School Sex Measures Will Occupy Solons

By FRED VAN PELT

Sex in school makes up the greater part of the 10 Seminole County legislative measures to be considered by the Seminole-Orange legislative delegation at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Orange County Commission chambers in the courthouse at Orlando.

School sex bills to be considered tomorrow evening for presentation to the next session of the Legislature included (1) a bill requiring parental consent of health and sex education courses; (2) a bill prohibiting the use of "Sullivan Reading Series" in Seminole County kindergartens, primary and secondary schools; (3) a bill prohibiting the use of materials recommended by the Sex Education and Information Council.

Other Seminole bills to be considered are: Designating Wekiva Springs Road and Redbug Road as state primary roads; requiring theaters to display ratings of main features and previews; prohibiting discriminatory double school sessions.

Prohibiting standing in moving school buses; providing for the relief from uncollected checks for the Clerk of Circuit Court; and providing for the redistribution of race track funds.

Welfare Is Dragging

By BILL SCOTT

The State welfare system needs changing and updating to meet the needs of the poor. Even employees of the state agency agree that present operation was geared to meet the needs of recipients way back before the Democratic New Deal days of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Now with a new anxiety focused away from the old concepts of farms and male domination, comes the need for a complete change in the qualifications for receiving state benefits.

This is demonstrated by the requirement of the state that before a family can become eligible for aid, the father must leave home and the wife must charge him with desertion and agree to prosecute him, if and when he is located.

State forces this to happen by declaring, "If both parents are alive and well in the home, but neither is working, no help can be given to the family."

Thus a father, who may have been working for 20 years, is suddenly discharged, is unable to find work fast enough to feed his family is forced to desert his loved ones to receive their monetary help.

This and other welfare problems were discussed with Margaret Anderson, Virginia Hurt, Mary L. Simpson and Joyce Kelley, four employees of State Department of Public Welfare at Sanford.

There are 35 persons employed at Sanford engaged in welfare work serving Seminole County, one of the five counties served in state's 12th district, with administrative office at Orlando.

In addition to aid to families with dependent children, the state office also offers aid to aged, blind and disabled.

Stressing there is never any money given at the office itself, Mrs. Anderson said the state agency refers prospective applicants to the state office after a full scale investigation is made to determine qualifications.

Immediate help such as a meal or grocery order for a needy family are given from the Seminole County welfare office, which is separate from the state department. County welfare also approves emergency hospitalization for indigents but gives no money supplement.

State welfare forwards information to enable receipt of welfare checks issued from Jacksonville headquarters.

Under the state law, the recently mentioned George Beaton family at Lake Monroe was not eligible for financial aid since the father was well and employed, although his take-home pay was not enough to feed a nine-member family, and provide the many other necessities such as clothing, medical help and utilities.

The four categories in which money grants can be made to state recipients are: Elderly assistance over 65, aid to totally and permanently disabled between 18-65 years, aid to legally blind at any age and families with dependent children lacking support.

The maximum amount payable on or about the state agency has required no residency requirement for receiving welfare payments.

County agency requires a year residency before help can be given. If an applicant needs food but does not qualify under state or county agency, he is forwarded to the Salvation Army for aid.

HEAD-ON COLLISION
RESCUING Gary Lee Dickerson, 30, 2702 Magnolia Avenue, from his wrecked car are county deputies and ambulance drivers, who also took Alice A. Dickerson, 54, mother of Gary and Juanita Dickerson, 18, his sister, from the same vehicle after a two-car collision on Markham Road, west of SR 431 at Paola. Mrs. Dickerson is listed in "critical" condition at Seminole Memorial Hospital's intensive care unit with multiple injuries. Dickerson reportedly sustained a broken leg and other injuries.

Hospital Attache Cut, Robbed

A Seminole Memorial Hospital switch board operator was cut on the left hand and robbed of $100 early today by a butcher knife-wielding hand wearing a stocking mask.

Chief of Police Ben Butler said Mrs. Lois Avery, 67, Enterprise was robbed and cut by a slim handcut who escaped after the 4 a. m. robbery.

Butler said Det. Ralph Russell had been assigned to investigate the incident when Mrs. Avery phoned police after a fall, slim man wearing a stocking crawled under a cashier's cage to slash the woman on the hand with a large knife, which was thrown to the floor after Mrs. Avery gave him approximately $100 in hospital receipts.

The switch board operator normally takes all money and makes change after the hospital cashier closes the office at 8:30 p. m.

Patrolman Gene Pharis investigated the report and stated belief the robber left by a west side door.

All hospital offices were closed and locked at the time of the robbery and the culprit was forced to crawl under a small opening near the floor to enter the cashier's cage with Mrs. Avery, Pharis reported.

This incident is latest of a series of reported baggings at the hospital, all of them occurring at night but most at the emergency room entrance or the parking lot.

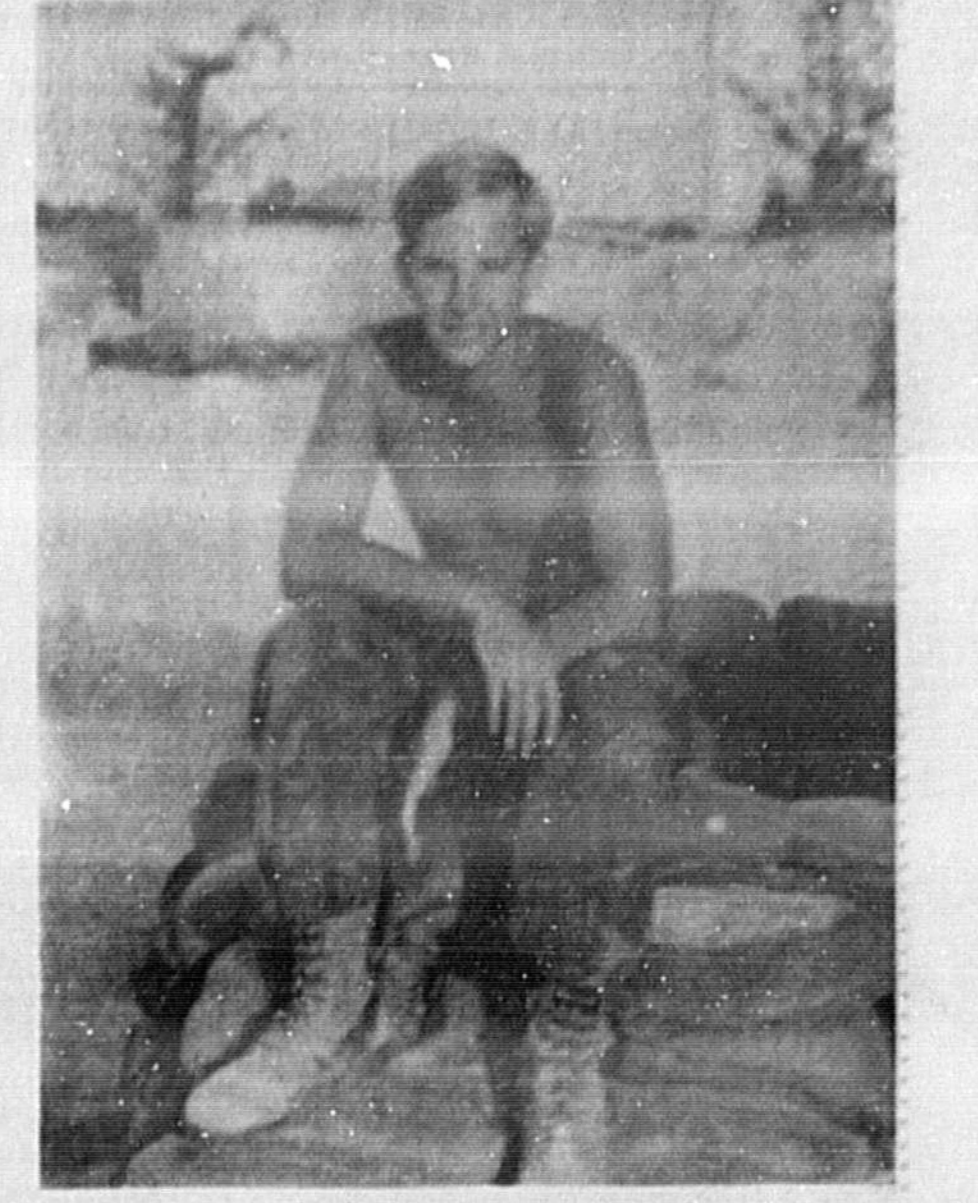

A number of signs allocating parking places to doctors were removed and knocked-down recently. Dr. Thomas Largent, hospital trustee, has requested a guard or security man be hired to police the hospital at night due to several instances of misbehavior by persons at the emergency room.

MELINDA SAYS: VOTE!
LESSON for her elders is presented by four-year old Melinda Morris, pictured here receiving instructions in using a voting machine from Cami Bruce, county supervisor of elections. Melinda has been going to the polls with her grandparents.

Amount of monetary assistance received by each family is different since it is based on a formula that takes number of children, rent, utilities and other factors into consideration. If the mother works, but qualifies for aid, then state may pay a day nursery to keep the children for the mother to provide a living.

The state agency employee interviewed by The Herald agreed that changes need to be made in the welfare program to enable it to function with the problems faced by a different generation than those of the 1950s, when most of the present laws were established.

No 'Boys' In Marines

(Editor's note: An article was published recently by a group of doctors, psychologists and politicians concerning the so-called "Marine Corps" . . . it stated that the . . . Corps has a bunch of killers, too young to know what they are all about. . . )

Mr. and Mrs. J. Brooks, 308 Rosalia Drive, and a graduate of Seminole High School, wrote this response.

By CHARLES BROOKS

I am a Marine in Vietnam. I've been here for 10 months and I've seen what war is like. I've read articles about what the supposedly educated men have to say. They say Marines are killers, too young to know about life. Yet they're the ones who vote and make the decisions for these teenage killers to serve their country.

The Marine Corps is built on leadership. The young killers follow the orders of those old enough to know what's going on. Yet we're also the ones who die for our country. We don't have feelings but I've seen the killers cry when they have to pick up the pieces of one of their buddies.

They talk about how cruel we treat the people of Vietnam. But we don't have feelings so why should it affect us when someone laughs at our dead buddies?

In September of 1969 we worked with elements of the First Air Cavalry Division in taking "Hamburger Hill." During this time we lost eight men from our platoon, two from my squad. One was married, 19 years of age, and had a son. It wasn't too easy to write to his wife and tell her how he died. The other was only 18. I wrote to his Mom. I thought of what my Mom would have felt if she had been the one receiving the letter.

We kill but we have to, to save our lives. They ask why Marines are always the ones who see the action. We go first and come out last. We do the most with the least. There have been many savings as how to put it - we've been doing so much for so long with so little that now we can do the impossible with nothing.

Also:

We are the unwilling, led by the unqualified to do the unnecessary for the ungrateful!

Say it like you will, Marines say it. We knock the Corps but deep down there's pride. In Corps and Country. We're here for a reason. I've never been told what it is but I only do as I'm told.

Like I said, you'll hear us talk about the Marine Corps in some bar but you don't talk about it - at least when I'm there or another Marine is there.

Fight Aimed At German Measles

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Florida's Health Advisory Commission, already combating an outbreak of diphtheria, approved a three-year immunization program Sunday aimed at protecting the state's children from another dreaded disease — German measles.

The commission, which replaced the State Board of Health in this year's governmental reorganization, turned down a proposal by State Rep. Richard S. Hodges to give its endorsement to the longer program during Sunday's meeting.

Dr. Fred Lauriat, an estimated 10,000 persons waited in line Sunday for diphtheria shots at a dollar apiece from a hospital working group of doctors and nurses at Doctor's Hospital, Broward County residents have been shaken by an unconfirmed diphtheria case involving a seven-year-old boy being treated in a hospital as a "possible" victim of the disease.

The council also received an interim report showing that about 60 nursing homes are in danger of losing their licenses. Dr. Walter Deason, chief of the Bureau of Health Facilities and Services, said preliminary results of a statewide survey showed that the homes "will need to be updated or dropped from the division of health licensing program."

Dr. Deason did not identify the nursing homes, nor did he elaborate on problems found in them. He said the survey probably would be completed early in 1970.

Most female cats produce kittens during a five-year period, but an unusual case has been reported where a cat, 20-years-old, gave birth to kittens.

Estimates Are Needed

Estimates of costs to replace or repair the 45 units of red brick concrete flats now under way at Sanford Marina is needed before work to raise the sunken eight-by-five-ton units can start.

This was the word given today by a spokesman for Monroe Harbortz, Inc., leasee of the city-owned marina.

Don Denny, harbor master, said a derrick is being brought up from Jacksonville for use in the raising operation, as soon as the insurance company can give the damage estimate for the property that sank after heavy winds and high water.

Eight Killed In State

By The Associated Press
Eight persons were killed on Florida's streets and highways over the weekend, including a pedestrian hit by a State Highway Patrol car and a nine-year-old girl.

William Mathis, Jr., 40, was killed when he ran across State Road 500 west of Ocala and was struck by a passing patrol unit driven by trooper H. R. Natto.

The Highway Patrol said nine-year-old Patricia Ware was killed when the car in which she was riding swerved off the left side of U.S. 17-92, 8 miles southwest of Kissimmee. The car veered back onto the road for another 30 feet, then hit a tree. The girl's mother, Mrs. John Ware, was taken to a Kissimmee hospital.

Toni Rimes, 18, of Gibesonton was also killed when a car veered onto a bridge on State Road 672 in Hillsborough County.

No 'Boys' In Marines, He Writes

I've heard on newscasts, "Let's get our boys out of Vietnam." There are no boys here, not in the Marines. They were left in boot camp, or back on the block with their long hair and beards.

If you want to talk about someone look at the teenage degenerates in America and then look at a Marine standing security in our nation's capital. A R. R. (rest and recuperation) is one of the great privileges we have in Vietnam. There are two country B&Bs in China. Marines are not allowed in Saigon. Why?

Liquor is very cheap. Everyone has a car. The grade of E-6 are allowed to buy R. Why?

Until recently Marines were serving one more month in Vietnam than the other services. Why?

The I Corps area is the most important tactical area in Vietnam. Marines of the 1st and 3rd Marine Divisions control the security of this area. Why?

Anyone who can give me sensible answers in these questions and then still talk about the Corps might convince me to help disarm the Marine Corps. I'm in for four years, that's all I'll say. But no matter what anyone calls me, I'll always be a Marine.

Solons Eye Tax Puzzle

By EDMOND LEBRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two major moves to resolve the House-Senate conflicts over massive tax reform legislation confronted Congress today as efforts began to reach a compromise before Christmas.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said Sunday the Treasury Department had prepared an alternative plan for increasing the personal income tax exemption and would offer it to the conference committee on tax reform.

The House scheduled a vote on a separate bill increasing Social Security benefits by 15 percent. The Senate backed on these benefits in a rider to its tax reform bill but went further, boosting the minimum monthly payment from $55 to $100.

The center of action this week is the conference committee, where moves are expected to scale down the new Social Security

Candidates Have Done Their Job: Let's Vote!

We surely hope that every registered Sanfor voter has done his or her homework, has studied the very well prepared statements by the two candidates for mayor-commissioner and is ready to cast a ballot intelligently at the run-off election tomorrow.

With the very high stakes that ride on the result of the election it would betray the greatest sort of neglect if Sanfor voters fail to turn out in numbers which will raise the very sorry showing at the Dec. 2 polls.

Both Mayor Lee P. Moore and Commissioner Earl Higginbotham are to be complimented in taking the time to think out the meaning of the eight issues which we named as essential and make the results which were printed in The Herald on Friday.

We are also convinced that the supporters of each of these leading citizens have been active by personal solicitation — by phone, letter and conversation — to get out the vote for the man of their choice.

In case the issues are not recalled by our readers of today, let us list them again:

1. New City Hall complex, 2. City charter change, 3. Urban renewal, 4. Roads, 5. Annexation, 6. Sanfor Industrial Commission, 7. Planning and beautification and 8. Zoo.

There are, of course, other issues which will suggest themselves to the voters who are actually giving the time and thought which civic responsibilities in these changing times demand.

But, for the time being and for this election, we believe that the statements made by Messrs. Moore and Higginbotham on those issues listed are guides to the approach to solving these problems which deserve voter attention.

On some issues there is a sort of agreement on the solution by each candidate. On others there is a wide diversity. Attention on the differences is, of course, the best key to what can be expected from each if elected to the three-year term as mayor-commissioner.

There is another issue which is so intangible and yet so basically important that no candidate for any office is able to spell it out or phrase it in words. This is the essential ingredient of character and leadership. The highest of the former is useless without the latter. The highest of the latter is dangerous without the former.

We believe that this is not, however, undecipherable in the case of the two worthy candidates for election. These are not unknown men to Sanfor voters.

Each has been in the public eye for more than a

'Mighty Casey' Kirk Struck Out

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Like Casey at the bat, Gov. Claude Kirk took three swings during his stay legislative session — and struck out.

The special session began Dec. 1, called by Kirk to provide money for a 16-year road program and to select primary election dates.

When the smoke cleared on adjournment last Wednesday, Kirk had retreated to the dugout to nurse legislative chest marks that could leave deep scars.

His pet road program was so battered veteran politicians predicted passage chances during the 1970 session were slim indeed.

His friend, political adviser and transportation secretary appointed, Michael O'Neill, was ousted and retreated to the tire business in Miami. The transportation department was shaken by charges of inefficiency.

His secret Governor's Club, mired in the backwash of the O'Neill controversy, is now the subject of an intensified probe blessed with a grant of authority by the full House.

Lawmakers blamed Kirk for acting too fast without enough facts.

"He would have been better to call the special session off on the regular session. His timing was bad," said House Republican Leader Donald Reed of Boca Raton.

Sen. Robert Haverfield, D-Miami, said there was no planning, no consultation with legislative leaders and defects in the governor's road bill. He said it was "doomed to failure before we started."

With a campaign looming on the political horizon, Kirk will have to gather a lot of loose legislative threads together, including some Republican support that slipped through his fingers during the session.

Among other things, Kirk uttered a cutting: "Never before have I seen such a sickening display of calculated ruthlessness."

The session, however, produced a very real far-reaching measure, including implementation of the higher education bond amendment, approved 31-

Endless Choice

In some degree the American press (all kinds) is guilty as charged of nearly everything in the book. It is rich, powerful, influential, arrogant, naive, opinionated, trivial, tiresome, sensational, rude, quarrelsome, etc. Name it. Somewhere the charge is bound to stick. But with all of this, some slight ease might be made in the defense of this press.

When the Vice President levels his blunders at the networks, where does one read and hear about it? Why, in the press, of course.

When the press, in ruffled dignity, strikes back, how is this fact conveyed to the breathless spectators? By the press. What else?

When this bustling confrontation erupts into something approaching a constitutional crisis, where is the play-by-play account readily available to anyone in the least concerned? In columns of text, columns of print, and hour after hour of video exposure, the sum of them running into millions of words.

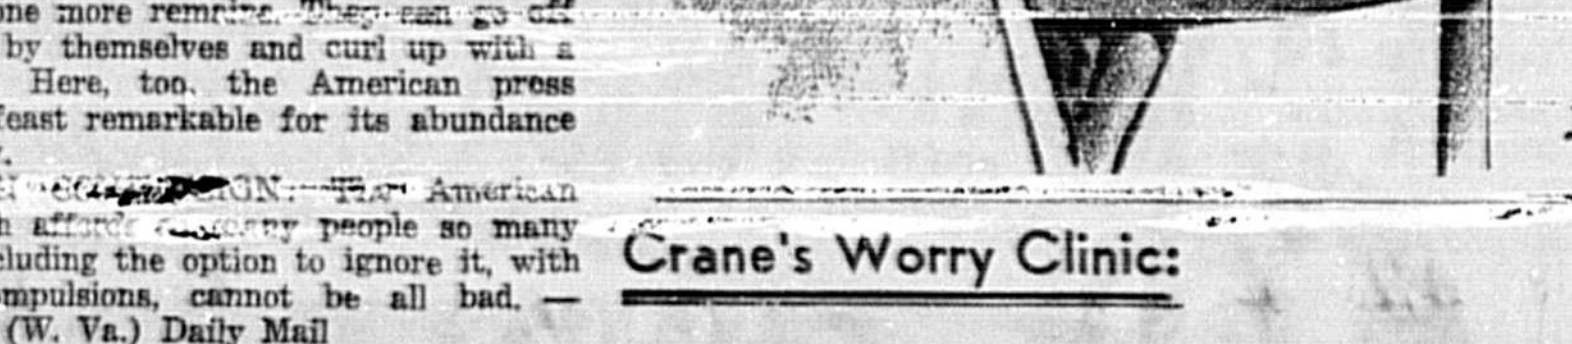

And all of this takes place in a rather special set of circumstances which are so unusual that they are often unnoticed.

Those who do not like Eric Sevard can turn him off and turn on with Spiro Agnew.

Those who cannot stomach the New York Times can cancel and subscribe to the Chicago Tribune.

And for those who are bored with these alternatives, as any purely dispassionate observer might be, one more remedy: Turn on the radio somewhere by themselves and curl up with a good book. Here, too, the American press represents a vast remarkable for its abundance and variety.

For those who are tired of people so many opinions, including the opinion to ignore it, with no few complications, cannot be all bad. — Charles Lewis (W. Va.) Daily Mail

Crane's Worry Clinic: Pelvic Neuroses And Surgery

Well, a sexual inferiority complex is often the disguised reason!

Dr. W. M. D. Crane, M.D., of the Crane Clinic, 225 E. 1st St., Tallahassee, Fla., has a sexual complex.

"Dr. Crane," her worried husband beamed, "Iola has submitted to four pelvic operations, yet still she complains. We have spent $7,000 on hospital and surgeon's fees."

"Now the last doctor has recommended that her problem must be psychological so he has urged me to send her to a psychiatrist."

"But she refuses to go, saying people will think she is crazy if she consults a psychiatrist."

"So what else can I do? Is she a hypochondriac?"

"Millions of dollars worth of pelvic surgery have been performed at the insistence of jittery wives who complain of vague symptoms. Because they keep pestering gynecologists or general surgeons, the doctors figure maybe it would be wise to straighten out their wits."

Or circumscribe their clitoris.

Or remove their appendix.

And don't think I am exaggerating. Dr. Walter Alvarez studied 385 patients who had undergone appendectomies. Yet 225 of these (58 per cent) had not suffered from any attack of acute appendicitis.

And only two of those 225 were cured of their abdominal pain by the surgical operation.

(Go to your library and consult Chapter 21 in my college textbook, "Psychology Applied.")

Dr. James C. Doyle, of the University of California, also surveyed 6,248 partial or complete hysterectomies (womb removal).

And in 69 per cent of all those cases the surgery was unwarranted and unnecessary as per the hospital pathologists' reports!

Remember, too, that this was before Medicare, which has precipitated an avalanche of additional unnecessary medical care at the taxpayer's expense.

Why do so many patients (especially women) deluge the office of physicians with vague abdominal symptoms?

Political Notebook: Distrust Gnaws At Fabric

By BRUCE ROSSA, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In America a worsening epidemic of distrust may do grave harm to the democratic process. Responsibility for spreading the disease lies with many doctors.

The contagion has reached the point where many Americans no longer try seriously to determine when they are hearing at least approximate truths and when they are not. They are simply retreating to the safe comfort of believing that nothing is to be believed.

It is not just a matter of young and old, establishment vs. anti-establishment, militant vs. moderate, government vs. press. The wounds of distrust cut deep even within these opposing categories of society.

The recent White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health was alive with little "caucuses" of delegates busily separating themselves from the conference minutes. But if you savoredroped on two people, you might have seen a palestinian caucus, you might have seen a group of people who were not sure if they were in 1918 or 1944.

By its very immediacy, government has compounded the problem of trust. A huge bureaucracy is more prone to error than a small one. Yet its size and complexity make it much easier to buy mistakes in little corners where even cabinet heads and presidents do not discover them. The monster has a self-protective life of its own, apart from its leaders.

Government's growth has come, too, at a time when many of its tasks—guard to the scientific and technological revolution occurring outside—have become harder and harder for the ordinary citizen to fathom. It is almost wholly dependent on the translations to layman's language given him by spokesmen for the experts operating "inside." Even outside experts seldom know enough. With no real check, the citizen's trust is shaken.

Today's incredible social ferment—racial, student, lower middle class white—heightens further the distrust of government. Americans, historically, have not often treated their leaders with high regard. Now they are throwing the whole process of representative government open to question.

Impatience, an old American trait, has been fanned furiously by, again by the immediacy and high visibility television has given so many of the nation's difficulties and conflicts.

Government seems the insupportable placid, and the mood of many is to melt it with flamethrowers.

Domestic Comment: Better US Jobs For Blacks

By RAY CROMLEY, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It has not been advertised, but the Nixon administration has quietly instituted a hard-line drive for upgrading black government employees.

A Civil Service career bureaucrat who has seen career orders on equal opportunity come and go says past orders have been generalities. No one could hold you to anything. This one tells you precisely what to do and how to do it—including who does what.

A survey by each agency in each city of employment to make certain that living conditions for Negroes are what they should be in that community—and, if not, action on whatever can be properly done about it.

Managers and supervisors in the agencies are to be trained in spotting capable Negroes and how to go about preparing them for promotion.

Improved procedures are to be set up for guidance and impartial review and appeal for Negroes who believe they have been unjustly passed over for advancement.

Regular checks will be made on managers and supervisors to determine what results they're achieving. The finger will be pointed at agencies and those supervisors not making sufficient progress.

Negro government employees is already high. A greater percentage of Negroes than whites hold federal jobs. Yet Negro professionals charge the government is not an equal opportunity employer.

Bill Rawlins Says: Put Together!

By BILL RAWLINS, Associated Press Writer

SMYTHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Christmas Eve is the night for the fathers of America to assemble. They don't get together, they put together.

It happens every year, but somehow it always seems to come as a surprise.

This is because no father in his right mind walks into a toy store and asks for a box of spare parts to put under the tree for Junior or Juniors. He asks for his bicycle or that tricycle or this toy sink or that doll house. He sees them, assembled and shiny.

But he walks out of the toy store with a box of spare parts, which he hides in the attic.

Then he burns the midnight oil into the wee hours of Christmas morning, trying to read the simple directions or—more likely—trying to let the toy together or before he finally looks at the simple directions.

Except for the pictures, the directions don't seem to help much, because most of them read as if they were written by a Japanese who learned English in school—a Japanese school.

Somewhat, though, he always manages to get things together in time to lie down, at least he gets the youngsters awake gleefully to "see what Santa Claus brought me!"

It may well be this lack of credit where credit is due which leads some progressive types to teach their youngsters, from the time they are old enough to walk, the true facts of Christmas life.

Governor's Club Pot May Boil Over Today

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Like a pot of boiling oil that could scald someone if it drips, Gov. Claude Kirk's secret Governor's Club hangs precariously in the balance.

The State Supreme Court may tip the pot over today if it decides to provide the House Elections Committee with legal means to force contributors to identify themselves.

The court was asked by the governor to issue a stay order blocking the committee's House-sanctioned probe. Kirk's delay maneuver would allow him time to appeal a lower court ruling that upheld the validity of committee subpoenas.

If Kirk's full faith, committee chairman William Andrews, D-Gainesville, says he will retract Thursday lists of contributors and contributions to the club.

Andrews pursued club membership identities on the theory the Governor's Club contributions "are given by people licensed by or doing business with the state or who are or were ap-

Discrimination GABERONES, Botswana (AP) — Sheriff penalties have been national to this African state for racial discrimination following alleged insults to Botswana nationals on trains in their own country.

The trains, operated by Rhodesia Railways, pass through the country from Rhodesia to Botswana's border white-ruled neighbor, South Africa. A senior government spokesman said train officials are sometimes less helpful to African passengers or speak of them in derogatory terms despite warnings from the railroad management not to practice discrimination.

He said train staff warn Botswana nationals to use the African national coach on trains if they wish to avoid unpleasantness. Passengers of all races are allowed to stay on this car throughout the journey and do not have to switch to segregated coaches when the train crosses the border into apartheid-ruled South Africa.

An amendment to Botswana's penal code now provides fines of up to Rands 500 ($700) and imprisonment of up to six months for discrimination on grounds of race, color, nationality or creed.

Blundering Management, Funds Misuse Charged

Costly Education Program Is In Doubt

By GARVEN HUDGINS
 AP Education Writer
 WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government's multimillion-dollar answer to the educational needs of America's disadvantaged children is at a critical crossroads, its future clouded by evidence of blundering management and misuse of funds.

Title I, the heart of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, established a national goal of equalizing educational opportunities for all children by compensating for the disadvantages suffered by those who grew up in impoverished communities.

To this end, more than $4 billion has been appropriated over the past four years, including $1.2 billion in fiscal 1969. Yet Title I has not worked out so far as its sponsors intended.

Money has been spent in the wrong places and in many instances has not reached the impoverished children who need it most.

Commissioner of Education James E. Allen Jr. recently appointed a special task force to take a hard look at the program.

Allen formed the study group after government auditors said they had come across cases like these.

—$16,000 in Title I funds went for a sewage disposal plant in Atlanta County, Miss.

—In three Georgia school districts—Gwinnett, Bibbs and Muscogee—counties—$870,000 was used to set up curriculum centers and a reading clinic to serve all schools, regardless of whether they were Title I targets.

—In Milwaukee, Wis., $21,605 went for salaries of non-Title I school personnel. And in New Jersey, $44,000 was used to pay employees who devoted less than full time to Title I activities.

—Title I money paid part of the rent on a building housing administrative offices of a school district in Cairo, Ill.

Eleven-year-old Rick Snyder must have been an inspiration to Minnesota quarterback Joe Kapp. Rick took to the air at halftime, then Joe went to the air in the fourth quarter to bring the Vikings their 12th straight National Football League victory.

Rick and his mother were in the gondola of a 25-foot-hot-air balloon participating in the half-time show of the Vikings-San Francisco game played Sunday in a snowstorm in Minnesota.

When Mrs. Snyder got out of the gondola, the balloon broke its mooring and carried Rick three miles, landing in the Minnesota river.

A passing motorist got the boy out of the river and returned him to the stadium in time to see Kapp, who threw only 10 passes, put the ball in the air for a 22-yard scoring strike to Gene Washington for the victory.

In other NFL action Sunday, Detroit, 4-11, thrashed Los Angeles, 11-2, 28-0; Washington, 7-4, held off New Orleans, 4-9, 17-14; Green Bay 16, topped Chicago, 11-2, 21-3; Cleveland, 10-1, took St. Louis, 4-8, 1-7; the New York Giants, 5-8, edged Pittsburgh, 11-2, 21-17; and Atlanta, 5-8, trounced Philadelphia, 4-9, 27-3. Capitol Division winner Dallas, 10-1, beat Baltimore, 7-5, 21-20 Saturday.

The American Football League ended its regular season Sunday as the New York Jets, 10-4, defeated Miami 27-9; Houston topped Boston, 27-23; San Diego edged Buffalo 45-6 and Denver, 5-8, beat Cincinnati, 45-1, 27-36.

In the National Football League, Minnesota beat San Francisco 10-7; Detroit upset Los Angeles 28-0; Oakland defeated St. Louis 27-21; Green Bay upended Chicago 21-3; Washington topped New Orleans 17-14; the New York Giants overpowered Pittsburgh 21-7; and Atlanta pounded Philadelphia 27-3. Dallas beat Baltimore 27-10 Saturday.

The Oilers played Oakland under the new playoff system which pits the Western Division champion against runner-up in the East. The Oilers, defending world champions and Eastern Division winners, challenge Kansas City, No. 2 in the West, in the other playoff game. The winners meet for the league title on Jan. 4.

ver upended Cincinnati 17-16. Oakland nipped Kansas City 10-6 Saturday.

Minnesota Coach Bud Grant was pleased with his club's 12th triumph after a season-opening loss but admitted the unscheduled balloon trip stole the show.

"The game was sort of an anticlimax to that," said Grant.

The game might have been anticlimactic for the hardy Minnesota fans if it had not been for Kapp and Washington, Washington got behind Kermis Alexander, hauling in the ball on the 15 and raced into the end zone.

Coastal Division champion Los Angeles, with quarterback Roman Gabriel sitting out most of the first half, simply couldn't get untracked against Detroit. Ex-Ram Bill Musney passed for two touchdowns, Earl Mann booted four field goals and the Lions also got a safety.

Charley Harraway ran 12 yards for a touchdown and caught a 39-yard pass from Sonny Jurgensen for another and Curt Knight kicked a 19-yard field goal as Washington built a 17-0 lead in the half on the second New Orleans. The victory assured the Redskins of their first winning season since 1955.

After a scoreless first half, Green Bay exploded for 21 points in the third quarter. Two of the touchdowns were scored by Travis Williams on a 29-yard run and a 59-yard pass from Don Horn. Chicago's Gale Sayers, the NFL's leading rusher, gained 50 yards in 27 carries and booted his 11th of 372 yards on the day.

SIZING THE SITUATION — Joe Namath, Kansas City quarterback of the New York Jets, keeps in touch with his spotters at Shea Stadium while the opposition has the ball.

Up-Up-And Away A Cool Balloon Ride

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Rick Snyder, the 11-year-old boy who rode a runaway balloon three miles to an icy bath in the Minnesota River, says "I wasn't scared. I was just thinking real hard about how I was going to get down."

Rick, a sixth grader, was swept aloft Sunday during half-time of a National Football League game between the Minnesota Vikings and the San Francisco 49ers.

Some 45,000 spectators watched as the 25-foot-hot-air balloon broke its tether and soared into the snowy sky, barely missing a light tower at Metropolitan stadium.

The ride ended three miles away, in the frigid waters of the Minnesota River.

"I was pretty high," Rick said. "I'd say about 1,500 feet. I was in the clouds part of the time."

Rick said he understood the importance of the hot-air balloon enough to turn off the propane burner which heated the air inside it. But he said he picked out. Then the balloon drifted on and took off again.

Rick said he had to swim about 25 feet to shore in water there wasn't anything I could do about it. I turned the burner over its head but had no diff-back on again, but it was too early.

Rock Festival Stymied At Fort Lauderdale

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Plans for a rock festival near here later this month were stymied further today by a health department's rejection of sanitation plans and a proposed petition to get the festival banned as a public nuisance.

Festival promoter Norman Johnson lowered crowd estimate from 70,000 to 35,000 earlier this week to get health plans approved, but health officials said the plans were still inadequate.

County health specialists W. A. Hillier and W. C. Galbreath said the plans did not include water well tests, the size of septic tank drainfields, or designation of first-aid treatment areas.

Another health official, Charles Melcher, said although the plan for 120 toilet facilities would be adequate for daylight use, the festival would require nearly 20 times that many if overnight camping were allowed. Melcher said under the present health code, a camping area for 35,000 persons would require 2,041 toilets, 1,750 lavatories, and 1,750 showers.

"If they had 2,000 toilets out there, I don't know where they'd put the rock festival," Melcher said.

Meanwhile, Broward County Solicitor James Geiger said he will file an amended petition for an injunction to stop the festival on the grounds it will be a public nuisance.

Johnson's attorney, Paul Anton, said a federal court suit will be filed today to prove an earlier county ordinance banning all outdoor music festivals is unconstitutional.

Geiger said his amended petition was separate from the county ordinance.

Coach Clive Rush of the Houston Oilers, who are supposed to lose to the Oakland Raiders in an American Football League playoff match Saturday.

The Oilers wrapped up the regular season Sunday by scoring 10 points in the last four minutes to beat Boston 27-23 and Rush said afterwards:

"It was a strong effort by Houston which should help them in the playoffs."

Houston will need all the help it can get. Pete Beathard, playing with a foot injury, passed for two Oiler touchdowns, including an eight-yarder to Jim Bliere to tie the score, and helped save his team the embarrassment of going into the playoffs with a losing record.

The Oilers wound up 6-6-7 while Oakland, the winless team in the AFL, defends its Western title with a 12-11 record.

The Raiders won their division by beating Kansas City in a 10-6 nail-biter Saturday. In Sunday games, the New York Jets, 10-4, whipped Miami 27-9 to give the Dolphins the worst record in the AFL, 3-9-1; San Diego, 8-6, pounded Buffalo, 4-10, 45-6 and Denver, 5-8, beat Cincinnati, 45-1, 27-36.

In the National Football League, Minnesota beat San Francisco 10-7; Detroit upset Los Angeles 28-0; Oakland defeated St. Louis 27-21; Green Bay upended Chicago 21-3; Washington topped New Orleans 17-14; the New York Giants overpowered Pittsburgh 21-7; and Atlanta pounded Philadelphia 27-3. From The Bench By: Tom Alexander

OUR BOY CASSIUS
The eyes of the boxing world were on Orlando last week and you can still hear some echoes of the attempt made by two different Orlando promoters to lasso the shifting Clay-Frazier fight.

From Miami it started, to Tampa it ran, and then it stopped for a while in Orlando, but it appears now that all hopes are gone, which might be best.

The two promoters kept telling everyone why they wanted to have this fight. Reason: To find out who really is the best fighter and settle all disputes. It was a good idea, but that wasn't the reason. Can you guess? DO LARSEN.

Muhammad Ali (Cassius Clay) has no right to fight here, or anywhere. He made his own decision, not to join the service and try to evade the draft. He was promoted or anyone else had that much to do with Cassius deciding that he didn't like army life. That was his decision. No trainer, convinced but that the sentence was overturned by the great overturners, the Supreme Court.

This fight should never be held. First of all, we have given Clay his chance and he didn't take it. Secondly, if Clay gets away with evading the draft, think of the impact on our already disgruntled youth. The old saying, "If he can do it, I can too."

The people of the United States are tired of Clay. Yes, I believe they would like to see this fight, just to see the great Muhammad Ali, but what if he won? There would be nothing left to say. Look at the draft dodger who is champion of the world. That's really a fine idea.

I think the people of this area have been heard and nothing can change their mind for the sake of money or the first victory of the year. We have enough boogies going on now, who needs this "must smooched" contest??

One of the promoters stated, "I think of the publicity." I say the same. Think of all that publicity, the city beautiful. After that fight, it would be known as the Las Vegas of Florida.

Weekend Results High School Cagers

Lyman Seminole Oviedo

By CHUCK GRILE Herald Sports Staff
Last Friday night, in Orlando, the Oak Ridge Panthers scored up their season record at 1-1, by outscoring the Lyman Greyhounds 71-66 in an exciting cage tilt.

The first quarter of the contest was very evenly played with the Oak Ridge shooters coming out on top 15-11. The second quarter though, was the most decisive, as the Panthers strengthened their lead to 27 points, 37-20 as the team went to the dressing rooms.

In the remaining half, Lyman came back on the shooting of Paul Cronos and Ed Stafford, but the Oak Ridge defense dug in and stalled the Greyhounds.

Lyman outscored Oak Ridge by two points in the final half, but this was not enough to offset the seven point lead that Oak Ridge had built up during the first half. The final buzzer rang with a 71-66 score for the host school.

Leading the Panthers to their first victory of the year was Doug Pfluever with 24 points and Carl McClendon with 20 points. For the Hawks, Cronos and Stafford had 19 points each, and Rick Browne added 10 points to the Greyhound effort.

In previous tilts this year, Lyman has compiled an outstanding amount of fouls. But in this tilt with Oak Ridge, they were only called 15 times, as compared with 16 for the host school.

In the junior varsity tilt, the Baby Panthers outlasted Lyman 65-62 to put the Lyman JV's down for a second year.

Tomorrow night Lyman will host the Leaning Tower Jets at the Leaning Tower gymnasium in their first court clash of the season, looking for their first victory.

On a television set that seemed to have more than the audience, which is not a good thing to say about a play that frequently tries to be funny.

7th Ranked Raiders Stand 10-0; Sink Lakers, 124-56

By TOM ALEXANDER Herald Sports Editor
Powerful Seminole Junior College roomed off to a massive 10-0 first half and then rolled on to a convincing 124-56 win over Lake-Sumter Junior College in the Lyman Gym Friday night.

It was Seminole's 10th win in 10 starts this season and will be the last time the Raiders play until Jan. 5, when they host upstart Florida College of Tampa.

Seventh ranked nationwide, Seminole left no doubt in anybody's mind that this year's team is the hottest offensive squad ever to be fielded from the four year old junior college.

Following the 64' former Oviedo ace was leading Harry Lee, a 6'4" forward from Baltimore, starting only his third game for the Sanford based team this year. Lee tipped in 18 markers along with former Crooms high ace, Greg Robinson, who tallied 18 points also. Robinson was especially impressive with his daring under-the-basket drives.

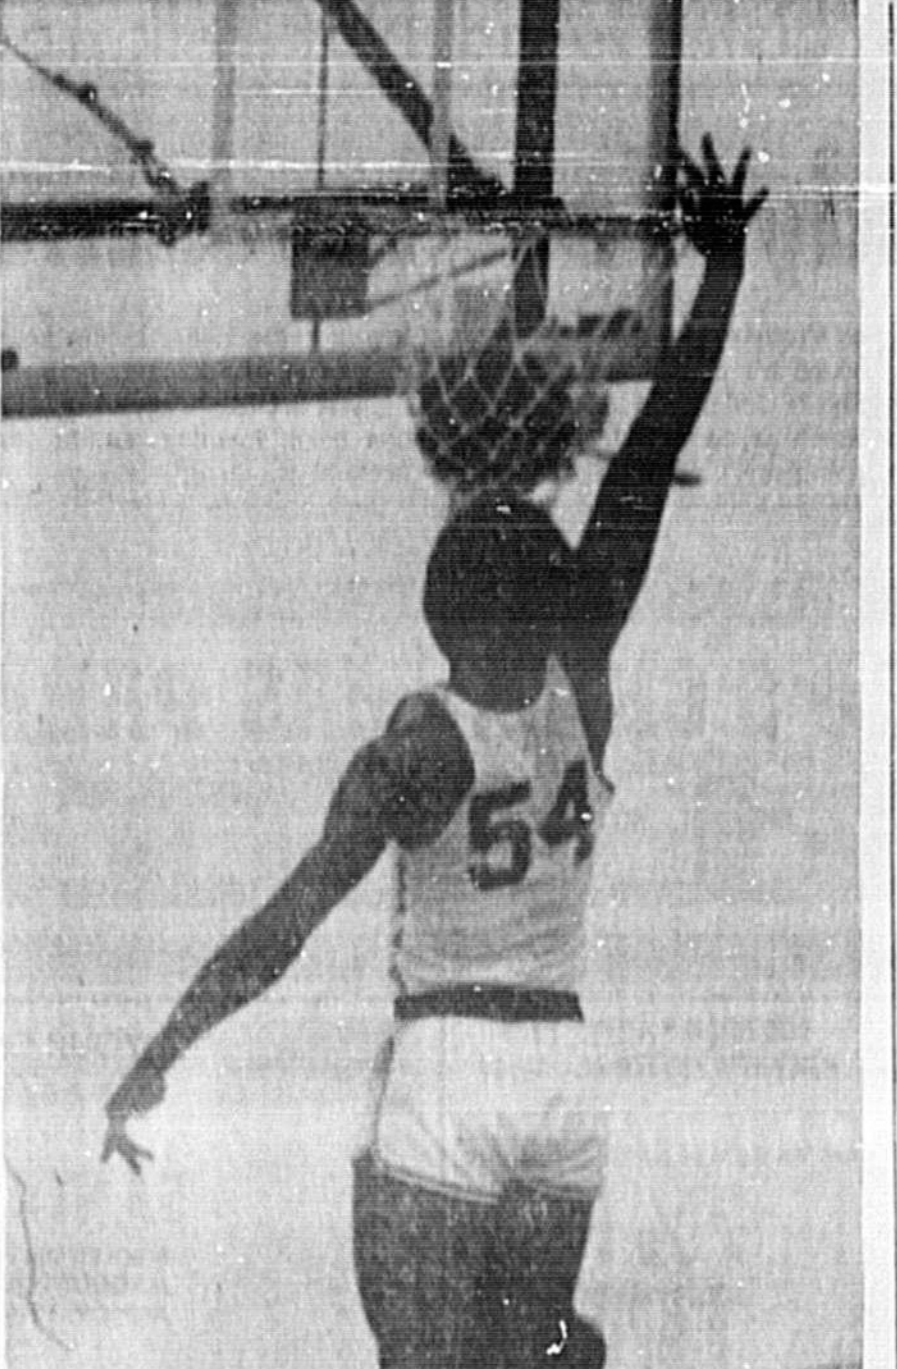

Three other SJC players were also in double figures, they were Mike Hargis with 14 and Mike Richardson with 12. Ken Bryant was next in the scoring order with 10 markers.

Freshmen Senators Should Listen And Not Talk Too Much

Ed Gurney Ready To Move Into The Oratorical Circle At Capitol

By DILLON GRAHAM AP Regional Service WASHINGTON (AP) — Silence is considered anything but golden by many new senators but to Florida's Edward J. Gurney it means accomplishment and influence.

And, he adds, "This isn't unhelpful at all when you want to get something accomplished." He supports President Nixon on Vietnam. And he backed Nixon on his controversial nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. to the Supreme Court.

Terms in the House before being elected to the Senate, feels his biggest accomplishment thus far has been forming as well as expressed it, an efficient and effective staff to assist him and his constituents.

"Also, it's a new GOP administration and as the Republican senator from Florida, the bulk of patronage flows through him as well as the handling of big problems of the state," he said.

Gurney feels that his first-year senator has paid dividends. He believes the help he got from other senators in putting an ex-

Claims Control of 92.5%

Saigon Wins Population

By DAVID ROSENWEIG SAIGON (AP) — The Saigon government today claimed control over 92.5 per cent of South Vietnam's population.

At the start of the year, the government claimed control over 13.8 million of the population, then estimated at 17 million. The extent of government control has expanded steadily since that time, according to the government figures.

On the battlefield, South Vietnamese troops reported killing 40 enemy soldiers with the help of artillery and bombers in a day of scattered fighting Sunday in the U Minh Forest in the southern Mekong Delta. No South Vietnamese casualties were reported.

Other allied forces reported killing 216 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in 17 other fights during the past 24 hours, most of them in the Mekong Delta and the provinces around Saigon.

Three Americans were killed and 11 wounded. Field reports put South Vietnamese losses at 17 killed and 46 wounded.

Mental Health Debated

By MARION BETHA Members of Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce were enthralled by the dissertation on the mental health center given by Mrs. Joseph Siczekowski.

The speaker told of the many years of effort culminating with the opening of the center, which was a project of the Sanford Woman's Club. The center, at Longwood Plaza, was designed to be centrally located and the shopping center parking facilities provided anonymity for patients.

The speaker told of the present plight of incompetents who are incarcerated in the Seminole County jail for lack of proper facilities. The speaker also said that Sheriff John Polk was queried concerning treatment of these unfortunate.

Battle Lines Shape In Casselberry Tilt

By TOM ALEXANDER

The battle to retain Donald Brumley as police chief of Casselberry started last night as a petition bearing 237 names was presented to the Casselberry City Council. Richard Lusk, who presented the petition asking Mayor Curtis Blow, told the five-member council, "This is the way the citizens of Casselberry feel." Following the submission of the petition Lusk promised "there will be many more petitions."

Several of the 25 citizens on hand for the informal workshop session of the council questioned Mayor Blow about the status of Brumley. Blow admitted officially for the first time that he had sent a letter to Brumley telling the former Sanford police sergeant that he would not be reappointed.

Blow, who termed himself "the man who championed" the fight to put the city under civil service, said that the situation would have never happened if the council was the reason the city was not presently under civil service.

The council, which has been working on the civil service proposal for some time, was defended by members Louis Kirby and Thomas Napier.

Both men stated that they had pushed for civil service but that the council wanted to be sure of the qualifications of the proposed five men that Blow had tabbed for the commission.

Both stated that the mayor had not given the council time for consideration on his appointments to the commission and that the council wanted to familiarize itself with the men.

U.S. Not Unlike Bavaria

By MARION BETHA

Visiting in this country until February is generally regarded as Klaus E. Husebrath, from Augsburg, Germany, an industrial town with a population of 200,000.

Husebrath is in the States to attempt to find a position teaching high school or college, or to join a law firm as a legal advisor. The charming German, who speaks fluent English, has been admitted to the bar in his home town, and is also a pre-medical graduate of the University of Munich. In the four weeks in which he has been in the States, Husebrath finds America is not as dissimilar to his way of life in Bavaria as he had previously thought. Germany, in his words, has changed considerably in the last 25 years, now being the most Americanized country in Europe, with living standards similar to that of most Americans.

According to Husebrath, Germany has its hippie element, protesting against the "establishment." Husebrath went on to explain that he is partially in sympathy with this sentiment, as the schools are old-fashioned and run by the government. There are no private universities, and, as in this country, a problem facing many school boards is not enough room and not enough books. An interesting fact is that there are also no colleges in Germany, only universities. A high school degree is, therefore, equivalent to a college degree in Germany, requiring nine years of study. Husebrath is visiting the Woodrow Cash family while in Sanford, having met Nancy Cash in his home town while she was a teacher in an American elementary school there. Our visitor from Deutschland became proficient in our language by conversing with Americans while playing tennis.

Local students who complain that school is a "drag" never had it so good. In Germany, students are required to have nine years of Latin, seven of ancient Greek and three of English. Eighty per cent attend elementary school for eight years, after which they go into apprenticeship for a trade. Those

Port Okays Barge Lease

By BILL SCOTT

Seminole Port Authority at monthly meeting last night approved a counter offer of $2,000 yearly lease fee to Florida Barge Lines for 15 acres of port property and wharfage fees ranging from 25 cents a ton up to $4,000 tons and 15 cents per ton for higher tonnage.

The action came after an hour of discussion over an earlier figure of two cents per square foot of lease space for open storage of brick at the Port of Sanford site under construction west of Sanford near I-4 and on the St. Johns River.

James Ryan, port administrator, said he had talked with A. L. Philpot, barge line president, earlier and had arrived at the two cents a square foot figure. The amount was brought before the authority for approval along with wharfage rates.

Ryan said the barge lines would carry Metry brick to the port for open storage and later distribution to all points. Harold Kastner, authority member, said the port would have to make money to pay off loans and only $2,000 would be realized from the barge line offer.

He said this amounted to "a penny a ton" when considered costs to be borne by the authority in upkeep and maintenance.

Chairman Elsworth Bassett told Kastner, it would be difficult to find any larger customer at this time and voiced belief that barge lines should be allowed into the facility.

Finally, James Wagner, authority member, moved to offer the barge firm a package consisting of $2,000 year lease fee, 25 cents a ton wharfage fees and a five-year lease on maintaining and paving with height restrictions on brick to be stored at the facility.

Ryan advised that he had been engaged in talks with Santee Cement Company, Holly Hill, S.C., concerning that firm's desire of building a bulk cement plant at the port site.

Ryan said the company does $20 million in cement business per year and is extremely interested in a Sanford location. Another possible industrial prospect is Boise-Cascade, of Trielton, who wants to move its paper warehousing to port site to cut up for transfer to customers.

Paper is brought by barges for processing and, according to Ryan, the firm wants to lease the entire port warehouse for its operation.

William Hutchison, port attorney, said entire building could not legally be leased to one customer and cited the participation of several governmental agencies in funding construction, which would not permit one firm to lease entire facility for its own use.

Authority could allow a firm to operate the port to serve everyone under an agreement similar to city operation of the Sanford marina, he stated.

In another action, Ryan advised authority that due to heavy rains and high water, the port completion date would be in July instead of expected May date.

County, Schools Chiefs In Hassle

A confrontation between School Superintendent John Angel and chairman of the County Commission John Alexander this morning regarding allocation of 50 per cent of race track funds to the School Board resulted in "calling a spade a spade," in the words of Alexander.

Angel presented a resolution to the board requesting the transfer of funds, stating that the school system is presently handicapped by the 10-mill tax limitation.

Alexander countered that the county receives funds from the race track, gasoline and cigarette taxes in approximately the same amount as the school system. He stated that the school system fares better than the county with 48 per cent of the local tax dollar expended on the education system.

The matter was placed under consideration for later in the meeting and no action was taken at press time.

MIT Band To Appear In Sanford

A college concert band on tour in Florida will perform at Sanford on Feb. 5 for the benefit of the Good Samaritan Home. This was confirmed by John Krider, Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce manager.

Krider told a group attending the organizational meeting of plans to have Massachusetts Institute of Technology concert band appear in an effort to start a fund-raising drive for new home facilities to replace the present structure which has been condemned by the state fire marshal.

Purpose of the meeting was to organize a fund-drive involving county persons with all proceeds going to the home.

Bulletin

A little more than 500 Sanford voters had cast their ballots at noon today in the municipal election for mayor-commissioner of Sanford, Leo P. Moore and Earl Higginbotham are opposed in this run-off election for a three-year term. There are 6,700 residents eligible to vote.

Today's election is being held at the Sanford Civic Center. Polls will be open until 7 p.m.
