

Brannan Advocates Farmers Store Up Grain For Future

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Brannan today asked farmers to store on their farms a "substantial portion" of the huge grain crops they are producing this year.

Brannan said this would help:

1. Maintain prices of grain;
2. Relieve the jam at terminal markets;
3. Provide more orderly movement of grain.

The department has forecast a record corn crop and the second largest wheat crop in history, Brannan said.

"The pressure of fast-falling grain upon the markets has the effect of lowering prices received by farmers.

"This appeal (for farm storage) grows out of the pressure of grain upon commercial facilities which appear insufficient to accommodate the current large volume of grain that is overflowing the marketing channels.

"Transportation embargoes have had to be imposed to relieve the pressure, even though large shipments of grain are being exported under the foreign rehabilitation program."

The Secretary said this year's grain crops are the most expensive ever produced due to the high cost of materials. Farm storage, he said, would aid in protecting this investment.

chairman; Reps. Priest (Tenn.), Kerwin (Ohio), and Murdock (Ark.), and Leslie Biffle, secretary to the Senate Democrats.

As the White House arranged the Democratic party, Republican leaders of the Senate and House majorities gathered this morning to discuss strategy for the session. They plan another meeting tomorrow after hearing Mr. Truman's program.

The Republican high command decided today to make no motions on a legislative program until President Truman puts his extra session recommendations before Congress tomorrow.

House Speaker Martin (Mass.) told newsmen after a meeting of Senate and House leaders that "no decisions" were made, Martin added.

"We want to hear what the President has to say tomorrow before making up our minds definitely.

"Like the boys atunker Hill, we are not going to fire until we see the whites of their eyes."

Martin then walked into the House chamber and rapped to order the session summoned by Mr. Truman in the midst of the 1948 presidential and congressional campaigns.

The meeting of Republican chiefs, held in Martin's office was attended by Senators Taft (Ohio), Vandenberg (Mich.), Wherry (Neb.), and Millikin (Col.), and Reps. Halleck (Ind.), Brown (Ohio) and Avedis (Ill.). It lasted almost an hour and a half.

Vandenberg called the chamber to order after the GOP meeting. Sixty-five senators answered the roll call. The Senate remained in session only 11 minutes and quit until tomorrow.

Senator Wherry (Neb.), the acting majority leader, and Senator Taft (Ohio) both said no definite program of legislation will be agreed upon until after Mr. Truman's message is received.

Taft said there "is some sentiment to meet and adjourn" after the President's speech but that he

LONG LINE OF NEW MEMBERS MARCHES TO JOIN HOODED KLANSMEN DURING CEREMONY

BENEATH THE GLARE OF A GIANT fiery cross, near Stone Mountain, Atlanta, Ga., the Ku Klux Klan holds its first public initiation ceremony in two years. The huge nature of the celebration is indicated in the above pictures. At top, a long line of new members marches before the ring of hooded figures. Below, many of the leaders gather near a cross and conduct the initiation ceremonies. Among them was Dr. Samuel Green, Grand Dragon of the Georgia Klan. More than 1,000 new members were given the "oath of allegiance." Spokesmen particularly emphasized the battle against proposed civil rights programs. (International Soundphoto)

City RFC Loan

Giant officials, and from Washington, D.C. where they presented Sanford's loan application to RFC officials. Both said today that they were well pleased with the outcome of the trip.

Following their return Saturday, they met with the City Commission, which approved what commitments they had made affecting the City.

"The RFC application," said Mr. Higgins, "was for a self-liquidating loan for a period of 25 years. The officials of the RFC examined the application and were satisfied with the information that it contained. They stated that after investigation by their engineers and accountants of the figures as presented by the City, that they were substantiated, and declared that since the City Charter provides sufficient authority to borrow such an amount, there is no reason that the loan can not be made.

"The representatives of Sanford," Mr. Higgins declared, "secured the interview with the idea of preliminary talk with the RFC officials about the possibility of such a loan. However, the application was complete enough to merit its acceptance as a project, and their investigation will start immediately."

The New York trip was for the purpose of contacting the National Exhibition Company, who own the New York Giants, in regard to their training and business in Sanford, and a satisfactory interview was had with officials of the company, Mr. Higgins revealed.

Farm Wage Rates Soar To New Highs

ALBANY, N. Y., July 24 (AP)—The hired hands' wages on farms in New York state now are more than four times those prevailing in the 1910-11 period, the State Agriculture Department said today.

Farm wage rates by the day on July 1 averaged $5.30 with board and $0.50 without board. The wage level was "nearly the same" as those a year ago, a joint federal-state report announced.

Monthly wages, in addition to board and lodging furnished by the farmer, averaged $105, the report said.

The rates were nearly twice those reported at the peak of the 1930's after World War one and more than double, the July, 1941, rates, it said.

order through international rail-way channels.

A Berlin informant insisted that "technical difficulties are real and do exist" as far as the rail traffic into and from the Soviet zone is concerned.

In another development, the Berlin city government ordered the dismissal of police President Paul Markgraf who was appointed by his position by the Russians in 1945.

Dr. Ferdinand Friedensburg, deputy mayor of Berlin, said he had handed Markgraf a letter of dismissal, ordering him to turn over his office to his assistant.

The move was expected to have wide repercussions in this four-power city.

Markgraf holds the highest German military award. The Russians captured him at Stalingrad, sent him through Soviet "detention" with other German officers, and brought him to Berlin soon after the city fell. He has been constantly criticized by anti-Communist political parties.

Franz Neumann, Berlin leader of the Social Democratic Party, said Markgraf was responsible for the wave of political kidnappings in Berlin in which 5,413 persons have disappeared during the occupation. Neumann said the kidnappings were done by the Russians with the connivance of police in the Soviet sector.

Reds Increase Airplanes In Berlin Zone

Western Powers Decide On Talk With Molotov For Settling New Crisis

LONDON, July 27. (AP)—Britain's National Council of Labor, supporting the government's demand for an end of the Berlin blockade, declared today the obligations on the west "are as compelling as they were in 1948."

"Any show of weakness by the west would be a fatal shock to world confidence and an open invitation to yet grosser acts of intimidation and aggression," the council declared in a formal statement.

BERLIN, July 27. (AP)—The American military government said tonight a poll of Berlin public opinion shows 98 percent of the people in the three western sectors think the western Allies are right in refusing to be forced out of the city by Soviet pressure. It also showed that 73 percent of those questioned consider the Berlin crisis serious enough to result in a war in the near future.

BERLIN, July 27. (AP)—German press reports today say the Russians are increasing substantially the number of fighter planes, including jets, stationed in their zone of Germany, around Berlin. These reports appeared as the Americans strengthened their combat plane forces at bases in western Germany. The most recent U. S. additions were 16 jet fighters which reached Fuerstenfeldbruck Sunday.

German reports also said large Soviet summer army maneuvers are taking place in the Russian zone, from the Baltic south to Thuringia. The reports said much armor is involved, including big "Joseph Stalin III" tanks, and strong air support. The tanks were described as 62-ton monsters, perhaps the heaviest in the world.

Inside blockaded Berlin, the confused Germans had two policy chiefs. The city government, led by Mayor Martin, is pro-Western, in German and uncooperative. The Russians ordered that his resignation be accepted.

Guthrie Says Celery In New York Normal

Celery acreage in northern New York State is about normal it was reported today by H. B. Guthrie, who is associated with W. T. Whitehead in the produce business and who has spent the past 10 summers on the south shores of Lake Ontario between Rochester and Syracuse. This is one of the major fruit and vegetable belts in the nation, including large apple, cherry and grape growing districts.

"The condition of the early crop is much more satisfactory than in either two previous seasons at corresponding date," he wrote. "Shipping from here will begin, probably, late this week or early next, but movement will not amount to much until first week of August. It usually lasts through October. Market prospects at present are not too bright, due to plentiful supplies in Jersey, Orange County, N. Y., and other localities."

Jaycees Seek City Funds For Tourist Plans

Value Of Tourists To Sanford Stressed By Jaycee Delegation At Commission Meet

A delegation of officers and directors of the Junior Chamber of Commerce appeared before the City Commission last evening, submitted the organization's expense statement for the past fiscal year and its budget for the coming year, and requested that the City donate $2,400 from its publicity fund in order to carry out their tourist promotion program.

The Commission informed the Jaycees that the matter will be considered when the City budget is made up. This will be about Aug. 1. City Manager H. N. Sayer revealed this morning.

Personal appeals for the donation were made by J. Bradley Odham, past president, and Kayley Housholder. Jaycee President Gordon Bradley was present but did not actively represent the organization in its appeal, since he was acting in his official capacity as City deputy clerk.

Shrimps At Home

The ways of Atlantic water and the home life of the North Atlantic shrimp are coming in for study from an expedition now setting sail from McGill University. In a 48-foot yawl, a fat imitation of a Norwegian fishing vessel, made to resist ice floes, stand at kinds of knocking about and survive winters on a beach, the little group expects to sail through the Strait of Belle Isle, up the Labrador and Quebec coasts into the Hudson Strait.

They will study the Atlantic water currents, to see where Atlantic water goes when it reaches Hudson Strait, why shrimp and halibut are so numerous there, and how deep the water is near harbors in Ungava Bay and Hudson Bay.

More and better shrimp in cans is one of the aims of Dr. Max J. Dunbar of the university and Capt. E. L. Ritchie of Yarmouth, N. S. More baked halibut to follow the shrimp cocktails will cause no distress to lovers of both.

It's a queer yearning — that for the far north where the mosquitoes eat a fellow alive if let, and the fresh vegetables are not, and life is strange. But it continues to attract men who want questions about it answered. Along with Dr. Dunbar's scientific equipment he has lots of candy for Eskimo children. That's one way of getting information.

Young Readers

At the recent annual reading conference of the University of Chicago, a group of teachers was informed that grade and high schools should hold themselves responsible for a basic reading program for the children under their guidance.

David H. Russell, a reading authority from the University of California declared that the mere mechanics of learning to read will not cover the matter. The child must read easily and well, ideas, personality development, a sense of security and an understanding of human nature were some of the benefits outlined by the speaker for the competent reader.

It has been discovered lately that many pupil failures are the result of reading disability. Rapid, intelligent reading is a valuable tool in school life and in many lines of adult work. Just as important, however, is the cultural and recreational value of reading. Books are a never-failing source of pleasure and relaxation, and an early acquaintance with the joys of reading is a priceless gift to a growing mind.

Slips Of The Press

The Newark, N. J., Evening News announced: "Rev. Everett F. Hallock, pastor of Lutherford Methodist Church, will give the invocation and benediction."

From the personals in the Warren, Pa., Times-Mirror: "This is Mr. Artress' fourth trip up from Pittsburgh this summer. He has been enjoying a vacation since his wife died last February."

From AP teletype copy to the Marshfield, Wis., News-Herald: "Four candidates had their hutes in the ring today."

Advertisement from the Kirksville, Mo., Daily Express: "Wm. H. Findling, 'Auctioneering is my special line of business. Prices are very reasonable. If I am out of town, make dates with my wife.'"

From the Trenton, N.J., Evening Times: "Representative Charles A. Eaton is an official whose words carry considerable weight. His remarks in the current issue of The American Magazine are therefore worth noting."

From the Claremont, N. H., Daily Eagle: "Most of these people, we believe, don't like the idea of a Soviet-dominated Europe."

Unhappy Is The Lot Of 'Fixed-Income' Folk

The "Fixed Income" group always suffers a loss of purchasing power during periods of inflation, but now comes a set of statistics that boils down into dollars and cents just how much this loss has amounted to since the 1929 peak "prosperity period."

The figures were compiled from a long study of official government statistics, by John A. Ritchie, chairman of the board of the Fifth Avenue Coach Co., New York City.

Mr. Ritchie's authenticated report points out that in 1947 corporate profits amounted to $17,400,000,000 or 8.6 per cent of the national income. Labor's share in wages and salaries from private businesses totaled $105,200,000,000 or 52 per cent of the national income.

Wages and salaries showed a dollar gain of 132.71 per cent over 1929, while dividends increased by only 16.78 per cent. Only $6,800,000,000 was paid out to investors in dividends.

In real value—purchasing power—that is—labor's share in 1947 was 81 per cent greater than in 1929, while dividends paid investors last year were reduced in purchasing power by 2.18 per cent in the same period.

The "real value" of the 1947 dollar, based on prices prevailing in 1929, was 63 cents, the report continued. Therefore, wages and

Quoting Lincoln

It might have been helpful, in the battle over the civil rights question in the Philadelphia convention, if some spokesman of the South had read to the convention an excerpt from a speech made by Abraham Lincoln at Charleston, Illinois, Sept. 18, 1858. In the course of that speech, Mr. Lincoln said:

"I will say, then, that I am not, nor ever have been, in favor of bringing about in any way the political and social equality of the white and black races; that I am not, nor ever have been, in favor of making voters of Negroes, nor of qualifying them to hold office, nor to intermarry with white people; and I still say, in addition to this, that there is a physical difference between the white and black races which, I believe, will forever forbid the two races being together on conditional surrender to the Henry A. Wallace Progressive convention and to the threatened civil disobedience campaign against the draft by some negro leaders.

The President noted in his message today that congressional committees have considered legislation to carry out some of his proposals but that only one has been approved. That lone measure was for settling the wartime evacuation claims of Japanese-Americans.

Of the others he said: "I believe that it is necessary to enact the laws I have recommended in order to make the guarantees of the Constitution real and vital." These are the others:

1. Establishing a permanent commission on civil rights, a joint congressional committee on civil rights and a civil rights division in the Department of Justice.
2. Strengthening existing civil rights statutes.
3. Providing federal protection against lynching.
4. Insuring that the right to vote in elections for federal offices shall not be contingent upon the payment of taxes.
5. Establishing a Fair Employment Practice Commission to prevent unfair discrimination in employment.
6. Prohibiting discrimination in interstate transportation facilities.
7. Providing home-rule and suffrage in presidential elections for the residents of the District of Columbia.
8. Providing statehood for Hawaii and Alaska and a greater measure of self-government for island possessions.
9. Equalizing the opportunities for residents in the United States to become naturalized citizens.

Sanford Forum

Editor, The Herald:

If a gangster threatened you or your children's lives, your husband would fight, wouldn't he, or would you go to war about it? How about us women doing our share? We are the guardians of our children's safety most of the day. Can we afford to be complacent when there are neighborhoods in our fair city where a little child cannot venture outdoors alone for fear of injury from weapons put into other children's hands as toys?

It is fine to know there are laws against such use of guns, but isn't the greater responsibility really ours as mothers to banish fear and intimidation? If we truly want a world at peace, let us cultivate it earnestly and faithfully in our own back yards. Let us recognize the enemy while it is a tender little weed that we women can uproot.

Sincerely,

City, had to march through an unlighted tunnel for 200 yards to exit to their targets. The pit detail runs the target up, scores, balances and marks them. This was very strenuous work, but Co. I stood out in being fast and efficient on their targets.

See, with the M-1 30 cal. rifle fired 50 rounds from five different positions at slow and rapid fire. These on the Browning automatic rifle range fired 36 rounds. Those with the 45 automatic pistol fired 20 rounds, and carbine men fired 46 rounds. Sgt. Ellsworth Hoover of Sanford scored 8 bullseyes and one's only a quarter of an inch from the black. All M-1 and carbines were fired on a 200 yard range.

The men ate their noon meal in the field and came back to camp about 7:00 Friday evening. Most men cleaned up and went straight to the machine gun range where they were completely exhausted from the hard day's work. In charge of quarters detail were 1st Sgt. T. V. Brown, Cpl. William H. Pugh, and Pvt. B. H. Halseck.

Asst. Division Commander, General Joseph C. Hutchison of Sanford inspected the rifle ranges and gave helpful instruction to numerous enlisted personnel. General Hutchison gave instruction to nearly every Rifleman on the range from Co. I, and the firing score was very noticeable after this instruction. It was evident that Co. I felt very proud to have the General take such an interest in them.

It was noticed by numerous high ranking officers on the range, that Co. I's weapons were in excellent condition. Much of the credit here should go to Sgt. Ralph L. Moran, Unit Caretaker at the Armory at Sanford.

"Little Phillip was hiding behind the door and when his father took them out of the house he was crying. No, daddy, not the boys."

Kaye made no bones about it in court.

"They are my sons and I made up my mind I was going to have them," he said.

When the hearing ended, Mrs. Metzger walked over to her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Kaye, jumped away and snarled, "I don't even want to talk to you."

"No, and I don't either," Kaye said.

A moment later in the corridor, Kaye told his mother, "I didn't want her to see the boys."

"Well, they want to see me," she said with tears in her eyes and her voice breaking. "I know they do."

Kaye, who plans to return to his home at the Moccasin Night Club in Los Angeles in a few days, said he will appeal the Indiana custody case.

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP)—Don't expect the Republican-controlled Congress to do much that President Truman recommends today.

His offering Congress an 11-point program on things he says needs to be done for the country's welfare.

They range from what he considers ways for controlling inflation and providing housing to build a home for the United Nations in New York.

Of all his recommendations, the one that probably stands the best chance of being carried out is the $500,000,000 U.S. loan.

The Republicans are burned up at him.

Here at the beginning of the political campaigns, with elections coming up in November, he's called the Republican program "a dress-back into special session."

Since he says his program is what the country needs, this puts the Congress on the spot of doing what he says or not doing it—but if it doesn't do it, the Republicans will have to explain why they vote against it.

One important Republican congressman—he doesn't want his name mentioned—said:

"Look at what the President's doing. He comes up before a special session of Congress. He calls the session. And we have to sit and listen to him make a speech."

"It's a campaign speech. And he makes it in front of the television cameras and over the radio. What a political platform that is. And at our expense. This talk to Congress is a wonderful opening for his own campaign for re-election."

The main point in Mr. Truman's message to Congress today is the cost of living.

It is that problem of the cost of living—it's now at its highest level in American history —which is causing the Republican the most concern.

If they do nothing to control it at this special session—and if prices continue to rise between now and November's elections—it probably will cost them votes.

The same Republican said on this point:

"But how are you going to pass a law at this time to cut down prices?"

He didn't go into the problem of trying to keep prices from going higher than they are now, but he said hopefully: "I think prices will start to come down by November."

The Republican high command in Congress—in House and Senate—hasn't said publicly what it intends to do about Mr. Truman's program, and doesn't intend to say until it has had a chance to examine the message and talk it over.

In the mood of the Republican—or at least some of them—was shown pretty well yesterday when Congress re-opened for a short time and adjourned until today.

Rep. Frederick C. Smith, Ohio Republican, said that as soon as Mr. Truman delivered his message today Congress ought to take the vote.

In fact, Smith introduced a resolution to adjourn right after Mr. Truman's talk. Before that could happen both houses of Congress would have to approve. That's unlikely.

And Rep. Bender, another Ohio Republican, blamed present high prices on 46 years of Democratic rule. He summed up his feelings about Mr. Truman's message before he heard it. He said:

"All we'll hear is a campaign speech."

I won't let on this, but between now and election time I think justice is going to see little action but hear a lot of talk from both sides. The Democrats and Republicans blaming each other for the high cost of living.

Europe's production of bread grains (wheat and rye) will be much greater this year than in 1946 or 1947, but still about 15 per cent below pre-war level.

Giants And G-Men Rained Out, Move Closer To League Leaders

MANAGERIAL MAGIC - By Alan Meyer

By JULIAN STENSTROM As yesterday afternoon's downpour washed out tonight's Florida State League contest between Gainesville and Sanford, scheduled for 8:15 P.M. at the Municipal Park here, both the Giants and the G-Men, currently tied for third place in league standing, moved within one game of the second place Daytona Beach Islanders and a half game closer to the league leading Orlando Senators.

At 6:30 last evening Manager Hal Gruber took another look around the local park and decided that the field was just too muddy to try and play the contest.

Meanwhile, in Leesburg's Vocation Garden Park, Ralph Woodford, on the mound for the Pirates, shovled a three-hitter down the throats of the Orlando Senators and the Florida State League leaders suffered their first whitewashing of the present campaign.

Woodford, a left hander, packed up the triumph in the final half of the ninth stanza. Tommy Hyde, Orlando's local park, issued Ralph Woodford a free ticket to first after one stickman had been returned. Bill Hall lined out to John Garrison in left.

Outfielder Johnny Paszek then hit one of Hyde's pitches, completely clearing the left field mound board to register Leesburg's 2 to 0 win.

Second place Daytona Beach was tripped by the St. Augustine Saints who hustled their way to a 3 to 1 victory at Daytona's City Island Park last night. The Saints victory was the eighth consecutive win for the up-and-coming ancient city crew.

St. Augustine opened the scoring hostilities with a two-run uprising in the second frame and added another in the top half of the seventh. It was catcher Charlie Wiles who doubled with Judy and Sebastian on the sacks in the second. Daytona's lone marker came in the final frame when three hits banged out singles which cost big Sam Karpinski a shutout.

It was less than seven for Stubby Stabileff this year against 10 victories.

The seventh place Palatka Azaleas shaved the last place DeLand Red Hots deeper into the league cellar last night when, at the Azalea Bowl in Palatka, Rocky Rounno tossed a neat six-inning at the Hots while Palatka posted a 6 to 3 win. The Azaleas blasted Glenn Bird for ten safeties in his State League debut. The tilt was marked by eight miscues, four for each club.

Brooklyn Will Never Forget Leo's Debut At Ebbets Field Yesterday

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer Lippy Leo Durocher rode triumphantly into the Polo Grounds yesterday in his home debut as manager of the New York Giants with all the pomp and glory of a conquering hero.

No matter what Durocher does from now on, Giant followers will never forget what he did last night. Neither will the Flatbush faithful. In a setting knee deep in drama, the former pilot of the Brooklyn Dodgers returned to his old stomping grounds last night and watched his Giants club his former hirings into almost total submission. The New Yorkers massacred their inter-borough rival, 13-4.

It was sweet revenge for Giant fans who had seen their favorites humbled 32 times in 39 clashes at Ebbets Field over the last four years. It also was sweet revenge for Durocher, who was shipped across the river to the Giants only ten days ago.

In all the Giants collected 17 baw' hits against five Dodger pitchers.

Durocher took an unmerciful beating before the start of the game. Barely has a manager or player been forced to accept such a shower of verbal abuse. It started the minute he poked his head out of the Giant dugout and lasted until the game got underway.

Cries of "kill the quitter," "send the bum back to New York," were hurled at him.

The partial Dodger crowd of 33,932, all that could get into the park, didn't know it then, but that was the last chance it had to see Durocher and the Giants. Once the game got underway, it was Leo who had the laugh.

The Giants opened up on starter Preacher Roe as if he was the instigator of the booging. Before the game was ten minutes old, Roe was en route to the showers and the Giants had a 5-0 first inning lead on six hits.

The victory, only the fifth in 13 meetings with the Dodgers this year, left the Giants still in fifth place, a half game behind the Pittsburgh Pirates. In losing, the Dodgers dropped a notch into the third place, a half game behind the St. Louis Cardinals and 5 1/2 back of the league leading Boston Braves.

Condon Is Called Weakest Link In Atomic Security

Hearings To Be Held Soon By House Un-American Group

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP)—Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.) said today the House Committee on Un-American Activities plan to hold hearings soon on its charge that Dr. Edward U. Condon "is one of the weakest links in our atomic security."

Condon, director of the government's Bureau of Standards, has denied the charge and demanded public hearings to answer them. McDowell said these will be held as soon as Chairman Thomas (R-NJ) is permitted by his physician to return to Washington.

"All we need is the doctor's permission for Mr. Thomas to come back," McDowell told reporters whom he summoned to his office to make the announcement.

McDowell expressed the opinion that the committee labeling port last spring is "almost a perfect description." Since then, the Atomic Energy Commission has investigated Condon and cleared him to examine atomic bomb information.

The committee's closed door sessions, said McDowell, have produced testimony to support the original charge -- which included a statement that the government scientist had associated "knowingly or unknowingly" with a suspected Russian spy.

"There has been no charge that Dr. Condon is a spy," McDowell said, "and I don't think there will be. However, he has associated with known Communists and other persons who we believe are espionage agents."

Condon recently was cleared by the Atomic Energy Commission to examine atomic bomb information, after lengthy investigation. He had agreed voluntarily to steer clear of atomic data until such an investigation had been conducted.

McDowell said the commission did not ask the un-American Activities Committee for any information before clearing Condon, and added:

"They perhaps don't know what we know, or if they do and still cleared him they should be investigated themselves. We asked the commission for the sources of their information, but of course they refused to give them to us."

President Truman ordered all government agencies at the time of the committee's original blast against Condon not to turn over any confidential files to Congress. The House group had asked W. Averell Harriman, then Secretary of Commerce, for a loyalty board report on Condon. Harriman refused.

Truman Message

controls with power to hold wages in line, standby rationing authority on scarce goods, and curbs on credit, rents and commodity speculation.

Failure of the government to act promptly to curb high prices might bring "economic collapse in this country."

That, Mr. Truman said, is what "the Communists, both here and abroad are counting" upon. He said another great depression in this country would blast "the world's hope for a lasting peace."

He wore a light blue summer suit, black and white shoes, and a blue tie. He acknowledged in a formal manner the applause which continued until he began to speak.

Adhering to his usual custom, the President read his message. It was typewritten, triple-spaced, and bound in a loose-leaf folder. He spoke slowly and in quiet tones. From time to time, his voice dropped almost to conversational levels.

10 Million U. S. Citizens Said To Be Illiterate

By ROBERT E. GEIGER WASHINGTON — Would you know what to do if you saw a sign that said "Explosives—Keep Away" Or "Poison—For External Use Only"?

Sen. Harley M. Kilgore (D-W. Va.) says the census reveals that slightly over 10,000,000 Americans—one out of every seven adults—wouldn't know. He calls them "sheer or near illiterate." He proposed $130,000,000 federal aid to help such people learn to read and write. His bill died, but educators say it is sure to come up again.

What is an illiterate? Where do these 10,000,000 illiterates live? Kilgore says the answers to these questions are so amazing the situation can only be described as a national disgrace.

First, he describes illiterates as persons without the equivalent of a fourth grade education. They can't read or, if they can, they can't understand what they read sufficiently well to function as citizens.

Second, he says many of these people—probably the majority of them—don't live far out in the sticks, where an education is hard to come by. And the majority are not foreign born, but native Americans.

He gives these figures: 4,200,000 are white people, born in this country; 2,900,000 are foreign born whites; 2,700,000 are Negroes. He says one-tenth of the 10,000,000 live in New York, 402,000 in Illinois and 385,000 in California. Louisiana has a higher percentage of illiterates among its total population than any other state. Kilgore estimates the number at 35 per cent. Iowa has the lowest, 4.1 per cent.

There are three times as many illiterates in the country as college graduates, Kilgore adds. He says this weakens democracy because many of these people cannot read the words "freedom" or "peace." Communists are aware of this situation and take full advantage of it by using only the simplest types of propaganda or by making personal contacts, the senator says.

He proposed that $5,000,000 aid be given the states in 1949 to teach people to read, write, speak and understand the English language, to perform elementary arithmetical computations and to understand the basic features of U. S. government. He would appropriate $10,000,000 for the teaching program in 1950, and the $15,000,000 a year until 1957, decreasing to $5,000,000 in 1958.

By that time, he believes, illiterates would be eliminated in the United States.

One difficulty is that illiterates apparently haven't been accurately defined. Most authorities agree that the 10,000,000 estimate may be wide of the mark, one way or the other. Until 1940 the U. S. Census Bureau counted illiterates merely by asking people if they could read and write in any language. If they couldn't they were classified as illiterate. In 1940 the census classified people by their degree of education, number of years they attended school. This is the origin of the estimate that there are 10,000,000 people without the equivalent of a fourth grade education.

During the war the Army used the fourth grade as the dividing line between literary and illiteracy. This was based on the wartime experience of the Army. It found that as a general rule people with less than a fourth grade education couldn't read or obey the simplest sort of orders.

Army officials say 350,000 soldiers between 21 and 45 had to "make their mark" with an X because they couldn't write their own names.

convention of the Progressives Party was noteworthy for its delegates. They felt they were engaged more in a crusade than a campaign. And they had more fun than people are supposed to have in politics.

"A waitress told me we ate five times as many hot dogs as the Republicans did," said a proud delegate in convention hall. The Progressive Party is hungry for victory, too.

The first attempts at rug making were probably crude efforts to imitate the hairy pelts of wild beasts.

Truman Reaction

(Continued from Page One) left a meeting of the Republican high command to tell reporters that the House Banking Committee will meet Thursday on Mr. Truman's coat-of-living recommendations. His words indicated the GOP top-drawer had turned down any idea of adjourning Congress immediately. Wolcott said:

"It is very apparent that this Administration is committed to high prices until after the election. Otherwise the President would have used the powers he already has to stop inflation."

"The President and the Federal Reserve System now have powers to stabilize our economy and the value of our currency. It is doubtful whether we should give any new powers until he has used the powers he already has."

"However, we will be glad to review the whole situation and after full and adequate hearings if we decide there are some powers he does not have to reduce prices. Congress will be glad to give them to him."

Chairman Allen (R-Ill.) of the House Rules Committee which has bottled up the Taft-Henderson Wagner long range housing bill asked by Mr. Truman, said he hoped Congress could adjourn in two weeks.

"Allen said: "His (the President's) attacks on Congress have not been directed at Republican policies, but at the American institution of representative government."

"I think the American people recognize this. They also recognize that Truman's message was a cross between a death rattle in the throat of the New Deal, and the squalls of the recently born Wallace party."

"It looks like he (Mr. Truman) is in a fever of increased inflation, higher prices, and greater scarcity."

"It doesn't seem there is anything there that really stands on its merits. This looks like just an attempt to push through Congress bad legislation that he wasn't able to get when the Democrats were in control."

"It is our unanimous opinion that the issues of inflation and housing alone justify the President in recalling Congress to its duty."

MENU

By CECILY BROWNTONE Associated Press Food Editor

If it's a custom in your family to have your first spring outing on Decoration Day, you may want some new ideas for carry-along food. I recommend that if you are making any distance you take some easy-to-eat food, such as fruit or sandwiches, to munch in the car and then pack a more elaborate spread to enjoy at the picnic spot. We always do this in my family because my nephew has the voracious appetite of a ten-year-old and I have the temperamental sort of stomach that's likely to get hungry at any time. My sister evolved the idea of bringing along a snack to keep us happy before the real spread.

Greatly enjoyed sandwiches we recently made were smoked tongue slices with both prepared mustard and sweet pickle relish. Then we tucked a radish (with the green leaves left on), a carrot and a celery strip into each sandwich bag. Small sandwich bags made of waxed paper which you can buy packaged in almost any store have dozens of uses in and out of the house.

A sandwich spread that has been a favorite in our family for years is one made of yellow cheese, pimento-stuffed olives, walnuts and mayonnaise. If the food grinder happens to be out, we put all the ingredients except the salad dressing into it; if not, we simply mash or grate the cheese and slice the olives and nuts—these are delicious on any kind of bread, white, rye or whole wheat.

For dessert take along some fruit. Then add a cake or cookies. This "Tomato Sauce Cake" is something quite new and I thought it had some of the qualities of fruit cake but is much less expensive and quicker to make. It doesn't need frosting and it is sturdy enough to travel well.

Tomato Sauce Cake
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1 1/2 cups canned all-tomato

Disorders Break Out In Russian Zone Of Berlin

Reds Admit Chaos Exists As Effort Is Made To Exchange German Currency

BERLIN, July 28, (AP)— Disorders broke out in the Russian sector of blockaded Berlin today when thousands of Germans jammed streets before banks in an effort to exchange their money for new Russian-sponsored currency.

Newspapers in western Berlin and the Russians and their Communist-controlled economic commission are trying to "cheat the people out of their money." The headline for the even exchange is tonight.

The Russians through their newspapers admitted "chaos" existed, but blamed the non-Communist city government for not providing enough exchange places. American military government finance officials said this is untrue and "the Russians are trying to make the city government scapegoat for their own mistake."

Mayor Louise Schroeder defied an order from the Russian commander to fire her new anti-Communist deputy police chief, Johannes Stumm. The three western commanders had advised her the Russians had no authority to order the discharge of Stumm.

Secretary Marshall said today the United States has agreed with the British and French on next moves in dealing with the crisis of Soviet-blockaded Berlin.
