Elegant Banquet
Under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, an elegant four course banquet was given by the Presbyterian church to the men and young men of the church and congregation in the Masonic Hall Friday evening, April 4th.
At a long and handsomely appointed table in the shape of a letter T and decorated with large bowls of beautiful nasturtiums placed at intervals on the table, the guests were seated and served the splendidly prepared four course banquet by members of the Aid Society. One of the objects in tendering the banquet and social meeting to the men only was the desire of the pastor, Rev. E. D. Brownlee, and the officers of the church to bring the men together in closer touch with each other and to organize among them a Presbyterian Brotherhood and Bible study class. After the conclusion of the delicious banquet several splendid talks on the subject and plans for the Brotherhood and work contemplated were made by Rev. J. F. McKinnon of Orlando, Rev. E. M. Brownlee, Messrs. J. N. Whitner and Chas. Ingold.
The Brotherhood was organized with thirty-five charter members and a church work of incalculable benefit and far reaching was inaugurated. It is needless to say that the pleasant evening was enjoyed by the guests, numbering over fifty. The following ladies served the banquet, Mrs. C. H. Dingee, Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mrs. D. L. Thrasher, Mrs. B. A. Howard, Mrs. Kent Rosseter, Mrs. F. L. Woodruff, Mrs. F. L. Mjller, Mrs. Samuel Puleston, Mrs. Gillon, Mrs. T. K. Bates.

Married in Orlando
There was considerable excitement in the city on Saturday when it became known that two of Sanford's most popular young people had stolen a march on their friends and gone to Orlando and been married the afternoon before.
Mr. Paul G. Biggers, one of Sanford's prosperous young business men, who has long since found that "single blessedness" was "single cussedness," but who had, so far, been unfortunate in his efforts to make a change, persuaded Miss Irene Thurston, one of Sanford's fairest and most petite young ladies, to join him in one long ride through life, and, accompanied by Misses Mabel and Charlotte Hand, motored to Orlando, secured a license and hastening to the residence of Dr. Stagg, of the Presbyterian church, there said the solemn words which made them one.

Mr. and Mrs. Biggers are at home to their many friends for the present at the home of the grooms parents on Ninth street, but will shortly move into a home of their own.
The Herald wishes this happy young couple a long and prosperous life, and may their shadow never grow shorter.

Cecilian Music Club
Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Cecilian Music Club will hold their regular meeting in the studio of Mrs. Fannie Stenbridge Munson.

Delightful Birthday Party
Little Ethel Goodwin Perkins was the dainty little hostess at a very delightful birthday party given by her parents, Prof. and Mrs. N. J. Perkins in honor of their little daughter's sixth birthday Friday afternoon.
In the decorations blue and white was the color scheme. Quite a number of Ethel Goodwin's little friends and neighbors, especially her Kindergarten playmates were invited to enjoy with her the happy occasion.
The little folks were entertained with several pretty children's games, after the enjoyment of delicious ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. J. W. Wildman, Mrs. H. B. Connelly, Miss Ruth Butler and Miss Irene Brady, who assisted Mrs. Perkins in entertaining and serving the little guests.

The centerpiece on the attractive table was beautiful maidenhair fern and plumbago. The pretty favors for the little girls were cute little blue fans and balls for the boys.
The little hostess received a number of pretty birthday gifts. The guests were Jean Maxwell, Helen Kennedy, Elizabeth Whitner, Margaret Neal, Maud Lake, Olive Newman, Clifford Shinholser, Mildred Holly, Emma Spencer, Lucy Olive Gaines, Mary Godby, Ruby Blott, Mary Elizabeth and Camilla Puleston, Theodora Miller, Sarah Evelyn Williams, Albert Connelly, Frank Chase, Joe Caldwell, Thomas Wight, George Wilson.
Music Club
The Music Club held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. F. L. Woodruff Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. Miss Ellen Mahoney leader. A very interesting paper on the "Life and Works of Maszkowski and Scharwenka" was read by Miss Mahoney.

Miss Mary McKim played a very pretty Spanish Dance composed by Maszkowski.
A short discussion on the "Importance of Music in the Home Life" followed.
The club were pleased to have with them Miss Chandler, a member of the club who lives at Enterprise. Miss Chandler kindly gave the club some personal reminiscences of Maszkowski, of whom she was a pupil while studying music in Berlin. After Miss Chandler's interesting talk several matters of business were discussed and attended to, after the conclusion of which the meeting adjourned.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here The Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

King Nicholas of Montenegro has definitely arranged plans to abdicate his throne if force is employed by European powers against his little kingdom. This announcement was made in official Montenegrin circles Wednesday.

Representative Emmitt Wilson of Florida urged the president to remove from office of collector of internal revenue in Florida, Joseph Lee, a negro republican leader. Representative Wilson said the negro had held the office for sixteen years, and he believed a democrat should be appointed. He recommended H. H. Lewis of Marianna for the position. The president took the matter under consideration.

President Wilson let it be known that the federal government would not interfere with pending legislation in California by which aliens who have not declared their intention of becoming naturalized as American citizens are prohibited from owning lands or property. He communicated this decision informally to Representative Baker yesterday.

Though the measure is primarily aimed at the Japanese, the fact that it makes no discrimination of race, as well as the fact that the president has not to interfere with the sovereignty of the state, has precluded any action by the federal government at this time.

The flood waters of the Mississippi early last night were creeping up on a half dozen or more points along the levee of the Mississippi. Admittedly the levees were weakening, the water already at an unprecedented height, is pounding against the dikes with increasing force and whether the embankments can longer withstand the pressure is problematical.

The levee near Wilson, Ark went out. It is said to be due to the desertion of about 150 negro laborers.

All official reports regarding the condition of Pope Pius X., agree that his condition is not grave and there is no immediate danger. Anxiety, however, continues on account of the weakness of the pontiff and the action of his heart, which is in need of constant stimulation. The attending physicians found that the condition of the pope had improved during the night and this improvement was maintained throughout the day, although the afternoon temperature showed a slight increase. Again yesterday his temperature rose slightly but the difference was hardly perceptible.

Entre Nous Bridge Club

Miss Elizabeth McLaughlin was the charming hostess of the Entre Nous Bridge Club Thursday afternoon. Three tables of bridge were played, one being a guest table.

Mrs. A. B. Wallace won the club prize, a deck of cards.

The guest prize, also a deck of cards, was won by Miss Charlotte Keelor.

After the interesting games of cards, a delicious grapefruit salad with tomato jelly, wafers and iced tea was served by the hostess whose guests were Mrs. J. H. Rounhill, Mrs. Geo. A. DeCottes, Mrs. C. G. Butt, Mrs. A. B. Wallace, Miss Gene Wickes, Miss Saldie Williams, Miss Charlotte Keelor, Miss Irene Brady, Miss Ruth Butler, Misses Madge and Veda Ward.

Fancy Work Circle

Mrs. W. T. Johns was hostess of the Fancy Work Circle Thursday afternoon.

The members of the circle and visitors enjoyed their pretty fancy work and a social afternoon together.

Delicious refreshments with gold and silver cake were served by the hostess. Mrs. Johns' guests were Mrs. J. J. Purdon, Mrs. W. L. Milteer, Mrs. D. A. Caldwell, Mrs. H. H. Hill, Mrs. W. R. Egan, Mrs. A. E. Hill, Mrs. Maples and Mrs. H. E. Hester visitors.

County Division Bill Has Not Yet Come Before The House

Sanford Delegation is Still in Tallahassee and Expect to Stay to the Finish

(Special to The Herald)
Tallahassee, Fla., April 10.—The Sanford contingent are still enjoying themselves and county division seems to be a pleasant pastime judging from the smiles upon the faces of the Horney county men. There was strong talk of calling the new county Seminole, and this may be the name if one of the other county divisions do not claim priority on this name. Seminole has a pleasing sound but to the general public and the Sanford people in particular there will be nothing in a name. What we want is division first and the name will be a secondary consideration.

The Herald correspondent has some very sad news to relate. Frank P. Forster, Charles Hand, I. P. McCubler, W. J. Hill and T. J. Miller were defeated for the position of pages in the House of Representatives, although Harry Floyd put up a hot fight in the lobby of the hotel for these fine young gentlemen from Sanford.

There is no chance for them to stay here now because their money has given out and unless they can get positions in the city laying brick on the streets or hunting blind tigers there will be a turning out of the crowd.

There is absolutely no little being done here by the opposition that the Sanford contingent can get the privilege of the floor of the House to discuss the high cost of living with Harry Floyd there will be no excitement until the Orlando favorites come in force. As the matter stands our proposition is in everybody's mouth and they all seem most favorably impressed with not only our reasons for dividing but with our general appearance. The people of Sanford would indeed be proud of their delegation could they see them dressed up in the very latest kind of socks and looking pretty. Mr. Forster has given orders that every member shall have a bath every morning and as yet no one has seen the chair man going towards the bath room. He states that the water is too cold. Bates and Holly have discovered that by placing their trousers beneath the bed mattress every night the ergase can be maintained without the additional expense of pressing and they have imparted this information to their colleagues. Result, most of them stay in bed all morning while the pressing club is working on their one pair of trousers.

We are all proud of our representatives here and our good looking senator, Donegan. Forrest Lake has the esteem of his colleagues and Sanford ought to send him back here again unburdened by local bills, in order that he could be honored as he deserves.

The only Sanford ladies here are Mrs. Lake, Mrs. Fernald and Mrs. H. E. Tolar. They claim to know where their husbands are but a doubt is raised in our minds and the said husbands are kept busy explaining that county division is taking up all their time.

The Sanford people probably want to know how the matter of division is going and in this respect we can safely say that from all appearances Orange county is bound to be divided.

A P. Connelly just arrived in charge of the Orlando delegation of four prominent citizens. Connelly was so afraid that they would not get here safely that he came all the way from Sanford with them and explained confidentially that Orlando really believes in Sanford's contention, but they have to make a show ing. We will show them a good time and see that they have everything here. They are at our hotel. Bates and Holly are there is nothing but Sanford people able to stay here and we expect to have some very exciting moments from now on. The division question will be brought up about Thursday and then there will be news sure enough and the Sanford Herald will get the first flash by wire.

Until then let us have your prayers.

(Special to The Herald)
Tallahassee, Fla., April 10.—The days pass so slowly while the legislature is getting ready to get ready that one has need to watch the calendar to see the time of day. The very important work of forming the committees is to be finished today (Thursday) and then there will be something doing in earnest. When the committees have been named the important bills like county division and other local legislation will be introduced and presented before the com mittees. An Orlando and Sanford delegation are both on the ground a very pretty fight is looked for about Monday or maybe Saturday and as the committee on county matters is said to be a large one and the matter of county division will have a full hearing the action of this committee on our bill is looked forward to with great interest by our delegation and our dear friends from Orlando. The general consensus of opinion among all the people here seems to be that the county division questions will be settled strictly on their merits and this means that our bill will not only receive a favorable report from the committee but will be passed, because if ever a county division had merits ours is the one.

U. S. Senator Nat Bryan made a fine address before the legislature last night regarding a new primary law he is fostering and in the course of his remarks stated that because he did not choose to allow Judge Cheney to retain his office as Federal Judge the Orlando Sentinel had made the statement that 4,000 Republicans would vote against him backed by some Orlando Democrats, and that the people of Florida should not allow this to be done simply because he had refused to allow a man to hold office who was backed by a negro Republican.

He did not please the Orlando contingent a little bit. We sincerely hope that our Orlando friends will not think that Sanford is trying to use Senator Bryan to help county division. While we have some influence we are not quite that strong.

Our cause is getting better day by day and we do not fear the result. The Orlando people are still digging the wet and dry question into county division and making people sick of the subject. The wet and dry question has no more place in the matter here than it had in Orange county and Senator Starbuck is getting mighty cold comfort from the level headed legislators when he spins his little yarn.

They will have to go some if they defeat county division with some such flimsy statements and as formerly they have no real arguments.

Lovely Birthday Party

The little neighbors and friends of dainty little Margaret Neal enjoyed with her the celebration of her fifth birthday at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Neal, Wednesday afternoon, when she was hostess at a lovely birthday party.

The pretty color scheme was pink, which was carried out in all the decorations, and was all the color of the ribbons worn by the little hostess.

After the little guests had been entertained with juvenile games on the lawn until 5 o'clock they were served ice cream, cake and candy on the spacious porch, where the beautifully decorated table with the handsome cake with its five little pink lighted candles was the attractive centerpiece.

A number of pretty birthday gifts were received by the little hostess.

Mrs. Strong Barrett, Mrs. Cruse Barnes and Miss Charlotte Hand assisted Mrs. Neal in entertaining and serving the little guests who were Mary Elizabeth and Camilla Puleston, Olive Newman, Sarah Williams, Elizabeth Whitner, Ethel Goodwin Perkins, Margaret Zachary, Charlotte Smith, Margaret Peters, Jean Maxwell, Lila Murrell, Martha Chappell, Theodora Miller, Doris and Mildred Hand, Joe Caldwell, Deane Turner, Jr., Billie Pitts, Walter Carter, Junior Dutton, Thomas Wight, Frank Chase, Arthur Zachery, E. K. and Robert Foster, Victor McLaughlin, Buster Smith.

"Oliver Twist" Coming Here

Manager J. F. Karnatz will offer to the patrons of the Imperial Theatre on Monday, April 14th, the remarkable motion pictures of the famous comedian Nat Goodwin in his equally famous portrayal of the "Fagin" in Charles Dickens' masterpiece, "Oliver Twist". In this picture which embraces five reels and requires two hours to display, will be seen the complete all-star cast which supported Mr. Goodwin during the memorable year's run at the New Amsterdam and Empire Theatres in New York. Although the prices of admission in the metropolis were $2.00 per seat the pictures as shown here will cost but ten cents.

Local theatregoers will probably not be slow to take advantage of seeing so great an artist as Mr. Goodwin at such trifling expense.

Lovely Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. A. Mosca were the gracious host and hostess at a delightful dinner party Wednesday evening, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Stevens, on the occasion of the twenty-third anniversary of their marriage.

The rooms were a bower of floral loveliness in their profusion of beautiful cut flowers and decorations of dainty green vines. The color motif was red and green with the accompanying tones of pink. Covers were laid for twelve. The table was lovely with its artistic decorations of white oleander, green vines and pretty nasturtiums at each plate, while in the center of the table exquisite red roses were the glory and framework to the charming effect.

About 7:30 the party sat down to the enjoyment of a delicious eight course dinner, which was served in a specially pleasing style and manner, reflecting the gracious hospitality of the pleasant host and hostess.

After the conclusion of the dinner the guests enjoyed a pleasant social evening with their host and hostess.

Mrs. Stevens presented the hostess with a handsome cake, as the following day was the anniversary also of Mr. and Mrs. Mosca. Mrs. Mosca invited the dinner guests to return the next afternoon and help her enjoy her lovely cake in celebrating her anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Mosca invited dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Stevens and their little daughter, Rebecca, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Forster, Mr. and Mrs. T. I. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Shinholser, Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Miller, Mrs. T. A. Rosetter, Mrs. M. H. Bowler.

Thursday afternoon, in celebration of her anniversary, Mrs. Mosca entertained the guests of the previous evening and several others.

After a pleasant social hour, the anniversary cake, presented at the dinner party was enjoyed with chocolate, ambrosia, assorted cakes and salted peanuts.

The guests on this pleasant occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Miller, Mrs. T. A. Rosetter, Mrs. M. Frank, Mrs. B. J. Starling, Mrs. M. H. Bowler, Mrs. S. O. Shinholser, Mrs. Kanner.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain

Continuing the wholesale clean-up recently instituted in St. Augustine a number of arrests on felony charges will be made within the next few days and will be taken before the April session of the circuit court which convenes here soon. The latest move comes as a thunderbolt to those against whom the warrants are directed as they had supposed that there was to be a little let-up after the first ruffe.

Burglars who sought $1700 hoarded up by Joseph L. Wread an aged recluse of Nichols, a town eight miles south of Lakeland, killed him at an early hour Wednesday morning and set fire to his home. The house was completely destroyed.

The charred body of the old hermit was found in the ashes of the house today by friends.

Wread, who had long lived alone, had a fear of the banks, and saved up his meagre earnings in an old box. The thieves, learning of the money, said to total $1700, evidently entered the house about 2 o'clock Wednesday morning and killed the old man, afterward firing the house to hide their crime.

of Tampa rejected the commission form of government charter prepared by the Commission Government League and submitted to them under the auspices of the white municipal party on Tuesday of this week.

The commission advocates who believed they would walk away with the proposition, were dumfounded when the vote was counted. They carried but four wards out of the ten wards in the city. In but one ward, the Ninth, did they get a decision majority.

The election, had it carried for commission for of government, would have meant a virtual recall of the city administration one year from date, and election of five commissioners. The city recently bonded for nearly $2,000,000 for public improvements, now under way in great part, and the people did not feel that they should make a change in the administration at this time.

W. T. Field's Home Burns

Fire at noon yesterday burned to the ground the fine home of W. T. Field on the shores of beautiful Lake Onoro, a few miles south of the city. Every effort of the neighbors and friends of the family failed to check the flames and the strong wind that was blowing at the time made it impossible to get the fire under control.

The origin of the fire has not as yet been learned. Mr. Field, who is now in business in Tampa, is away from home nearly all the time. Two of the sons are employed in Sanford and the rest of the children were away at school at the time. The neighborhood was summoned by sight of the flames, but despite their heroic efforts nothing could be done as the fire had already gained too much headway.

Couch-Watson

Friends of the groom in Sanford are in receipt of the announcements of the recent wedding of Miss Lenna Belle Watson of Jackson, Mich., to Mr. Claude Ditta Couch of this city. The wedding took place at Jackson, Mich., the home of the bride.

Mr. Couch, who is well known in this city has been a resident of Sanford for about a year, coming here with his parents from Jackson, Mich., and has been farming on the West Side for the past season. He was also identified with the Orange county fair, having charge of the Sanford exhibit.

Mr. Couch left for his former home city. They will be at home to their friends at 618 W. First St. after April 30th. The Herald is joined by their many friends in hearty congratulations.

Congressman Clark upon the convening of the sixty-third Congress...

A bill to provide separate accommodations for the white and negro races on street cars and other public conveyances in the District of Columbia.

A bill to prohibit intermarriage between the white and negro races in the District of Columbia.

A bill for the relief of the state of Florida. This bill provides for the refund of moneys illegally collected by the direct cotton tax soon after the civil war.

Bills providing for the establishment of fish hatchery and fish cultural stations on the Miami river, St. Lucie river, Indian river, Lake Tohopekaliga, St. Johns river, Lake Okeechobee and New River.

There are of course a large number of pension bills and other private measures.

Spraying the Garden for Better Crops.

Practical directions for raising healthy crops in the city back yards were given last week by W. A. Orton, Plant-Pathologist of the Bureau of Plant Industry, Department of Agriculture, in a lecture on "Plant Diseases and the Home Acre."

Mr. Orton declared that plant sanitation was now recognized as one great means for increasing crop yields. Fundamentally, he said, plant sanitation depended on a deep, fertile soil, well tilled.

Mr. Orton then discussed the diseases of particular garden plants. In dealing with the ailments of potatoes he said that scab could be prevented in this crop by soaking the seed potatoes in a mixture of one pint of formaldehyde and three gallons of water.

"Leaf spot" is a common disease of tomatoes, which can likewise be controlled by application of Bordeaux Mixture. Root knot is another disease, affecting not alone tomatoes, but also some 400 kinds of similar plants.

The diseases of beans, cabbages, cauliflower, turnips and radishes were also dealt with by the speaker.

SAND HILL TURNED INTO REAL MONEY

An Investment in a College Education Brings Quick Returns.

BY DAVID G. GALE.

(Copyright, 1913, by Associated Literary Press.)

"I've lived on this farm the big part of my life," grumbled Mr. Whitcomb, "and what have I got to show for it? It's growing worse every year, if anything. I thought 'twould be different after you went to the farming college, but what you got out of books don't seem to help it any."

"Blame the farm, father, don't blame the books. This soil is hardly good enough for pasturage. That sand hill lot is worse than nothing. You can't expect science to do it all—there must be something to start with."

"But other farms have been brought back into shape again. They say there's a way to make 'em over when they're all run down," persisted Mr. Whitcomb.

"To make them over, yes, but not to make them. This place isn't run down—there never was anything here to run down. It was worthless in the beginning."

"Then you think I'd ought to sell it and buy another?"

"You couldn't do it. What you could get for it wouldn't buy another—one that you want, I mean. Good farms are high these days."

Mr. Whitcomb could think of nothing to say in reply, so he pulled the barn door together and walked off toward the house. There was an almost pitiful stoop to his shoulders, a stoop which told of years of fighting with the rocks and sand. He paused in the middle of the yard to ask another question.

"When are you going away?" he called out.

"In about a month," replied the younger man.

These had been a position waiting for Don Whitcomb at the end of his course in college. It was a good position, too, and he felt confident there were better things ahead of him. The old people had never taken very kindly to his ideas concerning scientific farming. It was only after long-continued argument that they ceased to oppose his plans.

Even then they could lend him no aid. The family pocketbook was hardly able to supply the necessities; there was no provision for the cause of education. Consequently, the success which came as a result of his four years' work gave him the right to believe that he had chosen wisely.

"I suppose father thinks I ought to stay here," he mused, "but it's asking too much of a fellow. The only thing I can do is to save up money and send it home."

Mr. Whitcomb was unusually silent at the supper table that evening. Don noticed something in his face that he had never seen before. It was the expression a man wears when he is about to give up the fight. His eye was hollow, his head bowed, in short, his whole attitude suggested defeat.

The following morning Mrs. Whitcomb appeared in Don's room at an early hour.

"You'll have to see to things to-day," she said. "Your father is sick."

"What's the matter?" he queried, sleepily.

"Don't know," replied his mother. "Can't find out as he's in any pain, and he don't seem to be feverish. He just says he's sick."

A week passed—two weeks—the third one began to unfold itself drearily. It found Mr. Whitcomb still in bed.

"Physically, he's all right as far as I can see," the doctor had told them. "He's just lost his grip, that's all. Keep him quiet and try to encourage him all you can."

"You mean that medicine won't do him any good?" asked Don.

"Not a particle. You can't bring back a man's will power with medicine."

And if we keep him quiet what then?

"It's impossible to say. It may bring him out of it. I hope so. Tell him all the good news you can. That's the kind of tonic he needs."

That afternoon Don drove to Welden for the weekly supply of groceries. Welden was a town built around the marble quarries. Indeed, it seemed that the people there could live on nothing but marble. It was piled up all about the town—tons of it. In an inconceivable variety of shapes and sizes.

Next door to the store, where he was to the store without once giving a thought to the marble industry.

As he set out to return home the horse began to dance at sight of the trainway, with the moving chain of buckets.

"I'm ashamed of you, Gyp," he mumbled. "Think how many times you've seen this thing. Strange how they never get used to it," he said to a man beside the horse.

"It won't scare horses a great while longer. That's one sure thing."

"Why?"

"Because there won't be anything to run it for. This can't hold out more than two years at the most. It's getting poor now."

"That's what I should like to know," returned the man. "It's hard stuff to pick up when you want it."

"Hard stuff to find, is it?" mused Don as he drove away. "Well, there's plenty of it up our way—too much of it. The whole thing is for sale, too," he exclaimed, glancing up the hill in the direction of the Whitcomb farm.

Late that night Mrs. Whitcomb went upstairs to see if her son had fallen asleep and had left his lamp burning. She found him sitting at a table, bending over a maze of figures.

"What are you doing up so late?" she asked.

"I'm trying to find a way to build up the farm," came the evasive reply.

"You'll never do it by breaking into the night, this way," she murmured. "It is rather late, isn't it?" he said smilingly. "I guess I'll go to bed."

A whispered goodnight floated back to him from the hallway. He returned the lamp lower and sat down at the table again. His bed was unoccupied that night.

Daybreak found him ready for a second trip to Welden. In order to gain added information, he visited the shops and mills during the early part of the day. Then there were more figures and a final survey of the facts at his command. The afternoon was nearly half-gone when he entered the president's office.

"I called to see you about your sand supply," he said, as Mr. Gordon turned in his chair.

"What's the matter with it?" The president thought there must be something wrong with the tramway.

"It's running out, isn't it? What you have in sight will soon be exhausted. I have two or three million tons of it for sale, if you would care to consider the matter."

"Where is it?" asked Mr. Gordon.

"Up on our farm."

"You mean that sand hill? Will you deliver it?"

"No, but you could extend the tramway. It's in almost a direct line up over the hill. Our thirty-acre lot would keep you supplied for 15 years at least—probably longer."

"And how about the price?"

"Two hundred dollars an acre."

"Six thousand dollars!" ejaculated the president. "I shouldn't consider your whole farm to be worth more than half that amount."

"Perhaps not as a farm, but how about the value of the sand? Wouldn't you be getting it at a pretty low price?"

"There may be something in the scheme," continued the president, apparently unaware that anyone had been speaking. "I am not prepared to say at present. I should want to have our engineers look into it. Perhaps you may hear from me later."

The days traveled by without bringing any word. The engineers had come and gone, leaving nothing to sustain the hope which their arrival had kindled. There was only silence and uncertainty.

On the eighth morning, however, the tension was relieved by a call at the door, and a thin, impressive-looking envelope was ushered in. Don scanned the contents excitedly. Then thrusting it into his pocket, he swung open the door of his father's room.

"Do you want to sell the thirty-acre lot?" he said.

"The sand hill?" There was skepticism in the voice. "Who'd ever want to buy that?"

"The Welden Marble company will buy it. They'll give you $5,000 for it."

Mr. Whitcomb turned about uneasily. "Don't bother me—I don't feel like looking."

Slipping up behind him, Don held the open letter where the old man could read it. As the import of the message became clear, the bent shoulders seemed to straighten and regain a portion of their lost strength.

"Five thousand dollars for sand!" he exclaimed.

"They need it for their mills, and they're going to build a tramway over the hill. I'll give you the details later. Will you sell?"

"Will I? Why, boy, that money would put me on my feet again. Did you bring all this about?"

"I found out they were getting short and went to see them about it. They did the rest," replied Don.

"I was wrong about the farming college," Mr. Whitcomb went on.

"This shows how good an investment it was. I never should have thought of this thing, and if I had, I couldn't follow it up as you've done."

Generally speaking, the typewriter is mightier than the getting gun.

Path of Honor and Success.
The shortest and surest way to live reality what we would appear to be; all human virtues increase and strengthen themselves by the practice and experience of them.—Socrates.

Mexican Forests.
The forests of Mexico are situated chiefly in the mountains at altitudes of 8,000 to 12,000 feet. In the lowlands of the tropics there are scattered mahogany trees and a variety of other hardwood timber.

Force Required to Crack a Nut.
The force required to crush an ordinary nut, such as one too often sees cracked between the back teeth, has been shown to be equal to a weight of more than 110 avoirdupois pounds, directly applied.

Man's Duty Simple.
The whole duty of man is embraced in the two principles of abstinence and patience; temperance in prosperity, and patient courage in adversity.—Beneca.

Salt has been manufactured commercially in Italy for more than two thousand five hundred years.

Greeks Practiced Palmistry.
Palmistry was practiced by the ancient Greeks.

Modern Medical Doctrines.
At a conference on hospital social work in New York City one of the speakers said that the hospital of the future must keep a record of the social histories of all patients, just as now their medical histories are kept. Kiburg and soda, said another speaker, illustrating the necessity for psychological remedies for patients, had in one case proved useless as a cure for indigestion until the sufferer, a grief-stricken mother, was relieved from worry over an absent boy.

No Cause to Fear.
A fisherman succeeded in stealing a goose from a farmhouse by training his fish-line along the ground in sight of the goose. The goose, seeing the worm, bit at it and got caught by the hook. When caught, the man ran, pulling the bird after him. The bird, by flapping her wings, alarmed the farmer's wife, who came out to the gate, and, seeing the man running and the goose following, she exclaimed: "Don't be afraid, my good man; she won't touch you."

Lesson in Humility.
"As long as I wuz po'," said Brother Williams, at a revival. "I wuz humble enough ter be thankful for what I wuz 'bout ter receive. But one day I found $10 in de big road. After dat I went about holdin' my head so high dat I couldn't see what was befo' me, an' I fell in a dry well, an' staid dar three days, hollerin' fer folks ter pull me out. Satan hisself wuz once an angel in heaven, but he couldn't stand prosperity, an' look whar he is now!"

Would That This Were True.
The principal authors met and formed a union for the sake of publishing a set of rules of writing. As a preliminary, they agreed that after this no hero would be permitted to flick the ashes from his cigarette or cigar. Also that no heroine shall hereafter bury her head in her hands or drop her eyes to the floor. The full set of restrictions will be announced later.—Life.

Swedish Bridal Lore.
The Swedish girl prays for a rainy day on which to get married. Then before she goes to the ceremony attired in her wedding clothes she milks the cow, feeds the calf and wears a white feather from the hen. This is to bring her the necessities and luxuries of life.

Shakespeare's Criticism.
"Tis the curse of service, preference goes by letter and affection, and not in old gradation, where each second stood heir to the first.—Shakespeare.

Causes of Mine Accidents.
Nearly half of the fatal accidents in coal mines are due to falling rock or coal, and less than one-fourth to explosions or fires.

Irresistible.
"How ever did you reconcile Adam and Mary?" "I gave them a choice bit of gossip and asked them not to repeat it to each other."

Oldtime Dinner Reproduced.
A reproduction of a ninth-century dinner has been served at a recent banquet. The menu consisted of pike cooked in oil and then pressed into a paste; a paste made of venison with millet; and a roast peacock containing a whole chicken, the chicken in turn stuffed with a pigeon, and the pigeon again stuffed with roasted eggs.

Not the Original Liberty Bell.
A correspondent of the Literary Digest avers that the famous crack in the Liberty Bell is not a crack, but only the fac-simile of a crack. His assertion is that the original bell was indeed cracked, but that the present bell is a recast from a model of the old one, with the crack filled up, though still showing the lines of the defect.

In Kentucky.
Having learned the important date when the United States mint was established and the cotton gin invented, a grammar school pupil in Kentucky, answering the question, "What were two important institutions established in Washington's administration?" wrote: "Mint and gin!"—National Monthly.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here The Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

Final arrangements for the funeral services of J. Pierpont Morgan, which were held at 10 o'clock this morning at St. George's Protestant Episcopal church in Stuyvesant Square, are completed. One side of the square will be closed by the police to vehicles and kept open for those who arrive on foot.

All indications point to the utmost gravity of the pope's condition. At midnight the fever and cough were giving cause for great alarm. The impression had gained ground that the tracheal bronchitis had developed into pneumonia. While not absolutely denying this, Prof. Marchisavia said: "At the present time it could not properly be called pneumonia, but with tracheal bronchitis sometimes the lungs do not function properly. Probably the resistant and robust fiber of the holy father may overcome this danger. Meanwhile we can make the statement which must give rise to great hope, that the condition of the albuminuria has disappeared."

For the third time in his reign King Alfonso narrowly escaped being the victim of an anarchist attempt against his life Sunday. Three shots were fired at the King Sunday afternoon in the streets of the capital by a native of Barcelona Rafael Sanchez Allegro, who was immediately overpowered.

King Alfonso owes his escape to his own courage, quickness and skilled horsemanship. Accompanied by his staff he was riding along the Calle de Alcalá, returning from the ceremony of swearing in recruits, when a man sprang from the sidewalk and seized the bridle of the king's horse with one hand, pointing a revolver point blank with the other.

The king, realizing the situation with lightning rapidity dug his spurs into his horse, which reared violently. His quickness saved his life. The bullet, instead of burying itself in the king's breast, struck the horse on the neck, but so close was it that the king's left hand glove was blackened by the powder discharge. Before the assailant was able to pull the trigger again a secret service man sprang upon him. The two men fell to the ground, locked in each other's arms, struggling furiously. The assassin managed to free his revolver arm and fired two more shots in rapid succession, but the officer knocked his arm outside, and the bullets flew harmlessly through the air.

Miss Fish Hostess

A very delightful card party was entertained by Miss Laura Fish in her pretty home, "Bally Ray Farm," Wednesday afternoon.

The guests on arriving were served refreshing ice grape juice.

Three tables of bridge were played. The score cards were tied with dainty yellow ribbon and each was decorated with a different card, represented in a deck of cards.

The highest score was made by Mrs. A. W. Brown, who won as prize, sufficient beautiful handmade lace for a dress.

The consolation prize, a handsome tray was cut for and won by Mrs. Gertrude Keely.

After the conclusion of the games of cards, delicious refreshments in two courses were served, consisting of chicken salad, peas in patty shells, nut bread sandwiches, white bread sandwiches, cheese balls, olives and coffee; second course, orange sherbet with angel cake. The table was beautifully decorated with wreaths of wide yellow satin ribbon and violets.

Miss Fish's guests were Mrs. A. W. Brown, Mrs. J. W. Dickins, Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mrs. Ayletta Pitts, Mrs. Gertrude Keely, Miss Hawkins, Mrs. R. H. Marks, Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin, Mrs. Robt. Newman, Mrs. Samuel Puleston, Mrs. Kent Rosetter.

County Division Bill Will Come Before the Committee Thursday

Success Will Crown the Efforts of Seminole County Delegation at Tallahassee

LATEST WIRE FROM TALLAHASSEE

TALLAHASSEE, FLA. APR. 15th.

THE COMMITTEE ON COUNTY ORGANIZATION WILL PASS OUR BILL THURSDAY. IT WILL GO TO THE HOUSE ON THE SAME DAY AND IS SURE TO PASS BOTH THE HOUSE AND THE SENATE. UNWARRANTED ATTACKS ON BOTH SENATOR DONEGAN AND REPRESENTATIVE LAKE ARE HOTLY RESENTED IN BOTH BRANCHES OF THE LEGISLATURE. DIVISION SURE TO WIN.

R. J. HOLLY.

(Special to The Herald)

Tallahassee, Fla., April 12th. There was great rejoicing in the camp of the Sanford delegation when the word came that Senator Donegan of the Nineteenth comprising Ocala and Orange counties, had expressed himself on the question of county division in Orange. Senator Donegan has withheld his decision and steadfastly refused to take sides with either party until all the facts in the case could be brought to his notice. Since coming to Tallahassee the county division question has been more or less a thorn in the flesh of the Senator and the cause of many inquiries not only from the parties directly interested but from his colleagues and to put all doubt at rest and settle inquiries the Senator on Friday wired all the Orange county papers as follows: "If the Seminole county bill passes the house I will support it in the Senate."

This proved to be a blow to the Orlando delegation for they were basing their hopes on the bill being killed in the Senate after it passed the House, and Senator Donegan's action has blasted the last hope of the anti-divisionists. It has seemed all along to the Sanford people that Orlando had but small hopes but the office holders and the office seekers and a small coterie of demagogues have been so swelled up with the idea of their importance and become so cocksure that having always had their way in county affairs that the north end of Orange could not possibly swing such an important measure as county division over them when they were looking and fighting. But the former days of Orlando's greatness have fled and the north end of Orange will now come into its own.

Representative Lake by a piece of good work had Seminole county division bill introduced on Friday and it will be taken up by the committee about Wednesday. There will be a hot fight made in the committee room, but the divisionists have the facts and they should have no trouble in convincing the committee that the bill ought to be favorably reported. Then the question will be up to the House and here also we have high hopes of being successful.

All of this will take time and worry and it may be several weeks before the question is settled and receives the Governor's signature.

Our committee has censured all wires and newspaper articles and a quiet, orderly campaign has been conducted. This will account for the lack of news from the capital appearing in The Herald. There was nothing to send except the daily grind of the House and Senate and when anything of importance happened and looked like good stuff, Mr. Forster would squelch it and Tommy Bates and Holly have nothing to do but to sit on the porch of the Leon and look wise. However we have the word of the chairman that something will break loose soon and then we will turn the tables.

(Special to The Herald)

Tallahassee, April 14. There is a pretty county division fight on at present between Sanford and Orlando delegations here in the matter of the division of Orange county and making another county out of the northern half known as Seminole county. The division in Orange has merit and has favorably impressed the general public. Orange county embraces 1,250 square miles and the new county will only have 450 square miles, leaving the old county ample territory. The population of Orange is 19,107. The new county will have 8,500. After dividing the old county will have more population than twenty other Florida counties. The new county will have more population than seventeen other Florida counties. The new territory is ample to take care of itself as there is no bonded indebtedness on the county and the fact that all start off under most favorable circumstances.

Senator Donegan of the Nineteenth District, which embraces Ocala and Orange counties, having stated that he would give his decision after hearing both sides, has sent the following telegram to the papers:

"If the division bill passes the House I will support it in the Senate."

This has greatly encouraged the divisionists of Seminole county and carried gloom into the camp of the anti-divisionists as it takes away any hope of killing the bill in the Senate.

There are about twenty citizens from Sanford here now and more coming and there also citizens from Ocala, Geneva and Longwood, all of the new territory, and they are a most enthusiastic bunch of boosters and have made a most favorable impression upon the people here and the members of the legislature. They are merchants and bankers, and business of every kind is represented among them and they are in earnest about the division, having left their homes and business to come to Tallahassee for two weeks to push county division, knowing that in division both counties will be more prosperous and contented.

DONEGAN IS FOR DIVISION

Senator From Nineteenth Defines His Position

Occupied the Position of Neutrality Until Matter Came to the State Capital

The Sanford delegation at Tallahassee are proud of their Representative and Senator. In the House Forest Lake is energetic and aggressive and is on the job all the time. He has the respect and esteem of his colleagues and every one who meets him. The two terms that Mr. Lake has been in the House have been burdensome and he has had but little chance to wear honors that were his by right. The last session he had the Sanford Heights bill that worried him for almost the entire term. Having been reported unfavorably in the House Mr. Lake gained the enviable reputation of finally winning in the House and making good. This term he has the county division bill and while there is every hope of success it keeps Lake from having clear action for his other duties. He is chairman of one of the most important committees in the House, that of City and Town Organizations. This committee last term had over fifty bills before it which gives one an idea of the amount of work cut out for our representative. He is also a member of several other important committees among them being Organized Labor, Militia and State Troops and Census and Apportionment. Altogether Forrest Lake is the busy little bee and we are with him to a man. Senator Donegan is serving his first term as our Senator but he is an old hand at the game, having been here before as a member of the House. Our Senator has a fine appearance and is one of the most popular men that wear the toga in the Senate. For a new Senator he has taken a remarkable amount of labor on his shoulders for he would not be content to remain idle in Tallahassee. He has been made Chairman of the Public Land and Drainage Committee, a very important assignment, and is also a member of the Constitutional Amendment, Banking, County Organization, Organized Labor and Immigration Committees. Aside from his senatorial duties the Senator from the Nineteenth also keeps in touch with his many affairs in South Florida and keeps a stenographer busy with his voluminous mail. In Senator Donegan the Nineteenth district has a very able representative and he is already being spoken of as a candidate for higher honors but at the present time his thoughts are centered on his own district and he is absorbed in the framing of laws that will benefit the people of Florida. We are all proud of our Senator and he is proud of his people who are here,

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain

The damage to plant No. 1 of the Florida Utilities Company formerly known as the Moore ice works, in Pensacola, as a result of the explosion Wednesday night will reach $50,000.

The formal opening of the new Augusta Memorial Hospital in St. Petersburg will take place in a few days. The hospital is a pleasing addition to the buildings of the city.

Definite steps have been taken towards the organization of a company to build an interurban trolley line between Homestead and Palm Beach.

Daytona is planning to have installed a sewerage system, and in order that it may be up to date and satisfactory, an expert was employed to investigate and report. The city will spend several hundred dollars on the preliminary work, but it is well worth while to have it begun right. When the matter is thoroughly in hand, after the expert's report is made, an election will be held and the people will express themselves on the proposed bond issue for city improvements.

"Villa Serena," the winter home of Hon. William J. Bryan, secretary of state, and Mrs. Bryan, on the Cocoanut Grove road one and one-half miles south of Miami will be completed within the next few weeks. The contract calls for completion by July 1, but the contractor has concentrated all his energies on the Bryan building and expects to have it completed fully six weeks before the expiration of the contract period. The main part of the structure is done, the roof is being painted and the floors are being laid, and next week work on the interior finishing will be begun.

Messrs. McVey & McKay are pushing forward the work on the magnificent big building of the Marion County Hospital at Ocala. This work was commenced again after it had stood more than six months. There has been $6,000 expended on the building so far and all but $1,000 of this amount had been paid to the contractors. Bonds are being sold and the amount of money required to finish the building will soon be forthcoming. The plumbing and electric wiring, all concealed, has been roughed in. The work has been done well and with the best material. This does not make much of a showing but costs money. The plumbing and wiring is now all ready for the setting and placing of the fixtures.

Urging upon his hearers "respect for your superior officers, promptness in the discharge of your duties and zeal for the public good," vouching his well wishes for his successor and assuring his men of his tenderest regard, retiring Chief William D. Vincent, for thirty-two years a member of Jacksonville's police system and for fifteen years its chief, made a feeling address to the men at the regular inspection Sunday morning. The address was full of reminiscence and was delivered by Chief Vincent in connection with the leave of absence which has been granted him owing to ill health. Chief Vincent will leave, perhaps, Wednesday for Hot Springs, Ark., for a rest and treatment, provided railway conditions are such that he can get to his destination.

Buggies Collide Saturday Night

Saturday night a buggy belonging to Dr. Robson and driven by Mrs. Robson collided with one belonging to Collier Brown and what might have been a serious accident resulted in nothing more serious than the considerable injury to one of the buggies.
