Property Owners Stymie Road Plan, Says Bliss

(EDITOR'S NOTE: With Around - the - Clock Columnist Larry Vershel enjoying a well-earned vacation over the holidays, the Herald Staff will pinch hit for him.)

City Manager W. E. Knowles issued an order this morning to have all city vehicles and equipment winterized with temperatures predicted to hit near freezing in the next few days.

Police directing traffic at the Sanford Junior High School early this morning were hindered by a heater that got outside the fence at the Agriculture Bldg. The school garage sent men to assist police in returning the animal to its enclosure.

The Sanford Public Library has issued a total of 960 adult and 447 children's library cards since the metal plate card system went into effect on Nov. 1, reported Sanford Librarian Sara M. King yesterday.

The new telephone installed in the county commissioner chambers has proved to be a handy gadget, so that commissioners can use it to summon department heads to confer on matters under their jurisdiction.

Legal machinery for the newly-proposed Oviedo Athletic Association should go into action some time early in January with Sanford Attorney Doug Stenstrom appointed legal counsel for the organization, John Courier, association president, revealed last week.

Public Works Director "Foots" Yeivington predicts that work on the new City Hall switchboard and information center will run into the middle of January before its completion.

Civil Service exams will be given this afternoon by Major Bristol, personnel officer, for the new switchboard operator at City Hall. Deadline for applications was yesterday. Annual pay for the clerk-typist position is $2570.

Contractor for the San Marco Construction Company resumed work on West First Street today after a holiday layoff of several days.

Construction on the new six-inch water main for the Delmar Cabinet Company's industrial site on Country Club Road was well under way yesterday with the completion of 800 feet of pipe, reported City Manager W. E. Knowles.

Signups for Biddy Basketball now number 33 and are expected to increase by 30 or 40 more players with Saturday's tryouts, reported Sanford Recreation Director Jim Jernigan this morning.

A lawnmower was stolen out of North Orlando Estates sometime over the holidays, reported the Seminole County Sheriff's Dept. today. Who needs a mower that bad in this weather?

The new college courses being offered by Rollins College to begin next semester as night courses at Seminole High certainly have two very attractive teachers. We predict that all the women will take math and all the men will take English!

W. H. Bentley of Sanford scored a nice hole in one out at the Mayfair Country Club on Dec. 23 on a long 165 yard drive at the fifth hole.

The county engineer was authorized Wednesday to ask the State Road Dept. for a feasibility report on placing of a traffic signal light at the intersection of SR 46 and SR 426 near Geneva.

The county road building program is "practically stalemated" by difficulty in obtaining rights of way, Engineer Carlton Bliss told the county commission Wednesday.

Reluctance on the part of some residents to release rights of way may reach far into the future, Bliss emphasized.

"We can't go on building on narrow rights of way and not being able to have the kind of roads we will need in the future," he said.

Bliss told the commissioners he had worked out a draft of a plan for obtaining rights of way and it was turned over to the county attorney for study.

Commissioner John Fitzpatrick asked Bliss if he couldn't start a public information program on the importance of each citizen cooperating when called on for rights of way.

"This requires an educational program," Fitzpatrick said. "We have to impress on the people that we can't spend all the road money on rights of way and still have any for construction."

Bliss said he would attempt to write some informational material and publicize the need for cooperation.

"The way it is now, our road program is practically stalemated by delays in getting rights of way," he said.

One result of the delays is the replacing of Pineway and West Lake Brantley Rd. projects with a section of SR 13 from the Econlockhatchee River bridge to SR 426 near Geneva.

Bliss said he thinks the county can get rights of way quickly for that section, whereas the other projects appear to be held up indefinitely.

Commissioner James Avery

voted against the substitution, saying he would like the board to study it further before voting.

County road superintendent J. C. Lavender also stressed that delays in getting necessary rights of way are holding up important county jobs.

Lavender asked the commission to approve amending the road program to substitute several projects which can be done in the next six months while delays are being worked out.

The commissioners approved the following: About 2,000 feet of repair work on a section of Tusawilla Rd. and replacing an old bridge damaged by last year's hurricane.

About three-fourths of a mile of improvement on Bear Lake Rd. in preparation for use in the vicinity of the new school.

Surface treatment of Longwood-Lake Mary Rd. to the Big Tree Rd. and Palm Springs Rd., a total of six miles.

Repair of a mile and a half of Bumby Rd. toward Mills Creek Rd. to improve a narrow stretch unsuitable for travel by school buses.

Total cost of these projects would be $34,000, Lavender said, and he can use his work crews efficiently by planning them now. The board told him to proceed.

The commission also authorized

Lavender to open up the short section of Magnolia Ave. from 29th St. to 27th St. where it dead ends at the city limits.

To Incorporate Or Not

County Commissioner Vernon Dunn offered some information to areas considering incorporation and urged the eligible property owners not on the voting rolls to register so they may have a voice in the decision on whether to incorporate or not.

Dunn listed the following points: "Whether to incorporate an area of Fern Park south of Casselberry and south and east of Altamonte Springs, is being discussed and preliminary plans are being made. Since a decision either for or against incorporating can be made by only a two-thirds majority of resident freeholders registered to vote, it is presently possible for resident home owners of 231 homes of an approximate total of 700 homes in the area to control. Those not registered to vote are urged to do so at once. The registration office is open each Tuesday.

"The basic purposes for incorporating a town or city are: local self-government provided by a charter in accordance with Chapters 105 thru 171 Florida statutes; local control for the orderly, planned development of the community and provide improvements and services not provided by the County, for which certain sources of revenue are available to make the town or city self-sustaining. "A municipality cannot properly function and provide the usual construction, improvement and services with only the cigarette tax, occupational licenses and one-half of the road and bridge collected within the town limits. City property tax and or utility tax will be required.

"Under Florida statutes, city property may not be assessed higher than county assessment. Nor can tax be levied in excess of one per cent of such valuation except as necessary to pay interest and principal on bonded indebtedness and special improvement assessments as specified.

"In counties of less than two hundred thousand population, a minimum of 160 resident freeholder registered voters may establish for themselves a municipal government having corporate powers and privileges as outlined in the above mentioned Chapters.

"The purposes for incorporating, the advantages and disadvantages, the sources of the estimated amount of revenue and an estimated municipal budget, together with the proposed Charter by which the municipality is to be governed should be presented and fully explained by the Incorporating Committee, to all those concerned for a well considered decision. Also the provisions of Chapter 171 Florida Statutes and Special Laws for the extension of or annexation to a municipality within the county by consent of the majority of registered voters in the area contiguous thereto."

Two Slain In Jealousy Fight

Teen Brothers Gunned Down By Georgia Youth

CONYERS, Ga. (UPI) — Two teenage brothers were shot to death and another youth was badly wounded in a bizarre jealousy killing by a 20-year-old youth late Wednesday night, officers said.

Rockdale County Sheriff W. T. Wallace said the brothers were blasted from short range and their mangled bodies dumped down an abandoned well adjacent to a religious camp site a few miles from here.

Wallace said the two bodies were thrown in the well by the 20-year-old youth, his 15-year-old girlfriend and his 15-year-old brother.

The injured boy crawled from the death scene while the bodies were being dragged to the well, staggered out of the woods to a farm house and summoned help.

Wallace said he jailed Charles Byrd and said the youth would be charged with the double murder. Byrd's younger brother, and the girl were also jailed, but no charges were placed against the two juveniles.

The slain brothers were identified as Thomas Henderson 15, and Donald Wayne Henderson, 16, both of near Covington.

The wounded youth, J. Michael Flanagan, 16, told officers he crawled to safety while Byrd, his brother and the girl dragged the bodies of his companions to the well.

Officers said Byrd fired three blasts, two of which killed the Henderson brothers. The third blast tore off Flanagan's ear and wounded him in the shoulder. He was treated at a local hospital and then transferred to one in Atlanta, about 28 miles from here. His condition was listed as fair.

New Cold Sends Mercury Down

By United Press International Canadian cold chilled the east half of the nation today, plummeting temperatures below zero in the Midwest and sending a snow storm marching toward Georgia.

Snow, ranging from flurries to several inches, was widespread from the northern plains to upstate New York and southward into Tennessee and Virginia.

The advancing cold, stretching into the Gulf of Mexico, dropped temperatures 20 degrees in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama and touched off thunderstorms in Florida, Georgia and the Carolinas Wednesday night.

Burwood, La., had 1.65 inches of rain in six hours. Memphis, Tenn., had almost an inch and Birmingham, Ala., .66 of an inch.

Union Barred

Victim Of Persecution, Says Wiretap Indictee

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — State Sen. Wendell P. Harris, indicted with two other Baton Rouge men on wiretap charges, said today he was the victim of politically-motivated persecution.

A federal grand jury in New Orleans Wednesday charged Harris and businessman Leon M. Patterson and private investigator Lawrence W. Hall with involvement in tapping telephone conversations of Baton Rouge religious leaders who signed a pro-integration statement.

Harris denied any knowledge of the tapping of any telephone line "of any minister, pastor, rabbi, priest or religious organization." He said he was being persecuted "because of my sincere and legitimate efforts to protect the sovereignty of the state of Louisiana."

Car Plows Into Crowd, Kills Girl

ST. PETERSBURG (UPI) — A car plunged into a crowd waiting at a St. Petersburg bus stop Wednesday, killing a girl and injuring four others.

Sanky Whitehurst, 16, of Pinellas Park, was killed. The injured were Mrs. Georgia Parkhurst, 72, and Mary A. White, 61, both of St. Petersburg, both hurt seriously, and Donna Skelton, 14, Pinellas Park, and Henry Pratt 68, St. Petersburg who were released after hospital treatment.

Mrs. Roosevelt Honored Again

PRINCETON, N. J. (UPI) — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has been named the world's most admired living woman for the 13th time in 14 years, according to a Gallup poll released here Wednesday.

Second was Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, who was seventh last year. Others among the top 10 in order of preference were Queen Elizabeth II, Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, Miss Helen Keller, Madame Chiang Kai-shek, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, Miss Pauline Frederick, and Mrs. Patricia Nixon.

Rezoning For Junk Yard Is Overruled

In a highly controversial public hearing held in the county commission chambers Wednesday, several citizens living in the vicinity of Cameron Ave. near the site of a proposed salvage yard, appeared to prevent petitions and protest against the "junk yard" and the commissioners granted their appeal by a four to one vote.

Permission to establish the salvage yard had already been granted to Buddy LeFila, but the history of the transaction is involved.

The zoning commission did not approve rezoning the area from A-1 (agricultural) to M-1 (industrial). However, the board of county commissioners overruled this decision and rezoned the area to industrial use.

Then the zoning board of adjustment granted permission to establish the salvage yard under the new rezoning regulations.

Irate property owners, exercising their right of appeal to the board of county commissioners as the higher authority, vigorously protested the proposed "junk yard" as they called it, claiming that the establishment of such a business would down grade their property values and constitute an eyesore.

E. B. Stowe, painter and artist, appeared to be the spokesman for a group of 12 property owners. Also appearing were C. J. Meriwether and Mrs. Frances McDougall.

Chairman of the board J. C. Hutchison stated that personally, he would not like to live near a salvage yard and would not vote to put his neighbors in that position.

Mrs. McDougall called the attention of the commission to an article in a recent copy of the Saturday Evening Post, which stated that "Americans are the greatest nest-foulers in the world," and that "greed is spoiling Florida's natural resources." It was also called "reckless exploitation."

LeFila, appearing in his own interest, said that he had advertised his intentions in the Sanford Herald three times as legally required and that the area was zoned for industrial business. He reminded the commissioners that the establishment of the salvage yard had already been approved and he had gotten the O.K. from the necessary boards.

"Why are we back up here?" LeFila asked.

"This area is the dead end of the county," he said, "I wouldn't want to get into the middle of a residential section. I know all the regulations concerning the establishment of a salvage yard, the 50 ft. offset, the building of a fence, and intend to comply with these regulations."

Commissioner John Fitzpatrick, who said he resented remarks made by Stowe concerning Fitzpatrick's business connections and how he should vote, made a motion that the county commissioners sustain the action of the board of adjustment and permit the salvage yard to be established.

A roll call vote showed Hutchison, Williams and Avery voting against the motion and Fitzpatrick and Dunn voting for it.

Avery then made a motion that the decision of the zoning board of adjustment be overruled, and the permit to build a salvage yard be denied on the basis of strong protest of the adjoining property owners. The vote was four to one with all but Fitzpatrick voting aye.

Autopsy Discussion Set

The county commission decided Wednesday to ask the county board of medical examiners to meet with the commissioners at the next regular meeting to discuss the protests by the examiners of a recent ruling by a state's attorney on a death in the county.

The matter came up when Commissioner Dunn said he felt that the commission should take a stand in support of the medical examiners' protest of the attorney's action in not calling for an autopsy in a death of unexplainable circumstances.

Commissioner Avery said that he had discussed the case with assistant state's attorney Tony Hoseman after the doctors wrote the commission a letter of protest and that Hoseman had told him that this was what happened: The death certificate was signed by the justice of the peace after study indicated no evidence of foul play in the death of a Negro woman. Two doctors had refused to sign the death certificate, but wouldn't sign a statement that they thought circumstances warranted an autopsy.

Furthermore, Avery said Hoseman told him that any action in such a matter is at the discretion of the state's attorney.

"What we really need is a county medical examiner on full salary," Avery said.

Chairman J.C. Hutchison suggested a meeting with the doctors on the examining board and Commissioner Fitzpatrick made a motion that they be asked to discuss the matter with the commission at the next meeting.

Permit Survey Ordered

The county commission has authorized a survey to eliminate delays in granting dredging permits.

County Engineer Carlton Bliss, Zoning Director Robert Brown and County Attorney Harold Johnson were named to a committee to work out a way to expedite handling requests by dredging companies for permits in the county.

Brown and a group of dredging firm operators appeared at Wednesday's meeting to discuss the problems of issuing permits, which sometimes takes as long as two weeks under the present system.

Surplus Funds Deposit

The board of county commissioners voted to deposit surplus funds of nearly $400,000 to the bidder paying the highest interest rates for six months.

South Seminole Bank in Fern Park bid three and a half percent per annum, which would give the county funds a profit of $7,000 for the six months period that the funds will lie idle.

Other bids were Florida State Bank, three percent; Citizens Bank of Oviedo, three percent; and Sanford Atlantic National Bank, two and a half percent.

Bids Opened On Roof

Bids were opened at the county commission meeting for the repairing and resurfacing of the courthouse roof.

Apparent low bidder was Giffen Industries of Orlando with a bid of $1,700, including a 10 year maintenance bond. Collins Roofing Inc. of Orlando bid $1,875 and Evans Roofing of Sanford, $1,920.

All bids were turned over to the courthouse committee for further study before the job is awarded.

Change Of Wording

The changing of one word in the current county zoning regulations as authorized by the board of county commissioners Wednesday, will now permit the zoning board to use its discretionary powers in requiring off-street parking for future businesses.

Changing the word "shall" to "may" makes the regulation read as follows: "Offstreet parking may be authorized as a conditional use, (special exception) in any zoning district in Seminole County, except, R-1AA. Such uses may be authorized by the board of adjustment of Seminole County after review of the application in public hearing thereon, provided however that such use may be subject to or limited by, conditions of the board of adjustment."

Moscow Rules American Reds, Says Hoover

WASHINGTON (UPI)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today the U.S. Communist party is an inseparable arm of the Moscow-directed international conspiracy against "God and freedom."

American Communists are completely subservient to their Soviet masters, Hoover said in a year-end FBI report. He said the U.S. remains the primary target for Soviet-bloc intelligence operatives.

The FBI director said the actions of the U.S. Red delegation to the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress this fall were particularly significant. He said:

"Not only did the American delegates pledge full support to (Soviet Premier) Nikita Khrushchev in the disagreement between the Russians and their Chinese and Albanian comrades, but three of them appeared on a Moscow television program to give the Soviet people a distorted impression of conditions in the United States."

The Communist party, U.S.A., was indicted earlier this month for failing to register with the Justice Department as an agent of Russia.

Hoover accredited the FBI with these 1961 accomplishments:

- More than 12,400 criminal convictions compared with 12,021 in 1960.
- The capture of nearly 10,700 fugitives compared with 9,730 last year.
- Fines, savings and property recoveries totaling $150 million—a figure far exceeding what it cost to operate the FBI.
- Location of nearly 19,000 stolen cars, an all-time high.

Protests Follow Banning Of Books

TARZANA, Calif. (UPI)—Reports that a Downey, Calif., elementary school banned Tarzan books from its library drew sharp criticism today from publishers and sent members of a local service club scurrying to the book stores.

The board of education at the Downey Unified School District ordered an investigation when they were told Tarzan and Zane Grey books were banned in one of the schools.

Grey's books "contained obscene words . . . and some thought there was no indication that Tarzan and his mate (Jane) were married," according to reports received by board member Robert Ryan. Ryan told the board the books were removed from library shelves when some parents objected to the literature.

Strong objections were voiced by Ralph Rothmund, general manager of Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc., the firm established by the late author of "Tarzan of the Apes" and other books.

Radio, TV Stars To Shine In March Of Dimes Drive

NEW YORK — Show business stars will shine coast-to-coast for the New March of Dimes on radio and television throughout the month of January. In a variety of shows and other broadcast materials, the campaign against birth defects, arthritis and polio will be spotlighted by Broadway and Hollywood notables.

Ed Wynn and Buster Keaton headline a TV special entitled "The Great Siskiers," an hour's entertainment hosted by Jimmy Durante and also starring Jack Lemmon, Rosemary Clooney, Paul Anka, Steve Lawrence and Eddy Arnold. Andy Williams, Ella Fitzgerald and Duke Ellington. Red Foley and Skeeter Davis are available for the country and western areas.

The FM shows offer Van Cliburn, with Milton Cross announcing, and Raymond Paige conducting the Radio City Music Hall band, Lorne Greene, Dan Blocker, Eartha Kitt, James Garner, and many more. Dr. Frank C. Baxter and Jackie Cooper contribute special scenes featuring the New March of Dimes message for 1962. Last year's March of Dimes hour special, "What About Linda?" had a record of more than 425 showings on 375 TV stations.

Barbara Stanwyck narrates a 15-minute documentary film titled "Billy and Beethoven," which features Beethoven themes as the musical background for a moving story of medical care for children.

Julie Harris gives voice to an appealing message, featuring National Poster Girl Debbie Sue Brown in a series of TV film spots made in New York's Central Park.

A group of 5-minute radio shows called "On Stage For the New March of Dimes" star the country's best-known pop singers. There are special transcriptions for country and western areas, and two miniature concert runs approximately 12 minutes each for FM stations—innovations which bring first-class entertainment to listeners, along with New Miss Debbie Scott was chosen Key Club Sweetheart for this year at the annual Key Club Christmas Ball held Saturday at the Civic Center.

French Greeted By Saratoga Men

WITH THE U.S. SIXTH FLEET IN THE MEDITERRANEAN — Some 1500 "white hats" of the USS Saratoga (CVA-60) grouped together on this giant attack carrier's flight deck to wish the people of France a Merry Christmas by spelling out the French Yuletide greeting "Joyeux Noel."

Saratoga, flagship of Rear Adm. F. J. Brush, Commander Carrier Division Six and now serving as Commander Task Force 60, left her home port of Mayport, on Nov. 28 for a six month deployment to the Mediterranean. She passed through the Straits of Gibraltar on Dec. 8, automatically becoming a member of the Sixth Fleet. Then, after 20 consecutive days at sea and ten days of operations with the Sixth Fleet, Saratoga anchored in Cannes, France, on the morning of Dec. 18 where she and her crew celebrated the Christmas holidays and will do the same New Year's.

Saratoga and Carrier Air Group Three, under the command of Captain V. G. Lambert, will be spending the third consecutive Christmas in Cannes.

Heavy attack Squadron Nine, home based at Sanford, Florida, is embarked aboard Saratoga as a unit of Air Group Three.

President Jerry Thompson presented Miss Scott with an armful of white chrysanthemums, and while the orchestra played a special number in her honor, the two danced gracefully around the floor of the holiday-decorated ballroom.

Chairman of the ball was John Boniface, who also served as master of ceremonies. The room was highlighted by a giant Christmas tree which was gaily decorated with myriad twinkling lights and other decorations, courtesy of the Florida Power and Light Co.

Bright red bells and green wreaths, glittering with silver and green ornaments were placed in the windows and hung from the columns, while the tables held centerpieces of Brazilian pepper, and tiny figures of doll old-fashioned characters.

Crossed candy canes decorated the stage where Howdy Lister's orchestra played for dancing, and refreshments of soft drinks and home-made cookies were served.

Faculty members present were Mrs. Lola Higginbotham, Mrs. Ann Vitaris, J. D. Stone and Ernest Cowley.

Seizures Fully Justified, Says Premier Nehru

NEW DELHI, India (UPI)—Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said defiantly today he never doubted that he had "full justification" for using armed force to capture the Portuguese enclaves on India's west coast.

"Nothing in the 14 years of independence has excited and thrilled the people in India as the liberation of Goa," Nehru told a news conference. "There is no doubt in my mind of the full justification for use of force against Portugal."

Referring to the criticism and reaction to India's action, Nehru said most of the Afro-Asian countries "rejoiced" while many Western nations were critical.

"I don't like this division of opinion between white and black," he said.

Nehru maintained that many of those who criticized India knew nothing about peace or the concepts of non-violence. "My being preached at about non-violence by people who know nothing about it is amazing."

The prime minister, speaking often with force and anger and occasionally pounding the table, said every tongue walla (horsecart driver) and clerk in India welcomed the "liberation" of Goa. He said "it appeared to us a monstrous imposition . . . anyone sitting on our territory. It doesn't go down our throat."

Nehru said that when the Goa problem became unbearable, "we took action."

He said India's move was even hailed by Indian and Goan Christians. He added that he received telegrams from bishops in Goa welcoming the Indian troops. Nehru said Indian Archbishop Gracious of Bombay — a Goan himself — fully supported the Indian action.

Chuck Connors Sued For Divorce

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Chuck Connors, known as the "Rifleman" on television, was sued for divorce Wednesday by his wife. She charged extreme cruelty and sought custody of their four children.

The couple have been married 13 years and have four sons ranging in age from 5 to 11.

The couple reached a property settlement before divorce action was filed. Under the agreement, Mrs. Connors would receive $2,350 monthly alimony and child support payments. Community property would be divided equally.

Oviedo Council Sets Meeting

The Oviedo City Council will hold its first meeting of the new year at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the City Hall.

According to Mrs. Dot Courier, clerk, the meeting regularly scheduled for Monday was postponed for one day because of the New Year holiday.

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Miss Lucy Williams has reduced her daily attendance at Mass to once a week. The reason: she has reached her 100th birthday.

Miss Williams, a native of Pilot Knob, Mo., came here at age 16, working for private families and later as housekeeper for the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament. She worked until she was 88 years old.

RACHEL JOHNSON (Mrs. Lloyd Tarbutton) and her husband came from Norfolk, Virginia Saturday to attend the 10th year class reunion of the Seminole High graduating class of 1951, which was held at Jim Spencer's Restaurant. Crisis Could Fuse War, Laotian Prince Warns VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Neutralist leader Prince Souvanna Phouma warned today the tense Laotian crisis could touch off an international war.

"If war should start, it will not be just a civil war," Souvanna told newsmen here.

Souvanna, who is to become premier of a yet-to-be-formed coalition government, said: "I am still pursuing my efforts to avoid a rupture."

The ex-premier of Laos and his half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the Communist-backed Pathet Lao guerrillas, flew here Wednesday from the rebel-held Plain of Jars for a conference which the West had hoped would ease the Laotian crisis.

But the rebel leaders were rebuffed by pro-Western Premier Prince Boun Oum who refused to hold a formal meeting with them. The proposed "three princes" conference had taken two months to arrange.

Boun Oum Wednesday night denounced previous agreements on formation of a coalition government representing all three factions.

Communist diplomats said the rebel princes would give up their efforts to negotiate with Boun Oum and return to their headquarters unless the royal Laotian government backed down on its tough stand.

U.S. diplomats, headed by Ambassador Winthrop G. Brown, also called on government leaders for a peaceful settlement.

Boun Oum abruptly torpedoed the talks Wednesday even before they had a chance to get started. "I have nothing more to tell them," he said after a 30-minute conference had virtually completed its work and was waiting for the princes to meet to form a government so that a declaration of Laotian neutrality could be signed by representatives of the 14 nations meeting here.

"Zurich is finished," Boun Oum said in reference to the agreement reached by the three princes in Switzerland last June to form a coalition government.

In Geneva, news of the breakdown in the three princes' conference cast gloom over the 14-nation Laotian peace conference.

"It looks like we've got to begin all over again," said one Western delegate after learning of Boun Oum's refusal to negotiate with the rebel princes.

The conference had virtually completed its work and was waiting for the princes to meet to form a government so that a declaration of Laotian neutrality could be signed by representatives of the 14 nations meeting here.

Skipper Fights For $4 Million Drifting Prize

BOSTON (UPI)—The skipper of a Canadian tugboat fought the sea today for a $4 million prize—the drifting dredge Cartagena abandoned by her crew in a fierce Atlantic gale.

Capt. James Shear of the 80-ton tug Foundation Vigilant vowed to stand by the powerless dredge, wallowing in huge swells, until "it sinks or I put across a line." Shear had his job cut out—something like trying to lasso a whale. The Cartagena is 170 feet long and 48 feet wide, and has an 80-ton crane on its aft deck. The crane swings dangerously in the wind, threatening to crash down and split the ship.

The Coast Guard reported early today that winds at the scene, 250 miles east of Nantucket Island, took a curious shift and were blowing from alternate directions.

The effect of this, the Coast Guard explained, was to calm the seas a bit, giving Shear a better chance to secure the giant dredge.

In Halifax, Nova Scotia, a spokesman for Foundation Maritime, Ltd., owner of the tug, said crewmen of the tug were put aboard the dredge late Wednesday, less than 24 hours after 10 crewmen abandoned the craft.

The crew of the Cartagena arrived here aboard the Coast Guard cutter Acushnet. They told a harrowing story of endurance and heroism while 40-foot waves and hurricane force gusts threatened to send the vessel to the bottom.

The dredge was being towed from Quebec City to Baltimore by the Foundation Vigilant when the tow line snapped Christmas morning, setting the dredge adrift.

Thought-Provoking

A woman who saw an article on the continuing controversy over the call-up of U.S. reservists was moved to write her newspaper.

She said her husband, in the Air Force reserve, was summoned to active duty in the wide call-up. Unlike many of his fellows, he already had an active stint for four years under his belt.

Yet she wrote:

"I am proud that he was recalled. It is my personal belief that the calling of the reserves has had a great impact on our enemies. I am proud that our family had a small part in that impact. It is little enough sacrifice for whatever peace it may help to bring."

Her comment would make good reading for reservists' camp bulletin boards from coast to coast.

Time For Self Help

Urban areas, caught in a spiral of growth that magnifies their problems almost daily, are being urged by some specialists in government to find new approaches to difficulties.

For nearly three decades they have been bringing their troubles to Washington, arguing they could not get needed action from rural-dominated state legislatures.

Nothing suggests this basic orientation is likely to be sharply altered in the near future. As a matter of fact, the calls for help are more frequent than ever. And the proposed federal department of urban affairs would tend to formalize and solidify this approach.

Nevertheless, signs of change are developing. For years, suburban sectors more often than not combined with rural zones to block city objectives in state legislatures.

Experts say this old alignment is breaking down, that in many cases city and suburbs are making common cause and winning at the state capital.

The underlying reason, they say, is that the increasing economic, political and social diversity of the suburbs has made them more and more like the "central cities" and is giving them the same rash of problems.

The suggestion of the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations is that more and more urban areas should develop broadly co-operative arrangements which could yield results both locally and in more effective pressures at the state level.

The monumental complexity of United States urban areas is an old story that needs some new chapters. The average metropolitan area has 90 separate units of government. Many centers have hundreds. In the New York and Chicago regions the total ranges around 1,000.

Co-ordinated efforts under such circumstances do not come easily, but the specialists insist they must. They warn particularly against communities trumpeting the doctrine of "home rule" to resist reasonable area-wide programs of development.

The central cities alone obviously aren't equal to the tasks ahead. Many are losing population — and tax revenues. Some are losing business. Few are growing physically. In 1950-60 decade, just 22 of 180 U.S. cities annexed as much as 30 miles.

The nation's urban regions are rich in people, skills and resources. They have the capacity to mount unified attacks upon their problems.

Their potential leverage in state capitals grows as industry spreads and blurs the lines between urban and rural sectors.

The cities have made too many trips over the well-worn path to Washington. In their wide metropolitan context, they need to rediscover self-help — and the means to finance it.

Americans Smoking More Than Ever

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans smoked more this year than ever before, the Agriculture Department said today.

However, the department estimated that less snuff was dipped in 1961 than in 1960, and about the same amount of tobacco was chewed this year as last.

The department estimated U.S. cigarette output and consumption this year at a record 328 billion cigarettes, 4 per cent more than last year.

Smokers paid more than $9.9 billion for their cigarettes in 1961, about $3.1 billion of which went into federal, state and local excise taxes.

It was the fifth consecutive increase in cigarette consumption, and the department said it expected another increase next year.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Marsha injects dramatic salesmanship into her English courses. I worked with the deaf for 5 years, so I can commend her smart innovation. All of us do a lot of lipreading even without formal training, but we'd "hear" better in our old age if we had a short course in lipreading.

CASE K-603: Marsha M., aged 24, is an English teacher.

"Dr. Crane," the mother of one of Marsha's pupils began, "I was surprised the other day.

"For when I visited my son in Marsha's class, I found them studying lipreading!

"Isn't that unusual, Dr. Crane? And why would an English teacher do such a thing?"

Marsha is a superbly modern teacher. For she is not only perking up the interest of her pupils by this stress on lipreading.

But she is also helping insure them against unhappiness in their old age. For millions of people past 50 grow partially deaf.

They could get along much better if they had at such a class as Marsha's where the rudiments of lipreading are taught.

Even if you never became deaf, it is a big help in correct enunciation to get a little tutoring in lipreading.

For example, many people are difficult to understand because they fail to form the consonants properly.

In all languages we have a few vowels (voiced by vocal cords) vs. many breath sounds that are formed by lips and tongue.

The vowels are best understood by watching your own mouth in the mirror as you utter the long "o" sound, as in "go."

Your lips purse themselves in a big circle.

Now say "oo," as in "Moo," and you will notice that you push your lips forward slightly and narrow the opening.

The long "e," as in "Eye" is a high pitched sound of the vocal cords with the lips barely parted.

Try long "a," as in "ate" and you find the lips are parted more widely and the pitch is lower.

Long "i" starts with the mouth open, as when the doctor asks you to say "ah," but then there is a quick glide into long "e" followed by a quick glide into "oo," as "soo."

As regards the consonants, some are breath sounds, like "p." We teach it to deaf children by letting them blow out a candle with a puff of air as they explosively utter "p."

The three consonants "m," "p" and "b" look alike, so they are difficult even for a good lipreader.

But the "b" starts with a sound in the throat, added to the breath sound made by opening the lips with a push.

In contrast, the "m" starts with a sound that vibrates in the nose and then involves a fast opening of the lips.

Contrast the "breath" with the "voiced" consonants below. They are in proper pairs.

If you English teachers will thus imitate Marsha's strategy and intrigue the interest of your pupils with the mechanics of speech, you will often win their enthusiasm faster and help make English a far more dramatic course of study.

And send for the booklet "How to Tutor A Child at Home", enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20c. For parents need to help children become good students.

Beware! Milady's hemline is descending!

Are you aware that a fashion-economic theory exists? It was plotted some years ago by the H. W. Gossard Co., makers of foundation garments. With figures aplenty to substantiate the theory, the company showed that when business falters and the national income descends, skirts go down and waistlines tighten. When business is good and national income is up, skirts rise, waistlines loosen.

Taking their fashion-economic theory back to 1900, the company reports that business was good and toe tips peeked out from under skirts. The 1907 business panic was accompanied by the "fish-tail" skirt and long trains.

By 1915 business was good, legs began to appear. Down went skirts to the ankle in the post-World War I recession of 1921 and up again in 1926 when boom days appeared.

Remember mama's long skirt and belt that banded her waistline in 1933, the deepest year of the depression? Skirts were raised as much as 15 inches in 1940, as prosperity returned. Harbinger of the 1949 recession was the "new look," which made its debut in 1947 with cinched waists and longer skirts. From 1958 to the present, hemlines crept up and waists were looser and sometimes nondescript.

And now there is the forecast of "slightly lower" hemlines for springtime '62.

How reliable is the Gossard index of business conditions? On the basis of hindsight—and who doesn't have 20-20 vision looking backwards?—excellent. Will newer predictions hold true? The Gossard people haven't made any forecast for 1962, but more conventional economists, students of the economy, have.

William F. Butler, vice president of New York's Chase Manhattan Bank, forecast: "1962 promises to be a year of good business and general prosperity."

He believes that business investment in new plants and equipment could be "substantially greater" than indicated by surveys of present plans for such investment. He believes government spending will spur the economy. Add to these a 6 per cent rise in consumer spending, and Butler sees a gross national product for next year of around $365 billion.

On the gloomier side Butler says: "Unemployment will be a bit higher than most people would like to see." And, in true economist fashion, he hedges that this forecast holds good only providing the international situation doesn't worsen.

More optimistic (perhaps this will yank hemlines up by fall) is the University of Michigan's professor of business conditions, Paul W. McCracken.

He predicts a 9 per cent increase next year in our national output, aided by increased spending by business and government.

McCracken also spots current evidence that "consumers may let go of their income dollars at more traditional rates." He feels that your hesitancy in parting with your dollars has been one of the forces that has "stalemate" the economic situation.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Just before Christmas, Uncle Sugar played Santa Claus and dished out over $300 million to several international bad boys in an apparent effort to make them be good.

To President Tito's Yugoslavia 300,000 tons of wheat and 50,000 tons of edible oils valued at over $50 million.

To Chairman Wladyslaw Gomulka's Poland, $44 million worth of agricultural commodities, including transportation.

These latest deals with Yugoslavia and Poland give them on half of what they asked for. So to that extent, Uncle Santa Claus held back a little and didn't empty the bag.

But to President Kwame Nkrumah's Ghana will go U.S. loans totaling $133 million for half the cost of the Volta River water power and aluminum plant project.

Tito and Nkrumah claim to be neutralists, or "unaligned," as they prefer to be called. Gomulka will never be anything but an all-out captive Communist in a Russian satellite state.

But the thought seems to be that all three of these countries can be wooed if not wooed away from their leaders by United States surpluses in their bad years.

Last April the United States let Yugoslavia have $64 million worth of surplus crops. In July 1960, the U.S. let Poland have $130 million worth. Both countries pay for these "purchases" in local currency, but 75 per cent is loaned back for investment.

The Ghana loans will be repayable in 30 years.

Total United States aid to the three countries from July 1, 1943 through June 30, 1961 has been $2.8 billion to Yugoslavia, $514 million to Poland and $6.6 billion to Ghana.

The question raised is whether this is good business and good diplomacy to boot. To the extent that food loans keep people from going hungry, they are humanitarian and in keeping with the Food for Peace Program, intended to build good will.

To the extent that the food loans help the United States get rid of otherwise unmarketable crop surpluses, storage costs in this country are reduced. But there is unquestionably an element of subsidy here for which the U.S. taxpayer foots the bill.

As for winning political allies, these three latest deals are of questionable value. Neither Yugoslavia nor Poland nor Ghana has given any support to the United States at the UN or in any other international dealings. Tito and Nkrumah were of no help at the conference of unaligned countries in Belgrade earlier this year.

And yet, officials of the State Department, Agency for International Development, World Bank, Export-Import bank and International Development Assn. argue that sound loans and grants made to these neutral countries can do good.

Though dissents will be loud at mention of the games, Nasser of United Arab Republic and Nehru of India are pointed to as prime examples, in spite of all the headaches they have caused. The U.S. has given over $3 billion in aid to India and $486 million to the UAR since the end of World War II.

The argument seems to be that if no help had been given them, they would have fallen completely into the hands of the Communists and things would be a lot worse than they are.

Nasser started out that way after the late John Foster Dulles turned down Egypt's request for financing the Aswan dam. Russia picked up the tab for that with a $100 million credit. Nasser subsequently took $768 million in Red bloc arms aid.

But in the three years since then Nasser has learned how difficult it is to do business with the Communists. Food shortages, a disastrous cotton crop this year and withdrawal of Syria from the UAR have made Nasser much more interested in getting help from the United States and western Europe.

What India's take-over of Goa and other Portuguese colonies in India will do to Nehru's unpopularity in the West is increase it. But westerners working in India now consider it the hope of the future for South and Southeast Asia. Let India go down the drain and the whole continent would be lost.

Diplomats Fiddle While Southeast Asia Burns, Says U. S. Military

By PHIL NEWSON

UPI Foreign News Analyst

In Saigon, as in Laos, there are hard-nosed U.S. military men who believe that diplomats are fiddling while Southeast Asia burns.

These men are not the policy makers and official orders have stilled most of their voices. But they are the ones who believe that if decisive military action is not taken soon, then all the best-intentioned efforts toward government reform can only go down in a violent sea of Communist conquest.

Arrayed against them and in the ascendancy of U.S. thinking are those who believe in a two-pronged policy.

On the one side it presses reforms upon South Viet Nam's dictatorial president Ngo Dinh Diem and on the other a program perilously close to but still short of war involving U.S. combat units.

Whichever policy ultimately is pursued, it seems certain a showdown swiftly is approaching in South Viet Nam.

It is a faceless war that is being fought in the rice paddies and jungles, fought by men who work as farmers by day and become Communist guerrillas by night, by university students trained by the Communists in the art of subversion.

At its core are the dedicated and trained Communist fighters slipped in growing numbers into South Viet Nam by sea and by the new corridor opened to the Reds through Laos.

Working on the Communist side is mounting inflation of Vietnamese currency, a threatened rice shortage and growing dissatisfaction with the Diem regime which the United States is pledged to support.

Diem's early rule led one American writer to say:

"In the midst of the dark storms that threaten Asia, President Diem stands like a beacon of light, showing the way to free people."

But Diem became impatient of advice. His people, he said, were not ready for democracy, increasing authority went to members of his family.

And, meanwhile, the Communists shifted tactics.

Unable to win in a frontal assault, they switched to sabotage and terrorism. New cement factories and power projects were blown up. Villagers who resisted communism were tortured and slain. Guerrilla bands operated almost on the outskirts of Saigon.

Tough U.S. soldiers now are training loyal Vietnamese in their own guerrilla tactics. U.S. helicopters help spot Communist hiding places. U.S. forces are told to fire back if fired upon. Diem at last has agreed both to advice and to forms.

Military disasters say the latter has come too late. The policy makers must decide whether, already deeply committed over Berlin, the United States can risk another Korea-type war in Asia.

Leesburg Clobbers Oviedo 59-31 In Elks Bowl

Flu Hit Lions Never Threat In Elimination

By PETE LEVEQUE
Herald Sports Editor

With several Oviedo players out of play due to a mild flu epidemic, Paul Miller's Lions had their ears beaten back 59-31 by the Leesburg Yellow Jackets Wednesday night in Leesburg in second round elimination of the annual Elks Bowl Basketball Tournament.

Leesburg sensed the advantage early in the first period and jumped ahead to a seven point lead by the end of the quarter. Yellow Jacket Billy Stephenson, five-foot-eleven, led the scoring charge for Leesburg with Bill Arnold placing a few free throws to stop the Lions at the end of the quarter by a score of 12-3.

Oviedo made a strong stab to cut down the Jacket lead in the second period with five-foot-eight Jimmy DeShazo dunking in three field goals, but at no point in the game were the Lions able to pull ahead of Leesburg.

Roy Wainwright, five-foot-eight Oviedo guard, held the scoring honors for the Lions with a total of 12 points, three field goals and six free throws. DeShazo came in second in points for Oviedo with four field goals for eight points. At the end of the first two periods the tide of the game was strongly in Leesburg's favor with a 24-15 lead. In the last two quarters the Yellow Jackets added 19 points to their margin to come out at the end with a 59-31 score.

Scoring honors for the Leesburg team were taken by six-foot-one Mike Huey with eight field goals for a 16 point total. Second in honors was Bill Stephenson with six field goals and one free throw for 13 points.

Odds In Five Bowl Games Are Announced

United Press International
MIAMI—The final edition of Fray's football folks and the bowl game "winners"—or how to use up all that money left over from Christmas without breaking your arches looking for bargains.

In a nutshell:
Rose Bowl — Minnesota minus eight over UCLA.
Sugar Bowl — Arkansas plus 12½ over Alabama.
Cotton Bowl — Texas plus three over Mississippi.
Orange Bowl — LSU minus 13 over Colorado.
Gator Bowl — Georgia Tech minus three over Penn State.

Rose Bowl
On the record there doesn't seem to be too much to choose. Minnesota had a 7-2 mark and UCLA a 7-3 record. The Uclans never did live up fully to their pre-season publicity and might be expected to break loose on home soil. But the Big Ten was even tougher than it looked this season and the gophers are set to pour it on. Which is why UCLA, even with eight points being offered by the man in the back room, doesn't look too attractive.

Sugar Bowl
Alabama is the mythical national champion. But Arkansas played a rugged schedule.

The Razorbacks are lean, rangy and tough. If this was rated even you'd have to go with Alabama. But if you give away the 12½ points you're looking for lumps on your head.

Cotton Bowl
Those who caught both Mississippi and Texas in action this season rate Ole Miss just a shade the better of the two.

Orange Bowl
LSU was getting closer and closer to the top as the season wore on. Its 9-1 record is no better than Colorado's seasonal mark and Colorado Coach Sonny Grandelius says without equivocation "We came to win."

Gator Bowl
This game is Saturday and the principals are evenly matched with 7-3 records. But Tech almost makes a career out of bowl games and has a tremendous 11-3 record in post-season play.

It took a win over Northwestern to get U. of Miami over .500 in the Orange Bowl this year. The Hurricanes are 4-3 at home, 2-0 on the road.

Elimination Set For Sunday At Seminole Track

Elimination races will be held at the Seminole Raceway in Casselberry on Sunday, Dec. 31st at two p. m. to determine which 12 registered quarter horses will qualify for the third annual Futurity Race in Miami's Tropical Park on Jan. 11.

Dixie Mist, owned by Spencer Harden of Sanford, is a filly sired by Misty Joe, the horse who had sired the Futurity winner of the past two years. Misty Joe is also owned by Harden.

The purse for the annual Futurity race will be upwards of $3000 according to Raymon F. Tucker of Dunnell, Chairman of the Florida Quarter Horse Association Racing Committee.

A total of 21 entries are registered for the four 300-yard races to compete for the 12 Futurity berths. Some of the top southeastern quarterhorses are expected to be in the running.

Misty Priest, owned by C. L. Brown of Orlando, is also expected to be in the competition. This horse was sired by the famous race horse Little Dick Priest and has as its trainer, Luke McKathen.

Quarter horse racing involves race horses trained to start and run fast in short distance races. The State of Florida has been a leader in quarter horse racing and the breeding of quarter horses for a number of years.

Seminole Cagers Face Titusville Saturday

The Seminole High Basketball players have been practicing this week in preparation for their return bout with the Titusville Terriers on Saturday, Dec. 30. In the opening game of the season the Seminoles edged the Terriers by a score of 65-62.

It is expected that Sanford will be in top shape for the Terriers with only Dutch Riser a possible injury victim. Riser injured a wrist in back yard gridiron play during the holidays.

The Seminoles will be aiming for their fourth straight win. The game will be played on a double bill with Stetson University. The Seminole Junior Varsity will not play on Saturday night with the Varsity game starting at the usual time for the Junior Varsity.

Joe Brown Fights Ortiz Feb. 24

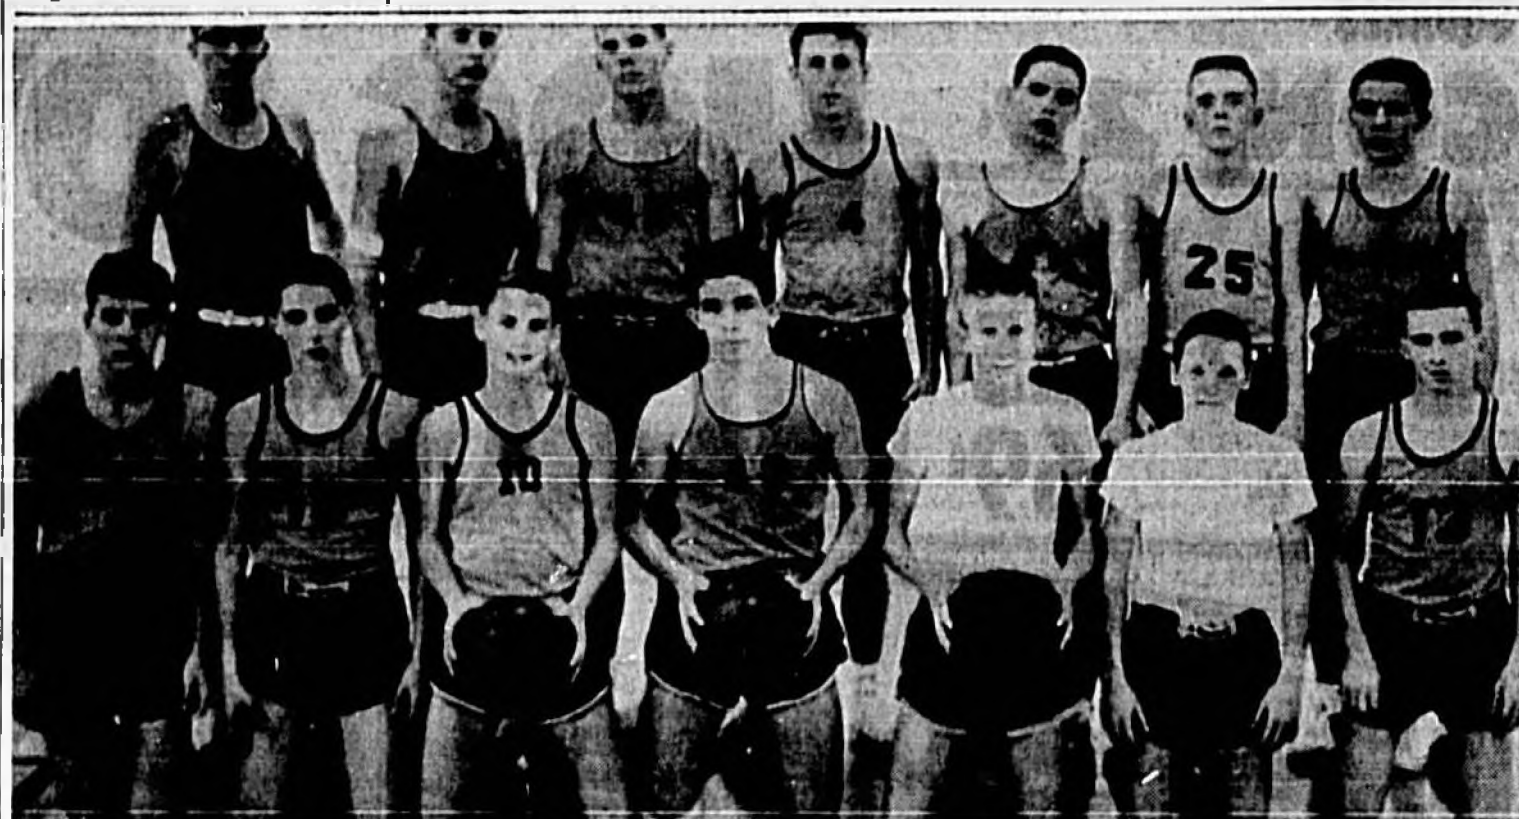

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lightweight champion Joe Brown, by far the most active of all the titleholders, celebrated his being named "Fighter of the Year" today by promptly agreeing to risk his crown for the 12th time against Carlos Ortiz at Las Vegas, Nev., Feb. 24.

Brown's title defense against Ortiz will extend his own record which he first set with his 10th defense. Benny Leonard held the previous mark of nine title defenses.

Brown, a 35-year-old resident of Houston, Tex., currently is visiting relatives in Baton Rouge, La., and will start training for his bout with Ortiz as soon as the match is signed, manager Lou Viscusi explained.

Rides 3 Winners

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (UPI) — Gene Monacelli scored a riding triple at Tropical Park Wednesday, winning with Roman Legion ($3.70) in the second, Hill ($26.30) in the sixth and Nimble Top ($11.00) in the feature eighth.

Butch Maki; and Tommy Brooks. Second row: Seawell; Kenny Tyre; Barry Barks; Arthur Day; Billy Higgins; David Lanier; and Barry Johnson.

'Lovely Boy' To Seek Second Win Tonight

A greyhound who made a brilliant showing at Glacier Park last summer will be shooting for his second Grade A win in the featured ninth race at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club tonight. He is Grady Lumpkins' Lovely Boy, who will celebrate his third birthday next April.

The 66-pound red brindle set a track record at Glacier Park when he won the Derby over the 3/8ths-mile distance. He also established a new track record for the 5/16ths-mile course. In 29 starts at Glacier Park Lovely Boy registered 15 firsts, eight seconds and one third. In his debut here opening night he won the Grade A ninth race.

Another highly regarded speedster in tonight's main event is Carl Tracy's Driving Dude, who finished second to his brother and kennelmate, nationally famous Barnacle Bob, in the Multnomah Sapling Derby last August.

Also running in tonight's feature will be Tuffy O'Leary, George McLain, Bronica, Refuel, Tony F., and O. B.'s Deacon.

This is Ladies' Night at the track and all women will be admitted free.

Friday's daylight card has been named the Tangerine Bowl Matinee honoring the Elks charity football game to be played in the Tangerine Bowl Friday night. There will be no racing Friday night so that fans and track employees may attend the game.

Biddy Basketball Tryouts Saturday

Biddy Basketball tryouts will be held again on Saturday morning, Dec. 30, in the Sanford Junior High School gymnasium beginning at 9:30 a. m., said City Recreation Director Jim Jernigan Wednesday.

The pre-season clinic will last until 1 p. m. on Saturday and must be attended by all prospective cagers in order to be eligible for selection on one of the eight teams.

The season will begin for the Biddy Basketball players on Jan. 6 as the eight teams in the competition begin play. Teams are: Robinson Sporting Goods; Higginbotham Oil Company; Sanford Electric; Strickland - Morrison; WTRR Radio Station; First Federal; Sanford Atlantic National Bank; and Day and Nite Grill.

Players for the teams must have been at least ten years old by Nov. 15 and must not have reached their 13th birthday by the same date.

Powell's Holds To League Lead

A closer race for top spot in a league is hardly apt to beat the heat felt by leaders in the Thursday Night Mixed League each week. Powell's Office Supply managed to hold first place with 38 wins, while Team Seven creeps up with 37 wins.

Pryor's State Farm Insurance is third with 36½ wins, followed by Wilson-Maier Furniture who have 35 wins. Who can tell who will hold first next week with only two points separating these top four?

Still a threat is Appleby's Restaurant with 34, Stone's Allstate Insurance 33½, and Stone's Machine Shop 32½. Team Two, Perry's Mrg., and Steinmeyer Roofing.

Some nice scores showed in the record books with Ed Michalek's 213-588 leading. Dave Dearolph had a fat 220-579. Margie Woods totaled a 215-562, and Eleanor Anderson rolled a 220 while subbing for Wilson-Maier.

Bill Foster, Ken Stone, Evelyn Fitzpatrick and Sue Jackson converted the 3-10 to make their spare; Alberta Warner and Vergie Anderson both picked up two, the 3-10 and 5-7. Tenna Armau got the 3-10 and 4-5-7. Hal Gisttrap made the 2-7-8, Dot Waltz 5-6-10. Helen Kaelin and Verna Bolton felled the 5-10. Lil Ogden made both the 2-7 and 3-7-9, while Pat Fitzpatrick picked up the 1-2-10 washout.

Bill Miller, Larry Wilson and John Bahen, U. of Miami's three top pass receivers each have caught two TD passes this year.

Packers' Taylor Shakes Injury For Giant Game

GREEN BAY (UPI)—A nearly healthy Jim Taylor and a Paul Hornung whose loss of weight has been compensated for by added speed greeted Green Bay Packers coach Vince Lombardi as the countdown neared for Sunday's National Football League championship game here.

Taylor, whose recuperation from a badly bruised hip has been slowed by cold weather, was running at nearly full speed in practice Wednesday. He and defensive halfback Johnny Symank are the only Packers still on the injured list for Sunday's game against the Eastern Division champion New York Giants.

Symank's injury also has been slow in responding, but he was expected to be ready for the title game.

Hornung, whose weight dropped nearly 20 pounds after his induction into the Army last November, seemed faster and shillier than ever in both his running and pass receiving Wednesday.

This is the first week in which the National Football League's top scorer has worked out with the team in seven weeks.

Near zero temperatures chilled the Packers' most spirited drill in recent weeks Wednesday. Temperatures were scheduled to be even colder when they headed for the field today. The thermometer registered a low 2 above at the start of Wednesday's practice and after 90 minutes had risen just one degree.

Using scarfs, sweaters, towels, gloves, practice jerseys and jackets to protect against the cold, the team drilled first on calisthenics. They then ran dummy plays against a New York defense, and with the versatile Lew Carpenter filling the quarterback role of Y. A. Tittle and Charley Conerly, gave the defense a workout against Giant plays.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Giants will bring their sneakers and gloves to Green Bay for the National Football League championship game next Sunday, and chances are they won't mind it a bit if the day comes up snow and ice.

Non-White Exodus North In Decade At 1.5 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nearly 1.5 million Negroes left the South between 1950 and 1960, the Census Bureau reported today.

The bureau said about two-thirds of them went in nearly equal numbers to the northeast and north-central states. The rest moved further west.

Mississippi led in the loss of Negro population, the report said, with a decline during the decade due to migration of 323,000. Mississippi was one of four states which lost population during the ten-year span.

The bureau's report used the term "non-whites." Officials said that for the South and most other states the non-white population is almost entirely Negro. In a few states, there are sizeable numbers of American Indians and Orientals.

More Negroes and non-whites, 354,000 of them, moved to California than any other state. New York was second with 282,000. Non-whites moved during the 1950s were: Alabama, 224,000; South Carolina, 218,000; North Carolina, 207,000; Georgia, 204,000 and Arkansas, 150,000.

Louisiana lost 92,000 non-whites by migration, Virginia 70,000; Tennessee 57,000; Hawaii 52,000; West Virginia 40,000; Texas 27,000; Oklahoma 26,000; Kentucky 15,000; Arizona 10,000, and South Dakota 5,000.

Drag Racer, Hurt Months Ago, Dies

ORLANDO (UPI) — A young man from Suwannee, hurt in a drag racing accident more than five months ago, died Wednesday night in the hospital at Sunland Training Center without ever regaining consciousness.

Merlon Summers, 25, suffered serious head injuries in the accident July 3. Investigators said his car was travelling more than 100 miles per hour when it left the road west of Old Town and overturned.

Choristers Set Rehearsal Date

DeBary Choristers will meet at 9:30 a.m. next Wednesday for a regular rehearsal at the DeBary Church Hall.

Members are asked to bring music for "When I Have Sung My Songs," "Touch Hands Around the Rolling World," "Spinning Song," by Wagner; "The Cigaret Girls," from Carmen; "Listen To the Lambs" and "Good Night," from Martha.

NEW ENSIGN Claud A. Foster Jr., USN, formerly Aviation Fire Control Technician Chief, receives assistance from his wife in pinning on his new shoulder boards, at ceremonies held Friday. Kennedy To Push Medical Care For Aged Legislation

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — President Kennedy plans to push such controversial legislation as medical care for the aged despite the prospect of explosive fights in Congress next year, close associates of the President said today.

Strategy for relations between the White House and Congress was a continuing subject of discussion here at the holiday White House this week.

Today the accent was on next year's farm program. Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman was due for a late afternoon conference with the President on farm recommendations in his State of the Union Message.

The Kennedy legislative program for next year is well established as far as general outline and basic content is concerned. The processes of Palm Beach are those of refinement. The final form of the 1963 budget was approved Wednesday.

Kennedy's associates realize there will be a thumping congressional fight over his impending efforts to liberalize the reciprocal trade program through authority to lower tariffs. But the inner circle expects the roughest, toughest battle to involve the administration plan for financing medical care for the aged through the Social Security system.

Members and guests of Sanford Elks Lodge 1241 will hold a New Year's Dance on Saturday, the evening before New Year's Eve.

The orchestra of Sam Gentile will play for dancing and tickets are now available from Chairman Chet Macke and members of his committee or at the lodge hall.

The price of the tickets includes door prizes and favors, plus breakfast which will be prepared by Marie Stafford and Connie Hale. The menu will include scrambled eggs, ham, grits, rolls with butter and jelly and coffee.

Members of the Dues and Anna Miller Circle will be in charge of decorating for the occasion. Serving on the committee are John McDonald, Steve Androsko, Wes Fillman, George Holand, Joe Erickson and Larry Ennos.

Overproduction Still Oil Industry Problem

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — Price wars, market surpluses and a continued battle over governmental controls of imports, production and pricing plagued the nation's petroleum industry during 1961.

The best guess for 1962 is, to a degree at least, more of the same.

The industry in general reported a good first half during 1961, with demand and profits rising along with general business activity after a tough year in 1960. But by the year's end, production was ahead of demand. The industry will open the new year with a surplus of products.

"It is estimated that for the entire year 1961, demand will show an increase of only about one percent over 1960," L. M. McCollum, president of Continental Oil Co. and newly-elected chairman of the American Petroleum Institute said.

McCollum expects the new year to begin with inventories of crude oil and refined products at a record high of more than 800 million barrels, about 10 per cent above the level at which he believes the industry "could operate efficiently and still have products sufficient to meet any unforeseen contingencies."

By year's end, average nationwide wholesale prices for refined products had declined 5.4 per cent since February and were 3.2 per cent below the level of a year ago.

Is this likely to change in 1962?

"The prospects for better prices and earnings during 1962 would be much improved if the anticipated 2.5 to 3 per cent increase in demand were to be met by drawing from existing inventories rather than stepping up refinery runs," McCollum said.

The new API chairman also called for recognition of overcapacity in nearly all phases of oil operation, including increased production of natural gas products and imports.

During the last half of 1961, price wars were a symptom, if not a cause, of the ailments of the petroleum business. Traditional ideas of competitive pricing seemed to have faded and new developments introduced in 1961 will get a good tryout during 1962.

A typical innovation is the introduction of new "graders" of gasoline, made to sell at different prices when offered side by side with the customary regular and premium grades. If it catches on, this could snarl the traditional 2-cent differential between the so-called "major" and "in-dependent" outlets.

Gulf Oil Corp. is test-selling a "subregular" grade at a cheaper price. Humble is offering a "mid-die grade" to give buyers a choice of three prices and Sun Oil is trying a blending pump that can mix up to nine grades to meet a variety of price situations and car requirements.

The past year saw a movement for tighter state proration rules for states which control production and new laws for states that do not. This debate will continue through 1962.

The oil import situation got plenty of attention in 1961 and will stay in the spotlight during 1962.

Birthdays Celebrated At Joint Party

Two boys celebrated their 14th birthday a few days before the Christmas holiday with a joint birthday party. Rob Jones, whose birthday was Dec. 14 and Emory Speir who will be 14 on Dec. 31, observed the two occasions with their friends at the home of Rob's uncle, Paul Hickson, at Lake Crystal.

The spacious living room was decorated with red and green streamers which were hung with gay balloons of all colors and the highlight was the beautiful Christmas tree. The mantelpiece also was decorated with colored lights and Christmas greenery and figurines.

The guests enjoyed refreshments of potato chips, crackers and dip, pickles, olives, cake and two flavors of ice cream.

Guests of Rob were Steve Gordie, Cheryl Moore, Linda Webb, Bill Duxbury, Denver Vodovich, Gloria Twyman and Rob Jones. Emory (Bo's) guests were Karen Vickers, Donny Ho Batern, Debby Whitley, Cheryl Jones, Charles Vining, Dwight Smith and Rita Haynes.

Stanley Vihlen Host To DCT Club Party

The DCT Club of Seminole High celebrated the holiday season with a party at the home of Stanley Vihlen, just before Christmas.

Everyone was greeted in the Florida room and then led into a beautifully decorated living room which was given a festive look by the huge Christmas tree and the glowing fire in the fireplace.

After dancing some of the group tried the Limbo, a dance which was first demonstrated to them by David Williams.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sidney Vihlen, Sr. There were soft drinks, egg nog, candy, and cake, one of which was a snowman, baked by Jean Vanzura.

Those attending included Larry Outlaw, Sally King, Charles Fryman, Carole Cleveland, Glenda Willford, James Holloway, Sandra Wright, Stanley Vihlen, Mark Rumbler and Carolyn Rice.

David Williams, Ed Hughes, Bulch Walker, Carol Holloway, Janet Bostwick, Jeannie Bridges, Jean Vanzura and Ralph Donley.

Sanford Couple Surprised With Call From Brazil

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Riggs, 419 Scott Ave., received an unexpected pleasant surprise Christmas day.

Late in the afternoon their son, John, called for a holiday chat with the couple, John, with his wife and five children, left the United States in May for Sao Paulo, Brazil. He is production superintendent of the Eastman Kodak Company there.

The Riggs thought that they were hearing a recording of a Christmas message but John told them he was really talking from his living room and later they were able to hear the children in the background.

CPO Wives Club Sponsors Party For Children

The CPO Wives Club was transformed into a happy "Kiddy-land" last week when 150 children of Chief Petty Officers' were treated to a show featuring Mr. Magic and his entertaining tricks.

Refreshments of ice cream, cold drinks and cookies in the shape of Christmas trees were served to the small fry.

The climax of the enjoyable afternoon came with the arrival of Santa Claus, who gave each child a gift.

The success of the party was due to the generosity of the CPO Club and with the co-operation of Adeline Karns and Lee Babb of the CPO Wives Club.

Lloyd Websters Hold Open House

Each year during the Christmas season Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Webster hold open house for friends and relatives who enjoy good music.

Luncheon Party Enjoyed By Officers' Wives Of VAH-9

MRS. G. W. KIMMONS, hostess for the VAH-9 Officers' Wives luncheon, greets the newest members of the group, Mrs. Richard Wing and Mrs. Robert Forster. (Herald Photo)

A "lucky thirteen" ladies of Heavy Attack Squadron Nine gathered recently for a pre-Christmas luncheon at the Capri. They counted among their good fortunes the blessings of friendship and the Christmas season.

Despite the fact that the men of VAH-9 are deployed at this time, their wives, mindful of the needs of others, took comfort in being able to help. On a table decorated with an Advent wreath they heaped high gifts of food, clothing and toys for some needy children.

They were thankful to Mrs. G. W. Kimmons, hostess, for creating such unusually appropriate decorations. One wall was dominated by a cheerful Santa's face. The Yuletide gentleman, in honor of the Hoot Owl squadron, was pictured saying, "Hoot! Hoot! Hoot!" rather than his customary "Ho! Ho! Ho!" He was opposite the famous owl insignia looking down on the gathering with the inscription, "Merry Christmas, Ninah's!"

The group met for the first time Mrs. Richard Wing, a new member of the Squadron wives. Others present included Mrs. Gordon Kuehn, Mrs. Ted Beck, Mrs. Raymond Fox, Mrs. Barbara Dunn, Mrs. Dorothy Hebert, Mrs. Elaine Wagner, Mrs. Andrew Reno, Mrs. Ken Kusler, Mrs. Leigh Ebbert, Mrs. Robert Forster, and Mrs. William Lassen.

THE OSTEEN GA GIRLS and their leader, Mrs. Larry Hirt, helped bring Christmas cheer by visiting homes of shut-ins and families who have recently lost loved ones. They sang carols and presented decorated containers filled with cookies that they had made. Later they enjoyed a party at the home of Mrs. Hirt. From left they are June Sermons, Linda Whidden, Linda Noel, Karen Osteen, Kathy Sermons and back row, Jeanette Hosack, Joyce Harvey, Lynn Jones, Mrs. Hirt, Susie Crim and Libby Sermons. Railroad Auxiliary Sponsors Annual Party At Brooks Home

The annual Christmas party of the Ladies Society of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen was held at the Loch Arbor home of Mrs. Ronald Brooks.

The house was gaily decorated in a Christmas theme and as each guest arrived she placed a gift on a table covered with a white cloth and centered with a holiday arrangement.

Each guest received a small Christmas ball tied with ribbon to pin on her shoulder. These were used in a game which lasted throughout the evening. Other games were played under the direction of the hostess.

Mrs. Walter Cook, president, was presented a special gift appreciation of her work during the past year. A gift exchange was conducted followed by refreshments of punch, cookies and mints.

Mrs. L. G. Bryan, Mrs. E. H. Myers Jr., and Mrs. S. J. Brooks were welcomed as guests. Other members present were Mrs. H. H. Fortner, Mrs. R. R. Eisencliff, Mrs. J. R. Wells Jr., Mrs. Edna Ethridge, Mrs. George Hartz, Mrs. A. F. Green, Mrs. E. P. Williams Jr., Mrs. H. J. Bridges and Mrs. L. E. Jeffords.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I recently completed my training and am now an airline hostess. My boy friend keeps threatening to break off with me if I stick with this job. He thinks it offers too many opportunities to meet other men. I love my boy friend, but I also love my job and I'm tired of fighting with him about it. How can I convince my boy friend that flying is no threat to our love? So far, all I've met on this job are tired old married men.

IN THE AIR

DEAR IN: If you need my help in persuading your boy friend that not all airline hostesses are high flyers, you'd better forget him. A jealous "earth man" is no match for a girl with wings.

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest the letter in your column from the little girl who claimed to be only seven years old. I am not doubting your word, or the little girl's, but this is the first time I ever heard of a seven-year-old who could write. Even if she can, I wonder what she is doing reading an advice column.

DOUBTING THOMAS

DEAR TOM: The seven-year-old girl printed her letter. Nor is she my youngest correspondent. I have received letters from a few six-year-olds.

DEAR ABBY: I suppose this is a rather silly question, but I want to know how soon a person should go dancing after his mother's or father's death. Some say you should wait three months. Others say it doesn't make any difference.

JUST CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: Go dancing when you "feel like it." (But most people don't feel like it for quite a while.)

DEAR ABBY: I had the same problem as "MUST KNOW." I was dating a man who claimed to be single, but I became suspicious when he wouldn't give me his phone number or address. He saw me two nights a week, but he was never available on week-ends.

I made a note of his license plates and had a tag check run on him. In this way I found out what his home address was. From that I learned that he was married, had two children and his wife was expecting another. It was a terrible mess, but I was glad I found out. Pass this on to those dopes who believe everything they're told and call it "faith."

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

In a recent interview Mrs. Richard Hughes, wife of the newly elected governor of New Jersey, said she hadn't yet decided whether or not to move the Hughes family (nine children and another expected) into the governor's mansion when her husband takes office in January.

There's adequate bedroom space in the mansion, but "there's no room geared for a playroom." That is what is worrying her.

This little story just goes to point up the fact that today's housewife is far more concerned with the livability of a house than with its impressiveness from the outside or the correctness of its address.

A governor's mansion isn't even a tempting new abode to the mother of a large family—unless it can be made as livable as the house the family already calls home.

The important requirements of a house these days are comfort and ease of family living. The kitchen has to be convenient, there has to be space for the children to entertain their friends as well as for the parents to entertain theirs, there has to be room for hobbies and creative activities.

Some builders today are even recognizing a family's need for a quiet room and adding one called just that . . . a room designed for reading, quiet conversation, and studying, away from the sounds of the TV, the electric dishwasher, the telephone, the doorbell.

Today's families know exactly what they want in a house and it all adds up to comfort. The house as a status symbol has just about had its day. Now what counts is whatever makes for carefree comfortable living, those things that make it easier to turn a house into a home.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

One of the basic principles of expert dummy play is that it is worthwhile to risk going down an extra trick in order to give yourself a chance to make your contract.

In the Lenz system, the opening bid of three of a suit was the strongest bid and the opening bid of two merely a very good hand. Hence, his opening two heart bid. With no score, I might well have passed that bid, but we had 30 to our credit and I responded two spades whereupon he closed the bidding at three hearts.

Mrs. Culbertson opened the deuce of clubs. Sidney played low from dummy and Ely won the trick with the king.

This established Sidney's queen of clubs as a good trick, but Sidney promptly threw it away.

As it was, when he got around to a further club play Sidney was able to finesse dummy's ten and discard a losing diamond on the ace.

He still had to lose one trick in each suit, but the bid was only three and he made it.

Note that if Ely had held the jack of clubs, Mr. Lenz would have been down.

Chemicals Can Clear Up Fallout Polluted Water

GAINESVILLE—Old fashioned methods are still the best for purifying drinking water even after exposure to radioactivity, some 18 months of fallout research at the University of Florida has found.

High concentrations of the same chemicals now used in the water treatment plants that supply American cities are 95 to 99 per cent effective against nuclear Florida team reports.

"And many of those chemicals have been used to purify water for hundreds of years," said the team head, Dr. A. P. Black, professor of chemistry.

Under contract from the Federal Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization, the research dealt solely with eliminating the radioactive fallout particles that float to earth miles from the site of the actual explosion.

"We didn't concern ourselves with the immense radioactivity near the actual blast," Dr. Black said. Nor were the long-range genetic effects considered—how the radioactivity would affect future generations.

The researchers were simply looking for cheap, easily stockpiled purifiers that would keep a glass of water from killing a man.

They found that high concentrations of such ordinary agents as clay, alum and ferric sulfate, lime and soda ash, activated carbon and chlorine could knock out radioactive strontium, cesium, promethium, iodine and uranium.

"Different purifying agents are necessary to take out all the radioactive elements," Dr. Black noted.

The researcher warned that even the slight percentage of radioactive materials left in the water might still be too much, but he said this depended on the size of the blast, and weather conditions, and distances involved.

Most of Florida's water comes from deep wells that won't be reached by fallout anyway, Dr. Black said.

"The only thing 90 to 95 per cent of the state communities would have to do would be to flush out their treatment plants to obtain reasonably safe water," he said.

"Deep artesian wells anywhere would be perfectly safe and could supply drinking water for miles around the countryside," Dr. Black said.

Dr. Black and Prof. F. W. Gilcrease of the University's research faculty directed the efforts of two graduate students, S. A. Hamann and A. C. Printz, Jr., as they tested the capacity of conventional and synthetic compounds to contaminate water. The team was assisted by radiological chemist W. J. Lacy, of the office of Civil Defense laboratories and George B. Morgan, assistant professor of civil engineering at the University and technical adviser on radioactive measures.

ment, but discovers there isn't another animal of its kind in the country.

8:30-9 p. m. (CBS) Bob Cummings Show. Combining romantic fervor with deering-do, Bob Carson (Bob Cummings) seeks and locates a missing Italian movie star (Elana Eden) in Rome, but gets involved with a reported American hoodlum. Brisker than most episodes, this one has some really funny scenes as Bob blunders to victory.

8:30-9:30 p. m. (NBC) Dr. Kildare—"Johnny Temple." There are unforeseen emergencies in hospitals, as revealed in this episode. Young Johnny Temple (Doug Lambert) slashed in a street fight, is brought to Blair Hospital for knife-wound treatment.

9-10 p. m. (CBS) The Investigators—"The Dead End Men." An intriguing plot, and a freshly inventive one it is, sees investigator Russ Andrews (James Franciscus) up to his ears with a multitude of claimants as beneficiaries of a life insurance policy of a man presumed dead. Among the beneficiaries are six Skid-Row derelicts and the wife of the missing man.

Nutrition Balance Sheet Finds Nation Will Be Well Fed In '62

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nutritive content of food consumption in the United States in 1961 is about the same as in 1960, except for a small decrease in ascorbic acid, the Agriculture Department reported.

No significant change in the per capita nutritional level was forecast for 1962.

The department said smaller supplies of fresh and canned citrus fruits with no compensating increase in frozen forms of these products account for the drop in ascorbic acid between 1960 and 1961. The agency said such changes in the consumption of citrus products area quickly reflected in the total available supply of this nutrient. In 1961, citrus fruit and tomatoes furnished about one-third of the total ascorbic acid.

Compared to 1947-49, the 1961 food supply provides considerably less vitamin A and ascorbic acid, the department said. Amounts of thiamine also are somewhat lower.

The substantial decline in vitamin A since 1947-49 is due to the decrease in consumption of leafy, green and yellow vegetables and sweet potatoes. These foods account for a little more than one-third of the total vitamin A value of the food supply, with potatoes about two-fifths of the ascorbic acid.

Reduced consumption of grain products is responsible for lower supplies of thiamine. Flour and cereal products with their accompanying enrichment ingredients remain the largest contributor of thiamine, providing almost one-third of the total supply.

As a source of thiamine, the meat, poultry, and fish group stands second to grains, providing about one-fourth of the total. Meat, poultry, and fish consumption has increased markedly since the early 1950's, but pork has not shared this increase.

Consumption of beef and poultry has increased substantially. Of the three foods — pork, beef, and poultry — pork is the richest source of thiamine. This explains in part when the amount of thiamine furnished per capita per day by the meat, poultry, and fish group has remained the same in 1961 as it was in 1947-49.

The meat, poultry, and fish group accounts for much of the increase in protein, fat and niacin since 1947-49. This group accounts for about one-third of the total protein, one-fourth of the total fat, and a half of the total niacin in the food supply.

The department said that despite some downward trends, there is an abundant and varied food supply sufficient to meet the nutritional needs of the population.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Let's Go, Oviedo!

The reported move of a group of area residents to back organized football in the Oviedo High School was welcomed throughout Seminole County by sports fan and leaders.

Especially commendable, we think, is the action taken by the group to form an independent, athletic organization which will finance building of a stadium and field in the area. Tentative plans call for incorporation as a non-profit association to handle all fund donations towards the proposed athletic facilities.

If all goes well, Oviedo could have its first football team ready to go next season. With enthusiasm and backing such as has been shown in the past for the school's basketball teams, a gridiron eleven surely could soon provide major competition in the area.

"Go, go, go... Oviedo!"

Casselberry Lions Club Plans Seminole Park Raceway Program

Final plans were made by the Casselberry Lions Club at its bi-monthly supper meeting last week for the annual racing program at Seminole Park Raceway.

The event will be sponsored next Sunday afternoon in cooperation with the Florida Quarter-horse Assn. Clyde Hart, president of the Raceway, has made facilities of the track available and arranged for the Lions to share in proceeds of the afternoon for the club's sight conservation program.

Races, to begin at 2 p.m., will determine entries for the Quarter-horse Futurity which will be held in Miami on Jan. 13 attracting champion racers from throughout the state. Proceeds from this event also will be shared by the association and the Lions Club.

Tickets for Sunday's program are on sale by any member of the Lions club and also will be sold at the gate. Children will be admitted free of charge. Carl Altman is chairman of the Lions race committee.

In other business at the meeting, the Casselberry group discussed celebrating Founders Day during the last week in January and also made final arrangements for distributing Christmas food baskets to needy families in the area.

Entertainment at the dinner meeting was provided by Charles Higgins on the electric guitar while Darwin Shay led the group in singing club songs and Christmas carols.

Chuluota Club Names Lighting Contest Winners

Chuluota's Christmas Lighting Contest sponsored by the Retired Folks Club received such interest this year that more than 24 homes were singled out by the judges for prizes or honorable mention. However, a number of this group asked to be eliminated from competition since the homes would have been decorated regardless of the contest.

Judges were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Battle and Mrs. Virginia Minkler, all of Oviedo. Prizes went to I. M. Barnes Jr., 171 First St., who received the first prize of $15 for a floodlight scene featuring a mass of scarlet ball poinsettias.

Second prizes of $10 went to William Lampinen, 231 Second St., where the decoration was of a large white star supplemented by clever use of native materials and trimmed pillars.

The $5 third prize was won by Morris Luther, 420 Fourth St. for the well-balanced arrangement of lights, inside and out, including candelabra and a decorated tree. A. Manuel Mellow of Lakeside Dr. took the $3 fourth prize for a similar arrangement featuring lighting both inside and out.

Displays receiving honorable mention were at the homes of A. William Fewkes on Sixth St.; Arnold Jackson on Seventh St.; Sophie Kostl on SR 419 and Warders' on Seventh St.

Water-proof ribbon bows made by Mrs. Russell Hammond, secretary of the Retired Folks Club, were placed by the judges at the homes of the four prize winners. Since it was at the suggestion from Mrs. Hammond that the club sponsored the contest, this home was eliminated from the competition. One of the outstanding displays, it featured a large, lighted tree and floodlighted Nativity scene and choir boys.

Cheeks were distributed to prize winners on Christmas Eve by George Boulden, president of the club.

Casselberry Lions Give Food Baskets

Eighteen families had a happier Christmas due to the efforts of the Casselberry Lions Club which distributed baskets of food including such items as chickens, mixed vegetables, oranges, nuts and candy, breads, dairy products and canned goods last Saturday morning.

Trucks and cars were loaded in front of Hotel Market where the food had been stored. Two of the baskets were filled by the Casselberry Women's Club, one by American Legion Memorial Post 258 and one by the South Seminole Democratic Women's Club. The remainder was packed by the Lions Club.

Village Names Recreation Man

Officials of the North Orlando Co. have announced that Bill Donofrio will take over as recreation manager and director when the village playground facilities now under construction are completed.

Donofrio is 20 years old and comes from Toledo, Ohio. Employed here by the company in October he has spent most of his time assisting at the utility plant and at the recreation area.

When the playgrounds are completed he will organize tournaments in various sports and will teach wrestling and judo in addition to scuba diving when the pool is ready.

He attended schools in Toledo and would like to continue studies for an engineering degree. He also will be a partner in a Fern Park Putt-Putt Golf Course with his father, Thomas L. Donofrio who is associated with the Silver Creek Precision Corp. Joining father and son in this venture will be Dave Yorko who presently is playing lead guitar with a rock 'n roll combo. Facilities of the course will be used in conjunction with the North Orlando recreation program.

Bear Lake Manor Lighting Winners Are Announced

Winners of a Christmas Lighting Contest sponsored by the Bear Lake Manor Civic Betterment Assn., Inc., were selected Sunday.

First prize, a palm tree and a personalized landscape drawing, went to Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor of 1207 Alton Dr. Winning two palm trees for second place were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boudreau of 1209 Alton Dr. and the third prize of two rubber plants went to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Kerr of 1342 Lake Asher Circle.

Judges were Mrs. Richard Apple, a resident of the Big Bear Lake area; Richard Weidner of Winter Park and L. J. Stubbs of Forest City.

Shrubbery used for prizes was donated by Hall's Variety and Nursery of Orlando.

Adult Class In Woodworking Set For Lyman

MILLARD LERCH

E. S. Douglass, Seminole County director of vocational and adult education, has announced that a woodworking class for adults will be organized at Lyman High School on Jan. 8 at 7 p.m.

Instructor of the class will be Millard Lerch, head of Lyman's Industrial Arts Dept. Lerch holds a degree in Industrial Arts and has had wide experience as a builder and contractor. Before coming to Lyman he taught at Maitland Junior High.

The new class will meet on Monday and Tuesday of each week from 7 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. and will be limited to 20 persons. Students will supply their own materials and the only charge will be the $2 registration fee.

Applications will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. Those interested in the class should call Lerch at Lyman by telephoning TE 8-074.

Brownie Troops Meet In Lake Mary For Afternoon Cookout And Skits

Several Brownie Troops of the area met at the Scout Park in Lake Mary on Dec. 14 for an afternoon program and cookout between the hours of 2:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m.

Troop 108 led by Mrs. Ruth Houtwell and the Intermediate Troop led by Mrs. Sybil Best, which has not received its number, marched from the Lake Mary Elementary School to the Scout Hut where they were joined by Troop 61 led by Mrs. Jane Fletcher.

The Intermediate Troop was in charge of the afternoon's program while Troop 61 was in charge of cooking preparations. Fires were built with assistance from leaders and the girls cooked hobo stew, a delectable dish composed of hamburger, onions, potatoes and vegetable soup. Other items on the menu were Kool-aid, breads and S'mores, a scout desert made from Graham crackers, chocolate bars and melted marshmallows.

A highlight of the afternoon came when David Cochran and his pony, "Chief," visited the group demonstrating various riding skills and techniques with much applause from the girls.

Attending as guests and to assist with the program were members of Wing Troop 211 led by Mrs. Edith Averett; girls from Senior Troop 10 led by Mrs. Lillie Buckner; Mrs. Irene Smith, leader of Intermediate Troop 228 and Mrs. Betty Halback, district chairman.

Some 100 girls, guests, leaders and assistant leaders were present for the occasion.

VFW Post 8207 To Give Dance

Plans for a New Year's Eve Dance were completed by South Seminole VFW Post 8207 at the last regular meeting of the post when Ray McCord was host to the group at his home on Lemon Lane.

The dance will be held at the American Legion Old Glory Post Home on Prairie Lake and will open at 9 p.m. Music will be provided by "The Swinging Renegade Band."

The dance committee is made up of Hollis Johnson as chairman and A. J. Berdahl and Ray McCord. Refreshments will be available during the evening. Proceeds from the sale of tickets, which can be purchased from most VFW Post members or at the door, will be added to the Post building fund.

In other business of the meeting the group accepted three applications for new membership.

According to Ralph Moore, publicity chairman, the Post has a wheel chair which is available as a community service project on a first-come, first-served basis. Anyone interested in applying for use of the chair may call George Howarth, post service officer.

Republicans Name New Officers For DeBary Club

The DeBary Republican Club elected new officers at its Christmas party and meeting in the Community Center last Thursday evening.

Taking office in January will be Ralph Witherell, president; Horace A. Demerest, first vice president; Mrs. Beatrice E. Muller, second vice president and entertainment chairman; Rudolph Ackerman, treasurer; Thornton K. Smith, recording secretary and Mrs. Marie Accardi, financial secretary.

Refreshments were served during a social hour following the meeting and a program of entertainment featuring favorite and seasonal musical selections.

Sunday School Presents Program In Casselberry

The Sunday School of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church presented its annual Christmas Program on Sunday afternoon.

Featured on the program were "A Christmas Prayer," by Nelenda Casselberry; "Welcome," by Carol Jane List; "The Beginner's Quiz," by Carol Jane List, Terri Reuter, Laurie Deppen, Steve Chambers and their teacher, Miss Dawn Barnes; "God Will Help," by girls of the primary department; "Candles For Jesus," boys of the primary department; "Away In A Manger," sung by the Cherub Choir; "His Messengers," by intermediate boys and girls; "Gifts for the King," junior girls; "The Carolers," a short play, by the Junior Choir and stories of the carols and how they were written related by Rev. Darwin Shea and sung by a quartet made up of Darlene Shea, Jim Ailes, Bob Eaten and David Pratt.

The program was directed by David Pratt who was assisted by Mrs. James Birkheimer and Miss Barnes.

White gifts of food and toys were placed beneath a tree for later distribution to a needy family. Following the program each child attending received a stocking filled with candy.

Homemakers Class Hears Reports

The Christmas Homemakers Class of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church met Tuesday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Darwin Shea, 851 N. Triplett Dr., Casselberry.

Bill Shook, program chairman, was in charge of the devotions and Rev. Shea gave the prayer. Reports were heard from the secretary, Mrs. Philip Casbeer and the treasurer, Mrs. Clara Halmer.

Mrs. Budd Werley reported on the class project to provide a complete Christmas for a large family in need. This family was presented with a food basket which included an 18 pound turkey with all the fixings. Each member of the family received both new and used clothing and Christmas gifts. The class also is donating a washing machine to the family.

As the church nursery is being divided to put the crib babies in a separate room, the class made plans to decorate the new room and to provide additional helpers needed to staff it during the church services.

After the business meeting adjourned a social hour was enjoyed. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Shea and her co-hostess, Mrs. Mary Martin.

Village Firemen Elect Officers

New officers of the North Orlando Volunteer Fire Dept. were elected at the December meeting of the organization.

Named were Bob Stephenson, chief; Roy Burke, assistant chief and Bob Dean, secretary-treasurer.

The department, organized just a little more than a year, has been active in numerous civic works. The volunteers aid in burning off vacant lots and answer calls on a 24-hour a day basis anywhere within the village.

Meetings are conducted each Wednesday night at the Village Hall. Men of the community who are interested in joining the organization are asked to contact Stephenson or Burke.

Longwood Man Completes Study

Lt. Gene R. Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stewart of Longwood, was a member of the Dec. 20 graduating class from the Naval Postgraduate School at Monterey, Calif.

Stewart had been attending the general line and naval science school for the past nine-and-one-half months.

North Orlando Club Picks Garden Of Month

By MONA GRINSTEAD
The North Orlando Garden Club chose Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nall's attractively landscaped home at 31 N. Third St. for its December Garden of the Month Award.

Neat and well-kept, the year-round abundance of colorful shrubbery was chosen with an eye to the few months after winter has nipped the area. Along the front block wall are planted elephant ears, double pink geraniums, crotons and Allamanda before a setting of lush, thick evergreens while back of the wall a banana tree adds a tropical touch.

Color is brought to the right side of the house by bushes of snow on the mountain, hibiscus, miniature carnations, shrimp plants and poinsettias and crotons and their color to the front fence. To the left and fronting the screened Florida room added to the home by Nall are yellow-tipped ligustras while in front of the house are hibiscus, crotons, gardenias, miniature carnations and a jasmine covered trellis. Another trellis, the handwork of Mrs. Nall, greets visitors in the entranceway with its fragrant honeysuckle vine.

The lawn, planted in St. Augustine grass, has interval plantings of Australian Oak and Brazilian pepper in beds of pebbles which add to the trimness of the overall appearance. A Chinese Elm centers the front lawn with a small garden doll at its side.

The back lawn has been fenced for the protection of the Nall's three children, Pam, nine, Kenny, seven and Lisa, 16 months. Joining the children in play there is the family pet dog, Patrick.

Growing here are fruit trees the back and left and along the right lawn are Turke caps, avocado trees and other specimen plants. An ear tree which stands amidst a colorful bed of periwinkles and geraniums centers the back lawn and already is giving shade.

Mrs. Nall (Betty) is chairman of the Garden Club's telephone committee and is an active participant in all club projects. Don is a staff sergeant in the U. S. Air Force and is stationed at the Orlando base.

His hobbies are gardening and repairing or remodeling household articles while Betty loves to sew and makes most of her clothes and those of her daughters. All members of the family take part in the gardening, even small Lisa who sits in her swing while the others do the actual work.

The family is active in civic, social and church organizations in North Orlando and always is ready to lend a hand when there's a job to be done by any group.

Mayor-Elect Announces Plans

By JANE CASSELBERRY
Carl C. Stoddard, Casselberry mayor-elect, announced today that when he takes office in January he will be in the Municipal Building for one hour each day, Monday through Friday, to talk with citizens who have problems or suggestions. Exact times will be announced, he said.

He also reported that he has made up a complete list of the committee recommendations to be presented for approval by the Board of Aldermen at the Jan. 2 meeting, the first of the new year.

In addition, he says that it is his desire to streamline the town's monthly business sessions by requesting that all items to be presented to the board be submitted in advance in writing.

Casselberry Club Plans Meetings

By JANE CASSELBERRY
Members of the Casselberry Women's Club will meet at 8 p.m. next Wednesday in the clubhouse on Overbrook Dr. for their monthly business session.

At the Jan. 17 social meeting of the club, Webb Wall will be guest speaker talking on the subject, "Communism In Your Country." Hostesses for this occasion will be Mrs. Tom Hueston, Mrs. Bryan Foster and Mrs. Fred Mayhew.

Children's Party Opens Weekend Festivities For North Orlando

Festivities in the Village of North Orlando for the Christmas weekend got underway early last Friday evening when Fire Chief Bob Stephenson, assisted by a group of teenage boys, treated all the youngsters to a ride on the fire truck before going to the Village Hall where Santa was to visit.

Expected to arrive at 8 p.m., old Santa slipped in early and was at the Hall by 7 p.m. with bags of candy, balloons, oranges and toys for some 400 boys and girls.

Another big attraction of the party was the fireworks display set off and directed by members of the volunteer fire department.

On Saturday night a group of teenage girls gathered for caroling and were received by many residents with refreshments of candy, soft drinks and cookies. The girls returned to the home of Mrs. Mona Grinstead to close the evening with a party and refreshments of hot chocolate, marshmallows and homemade cookies served by their hostess and leader of the evening.

Seventeen boys and girls of the North Orlando 4-H Club went caroling on Christmas Eve and afterwards went to the home of their club leader, Mrs. Beverly Kreech, for dancing and refreshments. Assisting Mrs. Kreech for the party were Mrs. Shirley Ryan, Mrs. Lera Harris and Mrs. Pauline Stevens.

Adults of the community were invited to open house at the North Orlando Co. offices last Friday afternoon for seasonal refreshments served by officials and employees of the company who acted as hosts and hostesses for the occasion.

Among those greeting guests were Mayor and Mrs. Frank Fasula, William Deutch, Bill Harris, Clarence Memory, Jack Sutton, Charlie Wilson, Mrs. Lois Strickland, Arthur Rhodes, Buford Sexton and Johnnie Bowen.

Friday Again; Stores Are Open Tonight

(EDITOR'S NOTE: With Around - the Clock Columnist Larry Vershel enjoying a well-earned vacation over the holidays, the Herald Staff will pinch hit for him.)

According to the Sanford Atlantic National Bank's time and temperature chart, Thursday's temperature dropped a chilly six degrees in about five minutes around 10:30 a. m., Mrs. Betty Spencer, clerk at Rummell and Anderson's reports.

There will be no meeting of the American Legion this week due to the holidays, according to post commander Bob Mahan.

The Rotary Club will not meet Monday, either. Dr. Phil Westgate president has announced.

Kiwanians will hold their annual dinner and installation of new officers at the Shrine Club Wednesday at 7 p. m. with the ladies present for the ceremonies. Retiring president Jim Grant will hand the gavel to Ed Kirchhoff.

The Lions Club will have its usual meeting at the Capri for lunch Tuesday, but PC George Hughes has no program planned.

Art Beckwith, clerk of the Circuit Court, announces that the Clerk's Office in the Courthouse will be open until noon Saturday, so that legal instruments may be filed. Homeowners who have bought their home during 1961 must have their warranty deed recorded before noon Saturday in order to qualify for homestead exemption next year.

The Sanford Atlantic Bank was erroneously quoted as bidding two and a half percent on the county's surplus funds in Thursday's Herald. Actually there was a two and a half percent bid, which was for a period up to 90 days. However they did bid three percent, the same as the Florida State and the Citizens Bank of Ovidio for the per annum rate. Our apologies, Mr. Bauman.

E. C. Harper Jr. head of the merchant's division of the C. of C. closes out his year in this responsibility with one more Friday night of shopping. Harper pioneered the "open till nine" deal in August on a trial basis to see what the shopper's response would be. Barring competition from Friday night football games, business was very good. We hope the new division head continues the practice. It's a wonderful help for working men and women, as well as students and those who don't drive.

Organizational meeting of the City Commission will be held Tuesday to select the new mayor and seat the re-elected members of the City Commission.

In deference to the Sunday liquor laws, many night spots and private clubs are planning New Year's parties for the day before, Saturday. What happens when the clock strikes midnight?

The city's new zoning ordinance is part of an overall comprehensive city plan which was recently completed by professional planner George Simons, reveals City Manager W. E. Knowles. The last time the commission passed on a zoning ordinance was Dec. 28, 1964.

Apologies are in order to Sid Richard who is the Public Works director for the city. Planning and Building official, "Foots" Yelvington was erroneously given the PW title. (Hurry back, Vershel!)

City Mgr. Knowles said the error in Richard's title was due to the fact that he has only been with the city for 38 years. "After 40 years Richard will be considered a permanent city employee," quipped Knowles.

Finance Director Henry Tamm Jr. has a slight case of laryngitis acquired over the holidays. It was reported that Tamm was seen doing some extensive bike riding in the cold wintery weather during the holidays.

All Florida Shivers In Cold Blast

Winter Crops Threatened By Icy Mercury

MIAMI (UPI) — Temperatures dipped toward freezing across Florida again today, threatening winter crops and sending tourists digging to the bottom of suitcases for their Northern wraps. Floridians shivered in such un-Sunshine State temperatures Thursday night as 25 at Tallahassee, 27 at Gainesville, 28 at Pensacola, 29 at Jacksonville, and 31 at Daytona Beach. At Homestead south of Miami, the low was 31. Miami's chilliest reading was 41, the same as in St. Petersburg, and it was 38 in Palm Beach and only 40 at Fort Myers on the Gulf Coast, frequently recorded as the warmest city of the day in U. S. Weather Bureau roundups.

The cold temperatures were accompanied by chilly winds. Small craft warnings for winds up to 35 miles per hour were raised along both coasts of the peninsula until this morning.

The cold night came on the heels of a warm day, intensifying its bite. Miami was the warmest city in the nation Thursday, the U. S. Weather Bureau said, with a high reading of 81.

Weathermen predicted continued cold tonight and perhaps a nippy New Year's weekend leading up to the Orange Bowl football game here Monday.

The second cold front of the week swept over the state Thursday and the cold air behind it settled in during the night.

It cut short a warmup that brought sun-hatted tourists out in droves after a Christmas Day cold snap cleared the beaches and dropped temperatures below freezing in suburban south of Miami.

The severest cold came Tuesday morning and damaged tender truck crops and some young citrus plants. But the overall frost damage was slight, agricultural officials reported, and the state's multi-million-dollar citrus crop wasn't seriously hurt.

The thermometer climbed back toward normal Wednesday, and by Thursday Miami Beach's seashore and ocean-side hotel pools were crowded again with sunbathers.

The new cold front whistled into Miami just before nightfall, and by late evening the mercury had dropped into the 50's.

Bomb Plotters Get Suspended Terms

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — U. S. District Judge Sidney Mize Thursday gave suspended prison sentences to two former labor union officials who pleaded guilty to charges they conspired to dynamite telephone installations.

The defendants were James Shelby of Silver Spring, Md., former assistant vice president of the Communications Workers of America, and Charles G. Perry, former president of the CWA local here. They were charged with conspiring to dynamite Southern Bell Telephone Co. installations here six years ago. Shelby and Perry, along with other union leaders, were convicted on the charges in 1956.

Suit May Hit Vote Laws In 6 States

By United Press International

Vote registration laws of six Southern states were threatened by a suit filed Thursday by the Justice Department which challenged as racial discrimination Louisiana's requirement for voters to interpret the Constitution.

In addition to Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi also require persons to be able to understand and give reasonable interpretations of any section in either state or federal Constitution.

This is something that "even those learned in the law" have not been able to agree upon, the suit said.

The architect of the Louisiana law, former State Sen. William M. Rainach, once explained that the interpretation was a test of "native intelligence," not "book learning." One of his aides said "experiences teaches . . . that most of our white people have this native intelligence, while most Negroes do not."

South Carolina has an amended form of this test. A person can vote there if he can show proof of ownership of property on which taxes have been paid. Otherwise, South Carolinians must read and write any section of the state Constitution to the satisfaction of registration officials.

In Virginia, voter registrants must pass the "blank sheet of paper" test. They must memorize the questions as well as the answers to basic questions concerning their name, age, etc.

North Carolina also has a literacy test, but it has been upheld as constitutional by federal courts.

Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlion promised to "fight to the utmost" when the suit comes to trial.

The suit said "the history of the interpretation test, the setting of white political supremacy and racial segregation in which the test was adopted and is enforced . . ." rendered the law invalid.

Cabinet Planning Staff To Meet

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The three-man city planning staff of the State Cabinet will meet with city officials early next year to plan future development around the Capitol Center.

Committee members are Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin, Comptroller Ray E. Green, and Secretary of State Tom Adams.

The city planning staff is working to complete a land-use plan as part of an urban renewal program.

Weather Backs Up Prediction

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Gov. Gaylord Nelson Thursday signed into law a sales tax bill just a few minutes after his press secretary said it would be a cold day in Wisconsin before a Democratic governor would sign such a measure.

A Florida State Junior majoring in government in preparation for a legal career, Barley is vice president of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

Two Persons Hurt In Two Accidents

Two separate accidents Thursday resulted in head and facial injuries to a man and a girl, FHP Trooper Bill Stringfield reported today.

Thursday afternoon a sharp curve on the old Orlando highway, scene of many an accident, claimed another victim, when Robert Fisher, 19, N.A.S., failed to negotiate the curve near Ginder-ville, and his late model Volkswagen flipped over. Fisher was charged with excessive speed. He was treated at the N.A.S. Dispensary for abrasions of the head and bruises. Damage to his car was estimated at approximately $300.

In a bizarre "return to the scene of the crime," the same Volkswagen was turned over about a year ago in the same spot, by the woman from whom Fisher purchased the car, two days before his accident.

In a second off-beat type of accident, a car being pushed because of a dead battery, crashed into the wall of the screen at the Movieland Drive-In Theater Thursday night, causing facial lacerations and bruises to Jane Carol Powell, 17, of 807 W. 20th St. She was treated at Seminole Memorial Hospital and released.

Miss Powell was injured when she was thrown into the windshield and rear-view mirror of the car, which was being driven by Maxie Cortez Finch, 22, a college student home on vacation.

No charges were filed in this accident, Trooper Stringfield said.

Kennedy Stresses Farm Program

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — President Kennedy has ordered an increase in the administration's emphasis on farm problems and plans to give unprecedented attention to agriculture in his economic message to Congress next year.

This was reported by authoritative sources today after Kennedy personally announced that he and Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman had finished work on what the Chief Executive described as a "new agricultural program for the 1960's."

Cooperation Pays In Industry Here

An example of how cooperation of local business and civic leaders to establish industry in a locality can pay off was shown in Sanford Thursday when the Sanford Manufacturing Co. paid off the balance of its loan.

In 1957, 20 individuals, along with the Florida State Bank, put up money to establish the manufacturing concern. It opened with a plant of 11,000 square feet and 50 employees. Today it has a plant of 26,000 square feet, 115 employees and an annual pay roll of $300,000.

Yesterday some $70,000 was distributed, including interest, to the individuals, through the bank. A letter from H. Edward Davis, assistant vice president of Florida State Bank, accompanied the payment.

"The results of your cooperation are very impressive," the letter said. It discussed the increase in plant size, employees and pay roll and added: "Plans are now in progress for further expansion of the manufacturing facilities, which will result in another increase in employees."

1962 Auto Tags To Go On Sale Here Tuesday

Motor vehicle license plates for 1962 will go on sale at the tag office in the court house on Jan. 2, tax collector John L. Galloway announced today. Galloway acts as agent for the Motor Vehicle Commissioner.

Galloway calls attention to the fact that at the last session of the Florida legislature, laws were enacted raising the fee or service charge from 25 cents to 50 cents and eliminated "T" tags in 1962.

All automobiles now carrying "T" tags will carry "D" tags henceforth, the cost of which is $10 plus 50 cents fee or a total of $10.50.

"Owners of cars now carrying 'T' tags are advised to bear this in mind when obtaining tags for 1962," said Galloway.

Attention is also called to the fact that mail service is available for those who do not care to call at the Court House for tags.

All that is necessary is to mail in the 1961 registration card with remittance for the tag, plus 50 cents fee and 50 cents mailing cost and the new tag will be mailed to you.

As an example, a plain tag, bearing the county designation number 17, without any letter suffix will cost $16 mailed, and one with 17W will cost $21, mailed.

The tag office will be open daily except Saturdays and Sundays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. beginning Jan. 2.

Continued Use Of Air Strip Asked

A representative of the Seminole Timing Assn. appeared before the board of County Commissioners Wednesday to ask for continued use of the Ocala air strip as a racing strip. He also asked for an easement along the edge of the strip for the placing of power poles.

Donald Smith told the commissioners that Florida Power Co. had volunteered to put in six light poles and the necessary spotlights to make the strip brightly lighted for the night races. The group has been using a system of portable lights which must be trucked in from Miami for each race. Races take place every second and fourth Saturday nights from 7:30 p.m. until midnight.

Smith said that the association is a non-profit organization with all gate receipts going toward the racing prizes, lighting and other expenses.

However, the board's attorney Harold Johnson said that the commissioners have no authority to grant rights of way or permission to use the strip at this time, as the negotiations for the buying of the strip are still in progress and no clear title rests with the commission as yet.

The board advised Smith to check with Attorney Johnson to find out when negotiations are complete and then make another application.
