

Beer Is Legalized As Governor Signs Bill This Morning

Office Of Sholtz Is Jammed With Spectators To Witness Official Signature

TALLAHASSEE, May 8.—(A.P.)—The manufacture and sale of 3.2 percent beer and wine and like beverages became legal in Florida today when Governor Sholtz signed five acts of current legislation, giving the state its first legal beverage in more than 40 years.

Three of the new laws legalized and declared non-intoxicating all beverages containing not more than 3.2 percent alcohol by weight. They repealed all conflicting laws.

The fourth statute set up a system of regulation and taxation. It imposed a state tax of six cents a gallon on the beverage and a scale of license fees for manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers. It allowed the immediate sale by hotels, restaurants, clubs, stores, bars, and dining cars. Its only restriction was against sale to persons under 18.

The fifth new law permitted the advertising of legalized beverages in newspapers and other media. The Governor also signed a joint resolution of the legislature calling for a constitutional amendment repealing the prohibition by voters in the November 1934 general election. If ratified, it would become effective only in the event national prohibition is repealed.

The Governor's office was jammed with spectators as the bills were signed. Photographers took pictures of the proceedings. The signatures of these bills will be legal under the Governor and Legislature can do it. The manufacture and sale of 3.2 percent beer and wine the Governor said as he affixed his signature to the legislation.

In the meantime, boats and freight cars full of the beverage continued on their way toward Florida. From Cuba came the ship Munargo, while from South Carolina and other points came freight cars full of beer. Other shipments of beer were due, as soon as the Governor signed the beer and wine bills, from New York, Philadelphia and Chicago.

Passage by the legislature of the various beer and wine bills came as a result of sending the tax and regulatory measure to a committee. The Senate demanded that revenue from the beer tax—estimated at $2,000,000 a year—should go to the general treasury. The House insisted upon sending the revenue to schools.

The compromise measure provided that revenue from beer should go to a special fund, to be held until distributed by the Legislature.

The Legislature also agreed on the termination of restricted provisions of the Senate bill.

Cuban Product Finds Ready Market Despite Exorbitance

Legalized beer made a return to Sanford this morning at one minute after 9:00 o'clock when Wurt W. Warner, manager of the Valdes Hotel, opened his sun-parlor refreshment room to a large throng of local persons and sold the first bottle of Felix S. Frank. Within half an hour two cases of American beer had been sold out, and at 9:00 o'clock this afternoon nearly 400 bottles of both American and Cuban beer had been sold at the Valdes, with only a limited supply remaining.

The Valdes Hotel manager was not the only local person to offer beer for sale today. For the Smokehouse, and Monk's Place each had secured six cases of Cuban beer that was finding a ready market despite the fact that it was selling at 35 cents per bottle. County Tax Collector Jno. D. Zink had received payment for calls for license fees requested by shortly before noon today. One license was issued to Mr. Warner, and one to R. E. Staley, Lake Monroe restaurant owner. Mr. Staley stated that he held applications for license requested by Steve Dross, operator of the Postoffice Lunch Room, and A. D. Hawkins, negro restaurant owner.

He also said that provided Captain C. Hallett, of Fern Park, meets all requirements as to citizenship, character, and sundry other rules, that Captain Hallett will be the holder of the first state and county license issued in the county. Captain Hallett made application some days ago in the name of the Fern Park Dancing and Garden Club for permit No. 1.

City Clerk P. S. Lamson said that several persons had called at the City Hall to find out what steps they must take to sell beer in Sanford. They all were told that there are no ordinances against the sale of beer, but that proper regulations will be drawn up tonight. They were invited to attend tonight's meeting or call at the City Hall tomorrow morning.

From all indications, beer will not be sold in as many locations in Sanford as might be expected under the broad provisions of the state laws. Drug stores as a general rule, it is understood, will handle the product, not Myrtle's Coffee Shop, the Williams Pool Room on Magnolia Avenue, and some of the smaller cafes and lunch rooms.

It is said that one of the larger chain grocery stores will have a supply of American beer on hand tomorrow.

W. T. Laird, representing a large Florida wholesale grocery concern which has state distribution rights for Bodewiser beer, stated this morning that his firm had notified him that it may be the end of the week or early next week before this brand of beer will be supplied to Florida dealers.

Howard Boteler, local wholesaler who expects to distribute "Arrow" beer in this territory, today said that he does not expect a supply from Baltimore until next week. He was of the opinion that distributors were violating the law by selling beer today because they could not have secured the approval of Governor Sholtz to large bonds they must post today, nor will it be possible to secure this approval for at least two days. "I intend to distribute the product just as soon as I consider it legally possible for me to do so," he said.

MALDEN AID SEAMAN

NEW YORK—Eighty thousand free meals and more than 70,000 free beds were provided for 600,000 last year by the American Seaman's Relief Society. These figures were revealed when the 1934 report was submitted at the 1934 anniversary service of the society.

EX-GOVERNOR DEFIES LAW TO END HOARDING

Colorado Democrat Is Seeking To Prevent What He Thinks Is Abrogation Of Right

DENVER, Colo., May 8.—(A.P.)—The threat of a prison sentence holds no terrors for Charles S. Thomas, 53, former Colorado governor, when constitutional rights of citizens are at stake.

Because "some good Democrats should do it," this patriarch of Colorado politics resented to the United Press in an interview yesterday his defiance of President Roosevelt's order against gold hoarding.

To prevent abrogation of what he regards as constitutional rights, Thomas declared himself "perfectly willing" to abandon the comforts of his home for a prison cell.

"I meant every word I said," he continued, referring to his challenge in a letter to United States District Attorney Ralph Carr, in which he said he had obtained $120 in gold, $20 more than allowed by the President's order, to test its validity.

"Some Democrats should do it because the Democratic Party has always contended it is the constitutional party," he said. "I might as well be the one I'm no good for anything else."

Thomas has written often on the question of bimetalism. He dismissed that phase of his protest against the gold order with this statement:

"My views of the currency system, like my views of the new administration, are not important. It should be sufficient to say that I believe in bimetalism, and I believe President Roosevelt's patriotism and high sense of public duty while directing from what I am sure is a grave error in policy."

"Moreover, the gold situation is the logical result of the single standard. The resumption of the double standard would automatically solve our financial difficulties and make hoarding as unnecessary as it is absurd."

The real issue involved in the gold proclamation, Thomas said, is whether the people shall permit Congress "to abdicate its power" to the President.

"Dues in a government," he said, "of three separate departments, the executive, legislative and judicial, Congress has to move right to transfer legislative powers to the President than the executive department has to abdicate its powers to Congress."

In 1920 Colorado's most distinguished statesman sacrificed personal aims to a principle. After serving in the United States Senate for eight years, he refused another nomination because he could not agree with President Wilson on the League of Nations issue, although he was in harmony with other policies of the wartime President.

PUBLIC DEBT OF STATE PUT AT 854 MILLION

149 Municipalities In Total Of 181 Are In Default On Bonds; Others Are Expected

TALLAHASSEE, May 8.—(A.P.)—Florida's public debt as of December 31, 1933, is $854,295,558, members of the Florida Legislature were advised today.

Compilation of the exact condition of the public debt began more than a year ago and brought up to the first of this year, was ended yesterday and the data on the debt went to the legislators from the governor's office, it was announced yesterday.

The survey was made by Kenneth Ballinger of the Miami Herald and was completed, the announcement stated, with the assistance of the State Auditing Department. It is the first such survey ever completed in such detail.

The survey will show that in only a few counties of the state are there no governmental units in default. They are: Leon, Jefferson, Madison, Escambia, Lafayette, Marion, and Wakulla.

Of the 181 municipalities having outstanding bonds, 149 are now in default either in principle or in interest or both. The municipalities owe $214,849,571 in bond principal and $158,068,781 in interest to a maturity, or a total present bonded obligation of $372,918,352.

Drainage districts and special taxing districts such from school and road and bridge, owe total obligations amounting to $77,791,541. Only five of the 63 bonded drainage sub-districts in the state are not in default either in principle or interest or both. The Everglades Drainage District with a principal debt of $9,655,000 is now in $1,600,000 default. The county school boards of a part state owe bonds having a par value of $50,993,922, and interest to a maturity of $3,215,269, or a total debt of $54,209,191.

The balance of the public debt is largely that for the roads and bridges in special districts.

Thirty-six of the 67 Florida counties have no outstanding bonds except for roads and bridges the latter being now in the hands of the State Board of Administration and paid from the proceeds of the 3 cents of the state gasoline tax and such property taxes as the individual counties pay.

It was indicated yesterday that the administration anticipates early favorable action in the Senate on House Bill 30, sponsored by A. O. Kanner of Martin, although it is expected, it was said, that the measure will probably be amended somewhat.

Roosevelt Makes Report To People Concerning Affairs Of State Since Inauguration

SOLONS ASK FOR PUBLIC OPINIONS ON ARSENIC LAW

Holly And Entzinger Thank People For Interest In Affairs

In a letter expressing appreciation to the Herald for "valuable services rendered thus far in sounding out public sentiment," and thanks "to the people of Seminole County for the way in which they have responded," Representatives C. W. Entzinger and H. J. Holly today ask for this county's reaction to the arsenic spray law on grapefruit and tangerines.

Representatives Entzinger and Holly are now the opinion that they will not vote to repeal the arsenic law as to tangerines and oranges. They are hopeful that local and county residents will write or telegraph them in regard to the question as soon as possible.

Their letter reads as follows: "We are receiving numerous letters and telegrams, for and against the repeal of the arsenic spray law on Grapefruit and Tangerines. It is impossible for us to reply to all of these letters and telegrams and we would thank you if you will publish this letter and through your columns give the reaction."

"We have attended the committee meetings and hearings on the repeal of this law. We would not favor the repeal of this law as to Tangerines and Oranges as there seems to be question as to the wisdom of its use as to these. The majority of opinion, however, indicates that it has a beneficial effect on grapefruit. We find that" (Continued on Page Three)

Outlines Ideas About Partnership With Government, Agriculture, Industry

WASHINGTON, May 8.—(A.P.)—President Roosevelt outlined to the nation last night his ideas for a partnership—between the government and agriculture, industry and transportation—in a full exposition of his policies—past and future.

He announced that measures will be proposed shortly to give to industrial workers "a more fair wage return, prevent cut-throat competition and unduly long hours for labor, and at the same time to encourage production."

As a part of the new national planning program he accented the anti-trust laws would be passed to prevent monopolies but that they would not be permitted to "encourage the kind of unfair competition that results in long hours, starvation wages and over-production."

Turning to the subject of inflation, the President stated the powers about to be given him by Congress for this "will be used when, and if it may be necessary to accomplish the purpose" of improved prices, credit and wages.

He said the conversation with the foreign envoys have brought a unity of action for progress on outstanding and economic stabilization.

"The international conference that has before us must succeed," he emphasized. "The future of the world depends on it and we have each of us pledged ourselves to the best joint efforts to this end."

Reviewing completely the action heretofore taken and outlining those for the future, the President, in a calm, confident voice asserted:

"Today we have reason to believe that things are a little better than they were two months ago. Industry has picked up, railroads are carrying more freight, farm prices are better, but I am not going to indulge in optimistic pronouncements of inevitable success. We cannot build too conservative a basis for prosperity. I do not want the people of this country to take the foolish course of seeing this improvement come back on another speculative wave."

As for his policies, he said it was "wholly wrong" to describe them as control of industry, agriculture and railroads, as setting them "rather a partnership in planning and a partnership in seeing that the plans are carried out."

As for the gold embargo and the country departure from the gold standard, he said a situation develops three weeks ago resulting in a drain on the national gold supply by foreign countries and a resulting threatened flight of American capital from the country.

Assessing this might have resulted in a panic and the complete stoppage of the wheels of industry and that gold is required as a basis for currency, he declared:

"I decided not to let any of the gold now in the country get out of it."

"The administration has the definite objective," he explained, "of raising commodity prices to such an extent that those who have borrowed money will, on the average, be able to repay that money in the same kind of dollars which they borrowed. We do not seek to let them get such a cheap dollar that they will be able to" (Continued on Page Three)

CENTRAL STATE LEAGUE OUTFITS TO PLAY SUNDAY

Sanford Will Oppose New Smyrna Crackers On Local Field

Six Central Florida Baseball League teams tomorrow afternoon are scheduled to conclude their first "swing around the loop" in games that will be played at Orlando, Sanford and Daytona Beach.

In contrast to games played Thursday in which free-hitting and plenty of error-making predominated over mediocre pitching performances, tomorrow's games promise to be pitchers' battles because at least five of the six clubs will be starting hurlers who have either turned in fine exhibitions so far this year or are tried and true veterans of the 1932 campaign.

Here in Sanford the Celery feeders for the league lead with the Daytona Islanders, will entertain the New Smyrna Crackers, a combine which is still in the stage of experimentation.

The game, to be played at Municipal Park at 3:30 o'clock, will pit an admittedly strong team against an admittedly weak team. But, the contest has great promise in that the league's outstanding hurler, George Cusack, veteran of Central Florida semi-pro and professional league games for the past 20 years, will be on the mound for the Crackers.

The appearance here of Cusack is expected to bring a record turnout for the season. The veteran is popularly known to every baseball fan in this section. His great success so far this year makes him the sensation of the loop, and with young Tiger Miner scheduled to start for Sanford, fans may be in for an exciting contest.

The Peck line-up will be unchanged from that which pounded its way to a 9 to 5 victory over the Leesburg Jacks last Thursday. The hard-hitting Bert Maxwell, whose two home runs over the Leesburg fence to break up a see-saw game, will patrol the right field garden with Roy Harrison and Tete Newsom holding down the other pastures.

The infield, said to be the best in the loop, will find Joe Arioli at third, Bonner at short, Charles Abbott at second and Joe Barnes at first, while Bert Chapman will handle Minor's curves.

The New Smyrna line-up had not been announced at noon today, but it will not doubt contain the club's newest players, Halstead, Check, Schley, and Howard, of Stetson University, plus Wright, Givens, Toder, and Taylor. Cusack is almost sure to hurl.

Orlando, reorganized during the week, will entertain the Cocoa Indians at Tinker Field. The Tigers have signed Eddie Moore and Sherty Maltby, former Sanford players, and have placed Jack Reed, another former Sanford player, on first base. The Tiger infield therefore will be composed of Sanford cast-offs for Bob Pittman will be at third, Moore at short, Galbold will catch, Tom Phillips will hurl, Copps, Brown, and McLean will do outfield work.

The Indians, exalted by the departure during the past week of Bill Strickland and Eddie Holton will use their hurling ace, Lefty Baker, against the Tigers. Each team has won a pair and lost a pair of games, but the Tigers are favored for during the week they have responded to the advice of Charley Purcell, their new manager, and Joe Tinker, the old Cub who has been coaching the infield.

Emil Yde will take his Leesburg Yellow Jackets to Daytona Beach for a warm battle with Al Baker's Islanders. Yde has decided not to hurl for at least 10 days, so the hurling duties will fall upon A. J. Johnson, right-hander who defeated Coos last week. Baker will give Early Joiner another chance to get his sore arm in shape.

Safety Factor In Life Insurance Is Stressed In Speech

NEW YORK (AP)—George S. Van Schaack, state superintendent of insurance, declared recently that "the fact that supervisory officials are clothed with the power to give needed protection in times of emergency" gives added assurance of the safety of life insurance.

His address was made before more than 1000 insurance men at a meeting sponsored by life insurance companies of the United States and Canada.

He said recent restrictions on the companies were made, not because of any stringency on the part of the companies themselves, but because it was "necessary to impose some limitations while the credit facilities of the country are being put on a sounder basis, following the bank holiday."

He added that the restrictions originally imposed already have been "somewhat liberalized."

The state superintendent, whose power to control insurance operations was broadened during the holiday, said 70 per cent of the total life insurance in the world was held in this country. "Legal reserve life insurance companies of the United States," he declared, "have total assets of $20,200,000,000 in value representative equities of more than 45,000,000 policyholders, more than one-half of our population. There is $103,000,000 of life insurance in force in the United States."

Change In Heart Of People Called Re-Assuring Sign

PHILADELPHIA.—The greatest single reason for optimism regarding the economic situation today is that of the change of heart among the people, with a return to the proper estimation of spiritual values, according to Roger W. Babson, economist, who spoke here before the Republican women of Pennsylvania.

Opening his remarks by the statement that the next 60 or 90 days may be the most important in the history of the nation, Mr. Babson then proceeded to amplify his affirmation by explaining his interpretation of the gravity of President Roosevelt's position today.

"Few people realize the tremendous importance of what is going on in Washington," he said. "Congress has abdicated and thrown the Constitution out of the window. But I will say, to Mr. Roosevelt's credit, that he saw it coming out of the window and went around and caught it. It now lies in his lap and with all the new legislation that we hear about, we must remember that nothing harmful has been done up to the present moment."

"They pass laws and leave matters up to the discretion of the President. Mr. Roosevelt is taking very good care of what he does with the powers conferred on him. And what he does in the next 60 or 90 days will decide the future of your children and your grandchildren," Mr. Babson continued.

Explaining his opinion of the effect of inflation, Mr. Babson said that in ressed buying power, with consequent heavy business, should be the immediate result, with eventual raising of prices when business has returned to capacity production, with increasing wages. "I am not a believer in inflation unless it can be accomplished on an international basis," with a monetary agreement that will make one uniform measure for a standard on prices. In that case it will be very valuable," Mr. Babson concluded.

Kidnaped Child Is Safely Home After $80,000 Is Delivered

Delany returned to the state house about 7 o'clock yesterday morning and reported to Bligh that he, in company with Mr. Beon (president of the bank) and two other men had gone to Harwichport to the house of Mr. McMath conveying a sum of money which he believed to be $30,000.

"This information was reported promptly to us at Harwichport whereupon Lieutenant Sherlock and I went to Mr. McMath's home, where we had an interview with Mr. Lee.

"As a result of this interview and other information, we returned and had a second conference with Mr. Lee at the McMath home at noon. In our interview we were told the little girl had been delivered to the father the preceding night (Wednesday) for the family said the actual hour was 3 A. M.) and the money paid in accordance with an agreement made with the kidnappers the little girl, the father, Cyril Lee and one Harold Sawyer were on the boat 'Bob' (Lee's craft).

"Upon receiving information of the party on the boat we at once left for Woods Hole, where Commander R. S. Hatch had by previous agreement conveyed two speed boats for us."

Then he told of locating the "Bob," which appeared at first to him to be deserted and taking off its passengers, including the father and daughter.

He said his indignation was that the ransom money was paid on shore and not at sea.

Bridge And Dancing Showing Declines, Conversation Is Up

NEW YORK.—Bridge and dancing attendance has fallen off radically and economic and the art of conversation have gained in even greater ratio on the list of activities as the American Woman's Association.

Faced with the problem of meeting women's needs and desires for the use of leisure time the organization has instituted a survey of the interest in its program for this year. As a result it has been discovered that the average attendance at dances all over the country is 107 in 1932, with a drop in the average attendance at bridge parties from 424 in 1930 to 200 in 1932-33. In the same period the average attendance at economic affairs rose from 218 to 556. The group activity which has attracted the largest attendance this year has been the "daytime discussion" at which opportunities are given for learning the latest art of conversation.

The club officials are confident that women will look to organizations for a definite proportion of diversion and development in their leisure hours and the figures evidently prove this to be so, for the association's program has had an attendance of 67 per cent between 1932-33 and 1930-31, and 97 per cent between this year and 1929-30.

All of this participation is in

MODIFICATION OF WORLD DEBTS IS CALLED BIG NEED

Guarantee To Exporters Against Loss Is Recommended

PITTSBURGH, Penn.—Modification of intergovernmental debts, with qualifications, and governmental guarantees to exporters in some part against loss on long-term foreign credits, in lieu of the British policy, were recommended in resolutions unanimously adopted at the final session of the twentieth annual National Foreign Trade Convention here recently.

The declaration asserted that "any modification of governmental debts of the United States Government should definitely provide for such treatment of our foreign trade by a debtor country as will assure success of American goods in world markets on fair-competitive terms."

The pronouncement of government aid to exports followed an assertion before the convention by Grosvenor Jones, representing the Department of Commerce, on Thursday that a plan such as the British program of guaranteeing 75 percent of losses would be received with favor at Washington.

James A. Fairall, president of the National Foreign Trade Council and formerly president of the U. S. Steel Corporation, repeated his optimistic note, given at the opening of the convention recently, by declaring the meeting very successful in bringing the nation's foreign trade leaders up to date on all questions now before them.

Confidence that the World Economic Conference in June would result in unemployment relief and revival of world trade was expressed by the delegates in a resolution, which held that the conference between nations should be dedicated to ratification of all measures which "will promote the normal interchange of goods between nations."

These measures, as set forth in the resolution, include "stabilization of exchange rates and the re-establishment of gold standards internationally based on the requirements of the respective countries in relation to their own national economy."

Repeal of tariffs, looking toward a general lowering of trade barriers throughout the world, were urged in other recommendations.

In addition to the use by the members of the pool, gymnasium, lounges, library, game room and other recreational facilities of the club.

A marked trend revealed by the survey is that women are developing great interest in economics and other serious subjects. The largest audiences this year have come out for a meeting on employment relief, "keeping young" in business, and the "World Affairs Institute."

There have been 24 "periscope luncheons" this year, at which the members and their guests have looked out at the world and the attendance has been heaviest at those which dealt with serious subjects.

A typical month this year included 78 educational meetings, 14 vocational, 28 administrative, and 10 social, indicating that the desire of the members is for discussion, forums, and lectures, rather than for play and social diversion.

Kate Smith Stars In Milane Film Tuesday

Kate Smith's first starring motion picture, "Hello, Everybody," a story written especially for her by Fannie Hurst, has been booked for the Milane Theater, Tuesday. The "Songbird of the South," one of radio's first ladies, was signed for the picture after success throughout the country, who applauded her work in "The Big Broadcast," in which she made an appearance with 14 other radio stars, set up a clamor for more of her. Attentive theater managers throughout the country, their ears cocked to patrons' demands, communicated the intelligence to Hollywood, and Hollywood was quick to act.

Miss Smith is the central character in a simple, touching story. As leader of a group of farmers whose property is threatened by a power company which insists on destroying their lands to make a name for herself on the radio, in an effort to raise funds with which to battle the case in court.

Sam Cowley and Arthur Johnson wrote four new songs especially for Miss Smith's work in the picture. They are "Moon Song," "Meklanian Heavens," "Out in the Great Open Spaces," and "Twenty Million People."

CONGRESS ACTION HAS BEEN BROAD IN BRIEF PERIOD

Many Matters Have Already Been Met; Others Are Awaited

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP)—With President Roosevelt and his leaders working for adjournment of Congress on or about June 1, here is the status of the session's major legislation.

Enacted laws: Emergency bank and gold control. Six hundred million economy. Beer legislation. Forest conservation. To be passed: Farm relief-farm mortgage and Senate agreement on one amendment, House votes today. $500,000,000 relief bill, final passage due early in week.

Valley development waiting decision by House on Senate amendment. Disposal expected this week.

Home mortgage $2,000,000,000 refinancing bill, passed by House, awaiting favorable Senate action. Securities regulation bill, passed by House, Senate prospects good. Railroad re-organization legislation hearings begin today.

District of Columbia appropriation bill, in conference between House and Senate. Independent offices appropriation bill, reported to House for early action.

Gas-tax renewal bill, reduction and transfer of three percent electric tax from consumer to producer, passed by House due early approval by Senate committee.

Other legislation pending: Thirty-hour work week bill. Committee rewriting after hearings. Prospects this session doubtful and tied up with pending decision by administration on plans for industry's self-regulation under government supervision.

Glass bank regulation bill, waiting approval by Senate banking committee, due early in the week. Prospects for final passage this session hazy.

St. Lawrence waterway treaty with Canada, awaiting Senate ratification, may not get through this session.

Roosevelt proposals awaited: Authority to scale down tariffs in concert with powers at world economic conference. Probably bond financed and directed at unemployment relief, still in formative stage. Indications are that inflation bond issue recommended may not exceed half a billion.

Music Week Program Presented At School

In celebration of National Music Week, a special program was given this morning at the Sanford Grammar School during the regular chapel period with representatives of the American Legion Auxiliary in attendance.

One of the features of the program was the presentation of a framed picture of General John J. Pershing in the school by Mrs. J. H. Colough, music chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary, in behalf of the Auxiliary. The picture was awarded to the school as a prize to the pupils for learning several patriotic songs. In accepting the picture Mrs. Pearl R. Habbitt stated that the Fifth Grade taught by Miss Rose Hurt put on a special program of the patriotic songs recently and for that reason the picture will be hung in her room for a short time before being placed in the auditorium.

The entire program was given as follows: Song, "America the Beautiful," and Scripture Reading, School. Talk on Mothers' Day, Mrs. Pearl S. Babbitt. State song, "Sawnee River," Fifth Grade. The four classes of the school held a track meet on Thursday, April 27, as part of this year's program of intramurals. Although two of the boys' relay events were postponed because of rain and growing darkness, the Sophomore Class had such a large number of points that they were considered as having won the meet. The "8-1/2" had amassed a total of 85 1-3 points, while the Seniors, the nearest competitor, had only 66 points. The Freshman and Junior classes were in third and fourth place, respectively, with little better than twenty points each.

The results of each event were as follows: Boys' events: 100 yd. dash: Cooke, Junior, first; Smith, Senior, second. Time 11.6. Mile run: Harnage, Senior, first; Pearson, Sophomore, second. Each class is giving its best in hopes of gaining this trophy. We will attempt to give you an report of the remaining contests.

"UP IN THE AIR"
The Seminoles High Music Department presented "Up In The Air," an opera in two acts, in the high school auditorium, Friday at 8:00 P. M. The opera, which took the form of a musical, was directed by Anna Clifford Shindler and was under the auspices of the Junior Class. The program was given in fine style and the audience left the building with a keen sense of appreciation for the work Miss Shindler had done. The work of Miss Shindler in giving the high school a fine music department can never be appreciated.

Solons Ask For Public Opinions On Arsenic Law

The most of the opposition here comes from parties directly interested in the Southern and coastal sections of the state, and in the state of Texas. Due to the fact that these two main sections have enjoyed a commodity on the early grapefruit, we are inclined to think is responsible for their opposition. We think also that a great many of our people have confused the use of arsenic in a practical way with the operation of the Plant Board during the Fruit Fly campaign which are not parallel. The Plant Board used ten pounds of arsenic to one hundred gallons of water and applied it eighteen to twenty-eight times during the year. The method of applying arsenic to grapefruit are told only requires one pound to one hundred gallons of water and one application. In our section we have practically no early grapefruit and are deprived of the early and most profitable market.

There has been a bill introduced to prohibit the use of arsenic in growing vegetables and in prohibition in our celery section. The greatest injury, as we see it, if there is any, on the changing of this law as to grapefruit, would be the publicity that would be given by competitive sections. This it seems would apply also to vegetables.

We are informed that approximately seventy-five percent of the growers and shippers in the central section of the state are in favor of lifting this ban. They do not seem agreed as to the beneficial effects on Tangerines and we are opposed to amending this law as to Tangerines.

We wish to thank you for the valuable service rendered thus far in sounding out public sentiment and to thank the people of Seminole County for the way in which they have responded.

Yours very truly,

"R. J. HOLLY."

The Junior Class in presenting "Who Wouldn't Be Crazy?" obtained the first "hundred-dollar crowd" since the home days—a sure sign of the return of prosperity.

Rev. Bran of the Episcopal Church gave a very interesting talk upon "Citizenship" Wednesday of last week as a special part of the "Boys' Week" program being given in this city. Although this talk was infant especially for the boys, a fine lesson was received by boys and girls alike. We shall look forward to another visit from Rev. Bran.

Senior Day, which was postponed from Friday of last week, will be held on Friday of this week. Most of the Seniors will be seen at Daytona "browsing" their backs. We sincerely hope that they will not get an overview.

The Caesar Club, under the direction of Mrs. Maxwell, is having a picnic at San Lando Springs tomorrow. Approximately 26 Caesar students are expected to attend. The group will leave for the springs at 5:30 in the afternoon and enjoy swimming and other pastimes, a picnic lunch will be served. They will return home at 8:30.

Doctor Spencer spent the week-end in Orlando visiting friends.

We are sorry to hear that Majorie DuBois is in the hospital after undergoing an operation for appendicitis last Thursday. We hope that she will be back with us soon.

Friends of Margaret Bonnet will be glad to know that she is doing well after an operation for appendicitis last week.

A LITTLE HUMOR
In Mr. Lehman's General Science class last week—Bobbie Becher—Mr. Lehman, the barometer's falling isn't it? Mr. Lehman—Yes, I believe it is.

Marjorie Boniske says she knows what is wrong with our auditorium—it has acoustics.

LINDBERGH'S PASS NIGHT IN PLANE; SANDSTORM HITS

Anxiety Is Caused By Absence Of Couple On Hop To Pacific

KANSAS CITY, May 2.—(AP)—Forced down in a swirling sandstorm, Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh spent Saturday night safely on the windward plains of the Texas panhandle, comfortably protected in their plane, while widespread fears were raised for their welfare.

After the storm had subsided, the famous couple took off from their isolated landing place yesterday morning and arrived in Kansas City at 12:45 P. M., Central Standard Time, dusty and tired, on route to Washington, D. C., from California.

Their arrival brought relief to friends and airmen, who had started a search and kept a night-long vigil at air fields through the Southwest.

"I'm sorry," Lindbergh said. "People shouldn't worry. It's liable to happen any time in the Western country."

After their plane was refueled here, the Lindberghs departed for the East at 2:08 P. M. and reached St. Louis at 4 P. M.

Of the fierce sandstorms of the Southwest, he said: "It's better to get down than go through them."

He said the storm struck them with blinding fury four hours after they had headed his red and black monoplane eastward from Albuquerque, N. Mex., at 3:31 P. M., Mountain Standard Time Saturday, with a fresh supply of gasoline in continuation of their flight from Glendale, Calif., to the National Capital.

The two were forced down "somewhere south of Amarillo," explaining he was flying northward of the regular line of the Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., on a direct hop toward Kansas City, Lindbergh said he hoped to cut southward into the wireless beacon, but the strength of the storm prevented.

Picking the most likely area available, Lindbergh dipped to a safe landing.

"I couldn't walk more than 100 yards from the ship without losing sight of it," he said.

But the Lindberghs were ready for emergencies.

"We passed a very comfortable night," said the flier's wife.

The plane was equipped for sleeping and they had about a supply of food sufficient to last 20 days.

With the storm subsiding, the couple took off about 8:30 A. M. Central Standard Time, for Kansas City, unaware that at least six planes were searching for them, that friends along the way had waited all night for word and that communication wires were broken with messages concerning their safety.

Mrs. J. M. Lord and Mrs. L. Y. Bryan are planning to leave Saturday for Hope Sound where they will spend a few weeks as the guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. E. C. Bowman.

Mrs. Winifred McDonald, of Daytona Beach, spent yesterday here as the guest of Miss Jeanette Laing, Oak Avenue. Mrs. McWhinnell and Miss Laing left today at noon for Havana, Cuba where they will attend the convention of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary.

Outlines Ideas About Partnership With Government, Agriculture, Industry

"In other words, we seek to correct a wrong and not to create another wrong in the opposite direction. That is why powers are being given to the administration to provide, if necessary, for an enlargement of credit, in order to existing wrongs.

"These powers will be used, when, as, and if it may be necessary to accomplish the purpose."

Going over his domestic program he pointed to an early public works bill designed to stimulate "directly and indirectly the employment of many others in well-considered projects."

The industrial supervision measure now taking shape, he said, would be "well considered and conservative."

"Government ought to have the right and will have the right," he asserted. "After surveying and planning for an industry to prevent the overburdening of the overwhelming majority of that industry, unfair practice and to enforce this agreement by the authority of the government."

Telling of his entry into the White House two months ago, the President said, "we were facing serious problems—the country was dying by inches." He added: "The situation in that crisis did not call for any complicated consideration of economic processes or fancy plans. We were faced by a condition and not a theory."

Leading Congress for its support of him in the emergency, he insisted there had been no surrender of power.

"The function of Congress," he said, "is to decide what has to be done and to select the appropriate agency to carry out certain of the purposes of the Congress. This was constitutional and in keeping with the past American tradition."

Granting that mistakes may be made by himself, Roosevelt said simply: "I have no expectation of making a hit every time I come to bat. What I seek is the highest possible batting average, not only for myself but for the team."

Expressing the thanks of Congress and of the administration for "public support," he assured that "every ounce of strength and every resource at our command we have devoted to the end of justifying your confidence."

He outlined his four objectives in the international negotiations as follows:

"First, a general reduction of armaments and through this the removal of the fear of invasion and armed attack, and, at the same time, a reduction in armament costs, in order to help in the balancing of government budgets and the reduction of taxation."

"Secondly, a cutting down of the trade barriers, in order to restore the flow of exchange of crops and goods between nations."

"Third, the setting up of stabilization of currencies, in order that trade can make contracts ahead."
