Elusive Burglar Escapes Police

An elusive thief caught in the act of stealing a television set after first smashing a glass window at the Sanford Firestone Store, 601 W. First Street, early today, managed to escape, but police forced him to leave his prize.

According to police reports, a male using a large concrete block broke the plate glass display window at the tire store and took a portable TV at 3 a.m. today.

The burglary was witnessed by a neighbor living in the area of the store, who called police.

Authorities arrived seconds later and Sgt. Richard Nooney, Patrolmen Robert Bernosky and John Petrovic quickly surrounded the store. Sgt. Nooney observed a man dropping a TV set and escaping into the wooded area at Third Street and Cedar Avenue. Efforts to locate the thief were unsuccessful, but the store's property was recovered intact. Detective Roy Williams said today fingerprints had been removed from the TV set.

In another city report relayed from county authorities, a compact car containing two "clean cut" nude males was observed in the Sunland Estates area last night.

According to the report, the undetected young men attempted to enter two Sunland girls into their car, but left the area when the girls refused.

A subsequent call by the girls alerted police and county authorities and the car was found by Lt. W. W. Smith at the Royal Castle Drive-In restaurant.

Police records disclosed the two juveniles were approached by police, but no arrests were made after the charges were dropped. Police reports state the complainant left the sheriff's office in such a hurry that a name was not obtained.

Perfect example of how many laws are enacted... AND THEN COMPLETELY FORGOTTEN, the least of which are in crime enforcement, these days.

But, back on July 17th, 1959, the 86th Congress enacted into Public Law 86-90, Recognition for Captured Nations.

But, you didn't see word one about this law three weeks ago, and yet Congress said that on each anniversary of that date there should be appropriate displays, etc. for the more than 24 captured nations presently under the Communist rule.

Oh, well, we have over 2,000 laws on the books pertaining to guns and criminals... and yet we don't see the crime rate diminishing, do we?

Well, you asked for it... now we'll see whether or not the need was actually there in the first place.

Remember how we were talking about Yellow Cab and etc.?

Starting on Sept. 1 it'll be 24 hours each day... just keep those cards and letters coming, folks.

Signs of the Times... When was the last time you can remember of any state having eight candidates for the office of Governor?

Hear about the newest "Mr. Clean" in the country? His name is Joseph P. Vigorito, Democratic Representative from Penna. who has proposed a ban of all "throwaway" bottles and cans in a bill which he introduced in the House.

Vigorito's bill would provide fines up to $1,000 or six months imprisonment for those who violate its prohibition.

The Herald learned at press time today that Seminole County Sheriff John Polk will appeal his proposed budget for 1971.

It was also learned that the appeal will be filed before Monday. This means that Polk will be taking his budget before state authorities in Tallahassee for review.

Court Action Coming
Who's At Fault... City Or Harbour?

City Attorney William Hutchison told The Herald today that Sanford would file for declaratory relief in the city.

Monroe Harbours Inc., hassle over who is responsible for replacing 100 sunken or damaged concrete floating docks at the municipally-owned marina. If the lessee (Monroe Harbours Inc.) did not do it first.

The city attorney said the court action would be filed in order to determine who is responsible under the lease to make repairs to the west side of the marina dock area, where nine months ago the piers started sinking.

Hutchison said there would be no efforts to terminate the lease of the city-financed facility to Monroe Harbours, Inc., but only to determine who is liable to make repairs according to the lease arrangement.

Monroe Harbours Inc., in a prepared news release yesterday by Harold Slama, lessee, official, outlined his firm's contention that Sanford was responsible under the lease since the lease contained an agreement whereby the city would be liable until 1977 for making repairs to all floating docks.

Hutchison said he was unable to take any actions until the next city commission meeting Aug. 10, at which time the commission will consider the situation that arose after talks between the two sides reached an impasse over restoration of the damaged docks.

Hutchison said the lessee wanted city to do something illegal in that city could not allow borrowing money from local banks to restore and expand the docks and then sue the city to be liable in case Monroe Harbours did not or could not abide by an agreement to make the loan payments over a long term loan.

Monroe Harbours wanted the city to get the loan since a municipality can borrow money at less interest than a business firm, but the lessee had indicated it would be responsible for repayment of the loan.

Hutchison said the talks between city and the lessee reached an impasse because city wanted Ashland Oil Company, which owns 80 per cent of Monroe Harbours and Co. to be liable for the loan repayment. Instead of Monroe Harbours, Inc.

City Commission has considered that the issue was responsible for the docks sinking because of poor maintenance procedure and Monroe Harbours Inc. has blamed the city for failure to construct break-water to protect the west marina to offset the heavy wave actions.

A HEAVY DELUGE in the Sanford area yesterday flooded a number of the streets, creating miniature bathing and splashing areas for youngsters.

Fourteen Cases Set For Month

Fourteen cases are scheduled for trial the week of August 9 in Circuit Court before Judge William Akridge.

On the docket are: Georgean Proulx charged with possession of stolen traps; and Jesse Mitchell charged with possession of narcotics; Bill Haxmonck charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony; Willie Mayes, assault with intent to commit a felony; Duane Patton, resisting arrest with violence; Evans Pringle, non support; Eugene Greenleaf, robbery; Ben Pusley and Abraham Strasser, robbery; Harry Covington, incest; Leroy Davison and Lasalle Demston, worthless check; David Moore, breaking and entering with intent to commit a misdemeanor.

The venire for summoned for the trials include 56 persons: James Jackson, Buford Brown, George O'Brien, Juanita Gibbs, Clyde Whitehead, Jean Hughes, David Marvin, Edythe Wright, Willie Williams, Bert Zimmer, Kathryn Lawton, Maxine Topkins, Joseph Durigan, Frank and "their dog." Unfortunately, more than a few motorists stalled their autos while trying to get to their homes through the flooded streets.

Cabinet Invited

By BILL SCOTT
Fresh from a partial victory in delaying the selection of a State Police Academy for 30 days, a group of Seminole County citizens will meet Monday to discuss inviting members of the State Cabinet to visit Sanford and meet some of their constituents as well as become more familiar with the potential of the Sanford Airport's Building

Leaders Meet On Police Site

By BILL SCOTT
A delegation of Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore, Sheriff John Polk, David F. Kelley, Sanford Industrial Commission director and Rep. E. Pope Bassett of the Orange-Seminole Legislative Delegation attended a State Cabinet meeting at Tallahassee Tuesday and labored hard and long to persuade the cabinet members to select the airport facility for the much needed school.

Merger Slated Between County Schooling Units

By CHARNER LEONE
A merger was voted last night that will unite the two Seminole County facilities for handicapped — mentally, emotionally, and physically — children.

The Little Red School House and the Very Important Children pre-school facility which is sponsored by the Seminole County Association for Retarded Children will become one unit; the Little Red School House of the Seminole County Association for Retarded Children, Inc.

"The pooling of interests by the two established facilities will avoid duplication of effort," explained James Ryan, president of the Association for Retarded Children. "We will be able now to give even better service to the children of the county who need our help."

Ryan spoke to the officers and board members of the Little Red School House last night at their board meeting at the School House, on the corner of Magnolia and E. 16th Street.

A meeting has been called by William Reek, president of the LRSH, for August 19 to elect a new slate of officers that will serve the new facility.

The new, united, school will operate from the present LRSH facility.

The merger will bring to the "new" LRSH the substantial financial backing which the Seminole County Association for Retarded Children has obtained from state and federal sources.

Commission Directs Its Efforts To State Cabinet

The Sanford Industrial Commission (SIC) meeting today was concerned mostly with the acquisition of the State Police Academy for the Sanford Airport.

David Kelley, SIC director, gave a report on the State Cabinet meeting Tuesday at Tallahassee where a presentation was made by city and county officials attempting to persuade the high state body to lease a million dollar airport barracks building for the state training school.

Commission Refused Help Nerve Gas Now A Greater Danger

By GREGG HERRINGTON
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon decided to bury nerve gas on the ocean floor and risk damaging the environment — chiefly because of adamant AEC reasons for refusing to destroy gas under the Nevada desert, congressional testimony indicates.

The Army plans to dump the gas—stored in 41 steel-jacketed concrete casks of 30 rockets each—into the Atlantic Ocean next week. Three days of Senate and House subcommittee hearings on the plan were ended Tuesday.

The decision, the AEC official said Wednesday, was based on safety, public relations aspects of such a project, and current AEC operations.

The President's Council on Environmental Quality, told the Senate panel one dumping alternative is to dump the gas in the ocean. The AEC official said the gas is so toxic that it could explode inside the casks.

Negotiations Underway 'Boob Tube' Viewers To See Less Golf?

By WILL GRIMSEY
AP Special Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP) — One television network reported today it will reduce its golf coverage in 1971 because of tight money and slackening interest while another network said it felt golf had stabilized as a TV attraction.

However, Joseph C. Day, Jr., commissioner of the PGA Tournament Players Division, assured the millions of arm-chair viewers that there would be no reduction in screened tournaments next year.

"We are in the process of negotiating contracts," Day said. "I feel certain we will have as many televised tournaments in 1971 as we had in 1970, perhaps even more."

Twenty-three tournaments were televised last year, plus the Masters, U.S. and British Opens.

Of these, the American Broadcasting Company presented 13, including the two Opens, and a spokesman said ratings were above those of the previous year.

"Through May, our ratings were 34 per cent higher," the ABC source said. "In fact, we have reached the maximum audience score of 11.2, which means we reached 6 1/2 million homes per average minute."

Tom Calhoun, vice-president of Hughes Sports Network, which underwrites several tournaments, said "We will do our best to expand its limited ventures into the sport."

"We haven't experienced a lull but we feel that golf as a television attraction has stabilized," the representative said.

"We have reached the maximum audience score of 11.2, which means we reached 6 1/2 million homes per average minute."

The Shell Oil Company has dropped a filmed golf feature which runs for nine years—the Shell Wonderful World of Golf.

"We embarked on the golf project with a target in mind," said J.A. Nave, manager of agency relations for Shell. "We found we were reaching about 10 million people."

"For the amount of money that had to be spent, we felt we had reached out to a larger audience. So we have jumped into ecology, environment, minority affairs, areas that interest more people."

Mets Slip By Cards; Pittsburgh Still Leads

Motorcycles Increasing

By BOB COCHRAN
NEW YORK — (NEA) — There is a chap of some renown in this city called Robert Metz who by day is a mild-mannered financial columnist for the New York Times, a newspaper of some renown.

Metz is a slight, pleasant fellow of distinguished mien, favoring the button-down raiment of the Times and Wall Street colleagues.

On weekends, however, this quiet scribbler repairs to his country home in Pennsylvania not for a round of croquet on the lawn, not for a sail on the lake, not even to take his ease with his devoted wife and loving children. Robert Metz owns—and evidently loves—a motorcycle.

"I've wanted to own one for years," he says, as his eyes glaze and his voice changes to the rhapsodic sing-song of an excited man. "While I was in college I traveled everywhere on my thumb. This bike is a good substitute for everything that sense of adventure and pure freedom."

"It's an extension of the cowboy spirit, a release from everything that's not simply an other means of transportation."

"There is something strangely hypnotic about them, something like the skiing or surfing and soar forward with an inviolable sense of power and exhilaration." Yes, he has seen "Easy Rider" three times. "The film does capture the feeling," he says.

Metz is by no means alone in his love. There are more than 2.2 million motorcycles now registered in the United States. In 1969, bikes were estimated to be at $600 million business and according to Peter Thornton, president of the Birmingham Small Arms Company, U.S. (BSA, Triumph) "if the industry maintains the present growth rate, sales may well approach the $1 billion mark in 1970."

And the industry need no longer apologize for the Hell's Angels types who happen to like bikes. Thornton points out that the average owner of a Triumph motorcycle is 27 and makes $14,000.

Thornton is an MIT graduate, a former automobile executive and professional manager who does not have engine grease under his nails, thus eliminating another image. "Motorcycles are not simply an other means of transportation," he says. "There is something strangely hypnotic about them, something like the skiing or surfing and soar forward with an inviolable sense of power and exhilaration."

Metz is by no means alone in his love. There are more than 2.2 million motorcycles now registered in the United States. In 1969, bikes were estimated to be at $600 million business and according to Peter Thornton, president of the Birmingham Small Arms Company, U.S. (BSA, Triumph) "if the industry maintains the present growth rate, sales may well approach the $1 billion mark in 1970."

Lynch Is Top Softball Pitcher

By LEE MULLER
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Many times, says Joe D. Lynch, he has sat alone in his office at Howesfield Plumbing, Inc. in Largo, Fla., and wished things had been different.

"It's too bad softball isn't the national pastime instead of baseball," he muses. "I've won 35 or 40 games each of the last 10 years. I wish I could have done as well in baseball. It would have been a little more, um, profitable."

At 28, Joe Lynch may be the best softball pitcher on earth. He has lost count of his no-hitters. Three times in the last seven years he has struck out all 21 batters in a seven-inning game. Now a member of the Clearwater, Fla., bombers (one-time national champions), Lynch pitched the Aurora, Ill. Sealmasters to a national title in 1965.

Softball, however, is an amateur sport, so about all Joe Lynch has gotten for his accomplishment has been a big muscle.

"His right arm is about twice as big-up in the muscle—as his left arm," says his wife. "It comes from all that throwing. I guess."

Mrs. Lynch is correct. Softball pitching, as it happens, is the most natural way to throw a ball: Underarm or, if you're not covered with the legal technicalities, underhanded.

"The arm has really built up over the years," Lynch said. "The natural movement of the arm strengthens it with every pitch."

Every softball pitcher has uncommon longevity. Most are effective into their 40s. A man named Eddie Feigner, nearing 50, is still so good his four-man team regularly beats nine-man teams.

Lynch is a husky 6-foot-3 and a fine example of why baseball and not softball, is the national pastime. He stands 46 feet from home plate, whips the right arm in windmill fashion and fires a pitch that rises about 18 inches at a speed of nearly 110 miles an hour. That's about all the action there is to good softball, unless you're watching streak-necked victims kick water coolers.

Quite recently, Lynch pitched for the national all-star team in an exhibition against the defending national champion, Raybestos. The game was stopped after 16 innings at 1:30 a.m., locked in a scoreless tie.

The longest I ever went was 28 innings when I was in the Navy," Lynch said. "That one was a scoreless tie, too."

Unlike most of the better softball teams around the nation, the Clearwater Bombers are not sponsored by an industrial company. But Lynch says a good softball pitcher can usually depend on industry for employment.

As I See It!

by Gary Taylor

"Well, I'm back. The big city of Atlanta couldn't keep me. No kidding, it's really great to be back in nice quiet Sanford. The traffic and crowds were terrible in Atlanta, but the baseball was dandy."

"The biggest thrill was being able to go down in the dressing room before and after each game and talk with all the players. It's really amazing how 'human' these fellows are when they are in the dressing room."

"Of course, I already knew Hal King, and he seemed so pleased to have someone from 'back home' to see him. I also enjoyed talking to several others, including Hammering Hank Aaron."

"From my experiences talking with these pros, I find the two friendliest (with the exception of Hal King) to be Orlando Cepeda and Tommy Aaron."

"The next night, Johnson almost caught another of King's pop-ups. He missed, and instead, caught an upper deck spectator's cork."

"The next night was a real thrill. Not only did I get to see King slam a homer and start a rally that saw the Braves take a come-from-behind win, I also saw Hank Aaron slam two home runs. I also got to see Julian Javier, Richie Allen and Joe Harper slam round trippers."

"The next night, the Braves again lost to the Cards. Lou Brock slammed a pair of homers and Joe Torre also had two-run homers in the ninth but the Braves couldn't come back to win."

"Then the Pittsburgh Pirates came to town, carrying with them first place honors. As quick as the Braves won 4-3 they were in second. Mike Lum was the star for the Braves as he was two for two with a pair of RBIs."

"The game I'll never forget was the last one I saw. The score, in case you 'football' fans didn't see it, was 20-10. This was my first chance to see Bob Robertson. I won't soon forget him. It was quite a show he put on. The first night he was two for four with a home run. Then he came back Saturday and slammed a double and a homer, driving in three runs with five hits and scoring four times himself. On Sunday all he did was slam two homers and a double. During the three game series his batting average jumped 25 points to a cool .367."

"I am going to try and sit down with Mr. Iselin (Jets President) to get this straightened out. Namath told the New York Times last Wednesday from his new East Side apartment in Manhattan."

"I'm not a fan of Namath, but I'm not a fan of the controversial quarterback who is the cause of dissection on the club."

Joe Blamed For Jet's Dissension

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — Problem-plagued Joe Namath, still an anchor crosser in his career, was expected to meet with New York Jets' officials Tuesday following verbal blasts by teammates Al Atkinson and Gerry Philbin that indicated the controversial quarterback was the cause of dissection on the club.

ES0 PLANNING SESSION . . . Among Sanford Woman's Club members attending the planning session of a new club department, an honorary educational sorority to promote planned reading are left to right: Mrs. H. W. Rucker, chairman; Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, past chairman and Mrs. R. M. Herndon, at whose home the session was held.

Educational Group Gathers

Mrs. H. W. Rucker, new chairman of the ES0 Department of the Sanford Woman's Club, presided over the summer planning session held recently at the home of Mrs. R. M. Herndon.

Mrs. Rucker quoted the administration saying, "I always think the cover of a book is like a door that enters into someone's house where I've not been before."

ES0 (Epsilon Sigma Omicron Sorority) Division of FFWC is an honorary educational sorority for Florida clubwomen who desire to continue their education through planned reading.

It is a co-operative venture in an adult education and has represented the combined efforts of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the FFWC, the Florida State Library and Florida State University. Upon completion of the prescribed course a certificate is issued by Florida Atlantic University.

Mrs. Rucker hopes more club members will come into this department. Purpose of the ES0 Division is to stimulate home reading and study, encourage wider and wiser use of public libraries, encourage formation of reading groups for study and study through planned reading.

Brenda Hunt Bride Of J. L. Smith

By MELINDA CASSELLBERRY

Miss Brenda Gay Hunt and James Lynn Smith were united in Holy Matrimony, August 3, 1970, at 7 p.m. at Winter Park Christian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Hunt Sr., of Casselberry and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Dent Smith of Orlando.

Rev. Robert D. Matheny was the officiating clergyman at the candlelight and double ring ceremony before the altar in a background setting of potted palms. Acenting the altar were two brass baskets of white carnations and brass candelabra.

Mrs. Robert Matheny, organist, presented a program of nuptial selections and accompanied soloist, Miss Gwen Atkinson.

Given in marriage by her father, the lovely bride chose for her vows, a formal gown fashioned of satin all over with lace except for a front center panel of satin and featuring a chapel train with a long satin bow. Her headpiece was a large satin bow with silk illusion and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and baby's breath.

Debbie Anderson of Wooster, Ohio, attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of lavender satin and carried a bouquet of carnations.

Mrs. Thomas Lyons was a bridesmatron and bridesmaids were Miss Betty Harter and

MRS. JAMES LYNN SMITH

Johnson and Audrey Pratt assisted as hostesses.

For traveling, the bride wore a Navy blue dress accented with an olive, white and beige sash.

Following a wedding trip to Sanibel Island, the newlyweds will make their home at New Bern, N.C.

The groom is a U.S. Marine. Out-of-town guests included Mr. Harry Patchkowsky, grandfather of Mansfield, Ohio; Mrs. Virgil Anderson, Wooster, Ohio; Mrs. Mies Harter, Apple Creek, Ohio; Miss Debbie Anderson, Wooster, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Roberts, Birmingham, Alabama; and Mrs. George Strickland Jr., of Alabama.

Bridge Winners Announced

DelRay Duplicate Bridge Club met under the direction of Miss Ethel Johnson with 11 tables in play.

North-south winners were first, Mrs. Robert Nicholls and Mrs. Mabel Andrews; second, Dr. R. R. Roseborough and Donald MacNaughton; third, Mrs. Abbey Richardson and Mrs. Loreta Munson; fourth, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Purser.

East-west winners were first, Miss Mary O'Leary and Mrs. Dee Merrill; second, Mr. and Mrs. John Deavers; third, F. J. Shomaker and Mrs. K. S. Hindershot; and fourth, Mrs. Marie Accardi and P. R. Froelich.

Bridal Shower Fetes Mary Beth Lake

Mrs. Fred Gray was hostess to a miscellaneous bridal shower at her Lake Mary home honoring Miss Mary Beth Lake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Lake, and Aug. 15 bride-elect of Robert Hopkins.

Mrs. Curtis Green assisted as co-hostess and the hostesses presented Miss Lake, her mother and Mrs. W. C. Hopkins, Longwood, mother of the future bridegroom with yellow and white corsages.

Beautiful floral arrangements in L.L. brides' chosen colors of yellow and white decorated the party rooms.

The girls were arranged under a dainty umbrella on a table covered with a yellow cloth.

Centering the refreshment table, which was overlaid with a hand made lace cloth, was a bride doll nestled among yellow chrysanthemums and fern.

Mrs. Lee Sallee presided at the punch bowl and the hostesses served other refreshments of ice cream cake, nuts and mints.

Other invited guests were Mrs. Esther Crawford, Otto Thomas, Virginia Warnkan, Robert True, Frank Evans, John Ulmer, Charles Sausman, Betty McCaleb, Myrtle Dickson and Don Anderson.

Little Girls Now Have Own Wigs

Before . . .

SHE'S A straight-haired type whose always wanted to know how she'd look with curly hair.

After . . .

IS SHE more glamorous in her new shoulder-length curly play wig, she asks the mirror.

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newsfeatures Writer

The lollipop and soda pop set now have their very own play wigs, but don't be surprised if the little girls wear the fun wigs to parties.

Playing in mom's clothes is an age-old pastime, but the image has changed rapidly in recent years, with false eyelashes, wigs and glossy makeup parts of mom's beauty since.

Stumbling about in mom's shoes, wigs and evening dress, her face heavily rouged, a little girl couldn't be happier—but there have been times when the family has rebelled at the trail of broken lipsticks or runs in panty hose. And when mom's expensive perfume emanates from the family's little actress, the lid is likely to be closed on the play scene.

In recent years, play kits of makeup and perfume have been available for small fry, but they have continued to raid mother's dressing table.

The new wigs may turn the tide. At least they will fit little heads. The originators designed the educational play wigs so little girls could shampoo and set their own tresses.

In curly or long styles, blonde, black, brunette, the wigs of synthetic fibers are washable and restyleable with stretch fasteners. One wig comes on a wig block in a see-through case. Another one, a curly version, comes with its own built-in black bow.

There are small fry styles for girls 4 to 9, and curly and flip styles for the 11 to 15 age group.

After 70 Years Groom Tells Unusual Love Story

By MARIE LANE

Niagara Falls Gazette Writer

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — "It is a beautiful love story," said O.B. Witmer, age 92.

He looked with tenderness at his wife, who was sitting in a wheelchair nearby. Elizabeth Witmer, 91, returned his glance and pointed a finger at her husband said with a faint smile: "You are telling too much."

The Witmers celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary recently at the nursing home where they have lived for more than a year in this northern New York community.

"It is most unfortunate that my little girl here should have taken a paralysis condition," said the spry, clear-eyed Mr. Witmer. "But when you stop to think of it, when you've been married as long as we have I shouldn't complain . . . You must tell me what kind of an idiot I would have been to stay alone in that big eight-room house. I am here to cheer her up."

"Of course everyone knows that when a man is over 90 there are some little troubles and things that he has to do. I must confess that we're both feeble. I had to stop driving at 90, but I didn't care anyway. We have enjoyed ourselves. We were a typical couple who enjoyed the joys and pleasures of life."

Recalling the early years when he and his bride took over his father's grocery store, Witmer said that it took them 20 years to pay off the $8,000 in debts that went with the business. "In those days $8,000 was a lot of money," Witmer continued, adding that the debt was partly the reason they had no children.

1908. Then he joined the Carbide and Lamp Co. and retired in December from his position as an accountant.

"But these are old stories," Witmer said heartily. "Who would stop to recall all that stuff?"

What does Witmer believe is the formula for a happy marriage? "I loved the girl," he says. "We just had congenial cooperation. It's not a physical thing you know, it's a mental situation . . . a sincere case of love. That's why I'm here with her now."

The Coles Honored On Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cole of 100 South Crystal View Dr., Sanford, were honored July 27 at a surprise 40th wedding anniversary buffet hosted by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Friday.

The Cole's other daughter, Mrs. Arthur (Billie) De Garmo of Limerick, New York, was unable to attend, but helped in the planning of this delightful surprise.

Over 25 friends and relatives gathered to reminisce and toast the happy couple. A beautiful white cake with sapphire blue decorations graced one table while a buffet filled the other.

The buffet table held a centerpiece of white gladiolus, blue and white pom pom mums and ferns. Both tables were covered with handmade Irish lace tablecloths from Belfast, Northern Ireland.

A corsage of blue and white pom pom mums accented Mrs. Cole's white lace sleeveless dress while Mr. Cole sported a white pom pom boutonniere.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole were married in Wallington, Kansas, July 17, 1925, and moved to Sanford in 1929. Mr. Cole managed the old Eckerson cannery here for many years. In 1941 they moved to Michigan, but since 1967 have been retired in Sanford. They are enjoying renewing their many old friendships.

Mrs. Friday was assisted by Mrs. Clayton Crispy, Mrs. Don-
