutting out Penn and scoring 32 points, is at home in Tennessee, and Mississippi, No. 8, plays at Villanova, Southern California, No. 9, mixes it up with Northwestern at Evanston, Ill., in another inter-sectional match, while Penn State, an unexpected top ten member by its upset victory over Illinois, relaxes at Syracuse.

The Pacific Coast Conference and the Big 10, in addition to the Southern (Cal) Northwestern meeting, also collides when Illinois plays Stanford at Palo Alto, Calif., and California travels to Ohio State.

Other top inter-sectional contests and Washington State to play at Texas, Cornell to Rice, Georgia Tech to Southern Methodist Army to Michigan, College of the Pacific in Indiana and Minnesota to Pittsburgh.

The Big Seven gets started on its conference championship with Iowa State at Nebraska, Missouri at Kansas State and Colorado at Kansas.

Other major games tomorrow: East-Brown at Yale, Navy at Dartmouth, Massachusetts at Harvard, Colgate at Holy Cross, Fordham at Rutgers, William and Mary at Penn, Princeton at Columbia, Boston College at Temple.

South-Vanderbilt vs. Alabama at Mobile, Auburn at Florida, Texas A&M at Georgia, LSU at Kentucky, North Carolina at Tulane, South Carolina State at Wake Forest, Arkansas State at Mississippi State.

Southwest-Arkansas at Texas Christian, Texas Western at Arizona State, Utah State at New Mexico, Oklahoma A&M at Texas Tech, West-Washington at Oregon State, Utah at Oregon, Ohio at Wyoming, Brigham Young at Colorado A&M.

Heavyweights Meet Tonight
CLEVELAND (AP)—Coley Wallace of New York and Bob Baker of Pittsburgh, each hoping to earn a match with the No. 1 heavyweight challenger, Nino Valdes, meet tonight in a nationally televised 10 round bout at Central Armory at 10 p.m. EST.

Wallace, who once defeated Champion Rocky Marciano while both were in the amateur ranks, was a 2 to 1 favorite over Baker.

Giants Hitter Is Relaxed After Feats

NEW YORK (AP)—Dusty Rhodes is getting accustomed to being a celebrity. When he first was projected into the limelight as a result of his fantastic pinch hitting performance, he was uneasy and a little bewildered.

In the clubhouse of the New York Giants after they beat the Cleveland Indians, 3-1, to take a 2-0 World Series lead yesterday, Rhodes, who hit a homer and a single, was as relaxed as all got.

"Of his home run, a really solid poke, Rhodes said. "He (Cleveland pitcher Early Wynn) threw me five knucklers. He wanted one fast ball. It was a knuckler ball I got hold of."

"But I was only following orders. My son told me to hit one for him before I left home."

Rhodes seemed happiest that his home run wasn't of the "Chinese" variety, meaning a short one like the one he hit to win the first game.

While Rhodes was drawing the buzzards, many of the Giants pointed to catcher Wes Westrum as one of the big reasons why Len Durocher's outfit won the first two games. He has been doing a fine job handling the pitcher.

"We won the game," said the modest Wes. "What more would anybody want. Johnny Antonelli pitched a great game. He was a little wild in the early innings, but from the fourth on, his fast stuff was his best and we went for that."

"The Indians left 12 men on base again. That ought to be the answer to the kind of pitching Johnny did in the clutch. I don't want any credit. He had to throw the ball."

If Westrum wasn't looking for any credit, he would have been embarrassed to hear Captain Al Dark call him the "unsung hero."

"He was terrific behind that plate," said Dark. He called for a tremendous amount of stuff and Johnny went with him except for one pitch that I know of, Johnny shook him off on a change up to Vic Wertz in the ninth inning, but otherwise, they worked perfectly."

Antonelli denied that there was really anything wrong with his control.

"It was just that I was being so careful," he said. "So much depended on every pitch. I was tired at the end, but I still felt I had my good stuff."

How about the opening-pitch home run by the Indians' Al Smith?

"It was a real good fast ball, but he got around on it real good, too."

Durocher was all smiles. He said he never had any thought of taking Johnny out even though he went out to talk to him a couple of times.

Vic Wertz, the nemesis of the Giants in the first game, got only one hit in three at bats and Durocher was asked how come.

"We changed our strategy pitching to him," he grinned. "How we did it, I won't say. You wouldn't want me to reveal our secrets, would you?"

Over in the Cleveland dressing room, you could get the gloom with a knife.

Al Rosen, the big man of the Indians' batting order, was disgusted with himself.

Notre Dame-Purdue Contest Highlights Saturday Games

By ED WILKES
Maryland and U C L A, both ranked among the nation's top ten, open a full weekend of inter-sectional tests tonight in Los Angeles, but the game that really excites the imagination of college football fans is scheduled at South Bend, Ind., tomorrow.

That's where Notre Dame, still in the process of proving the ability of young Terry Brennan as head coach, lines up against Purdue, a team seldom mentioned among the nation's best but always "up" for the brush.

It was on a bright October afternoon just four years ago that the holder in a key crushed Notre Dame's proud 32-game winning string—a performance that marks them for special attention by Brennan, who make an impressive entrance to big time coaching with a 21-0 victory over Texas last week.

That opening success made Notre Dame the No. 1 choice in this week's Associated Press poll.

While the clash between Notre Dame and Purdue, a winner in a breeze against Missouri last week, awaits for the kickoff, the weekend action gets under way in a big way tonight's game between fourth-ranked UCLA and sixth-ranked Maryland.

The Terps, dropped two notches in this week's rating after an idle weekend, were easy winners over Kentucky in their opener. The U. S. Navy, defending champs of the Pacific Coast Conference, have scored 90 points in two starts, defeating San Diego Naval Training Center and Kansas.

That's the only game matching teams listed in the top ten, but except for Oklahoma, rated No. 7, all the other leaders are scheduled.

Two other top games tonight moved Baylor to Miami Fla. University and Wichita to Drake.

On tomorrow's schedule, Iowa, ranked No. 4 on the basis of its 14 to victory over Michigan State last Saturday, slips away from Big 10 Conference action for what should be a breather against Montana, but Michigan State continues its tough opening schedule against Wisconsin, the No. 5 team, at East Lansing.

Surprising Duce, rated seventh after shutting out Penn and scoring 32 points, is at home in Tennessee, and Mississippi, No. 8, plays at Villanova, Southern California, No. 9, mixes it up with Northwestern at Evanston, Ill., in another inter-sectional match, while Penn State, an unexpected top ten member by its upset victory over Illinois, relaxes at Syracuse.

SHS Meets Yellow Jackets At Local Stadium Tonight

Coach Ganas Expecting 'Tough' Tilt

Flush with victory after a 20 to 7 win over the Eustia Panthers last week, the Sanford Seminoles will seek their second non-conference win from Leesburg tonight at 8 o'clock in the Memorial Stadium.

For the first time this year, the Seminoles will take to the field in full strength. With none injured and tailback Johnny Jones back in what was termed "pretty good shape," head coach Fred Ganas expects to score in the first half.

"We have eliminated our mistakes and the offense operates like I expect."

"I feel like it will be a tough ball game, though. Leesburg beat Appala 23-7 and has a very big team. They will bring 46 players over tonight—more players than we have ever had against us," he said.

"We will have to wait and see how our offense works against the two big tackles the Yellow Jackets have," Ganas added. "If we can operate against them we can take anything," he said, naming Ray Richardson, 210, and Bob Moody, 240, as his biggest worries in the Leesburg line.

Ganas expects to show the hometown fans a dazzling display of deception mingled with an aerial attack. The return of James Stanford to the back slot will take some of the load off Hawkins and Flowers since he is both an inside and outside threat, he said.

The Yellow Jackets are expected to run a multiple offense, using both the single wing and "T" formations, Ganas said he has received reports that the Jackets like to pass with flankers out and an unbalanced line, but expects the majority of the play to go between his tackles.

According to Ganas, one of the Jacket's big threats will be full-back Jim Crigaby, 175 pounds, whom he called "a very good runner and passer."

Ganas picked guards Gene Haas and Larry Bates as outstanding in the Seminole line last Friday night against Eustia. "It will be interesting to see what we do at full strength. It seemed to make a lot of difference with Bates in last week," he said.

He lauded the performance of last year's Hawkins against the Panthers, saying that Hawkins has the ability to pick his receivers. He has hit both ends, the tailback and wingback in the two games. Ganas said he could pick no outstanding pass receiver but considers the team lucky to have several men who can catch the ball.

In the extra point department, Robert Newson is looking good, according to Ganas. He said the 225-pound tackle kicked 10 straight in practice yesterday.

"The main thing to do is score. Once we do that, I believe he will kick them," Ganas said.

and you could get even money that the bowl would get the distance. Baker currently is ranked ninth among the heavyweight contenders. Wallace, at present, is unranked. Wallace has knocked out 15 men, while Baker has 18 to his credit. The Pittsburgh fighter once won a decision from Valdes.

Auburn-Florida Clash Attraction Of Games In SEC Tomorrow

By MERCER BALLEW
Associated Press Sports Writer
Auburn and Florida, two South eastern Conference football teams which play in similar one-two punches at their opponents, meet Saturday in one of the top attractions on the SEC program.

Both coaches, Ralph Jordan of the Plainsmen and Bob Woodruff of the Gators, use the two-team system of substitution to wear down their fans, fielding two complete, balanced eleven.

Jordan started the trend in the SEC last year with his successful X and Y teams. Woodruff installed the system this season and it already has paid off with a 13-12 victory over Georgia Tech.

Auburn, rated one of the top powers in the conference, will get its first real test in Gainesville. The Plainsmen opened last week with a 49-0 romp over Chattanooga.

Two other conference tilts are scheduled. Kentucky and Louisiana State University, both rugged but still seeking their first victory, meet in Lexington and Alabama, another top title contender, plays Vanderbilt in Mobile. Both are night games.

Non-conference games are Tech's at Southern Methodist, Texas A & M at Georgia, Arkansas State at Mississippi State, Mississippi at Villanova, Tennessee at Duke and North Carolina at Tulane. The Tech-SMU game is at night.

The Auburn-Florida and Kentucky-LSU games are rated even by the odds-makers. Auburn and Georgia are favored by a touchdown over Florida and Texas A & M. Duke, North Carolina and Alabama are two touchdown favorites to beat Tennessee, Tulane and Vanderbilt.

With Bart Starr back, Tama is peaking up. Vandy was impressive against Baylor but don't expect miracles of the Commodores.

TULANE over NORTH CAROLINA: The Tar Heels haven't won in New Orleans since 1922 in six visits.

MISSISSIPPI over VILLANOVA: The boys from the City of Brotherly Love are way, way out of their class.

MISSISSIPPI STATE over ARKANSAS STATE: Another case of biting off more than one can digest.

Longwood News
The Longwood Volunteer Fire Department met in regular session Wednesday, Sept. 29, at the Fire-Hall.

Herbert Hinely, representative of the Florida Oxygen Co., Orlando, gave a very interesting demonstration of an inhalator as well as explaining the many uses that it can perform.

Chief John Farina announced that the Longwood Area Chamber of Commerce is purchasing an inhalator for use in the area. He also announced that the firemen will receive complete schooling on its operation and use in an emergency.

Also present at the meeting were Chief Irving of the Winter Park Fire Department and Dr. Culpepper of Casselberry.

The Seminole Orange County Little League met in Altamonte Springs to discuss current business and to decide on the date for their first annual dinner.

All officers and managers were present as well as the town representatives including Willie De Rosa, Longwood; B. F. McKinney, Altamonte Springs; Jim Brown, Maitland and Joe Pavelchak, Casselberry. Longwood's directors who were recently appointed were also present. They are: Mrs. Ross Mobley, Willie De Rosa and Paul Kerr.

After due consideration, the date for the dinner was set for Saturday, Oct. 23 at Altamonte Springs in the Altamonte Springs Park. There will be a delicious chicken supper from 4:30-7 p.m. Tickets will be $1.25 for adults and $.75 for children.

G. B. Clont, Maitland, has been named general chairman and will name his sub-committee in the near future.

The Florida Forest Service of Seminole County is striving to receive acclaim for the work it is doing for all county residents. At the end of their fiscal year the Forest Rangers in the county receiving the most press notices telling of their work will be tendered a fish-ry by the other County Forest Rangers.

The Forest Rangers are on duty twenty-four hours a day and will answer all calls for assistance. They also give complete information on each fire they are called to; giving the cause, amount of damage, amount of acreage lost in case of a forest or grass fire, number of rangers assisting and the time required to extinguish the fire.

There are two towers in the county, the Longwood Tower at Longwood and the Seminole Tower at Chululua. At Sanford is located the Ranger Base. The four rangers are Joe Ramey, County ranger; Wilbur Bymer, assistant ranger; Monroe Pason, tractor driver, and Starling Galloway, assistant tractor driver. At the Longwood Tower George Otto is in charge and at Seminole Tower Mrs. M. E. Parsons.

The Rangers gave their assistance in fighting the recent fire on Highway 19-92 north of Longwood and the Meach fire on W. First St. in Sanford.

Anyone having acreage to burn may call the Rangers to make the necessary arrangements for its safe burning. Call collect for assistance to the Longwood Tower, W. P. 26206; Seminole Tower, Ovidu 4431, or the Ranger Base, Sanford 198-W, whichever may be nearest to you.

The Tourist Club will meet on Wednesday, Oct. 6, at noon in the Recreation Park for its regular monthly meeting. There will be a covered fish dinner served at 12:30 p.m.

All members are requested to be present as plans for the winter season will be discussed at the meeting.

The Longwood Home Demonstration Club will meet on Thursday, Oct. 7, in the library at 10 a.m. All members that can do so will bring their sewing machines to be instructed as to how to clean, oil and adjust them for better operation.

Lucebon will be served at the usual time.

At the Town Council's special meeting in the town hall on Wednesday, Sept. 29—called for the purpose of protesting the closing of the local Atlantic Coast Line R.R. station—all civic groups were represented as well as the general public.

After lengthy discussion, the town clerk, Mrs. B. R. Gray, was instructed to write the State Railroad and Public Utilities Commission requesting a public hearing in Longwood before definite action is taken on the permanent closing of the station.

The Longwood Civic League will meet in the library at 3 p.m. on Oct. 5 for their first meeting of the 1954-55 season.

Mrs. Rudolph Carlson, president, requested that all members be present as the year's program will be presented at this time.

The executive committee will be in charge of the entertainment for this meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Crawford and three children of Highland Ill. are expected to arrive in town today. They hope to spend a month's vacation with Mrs. Crawford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Gray.

Hamp Majecki has returned home from Anderson, N. C., where he attended the wedding of his daughter, Miss Gladys Majecki to David Smith, on Saturday, Sept. 25. Majecki will enroute home spend several days with his mother, Mrs. M. Majecki, in Hartsville, Ga., before returning home.

H. B. Laffree has been confined to his home the past week and is quite ill. However, we are glad to report at this time that his condition is greatly improved and he is feeling much better.

Letters TO THE Editor

WE LIKED IT, TOO

We liked Woodron Allen's story on "Dragtail" in the Sept. 3 issue of All Florida. We would like to know if the story was a "takeoff" on the radio program Dragnet, or just a reference to the dragging detriere of policemen in general? Whichever, let's have more of Allen. He had another good one about Christmas decorating, which struck close to home and amused our whole family.

MELTON W. CROSS
West Palm Beach

OUR COVER

Our cover this week is purely coincidental. All Florida's photographer, Trent Rogers, happened to catch this unidentified young man dismantling daddy's lawn mower with the idea of putting the power plant in his little "racer." Meanwhile, Jim Jernigan produced a Foto Feature (pages 8 and 9) on Florida's swiftly growing Micro-Midget racing fad. The little micro racers, too, are powered with lawn mower engines.

The only difference is that the adult micro racers usually buy their own lawn mower motors while our cover boy ended up across daddy's knee. While begging to remain anonymous, our young cover subject assured Rogers that he is not yet through trying to get a motor for his micro midget.

The only hint we can give neighbors who may find a lawn mower engine mysteriously missing is that "our boy" lives in Gainesville.

WE LIKE WOMEN

Like most women I enjoy a good magazine and I want you to know that I consider All Florida Magazine in that category. I like those letters to the editor, even if some of them seem to find fault with some of your articles. You can't please everybody I know. Whoever does your cartoons has a big funny bone, so I hope you will print as many of these as you have room for. If you need more room for good articles you should increase the size of your magazine.

As a rule I don't care too much for sports news, but your sports writers seem to have something special that appeals to me, so I frequently read those articles. Helen Therkildsen's short items about our great state are very interesting, and I clip them for my scrap book. My son grabs the crossword puzzle so I don't get a chance at that. If you will pardon a suggestion, how would it be if you printed some short fiction? I think it would be welcomed by your readers.

WE PLAN TO DO IT

While you have a great many things in your magazine of interest to the whole family, I am taking the liberty of writing to you to suggest something that I believe would be of interest to all Floridians as well as to the thousands of visitors who come to our state every year.

In Florida we have 67 counties, and I dare say that 90 per cent of the people know very little about their OWN county, much less anything of the other 66 interesting counties in Florida. All of them have many things of great interest. I think a series of articles, one each week, dealing with the major attractions and values of these counties, would be very interesting reading. I know this would take well over a year to run, but so what?

Such a series would not only be interesting but would prove educational. It could be used in our schools and by clubs and civic organizations for special interest comments. What do you think?

Anyhow, let me congratulate you on your magazine, which I think is getting better every week, and I wish you lots of luck.

NO ARGUMENT

It seems to me that a number of cities in Florida could take a page out of the clipping book of St. Petersburg and learn how to attract tourists. Your article on "A City Full of Promoters" (Aug. 22) painted a clear picture of the value of publicity in attracting visitors to a city—and St. Petersburg itself illustrates that this type of promotion attracts not only visitors, but permanent residents, as well.

Another Florida city that has grown as a result of telling the whole world is Miami. They spend a great deal of money there sending pictures and articles to newspapers all over the country and the world. The result has been to make Miami into one of the biggest towns in the Southeast.

Advertising has for many years been a "must" with business—big and little—but many of our Florida cities seem to think that people and industry will just find them without any encouragement. It just isn't so and you could help the civic minded people in these cities to learn that lesson by printing more articles about places like St. Petersburg.

MR. HABERMAN WILL RETURN

Please do not think I am a fault-finder, but I had to write you to tell you I miss Mr. Haberman's articles about the old Spaniards in Florida and the part they played in the state's history.

For a long time these articles came every week, and I admit that was a little too often, as I know you have to make room for other items too, but I thought that if you could point one a month it would be satisfactory.

I notice you have some new writers, and must say that is refreshing. Taken as a whole your magazine is getting better and better, and maybe one of these Sundays I will find Mr. Haberman and his Spaniards back.

I enjoyed your feature "Bring Your Partner" in the Sunday magazine section (All Florida issue of Sept. 13). Could you give me some specific information as to square dances scheduled for the Panama City area? If not, could you refer me to some in this area who would have that type of information?

GROCERY CRATES UNDER SAILS

BOB BALFE
All Florida Sports Editor

IT is a somewhat bizarre circumstance in this day of jet propulsion, but Florida may be on the verge of a boom in a much older and slower means of transportation—the sailboat.

Kids who are growing up today in the "cracker boxes" and assorted other "grocery crates" of home-made pram sailing craft are showing evidence that they'll graduate to larger craft in the next few years, thereby multiplying the numbers of the present day skippers.

Florida's sailing enthusiasts are just as rabid as their counterparts elsewhere, but their numbers are relatively small. In an era when motor-bikes, scooters and hot-rods offer noisier and speedier motion, kids have been inclined to pass up the thrill of a skimming hull swept over the waves by wind alone.

The pram fleet is changing all that. The colorful little "grocery crates" have put sailing within the reach—physically and financially—of the small fry. Having learned the incomparable thrills of sailing, nearly every graduate of the pram ranks is continuing this interest in such classes as moths, crickets, snipes, the new windmill division, or larger sail area groups.

There are more than 30 sailing clubs affiliated with the Florida Sailing Association, which sanctions an annual fall-to-spring program of regattas around the state, most of the big events being scheduled in winter for the benefit of tourist spectators. In addition to this association, sailing groups in the Pensacola area, for geographical convenience, compete in Gulf Coast groups.

The ordinary Florida sailing regatta will include races for eight to ten different classes. Frequently the programs will attract 100 or more boats. Each boat represents three to four interested competitors, including skippers, crew and officials. With that many persons in the cast, it becomes quite a show.

Many a shoreline spectator can't tell whether the boats are coming or going during a sailing race, but even the uninitiated find it a colorful and refreshing sport. That's why the sailing clubs in most cities (often they are branches of larger yacht clubs) get help from municipal and Chamber of Commerce sources in staging the programs.

This year's annual series will start in St. Petersburg on Armistice Day and by mid-winter will include a regatta just about every week-end.

By contrast with contact sports or some more strenuous physical exercises, sailing appears mild to the casual observer. But any skipper will tell you that it is an exacting science, dating back in history to the first man who found how to harness the wind in useful manner. It is relaxing recreation, solo style, but it reaches a peak of exciting thrills in competition.

THIS YOUNG man is typical of hundreds of Florida youngsters who make their "grocery crates" sailing vessels in the back yard. It's not a far jump from the homemade article to a real sailing craft, either, the kids say.

And it can be rugged. One of the most ardent sailers now taking an active part in affairs of the FSA is Hugo Miller, of West Palm Beach, who was captain of the Florida football Gators in 1945.

Still another phase of Florida sailing is the winter program of ocean racing for larger craft, manned by sportsman crews, in such time handicap events as the St. Petersburg to Havana, the Miami to Nassau and the Fort Lauderdale to Cat Cay races.

Florida doesn't have too many entries in that category, but when it comes to individually operated boats, Florida has many a competent hand on the tiller, with the prospect that the pram kids will swell the size of the fleets in the future.

THIS IS the windmill class of "grocery crate" and was developed in Florida to provide a new division in sailing boats.

A MARINE "WHOPPER"

By PERCY HAMILTON

MARINE Biologist J. B. "Brandy" Siebenaler was puzzled when dissecting the carcass of a rare "trunk back" turtle, a group of party-boat fishermen killed on a trip in the Gulf of Mexico and brought to Fort Walton Beach.

Siebenaler found a shiny new beer can in the stomach of the turtle which was estimated to weigh around 1,200 pounds.

And he couldn't understand how the group of fishermen captured the turtle, an elusive, speedy swimmer which is known to frequent deep water only.

An autopsy disclosed that the turtle had one lung nearly eaten away by what Siebenaler believes was cancer or tuberculosis, almost rendering his respiratory system useless.

The group of fishermen answered the second question. They had shoved the beer can down the huge maw of the turtle in the struggle to get him aboard the party boat, "Shamrock," skippered by Dick Hugh Hurst.

Siebenaler is the marine biologist for the Gulfarium, a marine life studio, which he and Lloyd F. Bell, Jr., are building on Santa Rosa Island.

During his eight years as a biologist, Siebenaler has seen two or three trunk back turtles (Dermochelys coriacea or Atlantic Leatherback) on expeditions but this was the first one he had ever examined closely.

He described the turtle as "extremely rare" and said they usually are sighted only where water is at least 50 fathoms.

"They are fast as blazes and can get away from a 12-knot vessel," Siebenaler said explaining that they are powerful swimmers because their front flippers are connected to each other by bands of muscles and are not attached to the backbone, the only bone in the body.

Little is known about the trunk back turtle, Siebenaler said only a few adults have been seen and nothing is known of their young.

Gentlemen:

... Before you installed your treatment, our water was very rusty in color and stained our sink and bath tub. The most important thing was my laundry. It was impossible for me to have my washing turn out white. There would always be rust spots on my clothes. Now after you installed your equipment, and treated the water, my washing turns out all white ...

Gentlemen:

... I would like to put in writing our complete satisfaction, and I might add amazement with our Rid-O-Rust Water System. Since we have had this system in operation, about three weeks now, we have noticed that our wash basins, and toilets, which previously had a heavy rust stain from our well water, are now completely clear, and no more rust stain is developing on them ...

Explorers With the Navy...

By BETTY PARKER

NOT far from the whirling helicopters flying routine training hops at Ellyson Field in Pensacola, Explorer Scouts from the White Sands District (Northwest Florida-South Alabama) pitched their tents for a week of camping—Navy style.

It was a real picnic for approximately 80 campers, who received a full diet of Navy fun mixed with Scout instruction. The Scouts were up at daybreak for four days crammed full of swimming, nature studies, rifle practice, a cruise aboard the training carrier Monterey and eating Navy chow.

They toured the aircraft carrier and heard several explanations of Naval instructors on the role of the Naval Air Training Command in Pensacola in national defense.

Sweethearts were invited to the camp too, for a social where the Scouts crowned Louise Reon, 15, as Miss Bivouac 1954.

THE END of a perfect day shows Explorer Scouts of the White Sands District scrambling into liberty boats after a day at sea aboard the USS Monterey, Navy carrier stationed at Pensacola.

ONE EXPLORER Scout quit exploring at the end of a hard day of sight seeing of Navy facilities at Ellyson Field—it was just a tough day.

Micro-Midget Maniacs

A NEW fad is enjoying a swift rise throughout Florida—one that is sweeping through the ranks of teenagers as well as mature business men.

From high school boy to lawyer, the hobby of building and racing micro-midget automobiles is fast becoming state wide.

Today, there are tracks for micro-midget racing cars in Sarasota, Leesburg, Ocala, Tampa, Miami and Jacksonville. There are other tracks being built in as many additional cities and towns in Florida.

The micro-midget racing car is powered by a regulation mowing machine motor, but contrary to the speeds the average householder maintains while mowing the family lawn, these little motors are "souped" up to reach speeds from between 30 to—in some cases—60 miles an hour.

Although still in its infancy, the micro-midget fraternity has placed strict requirements on the construction of the little racers, horsepower of motors and track conduct. Just, claim micro addicts, like the Indianapolis Speedway.

The tiny speedsters usually are built with an angle iron frame, tubing and the old parts of half a dozen normal automobiles.

For example, a typical midget racer may have the steering mechanism of an Austin, a lawn-mower motor, the rear end of a

Ford, the headlamps of a Cadillac for its cowling and an entire front end grill work of an Oldsmobile. The son of the family may have to give up the tires of his motor scooter to dad's midget racer and a motor cycle chain supplies the means of transferring power from the motor to the rear axle. The steering wheels may be taken from a boat, the baby's push cart, or an airplane.

Completed a micro-midget will have cost anywhere from $150 to $250, plus hours of labor and loving care in the building. Of course, there are more expensive handmade models to be found. A few are estimated to have cost several thousands of dollars, but these are luxury models and neither common nor necessary to micro-midget racing.

Spills, wrecks and stretch drives for victory are the everyday fare for the micro driver, with the added fun of knowing that the little car is the result of your own handwork and mechanical ability.

The tiny car, mounted on wheelbarrow wheels developing up to 15 horsepower, can not be used as a toy with a young man, but as a thrill. A two-grown man, together with his partner in the cockpit, can get their excitement racing at 30 to 60 a knot, a knot of the speed way.

Micro racing has several added thrills over regulation track cars in that the tiny torpedoes have brakes on only one wheel.

Tangles of half a dozen midgets at the height of a race are not uncommon, but injuries to drivers seldom occur. But when wrecked, repairs to a micro-midget are easily accomplished at home in the garage with new wheelbarrow wheels, perhaps another grill work from the family Oldsmobile, a gear out of mother's washing machine and a little elbow grease on the part of dad and the boys.

For the money invested, claim micro maniacs, midget racing is well worth while and is here in Florida to stay — and to grow.

BALI WHO?

By TERESA LANYON

LADIES who are getting a little pudgy around the edges, says Harvard's Dr. Frederick J. Stare, might do well to adopt a custom of the women of Bali. Following a recent trip to the Pacific island, as a consultant for the World Health Organization, Dr. Stare made the surprising statement that he found no fat women among the Balinese. The reason, he adds, is probably the island habit of frequent nibbling, rather than eating three full meals a day, and he recommends the method to American women who would like to lose a pound or two of waistline.

According to Dr. Stare, the women of Bali start their day at 6 a. m., with a heavily sugared cup of coffee. An hour or so later, after they've packed hubby off to his coconut picking, the coffee is followed by a mouthful of boiled rice, daintily garnished with a sprig of banana leaf. A little later a banana or other fruit will be eaten, perhaps with a glass of sweetened water. Following the same routine until bed time, our Balinese housewife will nibble on such delicacies as fermented soy-bean cake, a piece of fish, or more rice, washed down with sweetened water or a soft drink. But never more than a mouthful at any one time!

Presumably the lissome figures of the Balinese ladies result from the fact that while they seem to eat all the time, they never eat much. Over all, they consume about the same number of calories daily as the average American housewife, but the intake is spread more evenly through the active part of their day.

As a means of keeping the weight down, or losing excess poundage, the Balinese practice fits in well with what Dr. Jean Mayer, of the Harvard Nutrition Laboratory, has called the "Glucostatic Theory." Hunger, says Dr. Mayer, is related to the amount of sugar in the blood, which controls a group of specialized brain cells called the "appetstat." When the blood sugar level falls, the "appetstat" goes into action and you become hungry. As soon as something is eaten, the blood sugar level goes up, the "appetstat" is cut off, and hunger disappears. Taking a bite or two of nutritious food every couple of hours, as the Balinese do, keeps the blood sugar above the critical level.

Incidentally, girls, it's no longer fashionable to blame a straying figure on "gland trouble" or heredity. Doctors declare that more than 95 per cent of the nation's fat people are overweight simply because "their caloric intake is in excess of body requirements." In other words, they eat more than they need! Some overeat because they enjoy it; others, probably a little on the neurotic side, are able to forget their troubles when they think of food. Whatever the reason, it applies more to women than to men. One Canadian authority, Dr. Grant McFerridge, found that 95 per cent of his overweight patients were women, which suggests the ladies are more inclined to relieve their frustrations and tensions by overeating. Women outnumber men when it comes to reducing, too, largely because of vanity!

Dr. Stare offers a word of warning to women trying to streamline their figures by the Balinese method: Don't increase your nibbling and eat three good meals, too! Instead, he suggests, eat three moderate meals, with emphasis on breakfast, and space the nibbling throughout the day. What constitutes a "moderate" meal is something each woman must decide for herself, but the objective is to decrease the daily caloric intake, and spread it over a greater number of hours. Doctors point out that many reasonably active women can lose weight safely on a diet that totals 1,200 or 1,300 calories a day.

Exercise? Use your own judgment. Some doctors are for it, others not. But all agree that strenuous exercises should be avoided except under supervision. Housework, dancing, walking—all burn calories, and if the calories aren't replaced by the consumption of extra food, weight is lost. Balinese women don't need exercise, we are told, because their pattern of living makes it unnecessary. Perhaps American women don't either. What could be more strenuous than trying to keep up with a couple of growing Hopalong Cassidys?

CRACKER ACTOR

By NEIL MEFFERT

THE handsome face of a young Floridian is rapidly becoming a familiar one to the large segment of population which gathers around TV sets every night.

He is Patrick O'Neal, native of Ocala and graduate of the University of Florida, and one of television's rising young stars.

Movies, too, are recognizing Pat's talents. His latest role is in "Black Shield of Falworth." He plays Tony Curtis' rival for the hand of Janet Leigh.

Tony wins the girl, natch, but Pat's performance has won him an opportunity to climb a couple of rungs up the ladder of success.

Relaxing at the spacious home of his parents at Ocala for a few days recently after a busy summer, Pat commented he had to turn down some jobs.

"It's been delightful," he gloated.

Pat majored in dramatics at the University of Florida, where he headed the Florida Players, and edited the "Seminole," university yearbook.

Equipped with talent, ambition and considerable confidence, he struck out for Broadway immediately after his graduation in 1948, studied acting some more at the Neighborhood Playhouse, all the while trying to break into show business.

An 18-month tour of duty with the Air Force interrupted his career in 1952-53.

Breaks began to come with his return to civilian life. There was a part in "The Mad Magician," movie starring Vincent Price, a couple of dozen TV films, and the "Black Shield" role, all in rapid succession.

By and large, Pat has found established stars very willing to extend an encouraging hand to newcomers.

"I never met two nicer people than Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh. They were wonderful to work with—and they do work hard, by the way—and I got to know them as people, too.

"Dorothy Maguire has helped me more than you would ever expect from a person at the top of the heap. I got to know her at the theater she and some others have at La Jolla, and she's been really marvelous."

Television is giving many young actors like Pat a chance in show business—aside from supplying butter for their bread while they work their way up.

"Traffic moves in all directions on TV," Pat observed. "There are the new ones coming up, the old ones coming down, the big ones trying out a new medium, and old-timers carving out new careers for themselves."

Admitting to an occasional pang of the special brand of Florida homesickness known as sand in the shoes, Pat commented, "Unfortunately there are only two places you can live if you're an actor

—somewhere near New York or Hollywood."

"To tell the truth, I guess I'm sort of an 'Okie'—migrant worker type—right now," Pat grinned. "I just follow the crop of acting jobs back and forth across the country."

PREPARING SCHOOL LUNCHES

Now that school is in full swing again and packing a lunch is the order of the day, make a resolution that you will not let this all important chore become "just routine." "Variety is the spice of life," so the saying goes and this is true when it is time to open the lunch box and "see what Mother has for me, today." Give your child a well-balanced lunch that has been well planned and well packed, so it will have taste appeal as well as having nutritional value.

When making sandwiches, remember that the bread you use is just as important as the filling. Always use fresh bread and use different breads. Don't always use just "white" bread. Whole or cracked wheat, rye or oatmeal breads are right for meats, fish or eggs but use raisin, fruit or cinnamon for sweet fillings. Butter both slices generously to keep fillings from soaking into the bread.

For variety use fillings made of fish, meat or eggs and add a sweet sandwich now and then. Use vegetables to add texture and color to the fillings. Be generous with the fillings but don't make them too oily as this type filling is hard for your children to eat with ease.

Wrap each sandwich separately with wax paper to keep them fresh and so that flavors won't mix. To make sandwiches more enjoyable, cut them in different ways—on the diagonal, in four squares or three or four sticks. Leave the crusts on for the additional food value.

When using a filling rich in protein, crisp vegetables such as pieces of celery, carrots or lettuce may be wrapped in waxed paper to be eaten with the sandwich. Soup is always a welcome addition to any lunch box and can be safely carried in a vacuum bottle. Salads are also very good to eat with a sandwich and can be packed in a plastic container with a tight fitting lid.

For that extra "something" to finish off a well-balanced lunch, add an apple, banana or orange. Fruit is the best dessert a school girl or boy can eat.

Keep your shelves well stocked with nuts, canned meats and fish and a few good relishes and try to invent fillings that your youngsters will enjoy. Add a special treat now and then—something that is a surprise. Peanut Crunch Cookies would be a nice surprise for anyone and will have a good flavor and real food value.

Here's the recipe:

- 1/2 cup butter
- 1/2 cup peanut crunch
- 1/2 cup white sugar
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg (well beaten)
- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 1/4 teaspoon soda
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder

Cream butter and peanut crunch together. Add sugar and cream thoroughly. Add beaten egg. Sift flour once before measuring. Sift flour, soda, baking powder and salt together and add to creamed mixture. Chill dough. Then form into balls the size of a walnut and flatten with a fork dipped in flour. Place on greased cookie sheet. Bake 10 to 12 minutes in a 375 degree oven. Makes four dozen cookies.

CITRUS RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Grapefruit Cocktail

Two cups grapefruit pulp, 1/2 cup diced pineapple, 1/2 cup pineapple juice, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 4 tablespoons sugar, 3 red cherries. Mix fruit juices and chill. Serve in glasses, top with cherries.

Fruit Punch

- 2 tablespoons tea
- 2 cups sugar
- 7/8 cup orange juice
- 4 lemons
- 5 oranges
- 4 cups ginger ale
- 2 cups water
- 6 Maraschino cherries

Boil the water, add the tea and sugar, and let stand for half a minute, then strain. Add the orange juice and the juice of the lemons, and the oranges thinly sliced, the cherries each cut in four parts, and the ginger ale. Pour this over eight cups (or two quarts) of cracked ice in a punch bowl.

Florida Tea

- 1 stick of cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon whole cloves
- 4 cup lemons
- 1 cup water
- 2 oranges (1/2 cup juice)
- 1 lemon (1/2 cup juice)
- 2 tablespoons black tea
- 6 cups boiling water

Simmer spices and honey with the one cup water for 10 minutes and let it stand one hour. Strain. Add rind of one orange and one lemon if desired. Squeeze fruit juices, steep tea in boiling water one minute. Strain. Add fruit juice and spice mixture to strained tea. Reheat and serve hot. Garnish with orange slices. 10 servings.

BALI WHO?

By TERESA LANYON

LADIES who are getting a little pudgy around the edges, says Harvard's Dr. Frederick J. Stare, might do well to adopt a custom of the women of Bali. Following a recent trip to the Pacific island, as a consultant for the World Health Organization, Dr. Stare made the surprising statement that he found no fat women among the Balinese. The reason, he adds, is probably the island habit of frequent nibbling, rather than eating three full meals a day, and he recommends the method to American women who would like to lose a pound or two of waistline.

According to Dr. Stare, the women of Bali start their day at 6 a.m., with a heavily sugared cup of coffee. An hour or so later, after they've packed hubby off to his coconut picking, the coffee is followed by a mouthful of boiled rice, daintily garnished with a sprig of banana leaf. A little later a banana or other fruit will be eaten, perhaps with a glass of sweetened water. Following the same routine until bed-time, our Balinese housewife will nibble on such delicacies as fermented soy-bean cake, a piece of fish, or more rice, washed down with sweetened water or a soft drink. But never more than a mouthful at any one time!

Presumably the lissome figures of the Balinese ladies result from the fact that while they seem to eat all the time, they never eat much. Over all, they consume about the same number of calories daily as the average American housewife, but the intake is spread more evenly through the active part of their day.

As a means of keeping the weight down, or losing excess poundage, the Balinese practice fits in well with what Dr. Jean Mayer, of the Harvard Nutrition Laboratory, has called the "Glucostatic Theory." Hunger, says Dr. Mayer, is related to the amount of sugar in the blood, which controls a group of specialized brain cells called the "appetstat." When the blood sugar level falls, the "appetstat" goes into action and you become hungry. As soon as something is eaten, the blood sugar level goes up, the "appetstat" is cut off, and hunger disappears. Taking a bite or two of nutritious food every couple of hours, as the Balinese do, keeps the blood sugar above the critical level.

Incidentally, girls, it's no longer fashionable to blame a straying figure on "gland trouble" or heredity. Doctors declare that more than 93 per cent of the nation's fat people are overweight simply because "their caloric intake is in excess of body requirements." In other words, they eat more than they need! Some overeat because they enjoy it; others, probably a little on the neurotic side, are able to forget their troubles when they think of food. Whatever the reason, it applies more to women than to men. One Canadian authority, Dr. Grant McFerridge, found that 93 per cent of his overweight patients were women, which suggests the ladies are more inclined to relieve their frustrations and tensions by overeating. Women outnumber men when it comes to reducing, too, largely because of vanity!

Dr. Stare offers a word of warning to women trying to streamline their figures by the Balinese method: Don't increase your nibbling and eat three good meals, too! Instead, he suggests, eat three moderate meals, with emphasis on breakfast, and space the nibbling throughout the day. What constitutes a "moderate" meal is something each woman must decide for herself, but the objective is to decrease the daily caloric intake, and spread it over a greater number of hours. Doctors point out that many reasonably active women can lose weight safely on a diet that totals 1,200 or 1,300 calories a day.

Exercise? Use your own judgment. Some doctors are for it, others not. But all agree that strenuous exercises should be avoided except under supervision. Housework, dancing, walking—all burn calories, and if the calories aren't replaced by the consumption of extra food, weight is lost. Balinese women don't need exercise, we are told, because their pattern of living makes it unnecessary. Perhaps American women don't either. What could be more strenuous than trying to keep up with a couple of growing Hopalong Cassidy's?

CRACKER ACTOR

By NEIL MEPPERT

THE handsome face of a young Floridian is rapidly becoming a familiar one to the large segment of population which gathers around TV sets every night.

He is Patrick O'Neal, native of Ocala and graduate of the University of Florida, and one of television's rising young stars.

Movies, too, are recognizing Pat's talents. His latest role is in "Black Shield of Falworth." He plays Tony Curtis' rival for the hand of Janet Leigh.

Tony wins the girl, natch, but Pat's performance has won him an opportunity to climb a couple of rungs up the ladder of success.

Relaxing at the spacious home of his parents at Ocala for a few days recently after a busy summer, Pat commented he had to turn down some jobs.

"It's been delightful," he gloated.

Pat majored in dramatics at the University of Florida, where he headed the Florida Players, and edited the "Seminole" university yearbook.

Equipped with talent, ambition and considerable confidence, he struck out for Broadway immediately after his graduation in 1948, studied acting some more at the Neighborhood Playhouse, all the while trying to break into show business.

PAGE 18—All Florida Magazines

An 18-month tour of duty with the Air Force interrupted his career in 1952-53.

Breaks began to come with his return to civilian life. There was a part in "The Mad Magician," movie starring Vincent Price, a couple of dozen TV films, and the "Black Shield" role, all in rapid succession.

By and large, Pat has found established stars very willing to extend an encouraging hand to newcomers.

"I never met two nicer people than Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh. They were wonderful to work with—and they do work hard, by the way — and I got to know them as people, too.

"Dorothy Maguire has helped me more than you would ever expect from a person at the top of the heap. I got to know her at the theater she and some others have at La Jolla, and she's been really marvelous."

Television is giving many young actors like Pat a chance in show business—aside from supplying butter for their bread while they work their way up.

"Traffic moves in all directions on TV," Pat observed. "There are the new ones coming up, the old ones coming down, the big ones trying out a new medium, and old-timers carving out new careers for themselves."

Admitting to an occasional pang of the special brand of Florida homesickness known as sand in the shoes, Pat commented, "Unfortunately there are only two places you can live if you're an actor

—somewhere near New York or Hollywood."

"To tell the truth, I guess I'm sort of an 'Okie'—migrant worker type—right now," Pat grinned. "I just follow the crop of acting jobs back and forth across the country."

KITCHEN

PREPARING SCHOOL LUNCHES

Now that school is in full swing again and packing a lunch is the order of the day, make a resolution that you will not let this all important chore become "just routine." "Variety is the spice of life," so the saying goes and this is true when it is time to open the lunch box and "see what Mother has for me, today." Give your child a well-balanced lunch that has been well planned and well packed, so it will have taste appeal as well as having nutritional value.

When making sandwiches, remember that the bread you use is just as important as the filling. Always use fresh bread and use different breads. Don't always use just "white" bread. Whole or cracked wheat, rye or oatmeal breads are right for meats, fish or eggs but use raisin, fruit or cinnamon for sweet fillings. Butter both slices generously to keep fillings from soaking into the bread.

For variety use fillings made of fish, meat or eggs and add a sweet sandwich now and then. Use vegetables to add texture and color to the fillings. Be generous with the fillings but don't make them too oozy as this type filling is hard for your children to eat with ease.

Wrap each sandwich separately with wax paper to keep them fresh and so that flavors won't mix. To make sandwiches more enjoyable, cut them in different ways—on the diagonal, in four squares or three or four sticks. Leave the crusts on for the additional food value.

When using a filling rich in protein, crisp vegetables such as pieces of celery, carrots or lettuce may be wrapped in waxed paper to be eaten with the sandwich. Soup is always a welcome addition to any lunch box and can be safely carried in a vacuum bottle. Salads are also very good to eat with a sandwich and can be packed in a plastic container with a tight fitting lid.

For that extra "something" to finish off a well balanced lunch, add an apple, banana or orange. Fruit is the best dessert a school girl or boy can eat.

Keep your shelves well stocked with nuts, canned meats and fish and a few good relishes and try to invent fillings that your youngsters will enjoy. Add a special treat now and then—something that is a surprise. Peanut Crunch Cookies would be a nice surprise for anyone and will have a good flavor and real food value.

Here's the recipe:

- 1/2 cup butter
- 1/2 cup peanut crunch
- 1/2 cup white sugar
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg (well beaten)
- 1 1/4 cups flour
- 1/4 teaspoon soda
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder

Cream butter and peanut crunch together. Add sugar and cream thoroughly. Add beaten egg. Sift flour once before measuring. Sift flour, soda, baking powder and salt together and add to creamed mixture. Chill dough. Then form into balls the size of a walnut and flatten with a fork dipped in flour. Place on greased cookie sheet. Bake 10 to 12 minutes in a 375 degree oven. Makes four dozen cookies.

Weekly Household Hint:

CITRUS RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Grapefruit Cocktail

Two cups grapefruit pulp, 1/2 cup diced pineapple, 1/2 cup pineapple juice, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 4 tablespoons sugar, 3 red cherries. Mix fruit juices and chill. Serve in glasses, top with cherries.

Fruit Punch

- 2 tablespoons tea
- 2 cups sugar
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 4 lemons
- 3 oranges
- 4 cups ginger ale
- 2 cups water
- 6 Maraschino cherries

Boil the water, add the tea and sugar, and let stand for half a minute, then strain. Add the orange juice and the juice of the lemons, and the oranges thinly sliced, the cherries each cut in four parts, and the ginger ale. Pour this over eight cups (or two quarts) of cracked ice in a punch bowl.

Florida Tea

- 1 stick of cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon whole cloves
- 1/4 cup honey
- 1 cup water
- 2 oranges (1/4 cup juice)
- 1 lemon (1/4 cup juice)
- 2 tablespoons black tea
- 6 cups boiling water

Simmer spices and honey with the one cup water for 10 minutes and let it stand one hour. Strain. Add rind of one orange and one lemon if desired. Squeeze fruit juices, steep tea in boiling water one minute. Strain. Add fruit juice and spice mixture to strained tea. Reheat and serve hot. Garnish with orange slices. 10 servings.

Laniel To Testify In Probe Of Spying On French Secrets

PARIS (AP)—The military magistrate investigating the sensational leak of French defense secrets to the Communists prepared today to take testimony from ex-Premier Joseph Laniel and two of his ministers.

The former Laniel Cabinet members are Pierre-Henri Teitgen, who was deputy premier, and Edmond Barzachin, formerly minister of defense for constitutional reform.

Information reportedly started filtering to the Reds from high defense councils during the Laniel administration. He took office in June, 1953, and resigned after losing a vote of confidence last June 12.

Police said today the arrest of Andre Baranes, a Communist newspaperman, is bringing to light details on the pipeline by which the Reds obtained top secrets.

Nabbed in Eastern France Saturday as he tried to flee on a second red bicycle to Switzerland, Baranes was charged formally yesterday with endangering the security of the state.

Police sources said the journalist had confessed to being the chief middleman in the transmission to the Communists of secret information on meetings of the National Defense Council.

Though the leaks began during the government of former Premier Joseph Laniel, the former has posed grave new problems for Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

Two high emloyees of the Defense Ministry, Rene Turpin and Roger Labrousse, were arrested Friday on charges of giving secret information to nonqualified persons. The ministry's secretary general, Jean Mons, was suspended—but not jailed—on suspicion of endangering the state security through negligence.

Turpin was chief of Mons' personal secretariat and Labrousse was in charge of "national protection" at the ministry.

The police informants said Baranes, during 15 hours of uninterrupted questioning by four French counterespionage agents, gave this account:

Labrousse dictated the secret information directly to him, or sometimes passed it by intermediaries who have not been identified.

Baranes never met Turpin and had no contact with him. Police said Turpin had admitted being the original source of the leaks but claimed he had no direct connection with Baranes.

Baranes relayed the secrets in the French Communist party command.

North Executed In Chair Today; Claims Innocence

RAIFORD (AP)—A. Elwood North died in the electric chair today still maintaining that he did not kill Mrs. Betty Allison, Central Florida cattlewoman.

North, one of three persons executed today at State's prison, was pronounced dead at 8:41, seven minutes after the switch was thrown.

Forty-one witnesses watched the black-hooded executioner send two charges of electricity through the short Lake Wales underlaker.

North was the first of the trio to die.

The two other men executed were James Henderson and George Bailey, Negroes convicted of the slaying of D. V. Pitt, Tallahassee filling station owner in 1953.

Ten minutes before he was led from his cell 30 paces from the death chamber North told reporters: "I'm ready to go. I'm absolutely innocent. God knows it. I know it, and my family knows it."

Building Permits Show $149,130 Total

CITY building inspector John Gillon announced today that a total of about $149,130 was being spent for building in the city over the past month, according to building permits issued.

The greatest single amount was a total of $58,000 spent on 11 single family residences. One duplex was built at a cost of $4,000. The five commercial buildings erected over the month of September totaled $8,833. The remainder, $19,237, was spent for repairs, Gillon said.

Released American Soldiers Tell Of Threats By Commies

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP)—Two American soldiers today accused their Czech Communist captors of threatening them with 10 years imprisonment if they refused to divulge U. S. military secrets.

The men, Capt. Richard H. Dries, 32, of St. Albans, N. Y., and Pfc. George Pisk, 23, of Austin, Tex., talked at a news conference of their two-week confinement. Seized near the border in Bavaria Sept. 17, they were released by Czech army officers Saturday at the West German border point at Waidhaus.

"Czech officials asked me specifically about atomic weapons in Europe," what I said of weapons were here," Dries said.

"I said, 'I know nothing about them.' That's all I told them other than what my name was, my rank and serial number."

The Red inquisitors angrily threatened to have both Dries and Pisk tried before a Communist court "and sentenced to 10 years

Brady Says Still Candidate After Stating To Contrary

E. E. Brady, who last Friday told a Herald reporter he would not be a candidate tomorrow in the race for State senator from the 37th district, said today he was "just kidding them" and would be in the contest.

"I can't get out brother," he said in The Herald office today. "I'm in there to stay." He explained he was "trying to fool that Parrish crowd."

The on-off candidate said the trick had been worked before here and that the slogan, "Let's keep the senator on this side of the river," was a red herring.

He came into the office today and attempted to get an advertisement on the front page. It was during a discourse on advertising that it was learned he intended to be a candidate, and that such was his intention all along.

Other candidates in this race are Douglas Stenstrom, who has been endorsed by The Herald and by the Brevard county weekly, the East Coast Trade Winds, and J. J. Parrish, Titusville, chairman of the State Citizens Commission.

Stenstrom resigned as County judge, after six years of service, in that office, to be a senatorial candidate.

The County judge's office is at stake in the race tomorrow. Candidates in this contest are Gordon Frederick, Ernest Housholder and Hugh Duncan, all of Sanford.

Frederick is a local attorney and former commander of the Campbell-Lessing post of the American Legion here.

Housholder also is a local attorney and holds the office of County judge on an appointment by Acting Governor Charley Johns. He has held the office previously.

Housholder earlier this year was an unsuccessful candidate for circuit judge. His son, Kaylie, is the County prosecuting attorney.

Duncan holds the elective office of justice of the peace.

The polls in the special Democratic primary election will be held Oct. 12.

Brownsville Gets 6 Inches Of Rain

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A tropical disturbance spawned in the Gulf of Mexico blew inland at Texas' south tip this morning, dumping 6.99 inches of rain on Brownsville in six hours and kicking up much sand and high tides.

The squalls, which were expected to blow itself out as it pushed deeper inland, but the Weather Bureau said it after effects might spread water-fresh breezes—and good showers—as far as west and north Texas by Tuesday.

The tropical disturbance moved inland near Brownsville about 6 a. m. and started up the bay, palm tree-lined and water-needy—Rio Grande valley.

The Brownsville rain, averaging an inch an hour, was the heaviest rain here since June, 1950.

White Students Demonstrate Against Negroes In Capital

Officials In W. Germany Today Foregoing Occupation Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles, returning from London in an evidently jubilant mood, said today the agreement reached there gave the Atlantic community a "hard core of European unity."

Dulles said in a statement on his arrival at the airport: "The United States will, I hope, cooperate with the result, because to do so will be very much in our national interest."

Dulles said the agreement under which West Germany will remain a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization means the federal republic's sovereignty will be restored, and beginning today the Allied high commissioners will forego the exercise of most of their occupation rights.

Dulles said in his statement read for television: "The London conference produced a hard core of European unity. In this way, he said, the new plan for West Germany to join its neighbors in a four-power pact and the broader community of North Atlantic Treaty powers, 'brings many of the features of the E.W. plan to life.'"

The plan, rejected by the French Parliament, could have set up German troops as part of a tightly unified European army.

Aside from expected leftist opposition, statements and newspaper articles greeted Dulles' return. The historic London pact, signed here yesterday by the nine foreign ministers, will be put speedily into final treaty form and will send troops and men from the United States and other members of the Atlantic alliance against aggression.

Wasting no time, French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer hurried from the conference plane to Paris and Bonn.

The second accident occurred at Laurel Ave. and 14th St., about 11:25 a.m. when a 1951 Nash sedan going east on Fourth St. collided with a 1950 Oldsmobile going north on Laurel Ave. William A. Canfield, 56, Hickory was reported as the driver of the Nash and O. H. Arnold, 31, Irving, was found as driver of the Oldsmobile. Arnold Williams charged both with careless and negligent driving. Damage was estimated at $100 to the Nash, and $15 to the Oldsmobile.

The most recent accident occurred at 1:32 p.m. at French Ave. and East St. Police reported that the truck, a 1950 Chevrolet, driven by Henry J. Druggers, 21, Geneva, and a 1941 Oldsmobile driven and loaded by Mrs. M. J. Druggers, was struck by a truck, and negligent driving. Damage was estimated at $100 to the truck and $15 to the Oldsmobile.

The fourth accident involved three cars, and occurred at the corner of Grand St. and Magnolia Ave. about 6:40 p.m.

Involved were a 1951 Pontiac sedan driven by J. L. Atkinson, 35, R. 2, Box 164, Sanford, a 1947 Ford sedan driven by Eric Tom Lodge, 4, R. 1, Box 158, Sanford and a 1948 Oldsmobile driven by Mary E. Thomas, 497 E. Grand St., Sanford.

Investigating officers charged Atkinson with driving under the influence of intoxicating beverage and careless and negligent driving. The other drivers were charged with careless and negligent driving. Investigation was by Officers C. J. Dutton and Joe Hickman.

Trieste Dispute To End Tomorrow After Nine Years

ROME (AP)—The Italian government announced today the smoldering nine-year-old Trieste dispute between Italy and Yugoslavia never again will be to be divided between the two countries largely along present demarcation lines.

Under the agreement, as Kardelj described it, as it has been reported in Rome, Trieste will be divided between Italy and Yugoslavia.

Italy would get the Allied-occupied Zone A and the port city of Trieste—66 square miles, with a population of 300,000. Since World War II this zone has been occupied by British and American troops.

Yugoslavia would get Zone B—119 square miles of hinterland with a population of 75,000, which Yugoslav troops have occupied since the war.

Money Allotted For School Milk

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today allotted $9.5 million dollars among the states and the District of Columbia to help boost the consumption of milk under the government-sponsored school lunch program.

The biggest allotment—$3,037,048—went to the state of New York. Texas was second with $2,588,823 and Pennsylvania third with $2,446,512.

The states in turn will pay schools for fluid milk consumed above last year's levels. Schools starting the sale of milk to children for the first time will get 3 cents for each half pint.

Schools which served milk last year will get 4 cents a half pint for each extra half pint above last year's level. The milk must be sold to pupils at net cost.

Florida's allotment was $1,084,150.

Ship Passengers Continue Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty-eight passengers continued aboard in a sit-down strike today as the damaged liner Washington prepared to go into drydock.

The 28, including three children, were left from more than 400 who originally took over the vessel's promenade deck lounge yesterday when informed they would have to pay their own hotel bills while waiting in get out of town.

In Brooklyn waters as the Washington prepared to dock today, the hoteliers signed a petition, they objected, they said, to being "stranded in a strange city" and "lack of adequate maintenance."

They reportedly were without food, although phone service to shore was restored.

The Holland-America Line said it would provide only toilet facilities.

Teacher Kills Family, Self With 22 Rifle

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—A middle-aged mother, a terrifying tale of a fading memory is blamed for a family tragedy in which she methodically wiped out her entire family, including two teen-age sons with a 22 rifle.

Police said Mrs. Olive Louise Anderson took her two sons, Donald, 12, and Richard, 12, yesterday. They had set for hours in the living room of her fashionable oakland home, waiting.

At first her husband Milton, 52, prosperous manager of an appliance company, opened the front door, the rifle barked a gasp. Stunned neighbors, who later described the slaying, said a rifle family who never quarreled, and moved police.

Inside the home, police found an open case of 22-caliber and seven remaining, incriminating notes scattered in pencil on cheap paper. Only one gasp, a low "I did it," and "I can't reach. Something is wrong with my memory. I don't know what else to do."

Donald, a sophomore engineering student at the University of California at nearby Berkeley, was found in the bathroom. He had been shot while trying to escape.

Richard, a high school senior, was found in a basement bathroom. The bullet had entered his brain as he slept.

Sheriff McCall Speaks In North Against Mixing

MIAMI (AP)—Sheriff Willis McCall of Duval, who made headlines in 1951 when he shot two Negro prisoners, flew to Delaware last week to make a speech opposing the admission of Negroes to white schools.

Introduced as a "famous man" who knows how to handle Negroes, McCall told a group fighting integration of the races in Delaware public schools to "keep up the good work."

Police Chief Sam Powell of Milford, Del., said McCall's speech was "sublimely accurate."

McCall reached at his home in Delaware and there were 3,000 at the rally and it was very gratified to see that kind of a turnout about the "Hixon Dixon line."

"Those people are going about it in an orderly fashion but they're not going to put up with any of this 'bushiness,'" McCall said.

McCall said he is president of the 14,000 Sheriff's Assn., killed Samuel Shepherd and wounded Walter Lee Brown defendants in the famous "Greenville Rape case, on a locally reported in November, 1951.

It was the first sign of trouble over the issue in the nation's capital, which has mixed white and Negro students, this year for the first time in its history.

President Eisenhower and other leaders have said they hoped the district's plan for ending racial segregation would become a model for action under the Supreme Court's desegregation law. McCall's segregation is unconstitutional.

McKinley High, a vocational school in northern Washington, has an enrollment of about 400 Negroes and 650 white pupils. The area once was a fashionable residential section.

At the classroom protest meeting there was considerable stamping of feet and applause as speaker after speaker criticized the admission of Negroes to the schools.

One girl told the gathering she was "afraid to walk down the hall. They walk right up behind me and say things I wouldn't read."

Although there were demonstrations today at eight Baltimore public schools, two more than were affected last Friday, there were no reports of angry disturbances and violence like the demonstration by several hundred persons at Southern High School last week.

Police made two arrests at Southern this morning.

Attendance reports from the various schools ranged from very light to normal.

The Delaware State Board of Education today assigned 11 Negro pupils—counted last week from the all-white Milford High School—to the all-Negro high school at Dover, 18 miles north of Milford.

The board took the action as attendance at the Milford school reached its normal figure of 96 per cent of enrollment for the first time since the school had been closed and then boycotted as a result of the integration of the Negroes in the 10th grade at Milford.

Mixing Is Tried 1st Time

Displays Given In Baltimore

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hundreds of white students demonstrated at two Washington high schools today in protest against the admission of Negroes.

About 400 out of 1,250 students at Anacostia High milled across the street from the school, pointing and boing at girls by their principal to go to classes.

The school's 41 Negro students were bused to a nearby building. More buses went up as other white pupils went to their classrooms in orderly fashion.

At McKinley High, about 150 boys and girls staged a similar demonstration but were persuaded they should meet in a classroom to protest meeting in a classroom.

The McKinley High meeting later broke up in confusion, with some students apparently walking out on strike and others agreeing to let a committee discuss the situation.

Brownsville Gets 6 Inches Of Rain

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A tropical disturbance spawned in the Gulf of Mexico blew inland at Texas' south tip this morning, dumping 6.99 inches of rain on Brownsville in six hours and kicking up much sand and high tides.

The squalls, which were expected to blow itself out as it pushed deeper inland, but the Weather Bureau said it after effects might spread water-fresh breezes—and good showers—as far as west and north Texas by Tuesday.

The tropical disturbance moved inland near Brownsville about 6 a. m. and started up the bay, palm tree-lined and water-needy—Rio Grande valley.

The Brownsville rain, averaging an inch an hour, was the heaviest rain here since June, 1950.

FIRE WRECKS NIGHT CLUB

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Fire practically destroyed this island city's plush beachfront club, the Ballenee Room, before dawn yesterday. Fire Marshal J. C. Kelso put damage at $150,000 to $200,000.

SHRIMP BOIL—C. M. Whitton (left), civilian fire chief at the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station, is shown with Capt. J. E. Vose Jr., NAAS commanding officer, at the shrimp boil held by the fire department Friday night at the station for underprivileged children. The chief said today the department hopes to clear over $130 from the affair, which was attended by more than 300 people. (Staff Photo)
