Stray Animals Pose A Threat In Region

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

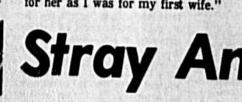

NEWS ITEM; New York - A mother who left her five-day-old daughter alone with a starving German Shepherd while she went to get money for food returned to find the baby dead, partially eaten by the dog.

Can it happen here? Seminole Anima Control Officer Bruce Clark says "yes." It can, he warns, unless something is done to halt the spread of pets without owners. And, out at the animal control center at Five Points, Clark and his workers kill 500 cats and dogs a month because the animals have no owners. Many of the animals, Clark says, are picked up off the streets, or, in some cases, the owner realizes he can't afford to feed the dog or cat so he brings the animal in for the final coup-de-grace.

"I wish some of them (former owners) would come out here and watch me put the pets down," Clark says bitterly. He blames the current animal problem on "irresponsible ewnership" and says if humans aren't careful the problem of stray dogs and cats on the streets will be "out of control."

B1 Fate Depends On Election

WASHINGTON (AP) - The fate of the BI bomber, the plane the U.S. military hopes will replace the B52, apparently rests on the outcome of November's presidential election. In approving a record $104.3 billion defense bill Thursday, the House of Representatives voted to withhold full-production money for the B1, leaving the option to scrap further production for Jimmy Carter if he is elected. The Democratic candidate has criticized the plane, indicating that if elected he would cut off production. President Ford has said he favors full production. The House approved the defense-financing bill in a 328-45 vote. The bill now goes to the Senate for final approval. Under a House-Senate compromise, the measure will allow present B1 work to continue at $87 million a month. But it puts the clamps on fullproduction spending until next

Marshal Saved Sirica's Life

WASHINGTON (AP) - John J. Sirica, the Watergate judge, remembers that it was only ce, last-minute invitation that a deputy U.S. marshal was on hand to save his life when Sirica was struck by a heart attack last Feb. 5. There is little else that Sirica recalls about that day seven months ago when he dropped to the floor while giving a speech to a law school alumni group. "That's a complete blank in my mind, even now," Sirica said of the hour leading up to the heart attack and the desperate, successful efforts to save his life. Sirica, 72, returned to work at the federal court house last week after an extended recovery at home. In the months after the attack, he found it an exhausting task to walk from one room to another. Now he has resumed a decades-old regimen of walking three to five miles daily.

Lawmakers Sign Ethics Code

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sixty congressmen are committing themselves to a code that bans job discrimination in their Capitol Hill offices in an unprecedented reaction to the Wayne Hays sex-payroll scandal. The semembers helped elect a six-member committee Thursday to oversee their commitment and to handle any grievances filed against them by their employes. The code binds only 60 of the 435 members of the House of Representatives. It affects only the staffs of those 60 members or committee employes they control. There is no machinery to penalize any member who violates the code, aside from peer pressure.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

'Homes For You' Panel Will Promote Bill Approval

TALLAHASSEE (AP) - "The people have an opportunity to kill two birds with one stone," says Gov. Reubin Askew. "They have an opportunity to build houses for our people and an apportunity to provide jobs." He announced Thursday the formation of a "Homes for You" committee to promote voter approval of the housing finance constitutional amendment at the Nov. 2 general election. The governor said he will mount similar campaigns in behalf of an amendment for merit retention of judges and the full disclosure Sunshine Amendment that he put on the ballot with more than 200,000 petition signatures.

Ballot Gets Third Contender

TALLAHASSEE (AP) - A' third presidential candidate has won a position on Florida's November general-election ballot. and a fourth contender hopes to elbow in under a court order.

State election officials certified Thursday that the American party has submitted enough petition signatures to earn a ballot spot. Its candidate, columnist Tom Anderson of Pigeon Forge, Tenn., will join President Ford and Jimmy Carter on the ballot.

Oil Suit Dismissal Weighed

TALLAHASSEE (AP) - A circuit judge is considering a state request that he dismiss a suit by seven oil companies seeking to block antitrust action brought against them by Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Syd McKenzie argued Thursday before Leon Circuit Judge Donald O. Hartwell that the suit should be thrown out because a federal appeals court had already uled in Shevin's favor

Comptroller To Probe HRS

TALLAHASSEE (AP) - The massive Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, sharply criticized recently by lawmakers, has come under attack from a new source - Comptroller Gerald Lewis.

Lewis said Thursday his office was launching a full-scale probe of HRS leasing practices after his auditors discovered the agency had paid more than $24,000 for vacant space.

New Korea Crisis Likely

Could a tree-pruning incident in Korea begin another war is a question being asked frequently as military forces from the United States and South Korea confront North Koreans across the 38th parallel. The answer is probably not, but it just might prune some Americans from Asia if the Communists play their cards right and if we don't.

So far as recent history goes, the watershed at which we are arriving in Korea dates back to American withdrawal from South Vietnam in 1973 and more recently the departure of the last U.S. advisory mission from Thailand. That leaves the Americans in South Korea as the only Western troops on the Asian mainland, bringing them squarely into the sights of China and its satellite North Korea.

"forts to dislocate the Americans have persisted constantly since the two Koreas were established in 1953. They have not been successful for several reasons. For one thing Americans in general were not in a mood to do any more retreating after the traumatic blow to our pride in Vietnam. For another the United States has had a series of strong, defense and foreign policyoriented presidents since Harry Truman ordered American troops into Korea, From Mr. Truman to President Ford the chief executives understood and understand the strategic value of Korea and the need to exercise American power judiciously to protect American and Free World interests.

The tree pruning incidents exhibit that the Communists see a different America today. A broad streak of isolationism exists in Congress - a belief that the extension of American power abroad under any circumstances is immoral. And, viewing the American political polls, the Communists probably conclude that the person they believe will be the next president is amenable to the withdrawal of American troops everywhere. In short, Communist China and North Korea are striking Instead, he came out, after his nomination, in the when the iron is hot.

The Korean confrontation poses a number of agonizing questions for the United States, regar-dless of who occupies the Oval Office after Jan. 20.

We cannot believe that the Communists are at all intimidated by our show of force - the appearance of the conventionally-powered carrier Midway and a few squadrons of aircraft. North Koreans ignored a much more powerful task force that included the nuclear carrier Enterprise after they killed two American officers and seized the Pueblo eight years ago. The North Koreans probably welcome our show of force because they are using it to propagandize to the world that we are about to start a war.

A somewhat opposite thought should be troubling Americans. It is whether there are any circumstances under which the United States would intervene against still opposition to protect American lives, property and interests abroad.

Ireland's Future

British warnings that six-year-old children may have to be arrested in Northern Ireland to prevent them from being injured adds another grim footnote to an already impossible situation. The children are stoning troops in Catholic sections of Belfast. British officers are afraid that they may be injured by rubber bullets if soldiers respond - or that they could be run over if the driver of a stoned vehicle loses control.

Since the outbreak of the terrorist activities in Ireland in 1969 a total of 1,558 persons have been killed. Many of the victims have been innocent children. More than 10,000 women rallied recently in Belfast to protest the wanton killing of their children. The victims have included one infant of six weeks, another two years old and one eight - all from the same family. They were run over and killed by an automobile occupied by two Irish Republican Army members fleeing from police. Inbred hatred between Protestants and Catholics in Northern Ireland has festered too long. And, as news accounts continue to show, many perpetrators of violence are pre-teenagers, obviously inspired by elders who will not abandon a Hatfield-McCoy logic. It is time for the Irish to reflect deeply. If they do they will see that the real losers are their children. That alone is reason enough for the legacy of hate to end.

RAY CROMLEY New' Ford Comes Out Slugging

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - For some time it has semed that President Gerald Ford had begun to elieve those who said he was a caretaker resident who arrived in his office by a one-in-asand accident. That changed the other night when he won - narrowly to be sure, but won what may have been the most difficult campaign of his career, against Ronald Reagan, possi the ablest campaigner in the United States today, and John Sears, probably the ablest political manager around.

Jerry Ford became overnight a tiger, if you can picture an amiable tiger. No longer was this a Mr. Ford with President Truman as his idol. This was Harry Truman running against the formidable Tom Dewey, disastrous polls, newspaper headlines and all - Tom Dewey the unbeatable. Mr. Ford knew all too well that veteran political observers were saying that it did not matter who the Republicans nominated, Carter had the election in the bag.

This Ford overruled advisers who warned against debating the formidable Jimmy Carter. and ignored those counselors who recommended he give up campaigning so far as possible and stick close to the White House and his day-to-day presidential duties. His dullness, their data roughest public political speech this mild- JOHN CUNNIFF mannered man has to my knowledge made in his two years as president.

when it was a minor miracle for a rocket to leave its launching pad successfully. So far have we come in two short decades that the technological fest of sending a complex array of instruments across hundreds of millions of miles of space to land on another planet is taken for granted.

But that is the way it has always been When Orville Wright roared 120 feet in 1903 is the first powered aircraft, that was a miracle. Today, the daily transoceanic flights of sleek jets transporting thousands of people is routine. When Russia orbited the first artificial satellite in 1957, that was a miracle. They start playing high school football for keeps tonight and all six Seminole County teams see action this weekend. There are five games on tap tonight - Oak Ridge at Lyman, Seminole at Spruce Creek (in New Smyrna Beach), Rockledge at Oviedo, Lake Howell at Mount Dora and Lake Brantley at Apopka. Saturday afternoon Orlando Tabernacle helps Trinity Prep open the season. With little doubt, the Oak Ridge-Lyman game is of the most magnitude. Oak Ridge is ranked third in the state and features Cyril Wyatt, a speedster of track merit in world class times.

"I just hope we can keep it close," deadpanned Dick Copeland this week. The Greyhound mentor hasn't given up before the opening whistle, but what success he thinks his team can muster against the defensively powerful Pioneers, he is keeping in the huddle. Lyman's offense is sperked by quarterback Bob Burkhart, running backs Wyman Jackson and Ben Ansley plus receivers Stan Blalabanski and Danny Williams. The defense is keyed by by linebackers Steve Mulligan and Larry Clark. Seminole is hoping to put the pinch on Spruce Creek.

Defensive ends Charles Riggins and Greg Pringle are the key. Offensively, quarterback John Litton makes his varsity debut as a starter, although he saw considerable duty last year. Nate Washington, Jeff Anderson and Donnell Gilchrist round out the backfield starters.

"We don't know what to expect from them," said Seminoles coach Jerry Posey. "We are going into the game blind, and they know a lot about us." Oviedo hopes to spring a shocker on Rockledge. The Lions have revamped their attack, which features Mike people had such heartache. Well I sure did have a bad time of it. No doctor came to houses. Hospitals wouldn't take any more patients. Relatives and friends didn't go near each other. We didn't have pain pills in those days. It was castor oil, baking soda, electric oil, campherated oil, even coal oil. I am told I was out of my head. One of my uncles left a bottle of dark rum, heavy kind, on the step. My grandfather had to look after me and grandma, medicine. He took heavy old-fashioned molasses and put the fashioned molasses and put the rum in it. He put some in a cup of hot water and it really made and making breathing easier. Supportive care in terms of adequate fluids and nourishment is the best that can be offered. The rest of the treatment is for complications. Bacterial complications, such as some pneumonias, can be treated and that will help a lot if there is a worldwide epidemic. Local Official Didn't Register; Forfeited Office By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

Longwood Council Chairman J.R. Grant forfeited his office on the city's governing body when his name was purged from the oter rolls some nine months ago, according to the city charter. But he can apparently restore his status on the council merely by re-registering.

Attorneys say only the courts can determine the legality of actions taken by Grant during the period he has been unqualified to hold public office in Longwood.

Grant was denied the right to vote Tuesday when he showed up at precinct 33 - Longwood city hall - and it was discovered that his name was purged from the voter rolls last January after he failed to return a card keeping his registration in effect Seminole Supervisor of Elections Camilla Bruce's office.

The city charter as amended in 1969 - Chapter 69-1266 - section 11 reads: "No person shall be entitled to become a qualified voter of the City of Longwood, Florida, except such as are qualified to vote under the general election laws of the State of Florida. . .

Sudden Pals: Carter And Askew

JACKSONVILLE (AP) - Just months ago, Jimmy Carter and Gov. Reubin Askew were in a long-standing feud. Now they have become "personal friends" to head a big show of unity for the Democratic presidential nominee.

"In a free-wheeling Democratic party there is plenty of room for a difference of opinion," Carter told a reception here Friday. "But there was never any personal difference between me and Reubin "Reubin has been a personal friend ever since I've known him," Carter said as he ended his first full week of the fall campaign.

Askew, whose differences with Carter dated back several years, had supported Washington Sen. Henry Jackson for president after Carter won Florida's March 9 presidential primary. Askew had remained neutral in the primary balloting.

Askew later patched up his rift with Carter when it became apparent the former Georgia governor would take the Democratic nomination. "We are not looking back," Askew told the Carter president. He added: "It's the most united Democratic party I have ever seen in Florida. I'm confident Florida will go for Jimmy Carter by a big margin." Several antiabortion demonstrators were on hand when Carter pulled up for the reception. He walked over to them, said hello and shook hands. At the reception, Askew was joined by Secretary of State Bruce Smathers, Comptroller Gerald Lewis, Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner and Education Commissioner Ralph Turlington. The Democratic nominee went from the quiet reception of about 60 select people to a shouting cheering rally of about 3,000 persons at a Jacksonville shopping center. Carter concentrated primarily on economic issues as he did earlier in the day at a union convention in Hollywood.

Holding up a large board covered with clothes, Carter compared the prices of the items at the time told Ford had declined an invitation to appear.

Something has got to change. Of that one fact, all South Africans are in agreement. But what, and when, and how? The country's infamous policy of apartheid (racial segregation) is what must change. It is a policy of white supremacy which evolved over a period of some 300 years. Time is running out in South Africa. It is probably realistic to say that it is in its eleventh hour. But how can an entire society be restructured in a matter of months - a couple of years at most -

That is the question which has the entire nation in agony. The blacks are at the end of their tether. The camel's back This policy, which denies the most basic human rights to the has broken.
