Writ Of Error Saves Local Banker From Starting Immediate Service At Raiford

Leading Citizens Ask For Clemency

Banker And Minister Make Appeal Before Judge In Courtroom

Three years in the state penitentiary at Raiford today was meted out to A. R. Key, former vice-president and cashier of the Seminole County Bank. Judge DeWitt T. Gray sentenced him to one and two years respectively in the two indictments to which the former banker plead guilty.

Writs of error against the indictments were filed immediately after sentence was pronounced and Key was released on two $2,000 bonds while the cases are taken to the supreme court. The filing of the writs was an unusual procedure, according to attorneys in the courtroom, and the only possible step which would keep the ex-cashier from starting Raiford early this afternoon tomorrow morning.

Prepared For Sentence

Key pressed his lips into a firm straight line and gazed with shining eyes out the courtroom window to the open freedom of the St. John's River as Judge Gray pronounced sentence. He was prepared for the prison term by the quiet statement that he would be as lenient as my conscience will permit me to be" in response to appeals for clemency by two Sanford citizens, B. F. Whittier, cashier of the First National Bank, and the Rev. Mortimer Glover, pastor of the Holy Cross Church.

Lake In Court

Forrest Lake, former president of the Seminole County Bank, watched his former business associate sentenced. Only a week ago Lake was given a term of 14 years on charges growing out of the failure of the bank. Key was the principal witness for the state against him and furnished testimony in several cases which was vital in the prosecution.

Mr. Whittier spoke first. He asked Judge Gray to "exercise his discretion" (Continued on page 6)

2 Spanish Flyers Have Close Escape In Plane Accident

SEVILLE, Spain, May 11.—(INS)—The Spanish flyers, Captain Jimenez and Iglesias, had a narrow escape from death or serious injury today when their plane crashed into an automobile as they attempted to take off on their flight for a long distance record.

They emerged from the crash unscathed but one of the wings of their plane was slightly damaged. The flight was again postponed. The heavily-loaded plane started down the runway at 6:30 o'clock this morning and left the ground without difficulty. It appeared to be unable, however, to gain altitude and the flyers, their view obscured by a heavy mist, headed straight for an automobile at the end of the field.

One of the wings struck the vehicle. The plane wavered for an instant, then righted itself and came to the ground without overturning, relieving alarmed throngs at the field who feared a catastrophe.

PARTY CAUCUS TO CAST LIGHT ON ASPIRANTS

Republican Big-Wigs Of Penn- sylvania Will Hold Confer- ence Tomorrow To Decide Upon Policy Of Delegates

Hoover Chance May Depend On Meeting

Votes Of Keystone State Are Of Vital Importance To Selection Of Cabinet Member

WASHINGTON, May 11 (INS)—Pennsylvania, the Keystone State, appropriately enough holds an all-important key to the political future of Herbert Hoover.

Tomorrow, the Republican big-wigs of Pennsylvania will hold a caucus and party conference in Philadelphia, at which the policy of Pennsylvania's 79 delegates to the Kansas City convention may or may not be determined.

Secretary Of The Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, who thus far has preserved a sphinx-like silence concerning the candidacy of his Cabinet colleague, will be present, and every political ear in Wash- ington is already straining to catch the vibrations of the gathering— if any.

The votes of Pennsylvania, or a good part of them at least, are vitally necessary to the nomination of Hoover, figure as they will—and do—the Hoover managers cannot arrive at a table of reasonable expectations of more than 500 votes without some help from Pennsylvania to determine the Republican choice at Kansas City.

And in that 500 table the Hoover tabulators are stretching several points which may not, in the final analysis, stand for much strength.

Hence their intense interest in Pennsylvania, and in the Philadelphia gathering tomorrow.

Had Hoover succeeded in carrying Indiana against Senator Watson there is but little doubt that the Philadelphia conclave assured his nomination.

The Hoover defeat, however, has given the Pennsylvania leaders pause. While the showing made by the Secretary of Commerce in both Ohio and Indiana was a good one, so far as the cities were concerned, it has been noted significantly that in both states Hoover lost the rural communities by substantial majorities.

This is a weakness that has impressed the managing politicians of the party, for its candidates against Al Smith's audacious strength in the populous and industrial East they must have a candidate capable of carrying out the great grain belt that stretches from Ohio to the Rockies.

The Hoover opposition is making much of this point. They point out, for instance, that not only has Hoover failed to carry a rural district in either of the two states gates Hoover has less than a score wherein he has been tested, but also that in the matter of delegate to the Ohio-Indiana line and Colorado. This, they contend, is a clear-cut demonstration of weakness in the very territory that Republicans must count upon certain to succeed itself in Washington next year.

The impression prevailed here today that in this situation, the meeting of the Pennsylvania organization leaders tomorrow will be a pleasant social gathering, without commitments for or against any candidate. The Capitol rail-birds believe that the leaders will prefer to wait a while longer before tying up with any candidate, and probably will go to Kansas City one month from tomorrow still in fancy free. The 79 delegates, of course, can be held intact by voting for A. W. Mellon in the early ballots.

So far as Washington knows, Mellon has never given the slightest indication of his own feeling toward the Hoover candidacy. Mellon was for the renomination of President Coolidge, and when that appeared a futile hope he promptly endorsed Charles E. Hughes only to have Hughes eliminate himself as first choice had done. After that Mellon relapsed into silence which he has since maintained unbroken.

Surface indications have pointed to ultimate Mellon support for the Hoover candidacy. Under Secretary of the Treasury Ogden Mills has been one of the Hoover board of strategy, and Gov. Fisher of Pennsylvania, a party of the Mellon organization, has also been prominent in the Hoover movement.

But Mr. Mellon himself has been silent—and it is generally admitted that this will be the hand that unlocks the Pennsylvania Keystone for some candidate.

Hagen Wins British Open In Sensational Finish As Anglican Gallery Cheers

SANDWICH, May 11.—(INS)—

Walter Hagen, golf's greatest showman, put on one of his best acts today when he came from the rear with a typical Hagen rush to win the British Open Championship with a pair of 72's for an aggregate score of 292.

It was the fifth straight triumph of an American in this once-impenetrable British feature and the third scored by the Halg himself and in person, yet the Anglican gallery became so incensed to the sight of an American winning that it gave Hagen an ovation, even the Prince of Wales joining in the applause.

The victory was Hagen's first in a major championship in four years, unless the American P. G. A. Championship be included, and it also afforded this sleek young man the satisfaction of a complete redemption from that 18 up and 17 to play defeat he sustained at Archie Compston's hands upon his arrival in England.

Hagen wasn't ready for that test. But he was more than ready this week, his 292, while not quite in the same class with Bobby Jones' record 285 at St. Andrews last year, being one of the best scores ever made in the great fixture.

Walter started the event with a casual 75 while Jose Jurado, the Argentine, was burning up the course. But the American merely was biding his time for one of those last day finishes for which he is justly famous. Jurado cracked after Hagen passed him by a stroke at noon.

When it only was a question of whether Gene Sarazen, another fighting American would be able to overtake the leader.

Gene tried hard but the best he could do this afternoon was a 73 for a total of 294, taking second place and rounding out the usual American triumph. Compston also got a 73 to finish a stroke in Sarazen's rear at 295.

The Federal Trade Commission refused today to investigate charges of Rep. Douglas (D) of Arizona, that a lobby, supported by California interests, was active in Washington in behalf of Boulder Dam legislation.

E. A. McCulloch, the commissioner, who is hearing the power trust inquiry, said the commission's scope, under the Walsh resolution, was limited entirely to public utility, not municipally owned public utilities.

Douglas, an opponent of the Swing-Johnson Bill, declared the City of Los Angeles was conducting Boulder Dam propaganda.

The Walsh resolution is directed solely to privately owned utilities, said McCulloch. The commission is not concerned about Boulder Dam, or any other project, but is interested only in investigating the activities of public utilities.

Governor Hunt of Arizona had also requested an investigation of alleged Boulder Dam propaganda. Charges that the commission's inquiry was being "conducted in the press" were made by Willard Cope of Atlanta, executive secretary of the Utility Information Committee of Georgia, when he resumed the stand. He became nettled when Robert E. Healy, commission counsel, started questioning him about articles attacking Boulder Dam and Muscle Shoals which appeared in "The Week," published by the committee.

Cope asked that Healy read the articles listed in the index, rather than pick out a few for emphasis. "I should like to have some opportunity to present this being conducted," said Cope sharply. "I beg to differ," snapped Healy. "The commission will make its own findings and its own report."

"But you called attention to certain articles that distort the whole work of my committee," protested Cope. Cope admitted that five months ago he had destroyed a number of letters, checks and vouchers in the files. "This is done every so often when the files pile up," Cope explained.

INSURGENTS OPEN CAMPAIGN TO GET TAX REDUCTIONS

Two Major Bones Of Contention Will Prove Stumbling Block As Democrats Will Attack Recommendations

WASHINGTON, May 11 (INS)—The administration-insurgent coalition launched a drive in the Senate this morning to enact their $203,000,000 tax reduction bill within forty-eight hours.

Two major bones of contention—the corporation and surtax rates—may prove a stumbling block to their program as the Democrats will direct their greatest attack on the administration's recommendation for taxes.

All indications, however, point to a triumph for the administration due to the new coalition with the Republican insurgents, who frequently have opposed them in the past.

The administration plan would reduce the corporation tax from 13-1/2 to 12-1/2 per cent, while the Democrats will fight for 11-1/2 per cent tax, the same as enacted by the House. Both Republican and Democratic plans proposed a 42-1/2 per cent surtax on large corporations.

The House made no such reduction. If these two rates can be settled without prolonged debate, the tax bill probably will pass the Senate late tomorrow, being sent then to conference to iron out differences between the House and Senate. The Senate bill undoubtedly will limit tax reduction to around $203,000,000 whereas the House enacted a $289,000,000 cut.

The attitude of the Democrats in the battle so far has been in sharp contrast to that played by the administration-insurgent Republican alliance. The Democrats developed a real row within their own ranks over the produce exchange tax. The administration proposed to retain the existing tax of one cent on every $100 of trade. The Democratic members of the Senate Finance Committee recommended repeal of the entire tax.

Ancient Curfew Law To Be Placed In Operation In "Naughty" Chicago

CHICAGO, May 11.—(INS)—An ancient curfew law, ignored since the World War, is to be rigidly enforced in "naughty" Chicago, Commissioner of Police Michael Hughes made it plain today. The law requires all pool-parlors, cabarets and "soft drink" parlors to close not later than 1 A. M. Calling his deputy commissioners together, Hughes delivered an ultimatum that said in effect: "See that the places in your district obey the law or I'll get men who will." The commissioners were also ordered to: 1.—Halt all rum-running vehicles and turn the liquor and prisoners over to the government. 2.—Jail all racketeers in sight and keep on jailing them as frequently as they get out of jail. 3.—Stop all open gambling.

Those orders are plain, Hughes told his deputy commissioners. "See that they are followed to the letter. There will be no buckpassing to captains or other subordinates. If the orders are not followed, you'll go before the trial board."

NOBLE LEAVES FOR FIRST HOP TO NORTH POLE

Italian General In Dirigible Takes Off This Morning For Reconnaissance Over Polar Regions Of Frigid Northland

Pleasant Weather Will Aid Expedition

ROME, May 11.—(INS)—General Umberto Nobile left King's Bay, northern Italy at 6:50 o'clock this morning for his first flight over the North Pole area, said a dispatch received here from King's Bay this afternoon.

The present flight is the first of three reconnaissance which Gen. Nobile and his fellow explorers will make in the proximity of the pole. With good weather conditions Gen. Nobile planned to fly in broad circles over Nicholas Land, perhaps passing directly over the pole. The flight is expected to last nearly 40 hours.

All the members of the Italia's crew were in good health and spirits and eager to get into action. Previously it had been announced that Nobile would not attempt a landing upon the ice at the pole until the third trip, but indications were that he would try the landing today or tomorrow, weather conditions permitting.

It was planned to anchor the balloon directly over the pole and let down a landing party upon rope ladders. In addition to making scientific observations the explorers were to plant a wood cross in the ice that had been presented to the expedition by Pope Pius XI. This ceremony was to be accompanied by a religious service.

According to wireless reports from Spitzbergen, Gen. Nobile declined upon the present flight last night after weather conditions gave promise of being favorable. The slight damage sustained by the dirigible in the flight from Vadsoe to King's Bay had already been repaired.

Prof. Malmgren, chief meteorologist with the expedition advised Gen. Nobile to begin his flights as soon as possible, pointing out that conditions for flying over the pole would be hazardous after June 1, because of the heavy volume of Arctic mist that steams upward from the ice.

Gen. Nobile found it necessary to discipline six members of his crew. They were Alpine Chasseurs who went on the Italia as assistants to the crew. They were to have been landed on the ice at the pole along with the scientists. As the day approached for the adventure the Chasseurs got fearful and demanded that they be sent home. They said they were afraid that if they landed, they could not get back into the balloon and would be left to perish miserably in the Arctic cold.

It is possible that landing party may be dropped from the balloon to explore parts of mysterious islands that are known to exist in the Arctic.

Taylor Scheduled To Deliver Speech Here Next Monday

John S. Taylor, of Lorge, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, will speak at the City Hall here Monday night at 8 o'clock in behalf of his candidacy, advanced representatives in Sanford announced today.

Senator Taylor was a member of the legislature when Seminole County was separated from Orange County in 1913. He has a number of friends here and a big crowd is expected to turn out to hear him speak.

He is running on his record in the legislature and a platform of improvements for the State College For Women at Tallahassee, the University of Florida, at Gainesville, and the common schools; increased pensions for Confederate veterans; strengthened child welfare laws; abolish of occupational licenses and taxes on homes; continuation of the good roads program; curtailment of unnecessary bond issues, and a just workman's compensation law.

BANDIT BLACKJACKS GIRL BANK COURIER

NEW YORK, May 11.—

Choosing the heart of the theatrical district as the bandit today blackjacked a girl courier for a robbery, a daring bank messenger in the Paramount Building, 44th Street and Broadway and fled with $1,465. He was captured less than a block away. The prisoner said he was William Doyle, 28, Miss Katherine McNeely, twenty six of Brooklyn, was the victim. She was going to deposit the money in a bank branch on the third floor of the building. As she stepped through a side door into the hall, Doyle struck her with a blackjack and seized the money.

HERB'S CAMPAIGN EXPENSES TO RUN INTO BIG FIGURES

Cabinet Candidates Will Spend Quarter Million In Race For Presidential Nomination, Is Story Of Campaign Manager

WASHINGTON, May 11 (INS)—Herbert Hoover's campaign for the Republican Presidential nomination will not cost more than $250,000, the Senate Campaign Fund Investigation Committee was informed today by Hoover's principal manager, ex-Congressman James W. Good. Good estimated that the various Hoover organizations throughout the country have spent approximately $230,000 thus far.

The expenses of Hoover headquarters in Washington, Good estimated at $49,150. The balance of the money has been and will be spent by the various state and local organizations throughout the country, which were necessary, Good said, to combat "anti-Hoover propaganda."

Good said the Hoover organization was carried along chiefly on volunteer contributions. He added that Senator Edge and Assistant Postmaster General Bartlett were volunteer contributors.

Mr. Hoover's candidacy is so popular with the business men of the country that there will be no trouble in raising all the money we need from proper sources," said Good. "We will accept no contributions from any persons having contractual relations with the government."

Good was questioned about the $27,000 expenditure in California. "Who opposed Mr. Hoover there?" "There was no opposing candidate and a great deal of that money was spent in getting out registration papers."

"What was the idea of spending $27,000 if Mr. Hoover was unopposed?" "We knew nothing about that," said Good. "We assume it was desirable to have a large registration so the people could express themselves on Herbert Hoover."

Officials Reveal Another Mystery Hop Of Lindbergh's

NEW YORK, May 11.—(INS)—After withholding all night information of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's latest "mystery flight," officials at Curtiss Field this morning admitted that America's premier flier had landed there safely at 8 o'clock last night. The colonel flew from Detroit yesterday afternoon.

Col. Lindbergh left the Ford airport in Detroit at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon accompanied by Lieut. Commander V. H. Weems, his naval navigation instructor. The trip was made in Lindbergh's new Ryan monoplane and was uneventful.

In Detroit, Col. Lindbergh's destination was "unannounced." But some anxiety was felt when no word of the arrival was received and officials at the Ford airport, where he took off, at last revealed that the Colonel was flying towards Mitchell Field, N. Y.

From the latter field inquiries were sent to a number of points between Detroit and New York concerning weather conditions. All reported the flying weather favorable, but no word of Col. Lindbergh or his Ryan was received.

Until early this morning, officials at Curtiss Field declined to make a report of Lindbergh's arrival. Finally, when notified that anxiety for the famous Colonel's safety was growing throughout the country, they gave out the information of his arrival.

BIG CHULUOTA PICNIC DRAWS CROWD OF 2,000

Two Score Aspirants Address Largest Of Political Meetings In This Year's Race

3,900 Pounds Of Meat Is Consumed

Speaking Lasts From 11 A. M. to 6 P. M.; Crowds Come Early

Chuluota killed the fatted calf yesterday and entertained two score primary candidates and between 1,800 and 2,000 visitors in the biggest political rally of the present campaign in this county. The show lasted from 11 o'clock yesterday morning until 6 o'clock last night.

Several calves, a couple of hams and a porker or so literally went to feed the crowd. In all, some 3,900 pounds of beef, pork and lamb were prepared and consumed. Four men worked from before dawn until after 3 o'clock in the afternoon preparing and serving the barbecue.

The rally attracted not only the men, women and children of Seminole county, but a delegation of at least 300 citizens from Orlando and Orange County who came up to see the fun and get something to eat.

Crowd Comes Early

The crowd gathered early and at noon, only an hour after the candidates and their representatives started speaking, more than 1,000 persons had gathered under the trees around the little white school house, the porch of which served as the platform for the aspirants.

The barbecued meat was roasted over a pit 30 feet long. Four men working with sharp knives sliced away as the pieces were brought to them for three hours before enough meat was ready to serve the crowd. Hundreds of loaves of bread were cut to make sandwiches.

The morning session was devoted to speeches by candidates running for state office. J. Max Cook, of Oviedo, made the address of welcome and introduced George McLure, state Democratic committeeman, who presided and introduced the candidates.

Candidate's Men Speak

Representatives of candidates for the nomination for governor were the first speakers. Judge Cary D. Landis, of DeLand, spoke first by Doyle E. Carlop, Tampa gubernatorial candidate. He was followed by Mayor E. F. Household of Sanford, speaking for Dr. F. A. Hathaway, chairman of the state road department. Other candidates for governor were not represented.

Emory S. Martin, of Williston, and Senator J. B. Stewart, of Ferdinand, candidates to succeed Ernest Amos as state comptroller came next. Stewart attacked Amos because of his failure to close the Seminole County Bank. His speech was practically identical to the one he delivered at the court house here a short time ago.

Georgia Governor Grants Respite To Doomed Criminals

ATLANTA, Ga., May 11.—(INS)—Almost within the shadow of the gallows, two Georgia men were jerked back from the jaws of death and today watched the fight for their lives continued.

Wade Johnson, of Jones County, convicted of participating in a criminal assault on an aged woman in 1925 was granted a 90-day respite by Governor Hardman while R. H. Sheppard, of Fulton County, won an automatic reprieve when his case was carried to the supreme court for the second time on a bill of exceptions signed by the trial judge in the Fulton Superior Court.

Johnson was scheduled to hang today while Sheppard was to go to his death in the electric chair in Milledgeville on May 16. Sheppard was convicted of the murder of Homer Fowler here in February, 1926. This was the second time Governor Hardman has granted Johnson respites. He granted the present respite in order to have to have more time to "study" Johnson's mental responsibility," he said.

Rod La Rocque's New Picture At Milane Theatre

Picture fans who were thrilled by Rod La Rocque's football playing as an Indian in "Brave Heart" and as an Englishman seeking thrills in battles with Grecian bandits in "Stand and Deliver," will be more than delighted with his impersonation of a young Argentine athlete and football player in his latest stellar vehicle, "Hold 'em Yale!," a De Mille studio production for Pathe which will be on view at the Milane Theatre today only.

The story of "Hold 'em Yale!" based on Owen Davis famous stage success, "At Yale," deal with the son who foils a trio of bandits and later meets the daughter of a Yale professor traveling in Argentina. He decides to go to Yale and an interesting love romance results in the course of which he wins distinction as a college athlete. The action is said to be swift-moving and highly dramatic, the whole relieved by delightful comedy.

The supporting players are excellent. Jeanette Loff, who triumphed in "The Man Without a Face," "My Friend From India" and other recent screen productions, plays opposite Mr. La Rocque. Joseph Cawthorn, a veteran screen and stage player, is seen as a college professor, while Tom Kennedy, a noted comedian, has the role of a "goof" detective. Hugh Allen, who was seen to advantage in "Dress Parade," has a strong part. The picture was directed by Edward H. Griffith under the supervision of Hector Turnbull.

Electrification of parts of the Madagascar Government Railway is to start late this year and will be completed in about six years.

Dolores Del Rio, who plays the part of the half caste Chela in Fox Film's "Gateway of the Moon," at last meeting with a well known director, her guest in Mexico City, and her rapid rise since has proven the wisdom of that move.

In "The Gateway of the Moon" she plays a slightly emotional stellar role opposite Walter Pidgeon, Leslie Fenton, Anders Randolph, Ted McNamara, Adolf Millar, Virginia LaFonde and Nobel Johnson complete the cast. John Griffith Wray directed the production which is coming to the Milane theatre Saturday.

Lakeland Newspaperman Announces Candidacy For Delegate To Convention

LAKELAND, May 11.—Bryan, business manager of the Lakeland Ledger and Star-Telegraph, in making his announcement today, is thinking his announcement will bring him to the attention of the delegates from the state at large to the National Democratic Convention in Houston, advocates the establishment of a southern block for the purpose of having an important part in the selection of a presidential candidate by the Democrats at that time.

however, that he will vote for him if the Democrats nominate him. In 1924 Bryan Mack was a member of the Democratic Convention in New York, representing the Third Congressional District. At that time he was an ardent supporter of W. G. McAfee and voted for him until Mr. McAfee's name was withdrawn. In view of that fact he feels that both McAfee and Smith should feel enough interest in the party's success to step aside.

believes that if Florida, Alabama, Georgia and several other southern states would pool their strength they would be in a position to influence the nomination of a man with whom the Democratic party could win. He favors Cardell of Tennessee, Senator Thomas Watson of Montana and Senator James H. Doolittle of Wisconsin.

To the Ladies of Sanford and Seminole County

It is brought to our attention from time to time that a large part of the consuming public is skeptical of "factory made" ice cream. We have found many especially so of Strawberry and other fruit creams, they being under the impression that these creams are made as cheaply as possible and that extracts or some other sort of substitutes are used in the place of the fruit. This has been brought to our minds especially strong during the past month or so when some of our customers or other visitors in our plant expressed great surprise or delight when they noticed that we were using REAL STRAWBERRY in our Strawberry Ice Cream, and in other cases those who noticed some of our help preparing the fresh berries.

In justice to ourselves and for the information of our customers we wish to make the following remarks in regard to our fruit creams:

1. Our STRAWBERRY Ice Cream is made from our regular Ice Cream "mix" with the addition of the freezer of sufficient STRAWBERRY FRUIT to give it the proper flavor, but not enough to impart the body or holding quality of the frozen product. In addition to the fruit, a small quantity of harmless pure food strawberry color is added to give the finished product the desired uniform pink color usually associated and demanded in Strawberry Cream. Those that freeze cream at home know that the berries alone will give the cream only a very pale pink color. Therefore a small amount of color is added not for the purpose of deception, but for uniformity and to meet the trade demand.
2. Please note that no strawberry extract or so-called "syrup" of any kind whatever is used in our cream. If the berries do not give it sufficient flavor it goes without.
3. During the local strawberry season we buy sufficient berries to take care of our needs as long as they are obtainable at reasonable prices. So far this season we have used close to 1000 baskets of local berries, and have in our cold storage room at present 40 gallons of the fresh crushed fruit prepared in our own plant for our immediate needs.
4. When strawberries are not in season or the price prohibitive for manufacturing purposes we have, and have had for the past several years, connections whereby we get the "Tennessee" or Maryland berries which are bought in season, held in cold storage for us, and are mixed with sugar and shipped out in barrels or large cans as ordered. This assures us of a supply of berries of good quality for use the year round, and in no case do we use the ordinary canned or preserved berry.
5. Our PINEAPPLE ICE CREAM is made from the usual "mix" with the addition of the freezer of sufficient crushed Hawaiian Pineapple.
6. Our BANANA, or BANANA-NUT Ice Cream is made the same as above with the addition of the freezer of sufficient SOUND RIPE BANANAS, or BANANA and Chopped Nuts, usually English-Walnuts, Grapes, Dates, or Chocolate-Almonds or the candy-deposit.
7. For our CHOCOLATE Ice Cream we use special high grade Cocoa put up by Van Houtens.
8. In our special creams that we offer from time to time we use specially prepared fruits, cherries, nuts, or mixtures that are prepared specially for use in ice cream by houses of national reputation that specialize in this particular line of business. These items, as in all of our other supplies, are bought by us on a quality basis only.

Our customers and friends are invited at all times to visit our plant and ask to be shown thru. While in our plant we will be glad to have you inspect or taste our store of fruits, sweet milk, sweet cream, and all other ingredients that go into the finished product. Come now and see more crushed berries than you have ever seen in your life. Sample them, and also sample our barrel of Tennessee berries that we are holding in reserve to use when all local berries are gone.

For those that have never seen snow we have a real treat to see the snow in our cold storage room where we carry our stock of ice cream at a temperature of from 0 to 10 below 0.

Our ice cream is a healthful and concentrated food. We are anxious for you to see why, and why with its added milk fat and milk solids not fat it has greater food value than home made ice cream.

A Newspaper's Function

A newspaper's function in the community was recently outlined by David H. Pierce, a prominent editorial writer of Cleveland, in an address on "Newspapers and Crime." One of these functions, in his estimation, is to call attention to the seriousness of crime and corrupt politics in order to bring them to the attention of the community. The newspaper is primarily intended, he said, to publish the news as it is, and comment on it.

"It is amusing to hear newspapers accused of magnifying crime," Pierce declared. "I was particularly struck to read a statement by Silas Brent of New York, who declares that 60 per cent of the prisoners of a New York state reformatory, in answer to a questionnaire, attribute their downfall to criminal life as presented in newspapers."

"As the result of a study of that same institution I found the questionnaires were not taken seriously by the authorities of the prison. The psychologist of that very institution told me that their records show that the majority of criminals began as juvenile delinquents. They started on the downward path before they were able to go through a column of news. Ignorance, illiteracy, broken homes, mental delinquency and insanity are some of the causes which are given serious consideration. The newspapers, giving approximately 5 to 6 per cent of their columns to crime news, have been calling attention to the seriousness of the crime problem."

"As for the influence of the American daily upon young people Mr. Brent forgets that juvenile delinquency in this country has steadily decreased in the years that the press has increased in power and influence."

"The charge that newspapers aid criminals has the same basis as the childhood superstition that horse-hair in water turns to snakes."

Convicting Rich Men

The theory that a rich man can never be convicted of crime is attacked by Arthur Train, New York lawyer and author of the well known Tutt and Mr. Tutt stories in an article in the May number of the Forum magazine. Upton Sinclair, another author, disagrees with Train and holds that a rich man is more or less immune from the punishment handed out to lesser criminals. He declares that Americans don't want to convict rich criminals—they all want to be rich criminals themselves. Train's argument that a wealthy man is as liable to punishment as an ordinary citizen follows in part:

"The fact, which nobody will deny, that fewer rich men are convicted of crime than poor men has, of course, no significance whatever," writes Mr. Train. "There are fewer of them. If all the persons who commit crimes in the City of New York in a single day were rounded up, the natural percentage of rich to poor among them would be certainly no greater than among the entire population. It would be small. So would be that of Scotchmen to Italians. Yet it would not occur to anybody, I assume, to ask whether or not a Scotchman could be convicted."

He does not believe that expensive lawyers help the guilty very much, because "the mere presence of a phalanx of formidable attorneys often tends to create in the minds of the jury an impression of guilt."

Upton Sinclair, on the other hand, asserts that "when you have what everybody else wants, you are in a position to get what you want."

"I do not believe," he says, "that under our present social system a single profession or business can be conducted on a large scale without the commission of crime. I can think of very few in which I have not had leading practitioners admit the fact to me, supporting their statements with numerous stories of what has been done by their rivals—and sometimes by themselves."

Women In Office

Canada's supreme court has ruled that women are not "fit and qualified persons" eligible to sit in the senate of that commonwealth.

"In considering this question," Chief Justice Francis Alexander Anglin is quoted by Time as saying, "the court was, of course, in no way concerned with the desirability or undesirability of the presence of women in the Senate. . . . Should Parliament eventually determine to make provision for women Senators, it will be done by the use of language very different from that to be found in the present act. . . ."

Explaining further, the Chief Justice declared that if the Act had specified merely "persons" instead of "fit and qualified persons" the Supreme Court would have been obliged to rule that all human beings, including women, criminals and the insane, should be eligible for Canadian Senatorship.

Chief Justice Anglin is very likely absolutely correct in his interpretation of the Canadian law. The thing for Canada to do is make it possible for her women to hold the same offices American women are now, in many quarters, conducting so efficiently. Canada will miss something if she doesn't give her women a chance.

ST. JOHN'S NAVIGATION

It is indeed a shock to learn that Clyde Steamboat Company has applied to the Florida railroad commission for permission to discontinue its steamboat service between Jacksonville and Sanford, on the St. John's river, to take effect by May 31. For more than a half century this line has served the public, both passenger and freight, to the inestimable benefit of both, and it seems almost incomprehensible that central Florida can easily dispense with it. From the passenger point of view it offered one of the most charming tours in the entire country, not excepting the famous Hudson river of the north, offering to the tourist a royal road to romance, on a beautiful moonlight night such as might have been pictured in the Arabian Nights Dreams, and that the days of the old Fredrick DuBarry, the City of Jacksonville, and the more modern and delightfully comfortable Oseola, are to become only memories is sad to contemplate. Further than that, from an economic viewpoint, when central Florida's and has been for many moons stricken for further outlet for its freight by water route, a suspension of the river service will increase the existing complication of freight rates imposed by rail service. It is not given in the brief news data of the application the reason for desiring a discontinuance, but it may be conjectured that patronage has decreased to a point of financial deficit. Whatever the reasons, it is the burden of every chamber of commerce in this section of central Florida to set every available piece of machinery in motion in opposition, inasmuch as the war department has but recently expended many thousands of dollars in deepening and widening the channel of the river, and also inasmuch as the Clyde Line became practically the only beneficiary thereby from a navigation standpoint, it might be readily conceived that the matter becomes a federal issue. It nevertheless behooves the commerce bodies to marshal their troops to the front line and fight out thereon if it takes all summer.

AUTOMOBILE TAXES TOO HEAVY

addition there is a tax of five cents on each gallon of gasoline used.

Believing readjustment of the taxation policies of the state, as they relate to motor vehicles, is necessary the Florida State Chamber of Commerce has included a provision to this effect in its program of activities for 1928.

During the calendar year of 1926 the state's revenue from all sources was slightly more than $36,000,000. The automobile license tax and the gasoline tax produced $18,195,564. How much more motorists paid in other taxes and fees no one knows, but the license and gasoline taxes alone produced nearly one-half of the state's entire income for that year.

The license and gas taxes in 1925 amounted to $16.30 per car in Florida—the highest cost in the United States. Only ten of the states and the District of Columbia collected as much as $30 per car from these sources of revenue during the year, and only three as much as $40. Florida motorists, with only 401,000 cars registered, contributed in license and gas taxes during the year a sum exceeded by the collections of only five states in the Union. Each of the states which collected from these sources an aggregate greater than that derived by Florida has from two to three times as many cars registered. In addition to the multiplicity of taxes with which the motorist has been burdened in the past another tax must now be borne since the supreme court has held constitutional a levy on automobile tires voted by the legislature of 1927.

The general opinion of the board of directors of the chamber, in discussing the situation, before incorporating reference to it in its program for the year, was that it had been brought about piecemeal by piling upon the automobile one tax after another while the motorists were unorganized and could not prevent it. Organization of the motorists for self-preservation from tax-greedy politicians is necessary.

Bridge Party Given By Mrs. Caswell And Mrs. Hill Yesterday

One of the largest and most elaborate bridge parties given this season was that of Thursday afternoon when Mrs. William Caswell entertained at the Woman's Club. There were 26 tables in play during the afternoon.

Exquisite in every detail were the decorations and appointments. The spacious club auditorium where the card tables had been arranged for play were converted into veritable fairy-land gardens. The balconies were festooned with feathery garlands of asparagus ferns studded with myriads of blue plumbago and pink verbenas. The colonnades and stairway were entwined with neophrase ferns intermingled with blue and pink flowers. The mantel was banked solidly with ferns forming a rich background for verbenas and plumbago. Placed at artistic intervals were white tulleis entwined with asparagus ferns, studded with verbenas and plumbago, alternating with tall pedestal baskets which held blue plumbago, red and blue carnations, snapdragons and blue face flowers, accentuating the dainty color motif of pink and blue.

Greeting the guests upon arrival were Mrs. Robert A. Newman and Mrs. J. D. Woodruff, while in the receiving line were Mrs. William Caswell and Mrs. Ben Dorsey Caswell and Mrs. Linton Allen. Mrs. Hill was most becomingly gowned in a lovely frock of pale blue organdy, the waist made basque effect, while the full skirt had the uneven hemline, with scalloped front. This was worn over pink satin. Mrs. Caswell's gown was a similar model of pink and worn over blue satin. Mrs. Allen's smart frock was an ensemble of blue worn with a flesh colored blouse.

Scores for the games were kept on dainty tallies, some in the form of pink roses, while others were adorned with quaint old-fashioned curls wearing bouffant frocks of blue. These were distributed by Mrs. Robert J. Holly Jr. The guests were shown to their places by Mrs. David L. Thrasher, Mrs. James P. Ridge, Mrs. F. J. Remillet and Mrs. A. B. Wallace.

Marking the tables were unusual hand painted cards to which were fastened tiny pink and blue pom-poms. After the usual number of progressions of auction bridge had been played, scores were collected by Mrs. A. P. Connelly, Mrs. F. Thrasher. The prize for highest score, an exquisite amber crystal set consisting of large bowl and two candlesticks, was won by Mrs. Percy Meigs. Several high score prizes, a French handkerchief case and pen and ink set were given to Mrs. H. W. Rucker. For having held the hand card Mrs. Walter Morgan received a Pinch bottle bouffant lamp with pleated shade.

Delicious fruit punch was served throughout the afternoon by Mrs. Frank Woodruff and Mrs. Clyde Byrd, at a prettily arranged table. When the bridge accessories had been removed and the card tables overlaid with hand made covers the hostess assisted by Mrs.

Mrs. Ritchie Gives Bridge Club Party

The members of the Four and Four Bridge Club were most delightfully entertained Thursday afternoon at the guests of Mrs. J. P. Ritchie at her lovely home on Fort Mellon.

The pastel tints were featured in every way. Bowls and baskets of pink gladioli, roses, and other spring flowers were used with pleasing effect in decorating the rooms where the games were played.

Tallies in keeping with the color scheme were used for the games and after the fifth progression, scores were compared and the first prize, Coty's powder went to Mrs. J. E. Wathan, while the low score prize, Coty's perfume was won by Mrs. L. M. Stephenson.

At the tea hour the hostess served frozen strawberry salad, cheese wafers and punch. The players included Mrs. L. M. Stephenson, Mrs. J. E. Wathan, Mrs. E. B. Stowe, Mrs. Stewart Dutton, Mrs. Raymond Wilson, Mrs. Grover Sperry, Mrs. Earle T. Fields and Mrs. Ritchie.

Dying of a Broken Heart

When a person dies of a broken heart, the heart is found to be in a condition of almost perfect atrophy. The heart is so small that it is almost invisible. The heart is so weak that it is almost motionless. The heart is so dry that it is almost brittle. The heart is so cold that it is almost frozen. The heart is so hard that it is almost stone. The heart is so black that it is almost coal. The heart is so white that it is almost snow. The heart is so red that it is almost blood. The heart is so blue that it is almost ink. The heart is so green that it is almost grass. The heart is so yellow that it is almost gold. The heart is so purple that it is almost violet. The heart is so pink that it is almost rose. The heart is so brown that it is almost chocolate. The heart is so black that it is almost coal. The heart is so white that it is almost snow. The heart is so red that it is almost blood. The heart is so blue that it is almost ink. The heart is so green that it is almost grass. The heart is so yellow that it is almost gold. The heart is so purple that it is almost violet. The heart is so pink that it is almost rose. The heart is so brown that it is almost chocolate.

The GATEWAY of the MOON

With DOLORES DEL RIO

A pulsing romance of the tropics with the star of "What Price Glory?" in the role of a half caste Indian girl who loves and hates with equal intensity.

The thought we want to drive home to you in this letter is!

QUALITY PRODUCTS ARE GENERALLY WORTH MORE THAN THE PRICE CHARGED FOR THEM, BECAUSE THERE IS A GREAT DEAL MORE PUT INTO THEM THAN THE MERE THOUGHT OF HOW MUCH MONEY CAN BE TAKEN FROM THE PUBLIC FOR THEM.

The Quality Products of Quality Bakers of America, representing as they do, the combined knowledge and experiences of 90 wholesale bakers, are the last word in production, we firmly believe.

Who will deny the result that must come from the united, BEST EFFORTS of 90 GOOD BAKERS!

Does it not stand to reason that these united efforts will produce a better quality than the best efforts of any one individual, no matter how skillful he may be?

You know, out of your own experience, what you get in conferences called for the purpose of deciding upon some course of action that will best put over something in which all of you are greatly interested—whether it is a plan for a big Church or social function, or some civic movement that will help your community.

You know that one person, no matter how wonderfully gifted for leadership he or she may be, is absolutely helpless without the hearty co-operation of his or her followers, as expressed in sincere, earnest work.

We 90 members of Quality Bakers of America are in touch with one another continuously through our Central Service Bureau, which is maintained to keep all of us on our toes in so conducting our plants as to be able every day to serve the public through the grocers in our respective territories with a Uniform Quality Product.

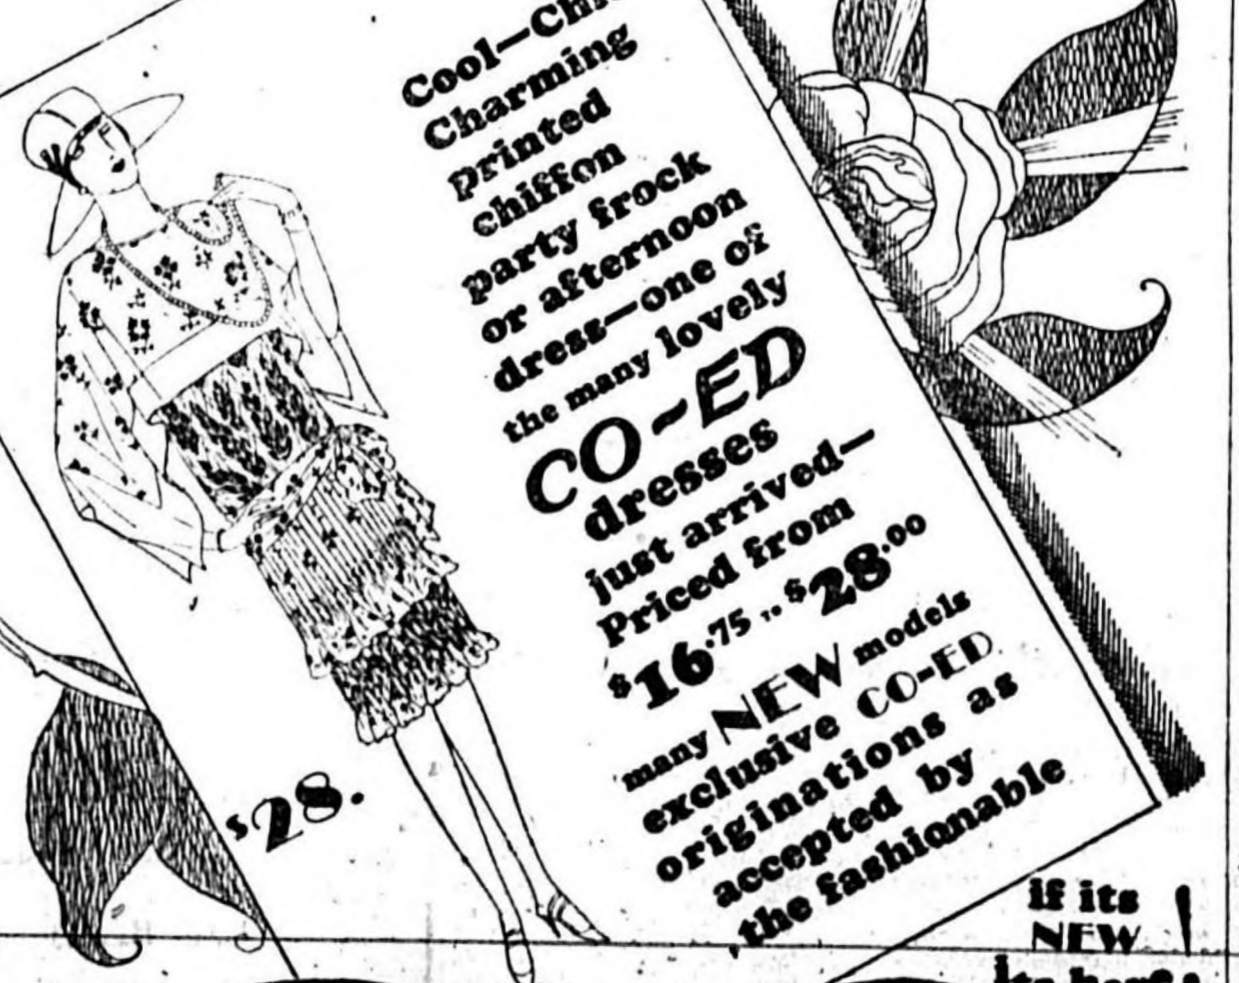

We thus keep ourselves in the position of knowing at all times that we are serving Quality Product, which is not excelled in any particular by that of other good bakers. Result: We do not have to worry about competition. The only man in any line of business that has to worry about competition is the one who is not sure of his own products.

Quality always stands every test as you know, and it is always accepted by the people on its merits without regard to price.

Do a little thinking on your own account about the paragraph printed at the top of this column. Find out from yourself whether you are really interested more in Quality and in honest price than you are in something that is cheap, and which is often bought on the theory that IT WILL DO, ever though in your opinion you know you are cheating yourself.

P.T.A. Holds Meeting On Thursday Evening

On Thursday evening the East Side Parent Teachers Association observed Parents Night, with an unusually good attendance. In the absence of the president, Mrs. W. A. Leffer, the meeting was presided over by the vice chairman Mrs. W. H. Stewart. The meeting opened with a poem "Mother's Love" read by Mrs. J. C. Mitchell.

During the business session it was voted that the association would buy the required books to keep the East Side School up to A. I. Standard. The prize for best attendance of parents was won by the second grade.

After all business had been transacted the officers for the ensuing year were introduced as follows: chairman, Mrs. J. P. Thurmond; vice chairman, Mrs. W. H. Stewart; secretary, Mrs. N. H. Garner and treasurer, Mrs. Robert Grovenstein.

A most enjoyable program was presented which included the following numbers: piano solo, by Miss Carmen Gutherie; cornet solo, by Mrs. Robert E. Hernon; Reading, "A Kiss Deferred" by Mrs. Preston Stephenson; Piano selection, "Rustle of Spring," Miss Anne Belle Dyson; Piano solo, by Mrs. Preston Stephenson; Vocal solo, by Mrs. Robert L. Glenn.

J. J. Parrish of this district who is running for re-election on his record in the state senate, and P. W. Roberts, of Titusville, who is Parrish's opponent, Mrs. R. L. Eaton, candidate to succeed herself as a railroad commissioner, sent a telegram to the meeting expressing her regrets at being unable to attend. Frank K. Anderson, of Altamonte Springs, another candidate for the railroad commission, spoke. All the candidates from Seminole County for the state legislature spoke: C. W. Entsminger, M. M. Lord, B. W. Pearson, Jr., and J. R. Lyles, running for nomination, and L. P. Hagan, running for re-nomination. They were followed by T. W. Lawton, superintendent of public instruction, and Mrs. May Belle Maxwell, his opponent in the race for that office.

Candidates for Commission Following them came the candidates for county commissioner. Those who spoke were S. P. Long, D. H. C. Rayburn, W. B. Ballard, and J. T. McLain. None of the present commissioners spoke. Candidates for sheriff followed: C. M. Hand, the present holder of the office, E. E. Brady, J. F. McClelland and E. E. Walker.

D. E. Thrasher, R. R. Deas and Vance Douglas spoke for clerk of the circuit court, and Alexander Vaughan, Joe Chittenden and E. J. ...

what clemency you can in passing sentence upon him. He has admitted his fault and is now ready to be a good citizen." He said he had known Key for 25 years, first in the First National Bank and then in the Seminole County Bank. "I feel he is deserving of the utmost leniency following the full admission of his sins," said the church pastor in his appeal. He said he and Mr. Whitner represented the best element in Sanford. Hallows said Key had hoped in the prosecution of Lake and deserved consideration. He pictured Key as a victim of the "stress of circumstances."

KEY'S EYES DOWNCAST

While these three men were pleading for him, Key stood with eyes staring at the floor in front of the bench. He showed no emotion.

Stewart Persists In Keeping Silence On John D.'s Action

CHICAGO, May 11.—(INS)—Although Colonel Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, persisted today in refusing to comment upon the demand of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., that he resign, it was intimated by some of the officials of the company that Rockefeller's request would not change Col. Stewart's attitude in the least.

Some of the officials regard the demand as an issue which was raised by the Rockefeller interests and met at the annual stockholders' and directors' meeting at Whiting, Ind. on Mar. 3.

The answer to John D. Rockefeller Jr.'s campaign was the unanimous reelection of Col. Stewart as chairman of the board. It is figured in official circles here that the Rockefeller interests will make no more headway at the present time than they did upon that occasion.

It was intimated at the Standard Oil offices that Col. Stewart would reply to Rockefeller's demand as soon as the various litigations and investigations at Washington in which Col. Stewart is involved are completed.
