

Candidates Named For Boys State

By Jane Casselberry
American Legion Memorial Post 256 of Casselberry has announced the selection of two Lyman High School Juniors to attend Boys State at Tallahassee during the week of July 5-11.

Andy Hinely, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hinely of Tanglewood and Dan Casselberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Casselberry of Casselberry, the latter being sponsored by Boy Scout Troop 841 of Casselberry.

Both of these youngsters take an active part in the various programs of the school. Andy is a member of the Beta Club and the Bowling Team. Dan was recently elected president of the Student Council and is Junior Assistant Scoutmaster of his troop.

These boys will join with some 40 others from the Sixth District, leaving by chartered bus early Sunday morning, July 5, and will register in at the Florida State University, where they will be quartered during their stay.

The American Legion, Department of Florida, annually entertains over 600 boys from all over the state to educate them in the duties and privileges of citizenship and teach the fundamental precepts of government.

By Mrs. Adam Muller
The May meeting of the DeBarry Home Demonstration Club was held at the Community Center with workshop demonstrations in charge of Mrs. Louis Ritter and Mrs. George Wright.

At noon Mrs. Anthony Oppel and Mrs. Charles Schless demonstrated the making of rice pudding and a cherry tapioca dessert. Beverage was supplied by the regular committee to supplement the sack lunch brought by members.

Topic for the afternoon discussion, presented by Mrs. Oppel, was "You and Your Food." Vitamin and mineral content was illustrated through use of a colored chart and tips were given for good nutrition. Recipes for various foods using a sweetener instead of sugar and for salad dressings and sandwich fillings were given for the weight watchers.

Mrs. Oppel pointed out that food becomes a part of the personality and emotional stability reminding that good nutrition insures radiant health, energy and stamina.

5th Circuit Vacancy Civil Rights Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A vacant seat of the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals is a prime target in the civil rights struggle.

Anti-discrimination leaders feel their legal efforts would be bolstered considerably with the appointment of a racial liberal or moderate to fill the vacancy.

The Fifth Circuit embraces a crucial civil rights area — Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana and Georgia — and the nine-member appeals court is called upon to settle many racial disputes.

The court's vacancy resulted from the death of Judge Ben Cameron of Meridian, Miss., a conservative whose decisions often went against the civil rights forces.

A campaign to have a Negro attorney in Jackson, Miss., named to succeed Cameron was begun by a handful of integration strategists here but it apparently died a quick death after failing to pick up any heavyweight backing.

"We make no positive recommendations on judgeships," explained the NAACP's Clarence Mitchell. "However, we will do all we can to prevent the appointment from going to a racist or someone who will defy the Supreme Court."

Mitchell says the appointment "will have a big impact on the implementation of future civil rights legislation." If President Johnson follows tradition, he will pick another Mississippian for the job. But finding a highly qualified attorney in the state who is not considered a "racist" by civil rights advocates will be no easy chore.

Former Gov. J. P. Coleman, a crack constitutional lawyer who is considered moderate by Mississippi standards, answered speculation that he would be the nominee with a statement that he's not interested in the job.

The Justice Department and the offices of Sens. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., and John C. Stennis, D-Miss., report that a nomination is not yet in sight.

A nominee is generally recommended to the President by the attorney general after conferences with senators from the state involved.

A critical consideration for Mr. Johnson is that the nomination will need Senate confirmation and this can come only after its approval by the Senate Judiciary Committee, headed by Eastland.

His influence in such matters was illustrated when scores of new district judgeships were created during the Kennedy administration. The first one filled was in Mississippi and the nominee was Harold Cox, a longtime college roommate of Eastland whose rulings have been unpopular in the civil rights camp.

The nomination of a successor to Cameron is a potential roadblock in the Democrats' election-year effort to keep everybody happy. It could be delayed until after the election.

Former Florida newspaper publisher Edwin A. Menninger was awarded an honorary Doctor of Science degree by FSU for his contributions to tropical horticulture. He is called "The Flowering Tree Man."

Officers wives of RVAH-3 were hostesses at a coffee honoring their first lady, Mrs. J. L. Shipman, in the BOQ wardroom.

The coffee was the official farewell function for Mrs. Shipman whose husband will be relieved Friday as skipper of the squadron. Cdr. J. A. deGanahl will become the commanding officer at that time.

Eighty Naval officers wives attended the coffee. A motif of spring flowers was carried out in the colorful name tags in the shape of flowers for the guests, the pastel centerpiece and a corner of the wardroom which had been converted into an "outdoor garden."

Corsages which had been tilted to match their aqua and lavender dresses were presented to Mrs. Shipman and Mrs. deGanahl. An engraved silver punch tray was given to Mrs. Shipman by Mrs. deGanahl on behalf of the squadron wives.

Assisting with the pouring were Mrs. Robert Ware, Mrs. James Mayo, Mrs. George Kimmons, Mrs. Paul Werner, Mrs. E. B. Brown and Mrs. Bart Bartholomew. Squadron wives took turns pouring tea.

The wives had also prepared the food which ranged from tiny meat balls to delicate cream puffs. A melon basket filled with fruit and fruit punch was also served.

Chief Petty Officer Raymond Downey's 30 years in the Navy were commemorated with a surprise party honoring the anniversary at the Downey home.

Chief Downey had been detained by CPO John Scott; he was greeted by friends who had come in to help celebrate the event arranged by his wife.

Quite of the evening was Chief Downey's comment that after three decades in the Navy he had decided to make a career of it.

A buffet dinner of fried chicken, baked ham and a large variety of food was served.

Those joining in the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Habb, Mr. and Mrs. Max West, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Donnell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clemmer and Mr. and Mrs. Al Payne.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rummel became the parents of their third child and girl, named Margaret Sue, on May 13. The new baby weighed eight pounds, three ounces and was 19 1/2 inches long.

Mrs. William Yelinek, president of the Naval Officers Wives Club board, will run again for the same office for the second six months of 1964.

Her opponent will be Mrs. Chester Fitzpatrick of the RVAH-3 officers wives club.

Running for vice president will be Mrs. Martin Sheridan, also of the RVAH-3 group and Mrs. John Moloney, of the VAH-11—Det. 8, wives club.

The candidates were announced at Tuesday's meeting of the NOW board, held at the home of Mrs. H. S. Beat. The election and change of board coffee was set for July 9 and will be hosted by the officers wives of RVAH-3.

In other business a check for $50 was presented to Chaplain Robert Deal for use in renovating the base nursery. A check in the amount of $200 will be turned over to Navy Relief; the money was raised at the recent luncheon and fashion show sponsored by the NOW club.

Mrs. O. W. McGuire was hostess for the staff officers wives bridge, held Thursday in her home. Mrs. John Haganon took high honors.

A lunch of ham sandwiches and baked goodies was served by the hostesses to the ladies present who were Mrs. H. A. Moreland, Mrs. Robert Farrell, Mrs. David Dearolph, Mrs. Leigh Elger, Mrs. Wade Markely and Mrs. William Isenberg.

Mrs. George Dresser is at home with her new son, born May 28 at Seminole Memorial Hospital. The baby was named George Brayton Jr., and weighed in at seven pounds, 14 ounces. Miss Mary Dresser of Boynton Beach, arrived Monday night with her parents and will stay with her sister-in-law for several weeks. Lt. Dresser is aboard the USS Enterprise.

Officers wives of VAH-11—Det. 8 will meet at New Smyrna Beach Thursday for a beach party and picnic. Mrs. J. R. Sandusky will be the hostess.

The wives will meet at 10 a.m. under a pavilion which will be set up and bedecked with Checkertail flags.

VAH-3 enlisted wives club meeting has been postponed until June 23 at 7:30 at the Acey Deucey Club. The meeting was originally scheduled for June 8.

Salinger Wins Nomination

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Pierre Salinger, cigar-chomping former aide to two presidents, swept to victory in a bitter fight for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator in California's primary election.

Tying securely to the memory of the late President John F. Kennedy in his campaign, Salinger faced a November fight with actor George Murphy, a conservative Republican.

President Lyndon B. Johnson called his 58-year-old former press secretary to congratulate him on the victory in Tuesday's primary. Mrs. John F. Kennedy, widow of the late president, also telephoned.

"I'm considering going to Southeast Asia," Salinger promptly announced—even before he claimed total victory over Alan Cranston, balding, 48-year-old state controller.

Salinger apparently felt that a personal appearance in the troubled Far East would widen his knowledge of international affairs. But he refused to elaborate on his reasons for the trip.

It was Salinger's first bid for political office and he went into the election as underdog. But he had battled fiercely since resigning as Johnson's press secretary on the final day for entering the primary.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown already had gone on record giving his "wholehearted" support to Cranston, who also gained backing from the politically potent California Labor Federation AFL-CIO and the huge California Democratic Council, the nation's largest volunteer political organization.

Officers wives of VAH-11—Det. 8 will meet at New Smyrna Beach Thursday for a beach party and picnic. Mrs. J. R. Sandusky will be the hostess.

The wives will meet at 10 a.m. under a pavilion which will be set up and bedecked with Checkertail flags.

Sheriff Must Produce Data On Deputies

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—St. Johns County Sheriff L. O. Davis, who said neither he nor his men were Klansmen, was ordered to produce in federal court today a list of special deputies he has hired since racial demonstrations began in St. Augustine.

"I think as a law enforcement officer, Sheriff, you can appreciate the danger of having members of the Klan in your organization in situations like this," Judge Bryan Simpson told Davis Tuesday.

Davis testified during the second day of a federal hearing on a suit by Negroes attacking a police bat on racial demonstrations in St. Augustine.

The sheriff said the demonstrations were held "for the sole purpose of creating disorder or possible violence." Davis said the Negroes could not be seeking to arouse public sympathy because the marches were held so late at night there was no one around to see them.

Davis told Simpson he could not recall how many special deputies he had hired. The judge told him to bring his personnel lists to court today.

St. Augustine Police Chief Virgil Stuart testified earlier that three men who said they were Klansmen asked him last week for permission to parade through the Negro section of the city in the same manner as the Negroes had marched through the downtown area. Stuart said he refused.

The Florida Dept. of Agriculture and the Florida Egg Commission are promoting consumption of eggs during May, Florida Egg Month.

Academy was held Friday through Sunday beginning with the Senior Consecration Service at 7:30 p. m. Friday and concluding with the Commencement Exercise at 10 a. m. Sunday.

Officers of the class, which has the distinction of being one of the best classes scholastically to graduate from the Academy, have been Donald Eugene Pervis, president; Paula Elizabeth Thum, vice president; Marlene Caren Mahew, secretary; Thomas Dean Emde, treasurer; Richard Earle Pleasants, pastor and George Edward Weeks, sergeant-at-arms. Sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Maddox.

The class motto was "Today's Conflict"; class aim, "Tomorrow's Victory." Colors were turquoise, silver and white and the flower was the white rose.

Speaker for Friday evening's Consecration Service was J. L. Pogue, associate pastor of the College View Seventh-day Adventist Church in Lincoln Neb. and former instructor of religion at Forest Lake who is the father of James Pogue.

The invocation was given by George Petty, the response by Rick Pleasants, the consecration prayer by Principal William Fuchs and the benediction by W. J. Strawn.

Special music for the service was provided by the Girls' Trio who sang "Climbing Jacob's Ladder." In the group were Marlene Mayhew, Beverly McDaniel and Maureen Sykes. The consecration song, "It Was For Me," was by Jamie Pogue and a trumpet solo, "The Lord's Prayer," was presented by Ron Bentzinger. Organist was Mrs. Brenda Johnson.

Address for the Saturday morning Baccalaureate was given by Elder R. E. Pleasants Jr., church development secretary of the Florida Conference of Seventh-day Adventists and father of senior student Richard Pleasants III.

The invocation was given by Dr. J. D. Foley, morning prayer by Elder O. H. Bentzinger; the offering, John Mayhew and the benediction by Forrest Sykes.

Music for the service included a presentation of the "Gloria," by Mozart, sung by the Senior Class Choir. Organist was Mrs. Homer Grove.

Class night was held at 8 p. m. Saturday with Tom Emde, class treasurer, as master of ceremonies. The Welcome was given by Maureen Sykes, salutatorian; the President's Address by Don Pervis, class and president and the Valedictory Address by Merrill Cross.

Organist was Mrs. Brenda Johnson.

Climaxing the entire weekend, during which the graduates also attended Sabbath School and Vespers on Saturday, was Commencement held Sunday morning with Elder J. F. Hamrick, pastor of the Ft. Lauderdale Seventh-day Adventist Church delivering the main address.

William Fuchs, principal of the academy, assisted by Mury Elm, registrar, presented diplomas and awards.

Receiving awards and recog-

niton, other than the valedictorian and salutatorian, were Jim Minesinger and Donna Whidden, literary; Joan Meister, leadership and recognition as year book editor; Paula Walker, John Philip Sousa Band Award and music award and Jim Foxworthy, music award; Darryl D. Steinmeyer Enlarges Plant Facilities

One of the Sanford firms which has gone about its business quietly and without fanfare is the Steinmeyer Roofing and Sheet Metal, Inc. The proprietor, Leon Steinmeyer, has recently added more facilities to serve his customers and housed some of them in a spanking new office building at 218 Oak Avenue.

From there he can direct his 10 fulltime employees and fleet of five trucks. The office is modern in every detail and the "inside" work is usually done by his wife and Betty Carpenter.

Steinmeyer started his business shortly after his discharge from the Air Force after World War II. It then was located on the Old Orlando Highway and that location is being continued, this time as a storage facility for his supplies and equipment. A lifelong resident of Sanford, he and his wife and their three children live in Citrus Heights. The children are Ethel Anne, 10; Leon Jr., 11; and Joyce, the baby at 7.

One veteran employee with the Steinmeyers started his sheet metal career back in 1925 and has been with Steinmeyer since he took over the local concern. The firm services all of Seminole County and the southern portion of Volusia County and specializes in custom job work on individual orders. It also handles a variety of roofing supplies.

Florence Fritz, former woman mayor of Ft. Myers, is the author of "Unknown Florida," a history of the Sunshine State.

LEON STEINMEYER, operator of a roofing and sheet metal firm which bears his name, stands at the doorway to his new office building at 218 Oak Avenue.

Memorial Day Service Conducted

Memorial Day was an occasion for honoring the dead of the nation's wars with a parade and a ceremony at the Memorial Park on Lake Triplett Drive in Casselberry. Wreaths were placed at the base of the Flag pole by the commanders of local veterans organizations, George Howard of the VFW Post 10050 and Harold Kryder of American Legion Memorial Post 256. Members of the two posts and their auxiliaries took part in addition to Boy Scout Troop 341 of Casselberry, Girl Scout Troop 910 and the South Seminole Junior High School Band.

Rev. Delmas Copeland of the Casselberry Community Church, principal speaker, gave an inspirational address. Eighth District Commander of the VFW Jack Carney of Eau Gallie reminded the group that "the dead are past our help but we have an obligation to help the living veterans who will spend the rest of their lives in Veteran Administration Hospitals." He also stressed the advantage of belonging to a veteran's organization. Larry Maplesden, American Legion chairman of Post 256 was the master of ceremonies. The invocation and benediction were given by VFW Chaplain Bob Dyser.

The band played two numbers in addition to the Star Spangled Banner and the program was climaxed by a stirring rendition of "Tape" by trumpeters Paul Willett and Jim Fuller.

WREATHS WERE LAID at the base of the Flag pole in the Memorial Park in Casselberry Saturday afternoon during the Memorial Day observance by Commander George Howard, (left) VFW Post 10050 and Commander Harold Kryder, American Legion Memorial Post 256.

Many improvements have been made at the little park since last year's Memorial Day program. Sidewalks and cement benches have been added as well as many plants and flowers, all of which have been donated by interested residents. The park is maintained by the American Legion Post.

Freighter Hits U. S. Carrier

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — The aircraft carrier USS Lake Champlain was struck by a 692-foot Norwegian motor vessel Skauvann today in fog-bound Chesapeake Bay waters, the Navy reported. There were no reports of injuries, but both ships were damaged, a Navy spokesman said here.

The Navy said several fires broke out on the carrier when the ships collided at 3:30 a.m. But they were reported under control 45 minutes later. The Lake Champlain was proceeding at 6 knots from Norfolk to Annapolis, Md., in dense fog when the collision occurred about 28 miles south of Annapolis near Patuxent River, Md. Both ships reported structural damage. The Lake Champlain radiated it had no underwater damage. The Skauvann notified the carrier that, although it suffered damage, it required no assistance.

The carrier was at anchor, awaiting a Coast Guard investigation.

Miss Kay Ivey Feted At Bridal Tea

Miss Kay Ivey, lovely bride-elect of Ronald Lindsey, was honor guest of a recent bridal tea reception at the gracious Elliott Avenue home of Mrs. Harry Woodruff.

The reception rooms contained picturesque arrangements of roses grown by Mrs. W. G. Fleming in shades ranging from the most delicate pastels to vivid red hues. Mrs. Roy Mann and Mrs. Clarence Powell assisted in receiving the guests at the door.

The table was overlaid with a sheer white heirloom cut work cloth edged in hand-made lace. Two antique white figurines featuring double cupids holding urns, were filled with delicate pink roses, tastefully arranged. Antique candelabra with pink candles graced the buffet on either side of the silver coffee service. Silver trays and compotes contained a variety of dainty tea sandwiches, beautifully decorated candies, miniature cakes and nuts.

Refreshing fruit punch, served from an antique silver bowl, floated a ring mold with a nosegay of sweetheart roses centering a frilly lace outline.

The vivacious Miss Ivey was lovely in a pastel green check sheath under a sheer white organza overdress featuring orchid embroidered flowers on the low cut bodice. She wore the lovely rose corsage, presented to her by the hostesses, at her waistline. Mrs. John Ivey, mother of the honoree, and Mrs. Edwin Lindsey, her fiance's mother, also received rose corsages from the hostesses.

MISS KAY IVEY, center, was honored with an elaborate bridal tea recently at the lovely Elliott Avenue home of Mrs. Harry Woodruff. With Miss Ivey are Mrs. Edwin Lindsey, her fiance's mother, and on the right, her mother, Mrs. John Ivey.

Co-hostesses for the delightful tea were Mrs. W. G. Fleming, Mrs. G. A. Speer and Mrs. Harry Woodruff assisted by Mrs. Ed Shiholzer, Mrs. Frank Woodruff 3rd, Mrs. Clyde Hurt, Mrs. Russell

Pearson and Mrs. Roy Williams.

Pouring were Mrs. Harry Tooke, Mrs. Dale Scott, Mrs. Earl Higginbotham and Mrs. W. A. Adams.

Lake Mary Club Installs Officers

"Hands are to serve" was the recurring thought as Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith installed the new slate of officers of the Lake Mary Woman's Club at a luncheon held Thursday at the Mayfair Inn.

When Mrs. J. O. Gregory took the gavel as the new president, the speaker advised, "A smile begets more than a frown," and to the members she stressed that words of encouragement "give a lift as she leads."

Hands and the myriad ways in which they serve was brought out by Mrs. Smith as she inducted Mrs. Richard Martin, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Curtis Greene, treasurer, and Mrs. John Noel as recording secretary.

Elaborating on the theme, the speaker pointed out that hands indicate what personalities are, what a person is—hands communicate and bless; hands show grief, joy, love and pay homage. Hands serve.

Mrs. Gregory then presented Mrs. Frank Evans, the retiring president, with a Woman's Club past president's pin to show the membership's gratitude for her outstanding leadership.

During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Evans, a contribution was made to the Camp Challenge building fund which is sponsored by the Crippled Children's Association and supported by the Easter Seal Fund.

Mrs. Hugh Tillis, the educational chairman, announced that the library project will be tabled due to lack of community interest and support. The club now has plans to establish a library for its members and their families when space can be provided.

New members, Mrs. Watson Roel, Mrs. Dale Duckworth and Mrs. William Wade, were introduced. Mrs. Olan Boutwell announced plans for a family picnic at Ponce de Leon Springs to be held July 11. Mrs. Boutwell, the program chairman, provided an entertaining and instructive program on interior decorating. Slides from Pittsburgh Glass Company revealed how to develop color harmony within the home. Mrs. Gregory and Mrs. Noel assisted.

A lovely arrangement of permanent flowers was presented to Mrs. Smith for her interest and support of the club during the past two years.

Horoscope Forecast

THURSDAY, JUNE 4, 1964

GENERAL TENDENCIES: An unexpected chance arises today for you to get right into a new plan of action that appeals to you, by which you very readily will be able to put into motion a new idea that has some very practical benefits flowing from it. But you need to show others you are wide awake to its possibilities.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Personal interests should be uppermost in your mind today, since it is possible for you to find better outlets for your talents. Dress in good style early. Then off to right places.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) If you are more practical in your planning, you soon find that you achieve cherished aims. Confering with experts and following advice is best method, too. Stay on the beam.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Listen to that good friend who is in an expansive mood and gives valuable suggestions for your advancement. Get out more with people. Make the contacts that really count.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can bask in reflected glory today, provided you show real ability and are loyal to big-wig. Don't be afraid to accept responsibility. You can prosper very rapidly.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) Using new methods is wise today, since they increase prestige and profit. Get into right sources and be well-informed first. Those who have wisdom are in an expansive mood.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) Sitting down with accountants, government officials, can help much in setting up a more economical regime for yourself now. Get in right with associates. Be affable at home tonight.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Although associates, both near and far, may seem demanding, it all augurs to your benefit in the long run. Look to the larger issues in operations. Fine results follow.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) If you criticize less and are more enthusiastic about your work, you soon find pleasure and profit in it. Endeavor to please co-workers. Efficiency improves quickly.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and I want to ask you a serious question. Do ANY boys like nice, sweet, old-fashioned girls? If you don't give them what they want, they think you don't like them and they go find someone who will. This guy I went with was real nice at first, then he started getting "fresh." He said if I liked him I'd go along with his ideas. I really liked him, but I couldn't explain why I wouldn't give in without sounding stupid or juvenile. He said I was too "nice" for him, and he left. Now I realize how much I liked him. How can I get him back?

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been dead for 22 years. I have continued to call myself MRS. JOHN SMITH. A friend of mine recently pointed out to me that I was breaching etiquette; that since there is no longer a JOHN SMITH, neither is there a MRS. JOHN SMITH, and I should be calling myself MRS. GERALDINE SMITH. Please set me straight.

MRS. GERALDINE OR MRS. JOHN SMITH: Your friend is the one who needs to be "set straight." When you took John's name, you took it for as long as YOU lived (unless you took another husband), not for as long as HE lived.

DEAR ABBY: Since reading in your column that a woman changed dentists because she didn't like the canned music he used in his office, I should like to express myself on that subject. I quit TWO dentists on this account. But worse yet is being forced to listen to canned music in a garage. I sat there waiting for my car to be repaired, while the mechanic waved wrenches and screw drivers around in the air as he sang and skipped and danced all around the car though he were in a hypnotic state. He stood on his toes, leaped into the air and twisted his body. His boss said he was a good mechanic and, if the music were turned off, every mechanic in the place would walk out. At six dollars an hour I didn't bring my car in there to be entertained. When I want to see a ballet, I'll buy a ticket. There should be a law against such nonsense in a place of business.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

From the age of 30 on, too many women look for youth in a beauty shop instead of reaching out for new interests that will truly give them a permanent youth.

By 30, the great majority of women—especially housewives—settle for what they already know and for the interests they have at the moment. Life settles down to a routine of work and a little or a lot of social life, including club work, PTA, bridge, and so forth.

But it's all organized and most of it is sedentary. They play bridge, they listen to lectures, they join discussion groups. They go en masse to year, even this week, rather than waiting until you get more time for yourself? The average woman may look as young for her age as her husband. But chances are her mind isn't as young or her personality as many-sided, simply because as soon as she settled down as a homemaker she quit trying to add new, active interests to her life.

Break away from dull routine and explore new ideas and interests. Your personality will be enriched and you'll find new zest in living that will be reflected in your appearance.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

money that West would hold the ace of hearts, whereupon the heart lead would not have hurt him anyway.

Everyone likes to play no-trump contracts, but the no-trumpist goes miles out of his way to get the no-trump play in his own hand. It always delights me when he is properly punished for this type of misbid.

WEST opened the queen of hearts and dummy's king was gobbled up by East's ace. Back came a heart and the defense cashed six fast heart tricks while South was busy discarding winners.

For some strange reason, North had nothing to say. Perhaps, she was just too nice to speak up or maybe she had learned that it wouldn't do any good. There is no cure for this no-trump disease. Any criticism of a no-trumpist is apt just to lead to more and worse no-trump bids from him in an effort to show a profit on one of them.

Highlights

7:30-8:30 p. m. CBS. The Roots of Freedom. "In Defense of Rome." A fascinating examination of ancient Rome's contributions to our laws, culture, economy and civilization generally, by means of writings from Roman writing, visits to the ruins and remnants of the once glorious empire and discussions of the impact of Rome on the contemporary western world. Participants include Professor Moses Hadas, James Mason and Bill Travers. Eric Sevareid is the host.

when it was originally done off-broadway in the spring of 1959. It owned much of its success to a knockout performance of Carol Burnett as the hoydenish princess who competes physically and in other ways for the hand of a mother-rudden prince. Miss Burnett is every bit as raducous as ever, perhaps even more so, which automatically makes this program a major treat for her fans.

CITY OF SANFORD Invitation to Bid Sealed bids will be received in the office of the City Manager, Sanford, Florida, on the following items:

8:30-9 p. m. CBS. Suspense. "The Leader." What starts out as a skillfully planned suspense story peters out to a rather dull and disappointing finish. Very good, nevertheless, is Barbara Rathbone in the key role of a master crook who plans every step of a forthcoming crime with painstaking precision. Target for Rathbone and his gang is a priceless gem in a waterfront warehouse. A cruiser and skindiving suits make it possible for the young crooks to approach the warehouse from its most vulnerable side.

10-11 p. m. NBC. Eleventh Hour. "How Do I Say I Love You?" (rerun) If you've been waiting for this form of television science-fiction to delve into the problem of impotence among the young marrieds, this is it. Whether you believe this is a subject worthy of getting the entertainment treatment (remember, these shows are not documentaries), we leave up to you. In any case, the acting, particularly that of Lee Kinsolving as the afflicted young man, is fine. Celeste Holm and Shelley Fabares round out the guest list.

Munich Tries To Make Amends For Hitler

MUNICH (NEA)—Munich, the city where Adolf Hitler got his start, is atoning for the crimes which Hitler committed against the Jews.

For one thing, Munich is doing its best to make those Jews who have returned to live here feel at home. "We regard this as a challenge to the new German democracy," explains Dr. Anton Fingerle, superintendent of Munich's schools.

As early as 1948 Munich took the lead in forming the first Christian-Jewish association in West Germany. Since then, 36 chapters of the association have sprung up.

Munich has pioneered also in the establishment of cultural exchanges with Israel. Bubbled with enthusiasm the Lord Mayor of Munich, Dr. Vogel, has just returned from a tour of the Zionist state, and he has recommended that Munich send groups of teachers and students to Israel twice a year on an exchange basis.

This is in addition to the scholarships which Munich already offers to Israelis, particularly to those studying in social welfare fields.

There were half a million Jews in the German Reich in 1933. Some 270,000 emigrated; 180,000 were killed. Today only 30,000 are left in the Federal Republic.

Of this pitiful remnant, approximately one-sixth live in Munich, which thus has the largest Jewish population of any West German city.

In his office in Munich's pink, Gothic-style city hall, Fingerle explained what Munich is doing to combat the anti-Semitism which lingers as a hangover from the Nazi regime.

Early in March each year Munich sponsors a Brotherhood Week, during which the unity of all religious and racial groups is stressed by means of lectures, exhibits, public discussion.

The Christian-Jewish association, of which Fingerle is co-chairman, also sponsors a weekend conference on this subject in the autumn.

The teaching of contemporary history in the schools is one of the difficulties with which Fingerle has to contend. For one thing, the textbooks dealing with Hitler's regime are inadequate. Very few of them even mention the Nazi extermination of the Jews.

To compensate, Munich has invited Professor Werner J. Cahman of Rutgers University, to come here this summer to make a special study of anti-Semitism with the view of publishing his findings in book form.

The resettled Jews themselves present special problems, largely of a psychological nature.

Two-thirds of the resettlers are non-German Jews, mainly refugees from Eastern Europe who have been driven, ironically, to seek refuge in Germany by a new, postwar wave of anti-Semitism behind the Iron Curtain.

They do not feel at home here, their background and culture being utterly different from those of the former German Jewish community.

Of the 9,000 German Jews who have returned since the war, many feel just as uncomfortable. "Almost every returning Jew keeps his adopted nationality and owns two passports," wrote Der Spiegel, the German news weekly.

They are sensitive to the slightest manifestation of anti-Semitism. "Our bags are always packed," the returnees comment. The remark is borne out by the provisional nature of their homes.

As a result, the present Jewish contribution to national life is insignificant. Before Hitler, this contribution was rich and varied. For example before 1933 the Jewish community provided 11 out of 48 German Nobel prize winners.

Nor is the younger generation any better integrated in Germany than its elders. In a recent Frankfurt opinion poll more than 80 per cent of the young Jews expressed a desire to emigrate.

Many young Jews have refused to do their national service, which is their constitutional right. "How can I enlist as long as there are officers who served under the Nazis?" one of them is reported to have asked the selection board.
