Grayson, Head Of Red Cross, Passes Away

Retired Naval Officer Had Been In Ill Health Since Heading Organization Served Wilson As Personal Physician Appointed To White House Staff By Theodore Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, 69, renowned head of the American Red Cross and former physician-confidant of three presidents, died today.

The retired naval officer had been in poor health almost since the time President Roosevelt made him head of the Red Cross in 1935. The President visited him at his home yesterday.

The Virginia born admiral first won national prominence as the physician and friend of President Woodrow Wilson. President Theodore Roosevelt started Grayson on his career by appointing him to the White House medical staff in 1907. President Taft kept him on the job.

Grayson announced Wilson's death to the world. President Roosevelt's first and second inaugurations were arranged by Grayson. His widow and three sons survive the admiral.

Retiring from the navy after Wilson's death, Grayson became a figure in the inner councils of the democratic party. With this background and a friendship that had existed since the Wilson administration when Franklin D. Roosevelt was assistant secretary of the navy, the ex-medical officer was made chairman of the 1932 inaugural committee and was one of the advisors and helpers of the recovery president.

Grayson attained to a considerable reputation in his profession and was president of the Florida Institute. He moved in (Continued on Page Three)

Sanford Receives Praise In Article About St. Johns

Writer For Magazine On Motorboating Sees Celery Fields

Vividly describing a trip down the St. Johns River as it winds its way northward through barren glades and semi-tropical jungles, Don Waters, writer for Motorboating magazine, writes of a visit to the St. Johns River valley in his story "Down the St. Johns" appearing in the current issue of the magazine.

In another story appearing in the same issue and written by Gilbert Hayward the St. Johns River is described as an artery of water traffic since the earliest colonial days.

Many yacht owners anchoring at the mouth of the St. Johns have departed without realizing, the story writer declares, "that they have turned back at the very threshold of one of the most interesting cruises in the United States."

Rescue Seen Today For 4 On Ice Floe

Airplanes To Be Sent For Scientists Soon As Landings Spot Can Be Cleared On Ice

MOSCOW, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Rescue came into actual sight today for the four Soviet scientists stranded on an ice floe off the coast of Greenland. The Russian icebreaker Murman reported that the campers, led by Ivan Papanin, had realized they could see the ship "in the distance."

The Murman, 12 miles off across the jagged pack ice, was closest of four rescue ships at (Continued on Page Three)

Two planes which had been assembled for the flight were dismantled and placed back on the icebreaker. A strong southwest wind blew up in the afternoon, shifting the ice on which the makeshift flying field was situated.

The rescuers, previously brought to a standstill by the heavy ice, radioed they would attempt to push forward nearer the four scientists, who were about 20 miles away.

Visual signaling was again resorted to during the afternoon when the polar campers lighted a flare at the request of the Dalnorg which reported the signal had been seen clearly.

Ivan Papanin, commander of the scientists, who have been drifting southward since they established a camp near the north pole last May 21, reported a slight drift to the southeast since the last report.

Seminole Teachers May Attend FEA Meet

Following a letter from the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Colin English, regarding the importance of the meeting of the Florida Education Association to be held in Tampa beginning Mar. 31, members of the Seminole County School Board advised at their recent meeting that any teacher in the county might attend the convention without loss of salary for the day and that if a majority of teachers desired to attend from any school that the school will be closed on Friday during the convention. Superintendent T. W. Lawton reported today.

The Board gave a contract to L. M. Hitchcock for transportation of people from Palm Springs and Blandville Springs to the Lyman School. The Board also accepted the resignation of Miss Annabella Lingner, Oviedo High School Spanish teacher, and appointed Miss Hazel Havel of Lakeland and niece of the former Mrs. Pearl Havel of Sanford, to fill the vacancy.

Local Veterinarian Warns Rabies Epidemic Persists

"Reports that the recent rabies scare in Sanford has ended are erroneous," declared Dr. Peter J. Roy, local veterinarian, yesterday afternoon. He also asserted that a new outbreak of the dreaded disease is apparently beginning. "Periodic outbreaks have occurred every 21 days and can be expected," Dr. Roy declared, "as long as the dog owners in the City let their dogs run loose so that they are bitten by infected animals."

Following a recommendation of City physician, Dr. J. M. Taylor, the City Commissioners at their meeting in the City Hall last night declared that as soon as dog muzzles can be stocked in local stores, all dogs when off private premises will be required to wear muzzles. The City physician, it was indicated, felt that this action will hinder further spread of the infection among animals in the City. The Commissioners receive authority for their action from Sections 230 and 231 of the revised Ordinance of the City which are as follows: "The Mayor may order whenever, in his judgement public safety requires such action, that for a reasonable given time all dogs shall be securely muzzled when outside private premises of the owner or keepers."

"Any dog found at large during the period provided in the foregoing section without being securely muzzled may be killed by a policeman or other person authorized by the Mayor."

Dr. Roy stated that the period of incubation for the disease was approximately 21 days and that epidemics almost last November there had been no outbreaks. He reported five positive cases during the past week.

Since the beginning of the infection in Sanford and Seminole County, a large number of persons have been bitten by rabid animals and have taken the Pasteur treatment, local physicians report.

Farm Measure Is Given Roosevelt For Signature Secretary Of Agriculture May Limit Quantity Of Crops

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—A crop control bill, praised as "the best farm bill ever enacted" and denounced as "regimentation" and "more harmful" for the farmer, received final congressional approval yesterday.

The measure, establishing a system under which the Secretary of Agriculture, in co-operation with farmer committees, may prescribe limitations upon the quantity of wheat, corn, rice and tobacco grown or marketed, now goes to the White House for the expected signature of President Roosevelt.

"While the bill establishes varying approaches for each of the crops affected, in general it directs the Secretary of Agriculture to make an estimate of the expected supply, set this figure against expected demand and adjust production accordingly."

This would be done by paying benefits to farmers who planted no more than a specified acreage. In addition, in years of bumper crops, the Secretary of Agriculture would be empowered to fix marketing quotas, limiting the quantities that could be sold and thereby protecting the price. Such quotas would be dependent on a two-thirds vote of farmers taking part in special referenda.

Because of the big crops of the last year, the Administration began negotiating for farm legislation last Spring, to replace the old acreage adjustment act invalidated by the Supreme Court in 1936. The first order of business upon receiving the bill, and President Roosevelt called a special session last Fall to deal with this, among other problems.

Seminole County Exhibit Is Seen As One Of Best At Orlando Fair

"The unalloyed comments from many of the 25,300 persons who visited the Seminole County display at the Central Florida Exposition in Orlando yesterday makes us very proud that ours is considered one of the most attractive exhibits on the entire fair grounds," stated T. E. Simpson, President of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, in discussing this year's exhibit at the annual affair.

Occupying a choice space with a spread of 60 ft. in one of the new buildings, Seminole County exhibit is one of the first displays that greet visitors as they begin their tour of the grounds.

This year, entries have been made in the following groups: citrus fruit; vegetables and garden products; home canned and preserved products; crystallized fruits and candies; ferns, bulb ornamental plants and cut flowers; home cured meats; commercial, agricultural and horticultural products; Irish Potatoes and Sweet Potatoes.

Thirty-five varieties of citrus fruit are displayed in the Fruit display which is one of the finest ever entered by Seminole County and was made possible through the generous cooperation of Chase & Company, Chester C. Fogarty, Fred Forward and the Lake Charm Fruit Company.

The entry which is bringing the greatest comment from the women visitors is the beautiful display of home canned and preserved products which shows 256 different varieties of preserved Seminole County products. This exhibit was arranged by Mrs. Gladys Kendall, county home demonstration agent, who also provided a very attractive display of crystallized fruits.

Ten different varieties of meats produced in Seminole County and cured by the Florida Farmers of America are on display under the direction of advisor Alex E. Johnson. Industrial exhibits have been furnished by Eckstein Fruit Canners, Citrus-Dry Dairy food, produced by the Louisville Dairy-plant Company, Shinkler clip-top poultry crates, Check fertilizer, produced by Chase and Company, (Continued on Page Three)

Quick Action Is Demanded On Job Relief

House Committee Approves Quarter Bill For Relief As Jobless Increase

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The House Appropriations Committee asked the house today to approve immediately a $250,000,000 emergency relief appropriation for the next few months. It suggested quick action because of the "dramatic change" which has taken place in business employment since the beginning of the depression and indications that it would not improve immediately.

The appropriation if approved would be used to keep at least 2,000,000 persons on the relief rolls during the next few months. Without it, Works Progress Administration officials said, about 500,000 persons would have to be denied help and 200,000 now on the rolls would be laid off. The entire $250,000,000 would be earmarked for the WPA. Thirty millions will be taken from the reserve fund and turned over to the Farm Security Administration which is providing direct relief for 15,000 families and making relief loans to 351,000 families.

The committee said another 25,000 families are in dire need of relief and another 65,000 need loans.

Questioned about the probable relief appropriation for the year starting July 1, Aubrey Williams, acting WPA administrator, said, "We would attempt to meet next year's situation on a billion dollar appropriation, provided we could have the understanding that we would be free, without having any strings tied to it, to use it as we would see fit."

Rep. Burton, Republican of New York, suggested, "If there is no appropriation you will need at least $2,000,000,000 in the fiscal year of 1939."

"We will have to meet it as it comes," said Williams.

When Secretary Morgenthau appeared for interrogation, Rep. Wigglesworth, Republican of Mass., asked him, "Do you say any and in light of this problem, it is something that will be with us forever or do you see any hope of ending it?"

Morgenthau said the only solution "is for private industry and initiative to take up the load."

Williams estimated more than 1,000,000 persons but their jobs last month that relief cases increased 13 percent.

Austrian-German Settlement Still Holds Obstacles

BERLIN, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The path to a complete understanding between Germany and Austria and the Anglo-German settlement that depends on it still is strewn with potential stumbling blocks.

While the conference Saturday between Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler and Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg served to clear the stormy atmosphere between them, it marked only the beginning and by no means the end of negotiations.

In fact, Schuschnigg took away with him several questions, the nature of which were not disclosed, which he promised to answer after meeting the Austrian cabinet.

In Vienna Schuschnigg was said to have brought three proposals to put before President Wilhelm Miklas for his selection. A hitch in the settlement was reported to have developed as the chancellor discussed his interview with Hitler in hours long conferences with the president and cabinet.

Miklas was said to be withholding his approval because he objected to Hitler's suggestion a Nazi sympathizer be made minister of the interior with full control of police.

The discussion by the two chancellors of means to end the friction caused by Nazi ambitions in Austria centered on ways of strengthening and widening the provisions of the accord of July 11, 1936.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

Symbolism helps the imagination in the shadow of thy wings will I make my refuge.—Psalm 57:1

STAINS

The three ghosts on the lonesome road, Spoke each to one another, Whence came that stain about your mouth...

Yet on the earth clean men we walked, Glutton and Thief and Lover; While flesh and fair it hid our stains...

The way of the transgressor is hard, the Miami Post insists, when commenting on the Al Capone case.

Late Saturday afternoon is said to be the most dangerous hour of the week for automobile drivers.

Whenever Hitler retires to that place of his in the Bavarian Alps, there is always a nigger in the woodpile, even if it's a Schuchtpfleger.

The dispatches from Washington indicate that there are still people who think that prosperity can be increased by increasing the taxes which the public has to pay.

We don't blame Claude for having his picture taken with Eleanor Powell while he could get it, but what if she should get mixed up in one of those Hollywood divorce scandals just before the May primary.

Miami's indicted rate expert is suing the power company for $500,000. That must be less the discount if paid before the 10th.

Senator McArdoo is not optimistic about the new farm bill. It is so revolutionary, he says, it will be repealed by the next session of Congress.

We gather that some of our senators are against the President's plan to have a navy strong enough to defend this country against attack by Japan, and have decided to build one strong enough to defend us from both Japan and England at the same time.

Some men today would say that it is worse than hell—Tampa, Florida. Yes, since Sherman's war has become worse, and hell is no easy judge by someone's better all the time.

Future Advertising

It seems almost a tragedy that with the largest, and perhaps the finest celery crop in years going to a market which is only half prepared to receive it...

However, it is perhaps true that by the time the preliminary arrangements could be made, the necessary agreements drawn and signed, the copy prepared by the agency...

For all of us must admit that it is more important for a well rounded program for advertising celery to be worked out and carried into execution in the years to come...

As we see it there are only two possible remedies for the present situation. Either the farmers must make up their minds to produce less celery and work out the necessary machinery for drastically reducing acreage...

Foremost in the various methods of stimulating demand is advertising. We say this not because we are in the newspaper business, which depends in large measure for its support upon advertising...

If advertising helped to increase the sale of Pepsodent and Chesterfields, it will help to increase the sale of celery. If you tell people through the newspapers...

This problem of over-production in the celery industry is not just a temporary one, born of the recession, or particularly good growing weather this winter...

We should not wait this time until the next celery season is too far advanced for an advertising campaign to do any good. Plans should be made in the very near future for an extensive program to begin next Fall...

A Ship Is Sunk

Forty years ago on this very evening an event occurred which was to rock the entire world, throw the United States into a fever of excitement which lasted for over a year, and bring to an inglorious end one of the proudest empires which ever spread over the face of the globe.

For it was on February 15, 1898 that the battle ship Maine, sent into Cuban waters as a warning gesture toward Spain which was in the midst of the death throes of its control over Latin-America, was blown up in Havana harbor.

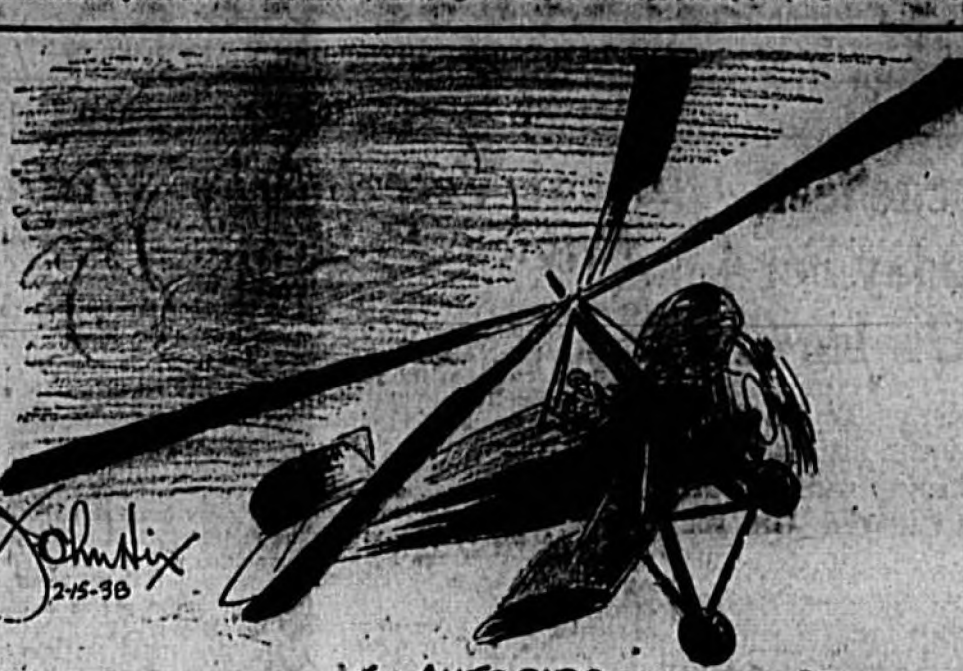

Then there was the same tendency on the part of constituted authorities to stick their noses into other people's business which is so noticeable today. Then the government was busy sending warships into other people's battlegrounds just as it is today.

But when the Panay was bombed and sunk on the Yangtze River almost at the vertex of the oriental whirlwind, not only did the people fail to get excited and rush madly into war, they began to ask the question why the Panay was ever where it was in the first place?

In this change of attitude on the part of the public lies some hope that when the next World War comes, this country may keep at a reasonably safe distance from the fighting line.

The select circles of Washington society and for several years conducted a Virginia breeding farm and reared a fairly successful string of thoroughbreds.

Although Grayson was closer to the world war President probably than any other man, he was unknown to Woodrow Wilson until March 4, 1913. On that inauguration day, the now first lady of the land—the first Mrs. Wilson—suffered an unimportant but painful accident. Grayson was the only member of the White House medical staff who had not been lured away from his post of duty by the inauguration spectacle. He attended her and so impressed was she by the modest, daffodil young surgeon that she commended him to her husband. Grayson became the head of the White House doctors—the personal physician to the President of the United States.

In the eleven years between that day and Wilson's death, they two lives were into a close fabric of intimate friendship. Grayson became an indispensable adjunct to the stern executive who was guiding the nation through the world war.

The Virginia-born doctor's genial smile and dark, merry eyes that looked from under shaggy brown brows became almost as familiar as the lean countenance of his chief. Where Wilson went, so did Grayson. He was with the President at practically every important function in Washington. He accompanied him to Paris for the peace conference in 1919. He was close by at Pueblo, Colo., when the early signs of the President's impending paralytic stroke appeared.

It was one of a very few intimates of Wilson whose advice still was welcome when the administration ended. While one after another of the Wilson counselors stepped off the national scene, Grayson's influence enlarged. His decisions and those of the second Mrs. Wilson had national effect during the days in 1919 and 1920 when the President lay so gravely ill. It was they who had the say about what was important enough to be taken into the sick room.

When Wilson's term ended in 1921, President Harding made sure that Grayson would not be transferred out of Washington so that Wilson still might have his services. Grayson continued as the former President's physician until Wilson died in 1924. A year later Grayson retired voluntarily from the navy.

Congress Finds Difficulty In Fixing Wages

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Congressmen from North and South haven't been able to get together on a law to fix minimum wages.

Summarizing a report last July by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, it shows hourly entrance (beginning) wages for common (unskilled) labor throughout the country in 29 important industries.

At that time, the bureau reports, those wages averaged more than 55 cents in the North and just about 20 cents in the South. In the textile industry, not included in the same survey, the bureau found that last July northern cotton mills were paying an average of 50 cents an hour, compared with 39.7 cents in the South.

That's what lawmakers mean when they talk about the "sectional wage differential."

Southerners argue that any federal wage-hour law which did not recognize that differential would work a hardship on southern industry. Northerners reply that the South's practice of paying lower wages than men will work for in the North already is working a hardship on northern industry.

Success of wage-hour legislation at this session of congress depends on some compromise.

Observers Think Next Great War Not To Be Short

Present Wars Have Taught Futility Of Surprise Attack

LONDON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—A ray of hope has come out of the wars in China and Spain. They have struck a blow, some close observers believe, at the popular theory that the next great war would be a short, decisive one with the advantage in favor of the aggressor.

The Spanish civil war has dragged on for more than eighteen months. A few months ago, an early victory for General Franco was forecast in many quarters.

The Spanish government's big offensive of Teruel, resulting in a rout of the insurgents, quickly changed the situation. Now impartial observers are predicting a long struggle, with Franco's chances of eventual victory diminished.

In China, the Japanese have had a series of successes. But in more than six months of bitter warfare they have failed to subdue the Chinese forces. And Tokyo is preparing for a long war.

From both, informed observers believe, have come a lesson to aggressor-inclined nations which may set back many years a general European or World War which a few months ago was feared everywhere.

Italy's conquest of Ethiopia earlier than some military strategists believed possible is considered by some observers to have encouraged aggressor nations in the belief that in modern warfare a swift, surprise attack might achieve a fast victory.

This theme has been preached in the House of Commons with a warning that Britain's vast rearmament program should embrace adequate defense against surprise attacks.

Winston Churchill visualized a "nine-days' war" in commons in discussing the government's air raid precautions measure—"a war so short," he said, "that the scarcity of food or raw material would not prevent an aggressor striking down his victim and gaining a final result before any scarcity could become effective."

The theory has not been entirely exploded by the Sino-Japanese and Spanish wars, observers point out. But they believe the resistance of the Chinese and the Spanish government forces—the latter against strikes heavily reinforced by Italians and Germans—is a subject under sober consideration by war staffs generally.

Italy, for example, is believed in diplomatic quarters here to be showing far less interest in the Spanish war than she was a few months ago.

Lake City Invaded By Southbound Tourists

LAKE CITY, Feb. 15.—Since Jan. 1, an average of more than 1000 out-of-state cars a day have been passing through here according to estimates of the Tourist Department of the Lake City and Columbia county Chamber of Commerce, with the number mounting to approximately 1250 on two days of last week.

Between 1500 and 2000 transients are being accommodated with meals and lodgings in Lake City every night, and new facilities are being provided to care for more, according to a check-up of local hotels, rooming houses and restaurants. It is estimated that half a million south-bound winter visitors have passed through Lake City since the season opened, and that close to 200,000 have spent at least one night here.
