

Bishop's Last Letter Reads Like Ann Frank Diary

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—They have isolated me as if I were a contagious leper.

"They are trying to tear the faith out of the hearts of priests and faithful."

Thus did Roman Catholic Bishop Simon Tsu describe his last, hard years in Communist China—years that brought increasing persecution, house arrest and finally death at the age of 91.

The two telling sentences were contained in letters smuggled from the churchman's closely guarded residence near Nanking. The Vatican released the entire correspondence Tuesday, more than a year after the last letter was received, saying it came from the pen of a "martyr."

Tsu, ordained by Pope Pius XI in 1926 as one of the first Chinese bishops, refused until the last to kneel under his country's new Communist masters.

He rejected attempts to persuade him to join the "patriots"—a pseudo-religious organization designed to replace loyal Roman Catholic churches with those faithful to the Communist Party. Even when the Communists "re-joined" him in 1950, he refused to surrender the cross and ring which were symbols of his office under the Pope.

In many ways Bishop Tsu's letters read like the diary of Anne Frank, the Jewish girl who was forced to live with her family in an attic to escape Nazi persecution and who finally died in a concentration camp in the last days of World War II.

Some excerpts: "Since Sept. 9, 1950 I have been denied all liberty. Guarded and confined to my room. Repeated pressure is being put on me to join the patriots. . . I have obstinately refused. For a month and a half. . . under the strict surveillance of an armed guard in my house. I had to undergo interrogations each day. They reviled me."

Dec. 5, 1951: "I still have eight priests in prison. . . one died. . . All the sisters are very courageous. . . pray for us and have many others pray."

March 2, 1952: "Certain of my associates have been hypnotized by our friends."

June 2, 1952: "I am still alive despite the continuous attacks and vexations. . . it is due to my age that I am not in prison. But I am equivalently guarded and spied upon."

Sept. 5, 1952: "I am condemned as a political reactionary because I have disapproved of the attacks against the Pope. . . they have isolated me as if I were a contagious leper. . . My priests are stopped from seeing and consulting me. . . I am kept in solitary confinement. I beg you to help me by your prayers. . . That the hour of deliverance may be hastened."

Jan. 18, 1953: "Pray and have others pray much for the Catholic religion in China. The future is very disturbing. They are trying to tear the faith out of the hearts of priests. . . I am still in quarantine in Haimen and the isolation is almost total."

That was the final letter from Bishop Tsu. Recently word arrived that his "hour of deliverance" had come. He was dead.

Queen Elizabeth On Paper Money

LONDON (UPI)—New pound notes bearing the portrait of Queen Elizabeth went into circulation the first time in British history that paper money has carried the likeness of a reigning monarch.

The new pounds—worth $2.00—will join the billion-plus already in circulation and gradually replace them. The average life for one of the notes is 18 months.

The Queen's picture appears in an oval frame. It was drawn from a three-quarter angle. All British coins struck during a monarch's reign bear his likeness, and the Queen's portrait on shillings and pence has been familiar for years. The paper money has carried only figures and decorations.

The film, "Circus Stars," is one of the Russian-made films being distributed in this country under the U. S.-Soviet exchange agreement. Paramount Pictures is handling the distribution.

Also featured in the picture will be many Russian animal acts, acrobats and jugglers.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Olga Petrov, the Russian clown whose comedy on the high wire won him a gold medal at the International Circus Festival in Warsaw, will soon come to the United States.

Bob Hope Party On Murray Show Ends Up A 'Tame' TV Affair

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI)—Part one of Arthur Murray's all-star pie-throwing at Bob Hope was a tame affair.

The Hope roast, or unalike, featured a number of personalities—such as Jayne Mansfield, Jane Russell, Dorothy Lamour, Alan King, Cliff Arquette and Rocky Graziano.

Hope is donating his $100,000 fee for the two-part party to an eye research fund. Another way the show serves humanity is in causing some changes to be made in the usual format of the Arthur Murray show. What I mean is it is helping to keep Kathryn off-camera. It's costing Hope $100,000 but think of the good he's doing.

A show that sets out to roast someone should contain steady bits of irreverence and stimulating, though harmless, stunts, unfortunately, while many, many jokes were used up Tuesday night, most of them could have been aimed at any public figure. They weren't personalized enough.

Only when Misses Lamour and Mansfield delivered some special song material did the roast begin to sizzle a little.

The show really came alive, ironically, when Hope delivered his rebuttal. "I was wondering when the entertainment was going to start," said Hope. He said he felt "like Sen. Kennedy at a Nixon rally," and, in general, unloaded a fine stream of laugh lines with his exceptional skill. If the rest of the gang had Hope's approach, the roast would have been a rare comedy treat. It turned out to be too much like "This is Your Life," without the Kleener.

Continued next week, again on NBC-TV.

"Startime" continued to pick its way along Tin Pan Alley Tuesday night, this time with a dozen Academy Award-winning tunes for guidance.

There were a number of surprises in the NBC-TV hour. First: The performers—Nat King Cole, Tex Ritter, The Four Aces, Charles Laughton, Kay Starr—didn't mess with pre-recordings and lip synchronization. They did it the hard way—on stage.

Second: Jane Wyman as the hostess with the mostes to do during the hour, did beautifully. She was charming, brightly and informal.

Third: Charles Laughton. He can't sing worth a ha'penny, but he delivers with finesse. And he never looked neater.

Hermes Pan's choreography in the only two production numbers showed a lot of the old Zip-Ah-Dee-Doo-Dah (if I may drop a winning song title into this.)

The show could have used more of Pan's work, or some "Hit Parade" tactics, to help itself off a static and generally unimaginative stage.

The hour ended with the five tunes nominated for Oscars in this year's contest. For the record, I'm rooting for "Strange Are The Ways of Love," even though we all know "High Hopes" has it sewed up.

The Channel Swim: Some more schedule-switching for ABC-TV: On Thursday, April 7, NBC-TV's old "Steve Canyon" series replaces "The Gale Storm Show" on ABC-TV and "Colt 45" replaces "Philip Marlowe" starting Tuesday, April 5. "Broken Arrow" will replace "Colt 45's" old Sunday slot on April 3.

A CBS-TV Western, "The Texas" has been acquired by ABC-TV for its fall daytime schedule. Also moving to ABC-TV next fall will be the Saturday college football game previously covered by NBC-TV.

Arlene Francis will run "The Jack Paar Show" next week while Paar tapes five shows in London for viewing the week of March 28. . . Contrary to published reports, Gwen Verdon is not going to appear in CBS-TV's April 22 "Playhouse 90" drama about mental illness. Producer Fred Coe reports the cast hasn't been lined up.

"Oscar Night in Hollywood," a half-hour backstage look at who-is-wearing-what for NBC-TV's April 4 "Oscar Awards" telecast, will precede the main event. Tony Randall and Betsy Palmer will run the preview.

County Gets Ready For Evacuations, Pollution Control As Rains Keep Adding To Flood Level

Arrests, Fights Mark Racial Demonstrations

By United Press International
New arrests, fist fights, rock throwing and court convictions marked the close today of the seventh week of an all-out Negro campaign against southern segregation customs.

Officials of a South Carolina Negro college announced stiff disciplinary measures for any students taking part in off-campus demonstrations. Officials responded to the Negro campaign with swift police action in Georgia, Florida and North Carolina but differed among themselves on its legality.

City Judge John A. Rudd of Tallahassee sentenced 11 Negro demonstrators to fines of $300 each or 90 days in jail, ruled that protests against lunch counter segregation in drug, dime and department stores boils down to an attack on the property rights of private businessmen rather than an integration campaign.

Florida Gov. LeRoy Collins said it was possible to hold legal demonstrations, but action of Negroes in giving advance notice in communities where they know "deep resentments will develop" constitutes an illegal act.

South Carolina Atty. Gen. Daniel R. McLeod met privately Thursday night with the state's 14 circuit solicitors, Gov. Ernest F. Hollings, and the head of a state committee charged with maintaining segregation.

McLeod said the demonstrations raised legal problems that had to be resolved, but he would not say what they are.

Students from South Carolina State College at Orangeburg, S. C., among 400 arrested Tuesday, were roundly criticized by officials of the Negro college.

The chairman of the board of trustees said no further demonstrations would be tolerated, and any students participating in off-campus demonstrations "will be summarily expelled."

New violence broke out Thursday.

Three men were arrested at Savannah, Ga., by local police and highway patrolmen raised there by Gov. Ernest Vandiver. Whites and Negroes threw rocks and fists after a St. Patrick's Day parade.

At St. Augustine white men attacked a group of Negro college students who staged a lunch counter sit-down. Police broke it up without making any arrests.

Between 20 and 30 Negro high school students were arrested for a similar demonstration at New Bern, N. C., and were released under $50 bonds on trespass charges.

FBI Probes Plane Disaster

TELL CITY, Ind. (UPI)—Deep mystery today cloaked the explosion of a Northwest Airlines passenger plane which sent 63 persons plunging 18,000 feet to a fiery death and turned a southern Indiana soybean field into a wasteland of horror.

FBI agents and Civil Aeronautics Board experts said they would check on all possibilities for the cause of the crash including bomb sabotage.

The chance that the $2,400,000 turbojet Electra may have been destroyed by a bomb was raised after a man telephoned Chicago police that "there's a bomb on a plane at Midway" airport. The call came a few hours after the doomed plane took off from Chicago's Midway Airport Thursday on a flight to Miami.

However, a police investigation turned up nothing. The mystery remained unsolved.

Authorities were checking on sales of insurance to passengers on the plane.

The doomed flight originated at Minneapolis and made one stop at Chicago to pick up passengers. It took off from Chicago at 2:30 p. m. It crashed east of here at 4:20 p. m. The weather was good.

The stricken four-engine plane—which carried 57 passengers and a crew of 6—came down in pieces. Wreckage was strewn for five miles. Federal investigators were confronted with a baffling problem.

Indiana state police Supt. Howard S. Zela ordered National Guardsmen to block off a 20 square mile area around the crash scene to keep away hundreds of spectators converging on the area.

Zela said six helicopters would fly over the rugged countryside to search out every piece of wreckage.

The crash site was a picture out of a book of horrors.

Flesh and scattered pieces of clothing hung from trees. A rescuer picked up a pair of shoes with the laces still tied but no feet in them.

Among the litter was a Roman Catholic prayer book opened to the Many "Lord have mercy on us . . . Christ have mercy on us."

The fuselage of the plane plunged through a 13-inch snow blanket and dug a 25 foot crater in the rich Indiana bottomland. Smoke curled from the crater during the night. Floodlights cast a yellow glow over the scene.

Cranes and large earth moving equipment were called in to remove the wreckage and to recover any bodies that might be imbedded in the ground.

"The plane is so deep in the ground it's almost out of sight," a coroner's official said.

The dead included five children. Most were from Minneapolis and Chicago.

Rogers Moves To Prevent GOP, Dixie Rights Block

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers intervened in the civil rights fight today in an effort to prevent House Republicans from joining a Southern Democratic drive to restrict the administration's voting referee plan.

In a letter to Rep. William M. McCulloch (R-Ohio), Rogers said the administration "strongly opposed" a Southern amendment to limit the proposed Negro voting safeguards to federal elections and exempt state or local elections.

The Southern Democrats prepared to offer their amendment as the House began its seventh day of debate on the civil rights bill. Because of the slow pace, leaders said a final House vote would not come this week as they hoped.

The administration plan would authorize federal judges to appoint voting referees to hear complaints that Negroes were denied their right to cast ballots. When necessary, the referees could issue certificates entitling the Negroes to vote.

Hard-core Southern Democrats, angered by the civil rights stand of 14 of their Northern colleagues, threatened a revolt that could swing control to the GOP even if the Democrats retained the House in the November election.

Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D-Miss.), announced that 20 Southern Democrats had agreed to meet after the election to map strategy. But Northern Democrats professed unconcern. They said such a rebellion would cost Southerners seniority leading to committee chairmanships.

Zoning Hearing Slated Thursday

The County Zoning Board will hold its master comprehensive zoning hearing next Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Courthouse.

At that time, final complaints will be heard on the proposed law before it goes to the County Commission for adoption.

Comprehensive zoning hearings have been held in four of the county districts in February and most of the complaints stem from property owners wanting higher valuations for their property. Robert Brown, zoning director said.

Annual Election

The Longwood Civic League annual election of officers will be held April 8 at the Civic League building. Annual reports on the financial condition and progress of the league will also be given.

Cicero Entertains Caesar As Students Go Roman Style

Cicero entertained Caesar at the Seminole High School Latin Club Banquet, Tuesday. Patricia, third-year student, and Plebiana, second-year student, were served by their "slaves," the first-year class.

The Roman style party took place in the school auditorium. Trees were brought in and flowers arranged for a garden party effect. Slaves were kept busy serving the many courses of food.

John Boniface was Caesar and Buddy Fulper was Cicero this year. Both gave speeches in Latin. Nero, Billy Bower, was there with his fiddle. The invocation was the Lord's Prayer in Latin given by Herman Allman. A fashion show and a slave dance highlighted the evening.

This annual banquet is one of the ways in which the teacher, Mrs. Boyd Coleman, gives students background material to help with the study of Latin.

Giant Manhunt On For Killer Of 3

STARVED ROCK STATE PARK, Ill. (UPI)—Police crisscrossed the state today chasing down even remotely possible suspects in the state park sex killing of three prominent Chicago area matrons.

Within six hours, police had picked up, questioned, and released:—A local man with severe face scratches. His girl friend admitted scratching him.

—An acne-plagued young man connected with earlier sex crimes.

—Three Pontiac, Ill., laborers, one of whom had a bloodstained jacket collar.

Residents near Starved Rock State Park slapped on self-imposed curfews in fear of a psychopathic killer or killers who beat to death, then defiled the three women.

The killer or killers apparently cornered the women in a remote, snow-packed canyon with only one, cliff-straddling path out.

Killed were:—Mrs. Frances Murphy, 47, wife of R. W. Murphy, vice president and general counsel of Borg-Warner Corp. in Chicago.

—Mrs. Mildred Lindquist, wife of Robert Lindquist, vice president of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago.

—Mrs. Lillian Oetting, 50, wife of George Oetting, general superintendent of internal audit in the accounting department of Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

Recommendations Made To Fill Board Vacancies

Recommendations to fill vacancies on two Sanford boards were made at City Hall Thursday night.

The Sanford Zoning and Planning Board recommended that Wright Kirtley be appointed as a temporary replacement for Howard Faville on the board of adjustment.

Faville has been a member of both boards and has acted as a liaison member between them. He has been ill for several weeks. Kirtley, who is now a zoning and planning board member will also be a temporary liaison between the boards if the City Commission approves the recommendation.

The zoning and planning board gave the City Commission its choice of three men in picking a temporary appointee to the zoning and planning group.

The board recommended that the city commission choose either attorney Vernon Mize, architect F. Wayne Tye or Engineer William Bush.

Parking lots were approved for Cullen and Harkey Real Estate and Sanford Electric Co. proposed offices. The Cullen and Harkey office will have a 90 by 115 foot lot adjoining the office at Park Ave. and 22nd St. Sanford Electric Co. will have an office and

Volunteers Fight Rising Waters In Central Florida

TAMPA (UPI)—Volunteer workers fought rising waters made worse by continuing rains today as Central Florida reeled under three days of flooding.

Overcast skies dumped a down-pour on Tampa, Orlando, Dade City and smaller towns early today after a brief slackening late Thursday.

National Guardsmen and Civil Defense workers aided in the evacuation of about 900 persons from their homes in Hillsborough, Pinellas, Pasco and Polk counties.

Volunteers and county prisoners operated bulldozers and sand trucks in an effort to plug the hole in a dike at Lake Magdelene just outside Tampa, where water rushed through to inundate a large portion of a section one mile wide and about four miles long.

Power lines were down and roads were washed out in many areas. In Dade City, the sheriff's department reported only one road still open.

"Many of the flooded-out families were taken to private homes. Others were housed and fed in emergency shelters set up in schools, meeting halls and municipal buildings."

The Weather Bureau forecast held a faint hope for already soaked areas. It predicted the heavy showers and severe thunder showers that have hit the area since late Tuesday would cease later today.

Although rain was expected to cease in the hardest-hit areas, runoff from high ground will cause the water to rise for at least another day.

At Tampa, disaster headquarters reported 63 families were evacuated Thursday night and others were being moved out this morning.

Water rose about 15 inches in the flooded area during the night and was still rising. Engineers said the flood crest will come Saturday morning if the rain stops.

Drinking water in the flooded area of Orlando was polluted and health officials warned the displaced residents to get typhoid shots.

Guard Alerted, Plan Discussed

The National Guard unit of Seminole County was alerted today to stand by in case of any flood emergency as rains continued to plague the county for the third straight day, adding the further threat of pollution to county drinking waters.

Co. B of the National Guard advised County Commission Chairman John Krider Thursday night it is ready to stand by in any emergency.

Krider told the unit commander, Capt. John Keeling, to alert his men and if the rains continue they may be called on to offer assistance in evacuating families from homes in the south end of the county.

As a result of high water conditions in South Seminole Thursday, Commissioner Lawrence Swofford asked the County Commission to meet to ask federal flood relief aid for the county.

The board, meeting this afternoon, is expected to discuss federal aid along with a drainage plan and recommendations by the county drainage committee.

County Sanitarian Val Robbins said today that rain could create a serious health hazard to some areas in the county.

He singled out the Midway area and South Seminole as the critical areas. However, he added that there will not be any mass inoculation at this time.

"The biggest hazard is from drinking water and there are many septic tanks in the south end of the county not operating properly, causing water to seep through the tanks and onto the ground," Robbins said.

He said the Midway section could turn into a serious problem because of the shallow wells in that area.

Robbins and his health unit staff are making an inspection tour of county areas.

County Engineer Robert Davis said this morning that the worst flooding problem is in the Lake Maithe vicinity.

"If the rains continue many of these homes will have to be evacuated," he said.

Other critical areas according to Davis are Lake Orlena, Lake Roy, Temple Terrace, Tanglewood, and Loch Arbor.

Davis said his crews are working around the clock in an effort to keep culverts open in the high water areas.

He also agreed with Robbins that pollution was becoming a dangerous threat in the south end and urged all parents to keep their children from playing near any septic tanks.

A total of 12 inches of rain had fallen in South Seminole and nine in the Sanford area up until the middle of this morning.

Davis said barricades are up on SR 486, SR 48, Onora Road and some washed-out county roads in South Seminole.

Water overflowed some drainage lines temporarily and stood in streets in some places in Sanford, but city streets escaped serious damage. Barricades were put up on the Goldsboro and Georgetown sections as a preventive measure.

Sanford residential areas appeared to be safe from accumulation of waters. Drainage facilities kept threatening waters from the Pinecrest homes section.

Supt. of Schools H. T. Milwee said that all buses have run on schedule and no schools have been closed.

He added that attendance has been "pretty good considering all the rain we have been having."

If the rain holds off for six or seven hours, Longwood won't suffer too badly from flooded conditions, Mayor A. H. Lormann said.

Lormann said that houses on Sanlando Springs Rd. in the southwest part of town were having drainage trouble because drainage ditches were at capacity. Houses in this area have drainage ditches that empty into Fairy Lake. These and other town ditches have not been able to take off the water as fast as it has fallen.

Lormann said that only one family in Longwood was seriously threatened by flood waters as far as he knew. The family lives on Highland Rd. and their home is completely surrounded by water. A town bulldozer was sent to dig drainage ditches around the house today.

If the rain doesn't let up some of the paving on Wildmire may be lost, Lormann said.

Conditions were better in Caselberry, where the worst flooding was on the road between the two Lake Triplets. Councilman Ben Evans said about three inches of water covered the road there.

The town's worst trouble is where heavy drainage has cut ditches in clay roads, Evans said.

The Golden Time

When Mom and I got married, golden weddings seemed just as remote to us as they probably do to you. Matter of fact, folks celebrating them seemed like museum pieces!

Now here we are, posing for our fiftieth anniversary picture! Funny part of it is that we don't feel a bit like "old folks!"

Still, a couple can't be married for half a century without putting in a lot of living. Mom and I have. There were times when we were so happy we thought we'd be together for ever. Other times when it didn't seem as if we could find the strength to keep going another minute.

Through it all, we've had our church. It's hard to put into words how important that's been. Maybe you'll get an idea when I tell you this. When Mom asked me what I'd like to do to celebrate our anniversary, I said, "First of all, let's go to Church. I want to say a little prayer of thanks."

Mom smiled at me. "So do I," she told me.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Quiz Master Flunks Easy One

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Quiz wizard Teddy Nadler worried today about what his children thought of his report card. Nadler, the 510-a-week government clerk who won $251,000 on "The $64,000 Challenge," flunked his test Thursday for a $13-a-day census taker's job.

"It makes me look like a nitwit," he said. "I'll probably take me three or four months to live this down."

But his children were more sympathetic than Nadler expected. "They've seen me do so well before," the quiz whiz said. "They might have been disappointed that they didn't show it. They took it a lot better than I did."

Beware Social Drinker At Wheel

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — E. Ray Cory, president of the Minnesota American Automobile Association, says the ever-confident social drinker can be a greater menace when driving than the habitual drunk.

Cory said the drunk driver is usually clearly noticed and others avoid him. But the party drinker, with just two or three drinks in him, often has just enough alcohol to take daring chances in traffic.

Jeliner To Have Automatic Lander

LONDON (UPI) — A new British jet airliner will have an electronic landing system so automatic that all the pilot will have to do is watch.

The makers of the short-range DR-121 airliner — the "Aircro" combine de Havilland, Fairley Aviation and Hunting Aircraft — say the robot landing equipment is the first ever installed on a commercial airliner.

In its first stage, the landing system will bring the plane automatically below the present airline minimum of 200 feet above ground level. By 1970, "Aircro" spokesmen say, it will put the airliner on the runway safely and roll it to a stop automatically.

The DR-121, designed exclusively for hauls up to 1,200 miles, is scheduled to go into service with British European Airways in 1963.

Residents Warned Of Illegal Selling

The city manager's office warned Wednesday that it telephone calls reporting an unlicensed and unregulated firm selling in the city. The office said that no permits have been issued for this activity.

The manager's office received Wednesday that representatives of a "Spencer Press" are trying to sell encyclopedias in the city. The office said that no permits have been issued for this activity.

These sales representatives do not have collection permits and have not been verified for their abilities, the manager's office said.

The second warning was about telephone calls from sellers claiming to represent "Steelware Distributors." The collectors asked to prepare meals for home parties, it was reported. The manager's office said that no permits have been issued for this activity.

WASHINGTON CALLING by Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON—For three and a half years America's surplus again has fed 10,000,000 hungry people in India and under an expansion of the surplus foods program this may go to 20,000,000. What disturbs many policy-makers and others who are all for this program is that, as India struggles vainly to keep ahead of her swiftly expanding population, she may come to rely permanently on these surpluses.

That is one reason an idea being generated here has stirred so much interest. It is for a big-scale program of fertilizer plants for India that would expand food production beyond the needs of the foreseeable future. If it were carried out it would with dramatic suddenness alter the whole balance between hope and despair in the vast experiment in democracy now being undertaken in India.

That, at any rate, is the claim of the author of the plan, Jonathan Garst, an agricultural specialist from Berkeley, Calif., and a member of the remarkable Iowa family that has done so much pioneering in the revolution in agriculture. It is this revolution in machinery and chemical fertilizers that has increased production anywhere from 30 to 50 percent in a short span of time. One brother is Earl, who last September showed Premier Khrushchev what a combination of hybrid seed, machines and fertilizer could do.

In brief, what Garst proposes is that India build one 150,000-ton nitrogen-urea plant per month for 36 months to produce a total of 3,600,000 tons of nitrogen a year. Because these plants would be standardized throughout, Garst believes the whole job could be done for about $600 million. In India's upcoming third five-year plan it is proposed to spend $222 million for fertilizer plants but this would mean less than a million tons of nitrogen capacity.

The plan would be financed on an international basis, with the United States putting up about one-fourth of the total. This last could come to less than the cost of handling and shipping the grain surpluses under the current program.

Senator John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, who has taken a lively and constructive interest in India and the underdeveloped countries since he was Ambassador to New Delhi, immediately saw the possibilities.

Spain is another country with a population problem that has received a large volume of American surplus. The total through the end of January was valued at $384,253,700 at world prices, including the cost of shipping.

Farm state members of Congress might oppose any program to use American aid to create self-sufficiency in agriculture. But, on the other hand, there is a general realization that something so fantastic as accumulation must be brought under control, since it depresses the agricultural economy and is a constant drain on the treasury.

You merely have to ask a question that has occurred to more and more officials here to see why there should be keen interest in plans to reduce the need for sending American surplus food abroad. What if in the next three or four years a way can be found to bring production in this country in balance with demand? Would we then abruptly stop shipments to countries such as India and Spain and risk widespread famine? To build up anything like a permanent dependence on a lifeline from the United States is to risk just such an eventuality.

Falls Are High In Home Deaths

NEW YORK (UPI) — Statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. report that falls account for nearly half of all deaths resulting from accidents in and about the home.

Fires and burns by other means rank second to falls as a cause of death, with gas poisoning and injury by firearms accounting for much smaller percentages, they said.

They said that a major characteristic of the mortality from falls is its heavy concentration among older people.

Happiness Through Health Longer Life Span; Less Sickness Seen In Future (By DR. F. LEO KERWIN)

The science of Chiropractic is ushering in an entirely new era of healing. It completely revolutionizes old laws and theories in respect to health and disease.

Rather than treat the effects of lowered resistance, which predisposes to disease, Chiropractic deals with the cause and by so doing effects chronic ailments and prolongs life.

Very little is known about the many forces and energies about us. Even the common commodity electricity has not been clearly defined. We know it only by its physical manifestations. Chiropractic has definitely established life as an energy or force and it is this life force that the Chiropractor aids in regulating.

Chiropractic is the health science of the future. Investigate and benefit by it now.

One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropractic, written by Dr. F. Leo Kerwin whose office is located at 261 E. French Ave. and his telephone number is FA 8424.

ASSIGNMENT WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON — The limousine swept down Constitution Ave. with its solitary passenger in the back seat. The time was 6:35 p. m. The man had worked late, and hard.

My car swung alongside at the red light, and through the mist I caught his profile. He was wearing a hat, and his chin was tucked under his coat collar. His face was lost in solemn thought.

I see him often around the Capitol, and I've talked with him on occasion, and appraised him. But somehow, after having learned a short while before about his bold, secret proposal concerning the atomic bomb, I saw him in this instant as a different person, in a graver environment.

His proposal was a fantastic one. If it had leaked out at the time, there would have been a tremendous explosion—an explosion of headlines around the world.

Few persons were in on it. Among them was the head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Another was Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. It was tossed to one newspaperman for a personal sounding. And to this day the bomb plan advanced by the man in the limousine, the man who may shortly be president of the United States, has remained on sealed lips.

It was in the mid-1950's that the awesome proposal was made: to direct the United States forces to drop an atomic bomb in Mongolia in the Gobi Desert.

The reasoning: To show the Communists our devastating nuclear power at a time when the balance of world power was still tipped our way.

At the time, the military had reasons to believe the Communists would launch an attack somewhere on the globe. By exploding a fireball over the desert—a conflagration "which would turn the sand to glass for miles around and fume like a live volcano for months"—this nation would serve as a symbol of the might of the free world.

In the vast Gobi wasteland of 500,000 square miles, it was pointed out, there would be no loss of life.

The proposal was discussed in earnest—but, of course, the plan never went off. But it showed the bold thinking of the man who may be our next chief executive. If bold is the word.

The newsmen to whom the plan was bared was columnist Holmes Alexander. The bizarre episode is paraphrased in his novel, "Shall Do No Murder." The book itself is about James Forrestal, our first secretary of defense, who cast himself unto death from the towering Bethesda Naval Hospital in the belief that the world was submitting itself to mass murder.

Someday the full awesome account of the bomb that almost went off may be acknowledged by those who were in on the proposal. Just the other day, Anthony Eden, retired British prime minister, alluded to the episode in his memoirs.

Now, the limousine turned off onto Independence Ave., and as it watched the tall lights dim into the mist, I could not help thinking: "Had he been our president then, and thus the one to make the political decision that would have triggered off the bomb, would he have gone ahead with it?"

If the answer were "Yes," it might have changed the course of the world.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

Paul jumped his average church attendance from 50 to 121 in the first year, by the strategy below. And the Young People's Society zoomed from 11 to 24. So his parishioners also raised his salary $400 at the start of the second year. Clerics, apply the surefire strategy below and see for yourselves.

Jesus believed in using psychology to get bigger crowds, which is why he sent the 70 ahead of him!

CASE E-406: Paul P., aged 26, is a seminary student.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I handle a little church over the weekend, but it is not thriving very much.

"In your address before our seminary last year, I remember you said it takes a livewire in the pulpit to electrify a congregation.

"Can you give me a prescription for becoming a livewire?"

At the outset, I am assuming that such churchmen have sincere devotion and religious idealism.

With that premise, I'll outline the psychological strategy by which a clergyman can double attendance, win far more converts, and even soon his salary.

First, learn how to make an interesting sermon. And limit it to 20 minutes. Use the technique outlined in previous case records, or send for the booklet below.

Second, remember names and faces. It inflates the ego of parishioners to have their priest or clergyman call them by name, for everybody has this tattoo branded across his chest:

"I WANT TO FEEL IMPORTANT!"

A good memory is a result of practice. If you are a married cleric, compare notes at bedtime and thus make a contest out of whether you or your wife can recall the most names of newcomers and parishioners.

Third, name at least three parishioners in your sermon every Sunday, but do this in an incidental but complimentary manner, as you describe something about their home or farm or children that fits into your theme.

Fourth, inject some wholesome competition in your church activities and Sunday school.

Urge classes to divide into teams with a captain over each. Schedule short contests of a monthly nature, with the winning team to be entertained at a picnic or winter roast by the losers.

Vivify Americans thrive on competition. That's why we are the sports nation of the world.

But we don't like stagnation. Competition has also made us the economic pace-setter of the world, and competition is not un-Christian.

A lot of misguided church people abhor competition, wrongly thinking it produces quarrels, fighting and barbaric behavior.

That's not true, for it is communism that promotes barbarism, yet communism decries competition!

This very republic and our unique "free enterprise" system are a glowing tribute to competition. Jesus also believed in competition, as in his parable of the men with the talents.

Fifth, launch helpful psychological projects, such as the Completion Club, which embody the Golden Rule but assist people to become happy and better poised.

A preacher should praise those who placed flowers on the altar, as well as the usters, singers, and especially the cooks for the church suppers.

Competitive athletics can be scheduled, as softball leagues, basketball and bowling contests.

Sixth, harness youth as by encouraging rewards for children who memorize Bible verses. And use the young folks for surveys of church attendance and to publish a mimeographed paper.

Send for my booklet "Surefire Public Speaking Strategy," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20¢ (non-profit).

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4¢ stamp, addressed envelope and 20¢ to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Infant mortality among American Indians has been reduced 15 per cent in the last four years.

The Tacoma Giants of the AAA Pacific Coast League and Haringen of the AA Texas League open the spring exhibition schedule here tomorrow, weather permitting, at 1:30 p. m. This will be the first of 15 home spring training games for the Tacoma club.

The Giants moved their top farm club from Phoenix to the coast this season to put them closer to their headquarters in San Francisco. Rosy Ryan remains as the general manager of the club and John (Red) Davis is field boss again this season. Davis replaced Bill Rigney three seasons ago when Rig was moved from Minneapolis to the Giants as their field manager.

The AA franchise that was in Corpus Christi last season has been switched to neighboring Haringen and big, burly, Ray Murray will be leading the charges again. This weekend all of the eight farm clubs of the Giants will be in town and the managers are anxiously waiting for the weather to break so they can get down to serious business. Besides Tacoma and Haringen, the following clubs will be working out here at the beautiful training site on Mellonville Ave.

Springfield, Mass., of the Class A Eastern League; manager Andy Gilbert. Eugene, Oregon, of the Class B Northwest League; manager Richie Klaus. Fresno, Calif., of the Class C California League; manager Buddy Kerr.

Pocatello, Idaho, of the Class C Pioneer League; manager Mike McCormick. Artesia, N. M., of the Class D Sophomore League; manager George Genovese.

Quincy, Ill., of the Class D Midwest League; manager Sam Calderone.

The other night we dropped by the dormitory and, due to the rainy weather, our old friend Cotton Brown was entertaining the young baseball hopefuls with a western movie. After the show Cotton introduced me around and we had quite an enjoyable time. There was a red-hot gin game going in the scouting office between Jack Swartz and Nick Shinkoff, two of the scouts. We had a nice visit and they wished us the best of luck with Kansas City here this summer.

We also saw many people around the premises who have been among some of the greatest players in the country. Don Mueller, who was an outfield star for the Giants several years ago, is at the base and he is in his first year of scouting for the west coast team. Carl Hubbell, the farm director, is lodging at the camp and will be on hand throughout the spring drills.

Our old friend, Hans Lobert, wasn't anywhere to be found and I asked Cotton where he was and he replied, "that old rascal goes to bed at 7 o'clock every night so you had better come early if you expect to see him."

JET BOWLERETTES had their first day of bowling at the Jet Lanes Bowling Alleys Wednesday. The new 18-week league is made up of 10 teams that will play every Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. Mrs. Ardis Blaha of the Ivey's Shoe Store team tries for a strike here. The league is open to all women who want to bowl and those who want to join may place their names on the league waiting list. (Herald Photo)

'Bad' Orange Juice Didn't Stop Bradley From Taking NIT Tilt

NEW YORK (UPI) — City detectives were investigating basketball's "greatest orange juice mystery" today but top-seeded Bradley and upstart Providence had problems of their own before Saturday's final round of the National Invitation Tournament.

Target for the sleuths — a "phony" hotel bell hop who brought Bradley's Chet Walker a glass of orange juice that may have made him sick during the Braves' 82-71 win over St. Bonaventure Thursday night.

Target for the team — victory in Saturday afternoon's nationally televised windup of the Madison Square Garden Tourney. Whether the juice Walker drank contained dope probably would be known today, when a police chemist's report was to be announced.

The bell hop, described by Walker as "about 18 years old, six feet tall, and black haired," appeared at 5:30 p. m. Thursday at the hotel room shared by Walker and teammate Al Saunders. He bore a glass of orange juice for each "from coach Chuck Orsborn."

Walker downed his glass immediately. Saunders didn't.

Walker began feeling ill "about 7 p. m." By game time at 7:30 he was suffering from cramps and diarrhea. He was in and out of the game several times, playing only 26 minutes but scoring 27 points. After the game he was nauseated.

Despite his absence for 14 minutes, Walker shared star billing in the Braves' triumph with backcourt ace Mike Owens, a red-haired speedball who devastated St. Bonaventure's vaunted "nervous press" defense.

Owens eluded the harrying Bonnie front-line defenders and invariably passed to the "loose man" deep downcourt. The Braves couldn't stop the Sixth brothers from topping their 52-point per game average with 54 (34 for Tom, 20 for Sam) but the Bonnies petered out after trailing by only 61-59 with 9:30 remaining.

Providence reached the final with a 68-62 win over second-seeded Utah State in a contest both sides admitted was poorly played. The Friars fell into their old habit of blowing leads, this time 10 points, before five points by Jim Hadnot in the last 2:12 paced the win.

"I know Utah State made a lot of mistakes," said Friar Coach Joe Mullany. "But boy, oh, boy, how about us? Instead of playing it smart when we had that lead and taking good shots, we couldn't wait to take a bad shot."

Len Wilkens led the Friars with 18 points while Cornell Green and Jerry Schofield had 19 each for Utah State.

Two Tied For First In Mr. & Mrs. Loop

"Mr. & Mrs. Bowling League action continued last Sunday at Jet Lanes with two teams moving into a first place tie with five wins and one loss.

The team of Teena and Tom Armao is now in first place with Erv and Andy Stine. Following close behind with 4½ wins and only 1½ losses is the team of Al and Bill Mott. Ann and Chris Wichern have four wins and two losses, with the Rogels, Joy and Carl, only one-half game behind them.

Gloria and Mike Accardi are tied with Bobbie and Dick Richards with three wins and three losses, with Gloria and Dick being the high individual bowlers for the second week. Betty and Ed Callan and Claire and Hal Wiseman have two wins and four losses, while the Carters, Vicki and Karinet, and the team of Maureen and Jack Ridley have one win and five defeats.

Yankees Worried Over Mickey Mantle's Knee

United Press International Although they won't admit it, the New York Yankees are becoming increasingly concerned over Mickey Mantle's chronic knee trouble.

The slugging outfielder pulled up with a badly inflamed right knee at the Yankee's St. Petersburg training camp Thursday and was taken to a hospital for X-rays.

"There are no bone chips but the knee is inflamed and there is some fluid in there," said Dr. Sidney Gaynor, the team physician, who advised Mantle to "take it easy" for a few days. Mantle has had trouble with the same knee since the 1951 World Series when he ripped the inner cartilage so severely he had to undergo an operation. Additional leg trouble and shoulder injuries handicapped him last year, when he had his most disappointing season with the Yankees, hitting only .285.

While Mickey's current plight wasn't judged too serious, there is always the possibility the knee may hobble him more this year than in the past — and that's what has the Yankees worried.

Manager Casey Stengel fully realizes that in order for the Yankees to bounce back from their surprising third-place finish last year they will need a healthy Mantle in their lineup every day.

Thus far this spring, the former champs have looked woefully weak at the plate — scoring only seven runs in losing three of their first five exhibition games. They collected only two hits in a 3-0 loss to the Chicago White Sox Tuesday and were limited to three safeties in a 1-0 victory over the Washington Senators Wednesday.

The Yankees, along with seven other clubs based in Florida, enjoyed a break in their training grind Thursday when a heavy rain washed out four exhibition games.

However, in sunny Arizona

the Cleveland Indians downed the Chicago Cubs, 4-3, on Rocky Colavito's fourth home run of the spring and the San Francisco Giants scored an uphill 4-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox. The Kansas City Athletics set back the Baltimore Orioles, 3-2, in 10 innings at Miami and the White Sox edged the Senators, 1-0 at Sarasota as rookie pitchers Ed Hobaugh, Gary Peters and Stover McIlwain combined in turning in a one-hitter.

Don Mueller, Former Giant Great Lands 'Giant' Catfish At Osteen

Don Mueller, former outfield great of the New York Giants, and present scout for the San Francisco Giants, took time out from his chores at the training base to get in a little shad fishing.

Don and Phil Stallings, operator of the Osteen Bridge fish camp, were out in the river and Don was using a three ounce spinning rod and a three pound test line in search of shad. All of a sudden a tremendous fish grabbed hold and after a 30-minute battle up and down the river Don landed a 37 pound catfish.

Don has established several records in the baseball books and if there were a record on catfish on small tackle this would surely top the list in the fishing books.

A New Bonnet Is Woman's Best Friend

By JEANNE WARNEK

Did you know that a beautiful hat is a woman's best friend?

With Spring officially arriving Monday, midday will be visiting the millinery shops in search of a new bonnet—and whether it be practical or frivolous—it will give her a new lease on life.

Why is a hat a woman's best friend? Because it can lie like a trouper about her age. It can make her younger than springtime—or as old as her hat (therefore a woman is as old as she looks!) It can introduce her—saint or siren.

A hat can pretend her skin is magnolia (try a beige veil and see) and it can uplift face lines that are downward bent (upcurving brim) or it can be fashioned of flowers to soften a sharp profile. A hat can feign height (high trimmings) or it can deepen the color of her eyes. Thus, a hat can minimize a poor feature, play up a good one.

A hat is a woman's best friend because it gives new life to her three-year old suit. A new hat makes an old wardrobe suddenly important.

A hat is her protection. It wards off a cold in the head or a bout of sinus. It keeps her warm or cool. It keeps the sun out of her eyes and at the same time staves off a crop of freckles! It can prevent the wind from robbing her hair of natural oils—and it can hide her hair on her workaday way.

A white hat can discourage a last from bumping into her on dark nights. A red one can attract a man—a flowered one can make her look dreamier. A feather in her hat makes her feel youthful and pert and a smart cloche can give her an air of sophistication. But whether it be a day one or an evening one, if its the right one, it will bring her compliments!

And it has been said that "it's better to wear one flattering hat 100 times than to have a dozen unbecoming ones."

In buying a hat remember some steadfast rules. First, that simplicity is the foundation of good taste and there is no price on that. Select hats that do something for you and not to you. Dress more to suit your face, figure and personality rather than follow fad trends. Select hats to please men and last but not least—remember that color is exciting—color is alive—color is flattering. Let it express your personality.

So if you see a hat that you honestly like and know it's best for you, buy it—don't wait—your first impression is always best.

The stores in Sanford are bringing out hat boxes filled with the prettiest creations for the spring season. Take a peek and you'll agree a hat is a woman's best friend!

NATURAL for an Easter Parade prize is this white high crown cloche circled with ruffles of delicate yellow daisies. Mrs. Carraway tried it at Mary Esther's.

CHIC is the word for the black wide-brim straw swathed in tulle with a red silk chignon cabbage rose. By G. Howard Hodge, this stunning hat is modeled by Mrs. Robert Cushing for the Mary-Esther shop.

ALLURING is the imported straw cloche modeled by Mrs. Thomas Lergen for the Mary-Esther shop. It's a dreamy pink, trimmed with silk posies in contrasting shades of pink.

DRESSY chapeau with the new high-rise crown is in shades of brilliant blue and features a back interest of velvet bow and veil. It is a Nannette creation modeled by Mrs. Robert Smith for Yowell's.

A WOMAN'S DILEMMA is facing Mrs. Andrew Carraway as she finds too many exciting hats in the new display at the Mary-Esther shop. Sanford shops report that the new spring lines are getting a lot of admiration.

Colors, Fabrics Soft

From every corner of the fashion world comes news of colors and fabrics for spring and summer, 1936.

Fashion authorities agree that colors will be soft and muted and fabric texture will be less pronounced than in past seasons. As you shop for new fashions, you will note the trend toward pale colors as evidenced by the widespread use of beige, chalk white and pearl gray. Also in the color pictures are the soft fruit colors of lime, orange, mint and strawberry appearing in solid colored silks and silk prints. Lighter than navy blue will be a universal choice and especially good in coats and suits. Black in news, with black, white and shades of brown in prints ranking high.

Gold, from a muted chamois tone to a bright gold and on into the orange marigolds, is another significant group. It also merges into the more pinkish tones, such as apricot, peach and coral.

Intricate blending of fibers makes many interesting new textures available in fashions. Silk and wool combinations top the fiber list for spring in this section of the country.

Prints in texture gives a dimensional look in fabrics that is new. Ribbed and diagonal weave fabrics are an important part of the fabric picture.

Much sheer will be noted in summer fashions. Bordered fabrics will be popular in colorful fashions, and we will see the revival of American provincial designs.

This Woman Does Heavy Lifting

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Never underestimate the power of a woman—at least not when she is Mrs. Mathias Rice, a San Francisco widow in her sixties who moves everything from printing presses to whales by merely speaking into a telephone.

This tall, reserved, dark-haired woman is president and operator of the manager of two heavy-duty firms in San Francisco and Southern California.

From her little office at Pier 30 on the waterfront, word from "her" moves out to a tough and salty-tongued empire with a $25,000 weekly payroll and equipment ranging from wheelbarrows to multi-wheeled trucks capable of lifting 100 tons.

Give Up The Trousers

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Okay girls. Let's start being all woman again and return the pants to their rightful owners—the men.

Women don't look like women, talk like women or act like women once they don trousers. The feminine demureness, the softness of voice disappears. The mannish stance and masculine sprawl take over.

Pants, to put it bluntly, rob us of our sex appeal.

I bring up this subject after long brooding, because we seem to be sacrificing femininity for comfort. We have adopted Bermuda shorts, short shorts, slacks, breecher trousers and jeans as our costume from sunup to sundown—for the supermarket, for the trip to the station, for shopping downtown.

We're forgetting to be girly-type girls.

Doubt my conclusion? All right, check for yourselves on the tune of the whistle from the men standing on the corner. The whistle—if there is one—a the girl in Bermudas is usually derisive.

Any man who gives an appreciative reaction to this sexless apparel is a candidate for psychiatry.

Now, before the wrath of the shorts, slacks, pedal pusher, Capri pants and jeans manufacturers pours in on me wholesale, let me say this: Pants do have a place in our wardrobes. But for leisure and for work.

Who would argue against them for the tennis court, the family boat, the picnic grounds? Or, what is more practical when you're washing the dog, scrubbing the bath, painting the bedroom or pruning the roses?

After this story, I may be labeled a fuddy-duddy but if you're a trousers advocate, could be you haven't taken an honest look at yourself in a three-way mirror.

The bulge the shirt disguises, the slack discloses.

One man in our office commented, "Not one woman in a thousand looks good in slacks, especially viewed in departure." "That," said another, "is giving the girls a break on percentage."

I say hooray for the courageous U. S. Air Force colonel in Tokyo who has warned wives of military personnel against tight slacks, shorts and hangers and pedal pushers in public places. Such clothes are "inappropriate for street wear," said Col. Charles W. Johnston.

Inappropriate, yes. But an even stronger argument against the eternal trousers is that they don't make us feel female. A girl should feel female.

Cleaning Leather

CHICAGO (UPI)—Genuine leather or the synthetic variety can be kept clean as new with lukewarm water and mild soap, says W. J. Buxton, general service manager for an automobile manufacturer.

Dip a soft brush in lukewarm water, shake out excess moisture, and rub the brush on soap with a circular motion until a rich lather is raised.

Work the lather over a small area of the soiled material, using the same circular motion except along pleatings, seams and natural leather veins. In these spots wipe the material clean with dry cheesecloth, then buff to a high sheen.

which would free her until her murder retrial May 23 with Dr. R. Bernard Finch. "I'll put up everything I own, including my house, if I have to so she can make bail," said one of the red-haired beauty's lawyers, Bradford Eagan. The 23-year-old Carole had to spend Thursday night in county jail again when her restaurant-operator father was unable to raise the $1,125 bail premium necessary for her release.

JAMES TREGGOTT said he would solicit the help of friends today before taking up Eagan's offer. A Superior Court judge Thursday ordered Carole released if she could raise the bail, but a similar attempt at gaining her 42-year-old lover's temporary freedom was turned down. Finch has been in county jail since last July.

Judge John Barnes at the same time set the date for retrial of Finch and Carole on conspiracy and murder charges in the slaying of the physician's wife Barbara Jean last July 18.

China Reds Give Catholic Bishop Life Jail Term

TOKYO (UPI)—Red China announced today it had imprisoned the bishop of Shanghai for life and jailed 13 other Roman Catholics for alleged crimes against Communism.

Peiping's New China News Agency (NCNA) accused the men of operating a vast anti-Communist espionage ring.

It implicated an American clergyman, Bishop James E. Walsh, and three other foreign priests but did not say whether they had been sentenced.

Given the life term was Bishop Kung Ping Mei who had headed the Shanghai diocese since August, 1950.

NCNA described him as an "imperialist agent who has all along set himself firmly against Communism and the people."

The three other foreign priests implicated were Antonio Riberi, former Vatican minister to the republic of China; Fernand Lacroix, a French Jesuit priest; and George M. A. Germain of France, a member of the Jesuits in Shanghai.

Without disclosing Bishop Walsh's fate, NCNA called him "a veteran imperialist spy" who originally went to China with Francis Cardinal Spellman under U. S. and Vatican orders "to make counter-revolutionary emergency arrangements with a view to undermining the Chinese people's revolutionary cause."

That was the only reference to Cardinal Spellman in the report.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by the DeBary Orchestra and by Dr. Frison's barbershop quartet. A number of awards were given. Talman's Days As District Attorney Over As CBS Fires Him From Show

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actor William Talman's days as "district attorney" on the Perry Mason television show are over—but his real-life court appearances are becoming increasingly plentiful.

The performer was fired Thursday from his regular job as the D. A. on the popular TV series, shortly after he was ordered to stand trial April 25 on a morals charge.

He was in court last September when he was divorced by his wife actress Barbara Reed. He reappeared on the judicial scene Thursday to plead innocent through his attorney to a misdemeanor charge of lewd conduct.

The court action resulted from his arrest with three other men and four women last Sunday at a Hollywood party where the guests were accused of cavorting in the nude.

Shortly after Talman left the courtroom, the Columbia Broadcasting System issued a formal statement.

"Talman is being replaced in the series," it said. "The program is a filmed production and a number of episodes have been completed in which Mr. Talman appears. Another actor will portray the district attorney role in subsequent productions."

Flowers Faces Legal Action

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI)—All-American football Charles Flowers of Mississippi today was faced with legal action that could prevent him from playing professional football with the Los Angeles Chargers.

The Tupelo, Miss., law firm of Lumpkin, Holland and Ray filed a motion in federal district court here Thursday calling for a preliminary injunction to prohibit Flowers from playing with any other team than the New York Giants. The motion was made after Flowers had been served with the complaint by a U.S. marshal.

Como, Crosby Get Grade 'A' At 2nd Meeting

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI)—Mr. C and Mr. C, that's Como and Crosby, get a grade of "A" on today's report card.

Their second summit meeting Wednesday night was packed with good humor, warmth, easy-going songs and a powerhouse dance number, all garnished with unusually attractive sets. It was a lovely looking show in color, one of Perry's best.

At the start of the NBC-TV hour, Bing and Perry went into the usual tomfoolery about their laziness. They have to maintain the franchise, you know. This time, tradition was honored by filling the stage with perching props—chairs and benches and stools of all sorts, including a barber's chair. Our two sprawling songbirds loafed through a medley of nutty songs like, "Yes, We Have No Bananas," and "I Scream For Ice Cream," and noted that they don't write 'em like that anymore, dad.

The casualness was highlighted by Bing's very human spelling error on "Constantinople." Later, Perry evened the score when an off-stage noise threw him off-stride during a song.

This Crosby-Como show had some natural advantages over the Feb. 20 version because Como seemed more at ease and both men lost no time in plunging into the fun. They didn't have to repeat themselves, either. Once the nonsense songs were finished, they were able to hang some tunes on the natural St. Patrick's Day peg. It made for a free-flowing, natural alliance.

There was also Genevieve, a talker on the Jack Paar show, a talker on Perry Como's show. I find her easier to take when she sings. Naturally, Genevieve and her accent-under-glass joined Bing and Perry in a medley of Irish songs and it, too, was very pleasant.

The most rousing part of the show was Peter Gennaro's dance. From his TV work in the past year, I'd rate him as the best dancer around.

Dialing and Filing: There was excellent camera work and acting in "The Desperate Season," Wednesday night's CBS-TV "Armstrong Circle Theater" play. Alvin Boretz' script examined the behavior of a would-be suicide. The first half gave meticulous, fascinating attention to detail. The second half went awry as it sought to avoid plot complications that really couldn't be avoided.

"Music For A Spring Night," "ABCTV's" answer to the FCC and Congress, came close to offering an extra-special treat. The Honorable Monk, the outer-jazz world's ambassador to earth, disappeared after a rehearsal and his spot was filled by Phineas Newborn Jr., a pianist who is far out, but not like Thelonious.

"Be Our Guest" introduced its new emcee, Keefe Brasselle Wednesday night. He can't miss improving the show, although I'm sure of the opinion that the real star of the show is or should be bandleader Ray McKinley.

HOWARD KEEL, has the rough tough title role in "The Big Fisherman," coming to the Ritz Theatre Saturday.

'Yellowstone Kelly' At Drive-In

Two exciting adventure films will be coming to the Movieland Drive-In Sunday.

"Yellowstone Kelly" and "The Rise and Fall of Legs Diamond" will open a three day run at the drive-in.

"Yellowstone Kelly" is the story of a mountain man who tries to save the U. S. Cavalry from slaughter by Sioux Indians and falls in love with an Indian maiden.

"The Proud Ones" is the story of a man who tries to save the U. S. Cavalry from slaughter by Sioux Indians and falls in love with an Indian maiden.

Museum's Weird Experiment May Have Backfired

NEW YORK (UPI)—The weirdest experiment in the history of the museum of Modern Art would have been a blazing success Thursday night if three unimaginative firemen hadn't put out the fire.

It all started when museum curators became interested in the eccentric young Swiss sculptor Jean Tinguely, who has been amazing Europe with self-destructing creations of artistically arranged junk.

The museum arranged for Tinguely to destroy his biggest masterpiece before an invited audience of 500 guests. But, mindful of the fire that ravaged part of the museum in 1958, museum officials told Tinguely that he must perform his experiment in the institution's spacious garden.

For three weeks Tinguely and six helpers worked to build a monstrous structure called "Homage to New York." Their materials were old bicycle wheels, sewing machines, bathtubs, tables, piano parts, electric fans, trapezoids, gongs, saws, radios and baby carriages culled from New Jersey dumps and painted dead white.

The result looked like a Rube Goldberg cartoon machine come true in the dimensions of 27-by-38 feet topped by a gigantic orange balloon. But when the audience, including museum board chairman Mrs. John D. Rockefeller III, arrived to watch the spectacle from the garden's snow-dash terraces, Tinguely was far from ready.

It took an hour of tinkering with the contraption's 15 motors, eight timers and 400 moving parts before it was ready to whirl, toot, puff, saw, clank, smoke, sizzle, paint, vibrate and make music.

Suddenly the huge thing was throbbing in an artistic symphony of movement and sound. Within minutes a fire broke out in the shell of an old player piano and three city firemen on hand in case of an emergency mapped to attention with king-sized extinguishers.

By this time the guests, kibitzers on top the garden walls and apartment dwellers across the street were enjoying themselves. They cheered the frantic artist and booed and hissed the firemen yelling to them to "let it burn."

The indecisive fire fighters finally concluded that safety came before art when the tottering contraption, racked by small explosions, gave birth to a miniature four-wheel chariot that went scooting across the garden under its own power with its tall setting ablaze. When it charged into the coolers, they turned it around and set it wheeling back toward the firemen.

Scholastic Tests Held In Oviedo

The National Educational Development Tests were given recently at Oviedo High School, providing pupils with an objective insight into their scholastic development, according to the Principal, W. H. DeShazo.

Twenty-seven members of the freshman class and four sophomores took the tests, which were optional. A fee of $1 was paid by each student desiring to take them.

The tests are prepared and administered by Science Research Associates of Chicago. These annual NEDA examinations are three-hours long but provide scores in Social studies, English, natural sciences, mathematics, and word usage. Each participating student may plot his scores on a Student Profile Leaflet to learn how he or she compares with other students of his or her grade level throughout the country.

YOUR DOLLAR BUYS MORE

IN
ESTATES

On Hwy. 17-92-2 Miles South of Sanford

VETERANS
 NEWCOMERS
 WHY PAY RENT?

IF YOU ARE A VETERAN OF WW II — UNDER CURRENT LAW YOUR VA-ENTITLEMENT
 EXPIRES JULY 26th — THIS YEAR!

VETERANS: Your VA-loan rights, earned by your service in our armed forces, are the greatest opportunity for home investment you will ever have. Yet hundreds of veterans in this area are still paying rent. Buying in Sunland Estates your entire closing costs could conceivably be less than two months' rent in your present circumstances. Your monthly payments are reasonable in Sunland Estates. For example on a $14,000 VA-loan your monthly payment including taxes and insurance is only $87.50. And the interest and taxes are every penny tax deductible. And if you wish to buy a larger home, your monthly payments increase only $4.00 per month for each thousand dollars increase in purchase price and that $4.00 includes taxes and insurance. Rent money is lost forever! Buying in Sunland with your VA-loan entitlement starts a home investment that makes your house expense dollar work for you. THERE IS A PLAN TO FIT YOUR BUDGET — A HOME TO FIT YOUR FAMILY IN SUNLAND ESTATES. WE WILL ENJOY SHOWING YOU CENTRAL FLORIDA'S MOST DELIGHTFUL COMMUNITY FOR FAMILY LIVING.

● VA FINANCING means bigger dollar savings. Check these facts: On a $14,500. Home
 FHA - *90.69 Monthly for 30 years.
 VA - *80.08 Monthly for 30 years.
 The VETERAN saves per month for 30 years $10.61.

● The fact is the same monthly payment of 90.69 that retires a $14,500. mortgage under FHA— will retire a $16,400 investment for the qualified VETERAN in the same period.

● CONVENTIONAL FINANCING is even less favorable for the VETERAN than FHA.

HIGH and DRY

During the last several days you have witnessed the effect of hard rains and improper drainage. You are invited to come out and see for yourself the high and dry ground in SUNLAND ESTATES, due to adequate drainage. Enjoy Florida living as you never have before.

Probers Get Into Own Payola Feud

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House payola investigators feuded publicly today over a charge their inquiry into network television star Dick Clark had been put "in mothballs."

Reps. Peter F. Mack Jr. (D-Ill.) and John E. Moss (D-Calif.) branded false the charge by Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich.). They accused Bennett in turn of "obstructionist tactics."

The two Democrats said the TV disc jockey has not been summoned for public hearings because "due process of law, common decency and fair play demand the careful gathering and sifting of evidence rather than the broad-casting of irresponsible charges."

Bennett, ranking Republican on the nine-man subcommittee, reported that Mack and Moss offered only "weak and phony" excuses. He said the case has been "under wraps" since November, when the subcommittee got a copy of an affidavit Clark signed for the ABC network.

The feud started 10 days ago when Bennett stated that Clark, in the affidavit, had said he played records in which he had a financial stake and accepted gifts worth $4,000 from a record distributor. Bennett said the subcommittee should summon Clark instead of spending all its time on "rinky dink" disc jockeys.

Mack and Moss said in a joint statement Sunday night that this was an attempt to "stampede" the subcommittee into a sensational hearing, which violates the American concepts of common decency and fair play.

They made public a memorandum on the case from subcommittee counsel Robert W. Lishman to Chairman Owen Harris (D-Ark.) which they said was sent to all subcommittee members. It was dated last Wednesday.

Lishman said "long-painstaking work" was required in the investigation of Clark and the 17 record and music firms in which the disc jockey reported he gave up his financial interests last November.

Easter Lily Ball Opens Campaign To Aid Crippled

The second annual Easter Lily Ball which marked the kickoff of the Easter Seal drive at the Mayfair Inn was termed "a success" by Philip Logan, president of the Crippled Children's Society of Seminole County.

A bag of $4,000 letters containing Easter Seals was delivered to Assistant Postmaster Harold Appleby by the Easter Rabbit, making a surprise appearance at the ball.

The letters went into the mail today urging support of the campaign to raise funds for work with crippled children and adults.

"We are asking the public to be generous in response to these letters, since 75 percent of the funds we raise will be spent in Seminole County to provide medical care, physiotherapy, treatments, crutches, wheelchairs and walkers for handicapped people," Logan said.

Among the special guests at the ball were Lyle Reese, executive director, Crippled Children's Society of Florida, and Don Lee, psychotherapist of the chapter.

Steve Powell Wins Civitan Essay Prize

Winners of the Civitan Citizenship Essay Contest were announced at the weekly meeting of the Sanford Civitan Club.

F. Wade Tye, chairman of the contest, revealed first place winner was Steve Powell, who will receive a $100 savings bond.

Second place went to Diana Aiken, who will receive a $50 savings bond.

The essay written by Powell will be entered in the district contest in competition with other district winners for consideration for the international awards.

Judges for the Sanford contest were Howard McNulty, Judge William Alexander and George Toney. Serving on the committee with Tye were Stuart Boston and John Spolaki.

Subject for the contest, which was open to all Seminole High School seniors, was "Intercommunication as a Factor in Citizenship Building."

Pilot Club To Hear Stock, Bond Talk

Herman Gade, of Winter Park, president of Security Associates, Inc., will be guest speaker Tuesday at the Pilot Club meeting.

Mrs. Walter L. Carter, program chairman, announced.

Gade will speak on the subject of stocks and bonds. He will be introduced by Gordon Toll, manager of the Sanford office of Security Associates.

Drainage Group Continues Study

A long-range, countywide drainage and water conservation plan will be initiated as soon as a current study by the county drainage committee is completed.

The Seminole County Commission indicated Friday that the long-range plan would be put into operation and agreed that flood conditions in the southern part of the county will be treated as emergencies.

The commission called the five-member drainage committee into an emergency meeting Friday afternoon to discuss flooding and severe drainage problems.

Harold Kastner, chairman of the committee, told the commission that it would be impossible to come up with an immediate solution because any plan would have to take into account the heavy rains that hit the county last week.

More than 18 inches of rain fell in the southern of the county and 12 inches in the Sanford area. The rains damaged homes, flooded property and caused many road washouts.

Members of the drainage committee gave their personal opinions on the best method of solving the county's drainage problem, but agreed as a unit that they could not make "any definite recommendations" yet.

Kastner said the group would make a report later this month and present it to the commission.

Kastner said the solution might be a loan from the federal government to help defray the cost of a program.

County Commission Chairman John Krider said that it would be "unwise to commit ourselves" for federal loans at this time.

Navy Man Backs Foreign Sub Claim

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Navy Capt. Ray M. Pitts, the American who knows most about Argentina's submarine scare, thinks there actually was a foreign submarine prowling around in that country's Golfo Nuevo.

Pitts told United Press International, however, he did not have the faintest idea where the submarine came from, why it was there, or what it could have hoped to accomplish.

The Navy captain described his impressions in an interview after returning to the Pentagon from Argentina. He headed an ill-fated, 15-man U. S. expedition sent to help the Argentines in the submarine hunt.

U. S. Plane Shot Down By Cubans

HAVANA (UPI) — A light plane with U.S. markings was shot down today by Cuban revolutionary troops near Matanzas and its American pilot and five other occupants captured.

The pilot, identified as Leonard Howard, was wounded in the leg.

He was given first aid before being taken to 4th Regiment headquarters at Matanzas for interrogation.

The plane — a red-and-white Piper Comanche with registration numbers indicating it came from the United States — was brought down by machinegun fire in a field near La Carbonera, about 12 miles from Matanzas. Matanzas, capital of the province of the same name, is about 50 miles east of Havana.

Maj. Universo Sanchez, who commanded the troops in the operation, said the plane came from Florida.

Vegetable Crops Damaged By Rain

The County's USDA Disaster Committee was told today that 75 percent of the county's pepper and bean crops were damaged by heavy rains last week.

County Agent Cecil Tucker gave the report of agricultural loss during the three-day abnormal rain spell.

He also said that the celery and cabbage crops suffered

It was not immediately clear whether the plane was trying to land or to take off. It was believed to be engaged in trying to fly out of Cuba as classified as "war criminals."

Other persons arrested were identified as Lazaro Damase Montesinos, a police major during the Batista regime; Gladys Montesinos, believed to be his daughter; her husband, former Maj. Santiago Rodriguez, and Miguel Sanchez.

All were taken to Matanzas under armed guard.

Eyewitnesses said the plane, which bore registration number "6137 P" showed numerous bullet holes.

The incident followed accusations by President Osvaldo Dorticos against the United States of "undeniable sabotage" and "criminal aerial attacks" against Cuba.

It marked the first time a high Cuban government official had lodged such charges directly against the United States in public.

The bitter onslaught, aired over television and radio, came less than seven hours after U.S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal returned from Washington to try to salvage steadily worsening relations between the United States and Cuba.

Earlier Sunday, leftwing extremist Ernesto Guevara, head of Cuba's National Bank, lashed out at U. S. economic policies and vowed that all American business "monopolies" soon would be ousted from Cuban soil.

Home, Garden Tour To Start Tuesday

Mrs. Irwin Fleischer, Sanford chairman for the Home and Garden Tour which begins Tuesday, asked today that anyone desiring information about bus reservations or tickets for the tour telephone her at FA 2-0556 or Mrs. Clyde Ramsey at FA 2-0786.

Three Sanford homes will be opened during the tour, sponsored by the Seventh District of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs. The homes and gardens of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Epps Jr., Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Barks and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Toole will be included on the tour of 22 Central Florida places.

The three Sanford homes will be open from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m. through Thursday.

A special bus will leave the Civic Center at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday for a tour of Winter Park and Orlando homes.

Meanwhile the county road department started "operation mop-up" today, taking down barricades in areas flooded last week.

County Engineer Robert Davis said that the sun and high winds helped dry up flooded areas and in many instances waters on washed out roads have evaporated.

He said that water is down in the Bear Lake chain, Tanglewood and Temple Terrace areas and in Loch Arbor.

Davis reported that the South Florida Drainage District has been asked to aid in controlling flooding in the Econlockhatchee River area.

Commissioner Vernon Dunn told Davis that approximately 2,000 acres of pasture was under water in the vicinity. Work crews authorized by the drainage district have already started clearing up drainage areas.

Last week's heavy rains have closed only one road in Casselberry, Town Developer Hibbard Casseberry said today.

Casseberry said the road over the peninsula between the two Lake Tripletts had been closed. The homes are in danger in the town and other road damage is limited to normal rainfall washouts.

Deputies were waiting for the body of Eddie Lee Washington to surface in the St. John's River, Sheriff J. L. Hobby said. Washington, who lived at 37, 14th St. was the driver of a car which crashed through the Osteen bridge about 1:35 a. m. Saturday, carrying three other Sanford Negroes to their death.

Drowned were Robert Solomon, 27, of 705 W. 11th St.; Anita White, 18, of 40 Canal Street; Court and Betty McIntyre, 27, of 1004 Olive Ave. The fifth occupant, David Smith, got out of the death car and was rescued from the roof of the vehicle.

Sheriff Hobby said the car apparently was traveling about 85 to 90 m.p.h., too fast for the SR 418 curve on the west side of the Osteen bridge. The car plummeted through the bridge railing and sank in about 16 feet of water. Smith apparently got out through a loose door on the auto, Deputy W. R. Brown reported.

Brown said he arrived on the scene just after David Heelman of Sanford had pulled Smith off the top of the sunken auto. Heelman had been driving behind the crashed car. Smith was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital. The totally demolished death car was traveling toward Osteen. The small bridge nearest the Seminole County shore is slightly repaired, but fares are still up there, the Sheriff's office said.

Hunt On For Negro Believed Drowned

The search for a Sanford Negro believed drowned here on Osteen Bridge early Saturday, was still going on today.

Crews Still Fight Waters In Tampa As 6,000 Leave

Sanford, Fla. (UPI) — Heavy downpours late Sunday to plug a dike on Lake Magdalene north of this flood-weary part city where an estimated 6,000 to 8,000 persons have abandoned their homes to water and mud.

It was the second dike on the lake, which is a flood control reservoir, to break since the flooding began last week.

The rain-swollen Hillsborough river neared its crest and had stopped rising above the main waterworks dam, about 10 miles north of downtown Tampa. It was rising only slightly below the dam.

Elsewhere in Central Florida, where an estimated 5,000 persons had left their homes during the floods of the past five days, flood water receded and most families had returned to the job of cleaning up.

The flood stricken area stretched east and north from Tampa about 100 miles. Road and highway damage over this area was heavy.

Hillsborough County Sheriff Ed Blackburn estimated late Sunday that between 6,000 and 8,000 residents had left their homes since the flooding began. Most were from the W. H. Hill area, an area along the river north of the city.

Most of the families who left moved in with relatives and friends on higher ground and shelters set up for the flood victims were not used much.

But warehouses, school auditoriums, churches and other buildings were stacked high with furniture moved from the flooded houses by the National Guard.

Icon Of Mary Showed Actual Tears, Priest Says

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y. (UPI) — A Greek Orthodox priest said today that he and several hundred other persons saw tears form in the eyes of a printed portrait of Mary in the home of a devout young couple who are among his parishioners.

"I myself did see this lithographed icon twice show actual tears," said the Rev. George A. Papadakis, pastor of St. Paul's Greek Orthodox Church here. He described it as "a really amazing phenomenon."

Father Papadakis said the icon was in the home of 23-year-old food shop counterwoman Anastasiya Caisaus and her wife, Panagia, a 25-year-old seamstress.

He said Archbishop Iakovos would arrive here today from Washington to visit the couple.

Father Papadakis said he is convinced that the archbishop sanctioned the apparent miracle, the icon might be enshrined in St. Paul's church for public veneration.
