Tribe-Rams battle tonight

LAKE MARY — Bragging rights and momentum are at stake tonight when the backyard rivals Seminole and Lake Mary high schools conclude the regular football season at Don T. Reynolds Stadium. See Page 1B.

Culture on tap

Two events of community interest are planned for this weekend. For the 15th consecutive year, the Central Florida Society for Historic Preservation is holding the Longwood Arts and Craft Festival this Saturday and Sunday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The event is open to the public, with free admission and parking. Displays and booths will be in the historical area west of C.F. 427, in an area west of and surrounding the Longwood Village Inn. Part I of George Frederick Handel's "Messiah" will be performed by the 130 voice Community Chorus of Seminole Community College on Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Fine Arts Concert Hall on the campus of the college. Public is invited free of charge. See Stories, Page 5A

Television, other leisure

A wide variety of other events and attractions also are available for residents of the area this weekend as well as complete television listings. See Leisure magazine, inside today.

Bellamy captured

After nearly nine and a half months, George Bellamy of Sanford, indicted by a Seminole County grand jury for the murder of Istah Cohen of 121 N. Jackson St. in Altamonte Springs, has been captured.

According to George Proeschel, public information officer for the Seminole County Sheriff's Office, police in Valdosta, Ga., stopped Bellamy for a traffic violation about 2 p.m. yesterday. A computer check revealed that he was wanted on rape charges in that state as well as for the Seminole County murder.

Proeschel said that he will be tried in Georgia on the rape charges before being brought back to Seminole County to face the first degree murder charges.

Cohen was murdered on Feb. 8 in the parking lot at Udell's Grocery Store on Beardall Street in Sanford.

He was shot once in the back of the head while Bellamy was attempting to steal the stereo speakers from the back of his car.

"The Sheriff's Department is very happy to have this guy off the streets," Proeschel said. "He is obviously a very dangerous individual."

Proeschel would not speculate on when Bellamy could be brought back to Sanford to stand trial.

Trash solution delayed

By NOEL PFEIFAU

LAKE MARY — A resolution regarding yard trash pickups in Lake Mary was postponed last night. The matter has already been brought up at several previous City Commission meetings without any decision.

With a mandate from the State regarding the separation of yard trash from other waste products to be effective Jan. 1, 1992, the City has been seeking the best solution on handling the matter.

Western Waste Industries serves the garbage pickup in Lake Mary. During the past month, the City and the company have discussed several alternatives, including a separate additional day for yard trash, the change from two to one

Why should all of us have to pay for yard trash pickups, when we don't use it? There must be some better solution.

-Commissioner Tom Mahoney

collection of garbage with the other day used for yard trash, and other possibilities.

Two additional alternatives brought up included the establishment of the City's own yard waste collection facility, or a city managed disposal operation.

Regardless of what is eventually selected, the cost to the homeowner will be increasing as of the first of the year. Because of a pre-arranged finance agreement, the cost would go up by 54 cents per month, per homeowner. In addition, Western Waste was requesting an additional amount for the yard trash collections, slightly over $1 a month. As a result, the monthly cost for residences would go from $10.40 to $12.80 per month.

City Commissioner Tom Mahoney objected. "Many people don't have any yard waste, the lawnmower just grinds it up and it stays there. Others have yard services, and they take care of the waste. Why should all of us have to pay for yard trash pickups, when we don't use it? There must be some better solution."

While a number of suggestions were discussed, none was declared as the ultimate solution. See Trash, Page 5A

Water repair cost soars in Midway

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald Staff Writer

MIDWAY — It may cost nearly $1 million to return Midway's water system to acceptable standards, a Seminole County official said Thursday.

Preliminary estimates place the cost to bypass the community's decaying main line and replace four-fifths of the rusting lines in the community between $728,000 and $924,000, said county community development planner Buddy Balaglia.

"I hope it comes in somewhat lower," Balaglia said. "With the economy down, maybe the bids will come in lower."

"I knew it was pretty bad, but not this bad," said Carl Eudell, president of the Midway Canaan Community Water Association, owners of the system. "I'm glad it's getting taken care of. I'm just sorry it had to go to this."

Tuesday, Seminole County commissioners will consider commissioner Jennifer Kelley's proposal to reallocate four years of community development grants from Midway drainage and sidewalk projects to repair the water system, Balaglia did not know when the drainage projects could resume.

The county has about $650,000 in unspent drainage grants, meaning about $80,000 to $270,000 will have to be granted next year to the water system project.

Local officials with the Florida Department of Transportation learned this week they were authorized to repair the leaking eight-inch line extending along the north side of State Road 46 from Sanford Avenue and eventually replace the line. Estimates to replace the line ranged from $150,000 to $180,000. DOT cannot pay for the work, so agency officials expect to be reimbursed.

SANFORD — The students, staff, business partners and administration at Crooms School of Choice are working hard to make sure that no one in north Seminole County goes hungry this Thanksgiving.

On Wednesday, Nov. 27 from 3 to 7 p.m. the school will be host to between 400 and 700 people who might otherwise go without food during the season.

"We're going to feed the needy, the shut-ins and the poor," said Principal Barbara Kirby.

Habitat seeks help on anniversary

By VICKI DeSOMMIER

SANFORD — Habitat for Humanity is a year old in Seminole County this month and they are doing several things to celebrate, but they need your help.

The Habitat Volunteer Center, in the former Walgreens store in the Zayre's shopping center at Airport Boulevard and U.S. Highway 17-92 in Sanford, will open from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays beginning tomorrow. The center, which will be the Seminole County operations headquarters, is being renovated slowly.

During the next five weeks, through Dec. 21, the volunteers will be hosting a crafts sale to raise money for their projects and to help buyers prepare for the holidays at a bargain.

They are accepting donations from anyone who would like to bring by items to be sold at the sale.

After Dec. 21, the volunteer center will remain open during the same Saturday hours as a thrift shop. Items of clothing and household goods will be sold.

The Habitat group hopes to celebrate their birthday by having the funds to build a house for one of their most industrious volunteers and his family.

Robert Draughn and his three children live in a small, aging trailer in Altamonte Springs. Unlike the others the Seminole County group has helped so far, however, Draughn does not own any land on which a house could be built.

Having been unable to secure a donation of land, the group is looking for donations of $1 per See Habitat, Page 5A

Longwood girl names manatee in nine-county school contest

From staff and wire reports

LONGWOOD — A panel of school kids from nine counties rejected suggestions such as Elvis and Harry and came up with "Chester" as the name for a 2-month-old manatee born in captivity.

But this Chester is an acronym that perhaps should be spelled CHESTER — for Children Helping Endangered Species To Eventually Recover.

The winning name was submitted by Rebecca Gould, 9, of Woodlands Elementary School in Longwood in the regional contest sponsored by Walt Disney World.

The third-grader may have had a little help from her friends, but the name was too good for the committee, meeting at Disney, to pass up this week.

"It came from thousands of suggestions from elementary and middle school students from 365 schools in this area," said Disney's Jim Hampton. "No adults or Disney people were involved in selecting the name at all."

The baby West Indian manatee came swimming into the world on Friday, Sept. 13, weighing 71 pounds. The docile mammals are an endangered species, with only about 2,000 survivors in Florida.

The baby is the offspring of Lorelei, the first manatee reportedly conceived and born in captivity, and Jean Pierre, who is now at Lowery Park Zoo in Tampa.

The 1,600-pound mother was born in 1975 at Miami Seaquarium and she has been "very attentive right from the beginning," said Conrad Litz, marine mammals curator at the Living Seas pavilion at Disney's Epcot Center.

The young calf will be dependent on Lorelei for up to 18 months.

The school kids participating in the baby-naming contest were from Orange, Osceola, Lake, Sumter, Marion, Seminole, Volusia, Brevard and Flagler counties.

As a reward for picking the winning name, Rebecca and the entire student body at Woodlands Elementary will be treated to a day at Epcot Center Nov. 26.

The highlight of the day will be a ceremony conferring the new name on the baby manatee.

SANFORD — Gabriel Luff Field, 19, was sentenced to nine years in prison yesterday. Field was convicted of assaulting a Sanford woman earlier this year.

Field had entered a plea of nolo contendere earlier this year, and was brought before Circuit Court Judge Alan A. Dickey yesterday for sentencing.

According to court reports, Field had broken into the home of Bea Laurendine, at 2432 S. Oak Avenue, on May 14. During the time he was in the home, he assaulted her, and burglarized her residence. He See Sentence, Page 5A

Museum acquires scrapbooks

Chronicles of raceway saved

By J. MARK BARNFIELD
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — The former publicist for the former Seminole Harness Raceway horse track presented seven scrapbooks to the Seminole County Historical Commission on Thursday.

Commission member John Bistline said the newspaper clippings and other documents compiled by track publicist and former harness racer Stanley Farber of Longwood span a time from 1967 to 1982. Bistline said the scrapbooks will provide a continuous history of the track between those dates. The books will be stored at the Seminole County Historical Museum.

"They provide a fairly complete record of what went on at the horse race track between 1967 and 1982," Bistline said. "We are very pleased he called and offered them to us."

Bistline said he hopes other residents will contribute earlier clippings and other information on the track, first opened in the late 1920s. The track was operated as Seminole Harness Raceway from 1975 until it closed in 1979. Since 1981, greyhounds have been raced at the track, now named the Seminole Greyhound Park. Farber continued to keep occasional clippings about the fate of the track for about another year.

Farber said he was given the books by Neil Makin, president of Seminole Harness Raceway when the harness track closed. "He said somebody's got to keep them," said Farber, 51. "This is the kind of stuff that just lies around and gets lost."

Farber said he compiled the newspaper clippings, photographs and advertisements while employed as a track publicist during the late 1970s. He said the clippings include articles about jai-alai and other pari-mutuel sports in Seminole County.

Man attempts to return robbery spoils

LAKE WORTH — A man who wanted to do the right thing returned to the convenience store he'd allegedly robbed the day before and tried to give the money back.

But when he showed up at the Cumberland Farms store, Timothy J. Hoot was arrested and charged with armed robbery.

On Wednesday, Hoot called the Cumberland Farms store several times and said he was going to return the money, police Lt. Mark Lewis said.

"He told our investigator that he was sorry for what he did," Lewis said.

Hoot, 23, of Lake Worth, had $100 in his pocket when he appeared at the Cumberland Farms store and was arrested, Lewis said.

Teen inmate dies from heart condition

PANAMA CITY — A South Florida teen who died in a Panhandle jail had suffered from a heart condition and refused to take his medication, Bay County authorities say.

A preliminary autopsy indicated Germain Kilimanjaro Michel, 18, of Charlotte Harbor died Monday night of cardiac arrhythmia, an abnormal rate of contractions in the heart chamber, due to a heart defect, said Dr. Chris Olsen, associate medical examiner.

Michel had been held at the privately operated Bay County Jail since Oct. 25 when he was arrested on charges of violating probation for auto theft, petty theft and battery.

The jail is operated by Corrections Corporation of America, based in Nashville, Tenn., under a long-term contract with Bay County.

Parachutist dies in fall

ZEPHYRHILLS — An Alaska woman fell 2,500 feet to her death after she became entangled in her parachute, police said.

Denise Frances Kelly, 38, of Eagle River, Alaska, was killed during her third jump Thursday, said Sgt. Medford Griffin of the Zephyrhills police department.

Ms. Kelly had jumped from 13,500 feet with three others, who were doing a free-fall maneuver. They were deploying their chutes at 2,500 feet.

"Between there and the ground she failed to negotiate the main chute or the reserve," Griffin said.

Ms. Kelly became entangled in a strap that controls the pilot chute, which activates the main parachute, Griffin said.

She fell on a dirt portion of the Zephyrhills Municipal Airport, near Phoenix Jump Center, the company that took the skydivers up.

Student arrested for placing bets

FORT LAUDERDALE — A 16-year-old youth was arrested for taking thousands of dollars in bets from his classmates and warning them an imaginary muscle man would hunt them down if they didn't pay up.

"He utilized intimidation by pretending to work for a grown-up bookie," said Lt. Dave Green of the Broward Sheriff's Office Organized Crime Division.

At least 10 students from Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in Parkland, a suburb of Fort Lauderdale, placed bets from $20 to more than $3,000, Green said. Most of the bets were on professional football games.

"He apparently had the ability to pay off a $3,000 bet," Green said. "A $3,000 bet is considered a large bet even by the big guys."

The high school junior, whose name was not released because he's a juvenile, was arrested Thursday and charged with two counts of felony bookmaking and misdemeanor counts of gambling and conspiracy.

He was released to his parents immediately after being arrested at his Coral Springs home.

Chemical plant explosion kills one

GAINESVILLE — One person was killed and another seriously injured in an explosion this morning at a Gainesville chemical plant, authorities said.

The blast at the PCR Inc., in an airport industrial park took place in an open area at about 6 a.m., and authorities aren't yet sure what caused the blast, said Gainesville police spokeswoman Sadie Darnell.

"Fire-rescue officials quickly determined there was no danger associated with chemicals being released," Ms. Darnell said.

The injured man was being treated at Shands Memorial Hospital in Gainesville, Ms. Darnell said. The two victims' names were not immediately released.

Fire spokesman Stuart Schwartz investigators at the scene and P.C.R. officials were trying to determine what chemicals were involved.

Officials said about 10 other workers were at the scene when the explosion took place early this morning, but they were able to slip into suits to protect themselves.

Two amateur cat breeders are arrested for cruelty to animals

Associated Press

FORT ST. LUCIE — Two amateur cat breeders were arrested on animal cruelty charges after authorities say they found 43 diseased and dying cats in their home.

Janna and William Pula were out of town at a cat show last week when city animal-control officers removed the cats from the house. It was littered with the animals' feces, urine, hair, food and litter, officers say.

"I don't know how humans lived there," said Karen Hansen, an animal-control officer.

William Pula, who was charged Monday with two misdemeanor counts of cruelty to animals, was released from the St. Lucie County Jail on $2,000 bond. Janna Pula, charged with one misdemeanor count of cruelty to animals, was released on $1,000 bond.

William Pula declined comment Thursday, saying the couple's attorney, Robert Stone, had advised them not to talk to reporters. Stone could not be immediately reached for comment.

Hansen was called to the house Nov. 13 by Stana Zyak, an employee for the Palm City company Critter Sitters which the Pulas hired to take care of the animals. Zyak found three of the kittens dead Nov. 10, the day after the couple left town.

The cats, most of them Persians, were infested with fleas, lice and worms and were suffering from various maladies, including malnourishment, said Animal Control Supervisor Helen Ridsdale.

Two were put to sleep, and three more may be destroyed, she said.

Ridsdale said the couple told officials the animals were fine when they left town. She said that's impossible, judging from the shape they were in Nov. 13.

Budget cuts could clog courts

By BILL BENNSTROM
Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE — Down-sized courts would snarl society, with unsettled business disputes clogging commerce and children growing up as custody battles drag on, say leaders of a judicial budget coalition.

Florida's court system has come up with about $2 million in spending cuts it can tolerate when legislators hold a Dec. 10-17 special session to wipe out a $622 million deficit in the $29 billion state budget.

Supreme Court Chief Justice Leander Shaw said Thursday that's all courts can trim after the Legislature cut their budget two years in a row and rejected their request for 22 more judges this year. Judges already must be efficiency experts to juggle growing caseloads with shrinking resources. Supreme Court Justice Rosemary Barkett said. "Judges are no longer simply decision makers, they are decision makers but administrators as well."

More cuts would mean problems getting hearing dates, years-long waits to resolve legal disputes, and possibly suspensions of civil proceedings like those other money-starved states have resorted to, Barkett said.

Appeals could bog down. First District Court of Appeal Judge Michael Allen said one budget proposal would eliminate a law clerk in his office.

"If I lost one of my law clerks, which is what the governor proposed, my productivity is going to be reduced by at least 25 percent and I can't help it," Allen said.

Senate Appropriations Committee member W.D. Childers, D-Pensacola, urged about 50 judges, lawyers and officials of state and local bar groups to copy education officials' and teachers' lobbying skills.

"They're lobbying their legislators constantly and they're letting us know what their needs are," he told the group over a chicken teriyaki lunch at Florida State University's Professional Development Center.

"The squeaky wheel does get more oil," said Rep. Robert Trammell, D-Marianna.

Religious sect couple indicted

Associated Press

LAKE CITY — A grand jury has indicted two members of a Lake City religious sect on charges of manslaughter and child abuse in the 1990 death of their 4-year-old daughter.

Guillermo Hernandez and his wife, Luz Hernandez, were indicted Wednesday by a Columbia County grand jury in the death of their daughter, Sonia. The indictment was sealed until the arrest of Mrs. Hernandez on Thursday.

Hernandez was working out-of-state Thursday and was to turn himself in today, Sheriff Tom Tramel said. His wife was being held on $25,000 bond.

The parents are members of End Time Ministries, a sect that believes in faith healing and often avoids medical doctors.

The child died of pneumonia in September 1990 after her weight dropped to 14½ pounds. The average weight of a 4-year-old female is 35 pounds, forensic experts.

Investigative reports said Sonia had not seen a doctor in the two years prior to her death, about the length of time the parents had belonged to End Time.

During the secret grand jury proceedings Wednesday, five people including a deputy sheriff, an investigator, a medical examiner and a member of a child protection team testified for more than eight hours.

The final witness was Sonia's 20-year-old sister, Socorro Hernandez. The parents were invited to testify, but did not appear.

Tough sell

Having succeeded in bringing Israel and its Arab neighbors to the negotiating table, Secretary of State James Baker now has turned his attention to China's reactionary leadership.

Baker had traveled to Beijing in hopes of persuading the Chinese government to improve its dismal conduct on human rights, trade and nuclear proliferation. It wasn't an easy sell.

Still, Beijing needs the international acceptance it has been denied since the Tiananmen Square massacre. And this is where Baker's visit could help eventually to bring about concessions from the communist leadership.

There has been marginal progress. China has agreed in principle to a memorandum of understanding with the United States that would bar the export of goods made by prison labor. This is a modest breakthrough because in the past Beijing steadfastly denied prison labor was being used to produce goods for export to this country.

Recently, the regime has gingerly acknowledged the importance of human rights by issuing a document outlining legal protections for Chinese citizens. This marks a departure from China's longstanding policy, which has denigrated human rights as a "bourgeois concept." Hopefully, Baker has inquired about the 800 political and religious dissidents who the State Department believes are being held in Chinese prisons.

In response to American pressure, Chinese officials are trying to resolve trade disputes involving copyrights and the limited access of U.S. products to China's enormous consumer market. This follows an investigation by U.S. Trade Representative Carla Hills of trade barriers that have helped produce an $11 billion surplus in Chinese trade with the United States.

Beijing also has indicated a willingness to ratify the U.S.-led Missile Technology Control Regime, which is designed to stem the proliferation of nuclear arms among Third World nations. China's cooperation is critically important in light of fresh reports that Beijing has been helping Iran develop nuclear technology. China also has a great deal of explaining to do regarding its sales of ballistic missiles to the Middle East.

Baker has faced a daunting challenge in trying to wring additional concessions from China's hard-line leaders. Yet, given his success in advancing the cause of peace in the Middle East, Beijing certainly is worthy of his best efforts. The U.S. should keep trying.

Howell: look for good, praise it

I worked for and contributed financially to the campaign to elect Lon Howell's opponent 3 years ago. Lon and I subsequently butted heads over the affordable housing issue. Until 6 months ago, he and I were barely on speaking terms. That was when he responded to the Georgetown Community Association's appeals for help in restoring the historic "Hopper" Academy. Lon became the organization's fundraiser, and in only a few months time has raised over $30,000 for that restoration effort. His goal is to raise $150,000 — and I wouldn't advise anyone to bet against him.

About one month ago, Commissioner Howell requested and was allowed to speak to a meeting of the Concerned Organized Men in Action (COMA). Since that time he has 1) offered to help COMA set up a neighborhood watch patrol to drive drug traffickers out of the Georgetown neighborhood; and 2) responded to a request from COMA's president to arrange for bright lights to be placed in locations known for heavy drug traffic. In spite of our past differences, I have come to respect and appreciate Lon Howell. He has proven himself to be a rare person in politics: one with the courage of his convictions.

Lon Howell is no fool. I fully believe his explanation for the now infamous "Drug Buy at Park on Park." It is what I have come to realize is vintage Lon Howell — operating from the heart rather than from the head. Apparently Officer Spears was "guilty" of this same human frailty. Imagine, a politician and a cop acting like caring human beings: what is this city coming to?

It would be a travesty if Lon Howell and Office Spears were to get anything other than expressions of gratitude for their intent in this matter. I doubt that either is likely to take the same respective actions again, nor should they; that would set a dangerous precedent. But both their actions were well-intended, and neither deserves punishment.

I like the phrase: "Look for the good, and praise it; One doesn't have to look hard or far to find the good in what Lon Howell was trying to do in this instance. That good intent deserves to be praised, not condemned.

In the classic movie about occupied India, the British officer quipped: "You are a better man than I am, Gungah Dini." Lon Howell is proving himself to be a better person than most of us, in spite of his lack of polish or finesse.

What Duke's vote means for 1992

We had all better be a little cautious about the meaning of David Duke's defeat by Edwin Edwards in the Louisiana gubernatorial run-off.

The Democrats are entitled to feel gratified by the sheer power of the artillery they were able to bring to bear on Duke, especially the perfectly real threat to destroy Louisiana's vital tourism industry if he was elected.

Much less impressive, however, was their attempt to suggest that Duke is in some way the logical consequence of some allegedly "racist" agenda secretly pursued by the GOP ever since the days of Goldwater and Reagan.

The truth is that the Republican Party deserves great credit for having resisted raising relevant but delicate racial issues as long as it has. The reason it could afford to do so was that the voters were electing its candidates to the White House anyway, and nobody else was trying to raise and pre-empt the issues in question.

David Duke has changed all that, however. The really remarkable fact about the Louisiana election is not that Edwards won 56 percent of the large black vote, but that Duke — despite all the bloodcurdling threats and enormous pressure — won 55 percent of the white vote.

When one reflects that whites outnumber blacks nearly seven to one in the U.S. population as a whole, the implication of Duke's showing is sobering indeed.

The liberal media have attempted to explain the white vote on the ground that "people are hurting" economically, as a result of the recession, and feared black competition for jobs, etc., more than ordinarily. But while that may be true of some whites, it can hardly be true of 55 percent of all white voters.

What Duke has tapped into is a longstanding, widespread resentment, on the part of the great majority of America's whites, over what they perceive to be profoundly mistaken governmental policies toward America's blacks. Rightly or wrongly, they believe that these policies amount to little more than subsidizing (and largely with taxes raised from whites, at that) all sorts of counterproductive behavior on the part of many black citizens. They furthermore believe that many government policies are deliberately designed to confer benefits on blacks at the expense of whites who are objectively more entitled to receive them.

Hitherto, insofar as these beliefs played any part in our national politics, they benefited the Republicans, because the Democratic Party was rightly seen as the force behind those policies.

But if David Duke now elbows his way into the Republican presidential primaries as a symbol of opposition to such policies, President Bush will have to make it clear that he is opposed to not only Duke's transparent bigotry but to the policies that Duke is quite correctly criticizing.

What's more, if Duke manages, as George Wallace did in 1968, to mount an independent presidential campaign in all 50 states, or even most of them, in the November election, then Mr. Bush will be compelled to try to convince voters who might be tempted to vote for Duke (to "send a message" to Washington) that he, Bush, already has their message and agrees with it.

The Democrats are entitled to feel gratified.

Democrats gear up for primary

MANCHESTER, N.H. — The sigh of relief can be heard all the way from Manchester in the south to the White Mountains in the north. After the painfully slow start to the 1992 primary campaign, Democratic presidential hopefuls have returned to New Hampshire. More than ever before, the national political spotlight will be focused on this state in the coming months.

Next year's New Hampshire primary, on Feb. 18, is eight days after the Iowa caucuses, the traditional first step in the presidential selection process. However, with Iowa favorite Sen. Tom Harkin among the announced candidates, the result in Iowa is considered a forgone conclusion. Most of the other candidates have said they will skip Iowa and make their first stand here in New Hampshire.

As in the past, on any given Saturday morning you can usually find several Democratic presidential candidates having an early breakfast at the Wayfarer Inn before heading out for a full day of campaigning.

On a recent morning it was Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton and Virginia Gov. Douglas Wilder. Both Nebraska Sen. Bob Kerrey and Harkin were expected in the hotel by evening. Former Massachusetts Sen. Paul Tsongas would be in the area during the day after driving up from his Boston-area home.

So far, all the candidates have spent most of their time bashing George Bush for his economic failings, the lack of a national health insurance plan and his lack of a viable domestic program. However, given the opportunity, the candidates have also shown that they are quite willing to take the gloves off with one another.

Clinton, Tsongas and Wilder sparred on a statewide television hookup the night before the State Democratic Convention. Each accused the other of having poorly conceived economic programs. All said they were for some kind of tax cut. Tsongas challenged Clinton to say he would raise taxes on the wealthy to make up for tax cuts to the middle class. Clinton said only that he would think about it.

About the only thing that the three agreed on was that they would not accept money from political action committees. The three challenged the absent Harkin and Kerrey to agree to this also.

It is still somewhat early to handicap this contest. It is clear from these opening stabs at campaigning that Harkin has staked out a position on the far left, appealing to organized labor; Clinton has gone the opposite route, trying to appeal to the more conservative, business-oriented Democrats.

Kerrey seems to have attracted many of the politically sophisticated who formed the backbone of Gary Hart's 1984 campaign when he pulled off a major upset by winning New Hampshire. Susan Casey, a New Hampshire native and a top Hart adviser, has signed on as Kerrey's national campaign manager. The Kerrey campaign is starting to take on the appearance of a Hart campaign reunion.

Tsongas, meanwhile, is clearly aiming his appeal to traditional Democrats in the middle. His strength comes from older Democrats, ones that he has known and worked with for years.

So far the odd men out are Wilder and Brown. Wilder still seems to be searching for a campaign theme and a constituency, and Brown has all but ignored New Hampshire, which seems intent on ignoring him.

This year's state convention was a strangely bloodless affair. It was clear that all the candidates, save Brown, have some level of support. But 80 percent of the delegates at the meeting voted to remain uncommitted, meaning this primary is one of the most open in memory.

Several polls, both public and private, show Tsongas in the lead. In one poll taken by Maguire Associates for the New Hampshire Democratic Party, Tsongas led with 24 percent, followed by Kerrey with 19 percent, Harkin third with 12 percent, Wilder following with 7 percent, then both Clinton and Brown with 6 percent. The remaining voters were uncommitted.

The poll result is probably to be expected. New Hampshire rank-and-file Democrats have long known and admired Tsongas from neighboring Massachusetts. Kerrey, Clinton and Harkin are not all that well known in New Hampshire.

However, it was clear that most New Hampshire Democrats were waiting for the man from Albany to make up his mind. If New York Gov. Mario Cuomo throws his hat in the ring, he will instantly zoom to the head of the list here in New Hampshire.

Most of the candidates say they will all but skip the Iowa caucuses.

Immunity policy needs revamping

WASHINGTON — Twelve years ago, a California woman suffered serious head injuries when a drunk driver crashed his truck head-on into her car. She sued him and won more than $300,000 in the court judgment. But she has yet to see a dime of the money because the man's employer won't garnish his wages.

That employer is the federal government. The guilty driver was a sailor who hasn't paid a cent on the judgment against him. Because he draws a federal paycheck, the law protects his salary from any collection proceedings.

It boils down to the doctrine of "sovereign immunity" that says the federal government can't be sued. Many people have successfully sued federal employees. But they can't collect the damages that the court says they are entitled to because the federal government can't be forced to do what private employers routinely do — garnish the wages of their workers to pay court-ordered debts.

Our associate Scott Sleek looked at how the sovereign immunity doctrine has let people skip out on the debts they owe for the problems they have caused others, and even skip out on their debts to the federal Treasury that gives them a regular paycheck.

A U.S. Army sergeant stationed in Michigan left a $14,000 phone bill when he was transferred to Colorado. A ward director at a Veterans Administration hospital ran up a phone bill too, but refused to pay even though he was working full time.

A Denver couple was sued by their neighbor over a silly property dispute. The couple counter-sued and the judge agreed that the original suit against them was frivolous and malicious. They were eventually awarded $80,000 for the trouble the suit had caused them. But because the neighbor who started the mess was a federal employee, they couldn't collect.

Taxpayers get stiffed in this arrangement too. Federal employees still owe about $177.5 million in past-due student loans. They went to school on the federal dime. Now they're feeding at the federal trough as employees, but there is no way to collect the loans. Student loans are guaranteed by the federal government, so the taxpayers pick up the tab for bad loans. If the deadbeats work for the government they are protected by federal law from paying their debt to the taxpayers.

Experts say commercial lenders tend to shy away from loans to federal employees since the lenders know they won't be able to garnish wages if the borrower defaults. The taxpayers take it in the shins for bad loans to federal employees, too. Lenders write off defaulted loans as a business expense, and that reduces their taxable income. That means the government loses.

There are a few exceptions. Postal workers and employees of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. are subject to wage garnishment. And the government can attach wages for unpaid child support and alimony.

Rep. Andrew Jacobs, D-Ind., has introduced legislation to make that the standard across the board. Sen. Larry Craig, R-Idaho, is sponsoring a companion bill in the Senate.

Such efforts haven't gotten far in the past, but the current political climate is unpredictable. Lawmakers are stung by criticism that they and the bureaucracy are getting special treatment. Congress has passed landmark laws to protect minorities and the disabled from discrimination, but those laws don't apply on Capitol Hill. Average Americans pay through the nose when they bounce a check or double-park their car, but members of Congress don't.

She has yet to see a dime of the money because.

Cooler retires in the future

A new 15,000 pound air conditioning unit that is 25 feet long and eight feet high has arrived at Bram Towers in Sanford. It has eight compressors which will remove 2 million units of heat. Its 200 ton capacity is the equivalent of cooling 67 average size houses. It will be installed by Industrial Air, Orlando, after the first of the year.

Nominee list for the interim school superintendent grows

By WENDY BOGGS
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — While Bob Hughes is finishing his tenure as superintendent of the Seminole County school district and looking forward to starting his new position in Alachua County in January, a decision about who will replace him here will be made by Gov. Lawton Chiles.

Nothing can be done officially until Hughes submits his letter of resignation, however, and that won't happen for a couple of weeks, Hughes said.

Hughes said he doesn't dare speculate about who that person might be, but he believes that for the district's sake it should be someone local, someone who is familiar with the district.

"The interim superintendent will have to know how the district works," Hughes said.

Local groups and individuals have nominated a variety of candidates and are trying to influence the governor that their person is the best for the job.

Most recently, the local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) has submitted the name of Dr. Hortense Evans, the administrative assistant to the superintendent.

Evans, Turner Clayton, president of the chapter, said is "a fine lady of character...who is capable of carrying out the assigned duties." She has been with the district for 15 years and served as both a classroom teacher and as a district administrator.

"Evans has displayed characteristics of loyalty, integrity and honesty...all of which are important qualities of a superintendent," Clayton said.

Seminole Unifair, the governing body of all four district employee unions, endorsed Lake Mary High School assistant principal Bill Moore. Moore has, in the past, served as president of the teachers union, the Seminole Education Association (SEA).

Also among the suggested names are Richard Wells, assistant superintendent for facilities and transportation, and Carlton Henley, principal of Lyman High School in Longwood.

Wells, who served as superintendent in Flagler County before coming to Seminole County in 1983, is the only one who has been suggested who has experienced in the job spot.

Henley, known for his knowledge of school laws and his ability to get things done on schedule and on budget, has been principal at Lyman for 28 years.

The names being submitted are to replace Hughes on an interim basis until a permanent replacement can be found. Hughes' term as elected superintendent was not to have expired until November, 1992. His successor must be in place by then.

know that they must work within the community."

In past years the Crooms family has cleaned streets and has made gifts for the elderly, Kirby said. Students regularly visit the Good Samaritan Home to cheer residents and offer services like reading and manicures.

"But this [the Thanksgiving dinner] is one of the biggest projects we've ever done," she noted.

The project has brought together businesses, parents and students in a unique way, Kirby noted.

Students and teachers have written letters and made phone calls as far away as Las Vegas in an attempt to ensure the success of the dinner. There were financial donations and gifts of food as well.

"The most unusual one was the 26 18-pound turkeys that the Golden Nugget Hotel in Las Vegas had flown out here for us," Kirby said.

Hamilton, Goldsboro, Midway and Idyllwild elementary schools in Sanford have donated the use of their kitchen facilities and staff to make the stuffing for the meals.

Cooking of the birds and vegetables will begin at Crooms on Sunday.

"We'll be out there all day, probably," Kirby said.

Invitations and information were sent to all local churches and to missions, welfare offices and other places where people who might be eligible for the meal might be.

Churches were asked to let the school know about those who might be eligible and those people have been contacted and invited to join in.

Kirby said that transportation will be provided for those who need it. Staff members will be donating their time and the St. Paul Missionary Baptist Church of Sanford will donate the use of their bus.

Meals will also be delivered to those who are unable to leave their homes.

"We don't think anyone should go without a traditional Thanksgiving dinner," Kirby said.

Longwood art show

LONGWOOD — All roads will lead to Longwood this weekend. Artists and craftsmen are involved in one of the largest events in the area.

For the 15th consecutive year, the Central Florida Society for Historic Preservation is holding the Longwood Arts and Craft Festival this Saturday and Sunday. Money raised from the event will be used to support the upkeep of two of the Society's properties including the Bradlee-McIntyre House, and other Longwood projects of a historical nature.

Festival publicist Dorothy Griffin explained that two judges will select the winning arts and crafts, which are all competing in the same categories. She said, "We're pleased to have David Pithian, a well known artist at the Orlando Arts Gallery, and Krisja Congdon, head of the Commercial Arts Department at the University of Central Florida, as the two judges for this year."

Prizes will consist of ribbons, as well as cash amounts, which will vary for a number of classifications.

The annual event, always held during the weekend preceding Thanksgiving, has been extremely well accepted this year. Not only have all 375 display areas been booked well in advance, but the Society has a list of 200 additional persons who wanted to enter the event this year, but may have to wait until 1992.

The two day event is open to the public, with free admission and parking, from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m., Saturday and Sunday. Displays and booths will be in the historical area west of C.R. 427, in an area west of and surrounding the Longwood Village Inn.

Messiah at SCC Sunday

SANFORD — Part I of George Frederick Handel's "Messiah" will be performed by the 130 voice Community Chorus of Seminole Community College on Sunday at 3 p.m. The concert will be held in the Fine Arts Concert Hall on the campus of the college.

The Community Chorus was formed eighteen years ago and continues under the direction of its founding conductor, Dr. Burt Perinckel. Its history has included performances of a long list of choral "masterworks" including Mendelssohn's "Elijah" and requiems of Brahms, Mozart, Faure, and Durufle, and masses such as the "Lord Nelson Mass" of Haydn.

The performance will be accompanied by string orchestra and harpsichord, with Robin Lee Parker, staff accompanist for the college.

Soloists for the performance have been selected from the membership of the chorus; they are: Julie Ashley, Pamela Hannah, Lynn McKnight, sopranos; Mary Ellen Kammer and Lisa Taube, mezzo-sopranos; Richard Grey, tenor; Jason Sellers, baritone; and John Stockman, bass.

Because of the limited seating capacity of the concert facility, the audience is encouraged to arrive early. Doors will open at 2:30 p.m.

Pedestrian injured in accident

SANFORD — An accident involving a pedestrian and a small car at 27th Street and French Avenue in Sanford Wednesday evening sent the pedestrian to Orlando Regional Medical Center where he was in surgery this morning.

According to Mike Rotundo, a spokesman for the Sanford Police Department, the accident occurred at about 8:35 p.m. when Michael J. Matuszawski, age unknown, of 44 Fountain Lodge Motor Court in Sanford, stepped into the path of the 1987 Toyota driven by Charles E. Reynolds, an off-duty Seminole County sheriff's deputy, who lives at 1345 28th St. in Sanford.

Rotundo said Matuszawski was crossing French Avenue from east to west when Reynolds, who was traveling southbound struck him.

No charges have been filed and the investigation continues.

I-4 accident reported

An accident involving a truck and a motorcycle occurred early this morning along I-4 between Lake Mary Boulevard and S.R. 46, according to Lake Mary Police who responded to the scene.

Few details were available, but Jeanne Appel, a police dispatcher, said that emergency vehicles from Atlantic Ambulance Company and Air Care Medical Transport responded.

Darren Buffkin, a spokesman for Atlantic Ambulance confirmed that one person was transported from the accident scene to Orlando Regional Medical Center for treatment of injuries. He did not know the nature of severity of the injuries or who was hurt.

The accident occurred on the northbound side of the Interstate and had little effect on the morning rush-hour traffic headed in the opposite direction.

Museum curator announced

SANFORD — Dan Tomberlin, the new curator for the Seminole County Historical Museum, began moving into his museum office today.

Office space wasn't been made available for him yet, Tomberlin spent the past several days getting acquainted with county Library Services Division operations. Tomberlin will report to Jean Rhein, director of library and leisure services. Tomberlin has served on the staffs of five museums or historical societies, including the U.S. Space and Rocket Center.

Tomberlin said his long-range goal is to develop the Seminole County Historical Museum into a facility meeting national standards. He said the process will begin within the next few days with a cataloging of the museum collection, preparation of a policy manual and development of new interpretations of the collections.

Tomberlin, who has 15 years of museum management and display design experience, becomes the county's first full-time paid curator. Seminole County Historical Commission member Lorraine Whiting has served as volunteer librarian and curator since the museum was first organized in 1981.

Suspect escapes arrest

SANFORD — Sanford Police reported that a suspect who had been delivering a car to the Sanford Auto Auction Thursday afternoon ran into the field next to HCA Central Florida Regional Hospital when he was stopped by police officers who discovered that he was driving without a drivers license.

Officers combed the field for about an hour, according to Lt. Mike Rotundo of the Sanford Police Department, but did not find the man.

Rotundo said that a warrant for his arrest would be issued today.

last week the main line could be bypassed and the community's water system could be tapped in to a 10-inch Sanford water line extending south of SR 46. Simmons said that option would be less costly than replacing the main line.

Simmons said he would consider recommending to city commissioners for the city to take over the Midway water system if it is brought to acceptable standards. The main line and system is currently owned by Midway's water provider, the Midway Canaan Community Water Association. Association officials say they can't afford the repairs and are willing to give the system to the city or county.

Balagia said the estimates include use of Sanford's line. He said the main expense will be to replace nearly 80 percent of all the water distribution system in Midway, a total of about 6.8 miles of lines. Balagia said the 20-year-old lines are made of galvanized steel and are literally crumbling.

Simmons said galvanized steel produces discolored water and clogs easily. He said it is no longer used in water distribution systems. Simmons said the two- and four-inch lines circulating water to households are too small for fire hydrants and provisions need to be made for six-inch lines for fire safety.

"For everybody's benefit, the system really needs to be upgraded," Simmons said. "I'm glad to hear the county is moving ahead with this."

was apprehended by police while still in the house.

The three criminal charges placed against him were: burglary of a dwelling with assault, robbery, and aggravated battery against a person 65 or older. Judge Dickey sentenced Field to serve nine year, in prison for each of the crimes, to run concurrently. He could be eligible for parole in 5 1/2 to 7 years.

In presenting the defense, attorney Adam Reiss explained that some of Field's history had resulted in emotional problems and that he had sought help from Seminole County Mental Health. Reiss commented that Field's stepfather had left his mother before he was born. Reiss said, "The stepfather, a school teacher, purportedly physically and sexually abused the defendant and also abused alcohol." Reiss continued, "In 1987, the stepfather attempted to shoot the defendant, then committed suicide."

Evaluations were made of Field on June 2 and Sept. 3, while he was in prison awaiting sentencing. Dr. E. Michael Gutman reported that Field "does show evidence of a serious emotional disorder." He also concluded, "I do not believe Mr. Field was legally insane or lacking in criminal responsibility for his acts."

While the maximum penalty could have been 12 years, Field was sentenced to 9, with time deducted for the 191 days he has already been in prison in connection with the case.

Prior to the sentencing, Field had written a letter from his jail cell to his victim, relating the event and telling her, "I'm sorry."

Trash

Mayor Randy Morris suggested special yard waste pickups on a per-call basis, only charging those who used it.

Mahoney suggested using some vacant land near the Public Service building for creation of a city-operated transfer station.

Citizen Margaret Wesley however, observed that, "Seniors in Lake Mary don't have the means to take their yard trash to any recycling area. It has to be picked up."

Commissioner Paul Tremel observed, "All of this has already been discussed before, and none of it will work."

Western Waste's Regional Marketing Manager Robert J. Hyres attended last night's Lake Mary City Commission meeting to discuss the company's proposals but no agreement was reached.

The Commission concluded the discussion by postponing further consideration until the Dec. 5th. City Commission meeting. "In the meantime," said Mayor Randy Morris, "we'll be taking a long hard look at the various alternatives. We have to agree to the State's mandate about yard trash separation, but I don't think this is good dollar-wise."

College no longer just for young

By THE COVER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — College is no longer a young person's game. More than 3 million college students, one of every four, is 30 or older, the Census Bureau says.

That's about double the number 15 years ago.

A Census Bureau survey released Thursday found one out of every five women in college was 35 or older in 1988. Fifteen years ago, only one in eight was that age.

In the early 1970s, more than three-fourths the nation's college students were just out of high school. Now, their share is less than 60 percent, and shrinking.

Educators say the older students, many of whom are women acquiring new job skills, are practical, demand full value for their tuition dollar and are tough competitors for top grades.

And they're enthusiastic about being back in the classroom. "I'm learning a lot," said Maggie Chadwick, a 42-year-old single mother studying toward a master's degree at Marymount College in Arlington, Va. "There are just a lot of things I didn't know how they worked, and now I have a better idea."

Older students, juggling family, job and midterm exams, face challenges that most of their younger classmates never dream of.

For Chadwick, it means maintaining a 3.94 grade-point average with a double class load while making time in the afternoons for her 11-year-old daughter and working 10 hours a week.

She copes with a confidence she lacked as an undergraduate 14 years before, and a little help from older classmates. "I learn as much from the other students as I do from my professors, some of whom are a little younger than I am," she said.

Colleges and universities have had to change the way they do business to meet the needs of those older "non-traditional" students.

"The non-traditional student wants convenience," said Pat Riordan, dean of admissions at George Mason University in Fairfax, Va. "They want to be able to register from their home. They want convenient, safe parking. They want ways of paying tuition that fit their needs. They want some kinds of payment plan."

Civil rights flub revives racial issue

By JILL LAWRENCE
AP News Analysis

WASHINGTON — Barely a week ago, weak-kneed with relief at David Duke's defeat in Louisiana, Republican strategists vowed the GOP would not play the race card in the 1992 presidential election.

"This is just not a president who's going to accept any racial politics," GOP adviser Charles Black said the day after Louisiana rejected the white-supremacist candidate who had said he felt at home in the party of Lincoln.

But some at the White House apparently either did not get that message or did not agree with it, and the administration promptly plunged into a highly symbolic civil rights controversy.

Some critics blamed chief counsel C. Boyden Gray for drafting a presidential order that would have reversed decades-old affirmative action and minority set-aside policies. Others blamed chief of staff John Sununu for failing to realize its explosive nature.

The order's existence was leaked Wednesday night, and then was killed Thursday by the White House following an outcry from Democrats and the civil rights lobby.

Democrats and some Republicans found the timing of the order as astonishing as its substance. It came as President Bush was to sign a civil rights bill two years in the making, a compromise most analysts had predicted would make racial quotas a moot issue in the 1992 presidential campaign.

But some within the GOP don't want the issue to die. They were disappointed when Bush compromised on civil rights — and they have powerful advocates in the administration.

Those White House aides "may have seen the civil rights bill as trying to placate the left, and they would do the same to placate the right," said Texas Republican pollster David Hill.

But he said the inevitable result was to "make everybody mad. There are times when you have to balance, but you do it over a period of time."

The furor appeared to be another miscalculation by Sununu, whose instincts are viewed by some political professionals as anywhere from not particularly astute to quite damaging.

Ed Rollins, former political director at the Reagan White House, put the civil rights controversy toward the latter end of that spectrum — especially since Bush canceled the order, at least temporarily, once the firestorm broke.

The aborted order "obviously alienates the moderates and liberals who thought you were for them, and then when you pull it back, you alienate the conservatives," Rollins said. "In one fell swoop, you inflict wounds on both sides. You've got to pick a side. You just don't send mixed messages."

He was among many skeptical of White House claims that Bush knew nothing of the executive order circulated by Gray to agency heads under the president's name.

"It doesn't make logical sense, but if that's their story, I'm sure they're going to stick with it," said Rollins.

He added: "I certainly would fire somebody if they sent out an executive order under my name and I had never seen it. It's not like one of the 50,000 government regulations sent out each year. It's pretty significant government policy. It had to be discussed at some high level."

GOP adviser Black, expected to be part of the Bush re-election team, was not consulted about the draft executive order. He said it was possible Bush did not know what was circulated in his name.

Lyman loses opener

PORT ORANGE — Spruce Creek High School jumped out to a big first quarter lead then withstood a strong challenge to hold off Lyman 59-54 in the opening game of the girls basketball season for both teams at Spruce Creek on Thursday night.

"We played hard, but they outplayed us," said Lyman coach Steve Carmichael. "We tried to catch them but fell short. I'm proud of my girls and we hope to do better next time."

The next game for Lyman will be Monday at home versus Deltona.

Junior Latisha Smith paced the Greyhounds offense with 11 points while sophomore Carrie Scranton added 10. Sophomore Felicia Klep had eight points and a team-high 12 rebounds.

Pee Wee Rams play for title

ORLANDO — The Lake Mary Pop Warner Football Pee Wee Rams will play West Orange for the Mid-Florida Conference championship on Saturday at Dr. Phillips High School.

The game is scheduled to start at 11 a.m. Both teams come into the game undefeated. The Rams are unbeaten and untied while the West Orange Warriors have one tie.

Raiders at home Saturday

SANFORD — The Seminole Community College men's basketball team will attempt to stretch its winning streak to three games Saturday when it hosts Patrick Air Force Base at the Health and Physical Education Center at 7:30 p.m. The game will follow the consolation and championship games of the SCC women's tournament at 2 p.m. and 5 p.m.

This will be the second meeting of the season between SCC and Patrick. The Raiders, 4-2, stopped the Rockets 102-89 in the opening game of the Raider Tournament two weeks ago. Brian Nason had 28 points for SCC in the win.

'Noles vs. Rams

Nothing on the line but pride

By DEAN SMITH
Herald Sports Writer

LAKE MARY — One of the biggest rivalries in Seminole County high school football will be contested tonight and, except for pride, the game means almost nothing.

Seminole (5-3) and Lake Mary (7-2) will square off at Lake Mary's Don T. Reynolds Stadium tonight starting at 7:30 p.m. But unlike in years past, neither team has to rely on the outcome of this game to advance to games next week.

The Tribe knows they will be hosting the 4A-District 7 playoffs Monday night and the Rams, depending on the outcome of the Lake Brantley court case, will either be playing in Thanksgiving Day's Rotary Bowl or in the Class 5A playoffs next Friday.

In tonight's only other county game, Lake Brantley will be at Longwood to take on Lyman starting at 7:30 p.m. The game will be the Greyhounds' Homecoming.

"Obviously, the pressure is not even the same as it was last year when we had to win to get into the Rotary Bowl," said Lake Mary head coach Doug Peters. "It will be the first time in nine weeks without a lot of pressure to win. But it's still Seminole."

"This game is on a par with the Lake Brantley game for us. We would like to go into next week on a good note, whether we are in the Rotary Bowl or in the state playoffs."

Seminole head coach Emory Blake said he plans to pull no punches even though his team will be playing Monday night.

"We were in the same situation last year

(facing a three-team playoff) and we lost," said Blake. "We would like to reverse things this time. This game is on our schedule and we want to win all of the games on our schedule. We are not looking past them, we want to beat them just like we want to win the tie-breaker."

Neither coach plans to do anything different in this game than they normally do.

"The key to anything is execution," said Blake. "The kids know what they have to do. We're trying to get our offense to catch up with our defense. If it does, we feel we can play with anyone."

Peters said he felt the same way. "We're going to use the same game plan as always," said Peters. "There are some things you have to do to try to take advantage of Seminole's quickness and team speed. But we will do whatever the game dictates. You can't fool around with them too much because they are a good team. We still haven't played as well as I think we can, so I think we can use this game to get better. I expect a real good game."

While the game between the Patriots (6-3) and the Greyhounds (1-8) would appear to be a mismatch, things could get interesting if Lyman can pull off the upset.

If Lake Brantley fails to win its injunction against the Florida High School Activities Association today the Patriots are expected to play in the Rotary Bowl next Thursday.

But if Lake Brantley wins its court case today and loses to the Greyhounds tonight the 5A-District 4 race would end in a four-way tie forcing a Kansas tie-breaker between the four ball clubs on Monday.

Tribe freshmen in 3A state meets

By TONY DeBORMIER
Herald Sports Editor

SANFORD — First-year coaches and freshman athletes generally aren't considered the most likely of combinations to excel in post-season competition. But at Seminole High School, that quiniella has paid off not once, but twice.

Today, Seminole freshman Kara Thomas will compete in the 50-meter and 100-meter freestyle events in the Class 3A state swim meet at the Orlando International Aquatic Center. On Saturday, Carolyn Hubbard will run in the Class 3A state cross country meet at Florida Community College-Jacksonville.

Thomas will be accompanied by first-year Seminole swim coach Marjle Adcock while Hubbard will be traveling with rookie harrier coach Tami Gaudreau.

"I just got lucky," said Gaudreau, who draws on her experience as a road racer to coach Hubbard and the other Seminole runners. "With the other girls being injured or dropping off the team, a lot of the time, we'd train together. Since we're about at the same level, we push each other."

"She's real shy. She's just starting to become more aggressive in her racing. She's getting more confidence in herself and that's helping her time. Now she knows she can run with the top people. She just takes off at the start of the race and runs with the top runners."

While Hubbard, who spent the last 12 years living in Brazil with her parents, who are missionaries with the New Tribes Mission, was relatively new to competitive running when she joined the Seminole cross country team in September, Thomas had a background in competitive swimming before joining the Tribe.

According to Adcock, Thomas started swimming at the age of 7 at Westmonte Park in Altamonte Springs. She competes all year round, training at the Lake Forest Country Club during the high school season and

Can 'Hounds, Patriots defend titles?

From Staff Reports

Possibly the only thing more difficult than winning a championship is defending it.

On Saturday, the Lyman High School girls' cross country team and Lake Brantley High School girls' swim team will be attempting to do just that as they compete in their respective Class 4A state meets.

While he was speaking for his harriers, Lyman cross country coach Fred Finke could have just as easily been describing the situation facing the Patriot swimmers when he said, "It's really a team thing at this point. Everybody has to pull their weight. There can't be a weak link. It comes down to who wants it the most."

Finke said that based on the times posted by state qualifiers in their respective regional meets last weekend, the Greyhounds would finish ninth. But he also pointed out that those numbers don't take into account difference in conditions that would have an effect on times and places.

"We have a real good chance at finishing in the top five," Finke said. "For us to repeat, we would have to run an unbelievable race. We've already lost to Orange Park (the favorite to win the team title) by 60 points this season."

"As far as the boys are concerned, if they run well, they should be in the top 10. If they run great, they

Silver Hawks, Rams, Greyhounds pull out soccer wins

From Staff Reports

Like the best of entertainers, the five Seminole County high school girls' soccer teams that played matches Thursday night kept the fans in their seats until the very end.

Underscoring the competitiveness of girls' soccer in the area (the last three Class 4A state champions have come from Seminole County), all three games were decided in the second half. Lake Howell edging Seminole 3-2, Lake Mary thumping Winter Park 4-0 and Lyman blanking Oviedo 3-0.

While the final two scores may not look like, all three games were tied at halftime.

Hawks overcome Tribe
 SANFORD — Seminole High School threw a scare into visiting Lake Howell, scoring the game's first two goals before succumbing to the more experienced Silver Hawks.

Sabrina Reilly gave the Fighting Seminoles a 1-0 lead six minutes into the contest when she scored on an assist from Valerie Benge. Dawn Burke made it 2-0 with a breakaway goal six minutes later.

Michelle Harris got the first goal back for Lake Howell, scoring on an assist from Angie McCornick in the 29th minute. She then set up the game-tying goal, putting a throw-in on the head of Jennie Yearick, who nodded it home for the equalizer with 1:31 left in the half.

Harris and Yearick combined to set up Monica Compton for the game-winning goal at the 65-minute mark of the second half.

"We gave them a good scare," said Seminole coach Suzy Reno. "For us, this is like a victory."

After we were shellacked by Lake Brantley (losing 7-0) last week, we were ready to play Lake Howell tonight."

According to Reno, her team took 14 shots on goal and had one corner kick while goalkeeper Christy Oliver made 12 saves. Lake Howell coach Gerhard Tauscher had his team taking 15 shots and five corner kicks while goalie Kelly Cashion made one save.

Seminole, now 0-2, will host Daytona Beach-Seabreeze in an 11 a.m. game this Saturday while Lake Howell, 2-0, will play at Lake Brantley next Wednesday.

Woman ponders future with man

DEAR ABBY: I am a 29-year-old professional woman who is considered attractive. I am well-educated and enjoy a very successful career. I am currently dating a man my age who has a job doing manual labor. (He works in a warehouse.) He has only a high school education, which is all he ever wanted. He loves sports, has a great sense of humor and is not terribly ambitious. We never fight or argue, and he treated me like a queen.

This current man in my life is somewhat immature in that he is still very attached to his buddies and enjoys the bar scene — although he doesn't have a drinking problem. (Two beers is his limit.)

ADVICE

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

He loves children and would be a kind and loyal husband and father. My biological clock is running, and I would like a family. I love him, but my question is: Can a relationship like this last? He wants to marry me, but I am concerned that perhaps he is too simple, and I might grow bored.

Last year, I ended a relationship with a man who wanted to run my life, and now I fear that in this case, I would be never been treated this well — ever. If I do decide to end this relationship, how could I ever explain why?

ON THE FENCE IN WAUKEGAN, ILL.

DEAR ON THE FENCE: A relationship like yours can last only if you appreciate what a rare jewel you have in a man who treats you like a queen, is loyal, caring and steady. Clip this letter, and should you decide to end this relationship, read it to him. He may not be as well-educated as you, but I assure you, he will understand and become history.

one decision that you must make yourselves. Sit down together and make a list of all the advantages of having the baby. Then list the possible disadvantages. Next, list all the advantages and disadvantages of adopting a child.

You say you want to keep your husband happy, which is both generous and admirable. But it is equally important that the decision will also keep you happy.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine was engaged to be married and she was given several bridal showers. Her wedding was scheduled to be a month later. All the preparations were made — then suddenly the wedding was canceled because the groom changed his mind.

Is the intended bride supposed to return all the shower gifts? Or are they hers to keep for her next wedding? Please answer soon.

SUSAN B. IN NEWARK, N.J.
DEAR SUSAN: The bride should return the shower gifts. And promptly.

Contestants sought for 'Miss St. Lucia'

SANFORD — Contestants for Miss St. Lucia, who will lead the annual Christmas Parade Dec. 14 to kick off the St. Lucia Festival, have until Dec. 2 to file their applications, according to Gail Stewart, chairman.

"To be crowned Dec. 7th at the 'Light Up Sanford' ceremony in Magnolia Mall at 7 p.m., Miss St. Lucia will reign for a year representing the festival organization at special events," Stewart said.

The contest is open to all young women ages 16 through 20. A small gift will be presented to all contestants. The winner and runner-up will receive a monetary award each.

To select Miss St. Lucia, interviews will be held Wednesday, Dec. 4, from 5 to 7 p.m. at First Street Gallery, Etc., 203 E. First Street, in historic downtown Sanford.

Although St. Lucia is a Swedish celebration, candidates do not have to be Swedish to enter.

"We are looking for bright, energetic young ladies who will proudly wear the Miss St. Lucia title," Stewart added.

Sponsors who pay the fee of $25 for each contestant will be recognized the night of the crowning ceremony.

For information, call 323-9178 or 323-8690.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 44-year-old divorcee who married a 34-year-old man last December.

The problem is, he wants us to have a baby together. Abby, I already have two teen-agers by a previous marriage and I feel that I am getting too old to start a second family. However, I want to keep my husband happy.

What is your opinion? Should we try to adopt? We are both professionals, so money isn't the problem.

To Be Thankful...

It used to be that a picture like this could only mean harvest time — big orange pumpkins, shiny red apples, colorful stalks of Indian corn. And, of course, a turkey in the pantry.

But what about today? You can buy apples almost any time. Pumpkins are available in a can twelve months of the year. And you can buy a frozen turkey as early in July as in November.

We Americans take for granted what was a real treat in our parents' time. But in the midst of this material plenty, there is a danger of spiritual famine. To keep the proper perspective, to appreciate the gifts of life to the fullest, we need our churches and synagogues and the stories they have to tell us.

Maybe you can't be a pioneer—a Pilgrim. But you can follow your forefathers' example at Plymouth that first November. You can utter genuine thanks in the church or synagogue of your choice.

IN BRIEF

Join us for a Souper Supper

SANFORD — The Mayor of Sanford, Bettye D. Smith, invites and encourages the entire community of Sanford to join her at the first annual Mayor's Souper Supper at the Sanford Civic Center on Nov. 27 from 5-9 p.m.

All proceeds of the event will be shared equally by the Sanford Christian Sharing Center, Inc., and the Rescue Mission of Sanford.

Admission is $10 per person. Children 12 & under are free. Corporate tables may be obtained for $100.

Tickets are available by calling the sharing center at 323-2513 or 321-9141; Rescue Mission, 321-8234 or the mayor's office at 330-8602 or 323-3030.

'Messiah' featured for the holidays

The Messiah Choral Society is proud to present the 19th annual performance of Handel's masterpiece "Messiah," on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 1, at 4 p.m. at the Bob Carr Auditorium. Admission is free to the public.

The 180 member choir will be directed by Dr. John Sinclair, director of choral activities and chairman of music at Rollins College. The concert will feature performances by both professional and local soloists and will be accompanied by members of the Messiah Choral Society Orchestra.

A Month of Music

SANFORD — The First Presbyterian Church, 301 Oak Ave., will present a Month of Music with the following special events:

- Dec. 1, special music will be delivered by a flute and oboe duo and at 4 p.m. Handbells in Concert.
- Dec. 3, an Advent Recital Series, featuring Stetson University, School of Music, vocalists, will be held at noon.
- Dec. 5, "This Holy Child," a Christmas Cantata by Choirs of First Presbyterian Church, Sanford, and Winter Park Presbyterian Church, will be performed at 10 a.m.
- Dec. 10, an Advent Recital Series by Rachel Rautenstrauch, organist, will be at noon.
- Dec. 15, "Christmas Time," a Christmas musical featuring children and puppets, at 4 p.m.
- Dec. 17, an Advent Recital Series by Ken Stoops, organist, will be held at noon.
- Dec. 24, "The Music of Christmas" by brass and handbells, will be featured at 7 p.m.

Thanksgiving service announced

LAKE MARY — First Baptist Church Markham Woods, 5400 Markham Woods Road, will be celebrating Thanksgiving with an hour of thanksgiving and praise on Sunday at 10:45 a.m. Evening worship is at 7 p.m. and Wednesday Bible Study and Prayer Meeting is at 7 p.m. Nursery is provided for all services. For information, call 333-2085.

A celebration of Thanksgiving

SANFORD — The "First Holiday" among American secular holidays began as a religious feast commemorating harvest, survival and new friends. Thanksgiving is a family time — and especially a time to reflect on our many blessings.

This feast will begin with a celebration of Thanksgiving, the meaning of "Eucharist," at Holy Cross Episcopal Church on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Good Shepherd plans yard sale

SANFORD — Good Shepherd Evangelical Lutheran Church, 2917 Orlando Dr., will have a Yard Sale on Nov. 23 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. For information, call 322-7312.

Thanksgiving dinner to be served

LONGWOOD — First Baptist Church, 891 E. S.R. 434, will hold its eighth annual Thanksgiving Dinner on Nov. 28, from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Admission is free and all are welcome. If you are in need of a ride, call 339-3817.

Let us know what's going on

The Sanford Herald welcomes news about church activities and news for publication in the Religion page each Friday. The following suggestions are recommended to expedite publication:

- All items should be typed or written legibly and include the name of a person who can be contacted and a daytime phone number.
- The deadline is 11 a.m. Wednesday before publication. There is no charge for publication.

Thanksgiving message

Let us not take for granted gifts the good Lord has bestowed

*In thanks for the fullness of days spent together,
The friends that we pray will be with us forever,
The feelings we've shared, the food and good fun,
With faith that God's blessings have only begun.*

Perhaps you know that for a number of years it was a custom of the Pilgrims to place beside each plate at the table of Thanksgiving five grains of corn, as a reminder that during the first year in this country there had been times when five grains of corn was the daily ration per person.

It is difficult for us to realize that people in this country ever had to live on such a limited scale. Living as we do in an era of abundance, we very easily forget that it was not always true. Even those who lived through the years of depression, in the 1930s, so easily forget

Special service set to dedicate new windows

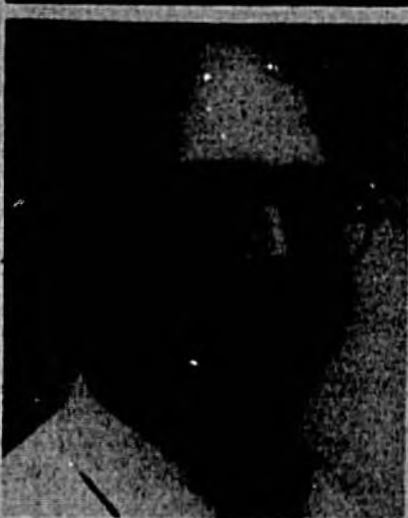

WINTER PARK — The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, 1006 Clay St., will hold a special worship service to dedicate the new stained glass windows in the church sanctuary on Dec. 1 at 9:50 a.m.

The scenes depicted in the windows represent the six principles of the Gospel: faith, repentance, baptism, laying on of hands, resurrection, and eternal judgment. Each concept has a separate full-art window, approximately nine feet high and three feet wide.

The total project, from design through construction, has been accomplished by the hands of a few members and friends of the congregation. These persons volunteered to commit themselves first by learning the many processes involved in such an extensive creative effort. Since that time, a period of more than two years, each one has given freely of their artistic gifts and talents to complete the project.

Members of the congregation and friends who worked on the windows include: Marianne Daddysman, of Orlando, supplied the design and art work; Andrew Darling and Warren Schebold, both of Orlando, did the cutting, building and leading; Susan Dion, Winter Park, handworker; Charles and Bebe, Kellogg, of Longwood, and Vi Buntz, Chuluota, acted on the committee to help organize the construction.

The youth choir, named "Promise," will provide ministry of music during the 11 a.m. morning worship service. Visitors are welcome.

Living as we do in an era of abundance, we very easily forget that it was not always true.

—Rev. George B. Spraney

what it must be like to live on the edge of poverty.

Thanksgiving is an appropriate time to list all the blessings we have received in the years we have lived in this world of ours. The tangible evidences of wealth are usually first in our offering of thanks. The gifts of this country, the kind of lives we are able to live, the freedom we have experienced — all are and ought to be on our list of thanks. Of course, good health (when we've had good health), love of family and friends, and the support of people in our community all ought to be on our list.

Thanksgiving for me is all this and more. It's especially people who have become a part of my life in significant ways. Unfortunately, like many of the blessings we receive, those around us who give meaning to our lives are often taken for granted, and we fail to express our gratitude for the contributions each make in our lives. Please allow this to be a personal note of thanks for your part in the life of the church and in the lives of those around you.

And please join me in giving thanks to God for the bounty of blessings and friends which mark our lives.

"It is good to give thanks to the Lord, to sing praises to thy name, O Most High." Psalm 92:1

The Rev. George B. Spraney, Jr., is pastor of First Presbyterian Church, 301 Oak Ave., Sanford.

Sign of the times

Christ United Methodist Church, C.R. 427 and Tucker Drive, in Sanford, recently held its annual yard sale to raise money for a new

Christ Episcopal joins in the fun

LONGWOOD — On Saturday and Sunday, Christ Episcopal Church, 151 W. Church St., in conjunction with the Longwood Arts and Crafts Festival, will have all groups of the church actively involved.

ECW will have its soup kitchen, baked goods, crafts and second hand sale. They also have copies of the famous Episcopalian cookbook, "Keeping The Feast," for sale.

The Senior EYC group will be parking cars on the church lot for $3, all day Saturday and Sunday after our last service which begins at 11:15 a.m.

The Junior EYC will be selling popped corn all day Saturday and the Men's Club will have its chicken barbecue plus hot dogs, hamburgers and some new surprises this year.

The Altar Guild will serve a continental breakfast of baked goods, tea, coffee and hot chocolate from 8:30 a.m. till 10:30 a.m.

Each group has its pet project to spend the proceeds of the event on.

This is the church's only money making event of the year. The congregation invites all to stop in and see what is available.

Is testing absolutely necessary for vertigo?

MEDICINE
PETER GOTT, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 20-year-old son is in good physical condition except for an occasional bout of dizziness. An ear specialist has identified the condition as vertigo/Meniere's disease and has made arrangements for him to undergo a balance test. My son is reluctant to have this performed as each bout is followed by nausea and a day in bed. Is there any other way to confirm his diagnosis?

DEAR READER: Meniere's disease affects the inner ear, causing vertigo (a sensation of spinning), loss of hearing and tinnitus (ringing or buzzing in the ears). The cause is unknown, but the condition may follow head injuries or middle ear infections.

Specialists often order an MRI scan, a test using electromagnetic waves, to make sure that the symptoms are not due to a tumor of the inner ear. Sometimes, tests to measure balance are used to confirm the diagnosis. Treatment of Meniere's disease involves prescription anti-histamine drugs to lessen symptoms; in severe cases, surgery to cut the balance (vestibular) nerve may be necessary.

I can understand why your son hesitates to have a balance test, because this can bring on violent vertigo. In fact, such a test may not be necessary. If an MRI is normal, because Meniere's disease is largely a diagnosis of exclusion, I agree that further confirmatory testing would probably be redundant.

To resolve this issue, I suggest a second opinion from another ear-nose-and-throat specialist. There is no specific test for Meniere's disease, so the second opinion could help your son avoid an additional unpleasant medical experience.

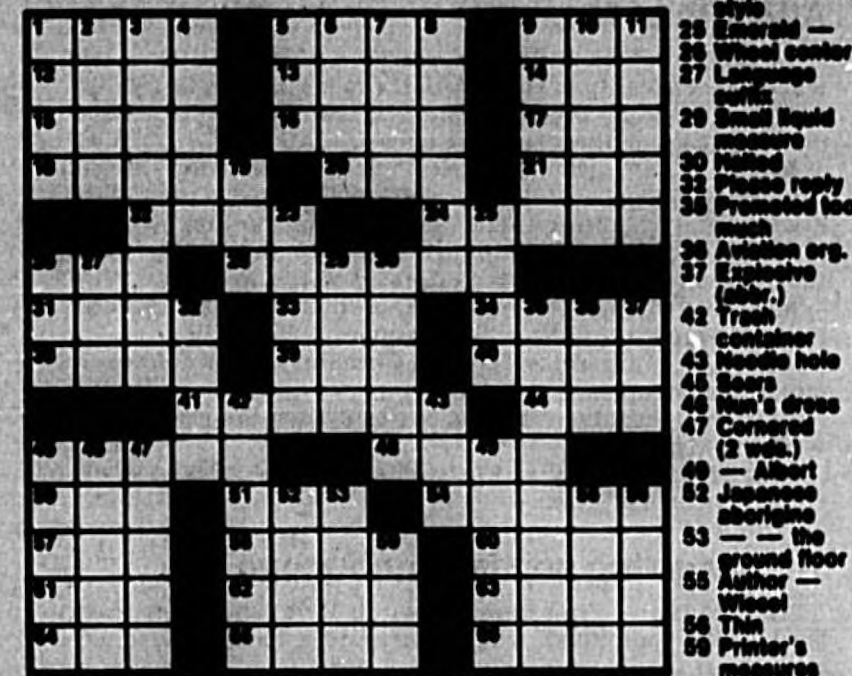

To provide further information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Ear Infections and Disorders." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369.

BRIDGE

By Phillip Alder

Most finesses are a 50-50 proposition. True, some have no chance and others are certainties, but most win half the time. However, there are certain card combinations that require care in the way the finesse is taken.

On today's deal, taken from "Kantar Lessons II," cover the East-West cards and plan the play in three no-trump. West leads the diamond three; East wins with the ace and returns the diamond nine. West dropping the two.

The play of the diamond suit clearly shows that West began with five diamonds and East with three. So if you lose the lead, you will go down. You have seven top tricks: two spades, two hearts, one diamond and two clubs. The other two tricks must come from spades. You could cash the A-K and hope the queen drops, but that is against the odds. It is better to try the spade finesse.

Having got this far, many players will lead the jack from hand. When playing against their relatives, they will do well because the jack will win the trick. But against less friendly opponents, this play will cost the contract. West will cover the jack with his queen, and there will be only three spade tricks available when the suit splits 4-2.

As declarer cannot gain by having the jack covered, the right play is to lead low to dummy's 10. When that wins, cash the ace. If the queen doesn't drop, cash the king and hope for a 3-3 split. If the queen does drop under the ace, lead the spade two to the jack, return to dummy with a club to the king, and cash the spade king.

HOROSCOPE

By Bernice Bode Osof
YOUR BIRTHDAY
Nov. 23, 1991

Being both penny-wise and pound-conscious is a practice you should attempt to follow in the year ahead. The small amounts you'll save will result in a significant sum by year's end.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Companions might not be as in love with your voice and ideas as you are today. Keep this in mind so that you do not unintentionally attempt to dominate conversations. Major changes are ahead for Sagittarius in the coming year. Send for Sagittarius' Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Loose lips could create pink slips. Be very careful today when talking to individuals you don't know too well about your company's industrial secrets. The guy who wants your job may be listening.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You're in a rather hopeful cycle, but it's best not to talk too much about your expectations today, especially at social gatherings. You could come across as a yarker instead of a doer.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Do not demean a family member today by unfairly comparing this individual to someone who is in another league. If your example is unjust, it will generate resentment rather than emulation.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be extra mindful of how you phrase things when talking with others today. There's a possibility you might inadvertently say something that could offend a listener.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your sales resistance is a trifle low today, and a smooth-talking promoter might be able to sell you that piece of the Brooklyn Bridge you've always wanted.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You might have to work in close proximity with someone who'll feel compelled to do your thinking for you today. Let this individual know up front your mind is still functioning.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

An inquisitive associate with ulterior motives might try to pry into your personal affairs today. This may not be too hard to do, because you could be more talkative than usual.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's best not to talk too much today about an endeavor you've recently gotten involved in, because it may not turn out exactly as you think.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You're pretty good at making mountains out of molehills today, and this could impede your progress instead of enhancing it. Don't let your tongue or your toes trip over little things.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Usually, you're a fast study and learn things quickly, but today others might grasp the essence of ideas before you do. Don't be embarrassed to have something you don't understand repeated.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If you are careless with your prized possessions today, it could result in something traumatic. While only little things may be involved, one could be valuable — like a diamond.
