

KING CONSTANTINE QUILTS LATEST ON NEAR EAST REVOLUTION IS IMMINENT

IN GREECE AND THE GREEK FLEET HAS GONE OVER TO REVOLUTIONARIES

MAKING HEADWAY

While British and Turks Watch Each Other Pending Action of Allied Nations

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Sept. 27.—A Central News dispatch from Athens this morning, says King Constantine signed the abdication decree without reservation.

PARIS, Sept. 27.—Vice-Admiral Andrew T. Long of the United States Navy, Commander of the American forces in European waters, has gone to Constantinople to direct naval operations should any become necessary in participation with foreign squadrons it was stated here today.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Reuter's limited says authoritative news have been received of the abdication of King Constantine of Greece.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—A number of Greek warships and transports manned by revolutionists have left the island Mytilene, off the coast of Smyrna, and are proceeding toward Athens, according to messages from authoritative sources received here.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The Greek fleet has gone over to the revolutionists, who announce every officer and member of the crews are wholly with them, according to a Central News dispatch from Athens. The movement which is headed by Colonel Gonatas is making headway in all directions.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 27.—While Anatolian cabinet is sitting at Smyrna, completing its reply to the Allied note, the Nationalist army continues feverish concentration of troops on the Ioud and Chanak lines. Mustafa Kemal Pasha has eleven hundred men in Kum Kaleli, at the mouth of the Dardanelles, five thousand at Adramytti, fifty miles southeast Chanak, ten thousand in intervening Sanjak of Karesasi, and considerable forces in other areas.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 27.—The British general, Sir Charles Harrington, commander-in-chief of the Allied forces here, has ordered the Turks out of the neutral zone around the Dardanelles. He has sent an ultimatum to Mustafa Kemal Pasha at Smyrna, allowing 48 hours for withdrawal of the nationalist cavalry detachments which have occupied Kum Kaleli, at the entrance to the Dardanelles, as well as Eren Keul, to the southwest of Chanak and Biglia.

This action was taken by General Harrington after several requests had been made by the British commanders in the areas mentioned that the Turkish forces withdraw and after the Turks had begun to entrench. Likewise, the British troops are throwing up entrenchments, erecting barbed wire entanglements and making every preparation both for defense and an offensive movement if that becomes necessary.

Yesterday it was announced that the wives and families of the allied officers would remain in Constantinople but today some of them had been sent out of the city and others were preparing to depart. This carries its own significance. Precautions to prevent disorders in the capital have also been redoubled but some relief is felt over the arrival in Chanak of British reinforcements and the announcement that additional naval units were on the way to Constantinople from Malta. These consist of a destroyer flotilla and two light cruisers, which are expected to reach here with all dispatch.

The statement by Major General Maurice, the British military expert, who is usually a severe critic, that the British forces could hold Chanak, the key position of the Dardanelles,

REMAINS OF SENATOR WATSON WILL BE LAID TO REST AT THOMSON THURSDAY AFTERNOON

While Fifty Thousand Followers Await the Call of a New Leader

(By The Associated Press)
THOMSON, Ga., Sept. 27.—The town of Thomson is in mourning today for Senator Thomas E. Watson, who died yesterday at Washington. Hickory Hill, the palatial Watson home, has been visited by hundreds of persons during the last twenty-four hours while telegrams of condolence continue to pour in to Mrs. Watson from all parts of the country.

ATLANTA, Sept. 27.—In the hills and valleys of Georgia, where men follow the furrow to earn their daily bread, it is estimated that fifty thousand and followers of United States Senator Thomas E. Watson, who died yesterday, today are leaderless—offering to some man who can win their faith and admiration an opportunity to become the dominating power in state politics. Tomorrow afternoon in the little village of Thomson the last rites will be said over the remains of the great chief. Throughout the state there is sadness over the senator's death with both political friends and enemies alike expressing regret and sympathy to the bereaved family at "Hickory Hill."

LIQUOR ON HIGH SEAS WILL BE SAFE FROM ATTACK BY THE GREAT DRY NAVY

President and Cabinet Find They Have No Jurisdiction

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Curtailed enforcement of the activities of American prohibition enforcement officers on the high seas was decided upon yesterday by President Harding and his cabinet.

Search of foreign vessels for contraband liquor outside the international three mile limit may be made hereafter, it was stated, authoritatively only in the event that the vessels actually establish communication with American shores by means of their own crews or small boats. Search under such circumstances was upheld recently by Federal District Judge Morton at Boston, in the case of the British schooner Grace and Ruby. An appeal in that case has been taken to the supreme court and it was stated a decision would be hastened.

Foreign vessels outside the three mile limit unloading their cargoes of contraband rum onto craft from American shores would not come within the federal law, in the view of high administration officials. The American craft undertaking to land the contraband, however, would be subject to search and seizure.

Enforcement of the prohibition act at sea, which for some time has been the subject of diplomatic exchanges between the American and British governments, occupied much of the time of the cabinet. Search of for-

Holds Petition by Riley Insufficient

(By The Associated Press)
TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 27.—Hon. Fred T. Myers, attorney for the board of county commissioners has addressed to the clerk of the board a letter advising that in his opinion the petition filed with the clerk requesting R. R. Riley to become a candidate for the office of state superintendent is not a sufficient compliance with the law. Mr. Myers letter to the clerk was as follows: "I am of the opinion that the petition filed with you requesting R. R. Riley to become a candidate for the office of state superintendent of public instruction in the general election to be held November 7, 1922, is not a sufficient compliance with section 256 of the revised general statutes to require his name to be placed by the county commissioners on the official ballot to be used at the general election to be held Nov. 7. There is no provision in the law that authorizes this to be done on a petition with only typewritten signatures and sworn to by the party requested to be a candidate to be a true copy of the petition or petition circulated in behalf of his candidacy. The petition contemplated by the law is in my judgment the original petition with the actual signatures of the petitioners signed thereto. Very respectfully, Fred T. Myers, attorney for board of county commissioners."

Willys-Overland Smashes Prices

Popularity of Overland and Willys-Knight Cars Cause of Price Cut Willys-Knight are Cut to Lowest Mark of History

A drastic cut in prices of Willys-Knight and Overland automobiles effective September 18th, was announced by John N. Willys, President of the Willys-Overland Company on Saturday September 16th.

The reduction in the selling price of the Willys-Knight brings that car's price to the lowest levels at which any car equipped with a Knight motor ever was sold.

Under the new list prices the Willys-Knight 5-passenger touring car, which, during the spring of this year sold at $1,525 and more recently at $1,375, is now to be had at $1,235.

The Willys-Knight 5-passenger Sedan is reduced in price $145 from its former price of $2,095, making its present cost, under the new list prices, $1,950. The Willys-Knight roadster, formerly $1,350 is cut to $1,235 and the Willys-Knight coupe from $1,875 to $1,795.

The Overland car is reduced to $525 for the touring model and the roadster to the same amount from their former price of $550. The coupe is dropped from $850 to $795 and the Sedan from $895 to $775.

At these new prices, the Willys-Knights and Overland cars offer a number of improvements and refinements which add materially to their value and which have been big factors in the tremendous demand which has made the new prices possible. The Overland touring car and roadster models are equipped with all steel bodies, have a baked enamel finish and ride on the famous Triplex Springs. They are also equipped with new and heavier rear axles, thus adding to the weight in the rear system.

John N. Willys, president of the Willys-Overland Company who returned direct to Toledo last week after a brief trip abroad expressed most optimistic views over business conditions abroad and at home and never appeared brighter to him.

"Every circumstance points to a rapidly increasing prosperity and to improve business conditions," said Mr. Willys. "Conditions in virtually all parts of Europe are not nearly so bad as they are painted and over here we are getting settled some of the fundamental problems which have held up business progress."

WANTED—Ford Sedan for a new Buick.—N. H. Garner. 155-3tc

WANTED—One or two unfurnished rooms, suitable for bedroom or light housekeeping rooms. Address "D. C. G." care of Herald office. 152-4tc

Mr. Willys referred to settlement of the railroad and mine strikes as one of the greatest benefits the nation has had in many years.

"The Willys-Overland Company to date this year has completed the production of more cars than the entire year's schedule called for," Mr. Willys continued. "And we have just completed the largest July and August production in our plant history."

"It is this unprecedented production which has made possible the lowered production costs which are reflected in our new prices."

"We are not worrying about getting coal and are not afraid that the cost of coal will compel us to slacken our production one iota. We are going ahead with all the energy we can command, planning for the biggest business in our history and which we know is ahead of us."

Baumel's Specialty Shop Fall Opening Today Draws Many

Many Beautiful Styles in Dresses and Millinery Being Shown

Among the early fall openings in Sanford is the Baumel's Specialty Shop that started early this morning and will continue until six o'clock tonight. The store was prettily decorated for the occasion and presented a most pleasing appearance making a fine setting for the wonderful garments and hats and accessories of all kinds. There is always something new under the sun but it seems that in the dress and millinery business there is something new all the time and this season is no exception to the rule. There are beautiful draped dresses in the new uneven hem lines, the new circular skirt and other innovations on the new fall dresses. Some are with beaded girdles, trimming of braid and metal ornaments. The colors are black and brown in the solid colors with the brighter Bulgarian and Russian effects. The wool dresses are in tailored coat effects and three piece costumes. The dresses fashioned by the Peggy Paige artists interpret the subtle ingenuity and the ideas of the world's master creators, special styles being the Serpeltette crepe effects. Coats are mostly plain this season with peasant's sleeves and interesting throwover collars, others have puff sleeves, most of them have canton crepe linings. The materials are Arabella cloth, Drunella and other new weaves.

Suits are natty, snappy styles in a large selection in tailored and dress suits featuring the box and long waisted Russian effects that will be worn so much this season and the colors are Sorrento, brown, wood and black with most of the styles plain without fur collars.

Skirts are sure to attract the feminine eye as well as the masculine this season for they are bright and beautiful as well as distinctive, the sport skirts carrying out the idea in every detail with the golf skirts easily taking first place. Sessue cloth, that new soft wool material, is the new wrinkle in skirt material and it will prove a winner.

Hats are as usual of all kinds and shapes with the sport hats of felt leading in the new styles and something that has not been worn in many years. Small hats in black with all sorts of bows of every description, black hats with bronze ornaments, combinations of velvet in gold and silver, pretty little hats for children are being specialized this season—your turn this year, girls. A particularly charming hat was one with turquoise facings of flower trimming and draped with imported veiling. The hats are of the Kass, Ach Hats, Lady Baltimore and other well known makes.

Aside from the beauties of dresses and millinery is the line of corsets, brassiers, hosiery, shirt waists, etc., that go with the accessory line and that might well be called the necessary line. The show windows are attractively arranged for the occasion and refreshments were served during the day making the informal opening of this well known establishment one of the best in their history. If you have not attended do so this afternoon or come in after the opening.

LAKE MARY

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans were with us for a few days last week from Boston. Mr. Evans is one of our best boosters and he is planning great things for the betterment of us all. While here he ordered several houses built at once. Good boy, Frank we need a few more like you.

The heavy rains of the past two weeks have raised the lakes higher than ever before.

Mr. Parish has been laid off about two weeks with a dislocated knee.

Mr. Hersey and Mrs. Sweet are building a new house for Frank Evans, one of the many he has ordered built.

The new skating rink is coming right along, the best of luck to its promoters. It proves what I have always said, nothing can stop good old Lake Mary's rapid growth.

Mr. Durant's sub-division on the east side of the track is sure growing fast, five new bungalows, new streets laid out, soon to be piped for water. And he is getting a light plant to supply electricity to his householders. Great work Durant, you're a hard worker and big booster for the town.

Mr. Sjoblom now has the whole town piped for water, street lights on Crystal Lake Avenue and has improved Wilbur Avenue, Goodheart Avenue, First, Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth streets. May the good work never cease.

The saw mill is working overtime getting out lumber and is unable to keep up with its orders for new houses here. Keep on buzzing little saw-mill, your song is music to my ears.

All the snowbirds who roosted here last winter are coming again this winter and oodles more that they have raved to about our little paradise. May they come and look and blossom in our garden spot.

The Casino is enjoying prosperity and is popular with everybody who has visited it. It's Wednesday night

Out in Bleeding Kansas a father killed his son over an egg. They must have a lot of children to spare out there.

"Why Men Leave Home" is a new play. One says it is because he hates to stay there alone.—Reporter Star. You are a darn good guesser, Basile, or else you have inside information.

"Lenine Much Better; Works Four Hours Daily"—Headline. Heavens, we thought he had died again!—DeLand News.

And if he works as much as four hours a day he will not live long.

Headlines this morning say, "Huge Deficit Shown Facing the U. S. Treasury." Gosh, and we thought we were paying off the debt all the time. It is about time to leave for the woods and stay there. We are being taxed out of our hides. Isn't the war over yet?

The Sanford Herald predicts the expenditure of a million dollars for improvements in that city. The first million is the hardest. Tampa Tribune. Yes, we find it so but now that we have loosened up the million we hope to make greater progress toward other millions.

The Daily Herald will have some announcements to make soon that will be good news to this section for it will mean a bigger Daily and Weekly Herald guaranteed for many years to come and one of the best equipments in the state of Florida. The Herald intends to stay ahead of the city several years at least all the time. We know that Sanford will be acety of ten thousand people in two years and we will be ready for them.

Tom Watson has passed. The stormy petrel in politics he did some good by stirring up things but he was not constructive being rather of the destructive order of editors. We claim it is not the best policy, and having tried both sides we think we know. However, we pass over what faults our friend may have had, we grant that he had plenty of courage and grit and that he was one of the great men of the south and now that he is gone we write his faults on the sands and will retain his virtues on the tablets of our memory.

Some good comes out of all wars and liberty emerges triumphant from the red ruins or revolution. Turkey runs rampant over the east and Greeks defeated are in the revolutionary stage today the Greek fleet going over to the side of the revolutionists and the people calling for the abdication of King Constantine. The result may be a lasting peace in Europe or at least some resemblance of an understanding. Let us hope so. We have had enough of wars and the rumors of wars and saber rattling is not popular this year at all. America stands aloof as usual looking them over. We hope that the dove of peace will rest upon all nations of the world and give the world the chance to take stock and start over with a clean sheet. We seem to be paying for all the wars of the world even without being warlike.

IN UNITY THERE IS STRENGTH—THE BAND

Bandmaster Ball has pulled a wonderful idea—he is full of them and aside from being a good bandmaster and organizer can look ahead as far as anyone and he is intensely patriotic for his state. He does not believe in going out of the state for band music when good music can be obtained at home and Sanford and Orlando being a unit on these good things for the upbuilding of our community and state are with him. Mr. Ball's idea is to have a band in Orlando, one in Sanford, one in DeLand and Daytona and Eustis and other points in this territory. Some of the musicians from each band will render concerts in Orlando, in Sanford and in the other cities making a fine band of experienced musicians that will render as good music as any foreign band that could be procured for much less money. Then once each month or so the combined band would gather at one of the cities and with some two hundred musicians would give concerts that would make the tourists sit up and take notice. This will give the various cities a good band all the time because Mr. Ball knows his work and he would be after good musicians all the time and could switch them at will. We believe that he has solved the problem for good bands for central Florida for all time. We believe he has solved the problem of local bands. Sanford has taken hold of the band question and will back it to the limit. We know the kind of band Mr. Ball gave us last season—it was the talk of the state—and we know what kind of a band he can give any of the other cities. With proper encouragement of the home people in each city and with a little money we can have the best music all the time, and money will be spent with home people, we will be giving the tourists Florida talent and we will be giving youngsters a good education in music. What could be better?

PIFFLE, TUSH, SLUSH.

There has been so much piffle about Laddie Boy, the president's Air-dale dog at the White House that he has been called the second vice president of the United States. The following is the very latest piece of advertising for a Follies actress:

Washington, Sept. 27.—Laddie Boy's prospects for a congenial companion have been ruthlessly smashed. A dashing and pedigreed young partner for the presidential pooch named "Gilda Gray" after its distinguished would-be donor, the Follies actress was led up to the White House late yesterday.

Then she was led away. "Gilda" was brought to the doors of the executive offices by Miss Helen Hadikin, Miss Gray's secretary. Pedigree in hand.

A hurried conference took place behind closed doors within the mansion. "Gilda" frisked with the photographers and sized up her new home.

In the end came the cruel news. It could not be. "Gilda" was returned with the presidential thanks. The reason was not revealed. Laddie Boy.

CLEAN UP AND FIRE PROTECTION

They go together and Mayor Henry and City Manager Ryan think so and have called a Clean Up, Paint Up and Fire Prevention Week all at the same time. And when you think of it, if we all paint up and clean up our houses and lots and get rid of a lot of rubbish we are really preventing fires that might originate in rubbish heaps in the yards and in the attics and other out of the way places.

Let us all join the mayor and city manager in their good work and help to make Sanford a spotless town. And after that think about the fire prevention work that is being investigated and worked out with good results all over the world. The Herald has talked about this in other issues and it is worth while. None of us can afford to take out as much fire insurance as we should have to cover all our losses in fire—that is ninety per cent of the people burned out lose money—it is estimate or even more. Then it behooves us to carry what we can in fire insurance for protection and then go to work and organize to prevent fires. There is always a cause for a fire. Some causes maybe could not be helped but most of them could. If we all cooperate on cleaning up and keeping down the chances of fires there would be but few losses. Sanford has an excellent fire department and the new buildings going up now will be as near fire proof as they can be made but even then the chances are good for the city to be fire swept at any time. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of sure and the prevention of any more fires in Sanford would be a big saving to all of us and cut out much suffering and loss. Get together during the week of October second and make it a big week.

THE PASSING OF SENATOR TOM WATSON.

The death of Thomas E. Watson, senator from Georgia, removes a commanding figure from state and national politics. He has been called the "stormy petrel" of national politics, and the appellation will become him. A man of great genius and intelligence, thoroughly versed in ancient and modern history, a fluent and eloquent speaker he commanded a following in his native state such as no man in recent times has had.

Posing as a democrat, he never hesitated to oppose the policies of his party when he thought them wrong. He bitterly opposed the entrance of the United States into the World War, and his vituperation of the democratic administration was so bitter and prolonged that President Wilson denied his paper the use of the mails. But he started another and continued his attacks, many of which exceeded in virulence and bitterness those for which Eugene Debs served a term in the federal penitentiary. Nothing appalled him, nothing checked his wonderful flow of sarcasm and bitterness. The wonder is that he could maintain his influence in the rock-ribbed democratic state of Georgia, but it never failed him.

Politically his history is an interesting one. He ran for vice-president on a ticket headed by William Jennings Bryan, and four years later for president on the populist ticket. He was elected senator from Georgia when Thos. W. Hardwick was elected governor, and contributed largely to the latter's election. Two years later Watson opposed him and brought about defeat.

He was an author of considerable note, and wrote a Life of Jefferson which was more Watson than Jefferson, a Life of Napoleon, and other studies which are little read in these days. He was of slight physique, but of most intense and vigorous personality. He began his career in the present congress by an attack on the management of the American army in France, but his charges were founded mainly on hearsay, and fell flat. He delighted in vicious criticism but contributed little to constructive measures, although rural free delivery of mail is credited to him, while a member of the lower house of congress, and will go far to offset some of his later opposition. It will be remembered for that when his eccentricities will have been forgotten. Peace and rest to his ashes. Tampa Times.

FROM OTHER SANCTUMS

WHERE LIVES THE OLD SOUTH

It does one good to get a breath of the Old South; there must ever be a wealth of sentiment surrounding the lives of those whose ancestors made history for us; those whose deeds of chivalry, whose fine sense of honor, whose devotion to duty and to tradition will last through the coming years.

One could use the city of Tallahassee, the dear old capital of Florida, as the center of a circle, the circumference of which would take in Quincy and Madison and Monticello in Florida and Thomasville in Georgia and within confines you would today find preserved and even intensified, all the culture and all the tradition typical of the South of the early Sixties.

Candidly, the average resident of South Florida knows little or nothing of his fellow citizens who reside west of the Suwanee river. We in this section of the State have much to learn and much to profit by through a more intimate acquaintanceship with our neighbors. There is a reason for this present condition of aloofness; that reason is the lack of communication. You ask; "How about the railroad?" One question to travel West Florida or South Georgia by rail will be enough to last a life-time. Anyway you cannot see or know the Old South through that medium; not a chance in the world to become really and truly acquainted. The rails do not run in front of beautiful estates nor do they seek out the hills and dales with their vistas of green trees and sparkling lakes—it is the wide, well-surfaced sand-clay roads which lead you hither and thither through a country as appealing and attractive as one could hope to find anywhere.

Misunderstanding and misconceptions are at the bottom of the most of the unpleasant things in life whether it be in matters of business, of politics, of society. This is particularly true of the situation existing today between the extreme sections of this great State. When certain statements and accusations are made by the people of one part of Florida concerning the people of another part, those statements are often based upon a lack of knowledge, of the facts as they exist. Admitting that the lack of familiarity, one section with another, is due to inability to come into personal contact, it is encouraging to note that this barrier is rapidly being moved.

The agency employed is a good roads system. The missing links between West Florida and South Florida are being filled in day by day and week by week as fast as men and money can be secured. Within two or three years the two sections will be united by State highways that will make possible that delightful and intimate acquaintanceship which alone can preserve to posterity the wonderful heritage which we call Florida.

The occasion for these reflections is a recent visit to the Old South, as revealed in that glorious country extending between Thomasville, Monticello and Tallahassee. Wide, smooth highways run in all directions except to the peninsular portion of Florida but this omission is being made good by the construction of State road No. 1 which within a couple of years, will be hard surfaced all the way from Jacksonville westward to Madison. That road will open the door to Florida and act as a feeder to every section of the State.

That people residing in the upper tier of Florida counties and the counties of southern Georgia are eager to travel into South Florida, can best be attested by the frequent expression of the wish that there be provided, a surfaced highway down the State. Those folks want to see what we are and what we want just as badly as we ought to want to see them and know what fine people they are. They have a right to this and so have we, so why raise a rumpus about building roads in Florida that will act as a common bond of friendship and brotherliness.

The day is not far distant when an interchange of visits will be easy matter to accomplish—a few hours' journey from the southern and middle sections of Florida to the wooded hills with their winding roads, their corn, their cattle, their livestock; to Monticello, to Tallahassee, to Thomasville where dwell as hospitable and kindly people as the Good Lord ever created. No one can truly appreciate Florida who does not know from personal acquaintance the life of the old plantation house.—Lakeland Star-Telegram.

ORLANDO BAND AND SANFORD BAND AND OTHER BANDS

The band committee of the Chamber of Commerce expects to consider a plan suggested by Director Ball of the Sanford Band in connection with the tourists entertainment program here this winter, it became known yesterday, Secretary Benjamin R. Cox said yesterday that he would notify Mr. Ball that the Chamber of Commerce was ready to consider plans for a band and it is hoped that some understanding may be reached within the near future.

Mr. Ball's plan, it was said, is to arrange contracts with several municipal bands in this section of the state, calling for several concerts a week there during the season. Announcement was made that R. E. Grable has been named chairman of the band committee and the name of A. P. Maurer added to the list. Mr. Maurer succeeds C. H. Hotfeler, who resigned. The other members of the committee are C. R. Emerick and R. T. Carris.—Sentinel.

The Giants are now 40 years old. Mutrie brought the club into existence in 1883 by inducing John B. Day, a rabid fan of the sideburns days, to finance his idea.

On that "nine," figuratively and actually a "nine" with no substitute pitchers nor catchers, were "Buck Ewing," Mickey Welch, Roger Connor, Pat Gillespie and Ed Haskins, all big muscular men.

Andrew Freedman was the net owner, retaining control for eight years, but the club was unsuccessful, finishing in the second division in every year except 1897.

John Joseph McGraw, "Napoleon of Baseball," came to the helm in 1903 after he had lost both his heart and head in the old Baltimore Orioles, and finished second his first year.

The following year McGraw's team won the pennant but refused to play the Boston Americans for the World's Championship. The refusal led to the formation of the former National Commission in the following year and it at once made mandatory series of contests for the supremacy of the world.

Harry Hymenstead, in 1911, succeeded his father in law, John T. Brush, as head of the club, and six years later gave McGraw a new contract which included stock in the operating company.

FOR THE EYES OF POSTERITY

Satisfactory Way Said to Have Been Found to Preserve Newspapers for Indefinite Period.

How to so pickle newspapers that they can be preserved indefinitely in the public libraries is a problem which has apparently been solved, according to the American Paper and Pulp Association.

Eight years of experimenting, participated in by three big New York newspapers at a cost of $5,000 a year each, under the supervision of the New York public library, has taught librarians how to preserve for posterity newspaper files. The solution seems simple, being the mounting of each newspaper sheet between two sheets of thin Japanese tissue, shutting the air from the original sheets, reducing its legibility but slightly, and strengthening the page. Bound volumes of the mounted pages are now in constant daily use, and are free from the wear and tear which destroyed the untreated newspapers.

The New York experiments have been so successful that a big Western newspaper has sent representatives to New York to study and adopt the practice for use there.

The first investigation was made in Boston, and the library there tried to persuade the newspapers to print library editions on an extra paper, but the expense was too great. This is now done by a London paper, and was tried by a Brooklyn paper, but the cost was prohibitive.

In the New York experiments silk was first used, but the Japanese tissue was found the best for the purpose, as it hermetically sealed the newspaper pages from the air. Shell lac, varnishes and other substances were tried, with little success. Under the method now in use the operator wets a glass or steel-covered table with a sheet of tissue, with the pasting machine, rice paste is put on, then in turn the newspaper page, paste and tissue, when the page is dried and pressed under a gas heated mangle.

CASE OF MISTAKEN IDENTITY

Precipitate Individual Foresaw Hard Task in Squaring Himself With His Fellow Citizens.

Chad in knickers and driving home from college two girls stopped at Nashville. While there they went into the library.

When they came out into the street most of the town was out to see them. Realizing that knickers must not be the thing in Nashville, they hurried to get under the shelter of their car.

A man came up to them and invited them to stay longer as guests of the town. They refused, saying that they were in a hurry to get to Warsaw.

"Warsaw?" he stammered. "Why aren't you the two girls who are bumping your way from New York to Indianapolis, and whose picture was in the paper this afternoon? We have been expecting two girls all day and as soon as I saw you go into the library I thought you were the ones and had gone in to see what the Nashville press had to say about you and I hurried around and told everybody you see here. What'll I do?" Indianapolis news.

Walking to Learn the World.

President Masaryk of Czechoslovakia has lately given another example of his practical idealism and wise foresight. He is formulating the funds for a walking tour of the world this summer by students of Prague university. In the group are two Czechs, a Serbian, a Bulgarian and a Russian. After walking through Yugoslavia and Bulgaria the students will go to Constantinople and then to China and Japan. Thence passages will be taken to San Francisco and the leading cities of the United States will be visited on foot. Prague university will publish a report of the expedition. President Masaryk knows the folly of national isolation and the value of learning something about other nations besides his own.—Christian Science Monitor.

Tenants' Vacation Schools.

Utilizing schoolhouses, churches and public buildings, Toronto is maintaining this summer daily vacation schools in the congested districts of the city. More than 8,000 children are in attendance, says the Christian Science Monitor. With the primary object in view to provide a place of refuge from the hot streets, the school has also a distinct educational value. The morning session is devoted to "play-work" and includes basketry, sewing and arts instruction, storytelling, kindergarten activities and occasional moving picture exhibitions. In the afternoon come picnics, hikes and organized sports.

At last Woodrow Wilson has begun a fight in which all real Americans can support him. He is now engaged in defeating James K. Vardaman.

SEEN THROUGH ENGLISH EYES

Traveler Declares American Women Splendidly Domesticated and Versatile to a High Degree.

An entertaining way for the American woman to see herself as she is seen is to follow the comments made by the Manchester Guardian's correspondent in America, Muriel Harris.

In her home the American woman is domestic almost in the German sense. There is no handing over the kitchen entirely to the cook, for instance. There is no hard-and-fast line which leaves this to the maid and that to the mistress. Domestic crises are more frequent even than in England, but when they occur it is no special tragedy, because the mistress of the house is practically always able to fill in the gap without shaking the foundations of the household. American women can nearly all of them cook and sew and do anything in the house from managing the furnace to seeing that the electric fuses are in order.

In our sense, she is far more domesticated and less well educated than is the European girl. The rather casual education of the girl gives full play to any versatility she may have, and there are, correspondingly, brilliant dashes in her, as also unexpected failures. To the foreigner, it is odd to see her scrubbing her own sink—a very nice white sink, by the way—and attending assiduously lectures on French—all with the same enthusiasm. It completely dispels the idea of the luxury-loving, restless woman that in Europe she is commonly regarded as being.

PEAT BOGS TO BE UTILIZED

Commercial Value of Immense Deposits in Northwest Germany Has Not Hitherto Been Realized.

The more or less successful installations in northwest Germany for the utilization of the immense peat bogs that exist there has led to the suggestion in England that the huge bog of Allen in Ireland may next become a great center of industry. The German undertaking has contemplated the bringing of a large part of the bogs under cultivation, together with the conversion of the peat into fuel, to be employed in the development of electrical energy for agricultural purposes, as well as for supplying light and power to a number of towns situated within a radius of fifty miles. A network of canals is, it is reported, in process of formation to drain the ground, and the peat dredged out is to be utilized in the way just described. It is estimated that the gas produced from the peat will furnish work to the amount of 600 horse-power hours for each ton, and a large quantity of ammonia will be recovered for use as fertilizer. Washington Star.

Steel Has Great Cutting Power.

"High-speed steel" for cutting tools has been well known for years, and an improved form of this material has been introduced in Sheffield, England. It is reported that this steel has four times the cutting power of any other in use. The composition is, it appears, still a secret, but it is said to be the first "high-speed steel" that can be hardened in cold water without danger. It can also be hardened with oil or in a cold blast.

Tools made of it wear out much less rapidly and require much less grinding than those of the older kinds of steel. They will also go on working at high temperature longer. But the makers themselves say that this steel does not by any means mark the final development of "high-speed steel."—Washington Star.

Impertinence at a Premium.

It was not so long ago that brick "seconds" sold cheaply and were used only in foundations and low-grade work which the eye never found. They were the misshapen, distorted part of each bag and the manufacturers were glad to dispose of them. But finally a builder with an eye for the artistic noticed their colors, which ran from the natural red to odd browns and blues. So he experimented and found they had an ancient appearance even when newly laid and, when capped by a rough roof of off-colored slate, carried a distinct atmosphere of antiquity. As a result, strange, queerly attractive houses are appearing all through the country and brick "seconds" are quoted far above their perfect mate.—Street Journal.

"What's all this noise about?" asked the director of a band after hearing a terrible blast from the corner where the trombone player was sitting. "There was a fly on my music!" replied the trombone player, and he added, with a burst of professional pride, "But I played him."

Nothing in the turbulent times can gloom the relief from jazz-bands.

PACIFIC COAST FOOTBALL PROSPECTS BRIGHTEST

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—Football of a better brand than ever will be played on the Pacific Coast this fall, according to gridiron chiefs and observers. All agree that the season promises to be the greatest in the athletic history of the far west.

Two teams, the University of Idaho and the University of Southern California, will play in the Pacific Coast Conference for the first time this season, they having added to the circuit last winter. The other six conference schools are the University of Washington, University of California, Stanford University, University of Oregon, Washington State College and the Oregon Agricultural College.

Most of the conference teams this year are "pointed" for California. California has gone undefeated for two seasons but this year loses its veteran line tackle to tackle and one star halfback, Andy Smith, the Bear coach, however, is confident that he will have a powerful eleven. "Brick" Muller, all-American end last year, is one of the stars who will be back.

The other teams are being strengthened. Stanford has introduced the Glenn Warner coaching "system," with Andy Kerr, a Warner student, doing the coaching and promising a strong fighting eleven. Washington, with new material and better coaching hopes to regain the place it held in the football sun when Gilmour Bobie piloted the team through a victorious decade. Oregon thinks it will have the greatest team since it defeated Pennsylvania and lost to Harvard by a long point several years ago. Washington State has eleven veteran backs.

The Oregon Aggies and U. S. C. have as yet made no claims while Idaho, the stranger, looks like a dark horse.

Outside of the conference some hard battles are anticipated. One will be played Thanksgiving Day between St. Mary's College and Santa Clara University, two ancient California foes who broke apart ten years ago and who were brought together only this season. Competition will be keen in the Southern California Conference and the Northwest Conference.

"OPEN SESAME"

Ala Baba murmured the magic words, the cavern door swung open and costly treasures lay at his feet.

You, too, have an "open sesame" to the treasures of the world. It is advertising.

Read the advertising and you open the door to countless comforts and conveniences you otherwise would miss. For advertising will spread before you the product of fields, looms and factories the world over—things that make life easier, happier, more interesting and more fruitful for you and your family.

There is no questioning the real benefits that come from regular and systematic reading of the advertising columns. No other one thing will give you such economy and keen satisfaction in every day buying.

Advertising is far too important to be overlooked.

Read it every day—it is a profitable

practice
