Same Two Teams Clash In Double Header At Municipal Park Tonight

Kettles Blasted For 14 Hits During Tilt; Single By Bill Good With Stebbins On Third In Ninth Scored Winning Run

VENETIAN PARK, Leesburg, June 14. (Special)—Manager Ed Levy's Sanford Celery Feds bit the dust again yesterday afternoon and suffered their second defeat in two days. Charley Cudd, former Orlando Senator hurler, took the mound for Manager Bill Good's Leesburg Packers during the Watermelon Festival contest and limited the Sanford nine to five hits while the Packers collected 11 off the hurlings of big Goose Kettles to rack up a 4 to 3 victory.

The Feds grabbed an early lead in the contest by pushing over a pair of counters in the opening inning. Jerry Silverman worked Cudd for his first of four bases on balls during the afternoon. Capone misused Al Bryant's grounder and both men scored when Buddy Lake slammed a double into centerfield.

Sanford counted again in the sixth frame when Gene Pratt singled and advanced to second on Don Zappel's infield grounder. Kettles singled past short into left field and Pratt fielded on third. Silverman hit an infield grounder and Pratt was thrown out at the plate. Bryant lifted a long fly to center field to score Zappel from third.

Leesburg scored a single run in the second inning and pushed over a pair in the sixth frame to knot the count. With two away in the ninth inning, Jay Stebbins singled to centerfield and advanced to second when Silverman misused the ball. Stebbins stole third and scored the winning marker when Bill Good slapped a single into center-

Williams Hurls Furniture Team To 5-2 Win Over Carpenters

Moss Nine Whips Robson's 13-12 In Loop Opener

Over 250 Fans Watch Initial Games In Softball Circuit

Commissioner Floyd Palmer of the City Softball League announced this morning that a meeting of team managers will be held at the Community House at the corner of First Street and Sanford Avenue on Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Managers, or their representatives, must be present and must have completed player lists to file with the Commissioner.

Arthur Williams hurled his Haynes and Williams Furniture Company team to a brilliant 5 to 2 victory over the local Carpenters' Union last night while the Moss Amusement Company nosed out Robson's Sporting Goods 13 to 12 in a hotly contested tilt to mark the successful opening of the City Softball League.

During a meeting of loop managers last evening just prior to game time, Floyd Palmer was officially named commissioner of the league. Palmer, a former major league ball player, was very instrumental in organizing softball in Sanford a number of years ago with the late E. H. Cullum.

The best played game of the evening was the second half of the twin-bill which was won by the Haynes and Williams nine. Williams hurled brilliant ball and though he was mired for two hits, they were bunched out in the third frame when the Carpenters' Union tallied their only two runs. An error by one of Williams' mates with two men on base cost the Haynes and Williams moundmen a shut out. Williams' moundman was shut out by a single run in the first inning when J. W. Altman singled to center, advanced to third on a passed ball and scored on a wild pitch by L. Swafford, the Carpenters' hurler.

The furniture men counted two more in the third on singles by A. Williams and Orville Touchton and a pair of errors.

The Carpenters' scored their only two runs in their half of the third on singles by G. Swafford and Elgin, and an error.

Haynes and Williams placed the tilt on ice in the fifth when Donald Jones, who replaced Earl Evans after he sustained a knee injury during a play at the plate, singled to right-center field. Altman slammed a long drive into deep centerfield for a circuit clout.

The opening contest between Robson's and Moss was a wild affair during the first three frames. Robson's scored a single run in the first but the Moss-men came back with an even half dozen. Robson's took the lead with a seven run attack in the second and held Moss to a single marker in their half of the same frame. Robson's pushed over two in the third but Moss retaliated with four and the score stood at 11 to 10.

Trailing one run as they entered the final inning, singles by Harry Robson and Ed Moss coupled with a pair of Moss errors accounted for two runs and Robson's took a 12 to 11 lead. However, Sam Martini led off in the final half of the

Sunday's Throng

From the indication of ticket sales reported thus far so date, it appears that the Sanford Baseball Association and the Celery Feds will establish a league attendance record Sunday afternoon when the local organization will honor Goose Kettles for his recent no-hit, no-run game hurled against the Gainesville G-Men.

Kettles was tagged with his first defeat in nine contests yesterday afternoon in Leesburg when the Packers clubbed him for 14 hits to capture a 4 to 3 affair. However, the big righthander will go to the mound Sunday afternoon when the locals tangle with the league leading Orlando Senators.

Softball Openers

Last night's opening tilt in the City Softball League can be described as successful. Over 250 fans watched the initial contest. The first game, after the first three innings, was a hotly contested affair and the boys settled down to playing good softball. However, the feature tilt was the second half of the twin-bill between the Haynes and Williams Furniture Company team and the local Carpenters' Union.

Red Williams was on the hill for his furnituremen and he came through with a brilliant performance. He was nipped for ten hits but kept them well scattered. His mates gave him excellent support.

L. Swafford was on the mound for the Carpenters and he hurled a brilliant brand of ball but he did not have the support that Williams' mates gave him.

Bowling Alleys Will Open Here Tomorrow Night

Sports Center To Be Operated By Edgar And Ivar Jensen

Another type of recreation returns to Sanford tomorrow evening when the Sanford Bowling Alleys, located on Magnolia Avenue next door to the Sanford Brick Company, will have its grand opening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Jensen brothers, Edgar and Ivar, formerly of Orlando but now residents of this city, have completed the installation of ten regulation duck pin alleys and are outfitting with new equipment throughout.

Edgar Jensen pointed out this afternoon that the regulation duck pin alleys had been installed in order to present a type of recreation that the Sanford family can enjoy. The regulation duck pin ball weighs only four and a half pounds. He added that "the game is faster and more scientific particularly since a smaller ball and pins are used."

The brothers asserted that they intend to organize bowling leagues and in the near future schedule inter-city matches with alleys in other nearby towns.

During the war, Ivar Jensen served overseas in the Mediterranean Theater of Operations with the 12th Air Force headquarters.

There have been many freak home runs in the long history of the major leagues but it is doubtful if any ever topped the weird round-tripper turned in at Boston many years ago.

The Chicago White Sox were playing the Boston Red Sox. Art Griggs was holding down the third base post for Chicago.

A Boston batter hit a grounder ball straight at Griggs. It would have been a routine out. But just as Art reached for the ball, it hit a pebble, bounced up and hit him in the head and landed in the front boxes of the grand stand. It went for a home run.

Restraints In Construction To Be Probed

Investigation Called By Justice Department To Eliminate Housing Shortage

WASHINGTON, June 17. (AP) — The Justice Department has ordered a nationwide investigation of alleged restraints in the building industry. According to Attorney General Tom Clark, illegal trade restraints in the construction field are holding up the emergency housing program.

The investigation, says Clark, will also take in reported abuses in allied fields, including mortgage interest rates, and black market dealings in lumber. It will be a curtain-raiser, he explains, for an all-out effort to smash the bottlenecks now adding to the housing shortage.

The FBI is making the investigation for the Justice Department's anti-trust division. Assistant Attorney General Wendell Heger, who heads the anti-trust division, maintained that the entire building industry has long been plagued with illegal trade restraints. These practices, he said, not only keep prices high but also work against the use of new techniques and processes. Heger added that mass production methods have not been utilized in home construction. The anti-trust division's activity in lumber, masonry, cement and plumbing, he said, has revealed the existence of flagrantly restrictive practices. The Justice Department officer also charged that local building codes discriminate against cheaper and more efficient materials, such as prefabricated products.

Durants Enroute To Frankfurt In Custody Of Army

WASHINGTON, June 17. (AP) — Col. Jack Durant and his WAC captain wife left Washington by plane in Army custody today for Frankfurt, Germany. Both Durants are held in connection with the Kronberg Castle jewel theft case.

Durant and WAC Capt. Kathleen Nash Durant had been held in Washington since their arrest in Chicago two weeks ago.

Col. A. C. Miller of the Provost Marshal's Office said soon after the arrest of the couple that formal charges against persons involved in the case would be brought in Germany. Col. Miller accompanied the Durants back to Frankfurt today.

Pins Responsibility For Death Of GPs On U. S. Citizens

Responsibility for the deaths of GPs was placed on U. S. citizens today by Jack Enniss, a member of the Rotary Club, in a talk to Rotarians at the Madison Inn by Jack Enniss of Jacksonville. He was introduced by Leslie Sheppard.

Mr. Enniss is passenger traffic agent of the N. C. and St. Louis Railroad, chairman of leadership training of the North Florida Council of Boy Scouts, and chairman of Boy Scouts under the Department of Florida, American Legion.

Telling the story of a G. I. Joe who died in the war, he asked: "Who condemned him to death?" He proceeded to pin the responsibility on the American people for "laziness and indifference." They refused their Army and Navy and allowed Germany to have wealth, equipped participation in the League of Nations and permitted the rise of Hitler and Mussolini, thereby condemning to death Joe a baby yet unborn, he said.

Following President Roosevelt's speech in Chicago in 1941, the country decided to lend to its allies and let European affairs slide. The people drifted blindly but were mad after the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor, he declared. He stressed the fact that the price of peace is vigilance, and outlined the possibility for a new cycle of organizing toward that end in all countries.

Hitler was smart enough to try to change the thinking of adults, he asserted, but concentrated on youth. This is a good lesson for us to learn, he pointed out, and stressed the value of youth training through church schools, the Y.M.C.A. and Boy Scouts. He quoted statistics that showed that 69 percent of American officers and 76 percent of American sergeants who received medals had been boy scouts.

He asserted that youth also is not wholly to blame for the problems of juvenile delinquency and said that fathers who are too busy to give an hour a day to their boys, "are too busy." He urged in turn that civic clubs do their part for this generation of youth.

Guests were Joe M. McCann, Leroy R. Coffman, Hal Fikret, George Stevens, and Bill Sutton, all of Orlando. Charles Morrison led in singing with Harry Kudell at the piano. Dick Akken was caterer.

Dawson Completes Study On How To Save On Poultry Feed During Shortage

County Agent C. R. Dawson has given considerable study of late to the problem of conserving the supply of poultry feed. He has made as much as 50 percent of his own feed by using green feed, he said. The following advice was given on the subject by Mr. Dawson:

"In these days of scarcity of things in general and poultry feed in particular, it behooves us to get the most out of available feed. Every farmer can do several things to stretch his feed supply. Too much feed in the hopper causes hens to waste feed. Fill the hoppers not more than two-thirds full. It is better business to use additional hoppers which provide plenty of feeding space than to over fill a small number of hoppers."

"Much feed is lost every year from poorly constructed hoppers and from putting too much feed in the hoppers. The hopper should be made so it is impossible for a chicken to scratch or 'bill' feed out. It will help to have a flange on the inside of the top of each side of the hopper."

"A feed on the hoppers will keep chickens from getting in the hopper and helps keep droppings out of the feed. Hoppers kept out doors should be covered to keep out the rain. The more important point is not to put too much feed in the hopper. It is better to build as many more hoppers as is necessary. If wind blows feed out of the hoppers which are in an exposed location, it is better to use pellets instead of mash."

"Another stretcher of feed supplies is to use all the fresh, green feed possible. Green grass may be supplied as pasture or finely chopped and fed in the chicken yard or pens. Such green feed is very important to growing birds and laying hens. It is rich in protein and vitamins. It is also important to your pocket book, because when properly used, fresh green feed may save up to 25% of the amount of feed otherwise used. Think of the saving in the cost of feed."

"Milk is a valuable supplement to poultry feed. Liquid or condensed skim milk, whey, or buttermilk are good feed stretchers. "Providing feed in such a way as to permit the birds to swallow feed on the ground is the most desirable waste but there is another waste seldom considered. It is concerned with using protein efficiently. When we use a mash in protein, we waste the protein found in the mash because they are not utilized efficiently without protein. "Starving chicks need 20% of good protein. Any less will not give best results. Feeding low protein mash is a waste of feed."

"Growing chicks need at least 18% protein and this should be calculated on a basis of mash and scratch grain combined. Keep in mind that grains are low in protein and the birds need good quality protein feeds if their feed is to be utilized efficiently. With the properly balanced ration a 3 pound broiler in twelve to thirteen weeks should have consumed about 10 pounds of feed. If it takes 10 weeks and 12 pounds of feed, or over there is a feed waste which should be corrected."

COMPENSATION PAID

Unemployment compensation, paid to 15 persons amounted to $223.00 in Seminole County during the week ending June 8. Carl B. Smith, chairman of the Florida Industrial Commission reported today. Payments throughout the state during the same week amounted to $101,135 and were made to 5,951 persons. This was an increase since the previous week from $80,008 in total payments and from 5,233 in number of claimants.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

WE MUST HAVE ONE FIXED IMMOVABLE CENTER. ONE ALL-CONSUMING OBJECTIVITY. ONE BURNING LoyalTY. These shall have no other gods before me.—Ex. 20:3.

Inflation has hit its peak. The Treasury has decided to issue a $1,000,000 bond.

Jack Dempsey has picked Joe Louis to knock out Billy Conn. It now remains for Gene Tunney to pick Billy Conn.

Bernard Baruch is smart. He is against the United States giving away the atomic bomb secrets. You don't hand a man a club to hit you with.

The Army boasts it has developed a protective cloth that will stop bullets. Shucks! That won't help much. What they need now is something that will stop an atomic bomb.

Since there is a scarcity of grains for bread, meat and livestock producers are asked to reduce the size of their herds and flocks so that there will soon be a greater shortage than ever of beef and eggs. But remember, "We planned it that way."

People who wonder why they have to pay more for the things they eat should consider the report of Florida cane growers who reveal that labor costs have risen 250 percent since the first of the war. That is true of most farmers.

We don't like to be morbid, but we hope everyone saw that picture of a little Chinese youngster published in our paper last week, particularly those who think that strikes which interfere with production and transportation at a time like this are all right.

A friend of ours registers a complaint about the parking situation in Sanford. "The other day I drove around the block three times before I could find a space to park," she says, "Sanford merchants are losing business on account of this situation. Why doesn't the City provide a parking lot somewhere in the downtown section where busy shoppers can find a place to park in a hurry? A good idea. There are a number of vacant lots in the downtown section which would make convenient parking lots."

The federal government has undertaken to punish J. Caesar Petrillo for violating the Law Act, but the music czar accepts his status as law violator with strange equanimity. He knows that the Law Act singles him out individually to prohibit him from doing something which no one else is prohibited from doing. Petrillo under this law can't force radio stations to hire more men than it wants, but other unions can. Petrillo knows that is unconstitutional. All men should be equal before the law. And all unions should be prohibited from forcing anyone to hire more men than he wants. It is interesting to note that the government is represented in the case by District Attorney J. Albert Woll, son of Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor.

Not many people seem to understand the paper shortage as it affects a small newspaper like ours. They can't understand why some newspapers are able to publish 18 to 38 pages daily when we have trouble getting enough for 6 or 8. The reason is that present newspaper quotas are based on newspaper consumption before the war. If we used 50 tons in 1941, we are still supposed to get about 50 tons; if the Times-Union used 500,000 tons, they are still supposed to get about 500,000 tons. Then they can't understand why some days we seem to have space to burn. The reason is that we use a 70-inch roll for 8 pages, a 58-inch roll for 6 pages and a 38-inch roll for 4 pages. On account of the shortage we are sometimes completely out of one of the sizes. So, if we want to run a 6-page paper, we sometimes have to run an 8-page paper, sometimes when we want

Food At Home

Nothing could be calculated to interfere more seriously with American aid to the starving than the present break-down of domestic food supplies. Even the most generous-minded citizen is annoyed that he must stand in line for bread, butter, meat—and even then go without.

It is absurd that a country like the United States cannot allocate food for the world's starving, and still maintain an efficient if somewhat curtailed supply for home consumption. Most people entered into the share-the-food idea with good intentions. But housewives, upon whom the burden largely rests, should not be required to spend a great portion of their days hunting supplies for their home tables.

If the men in Washington can't do a better job, perhaps the women of America should organize seriously. Certainly the present situation is bad. Housewives are willing to undergo shortages and annoyances to the point of hardship when they see reason for them. They do not willingly endure them when caused by plain bad management and lack of foresight in high places. Only the belief that these conditions are to be short-lived keeps them patient. If they begin to think they may have to waste hours in queues for many more months, they will certainly make their voices heard.

The Turning Worm

The humble angle worm has been enlisted to help raise food for the world's starving. A little magazine called Organic Gardening, published in Emmaus, Pa., plugs for organic fertilizers like the back yard compost heap as opposed to chemical soil-enrichment. Mixtures of animal manure, leaves, weeds, grass cuttings properly assembled and applied to the garden permit the earth worm to flourish.

This humble creature is described as "nature's plow" since, it is said, he burrows deep, pulverizing and aerating the ground so that rainwater is absorbed instead of washed away. He makes rich topsoil through his habit of eating organic matter in the ground, digesting and then ejecting it. Dead, his body furnishes plant food.

Backing up this eulogy of the earth worm is no less a personage than the English agriculturist, Sir Albert Howard, the magazine's associate editor, who put his theories to increasing his country's war-time food raising. The angle worm, given a chance, will go to work in vegetable plots everywhere. But it is doubtful if he realizes how important is his task.

Good Misfortune

A novel is to be brought out within a few days called "All for the Best," written by a navy veteran recently discharged from a Philadelphia hospital. There is nothing unusual about any of this—so far. Many ex-navy men have, and more probably will, turn novelists. And this is in no sense a review of the new book.

The important thing about the matter is the author, Bentz Plageman. He was stricken with poliomyelitis while serving in the Mediterranean, and he says "this was the best thing that ever happened to me, for it gave me time to write this book." He had been turning it over in his mind for years. His illness gave him the opportunity for creation.

Such transforming of good out of affliction is an inspiration to the world's troubled, of whom there are many, suffering both physical and spiritual grief.

YOU'RE TELLING ME!

By WILLIAM RITT

ONLY ONE gray top hat was seen at a garden party given by the British royal family. The other guests probably mistook the wearer for Uncle Sam paying his respects.

We're sorry to see the topper join the dodo and the dinosaur in oblivion. We always have liked it—on someone else.

The topper reached its peak of popularity in the middle of the last century. That was probably before snowballs had been invented.

The high silk hat was still highly regarded at what is known as the turn of the century when any man who could afford one along with a cane could enjoy being mistaken for J. P. Morgan the elder.

Then came the auto manufacturers with their low slung jobs. A man and his topper could enter a car but not together.

The collapsible opera hat at first seemed the answer. But a fellow looked too conspicuous under one while watching a ball game.

Maybe it is just as well that the stovepipe hat has become a museum piece. The modern soft hat may not be any more wind proof but at least we don't have to worry about getting a dent in it.

'Don't Die Till You Can't Help It', He Says At 100

CHATHAM, Va.—"Uncle Sam" Lovelace, onetime slave now past the century mark in years, is still sound of mind, limb and philosophy. The elderly Negro says his longevity is "God's provision." He believes that "you live as long as you can and die when you can't help it."

Free of ailments all his life, he does more work than many far younger men are capable of doing. He works from sunup to sundown at woodchopping, feeding his pigs, carrying sacks of feed from the mill nearby or hunting "poke salad" for the hogs. He lives in a weather-beaten cabin on highway 57, rises at 3 a. m., eats three simple meals a day, works in between, and is in bed by seven.

Some of the greatest, the wisest, men have said: "Who am I to determine the cause of, and treatment for, a disease which may affect me? And they might well have continued by saying: "Only a physician has the qualifications of long training, and experience necessary to diagnose symptoms and prescribe treatment of the various diseases." When you consult a physician you avoid the uncertainties of self medication. You place the responsibility where it can best be met. When you patronize a trusted pharmacist you are assured of proper prescription compounding. This is the 114th of a series of Editorial Advertisements appearing in this paper each Monday.

TERRACE TALK

BY CECELIA TRULUCK

LES SOEURS, houseparty ended today in Daytona Beach and the members returned to Sanford a little tired but with wonderful memories! The little Grey Shingles Inn on North Ocean Avenue has never housed a better looking or more popular group of young ladies. Approximately 25 sophomore, junior and senior girls with a couple of budding suits each, two or three play suits and voguish beach dresses spent one joyous week swimming, dancing and sunbathing. The Sanford boys stayed at the beach also and were one blue to the local girls. A Philadelphia lawyer would have had difficulty interpreting the lingo which went something like this: "Are you going to wear a T-shirt this evening?" "Does a girl have wings?"

and one MARGARET DINGELDEI took a portable radio which gave out with daily soap operas and the latest news items. DILON BAKER, DAPHNE CONNELLY, BETTY JOE BROOK, EVELYN MATHEWS, DOROTHY CRYMLEY, JEAN WILLIAMS, LOLO LEE, MYRA ANN SOUTHWARD, RITA TY ODHAM, PHYLLIS BACH and HELEN WILBER were so popular that at times two fellows would be calling the same girl at the same time. ANN LOVELL, browned beautifully and wore her clothes with the style of LAUREN BACALL, President, JEAN SAYER, and ED PIEDING made one of the most attractive couples. CAROLINE LEE, LOUISE CLARK, GLOBA DAMPER, JOYCE GOODSPEED and NANCY WILLIAMS were together constantly and if asked a question they always answered in agreement. BETTY WILKINSON carried the same color of her melon bathing suit under the rays of the sun. MISS JULIE DINGELDEI and MISS H. S. SAYER spent two days each

Feds Drop 6 To 3 Tilt To Orlando Before 1,805 Fans

Kettles Permits Senators Only Two Earned Runs And Five Safeties

Four Costly Fed Errors Pave Way For Win; Charlie Bisson Slated To Hurl For Sanford Against Palatka Tonight

By JULIAN STENSTROM
Herald Sports Editor

Although big Goose Kettles only allowed five hits yesterday afternoon at the Municipal Park, four costly miscues by his Sanford Celery Fed mates enabled the Orlando Senators to emerge from the tilt with a 6 to 3 victory under their belts.

It was Goose Kettles Day at the park and 1,805 fans jammed their way into the ball orchard to pay their respects to the big Fed righthander and watch him hurl against Ted Madjeski's side. This was the fourth time Kettles had faced the Senators this season and this was the first time he tasted defeat.

However, Kettles' hurling performance was very creditable. The four Fed errors proved to be the margin needed by Orlando for their first victory. After hostilities ceased, a score book check revealed that Sanford earned all three of their runs, gathered off four hits against Orlando's Gene Majors, while the Senators carried but two of their six tallies.

Orlando's first two markers came in the second when Madjeski walked and took third on Cal Ermer's single. Ermer advanced to second on Silverman's throw in to third base. Sam Cozzi then singled to left and Sanford found themselves two runs behind. However, that was the only time during the ball game that Goose Kettles himself shared any responsibility for Orlando run being scored.

In the sixth, Sanford kicked the tilt away. With one man away, Al Bryant bobbed Lavell's grounder to short. On the next play, Bud Burns forced Lavell at second, Bryant to Dave Bride. However, Madjeski grounded to Bryant and he again miscued the pill. Ermer worked Kettles for a walk to fill the bases, and Cozzi came up again and blasted a single to left to score two more runs. Majors grounded to Bride who committed the third Fed error of the inning and Ermer scored.

Sanford racked up a pair in the sixth when Ed Levy singled to center to score Jerry Silverman and Bride.

In the eighth, Burns singled to left for the Senators and was sacrificed to second. He attempted to make third on the play and Levy's throw to Bob Tuttle was bad and the ball got away from the Sanford third sacker, permitting Burns to cross the plate.

Sanford threatened again in the eighth but was able to push over but a single marker. Bryant forced Silverman at second but advanced to keystone himself when Bride walked. Lake flied out to left but Levy smacked another single into left to tally Bryant.

Majors only permitted the locals a total of four blows but he kept himself in hot water due to wildness. He issued nine free passes during the contest and ran up a three and two count on twice that many more.

The four Fed hits were accounted for by Don Zaspel, Silverman and Levy, but the latter tonight Charlie Bisson will face the Palatka Azaleas in an effort to get back into winning strides again. The locals captured both ends of a double Friday night at the Leesburg Packers. Both Jodie Howington and Cal Blanc hurled four hit tilts.

Softball Loop Teams To Clash Tomorrow Night

Security Will Meet Robson in Evening's First Engagement

Play will be resumed tomorrow evening in the City Softball League when the Security Lumber Company Team meets Robson's Sporting Goods and Haynes and Williams tangle with the Most Amusement Company nine.

Both tilts will be part of a twin bill which gets underway at 7:30 o'clock.

The Security Lumber Company team is composed of members of the Seminole High School baseball team and since they won six exhibition tilts in six starts prior to the opening of the season they are to be considered a threat for the flag. Robson's dropped their first engagement last week to the Moss nine by a score of 13 to 13. However, the tilt was far better than the score would indicate. The latter part of the contest turned out to be a tight affair.

The second tilt tomorrow evening should be another victory for the Haynes and Williams team the strongest club in the league on paper. Their first victory last week in their initial contest was a beautiful 5 to 3 win over the Carpenters' Union, another strong entry. However, the Moss men settled down in their tilt with Robson in the loop opener and will no doubt display a much better brand of softball against the furnituremen.

Ducks which feed on the surface leap into the air and get under way by wing power. Divers, however, pitter along on the surface of the water for some distance before they can launch themselves. Sports Afield.

INSIDE SPORTS REPORT

By JULIAN STENSTROM

Well! That's That! Last Thursday we registered a complaint in this column about the colored stands at the ball park in that it needed a new roof. Here's what we found in today's mail from General Manager John Krider of the Sanford Baseball Association:

"Shortly after the opening of the season, I was informed by a colored fan that he could see the moon through the roof. I passed this information on to Mr. H. N. Sayer the same day. The next morning four men were at work putting a new roof on the entire colored grandstand."

We understand also that the work was completed on or about May 11. We received our complaint last Wednesday evening from a colored fan. Oh well, everytime we open our mouth we either put our own foot into it or someone else does. But the colored stands have a new roof and that's what we wanted. All this corner needs now is a new type digestive system to

Kettles Day

Big Goose Kettles, although he was defeated yesterday afternoon, received big rounds of cheers and applause from the local ball fans throughout the contest. But that wasn't all. The fans yesterday afternoon kicked in a total of $277.58 and handed it to the able righthander.

It was nothing less than a fitting tribute to the Seminole High grid mentor and the Fed hurler. He has done a brilliant job since coming to Sanford and his presence here has certainly been noted.

Kettles also received numerous gifts from various merchants of Sanford including the Powell Office Supply Company, Hill Hardware Company, Pouchton Drug Company, McCrory's, B. L. Perkins, Sanford Electric Company and Ivey's Shoe Store.

This corner has always refrained from jumping on baseball umpires or even commenting on their work. However, yesterday something happened at the Municipal Park which was absolutely uncalled for. Doc Huntley went on the field to introduce Kettles to the fans and Umpire Regan knew as well as any fan in the stands that the game was in honor of Kettles. Umpire Regan refused to permit Huntley to introduce Kettles and make the presentations. We realize that Umpire Regan was carrying out orders according to the books but if that had been the first time a ball game was ever halted for a moment it would have been different.

SPORTS LAUGH

By Associated Press

Sports writers at the old Emeryville track near Oakland, Calif., were tipped off on a hot horse racing for the first time. Nearly all of them put down $1.00 or $2.00 at 30-to-1 odds. The horse led ten lengths in the stretch. The sports writers rushed to be first in line at the payoff window. Meanwhile, the

In our opinion, President Al Combs of the circuit should instruct his umpires that games will be permitted to be delayed for a few moments particularly for such an official honor that was to be bestowed upon Kettles yesterday afternoon.

Huntley smoothed things over with the fans when he introduced Kettles from the stands as the best pitcher in the league and introduced Umpire Regan as the worst umpire in the league.

Doc Huntley's opinion doesn't exactly conform with ours for we'll be the first to admit that Regan is about the best umpire in the circuit. There's no doubt horse bolted the track and ran into the paddock. During weeks of training, the jockey had always pulled up before reaching the finish post and had taken the horse into the paddock. And that's what the horse did in his first race.

Tornado's Death Toll Reached 17

Damages In Detroit And Windsor Will Probably Run Into Millions Of Dollars

By Associated Press
The number of identified dead from the tornado that roared across southern Michigan and Ontario last night now is given as 17. Earlier it was said that the death toll was at least 20. However, Canadian hospitals around Windsor, Ontario, say that at least seven or eight of those injured by the storm are in critical condition.

At the first light of dawn today, searching parties were looking for possible additional victims along the narrow path of the twister. More than 100 persons were injured.

The damage will probably run into millions of dollars. Automobiles were tossed around like small playthings, roofs were torn off houses, power lines were ripped out. Tornadoes are rare in the Michigan and Ontario sections, and the people were caught by surprise.

The first community to feel its impact was River Rouge, a suburb of Detroit. The tornado hit the town at 2:30 p.m. and traveled 140 miles in a path 100 yards wide was sucked into a grip.

It first was reported by Ray Miller, a pilot of the Pennsylvania Central Airlines. He maneuvered his plane around the storm, but was close enough to see the ground below covered with blue flashes where power lines had been ripped apart. Buildings were crumpled and debris whirling around in a cone that stretched about 3,000 feet into the air.

A Canadian newspaper editor in Windsor, Ontario, Norman Campbell, was at his home just before supper when his wife pointed out the heavy black column two or three blocks away. They thought it was smoke, and Campbell, who had never seen a tornado before, expected to see the firemen called out. Then a neighbor's son brought the news that a roof had been torn off a house only a few miles away.

W. R. Williams, realtor, announced today the purchase by Edward S. McCall of Sanford and M. W. Fresa of Uniontown, Pa., of the fruit packing equipment, located on Atlantic Avenue near the Atlantic Coast Line Depot in Orlando. The building housing the equipment is owned by the railroad.

Mr. Williams said that he had been informed that Mr. McCall, who could not be reached for comment this morning, would manage the packing plant. For a number of years, Mr. McCall has managed the Peninsular Life insurance agency here. He is an active member of the Sanford Lion's Club, and lives with his family at 608 East Fourteenth Street.

Mr. Fresa is a paving contractor and coal operator at Uniontown.

Hearing Is Held By Judge Ware In Murder Case

Doctor Says Bullet Wound Contributed To Death Of Negress

Following the hearing this morning before County Judge R. W. Ware regarding the death of Velma Gordon, negro, the husband, Henry Gordon of Midway, was brought over on charges of murder in the second degree, awaiting action of the grand jury.

A preliminary hearing conducted this morning by Judge R. W. Ware to determine any possible charges in connection with the death here of Velma Gordon, negro, brought testimony from Dr. O. H. Starke, negro physician who attended the late negress, a bullet wound received on November 25, had been a contributing cause of her death. Immediate cause of which the doctor testified was pneumonia.

Harry Gordon, husband of the late negress, was questioned in connection with the alleged shooting by Assistant State Attorney George A. DeCotes and by G. W. Spencer, attorney.

Deputy Sheriff Jack Hickson testifying in regard to his investigation of the shooting which took place at the Gordon home in Midway, east of Sanford said that Gordon had told him that his wife had come at him with a ice pick; that he had retreated behind a curtain between the bedroom and kitchen and had shot her. He then left the house wide open while he took his wife to the hospital, and claimed that upon his return, the pistol, the ice pick and $500 in cash, left under the pillow on the bed, was missing. Hickson said that on a later search he found the ice pick wrapped in newspaper behind a suitcase.

Dr. Starke stated that the negress had become paralyzed from the second rib down as a result of the bullet wound, and added that what is known as terminal pneumonia was a secondary disease, resulting from a long illness such as the negress had.

Shortage Of Guards Blamed For Recent Prison Break At Raiford

Governor And State Cabinet Agree To Place Guards On 8-Hour Shifts Instead Of 12; Chapman Declares 125 Men Needed

New Czech Envoy

TALLAHASSEE, June 18—(AP)—Too few guards and officers were the reason given by Superintendent L. F. Chapman of the Florida State Prison for the escape of 12 convicts on June 2 from Raiford Prison.

When the prison officials told the State Cabinet in Tallahassee this today, the group tentatively agreed to put guards at the Raiford institution on eight-hour shifts instead of the 12-hour shifts they now work.

Chapman made his report after Governor Caldwell commented to him that "some of us feel there must be a very serious situation down at the prison."

All but one of the 12 men who escaped by having one of their number pretend he was sick and making a break through an open cell door have been recaptured. Chapman reports two guards have been discharged as a result of the break.

Chapman told the Cabinet Raiford now has only 32 guards, to watch nearly 1,500 prisoners. He estimated the Florida Prison needs 125 guards. He further says that if the shifts are decreased to eight hours, another 30 will be necessary.

Another point brought on by the prison head was that there are not sufficient appropriations to pay guards sufficient wages to compete with industry. He maintains that until this is the case good men will not be available for guards.

Chapman also pointed out that the prison has no general alarm system.

Communists Say Peace Hopes In China Are Fading

Military Demands By Nationalists Said To Be Cause

PANKING, June 18, (AP)—A spokesman for the Chinese Communists asserted today that hopes for a peace pact in China, long diminished by new military demands from the Nationalist government, are fading.

The spokesman said that the Communist side was up to its ears in their most important military holds in north China, including the coastline of strategic Shan Tung Peninsula.

According to the Communist official, Wang Peng-Nan, the demands cover several provinces north of the Yellow River. Wang pointed out that the Communist side have made concessions, and have agreed to reduce combat operations. For a settlement proposal was described in some Communist quarters as a "stalemate."

Dispatches from the Chinese Communist News Agency said that Communist forces in Shan Tung Peninsula have advanced to a point where a general offensive by the Nationalist government is being planned. The government is being charged that it is planning a general offensive to capture the city of Lan-chow.

Earlier, the commander of all Chinese Communist forces, Liu Man-hua, General Liu Pao-sai, said that further civil war could only bring catastrophe to China. He said that government troops advancing northward were being charged with a "barbaric" policy of Japanese aggression and of Communist capture of the city of Lan-chow.

Dozen Young Extremists Kidnap Four British Officers; 18 Persons Killed

Jewish Nationalists have struck again in their battle with the British in Palestine, amid a flood of rumors that British and American troop reinforcements are hurrying to the Holy Land.

Apparently emboldened by the success of their midnight forays against communications during the past 36 hours, a dozen young Jewish extremists, led by daylight to day, Amos, seized today, two officers of the British Army and kidnapped four British officers. A reliable informant says the raiders blindfolded their victims, said to be officers of the British Army, and forced them into taxicabs, and then disappeared. Troops of the British Sixth Airborne Division immediately began a search of the city for the abductees and the officers.

The kidnapers may have been members of the Jewish extremist organization, Irgun, said today. It is believed the British officers were taken as hostages against the impending execution of the members of the Irgun Army who have been condemned for taking part in a raid last week in a British Army camp. In a weekend, the underground Jewish radio warned that some countermeasures would be taken for the death sentences.

The British War Office in London appears to be dumbfounded by the development which followed a night of terrorism in the East of Haifa. Nine Jews were killed in a pitched battle with an Arab force of 200 men and 100 rifles. While the battle was underway, two attempts were made to bomb Haifa. These failed Sunday night, 18 persons have been killed in the East of Haifa.

The Jewish raiders apparently did their job well in blasting communications. The Syrian government announced today that all road travel between Syria and Palestine would be interrupted for an indefinite time because of the destruction of the main telegraph lines.

The Arab Delegation in the United Nations has said that British troops should be withdrawn from Palestine. The Arab Delegation also said that the United States should support the Arab position.
