Police report two robberies on Sunday

By Nick Pfeiffauf
Staff Writer

Two separate armed robberies Sunday were reported in Altamonte Springs and Casselberry. Police believe there may have been a connection between the two incidents.

One occurred in the parking lot of the Altamonte Mall. Altamonte Springs Officer Eric Wels said it was a snatch and grab situation involving a woman's purse.

Casselberry police said the other robbery occurred shortly after noon Sunday at the Bank of America, at Live Oak and U.S. Highway 17-92. This involved a customer at the bank's ATM machine. Casselberry Police Lt. Scott Pleasants said the victim had just withdrawn money from the machine and returned to his vehicle, when a man approached him with a handgun, and demanded all of his cash. The amount was not made known.

Pleasants said the robber was described as a black male, age 20 to 25, clean shaven, and wearing a white hat and white shirt. His face was not covered.

Police said the vehicle and perpetrator description in both instances matched, giving them reason to believe the cases may be related.

In addition to Altamonte Springs and Casselberry police, Seminole County Sheriff's deputies from District six assisted in the investigation. No arrests have been made in connection with the cases, but the investigation is continuing.

Midway to get new school in 2007

By Charles D. Jackson
Herald Correspondent

MIDWAY — Seminole County Public Schools Superintendent Bill Vogel laid out preliminary plans Monday for a new Midway Elementary School to about 75 parents, residents and community leaders at the school.

Vogel said the board plans to build an $11 million, two-story school fronting 20th

Seminole County Schools superintendent says the new $11 million elementary proposes to house 700 students

Street near Sipes Avenue. It's expected to be completed in 2007. The bulk of the property fronts 20th Street on the south, but a narrow stretch on the north side leads to Celery Avenue.

The current school will be used as a Pre-Kindergarten Center for the Northeast

Cluster of county schools, and as a community center with a gymnasium funded by a community block grant through a consortium of the Seminole County Sheriff's Office Weed & Seed, School Board, Boys and Girls Club, Police Athletic League, Seminole Community College and Seminole County Government.

Midway Elementary School, built in 1960, is the smallest full-scale elementary in the county, with 395 students. The new school, similar in design to Bentley Elementary, should house up to 700 students.

This will be the fifth time the school has been moved. It was organized in 1906 as a private school, moved into St. Matthew Baptist Church, and became a public school in 1916, with the School Board renovating a building near Midway Avenue. A wood building was constructed at the current site in late 1950s. The current brick

REMEMBERING, CELEBRATING BOOKERTOWN

Authors of "Bookertown, a Journey to the Past," Charlie Carlson II and Charlie Morgan, are now coordinating their efforts for a festival that will celebrate the community's history.

Book inspires author to begin heritage festival

A book is a powerful medium that can move the masses. In the case of Bookertown, a small community west of Sanford, a historical account authored by Charlie Carlson II and Charlie Morgan is providing a reason to celebrate the early black farming settlement.

In less than a year, the "Charlies" have sold hundreds of copies of "Bookertown, A Journey to the Past." The 38-page book relives the history of the "quaint Afro-American community that sits like an island surrounded by a fast changing landscape of modern development."

With the success of the book and the encouragement of the community, Morgan is taking the success of the book one step further by coordinating a Bookertown Heritage Festival for Saturday, Feb. 28.

"We are just going to get out there to have a good time and celebrate the history. That's the focus of it," Morgan said.

From the beginning, Bookertown started as a railroad settlement in the 1880s and then developed into the black neighborhood of the old town of Lake Monroe.

Iraqi Diary: Leaving on Valentine's

7 Jan. 2004 Good news, those conex shipping containers that were delivered here are for us to load our things in for redeployment. We have been working around the clock doing inventories and throwing out excess stuff, doing maintenance on equipment and all. Plus we are still doing patrols in East Baghdad.

We are not leaving anytime soon but preparing to depart when the time comes so our replacement unit can come in and take over. I urban warfare.

Rumor has it that we will leave Baghdad on, or about, 14 February and will move down to Kuwait to get ready for our redeployment. That means we'll be in Kuwait for at least two weeks, which according to my estimate, will put us back in the states in early March. It looks like we will take everything with us except for our vehicles. Those will be turned over to the incoming unit. We still have a lot of equipment to get ready, like communications equipment and all our weapons. In the meantime, we still patrol the neighborhoods, check on police stations, and pull duty in the towers around Camp Marlboro.

There was a big mortar attack here early this morning that wounded more than 30 soldiers at the 3rd Support Command. It's a logistical and supply base on the west side of Baghdad. It appears this was one of the biggest mortar attacks in the Baghdad area. They said that between six and 10 mortar rounds hit the base. All of these soldiers were support troops. We were not involved because it was on the other side of Baghdad from our area of operation. Baghdad is so large that a battle can occur in one part and troops in another part of the city will never know it happened. So everything you hear about Baghdad

Airport lands deal with tour operator

By Dan Ping

SANFORD — One of the nation's largest leisure tour operators will move its hub of flight operations to Sanford, adding nearly a quarter-million domestic and international passengers traveling through the city's airport.

A top-ranking airport official confirmed late Tuesday that Vacation Express has inked a 7-year contract with Orlando Sanford International Airport (OSIA). The airline will move its hub to Sanford from Atlanta's Hartsfield-Jackson International Airport on April 23.

"We're tickled to death that (Vacation Express) is coming to Sanford," said Larry Dale, president of the Sanford Airport Authority. "They have a good operation and will be a great addition to the airport."

Beginning April 23, Vacation Express will use the Orlando Sanford International Airport (SFB) as its hub, linking seven of its major gateway cities to Aruba, Cancun (gateway to Cozumel and the Riviera Maya), Costa Rica, and Puerto Plata and Punta Cana in the Dominican Republic.

Passengers originating in Central Florida will benefit from the Orlando hub as they will have access to reliable non-stop service to tropical destinations plus aggressively priced domestic service to all hub feeder cities.

For the 2004 season, the cities in the hub program are: Atlanta, Baltimore, Charlotte, Cincinnati, Louisville, and Nashville, all of which will continue to retain direct flights to Cancun. Destination patterns and rotations for Baltimore, Cincinnati, Louisville and Nashville will not change except for the addition of Orlando as a destination.

Vacation Express will continue to feature Jamaica in its product line with value-priced packages aboard Air Jamaica from most U.S. cities. The company will also expand its charter service to Costa Rica with three flights per week from Feb. 13 to Aug. 16.

The move to Sanford is actually a return for the Atlanta-based Vacation Express. The Revitalization of the city of Lake Mary's downtown is starting

By Christopher Patton
Managing Editor

LAKE MARY — It took less than three months for the revitalization of Lake Mary's downtown to begin.

City commissioners approved Thursday the rezoning of a half-acre parcel at the corner of Country Club Road and Lakeview Avenue from general commercial to downtown center. City leaders created the new downtown zoning district in October to encourage growth in the town's center.

Shoemaker Construction is the first to request for the downtown center rezoning as it proposes to build a two-story, 11,000 square-foot building in the core of Lake Mary's downtown that encompasses about 60 acres. The property was previously developed with a small residential structure that was converted for commercial purposes. The structure will be demolished to make way for the new building.

"This is an exciting project," Mayor Thom Greene said. "This is kind of going to be the show place for everybody else that is going to build in the downtown. We expect with (Shoemaker Construction) starting this building for others to start, and it's going to jump start the whole project."

Along with retail and residential areas that include upscale townhouses and condominiums, city planners have proposed various amenities for the downtown district such as a band shell near the city's community building, numerous parks and green areas, and a large interactive fountain for children. Greene said Lake Mary's downtown is headed for a "big change" that he expects will happen rather quickly.

IN BRIEF

Winter Springs woman falsified abduction charge

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office has released new information with regard to a reported abduction last week.

The victim, 22-year-old Sherri Campbell of Winter Springs, now tells authorities she made up the story being attacked and beaten by a man who was hiding inside her car, who forced her into the trunk, and then reportedly drove around with her locked inside.

Sheriff's office investigators interviewed the victim and noticed inconsistencies in her story. They also noticed inconsistencies after examining the evidence gathered. They also interviewed others, who knew the victim.

On Saturday, Jan. 10, investigators confronted the victim about the inconsistencies. She then admitted to investigators that she made up the story and that her injuries were self-inflicted. She also admitted that she drove herself to the location, a field at Temple Way and Shore Road, parked her car and placed herself in the trunk. She came out after receiving calls on her cell phone from family and Winter Springs police.

She tells investigators she did this because she was suffering emotional stress, for which she has now sought medical assistance.

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office is considering filing charges and will review the case with the Brevard-Seminole County State Attorney's Office. One charge under consideration is, filing a false police report.

1978, making a profit of 55 cents, although the first games had an attendance of approximately 2,000. Since that time, the group has organized an additional 26 such events, each drawing larger crowds than the preceding year.

Hey man: Jamaican-style eatery opens on 13th Street

By Sarah Scoles
Herald Intern

SANFORD — A new island oasis has sprung up in the middle of Sanford. Peggie's Caribbean Takeout fills a nutritional niche by serving classic Jamaican cuisine.

Located on 13th Street, the restaurant opened Dec. 28.

"The Lord blessed me with a couple of dollars," said owner Peggy Howell, "and I started this restaurant."

The menu includes such items as jerk chicken, curry chicken, oxtail, stewed beef, macaroni and cheese, collard greens, plantains, and hot-dogs, with prices starting at $1.

"It is very tasty," Howell assured.

Next week, Howell will begin offering a Friday night special featuring fried fish and fried chicken.

Also beginning next week, Peggie's Caribbean Takeout will serve breakfast.

"It will be a mix of Jamaican and American," she said, "so everybody can enjoy."

Dumplings, fried bananas, eggs, grits, codfish and more will be offered.

Howell makes her living filling the public's appetite, but she is not profit-driven. Two of her main motivations are leaving a legacy for her children and providing jobs for the community. Her son, Tychell Gibbs, and her daughter-in-law, Pat Gibbs, help out around the kitchen.

away," Howell confessed. "If someone doesn't have money, I give them food. If we have extra food, I'm not just going to throw it away."

After moving to the United States from Jamaica, Howell began her American life in New York City, The combination of a back injury and the harsh northern winters prompted her to move to Deltona, and from there she moved to Sanford.

"I always wanted to open a restaurant," Howell said. "I had a friend who coached me, and all my friends encouraged me." Here she is in Sanford fulfilling her dream. Her new goal?

"I want to open another one and another one," she said.

Howell is hoping word will spread about Peggie's Caribbean Takeout so she can share her heritage with more people.

"It's a little slow, but it will take time," she said. "It will come along."

Howell's friendly aura and confident attitude will surely help her gain new customers.

"People are very nice and cooperative," she said. "It is the way you treat people and talk to people. I try my best."

Visit Peggie's Caribbean Takeout at 1006 W. 13th St., Sanford, or call 407-322-8615 for more information.

SANFORD — Richard Watts, a British citizen and a member of the British Police Force's Royalty and Diplomatic Protection Group, the United States equivalent of the Secret Service, has taken a five-year sabbatical to come and live and work in Seminole County.

Watts, his wife, Georgina, and their children, Edward, 5, and Amelia, 2, arrived in United States a month ago in order to fulfill their 'American Dream' and the couple have taken over as the new owners/managers of Cactus Bob's American Grill and Pub located at 1566 S. French Ave.

Before taking his sabbatical, Watts was in charge of perimeter security at the American Embassy in London. Regular police officers are not armed in Britain, but those who patrol the perimeter of the American Embassy carry firearms and security there has been tightened since Sept. 11, 2001.

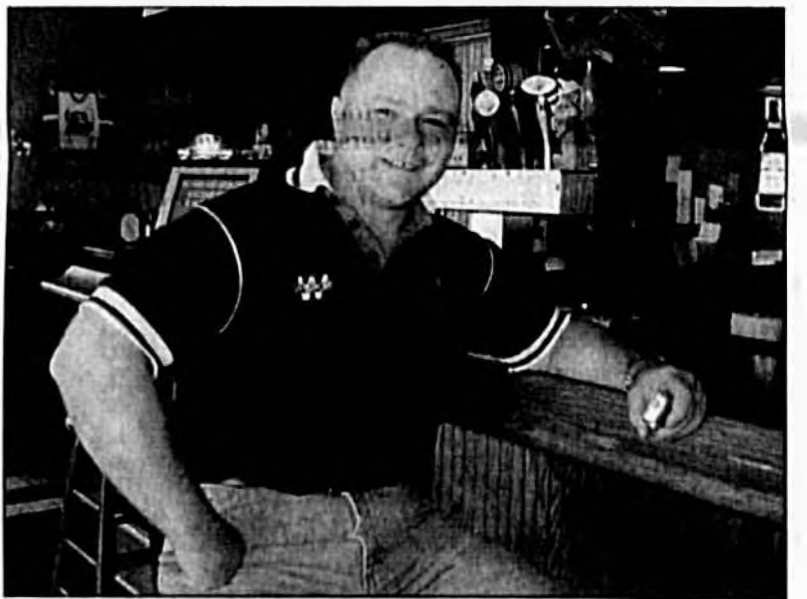

Watts' final assignment before leaving for America was to serve on the uniformed and armed contingent of the protection team for President George W. Bush's visit to Britain in November.

"There was no disorder," Watts said of the crowds who came out to demonstrate and to see the President.

His previous work for the Royalty and Diplomatic Protection Group had included working on the exterior security team for Buckingham Palace, the London home of Queen Elizabeth. USDA reduces orange crop by 2 million boxes

The U.S. Department of Agriculture decreased its orange crop forecast for the 2003-2004 season by 2 million boxes, to 250 million boxes.

While Valencias remain the same at 118 million boxes, Early and Midseason varieties were reduced from 134 million boxes to 132 million boxes. The Navel portion of the Early-Mid estimate remained the same at 4.8 million.

According to officials, a reduction in the projected average fruit size has created the need to decrease earlier estimates.

The grapefruit estimate was decreased again by one million boxes to 40 million boxes. Officials removed one million boxes of white grapefruit.

No changes were made to specialty fruit estimates. Tangerines remain at 6.7 million boxes with Honey's remaining at 2.3 million boxes and early varieties remaining at 4.4 million boxes. Temples remain at 1.4 million boxes; and Tangelos remain at 1.3 million boxes.

However, the yield for frozen concentrated orange juice (FCOJ) was reduced from 1.55 gallons to 1.53 gallons per 90-pound box of oranges.

The Florida citrus industry has a $9.1 billion economic impact to the state and employs nearly 90,000 people, directly and indirectly.

Florida Citrus Mutual, founded in 1948, is the state's largest citrus grower's organization with more than 11,500 members.

Rendering by Architect Herbert L. Banks

The two-story building proposed by Shoemaker Construction will be the first constructed in Lake Mary's attempt to revitalize its downtown.

In the wake of other developing "town centers" in Seminole County, such as Colonial TownPark in Heathrow and another in Winter Springs, Greene said the trend is people are tired of Central Florida traffic woes and want eateries, retail shops and theatres closer to home. Similar to the "town center" design, one of the goals for the Lake Mary downtown zoning district is to promote pedestrian traffic in the area.

Dean Shoemaker, vice president of Shoemaker Construction, said he hopes the building will create an atmosphere city leaders are looking for in its revitalized downtown.

"I'll tell you what really excites me about this type of project is that we are in a situation where we are out of land here," he said. "It's time to recycle these old places, and if it's pushing things down and rebuilding then go ahead and do it. If we can recycle newspapers then we can recycle old buildings. I have water and sewer there and I might be the nicest thing on the block there now, but hopefully in the next five or 10 years others will come along and build something just like this."

He said he personally visited West Palm and shot more than a 100 pictures of buildings to help create the feel for the new building that features ornamental railings and archways.

"I love architecture and that's just one of the main things," he said. "It's one of the things that many buildings don't have today."

Retail shops and restaurants are expected to occupy the first floor with four offices for rent on the second floor. The building will also be home to Shoemaker Construction. The construction company is being forced to move from its location at 2701 W. 25th St. for roadway improvements.

"I've been looking at this property since I graduated from high school in this area," Shoemaker said. "It was a decision to make and I made it, and I'm just excited about it."

Bookertown

Farmers laid claim to Bookertown and without the hard working attitude of the community, the history of Seminole County could have been very different, Morgan said.

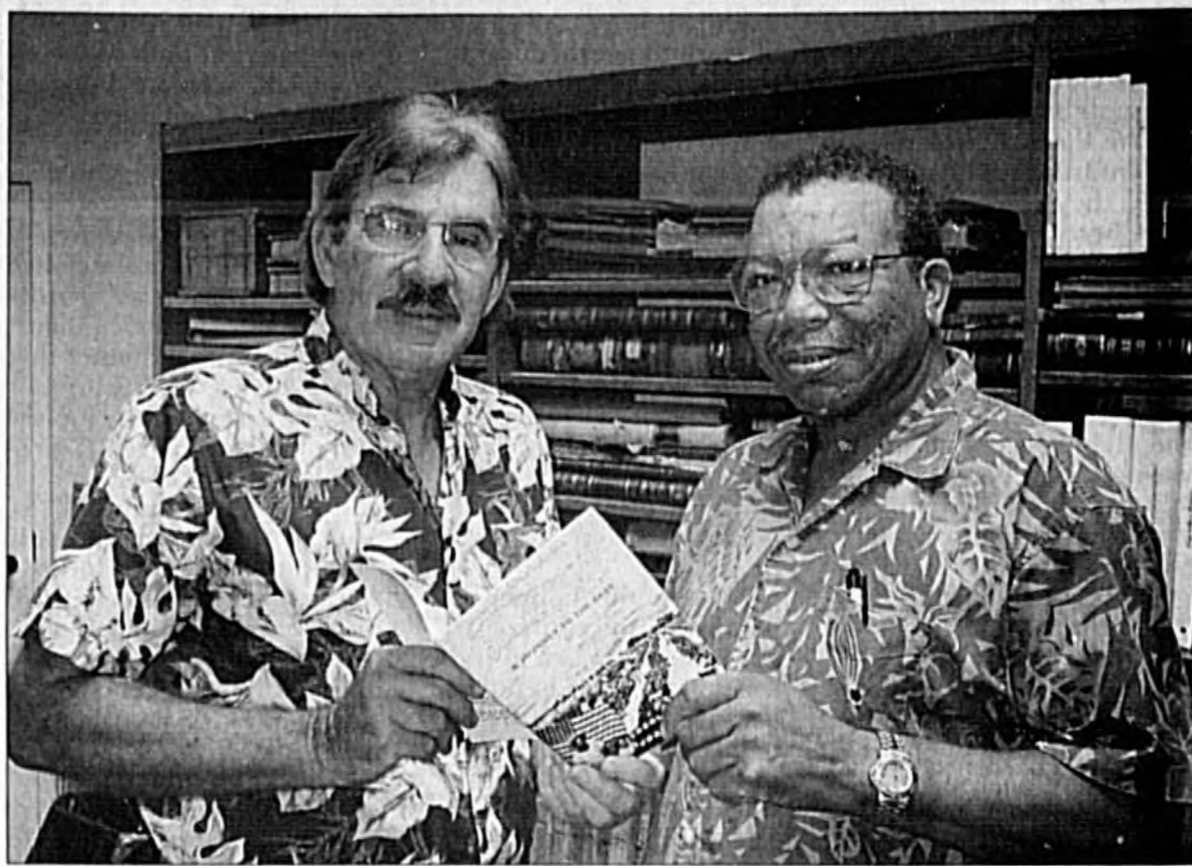

"They were some really good farmers out there that fed the world," he said.

The First Annual Bookertown Heritage Festival will include guest speakers, vendors, museum displays and entertainment supplied by local schools, groups and churches. Although they worked together on the book, Carlson says Morgan should be credited with the initiative in developing the heritage festival.

"This Bookertown book has been very popular and we've probably sold about 500 copies of it and it's fixing to go into its third printing right now," Carlson said. "But that I think inspired Charlie (Morgan) to start getting some of the people out there interested and putting on some kind of heritage festival. The book itself sort of brought the community together."

As for the creation of the Bookertown history book, Morgan credits Carlson for giving him the push. As Carlson and Christine Kinlaw-Best authored "The History of Monroe," Morgan helped share details about Bookertown, and quickly realized the untold history of the small black community was fading.

"Me and Charlie got together and he said 'you should start writing a book,'" Morgan said. "I said I didn't know anything about writing books and he said just start writing. I'm glad he got me going because it was story that needed to be told."

Charlie Carlson II and Charlie Morgan hold the book they co-authored about Bookertown, which can be purchased at the Sanford Museum at 520 E. First St.

The story of Bookertown not only needs to be told, but it should be celebrated, Carlson said. Event organizers are hoping the Bookertown Heritage Festival becomes an annual event that can challenge the community of Eatonville's festival, in Orange County, that brings more than 150,000 visitors to town each year.

"I think Bookertown with the way they are going about it, they are planting a seed for a festival that may be 10 years down the road will be a great, big event," Carlson said.

Despite newer subdivisions being built all around Bookertown on Orange Boulevard and Oregon Avenue, Seminole County

Deputy Manager Sally Sherman said Bookertown is a community that is improving. The county is working on renovating the Bookertown school that was established in 1926 and now serves as a community center, she said.

"One of our initiatives is to improve homes in the community through the SHIP (State Housing Initiative Partnership) program," Sherman said. "It's an excellent program and we're going to continue to see growth in the community."

Bookertown is a special place for Sherman as her grandmother and mother both grew up in the community.

"Celebrating the heritage of the community and what they have done to help the area is extraordinary," she said.

The Bookertown Heritage Festival will be Saturday, Feb. 28, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Bookertown Park, between Brewer Street and Moton Avenue. Everyone is invited to attend, Carlson said, as the festival is just not for Bookertown residents.

"I think it's important that this is just not a Bookertown festival, but this is a festival for that whole side of Seminole County because there is nothing left of the town of Lake Monroe except Bookertown."

For more information about the festival or to sign-up as a vendor or entertainer, call Morgan at 407-321-4270.

structure was built in 1960, and renovated several times.

After their concerns were addressed, community members and parents received the news enthusiastically.

"I think it's a win-win for everybody involved," said Emmanuel Hillery, parent and business owner in Midway. "We're happy the school board is allowing us to be partners in this endeavor, so we can do help decide what's best for the children and the community. We're also happy because the school will remain in Midway. That was one of our paramount concerns."

School board staff members assured parents that the class size would remain small and current programs, including the Performing Arts sector, would continue.

A special Midway Task Force of residents and concerned citizens suggested the new school include an outdoor amphitheater, similar to Lyman High School. School board members said they will consider that idea, adding the amphitheater concept has proven successful.

The move for a new school is in response to growth in the state's ninth-fastest growing city. The city of Sanford, which eventually plans to annex to State Road 415, is projecting about 1,000 new homes will be built in the Celery Avenue area during the next five years. Two new subdivisions are currently under construction.

Because the property for the school was once used as an experiment site for vegetables, the soil is undergoing testing and treatment to ensure it is safe.

"The site has been analyzed and it will be analyzed again," said Diane Kramer, Deputy Superintendent of Facilities. "The Department of Environmental Regulation will do the cleanup of the site. After the site is cleaned, the county will take over."

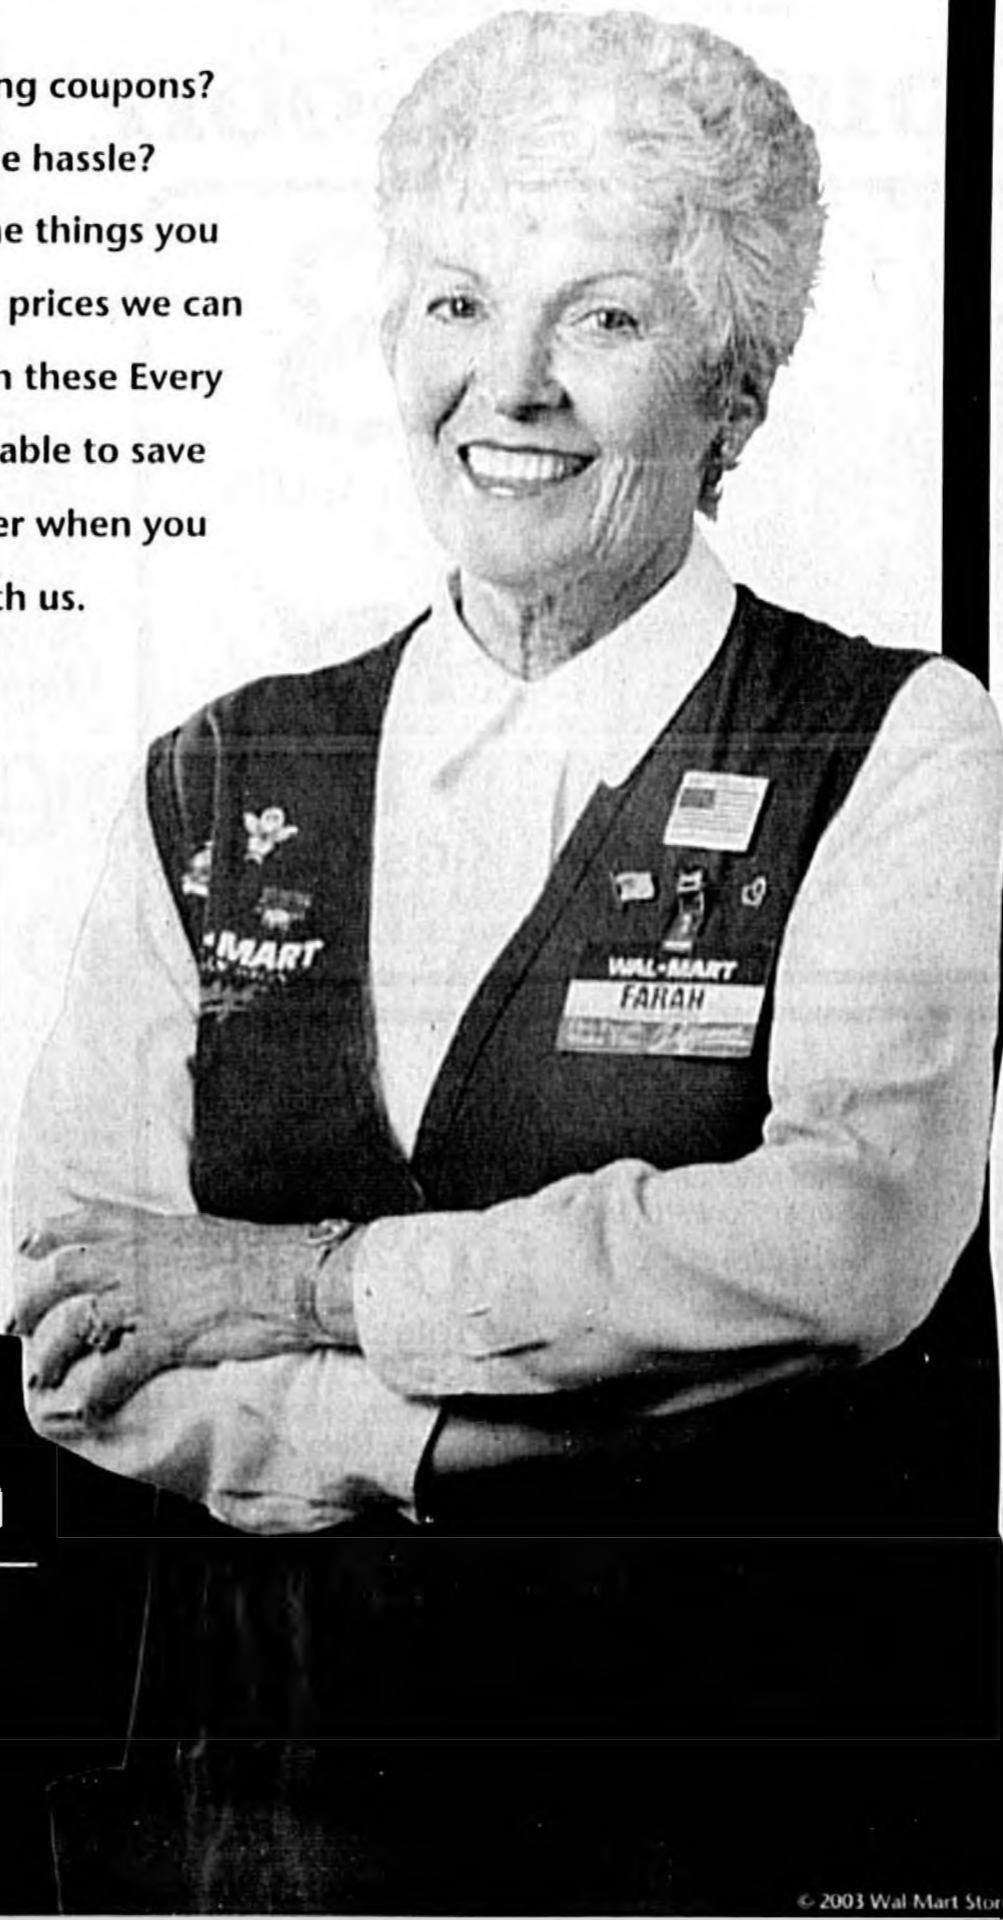

The Midway Task Force will meet Saturday at 10 a.m. at Martin's Sundries on Sipes Avenue. The public is invited.

does not necessarily involve our unit.

The electricity has been out more than it has been on. We thank Ace Hardware in Sanford for all those batteries they sent us as they have been put to use in flashlights and lamps during the absence of electric. The whole company benefited from those batteries. It is funny when the lights come back in the middle of the night because all the roosters start crowing. When they start crowing it wakes up the donkeys in the neighborhood and they start their hee-hawing. I guess they think it is sunrise when the lights come on in the area. As much as the lights go off and on it must be driving the poor animals nuts.

I can report that all the police stations that I inspect are doing good and there are more Iraqi cops on the streets now in East Baghdad. It has taken a lot of work to get them up to standard and following the law, but I think they are where they need to be. This has not been an easy job, as everyone knows several of our stations were car bombed, one almost destroyed, with many IPF killed or wounded. The threats against the IPF have not helped either as the police were fearful of going out to do their duty. That has changed for the better, and I can see a workable police force here for the first time.

None of this happened because of the contractors who were suppose to train the police. It has happened because the U.S. Army military police took care of business and constantly stayed on top of the Iraqis. So there are two things that I see that are good: the Iraqi police in our area and the Iraqi Civil Defense Corps which I helped recruit members for. Both of these Iraqi functions are doing very good. I will never think that we did much good here except try to stay alive, but we did successfully re-establish the police stations and train the police in our area. We also recruited and trained the civilian defense corps. Whether that was worth the hardships, misery and wounds, I guess only history will tell. I certainly will not boast "Mission Accomplished" as it is far from over yet. I still think it takes a dictator to run a place like this with all of its ethnic and religious tribes who have been fussing and fighting among themselves for thousands of years.

This afternoon I saw a donkey pulling a cart with a man on it. When they got to a stop light, the donkey came unhitched from the cart and kept on trotting forward, leaving the man and the cart at the intersection. The man was waving his arms and yelling. Some other people grabbed the donkey. It was a funny sight to see.

They are offering first-term soldiers $10,000 to reenlist for three years. This would get them off the stop-loss, and if they reenlisted in Iraq the money would be tax free. All the soldiers here who are eligible just laughed and basically commented on what the army could do with the $10,000 bonus. This shows, one, how desperate the military is trying to keep the personnel strength up and two, how desperate soldiers are to get out. They are willing to take their chances in hopes of being given their freedom from the stop-loss and indefinite enlistments. I for one would pay $10,000 to buy my freedom from this indefinite enlistment that I'm trapped in. Slaves used to be able to buy their freedom, but we soldiers can't even do that. They just keep recycling us into war.

We haven't had any recent road side bombings in our area. This worries me because when they are attacking us we know they are in the area and stay on guard. When nothing happens, it makes you wonder when it will happen. We try to alternate our routes on patrol, we seldom take the same roads.

Needless to say, morale has started going up. It started with the Christmas care packages, and when we found out that the shipping containers were to pack our stuff in, morale zoomed up. We know there are still insurgents in our area, but they have been laying low. We just have to make it a few more weeks without getting hurt and hopefully get out of this place in one piece.

company operated its hub out of OSIA from December 2001 to January 2003. During that time, nearly 350,000 Vacation Express passengers traveled through OSIA, accounting for 26.4 percent of the airports' total domestic and international passengers.

When the decision to leave Sanford was announced in December 2002, Vacation Express president René Jongmans said the company believed "a hub from one of our strongest markets is the best thing for Vacation Express, our travel partners and our passengers."

Atlanta's Hartsfield-Jackson airport is the busiest passenger airport in the world, and some Sanford officials predicted the company might return OSIA.

"The reason they're leaving is because the airline and the tour operator believe they can generate more traffic from Atlanta than they can from Orlando," Larry Gouldthorpe said at the time. Gouldthorpe is the president of TBI Airport Management Inc., which manages the domestic and international terminal for the Sanford Airport Authority. "Do we agree with that? No. It will be more costly for them to operate from Atlanta, and there are, of course, the hidden costs like flight delays."

Dale said OSIA officials continued to court Vacation Express after the company's departure.

"We always had a good relationship with them," Dale said. "We never gave up on them and didn't burn any bridges."

In announcing its return to Sanford, Carlisle Vason, the new Vacation Express president, said the company was responding to its partners' request for a more convenient, congestion-free connection process for passengers traveling to the Caribbean, Mexico and Costa Rica.

"The decision to relocate our hub operation to Orlando Sanford was not made lightly," Vason said. "Our challenge was to find a way to balance the demands of our new and ever-expanding east coast markets while still maintaining the integrity of our all-important Atlanta-based charter program. With the obvious appeal of Orlando as an extremely viable destination, coupled with the incomparable connection efficiency Orlando Sanford will provide to our valued clients, we are thrilled with this decision. We are confident that we have developed a flying plan that not only satisfies our multi-market requirements, but one that will secure our position as the premier charter tour operator in the Southeast/mid-Atlantic regions of the country."

Vacation Express charters six fully dedicated aircraft, all bearing the familiar Vacation Express name and logo, something few U.S. tour operators have done. The dedicated 148 passenger 737-300's are operated by North Carolina-based Pace Airlines. Vacation Express has also chartered additional aircraft from both Pace and Sky King Airlines of Sacramento, CA, to accommodate extra flights during the busy summer season and recent expansion into the Cleveland, Philadelphia and Wilkes-Barre/Scranton markets.

In addition to the new hub service, Atlanta area passengers will retain six non-stop flights per week to Cancun as well as non-stop service to Punta Cana on Mondays and Fridays. Charlotte will continue to enjoy direct/non-stop flights to Cancun on Thursdays and Sundays and direct service to Punta Cana on Mondays and Fridays, with year-round access to the hub on Saturdays. Vacation Express will continue to offer direct service charter packages to Cancun from its other major gateway cities: Cleveland, Indianapolis, Memphis, New Orleans and Philadelphia.

Additionally, new non-stop charter flights from Wilkes-Barre/Scranton to Orlando and Myrtle Beach, SC, are now available, with connecting service from Orlando to Cancun, Costa Rica and the Dominican Republic.

Jim Bernhardt has left Seminole High to take the job of Director of Football Operations at UCF.

Seminole begins search for new football coach

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — Seminole High School is in the market for its third head football coach in five years after Jim Bernhardt announced his resignation last Friday morning.

While the move was surprising it apparently is not without merit as the veteran coach is expected to be named the new Director of Football Operations at UCF.

New Golden Knight coach George O'Leary made two more personnel moves on Monday, dismissing director of football operations Dan Higgins and video coordinator Dana Martin. Bernhardt and O'Leary's relationship goes back to the 1980's when both were working in New York.

"We wish the best of luck to Jim at UCF," said SHS Athletic Director Mike Powers. "We hope he will do a good job for Coach O'Leary."

Bernhardt, who originally hails from Longbeach, New York, came to Florida in 1994 and moved over to Seminole from Dr. Phillips in 2001 to replace Jim Worthington and led the Fighting Seminoles to a 9-21 record over three seasons.

Bernhardt has been coaching football on all levels for 28 years, including being both the offensive and defensive coordinator at Brown University of the Ivy League, and has a 57-45 record as a head coach.

Powers also said that the school is already in the process of looking for a new coach and interested parties should contact him at the school and make application through the Seminole County Public School website at <http://www.scps.k12.fl.us>. The job is also posted with the FHSAA (www.FHSAA.org) and the FACA (Florida Athletic Coaches Association) in Florida and the FCA (Football Coaches Association) nationally.

Oviedo in command

Lions romp past Bears, lead SAC

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

Don't look now, but a familiar team is patrolling the top of the Seminole Athletic Conference standings in boys basketball.

Many may have felt Oviedo was struggling after losing to Spruce Creek earlier last week, but the Lions proved all doubters wrong on Friday as they went on the road and whipped Winter Springs, 69-44.

Oviedo star Pat Kiscaden was back to his normal self after playing sick against the Hawks, scoring 13 of his game-high 18 points in the second half as the Lions improved to 11-2 overall and 2-1 in Class 6A-District 2 play.

The Bears meanwhile, lost for the third straight time at home and fell to 11-4 overall and 0-3 in district play.

Oviedo's patented pressure defense was too much for Winter Springs, which turned the ball over nine times in the first quarter and 23 times in the game.

The first and last quarters spelled the biggest difference in the game as the Lions outscored the Bears, 35-14, in those two periods.

Jose R. Davila chipped in with 16 points for Oviedo, while Jeff Hatzler chipped in with 11 points and 10 rebounds.

What started out as a bad week ended up as a good note for the Oviedo Lions as they bounced back from a one-point loss to Spruce Creek with a 69-44 thumping of rival Winter Springs on the Bears' home court Friday night. Raiders rout DBCC in conference opener

By Dean Smith
Herald Sports Editor

SANFORD — One win does not a season make, but boy what a win.

The Seminole Community College women's basketball team showed Monday night that it is back among the state's elite as the Raiders crushed nationally-ranked Daytona Beach Community College, 93-69, in the Mid-Florida Conference opener for both squads at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center.

Four players finished in double figures and six players scored eight or more points as the hosts used balance, depth and domination of the paint to virtually run the 20th nationally-ranked and defending conference champion Falcons out of the gym.

The Raiders have now won five games in a row and eight of their last 10 to improve to 12-5 overall. DBCC has now lost two in a row and fell to 13-4.

SCC, which won back-to-back M-FC titles in 2000 and 2001, will look to remain undefeated in conference play when it hosts Santa Fe Community College from Gainesville in the opening game of women's/men's double-header Saturday night. The starting times for conference doubleheaders have been changed this season with the women tipping off at 5:30 p.m.

The difference in the game on Monday proved to be the Raiders' ability to control the backboards and not missing a beat when coach Lisa Nuxol went to her deep bench.

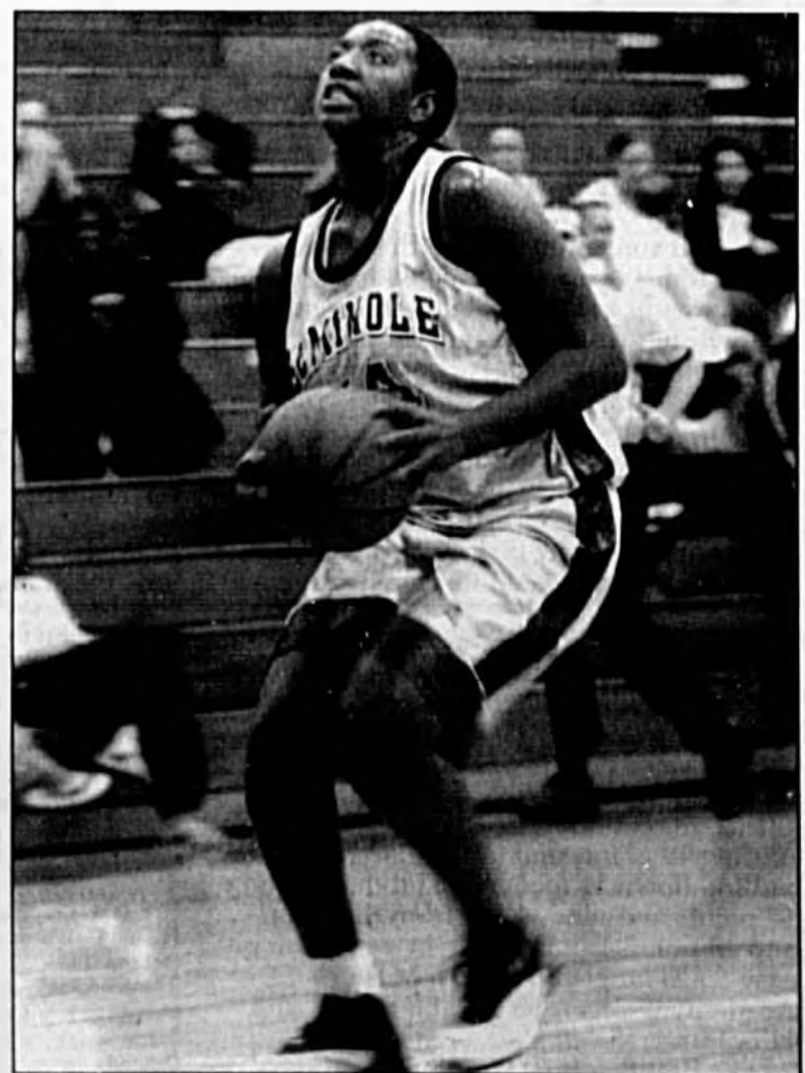

Freshman forward/center Kirsten Harris came off the bench to score a team-high 17 points as the SCC bench accounted for 44 points.

"We have a very good bench," said Nuxol, a Lake Howell graduate who played for DBCC coach Dennis Cox at Valencia Community College. "All 12 players are eligible and healthy and I kept subbing them and hoping that we could wear them down. Everybody came in and did a great job."

Lake Mary's Bryn Mosler got the Raiders off to a fast start, scoring the first four points of the game and seven of SCC's first nine.

But the Falcons, who missed their first nine shots and did not score for nearly six minutes, battled back to lead twice, at 14-13 and 22-20, and trailed just 30-25 with 5:20 left in the half following a three-pointer by Barbara Bukowska.

The Raiders then went on a 10-0 run started by back-to-back three-pointers by Natalie Emmanuelli and Winter Springs' Missy

SCC men to open M-FC tonight

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — The Seminole Community College men's basketball team gave local fans a glimpse of what could be on Saturday night.

With their new signee, Oklahoma transfer Jimmy Tobias, in attendance, the Raiders of coach Stan Cromartie looked absolutely awesome for much of the first half and coasted to a 93-73 victory over I.M.G. Academy out of Bradenton at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center.

The win was the second in a row for the Raiders, who improved to 6-12 on the season and will host St. Johns River Community College from Palatka in the opening game of Mid-Florida Conference play tonight (Wednesday) on the home hardwood.

The game will take on an added attraction for local fans as former Seminole High School stars Marcus Robinson and Joey Gunter are members of the Vikings.

Game time is set for 7:30 p.m. at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center and admission is free. The men will also be at home on Saturday, playing host to Santa Fe Community College from Gainesville as part of women's/men's doubleheader with the women tipping off at 5:30 p.m. and the men at 8 p.m.

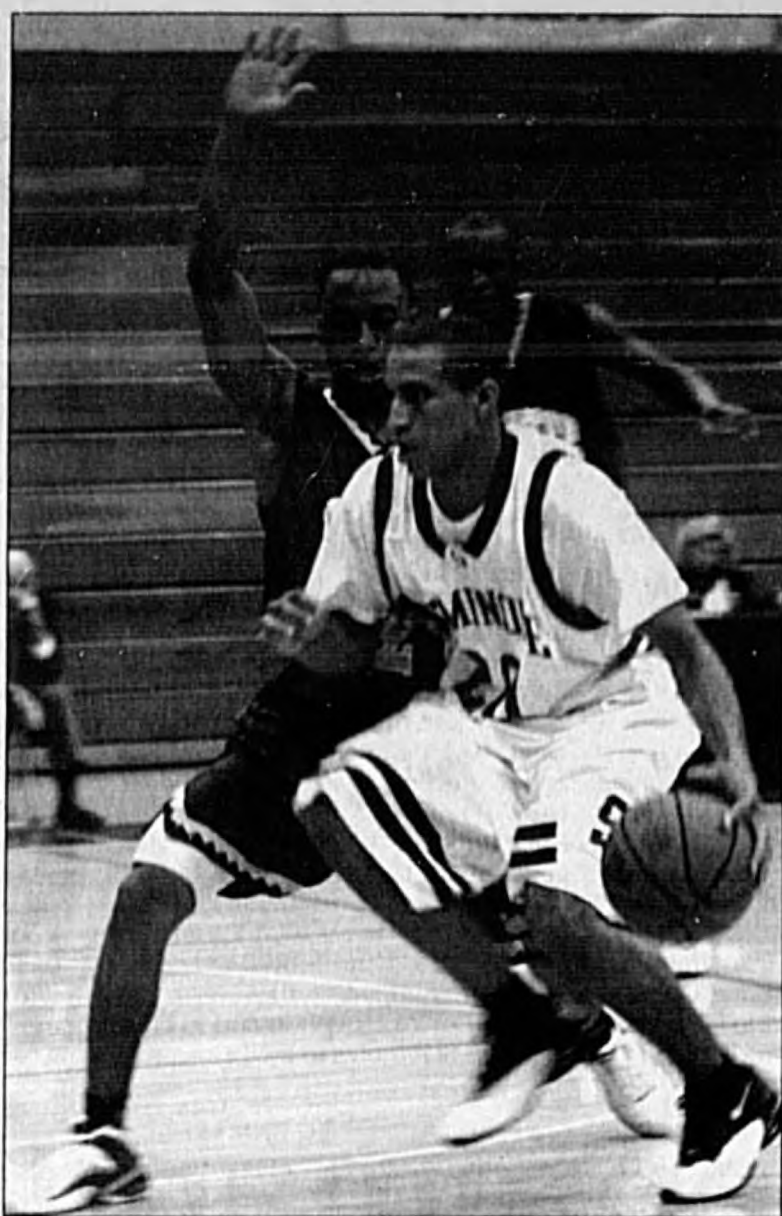

Most people probably figured Saturday's game would be a walkover for SCC, but few knew that I.M.G. is part of a huge academy that instructs in all sports and players pay between $27,000 and $40,000 a year to learn basketball.

The team features mostly fifth-year high school players who are either trying to improve their grades or game before starting college or trying to get a second look from schools without losing college eligibility.

The biggest names on the I.M.G. roster was 6-foot-2 guard Ramel Bradley from Brooklyn, New York, who recently signed a Letter-of-Intent to attend the University of Kentucky, and Orlando's J.T. Tryon, the older brother of PGA golfing sensation, Tom Tryon.

SCC got off to a fast start behind T.J. Jones, the seventh leading scorer in the state, as the 6-foot-2 freshman from Orlando scored the first nine points of the game.

After pulling out to a comfortable lead, I.M.G. started

Rushawn Johnson (No. 20), the lone sophomore on the squad, stepped up Saturday night with one of his biggest games as a Raider with 19 points, five rebounds and two steals.

to eat into the lead behind Bradley (10 first half points) before William Graham and Rushawn Johnson, the only sophomore on the Raiders roster, brought the house to its feet.

Graham, a 6-foot-8 freshman from Corss City who would finish with 11 rebounds, checked into the game and got a monster slam dunk off an alley-oop inbounds play and then Johnson scored 10 straight points on back-to-back three-pointers, a steal and a surprising fastbreak dunk over an I.M.G. defender, and a blocked shot followed by an offensive rebound for a layup, putting SCC up 35-13 with 6:50 left in the first half.

Johnson's play got the Raiders fired up and they continued to play well, leading 57-30 at halftime. Johnson and John both finished the first half with 14 points.

SCC showed its youth to open the second half as they started the second half sluggish with turnovers and fouls and Bradley and Maurice Daniels led the way as I.M.G. got as close as 10 points mid-way through the second half.

In fact, I.M.G.'s amazing free throw shooting, 17-for-18 in the second half, was the only thing that kept them remotely in the game.

The hosts finally said enough is enough and the Raiders' big men, 6-foot-11 Kemaine Samuels and Will Greene and 6-foot-8 Nicolas Rollins, went to work on both offense and defense.

Greene, who had missed the previous three games because of a death in his family back in Texas, came off the bench to score nine of his 14 points in the second half, while also pulling down 10 rebounds and blocking four shots, right at his state-leading average of 3.93 blocks per game.

Rollins scored eight of his 14 points in the second half and pulled down a team-high 12 rebounds, while Samuels had nine rebounds and three blocked shots as the hosts cruised to the win.

Johnson finished with a team-high 19 points and also pulled down five rebounds and had two steals, while Jones added 16, one under his season average, to go along with four assists and two steals and Greene and Rollins chipped in with 14 each. Vince Mosley just missed a double-double with eight points and eight rebounds.

For I.M.G., Bradley had a game-high 23 points, while Daniels added 14 and 6-foot-6 Mike Beasley netted 12. Beasley, who normally plays with I.M.G.'s Pendleton Academy for High School aged players, is an eighth-grader from Landover, Maryland with size 22 shoes who will be a force in years to come.

UCF men win ninth straight

Special to the Herald

Roberto Morentin scored in double figures for the ninth time this season finishing with 18 points, as UCF (11-2, 6-0) won its ninth consecutive game with a 63-51 win over Jacksonville (6-6, 1-4) at Swisher Gymnasium Sunday afternoon. It is the Golden Knights longest winning streak since the 1998-99 season.

Marcus Avant was the only other UCF player to reach double figures in scoring finishing with 12. William Bakanowsky grabbed a team high seven boards.

JU had three players in double figures led by Jure Lozancic's 13. Haminn Quaintance and David Lee finished with 12 and 10 points respectively. The duo also led the Dolphins on the glass with six boards apiece. The team's finished tied on the glass with 35 rebounds each.

UCF will conclude its three-game road trip traveling to Boca Raton today (Wednesday) to take on Florida Atlantic. Tip off is slated for 6 p.m. and can be heard on the UCF ISP Sports Network and its flagship station AM 740-The Team with Marc Daniels calling all the action. Pregame coverage will begin at 5:30 p.m.

Sunshine Network will also televise the game live with Dave Lamont handling the play-by-play and Matt Guokas providing the color commentary. It is the Golden Knights second consecutive televised game of the season.

Last Friday Dexter Lyons scored 22 points and led three players in double figures as UCF won its eighth consecutive game dropping Stetson, 71-58, in Atlantic Sun action before a boisterous crowd of 3,211 at the Edmunds Center.

Stetson's biggest lead was 14-10, but a 9-0 UCF run gave the Knights the lead for good. The visitors opened the second half on a 12-6 run and expanded a 31-28 halftime advantage to 43-34 in the opening minutes.

But Gabe McMillen hit three-pointer with 8:55 remaining in the game pulled Stetson within 48-44 before the Knights scored the next 15 points to go ahead 63-44. Gary Johnson's third triple of the game gave the Knights their first double-digit lead at 55-44 with just over six minutes to play. A three-pointer by Derrick DeWitt at the 3:22 mark ended the run.

For Lyons it marked the fourth time he has eclipsed the 20-point plateau this season. He also finished with five rebounds and a career high six steals. Both Morentin and Johnson finished the game with 15 points. Johnson also added a game high six assists. Josh Bodden led UCF on the glass with eight rebounds.

Stetson had two players in double figures as Anthony Register and Djordjic finished with 15 and 13 respectively. E.J. Gordon, who entered the game averaging 18 points, was held to just seven but led the Hatters on the glass with eight rebounds.

But the Hatters made a quick recovery as DeWitt's three-point basket with under 45 seconds remaining in overtime broke a 84-84 tie and helped lift Stetson to a 91-89 victory over Florida Atlantic Sunday afternoon at the Edmunds Center.

The victory ended Stetson's eight-game losing streak and gave the Hatters (3-8, 1-4 Atlantic Sun Conference) their first conference victory of the season. The Owls (7-6, 4-2) suffered just their second A-Sun defeat this year.

"This was a tough game," Stetson head coach Derek Vaughn said. "FAU is playing real well right now. There were many instances where we could have given up, but we didn't. A win like this should help our confidence."

Gordon led five Hatters in double figures with 21 points, while adding eight rebounds and seven assists. Register scored 18 points, including seven in overtime. DeWitt finished with 16 points on 7-of-9 shooting from the floor.

"I give Stetson a lot of credit," Florida Atlantic coach Sidney Green said. "The showed a lot of resilience and they executed well. They deserved the victory tonight."

The Hatters' last win against a Division I opponent also came at home against Florida Atlantic last season. Stetson had dropped 13 straight games against Division I foes.

Stetson will go for two in a row at 7 p.m. tonight (Wednesday) in Jacksonville.

UCF WOMEN LOSE

NASCAR NEXTEL Cup Series teams rolled into historic Daytona International Speedway on Tuesday for a three-day test session in preparation for the 46th annual Daytona 500 on Sunday, Feb. 15.

Jimmie Johnson, driver of the No. 48 Lowe's Home Improvement Chevrolet, finished the day as the fastest driver with a speed of 187.535 mph followed by John Andretti 187.516, Bill Elliott (187.313), Ricky Rudd (187.270) and Ken Schrader (186.780).

Two-time Daytona 500 champion Jeff Gordon, driver of the No. 24 DuPont Automotive Finishes Chevrolet, was sixth fastest with a lap of 186.772.

"It was a good day for us," Gordon said. "The car is driving great. The speed wasn't awesome when we unloaded, but we just gained on it all day long and by the end of the day I felt like we were pretty close to where we need to be. Of course we always want to be a little bit faster and we got two more days to work on it."

"All in all, a great day and we're really looking forward to getting back down here for the (Daytona) 500 and getting the season started. I just feel like the team just showed that look in their eye all winter long. Especially right now - with the chemistry - we didn't lose anybody, we just added in some areas that we felt we needed to make ourselves stronger and we're looking forward to putting that out on the racetrack."

Gordon was happy to be back in a stock car after an enjoyable off-season that included one of his favorite hobbies scuba diving.

"It's good to get back in a car again," Gordon said. "It's been a while. As short as the off-season is, it's still exciting to get back here. I was talking to somebody - it's my 12th time testing down here - so a lot of memories and an awesome place. Fortunately, we've had two (Daytona 500) wins here."

Greg Biffle, driver of the No. 16 National Guard/Subway Taurus for Roush Racing, returned to historic Daytona International Speedway for the first time since his victory in the 2003 Pepsi 400. Biffle used fuel mileage to become the first rookie to win last year's mid-summer classic.

"It was kind of neat when I was walking in this morning because I thought about the fact that the last time I was here we won," Biffle said. "That's pretty exciting. I don't know if we're gonna be back in that position or not. I know the guys worked really, really hard all winter long to speed our program up. We haven't found any speed yet, but it's typical Daytona - it's tough to see that."

The next NASCAR Preseason Thunder FanFest is scheduled for Wednesday night, Jan. 14 in the Daytona Club. Included in the $10 admission are fan forums that featured question and answer sessions between fans and drivers, DAYTONA USA's Pit Stop Challenge, show cars and a silent auction of autographed items.

All of the proceeds from FanFest benefit the Brenners Children's Hospital (in Winston-Salem, N.C.), Speediatrics, Victory Junction Gang and the Ladies Auxiliary of Stock Car Racing.

Drivers scheduled to appear on the Jan. 14 FanFest:

* 6 p.m. - Ryan Newman, Rusty Wallace, Sterling Marlin, Casey Mears, John Andretti, Ken Schrader, Ricky Rudd and Bill Elliott.

* 6:45 p.m. - Jimmie Johnson, Bobby Labonte, Robby Gordon, Elliott Sadler, Jimmy Spencer, Johnny Sauter, Kyle Petty and Tony Raines.

* 7:30p.m. - Jeff Gordon, Terry Labonte, Jeff Burton, Scott Riggs, Brian Vickers and Greg Biffle.

Daytona International Speedway and Circle K have joined forces on a special Budweiser Shootout ticket offer. Fans can purchase advanced general admission tickets for the Budweiser Shootout under the lights on Saturday night, Feb. 7 at all Florida Circle K locations through Feb. 6 for $39. Children under 12 are admitted free to the Budweiser Shootout with a paying adult.

the game on an 8-0 run that included six points by junior center Ali Roberts. Nyisha Taylor got Mercer (6-6, 4-1 A-Sun) on the board at 16:17 with a putback, but UCF built its advantage to 11-2 a minute later and finished the first half with a 35-26 lead.

The Bears scored four unanswered points at the start of the second period and used the momentum to pull within one (41-40) on trey by Miller at 14:22. Twenty-three seconds later, guard Sally Skeldon was fouled and sank both free throws to give Mercer its first lead of the contest, 42-41. The visitors continued to extend their advantage going up by seven points on another three by Miller at 9:35.

UCF, meanwhile, went without a field goal for eight minutes. Sophomore guard Celeste Hudson from Lyman scored the Golden Knights' first bucket of the second half at 18:27 before they hit a drought that was nullified by junior center Takira Allen at 10:26. During the opening 14 minutes, UCF shot 3-for-16 (18.8%) from the field, while Mercer was 9-for-19 (47.4%) from the floor, which included 4-for-5 shooting from behind the arc.

Still, the Golden Knights weren't out of the game down 56-43 with just over four and half remaining to play. They made a comeback that was sparked by Hudson's three-pointer at 4:08 and went on a 9-0 run.

With 32 seconds left, senior Adrienne Billings drew the Golden Knights within three, but Mercer put up eight free throws to outscore UCF 8-6, down the stretch to earn the win.

Hudson led the Golden Knights with career-high 28 points, which also included a perfect 6-for-6 from the foul line.

UCF hosted FAU on Tuesday and will travel to North Carolina for games against Gardner-Webb on Jan. 17 and Campbell on Jan. 19.

ASHKINAZ STARTS IN 79TH ANNUAL EAST WEST SHRINERS GAME

UCF senior David Ashkinaz started at left guard for the East team in the 79th Annual East West at SBC Park in San Francisco. Ashkinaz, who started all 12 games at left guard for the Golden Knights, played for two seasons at UCF.

Ashkinaz is the second Golden Knight to participate in a college all-star game after tight end Michael Gaines played in the Blue-Gray All-Star game Christmas Day. Gaines returned one kickoff for 12 yards.

Raiders

Guadagnino and SCC finished the half by outscoring DBCC 22-9 over the last five minutes to lead 52-34 at intermission.

The Raiders quickly widened the lead to 22 points, but the Falcons closed to within 15, 71-56, with 12 minutes left behind the play of Jasmine Patterson and the shooting of Candace Jenkins.

That's when Harris and sophomore forward Rosanna Davis took over for SCC combining for 21 second half points as the Raiders continued to pull away until Nuxol called off the dogs with over two minutes to play.

Harris was followed in double figures by Emmanuelli with 15 points, Guadagnino with 13 and Davis with 12. Mosler just missed double figures with nine and Jennifer Anderson came off the bench to net eight.

Jenkins hit four three-pointers for DBCC to lead all scorers with 19 points, while Patterson finished with 18 and Bukowska 15. No other player scored more than six for the Falcons.

Kash n' Karry officials announced Thursday that they would be closing 34 grocery stores in Central Florida — including three in Seminole County.

About 1,500 workers are losing their jobs as a result, but will be offered job placement assistance and receive preference for openings within the company. Kash n' Karry President Shelley Broader said the company wants to focus its resources in the Tampa Bay area and along the state's west coast, where it will remodel or open 20 stores this year. Store closings are scheduled to occur by the end of February.

The three outlets closing in Seminole County include locations at 3121 Orlando Drive in Sanford, 5803 S. U.S. Highway 17-92 in Casselberry and 1491 E. State Road 434 in Winter Springs. Despite having a small slice of the market share in the Orlando area, local officials say the Tampa-based grocery chain was making headway in the county.

KEEPING HISTORY ALIVE

Don't say she is retiring. As Lorraine Whiting puts it, she's simply moving on to other things.

For 40 years, Whiting collected and preserved Seminole County's history as a member of the Seminole County Historical Commission. Starting with only the knowledge left behind by her early descendants, Whiting and nine other historical commission members gradually transformed how history is perceived in Seminole County.

"I'm the only one that has been on there since 1965 and it was time to get off," she said. "I'm not retiring; I'm just moving on."

Charged by the state legislature in 1964, Seminole County among other counties in Florida created historical commissions. Seminole County commissioners appointed 10 members to the historical commission in 1965 and

Coleman leaving as Seminole principal

From Staff Reports

Superintendent of Seminole County Schools Dr. Bill Vogel announced Friday afternoon that Seminole High School Principal Karen Coleman is returning to Geneva Elementary to offer stability as the school has gone through three principals in five years.

Coleman, a former assistant principal at Geneva Elementary and resident of the unincorporated Seminole County town, is credited with increasing the enrollment for the high school's magnet programs and the number of National Merit finalists at SHS.

"By Karen moving there it will restore stability to the principalship at Geneva," Vogel said. "She's been very successful in the leadership role at that school, and we appreciate everything she has done for the (SHS) students and the community," he added. "But when that opened up, she was a natural fit to return to Geneva."

The open position at Geneva Elementary was created when former principal Lino Rodriguez recently took a position in Orange County. Taking over for Coleman at SHS will be Millennium Middle School Principal Walt Griffin. Griffin, a former Middle School Principal of the Year in Florida, was selected for the high school position as Millennium sends most of its students to SHS.

"It was only natural for Walt to move there," Vogel said.

The principal moves are pending school board approval and will be considered at its Jan. 27 meeting. If approved, the transition period will begin immediately.

"They'll be working together and will share time at their new facilities," Vogel said.

Millennium Middle will be left without a principal if Griffith is approved for the move to SHS. Vogel said the school board will advertise to fill the position.

Congressman Feeney visits Winter Springs

WINTER SPRINGS — Congressman Tom Feeney held a Town Hall Meeting in Winter Springs on Tuesday to discuss his views and to answer the questions of his constituents.

Feeney, born in Philadelphia, graduated from Penn State University in 1980 with a bachelor's degree in political science. He went to law school at the University of Pittsburgh, where he obtained his law degree in 1983. After beginning as a legislator, Feeney worked his way up the political ladder to become a congressman in 2002.

Feeney began the meeting by giving an overview of his opinions on the important issues that face America today.

"I want to answer the question," Feeney began. "What's Tom Feeney been doing in Washington besides...whatever congressmen do in Washington?"

Feeney

He began with the war in Iraq, of which he is a proponent, stating that the preemptive strike was the only way to deal with this new threat.

"This is World War IV in my book," Feeney stated. "It's a whole new world."

Feeney then moved on to economics and education. He supports President Bush's tax cuts because of their "stimulative effect." Feeney realizes that the American public education system has problems. "Education is primarily for families, localities and school boards," he stated. "Look at the Washington, D.C. school system. You don't want Washington politicians deciding what's good for your child."

The next item on Feeney's agenda was the space program. The president's recent challenge, Feeney believes, will give NASA the grand vision it has been lacking.

"I believe we have an obligation to lead the world in

Iraqi Diary: I've been shot! Maybe I should explain

Editor's note: Staff Sgt. Charlie C. Carlson III, son of Sanford historian Charlie C. Carlson II, is deployed in Baghdad as part of the 549th Military Police Company. He is providing the Herald with a journal of his experiences.

11 Jan. 2004 I was shot several times the other night. I wasn't wearing my body armor. It was hilarious fun, and I want to do it again. Maybe I better explain.

Lately several of the soldiers from 1st platoon and the medic section have been engaged in a "war" here at Camp Marlboro.

We bought some little plastic guns from the Iraqi kids down by the guard towers. The toy guns shoot these little plastic BB size pellets. Every so often one of the medics would sneak into the 1st platoon's territory and the battle was on. This usually took place at night in the warehouse where we live.

It was fun while it lasted, but a stop has been put to this fun resulting in a big truce. We now have a whole bunch of plastic toy guns that everybody is taking apart to see what makes them work.

I thought it was good for morale, but they say we can't be playing war with toy pistols. How ironic. They would rather have us shoot people with real guns but don't want us playing war with plastic toy pistols because "we might get hurt."

Today, we cooked some more soup on our fire pit outside with a mixture of rice, beans, sausage and some spices. We've even used some of the food items that came in the care package boxes to add to our outside cooking. We don't have to cook outside on a fire pit, as we do have a mess hall, but it is just fun to do it.

On Friday, we went on patrol and I stopped by one of the Iraqi police stations to check on things and the commander of the station was complaining that his IPF [policemen] did not have any beds to sleep on at the station.

He showed me where they had been sleeping on a heaping pile of counterfeit money. It was all smashed
