Fire Chief Mack N. Cleveland, Sr. will tell the Jaycees about his 45 years with the Sanford Fire Department at their luncheon at the Civic Center Thursday.

Capt. James O. Mayo is being honored by civic leaders at a luncheon Monday and we're sure Mrs. Mayo will be there, too. However, the Naval Officers Wives are planning a special farewell celebration for Mrs. Mayo, herself, in the form of a tea at 2 p.m. Thursday.

The closing of the Mayfair Inn and motel as tourist quarters may well have unexpectedly "excellent" results. The lack of any large facility of this kind in Sanford will give Sanford's city commissioners a first rate selling point to attract a really outstanding motel-hotel - restaurant-nightclub facility for the lakefront marina development.

Having a facility right on Lake Monroe will give the Sanford Naval Academy a fine spot to put their increasingly large fleet of boats of all kinds. They have sailboats, motor boats, whale boats and rowing shells—all good training equipment for the young mariners. One of these days we may expect to see some exciting competitive events on the lake.

Sanford Naval Academy's mascot goat, Snag II, got into some serious difficulties the other night when a pack of dogs jumped the fence of Snag's pen and attacked him. They chewed him up rather badly, but the sturdy mascot seems to be recovering from his wounds.

In case Clock Watchers don't get the connection — the goat's name — Snag — is very clever play on letters. It stands for Sanford Naval Academy Goat. Cuts, huh?

Police Chief Roy G. Williams, who Thursday begins six months of inactive duty pending retirement on Oct. 1, is reported bedded with a serious ear infection. Reports say the venerable Williams elected to stay home rather than enter the hospital as suggested.

Geneva and Chuluota teenagers will wiggle and wobble to "the jerk" and other modes of modern dance Saturday night. Chuluota teenagers are staging a dance from 8 to 12 Saturday at the American Legion Hall. Music by the "A-B-D-C's."

The prize-winning "Impalas" will provide the music at Geneva for a teenage dance at the Community Hall. Harry Wilkin, Sonny Kenton, Clifford Cohen and Larry Holloway make up the combo that is becoming very popular in this area.

Pretty Bobbie Lee Watkins, of Casselberry, will represent Seminole County in the "Miss Florida Flams" contest in Jacksonville next month. The Casselberry Volunteer Fire Department believes Bobbie has a good chance of winning the state title. So do we.

Longwood Shop Burglary Told

J. M. Enterprises, Longwood Plaza television and radio sales shop, was broken into Monday night and merchandise valued at approximately $1,200 was taken, according to Sheriff J. L. Hobby today.

The sheriff's report said entry was gained through the front door of the building, which faces on Hwy. 17-92. Six television sets worth approximately $750, five radios worth about $200, and other equipment and petty cash, total value about $300, was reported missing by Jess Moorfield, owner.

Red Infiltration Up In Viet Nam — McNamara

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara reported today that Communist infiltration into South Viet Nam had "increased at a high rate" in recent months.

He said that the war effort against the Reds would be stepped up to counteract the "high-level" infiltration of men and equipment. McNamara talked with newsmen at Andrews AFB, Md., after an overnight flight from Honolulu where he presided over a high-level conference of U. S. officials and military leaders.

The defense chief was to report to President Johnson at the White House. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and McGeorge Bundy, Johnson's national security adviser, also were to attend. McNamara declined to comment on the outlook for the future in South Viet Nam or on what he would tell Johnson.

He said that the air strikes against North Viet Nam had tended to overshadow the importance of the war in the south and the necessity to defeat Red insurgents whose aim was to subvert and overthrow the Saigon government.

The Honolulu meeting directed its attention, he said, to steps for bolstering the South Vietnamese forces. McNamara said that those forces "suffer from a strength disadvantage" relative to the guerrillas. They outnumber the guerrillas about five to one whereas experience indicates a ratio of about ten to one is needed to defeat insurgents.

"HANGMAN"
TOKYO (UPI)—Communist China today accused the United States of escalating the war in Viet Nam. The Chinese described President Johnson as a "hangman."

The Peking charge followed a Communist Chinese statement Tuesday urging the Chinese people to begin "full preparations" to send volunteers to fight in Viet Nam.

PROWLERS
SAIGON (UPI) — U. S. Navy fighter planes prowled the skies over North Viet Nam before dawn today, raking two Communist truck convoys with a barrage of rocket and cannon fire.

It was the seventh consecutive day of around-the-clock raids on North Vietnamese territory.

Cleveland Plugs JC Hq. Building

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Ignoring pleas to hold the line on spending, senators flooded the legislative hopper today with appropriations bills, including one to spend $50,000 for a permanent headquarters building in Florida for the Junior Chamber of Commerce International.

Sen. Mack Cleveland, of Sanford, said Florida may "see the world J.C. headquarters" if it is not provided with suitable quarters. The state appropriation would have to be matched by a similar amount of money or land and buildings by a city wanting the headquarters.

Governor Quits For Senate Post

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI)—Gov. Donald Russell resigned today to accept appointment to the U.S. Senate, succeeding the late Olin D. Johnston.

U.S. Gov. Robert E. McNair will be sworn in as governor Thursday before a joint session of the legislature, when Russell's resignation becomes effective.

McNair then will immediately appoint the 59-year-old Russell to the Senate.

State Gives Fire Alert

Lack of rain during April is causing a critical situation in Seminole County citrus growing.

"If there is no rain within a week citrus production will be cut," Charles Williams, assistant county agent, said today.

"Small fruit is falling from the trees and citrus leaves are curling up," he said.

At the same time, Forest Ranger Al Harris issued an urgent warning, appealing for a stop to all burning.

Harris said the county is suffering from an extremely serious dry period. He said there has been no rain since March 30 and that only an approximate three inches fell during that month.

Already, Harris said, the county has had 64 wildfires as compared to 88 for the whole of 1964. A total of 778 acres has burned over to date this year compared to 439 for all of last year.

The ranger stressed the fact that although grass is green, it holds no moisture and will burn readily if touched off.

If burning is necessary, rangers will assist upon appointment and Harris asks that the fire towers be contacted in advance by those who find it necessary to burn trash or acreage at this time.

Williams said citrus is the only crop being severely affected by the current drought. But he said vegetable crops, such as beans and young cabbage, are being irrigated through the underground system.

He said irrigation of citrus, if it becomes necessary, will be an extremely expensive process.

"Vegetable growers use the old underground tile drainage system for irrigation purposes but citrus growers would have to move equipment into the groves," Williams said.

USO Placed 'On Its Own'

Local 'Club' Will Operate Independently

By Dottie Austin

Sanford's United Service Organization (USO) is now "on its own" volunteers and council members were told at the annual appreciation dinner at the Civic Center Tuesday evening.

Until the present the local organization had been under the direction of Maj. Kimber Cox, of the Salvation Army, USO director in the Orlando office. Under new national policies, the Orlando office is being closed.

Open hours at the local USO have been cut to four days a week, Thursday through Sunday, and will be dependent on the community for support.

"However, since the Sanford Naval Air Station constitutes an 'impact area,' the Sanford USO will receive a subsidy from the national United Service Organization amounting to more than $5,000 a year," Major Cox said.

"We could not exist without the volunteer assistance that we receive. There is no substitute for the spirit of community co-operation," Major Cox noted.

William Fraasa, council secretary and master of ceremonies, and Richard Barnett, council president, commended local clubs, church groups, Navy wives clubs, fraternal organizations, home demonstration clubs, Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, County Commission, City Commission, USO hostesses, American Legion and Florida Power and Light Company for donations of money, time, and services to keep the local USO functioning for the benefit of servicemen.

Main address was given by Commissioner Norman S. Marshall (retired), former national commander of the Salvation Army and a member of the board of governors of the USO.

Commissioner Marshall described how the USO was born and how it became integrated with the Salvation Army. In recognition of the 100th year anniversary of the Salvation Army this year, he told how the work of the Army spread around the world 15 countries.

Marshall described Salvationists as "sparks blown by the winds of God."

Special commendations were given by all the speakers to Mrs. Mary Washburn, who is now executive director of the local USO under the new autonomy.

Mrs. Washburn said that more than 500 servicemen are entertained at the local club each weekend, "with many more on holiday weekends."

NEW STATUS of the local United Service Organization in Sanford was announced at the annual appreciation dinner at the Civic Center Tuesday. Mrs. Alewine Indicted For Mate's Death

Two indictments one for murder and the other for rape, were returned Tuesday by the Seminole County grand jury sitting for the spring court session.

The jury returned an indictment of second degree murder against Mrs. Beverly Alewine, 28, in the April 15 slaying of her husband, Tony. Mrs. Alewine is presently free on $5,000 bond.

A true bill was returned against Jimmie Drumwright, 18, and Israel Gilley, 17, for the February assault of a young school girl.

Trial dates have not yet been set.

These were the only two cases to be presented to the grand jury before it recessed. It is subject to recall at any time.

Clifford E. Barber served as foreman and Robert H. Powell is clerk.

Seat Belts

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The House public safety committee approved a bill today requiring all 1966 and other later model autos sold in Florida to have seat belts installed in the front seats.

New Try Seen On Succession Bill

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A second attempt was expected in the House today to push through an administration-backed bill to allow Florida governors to succeed themselves.

The House killed the gubernatorial succession bill Tuesday with 48 "yes" and 63 "no" votes, considered a definite setback for the administration of Gov. Haydon Burns.

Although the governor did not introduce the measure or actively support it, he said publicly that he liked the idea and would be disappointed if he was not included in its provisions.

A total of 68 "yes" were needed to pass the measure since it would amend the Constitution.

Meanwhile, administration leaders were reported trying to plug the "hold-the-line" dam on spending and taxes which may have been cracked as the governor's $1.2 million World's Fair exhibit bill cleared the Legislature Tuesday.

Opponents in the Senate shouted when the measure was passed that it would open the floodgates to spending and thus new taxes.

Sure enough, a $40 million teacher pay raise bill was introduced in the Senate Tuesday.

The measure is expected to face stiff opposition from conservatives and the administration although most legislators generally concede that teachers deserve raises.

The Florida Education Association (FEA) is known, however, as a powerful lobbying instrument.

A bill which would have permitted Florida cities to incorporate nearby suburban areas at will without approval of residents in the areas died in a legislative committee Tuesday.

The bill, opposed by the powerful Florida Council of 100, was voted down by the House general legislation committee.

Presbyterians Study Merger

MONTREAL, N. C. (UPI) — A proposed merger with the Reformed Church in America was to be the key issue presented during the annual six-day meeting of the Southern Presbyterian Church's General Assembly which convened here today.

A committee of 12 Southern Presbyterians and 12 of the Reformed Church was expected to ask for authorization (Sanford's Rev. Grover C. Sewell Jr., of First Presbyterian Church, and Rev. Thomas H. Makin, of the Presbyterian Church of the Covenant, are delegates to the Montreal convention.)

Members of 24 were to recommend against expanding the "conversations" to include the United Presbyterians because the larger church is now involved in merger conversations with five other Protestant bodies.

"We've been in conversations with the Reformed church now for three years," said Dr. Warner L. Hall, senior minister of the Covenant Presbyterian Church in Charlotte and a member of the committee.

"If we were to bring the United Presbyterian Church into conversations at this state, it would set us back several more years."

Hall predicted the committee's report would be approved by the assembly, despite "some strong opposition."

The general assembly will consider a number of other proposals, including at least five overtures questioning its right to "instruct" as it did last year when it asked presbyteries to absorb all Negro churches and ministers within their geographical boundaries.

Membership in the Reformed church numbers approximately 250,000 persons in the New York-Pennsylvania and Midwest areas.

Crooms Graduate Wins Degree

By Robert B. Thomas Jr. (322-5756)

Ruck Jones, a 1957 honor graduate of Crooms High School, has earned his Ph. D. in theology at Yale University.

Those who knew this young man when he was a student at Crooms are not surprised at his accomplishment. He was an ambitious, eager and dedicated pupil.

Jones, his wife, Ethel, and their son, Diogenes, live in Riverhead, N. Y., where he works for the Council of Churches.

To say we are proud of him would be an understatement for we are just bubbling with joy.

Jehovah's Witnesses of Sanford are making plans to attend a three-day training program to be held in Winter Haven Friday through Sunday.

World Headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses, the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York and the Winter Haven congregation will sponsor the occasion.

Tangerine Hall is to be used for the occasion and upward to 700 delegates from Central Florida are expected to attend the sessions.

The speaker will be C. G. Thompson, district supervisor and representative from New York.

All sessions are open to the public without admission charge or collection plate offering.

The three-day program includes a variety of talks on Bible subjects. Groups of ministers will discuss ministerial problems and demonstrations will teach how Christians should conduct Bible studies.

Mrs. Annie Bell Cross, Mrs. Johnnie Dixon and Leroy McClendon attended the funeral of their uncle, William Thornton, in Sylvester, Ga., last week.

Pvt. Henry Brown has returned home after completing a tour of duty in Germany. He is an alumnus of Crooms High School.

Off Rockers

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Tom Weiner, 18, and Dennis Kepler, 17, rocked 75 hours each in the famed Hollywood Palladium as a highlight of a teen-age fair.

"I'm just going to go home and lie down," said Weiner after he and Kepler came to rest in their rocking chairs.

The first American missionary church in China was established on Nov. 6, 1847.

Bear Lake Men Name Officers For New Year

By Maryann Miles

New officers of the Bear Lake Methodist Church Men's Club were unanimously accepted as presented by chairman of the nominating committee, L. W. Hodges, at a meeting Monday night...

Prior to the meeting conducted by current president, Walter Bowles, the ladies were served steaks, cooked by Johnny Morgan over open pit coals, baked potato, tossed salad, coffee, tea and cake.

Guest speaker for the evening was William Hale, lay leader from First Baptist Church of Orlando, who presented a clever program and illustration, pointing out that today's employer, if identity of the 12 Disciples were not known in advance, probably would find them "unfit" in qualifications to fill the job.

Men of the Bear Lake Club are invited to attend a 6:30 p. m. dinner meeting at the Apopka Methodist Church on April 29 when guest speaker will be Dr. Howard Britton, missionary in the Congo.

Jobless Number Up In Seminole, State Reports

Unemployment in Seminole County showed a slight increase in February, according to figures released today by the Florida State Employment Service.

The total civilian labor force for February was 16,500—an increase of 200 over February, 1964. The unemployed rose to 600 over 400 in January. But was 100 lower than February a year ago.

Of the total labor force, 15,700 were employed during February this year. Of this number, 1,000 were engaged in agriculture and 10,400 in non-agricultural jobs. Miscellaneous employment accounted for 3,700.

Of workers employed in non-agricultural jobs the largest number was engaged in wholesale and retail trade jobs. This field employed 2,700 workers.

Contract construction work showed a slight increase over last year with 1,100 employed in building.

Federal Spotlight On Little River County

NEW LIFE IN LITTLE RIVER COUNTY: Map shows area involved in the federal-state-local co-operative project.

(First of Three Dispatches.) By Tom Nolan

TEXARKANA, Ark. (NEA)—Take U.S. Highway 71 north from here across the Red River Valley and you travel straight as an arrow. The white strip in the road's center is the state line; Arkansas to your right, Texas to your left.

Ten miles north of town, you veer sharply to your left as you cross the Red River on a narrow two-lane bridge. Here, the dusty, reddish soil and scrubby hardwood pines are all Arkansas; you're in Little River County—in 1960, the most depressed area in a state scarcely noted for its high standard of living.

In 1920, when cotton was king, more than 17,000 people lived on the county's 575 square miles—most of them working the cotton fields. Today, barely 9,000 people live here. Only 2,000 are farmers.

As you enter Little River County, the countryside changes. The soil is a little more barren, the few patches of grass a little less green. You're in a real poverty pocket, you tell yourself. This is Appalachia on the Red River.

But, inexplicably, the cues begin to change. You pass a few ranch-type homes, obviously just completed. Crews are busy building several more.

A few miles down the road, you enter Ashdown, the county seat. The first thing that catches your eye in this town of 2,700 population—the only part of the county that can even remotely be considered urban—is a spanking new high school.

You notice the bustling activity in Ashdown: a crew working on a new sewer line; another paving a dirt street; a crowd erupting from a garment factory for lunch hour.

Traveling east from Ashdown on Route 32 (the only other paved road in the county), you suddenly see a half-finished dam. Built by the Corps of Engineers for flood control, water supply and recreation, Millwood Dam isn't big as dams go. It will be 88 feet high, about three and a half miles long. The resulting lake will come some 20,000 acres.

But for Little River County, it's a giant. The farther you travel in the county, the faster your initial impression changes.

are still classified dilapidated or deteriorating.

But Little River County is on the economic upswing. Things have improved, and the people confidently expect them to keep improving.

Part of the reason for the change is that Little River County was designated the pilot project of a rural renewal program by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) in February 1964. Under this program, people in low-income rural areas use USDA funds and technical help as a catalyst to obtain own manpower, land, water maximum benefits from their and other resources.

Herald Sports Writer

The South Seminole Hurricanes will tackle the Bishop Moore Hornets in a baseball game at Cooper Field in Casselberry this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

David Unley and Jamie Cornell could also see action on the mound.

Mickey Hawkes will be the South Seminole receiver.

The infield will boast Jim Lucas at first base, Bobby Owens at second, George Milwee at shortstop and Cornell at the hot corner.

Williams' Towering Homer Gives Win CPO Nine Edges Kiwanis, 6-5

A towering home run blast by Larry Williams in the eighth inning enabled CPO to squeeze by Kiwanis, 6-5, yesterday afternoon at Pinehurst Park. The home run by Williams was estimated to have traveled some 350 ft.

Ken Martin received credit for the mound decision.

Billy Colbert lead the CPO hitters with two hits, while Larry Rowland and Wally Jernigan, each with two hits paced Kiwanis. Allan Cooper was the losing hurler.

Florida State Bank and First Federal took victories in Little League games played yesterday.

First Federal nosed out Chase, 3-2, behind the pitching arm of Al Grooms and excellent fielding.

The Savinames turned in a neat doubleplay in the fourth inning. Mike Lemay banged out two doubles and John McClanahan came in for some notice with two singles.

Grooms, picking up the victory, struck out seven. Bill Hope was the losing pitcher.

Florida State came from behind with a big five-run, fourth inning rally to down the Mustangs, 5-3. Andy Steele and Tommy Barke put together back-to-back home runs in the fourth to provide the Bankers with their margin of victory.

Barke and Steele each had two hits to lead the winners at the plate. Mike Harden and Gary Brown each had two hits for Strickland-Morrison.

Andy Steele notched his second win on the hill, striking out eight on the way. Don Brown received the setback.

A tight defense, steady pitching and timely hitting proved to be too much of a combination to cope with as Leroy Robb Construction dumped the Kingswood Builders, 10-3, last night at Pinehurst Park.

Jim Jernigan yielded seven hits in recording the victory. He was the victim of a fourth inning home run blast by Butch Cook.

The hitting brigade was lead by Rick Sires who had three hits, including a triple. Jim Westlund came through with a pair of hits, including a double; Bud Burton, Don Hunter and Jim Warren chipped in with two hits each as the Robb team combined for fifteen hits.

Panning Lumber of Longwood remained the only undefeated team in the City League by taking their third win in a row, this time over USO, 14-3. Harold Delms was the winning pitcher. He limited USO to seven hits.

Pacing the Panning 13-hit attack were Bobby Driskill, Kirby Grant and Donny Smith with two hits apiece. Smith had the games only home run.

Rudy Napier and Ray Lawler were the top USO hitters.

A footnote in the City League... the last by Kingswood was the earliest season defeat for the Builders in five years.

Spahn Hurls Mets To Win Over Dodgers

By Fred Down
UPI Sports Writer

And so, after all, Warren Spahn and the New York Mets may have the last laugh on the rest of the baseball world.

Tabbed as washed up when he had a 6-13 record for the Milwaukee Braves in 1964, Spahn was acquired by the Mets as a pitcher-coach and then promptly announced he still regarded himself as primarily a pitcher.

The idea of a pitcher who will be 44 on next Friday winning for the ragamuffin Mets seemed incredible—even when that pitcher is the most successful left-hander in major league history.

But Spahn demonstrated Tuesday night that there's still something left in the arm that won 356 games from 1946 through 1964 by pitching the Mets to a 3-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers—and acquiring another National League record in the bargain.

By striking out five batters Spahn raised his career total to 2,501 and thereby surpassed the previous league mark of 2,499 set by Hall of Famer Christy Mathewson.

The Philadelphia Phillies shooed the Astros, 2-1, in 13 innings and the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the San Francisco Giants, 3-1, in other National League games while the Boston Red Sox defeated the Washington Senators, 5-2, in the only American League game.

The Cardinals, who played the role of visitors in the contest, jumped on Lyman starter Charlie Newell for four runs in the first two frames, before Ballentine came on to put out the fire.

In the Lyman sixth, pinch-hitter Allen Currens led off with a single, Ballentine followed with another single and advanced a base when the Ocoee fielder bungled the ball, putting runners on second and third.

Miller, the first sacker, lifted a long fly ball to center, scoring Currens. Tipple followed with a booming triple, bringing Ballentine home, and scored himself on an Ocoee error, making it 5-5.

'Hounds Tap Ocoee For 6-5 Victory

By Jim Barchus

Larry Miller lined a single to centerfield, scoring Ron Boston from second base, to give the Lyman Greyhounds a 6-5, 8-inning comeback victory over the Ocoee Cardinals yesterday at Ocoee.

At one time in the affair, the 'Hounds trailed by a 5-1 margin, but the excellent relieving pitching of Ralph Ballentine coupled with a determined offensive attack gave Lyman the triumph.

The Cardinals, who played the role of visitors in the contest, jumped on Lyman starter Charlie Newell for four runs in the first two frames, before Ballentine came on to put out the fire.

In the Lyman sixth, pinch-hitter Allen Currens led off with a single, Ballentine followed with another single and advanced a base when the Ocoee fielder bungled the ball, putting runners on second and third.

The Volkswagen Station Wagon holds the entire population of Jiggs, Nevada.

Jiggs, Nevada is populated by five adults, four children, and one big dog that doesn't like photographers.

That happens to be just how many you can comfortably seat in a Volkswagen Station Wagon.

In fact, the VW not only holds the whole town of Jiggs, it also holds about twice as much as a conventional wagon: 170 cubic feet!

Next to people, the scarcest thing in Jiggs is gasoline. There's only one pump in the whole town. You have to drive 25 miles to get to the next one.

And you could get to the next one (it's in Elko) in a VW on about one gallon of gasoline.

O. H. Breschlin, who runs the only saloon in Jiggs ("We haven't had a shooting in two years.") says the summers get better than 105° above.

And Will Peters, who makes the best coyote bait in Elko County, remembers the winter of '36 when it got near 50° below.

Fortunately, there's nothing in the VW that can freeze at 50° below, or boil at 105° above.

The engine's air-cooled so it gets along just beautifully.

Once all the people were in, they liked the seats, windows, and sunroof so much nobody knew how to ask them to get out.

So before riding off into the fading sunset, one new VW Station Wagon was contributed to the town of Jiggs, Nevada. (Sometimes it pays a town not to get too big.)

Seminoles Trounce Winter Park, 9-1

The Seminole High School baseball team Tuesday, parlayed seven Winter Park errors and the heavy bat of catcher Steve Harris into a 9-1 trouncing of the Parkers.

The Winter Park nine, who had gone four straight games without committing a single error, could do no right yesterday, and the Seminole took every advantage in chalking up the win.

Harris pounded the Parkers for three hits in four trips to the plate, and drove four Seminole teammates across the plate for tallies.

In all, the Tribe clobbered the Winter Park hurlers for 10 hits, giving up only six safeties to the Parkers.

The victory gives the Seminole a 5-7 record for the season so far.

They have a chance to break even for the season, with only two games remaining on the schedule.

Friday the Tribe will again journey to Orlando where they will face Bishop Moore.

In their last outing against Bishop Moore, the Seminole wound up on the short end of a 4-2 score.

Saturday the Seminole will wind-up their 14-game schedule, facing Oak Ridge on the Seminole High diamond. The Tribe handed Oak Ridge a whopping 11-0 drubbing in their last meeting earlier this month.

In their last outing before meeting the Parkers Tuesday, the Seminole had fallen victim to the Edgewater Eagles, 4-3. That was their seventh loss of the season.

Casselberry's Baker Hurls No-Hit Game

By Jim Baebeus

Terry Baker hurled a no-hitter for the Casselberry Indians last night at Cooper Field in Casselberry, defeating the Lake Mary Giants, 6-0.

Baker struck out eight men during the course of the game and didn't allow a single walk.

Lake Mary had only three base runners, two on errors and one due to a hit batsman.

The Indians struck for two hits, with David Howe and Larry Chenet leading the attack with doubles.

Johnny Kein, Larry Cote and Doug Kauble rapped in-gled for the Tribe cause.

Baker's masterpiece was the first no-hitter hurled in the South Seminole Little League this season.

Initial Wing Leader To Speak At Change

The first commander of Reconnaissance Attack Wing One, Rear Adm. Robert Goldthwaite, Commander Naval Air Jacksonville, will be the featured speaker at the wing change-of-command ceremonies at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Sanford Naval Air Station.

Following Admiral Goldthwaite's remarks, Capt. James O. Mayo, wing commander since July 1963, will be relieved of command by Capt. Richard E. Fowler Jr.

Admiral Goldthwaite was wing commander from February to August 1951, when the fleet unit was based at Norfolk, Va. The admiral is the Navy's current "Grey Eagle," a title given to the most experienced naval aviator on active duty.

An estimated 800 civilian guests as well as wing and station personnel are expected to witness the impressive ceremonies.

Sanford civic organizations will pay a final tribute to Captain Mayo with a farewell luncheon Monday at the Sanford Civic Center.

Captain Fowler will be starting his third tour of duty in Sanford when he assumes command of the wing. Prior to his arrival in Sanford as the prospective wing commander, Captain Fowler served as executive officer aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence.

Upon being relieved of his command, Captain Mayo will report aboard the fleet oiler USS Nantahala as commanding officer.

Button Society Has Luncheon In DeBary

By Mrs. John Leone
The Spring Activities luncheon of the Central Florida Button Society was held at DeBary Restaurant with Mrs. Myron Cross of Maitland, Mrs. G. A. Woodard of Orlando, and Mrs. E. A. Smythe of Bunnell, as hostesses. Mrs. N. P. Van Buakirk of Winter Park, First National Button Society president, was a special guest.

Members brought and showed displays of their beautiful hand-etched buttons and ceramic and baked enamel prize cards of antique and modern buttons.

A unique method of display was employed by Mrs. E. J. Morehouse of Orange City who inserted her collection on a picture of the DeBary Mansion House, headquarters of the Florida Federation of Art.

Mrs. H. R. Kellie of Winter Park showed her series of hand-etched silver and gold buttons which won her an honorable mention at the recent State Button Show held in Miami. She also has a collection of 135 Army insignias.

Mrs. Smythe designed a picture of buttons, complete to frame, of an Easter basket holding eggs formed from oval shaped buttons.

Teacher School For 10 Counties Set In Summer

Administrators of school systems in 10 Central Florida counties have been invited to meet in DeLand on April 29 to inaugurate a co-operative program in teacher education, County Supt. John Smiley announced today.

GI Insurance Forms Ready

Financial support for this program, estimated to cost more than $500,000 during the next few months, has been assured by representatives of the United States Office of Education. Approximately $200,000 already has been allocated by Commissioner Frances Keppel, Smiley said.

Advisory Council Meeting Monday

County Judge Karilya Housholder will be the featured speaker at a dinner meeting of the Seminole County Children's Advisory Council Monday at the Civic Center.

Smoking Effects Told To Pupils

Dr. Kenneth M. Wing, vice president of Seminole Unit, Central Florida Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, and Mrs. Lorraine Graham, program administrator, presented a program on "The Effects of Smoking on Health" to 175 students and teachers of the fifth and sixth grades of Longwood Elementary School.

DeBary Blood Bank Chairman Gets Award

By Mrs. John Leone
DeBary Blood Bank Chairman Oscar Papineau has been presented an award from the American Red Cross, through the Orange City Chapter, for outstanding success of the DeBary unit.

N. M. Hussey, president of the Orange City Chapter made the presentation.

Papineau, in remarks of appreciation, credited his co-chairman, Miss Ethel Johnson, and his secretary, Mrs. Charles T. Ulrich, along with unselfish donors of the community and other members of his committee.

Named as gallon donors of DeBary were Myron Accardi, Edgar Corson, Alice Crowder, Mary Jackson, Ernest Little, Nils Ljungberg, Vivian Pierce, Curtis "Ed" Redman, Harry Schob, Rodney Sharp, William Stripp, Grace Walski, Earl Walker, James Zaviniski and Papineau.

Eligible personnel are those who now have GI term insurance, veterans with service connected disabilities and veterans with non-service connected disabilities so severe they can not obtain commercial insurance.

In addition, disabled veterans listed above must have served in the Armed Forces between 1940 and 1957.

This insurance program will be open for one year beginning May 1. Further information can be obtained from Harrison in the County Service office in the courthouse.

considered phenomenal in that the request for additional men was only issued April 9.

Qualified volunteers will be ordered to the troubled spot as requirements dictate and to provide relief for personnel already in the area.

Volunteers must have been on active duty for six months and recommended by the commanding officer.

The tour in Viet Nam is 12 months. Personnel completing duty there will be given priority in choice of duty for their next assignment.

"I feel I can serve my country better in Viet Nam than here in Sanford," is the most common reason given for volunteering.

"This is what I joined the Navy for," says V. J. McCarthy, seaman, of Rhode Island. "Guys are needed over there, and I figure I can better serve the country there."

Ronald E. Hopkins, a Georgia seaman, says, "I've been wanting to go over there for a long time, and I need a change. It's the only trouble spot right now, and I want some action. I'm not especially afraid of being shot at."

A breakdown of the number of volunteers so far by unit is NAS, 36; Wing staff, two; RVAH-3, 42; RVAH-13, eight; RVAH-7, 25; VAH-11, 20; RVAH-6, five; and RVAH-1, six.

Miss Elizabeth Ann Hayden, daughter of Mrs. Martha Adams, of Sanford, became the bride of James William Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gordon, of Oak Ridge, Tenn., at the Tangerine Drive home of William Agaranos on Friday, April 9, at 8 p.m.

The Rev. Leonard Jones of Orlando officiated at the patio candlelight ceremony with ice blue and white used in the decor background. A vine-covered trellis adorned with blue and white blossoms, miniature wedding bells and standing candelabra created an impressive bridal atmosphere on the spacious patio. Recorded nuptial hymns were played during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by Donnie Dean Clark, the lovely bride was gowned in Chantilly lace with a modified bell-shaped skirt and the fitted bodice featured a bateau neckline with traditional tapered sleeves. Her veil of illusion was attached to an ice blue circlet encrusted with pearls and irridescent. She carried a Colonial bouquet of blue carnations showered with narrow blue and white streamers.

white carnations. Mrs. J. L. Butler of Sanford was bridesmaid. Her ice blue frock was cut along Empire lines and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

W. C. Gordon served his son as best man and Robert D. Melvin of Minneapolis was usher.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Adams chose a marshall sheath with matching lace duster and a white carnation corsage.

The mother of the groom was attired in a gold sheath with orange duster and her corsage was of white carnations.

A reception followed the wedding on the patio with the traditional three-tiered wedding cake, slipper mints, and toasted nuts complementing the sparkling punch.

Mrs. Michael Smith was in charge of the bride's book.

For her going away outfit the bride wore a royal blue lame two-piece ensemble. Following a wedding trip to the Florida east coast the newlyweds are at home at 1508 Golden Court, New Smyrna Beach.

Among the out of town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gordon, Oak Ridge, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Melvin, Minneapolis, Minn.; Mrs. Sheila Wilson, sister of the bride, Chicago; Mrs. Frances Harrington, Cocoa, and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Gehr, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Hair and Mr. and Mrs. R. Moose Children Have Egg Hunt

Sanford Chapter 1404, Women of the Moose, held an Easter Egg Hunt Saturday for children of the members at the Palmetto Avenue Moose Home. Sponsor of the event was Child Care Chairman Shirley Washburn.

A delightful addition to the traditional hunt was the creation of a magical world of Bunnyland, complete with picket fence, carrots, and two large white bunnies portrayed by George Washburn and Cheryl Blatz.

Children attending were divided into three age groups with Billy Dyson winning a stuffed bunny and Linda and Tommy Blatz winning chocolate bunnies for finding golden prize eggs.

All youngsters received bags of candy for their Easter baskets.

German Mayor Sends Greetings To Mayor Here

By Dottie Austin
The mayor and the city commission of Sanford have received a letter of greeting from the mayor and the municipal council of the City of Darmstadt, Germany.

The translated letter was delivered by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kirschstein, who recently returned from a two-month visit to Mrs. Kirschstein's native city, where she was secretary for 10 years to Dr. Ernest Holmann, now the mayor of the city.

At the time that Mrs. Kirschstein "was an excellent secretary of long standing," Dr. Holmann was the chief judicial officer of Darmstadt, a position corresponding to our city attorney.

Kirschstein, a retired master sergeant of the U. S. Army, is now employed as bailiff in the Circuit Court here. He met Mrs. Kirschstein, the former Irma Luley, while stationed in Darmstadt.

The letter from the mayor of Darmstadt noted that the visit of the Kirschsteins "was received with great joy."

"May we take this opportunity to send our heartfelt greetings to the mayor and municipality of Sanford and to wish you and the citizens of your community the very best for the future," the letter stated.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirschstein, of 145 Country Club Circle, attended a meeting of the commission Monday to deliver the letter by hand.

Acting Mayor A. L. Wilson and Sanford commissioners expressed surprise and pleasure at receiving the greetings from the German mayor and council and commended Mrs. Kirschstein for the respect in which she is held in her native city.

Circus People Stage 'Big Day'

NEW YORK (UPI) — George Diaz squinted up his face, closed his eyes, and the next thing he knew, his face was shiny white and speckled with little red dots.

In a little less than a minute George, who is 11, became a clown and for a little more than an hour, he flip-flopped and gagged it up in the middle of the circus arena at Madison Square Garden.

Never mind that the arena's 12,000 seats were empty. George and eight other little boys had the best audience of all. A real clown, Hobby Kay, of Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus was watching their antics.

Kay, who is in town with the circus, skipped lunch to help make circus performers out of George and his friends.

The boys, who are members of the Madison Square Boy's Club on New York City's East Side, are giving a circus of their own in June and they got the best advice around.

Kay, who slapped on the white face, was joined by Chrysl Iolt, who swoops high off the ground suspended by her hair, and Helena Rassy, whose trained pigeons flutter wherever she sends them.

The boys liked getting painted best.

"Hey, I need a mirror," said George.

"My mother is really going to say 'wow' when I come home."

"Say," said Kenneth Simcik, who is 10, "watch me. I can do 100 cartwheels all together."

The big clown watched. He watched very carefully.

"I guess I've got a real bunch of tumblers here," he said.

"I guess you could say," said Martin Fried, 11, "that this is a pretty big day in my life."

Evangelist, Salesman .. Romney

By Bruce Blossat
(Second of two dispatches)
LANSING, Mich. (NEA) — Notwithstanding many shafts of wit and sarcasm aimed at him, Gov. George W. Romney keeps stuffing his political survival kit with new equipment. He has learned much politically, accommodating better than at first and avoiding grievous error. He has a new, tough-minded Michigan state chairman, Mrs. Elly Peterson, to help him through the shoals.

Children attending were divided into three age groups with Billy Dyson winning a stuffed bunny and Linda and Tommy Blatz winning chocolate bunnies for finding golden prize eggs.

All youngsters received bags of candy for their Easter baskets.

Not even that fabled six-termer, former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, ever did better on the campaign trail. Says a Williams friend: "Romney is quicker than Williams with the 'glad tidings' sort of pitch."

As he ponders whether to go for a third term in 1966 and take the first four-year hold on the job, the governor has plenty of problems.

Even a moderate slowing of Michigan's present amazing economic growth pace could quickly devour the state's $100 million surplus and leave his rising budget hurting. He needs new tax money as a hedge, and may or may not get it soon. Furthermore, Detroit is a racial tinderbox which could flare at any time, with resulting political embarrassment all around.

Romney's Michigan supporters see a chance for him to make some points for the 1968 nomination if he can get along with the present heavily Democratic state legislature, as a Republican presidential winner most likely would have to get along with a Democratic Congress.

If, as expected, he runs again next year, some professionals think he must not only win big—as most in both parties believe he could do—but display the power to elect other Republican candidates. This did not happen in 1964 when he successfully breasted Johnson's Michigan tide to win by 380,000 votes.

Last year he won nearly 20 per cent of the Negro votes, cut into the Democrats' labor strongholds in Detroit and Flint, mastered the swelling suburbs. He needs to repeat these feats to reinforce his 1968 prospects.

Any 1968 ambitions would mean Michigan Republicans would have to find a 1970 governorship replacement with at least some of Romney's appeal. Politicians here think the governor may be tuning up his attractive young lieutenant governor, William Milliken. One observer takes a slightly acid view: "Romney wants him to be popular, but not too popular."

ROMNEY FITCH "Glad tidings, sort of"

Where the spotlight burns really bright, he himself usually appears.

Clearly the governor still finds it hard to shake his critics' image of him as a man who, however good, tends to hold center stage, march conspicuously alone in parades, hug campaign money close to his chest.

Unquestionably complex, fitting no standard pattern, George Romney is a tantalizing blend of evangelist, salesman, strong-handed leader, dedicated servant of varied and changing causes.

Evangelism is most likely the key. A young missionary who shouted Mormonism from a soapbox in London's Hyde Park, the governor has been schooled from childhood to elevate cause above person. He must keep on doing it to be square with the teachings of his lifetime.

So, in the political world, he shouts program, platform, principle and tries to scale down candidates, including himself.

Yet these notions are at war within him with other compelling beliefs—in strong leadership and his view that he is an ordained leader of men. From these flow ambition which he seeks constantly to keep somewhat veiled.

Some critics who perceive the conflict label his ambition real and his concern for causes phony. But many who study the governor closely and continuously believe both are thoroughly real.

None denies that the leader always shows through. He looks, acts, and talks the part. He has a sense of where power resides—and what to do with it.

When in 1963 he took over the limited authority of Michigan's governorship (now enhanced by new law), he heard from the state attorney general that he oversaw 77 lawyers spread through nearly all state agencies. Blurted Romney: "Why you've got more power than I have!"

It Is With Regret

A half a lifetime of good and faithful service to a good cause. Not many of us can, or ever will, claim such achievement.

When Sanford Police Chief Roy Williams goes on inactive duty this week he will be winding up 45 years of service to the city he loves.

Back in 1920, when Chief Roy joined the police department, the League of Nations was being born and the 19th Amendment, giving women the right to vote, was being ratified.

A long time ago? Yes. But to a man who has spent the years in the busy field of law enforcement, it probably seems like only yesterday. Chief Williams it's been a happy life and one that he has enjoyed.

Enjoying one's work makes for good work.

We believe he is a living example of this philosophy. We have been fortunate to have a man like Roy Williams heading up one of the most (if not the most) important departments in Sanford for 42 of the years he has been connected with the city.

It is with regret we see the Chief join the ranks of the retired.

Pop Pops, Too

The economists keep talking about the importance to the nation's economy of the Young Adult Group and the Teen Group and the Senior Citizen Group, and it is undoubtedly true.

Anyone who eats and dresses and drives and lives indoors is important to the nation's economy if there is enough of him and her. And in the case of the teen-ager, at least, anyone who has ever owned one knows that the care and feeding of one certainly helps somebody's economy, although not the owner's.

But with all the attention being paid to these various age groups, isn't it strange that no one has thought to say a kind word about the importance to the nation's economy of the Plain Old Pop Group, without which, in many instances, there would be no really important contribution to the national economy from the teen-ager?

The economists make it seem that every teen-ager from 13 on up is loaded with his or her own dough, and that all the cars and clothes and food and things he or she uses have been bought and paid for by him or her and by him or her alone.

Without taking a thing away from any teen-ager who may qualify for this distinction, it is simply stating the truth to point out that there are still some people between the ages of 12 and 20 who are not entirely self-supporting, and that any real importance to the nation's economy from this type of teen-ager depends to a big extent on how adroit he or she happens to be in talking the old man out of some dough.

So when we're assessing the relative importance to the nation's economy of various age groups, let's not pass too quickly over the stalwart characters in the age group between, say, 35 and 50 who support the economy in not only their own name, but also in the name of hungry, unclothed, careless and funderless youngsters who, without pop's pocketbook, wouldn't be nearly as important to anybody's economy.

Stay in there, pop, and keep on making the dough and dishing it out. The economy needs you.

Thought For Today

Therefore, putting away falsehood, let every one speak the truth with his neighbor, for we are members one of another.—Ephesians 4:25.

The strength of a country is the strength of its religious convictions.—Calvin Coolidge.

Helen Fuller Says

Exploratory Talks

WASHINGTON—While the number of air strikes by U.S. planes against North Viet Nam mounts every day, negotiations for a settlement of the Vietnamese war are going ahead.

President Johnson in a speech at Baltimore recently repeated with emphasis his firm resolve to assure the guaranteed independence of South Viet Nam "free from outside interference," meaning Communist China and her ally, the Hanoi government of North Viet Nam. But in that speech the President also offered "unconditional discussions" to further our aim of a just settlement without widening the present war.

The Peking Communist Chinese government denounced Johnson's speech and strongly rejected the President's suggestion that the United Nations might play a constructive part in finding a fair formula for ending the fighting.

The British government vigorously supported Johnson's stand on next steps in Viet Nam — continuing both a military and a political offensive, together with assurance of aid for economic development if a lasting peace in Viet Nam is achieved.

The Secretary General of the United Nations said that he felt President Johnson's Baltimore proposals "opened the door for further steps" toward settlement.

Against this background, international diplomats have begun a "quiet" exploration of new approaches to the impasse between the U.S. and the Communist supporters of North Viet Nam.

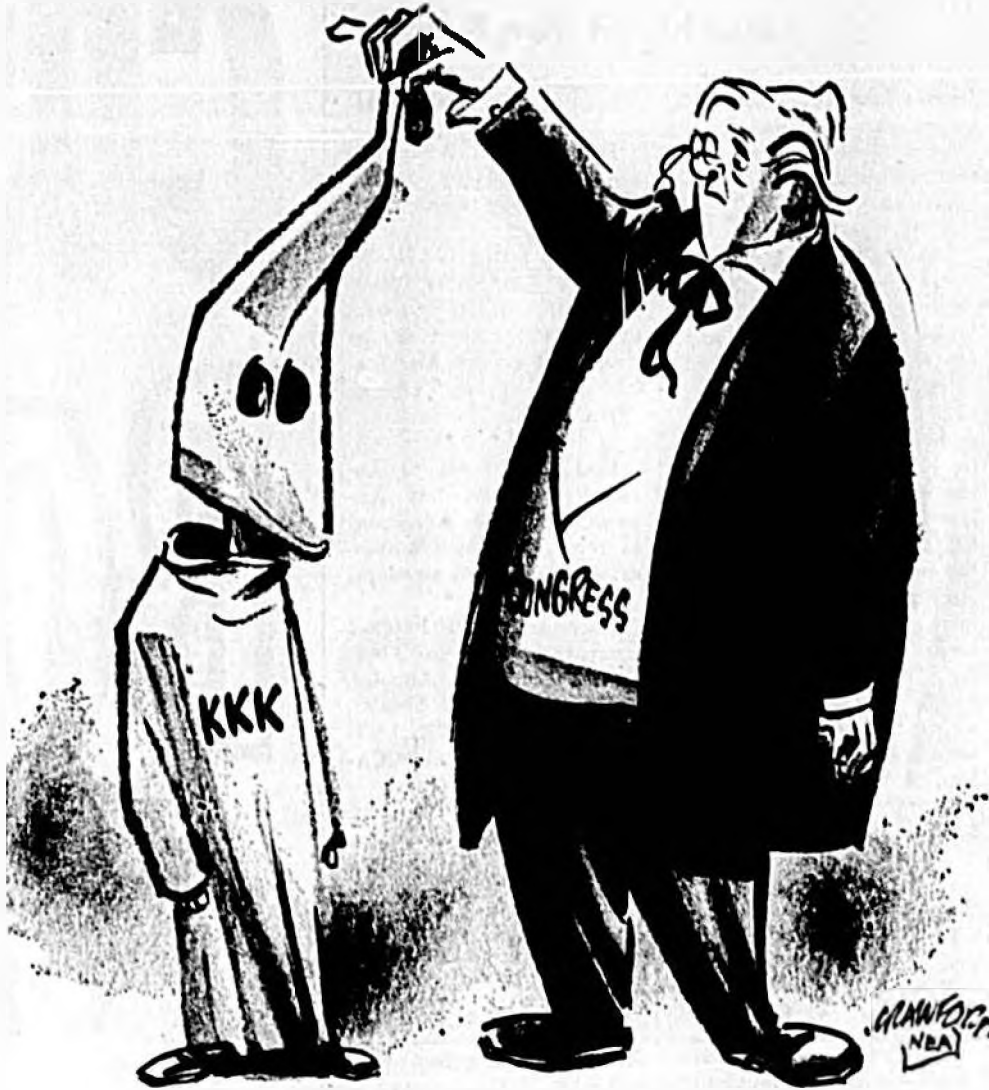

The terms that the U. S. and the Hanoi government have separately stated for discussing possible terms of settlement are so far apart, in the eyes of key diplomats, that their first interest is in finding ways to get the ball rolling. They are seeking a way to bring the two sides in the Viet Nam war to a conference table on another subject, seeming to have nothing to do with Viet Nam.

Some think they have found a possible opening through remarks made by Prince Sihanouk of Cambodia sometime ago. The Cambodian chief of state suggested that the nations which originally guaranteed the territorial integrity of his country at a conference in Geneva in 1954, meet to reorganize Cambodia's independence.

As it happens, the principal powers involved in Viet Nam were parties to the 1954 Cambodian guarantee. Met together in private to discuss Cambodia, they could remain for exploratory talks on possible ways to end the fighting and the dying in Viet Nam.

At the moment this complicated maneuver is only a subject for debate in important world capitals. But it is being actively considered at lofty levels.

Prepare for the Worst

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

Mouse Trapped

United Press International. It is neither sinful nor unpatriotic to hope that Senate Republican Leader Everett McKinley Dirksen has not been mouse trapped by President Johnson in the area of foreign relations as he was trapped in the area of voting rights.

In the area of foreign relations, Dirksen is a powerful supporter by LBJ's bomb-bomb policy in Viet Nam. In the area of civil rights, Dirksen was a sponsor and selfless champion of LBJ's voting rights bill.

More graceful of speech than of figure, the senator has been moderately busy taking bows on his enlightened leadership of the Republican remnants in the U.S. Senate. Long and successful years in public life have accustomed Dirksen to bow majestically in response to popular acclaim or grandly to genuflect when receiving an ennobling sword tap of public approval.

These occasions for bows and genuflections have diminished, however, in the area of the Johnson voting rights bill which Dirksen so proudly sponsored. The Johnson bill has been taking its lumps and its sponsors with it. There are, notably, complaints of false pretenses. On closer examination the bill does not honor the Johnson promise to Negroes uttered on March 15 before a joint session of Congress. LBJ said:

"The bill will strike down restrictions in voting in all elections, federal, state and local."

That is a misstatement of fact because the bill is potentially effective in such manner in only six states: Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and Virginia, plus 34 counties in North Carolina. These states and counties require a literacy test for registration and the Johnson-Dirksen bill target in the literacy test on which it will score a direct and destructive hit. The rights bill would be triggered to act in the area whenever fewer than 50 per cent of potential voters failed to vote.

But there have been constantly louder protests that there were pockets of possible election discrimination in other states which were not touched by the Johnson bill because no literacy test was involved. Among these states were Texas, Tennessee, Arkansas, Kentucky, Florida and Maryland.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd D-Va. and others contend that the bill was carefully drafted to hook certain Southern states and to exempt, for example, LBJ's Texas. The Republicans are scrambling now in Congress to improve the bill Dirksen so eagerly supported. The administration appears reconciled to some degree of improvement.

All of this invites attention to Dirksen's leadership of Senate Republican support of the Johnson administration's policies in Viet Nam. The end result of this bipartisan support of vital and foggy foreign policy is to discourage debate which might enlighten public understanding. Dirksen would have best served himself, his party and his country if he had taken a longer and colder look at the vote bill as it emerged from the Justice Department.

He still has an opportunity to serve self, party and country in the Viet Nam situation. He took a step in this direction when he challenged the wisdom of the President's offer of unconditional discussions on South Viet Nam's future coupled with a proposed $1 billion aid program for Southeast Asia.

Dirksen may have put the finger on that when he cautioned that it would be tragic if anyone interpreted Johnson's statement "as meaning that the Viet Cong could humble us into making a billion dollar offer in order to call it quits when freedom is on the altar."

"And what is wrong with me, anyway, for I never used to drink?"

"Alcoholism," runs an axiom of Applied Psychology, "is like the fire escape from a burning building."

It is used as an escape device to get away from a terrific internal "burning," such as humiliation, fear of waning sexual charm, guilt, etc.

If you put out the actual fire in a building, then its occupants no longer will want to use the fire escape.

Applied to alcoholics, the same thing is also true.

So the proper psychiatric procedure is dealing with alcoholics is not to nauseate them to the taste or smell of liquor, though we medicate easily do that.

For if we thus debar them from the "whiskey fire escape," then they may seek another outlet, such as dope, insanity or even suicide.

So why should a wife, aged 20, be constantly drawn to a neighborhood tavern until she is becoming a chronic drunkard?

The taste of alcohol is not naturally pleasant. Instead, if you test it on a child or baby, the latter will turn away and spew it out.

So something else must goad a person into forcing herself into using liquor till she becomes a slave to John Harleysen. What?

Sex is most likely the answer.

That is especially true in a wife whose next birthday is either 30 (or 40), since these are the two most dreaded birthdays in the eyes of womankind.

What else do you suppose also goads Lola into patronizing the tavern (neighborhood saloon)?

Well, she has no babies, so she suffers from a sterility complex.

Lacking children, she hasn't enough to do to keep her occupied at home, and she doesn't hold an office or factory job.

So time hangs heavily on her hands.

Lola is in what we call the "20 panic," for that's when girls realize their next birthday puts them into the dreaded 30s.

And 30 seems like a ripe old age to women who are on the under side of that birthday.

"Why," Lola confessed, "Dr. Crane, I'll be on the shelf and an old woman before I know it."

"So I get frightened lest fun and romance will have passed me by forever."

"Then I go down to the tavern and start drinking. Soon some man drops into a chair beside me and kids and makes love to me."

"Because I am somewhat drunk, I then go out on a date with him and sometimes have an affair."

When women go into cocktail bars or taverns alone, they don't admit things as frankly as Lola has done, but men know they are "on the make," which is generally true.

Any such woman who is then assaulted has really been asking for it, albeit subconsciously.

When she sobers up, she denies all this, but when she is hypnotized by a psychiatrist or quizzed while half drunk, she soon admits her ulterior aim.

Husbands, send for the booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a lens stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents and stop this vague romantic hunger of your wife. (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: Talk about a mess. This is the worst. My boy friend and I eloped during the semester break and were married by a Justice of the Peace. We told our parents about it and they said we shouldn't tell anybody. They want us to announce our "engagement" as soon as school is out in June, and then they'll give us a big church wedding in September. Well, as luck would have it, I think I am pregnant. I can't wait until September for a big fancy wedding for obvious reasons.

I hate to disappoint my mother, but I think I ought to tell her. But how? JUMPED THE GUN DEAR JUMPED: Tell your mother that you have a date with the stork—and waiting until September is for the birds.

DEAR ABBY: Can you find me a good, true woman? I am a retired Merchant Marine officer who has been everywhere and seen everything. I am tired of knocking around. I am pushing 60, but nobody takes me for any older than 45, or 50, tops. I have a little savings account and a pension for life. Never having been an angel myself, I wouldn't expect one, but I would like a healthy, good-looking woman who wants to settle down with one man from now on. I am partial to plump girls. I speak both Italian and Spanish. If you will send me an address, I'll go anywhere.

SLIM DEAR SLIM: Don't start packing until you've taken a good look in your own back yard. Just let a few friends know that you are interested in meeting a good woman who wants to settle down, and you'll need police protection.

DEAR ABBY: I am the proud father of a big, handsome college freshman. When this kid comes home for weekend vacations, he helps himself to my neckties. Now I wouldn't mind so much if he returned my ties in the same condition that he finds them. But he knolls them peculiarly and the tie is a lifeless rag by the time he's worn it once. He has more ties than I have, but he wears mine because he says he likes my "taste." I suppose I should be flattered and, in a way, I am. But how would YOU solve this problem, Abby?

POOR DAD DEAR DAD: What you need is stronger family ties. And buy enough for both of you!

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

1965 Vanderbilt Cup Winners Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Here is another father and son discussion started by Oswald.

Oswald: "What do you think of North's bidding?" Jim: "He used all the delicacy of a bulldozer. I can't criticize him for getting to a slam but for all he knew seven might be there without a finesse and his bidding stopped South from making any move at all. What do you think of West's two spade bid?"

Oswald: "It was a weak jump overall to end all weak jump overcalls and very pointless. His hand was so weak that all his bid could possibly do would be to help the opposition. How do you think North should have bid?"

Jim: "North might have bid the same way except that after South showed one ace North could have bid five no-trump. This bid not only asks for kings but also informs South that North holds the rest of the aces and is interested in seven."

Oswald: "That is a very important feature of Blackwood that many people don't know. You should never follow a Blackwood four no-trump with five no-trump unless you know that your side holds all four aces."

Jim: "Did South make the slam?"

Oswald: "Yes he did. He played out four rounds of trumps and continued by cashing all his aces and kings. Then he led a club and East was end played. He had to lead a club or a diamond, which gave declarer a ruff and discard. It was well for him that he threw East in. If he had thrown West in with a spade West would have been able to give his partner a club trick."

We The Women: By Ruth Milllett

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Psychologists at the University of Cincinnati are using the group therapy approach in helping ailing marriages.

They get four couples together with two therapists, and have found that this "togetherness" treatment has helped the couples get rid of marital discord, improve communications with their marriage partner, clarify their roles in marriage, and relax barriers raised against a constructive discussion of differences.

It seems that couples who had quit trying to communicate or whose attempts at communicating always ended in bitter quarrels began to open up and discuss their problems intelligently when they became members of a group. Perhaps the great benefit from group therapy in marriage counseling comes from the fact that each couple soon comes to realize that their problems aren't unique—that other husbands and wives have the same kind of conflicts, and the same inability to discuss their disappointment with marriage and each other without bitterness and anger.

I long ago came to the conclusion, based on letters to this column, that most unhappy husbands and wives feel set apart from others.

Mrs. A seems to feel that no other wife has to put up with a husband as inconsiderate, as selfish, or as unappreciative as hers.

Mr. B seems to feel that no other husband has a wife who is as irresponsible in money matters, or such a disorganized housekeeper, or so overindulgent a mother as his wife is.

From the viewpoint of their dissatisfaction with their mates it seems to Mrs. A and Mr. B that they were just unlucky in the marriage gamble.

But get a group of Mr. A and Mrs. B together. Get them started talking about marriage.

They're bound to see some similarity in their problems.

They will, perhaps, discover that men and women think differently about many things—and that a happy marriage is more often the result of adjusting to these differences than in deciding to call it quits and look for another mate.

Highlights TV Time Previews

WEDNESDAY APRIL 21, 1965
TV Time's Show of the Night: 10-11 p.m. CBS. The Danny Kaye Show. The show opens with "Put A Shine on your Shoes," and guests, singer Shani Wallis and actor Tony Randall, help put a shine to the rest of the hour. Miss Wallis sings two old favorites, "Old Devil Moon" and "Blow, Gabriel, Blow," and joins Danny in a song sketch about home towns. In the comedy sketches, Randall appears as an art instructor who has bashful Jerome as a student, and later as a jewel thief who is handcuffed with Kaye as a demolition expert.

7:30-8:30 p.m. CBS. Let's Go To The Fair! An hour-long promotion to celebrate the festive reopening of New York's favorite disaster area. This guided, glamorized tour, thanks to 14 strategically located cameras, pays quickie visits to many of the exhibits, including the new ones and the most popular survivors from last year. Durward Kirby, Jack Linklater, Marilyn van Derbur and Miss Teenage America, Carolyn Mignini, provide the commentary for the well-done hour which shows great attention to technical detail. The sponsor has a vested interest in the fair. He'd like to fly you to New York.

7:30-9 p.m. NBC. The Virginian. "We've Lost a Train." (Color) The tipoff on this star-laden adventure is that it's the pilot for still another western series which has been set for next season. The stars of this episode and the series ("Loredo") are Peter Brown, Neville Brand and William Smith as Texas Rangers and they're a pretty raucous crew. Of course in this episode they have Trampas to trigger them and Rhonda Fleming, Ida Lupino, Fernando Lamas and Philip Carey to support their jollity. No expense will apparently be spared to make this a funny western.

8:30-9:30 p.m. ABC. Shindig. The biggest guest is minute Rita Pavone, Italy's foremost screamer, but merry old England contributes its share with Cilla Black and Wayne Fontana and the Mindbenders. There are hordes of others. The music is a cross-section of old numbers (some have been around almost a month) and brand new ones, but you have to be on your toes to tell them apart.

9:30-10:30 p.m. CBS. The Dick Van Dyke Show. "Baby Fat." Extremely funny, as usual, and we get to see a lot of Carl Reiner as Alan Brady. He wants to star in a play by a noted playwright, but he doesn't think it's good enough for him. So he gets poor Rob to doctor it secretly. Rob spends most of the show hiding in closets and pretending he's the show's tailor, but the worst of all comes at the end when he loses both his temper and the show.

9-11 p.m. NBC. Wednesday Night Movie. "The Last Hunt." (Color) An eye-filling chapter in American history, dealing with the last of the buffalo hunts in 1883, when 60,000,000 bison were reduced to 3,000.

9:30-10:30 p.m. ABC. Burke's Law. "Who Killed the Jackpot?" Another pilot film for a new series as we meet "Honey West," intrepid female detective, played by Anne Francis. This show is loaded with glamour, "Uncle"-like gimmicks and is in general) in keeping with the rest of the pseudo-cool slickly ready shows like "Burke's Law." In this one Burke and Honey compete to find a banker's money motivated murderer.

Rose Reigns
Every large and unbiased survey ever made selects the rose as America's most beautiful flower.
The rose, in Christian religion, is emblematic of a paragon, or one without peer. The rose reigns supreme; it can be grown practically everywhere in the United States. It is the most beautiful of flowers with widespread cultivation.
Most flowers are beautiful, but the most emblematic flowers of leadership should be, if any flower is named, the national flower of the United States. The rose best fits the requirements.

Lake Mary Library Scheme Wins Approval

Utilization of the Lake Mary Elementary School library as a part-time community library, under the sponsorship of the Lake Mary Woman's Club, was approved Thursday by members of the county school board.

R. T. Milwee, school superintendent, was instructed by the school board to draw up a contract to be offered to the Woman's Club and presented to the board for approval.

The Woman's Club told the board that it has more than 1,000 books and expects to have many more when the library is opened. Temporary hours would be from 4 to 8 p.m. Tuesday, 7-9 p.m. Thursday and 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, with possibly increased hours during the summer months.

Milwee commented that the use of the library would be especially helpful to junior and senior high school students who live in the Lake Mary area.

Hounds Point To Rape Suspect

OCALA (UPI) — Judson Davis, a 39-year-old state road gang prisoner, was in jail today, charged with slipping away from fellow inmates twice this week and raping two women.

Marion County sheriff's deputies said Davis raped a 21-year-old victim at her home Thursday after beating her with a hammer and a 61-year-old woman on Wednesday.

Each time, they said, he returned to his road gang, able to do so unnoticed because of his job as flagman several hundred yards away from other prisoners.

Officers said bloodhounds led them to Davis after the second attack and he was charged when the victims picked him from a lineup.

Scout Show Gets Dousing

PLYMOUTH, England (UPI) — The curtain was about to go up on a Boy Scout show at the Palace Theater here when an inquisitive younger spotted an interesting-looking lever backstage and hauled on it.

Down came 250 gallons of water from a fire-fighting device, dousing the lights and putting all the microphones out of order.

Jr. College Gets New Lease On Life

By Fred Van Felt

Proposal for the establishment of a junior college in Seminole County . . . seemingly doomed to oblivion by a State House of Representatives committee Monday . . . has a double lease on life today.

Senate and House committees placed their stamps of approval on the new school Wednesday afternoon. It was reported to The Herald today by Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr. and Rep. S. J. Davis Jr., of Seminole County.

The legislative bill . . . the same in both chambers, as co-introduced by Cleveland and Davis . . . got off to a slow start Monday afternoon when the House education-public schools committee decided to shelve it temporarily for further study, along with similar junior college bills from three other counties.

The Seminole junior college measure was taken up

Wednesday afternoon by the Senate education-public schools-junior colleges committee and, sparked by Cleveland, who is a member of that group, approved it unanimously.

Davis also brought up his bill again Wednesday afternoon before the House committee, which proceeded to reverse itself and also gave the local school its approval.

However, Cleveland and Davis were quick to point out that the junior college proposal still has two major hurdles: The Senate and House appropriations committees. It is these two groups which must approve the actual outlay of cash, subject, of course, to final approval by the full Senate, full House and Gov. Haydon Burns.

The Seminole junior college proposal calls for an ultimate outlay of $1.4 million-plus for the biennium to get the school "off the ground." It is broken down into an initial immediate appropriation of $30,000, a later appropriation of $222,000 and a final grant of $1.2 million.

Seminole County School Supt. R. T. Milwee this morning explained the procedure thusly:

With full and final approval of the $30,000 figure, the county School Board will retain a junior college president, subject to approval by the State Board of Public Instruction. The president then will commence the planning for curriculum, building and faculty.

(Queried if there is sufficient college teacher material available, Milwee replied that since the "thought" of a junior college here was first publicized he has been receiving inquiries from prospective faculty members from throughout the United States.)

Following the planning and the appropriation of the $222,000 figure, Milwee stated, the actual start of the Seminole junior college would be the beginning of the 1965-66 school year next September.

The college would operate temporarily in present school facilities—high schools, business school, and the like . . . wherever space is available.

The school would be divided into three parts: Freshman and sophomore classes for undergraduates planning to go on to schools of higher learning; terminal education (technical-vocational training), and adults. Probably, at first, Milwee said, classes would be held in the evenings, especially adult classes.

Finally, with acquisition of the $1.2 million for capital outlay, actual construction of the junior college facility would commence . . . and would open its doors to students with the beginning of the 1966-67 school year.

Selection of a site for the college would be left to the county and state school boards.

The Sanford United Service Organization (USO), which is a member agency of the United Fund, received as its share of this year's drive the sum of $2,528. The local service club is now operating autonomously, due to a change in national policy.

They're expecting so many at the luncheon honoring Captain James Mayo Monday that reservations are being taken.

Members of civic clubs will not have to make reservations but others will.

Only about 250 can be accommodated at the Civic Center and an overflow crowd is expected.

Non-civic club members should call the Chamber of Commerce office, 322-2212.

"Meanie of the Week Award" goes to the person who abandoned 14 sick and starving puppies of assorted pedigrees on Winter Park Drive in Casselberry recently.

The pups, ranging in age from two to four weeks, were discovered in the road by a night patrolman. They were examined by a veterinarian who found them to be suffering from distemper. He advised that they be put to sleep.

Sanford and NAS got a full page spread in North American Aviation's "Take-off" publication for April 16. Photographers and writers from NAA were in Sanford to cover the 11th Annual Reconnaissance-Bombing Derby.

Seminole County commissioners have been invited to attend a demonstration of the aerial application of the mirex bait for the imported fire ant. The demonstration will take place at 3 p.m. Friday at Herndon Airport in Orlando.

A B-17 will make several passes over a marked area at the airport and release the mirex. The commissioners then will get a chance to inspect the "drop area." Samples of bait will be available.

Informants tell us that photographs of Dr. J. J. Harris are on display at the Masonic Hall and City Police Department.

The Orange County delegation in the Florida Legislature is seeking photographs of Dr. Harris and George H. Brown, two former speakers of the House. The photographs will hang in the House chamber.

A full-page ad in FLORIDA TREND magazine for April extolls the advantages of locating industrial plants in Sanford. The advertisement was sponsored by the Hunt Properties and the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. It is estimated that 10,000 copies of the edition will reach prospective industrialists.

W. B. Stovall of 1101 Elm, Sanford, read with interest a story in Tuesday's Herald about a woman being only two generations removed from a Revolutionary War soldier.

Mr. Stovall, who is 84, says he is only one generation removed from a soldier who fought in the Indian wars of 1816. Stovall served in the Navy from 1902-1906 and helped design the flag of Panama while serving on a gunboat in the Canal Zone.

County Agent Cecil Tucker is on a cruise in the Caribbean. Tucker is a guest of the Navy on a destroyer. Lucky man.

Jackie Kennedy Garden Named

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Lyndon Johnson today dedicated the east garden in the White House as the Jacqueline Kennedy Garden.

Friends of the widow of President said she would not attend because she cannot "emotionally return to the White House yet."

Altamonte 'Suffering' From Growing Pains

By Donna Estes

Altamonte Springs Town Council Wednesday evening unanimously voted to authorize Acting Town Attorney Douglas Stenstrom to contact the county legislative delegation concerning possibility of introducing permissive legislation to amend the town charter in order to create a utility commission, a municipal court and to permit "hot pursuit" by the police department.

Mayor W. Lawrence Swoford recommended the first two amendments, stating that with the present pump and new water system pumping nearly to capacity at 700,000 gallons a day, the urgent need for a new storage tank and possibly an additional well by summer is quite evident.

He said that with all the details involved in operation of the $300,000 water system, a commission composed of hired or appointed persons, under the authority of the council, will be required.

In speaking of the municipal court, Swoford said that court sessions are demanding more of his time and that a qualified judge would be needed in the future.

Councilman Colin Crews recommended the "hot pursuit" amendment.

Swoford urged that immediate legislative action be requested because of the difficulties he foresees in the future when Seminole County may not have either a representative or a senator in the State Legislature.

Mississippi Flood Continues To Rise

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis. (UPI)—The Mississippi River flooded into streets and buildings in this helpless city today and surged south, flooding factories in Dubuque, Iowa.

La Crosse, Wis., its dikes reinforced with 335,000 sandbags, faced new dangers today from winds expected to reach about 20 miles per hour. Officials feared waves might break through the battered bulwarks.

The situation was worse here. The city has few dikes and is riddled with Mississippi inlets, their banks overflowing.

The water continued to rise, spilling into residential districts. The river was expected to crest today at 25 feet and Mayor Ed Farrell said he feared it might reach 25.5 feet, up more than a foot from Wednesday.

"We'll just have to let nature take its course," a deputy sheriff said.

Only two families remained in one low-lying area of this city, once the nation's western-most fur trading center. Officials pleaded with them to leave.

About 4,000 persons already had been driven from their homes in Prairie Du Chien and La Crosse. The water washed within two blocks of the police station here. The flooding river reversed sewer waters, casting an unpleasant odor through the city.

With the midwest flood siege two weeks old, the Mississippi still raged at shoreline cities in Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois.

The main crest was still several days away from many Illinois and Iowa towns.

The floods have caused at least 13 deaths, forced about 35,000 from their homes and caused nearly $100 million damage, all in a six-state area.

Hundreds Attend Dedication

Garden Club of Sanford's new $55,000 building at Sunland Estates, dedicated Wednesday, was hailed as "a magnificent contribution to the community and a memorial to the vision and determination of the members of this club."

Mrs. Frank Hewlett, of Miami, state president of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs, told several hundred persons assembled in the new auditorium that state officials "always have been aware of the tremendously talented people you have in the city of Sanford and now we are doubly convinced."

J. Bradley Odham, developer and builder of Sunland Estates and many other Central Florida subdivisions, told the garden clubbers:

"This is magnificent. I have never seen anything finer done by any group of people anywhere." Odham donated the land on which the new building stands, along with a cash contribution.

E. R. Wood, general contractor, in turning over the keys to the new structure, said, "It has been a pleasure to work with these fine ladies." Wood donated a specially constructed desk for the lobby of the building and the sod for the lawn.

Special tribute was paid to Mrs. D. K. Dorman, building chairman and former president of the club, who was acknowledged as "the moving spirit behind all that has been done here and the woman who has made this dream come true."

Mrs. Hewlett dedicated the new garden club center to the "promotion of civic betterment, the preservation of our natural resources, enlarged interest in horticulture, and the opportunity to work with nature and with God to make the city of Sanford and Seminole County a more beautiful place in which to live."

Master of ceremonies for the dedication was John Spolski. He introduced many dignitaries from Central Florida who were present for the occasion, including Joseph Shifalo, Winter Park architect, who donated the building plans, and Bert T. Foster, or Orlando, who drew up and donated the landscape plans.

Landscapes chairman, Mrs. Charles Cole, of Geneva, was introduced as the only living Sanford member of the original Garden Club, chartered here in 1926.

A DREAM CAME TRUE with the opening Wednesday of the $55,000 Garden Club of Sanford building at Sunland Estates. Hundreds of garden clubbers, civic officials and dignitaries attended the dedication ceremonies. Principal among them were (from left) E. R. Wood, general contractor; Mrs. D. K. Dorman, building chairman; Bradley Odham, who donated land for building and money; Mrs. Frank Hewlett, Miami, state president of Florida Federation of Garden Clubs and Mrs. F. M. Fahey, local president. (Herald Photo)

Steel Contract Stalled; Strike Looms

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The executive board of the United Steelworkers (USW) met today in what may be the first step toward formal authorization of a May 1 strike against the basic steel industry.

Contract talks were stalled. The USW's powerful 163-member wage policy committee, which sets major union policy, was to meet later this afternoon. Strike authorization could come then.

Sources said the board may sound out its own members on a strike by holding a private vote and relaying its recommendations to the wage policy committee.

The industry took the first steps toward preparing for a shutdown as a result of the bargaining table impasse on a new contract for 450,000 USW employees of 11 major steel firms.

The current contract expires April 30. The union's policy has been "no contract, no work."

IBJ ANXIOUS WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson and other high administration officials turned anxious eyes toward Pittsburgh today in hopes of reviving negotiations in the steel bargaining crisis.

Mayo Luncheon Deadline Friday

Deadline for reservations to the Monday luncheon honoring Capt. James O. Mayo is noon Friday.

Persons other than civic club members who wish to attend should call the Chamber of Commerce, 322-2212, immediately.

Officials said the reservations are necessary because space is limited at the Civic Center where the affair will be held. Approximately 230 are expected to attend.

The threat of a nationwide steel strike starting May 1 dimmed the Chief Executive's hopes for a continued economic boom throughout 1965.

Johnson was not expected to intervene dramatically at this time—with almost 10 days remaining before the April 30 contract expiration date.

Steel company officials concede that blast furnaces need not be banked before next Monday or Tuesday at the earliest.

But the break-off in bargaining was a setback to administration expectations of avoiding a shutdown in the basic industry which might check the record-breaking business expansion now underway.

The administration gave no signs of being impressed by mounting demands at home and abroad for an end to the U. S. attacks on North Viet Nam.

And officials shrugged off threats from Red China and Russia. These stopped short, however, of pledging direct intervention.

Osten, Geneva Postmasters Are Appointed

Certificates of appointment as acting postmasters of Osten and Geneva were to be presented to Mrs. Beanie M. Osten and Ray A. Hilliard, respectively, this afternoon.

Percy Manley, Orlando, post-office service officer, informed The Sanford Herald early this afternoon that he would present the appointments.

Mrs. Osten's appointment at Osten is effective May 21 and Hilliard's at Geneva on April 30.

Cyclist Hurt

Robert Howe, 420 French Avenue received slight injuries Wednesday afternoon when the motor scooter he was riding ran into a car driven by Mrs. Evelyn Rinehard, 700 Baywood Circle. The accident occurred at First Street and French Avenue. Howe was charged with failure to yield right-of-way.

Move Designed To Offset Red Infiltration

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States is moving swiftly to beef up its military aid to South Viet Nam to offset increased North Vietnamese infiltration and a buildup of Red Viet Cong rebels.

Officials said today that the United States would support the planned increase of up to 160,000 men in South Viet Nam's 600,000-man military establishment.

They indicated that several thousand U. S. officers and men would be sent into the area within the next month or two to help with supply and training problems and serve as "advisers" and supporters for the expanded South Vietnamese forces.

In addition, officials said, the United States plans further expansion of the American-held perimeter around the vital port and airfield at Da Nang. The Da Nang base is considered a logical staging area if and when additional U. S. combat forces are introduced to meet the growing peril in the north central area of South Viet Nam.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara disclosed that U. S. military aid supplied directly to South Viet Nam for the fiscal year ending June 30 would amount to about $330 million, instead of the planned $207 million. Added to the economic aid budget of $300 million, this brings U. S. aid to Viet Nam above the $1.7 million per day mark.

In addition, the struggle is costing the United States untold millions to pay the 31,000 Americans already in the struggle plus the cost of operating carrier air strikes and other assaults on the Communists in North as well as South Viet Nam.

The administration gave no signs of being impressed by mounting demands at home and abroad for an end to the U. S. attacks on North Viet Nam.

And officials shrugged off threats from Red China and Russia. These stopped short, however, of pledging direct intervention.
