

Governor Signs Record Bill On Appropriations

$57 Million Expenditure Over Expected Income Made Law

TALLAHASSEE, June 14 (AP)—A record appropriations bill authorizing $57,000,000 more in expenditures than the State has in sight for the next two years is law today with Governor Warren's signature.

He approved the $240,000,000 spending bill last night after using his veto power to strike out three provisions by which the Legislature sought to tie strings to some of the funds.

The bill allots the money to run nearly every State agency, institution and department for the next two years. The Governor is expected to call a special legislative session late in the summer to levy new taxes to pay the bill.

Governor Warren struck out provisions which would have:

1. Prohibit release of any contingent or emergency funds except on written application, public hearing and affirmative vote of five of the seven Cabinet Budget Commission members. He said that would be cumbersome and might result in delays when emergencies arose.

2. Limit the salary of the State forester to $6,500. He pointed out that it conflicted with another act of the Legislature permitting payment of $7,500 to the forester. He now gets $6,000.

3. Prohibiting employment of a person in two jobs or payment of his salary from more than one fund except with the Budget Commission approval.

The Governor also vetoed two other acts of the Legislature designed to stop the practice of employing receiving pay from two or more funds. The Governor's press secretary and one of his special investigators are on a long list of workers receiving that way.

Warren said although the bills meant to be economy measures, they actually would have the opposite result by forcing many agencies to hire full time specialists for essential work when they could save by hiring an expert of another agency part time.

Before the midnight deadline for him to act on bills passed by the Legislature, the Governor also vetoed acts that would:

—Compensate cattle owners whose animals died as a result of dipping for fever ticks. He said the Legislature failed to provide funds to make the payments.

—Permit the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission to meet anywhere in the state and adopt regulations. He said it would cause confusion among people doing business with the board and increase their expenses.

—Require medicine chest poisons to be sold in rough surfaced bottles. He said the bill was inspired by "spurious motives" — but it was unenforceable, did not define poisons and might be an unconstitutional restraint of trade in interstate commerce.

His last-minute vetoes brought the total to 44. If the Legislature comes back in special session, it will get a quick chance to override those that came after the regular session adjourned.

More than 800 bills became law without the Governor's signature as the midnight deadline passed.

Most of them were local bills affecting only one city or county.

Along them were measures decontrolling rents in Dade, Hillsborough and Palm Beach counties. The Governor had vetoed a statewide rent decontrol law and it was sustained by the Legislature in regular session but he let the local laws stand.

General acts that became law on the last day:

—Set up a separate board of parks and historic monuments, divorcing the State Park Service entirely from the State Forest Service.

—Legalize summer dog racing in North Florida—the Jacksonville and Panama City tracks.

—Permit Sunday night baseball.

—Change State beverage laws to eliminate county commission authority to pass on liquor licenses and licensing method of measuring distance liquor stores an orders must be from schools and churches.

—Appropriated $125,000 for expanding the State hospital psychiatric staff.

Development of its ability to preserve peace will take time, he declared, and time is something it may not have. Ultimately the success of the U. He called upon the Rotarians to study the United Nations and to criticize it constructively. From such study opinions will be formed and when they are made known they will be translated into action by the government, he said.

Visitors at the luncheon included Lyman Phillips, Howard Monteith and Bobo Dean of Sanford.

Property and crop damage was tremendous. Duck Creek rose into a shopping village at Garland, washed away stocks, and battered buildings. Constable C. R. Smith said a million dollars in damage was wrought at Garland. A hundred persons were rescued in boats.

Mrs. Cooper and her husband were clinging to telephone poles. She was swept away. He was rescued by a boat and treated for shock at a hospital.

Garland, Vickery, Carrollton and Farmers Branch, all in Dallas county, were under water for a time early today. The floodwaters had receded today.

Just before 9:00 A. M. the U. S. Weather Bureau issued a special storm warning for the Dallas area. It said a thunderstorm with high winds, heavy rain and possibly hail would reach the Dallas area shortly.

The Trinity River rose 11 feet during the night to 28.3 feet, two feet below flood stage.

An Air Force plane reported a tornado 25 miles northwest of Fort Worth shortly before 10:00 A. M. today. The tornado was moving east, northeast.

Yet, the weather ministry had a forecast in their office that a storm would sweep across the area from the Gulf of Mexico and on to the Texas coast.

struck from Army lexicon the word "unemployable." Secretary of the Army told a Senate armed services committee.

Clapp, much to his surprise, found himself termed "unemployable" by the Army for lecture duty in Germany. The Army quickly apologized but the Senate group called Secretary Gray before it today for an "object lesson" on publishing reports damaging to a man's reputation.

Secretary Gray testified a subcommittee of the Department of the Army applied the term "unemployable" to "denote unavailability—covering many reasons for unavailability" no way did the files indicate any question regarding the loyalty of Clapp, reiterated Gray.

Earlier the House Un-American Activities committee voted to suspend Dr. Edward U. Condon a hearing whenever he asks for it. And if Condon fails to request one, Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) said he will push for one anyway.

In Condon is director of the Federal Bureau of Standards. A subcommittee report last year described him as one of the weakest links in atomic security. Condon replied he was "absolutely reliable."

Another atomic scientist, Dr. Frank P. Oppenheimer, told the committee he was a Communist for three and a half years. He said this was before he worked on the atom bomb project. And he insisted he always was a loyal American.

The commission took no action on a proposal that it investigate a stevedore strike in Hawaii.

Not was there any action on the way the Justice Department has been handling espionage reports. Nixon has been critical of departmental management of the trial of a suspended employee, Miss Judith Coplon. Nixon said the matter was discussed today but nothing was done.

William Stansell was appointed as deputy building inspector for the Municipal Airport area. He will serve under Howard Faville, city building inspector.

A. R. Peterson requested a franchise to mount small triangular advertising signs on City parking meters, with 20 percent of gross advertising revenue to go to the City. Mr. McKibbin was directed to investigate other cities having experience of this type of advertising.

Leaves of the small arms building at the Municipal Airport to Spencer Castle was approved. It will be rebuilt to serve as living quarters.

For one year $1 six lots immediately south of the City water plant to the produce firm of Jones and McLaughlin was approved, subject to a six-month trial, or this area may be later used by the City for expansion of the water works. The firm will erect a temporary office on the site and park trucks in the area. The site was formerly occupied by municipal tennis courts.

Robert Bostwick of the Florida Power and Light Co. presented an outline of lighting program and pointed out that the company had previously set up as a demonstration a new type of high light fixtures of high intensity at the Park Avenue Twenty-fifth Street intersection.

The Commission delayed action on the matter, due to the fact that the talk was concentrated on construction of a new lighting program, whereas the immediate need is for lighting of residential areas, said Mr. McKibbin.

New street lights were ordered put out at Sumner and Celery Avenues at the east City limits, and on Park Avenue on the curve near Twenty-third Street.

police chief to enforce the gambling law.

Yesterday two city councilmen—Melvin J. Richard and Burnett Roth—who voted for the resolution, reported to the Miami office of the FBI that they had received telephone threats.

Richard said his telephone rang and when he answered a deep, gruff voice told him:

"Lay off Chief Short (Police Chief R. P. Short) and the Syndicate. This is your last warning."

Richard said the caller hung up and he was unable to trace the call. The caller apparently referred to the S. and G. syndicate, which controls bookmaking and other gambling activities here.

Roth said he had received several threatening calls and added: "They were just cranks, I suppose; people with nothing better to do."

Both councilmen, elected last Tuesday, said their positions remained unchanged and they intended to press for enforcement of gambling laws.

Last Friday Richard introduced a resolution naming the S. and G. Syndicate. Mayor Harold Turk joined Richard and Roth in voting for the resolution but it failed of passage by a 4 to 6 vote.

Scroggs, former legislator and long-time local Democratic party leader, entered a formal plea of innocence at the outset of the preliminary hearing before County Judge James C. Gwynn.

Senator C. L. Alford of Grand Ridge, who accused Scroggs of paying him $2,000 to vote against the bill, told the grand jury in a dramatic speech after passage of the anti-union bill.

Alford said he didn't know the editorial policies of the press on the measure, and "I don't know anything about any big money boys and I didn't have any connection with any of them."

At one point, Defense Counsel Clyde W. Atkinson popped at him: "You are pretty easily bribed?"

"No, I've never been bribed," Alford shot back. "I've been lunched and dined but never bribed."

The Senator said he had accepted the $2,000 from Scroggs in the bedroom of a suburban home.

A recording of the alleged conversation between the two was mentioned several times but was not produced in court.

Lieut. Jay L. Hill of the State Highway Patrol testified he listened to a conversation over sound system from the next room between Alford and another man, but he never saw the man. He said he heard Alford say:

"I'll go along with you on this bill. Then, he said he heard the money being counted."

published in this week's issue, that Lewis has not yet "given the set-up his blessing."

"If anything, he hates to see it come," the trade weekly said.

The Times indicated that the agreement on the co-ordinator was acceptable to both Northern operators and Lewis. Both publications said operators want Harry M. Moses as the czar. He's president of the H. C. Frick Coke Co., U. S. Steel subsidiary.

Southern operators are dead set against such a plan, the Times added.

No Northern operator would comment authoritatively on the "czar" idea. But one, who declined use of his name, said: "I wouldn't be surprised."

Hints To Housewives

By Anna Mae Sikes

Extension Nutritionist
Milk is an excellent food around which to build daily meals for the family. Because of its bland flavor and fluid consistency, it is easy to include in the meal plan. Milk supplies high quality complete proteins for growth and upkeep of body tissue. At the same time, milk is a valuable source of body-building calcium and phosphorus. Two to three cups of milk a day are necessary to provide calcium requirements and a fair share of protein for adults. Diets which provide this amount of milk usually are adequate in two important vitamins—A and riboflavin. Babies and pregnant and lactating mothers need milk for its calcium and phosphorus. Every growing child should have four or more cups daily. All persons, no matter what their age or occupation, need a constant supply of calcium and phosphorus throughout life. In cooking, milk improves flavor as well as nutritive value of foods of which it becomes a part. Milk may be served as a beverage with every meal. In addition to its use as a beverage, milk may be used with cereal, in soups, sauces, creamed or scalloped foods and desserts. Milk at mid-morning, mid-afternoon, or at bed-time adds substantially to the day's nutrition without reducing appetite for other foods. Good ways to develop milk-drinking habits are to include it in the school lunch and in tempting drinks. To conserve vitamins and retain the delicate flavors, milk and cream must be heated for as soon as it is delivered. Wash the container and cap and store the milk immediately in a clean, cold and dark place, away from strong flavored foods. Keep containers covered.
