BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—The controversial issue of continued membership in the National Council of Churches will be debated today by the 97th general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church. The national body has come under criticism for its pronouncements on certain social and economic matters.

AUGUSTA, Ga.—President Eisenhower prepared today to wind up his Georgia vacation and return to Washington without the cold and cough that nagged at him most of the winter.

After nearly two weeks of golfing and resting in balmy weather here, the President appeared to be well recovered from this cough. He will fly back to Washington Tuesday afternoon.

Eisenhower acted on a number of official papers this morning and then headed out on the Augusta National golf course for another round of his favorite sport.

He sent to the Senate a list of previously announced nominations, including that of Newell E. Thompson as the new ambassador to Russia.

The President today also sent to Congress his first reorganization plan of 1957, transferring the remaining functions of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. The RFC has been in a process of liquidation for several years.

Submitted to the Senate for ratification a treaty with Japan for the avoidance of double taxation on operations of the export-import bans of Japan and the United States.

The reorganization plan, which becomes effective in 60 days unless either House votes specific disapproval, was largely procedural and designed to transfer the administration of the RFC's remaining assets to other agencies of the government.

The President and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles have mapped a plea for restoration of "the majority" of a House-approved cut in the State Department budget.

Talmadge Hits Budget, Civil Rights Programs

THE FRONT END OF A Buick automobile, driven by Bertha Pinkney, was torn up as it plowed through a column of a filling station, a brick foundation, a halt tank and a telephone booth. Property damage was estimated at over $2,500. The accident occurred Saturday night at the intersection of Sanford Ave. and Ninth St. (Staff Photo)

Says Plot To Destroy Polity

RICHMOND, Va.—Sen. Herman E. Talmadge D-Ga. said today President Eisenhower's civil rights and big spending programs are part of a plot to "destroy" constitutional government.

He told a Kiwanis Club lunch the President's "disabbling" civil rights proposal, coupled with the Supreme Court's school desegregation ruling, would substitute "Judicial tyranny" for local law enforcement.

He said Eisenhower's $71,300,000,000 record peacetime spending budget has been "inflicted" mainly by foreign aid, in a "reckless" attempt to appease other countries.

The end result, he said, could be the nation's destruction "through internal bankruptcy."

Talmadge said the Supreme Court, "in a series of partisan political decisions," including the school segregation ruling, has ignored the Constitution and sought to impose its will on the states.

"They are not the 'law of the land,' as some falsely insist," he said. "They are the judge-made law of force and force alone."

"We will never submit to this unlawful and unconstitutional judicial tyranny."

The senator said the President's six-point civil rights program would loose on the states "an army of federal agents... harassing and intimidating the people and usurping the function of local law enforcement authorities."

"It is regrettable," he said, "that Congress is wasting its time and energies on such a mission."

Talmadge said the budget could be cut by 7 billion dollars by chopping out all "useless and non-essential spending," including at least $5,250,000,000 in foreign aid.

Such a reduction, he said, would make possible an immediate tax cut of 10 per cent. Unless such a reduction is made, he said, "I say with all candor that... we will be confronted with another round of tax increases."

"I do not believe the American people will stand for this, but we are headed in that direction," he said.

$2,500 Damage Is Seen At Two-Car Collision Saturday

A two-car collision at the intersection of Sanford Ave. and Ninth St. Saturday night resulted in property damage estimated at over $2,500.

Bertha Pinkney, 56, of 86 William Clark Court, a Negro nurse at Seminole Memorial Hospital, according to Sanford Police Department Captain Arnold Williams, ran a stop sign at the intersection and plowed into the front end of another car driven by Mosell Steving Johnson, 39-year-old Negro woman of Rt. 2 Box 290.

The 1951 Buick, driven by Bertha Pinkney, went out of control as it shoveled the 1953 Mercury, driven by Mosell Johnson, into a telephone pole guy wire on the west side of Sanford Ave. and continued on taking a plastered column, brick foundation, a telephone company paystation booth, and a concrete ball container with it.

The Buick was traveling west on Ninth St. and the Mercury was traveling east on Sanford Ave.

The emergency appropriation of $450,000 would be supplemented by a quarter of a million dollars

Market Appropriation Bill To Be Introduced

Companion bills will be introduced this week, said Representative Mack N. Cleveland Jr., providing for an emergency appropriation of $450 thousand for the rebuilding of the Sanford State Farmers' Market.

This action meets with the approval of the entire Seminole County delegation said Representative Cleveland as he revealed the action to be taken during this week's session of the legislature.

"I hope the emergency appropriation bill will get favorable action," said Representative Cleveland when he spoke of the meeting and conferences attended during the past week in Tallahassee as Sanford citizens appeared in the State Capitol in behalf of the State Farmers' Market.

"However, we are going to need the support of everyone in Sanford and Seminole County as the delegation presses for the passage of the companion bills for an emergency appropriation," said Cleveland.

During the series of meetings with Governor Collins, Commissioner of Agriculture Mayo, and Administrative Assistant Lee Thompson, Sanford Architect John Thornton revealed preliminary sketches of an proposed Sanford State Farmers Market which met with the approval of local dealers, civic leaders and interested citizens.

No definite date was set for the introduction of the companion bills in the House and Senate for the emergency appropriation.

Over 500 Plates Served Saturday At Band Barbecue

Over 500 barbecue plates were served Saturday by the Seminole High School Band Parents Association at the barbecue given at the Elks Club Grounds.

The new plan for making deliveries was most successful, according to officers of the association, as over 100 dinners were delivered to all sections of town and in DeBary.

A second serving line was set up for those taking their dinners out. Over 150 dinners were prepared for immediate pickup and sold through this line.

"Some customers enjoyed Cotton Brown's barbecue chicken so well that they went through the serving line twice," said officers of the Band Parents Association.

The high school band, directed by its Captain, J. D. Stone, played popular and martial music as several hundred people enjoyed their barbecue.

Carl Brumbaugh, barbecue chairman, reported that 550 chicken halves were prepared and by 6 p.m. all dinners were sold and there was no one turned down.

Band Association President, Mrs. A. D. Rountree, announced that profits should amount to over $325 after all expenses are paid.

"This amount will be applied to the band uniform fund set up by the Band Parents Association," she said.

Smathers, Nixon Launch Mental Health Week

WASHINGTON—Senator George Smathers joined with Vice-President Richard Nixon today in launching Mental Health Week by ringing the historic Mental Health Bell in a ceremony at the foot of the U. S. Capitol.

The 375-pound bell, cast in 1853 from chains and shackles formerly used in mental hospitals to restrain mental patients, is rung each year to signal the beginning of Mental Health Week and the nationwide fund-raising drive of the National Association for Mental Health. Mental Health Week this year is April 29 to May 6. The fund will continue through May.

The "Bell Ringers March" in Seminole County, with a goal of $2,500, is sponsored by the Sanford Pilot Club with Mrs. B. E. Chapman as chairman. The Mental Health Association of Seminole County is headed by George Touhy.

The Vice-President said the bell "symbolizes hope for the mentally ill and ultimate victory in the fight against the nation's number 1 health problem—mental illness, and expressed the hope that the ringing of the bell will be heard in every village, town and city throughout the land and that it will awaken in the hearts of all Americans the traditional spirit and concern for suffering fellow Americans.

Senator Smathers who has five years sponsored Mental Health week resolutions in Congress, said that "this year there is more hope than ever before for the conquest of mental illness. For the first time mental hospital rolls have begun to drop." Recovery rates for mental patients will continue to rise, he added, "only if the entire nation rallies behind the mentally ill."

Graduation Nears

By WANDA GILBERT
These last months of school are going very rapidly. (But, they aren't going rapidly enough.)
Various activities have been speeding up the tempo. Easter morning the Glee Club was speaking up for the sunrise service. The baseball and track teams are holding their own. Our boys are really giving it all they've got.
The swimming team isn't doing badly. Those students who are participating in this are lucky. Not everyone can get out of class to go swimming.

Question Of Week

By DALE LEWIS
When the alarm went off this morning I wondered what it was doing ringing in the middle of the night. After my mother called me the third or fourth time and I managed to open one eye, I noticed a blinding light—the sun! I know I'm not the only one who is having a difficult time staying awake the first day back from the Easter vacation. All the sleepy-heads and sunburns are an excellent indication that everyone enjoyed themselves during the holidays.
"What was the most fun you had during the Easter Holidays?"
Joe Jackson: Nan Cushing's slumber party—laughing at Penny and Dale!
Fred Ball: I didn't!
Billy Kirchoff: Wondering what the Easter Bunny was going to bring me.
Pat Harrington: Trying to stay awake at Nan Cushing's slumber party Sunday night. (I don't see why you had to "try"!)

Students Design Mining Town

ITHACA, N. Y.—A 20th century version of a frontier mining town, for the world's largest uranium center, is being designed as a class project by 30 city planning students in Cornell's College of Architecture.
The students are charting modern residential, business, civic and recreational areas for a new city rising near Elliot Lake, Canada, in the Blind River area north of Lake Huron.
Using an estimated three billion dollars worth of uranium ore was discovered there in 1949, the area's chief claim to fame was its excellent hunting and fishing. Today 4,000 persons have moved in, and another 25,000 are expected by 1960.
The kind of population in a mining community presents some problems to the young planners. About 40 per cent are single men, and the turnover of mine employ-ees is about 30 per cent a month. So a large number of transient residences and trailer facilities are needed.
The great number of French-speaking persons will require separate schools, and the large Catholic population will mean more parochial schools than usual. Unlike a mining town in the Klondike days, Elliot Lake is giving schools top priority.
The one-commodity economy threatens the area with a ghost town status. Other uses for the area, in case the uranium market declines, are being investigated by the students. Among these are lumber and wood products industries, increased tourist and recreation facilities, and a university specializing in subjects related to uranium and lumber.
The topography adds construction problems. A layer of granite is near the surface in the whole area, with outcrops in many places, and a high ridge runs parallel to Elliot Lake.
The 30 students, directed by Prof. F. W. Edmondson, come from 11 countries and include persons trained in law, engineering, economics, sociology and horticulture, as well as in architecture and city planning.
Working with them on sewage, power and other facilities are sanitary engineering students in Cornell's School of Civil Engineering and thermal engineering students in the School of Mechanical Engineering.
The Canadian government has established the 300-square-mile Elliot River area as an improvement district under its "new town" program. The students receive data and help from D. F. Taylor, community planning director in the Ontario Department of Planning and Development.
Basic information about the land and its uranium deposits comes from Franc Joubin, the man who discovered the area's potential after a 20-year search all over the world for uranium.
Four of 12 giant mines are already in operation there, and six more are scheduled to open this year. The mines are expected to average 1,000 tons of ore daily, compared with a 1,000-ton daily production in the largest United States mine.

Mr. Christensen: I expect it was getting my little boy all dressed up in his new suit and taking him to Sunday School.
Mr. Ray: I guess it was when I caught a fish about six o'clock Sunday morning, or maybe it was when my little boy saw his live rabbit! (He named him "Daddy"!)

Teddy Walker: Taking care of my little chicken, Pat.
Mary Grace Hobby: I had fun ALL the time!

Bobby Little: Seeing what the Easter Bunny brought me!
Meredith Scott: Fishin'!

Nan Cushing: The whole thing was wonderful!
Nancy Cash: Making crazy records, and I do mean CRAZY, at Nan Cushing's house!

Edna Cowan: All day Sunday. Sylvia Price: The whole week-end was fun, but I enjoyed the little moonlight jaunt through the woods Saturday night after Mary Grace's party with Al and Nan and Porky, as we were attempting to spy on Carol and Bobby.

Kay Jenkins: Man—those beach parties!
Penny Marian: Being with Richard.
Kenneth Hossack: The only time I had fun was when I went fishing or skating.
Billy Tyre: I didn't do anything. I layed in bed all week.

Baseball classes will be over. Miss Robb won't get mad at me for mentioning her name all the time; Mr. Yaver too.

It's amazing how Barbara Middleton has been so good this year. I wonder if sickness could be the cause.

Take it from us, some of our Freshman boys are going to be nothing but dreamy a couple of years from now. (Yes a couple of hundred of years from now. How is everything Dee H. and Rick E.? Lots of luck!!!

Can I Afford To Be Teacher?

By CARLA NEWBURY
In every high school throughout the United States are the students who will become our teachers of tomorrow. Their responsibility will be to train the future citizens of this great nation.

Will these students go into the teaching profession, train themselves, become qualified, then accept teaching professions when there are so many, many, more positions offering better money? The answer is no. College statistics prove this already to be a fact. It is here now, not something to fear only in the future!

As a student interested in the teaching profession, I think I can speak for the thousands of others who are now considering their future occupations.

Will teaching the children of tomorrow be so satisfying to me that I could exist with life's necessities only, give up the luxuries I would like, know constant financial worries? Perhaps so, if I didn't know that with the same amount of college training I could enter another occupation with at least twice the amount of salary.

But, I like children; I like the rewards gained from teaching. I think I could be a good teacher. Can the citizens of our country, our states, our cities afford to let me and other future teacher prospects become discouraged?

It is the duty of every person to be concerned with this problem. What have you done to encourage me to become an excellent teacher?

Advice To The Lovelorn

Dear Miss Cry-Shoulder—
Please come to my rescue. I'm so terribly confused! I always seem to have two dates on the same night which is almost every night. I realize it's my own fault but please help me as soon as possible.

Bewitched, Bewitched and Bewitched.
Dear B. B. B.

The solution—absolutely no dates until you get straightened out and learn to say I'm sorry I already have a date or I can't possibly go out tonight.
Miss Cry-Shoulder

Dear Miss Cry-Shoulder—
In your column last week you had a letter from "Wondering."

Well, I'm the girl who was going with that boy. It was not his fault he sat by me it was mine, for not being the kind of girl I should have been. I didn't like the idea of you calling him a "Character like that." He is a wonderful boy. He treats anyone right who treats him right. You told "Wondering" to keep it on a "Hi-Goodye basis," how do you know it wasn't I still love this boy very much and I think he is the nicest boy I ever went with. So please refrain from calling him a "Character like that."
Thank you,
"Someone Else"

Dear "Someone Else"—
I'll apologize for calling your boy friend a character, but I can't see where it was necessary for him to do the things he did unless it was to make you sit up and take notice. (If so, congratulate him for a colossal job.) I don't know whether it was on a hi-goodye basis or not—I was least twice the amount of salary. But, I like children; I like the rewards gained from teaching. I think I could be a good teacher. Can the citizens of our country, our states, our cities afford to let me and other future teacher prospects become discouraged?

It is the duty of every person to be concerned with this problem. What have you done to encourage me to become an excellent teacher?

Will teaching the children of tomorrow be so satisfying to me that I could exist with life's necessities only, give up the luxuries I would like, know constant financial worries? Perhaps so, if I didn't know that with the same amount of college training I could enter another occupation with at least twice the amount of salary.

just offering advice and it turned out to be for your sake as much as anyone. Your correction is appreciated and I'm hoping to hear from you again.
Miss Cry-Shoulder.

Dear Miss Cry-Shoulder—
I like a certain boy very much I have been going with him for about two months. Then one day my mother tells me not to go with him or get to speak to him anymore. He doesn't want to stop seeing me. I don't like the idea of sneaking around to date him I'm not interested in any other boy. It isn't that they don't ask me out, they do. But, I go out with other boys and don't have fun. Now, she picks out boys for me to go with. And then, tries to make me go out with them I would like for you to tell me what to do I am unhappy and worried.
"Prayer"

Dear "Prayer"
That is a wonderful solution. (Prayer) God can always solve problems whether we can or not. But, I think we should try to help ourselves, also. If your mother insists you date other boys, I suggest you try again and maybe your mother will realize that if you can accept responsibility enough to go with nice boys and you still feel the same way about that certain boy, she will understand if you're old enough to know what you want. Try to talk things over with her. Try anything to avoid sneaking around because that can only lead to trouble. Que sera, sera (Whatever will be, will be.) I certainly hope everything works out for the best.

When Congress Adjourns Much Work Will Remain Unfinished

One of the favorite pastimes of the writers who cover Washington news is predicting just when the Congress will adjourn. Such predictions are seldom better than educated guesses. But one prediction is certain to be accurate: the legislators will approach the day of adjournment with a great deal of their work unfinished.

Senators and representatives work hard; even the most severe critics of either body will admit that. Yet, year in and year out, important legislation is postponed or ignored for no better reason than that Congress just can't find time to get around to it.

There are many things which take the time of Congressmen. They must be ready to grant interviews and to entertain visitors from their home states and districts, even when those visitors have nothing important to communicate. They have mail to answer.

And favors to do for constituents, a great deal of time is wasted listening to speeches by fellow legislators who have little of importance to say but manage to say it in several thousand words.

Important decisions still remain for this Congress to make. Bills dealing with immigration, federal aid to education, amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act, increases in postal rates, and many other matters which should be considered. Perhaps in the time remaining some of these important decisions will be made.

Yet the observant taxpayer may wonder why it is necessary to let bills of great importance, on which there is bound to be considerable debate, remain until the closing minutes of the session. Congress, like business, would be more efficient if more attention were paid to scheduling its work.

New Names

Just a minute. The sanitarian will clear away the table, and the hostess will be here in a moment." Translated into more familiar words, this means that you will be visited first by the bus boy and then by the waitress. These are the terms now used in restaurants around the country, according to high authority in the restaurant association.

Apparently the old names were thought to be not dignified enough. The restaurant business seems to be taking a leaf out of the undertaker's book. Many of them now prefer to be called "morticians." At an earlier date, "lawyer" began to be superseded by "attorney," or sometimes "counselor."

Not everything has been changed. High authority assures us that a rose by any other name would smell as sweet. Yet no movement is in evidence to substitute another word for "rose."

One young lady, confused by all the furor over Postmaster General Summerfield's recent action, commented that no one had made so much fuss about postoffice since the boys were reluctant to play the game at her eighth birthday party.

Nation's Hospitals Have Too Few Beds

There are more hospital beds than you would if you lived in the United States today than ever before. Yet, there aren't enough.

You will probably learn of this problem first hand when you try to arrange for entrance into a hospital. Except for emergency cases, patients often have to wait for admittance.

Standard Minimum

For a long time now, we have placed the desired number of general hospital beds at 43 per 1,000 persons in the nation. This, of course, is not an ideal number, but it is considered a standard minimum.

We haven't quite reached the figure on a national average, but we are getting close. The Health Information Foundation reported recently that the national average is now 43 beds for every 1,000 persons. This represents an increase of 30 per cent over the 1948 ratio of only 33 beds.

Back in 1948, there were 28 states below the then national average of 33 beds and 29 states were under the accepted standard. As of last year, 31 states were below the new national average and only 28 were under the 43 beds.

What does all this mean to you? Well, if you live in the Mountain States, for example, you have a better chance of getting into a hospital on any particular date than you would if you lived in the East South Central states. The Mountain states have 4.9 general hospital beds for every 1,000 residents. In the East Central states, the ratio is only 3.3.

Utah and Mississippi have the lowest hospital beds, a 2.1 ratio. The West North Central area has 4.6 beds; the Middle Atlantic, 4.3; the Pacific, 4.2; New England, 4.2; East North Central, 4.1; South Atlantic, 4.1; and the West South Central, 4.1.

As the Foundation points out, not only can cause delays in admitting patients, but it may even make a certain number of admissions impossible, thus lowering the effectiveness of hospital care in the community.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

R. L.: My husband, who is 71 years old, sleeps most of the day. What can be the cause of this?

Answer: There are many causes for excessive sleepiness. It may be due to constipation, but this is not a very common cause. Lack of outdoor exercise and taking the wrong diet, too much alcohol and worry may cause it. A circulatory disturbance and thyroid deficiency are other causes.

Your husband is in need of a thorough physical examination to determine the cause of his difficulty.

Soviet Russia seems to be carrying out a big military build-up in the Communist satellite countries of Eastern Europe.

The build-up is reported to include the construction of rocket and guided-missile bases in Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Poland and possibly Hungary.

The superhighway — Autobahn — which extends across East Germany is being improved so that parts of it will serve as landing strips for jet fighter planes, according to one report.

Troop Build-up Reported

Russian troop reinforcements are said to be moving into some of the countries concerned. In others, according to dispatches from West Germany, garrison troops are being replaced by fresh units from Russia, which would be more trustworthy in event of trouble.

face, if war came, from the bases the United States and its allies maintain in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries.

Fear German Uprising

Further, though Communist-led East Germany seems to be quiet and tough "Stalinist" leaders are in control there, the Russians seem to fear the possibility that an uprising might break out there at any time.

It must be remembered, too, that the satellite countries have become economic liabilities since the Polish and Hungarian revolts, and that they are likely to remain so.

Hence it may be that the reported build-up of military strength and striking power in the satellite countries is largely defensive.

It may be also that the recent optimism over the possibility that a start may be made toward disarmament is justified.

That would mean that the Soviet government is ready at last to agree to limited aerial inspection of military facilities.

GOP Claims Labor Vote Gain

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The Republican Party is claiming across-the-board gains among labor voters but is not yet confident it can hang on to this increased labor support in the big cities.

This is one of the major conclusions reached in GOP headquarters from results of the 1954 elections which have been studied with an eye toward 1956 and 1960. Republican findings agree in part and disagree in part with conclusions of the labor movement's political agents who worked mostly for Democratic candidates.

Absenteeism Hurt Aisl

Both groups agree that Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, was hurt in labor precincts by stay-at-home voters who marked their ballots for him four years earlier. There is also agreement that the greatest labor vote gain for Republicans came from Negro voters.

There is disagreement, however, on a point which will be all-important in the congressional elections next year when the magic name of Eisenhower will not be on the ballot.

APL-CIO political analysts found little relation between votes cast for president and balloting for members of Congress. They said the congressional vote stuck more closely to traditional party patterns.

The GOP concluded, in contrast, that its candidates generally made a stronger showing in labor wards than in the past and that this finding applied to congressional candidates as well as to Eisenhower.

Congressional Demos Favored

Democrats did, nevertheless, retain control of both houses of Congress in the face of the Eisenhower landslide. As of now they rate as favorites to hold on to their majority in the 1958 elections.

Another Republican conclusion is that labor has offered inflated claims for its contribution to the improved Democratic showing west of the Mississippi River. The GOP did concede, however, that labor political influence is most effective in areas where a high percentage of the working population is organized in unions.

For this reason the Republican Party can be expected to concentrate on strengthening its own labor arms in such areas.

Bomber Production To Remain Same

WASHINGTON — The Air Force has announced that it will hold B52 heavy bomber production at the present rate of 15 a month instead of expanding to the 20-a-month goal given Congress last year.

The service said the total number of the H-bombers, to be produced in 1957, will be stretched out an extra six months.

The planned production of eight jet B52s is now 603. The stretchout will keep production going longer and thus make a "favorable" situation for the Air Force and the Boeing Airplane Co. if it is decided later to buy more.

Under congressional pressure resulting from concern about Russian air power progress, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson increased the B52 production goal to 30 planes a month last year.

Later, the Pentagon learned that it had overestimated the number of B52 jet bombers Russia had produced. The Reds actually possessed, it is now known, probably no more than 50 and had no expectation of overruling U.S. production of the B52 for some years.

Living Costs Again Reach New High

WASHINGTON — The government reported that the cost of living reached a new record for the seventh straight month in March.

The government also reported that the purchasing power of the average factory worker's pay check declined for the second month in a row. The decline wiped out gains made in buying power since March 1956.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics price index rose two-tenths of one per cent between February and March to 118.9 per cent of average 1947-1949 prices. The index was 37 per cent higher than a year ago.

The rise means a three-cent hourly pay raise for nearly one million railroad workers on May 1 under semi-annual wage escalation provisions in their wage contracts. Another 400,000 workers scattered through the aircraft, electrical, and a variety of other industries also will get some pay raises.

The BLS reported that average weekly take-home pay, earnings after federal taxes, for factory workers declined by more than 30 cents, reflecting a drop in the average work week.

The average factory take-home pay in March for a worker with three dependents was $74.85 a week.

The decline in take-home pay and the rise in the cost of living combined to drop buying power of the average factory worker to slightly lower than a year ago. The BLS said it was the first time in more than 2½ years that the monthly buying power figure showed no increase over the previous year.

BLS reported that food prices declined four-tenths of one per cent in March, mainly for eggs and pork. Increases for all other major groups of goods and services more than offset the decline.

Price increases were reported for rents, dry cleaning and laundry services, water rates, mortgage interest rates, home maintenance costs, clothing, used cars, gasoline and motor oil.

Conring The News

BY VIRGINIA CONN

This has certainly been a lively weekend in Sanford, as far as parties were concerned, and also plenty of good ways to try water skiing, and swimming at Eau Claire Springs. John and Harriet Williams, my across the street neighbors, went to Miami for the weekend and were talking of going to Cuba.

Pinecrest P-T-A Hear Reports Thursday Eve.

There was not a dull moment at the meeting of the Pinecrest P-T-A Thursday evening, as the hour and a half spent was taken up with a varied series of interesting reports in several fields.

First in order of events was the report by Rayburn Milwee, Superintendent of Schools, to the parents of this year's Junior students of the proposed move to the temporary quarters in the old school building, recently used as a kindergarten, for the next school year. Mr. Milwee assured parents that, barring unfavorable reports, this necessity for use of the old building would only be for one year, as plans are now fairly certain that the 1958-1959 school year will see the erection of the new Senior High School. This will make available a Junior High with grades 7 through 9 at the present Senior High building. Moving to the new location with the present Pinecrest Junior High group will be their Advisor, Mr. John Angel and most of the present staff of Junior High teachers. Mr. Milwee invited parents of the children affected by the move to visit him in his office with questions they may have concerning their child's transportation of the move.

Following Mr. Milwee and the secretary and treasurer's report, an award was presented to Mrs. Richard Elam, president, from the State Federation of Garden Clubs, for the outstanding work which had been done by the P-T-A Beautification Committee, headed by Mrs. Fred Ganax, in improving the Pinecrest School grounds in the past year. A check for twenty-five dollars and a certificate were presented by Mrs. Frank Woodruff III.

The report of the nominating committee of their list of nominees for P-T-A officers for the coming year was read. It was moved and seconded that the slate chosen by the committee be accepted by unanimous acclamation. The assembly gave their consent and the following officers were introduced: president, Mrs. Michael Caolo, vice-president, Mrs. S. A. Tidwell, recording secretary, Mrs. Catherine Pearce, corresponding secretary, Mrs. B. L. Westbrook, treasurer, Mr. V. J. Hobbs, historian, Mr. John Carlton.

A recommendation was read from the Executive Board, that a vote of commendation be given the outstanding work they have done and are doing, in providing athletics for the Pinecrest children. Also a vote of moral support to the men and women who are giving their time and effort every afternoon, and to the sponsors who have contributed financially to this most worthwhile project, with special thanks to Mrs. Michael Caolo, organizer, and Mr. John Angel, supervisor.

Mr. Angel also added his thanks and appreciation for the coaches who for the most part are Navy men, several of whom do not even have children of their own, but who are vitally interested in the welfare and health of young people. He then gave a summary of the activities of the baseball players and the games played so far.

Mr. Michael Caolo, brought before the assembled parents, with the aid of a blackboard, the report and findings of the Kellogg Questionnaire, which was sent home to some 200 parents several weeks ago. It was found that about 85% of the parents answered the questions favorably. The work the teachers are doing, the attention given the children, the interest shown by the principal and teachers, the school lunch room service, the amount of learning instilled in the children in class room work, and other fields of learning were reported very favorably or favorably. By far the largest percentage of the parents felt that the school teachers and principal and other school workers, were doing an excellent job of teaching their children and in caring for their needs, morally, mentally and emotionally. Special emphasis was placed by almost all parents on the friendliness of the school personnel, and their cooperation in promoting the best interest of the children in their care.

Mrs. Margaret Reynolds, principal, thanked the parents for their excellent response and for their confidence and promised that every effort would be made to improve where it was indicated there was room for improvement. She also announced some of the coming events of the school.

May 13, there will be a school wide Science Fair, to be on exhibit in the school library. On May 7 there will be pre-registration of next year's first graders. On May 10 at 8 p. m., Mrs. Lucille Campbell's sixth grade will present their annual play which this year will be Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

The meeting was adjourned to the cafeteria where soft drinks and sandwiches were served by the parents of the children of the third grades.

Thursday night, a visiting bachelor (temporary, his wife is in Washington) gave one of the most delightful cocktail parties I have ever attended. Captain Bush Brinkley, nicknamed the C.O.I. Commodore, by his many friends here, will soon take over command of HAWTING TWO on the west coast. Bush has been attending HATU here in Sanford, and picking up information on every phase of HAWY Attack. His wife and two children are still in Washington awaiting orders to move, and we hope the next time the whole Brinkley family will be able to come to Sanford, for rarely does one meet a man with the charm of her husband, and the must be equally delightful.

Back to the cocktail party. It was held in the TV room at the B.O.Q. The beautiful flowers were a gorgeous collection of roses, carnations, glads, and other pretties. Shrimp, slices of turkey, and cheese dip covered the table—I guess we just couldn't get over the fact that all this was arranged by a MAN—you know, one of those helpless bumpkins who can't find his socks and thinks that all dinners come ready made from the freezer. Attending the party were Ted Doolen, Jim and Betty Guy, Jean and Cy Fitton, John and Jean Doolley, Bill and Betty Lemus, Donnell and Tom Killeier, Jean and Hill Stinson, Graeciana Hill, Ed and Lou Johnson, Lew Millsaps, Louise and Jim Parker, Anita and Bob Hadden, Jean and Carl Tvefeldt, Rosemary and Cliff Duncan, Ruth and Forrest Norvell, Jane and Johnny Miller, Tom Blackburn, Carl and Joanna England, Evie and Bob Williams, Betty and Doc Linker, Hank and Marge Lynch, and Bob and Ginny Conn.

Think everyone who went will agree that the dance at the BOQ was a great success—and for those fans of Jack Smith—he did have a candle on his cake, and received salutations from innumerable beautiful women. His statement when asked about the party — "It's fabulous. They shouldn't have done it for me—I am truly touched, and I hope that Eisenhower doesn't cut the budget next year, as the club can have even a bigger party for me." The occasion of course was Jack's fourth birthday.

Louise Parker looked divine with flowers in her hair—Ben King is now out of the navy, but not worried as long as Kay keeps reaching. Abe Fenney shot a 74 at the Mayfair Country Club. This is worth shouting about. And he three palled at least three greens, which makes it even more amazing.

Jolly and Don Brubaker decided to warm up the patio (the same that I disgusted with foliage), so Saturday night a small group took their steaks to the Brubaker's mansion on Mellenville, and spent the evening admiring the patio and looking out for some warm comet that was supposed to show up, but never did. The hostess was crowned in a long skirt with Indian sunbursts on it, and looked very glamorous. Enjoying this were Arin and John Bear, Jean Fitton, Peggy and Ed Brown, Margaret and Bill Hendrick, Spook Hook, Tom Blackburn, Charlie and Katherine Park and the Conns.

Annual Spring Dance Held Friday At The NAS BOQ

BY VIRGINIA CONN
The Annual Spring dinner dance put on by the Officers Wives Club of the Sanford Naval Air Station took place last Friday night at the B. O. Q. An estimated crowd of one hundred and seventy-five partook of the buffet dinner, and danced to the music of the Starlighters.

The rooms were beautifully decorated by members of the O. W. C. The theme was a "Tropical evening." The lobby and bar were transformed with swaying palm trees, in which nestled numerous brightly colored birds. Around the walls, heron, flamingo, and pelican flew or perched among palm-trees. The tables in the dining room were gay with hibiscus and greenery. The hibiscus varied in hues from one table to another, some white, red, yellow, salmon or pink. The walls of the dining room were graced with pink flamingoes, and more palms.

Fashions of spring and the coming summer were on parade Friday night, and it was obvious that many had been shopping. One of the most striking dresses was seen on Betty Mountcastle. It was of bright red plique with a large white collar in a princess line, full skirt, and double breast-er. Kay Dwyer was an eye-catcher in a multistriped shirt waist. This popular style is being seen frequently now in cocktail clothes. Spook Hook wore a beige silk and linen costume of sheath and duster. The slim sheath was belted with a cummerbund of yellow polka dotted silk, and the duster was lined in the same. On the coat she wore three jeweled butterfly.

A soft white summer cotton printed with tiny blue rosebuds was the choice of Judy Smith. A matching sweater completed her costume, which is as young and gay as her personality.

Terry Price wore a blue, rhinestone studded sleeveless dress with a chiffon skirt, that was very floaty and lovely for dancing. Evie Williams held all eyes in her white, low cut cotton, with tiny straps over the shoulder, and a full skirt. Beautiful white cotton lace in a small pattern was most becoming to Bea Hamrick. The neck was high and the bodice fitted-flared skirt. Printed poodles ran riot over Jean Stetska's lavender trimmed silk dress with an off the shoulder line. Pink polished cotton set off Lee Cunningham's fabulous tan. This dress had a square neck, puffed sleeves and a self belt to cinch the waist of the full skirt.

Dancing continued throughout the evening to the excellent music of the Starlighters, who, incidentally were all garbed in identical lacy dinner jackets. It was probably the most successful dinner party and dance ever held at the B. O. Q.

Attending from the HAWTING staff were Bill and Betty Lemus, Dave and Pat Todd, Louise and Jim Parker, Tom Blackburn, Bets and Doc Linker, and Marge and Er. Stan and Peggy Tugwell, Leo Hill, Bill Stemper.

From the Station John and Mary Gobel, Gordon and Arlene Bak and Dave Cunningham, Corinne and R. D. George, A. D. and Jerral Hausperger, Keith and Mary Muntz, Lee and Bea Hamrick, Mary and Joe McGuire, John and Barbara Borton, and Jane and Jean Polls.

Turning out for VAH-7 were Hersch and Katie Cummings, Dink Cleveland, Kay and Pat Dwyer, Ernie and Gene Fritz, Gretchen Hill, Ed and Lou Johnson, Terry Price, Olivia Simmons and guests, Thelma and Bob McMurray, and Terry Price's guests, Carol and VAH-9 came forth with Paul and Lois Grunder, Bob and Helen Panch, Shirley and Jim Ross,

JACKY FENWICK

Friday night, April 24, was the time for the "Shipwreck Dance" at the Chief's Club. From all reports, the turn-out was one of the best they've ever had. And at least half of those that attended came dressed for the occasion in everything from a sarong to old bathrobes and slippers. Contrary to my earlier information, the buffet was not served until 10:00 P.M. But no one seemed to mind and everyone had plenty to eat! They served hotdogs and rolls, (with appropriate relishes), potato salad, baked beans, chili, olives, pickles, celery, deviled eggs, etc. As part of the entertainment they had a "Country Store" moderated, (if that's the word you use!) by Chief Jack Hipps (A very good choice, as he is the one who calls the square dances each Monday night!) Among the gifts given out for the numbers he picked were some very "fancy" things!... such as a back-scratcher, a plumber's helper, a pair of mouse traps, an extra large pair of "blowers" and a little receptacle that would NOT be out of place in a baby's nursery! Ridiculous though they were, these articles were the reason for lots of fun and laughter. Understand that Mrs. Regina Norton won one of the door prizes, a ceramic dish. But the recipient of the bottle of "spirit" remains a mystery! They also had a "broom dance," which must have been quite a feat for the woman who came wrapped in an old chemise (spread, grabbed, no doubt, as the ship was going down. All in all, it was just about the best affair they've had in a long time, and many were heard to say, "Let's do it again soon!" When you start hearing that, you can be very sure that everyone had a good time!

Chris and Lloyd Rice really had a houseful last weekend!

The First Presbyterian Church will meet at the Church at 7 p. m. for recreation. The Mid-Week Bible Hour, the First Presbyterian Church will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. A. G. McInnis, at 7:30 p. m. The Chancel Choir of the First Presbyterian Church meets for rehearsal at the church at 7:30 p. m.

Seven week-end guests "dropped in" to see them! But all were very welcome, since they were Chris' brothers and sister, predominantly. First of all, there were her two brothers, Ronald and Flanders Pierre, from Barrow, Florida, who brought along a friend! Then her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bennett, and their two sons, Richard and Larry, showed up from Jacksonville! Almost forgot that they also brought another brother of Chris' with them, her brother Robert Pierre. Chris and Lloyd have a very nice home on Stevens Ave. but I've always thought that it was just normal since! Chris has been hiding the fact that it's really a hotel, or I'd certainly like to learn the secret of how to handle so many! It happens to me every winter, and even last summer, and I've yet to find the "magic formula"!!!

Had a little excitement practically in my back-yard, yesterday afternoon! The empty lot on the corner of Twentieth St. and Summerlin Ave. caught fire and we had quite a bit of confusion around here while it lasted. Never knew so many people stayed home on Sunday afternoon, but there weren't too many in evidence until the fire engine showed up!! I know there must be a good psychological reason why people always have to "chase" fire-engines, and it certainly held true for this one! Luckily for us, the wind was in a different direction, so we didn't even get the smoke. And luckily for everyone around here that the only thing that burned was the scrub palmetto and weeds, and the fire was confined to the vacant lot.

Don't forget that its Monday again, and another chance to go out to the Chief's Club for those square-dancing lessons! Yes, I'm still "plugging" the lessons, threats or no threats! Guess I was a little "hot-under-the-collar" the other day, and all my grating probably didn't make too much sense to a lot of people. But to those chiefs and their wives who have backed me up, so my sincere thanks. It's nice to know I'm not completely "black-balled"!!!

Baseball Coach Has Busy Week

Sanford Seminole baseball coach Dave Laude is looking for help this week with his most rushed week of the season. Besides attempting to work out a spring training schedule for the football team, he has found himself with a baseball game every day, and all but one of them here.

The five games take place one day every day beginning Monday afternoon when the Seminole B team plays host to Lyman's varsity in a game on the diamond across the street from S.H.S.

On Tuesday the Seminoles take to the road for a clash with Lakeview of Winter Garden in an afternoon game. On their scheduled prior meeting for the football team, he has found himself with a baseball game every day, and all but one of them here.

Wednesday night the Seminoles returned to Memorial Stadium to play a game with undefeated Winter Park. The Seminoles will be playing this game as a result of being rained out in the regular schedule.

Thursday afternoon the Seminole B team again faces Lyman's varsity across the street from the school.

And Friday night the Seminoles face Cocoa in Memorial Stadium. Laude will be a busy man this week.

Grammar School League Action

Mr. May's, Mrs. Routh's and Mrs. Grant's rooms took the highlight last week in the Sanford Grammar School Softball League action.

May's diamonders took advantage of a 10 hit lead and turned into a 16 run rout over Mrs. Grant's room while playing a full game and committing only two errors. Mrs. Grantman realized five runs out of three hits, but committed four errors. The final score: May 16, Grantman 5.

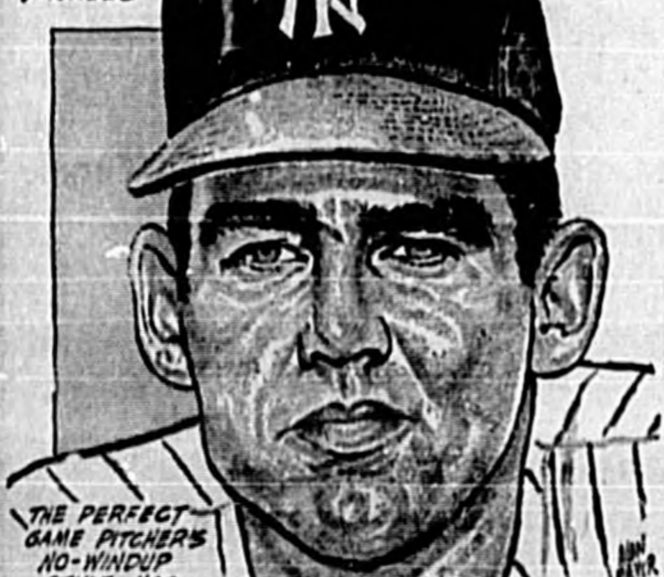

Mrs. Routh turned eight hits into 10 runs to defeat Wright 10-6 in a close game for the first few innings. Mrs. Wright's team met their downfall by committing six errors, while the Routh Bulldogs committed only two. The Wright team turned seven hits into six runs.

Mrs. Grant's team won over Mrs. Riser's by a score of 5-1 in a well played game. Both teams were guilty of committing only one error, but the Grant team rapped out six hits while Riser accounted for only two.

Golden Lake Day Camp Opens June 24

Fred Ganas announced this morning that his Golden Lake Summer Day Camp is now taking applications for the six week, five day a week season that starts June 24 and runs through August 2.

The Golden Lake Summer Day Camp, a joint effort of Bud Lauer and Ganas, is approaching its second season of successful operation.

The camp, which takes boys and girls ages six through 11, has a pick up service for the children at 8:30 a.m. and then transports them back home at 4 p.m. The children are insured and fed while at the camp.

The Camp boasts trained and experienced directors in the persons of Ganas and Lauer. Ganas received his Master's degree from New York University in the department of Physical Education and Recreation. While Lauer, a Stetson graduate, did his college work in Physical Education and Biology and stayed on the staff of Stetson University after graduation as coordinator of intramural activities.

Ganas said that both he and Lauer would give instructions in first aid and life saving to the youngsters and make the training, along with the swimming instructions, which were so successful last year, as a central part of the program.

He said that he would also have nature hikes and study as well as arts and crafts.

Arberry, said Ganas would be one of the sports and games that he would have the children participate in. "But the kids really love the boating and fishing," Ganas said, "and they should, because the fishing is good."

Last summer the camp averaged 35 children per week, and, according to Ganas, he is anticipating an increase to 50 children per week this year. Ganas said that his facilities would allow for 60 children without being crowded.

MRS. KIRBY W. FITE JR.

Adams-Fite Nuptials Held In Candlelight Ceremony Friday

Miss Claire Hemmerle Adams became the bride of Kirby Wilson Fite Jr., in a candlelight, double ring ceremony performed Friday evening at the First Presbyterian Church. Miss Adams is the daughter of Mrs. Esther C. Lundblad of Orlando and Joseph Hemmerle of Sanford and Mr. Fite is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kirby W. Fite Sr.

The Rev. Angus G. McInnis officiated before an altar banked with baskets of pink gladioli and Queen Ann's lace. Candelabra placed between potted palms and arrangements of fern held pink tapers.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a ballerina length gown of white chantilly lace over taffeta, with fitted bodice and bouffant tiered skirt of net over taffeta. A short pale blue veil covered a bandeau of blue flowers. The center of her colonial bouquet featured a large white orchid.

Matron of honor and only attendant was Mrs. Donald Flamm, step-sister of the bride. She was gowned in perfection pink taffeta appliqued with lace. The ballerina length gown was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and cuffed sleeves. A matching bandeau of pink flowers and a colonial bouquet completed the ensemble.

Serving as bestman was Mac N. Cleveland Jr. Groomsmen included Bill Fleming, Harry Lee Jr. and brothers-in-law of the groom, George F. Bohman and Walter Swale.

Traditional wedding music played softly throughout the ceremony by organist, Mrs. Mary Ross Anderson. She accompanied Mrs. Jack Hurst as she sang "Whether Thou Goest" and "Wedding Serenade".

Mrs. Lundblad chose for her daughter's wedding a navy blue linen dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Fite was attired in a dusty rose lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of sweet-heart roses.

Immediately after the wedding a reception was held in the church annex. Pink and white gladioli, Queen Ann's lace and fern decorated the room and provided the background for the beautifully arranged bride's table.

The three tiered wedding cake was placed between lighted pink tapers and a crystal serving piece.

As the couple left for a trip to the East coast the new Mrs. Fite was wearing a white pique dress trimmed in lace with white accessories. The outfit was accented by a sea green organza stole and a white orchid corsage.

Miss Adams was graduated from Orlando High school and attended the University of Florida. She has been employed for the past six and a half years by the Southern Bell Telephone Company as a draftsman.

Mr. Fite was graduated from

Miss Myrtle Wilson Commends Local Home Demo Ladies

The thirty-nine local leaders of the seven home demonstration groups in Seminole County were commended today by Miss Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent, for unselfishly offering their time and talents, to bring the women of the county, information and new techniques, which are making household tasks lighter and home more pleasant.

Recognition of the contribution local leaders are making to home and community development comes at this particular time as members of Seminole county home demonstration groups are observing National Home Demonstration Week April through May 4.

Local leaders act as teachers within each group, bringing up-to-date information and recommending practices on different phases of homemaking, such as food preparation, home furnishings and clothing. They are trained by Miss Wilson before presenting demonstrations to community groups. Since there are now two hundred and fifty five women who are members of home demonstration clubs in Seminole county it is possible for the home demonstration agent to carry on her work effectively with the groups because of the cooperation of local women.

Local leaders in Seminole county are: Mrs. Barney Guthaus, Mrs. Steve Mithler, Mrs. Margaret Tindel, Mrs. J. W. Yarborough, Mrs. R. H. Kretser, Mrs. Jack Stewart, Mrs. Fred Vouta, Mrs. Martin Hansen, Mrs. Hugh Braddy, Mrs. Olin Boutwell, Mrs. Carl Moss, Mrs. Rose Kahir, Mrs. J. M. HOW TO MAKE YOUR POINSETTIA LAST

FARGO, N. D.—The colorful poinsettia that you received this winter can be kept through the year, according to Don Hoag, North Dakota Agricultural College horticulturist.

The poinsettia is native to the sub-tropics and doesn't take kindly to winter weather. Hoag pointed out a few cold drafts will curl the big red leaves and results will be just as disastrous if the plant is placed in front of a hot air register. The plant thrives best under average temperatures of 65 degrees. The horticulturist said the poinsettia will bloom for several weeks if given plenty of water.

But keeping it through the year is a little tricky, he admitted. Put the plant in a dry place where it won't freeze, and allow the soil to dry up gradually.

In May, cut the stem back about two-thirds, wash the old soil from the roots, and re-plant in fresh soil. Softwood cuttings taken in July and rooted will, with luck, give blooms for next Christmas.

U.S. Families on the average spend more money for dairy products than for any other group of foods other than meat.

During the past three years 64 per cent of North Dakota's corn acreage has been used for silage or fodder.

Harvard College dates from 1636.

Bobby Little Honored Sunday At Graduation Buffet Supper

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kratzers, Evie Marie and Rose honored Bobby Little, a graduating senior and approximately 18 of his classmates Sunday evening with a buffet supper at their home on 2400 South Park Ave. The house was decorated throughout with the class colors of maroon and white gladioli and roses. A beautiful arrangement of snapdragons and roses were placed between platters heaped with turkey and ham and all the trimmings. Lighted maroon tapers were also placed on the white madras cloth and added to the festive mood of the supper. Enjoying the evening were: Brantley Schirard, Linda Smith, Meridith Scott, Nancy Cushing, Dotie Metts, Terry Goemmel, Little and Carol Nutt.

Here's a tasty twist to chicken salad. To 1 cup of cooked, chopped chicken, add 1/2 cup each of crumbled, crisp bacon and diced western-grown celery. Toss with cooked salad dressing. Serve it in a red tomato cup, or a cooked artichoke, from which the choke has been removed.

Serving split pea soup for lunch or supper? Add 1 to 2 tablespoons of California sherry per serving and garnish the soup with bacon croutons. Make the croutons by cutting cubes of bread, and sauteeing them to a golden brown in bacon drippings.

To prevent sheets from catching and tearing on bed-springs stick adhesive tape around the corners of the springs and where ever there are sharp projections.

Knowland Expects Congress Will Trim $3 Billion From Budget

Top News

In Brief

WASHINGTON — The United States has informed its European allies it plans to maintain its present military strength in Germany but only if this constitutes a "fair share" of allied might.

NASHVILLE — The Tennessee Municipal League will be asked to seek a congressional investigation into charges that "boy-cotts" are being used to prevent electrical firms from locating in the Tennessee Valley. Herbert L. Bingham, executive secretary of the TML, told the United Press that only a congressional investigation could bring out "the whole story."

ROME — United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld discussed the threat of war in the Middle East with Pope Pius XII today in a 45-minute private papal audience. The audience was one of the longest the Pope has accorded a visiting dignitary in recent years.

No Outside Help Needed To Get Birth Certificate

"It only costs one dollar, and you don't need any outside help to get a certified copy of a birth certificate."

So said Everett H. Williams, Director of the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Florida State Board of Health, in commenting recently on the efforts of an out-of-state organization to sell genuine Florida birth certificates for two dollars to unscrupulous persons.

Williams said it had come to his attention that a group using an official sounding, though not official, address in Washington, D.C., is calling names of parents of new-born babies from the newspapers, and sending them an official looking application form, instructing them in curt terms to return the application with a two dollar fee within five days to the Washington address. The firm then sends one dollar of the fee to the bureau of vital statistics in the state where the baby is born, with an official application for a birth certificate, which the state then sends to the parents.

It is not believed that any law or postal regulation actually has been broken, since the parents do receive what they applied for, a birth certificate for the child. Williams went on to point out, however, that such applicants are just wasting a dollar, since only one dollar is required for a birth certificate in the state of Florida.

Unknown Object Seen Striking Over Channel

LONDON — A Royal Air Force radar station Monday night spotted an "unidentified object" streaking over the English Channel so swiftly that two of Britain's fastest jet fighters could not intercept it.

It was the second unexplained sighting in three weeks. A London newspaper suggested the object might be a new type Russian bomber.

The Air Ministry announced today only that "one of our radar screens" sighted the object "traveling due west near St. Margarets Bay, about 70 miles southeast of London at the bottleneck leading from the North Sea into the English Channel."

Two Javelin fighters were dispatched from Odiham RAF base to investigate but did not make contact," the announcement said.

Odiham is a major British fighter base halfway between London and Southampton and lies 103 miles northwest of the reported sighting area. The twin-jet Javelins mentioned are capable of well over 700 miles an hour.

Rotarians Hear Interesting Talk On Air Jet Noises

Sanford Rotarians were briefed on the problems and effects of air jet noises at their regular weekly meeting yesterday noon by Dr. Gordon K. Becker, a flight surgeon attached to Heavy Attack Wing One at the Sanford Naval Air Station. Dr. Becker, in a talk that was said to be "interesting, informative and understandable by any civilian" according to Dr. Charles L. Persons, president of the local club, mentioned the three primary sources of noise incident to jet aircraft engines; that occurring at the intake at the front of the engine; the increase in noise in the housing where the compressor blades mix with the fuel and burn off, and, finally, at the rear of the engine when the exhaust, a high velocity stream of air, bounces through the atmosphere at supersonic speed.

Using a blackboard to diagram his talk, Dr. Becker held the interest of his hearers and explained in detail the methods employed in preventing hearing damage to the men working with the jet engines. He showed small ear plugs and a helmet which he stated had proven very helpful in keeping down "hearing loss". In a question and answer period at the close of his talk, one of his listeners asked if the Navy would sell the ear plugs at cost to local citizens, the doctor's answer was lost in a burst of laughter.

The speaker was presented by Charlie Morrison, program chairman for the day. Morrison, with Harry Kudell at the piano, led the club singing. Gordon Bradley offered the invocation.

Water Dispute Topic Of Fringe Area Meet

The city's much-discussed agreement, which most fringe area residents who have been connected to city water have signed, was one of the principal subjects of discussion at last night's meeting of the Sanford Fringe Area Taxpayers Association. It was brought out by several residents of South Pinecrest Area who attended the meeting that their friends and neighbors, "were all afraid to attend the meetings or take any part in the new organization because of this agreement which they have signed, which state that their water and sewer services may be cut off if they take any steps opposing annexation."

Chester H. Miller, temporary president of the association, answered this, and stated that he had investigated this matter and find that this agreement is not legal and that it is not enforceable, and to sign back up this contention, a number of photostatic copies of a letter from Representative Gordon Frederick were circulated, which state as follows:

"As to agreements between the City and other persons concerning coming into the City, it is my opinion that these agreements are NOT enforceable. If the people still want to come into the city, they can join in the petition for annexation. They CANNOT be subjected to this, and the city MUST have no majority signed before annexation can be carried out."

Miller pointed out that attending the meetings and taking part in the discussions does not necessarily mean that the persons involved are doing anything to actively oppose annexation, and that the committee hopes that more people from South Pinecrest and other areas who have signed this agreement will come out and help to discuss this question from all angles.

Last night's meeting, held in the Pinecrest School auditorium was well attended by a group of enthusiastic people. It was conducted by Miller, as temporary president. Mrs. Edna L. Heehler, a secretary read the minutes, and two letters from city officials pertaining to the question of city finances and the recent city release, and also gave a brief talk outlining the annexation question from its beginning in 1935, and telling the manner of city assessment, what the benefits of coming into the city will be, what the costs of coming in will be. She also corrected some points the association had made in a recent printed release, and read a letter of correction by Knowles of the city's recent release distributed in the fringe areas. Also included was a report of recent conference with Knowles regarding the annexation question.

Questions from the floor were answered regarding the city taxes, benefits, and other matters. In reply to a question by C. C. McWaters and to whether the association would support citizens from the West Side of Sanford who are opposed to annexation, the answer was a resounding "Yes". It was pointed out that the association (Continued on Page 8)

Missile Veers Off Course; Destroyed

WASHINGTON — The Army Jupiter missile, given its second test last Friday, veered off course and had to be destroyed over the Atlantic.

The big missile—designed to have a 1,500 mile range—was fired while Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson looked on at the Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., testing center.

Pentagon sources disclosed Monday night that the Jupiter roared to an altitude of about 16 miles and began to tilt from a vertical toward a horizontal position. They said it was destroyed because it might have fallen into the Atlantic about 40 miles from the launching point.

The Army Jupiter is in competition with the Air Force Thor to become this country's intermediate range ballistic missile.

New Church To Be Dedicated Sunday

Slavia-St. Luke's Lutheran congregation will celebrate the dedication of its new enlarged church and new furniture and appointments next Sunday, May 5, at a special service 2:30 p.m. The guest preachers for the afternoon service are the Rev. A. J. Besaliski of Orlando and the Rev. Paul Stanko of Lakewood, O. Following the afternoon service refreshments will be served on the church's picnic grounds.

Pastor Stephen M. Tuhy has served St. Luke's congregation since April 1934. It was in 1939 that the first brick church was built and furnished. With the increase in membership it was necessary to enlarge the church to almost three times its original size. The new church is now built in the shape of a cross with, one of its wings housing the church offices, radio broadcasting room, organ room, and uhlers work room. The church proper has been furnished with all new white oak pews, altar, pulpit, lectern and other church furnishings. A new electric organ with three speaking chambers has also been installed.

Pastor Tuhy and the church choir have been diligently preparing for this festival occasion. All Lutheran Churches in the area of central Florida have been extended invitations in participating in this service and the public is given a general invitation and a "hearty" welcome to attend.

Force Is With 6th Fleet

By United Press Staff Correspondent

A force of 1,000 Marines of the U.S. 6th Fleet landed today in Beirut, Lebanon, on shore leave that pointed up American declarations that the United States could put troops into the strait of Jordan within a few days if necessary.

United Press Correspondent Larry Collins, with the 6th Fleet, radioed the men had been put ashore as part of the American move to show the flag in the troubled Middle East. Vice Adm. Charles R. Cat Brown said the action was carried out under orders from "higher up."

The landing was a friendly one—the Marines were merely paying a visit—but they were an important part of the 1,800-man Marine landing force who entered the eastern part of the Mediterranean this week with powerful carriers.

The Marines reached Beirut a few hours after Army Secretary Wilbur M. Brucker said the United States could move troops into Jordan in a "matter of days-not weeks or months."

Lebanon is only a few miles from Jordan, but is separated from Jordan by Syria and Israel.

Brucker, speaking on a television program last night, said "emphatically yes" when asked if he thinks President Eisenhower is ready to invoke his Middle East military "shield" doctrine to deter Communist aggression in the Middle East.

No Answer on Loan

Jordan last night withheld temporarily its answer to a U.S. offer of $10 million dollars in aid. It rejected Soviet charges the U.S. is interfering in Jordan's affairs.

It was considered possible King Hussein himself might make known his decision at a news conference he called for later in the day.

The decision was complicated by the Soviet Foreign Ministry's declaration Monday night that "imperialist intrigues" is trying to deprive Jordan's people of their independence "by rendering promises of financial and other help."

The Soviet declaration singled out the United States, Iraq and Israel.

Senator McCarthy Reported Improved

WASHINGTON — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy was reported "somewhat improved" today in his battle with serious illness at Bethesda Naval Hospital.

A hospital spokesman said the 47-year-old Wisconsin Republican was "seriously ill" with acute hepatitis—an inflammation of the liver.

However, McCarthy's condition was reported "slightly improved" Monday afternoon, and his attractive wife Jean said Monday night after visiting him that he "seemed to feel better" and was resting comfortably.

She said the hospital's commander, Capt. E. C. Kenny, reported he was "quite pleased with the progress" McCarthy is making.

Lions Club Guest Speaker Relates Progress At FSU

The Sanford Lions Club heard about "Florida State University and Civic Progress" last night when a Journalism major, Martin Dyckman, a senior at FSU was principal speaker at the club's last night meeting.

Dyckman, representing the student government, broke down the curricula in the various departments and gave a brief history of FSU. "It was first a girls school," he said, "which became coed in 1947.

"This year Florida State University will graduate close to a thousand students who will receive various degrees from Bachelor to Doctor," he said. There are a number of Foreign Students at FSU.

"The way the school has grown in 10 years leads me to think that it has actually grown too fast and as a result there is a lack of esprit d'corps, a school spirit," he said.

Southern Texas In Grave Danger From Floodwaters

DALLAS, Tex. — Floodwaters churned down at least 11 major rivers today. Their fury was concentrated on the southern part of Texas and reached into Louisiana.

Texas' violent weather has claimed 17 lives in 11 days. President Eisenhower has declared the huge sector of Texas racked by floods a major disaster area.

Besides the floodwaters, a new flurry of tornadoes that have accompanied the flood-spawning rains, flicked over a wide area of Texas Monday.

Wharton and Bay City, about 45 miles from Houston near the Gulf of Mexico, were in grave danger today from the swollen Colorado River. Major overflowing was expected in the lowlands around the two cities, late today.

Levee May Overflow

A levee protects Bay City, but it would overflow at 44 feet. The Colorado was expected to crest there at from 43 to 45 feet today.

President Eisenhower wired Gov. Price Daniel Monday expressing his "deep concern" with the "hardship and suffering" caused by the floods.

Daniel had requested federal aid. The declaration of Texas as a major disaster area will enable the allocation of federal funds to the stricken areas. The President did not mention the amount of money which would be forthcoming.

Water Dispute Topic Of Fringe Area Meet

The city's much-discussed agreement, which most fringe area residents who have been connected to city water have signed, was one of the principal subjects of discussion at last night's meeting of the Sanford Fringe Area Taxpayers Association. It was brought out by several residents of South Pinecrest Area who attended the meeting that their friends and neighbors, "were all afraid to attend the meetings or take any part in the new organization because of this agreement which they have signed, which state that their water and sewer services may be cut off if they take any steps opposing annexation."

Chester H. Miller, temporary president of the association, answered this, and stated that he had investigated this matter and find that this agreement is not legal and that it is not enforceable, and to sign back up this contention, a number of photostatic copies of a letter from Representative Gordon Frederick were circulated, which state as follows:

"As to agreements between the City and other persons concerning coming into the City, it is my opinion that these agreements are NOT enforceable. If the people still want to come into the city, they can join in the petition for annexation. They CANNOT be subjected to this, and the city MUST have no majority signed before annexation can be carried out."

Miller pointed out that attending the meetings and taking part in the discussions does not necessarily mean that the persons involved are doing anything to actively oppose annexation, and that the committee hopes that more people from South Pinecrest and other areas who have signed this agreement will come out and help to discuss this question from all angles.

Last night's meeting, held in the Pinecrest School auditorium was well attended by a group of enthusiastic people. It was conducted by Miller, as temporary president. Mrs. Edna L. Heehler, a secretary read the minutes, and two letters from city officials pertaining to the question of city finances and the recent city release, and also gave a brief talk outlining the annexation question from its beginning in 1935, and telling the manner of city assessment, what the benefits of coming into the city will be, what the costs of coming in will be. She also corrected some points the association had made in a recent printed release, and read a letter of correction by Knowles of the city's recent release distributed in the fringe areas. Also included was a report of recent conference with Knowles regarding the annexation question.

Questions from the floor were answered regarding the city taxes, benefits, and other matters. In reply to a question by C. C. McWaters and to whether the association would support citizens from the West Side of Sanford who are opposed to annexation, the answer was a resounding "Yes". It was pointed out that the association (Continued on Page 8)
