it that 30 were aboard. Some 21 were Swedish fliers, being returned from Addis Ababa, where they had delivered B-17 planes sold by Sweden to Ethiopia. However, Col. Ingvar Berg, leader of the squadron, was not aboard.

The flag at the Swedish legation was dropped to half staff and a representative left for the scene. The Italian Red Cross and firemen went to the wreckage. Some of the dead were declared mutilated beyond recognition.

The plane was a Swedish Bristol freighter, owned by the Traffic-Tourist Transport Company of Stockholm. Swedish authorities in Stockholm said it was chartered to return the Swedish military fliers from Africa. All the fliers were officers of the Swedish air force. They had left Sweden Oct. 30.

Carabinieri officials at Salerno said a party had been dispatched to the scene of the crash, believed to be on 3,248-foot Mt. Scala.

First reports of the accident said the plane was a U. S. Army transport but Col. John M. Williams, American military attaché, said he had learned "definitely" the craft was not an American craft.

Flight operations officers at Ciampina airfield in Rome, where the wrecked plane was due at 4 A. M. GMT today (11 P. M. EST Wednesday), said the craft was a Bristol and that she carried Swedish military personnel.

one occasion he delivered more than $7,000 cash to Meyers in an envelope, representing the residue of his ostensible 1941 $15,000 salary after payment of taxes.

Readnowser said that Meyers, retired deputy chief of Air Force procurement (purchasing), gave him $1,000.

With this $1,000, Readnowser said, his actual 1941 pay from the company was $22,293.34.

Readnowser was on the firm's books as vice president and secretary. He is a brother-in-law of B. H. Lamarre, the company's president.

Lamarre, recalled to the witness chair immediately after Readnowser testified that Meyers' father-in-law, a former bus driver, was installed as production manager of Aviation Electric at $12,000 a year despite a "total lack of experience."

Lamarre said Meyers had "Mr. Ray A. Currutt," the father-in-law, put on the payroll Nov. 2, 1942.

Lamarre said Meyers told him Mr. Currutt was an older man who had made considerable money in his lifetime and was with a railroad, but he learned later that Currutt had driven a bus owned by a railroad.

William Rogers, committee counsel, suggested that at the time Currutt was hired he was the "prospective father-in-law of Meyers."

Lamarre said that was true, adding that he did not learn who Currutt was until he read in the newspapers of Meyers' marriage.

Lamarre gave the following account of how Currutt got started with Aviation Electric:

Currutt was told to walk around the company shop and see "if he could find something to do or would like to do." At the time, the company had a production manager, but nevertheless Currutt was made vice president in charge of production.

After walking around the shop for some time, Currutt came to Lamarre and told him he was "very unhappy and would like something to do."

"How long did he walk around," Senator Ferguson (R Mich) asked.

"Several months," Meyers, as an Air Force pur-to Paris to assure the French capital of its daily bread.

Paul Reynaud, independent who was France's last premier before formation of the Vichy regime, had run into difficulties in efforts to form a government with Socialist support. The left wing shied away and the rightists insisted that he should not permit the left to dominate any cabinet he might form.

The efforts of Premier Ramadier himself to strengthen his coalition cabinet also have met with little success.

Blum, 75-year-old veteran statesman, formed a care taker coalition government of all Socialists last December during the transition to the fourth republic, after unsuccessfully trying to bring in the Communists. He served as premier and president until the middle of last January, when Vincent Auriol, a Socialist, was elected president.

Government sources said the new shipments of flour, with reserve stocks already in bakers' warehouses, would keep the bread ration stable in spite of the walk-out of 4,500 Parisian millers.

The Communist-led General Confederation of Labor (C.G.T.), seeking a 3,800 franc (about $31) increase in the minimum monthly wage and 25 percent salary advances pending negotiations, already has tied up France's coal mines, most of the auto industry, and her Mediterranean ports.

This was the labor situation:

Northern France—14,000 coal miners on strike and main pits closed.

Marseille—Between 60,000 and 70,000 dockers, sailors, transport and other workers on strike. Troops unloaded perishable food. American seamen on the freighter Henry Gilbert in the harbor voted a resolution supporting the strikers, but did not strike themselves.

Paris—Majority of workers in six main automobile and truck manufacturing plants struck. The Paris region C.G.T. Federation of Unions issued a statement urging all metallurgical workers in Paris to strike.

MADRID, Nov. 19 (AP)—Morning newspapers greeted with large headlines today the United Nations action in "abandoning" the Spanish case and hailed it as a "prelude to inclusion of Spain in the Marshall European recovery program."

The United Nations vote on the Spanish resolution was the lead article in all Madrid newspapers.

The United Nations Assembly declined Monday night to reaffirm a 1946 resolution condemning Franco Spain and requesting all UN members to withdraw ambassadors from Madrid. All members, except Argentina, have complied.

(The vote was 29 for and 16 against, with eight abstentions, and the reaffirmation failed of passage because it lacked the required two-thirds count. The United States voted "no." A second part of the same resolution, expressing the Assembly's confidence in the ability of the Se-chasing officer, passed on many contracts and the committee has received testimony that his suggestions led to more than a million dollars in war subcontracts for Aviation Electric.

Tariff Cut

Trade and Tariff Agreement made public by the government Monday night, the United States will make more than 3,500 cuts in import duties affecting half the world's commerce.

A State Department official told a reporter then the effects on prices and on volume of imports will be slow to come but "the general effect should be to ease the burden on the consumer."

The reductions made by the United States and seven other countries are scheduled to go into effect Jan. 1, 1948. Other countries are to adhere to the agreement as soon as they ratify it.

"Almost every industry in the United States will be affected. Agriculture, mining, lumber, and a large number of manufacturing industries will find competitive imports arriving in ever-increasing volume as foreign nations invade our markets in increasing numbers and volume."

"For example, England, anticipating the reductions in the U. S. tariffs, has embarked on a program of enlarging and modernizing its textile and woolen industries." Knutson's statement continued: "Not content with lowering hundreds of rates of duty, the State Department has attempted to tie the hands of Congress on rates of duty which were not so binding then so that we will have to go through the unpleasant procedure of abrogating agreements before we can again protect American agriculture and industry from the blighting invasion of low wage scale competitive products."

"The Ways and Means Committee has tried in vain to find a criteria by which the State Department decided how low our tariffs could be made without endangering our American standard of living and wage scales. Certainly it was not 'costs of production'."

"America, now paying the highest wage scale in the history of the world and above those of most other nations, is asked to compete on a practically free trade basis with the lower living standards and wages of the rest of the world."

"The United States gave substantial concessions on metals such as aluminum and nickel, leather gloves, shoes, glassware, and hundreds of other manufactured products."

"Industry and agriculture now find themselves in the same free trade boat, because butter, cheese, fish, vegetables, fruits and many other agricultural items will also be adversely affected."

"Every American farmer and laborer knows he can produce as much, or more per man than any other nation on earth, but he also knows that his high living standards are definitely threatened when we throw our markets wide open to the products made by workers whose wage scale per day is little more than the amount paid per hour to American workmen."

WARSZAWA, Nov. 19 (AP)—Poland protested to Sweden today against what she called the "systematic smuggling of Poles abroad by Swedish officials and Swedish citizens" and demanded that Sweden recall her consul in Gdansk (Danzig).

The government charged that the Swedish consul, Torsten Johan Frederik Bergendahl, was involved in the flight to Sweden from Poland of parliament member Stefan Korbaniski and his wife.

(Korbaniski, a member of Stanislaw Mikolajczyk's Polish Peasant Party, has now joined Mikolajczyk in self exile in England. He and his wife made the trip by way of Stockholm.)

A Polish government spokesman told a news conference that "some Swedish officials and Swedish citizens and ships are involved in smuggling out people leaving Poland illegally." He said that the Swedish ferryboat Drottning Viktoria took the Korbaniskis aboard Nov. 5.

ATHENS, Nov. 19 (AP)—Minister of Public Order Constantine Rentis said today that a few isolated cases of decapitation had been reported in Greek warfare recently and that strict orders have been issued against the "old custom."

Head chopping was first practiced in Greece during the revolt against the Turkish empire, more than 100 years ago.

Greek guerrillas also have been practicing decapitation, particularly against gendarmes and soldiers who have acquired fame as fighters against the rebels. Other brutalities committed on bodies of soldiers and police have been supported by authentic reports and photographs.

"Have started rescue operations," said a message from the Empire Macallum, received at 9:55 A. M. (EST). The rescue freighter had swerved from her course at Montreal yesterday to speed to the island.

The crewmen on the barren island had some food but no shelter. Planes ready at Argentina and Stephenville to fly to them were grounded by bad weather.

Also responding to the appeals from the island were the whaling ship Olaf Olsen, the U. S. Coast Guard Cutter Evergreen and a service vessel of the Canadian mounted police.

Army Dismisses Nine Employees For Disloyalty

WASHINGTON Nov. 19 (AP)—Dismissal of nine Army and Air Force civilian employes on disloyalty grounds—six of them because of Communist connections—was reported by the Army today.

Secretary Kenneth C. Royall signed the orders for the dismissals which have occurred principally at posts outside of Washington since Congress recessed last July.

Aside from Communist connections, grounds for dismissal included membership in organizations whose interests are considered inimical to those of the United States.

Housing Prices

The flow of material is more consistent and because it is developing its "know-how" labor because it is shaking out its wartime incompetents and is awakening to its responsibilities under the free competitive enterprise system.

"Another factor is the ingress of highly-competent, ambitious GI apprentices. It is truly remarkable how rapidly and how competently these boys are filling the depleted ranks of our skilled construction labor."

McCheesney said that while housing prices may come down they probably will level off "permanently higher than before the war."

"We will have to find this level by a series of adjustments, we will do our best in a free market," he said.

McCheesney said that while housing intervention in the housing field, contending that the "British socialized experiment in building" has failed whereas construction in this country is at record levels.

Other agricultural items will also be adversely affected.

"Every American farmer and laborer knows he can produce as much, or more per man than any other nation on earth, but he also knows that his high living standards are definitely threatened when we throw our markets wide open to the products made by workers whose wage scale per day is little more than the amount paid per hour to American workmen."

showed proper coaching in batting, pitching and other phases of baseball afforded the 800,000 youths up to 18 years of age who played on Legion sponsored teams last year. A boys' championship game was also shown. Bob Feller and other baseball stars, who played Legion ball to get their start were also shown.

Mr. Krizer, manager of the Sanford team, said that he has a definite tie-up between the Legion program here and the Giants program, which will include a try-out camp. No Sanford boy is on record for having gone to the Major Leagues, he declared, but predicted that with the present opportunities afforded, one or more would go to the big league within 10 years. He urged Kiwanis to sponsor a Junior League.

Two new Kiwanians, John L. Galloway, county tax collector, and A. L. Foster, plant pathologist at the Central Florida Experiment Station, were inducted as Kiwanians by the Rev. W. P. Yesley.

Edward F. Lane reported that the condition of C. C. Campbell, club treasurer for the past 11 years, "was much improved and that it is expected that he will be able to attend the next meeting."

A letter from T. W. Lawton, president of the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital Association, commending the club for the presentation of a resuscitator to the hospital was read by W. A. Morrison. President Lester Tharp announced that much of the credit for this goes to Herman E. Morris and his athletic committee for arranging the Celerfyed football game that made the presentation possible.

Guests were Laddie Rowton of the American Legion Department, Sam Quint of Quincy, Mass., Arthur Kirchoff, A. L. Skinner, F. E. Moss and Frank Cranston.

SATIRA TRIAL

HAVANA, Nov. 19 (AP)—Dr. Harry Romney admitted under defense questioning today that possibly "rough handling" (John Lester) Mee aggravated "the bullet wound that proved fatal to the Chicago Navy veteran last April.

Patricia (Satira) Schmidt, Toledo dancer on trial for the murder of her lover, watched with interest but without emotion as her attorney attacked the testimony of the doctor. Romney, who operated on Mee, twice previously had told the audience court the wound was "inevitably fatal."

Twin-Pack makes good toast

"I like Southern Twin-Pack Bread because I can use half a loaf at a time and the other half will stay fresh. The flavor is very good and it makes wonderful toast. I used to throw away a half a loaf of bread every day until I heard about Southern Twin-Pack."

* Mrs. A. H. Burr, Miami, Fla.

Before she heard about Southern Twin-Pack Bread, Mrs. Burr was forced to waste half a loaf of bread a day. Now, thanks to Twin-Pack's separately wrapped half loaves, while she serves one half, the other half stays fresh—oven-tender and tasty until she's ready to use it. Enjoy the advantages of the exclusive Twin-Pack wrapper and the handy zipper opener. Look for the Southern Twin-Pack name on the wrapper every time you buy bread.

Attorney General To Crackdown On Meyers Income Tax

Procurement Officer Quotes Citations To Show His Services To Army Air Forces

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—A Department of Justice crackdown on income tax charges leveled over Maj. General Bennett E. Meyers today while Senate investigators pushed deeper into testimony that he took $150,000 out of a war contracting plant controlled through "stooges."

Attorney General Clark said he will ask for the indictment of Meyers as soon as the war investigating subcommittee headed by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) winds up its hearings.

(Amplifying Clark's announcement, Justice Department officials said "all of the activities" of Meyers are under the department investigation, and the department "is also inquiring into others who were engaged with him in the various transactions."

When Meyers was called back to the witness stand, Chairman Ferguson of the Senate subcommittee first required him to again take the oath "to tell the whole truth."

Then the chairman asked if before the committee began questions, Meyers had "any facts" to present.

"Yes, sir, I have," Meyers replied in a loud firm voice. "As you know I have been sitting here for about 10 days listening to many charges made against me of perjury, corruption, fraud and that I was a contracting officer and purchasing officer holding talks with the airplane company."

Meyers paused and then said: "I understand the charges in the most perfect manner possible."

Mercury Holding As Rain And Snow Falls

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
The nation's weather followed the same pattern of the last several days today, with rain and snow in some sections and the mercury staying around seasonal marks across the nation.

There was bitter cold weather reported in Canada, with lows of 21 below reported in Watson Lake, B. C.; 19 at Smith River, B. C.; and 17 at Fort Good Hope, department of MacKenzie. But federal forecasters said no immo-diately cold blasts were headed into the states. The coldest early morning readings were in Montana, with Butte reporting a low of 12 below.

The snow area today was in the Northern Plains states and in Montana and Wyoming, while rain fell in Iowa, Eastern Nebraska and in Georgia and North Carolina. Skies were cloudy over the Great Lakes, Ohio Valley and Mississippi regions, while fair weather was reported in the Northeast section and on the Pacific coast.

Dewey Says Reds Trying To Block Aid To Hungry

Truman Is Denounced For Failure To Aid China Government

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 20 (AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey says that the Russians are using the United Nations as a sounding board in a "word war" designed to block American aid to hungry countries abroad.

Even UN delegates of many countries, he said, are risking their lives in voting "with the majority in every major test of strength on the side of justice and liberty."

Expressing confidence these delegates will still have the courage to vote this way, the New York governor told a hospital fund-raising rally here last night.

"They know that America is a powerful friend of the weak, of the oppressed and of free government itself—they know ours is a shining armor that is their defense."

Striking at what he called "a Communist monster feeding on the plight of oppressed people," Dewey declared: "A stream of malicious falsehoods—calumnies—pours from the Kremlin and reaches a climatic flood stage in the assembly of the United Nations."

In another address today Governor Dewey charged the Truman Administration with "sneakingly abandoning the Chinese to Communist conquest," and asserted immediate aid should be sent to the Far East as even a two-month delay "may be too late."

Making his first comment on President Truman's special message to Congress, the Republican governor told a news conference he was "deeply disappointed in it" in that "no mention at all was made of China or the situation in the Far East."

Curbs Are Placed On Freight To Canada

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Association of American Railroads today placed sharp curbs on freight shipments to Canada. The action followed new import restrictions imposed by the Dominion to conserve its dollar balances.

The partial embargo order was telegraphed to all railroads in this country. It directed them not to accept general freight for destinations in Canada unless the shipper is able to certify that he has assurances that the goods have been or will be authorized for entry by the collector of customs at the border.

Shipments of coal and fuel oil were specifically exempted from the regulation.

Leon Blum Agrees To Try To Form French Cabinet

France Recalls Part Of 1947 Army Class As Strikes Spread

PARIS, Nov. 20 (AP)—Leon Blum, 75-year-old Socialist and elder statesman, agreed tonight to try to form a government of "public safety" to bring peace to France's troubled labor situation.

Against a backdrop of widespread Communist-led strikes in critical industries, Socialist President Vincent Auriol prepared to go before the national assembly tomorrow to appeal for confirmation of the 75-year-old Socialist statesman as head of a widely based cabinet.

Blum needs a majority of assembly votes before he can begin formation of his cabinet.

There was no indication as yet how much of the right wing would be included in the cabinet by Blum, three premier of France. (Continued on Page Eight)

Marshall Leaves For London Meet In "Sacred Cow"

President Truman Is At Airport To Wish Him Best Of Luck

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—President Truman personally wished "God speed and good luck" to Secretary Marshall today upon the Secretary of State's departure by air for the Big Four foreign minister meeting in London.

"I know you are going to have it because you know how to do your job," Mr. Truman said.

"I have the utmost confidence in you."

The President spoke into a microphone at the National Airport where Marshall took off in the "Sacred Cow"—the four-engine plane which Mr. Truman has used so often.

Before going to the airport, Marshall conferred with the President at the White House. At the State Department earlier, he talked for nearly an hour and a half with James F. Byrnes who preceded him as Secretary of State and the United States representative to the Conference of Foreign Ministers.

At the meeting in London starting next week, the Big Four—the U. S., Britain, France and Russia—once again will try to reach agreements looking toward a European peace settlement. Differences between the United States and Russia presumably figured prominently in Marshall's final consultations.

Two No True Bills Returned By Jury

Two no true bills were returned by the Grand Jury in Circuit Court Tuesday, following which the jury was discharged by Judge M. H. Smith. It was reported by O. P. Herndon, clerk of the Court.

One of the no true bills found by the jury was the charge of homicide against Barnett Smith, chief of police of Oviedo in connection with the death by bullet wounds of a negro whom he was attempting to arrest.

The other no true bill found by the jury was on a charge of assault against a young woman and involved William H. Wellman and William Ireland of Winter Park. Court will reconvene Monday for the full term of criminal cases. Among the cases to be tried first are: Barney Crews, charged with illicit possession of liquor; Richard Fields, charged with assault to commit murder in the first degree; Robert Allen, charged with intent to commit murder in the first degree and Willie Walke, charged with low and lascivious conduct.

23 Fired By Navy For Red Activity

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Twenty-three of 45 Navy civilian employees cited on accusations of disloyalty, in a suit involving charges of Communist activity, have been discharged or have resigned in the last six months, Rear Admiral Paul H. Nibecker said today.

Nibecker, chief of the Navy's industrial relations, said the 45 cases arose outside Washington among the Navy's 200,000 civilian employees. He said no disloyalty hearings have been necessary in Washington.

Eight of the 45 persons were cleared of accusations based mostly on allegations of Communist Party membership or association with Communists, Nibecker said.

Resurfacing Almond At End Of Beardall

Resurfacing of Beardall Avenue from Celery Avenue to Miller Avenue, an 18 foot road two miles long, is nearly completed. R. B. Pope, chairman of the County Commission, announced today.

County Road Improvements estimated in cost at between $15,000 and $40,000, are being made and are financed by race track funds supplied by the State and formerly diverted for school use by the county.

The first coat of re-surfacing is being applied to the old Longwood Road for one and a quarter miles south of the dog track road intersection, said Mr. Pope.

Pending County road improvements include the resurfacing of Cameron Avenue between Celery and Geneva Avenue, Miller Avenue south to Cameron City, at Black Hammock near Oviedo, Cemetery Road at Geneva for one half mile and the County Club road to Lake Mary. Sipes Avenue has been widened to 18 feet between Celery Avenue and the railroad, a distance of one-fourth mile.

Plea For Housing

MAYOR William O'Dwyer of New York strikes a prayerful pose as he explains to the Joint Congressional Committee on Housing the death of housing in his city. He said that New York is in desperate need of a minimum of $2,000,000 in additional federal help to house about 150,000 homeless families. He revealed that of 54,000 housing units expected to be provided by private builders, only 30,000 will be available by end of 1948 in a nation.

Then the chairman asked if before the committee began questions, Meyers had "any facts" to present.

"Yes, sir, I have," Meyers replied in a loud firm voice. "As you know I have been sitting here for about 10 days listening to many charges made against me of perjury, corruption, fraud and that I was a contracting officer and purchasing officer holding talks with the airplane company."

Meyers paused and then said: "I understand the charges in the most perfect manner possible."

Railroad Management Is Charged With Strike Against Brotherhoods

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 20 (Special)—Railroad management has embarked upon a wildcat strike against the five operating brotherhoods and the intent of the Railway Labor Act, a federal law, it was charged today by D. B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Rules governing working conditions, which have been unchanged for 25 years, and a request for a 30 per cent wage increase, now being negotiated by America's railroads and the five brotherhoods.

Robertson's charges, voiced in a statement to members and local lodges of his Brotherhood, arise from his contention that a nationwide advertising campaign sponsored by the railroad management, constitute a violation of the spirit of collective bargaining as established by the 11 year old Railway Labor Act.

"Our negotiating conferences are less than two weeks old," said Robertson, "but management representatives have decided to conduct the meeting. It is important that all local railroaders attend the meeting, said Mr. Ball.

"We hold that this is a viola-

Defective Sewers Stall Repaving Of First Street

Resurfacing of East First Street between Sanford and Mellonville Avenue has been postponed indefinitely due to the high water in storm sewers under the street and the need of repairing the sewers before any paving work is undertaken. It was announced this morning by H. N. Sayer, city manager.

There are 800 feet of storm sewer under the pavement, said Mr. Sayer. The high water in the sewer is in turn due to the abnormal height of water in Lake Monroe.

Edward Higgins, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and City Commissioner Les R. Leaser were scheduled to drive this afternoon to Jacksonville to confer with WAA and CAA officials in expediting transfer to the City of personal property, including furniture, fittings and accessories now in storage in warehouses at the Municipal Airport, said Mr. Sayer.

"The city now has the right of entry to buildings and property, including the eight baseball training diamonds being laid out by the New York Giants and deeds to this property are expected soon.

"We believe our proposals are reasonable. We have prepared a case to show why we believe this to be so. This case is being filed and will continue to be presented across the conference table in a peaceful and orderly manner."

"The railroad brotherhoods have been abiding by the law, both in its spirit and in its letter. The brotherhoods have more (Continued on Page Eight)

Two Killed, Ten Are Injured As Night Club Burns

Fighting Boys Knock Over Oil Stove And Set Place On Fire

HORN LAKE, Miss., Nov. 20 (AP)—Two young women lost their lives early today when fire swept a night club near here and ten other patrons were burned or injured in leaping through windows.

The charred bodies of the victims, tentatively identified by Thompson Brother Mortuary attendants as Evelyn Taggart of Memphis, Tenn., and Dorothy Billingsley of Horn Lake, were found in a back room of the frame structure where apparently they fled and were trapped because of no outside exits. Several score other patrons escaped without injury.

From a hospital bed, Mrs. Sherman Lewis told a story of how flames enveloped the dance hall and blocked the front exit after (Continued on Page Four)

Curbs Are Placed On Freight To Canada

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Association of American Railroads today placed sharp curbs on freight shipments to Canada. The action followed new import restrictions imposed by the Dominion to conserve its dollar balances.

The partial embargo order was telegraphed to all railroads in this country. It directed them not to accept general freight for destinations in Canada unless the shipper is able to certify that he has assurances that the goods have been or will be authorized for entry by the collector of customs at the border.

Shipments of coal and fuel oil were specifically exempted from the regulation.

Leon Blum Agrees To Try To Form French Cabinet

France Recalls Part Of 1947 Army Class As Strikes Spread

PARIS, Nov. 20 (AP)—Leon Blum, 75-year-old Socialist and elder statesman, agreed tonight to try to form a government of "public safety" to bring peace to France's troubled labor situation.

Against a backdrop of widespread widespread Communist-led strikes in critical industries, Socialist President Vincent Auriol prepared to go before the national assembly tomorrow to appeal for confirmation of the 75-year-old Socialist statesman as head of a widely based cabinet.

Blum needs a majority of assembly votes before he can begin formation of his cabinet.

VEW Convention To Be Held In Orlando

The Veterans of Foreign Wars district convention will be held in Orlando at the Municipal Junior High School on Nov. 23 at 10:00 A. M. about 2,500 veterans and their families will be in attendance.

Marshall Leaves For London Meet In "Sacred Cow"

President Truman Is At Airport To Wish Him Best Of Luck

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—President Truman personally wished "God speed and good luck" to Secretary Marshall today upon the Secretary of State's departure by air for the Big Four foreign minister meeting in London.

"I know you are going to have it because you know how to do your job," Mr. Truman said.

"I have the utmost confidence in you."

The President spoke into a microphone at the National Airport where Marshall took off in the "Sacred Cow"—the four-engine plane which Mr. Truman has used so often.

Before going to the airport, Marshall conferred with the President at the White House. At the State Department earlier, he talked for nearly an hour and a half with James F. Byrnes who preceded him as Secretary of State and the United States representative to the Conference of Foreign Ministers.

At the meeting in London starting next week, the Big Four—the U. S., Britain, France and Russia—once again will try to reach agreements looking toward a European peace settlement. Differences between the United States and Russia presumably figured prominently in Marshall's final consultations.

Two No True Bills Returned By Jury

Two no true bills were returned by the Grand Jury in Circuit Court Tuesday, following which the jury was discharged by Judge M. H. Smith. It was reported by O. P. Herndon, clerk of the Court.

One of the no true bills found by the jury was the charge of homicide against Barnett Smith, chief of police of Oviedo in connection with the death by bullet wounds of a negro whom he was attempting to arrest.

The other no true bill found by the jury was on a charge of assault against a young woman and involved William H. Wellman and William Ireland of Winter Park. Court will reconvene Monday for the full term of criminal cases. Among the cases to be tried first are: Barney Crews, charged with illicit possession of liquor; Richard Fields, charged with assault to commit murder in the first degree; Robert Allen, charged with intent to commit murder in the first degree and Willie Walke, charged with low and lascivious conduct.

23 Fired By Navy For Red Activity

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Twenty-three of 45 Navy civilian employees cited on accusations of disloyalty, in a suit involving charges of Communist activity, have been discharged or have resigned in the last six months, Rear Admiral Paul H. Nibecker said today.

Nibecker, chief of the Navy's industrial relations, said the 45 cases arose outside Washington among the Navy's 200,000 civilian employees. He said no disloyalty hearings have been necessary in Washington.

Eight of the 45 persons were cleared of accusations based mostly on allegations of Communist Party membership or association with Communists, Nibecker said.

Resurfacing Almond At End Of Beardall

Resurfacing of Beardall Avenue from Celery Avenue to Miller Avenue, an 18 foot road two miles long, is nearly completed. R. B. Pope, chairman of the County Commission, announced today.

County Road Improvements estimated in cost at between $15,000 and $40,000, are being made and are financed by race track funds supplied by the State and formerly diverted for school use by the county.

The first coat of re-surfacing is being applied to the old Longwood Road for one and a quarter miles south of the dog track road intersection, said Mr. Pope.

Pending County road improvements include the resurfacing of Cameron Avenue between Celery and Geneva Avenue, Miller Avenue south to Cameron City, at Black Hammock near Oviedo, Cemetery Road at Geneva for one half mile and the County Club road to Lake Mary. Sipes Avenue has been widened to 18 feet between Celery Avenue and the railroad, a distance of one-fourth mile.

THE WORLD TODAY

In these uncertain days when thrones have been falling like the leaves of autumn... By DEWITT MACKENZIE, A Foreign Affairs Analyst

Well, for one I give you young Mountbatten, who today married his Princess Charming and thus will be the consort of another reigning Queen Elizabeth. Moreover, your correspondent is able to assure you, from one who knows the Princess, that this is in fact a love-match and not an "arranged" marriage in the generally accepted sense of that term.

The two young folk were more or less brought up together, and have been sweethearts since childhood. So let the old curmudgeons begone with their unhappy tales of marriage for convenience. Give love its day.

But apart from this romance, what does the throne mean to an England which is ruled by a Socialist government of the people's choice? If you ask the average Briton he will tell you, as many have told me, something like this:

The British are steeped in the tradition of centuries, and they live greatly in the past. Indeed their national strength has been due largely to an esprit de corps which tradition has helped to build. And the sovereign is the unifier of everything they believe.

He (or she) is both head of state and defender of the faith. That is, the ruler is the religious as well as the national symbol—a symbol which binds together not only the people of the British Isles but of the colonies and the world-wide commonwealth of sovereign nations.

The British believe in constitutional monarchy because the throne is above politics. Prime Ministers may come and go; but the King (or Queen) always is there, equally able to play his part with Conservatives or Socialists. He is the best informed person in the country, so far as concerns affairs of state, for the very good reason that he has devoted his entire life to the study of Britain, the dominions and the colonies.

That is the reason prime ministers go to the sovereign for advice—and very often take it. Your correspondent has seen the subject wearing the "old school tie" or the chap with a cockney accent, he will accept the monarch's warning of danger.

So we see that the royal family is the focal point of the national life. That accounts for the warmth and affection being shown Princess Elizabeth on this great occasion. Millions of Britons look upon her as the reincarnation of another great Elizabeth who ruled four hundred years ago and ushered in the modern era.

Many feel that under the new Elizabeth, the nation may have another period of greatness. And that hope means much to a people who but a few short years ago were proud possessors of a mighty empire.

Those who know Princess Elizabeth say that when the time comes she will make a good Queen. And here I will let you into another little secret. Apart from the fact that she is a very lovely and charming young woman she has inherited one of the outstanding family traits which she has very determined mind of her own. Just like her great-great-grandmother—Victoria.

British Give Up Job Of Minesweeping Sea

HAMBURG, Nov. 20 (AP)—The herculean task of clearing mines from German waters in the North Sea and Baltic is being abandoned, a British naval officer disclosed in an interview here.

The 15,000-strong German minesweeping administration is being disbanded and future effort will be confined to maintaining the safe lanes swept through the uncounted thousands of mines on the sea bed.

"We found that the effort involved and the expenditure of oil and raw materials were not justified by the percentage of results obtained," the officer said.

Since the end of the war 65 merchant ships have been damaged by mines off the German coast and a number of fishing vessels.

The menace of the mines will remain for several years, the officer said, but ships can travel in safety under normal conditions provided they keep to the marked lanes.

The decision virtually to cease sweeping was confirmed by the international minesweeping organization, responsible for sweeping policy off the coasts of northwest Europe.

The German minesweeping between 60 and 800 ships under administration, which is a national organization of Britain, the United States, Holland, Denmark and Norway, has swept over 3,000 mines at a cost of 17 ships and 277 men. It generally was regarded in Germany as a good example of an efficient German organization working for a peaceful purpose under a small but strict Allied control.

But the Soviet Union regarded it in quite a different light. Moscow several times at international parleys assailed it as an "illegal military organization" maintained by Britain for some unworthy motive.

FORT SMITH, Ark.—"Jake" knows the value of a nickel, but he also likes ice cream cones. So it is a common sight on the main drag in Fort Smith to see "Jake," a friendly, well-mannered brown and white bull terrier, go into a drug store, place his front paws on the counter, drop a nickel from his mouth and bark once.

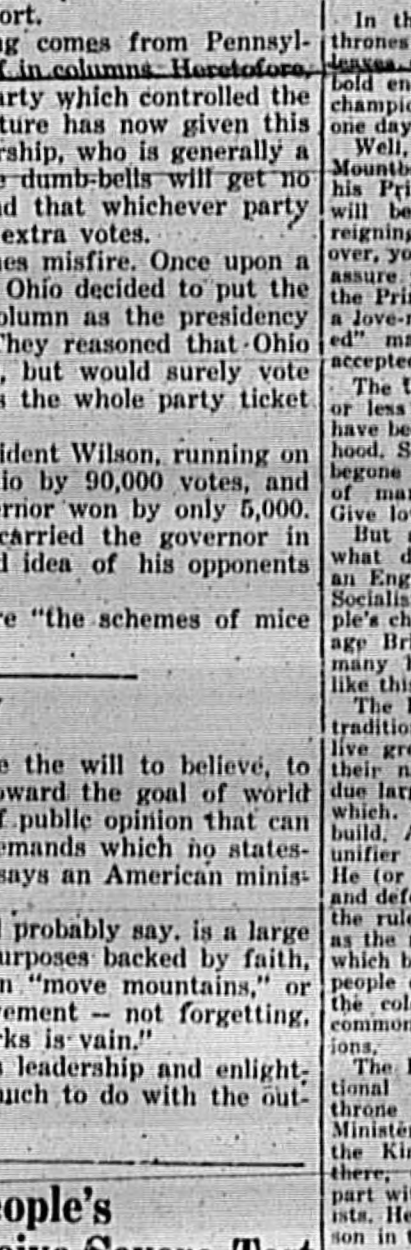

That's his way of asking for "an ice cream cone, please."

"Jake" is shrewd about money. He can distinguish between a five-cent piece and any other coin. Passerby, liking to see him perform, give him a nickel and he makes a bee-line for his favorite drug store. Give him dime and he'll drop it, uninterested. He can't bother with change. When he has his ice cream in his mouth, it is estimated he consumes a daily average of six cones; more in the summer. And like many a child, "Jake" has been known to down too many cones in one day and spend several hours in solitary misery.

The terrier doesn't spend every cent he gets, either. At last count, he had built up a reserve fund of 70 cents against a "rainy day."

Seminole Varsity To Play Final Home Game Of '47 Tomorrow Night

The Seminole High School grid association will play hosts to the Beehive High Band Crabs at the high school athletic field in the 1947 home game of the 1947 campaign tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock.

The Celery Feds will be in top form for the contest, and will have every man ready to meet the Daytona Beach eleven.

Holly Pierry, fleet Seminole spinnerback, is expected to play a large part in the contest since his injury suffered in the Eustis tilt has responded to treatment.

The only injury hampering the team is that of Coach Carl Kettles. Coach Kettles is recovering from an automobile accident suffered in Winter Park, resulting in several stitches being taken to close a gash on his head.

30,000 People Are Expected To Watch Gator-Cane Game

TAINESVILLE Nov. 20 (Special)—The football battle for which the entire State of Florida always waits with fabled patience will have an 8:15 kickoff in Miami Friday night when Florida's Gators take the field with the University of Miami Hurricanes.

Florida's youngsters may have been hooded around the gridiron considerably the past two years, but the way they came from behind in New Orleans Saturday to snatch a 7-7 upset tie with Tulane proves that they may often be down but are never out.

"These kids have never shown the slightest sign of defeatism," Florida Coach Ray Griffin said today. "I'm proud of the way they give every game all they have until the last moment. They don't know the word 'quit.' I've never seen anything like it in twenty years of coaching."

Every precaution is being taken in this week's "cat and mouse" games to have the squad in fine physical fettle for the Miami game, a project hampered by injuries to end Pal Johnson, quarterback Doug Belden, and halfback Bobby Forbes.

One of the season's greatest gridiron "cat and mouse" games may be presented to some 30,000 people, with Miami's Harry Ghoul and Florida's Hal Griffin and Loren Broadus playing the leading roles.

Ghoul, a standout collegiate kicker for three seasons, will be looping 'em to one of the finest punt-returning teams in the game. It was Hal Griffin's 46 yard punt return that set up Florida's touchdown against Tulane.

The week before Griffin raced 67 yards for a punt-return touchdown against Georgia; the week before that Jim Yancey returned a Furman punt 60 yards; and the week before that Loren Broadus went 80 yards on one to score against North Carolina. In the Auburn game Broadus skipped another 80 yards, but a clip called the play back.

Bobby Forbes, the yard-eating Gator halfback whose 42 points tops Florida's individual scoring, has not fully recovered from an injury received in the North Carolina game, but is expected to be ready for spot service against the Hurricanes.

The Clubhouse

By FRANK ECK

AP Newsfeature Sports Writer NEW YORK—You don't believe there are two sides to every story, even in a 23 to 0 football game? Well, you've been missing something if you haven't read two football books which have been published during recent months.

One of the books is "The Chicago Bears," a well-written history of the Bears by Howard Roberts. The other is the story of the Washington Redskins, "My Life with the Redskins," by Corinne Griffith, former motion picture actress and owner of Redskins owner George Preston Marshall.

In each book is one chapter devoted entirely to the 73-0 rout the Bears scored over the Redskins in Washington on Dec. 8, 1940, in the National Football League Championship playoff.

The Bears were perfection that day. There is no other explanation, says Roberts, for the score that reads like a misprint in the record books.

"The greatest weapon Owner Coach George Halas brought into play was psychology," claims Roberts. "The Redskins had made what Halas termed some tactical errors" after his earlier 33 victory, and now these were definitely turned against them. It seems that a club official with a careless disregard for the interpretation that might be placed on his words had been quoted in the Bears by such uncomplimentary terms as "front runners" and "a first-half ball club." The Redskins had called the Bears "crybabies" in the final minute of their earlier meeting.

When the Bears came to practice the Monday morning preceding the championship game, their eyes fell upon these disparaging remarks of their courage and staying power plastered the walls of the clubhouse. The reaction was terrific.

In the course of compiling this column for the week before the Redskins gained 372 yards along the ground to 3 for Washington, top offensive team in the league. The Bears made 11 touchdowns with 12 men during the scoring. Six other Bears had a hand (or toe) in converting seven extra points.

"Every placement kick," says Roberts in his book, published by G. P. Putnam's Sons, " sailed into the stands back of the goal posts and didn't return. The fans kept the balls as souvenirs."

All the new balls purchased for the game were gone. Even practice balls were kept by the fans. "So after the last two touchdowns," says Roberts, "officials asked the Bears please not to kick for the point." Washington is a big city but there just weren't enough footballs for the number of fans sitting with open arms behind the Red goal posts. So the Bears passed for the two final extra points, one of which was good.

The next day Danny Fortmann was sporting a black eye. A Pullman passenger viewed the discolored optic with alarm and said: "My, my, that's a terrible black eye."

"Yes," said Fortmann, "but it will disappear in a day or two. Think of the Redskins—that 73-0 to nothing score in the record books for all time."

Corinne Griffith, in her book published by A. E. Barnes & Company, has other versions of the shelling-up. "The team was terribly rattled from a game with New York," she says, adding that "this is no alibi—just fact."

Mrs. Marshall points out that Charlie Malone dropped one of Sammy Baugh's passes in the end zone early in the game when a catch would have tied the score. The Bears went on from there, one touchdown after another. Then the Redskins began dropping a succession of passes and at the half the Bears led 28-0.

With two minutes left to play the score was 67-0. At this point Mrs. Marshall's husband, owner of the Redskins, elected to leave the stands.

"I'm going down to those kids, anything might happen," George yelled over his shoulder," says Mrs. Marshall.

As he left a voice high up in the stands shouted, "Get 'em out of here, you lug. Take 'em back to Boston."

"You come down and say that, you lug." It was George answering.

I was told afterwards that two policemen rushed up to George to accompany him to the dressing room.

Top Minors Draft Eighteen Players

By FRANK ECK

COLUMBUS, Ohio Nov. 20 (AP)—Eighteen players at a cost of $3,500 to $5,500 apiece were drafted by triple A minor league clubs in the annual draft by top minors.

President George Trautman of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues announced that clubs in the American Association were the freest spenders. They picked up 10 men to four each by the other triple A leagues—the Pacific Coast and International.

Louisville, Minneapolis and Indianapolis, all of the American Association, grabbed two players apiece. Hollywood of the Coast League, got three players—catcher Bill Sheets from Quincy, Ill.; Pitches Bill Rutland from Roanoke, Va., and Pitcher Egon Feuler from Jacksonville, Fla.

Other deals included: Louisville drafted from Mason, Ga., John Hoffman, pitcher, whose home is in Buffalo, N. Y., and from Richmond, Va., Joseph Jones, pitcher, whose home is in Texas, N. Y.

Hollywood drafted from Quincy, Ill., William Sheets, catcher, whose home is in Winston-Salem, N. C., from Roanoke, Va., William Rutland, pitcher, whose home is in Terra Haute, Ind., and from Jacksonville, Fla., Egon Feuler, pitcher, whose home is in Haywood, N. C.

Jersey City drafted from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., William Milne, outfielder, whose home is in Mobile, Ala.

Montreal drafted from Augusta, Ga., John Simmons, outfielder, whose home is in Flushing, N. Y., Los Angeles drafted from Atlanta, Ga., Dewey Atkins, pitcher, whose home is in Wilkesville, Neb.

Outstanding Guard Has Another Year's Eligibility For Tech

By FRANK ECK

ATLANTA Nov. 20 (AP)—Georgia Tech's opponents for next year are interested in Bill Healey's plans for 1948, and with good reason.

Healey, a 210-pound guard who made a letter with the Yellow Jackets of 1942 as a freshman, has another year of eligibility left. The opposition no doubt would breathe easier if he decided not to cash in on it.

The 23-year-old veteran of three years in the Army came back last year to take up right where he left off and wound up as captain of the 1947 team and a member of the Associated Press All-Southeastern Conference.

He was almost a unanimous choice for the position on the all-star team and the praise heaped upon him by his own coaches and rival tutors make him a leading candidate to repeat.

Healey, who teams with Bobby Davis, a giant tackle, to give the Jackets a one-two punch on the right side of the line when on offense, also is the team's kingpin on defense on that side of center. Davis shifts over to defensive left tackle.

Bobby Dodd, Tech head coach, rates Healey as one of the best guards ever to perform at Georgia Tech, "and one of the smartest."

Healey, who prepped at Baylor in Chattanooga, but now lives in nearby Marietta with his wife, is adept at diagnosing plays and seldom is tricked out of position. He frequently pulls back and slips down the line of scrimmage to thwart an enemy back's attempt at ground-gaining.

"A move like that on Healey's part saved us a touchdown in the Duke game," Dodd said, "and several other times he has been in a position to save us—had the runner rotten away."

Bob Elliott, Heavy Hitting Brave, Is National's Best

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—Bob Elliott, heavy hitting third baseman of the Philadelphia Phillies, was proclaimed the National League's most valuable player for 1947 by a vote of a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers' Association.

In becoming the first member of a non-pennant winning team to gain that distinction since Ernie Lombardi of the fourth-place Cincinnati Reds won the award in 1938, Elliott also had the honor of becoming the first third baseman in major league to win the title since its inception in 1911.

The 31-year-old native of San Francisco, whose great work both at bat and in the field was largely responsible for Boston's third-place finish last season, is only one second Brave thus honored. The other was Johnny Evers, of Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance fame, back in 1914.

Elliott, a converted outfielder who made the shift to the hot corner in 1942, polled a total of 295 votes in the balloting for the Kenesaw Mountain Landis Memorial award to win by a comfortable margin over Ewell Blackwell, who had 175 points.

Johnny Mize, slugging first baseman of the New York Giants, who tied with 144 and catcher Bruce Edwards led a sizeable delegation of champion Brooklyn Dodgers with 140 points.

Twenty-six players figured in the voting, an unusually low total, and ten received at least one first-place vote. Elliott led in this department with nine first-place ballots. Eawarus had four. Blackwell, Mize and Peewee Reese, Dodger shortstop who finished eighth in the voting, had two apiece.

Jackie Robinson, negro rookie first baseman of the Dodgers; Larry Jansen, freshman pitcher of the Giants; Emil (Dutch) Leonard, veteran knuckleball hurler of the Philadelphia Phillies; Dixie Walker, veteran Dodger outfielder, and Willard Marshall, Giant flycatcher, each was named top man on one ballot. Of the 26 players, only Blackwell was named on all 24 ballots.

Robinson finished fifth with 106 votes, just missing a pay Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner who placed sixth with 101. Jansen was seventh with 91 votes and Reese's eighth place total was 80. Harry Walker, the Phillie's fleet center-fielder, who led the league in hitting with .362, and George (Whitey) Kuroski, long ball hitting third baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals were tied up for ninth and tenth positions with 45 votes apiece.

Stan Musial of the Cardinals who breezed in an easy winner in the 1946 poll, could do no better than 29th with only 20 votes. He did not get any votes above seventh. Elliott last year received only one vote to just get in under "honorable mention."

LINEUP OF WEEK
By TED MEIER
NEW YORK Nov. 20 (AP)—Joe Watson, of Rice, hailed as the greatest center in the Southwest Conference since Texas Christian's El Aldrich a decade ago, was selected today as the football lineman of the week in the Associated Press poll.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK Nov. 20 (AP)—Since this is the season when the front ball "experts" acquire their biggest headlines trying to pick all American, all-sectional, all-conference and all-most anything teams, this spot will start the ball rolling by naming the guys-who-were-best-the-day-we-saw-'em team.

It's one sure way of picking an "all" team without combacks. We don't say which games we saw... the line ends: Swiacki, Columbia and Broadus, Georgia Tech; tackles, Bryant, Army; and Shimshak, Navy; guards, Suhey, Penn State, and Drasewich, Penn State; left half, Gase, Clemson; right half, Minal, Penn; fullback, Weher, Princeton. . . . Sorry no separate offensive and defensive lineups. Even the coaches sometimes guess wrong on those setups.

Week's Worst

Indiana's Cook-Miller publicity team checks in with a note that the Hoosiers may come up with a backfield of Nick, Dick, Chick and Chick. Nick Bebek, Dick Beranek, Chick Graded and Chick (Tch-tck) McKinnis. . . . This backfield, they add, might click. . . . And, if you want our opinion of the gag, you'll have to put an "N" in the word and spoil the rhyme.

Plinkin Pickins Penn State vs. Pittsburgh We think that Pitt's Panthers Don't know all the anthwers. Harvard vs. Yale This game is sure To end most happily For Harvard anyway. And the late George Apley. . . . Missouri vs. Kansas Though everyone pans us We still will pick Kansas. North Carolina vs. Duke In this southern fixture Look out for Duke's mixture. Louisiana State vs. Alabama A spelling lesson Strange to see Is L. S. U. Spelled L.O.B.E.

In a Hicw Norfolk, Va., football promoters are trying to line up some outstanding high school teams for policeman rushed up to George to accompany him to the dressing room.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Folks here were burned up over an article on our town I reprinted from a city paper. Note we sound like a bunch of "nicks" who whittled sticks and wore chin whiskers. (Last person I saw with chin whiskers was passing through on his way east.)

So I ran an editorial on how we spoke of city "nicks"—as over-dressed wisps of air, only interested in making money, and spending it in night clubs.

Fact is, if we got to know each other we'd probably find we're not much different, underneath. City folks work hard; like to come home at night to their families; and relax with a moderate glass of beer, like we do.

From where I sit, it doesn't matter if you live in an apartment house or on a farm—work in an office or a cornfield—the American tradition of quiet home life, temperate habits, and neighborliness is common to all of us.

Women Of Royal Birth Must Pop The Question To Wed Below Their Rank

NEW YORK (AP)—Too ill to attend the wedding of Princess Elizabeth and Philip Mountbatten tomorrow is another British princess—she is proposed to a man and got turned down.

She is Elizabeth's aunt, Victoria Alexandra Alice Mary, and, so far as I know, the only British Princess Royal who ever got jilted.

The tale requires a little background: An ironbound convention among those born to the purple is that women of royal birth, if they want to marry a man beneath their rank, must do the asking themselves.

This, of course, is to protect the royal maids from being be-diary and says in effect: "That girl really sends me. Go see if he won't let me buy him a wedding ring." And the twittering intermediary flies back and forth like a passenger pigeon until the deal is sealed.

"A marriage has been arranged," the court chronicler then announces.

This system worked well for Elizabeth's great-grandmother, Queen Victoria, who thus won the man on the tobacco cart—Prince Albert—and bore him four sons and five daughters.

But Mary, the present Princess Royal and sister of the King, didn't wait for any intermediary to act for her.

She was sweet sixteen at the time, a true daughter of the strong-willed ruling British tribe, and the man of her choice was the grizzled hero of Khartoum, Lord

Clothing Specialist Advocates Knitwear

Knitwear deserves greater use in children's ready-made clothing, says Clarice Scott, clothing specialist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Miss Scott finds that knitwear has many advantages over woven fabric in children's garments. Its elasticity makes it fit closely yet allows for plenty of freedom of action without bulk. Its insulating properties offer extra warmth in winter, yet because it is porous, cotton knitwear is comfortable also for summer wear. It is easy to wash and requires no ironing—a boon to mothers. Because many kinds of knit fabric are less expensive to manufacture than woven fabric, their use should reduce the cost of children's garments.

Knitwear has improved in durability in recent years since rump-proof knits have been developed. No longer do small breaks or tears lead to runs—and the mending basket.

Mothers have long been familiar with certain kinds of knitwear, such as knit underwear for children, and the cotton T-shirt which have become almost standard wear for small boys and many girls as well.

Miss Scott suggests that knitwear also is suitable for infants' wear, rompers, night clothes, small boys' suits and helmets, baby hoods and mittens.

After testifying in Washington before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on the situation for Western Europe, Secretary of Commerce W. Averell Harriman (left) confers with Sen. Arthur H. Fabulous Necklace Given To Princess By King And Queen

Dr. TOM WILLIAMS of LONDON Nov. 20 (AP)—The King and Queen gave Princess Elizabeth a necklace of post-stud diamonds and rubies today for her royal marriage today to Lieut. Philip Mountbatten.

The glittering jewels were from the personal collection of the royal family. The necklace, an inch wide, was the most dazzling present shown to reporters in a display of more than 1,200 gifts which already have arrived at St. James' Palace.

King George VI and Queen Elizabeth also gave their brides apparent two strings of pearls the size of small grapes.

Dowager Queen Mary presented diamond ear rings, a diamond brooch, a diamond bracelet and a diamond brooch. She had inherited some of the gems from Queen Victoria. The glass bowl sent by President and Mrs. Truman also was displayed at St. James'.

Four visiting kings and six visiting queens were among the 27 royal perennials already assembled for the nuptials of the handsome couple at Westminster Abbey. It was the largest assembly of European royalty in the ten years since the King was crowned in succession to Edward VIII, who

THE AMAZING STORY OF RAILROAD BONDS
1937 - 1947

In the past 10 years most railroad systems have:

1. Reduced their funded debt 27%.
2. Reduced their annual interest charges 32%.
3. Increased their cash resources 372%.
4. Increased their net working capital 74%.

In 1937, the bonds of most of these railroad systems were selling at par or higher. Today these same bonds - with records of uninterrupted interest payments extending for periods up to 50 years - can be purchased at substantial discounts. Many of these issues are legal investments for savings banks and trust funds in the State of New York.

After 8 Years In Movies, Star Says He Dislikes Films

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 20 (AP)—It took Red Skelton eight years to find out that he doesn't like movie making. Eventually he intends to give up films for a career in television.

Eventually, at this point, means four years hence, because that's how long it will take him to run out his MGM contract. The Vincennes, Ind., comic has tried to escape his pact, but the Culver City execs have said, "no."

China To Hold First National Election

NANKING, Nov. 20 (AP)—China holds its first national election tomorrow, with the dominant Kuomintang (Government Party) and minority political groups in disagreement over advance arrangements for selection of a national assembly.

There seems to be little public interest in the balloting, which continues through Sunday. The first day's voting will be confined to the election of women candidates from various women's organizations. Representatives of occupational, professional and labor organizations will be chosen Saturday. Sunday regional assemblies will be elected. Results must be submitted to the national government within ten days.

False Affidavit Signed By Meyers To Get Cadillac

AM Vets Demand Medals And Pensions Of Wartime General Be Revoked By Army

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—Red-faced and flustered, Maj. General Bennett E. Meyers acknowledged today that he once signed a false affidavit concerning use of the Cadillac automobile which has figured in the Senate investigation of his wartime activities.

The acknowledgement came as members of the Senate War Investigating Committee cross-questioned him on his story that he set up the Aviation Electric Company solely to help "my girl friend," Mrs. Mildred Lamarre, wife of the man who became its president.

Mentioning the Cadillac, which B. H. Lamarre said Aviation Electric bought for Meyers, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) asked Meyers whether the car ever had been used by Aviation Electric prior to Jan. 1, 1942—that is, prior to a wartime government freeze order.

Mother Denies Daughter Was Meyers' Girl

Mrs. Readnower Says Daughter Was In Love With Husband

CINCINNATI, Nov. 21 (AP)—The mother of Mrs. Mildred Lamarre declared over the telephone today her daughter was too much in love with her husband, Blériot, to have been the "girl friend" of Maj. General Bennett E. Meyers, who is under Senate investigation that he formed the Aviation Electric Corporation in Dayton, O., and made Lamarre president because Mrs. Lamarre had been his girl friend from 1936 to 1940 "with the knowledge, approval and acquiescence of her husband."

"It's terrible, outrageous and groundless," Mrs. Mildred Readnower, the mother, who lives in nearby Covington, Ky., told a reporter. "The things that General Meyers is saying are lies. He's just saying them to get even because my son-in-law told the truth about him."
