

CAPONE FACES 5,000 CHARGES IN U. S. COURT

Indictments Returned For Violations Of Volstead Statute For 10-Year Period

CHICAGO, June 13.—(AP)—"Scarface Al" Capone, America's most notorious gangster, and 94 of his henchmen were indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday on 5,000 charges of violation of the prohibition laws.

A recent conviction for contempt of the federal court and an indictment on income tax evasion charges paved the way for the government's challenge of Capone's gigantic syndicate to make and market beer for the Chicago metropolitan area. On this business Capone founded his authority for leadership of Chicago's gang, a position he still holds unchallenged.

The federal indictment charged Capone and his allies with manufacturing and transporting beer continuously since the national prohibition law became effective.

District Attorney Johnson pried behind the days of Capone's opulence in obtaining information for the indictment, going back to his early operations here as "Al Brown" and uncovering aliases now in a city which has followed Capone's career of crime for a wide field of contestants.

Here is the girl who will represent Wichita in the coming International Beauty Pageant at Galveston. She is Gunda Lee Selling, 16-year-old high school girl, and she was selected over a wide field of contestants.

"The indictment read:

"The United States against Alphonse Capone, otherwise called Al Brown, A. Costa, Albert Costa, Frank Rose, John Brown, Sherry Capone, Frank Hart and Louis Hart." Then followed the names of the other three score defendants.

Noteworthy absent were the names and aliases of Capone's trusted lieutenants, his brother Steve, Sam and Jack Capone, Al Capone's son, and Frank Nitti, the "enforcer," serving a penitentiary term for a similar offense.

Johnson said Friday's indictment dealt with the beer interests of Capone's organization rather than with the gambling, vice and labor racket branches. It named Joseph Fusco as Capone's beer boss; Ralph Capone, Johnson said, was interested mainly in the gambling operations and at any rate he is already under indictment on liquor conspiracy charges in connection with the Cotton club.

Capone was charged with purloining trucks from the Heitz Motor company in Hammond, Ind., which were used to transport beer and then receiving by telegraphic money order payment for the beer. A meeting was described in which Capone, Joseph C. Fazio, George Howlett, Bert Delaney and Jack Reitman (all defendants) were alleged to have "discussed ways and means for the accomplishing of the objects of said unlawful and felonious conspiracy."

The government charged that the meeting was held June 12, 1930, at the Lexington hotel, a Capone hangout, in Chicago.

There appeared from the indictment to have been Capone's second in command in the syndicate. Others in the list of defendants were Michael Potone, who had been interested in several Chicago cafes and road houses; Delaney, a Capone lieutenant who was recently arrested when he attempted to re-enter a large brewery that had been seized by prohibition agents and Nick Jufre, also known as Frank Ross, Joseph d'Angelo.

The indictment was returned before Federal Judge John P. Parker, who issued the warrant of arrest last week on 10 counts of violation charges. The court allowed Capone to stand for trial.

Mr. Capone, his wife, two sons, and his mother-in-law were held on, but the court refused to issue a writ of habeas corpus.

Johnson said the indictment was the first of many to be filed against the gangster and his crew.

He said the indictment was based on testimony of witnesses who had been interviewed by the government.

Mr. Capone, his wife, two sons, and his mother-in-law were held on, but the court refused to issue a writ of habeas corpus.

MISSING COAT OF SLAIN GIRL FOUND BY COPS

Context Of Telegram Found In Garment Closely Guarded; Diary Story Denied

NEW YORK, June 13.—(AP)—A torn black coat, resembling that worn by Starr Faithfull when she disappeared last Friday, was taken from the surf at Long Beach, today. A detective sent it to Mineola, center of the investigating arising from the discovery of the girl's buried body Monday.

Police, working on the theory that the girl was killed by drowning perhaps by some prominent person who "had reason to desire her dead," had searched for the missing coat as vital evidence. In the pocket was a telegram whose contents were closely guarded. When the body was found it was clad only in a dress, shoes, and stockings. The report that a second diary recording more of the career of the girl had been found in her home is denied by authorities.

MINEOLA, N. Y., June 13.—(AP)—A new club bearing directly upon the death of Starr Faithfull was announced last night by Police Inspector Harold R. King, Nassau county, after he had made an airplane trip to River Head, L. I., to confer with District Attorney Edwards.

"This information," King said when he returned to Mineola from his hurried conference, "very definitely concerns the girl herself and I felt it necessary to place it at once before Mr. Edwards. I cannot now reveal its nature."

"It greatly strengthened the murder theory upon which the prosecutor has been working."

King carried with him to Riverhead a thin manila envelope, the contents of which he declined to discuss. He brought it back with him.

For these reasons it is useful in cancer surgery to prevent malignant cells from being cut loose to wander around elsewhere in the body. It is a loop of special wire electrically heated, and was described by A. C. Scott, M. D., of the Scott & White clinic, Temple, Texas.

The inspector had detailed a score of men to start early to day on a thorough inspection of the 18 miles of sandy shore between Long Beach and Rockaway. He ordered them to search the waters, islands and inlets for clothing which Miss Faithfull wore when she left her home last Friday, but which was missing when her body was found Monday. The missing garments include a fur-collared coat, hat and underclothing.

Miss Faithfull's body was cremated yesterday, 24 hours after it originally had been scheduled. District Attorney Edwards had ordered the delay.

Before the cremation Inspector King took Sy Bockman, a New York taxi driver to view the body. Bockman had told of driving a woman, apparently intoxicated or under the influence of narcotics, from the Chanin building, Manhattan, to Flushing, shortly after the family noted her disappearance.

Authorities had sought to connect the incident with Miss Faithfull's death but King said he was convinced the women were not the same. Bockman said Miss Faithfull "might be" the woman he left at a drug store in Flushing.

Pensacolans Dedicate New Four Mile Bridge

PENSACOLA, June 13.—(AP)—Army, Navy, Marine, State, and County officials today joined Pensacolans in dedicating the new $2,000,000 bridge across Pensacola Bay, built by private interests at a toll bridge, the structure is four miles long and made of steel and concrete.

Secretary of State Gray represented Governor Carlton who was unable to attend the ceremony, while members of his Cabinet and the Legislature were present.

Airbandage, sumo-wrestlers, boat races and tug-of-war featured the entertainment program. All the activities ended at the opening of the bridge as the beginning of a new era in progress in the city and the entire state.

ROCKET GLIDER MAKES FIRST SUCCESSFUL FLIGHT

William G. Swan, pictured above at the controls of his rocket glider, recently made the first rocket glider flight in this country. His experiments were conducted at Atlantic City. The glider was equipped with 12 rockets, and Swan's machine remained in the air for 8 minutes, landing easily.

HOT KNIFE SEEN AS BENEFICIAL IN TREATING CANCER

Tracing Of Colds And Indigestion Also Discussed At Meet

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—(AP)—A "hot knife" for surgery, progress in a cure for congenital dislocation of the hip, and tracing of colds and indigestion to strange causes were some of the subjects discussed at the closing session of the annual convention of the American Medical Association yesterday.

The "hot knife" is not so warm to the touch—lately 120 degrees Fahrenheit—but it is deadly to cancer cells. It is equally deadly to rapidly growing cells, but is not so lethal for the great mass of normal cells which have passed their growth period.

For these reasons it is useful in cancer surgery to prevent malignant cells from being cut loose to wander around elsewhere in the body. It is a loop of special wire electrically heated, and was described by A. C. Scott, M. D., of the Scott & White clinic, Temple, Texas.

Congenital dislocation of the hip may be cured in its earliest stages by manipulating the joint into place, said Charles H. Jaeger, M. D., of New York city. He said the treatment is new and has been used in several cases. A splint holds the leg in the proper position while a pressure pad, without violence, gradually pushes the dislocated bone into its socket.

At first this apparatus was worn for a fairly long period, said Dr. Jaeger, but recently some children have been satisfactorily treated in four months.

Seemingly common colds which are not really colds, but manifestations of the strange sensitivity called allergy, were discussed by Milton B. Cohen, M. D., and Jack A. Rudolph, M. D., of Cleveland.

Minor Violations Feature Municipal Docket Yesterday

MUNICIPAL Judge R. W. Ware's police court docket yesterday afternoon was composed mainly of cases of minor law violations; four of assault, two of violation of the stop street ordinance, and two of disorderly conduct.

Clarence Smith, white, was fined $1 for violating the stop street law after he pleaded guilty. Officer Shaffer made the arrest.

J. L. Parks, alias Jim Potts, in court on the same charge, was also fined $1. The same officer made the arrest.

Rosie Mae Bezzell, Annie Williams and Ed Bush, colored persons, who engaged in a brawl, were summoned to appear in court on charges of assault, but Chief of Police Williams said the case had been transferred to the criminal section. Officers Wilcox and Williams made the arrests.

Samuel E. Wilcox, colored, was fined $5 for disorderly conduct by Chief Williams.

John C. Wilcox, colored, charged with disorderly conduct by Chief Williams, was fined $5.

Nelson, colored, was fined $5 for assault, was fined $5 for disorderly conduct by Officer Williams.

Ruth Nichols Delays Hop To Paris One Day

NEW YORK, June 13.—(AP)—A major girl's adherence to the old-fashioned custom of spending Sunday with the home folks caused a day postponement of a flight to France. Ruth Nichols, society aviatrix said she would not attempt the overseas flight until Monday in order that she might remain at home with her family. From here she expects to fly to Harbor Grace, Newfoundland to await favorable weather for the Paris hop.

FUTURE FARMERS ARE PICNIC HOSTS HERE THURSDAY

Sanford Group Entertains For 75 Agriculture Teachers

With members of the Seminole chapter of the Future Farmers of America acting as hosts, approximately 75 Florida teachers of vocational agriculture who have been meeting in annual summer conference at Daytona Beach since last Monday were entertained at a red snapper dinner and tour of the famous Sanford celery fields Thursday afternoon.

The visitors, headed by J. F. Williams Jr., state supervisor of vocational agriculture at Tallahassee, were taken to every section of the county where local members of the Future Farmers Club pointed out the features which made that section of that farm a model or productive one.

The group visited the class rooms of the agricultural department at the high school; the farm shop and demonstration farm, and every important farm and wash.

HUGE SUMS WILL FLOW IN AND OUT OF U. S. TREASURY

Despite Receipts Of $1,000,000,000, Great Deficit Will Remain

WASHINGTON, June 13.—(AP)—More than $1,500,000,000 will flow into and out of the treasury next Monday. But the government deficit still will be approximately $1,000,000,000.

For its quarterly financing program, the treasury will sell $221,000,000 in 3 1/8 per cent bonds. At the same time it will pay off $580,000,000 in maturing certificates of indebtedness, receive $90,000,000 in interest payments and $20,000,000 principal on war debts from foreign nations.

In addition it will receive the second instalment of tax on 1930 incomes which should run between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000. It also must pay $90,000,000 in interest on the public debt.

The government has spent much more in the fiscal year ending June 30 than it has collected. Rapidly declining income taxes and customs duties together with increasing expenses sent the total expenditure of the government on June 10 to $3,948,209,025 while collections from all sources

Trade Body Urges Other Civic Groups To Help Ball Team

The part the Sanford Chamber of Commerce is playing in sponsoring the proposed season ticket selling campaign to be conducted next week in behalf of the Sanford baseball Club is revealed in a letter which Harry M. Papworth, president of the trade body, sent this morning to the heads of all civic associations here.

The letter, which follows, was sent to Fred G. Zerrenner, commander of the local American Legion post; S. B. Gray, president of the Rotary Club; George Weinstein, president of the Independent Merchants Association; Maxwell Stewart, president of the Lions Club; A. C. Fort, president of the Kiwanis Club; John Ludwig, exalted ruler of the Elks Club, and F. V. Dorner, president of the Sanford Farmers Club.

"Believing you appreciate that the publicity all over the country given our baseball team is worth something to Sanford and Seminole County, we are requested to ask whether the members of your organization would purchase two season tickets, at a cost of $10 each, to be used by any of your members.

"They say they were discharged because of their union affiliations. Less than half the workers reported for duty today, mine officials said. Many are willing to work but reported that their lives were threatened. Striking miners denied that threats had been made.

"There are 24 more games to be played in Sanford this year, starting tomorrow, and it is only by selling these season tickets that we can raise sufficient funds to get one or two efficient players on our team to remove Sanford from the 'cellar' position it now holds.

"We thank you in advance for your favorable consideration."

Baseball fans who visit Sanford tomorrow afternoon for the game between Sanford and Winter Park will be approached by members of the committee handling the sale of season tickets. A savings of $2 may be effected by purchasing the season ticket at this time.

SINGING SONG GUARDS FOIL CROWLEY'S ESCAPE PLOT

ORLANDO, June 13.—(AP)—A plot by Francis Crowley, youthful killer, to elude justice by getting away out of the Sing Sing prison death house was thwarted yesterday when guards noticed holes they had found a bludgeon hidden in his mattress.

It was made of a hollowed-out magazine, bound with wire, taken from the gun of a guard, and was used to pierce the mattress.

PAUL DOUMER INSTALLED AS FRANCE'S HEAD

Is Oldest Man Ever To Be Elected To Position As President Of French Republic

PARIS, June 13.—(AP)—Paul Doumer, oldest man ever elected to the position, succeeded Gaston Doumergue as president of the Third French Republic today in the Elysee Palace.

Escorted by two squadrons of crack cavalry Premier Laval moved to the Petit Luxembourg Palace to bring the new chief of the state to the French white house where ceremonies were held. Later the new president re-lighted the " sacred flame" at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier under the Arc de Triomphe.

Immediately after the ceremony of inauguration, Gaston Doumergue, newly married retired president of France, who has headed the state for seven years, went to the quiet city of Toulouse, where he and his bride have prepared their home. M. Doumergue will leave many delicate matters in the hands of his successor.

He will leave, also, Pierre Laval, who will continue as premier.

In accordance with precedent, Premier Laval's cabinet will present its collective resignation in order that the new president may be free to ask someone else to form a new ministry. However, Doumergue already has indicated that Laval and his ministry will be asked to continue at their posts.

The first pressing problem Doumergue and Laval must consider is the naval construction program, for which they must attempt to

iversity Of Florida Pitching Ace Hurts Reds To Second Win Of Year Overstarts

Wows Six Hits; Strikes Out Eight

Aided By Big Bat Of Red Martin, Man Of Mystery And Might

By PETER SCHAUER.
Tampa, Toffaletti, the lanky University of Florida pitching wizard, "Red" Martin, the enigmatical man of mystery, the new members of Manager Bert Chapman's Calvary Fed baseball machine, the prime factors in the Feds' second victory of the season when, after six-hit pitching by the former and inspired batting by the latter, the Feds swept to a 5-1 to 4 over the St. Augustine Saints. The game was played at Municipal Park before a large crowd who applauded Toffaletti and cheered every time they came to bat, and appeared to enjoy antics of the re-juvenated Feds to the point.

Toffaletti lived up to all his adulation publicly, and hurled one of his best games seen here this year. For four straight innings, the Feds failed to produce a hit. One of the six hits scored by the Saints, only four were really worthy of the name, and, as Toffaletti had them batted in the seventh and eighth, and to only one hit in the ninth, the Saint wrecking crew of Small, Crews, Hernandez and V. Masters originally came to and went away from the bat thoroughly disgusted.

The youngster handled himself like a veteran from the start, and even in the pinches, which were few, he gave every promise of being more than good enough for central Florida league baseball. He did get plenty of advice from his new boss during the next few days, and in his next appearance, which will be at Deland next Thursday, fans who follow the club will see a marked improvement. He deserved that he was unable to get the curve ball working as he would like to have, but, if he is able to strike out eight men and allow six hits without having it work, there seems no danger on it at all.

While Toffaletti was making a name for himself locally, that red-haired and likable pepper box, "Red" Martin saw to it that the batting end of the game was taken care of. His great hitting was reflected in a re-awakening of much latent power on the part of his mates, Peters, Miller, Higgins and Schirard; for instance, all of whom had a leaf from Martin's book of how to hit, and did nobly.

Martin started batting rallies in the fifth and seventh by pulling out two enormous doubles, and produced a single which scored Schirard in the fifth as his contribution to the victory. He pulled a tendon in his first hit, but gamely stuck it out and came through with two more, not to mention patrolling center-field like a big-league. The man of mystery easily deserved half the honors, for his hitting not only inspired the rest of the club, but his temperament and friendly attitude toward his mates made them changed ball-players almost overnight.

They were the stars of the contest, but, mention must certainly be made of Pat Miller and his big stick, and Jack Peters and his ability to beat out infield bunts. Pat drew a few runs in the fourth, and showed two more runners up home in the fifth with another double hit. That was a thriller. Manager Chapman says that Pat will be even bigger in the league, and adds that Pat will be the most valuable acquisition of the league this season is over.

Higgins passed over a wet sponge in the fourth and held his position admirably to bring from the new pitcher another prediction that Higgins would be a star in his position before very long. Ed Britt, ball-changer, and Ross, fast left-fielder, another of the men whom Chapman has as possibly good material for a star. Higgins, too, got a single in the fifth, and in the first when Crews batted he hit his ball as Toffaletti without the services of Hessey, the league-leading batter. They failed to show any reason at all why they have led the league as batters since the season opened, while their Big Four, Small, Crews, Hernandez, and V. Masters, failed miserably. Crews particularly, whose bat has produced plenty of hits earlier in the season, looked pitiful up there, striking out twice, once with a chance to score a man. Wolfe, at short, fielded well, as did V. Masters at second. Colee, their pitcher, had plenty of ability as a pace-changing pitcher, for his slow ball fooled the Fed batters time after time. However, the Feds soon got next to that slow ball-soft ball style of Colee's, and punched hits all over the lot.

The victory was well-earned, and the Feds gained worlds of confidence as a result. The umpiring, in the hands of Morris Spangler and Bill Palmer was most creditable, bringing from Manager Colee of the Saints the statement that "Sanford's" umpires are the fairest in the league, even if we did have a raw deal at the hands of an umpire on our last trip here."

The Feds will have a great chance to see just how good they really are when they entertain the hard-hitting Winter Park outfit here next Sunday. Joe Tinker will come to town loaded for bear, and with Jumping Joe Guffman on the hill, he expects to show the Feds up. Manager Chapman will send the sensational Bud Lake to the hill, and may even take a hand in the proceedings by striking the youngster for half a game or so.

the Cards' four hits, including a triple.

The Giants won their first game of the season from the Florida team when a 11-inning game ended 1 to 0 in their favor. Bill Terry was the big batter, getting four for two, and new threats were discovered. Melville, Hutto, Pittman and Martin are the pick of the lot at present, it appears, although Red has been in but two games. Here's how they stand today:

The Reds won an 11-inning, 2 to 1, pitching duel when Cuccinello singled with the bases full. Each team made 10 hits, with Biscuit and O'Doul getting three each for the losers, and Cuccinello getting three for the winners.

Bob Smith pitched the Cubs to a 4 to 2 win over the Phillies who did their scoring on Klein and Hurst's home runs. The Phillies tried four different pitchers, but couldn't get their batting attack to working. Hurst led at bat for the losers.

The leaders to date: Homers, Klein, Phillips, 151 triples, Worthington, Braves, Cincinnati, Senators, 8 each; doubles, Webb, Boston Red Sox, 22; most runs, Klein, Phillips, 46; most hits, DeLand, 10; most base hits, Murdock and the Indians, when he tripped with one on in the 11th. Old Ken Douglass was knocked out in the first inning while Link Silby, who followed him lasted only two innings. Murdoch, the ace of the University of Georgia pitching staff this year, pitched a nice game as he made his debut in this league, but was relieved by Atkins when the DeLand outfit got going in the eighth.

Joe Tinker's Winter Park got the surprise of their lives at Daytona where Manager Holch's Islanders smacked Rogers and Chubb for a dozen hits to win a 6 to 4 ball game. The win put the Islanders in second place, only half a game back of Deland. Lefty Lane started for the Islanders, but Roy Glamer, the new right-hander from Anniston, Ala., had to come to his rescue. Mobley and Hutto led the attack on Rogers and drove him from the box early. Five errors from the Parkers came at inopportune moments and put Rogers and Chubb in the hole, but the errors did not aid in any of the scoring, oddly enough. Tinker brings his Parkers to Sanford next Sunday to try to regain that second place again.

Eddie Morgan took Al Simmons' place in the Big Six batting order yesterday when he punched out two for four. The Babe is still in first, Cochran second, although neither played. Bill Terry added to his already good mark:

The standings:

Player and club g ab r h ave.

Ruth, Yanks 38 123 26 52 .265

Cochran, A's 42 169 36 66 .365

Hendrick, Reds 34 180 21 50 .286

Terry, Giants 47 190 39 70 .366

Roettiger, Reds 41 173 24 62 .285

Braves, 2

The Saints took a tumble when it came to batting yesterday, and as a result they are now in first place in the batting standing of the clubs by only nine points. Sanford was the only club which improved its position in the standings, jumping from 328 to 331, mainly through the slugging ability of Red Martin, the mystery man.

While the clubs were taking a fall, or marking time, individual averages also dropped and new threats were discovered. Melville, Hutto, Pittman and Martin are the pick of the lot at present, it appears, although Red has been in but two games. Here's how they stand today:

The leaders to date: Homers, Klein, Phillips, 151 triples, Worthington, Braves, Cincinnati, Senators, 8 each; doubles, Webb, Boston Red Sox, 22; most runs, Klein, Phillips, 46; most hits, DeLand, 10; most base hits, Murdock and the Indians, when he tripped with one on in the 11th. Old Ken Douglass was knocked out in the first inning while Link Silby, who followed him lasted only two innings. Murdoch, the ace of the University of Georgia pitching staff this year, pitched a nice game as he made his debut in this league, but was relieved by Atkins when the DeLand outfit got going in the eighth.

the State of Florida to the people of the State.

It is now necessary to the State of Florida to do something to meet the emergency. A frightful plague will surely be averted.

We estimate the amount of raising sufficient revenue to take care of the emergency, and it is probable that an act will be enacted to guarantee the State of Florida during the coming two years that this session will adjourn with a provision not only for the present emergency, but also for all future emergencies, and officials of our Legislature, in their zeal to see Floridians in development and expansion, should not let us forget any important or any older, curtailments which would affect the efficiency of our government. We must go on and on, progressing and spending, spending and progressing until bankruptcy.

It is to be considered that while this City, and other smaller cities in Florida, has recovered a sum of $318,702.98 in 1928 to the State, the State is now preparing to spend more than twice what it did last year.

International Aspects

What might easily have precipitated an international incident was the shooting of two Mexican boys on their way home in an automobile following the closing of their schools in this country. The young man of them by chance a cousin of President Obregon, who was taken by two deputy sheriffs in Oklahoma, was shot through the body with a gun.

It was thought in the connection that the Foreign

Archives of Austria were shot in order to wonder what fury would have been let loose in this country if two American boys in schools had been shot on their way home. Will Rogers, the great American, perhaps as well as any other, has timely comment on the unfortunate incident. He often does hit the nail on the head when he hits it.

After Sheriff Brooks' record. They finally round up the fugitives. In it out it had to be occupied by the sheriff because not two of us for being unusual. The sheriff's excuse was that he had a Kansas license on his Texas license in Oklahoma because out the gun or not it is the name Kansas that makes you shoot on sight. If he had showed his badge instead of his gun the whole thing wouldn't have happened. Well, he asked for Mr. Punishing for if the conditions had been right he would have been marching into Mexico to clean that country up and make em civilized.

After the report of Governor Murray of Oklahoma of thorough investigation with proper protection, he said, "No offenses were committed in the case of the two boys."
