

WASHINGTON BURIES DEAD ---OFFICIALS INVESTIGATE SOURCE OF CATASTROPHE

Three of Injured Died Today, Swelling the Death List 63 ARE IN HOSPITAL

SENATE EXPECTED TO ACT ON CAPPER'S RESOLUTION FOR INQUIRY

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Ninety-seven persons, according to final and official list issued today by the District of Columbia authorities lost their lives in the Knickerbocker theatre disaster.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—While the city began the burial of its dead today the District of Columbia authorities pushed their investigation of the Knickerbocker Theatre disaster and the senate is expected to act on the resolution of Senator Capper, of Kansas, proposing an inquiry by that body. A resolution for the same purpose also is pending in the house. A re-check of the death list by the police today showed the final total outside of expected deaths of injured of which there are now three, probably would be reduced to ninety-five from the total of 105 carried yesterday. Of the 133 injured sixty-two remained in the hospitals today with a dozen reported in a critical condition.

SANDSPUR GIVES ANNUAL BANQUET

The annual banquet of the Sandspur staff of Rollins College was held in Winter Park Saturday night with a number of guests taking part in the program which was of extraordinary interest.

During the evening short speeches were made by President R. J. Sprague, Wallace Stevens, editor of the Sandspur, Mrs. Hiram Powers, former editor of the Winter Park Post, W. M. Glenn, editor of the Morning Sentinel, Miss Theresa Murphy, associate editor of the Flambeau, published by the Woman's College in Tallahassee, C. A. Davenport, the Rev. Dr. Vincent, pastor of the Congregational Church and W. L. Thorndike, editor of the Kissimmee Valley-Gazette. Mr. Thorndike also acted as toastmaster.

The Sandspur banquet is given every year in connection with the college Founder's Week which opened Friday with the Bachelor prize contest.

CLERMONT MAN IS KILLED BY TRACTOR

CLERMONT, Jan. 31.—Theodore Bryson, of this city, was mortally injured yesterday when he was thrown from a moving tractor. He died a few moments afterward.

Bryson was working on a tract of land near here that is being brought under cultivation by the Howey Development Company. He was the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bryson, who recently came to this city from Winter Haven. He was a veteran of the world war.

The funeral will take place in Winter Haven Wednesday or Thursday. The body was taken to Orlando last night where it will lie in the Hand Funeral Home until the day of burial.

FOUND DEAD IN BATHTUB

(By The Associated Press)
ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 31.—Chas. Leuthner, aged 70, of Peoria, Ill., was found dead in a bathtub at his winter residence here Sunday morning. Death was due to heart disease, according to the coroner.

MINE EXPLOSION IN KENTUCKY TAKES FOUR LIVES

Pineville, Ky., Jan. 31.—Four miners killed, two injured seriously, two missing result of an explosion in Layman-Calloway coal mine at Layman, twenty miles from here last night according to reports received today.

Baloon ascension Thursday and Friday will bring the crowds to Sanford.

CAMPAIGN FOR INDIA TO BE BEGUN

ENGLAND WILL PROCEED TO SPANK INDIAN TROUBLE BREEDERS NOW

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Jan. 31.—Today was fixed for beginning of "civil disobedience" campaign in India. London newspapers discuss the outlook which they regard with considerable anxiety. Official dispatches admit seriousness of the situation, pointing out that "mass of inflammable material is of so great a possibility of widespread disturbances in near future they cannot be ignored."

KENYON PICKED FOR U. S. JUDGE BY PRESIDENT

IS HEAD OF FARM BLOC AND IT LOOKS LIKE A FRAME UP

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—President Harding today sent to the senate the nomination of Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, leader of the agricultural bloc, to be judge of the Eighth Judicial Circuit. Kenyon declined to discuss his nomination or say whether he would accept appointment which would involve his retirement from the senate. Kenyon later announced he would accept the appointment and the senate soon after receiving the nomination confirmed it in open executive session, honor only rarely paid to nominees.

CARDINAL COLLEGE IS NOW COMPLETE

(By The Associated Press)
ROME, Jan. 31.—The Sacred College was completed today as it will start deliberations on Thursday next to elect a pontiff. Fifty three cardinals are now present in Rome and they will compose the conclave at its opening session. The arrival of Cardinal Logue primate of all-Ireland completed the list of electors for the early meetings from which seven cardinals will be absent—Prisco, Archbishop of Naples; Martin de Herrera, Archbishop of Santiago de Compostella, Spain; Arcoverde, Archbishop of Rio de Janeiro; Erksensky, archbishop of Olmutz; O'Connell, Archbishop of Boston; Dougherty, archbishop of Philadelphia, and Begin, archbishop of Quebec.

On Thursday the fifty three cardinals will enter the vatikan, there to remain until they have chosen a successor to Benedict XV.

CONVICTS RECAPTURED

(By The Associated Press)
PORT ST. JOE, Jan. 31.—Six negro convicts who escaped from a road camp near here recently have been recaptured, two of them receiving gunshot wounds in the course of their flight.

The negroes, members of a gang of 10, suddenly attacked and overpowered Guards Yates and Bodiford while returning to camp late in the afternoon. The guards were disarmed, but the remaining 10 convicts returned with them to camp.

Two of the negroes were recaptured within two days after their escape while they had all been returned to camp in five days.

Several escapes have been attempted by convicts from the gang now working on the highway between the canal and Port St. Joe, but none has been successful because, it is said there are only two means of egress from this section.

Mrs. Julius Takach and Mrs. Wrenn McGuinn are not on the Chautauqua circuit but they have been and they can qualify as among the best entertainers on the concert stage today. Hear them at the Parish House tonight.

BLIZZARD OFF IN THE OCEAN, WORST IS OVER

HIGHER TEMPERATURE NOW PREVAILS OVER THE SOUTHEAST

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Bright sunshine and thawing temperatures did much yesterday to restore normal conditions in Washington and the middle Atlantic section buried under Saturday's severe snow storm.

Forecasts of the weather bureau were for a continuation of the favorable temperatures and it was generally believed that today would see a complete resumption of the activities suspended in many cases since the storm began Friday night. The bright sunshine in Washington although helpful in removing the snow seemed to contrast strangely with the deep gloom of spirit hanging over the city as the result of the Knickerbocker theatre disaster.

All danger of a food shortage in the Capital passed away during the day as train service was resumed. Normal schedules were resumed by trains on the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio at noon and last night railroads entering the city from the South reported complete service. Officials of the Atlantic Coast Line and Southern Railway asserted first reports of delay were exaggerated.

Street car service here was not so quickly resumed. While many lines were opened up today the two traction companies serving the city stated that it would be late today before some of their cars stranded since Friday night in outlying and suburban sections could be released and the lines cleared for traffic.

Alarmed by the theatre catastrophe, apartment and business office owners continued to give much attention to clearing roofs of snow and nearly every hour brought rumors of the collapse of some large building. All these rumors, however, proved false.

Reports from Baltimore, Philadelphia and other cities in the path of the storm also told of rapid restoration of normal conditions. Heavy seas, however, still were being experienced in the vicinity of Hampton Roads with several vessels still in danger.

EARTHQUAKE IS REGISTERED THIS MORNING

PROBABLY TWO THOUSAND MILES AWAY BUT GOING STRONG

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—An earthquake of unusual intensity was in progress at 9:15 this morning according to Rev. Francis Tondorf, seismological director of Georgetown University observatory.

The earthquake is probably twenty-five hundred miles south of Washington and began about 8:25 and ten minutes later tremors were so pronounced as to throw the registering needles off of the scale. The quake was also registered on the seismograph of the weather bureau, officials of which described it as monstrous. Tondorf, one of the foremost earthquake authorities of the world said the quake was enormous. Both machines were still registering tremors at 10 o'clock.

CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 31.—An earthquake shock so violent it put the recording apparatus at Harvard University seismograph station temporarily out of commission occurred today.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31.—Earthquake shocks were felt early today along the Pacific coast from San Francisco to the Canadian line according to reports received here. No damage was reported.

Misses Mildred Simmons and Katherine Teague of Mountville, S. C., will arrive today. Misses Simmons and Teague are nieces of Dr. and Mrs. W. Theodore Langley, and will spend the remainder of the winter in Sanford.

Miss Simmons will continue the music class of Miss Sara Madre who recently resigned her work on account of her health.

SENATE FAILS TO REACH VOTE ON REFUNDING BILL

FINALLY GOES INTO EXECUTIVE SESSION—MANY AMENDMENTS ARE YET TO BE CONSIDERED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—By fairly decisive votes the Senate refused today either to require congressional approval of the agreements to be entered into with debt or nations by the proposed Allied debt refunding commission or to limit the authority of the commission in the matter of deferring the time when interest payments on the eleven billion dollars foreign debt shall begin.

Despite an agreement sharply limiting debate, a final vote was not reached. Late in the day when the roll calls on amendments began it looked as though the now weeks old fight would come to an end, but a reference to the agricultural "bloc" by one senator brought a tart reply by another; that led to further discussion, and finally it was decided to recess until 11 a. m. tomorrow. Those in charge of the bill hope to dispose of the measure on that day, but many amendments still are pending with plenty of more discussion in prospect.

The Senator finally went into a brief session preliminary to taking a recess to 11 a. m. tomorrow. The recess plan was agreed upon after a motion to adjourn had been defeated on a call, 44 to 32.

In the course of debate today there were charges of "sinister" influences behind the bill. Senator Horah, Republican, Idaho, declared that powerful financial interests both in the United States and abroad did not intend that the Allied debt should be paid. Senator Simmons reiterated charges that the proposed legislation would benefit the holders in this country of $5,000,000,000 of the bonds of the Allied countries floated largely before the United States entered the war.

BILL MAPLES WANTS AN OFFICE

Crestview, Jan. 31.—Senator William Maples, known as the "father of Okaloosa county" and who has refused salaried offices in the past when offered by the governor, has announced his candidacy for county tax assessor.

REAL PROVISION STRICKEN OUT OF REFUNDING BILL

WOULD HAVE GIVEN DEBT COMMISSION AUTHORITY TO SETTLE

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Provision in the allied debt refunding bill which would have given the proposed debt commission authority to adjust or settle all claims of the United States has or hereafter may have against any foreign government, was stricken out today by the senate.

GOVERNOR SMALL GRANTED SEPARATE TRIAL ON CHARGES

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Jan. 31.—Governor Small today granted separate trial on charges of conspiracy to embezzle state funds for which he was indicted with Vernon Curtis. Representatives of Attorney General's office and Prosecuting Attorney Mortimer of Sangamon county strongly opposed separation of trials of defendants.

Attend the concert at the Parish House tonight. Mrs. Julius Takach will sing and Mrs. Wrenn McGuinn will put on some readings. Neither of these ladies need any introduction and the small admission price of 50 cents should fill the house. They are the best attractions that you will hear this season or any other season.

Crawford, of Jacksonville, announced a call for the State Democratic Executive Committee to meet in Jacksonville February 22 at 10 a. m. to arrange for the June primary.

60 POLICEMEN BATTLED TODAY WITH A NEGRO

EFFETE BOSTON HAS TROUBLE WITH NEGRO WHO DEFIED POLICE FORCE

(By The Associated Press)
BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 31.—Sixty policemen armed with riot guns battled more than an hour today against Henry Murray, a negro, who barricaded himself in his home and shot and seriously wounded two policemen, a negro and a negro man, set fire to a bed in which a negro infant lay. Murray surrendered uninjured when a dozen officers broke down the door of his house. Shouts of "lynch him" were made by the crowd that fought to get at him and he was roughly handled before the officers put him in the patrol wagon. The trouble began when Murray ejected a negro tenant and fired several shots at her.

INTOXICANTS IN WAREHOUSE MUST REMAIN

CANNOT BE WITHDRAWN EVEN BY OWNERS OF THE LIQUOR

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Intoxicating liquors, stored in government bonded warehouses cannot be withdrawn by the owners for their own personal use, the supreme court yesterday held in a decision delivered by Justice McKenna, and dissented to by Justice McReynolds. Such liquor can only be transported from the bonded warehouses, Justice McKenna stated "to a wholesale druggist for sale to him for purposes not prohibited."

Rotary Had Record Attendance at Their Luncheon Today

The Sanford Rotary Club had 100 per cent in attendance today and while President Harry Stevens was absent on church work at Lakeland the members responded to the appeal to make the membership 100 per cent and pulled it over as the only ones absent will get credit at Lakeland. Among the visiting Rotas was Robert Tubbs, of Patterson, N. J., who is spending the winter at Orlando, and E. T. Roux, the well known crane manufacturer of Plant City, both of whom made fine talks. The newest "Baby Rotas" R. E. Morse and R. F. Whitner, were present for the first time and received a vociferous welcome and Judge Houzholder made them a splendid talk telling them what was expected of them and while he did not tell them of the reception they will get later on he hinted at some of it. The luncheon was full of life and action and among other things the Rotas resolved to tackle several big things in Sanford soon. They will also play the Kiwanis Club at basket ball and will bowl them a game tomorrow night at the Parish House.

FOR COUNTY HOME

(By The Associated Press)
TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 31.—The property three and a half mile from here on the Miccosukee road, known as the Henry H. Hawes farm has been taken over by the county to be used as a refuge for indigent citizens.

The county commissioners purchased the property for $2,000 and appropriated $500 to be used in improving the main building on the place.

The Jenny Spaulding Circle met on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 20th, at the home of Mrs. Robert Glenn, and was well attended.

Delicious refreshments consisting of hot chocolate and home made cake were served.

The next meeting will be Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. Kelley on West Hughey street. A large attendance is desired.

IDLERS' CLUB

Mrs. James McGee was the charming hostess at bridge Saturday afternoon at her home on Sanford Heights, the guests including the members of the Idlers Club and one extra table.

The rooms where the card tables were placed, were adorned with a profusion of lovely cut flowers. Baskets and vases of marshallnoil roses and ferns being effectively used.

A very interesting game of bridge was played, high score being made by Mrs. Alex Vaughn, who was given dainty handkerchiefs, the cut prize, a vanity powder puff was won by Mrs. Sanford Doudney, low score prize, an attractive souvenir was won by Mrs. Harry Hoern.

Following the awarding of prizes, Mrs. McGee, assisted by Miss Frances McFarlane, and Mrs. C. R. Kirtley served a delicious salad course and accessories.

Besides the club members, Mrs. McGee's guests included Mrs. D. D. Nowberry, Mrs. Sanford Doudney, Mrs. Percy Mero and Mrs. C. R. Kirtley.

THE BAPTIST TEMPLE

Yesterday was a great day at The Baptist Temple. Good audiences considering the weather. Four additional memberships.

The pastor preached in the morning on the First Chapter of the book of James. He will expect this book during the month of February.

In the evening Dr. Hyman preached on the Neglected Home. He drew several pictures of neglected homes and presented them in a way that will perhaps last in the minds of the people. In the testing times of life we should know that our homes are safe. The evil one is always just ready to take our homes and use them for his purpose. It behooves fathers and mothers to train their children for all the testing hours of life.

The Della Salleck Memorial was also presented to the church on yesterday. Mrs. H. S. Salleck passed away on the summer but the memory of her will never pass away. Her husband and daughter have presented through the Junior Department of the Sunday School a double faucet sanitary drinking fountain. This fountain is located just out side the front door of the Temple. It is made of white cement and the best equipment used for the fountains. Mrs. Salleck was a faithful teacher in the Junior Department of The Sunday School.

Mrs. Schelle Malines, in a most acceptably manner presided at the Pipe Organ on yesterday, at all services. The music at the Temple is always good.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NOTES

Christian Endeavor held a most interesting program Sunday night, Jan. 29. Being a missionary program, four of the counties who are being helped by the Presbyterian missionaries, were represented by members of the Christian Endeavor. Miss Hermina Lehman opened the program with a vocal solo. There were four scenes each portraying the life in the four leading missionary countries.

The first was a scene from Africa contrasting between the work of the Witch Doctor, and the Christian Doctor. The next scene contrasted the education and uneducated Japanese. The third scene showed a Chinese mother binding the feet of her small daughter, before the missionaries came to their aid. The last scene was of Mexico before and after the missionaries came to loosen the bands of "Ignorance, Superstition and Poverty."

Big Dollar Day Bargains Will Bring Them In.

Weather is moderating and the folks can now dig themselves out of the snow and hike for Florida.

Speckled perch are biting, corn beef and cabbage are ripe, strawberries and oranges were never better, celery is crisp, everything is just right for the advent of the tourists.

Sanford is getting more favorable advertising this year than ever before in the history of the city. You do not get it and you do not see it but the newspaper does see it and get it. There will be more people here this spring and summer to buy and build homes and business blocks than ever before.

That golf links and country club is a success. The Herald cannot give any information on this important subject until it has been put over with the formation of an incorporated club but it is practically complete and can you believe it—100 Sanford men will sign the charter at $100 each. We call that going some. More about it later.

"There are many big deals now pending in Sanford, and while it is not now possible to make the details public, it may be said that they are important and will go towards making Sanford a big city," says the Herald. "It is up to the people of Sanford to figure good returns on local investments. They must look ahead and see results that come from the confidence and faith in the home town." The Herald is talking rather generally, but the advice is excellent. Florida people always show their appreciation of the home place. That is if they really care for it, and want the place to grow and prosper. Too often outsiders come in, realize the importance and advantages of some project, and failing to get local support, proceed to develop and carry on some proposition which is eminently successful. It is always a pity when the home folks cannot see the advantage in taking hold of local enterprises, no matter who instigates them, or discovers the opportunity.—Times Union.

ORLANDO FAVORS MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

At a mass meeting held in Orlando last night a vote was taken on the municipal ownership question and the vote was 89 to 9 in favor of municipal ownership. Of course this was not a bona fide election but it shows which way the wind blows and the meeting had been advertised and those against municipal ownership had a good right to vote as those who wanted municipal ownership. This ratio in favor of the ownership of public ownership is about the same the world over when this important question comes up in any city. This is the ratio of the vote here in Sanford visit Sanford next week for the purchase. The people everywhere want municipal ownership and they want it because they believe that the city if properly governed can own and give service better than the private owners who care nothing about the city except to get their dividends. Private ownership also calls for real service at all times and means that every citizen is a stock holder in his electric, water and gas plants and he will take a just pride in seeing that they are kept in good condition, that they give service and that they make money. Orlando will have municipal ownership and Sanford will have it. Only a question of time.

STATE DIVISION AGAIN

South Florida newspapers continue to give attention to the subject of state division. Those which merely discussed it in former years have begun to urge action on the question. Among those newspapers which have openly agitated state division is the Miami Herald, that influential journal of the East Coast. Commenting recently upon an editorial which appeared in The Times, the Herald says: "Under the caption, 'State Division' the St. Petersburg Times has a short but forceful editorial upon a subject which will in all probability be a factor in the coming campaign for the nomination of members of the legislature. The Times says: (Here the Times editorial is quoted). 'The Herald continues: Just after the adjournment of any session of the legislature, at least for the last few years, there is always a discussion in the state papers as to the advisability of dividing the state of Florida and making two distinct states. Usually this discussion dies within a few weeks, not to be heard from again until after the adjournment of the next legislature. 'But this time the subject has not been permitted to rest. State papers are still devoting their attention to state division as is indicated by the Times editorial and its allusions to other papers that are taking the subject up again preparatory to the next primary. 'The Herald has long been an advocate of state division. It believes, most thoroughly, that the present territory of Florida would prosper very much better if it were divided, so that the sections would not hamper each other in their growth. It believes that when the real results of the amendment directing a reapportionment of the representation in the legislature are fully known the demand for state division will become more insistent for the reapportionment, even if the legislature obeys the behests of the new amendment, will be much more apparent than real and the people are going to be dissatisfied with it. "It is high time that candidates for the coming legislature be sounded as to their position on the question of state division and that South Florida be prepared to send delegations pledged to the support of a state-division proposition."

SCHOOL OF OPPORTUNITY

The Palm Beach Post tells as follows about an excellent move engineered by Municipal Judge Joe Leo Earman, of West Palm Beach: "Illiterate boys and girls under the age of twenty-one who are brought into municipal court here in future will be sentenced to the school of opportunity instead of jail, as the result of a movement launched by Municipal Judge Joe L. Earman, former newspaper publisher and editor, and backed by the Rotary Club and other civic organizations. The school of opportunity has been organized along the lines of the usual public school with a board of three trustees consisting of Judge Earman, City Manager Carl Riddle and Chief of Police Frank Mathews. Business men have offered to provide suitable clothing for students who otherwise might feel embarrassment because of their attire, and Judge Earman has taken it upon himself to provide textbooks, having placed an order for $500 worth of readers, arithmetics, spelling and writing books, to which subjects the course of study will be confined. The youngsters sentenced to the school will become members of special classes and will be instructed by a teacher employed by the city school board. Classes will be held in the city school building at hours which will not conflict with the regular classes of the school, the girls and young women to attend from 3:30 to 6:30 p. m. GRAPEFRUIT FREE IN FLORIDA

The proprietor of a chain of popular restaurants in this state is advertising widely: "Florida grapefruit served free at our morning and evening meals." It is so common for the average man to ask when something is offered free: "Where do you come in?" that The Tribune wants to clear up for once and for all the puzzle so that they may enjoy unalloyed free deliciousness served them in the Boston Cafeterias of this and other Florida cities.

Mr. Bostain is not only a believer in helping to make famous for its hospitality, but he is also a strong believer in creating a demand, and therefore a market, for Florida products. Here is where Mr. Bostain comes in, and gets his.

One of the most discouraging things to tourists in this state is to see backed up to the curbs on some days wagons loaded with fine gloriously colored grapefruit, offered to the passerby at twenty-five to thirty cents a dozen then to go into a restaurant and have it offered them at fifteen to twenty-five cents an "order," which is half a grapefruit.

Thousands who come to Florida leave without having learned the almost indispensable of fresh grapefruit as a beginner for the morning meal. There never think of buying it when they get back home. It is looked on as an expensive luxury and not in common use. It is to dispel this illusion, and to create a palate for the fruit that Ben Bostain is working. He knows that an appetite formed for a thing in one state will be carried home in the shape of a craving for more, and it will not be long until that craving will be satisfied by getting what it wants. Do you see now where another box of grapefruit is going to be sold, all because Mr. Bostain fed a visitor on the fruit free while here?

If Florida had a hundred more Ben Bostains, it would not be three years before the Florida grapefruit would be known in practically every town and hamlet of the country, whereas it is now known only in the district about central cities. Our hat is off to the man who is advertising Florida grapefruit in a way that will bring results. — Tampa Tribune.

THE COST OF DOING WITHOUT

Time and labor-savers, convenience and comfort creators, have helped to make America the world's greatest nation. Nowadays a man doesn't have the whole say-so as to whether he will adopt a time and labor-saver in his work—he is FORCED to do so in order to meet competition. Progress sets the pace, and those who refuse to be converted suffer the penal-

Headlines in papers say Napoleon said that an "army marches on its stomach." All very fine and absolutely true but the "coolie" is not so particular.

The "grafters" are coming, heigho, heigho. They are coming to save Florida from herself. Give them your money. It goes out of town, you know.

A still in a private home blew up in New York the other day injuring the furniture and landscape and other things. Down here the moonshine waits until after it is in the stomachs of the booze hitters before it blows up—then it is the police court.

If you have any friends in the north who want to live without working, send them to Florida and let them get some scheme whereby they can pass the hat. It is the easiest picking ever.

OH, WELL, WHAT OF IT?

A band in a small Minnesota town had just finished a vigorous but not overly harmonious selection. As they sank perspiring to their seats after bowing for the applause, the trombonist asked hoarsely: "What's the next one?"

"The Maiden's Prayer," answered the leader consulting his program. "Good Lord!" ejaculated the trombonist. "I just got through playing that!"

Chief among the time-savers of the day is the AUTOMOBILE. It has transformed old two or three hour journeys into a few minutes of speedy, clean, comfortable travel. Communities that were formerly a day apart from each other are now practically at each other's outskirts—a mere hour's jump; and the average farmer comes to town oftener each week than he used to come in a whole year. City folks have built their dwellings out in the suburbs, away from the city's smoke and turmoil—out where there's sunshine, flowers, birds, fresh air, and where each day is like a vacation.

The automobile, by reducing distances has made groups of communities more like one big happy family. It has developed a get-together spirit among the people. It has made the world two or three times bigger for the average person—made his circles of friends larger—contributed to his education and culture by bringing him in more frequent contact with the other fellow—and has put a sparkle of progressiveness in his entire attitude.

The automobile is the world's greatest gift to humanity. That is so because the automobile has been a definite influence in taking people out of the rut—waking them up—giving them a new vision on things—making them keener thinkers and better workers. The automobile is an actual partner in the success of an individual because it puts economy

TRAFFIC MANAGER BELIEVES SHIPPERS VICTORY SURE

E. D. Dow, traffic manager of the Exchange returning from the hearing in Jacksonville, is confident that Florida shippers again will win in their contentions concerning refrigeration charges.

The hearing in Jacksonville opened January 18. The first four days were occupied by the transportation and car line companies in presenting evidence in support of their side of the case. According to Mr. Dow, this evidence was substantially the same as that presented at the previous hearing in Tampa, in June, 1920. He does not believe from this that the carriers have improved their chances to obtain the readjustment of these refrigeration rates.

It will be recalled that following the hearing in Tampa before Examiner Wagner, in June, 1920, Florida shippers were given a substantial victory in the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which caused the carriers to make numerous reductions in refrigeration charges on Florida fruits and vegetables shipped to northern markets. Since that time the carriers have made untiring efforts to have the case reopened, and finally succeeded in having this rehearing ordered.

Mr. Dow says that of the newer evidence presented on behalf of the carriers the bulk was directed toward impeaching evidence earlier given by inspectors for the Interstate Commerce Commission, who had reported upon the amounts of ice actually used in re-icing cars, and is actually used in re-icing cars, and other items comprised in the cost of service. He stated, however, that evidence of the inspectors in rebuttal was sufficient, in his opinion, to offset all testimony which the carriers introduced.

Mr. Dow particularly complimented J. E. Calkins, who, as counsel for the Florida State Railroad Commission, assisted the shippers' side of the case, saying that Mr. Calkins' keen and searching cross-examination of many witnesses for the carriers was, in his opinion responsible for much of benefit to the shippers. Examiner Wagner, who handled this case at the previous hearing in Tampa, presided at Jacksonville, hearing evidence in behalf of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

NORMA GOES TO FLORIDA TO FILM OUTDOOR SCENES

Norma Talmadge went to Palm Beach, Florida, to take some outdoor shots for her latest Associated First National release, "The Sign on the Door" which will be the attraction at the Star Theatre tomorrow. The interiors were taken at the Talmadge studio in New York. "The Sign on the Door" is by Channing Pollock, and was one of the most successful of last year's Broadway productions with Marjorie Rambeau in the lead. This drama is still playing on the road in all of the larger cities. The film version was directed by Herbert Brenon, who also directed Norma Talmadge in her preceding release, "The Passion Flower." Led Coly and Charles Richmond have two of the principal roles opposite Miss Talmadge. "The Sign on the Door" will be the screen offering at the Star Theatre for Wednesday night.

THE FLYING SQUADRON

The Flying Squadron, a company of noted men and eloquent speakers will visit Sanford next week for the purpose of discussing questions of great importance to the welfare of our Nation and our present city civilization. The company is composed of seven speakers who will be here in teams of two each on the first and second days, on the third day there will be three speakers. The meetings will be held in the Princess Theater on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, Feb. 6, 7, and 8. There will be two meetings each day, at 3 P. M. and 7-30 P. M. While this Flying Squadron work is of the Chautauqua nature, interesting and entertaining, yet all of its meetings are open and free to all. Remember the dates and arrange to attend.

A LECTURE ENTITLED Christian Science: The Religion of Fulfillment

BY JUDGE SAMUEL W. GREENE, C. S. OF LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

amiliar hymn has been para- as follows: to tell the story of Life and Love, the voice of error and turns thoughts above. to tell the story and prove that is true, healing sin and sickness as nothing else can do. to tell the story. 'twill be my name in glory, the new-old story of Life and Love.

Christian Science is indeed the new- story of Life and Truth and Love. the simple, sweet story as it was and proved and practiced by Nazareth nineteen hundred ago. It embraces just the thought, that through the un- derstanding of the ever-present love- power of God, humanity is heal- ed only of sin but of all the re- sults of sin—sickness, sorrow, un- happiness, death.

DISCOVERER AND FOUNDER

Dr. Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, many of us, suffered, and found relief from material means; so she turned to God's word with the hope of being healed of sickness, sorrow, lack and loneliness. As she read the wonderful unfold- ing of divine Love and power as taught by Jesus of Nazareth, as she read of the healings of men and women, there came to her peace, freedom, healing, just as she had promised: "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." She realized that what she had been told was supernatural, an unnatural development or re- sult, but the perfectly natural result of the operation of God's law. Her desire after that was to lay upon the understanding of this spiritual law that she might be able to help others to gain this freedom which had come to her.

Devoting herself for several years most exclusively to the study of God's word, there came to her a more perfect vision of the ever-present, omnipotent power of God dwelling in every man and available for human use. She discerned, and points out in her writings, that always when men have understood God, they have been able to accomplish the so-called impossible or unusual things. To verify this, we have only to study the history of Moses. Through the right understanding of God, Moses was able to heal people through spiritual means but he was able to accomplish his wonderful things. He negoti- ated the freedom of a nation unlaw- fully enslaved, without the expend- ing of money and without an exhibi- tion of the power of arms. He equipped and maintained this people in a newly freed, governed and led them wisely for a long period of years and their every supply in the knowledge that from God is all good. In the lives of Elijah and Elisha we see not only that ability to heal all manner of sickness, to even raise the dead, but that those prophets were consulted frequently by the kings and rulers of their time upon questions of state and government because of their better understanding of God. In the lives of Daniel and his three as- sistants we see through their right understanding of God not only the power to withstand the lion's den and the fiery furnace, but that which at- tracted the attention of a heathen king, causing him to recognize in these men, who were virtually slaves in his kingdom, a power that none of his wise men or advisers possessed.

JESUS THE CHRIST

In Jesus' life Mrs. Eddy saw, as we can see, a fuller and more com- plete understanding of God and God's power than any other one had possess- ed. It seemed a perfectly natural thing to the Master that he should speak and disease be healed, devils cast out, and the dead raised. He did not claim, however, that it was through any great power of his own. He did not claim that he lived and moved in a so-called miraculous period of the world's history, as some so-called orthodox thinkers would have us believe. He said, very simply and modestly: "The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever He doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise." Also he said: "I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me," giving "as a rule of conduct which if followed will work wonders in our development. If we think, see, and do always the thing that is in accord with the will of the heavenly Father, how splendid will be our work. It will then be a perfect natural development in our lives to see all these things coming to pass of which Jesus spoke when he said: "He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also."

Christian Science is bringing to the world the right understanding of God which will enable men and women to see that they have power through this understanding to overcome lack, sor- row, disease, sin and death.

Mrs. Eddy saw in these statements of the Master: "Before Abraham was, I am," and "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world," a vision of the eternal Christ or Truth, as she speaks of him. Jesus ex- pressed, manifested, reflected more of the Christ than any other one who has ever lived. He was therefore called Jesus the Christ, or Christ Jesus, and it was through the under- standing of this Truth, this God-idea ever-present among men, that he was able to do his wonderful works. Like- wise it is in this understanding, through a knowledge of this Truth, that we shall be able to overcome, as Jesus said: "all the power of the enemy," so that nothing shall by any means hurt us.

As this great vision came to Mrs. Eddy she was eager to give it to the world, but she wisely saw that the world would not be ready to listen to a message so different from its ac- customed religious teaching until it had proof of its power. Consequent- ly she first taught by healing, invit- ing those who were afflicted to come and be healed, and her first patients and students were largely the so-called incurables for whom material reme- dies offered no hope. They were healed by her teaching and practice not only physically but spiritually and mentally, they heard this message gladly, went out and told their friends and brought them to hear the good news. Gradually Mrs. Eddy saw by the results of her own work that the application of this divine Principle was unfailing; that always when it was rightly applied and rightly received there was healing. Then she divin- ed that the world's consciousness was ready generally to hear and to receive this message of Truth, this demon- strable unfoldment of God as omni- present, omniscient and omnipotent, as she expresses it in the text-book.

TEXT-BOOK

Accordingly she wrote what had been revealed to her and called it "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," commonly known as the Christian Science Text-book, and gave this volume to all mankind. She gave the message generously and freely to all who were willing to accept, that every man might be able with this book, this Key to the Scriptures, to sit down in the quiet of his own time and read and study and find out the truth about God. One of the wonderful things about the text-book is that you do not have to accept anybody's word for the state- ment that it does give the correct in- terpretation of the Bible and the cor- rect unfolding of the truth about God. You can read and study and then put it into practice in your own life, and see whether or not it meets the de- mand which Jesus made when he said: "A tree is known by its fruits."

This text-book, founded absolutely upon the Bible, has served to tear down for men and women the curtain or veil of mystery, misunderstanding, superstition, and fear that has shut them out from the right concept of God who is understandable and lov- able. This is why men and women are grateful to Mrs. Eddy.

THE MOTHER CHURCH AND ITS GOVERNMENT

When Mrs. Eddy saw the great task facing her of furnishing some avenue through which would flow with au- thority during the unfolding centuries this revelation of Truth that had come to her inspired vision, that it might go forth to the waiting world with all of its virility and strength unadulterated and uncontaminated, she founded The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. This as she says, was "designed to commemorate the word and works of our Master, which should reinstate primitive Christianity and its lost element of healing" (Man- ual, p. 17). To a sincere thinker however orthodox there is nothing in these foundation-stones of the Christ- ian Science movement which can of- fend.

Mrs. Eddy saw that the early Christ- ian Church had been split into con- flicting sects through following after mere human opinions, and she desired that this movement should go forth undivided. Accordingly as these ap- peared the need, she wrote rules of government or by-laws, now compiled in a volume known as the Manual of the Mother Church, to serve as lights along the way, to lead and guide im- personally this movement through the centuries.

She understood that these by-laws were applicable to all men under all conditions, and wrote: "Of this I am sure, that each Rule and By-law in this Manual will increase the spiritu- ality of him who obeys it, invigorate, his capacity to heal the sick, to com- fort such as mourn, and to awaken the sinner" (Miscellany, p. 230).

She foresaw that the time would never come in human experience when the Church and its adherents would not need this inspired guidance, so she wrote of the Manual: "Not-with- standing the sacrilegious moth of time, eternity awaits our Church Manual, which will maintain its rank as in the past, amid ministries ag- gressive and active, and will stand when those have passed to rest" (Miscellany, p. 230).

Loyal Christian Scientists every- where are grateful for this further re- velation of their Leader, and are con- scious that they are finding in the study of these Rules of government, these By-laws, together with the Bible, the Christian Science text-book and the other writings of their Lead- er, that God is indeed revealed to be Life, Love, Truth, Soul, Mind, Spirit Principle.

GOD

Perhaps the term Principle as used for God in Christian Science has more than any other word aroused an un- usual inquiry in the average orthodox thought for men have thought of God generally as just a great supeman a power to be feared rather than under- stood and loved, sitting upon a throne, waiting to judge men, and sending both good and evil. The world needs to get away from this view of God. It needs a larger concept of God, which is embraced in the use of the term Principle.

In an eastern city after a lecture a woman came to me in seeming mental distress and said: "I want to know how your God can be everywhere at the same time." I was grateful for the thought of God being Principle, as it afforded a ready answer to her in- quiry. In considering the principle of mathematics manifest in addition, subtraction, multiplication, it is easy to see that this principle can be every- where at the same time. The mil- lions of Europe, Asia, Africa, Amer- ica, can all have the multiplication table at the same time with all of its power and facility, without interfer- ing in the slightest particular with its use anywhere else in the universe, always with one proviso,—that they do understand the multiplication table and apply it.

In a far larger sense God being divine Principle, infinite unfailing, is everywhere present, able to solve man's every problem provided man understands Him and the availability and application of His power.

Was not this the thought of the Psalmist when he sang: "If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there. If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea; Even thence shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me" (Psalms 139).

There is no problem, no condition, that can come to us but God's power is ever available for its satisfactory solution.

Continuing this same thought of the multiplication table, ask a schoolboy how long he thinks signs times eight have been sixty-four and ten times ten one hundred. Doubtless his an- swer will be "always." How long he thinks it will remain so? Answer—"always." And that is correct. An idea of Principle does not change, so the multiplication table, as idea of the principle of mathematics can never change. Principle does not change nor does its idea or image. Like- wise divine Principle is eternal, in- violable, unchanging, always operat- ing. Principle is not moved by the breath of praise or flattery, or by en- treaty or threat. In the thought of God being Principle, Christian Sci- entists have gotten away from the old belief that God interferes in the af- fairs of men because they are asking Him to do this, that, or some other thing, or that God causes the un- natural or supernatural to be happen- ing in the lives and affairs of men. It teaches that God's work is already perfect and complete. Indeed the Bible says that "God saw everything that he had made, and behold, it was very good."

The mission of scientific Christan- ity is to reveal the perfectness and completeness of God's work, to en- able us to overcome in our own lives and experiences everything and every- thing thought that is unlike God and His creation. Does not this thought bring us back to that rule of conduct which Jesus gave, that we should do always the thing that is in accord with the Father's will?

HEALING

Someone asks: What has this to do with the healing of my sick body, or sick business, or sick home, or sick city? These are the practical prob- lems that concern us today. Christ- ian Science does furnish the solution for everyone of them. However serious your particular problem may seem to you, however significant and burdensome, or however long you may have had it, it is not necessary that God should do any specific or individ- ual thing in your life to solve your problem. Too long we have been seeking God in a purely material way, much as we have sought a friend for a favor or a banker for a loan, crying out in our ignorance, our dis- tress, with the hope that God would manifest himself in some supernatur- al or miraculous way. Then we be- gin to think there is no power in pray- er because we do not see this unusual or unnatural manifestation. Jesus condemned this style of prayer when he said: "The heathen think that they shall be heard for their much speak- ing. Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of before ye ask him."

Our prayers are answered in the re- alization that Love is always meeting our needs. The truth of this comes to me in a homely illustration from my boyhood. In childhood I lived on a farm in Kentucky, and I remember in the springtime we always wanted tomato plants to set out in the garden about the middle or latter part of April. Accordingly in February father would sow tomato seeds in a box in the house, and then when the sun came out he took the box out of the house, put it on the porch in the sunshine, with a glass over it, and as the sun's rays beat upon the glass they warmed the ground, the seeds broke open, and the tender plants stuck their heads through the ground and as they were carried into the sun day after day they grew, until pres- ently they were large enough to put out in the garden.

Now the sun was not shining for our box alone; it came down to warm the whole earth and to bring again the miracle of springtime and growth, and when we took our box out into the sunshine we saw growth and life manifested.

Likewise with every human prob- lem. Because of evil, hatred, jealousy, injustice, envy or other secret sin, our consciousness is darkened and we have a problem, which we call disease, lack, sorrow, or death. We need to bring the darkened consciousness into the sunlight of God's truth and love, then, the darkness disappears as mist before the morning sun.

But you may say: "I have tried but I cannot bring my problem out of the dark." There is a way provided. The Bible and the Christian Science text-book help you to understand divine Principle whereby you can bring this problem out of the dark.

If you will read the last chapter in the book you will find many testimonials from men and women from widely separated sections of the country, test- ifying to how through the study of this truth they have been able to bring their problems to the light and find their solution.

If it should seem to be beyond your present ability to demonstrate, there are Christian Science practitioners, consecrating all their time and thought to this work, and they are ever ready, when the problem is too heavy to be borne, to help us to bring it to the light, to that right understanding of God, to that realization, as Mrs. Eddy expresses it, of man's at-one- ment with God.

PRAYER

It is often asked, how do Christian Scientists pray? In the opening chapter of the text-book, entitled "Prayer," Mrs. Eddy says: "The prayer that reforms the sinner and heals the sick is an absolute faith that all things are possible to God,—a spiritual understanding of Him, an unselfed love" (Science and Health, p. 1:1-4). Is not this understanding of prayer reconcilable with Paul's in- junction that we pray without ceas- ing? Cannot we always under all circumstances have this absolute faith that all things are possible to God, and the further assurance that in the spiritual understanding of His ever- presence man is safe? Then the thought of unselfed love, do we not find this in accord with the Master's prayer "Thy will Oh God, not mine be done"? and in his saying: "It is more blessed to give than to receive"? As we think of our prayers are they not generally petitions for self, falling to realize that the larger part of prayer is giving?

I was interested in this practical point in a testimony of which I heard recently. A man went to a Christ- ian Science practitioner and said: "I need help this morning; I cannot get my breath"; and the practitioner said "In your own statement is the key to your difficulty. You are always try- ing to get something. This morning it is breath. If you had your breath you doubtless would be wondering where you could get orders in your business, and if you had them your desire would probably be to get more. If you had all you wanted you would then be wondering where you could get some material pleasure or recrea- tion. But I have never heard you asking for help to know how you can give anything. If you will learn to give you will not have so much difficulty in getting."

Realizing his selfishness, the man began to see what he could do to help the world and the men and women around him. As he learned to give, he found that he did get his breath, and his business also increased, prov- ing the truth of Jesus' statements: "Seek ye the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."

The world needs much giving. You ask: What can I give? You can give more consideration, patience, love, thoughtfulness, justice, unselfishness, joy, tenderness and when we bring these treasures to God's storehouse we shall find that we have already re- ceived abundantly more than we have brought.

Do we stop to consider the attitude of mind that is ordinarily brought to God in prayer. In our limited thought of prayer have we not prayed much like the little girl of whom I read who knelt at mother's knee and prayed for father, mother, brother and little sister, and finally wound up by saying: "And, Oh Lord, please make Rome the Capital of Turkey." Her mother had never heard a prayer like that. She said: "Why, daughter, what in the world do you mean by praying like that?" The child answered: "Oh Mother, He must answer that prayer or I am ruined, because that is the way I wrote it down today on my examination paper." The little girl was not thinking about all the incon- venience it might have brought to Italy and Turkey by changing their capitals, but only of her examination marks.

We have cried out to God to do this or that, without ever stopping to con- sider whether it would help anyone else or not, and so we can understand why our prayers have not been an- swered. We can see why men have been driven from the church because they have thought there is no answer to prayer. They have not known how to pray. If you go to a black- board to work out a problem in mathe- matics you will not stand facing the board and cry out to the principle of mathematics: "Tell me how to solve this problem." If you do, it will never be solved. You study to un- derstand the principle involved and then to obey the rule, and with this understanding and obedience you are able to solve your problem correctly.

All of us are called to stand before the great Principle of all being; to solve our human problems, and we shall only solve them correctly and happily and finally as we get the right understanding of God to be divine Principle, and apply that un- derstanding in their solution.

After all, it resolves itself into one great problem, and that is to know the nothingness of matter or material existence which is summed up in what is known in Christian Science to be the scientific statement of being:

"There is no life, truth, intelligen- ce, nor substance in matter. All is infinite Mind and its infinite mani- festation, for God is All-in-All. Spirit is immortal Truth; matter is mortal error. Spirit is the real and eternal; matter is the unreal and temporal. Spirit is God, and man is His image and likeness. Therefore man is not material; he is spiritual" (S. & H., p. 468)

Did not Jesus enunciate this basic truth when he said to the woman at the well in Samaria: "God is a spirit, and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth," bringing home to the world's consciousness the absolute opposite of the belief in material existence. To know God to be spirit and man to be spiritual is the need of the ages, and this is the thought that Christian Science brings to the world today.

John, the beloved, writes: "By Him were all things made, and without Him was not anything made that was made." If this be true, the things we call pain, lack, sorrow and death are untrue, because God never made them. He could not have made them; He could not have been the author of anything so unlike goodness as the pains, aches, and imperfections of our human beings.

Someone said: "Well, where do these beliefs originate?" They are illusions, delusions, false beliefs; they are the result of our wrong thinking, our ignorance of God, our belief in the false testimony of what we call the physical senses. We have laid great store by the testimony of the senses,—sight hearing touch, taste, and smell, yet we have only to test a few results to see how unreliable and how untrue this sense testimony really is. Take the sense of sight, for instance. You can probably find every day a number of instances, if you look for them, where it is proven unreliable. I read only recently the story of a man who was shown a locomotive for the first time. As he looked carefully at the great machine, its movement upon the tracks, his final question was: "But what will happen to the locomotive when it goes far down the tracks and the rails come closer and closer together?" He had failed to take into account that delusion which seems in the distance to draw rails to a point. The delusion of the sun seeming to move from East to West is always with us. So we can go on multiplying these instances. Not only are you and I deceived, but the so-called physical scientist, the medical men, are deceived by this false testimony of the senses. Whenever a doctor makes a diagnosis and very wisely and solemnly pronounces that you have an incurable disease, he is founding that diagnosis largely upon the testimony of the physical senses, which testimony is untrue.

I read recently of a report published in the "Journal of the American Medical Association" and written by Dr. Richard C. Cabot of Boston, Assistant Professor of Medicine at Harvard University, in which he stated that in a study of three thousand autopsies it developed that only fifty-three per cent of the diagnoses were correct. In other words, nearly one-half of the time the doctors had made an incorrect diagnosis.

This shows that we need never be unhappy about these grave diagnoses, for they are unreliable and misleading. When you analyze sense testimony it is easy to see how it is untrue. You cannot see God with the sense of sight; you cannot hear God with the sense of hearing; you cannot apprehend Spirit with any of these physical senses. None of the realities come through the physical senses. As Paul says: "The things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal."

We must turn from this material or physical sense testimony to the apprehension of spiritual things. We must begin to know and understand that there is a spiritual law, the supreme law of the universe. We must bring our thinking into harmony, into consonance with this spiritual law. Someone asks: "But what do you mean? How do you apprehend spiritually?" One of the simplest thoughts that came to me of God being Spirit and God being all-good in the beginning of my study of Christian Science was when I looked upon the suffering of a babe. I thought, if God is good surely He would not send suffering into the life of a child. The child has done nothing for which he shall suffer; he knows nothing of the so-called laws of health that we have been taught to observe and I deny that there can be any evil to this child from God, who is good. If we take some simple thought like this and at every opportunity deny the possibility of anything so unloving as God's sending evil in the life of a child, then affirm that which is true, we shall find our thoughts improving, through right thinking and knowing, until with this spiritualized consciousness, we can see that the child is not the recipient of evil from the hand of God, but that it is reflecting only good, that it is the manifestation of Spirit, not matter. Likewise in this larger view we can see that the man is spiritual, not material, and that God is the great governor of the universe, sending good, and only good into man's life, and that abundantly and unceasingly: then we begin to know that all good is ours and we prepare ourselves to receive that good and understand that there is no truth in the belief of evil or devil, of which we hear so much. In the eighth chapter of John, 44th verse, we read that Jesus when speaking of this devil or Satan said "He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own, for he is a liar, and the father of it."

That great bug-bear, that bogey of the ages we must get away from, by realizing that God is all. Did you ever stop to realize that when you make a reality of this devil or Satan you are violating the First Commandment: "Thou shalt have no other gods before me?" In our so-called orthodox beliefs we have sometimes paid more attention to scaring men through a belief in this so-called devil than we have to helping them through loving and understanding God.

SALVATION

To progress in our spiritual understanding we need to be more childlike and simple, with more confidence in God. We are too material, too intellectual, or too formal in our seeking. When the question was asked of Jesus who would be greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven, he did not take any great lawyers, or merchants, or physicians, or business men of the time, and point to one of them as the great one in the kingdom, but he took the simplest, purest example that he could find, a little child, and set him in the midst and said: "He that humbleth himself as this little child shall be greatest in the kingdom of heaven."

We need more of this child-like understanding of God. I love to think of some of the instances of childlike faith and understanding that have come to my attention. In a western city recently I heard of a little girl, six years old, who had attended the Christian Science Sunday-school for a year and was much interested. Presently she had a spell of sickness, and the parents not being Christian Scientists, called in a doctor. It was a severe illness and no cure was effected by the doctors. They finally said that she could never be well as she had curvature of the spine. After the doctors had given her up she asked her mother if she might see her Christian Science Sunday-school teacher. Upon the occasion of the teacher's visit, when she saw the little bent figure in the bed the first thought that came to her was, "God makes crooked things straight," and involuntarily she repeated this. The child looked up with great wonderment and asked, "Where does it say that?" The teacher pointed out to her the 16th verse of the 42nd chapter Isaiah, where it is found. The mother states that the little girl kept the Bible by her in the bed and studied the verse until it seemed to become a part of her own thought, and she would say to her mother day after day, "Don't feel too sorry for me, you know God makes the crooked things straight, and He will heal me." Then she would say to her playmates as they would come in to see her: "You need not feel badly about me, because I am not going to be this way long; God makes the crooked things straight and He will make me well." With her simple faith and trust in God, this baby girl was back in the Sunday-school in a few weeks, perfectly healed and straight, for God does make the crooked things straight.

Was not this the faith of which Jesus thought when he said: "What things soever ye desire, when ye pray believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them?" We need more of this prayer of confidence, of understanding, of victory, of achievement.

We need less whining and moaning and wailing. We need to do as Mrs. Eddy says in the textbook: "Rise in the strength of Spirit to resist all that is unlike good. God has made man capable of this, and nothing can vitiate the ability and power divinely bestowed on man" (S. & H., p. 393). There is no condition of lack, discord, imperfection, that can come to your life or business but that you can rise above it. It is not true. God sends good, not evil, and there is no other power that can send evil into our lives, and we need to rise in this childlike strength and confidence in God and know that victory is ours. Was not this the example Jesus gave us as he stood before the tomb of his well-beloved friend? He did not pray asking God that this man be healed, but his words are: "Father I thank Thee that Thou hast heard me. And I knew that Thou hearest me always;" and then he called, "Lazarus, come forth."

This is the faith we need, this is the prayer we need today. No matter if you are out of a job, or your business seems to be on the verge of bankruptcy; if you will purge your consciousness of every evil, unjust, envious, un-God-like thought, look to the Father and say, as the Master said, "I thank Thee that Thou hast heard me, and that Thou does always hear me," you can know that even in this hour your problem is solved.

The power of God is omnipresent, omnipotent. Let us quit trusting in a material power. Let us stop fearing the physical sense-testimony, let us look to God, approach Him with the right thought, the right understanding, and know that in Him is healing, is victory, is salvation, is life; for the Master said: "And this is life eternal, that they might know Thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom Thou hast sent."

Someone asks: "Well, what shall I do?" "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." That is what you need to do. "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and all thy soul, and with all thy mind and thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." That is what you need to do. "How shall I love God?" you say. Love your fellow-man. It is said in the Bible that the man who says he loves God and does not love his fellowman is a liar. How can he love God whom he hath not seen if he does not love his fellowman?

Let us change our thought towards the world. Let us understand that man is spiritual. Let us begin, as the text-book says, to rise above the physical sense, to replace the objects of material sense with spiritual ideas. Christian Science teaches that true creation is not moulding forms out of matter, but it is the unfolding of spiritual ideas. It teaches that men and women are thoughts of God, are spiritual ideas. Suppose you and I should think of our fellow beings not as so many selfish, unhappy, diseased, miserable people, but see them as God's ideas, how wonderful it would be.

Suppose parents and teachers should begin to see the children not as diseased, impatient, or unhappy, but should see them as spiritual thoughts, the expression of God's goodness, God's love, the reflection of divine intelligence. The children would quickly respond to this thought. Jesus, you will remember, said: "Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the moth that is in thy brother's eye." Let us begin to see the children right. I heard this beautiful story of a boy four year old who had never walked or talked. At birth the doctors had said he was an idiot. The parents had tried all material remedies without avail, and finally Christian Science was recommended to them. It was pointed out that the child should be seen as the reflection of divine intelligence. They were willing to try anything, accordingly called a Christian Science practitioner and began with this assistance to see the child aright, as God's gift to them. I read a letter from the mother written at that time in which she said that every day she thanked God for the perfect gift of Love, although to sense testimony her child was but a sickly babe. In a few months that child was perfectly healed, was in a kindergarten, running, jumping, talking, learning. I read recently a letter from that father and mother written three years later, in which they say: "Our boy at seven is the hardest, stridest, strongest boy in all his class."

If the truth revealed in Christian Science will heal one, it will heal millions. It is the understanding of divine Principle, the eternal law of God. It has always been in the world. It will always be among men to be understood and applied. Shall we hesitate longer to understand that God is Spirit and man is spiritual, and to apply that understanding in our lives?

Instead of seeing so much cheating, lying, stealing, disease, we need to see that men and women are God's ideas, expressions of God's goodness and God's love, reflecting good, existing to bless one another and all the world. In so seeing, how much more happiness we would get out of our lives and be able to give to the world.

Truth, God, understood and applied in our lives, heals sin, sickness, lack, sorrow, every unhappy condition. Someone asks: "How did all this evil begin?" You say God did not send sin to us? "No." "You say there is no devil?" "No." "How did I ever begin to think wrong?" For centuries the world has been steeped in material thinking, learning, living. It has gotten away from God, from Spirit, until rarely have we thought on Him. Suppose a book were written in the Chinese language, that we had never studied, and we should open it to read. We would not know a letter, word, or a line on the written page: Can we blame anybody for our ignorance? Can we blame God? Did he make us ignorant of the Chinese language? No. Did the devil? No. Did man? No. We have studied other languages, perhaps Latin French, English, to the exclusion of the Chinese, therefore we are not able to read are we ignorant of spiritual things. Because we have not studied spiritual things. We have violated and disobeyed the command of God: "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness." We have been seeking first the other things,—wealth, power, position. How can we expect to do well, to be well, to be happy, to be saved, when we wilfully, knowingly, day after day and year after year violate God's command. Let us begin as children to think more and to learn more of the things of God and His kingdom. Let us not fear to begin simply, to learn and to put into practice in childlike simplicity the commands of God. There is rich reward in the fulfillment of God's promises as we learn to obey.

The value of childlike thinking and living is voiced in this quotation from Mrs. Eddy's "Miscellaneous Writings," (p. 110: 4-12: "Beloved children: The world has need of you,—and more as children than as men and women: it needs your innocence, unselfishness, faithful affection, uncontaminated lives. You need also to watch and pray that you preserve these virtues unstained, and lose them not through contact with the world. What grander ambition is there than to maintain in yourselves what Jesus loved, and to know that your example, more than words makes morals for mankind"

MAYOR LEFFLER INVITES PRESIDENT TO SEE MIAMI

Chas. D. Leffler, mayor of Miami, has the happy faculty of sizing up an opportunity and doing the right thing in the right way at the right time.

Recognizing that President Harding has passed through perhaps the most strenuous year of readjustment and reconstruction work in the various branches of our national government and the disarmament convention, and with the heaviest international negotiations in relation to the world war matters any president has ever faced, Mayor Leffler has sent the president the following telegram of invitation to visit Florida: President Warren C. Harding, Washington, D. C.

The city of Miami cordially invites you and your party to visit our city and its varied and charming tropical environment during the months of February or March, at such date as suits your convenience. We sincerely trust it will be your good pleasure and judgment to accept this invitation and we feel that Miami's balmy climate, azure skies, limpid waters, boats and unsurpassed fishing, fine roads, automobiles and horseback riding, palms and flowers, golf courses and palatial hotels, and restful conditions will be a relaxation and rest from the strenuous and trying duties and great responsibilities of your office that will be beneficial to you and an advantage to the nation.

Will you kindly advise us on what date and hour within 10 days you will do us the honor to receive special committees from our city government and Chamber of Commerce, whom we wish to send to meet you and make this invitation personally and arrange for your proper reception and entertainment.

With all kind wishes for your health, happiness and prosperity and your successful administration of the nation's affairs,

CHAS. D. LEFFLER, Mayor of Miami.

There can be no question that the president deserves the vacation proposed after his first year's work, and the entire nation would be delighted to see him take the relaxation he so much deserves.

As most people in Sanford know, Charley is a Sanford boy, of whom the city is proud. He has made good in Miami in an exceptional way, has the confidence, respect and kindly regard of all classes of people of that city, and we wish him success in this undertaking. There are, indeed, few mayors in the United States who can say they have entertained the President of the United States during their administration. More power to you, "Charley"! Come over and visit your old home town soon.

HERBERT HOOVER'S OPINION OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Anyone who has watched the development of our cities during recent years must be impressed by the effective and constructive service rendered by their chambers of commerce. These organizations have not only promoted the business interests of their communities but have justified our confidence in American business men by the increasing breadth of vision and public spirit which make them see all the community's problems as their own, to the solution of which they will willingly contribute time, effort and their practical point of view.

But this is only part of their service. By uniting their strength through the Chamber of Commerce of the United States they are rendering the nation a service as great as they rendered their local communities. The national government needs and appreciates the aid, counsel and advice which American business as a whole can give. The action taken by Chief Justice Taft during his term as president, which led to the formation of the National Chamber of Commerce, has been abundantly justified by experience.

SANFORD'S TEMPERATURE

Well, the old bulb is rising and if all reports are true the people north of us are darn glad of it. With all the ice and snow and sleet they have been suffering under and the theatre roofs caving in and people losing their lives by the "beautiful snow" it would seem that Florida could hardly hold the crowd that will rush to "Sunny Sanford" where they can catch speckled perch now by the hundreds and have all the fun they want in many ways. Maximum at 64 this morning and while we think it is chilly we are also informed that it is nice and warm on the still side of the old distillery.

RESERVED SEAT SALE OPENED FOR "TAMING OF THE SHREW"

The reserved seat sale opens at Bower & Rumlatt's today for "Taming of the Shrew." A treat in local theatricals will be given at the Princess Theatre next Friday, Feb. 3, when this brilliant modern version of Shakespeare's celebrated comedy, "Taming of the Shrew" will be given for the benefit of the Woman's Club by Edward Waldmann. Shakespearean actor from New York and local talent.

The play itself is considered the finest of all Shakespearean comedies. It has been presented more often than any other piece on the stage. "Taming of the Shrew" was the favorite play of E. H. Southern and Julia Marlow, who made their greatest success in the comedy. They appeared in it in their farewell performances of the American stage, at the Manhattan Opera House in New York for weeks to crowded houses.—Augustin Daly made it famous in New York over 20 years ago, when he presented it at Daly's Theatre, with Ada Rehan as "Katherin, the Shrew," and John Drew as "Petruccio." Although it has been considerably condensed from the original, and re-arranged to conform to the present taste of up-to-date theatre goers, Mr. Waldmann's version retains all the beauties of the original.—The catchy, bright musical selections during the action of the play, as well as the classic dancers, and the charming chorus of handsomely gowned young ladies enhance the beauty of the performance of "Taming of the Shrew." It is the sort of a play that is built for laughter and pleasure, but it is constructed with a strong plot and story. One of the special features will be the solos introduced in the wedding scene by Mrs. Takach, as well as the classic dancing of Daphne Winbush in Grecian and Oriental dances.

Tickets may be reserved now at Bower's & Rumlatt's Drug Store.

DEATHS

DEATH OF EDNA PAGENHART

Miss Edna Lee Paganhart, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Paganhart, died this morning at 7:30 after an illness of several years. Miss Paganhart was in poor health for some time and about a year ago had an operation in the hopes of prolonging her life but she was unable to rally from the effects of the disease and the operation and for some time has hardly been able to leave her home. Her death, however, was unexpected and was a shock to her many friends here and elsewhere.

Edna Lee Paganhart was born in Westport, Maryland, January 30th, 1890, and had lived with her parents in Sanford for the past eighteen years where her kindness and gentle manner and devotion to duty had won for her a large place in the hearts of her many friends. She attended the public schools of this city and while more or less of an invalid the latter years of her life was always cheerful and busy and for many years was the efficient assistant to Dr. Puleston in his office work and in later years for Dr. Langley. Her illness was borne with Christian fortitude and cheerfulness and only those of her immediate family knew how she suffered and how she struggled against the inevitable end. The funeral will occur from the late residence at the corner of Oak and Third street tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, Dr. Hyman, of the Baptist church officiating. Interment will be made at Lakeview.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS ELECT SANFORD WOMEN TO CHAIRMANSHIP

Mrs. W. F. Blackman, County Chairman of the League of Women Voters, has returned from Jacksonville where she represented Seminole county at the annual meeting of the State League, held at the Seminole Hotel January 26-28. She attended, also, the meeting of the Legislative Council of which she is a member to act as a cleaning house for legislation. Endorsed or desired by various organizations throughout the state.

Two chairmanships of standing committees in the State League of Women Voters fell to the local organization, Mrs. Blackman being appointed head of the Committee of Education and Mrs. John Leonard to that of Efficiency in Government.

The county organization will be completed at once, with the appointment of chairman in every precinct. The Education of woman for citizenship, and the paramount question of our public schools will be stressed in Seminole county. No candidate for any office will be endorsed by the League, and every woman will be urged to join the party of her choice. This movement must in no way be confused with the Woman's Party.
