TO REDUCE COST OF LIVING

Washington, D. C., April 2nd.—Another scheme for the reduction of the high cost of living was launched here today by D. C. Imboden, secretary of the National Co-operative Food Committee of No. 2519 Broadway, New York city. He hopes to accomplish a reduction of $100 a year in the cost of food supplies for every family.

Mr. Imboden outlined his ideas at a meeting of Washington women called by Mrs. Ellis Logan, president of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs.

This scheme contemplates the formation in this city of the country of a station for the distribution of foodstuffs, purchased directly from the manufacturer, thus eliminating the cost of the middleman. He would have at least one million families upon payment of $1 fee become members of an organization to do the buying in carload lots.

Lincoln's Own Testimony

Like all great men, Abraham Lincoln has been accused of almost everything. Judge Douglas thought on one occasion he would crush Lincoln by telling the audience he had been a bartender. In a plea and retort, Lincoln answered: "My friend, Judge Douglas has been proper to call attention to the fact that many years ago I had sold liquor over the counter. And I did, sure I did. But I can assure you that while I was busy on one side of the counter, my friend, Judge Douglas was equally busy on the other."

"Doctored" Soft Drinks

At a hearing before the Net Weight Committee, composed of members of the Board of Food and Drug Inspection, held at Washington, D. C., recently it developed that while the public recognizes ginger ale as a product having a spher color, it is in reality, about the color of water, minus the artificial coloring used. The manufacturers argue that, were they compelled to omit the coloring matter, it would be hard to get the public to drink ginger ale. A colorless root beer would meet the same fate, and yet it was admitted that practically all soda water is artificial.

When asked by Dr. Alsberg why it was necessary to add a soap bark preparation to this class of goods, the reply was made, that since they came in competition with beer, the nearness of appearance of beer can be simulated the better chance of selling; the soap water and "soft drinks." Soap bark is used to retain the gas in the carbonated beverages, as well as to give a foamy appearance. The hearing brought out the fact that soap bark had been used in the manufacture of soda water since 1874, and it was suggested that the foam-producing preparation is harmless, since the manufacturers had never heard of any person being harmed by the use of soda water, or other carbonated beverages. It was admitted that no investigations had ever been made to show the harmfulness of soap bark. But since millions of people continue to drink soda water, the manufacturers concluded that the adulterations of the trade was harmless.

Dr. Alsberg took a different view, however. He stated that when saponin (soap bark) is introduced into the blood, it is very poisonous, and the only reason it itself doesn't seem to be, is because when taken by way of the mouth it is slowly and slightly absorbed. It is a substance which must be looked upon with a good deal of suspicion, the use of which is not permitted in other countries than the United States, according to Dr. Alsberg. advt

MAKES MARRIAGE EASIER.

Bill in French Parliament Will, if Passed, Remove Much Red Tape. Paris.—A bill was presented in the senate which if passed will greatly modify the existing marriage regulations. At present the complicated legal papers required, time absorbed and fees charged tend to make marriage unpopular among the poor.

It is generally admitted that this condition is responsible for the enormous number of "free unions."

The new bill eliminates various formalities and tends to make matrimony easy in the twentieth century, when as the bill states, "one has less and less time to do anything, even to marry."

PLANS FOR THE BULKHEAD COUNCIL WILL ACT TODAY

VARIOUS FIRMS IN STATE SUBMITTED BIDS

SANFORD MEN ALSO BID

CONTRACT WILL BE LET TODAY AND WORK WILL START IN A FEW WEEKS

Bids were opened last night in the city council chamber for the bulkhead of Lake Monroe. A large crowd of citizens and competitive bidders were present as the bids were opened and read, for there has been nothing of such vital importance before the city in many years as that of the bulkhead.

On account of the fact that the bids were not uniform in their nature it was impossible to ascertain the lowest bidder without a careful canvass of the bids. Some of the bids were for the job as a whole while others were figured at so much per cubic yard for the filling and so much per foot for the wall, etc. For this reason the matter of letting the contract was deferred until this afternoon at 3 o'clock when the council will meet in special session and determine the best, after careful consideration and conference with the city engineer.

Other matters of lesser importance were taken up at the meeting last night relative to cleaning up the parkways and opening ditches in different outlying districts.

It is expected that the matter of the bulkhead will be settled before Friday's Herald and a complete report will be given at that time.

Sanford lodge of Elks held a most interesting meeting last Wednesday night, the occasion being the installation of the officers recently elected. Past Exalted Ruler E. W. Rowland, installed the officers, assisted by Exalted Ruler Cruse Barnes and the following new officers took their places:

- Exalted Ruler, R. H. Peck.
Esteemed Leading Knight, C. O. M. Laughlin.
Esteemed Loyal Knight, T. A. Neal.
Esteemed Lecturing Knight, J. F. Karnatz.
Treasurer, I. P. McCuller.
Secretary, O. L. Taylor.
Tyler, Edward Rowlett.
Trustee, S. Maxwell.
After Exalted Ruler has given his chair he announced the following appointments:

- Equipe, George A. DeCotes.
Chaplain, Rev. Arthur Peck.
Inner Guard, W. C. Hill.
Organist, O. J. Miller.
After the installation exercises the members assembled in the banquet room where a choice collation had been prepared and where they remained for half hour most pleasantly. The Sanford Elks are entering into a period of prosperity. They have just passed a year of great results under the guidance of Exalted Ruler Barnes and his able corps of officers and present the membership numbers about two hundred and each meeting night new members are adding to the list. The new building will be started in the summer months and will add much not only to the city but to the lodge.

Elks at Miami

Miami, Fla., April 6.—More than a thousand wearers of the antlers in the state are in annual convention here today, every lodge in the state sending a representative delegation to attend this year's session and from early indications it is expected that the three days' meet will be one of the most successful ever held by the "Best People on Earth." Miami Elks have spared no pains to entertain the visiting delegations in great style and the program of the convention calls for something interesting during every hour of the three days' stay of the visitors. Among the principal events to take place during the convention will be the Elks' parade Tuesday afternoon, which promises to be more than a mile in length.

Joe Reese in Town

Joe Hugh Reese, the versatile editor of the Orlando Sentinel, and one of the best newspaper men in the state, is in the city today on business.

Odd Fellows at Deland

A bunch of Sanford Odd Fellows went to Deland last night to demonstrate the work of putting a delegate through the paces. Among those who attended were Messrs. Ferguson, Wicker, Bruton, Malsch, Powell, Brannon, Blackwalder and several others.

Funeral of Capt. J. C. Higgins

The funeral of Capt. J. C. Higgins, late superintendent of the Jacksonville division of the Atlantic Coast Line occurred from the Catholic church last Sunday at two o'clock. The Sanford Lodge of Elks formed an honorary escort from the residence on Oak avenue to the church and the remains were accompanied by the pallbearers, comprised of the following friends of the deceased: Active, H. R. Stevens, W. H. Peters, A. P. Connelly, Forrest Lake, G. W. Spencer, J. T. Klausel, Jno. D. Jinks and D. G. Wagner. The honorary pallbearers were F. A. Mahoney, J. N. Whitner, M. O. Overstreet and M. M. Smith.

The church was filled to overflowing and many were obliged to wait on the outside until the services were over. The selected choir rendered several beautiful selections and Father Hresnanian then pronounced the eulogy, that held the audience to his very word as he painted the picture of the devoted life of the deceased as a church member, his generous yet firm conduct toward his employees, his business methods toward his employers and his active and progressive duties as a citizen of Sanford.

As his pastor and father, confessor, Father Bresnahan had been very close to Mr. Higgins during the past three years and his tributes to him spoken in feeling accents of a dear friend brought tears to the eyes of those who had gathered to honor him and the eulogium paid the deceased was true to the letter.

The remains were followed to the grave by a large concourse of friends and the beautiful rites of the Catholic church were observed at the grave. As the last shroud of earth was smoothed over the grave the beautiful floral tributes were placed upon it and they were the finest that had ever been seen in Sanford, attesting more than anything else the great love and esteem in which Mr. Higgins was held in life by his employers, employees and countless friends.

There were stands of purple white lilies and roses, pillows of Easter lilies and carnations and various designs of the Elks lodge. The grave was a bank of beautiful floral designs and the weeping skies sent the dews of heaven to keep them fresh upon the grave of one who had been the friend of mankind in his life and whose friends will keep his memory green while they live.

The funeral speaks but feebly of the life of the deceased. He was a man of great soul of nobility. But the greatest of all was he as a man. And as a man it is that which we know him best, most loved and most admired. He believed in the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. He believed that the way of his life was the way of duty. He believed in the value of friendship and in the value of the duty of friendship. It is the gloom of the churchyard that reveals to us more clearly the beauty of life. It is the broken ties at the grave that prompts us to a fuller appreciation of the tenderness of the ties that are not yet broken; and so while we mourn the loss of our dear one we may rejoice that there is no cloud so dark that there is no light behind it, no sorrow so poignant that there is not a balm for the wound it inflicts.

Dr. Lee's Lectures

Last Sunday, morning and evening at the Congregational church, Dr. Lee presented a most helpful method of Bible study which he is presenting, and many testified to the practical helpfulness which his principle affords. There are so many popular misconceptions concerning Bible study, that it is as an oasis in a desert to find a method which is most inspiring and trustworthy. The historical setting of the letter to Philemon and the book of Nehemiah was presented, and with this as a background one can understand and appreciate the message of the book much better. All are welcomed every night at 7:30, closing Friday of this week.

ALL ROADS LEAD TO SANFORD THIS WEEK CONVENTION WEEK

THREE CONVENTIONS MEET HERE IN FIVE DAYS

FUN STARTED YESTERDAY

MOVING PICTURE MEN OPENED THE BALL AND THE BAPTISTS WILL FINISH THE WEEK

Sanford is the premier convention city of the state and takes three prizes for having a "solid week of conventions." Yesterday the ball opened by the Moving Picture men of the state meeting here and they will hold over until today when the Eastern Stars will take their place and will bester the city from all sides. Thursday after the Eastern Stars have had their inning the Baptists Young Peoples Union will invade the city for two days convention.

The city will be in gala attire and everything done for the comfort and pleasure of our guests. The proverbial Sanford spirit will be demonstrated and the visitors of the various denominations will be given the keys of the city. If you want anything ask for it and it is yours right now.

The moving picture men held their first business session last night in order that all the members could be present. They came from the Keys at Key West to the peninsular and the state is well represented by some fifty of the principal moving picture managers of real fame. The "Movies" are taking the place of the dramas and it is canned drama and canned opera now and the people who give the movies are coming into their own, consequently they are rich and numerous and actually formed an organization to devote some means for spending their idle millions. Last year J. E. Karnatz of this city was present at their meeting in Tampa and induced them to hold their semi-annual meeting in this city. Since that time he has made enough to retire from the business but he still holds the same tender feeling toward the movie boys having been poor once himself and today he and O. P. Herndon are taking the members over the city and showing them the principal buildings, such as the Pico and the Stone-Grove Block and other fine pieces of ancient and modern statuary.

The moving picture men met here this year for a directors' meeting that for a regular business meeting, as there were many matters of importance to be considered by the directors and their employees. It is a fact that Sanford is a popular place for the members of the regular business meeting. The next meeting will be at Miami. The following members met in this city:

- G. Griffith, President of Tampa.
A. Lathrop, Secretary of Tampa.
W. K. Keeler, Vice President.
W. B. Beards, Louis Kalfeldt, Philadelph.
J. B. Barton, J. F. Karnatz, St. Paul.
O. J. Herndon, Sanford.
Mr. and Mrs. Kalfeldt of Palaska.
Karl Ketterer, West Palm Beach.
Alfred Tenno, St. Augustine.
L. R. Davis of Arcadia.
Mr. and Mrs. Wagner, Bradenton.
Rehan Myers and Chas. D. Kaine of Kissimmee.
Joe Kinner, Solihery, representative of Warner's Feature Film Co., Atlanta was present and ran several reel features which were highly appreciated by the members.

The following delegates to attend national convention at Dayton, Ohio, held in July were duly elected: Louis Kalfeldt, Karl Ketterer, Alfred Tenno, A. H. LaBelle, L. P. Davis.

Today the Eastern Star will begin their three days convention in this city and it promises to be one of the largest and best affairs in the history of that organization. The Jacksonville Times Union has the following regarding the convention:

"This city will have a large representation at the tenth annual meeting of the Grand Chapter of Florida, Order of Eastern Star, which will be convened at 10 a. m., Wednesday, in the Masonic temple in Sanford, and, as it marks the first decade in the history of the grand chapter, it is expected that this will be the largest attended annual meeting held thus far, many of the members of the order in this city already having been the order in this city already having stated their intention to be present and being engaged in their preparations for the event."

Prominent among those who will attend from this city will be Mrs. Cora R. Franz, past grand matron, and now right worthy associate grand conductress of the general grand chapter. Mrs. Franz, who stands very high in the order of Eastern Star, will be the guest of honor at this annual meeting.

While Jacksonville has been decided upon as the home of the grand chapter, the meeting is being held in Sanford this year in response to the wishes and request of the local members. (Continued on Page 3)

UNDERWOOD ELECTED

RECEPTION FOR MRS. MARSHALL

Fl. Myers Lodge Clubs Will Entertain During Press Meet

Nearly cooperation is to be given by the Club to the work of the committee on arrangements which is preparing for the meeting of the Florida Press Association. At a meeting of the club yesterday afternoon the plan of the arrangement committee to have a reception in honor of Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, wife of the vice president, was discussed and it was decided to lead a procession to her residence. At another meeting of the club to be held next Tuesday one of the members will be appointed to serve on a reception committee which will have the preparation of this function in charge. The plan is also to be held before the Women's Club and the Ladies' Friday Music Club at their next meeting, and it is expected that members from these organizations will be chosen to serve on the reception committee.

The Marshalls are to arrive in Fort Myers Thursday afternoon, April 23rd, and remain until the following morning. It has not yet been decided whether the reception will be in the afternoon or at night, but it is thought the more likely will be in the evening. Nothing has been decided whether the reception will be at a hotel or a private residence, but all details relative to the affair will be adjusted by the committee.

Besides honoring Mr. Marshall, it is intended that the reception shall be a social affair extended to the women of Ft. Myers in the afternoon. A dancing assembly will be held at the hotel and a social affair will be held in the way to the morning second half of the band who is to tarry in Ft. Myers for a brief season. Ft. Myers Press.

Widow's Man Dead

Pasadena, Feb. 4.—Frederick W. Weyerhaeuser, the well known lumberman of Pasadena, Minn., died yesterday. Mr. Weyerhaeuser was seventy-one years old. He had been ill several days with a severe cold.

Threatening symptoms developed several times during the course of death, but rallied, and yesterday appeared all but recovered.

The funeral will take place at Rock Island, Ill. Mr. Weyerhaeuser's old home. The amount of his fortune is not known, but many persons have estimated it to be second only to that of John D. Rockefeller.

Frederick W. Weyerhaeuser was born in a village near Mainz, Germany, Nov. 21, 1834. He emigrated to Erie County, Pennsylvania, when he was eighteen years old. With a brother-in-law, he obtained control of a small sawmill at Rock Island in the sixties, during boom times of the lumber industry along the Mississippi.

Will Meet in Quails

Preliminary arrangements are being made for the Florida state meeting of fruit growers which is to be held at Egmont May 20, under the auspices of the Florida Citrus Exchange. Although the meeting is called by the Exchange, which will have a large part in preparation of the program, it is to be devoted to the interests of the fruit growers of the state in general, and all are invited to participate in the discussions. Active preparation is in progress for the meeting at this early day because of the inauguration of plans, now perfected, by which representatives of the department of agriculture at Washington are to participate in the meeting. There will be lectures from the Bureau of Agriculture in attendance who will give the Florida growers the result of the latest experiments in the realm of the citrus fruit industry.

SECRET SESSIONS OF THE SENATE ATTACKED BY KENYON RESOLUTION

TIME HONORED CUSTOM IS TO BE ABOLISHED

MUST HAVE PUBLICITY

OTHER NEWS OF THE WORLD AT LARGE COMPILED FOR BUSY HERALD READERS

Washington, April 6.—Open war was declared in the United States senate today against the time honored rule of secrecy relating its proceedings in executive sessions. Following the defiance expressed by several senators in close sessions Friday against suppressing debate on the confirmation of Winthrop W. Daniels of New Jersey, as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, actual hostilities began when Senator Kenyon of Iowa, after a conference with those of his colleagues who are leading in the movement to lift the ban on publicity, introduced a resolution to provide for open sessions on all matters except treaties, unless otherwise directed by unanimous consent of the senate. The resolution proposing to amend the rules and which was referred to the Committee on Rules, reads: "Resolved, that it is the judgment of the Senate that all executive sessions shall hereafter be open to the public, except when treaties are considered or when the Senate, by unanimous consent, orders otherwise; and the Committee on Rules is directed to prepare amendments of the present rules, or both, as may be necessary to carry out the terms of this resolution and present the same to the senate for their adoption." It was submitted with the backing of Senators LaFollette, Cummins, Borah, Gronna, Clapp, Jones, Brewster, Norris and Pinchexter who proposed, as they gave notice Friday, to discuss freely executive sessions debates on the qualification of the nominees of public offices whenever they feel that the public should be informed regarding them. Even Senators who adhere to the most strict representation of the senate rules, admitted that the Senate could not punish members who disclose information relating to presidential appointments, or other matters of public administration. Republican Senators who have long cherished the dignity of "closed" proceedings, expressed the view today that the rule would be taken at this session of Congress at least. If Senators wish to make public disclosures concerning Presidential nominees, it was stated, they would be privileged to do so without embarrassing their peers.

FRANK GUILTY

Detective Burns May Clear Up The Atlanta Mystery

Chicago, April 6.—William J. Burns, the detective, declared late today that he knew who murdered Mrs. Frank, the Atlanta girl, for whose death the Atlanta coroner yesterday pronounced death was a mystery. Burns, who was in Atlanta today, said he was sure that the man who is to tarry in Ft. Myers for a brief season, Ft. Myers Press.

Gray is Appointed Tallahassee, April 7.—(Special)—Governor Trammell has appointed R. A. Gray of Havana, Gadsden county, assistant state auditor, to succeed the late Hon. Henry Curtis of Quincy.

Mr. Gray was some time in the newspaper work, having been for several years with the Live Oak Democrat. He was secretary and treasurer of the Live Oak Publishing Company and left the paper to establish the Havana News, which he edited for several years. He represented Gadsden county in the legislature of 1911 and for the past three years has held positions in the state treasurer's office and insurance clerk and in the Comptroller's office as head pension clerk and secretary of the Pension Board.

Charred Bones Found

St. Augustine, April 6.—The finding of a mass of charred bones last night in the ruins of the Florida House has started the rumor today that from three to six persons were burned to death in the destruction of that hotel. The bones have been pronounced to be human bones by physicians. As the hotel registers were burned there is no way to check up the persons residing in them.

Cong. Executive Committee Meets

The executive committee of the Fourth Congressional District met today. Those present were J. N. Whitner, Bert Fink of Deland and Joe Reese of Orlando. Details of meeting given later.

PRESS CLUB DOINGS

Kissimmee Will Treat the Editors and Visitors Royally

That Kissimmee has been honored on Wednesday night as it never has been honored before is the feeling with which our people will receive and will entertain the editors of Volusia, Seminole, Lake, Orange and Osceola counties, who will gather here on that day for the purpose of organizing the Lake Region Press Association.

The entertainment committee of the board of trade, consisting of H. P. Swabey, J. D. Woodbeck and C. E. Johnson, have their part of the plan well in hand, and every provision for the comfort of our guests has been provided, except procuring a porcelain bath tub for Hon. R. J. Holly, boss of Sanford and editor of the Herald, but orders have been given our local dealers to see that one meeting the standards of the distinguished guest is on hand and installed in the five-room suite that has been provided for his illustrious person.

The stunt that will be pulled off at the high school auditorium at 10 o'clock in the morning will be most imposing and inspiring, to say nothing of the intellectual feast, in fact it is thought the feast will be so bountifully intellectual that no one who attends will desire dinner, thereby saving much real human money to our dear people.

The speech of Chris Cordington, in answer to the words of welcome by the president of the board of trade will be so replete with oratory, wit and dazzling splendor that it alone will be worth the price of a ticket to any picture show in town. And the song Clarence Woods will sing in response to Hon. W. J. Sears' address will surprise any warble that ever parted the lips of Patti. That act alone is worth the price of the whole show.

Then there is C. E. Howard, who is booked for the performance of answering C. E. Johnson's welcome on the part of the newspapers of Kissimmee. So long has he followed the job of "posing" other people that he can strike the attitude of a Virgilian or the pose of a modest maid with as little trouble and in as short a time as any sketch artist that ever faced an audience.

But the real thing will be pulled off at night when every man in Kissimmee will be present to greet the visitors and give them the right hand of welcome. And right here let it be known that every able bodied man in Kissimmee is invited to be on hand at seven o'clock promptly at 8 o'clock, be he member of the board of trade or just a plain citizen, for it may be a long time before they will again have the opportunity of seeing and hearing such intellectual giants as will answer the hosts. Only orators of national renown have been slated for addresses, and it would be a weeping pity not to be present and inhale a few draughts of the sweet incense that will be set thick in the circumambient air of the fog "things over Tampa bay." ### POLITICS IN THE FOURTH

THERE WILL BE SOMETHING DOING IN THE SHOE-STRING DISTRICT SOON

BY R. J. HOLLY

Politics in the Fourth Congressional or the "Shoestring District" as it has been facetiously labeled by the newspapers will warm up some now that the committee has met and prescribed the rules and regulations and the amount to be paid and the dates arranged for the speaking. Congressman L'Engle writes from Washington that he will be too busy to meet the other candidates on the stump and he does not purpose to draw a crowd for their benefit. It may be that distance will lend enchantment in Claude's case but if he is physically able to come down here for a few minutes and see the people it is my advice to him to climb into an auto at Jax and go over part of the district at least. It is paid form for our Congressman to stay on the job at Washington attending to the people's business, instead of idly gazing over the habes in his district, but many a good night has been won by personal station and the commanding presence of the candidate. I might mention Frank Clark as a shining example of this sort of campaigning and they have never beat Frank yet and hardly will for some time to come. It is a hardship on a man that he is obliged to make a strenuous campaign every two years to hold something that has been given him by the people but the boys in opposition to our present congressman expect to make a strong campaign and there are many of them.

Billy Malone will come out of Key West like young Lochinvar and from all accounts he will have those loyal Key Westers with him to a man, which means that he will have some two thousand votes for a start. With anything like an even break in the second choice he will go some and his legislative career will begin with a bang.

Likewise Joe Sears of Okechola county has a large following from his home people and the adjoining counties where the people know him best and when Joe gets on the stump and begins to talk to the people he will make a most convincing argument about his qualifications. He is very popular in the middle tier of counties and also in some of the east coast counties and his candidacy will have to be reckoned with strong.

Chic Acosta of Jax is a campaigner and knows how to get votes and the people of the district have already seen him in one round. Chic has been over the territory in an automobile and shook every bush and promises a return engagement soon.

Albert Williamson of Jax also said the well known editor of the Floridian is well known to the people of the Fourth. He made the rounds two years ago over the state and it is considered that he will be elected this time. He is the original war horse of the state and knows politics better than any man in Florida. Albert is unafraid and when he gets up to make a few remarks spurs none of his opponents.

Claude L'Engle, the present incumbent is a most convincing speaker, but being crippled with rheumatism is unable to make the active campaign that he made several years ago and the younger voters who do not know him will probably demand his presence in the field, but he announces that he will have able men to cover the speaking points for him.

The race for Congress promises some great oratory and old time campaigns and the people of the Fourth are looking forward to some big time when the candidates meet in joint debate. This style may be obsolete, but the people are heartily in favor of meeting and hearing the people who wish to represent them and the man who puts up a convincing talk will knock a lot of permissives. The Clays and Websters are not all dead and Florida can produce some great orators upon demand.

A STRETCH OF GOOD ROAD AT JACKSONVILLE

Jacksonville, Fla., March.—Jacksonville and Duval county have a greater number of miles of good streets and roads than any other city and county of like population in the south. The streets of Jacksonville are modern, well paved thoroughfares over which it will be a pleasure for the veterans and maids and sponsors to parade during the reunion in May, while out in the suburbs and throughout the county, miles of good roads will be found where automobiles may be driven at high speed. There are many picturesque spots along these roads, among palms, live oak and holly and a profusion of flowers. Jacksonville and Duval county are alive to the benefits of good streets and roads.

platform to put goods on, or a side track put in a convenient place. Goods shipped by pound or per car, at always the same rate and told him the Interstate Commerce Com. made the rates and they had to abide by them.

When asked how it was that the Atlantic Coast Line Railway had lower rates, they said that is on account of the river traffic. Well, does the Int. St. Ast. make no rates for them. He told them. The Southern Railroad are a menace to the settlement of Florida and unless they would come to terms and lend new settlers a helping hand, the railroad and consequently the state would always remain in its infancy.

Not long ago, one of the settlers shipped a barrel to Washington, D. C., as it had a good price, $2.25 per crate, but when the returns came, it was $2.50 express. The poor man had bought seed, tilled his ground, bought fertilizer, created and hauled to railroad and for all this he had to pay 25 cents on top. Disgusted, these poor people go home again to the north and tell hundreds of their friends to keep away. Say, to the railroad gain or lose by such treatment?

A SETTLER.

Prohibition in the Navy
Absolute prohibition will prevail in the United States navy after July 1 next. Secretary Daniels tonight made public a sweeping order, which not only will abolish the traditional "wine mess" of the officers, but will bar all alcoholic liquors from every ship and shore station of the navy. This order, constituting one of the most notable victories ever won by prohibition forces, was issued on the recommendation of Surgeon General Braisted. It was brief and to the point: "The use of intoxicants for drinking purposes of alcoholic liquors on board any naval vessel, or within any navy yard or station is strictly prohibited, and commanding officers will be held directly responsible for the enforcement of this order."

In a statement tonight, Secretary Daniels said: "I am in hearty agreement with the views expressed by the surgeon general. There should not be on shipboard, with reference to intoxicants, one rule for officers and another and a different rule for the enlisted personnel. The saddest hour in my official life is when an officer or enlisted man must be punished for intoxication. During the past week it has been my painful duty to approve a court-martial for dismissal from the service of an officer for intoxication. He told me that he never had tasted intoxicants until he did so in the wine mess on the cruise. Others who have been disciplined for drinking to excess have made similar statements to me."

Gas Inventor's Hat
Do we owe the invention of gas lighting to a hat? It is just possible, for when the young Scotsman who obliged the English by making his name easier to pronounce went seeking a situation he took with him a hat of an extraordinary kind. While interviewing Mr. Boulton of the great Soho foundry firm, Murdoch's nervousness caused the hat to fall on the floor. The peculiar sound it made roused the interest of Mr. Boulton, who extracted from the future gas inventor the news that the hat was a homemade, wooden one, turned on a lathe. The man who could make so strange a hat must clearly be a genius, so Boulton engaged the wooden hatmaker.—London Chronicle.

Cocoonut Rafts
Cocoonut palms grow luxuriantly in many parts of the Philippine Islands, and, says the Wide World Magazine, there is a large demand for the nuts among the people who live in the cities and towns. The method of bringing them to the market at Manila is both simple and picturesque. The cocoons are brought to the banks of the River Pasig, a rough framework of bamboo poles is constructed, and on this the nuts are piled so as to form a raft. Three or four men then pole the curious craft down stream into the city of Manila.

The Way He Voted.
During a general election a canvasser called at the house of the late Professor Froude, the historian. Mr. Froude was out, so the canvasser had to content himself with interrogating the butler as to how Mr. Froude would vote. The butler, an old servant, who understood his master well, replied: "When the Liberals is in, Mr. Froude is sometimes in, Mr. Froude is always a Liberal."

The Very Latest.
"Let me see some of your black kid gloves," replied a lady to a shopman. "These are not the latest style, are they?" she asked, when the gloves were produced. "Yes, madam," replied the shopman; "we have had them in stock only two days." "I didn't think they were, because the fashion paper says black kids have tan stitches and vice versa. I see the tan stitches but not the vice versa."

Grief Is a Visiting Cook.
An English girl has adopted the profession of visiting cook, and will devote herself to teaching the indispensable art. She believes that "if kitchens were beautiful, and not the stuffy, stodgey dungeons that they so often are; and that if women dressed for their work in them with the care that they dress for a ball, cooking would no longer be regarded as a drudgery and a monotonous business."

Poems are Coming in

A few days ago, when the cooler weather seemed likely to stick for some time the editor became tired of freezing to death and no wood in the editorial stove to alleviate his sufferings and in despair offered money for a Spring Poem that would stick. By this we meant a Spring Poem that would bring Spring weather and now we have brought forth several good ones and below is the one received today in the following communication:

April 6, 1914.

Dear Bob:
Please print this in The Herald. It is one of the Spring Poems you advertised for. We hope it may cause some of the embryo politicians to set up and take notice.

UNSIGNED.

Spring Song

Bob Holly, on a sunny day,
(Our Bob, of Sanford Herald fame)
Rubbed his bald head in a thoughtful way
And considered the local political game;
Nodded and dreamed a vision free,
At the Herald camp, in his old arm chair.
Thought he: "It's curious to see
So all-fired many candidates;
Stringfellow and Woodruff, Jinkins and Jones,
Dick Maxwell and Garner and Bates,
And Smith and Brunley, Herring and Hand,
Old Doug, from Oviedo, and Vaughn,
Newman and Thrasher, and gosh knows who else,
Each day some new bunch comes on;
There's seven jobs and seventeen men,
It's a cinch there's going to be
Some disappointed goats—
(Here a subscriber from Fort Christmas woke ye editor with a check for three years' back subscription to The Herald, interrupting the vision. Later in the day)
"Them there jobs ain't going to go round—"

Kicks on Railroad

Kalamazoo, Fla., April 2, 1914.
Although Kalamazoo, Michigan has made quite a halo about its rival in Florida, still it is there and there to stay. And what changes have been there in the last six months! A large, beautiful store and hotel have been erected, two stories, 40 by 80 ft., room for forty-four guests, both on-table and in bed. The building is decorated with the beaver board paper, and the joints are covered by lattice work. Very pretty, is the judgment of everybody who sees it and a good many come from far and wide to inspect it. Mr. Chas. Voight from Evanston, Ill., has put up this building to show what can be done and has succeeded wonderfully.

He also has started a school, which supervisor he is and has induced the county board of Volusia county to build a county road, which is nearly completed between Kalamazoo and Okech. He has been handicapped, on all sides, in his endeavor. For lumber he had to wait nine weeks, the same for carpenters and brick mason, but most of all by the Southern Railroads. Several times his cars were held up and one car from the north, he had chartered for $119.00, his friends, in order to fill the car, put other goods beside household goods in it and Mr. Voight had to pay $64.55 over freight, and every box and barrel was broken open, and taken out of it what they liked and crushed it back into the car without dosing it again. This the Georgia Southern and Flor. R. R. called INSPECTION. Although the county board acknowledged his work and helped the Florida East Coast R. R. flatly refuse to do anything to help new settlements. Many a time he had his goods thrown off the train and they rolled into the ditch and he had to fish them out of the water.

He wrote several times to the Railroad company and went himself to St. Augustine, but no depot, not even a

BEWARE OF THE RATS

THE BOARD OF HEALTH WARNS SEAPORT AND RIVER TOWNS TO EXTERMINATE THE RODENTS

In times of peace, prepare for war, and in view of the situation that it is not impossible, not to improbable it is wise enough to make war upon the rat before he comes bearing infection from some plague ridden land.

cases, which have brought immense good to the state. But more than all, the board has been educating Florida's citizens to a realization of the conditions that are peculiar to the climate and which arise from the relative location to tropical countries.

With such a record the warning from the State Board of Health should attract the careful attention of the press, and through it of the people whose welfare is, or may soon be, at stake.

The history of the plague makes it one of the most to be dreaded scourges that has swept over continents and devastated nations since the world began.

Modern knowledge of the ways by which it is carried, has made men less helpless but has taken away but little of the awfulness of such visitation.

Incidentally such construction would add materially toward fire proofing such buildings, would lower insurance rates and would be productive of greater cleanliness and healthfulness.

But the banishment of the rat and to keep them out must be the price of even approximate security, just as general vigilance is the price of political liberty.

The wharves, docks, warehouses, and homes, especially in seaport towns must be so constructed that a rat cannot enter them. It should be a law of the state, reinforced by municipal enactment, that all wharves and warehouses shall be constructed of cement, with smooth, solid foundations and walls through which the rodent cannot gnaw his way.

Remarkable Development of Resources Told by Geological Survey Washington.—The remarkable development of the south's water power resources is told in a statement issued by the federal geological survey.

In Georgia and the Carolinas more than 100,000 horsepower has been developed and is being used by the cotton mills alone, and public service corporations in these three states are today developing 300,000 to 400,000 additional horsepower to turn the turbines of mills and light the many towns and cities in the region.

"AN AMERICAN CITIZEN" AT THE STAR THEATRE, FRIDAY MATINEE AND NIGHT

THE SANFORD HERALD

Published Today and Friday Morning By THE HERALD PRINTING COMPANY... R. J. HOLLY, Editor... HAYNES Business Manager...

Sanford should put on a attire this week, for many hundreds of visitors will be here and Sanford has the reputation of being one of the most habitable cities in all Florida.

The building fever is prevalent in Sanford and this summer will mark an epoch in the building history of this city. There are now about twenty fine buildings in the course of construction and several business houses and there are many more contemplated.

Speaking of Sanford The Herald says that there will be two thousand cars of vegetables shipped from Sanford every "delta" this season.

REASURES OF THE EDITOR The idea of the proposed Lake Region Press Association, which meets here next Wednesday to organize, upon the invitation and under the auspices of the Kissimmee Board of Trade, originated in the fertile brain of Mr. R. J. Holly of the Sanford Herald.

HINT TO JACKSONVILLE There is a deadlock in Jacksonville postoffice appointment because the Senators cannot agree on a man. Senator Fletcher wants Hutchinson and Senator Bryan wants Dignan and neither one of them can come to an agreement.

FLORIDA AT FRISCO It is to be hoped that Commissioner French, who is engaged in developing activities for a Florida exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco next year, will meet with success in the movement.

in other words, a total fund of approximately $100,000. With this sum, properly handled, a splendid exhibit could be made.

The great difficulty which lies in the way is the position taken by State Comptroller Knott in regard to the appropriation of county moneys for advertising purposes.

The average citizen when he is away from home looks forward with eagerness to the advent of his local paper. He can get the news of the world from any of the big dailies, but they cannot tell him that "Bill Jones has painted his fence a bright blue."

The Book Circle
The Book Circle held the monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert A. Newman on Monday afternoon. The meeting was informal and plans were discussed for the reading during the coming year. Tuesday afternoon the social department of the club gave an auction bridge party, the guest of honor being Mrs. R. S. Keelor. The hostesses for the day were Mrs. J. W. Dickens and Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin. Four tables of the popular game were played and top scores were made by Mrs. Samuel Puleston and Mrs. May Dickens, who cut for the club pin and Mrs. Dickens was the lucky one to have the honor of wearing it. The score cards were cute designs in Dutch figures. The refreshments were served by Miss Nell Whitner and Mrs. Saidee Williams.

Vice President in Florida
In a short time the state of Florida is going to see a real live Vice President—the most lively specimen of the Vice Presidential species out of captivity. Florida does not often have the opportunity of feasting its eyes on a political big gun who plays a star role in the theater of national politics. The reason for this is that Florida is so lap-sided politically that the leaders of both parties find it profitless to go down there in quest of votes. Vice President Marshall, however, has accepted an invitation to spend the latter part of this month in Florida, and the Floridians are simply turning everything upside down in making their preparations to entertain him. There is every indication that the proverbial "Southern hospitality" will outdo itself while the Vice President is in "The Land of Flowers." He goes under the auspices of the State Press Association and will take his departure from the national capital on April 21st. The prospect is that he will spend at least a week in Florida. He will address the newspaper men from all over the state, will ride on one of the Everglades canals and will take a trip on the wonderful railroad built over water at the Florida keys.

New Sanford House Manager
E. F. Wyatt has assumed the management of the Sanford House and with his family will make this city his home. Mr. Wyatt comes to Sanford highly recommended as a hotel manager having had charge of several good hotels in Florida and other states. He expects to make some changes in the Sanford House and will endeavor at all times to give the guests plenty to eat and a comfortable place to sleep. He will certainly bring himself a friend to the traveling public if he can make good and he assures The Herald that he will not be content on the map in the hotel line.
Mr. Powers, the former manager, has sold to his old home in Quinlan, Fla. and his wife for several weeks before they open the hotel at Worthington Springs for the summer.

Hurt Fishermen's Business.
A strange story comes from Frongignan, Herault, France. Recently 700 gallons of confiscated wine were thrown into a canal there by the customs officers. But the wine had the effect of intoxicating the fish, which swim on the top of the water and can be picked out by hand. The housewives refuse to buy fish when they can get them for themselves, and the fishermen in the district have united to protest against the action of the customs officers.

COLOSSAL GROUP OF STATUARY FOR VAST EXPOSITION COURT—"NATIONS OF THE EAST"

Copyright, 1914, by Panama Pacific International Exposition Company.

This photograph shows the enlarged figures for the colossal group, "Nations of the East," to crown the Arch of the Rising Sun at the Panama-Pacific International exposition at San Francisco in 1915. With the exception of the elephant and the camel on the left all the figures are completed. The elephant, however, will be surmounted by a howdah and the camel by a rider. The group in its entirety is the conception of A. Stirling Calder, with whom Frederick G. R. Roth and Leo Lemball co-operated. The huge elephant in the center of the group was modeled by Mr. Roth, who also modeled the camel. The mounted horsemen were modeled by Leo Lemball. From left to right the figures are: Arab warrior, negro servant bearing baskets of fruit, camel and rider, falconer, elephant, representing India; Buddhist lama, bearing emblem of authority, camel and rider, negro servant, Mongolian warrior.

FAMOUS LADY CORNELL

Among hens that have made the department of poultry husbandry at Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y., famous is Lady Cornell.

She dropped 257 eggs in her trap nest in a year. To make these twenty-nine and one-half pounds of eggs this two and one-half pound Leghorn ate 110 pounds of feed, laying over nine pounds of eggs to each pound of her weight and in the process transforming twice as much raw material into the finished product as does thousand pound Jersey cow, when she gives 7,000 pounds of milk per year. Her eggs sold on the Ithaca market for $7.43 and, deducting expenses, left a profit for the year of $7.06.

Takes Off Freckles, Removes Tan.

We guarantee satisfaction this, and if your complexion isn't fully restored to its natural beauty, we'll refund your money without argument. A number of hens in the Storrs and Missouri contests made fine records the first year, but were fixated the second.

Lady Cornell laid her 257 eggs and kept on the job, and when these particulars were given out she had laid 189 eggs in the second year, with thirty-two days yet to finish.

The Cornell ration was used.

Quitting back wheat in summer, the following grain mixture was fed in latter part and night:

Sixty pounds of wheat, sixty pounds of corn, thirty pounds of oats and thirty pounds of buckwheat.

This dry mash mixture was hopped fed during afternoon.

Sixty pounds of cornmeal, sixty pounds of wheat middlings, thirty pounds of bran, ten pounds of alfalfa wheat, ten pounds of oilmeal, fifty pounds of beef scrap, and one pound of salt.

These were supplemented by cabbage, manglet beets and sprouted oats when hens were off green run.

This hen's remarkable laying is ascribed to a good laying strain, careful selection of breeders for vigor, suitable ration, fresh air, house conditions, care and skill in feeding and management. These particulars must be followed by all who expect to make high egg records with their hens.

DON'TS

Don't always remind the preacher that he likes chicken and then never invite him around to eat one. That's cruelty to animals.

Don't neglect to clean up. Unhealthy environment for poultry means unhealthy poultry products for you.

Don't feed all whole grain. A sweet, moist mash aids digestion, pushes eggs and is much appreciated by the flock.

Don't feed your stock turkeys corn all winter. Feed them a reasonable amount of mixed grain, vegetables and moist mash, and they will not get over-fat for the breeding season.

Don't put it on a losing competitor. Be a gentleman always.

Don't get the hull in a chip shop if you don't see the ribbon, better be dead than a sorehead.

Don't grow a swelled head. Folks will take it for a "punkin."

Don't be satisfied to imitate, but strive to originate and be ahead of the crowd.

Don't glory in another's failure. Help the man that's down and win a crown.

INDIANS ASK CITIZENSHIP

Would Develop Self Denial, Says Registrar Parker, a Choctaw.

Philadelphia—Full rights of citizenship for the American Indian were advocated at the council of the Society of American Indians. The speakers declared that citizenship to full citizenship and the right of ownership rather than occupancy should be granted to the red man. Gabe E. Parker, newly appointed registrar of the treasury, a Choctaw, declared that the Indian was in a peculiar position, being independent in a tribal sense yet dependent in national relations. Mr. Parker said that there were 300,000 Indians in the United States and that 138,328 had citizenship rights.

"Tribal life must be abandoned," he said, "before the Indian can become self supporting or a vital force in our national life. He must be recognized as a man of capabilities. He has made great progress in adapting himself to the life of the country. He has suffered from the one fault of lack of self denial, but if the Indian be given his land with privileges and responsibilities of proprietorship he would soon develop that quality."

Sweet Mabel thinks the selfish men Try to hold women back. She tries to drive an auto when She couldn't drive a tack. —Baltimore American.

"How are those two young men who went into partnership as dentists getting on?" "Rather badly. Somehow they don't seem to pull together." —Boston Transcript.

He tried for several years to win The maiden for his own. Then, finally, after he had got Her to consent to share his lot, His suit was ended why he'd not. Let well enough alone. —Chicago Record-Herald.

Professor (lecturing)—It's deeds, young man, not words, that count. Voice—Did you ever send a cable-gram? (Class dismissed.)—Punch Boy!

"John Hign proposes all the time." The maiden a voice-gone girl. "But, though his heart he's tendered, I'm Afraid that it is tough." —Cincinnati Enquirer.

Mrs. Church—Are you friendly with your neighbors? Mrs. Gotham—Well, I guess not. "Don't you speak to them?" "Don't I speak to 'em? Say, the people living on the side of us ran over our dog with their automobile, and those living on the other side killed our cat. You can just bet I spoke to 'em!" —Yonkers Statesman.

The express companies have been in the public mind of late and they would be having more sympathy in their sorry plight if people could forget their arbitrary methods of the past and their disregard for public demands for better service and a freedom from their dictatorial and haughty treatment of the people, both as to rates and service. The condition in which they find themselves is largely due to the way they treated the people and but few there are being aided by those who have had to submit to bad treatment for years. They would not do the fair thing and consequently they had to be taught a lesson which I hoped will be a salutary one to other offenders.

It has been fully demonstrated on other occasions that when a strong government engages in any particular line of business, those individuals or companies competing with the government stand little chance of surviving. The reasons for this are apparent, as the government is in a position to dictate terms to the carriers, has no direct overhead charges of any kind, is not in the business for profit, and if a deficit is disclosed at the end of the year it is promptly wiped out by an appropriation on the theory that the public at large have been the gainers. The operations of the parcel post system have unquestionably made it a difficult matter for the express companies to handle similar business with profit. This has already been witnessed in the falling off in earnings of the four large companies during the second half of 1913, which has resulted in two of these periodically cutting dividends and a third announcing its intention to quit the field. The parcel post, however, is not all that express companies have to contend with, as the interstate-commerce commissioners, notwithstanding, have put in force a reduction of rates, which is generally believed will make this year's operations of the several companies show a considerable deficit at the close of the year. There is no question that even to preserve their existence they will be obliged to introduce all kinds of economies and enlarge the scope of their business very considerably. Most of the companies derive a large income from their treasury assets which help them out some otherwise, the situation for them would be even more deplorable than it is. The United States Express Company, has always been the least important of the four large companies in the field, therefore, it is the first to quit. It is not at all improbable that the three surviving concerns would like to follow suit if they could rid themselves of their long term railroad contracts. In getting around this point it is presumed that the United States Express Company will be arranged to position its services among the other companies. In view of the fact that the railroad companies in abrogating exclusive privileges to the express companies divide the revenues, it will be realized that they are not willing to fund all contracts cancelled. It is the Wells Fargo company alone last year, in settlement of damage claims, $399,000.

As before stated the stocks of the express companies are largely held for investment, many of the shareholders being women and trustees of estates. The reduced revenues of the companies, therefore, threatening an extinction of dividends, is a very grave matter to them.

The American Express company was formed under the laws of New York in 1859. It has no funded debt. Its income in 1913 from all sources was $49,288,127 and it paid a dividend of $12 on each of its 180,000 shares of stock which have no par value. The stock is quoted at 100 to 105 per share.

The Adams Express Company was formed in New York in 1854. Its revenue during 1913 was $37,212,894 and it paid a dividend of $12 on each share of its stock. The stock is quoted same as American—100 to 105.

The Wells Fargo Express Company was organized in Colorado in 1866. During 1913 its receipts amounted to $39,321,146, an earning of 12.71 per cent. on its stock and yet its stock is quoted at 90 to 95.

United States Express Company was formed in New York in 1854. Its receipts in 1913 were $21,977,470. It has paid no dividend since November, 1912. The shares are now quoted at $72 to $75.

Other cities are sitting up and taking notice of the good points of the City Manager as witness the following from Dallas: "Jacksonville needs a commission form of government, which will enable business men to give the city a business administration. On September 8, 1900, a tidal wave destroyed 7,000 lives and $30,000,000 worth of property at Galveston, Texas. It was an appalling disaster. The city records were lost and confusion was complete. To temporarily meet the emergency, the government appointed a commission to take charge of public affairs. When election time came round again the people of Galveston decided to reinstate the commission. This accidental plan was so successful that other cities followed Galveston's example, until now the commission plan of municipal government, which unites legislative and executive functions, has spread all over the country. It is being talked in Kansas as a state proposition.

ministration. On September 8, 1900, a tidal wave destroyed 7,000 lives and $30,000,000 worth of property at Galveston, Texas. It was an appalling disaster. The city records were lost and confusion was complete. To temporarily meet the emergency, the government appointed a commission to take charge of public affairs. This accidental plan was so successful that other cities followed Galveston's example, until now the commission plan of municipal government, which unites legislative and executive functions, has spread all over the country. It is being talked in Kansas as a state proposition.

Des Moines, Iowa, added the initiative and referendum to the plan, and another city added the recall, and now the initiative, referendum and recall usually go along with the commission plan, thus giving the voters a constant control over their local officers and affairs.

Another application of business methods in city government was on June 12th, 1912, when Sumter, S. C., voted on an option between a regular commission plan and a city manager plan, modeled on the scheme proposed in 1911 for the city of Lockport and the other third-class cities of New York, and the city of locks adopted the latter by a three-fourth majority. The Sumter or Lockport idea keeps close to the scheme of organization operative in private business corporations. Under this arrangement the elective officers, of whom there are three, have only directive or regulative functions and the whole administration is under the control of a single appointive head, who is an expert in administration, and will hold office at the pleasure of the elective commissioners.

This plan follows more closely the German idea of city administration, in which the burgomaster plays the leading role. It retains the ultimate responsibility for the conduct of the affairs of the city in the elective officials, but relieves the individual members of departmental responsibility.

The latest example of the commission manager system is at Dayton, Ohio. The campaign for a change was under way last spring, when as at Galveston, a flood all but swept the city off the earth, leaving 75 per cent of the population without food or shelter. With the work of rescue and rebuilding, a charter commission of fifteen citizens, made up of all parties and nationalities, kept busy and the outcome was a charter providing five commissioners, the latter with authority to select a city manager. The ward bosses of all parties fought the movement, but on August 12th last it carried by a vote of 13,317 to 6,922.

I may be wandering far afield in taking up an Atlanta murder case but having always had my doubts about the guilt of Frank in the now famous Phagan case, I re-opens to my credit that circumstances are proving my contention. Circumstantial evidence in a murder case is a dangerous case and as a member of a jury, I would never be in favor of hanging a man on circumstantial evidence alone. The public mind is apt to be hysterical and the witness jump at conclusions. My old friend Thorndyke of the Palm Beach Post sums up the matter well in the following:

Atlanta is learning that there are a number of the most cheerful liars "in the midst" that have been found anywhere during the present decade. And it has been all brought about by the trial of Leo Frank for the murder of Mary Phagan. I can't understand why a man can get on the stand and deliberately swear away a man's chances for life when he knows he is lying!

Several witnesses are now making affidavits that what they swore to at the trial was false! There's one Dalton, who swore that Frank had been most ignominial with many employees of the pencil plant; now he comes up to the doughnut and swears that Frank was not that sort of a fellow at all. And there's the doctor, the "expert," who swore that the strands of hair found near Frank's private office were from the head of the murdered girl; now he's making castron affidavits that the said hairs were not (get that?—NGT) from her head. And there's a lot of "good witnesses" who are falling over themselves to get in line and swear what they said at the trial was false!

Of course, a man that is that sort of a fellow, can hardly be relied on to tell the truth at any time. It may be that they did tell the truth at first—and are now lying. And it may be just the other way. But in either event there seems to be a lot of candidates for charter membership in the Ananias Club of the great state of Georgia cropping up in Atlanta.

I wonder whether there is a law in that locality punishing a man for that sort of work? Or would it come under the plea that he could not be forced to give testimony which might incriminate himself?

But, from the looks of things it seems to me that Frank has a mighty good show of selling a few more pencils before he goes the way of all flesh.

Would Be Better Acquainted. There would be far less international strife if the civilized races found more of each other's literature.

Congregational Church Next Sunday, Easter Day will be celebrated in both morning and evening services with appropriate music. In the morning, the communion of the Lord's Supper will be observed, and members received, with a short sermon on the 'Meaning of the Resurrection.' In the evening, 7:30, 'Victory, a Great Incentive' will be the theme. All members and friends are urged to plan to come and partake of the Easter spirit, besides the choir will render special music at the evening service.

Dr Frank T. Lee has favored increasing audiences this week with stimulating and profitable Bible studies. His method in general has met with great favor, and it puts one in possession of the right attitude to get the meaning and lessons when the author intended, and this is the great benefit to be derived from Bible study. His work in our southeast is meeting the demands of a hungry people for the Word of Bible study.

Have you reading material this month? Try it if you have not, and get in the tide setting in toward the Bible study department of our churches. All who enjoy well rendered, Easter music are cordially invited to our service, especially the evening one 7:30. Let us have one thrilled out our Easter services in his place next Sunday at 7:30.
