CHAPMAN AGAIN BEGINS FIGHT TO ESCAPE GALLOWS

Granting Of Writ Sought By Counsel Would Mean One More Year Of Life, Court Attaches Express Belief

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Gerald Chapman, under sentence to die at the state prison in Wethersfield Dec. 3 for the murder of a policeman in New Britain, Conn., will enter upon a new stage in his fight to escape the gallows next Monday, when he will appear before U. S. District Judge Edwin S. Thomas in the board of pardons room at the prison. This was announced late today by Judge Thomas after he had signed a writ of habeas corpus prepared by the condemned man's counsel.

In Federal Court circles the opinion was expressed that the granting of the writ would mean at least another year of life for Chapman. Governor Trumbull has indicated he will grant a second reprieve to the condemned man.

In taking the case to the Federal court, the defense seeks to challenge the right of the state to hang Chapman before he has completed a 25-year sentence in Atlanta prison for mail robbery. It is the contention of the defense that Chapman is still a Federal prisoner, having been "loaned" to Connecticut for trial only.

Judge Thomas was holding court this afternoon when Nathan O. Freedman, defense counsel, appeared at the Federal building. The judge immediately adjourned the case under consideration and the Chapman matter was taken up.

Freedman and Charles W. Murphy, of the defense counsel, in explaining the defense contentions, pointed out that the question of conflicting jurisdiction between the state and the Federal government had never been tested in such a case. They contended that the original writ on which Chapman had been brought to Wethersfield from Atlanta was defective in that it was served upon "Henry H. W. Scott, state warden, rather than upon Scott in his capacity of a Federal agent. This had been discovered by Chapman himself, they said.

Firemen who responded to alarms were stamped by the students. Attempts to quiet them were made by Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, athletic director and gridiron star of the school. Capt. Tom Lowry and Ralph (Moon) Baker. These succeeded in persuading the students to extinguish the stadium fire. William A. Wilberger, police chief, advertised by Evanston as the only chief of police with a college education attempted to speak, but was jeered and hooted down as the "scientific cop."

Mayor Bartlett, working with firemen was knocked senseless. When he was revived he said the students had lost any opportunity they ever had to build their proposed stadium. It is estimated that 3,000 university students cannot be controlled, it would be impossible to take care of 80,000 persons if the stadium crowd gave trouble. Fire chief Hofstetter said his equipment had been stolen, damaged and scattered. The students under arrest were held in connection with turning in false alarms.

Students Begin Parade By Setting Fire To Fraternity House On Campus Edge

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Defying police pistols, tear bombs and streams from fire hoses, 3,000 Northwestern University men and women students last night celebrated the progress of their football team by rampaging all over aristocratic Evanston.

Before their enthusiasm waned early today a vacant fraternity house was in ashes, a policeman had two broken ribs, four students were in jail, scores had black eyes, and cracked heads, and Mayor Charles E. Bartlett was nursing a bruised head.

Finally, after reinforcements of riot squads came from Chicago and 40 World War veterans were mobilized by a former service man's organization to aid police, the students retired to the Lake Michigan front and ended the evening with huge bon fires, songs and cheers.

Official Makes Little Comment
President Walter Dill Scott, who had been out of Evanston, returned as the celebration concluded. His only comment was that the burned house was not worth much anyhow and that the development of the students who had violated ordinances. They would have to stand the consequences in the city courts.

The Lele started when students set fire to the fraternity house which was to be razed and replaced by a new quadrangle. The interior had been soaked with oil. There were no other fires.

ALLEGED HIGH RENTS LIKELY TO BE PROBED

Leon Representative Asks For Sweeping Investigation Into Matter By The Attorney-General's Staff

Efforts Being Made To Speed Up Closing
Senate Follows House Action In Passing Over Veto The Lake Eustis Measure

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 24.—(AP)—President Taylor, of the senate announced shortly after noon today that indications were so strong that the measure would probably be taken this afternoon or tonight and not later than tomorrow.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Sweeping investigations of hotel and rent prices in Florida to determine if the state anti-trust statutes were being violated, were being initiated, were being asked of the attorney-general's department by a resolution introduced into the House of Representatives by Mr. Davis of Leon is adopted.

With practically all business before both houses cleared, members of the legislature today were bending their efforts to bring the extra session to sine die adjournment as soon as possible.

Few bills were pending in either house on opening today, consideration of Gov. John W. Martin's veto message on bills after the close of the regular 1925 session, being unfinished business on both calendars. The senate still had to act on three general measures proposed by the house, including the "search and seizure" act and the bill to simplify proceedings to clear titles to land. Fifteen local bills originating in the house were on the senate calendar.

The senate this morning, following similar action by the house yesterday, passed over the governor's veto the bill conveying to Eustis certain lands in Lake Eustis for municipal development purposes. The veto 23 to 4, like that of the lower branch, was also just enough in the affirmative to override the veto.

The Lake Eustis bill was passed by both branches of the law making it the last regular session measure to be passed by the legislature.

The bill, which was introduced by the house yesterday, passed over the governor's veto the bill conveying to Eustis certain lands in Lake Eustis for municipal development purposes. The veto 23 to 4, like that of the lower branch, was also just enough in the affirmative to override the veto.

Mitchell Reiterates Charge That Airmen Fly Flaming Coffins

Former Chief Insists There Has Been No Increase In Safety For American Fliers

U. S. Fliers Called Best In The World
Use Of DH Planes Is Criminal Neglect, Officer Declares

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Col. William Mitchell reiterated before his court martial today his charge that American aviators were flying in flaming coffins.

Resuming the witness stand for conclusion of his cross-examination at the hands of Maj. Allen Gullion, assistant trial judge advocate, the air officer insisted there had been no increase in safety for the flying men. Major Gullion developed by questioning the witness that the number of flying hours per fatality for the fiscal year 1924 was 934, while for the fiscal year 1925, the number was 5,269.

"Doesn't this prove that the safety of flying has increased from 1921 to 1925, inclusive, about 550 per cent?" Major Gullion asked.

Decrease In Safety
"It is a very misleading statement," Col. Mitchell replied. "There is no increase in safety. There is a decrease in safety. Our personnel is better trained now than it was in 1921 and flying has been much more restricted. The machines still are flaming coffins."

"Do you not know that flying in the United States is twice as safe as it is in Great Britain?" the witness was asked.

"No."
"Do you not know that flying in the United States is four times as safe as it is in Italy?"

"S. Pilots Are Best."
"Figures are twisted and misused. The best in the world. They can fly faulty machines with less danger than other pilots."

"You said in your statement of Sept. 5, that the pilots know they're going to be killed if they stay in the service, using old flaming coffins."

"I did."
"What old flaming coffins did you have reference to?"

"D.H.'s. It constitutes criminal neglect to keep using flying ships of that kind."

Col. Mitchell blamed the recent death of Captain McAvoy at Old Point, Va., who fell with a DH plane, to faulty equipment and Major Gullion produced the report of the investigation board showing that the machine was flying at a dangerously low altitude.

SANFORD LIONS' BEGIN DRIVE FOR PARK EQUIPMENT
Substantial Contributions Sent In By Civic Bodies Guarantee Success Of The Campaign Ending Saturday

Organized campaigning for the subscription of $3,000 for the purchase of playground equipment by the Lions Club began yesterday, and from the substantial contributions that are reported to have been received already, members of the committee are confident that the drive will go well over the top.

More than 2,000 has been subscribed to date, it was learned today, this sum including the $125 personally contributed by Howard Hulick.

The organization of the club members into 10 teams under the direction of Frank Talbot, chairman of the campaign is expected to result in the rapid subscription of the additional $2,000 necessary. In commenting on the benefits that Sanford will derive from the installation of dependable, modern playground equipment, Mr. Talbot declared that local parks were deplorably lacking in safe swings, see-saw boards and other equipment, and that the need for such equipment was one of the most pressing matters confronting this city, and all persons interested in the happiness and welfare of Sanford children.

The handling of the playground equipment fund will be entrusted to a joint committee composed of representatives of the various civic organizations, it was stated.

Substantial amounts are to be distributed to the fund by several civic bodies, it is announced.

The drive will terminate on Friday and while this week's operations will be confined largely to an intensive canvass of stores and business establishments, any personal contributions will be gladly received, no matter how small, Mr. Talbot stated, and those desiring to help put the campaign across are instructed to make checks payable to the Children's Playground Fund.

Canal Is Called Big Achievement For Trade Body

Secretary Pearman Hails Passage Of Act Creating Navigation District Crowns Efforts On Civic Projects

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The passage of the St. Johns Indian canal bill calling for the creation of a navigation district in Brevard and Seminole counties and the dredging of a cut extending from a point at Sanford to the east coast near Titusville caps the climax of many major improvement projects conceived and worked for by the Chamber of Commerce, Secretary R. W. Pearman Jr., declared this morning in discussing the materialization of what he described as being the most important development ever sponsored by the local commerce body.

"The passage of the canal bill is the outstanding measure that the Chamber of Commerce has been endeavoring to put across," he said.

"The municipal golf links, public library, boat basin, municipal pier, lake shore boulevard, city gas and water plants, many miles of paved streets and the general improvement of the lake shore and development of river traffic have all been either effected or provided for and the passage of the canal measure, the biggest project of the lot, comes as the last link in the Chamber of Commerce's constructive platform and makes necessary the formulation of new plans for additional and even greater improvements in years to come."

"The passage of the waterway bill marks the close of an epoch in Chamber of Commerce history here," he added, "but Sanford citizens must realize that the city's legitimate, although phenomenal development accomplished in the last few years by earnest co-operative effort represents only the beginning of road of progress that, Sanford must eventually travel under the careful guidance of the Chamber of Commerce and city administrators."

PRESENT SHIPPING BOARD POLICY IS OF TEMPORARY SERVICE, ASSERTS PLUMMER
MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 24.—(AP)—The present government merchant marine policy is in effect only one of "temporary service and eventual scrapping," Vice Chairman Plummer declared here in an address today before the convention of the Atlantic Deeper Water Ways Association whereas "a national aid policy would enable the government to realize something adequate for the sale of its active ships."

Suggesting a policy, Mr. Plummer said: "At present the shipping board is operating about one and one-half million tons of freight ships. If there were a law under which the government aid of $5 per ton per year, recommended by Roosevelt Commission report (of 1905) was being paid, this would be about seven and one-half million dollars per year, or less than the annual expense of the emergency fleet corporation which the board now employs to operate its ships."

"It would get the government out of this operating business with a knowledge that our ships in foreign trade would permanently continue and would be replaced by new and better ones as ocean ships just as those used by our coastwise fleets."

"We spent some four billion dollars in Merchant ships for the world war, most of which ships were never completed under the war was over. Senator Jones, Republican Washington, has stated that the interest on this is the equivalent of a subsidy of forty million dollars per year for one hundred years."

"If the Roosevelt commission bill had charges would not have exceeded $15,000,000 or one-tenth of the annual charge. And we would have had an ocean-going fleet privately owned."

Infant's Body Is Exhumed In Probe Of Alleged Murder

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—(P)—Exhumation of the five weeks old son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Allen, was ordered today for further examination in the investigation of its death by chloroforming the Allen suite in a northside hotel Tuesday night. Examination of the baby's brain was planned. Tests made of the vital organs have developed that the poison was administered in food. Mrs. Allen said either she or the nurse prepared the baby's food. Mrs. Allen was questioned all night by prosecutors and by Dr. Wm. O. Krohn, alienist, who testified in the Loeb-Leopold case. The inquiry was an attempt to determine her psychological make-up. Dr. Brown said. Previous to the baby's birth prosecution has learned, Mrs. Allen suffered a nervous breakdown, notwithstanding hospital treatment.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

PEACE WITH ALL MEN: Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord. Hebrews 12:14. PRAYER:—We would, O Lord, by Thy grace, exercise ourselves to live as far as possible in peace with all men.

THE HAUNTED HOUSE

We tiptoed past the lonely place— The garden called us, with its flowers. We might have lingered there for hours And not have seen a single face— We might have lingered there, scarce speaking— We might have frolicked where the grass Was high and soft, while swift to pass The wistful wind went, ever seeking. We might have heard no voice at all. No murmur of a vanished singing— There might have come no echo, springing, From a forgotten, eerie call.

And yet it was a haunted spot!

A haunted house, so people said And haunted, in our minds, meant dead— The dead that busy folk forgot! Yet once—my mother told me so— Love laughed beyond its tight closed door. Perhaps the house was lonely for The happy ghosts of long ago! —Margaret E. Sangster.

As we understand it, Colonel Mitchell is raising more Hell with the War and Navy Departments than all of the Spanish-American War.

Premier Painleve has resigned for the second time within twenty-three days. In other words just case of "skiddoo, twenty-three for you."

It may be the soft coal situation but we imagine that if President Coolidge attempts to intervene, he is going to find it a hard one to settle.

An exchange rises to inquire what do the Balkans produce? We know the answer to that one. About all the trouble that the League of Nations can handle in one year.

Anyway this man Green hasn't been so digressive ignorant about shaping that tax reduction measure and getting it ready for a speedy journey through the house and senate.

A North Carolina bishop has urged that all men wear moustaches as a mark of masculinity. That's alright, but these birds who are only able to grow two-by-four eye-brows ought to be prohibited from qualifying.

With the Mitchell court martial in session as well as the Sheppard Inquiry Board, and with Congress studying the whole situation, we take it that the air service is going to come in for about as much investigating as it is possible for one department to stand and still exist.

We knew there was a catch somewhere in this election of "Ma" Ferguson as governor of Texas. Including the one hundred she plans to pardon on Thanksgiving Day, the chief executive of the Lone Star State will run her total up to eleven hundred and twelve cases of executive clemency since entering office several months ago.

There has been a great deal of excitement stirred up because "Red" Grange has decided to play professional football. We can't see why all the argument. It's all the young man knows and if he can make a small fortune playing several games this Fall, let him do it. He has to provide for a rainy day the same as any other man and it certainly is no disgrace to play professional football and especially if you are getting something like twenty-five thousand dollars a game.

Another Great Achievement

News of the passage of the Florida Legislature of the bill providing for the construction of an inland-waterway connecting the upper St. John's with the Indian River, has been joyously received by the people of Sanford and Seminole county.

After years of strenuous efforts to make such a canal possible, those who have untiringly worked on the project are about to see their dreams realized. In the fact of almost insurmountable obstacles and many discouraging incidents, those who had the project in charge, never gave up hope of making the passageway a reality and now their efforts have been rewarded.

The construction of the canal will mean much, not only to Sanford and Seminole county but also to all of Florida, giving as it will, an outlet from this great central section to the lower east coast country. It is to be regretted that due to lack of co-operation and support by neighboring counties, Seminole and Brevard have had to shoulder the burden of the project, but passage of the bill Saturday demonstrated to the rest of the state that the people of these two counties mean business and that they intend to see the canal constructed at the earliest possible date.

With the building of the canal, we are informed that over seven hundred thousand acres of land will be reclaimed and made tillable. This fact alone is sufficient to warrant all the efforts that have been made. In addition, however, there are many other good features which must not be overlooked.

We must bear in mind that with the canal, this section will not be troubled with the river overflowing when there are excessive rains. The farmers should be interested in this feature.

Then, too, we must consider what the waterway will mean to this district from a navigation standpoint, giving an outlet, as it will, to the waters of the east coast and making it possible for yachts and other pleasure craft, as well as freight boats, to come down the beautiful St. John's River, stop at Sanford, and then cross to Titusville and down the inland waterway to the lower east coast.

Sanford people have every right to be happy over the success of the project. Many other cities in this state would give anything to be in Sanford's shoes today, as far as location is concerned. Transportation facilities of the kind that Sanford will have, are the kind that make great cities. Sanford's strategic location is making itself manifest in a strikingly convincing manner.

Developments are coming thick and fast in Sanford and Seminole county. Big capital is becoming virtually interested in this section and the possibilities for sound developments are being realized by the kind of investors who do things. Added to all that has come to pass in this county recently, the act making the construction of the canal possible, comes as an indication of further and even greater development for our community.

The Chamber of Commerce and all of those who worked so diligently on the project, merit the congratulations of all people who hope to see, at an early date, the waterway under construction.

Sanford Has Good Stores

Already Sanford people have begun their Christmas shopping, as clerks in some of the progressive stores of the city will report. Anxious to make their selections at a time when they may have the pick of large stocks, many level-headed and shrewd shoppers are doing their holiday buying before the big rush of shoppers begins.

With many of the stores now complete with heavy stocks of Christmas goods it is a simple matter to shop. After the goods have been all picked over, it may be a little more difficult. Anticipating a prosperous fall and a heavy Christmas business the merchants of the city have bought heavily of holiday goods and the end of November finds their stores well supplied and equipped to handle the biggest business in their history.

Sanford people have a right to be proud of their stores which rank favorably with those to be found anywhere in Florida. Few cities the size of Sanford can boast of nicer appearing business houses, more attractive window displays, a greater assortment of merchandise, and more courteous and willing clerks than are found here.

Frequently we have heard strangers remark on the character of our stores. They have been loud in their praises and have said that shopping here is far better than in other places and that as a rule as good a selection and as great a variety of merchandise is to be found in the stores of Sanford as is obtainable in other towns.

The Herald expects to find that this year's Christmas business will surpass all other records for volume and also that Sanford people were able to find just what they wanted in Sanford, without the necessity of sending their money out of town.

In shopping at Christmas it is well to remember that money spent at home comes back to you while that spent with the mail-order house leaves you for good.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

I once knew a colored child called "Exey" for short, whose real name was Ezeema. The mother of the unfortunate pickaninny had found the word in a patent medicine almanac and had fallen in love with it's poetic sound. I also included in my acquaintance at one time a negro youth who answered to the title of "Hallowed Harris."

"Yes, suh," stated his father on being pressed for his reason for choosing so unusual a baptismal prefix for his offspring. "I got dat name outen de Holy Bible. Don't you 'member, boss, whar it say in de Lawd's Prayer, 'Hallowe dy name?'"

But the Testamental name which struck me as being most interesting appearing, breedless, noning of all was worn by a dog—a descript rabbit dog which trailed an old ducky whom a friend of mine claims he met on a road in the dog ranget off into the thickets and his owner ordered him back.

"Did I hear you calling that dog 'Rover,' Ench?" asked my friend. "Now, suh, I called him 'Over,' which is short for 'O'over,' which it is de dawg's right name."

"Where did you get that name and why?" "For good reasons, boss," said the old man, with a chuckle. "W'en I gets dat dawg he's jent little scabby pup an' alluz 'pointin' of hisse'f wid his tongue. So I 'member whar de Good Book say, 'An' de dawg, 'O'over, licked his sores.' So I knowed den I had done hit on de right name fur dat pup of mine."

WHO AM I? EXCHANGE

I am more powerful than the combined armies of the world. I have destroyed more men than all the wars of the world.

I am more deadly than bullets and have wrecked more homes than the mightiest siege guns.

I steal in the United States alone over $3,000,000,000 each year. I spare no one and find my victims among the rich and poor alike; the young and the old; the strong and the weak; widows and orphans know me.

I loom up to such proportions that I cast my shadow over every field of labor, from the turning of the grindstone to the moving of every train.

I lurk in unseen places, and do most of my work silently.

I am relentless, I am everywhere; in the home, on the street, in the factory, at railroad crossings and on the sea.

I bring sickness, degradation and death and yet few seek to avoid me. I destroy, crush or maim; I give nothing but take all. I am your worst enemy. I am CARELESSNESS.

As Brisbane Sees It

A Wise Coolidge Word Old Adam's Grinders Go West—Raise Turkeys A No. 1 Whitewash BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1925)

THE PRESIDENT'S speech interested everybody, and after they read it brokers and buyers put the prices of stocks up. One most important truth in the speech, much older than President Coolidge or the pyramid of Europe, was this: "If you want the people to work you must give them something to work for."

THEORIES OF government are interesting. But any plan fails if it overlooks. But any plan fails if it will work well, only if you give them something to work for, and something they want to work for.

THAT IS why, for a few thousand years at least, you will not be able to make a success of communism. We are born, struggle and die as individuals. We want to make something for ourselves as individuals.

That doesn't keep us from being useful citizens. One hundred and fifteen million people working hard for themselves build up a great nation.

THE HUMAN race is fond of relics. A lock of George Washington's hair has been inherited by the Mrs. Vernon Ladies Association. In Paris they show you a precious receptacle containing the heart of Voltaire.

MARCO POLO tells how the great Khan in 1284, sent an embassy to bring back from the Island of Seilan some of the hair and teeth of Adam, and the dish from which he used to eat. They succeeded in getting part of the hair, the dish, and "two of the grinders' teeth. Who, in Eden, made the dish is not told.

THE GREAT Khan "received them with great joy and reverence. And they find it written in their scriptures that the virtue of that dish is such that if food for one man be put therein, it shall become enough for five men. And the great Khan averred that he had proved it so."

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S hair cannot work any miracles, but it is interesting to think of the lock cut from that proud fighting head.

If its owner could come back, he would be surprised to find the American nation grown from less than four millions to more than one hundred millions, actually discussing the submission of matters vitally affecting the United States to a world court established in Europe.

You can imagine what Washington, Jackson or Lincoln would have said to that world court.

IN NEW YORK, those that haven't got their millions, are gloomy about Thanksgiving. Coal costs more than one cent a pound and turkeys cost sixty cents.

As regards coal, people are at the mercy of mine owners and mine workers, our government not yet having established the fact that the welfare of the people should be the supreme law.

THE TURKEY problem might be solved if a few thousand citizens would go to turkey raising on the arid lands of the Mojave desert in California. Permanent sunshine, no rain, a patch of irrigated alfalfa for green stuff, and the insects of the desert for a meat ration, and ninety per cent of the turkeys hatched would come to market, instead of fifteen or twenty per cent as in the east.

THERE SEEMS little work left for the Shenandoah investigation now, except perhaps to proclaim that Commander Lansdowne, planning suicide, deliberately wrecked the dirigible himself. Those responsible for that tragedy are to be congratulated on a successful job of whitewashing.

Queen Alexandra, of Great Britain, is dead, and the people mourn her going. Her death is felt more keenly than would be that of the greatest statesman, or scientist in England.

Sentiment and imagination are powerful. At the news of her illness, on Thursday night, the broadcasting stations cut out their dance music programs, the orchestras playing "God save the King" instead.

IF YOU send a queen bee and some worker bees by mail and delay causes the food to give out, you may find the workers dead from hunger, but the queen will be alive, fat and cared for to the end. The workers see to that. In animals and in man there is craving and adoration for leadership—and it need not lead.

THERE'S NOTHING LIKE TRYING, ANYHOW

HOAX OR GENUINE? MACON TELEGRAPH

Edwin Markham, author of the "Man With the Hoe," and honorary president of the Poetry Society of America, has created a sensation in literary circles with his infernal charge that Nathalia Crane, the child poetess of Brooklyn, could not have written the verses that have been attributed to her—verses so fine that they won her recognition in American poetry circles and a membership in the British Society of Authors. Her poem, "The Janitor's Boy," was pronounced a rare gem.

Mr. Markham, writing in the Brooklyn Eagle under his own name said: "Unquestionably the whole thing is a general hoax fabricated, perhaps, by four young men and two young women while lingering over wine and walnuts—all of them distinguished poets with dextrous pens and all determined to break the monopoly of the hour with this delectable deception. This is a moment in merry America.

The sophisticated viewpoint on sex and on life, the special knowledge of history and archaeology, places them beyond the reach of any juvenile mind.

When Nathalia's father retorted hotly to the charge, Mr. Markham gave a statement to the New York World in which he said: "And yet, it is entirely possible that Nathalia Crane has written these poems with her own mind and pen. In that case she is the most extraordinary girl in America and I wish her good fortune on the path of the public life."

It will be recalled that the introduction to the Janitor's Boy was written by William Ross Benet, poet and literary critic of high reputation. Mr. Markham's inference was that Benet was one of those who concocted the hoax—if, indeed, a hoax has been perpetrated.

Mr. Markham has put himself into a bad mess. If he does not prove his hoax charge he lays himself liable to a charge of jealousy, from which poets have not been altogether free. If there has been in reality a hoax, it cannot fail or discover. Nathalia Crane is a living, breathing person, 12 years old, who has been interviewed by both newspaper and magazine reporters. It is inconceivable that her father and mother could lead themselves to a conspiracy which might becloud their daughter for the remainder of her life. There is no question of the cleverness of the lines attributed to Nathalia. They range from the delicious innocence of the 12-year-old child, to the sophistication of the mellow old scholar.

The Markham charge recalls that made in connection with the publication in England of "The Little Wister," a book attributed to Daisy Ashford. Because he had written the introduction, and because the book was more sophisticated than one would expect from a child of less than ten years, James M. Barrie was brought under the suspicion of having written it. Barrie vigorously denied authorship.

It is interesting, in connection with the Crane case, to find that those who create literary sensations have as their reward chiefly, the satisfaction that they have attracted notice, without any great pecuniary gain. It so happens that only last week, in a suit in court, Nathalia's father was called upon for an accounting. He presented a statement, certified by Nathalia's publisher, showing that his daughter had received only $433.40 in royalties for the Janitor's Boy. A few less than 3,000 copies of the poem were sold, despite the fact that it attracted nation-wide attention.

FIGHTING CRIME TAMPA TELEGRAPH

Too many men shirk jury duty. The shirkers are largely the most vehement hickers when a criminal is acquitted. They are largely the ones who talk loudest about crime waves. They are the persistent shouters about the "negligence of courts."

They are the ones who have an important business engagement, sick wife, or a severe headache, to offer "hill billies" knowing no law, and touched with a foolish sentimentality clog up the courts and throw a monkey-wrench into the machinery of justice.

It is more important, to prevent crime than to punish for it. To help this situation, the members of society must respond to the performance of jury duty.

Those who fail to do so have no right to complain, as they contribute to the laxity whenever it exists. Too many evade this service, and as a consequence the less capable citizens serve in a great many cases; while those who do serve have a tendency to think with their hearts rather than with their heads. This mistaken sense of sympathy causes the jury to acquit established criminals, thus giving the impression of the criminal beating the case.

The case of justice needs the thoughtful business man, who is best qualified for this form of service. There is ample provision for justice with mercy, and the Judge is best qualified to suspend sentence. Hillsborough county is making a most creditable record in law-enforcement, and yet there is much "room" for improvement, yet many think there is no "room" for anything in Tampa. Builders and men interested in law and order must give attention to their duties as relates to crime.

The courts, cannot hope to remedy a condition founded upon the sins of society itself; this must be undertaken by the social group. The officials of the courts, can only follow the letter of legal procedure, as they deal with the individual violators of the law, and their work does not bring them into the sphere where they can check the growth of criminality.

Statistics show that four-fifths of the inmates of State prisons are previous offenders. So they are not reformed by their confinement. The institutions fail in this respect, yet those in charge are capable persons and they try to reform these derelicts of society. They have not failed from lack of intelligence.

One reason for this, is that the brand of felony on the brow of the criminal prevents his economic rehabilitation, as the victim is often deprived of a fair chance to reform. The psychological tests applied to the inmates of these institutions show the average age of the males to be about 22 years, actually, but their mental development approximates that of the thirteen-year-old child; while that of the females average 20 years, actually, and their intelligence rating is equivalent to that of a child of 10 1/2 years. Therefore, we might say that these individuals have been handicapped from the necessary guidance during their tender years.

Tampa and other cities are doing good work in advancing educational causes, providing playgrounds, etc., but added advantage will come in men who are useful as leaders doing their full duty when summoned to be a part of the law's machinery.

MEMBERS OF ST. AGNES' GUILD ARE ENTERTAINED BY MRS. A. L. BETTS

The members of the St. Agnes Guild were most pleasantly entertained Monday evening by Mrs. Archie Betts at her home on Palmetto Avenue, the meeting having been arranged for the evening for the convenience of those who are busy during the day and unable to attend the afternoon meeting.

Yellow chrysanthemums and calluldas were used in the living and dining rooms. The large chery and fire on the hearth added much to the lovely setting.

A short business session was held, at which time plans were perfected for the Thanksgiving Dance to be given Thursday evening at the City Hall. Plans were also made for the Christmas Bazar to be held Dec. 1, at the Wman's Club. Several other matters of importance were discussed.

At the conclusion of business, the social hour was in order, the hostess serving sandwiches and coffee.

Members present Monday evening were: Dr. and Mrs. Mortimer Glover, Mrs. J. N. Robson, Mrs. Mildred Peabody, Mrs. Wurt Warner, Mrs. J. B. Coleman, Mrs. Chriss Matthews, Mrs. Clarke Leonard, Mrs. Howard Overlin, Mrs. R. W. Pearman, Mrs. Paul Biggers, Mrs. M. Minarik, Mrs. Osborne Williams, Mrs. C. J. Marshall, Mrs. Archie Betts and Miss Oliver.

Pipe Organ Club Is Making Plans For Christmas Bazar

A most interesting and inspiring meeting of the Pipe Organ Club of the First Baptist Church was held Monday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Forrester on the West Side, with a splendid attendance.

The home was adorned with a profusion of cut flowers and ferns.

During the business session the Christmas Bazar, which is to be held Dec. 3 and 4 at the home of Miss Martha Fox, on Oak Avenue, was discussed and plans for it perfected. All those attending the bazar will be presented an attractive souvenir.

Mrs. A. M. Phillips, president of the club, presided in her usual capable manner. Reports were read from the various committees, and each member responded to the roll call with a current event paragraph.

During the social hour a contest created much merriment after which the hostess served a dainty sweet course with coffee.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. R. Ray, 612 Palmetto Avenue.

Mayor Entertains Tallahassee Girls

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Eight young women students of Florida State College for Women from Seminole county were the dinner guests of Forrest Lake, former member of the legislature, who was in Tallahassee today.

STATE EMBARGO BEING DISCUSSED AT JACKSONVILLE

Permit System, Ways and Means To Meet Situation Being Explained To Scores Attending Today's Meeting

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 24.—(A)—Florida's general inbound freight embargo situation is being discussed and the permit system, whereby this situation is hoped to be allayed, is being explained at a meeting here today before Frank McNamany, commissioner of the Interstate Commerce body and the Florida and Georgia railroad commissions.

Commissioner McNamany, assisted by Director Bartell, service division of the commission have just completed an investigation tour of the state, Commissioner McNamany held the meeting at the request of the Georgia railroad commission.

Today's meeting was called because of the protests and the situation will be thoroughly explained. Commissioner McNamany said. Steps toward the alleviation of the situation are being taken today, too, by the carriers and shippers holding a joint session under the leadership of M. J. Gormley, car service division of the American Railway Association.

Preliminary steps looking toward the formation of a permanent body—a division of the Shippers Southern Regional Advisory Board—will be taken at the meeting this afternoon, which session was called by the American Railway Association in a determined effort to properly and thoroughly cope with Florida's congested freight traffic situation.

Representatives of the railroads, business organizations and the state railroad commission are in attendance.

The appointment this afternoon of contact and preliminary survey organization committees is the purpose of the meeting according to Danold D. Com., of Washington, manager of the public relations committee, American Railway Association.

A. G. T. Moore of New Orleans, chairman of the Southern Shippers Regional Advisory Board of which the proposed Florida organization will be a part is here to take an active part in the organization work.

The proposal as outlined by the association and which has the backing of the interstate commerce commission and other national bodies, is to be a public organization whereby the shippers and general public through contact with the rail carriers will be able to alleviate the congested situation" Mr. Conn said. "co-operation is to be the keynote of our activities, which have, I feel certain, the support of the general public."

SHIPMENTS LESS THAN CAR LOADS MAY BE BANNED

Unless Receivers Take Steps To Load As Soon As Their Orders Arrive, Action May Be Taken, Assests Expert

ORLANDO, Nov. 24.—(A)—An embargo on less than freight car loads as already in effect on the Seaboard Air Line, is almost inevitable on the Atlantic Coast Line, unless receivers take immediate steps to remove from the freight offices their shipments as quickly as they arrive. E. H. Harrison, traffic manager of the Orlando Chamber of Commerce, said in a statement last night just before leaving for Jacksonville to attend a conference with traffic men.

The meeting to be held in Jacksonville will undertake ways and means of advertising the impending clamp, he said, as well as to discuss the general carload embargo as already in effect on this

RAILROAD.

His statement follows: "The Orlando Chamber of Commerce desires to call to the attention of all receivers of car and less than carload freight, that unless cars are unloaded promptly, and less than carload shipments are removed promptly from the freight depots, Orlando and other points will suffer greatly by such neglect."

"The Seaboard Air Line has at the present time an embargo against carload and less than carload freight. While the Atlantic Coast Line has a carload embargo, they have not as yet placed an embargo on less than carload shipments."

"Receivers are urged to take steps immediately to remove from the depots all less than carload freight, as this is the only way that a less than carload embargo on the Atlantic Coast Line can be averted. The indications are that unless immediate action is taken to clear the freight depots of less than carload freight, an embargo will be placed on this class of shipments."

Now You Can Have A Dozen People For Thanksgiving Dinner

A Perfection Stove does it easily according to Mrs. J. S. Bobo, 607 S. Melville St., Tampa, Fla.

"I've cooked Thanksgiving dinner for a dozen people on a Perfection Stove and everything came out just fine."

"I've used your Perfection Stoves for some years and I now have a new four-burner. We do all our cooking on it winter and summer, including baking. It works just fine in every way, and gives me no trouble at all."

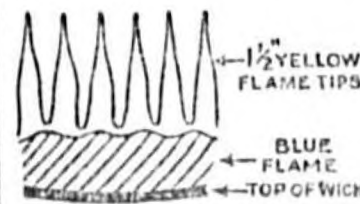

"I sure do like Perfection Stoves and wouldn't use any other kind."

Mrs. J. S. Bobo

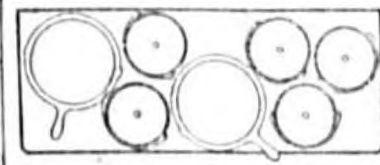

Like Mrs. Bobo, thousands of Florida housewives depend upon the Perfection Stove for both "company" and every day cooking. You, too, will find that the Perfection can be relied on to do the cooking on time with more convenience and ease than any other stove—whether it's for a small family, or a more elaborate dinner for many guests.

Just touch a match

Flame for Steaks

Cooking Surface

Perfection has a roomy cooking surface—so convenient when preparing a big meal. It is just as high as a kitchen table (32 inches). No need to break your back stooping while you cook. There is a handy base shell too, for utensils. And if you have the cabinet back you have an additional shelf on top.

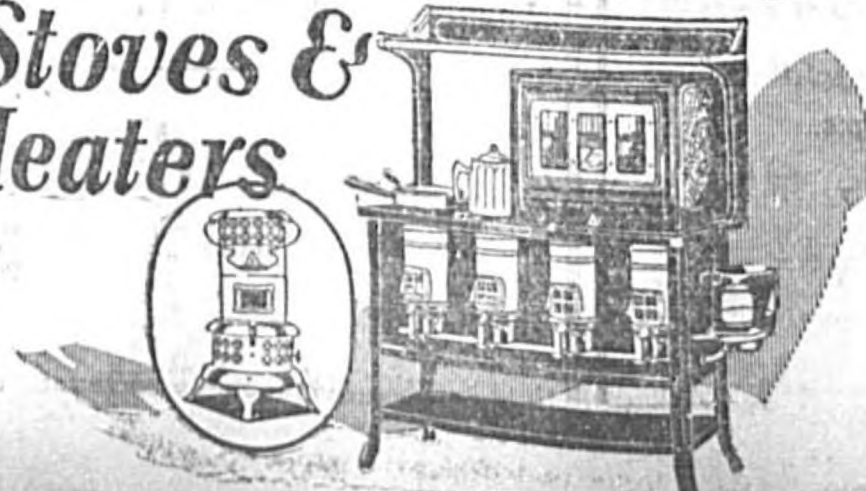

It's so easy to light the Perfection. Just touch a match to the wick. No time is wasted in heat generation. Cooking begins at once. For fuel you use only kerosene, the safe, household standby. No bothering with fussy auxiliary devices to get the stove lighted.

For the hottest flame be sure to turn the wick high enough to produce yellow tips 1 1/2 inches long above the blue flame. Each burner is independently operated and will give every range of heat—from a gentle, blue simmering flame to the very hot, yellow-tip flame for frying steak. Once you set the flame, it remains constant. You can simmer, boil, broil, bake and fry with the Perfection—all at the same time.

Perfection Stoves have many convenience-features designed to lighten your kitchen work. There are models with from one to five burners, ranging in price from $7.00 to $120.00 for special Superflex combination range with heat-retaining, built-in oven. Ask any dealer to demonstrate them. You will profit by the demonstration.

SIDELIGHTS ON LEGISLATURE

No little difficulty was experienced by the House in maintaining sufficient clerical help to take care of the "rush session" business. In addition to shortage in typists, there were also a shortage of machines the first day as some of the orders for extra machines were delayed.

Frank Wells, assistant chief clerk of the Efficiency Committee and Mr. W. R. Durman, bill clerk, were also members of the Executive Committee of Florida.

An enticing touch to the more or less colorless background of the House chamber is the numerous benches of flowers on various levels of the floor of the chamber.

With additional typewriters received, and some added typists, the work of handling and preparing bills is now going forward rapidly through the congestion.

Visitors from throughout the state are being accepted the previous of the floor of the chamber.

The first outbreak of order in the House developed when the current resolution to fix the date of adjournment Saturday, November 21, Representative Wicks of Holmes, in seeking for his amendment to amend the time, denounced hurried votes.

The press box in the House looks like a regular session as there are at least a dozen news and press association representatives on hand. Two news wires have been hooked into the United rotunda.

FATHER IS HELD WHEN 2 CHILDREN PERISH IN BLAZE

Levi Lucas Denies Stories That He Made Little Effort To Rescue Injured Wife Pretty Cousin Also Held

HINTON, W. Va., Nov. 21.—(AP)—A sensational and a little sensational story which has been circulating in connection with the burning to death of his two children and his wife, insisted that he made every effort to rescue them and that the charges against him are the results of village gossip.

The small fire which burned Saturday night and Mrs. Lucas, an invalid, was held to safety and in the home of friends here. She has made no statement.

Mrs. Lucas, a 20-year-old cousin of Lucas' wife, who has been living with her since she left her husband in Lanark, eight months ago, gave her maiden name as Mrs. Lucas.

More alert than Lucas, who is 47, was her wife, Mrs. Lucas, and she was awakened by Lucas fighting a blaze directly over the bed in which Mrs. Lucas and the children were sleeping. She asserted the curtain water in Lucas with which he tried to smother the fire.

"To my dying day I'll stick to it, it was the lamp that exploded as he started back to the sleeping room, the children and the mother were killed.

"The nearest house was a quarter of a mile from us and hidden from view by trees. We waited for some time to arrive but they came too late," Mrs. Lucas said.

It was the lamp that exploded as he started back to the sleeping room, the children and the mother were killed.

Representatives of hundreds of jobless men in the district are being taken refuge in the homes of the unemployed.

Washington And Lee To Depart For Jacksonville Today For Gator Game

LEXINGTON, Va., Nov. 21.—(AP)—Washington and Lee has only one day of practice prior to their meeting the Florida Gators in the Jacksonville, Fla., following Saturday's victory over North Carolina State. The Blue and White had held their first workout of the season Monday as the team is scheduled to leave here Tuesday morning for the sunny South.

A strenuous afternoon of practice will be completed this week, in time for the Florida-Washington game at Wilson Field from early afternoon until the dusk of evening on Saturday.

The task of playing two weeks within the space of five days, besides making such a long jaunt to a foreign field, will tax the playing ability of the Generals to the utmost.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 21.—(AP)—With Perry Flournoy's claim as high score in the Southern Florida Valley, Edgar Jones of Florida, Windy White of V. M. I. and "Blaze" Lawrence of South Carolina are doubleheaded at four goals with another game to play.

The Gator captain hosted two against the Maryland Argos in a game which he won to the level with the Flying Cadet and Gamecock figh

The Georgia Buck gained a touchdown and two extra points in the clash with Louisiana State. Edgar Jones is 20 points behind all though he gain four points by turning out of Florida's 12 to 0 victory. Saturday, his chance of overtaking the New Orleans star is less than slim.

Capacity Crowd Of 50,000 To See Red-Headed Phenomenon In Chicago Game; Pessimistic About Future

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Professional or amateur, the public was so heated up over Harold "Red" Grange's capacity crowd of 50,000 persons is assured when he makes his professional debut with the Chicago Bears in the Chicago National League Park Thanksgiving morning.

When the 25,000 reserved seats were placed on sale Saturday, lines of purchasers, each a block long, formed at 10 o'clock and were in the stadium by 11 o'clock.

The football plant is capable of seating 15,000 spectators, and admission reports from Jacksonville indicate to the effect that an overflow crowd is expected to witness the Turkey day battle. It will end at four o'clock and see the conference standing.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 21.—(AP)—Harold "Red" Grange's example in leaving college to become a professional football player is becoming a menace to the college ball crowd of Ohio State University, declared in an address here today.

Dr. Wiles did not mention Grange by name. Referring to a question in his opinion regarding the gridiron star, he said that the football promoter has placed square ball promoters in the line of professional athletes.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Western and athletic officials are not approving of the action of Harold "Red" Grange in signing to play professional football, but Grange's home town folks in Wheaton are tickled to hear of his professional outlook.

The man who grew up with him and now works in the garage at Wheaton opens their eyes when they hear that Grange probably will get $20,000 for playing one football game during his stay in America.

NEW COUNTY AND AIRCRAFT BILLS PASSED IN HOUSE

Part of Alachua County Will Be Cut Off And Named Gilchrist In Honor Former Gov. Albert W. Gilchrist

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Without a dissenting vote the senate aircraft regulating and licensing bill amended to exempt privately owned and operated aircraft from its provisions, passed the house today. The house bill to create a new county from a part of Alachua county passed the senate amended to name the county Gilchrist instead of "Melon" as provided in the original bill.

Representative McElya of Dade county offered the amendment to the aircraft exempting private aircraft for its provisions and the amendment without discussion passed unanimously. Other minor amendments were also adopted.

The bill creating Gilchrist county had previously passed the senate but because of not polling the necessary two thirds vote the presiding officer ruled that it had been defeated. On motion to reconsider the bill was favorably voted on.

Representative Davis' bill, introduced in the house in recommendation of Gov. Martin, to simplify the procedure to quiet title on being called for consideration provoked short debate representative Savage of Marion opposing its passage on the floor of the house. It was passed with only two dissenting votes, the poll showing 81 ayes and 2 nays.

The house has before it for consideration of the bill by representative Taylor of Highlands the "search and seizure" measure recommended by the governor with debate on its passage looming. For the first time since the special session of the legislature convened last Tuesday, the question of overruling the governor's veto of a bill proposed at the last regular session, came up this morning.

After a lengthy discussion of the bill, senator Watson asked that it be informally postponed until he could obtain a statement from the internal improvement committee that annexation of the land by Miami would be approved by that body.

Freight Embargos Swamping U.S. Mail Shipments, Report

ORLANDO, Nov. 24.—(AP)—A truck load of automobile tires, one dozen big easy chairs and a beautiful supply of hat boxes are among the numerous things now being received through the mails of the local post office as a result of the freight embargo, according to Miss Claudia DeLaney, postmistress.

"The embargo on freight is making the parcel post business very congested in Florida," said Miss DeLaney. "The department has been very generous in giving Orlando help, but crowded conditions by the office cause a serious handicap."

"Wholesale dealers are shipping the largest consignments of commodities possible through the mails because of the embargo. Things that never went through the mails before are now following that channel of transportation."

Miss DeLaney stated that the post office had been increased by five men since the last part of October and that six more would be transferred from northern offices as soon as possible. Many are taking the opportunity to come south, but this number is not sufficient to care for the handling of southern mails inflated by the embargo.

"Our greatest handicap," says Miss DeLaney, "are the delayed trains. Often the clerks have finished their tour of duty before the trains arrive and considerable overtime is required. Mail that en arrives after the departure of an arrives after the departure of the carriers for their routes."

A CAT BATH

HON. ED. WATSON, Care Seminole Hotel-Exc. Co., Sanford, Fla.
Dear Ed:
Among the pleasures of home life which must be listed along with hanging pictures, and grating coconuts, is giving the cat a bath.

had added a white cat to our household worries and complications. Then it was that I learned that a cat keeps itself about as clean as the inside of a chimney after a hard winter.

In fact, our pretty white cat changed color on us. It got so dirty that it was positively unattractive. If it had been a black cat, it would have been all right, because the dirt would not show and what you don't know don't cause you any worry.

Orders came down from headquarters in the family organization that I was to assist in washing the cat on the first evening I had had for a quiet rest at home in three months. I was to have a very easy job. All I had to do was to hold the cat while the boss of the works did the washing.

Did you ever try to hold a soapy, slippery cat that had gotten mad and that had its eyes full of flea soap besides? Compared with such a slimy, squirming piece of animation the fabled ell is as a piece of rough sandpaper.

The first thing I knew, that cat had scratched my hand, bitten the other and slipped out of my grasp and was perched up on top of my head shaking the soap suds off and down the back of my neck. Cats certainly are unreasonable. There

I was trying to save that cat yards of licking, and the cat didn't appreciate it a bit.

This truly unique blend cannot be copied - or even imitated

The taste you find here you can't find elsewhere

THERE are forty-odd steps in the making of the Chesterfield blend; change any one and you change the taste—it is no longer Chesterfield.

More complicated than the average, to be sure; it is no job at all to produce a standardized cigarette of the average sort—and if good tobaccos are used, the result will be reasonably pleasing, too.

It is when you depart from the commonplace that difficulties enter—particularly when, as in Chesterfield, it is required that the full tobacco character be retained. For it is not enough then to use standard methods, nor even to average up crops from year to year to maintain tobacco uniformity. That spicy, rich mildness and that satisfying fullness which distinguish

Chesterfield are secured by the most exacting balancing of one tobacco against another, to tone down heaviness or over-richness, and to bring out in fullest measure those subtle "over-tones" which set it apart so definitely from all other cigarettes.

The natural methods by which this "balance" is achieved are unique—as distinctive in their field as is the technique or phrasing of a master pianist in his, and equally the result of long practice and thorough knowledge. And when we say that the Chesterfield blend cannot be copied, we mean it literally—not because it is patented or legally protected, nor even because it is a secret closely held, but because without detailed knowledge of every step, the rare delicacy of the tobaccos themselves is inevitably lost.

No—there is only one cigarette that combines so fully the aroma of Turkish and the "body" of Domestic tobaccos; there is only one blend of which men say, "They're mild—and yet they satisfy!" For men who want natural tobacco taste at its smooth and mellow best, there is only one cigarette—and that cigarette is Chesterfield.
