

Stolen Medals

The story of the man who stole a quarter out of his church's collection plate has been equalled, if not exceeded, by the report of last week which stated that vandals had looted the trophy room of the Memorial of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington Cemetery near Washington of nine medals worth several thousand dollars.

The medals, all of which have been received since dedication of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, were kept in a glass-enclosed case on the second floor of the trophy room. The opening of the case and removal of the medals had been carefully done in order to smooth over all traces of the theft until an actual check was made.

The medals, which are said to be very valuable since many of them were of gold had been especially cast for presentation in memory of the Unknown Soldier and are easily traceable, authorities agreed, due to the individual wording and design.

Among the organizations whose medals were removed are:

- The National Auxiliary United Spanish War Veterans.
- Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution.
- Disabled American Veterans of the World War.
- Department of Union Veterans of the Civil War.
- Daughters of the Loyal Legion of the United States of America.
- National Society of New England Women.
- Descendants of Signers of the Declaration of Independence.
- Gold Medal Caroll Romanian Down At Virtute Militar.
- Gold Medal Fideic (Federation Internallie des Anciens Combattants).

The trophy is constantly patrolled from sunrise to sunset by an armed sentry, but he is out of sight of the amphitheater corridor where the medals are displayed.

Unwanted Babies

More than 24,000 dead bodies of infants were picked up on the streets of Shanghai last year and the newspapers took slight notice of the fact because it was considered too common place to have news value, says the Literary Digest in a recent issue.

"It happens every year in this great Chinese city," the Digest says, "and although the exact number of little victims has varied it has always been in the tens of thousands. A similar infant mortality has been found throughout most of China, according to The People's Tribune of Shanghai, which claimed that deaths of new-born children have been estimated to run into the millions annually. The great bulk of these babies, according to this organ of the Kuomintang or Nationalist party, representing the Chinese National Government, were exposed to die by parents unable to provide for them."

"Birth control has been opposed by certain 'scholarly' elements in China, The People's Tribune noted at the same time as it declared that Chinese women of education feel differently and resent the attitude of the old-fashioned male scholar that women exist merely to bear children and perform domestic service. What is more, women physicians and nurses know, said this Shanghai review, just as intelligent men know, that the 24,000 dead babies found in the streets of Shanghai in 1933 did not represent the total of unwanted babies; but only the number that survived the 'terrible attempts' which 'ignorant and poverty-stricken Chinese motherhood' must resort to in lieu of other methods of family limitation."

IN LESS THAN a year 600 daily newspapers in Germany have been swept out of existence by Nazi rule, and the reading public has been compelled to change the habits of a lifetime. Heretofore the German citizen might read from two to a half dozen newspapers daily, thus familiarizing himself with the contentions of the various political parties and also to find matter of special interest. Now he reads one of the propaganda sheets issued under the Hitler censorship. That this stuff is not appetizing is shown by the fact that even the leading newspapers, owned by Hitler or his Minister of Public Enlightenment, the good Doctor Goebbels, possess fewer than 400,000 circulation each, though the Nazi party includes 15 million people. In 1931 the 24 daily newspapers of the city of Berlin, alone, had a combined circulation in excess of 2,200,000. Germany was once rich in advertising service; today this department of its commercial life is a wreck. The writing profession and the printing craft have been fairly riddled by Nazism. But, more seriously, what has happened to the German public mind can only be imagined.—Editor and Publisher.

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

Osborn Herndon is sporting a new Hudson touring car. Herndon is a prominent citizen of Sanford, Fla. He is the son of the late Hon. Joe Sears of Jacksonville. He was in the city on Wednesday of this week calling on his many friends and formally announcing his candidacy for Congress from the Fourth District. Mr. Sears is very popular in this section and will carry a large vote on election day.

Miss Nellie Evans, who has been visiting her brother, C. H. Evans, and his family of Manatee, was in the city Wednesday, shopping and visiting her many Sanford friends.

GIRL FLIER RAFE RIO DE JANEIRO, Mar. 27 (AP)—Pan-American Airways reports yesterday that Laura Ingalls, United States flier, had arrived at Porto Alegre after a 200-mile flight from Buenos Aires which she left yesterday morning. She expects to fly to Rio de Janeiro today on her return trip to the United States.

W. M. Colbert and Miss Mary W. Hunter were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 8:00 o'clock at the Congregational church with the Rev. Stream officiating. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left on a honeymoon tour for Tampa where they will be joined by Mrs. W. M. Colbert, the daughter of J. W. Hunter, a prominent grocer and president of the Wood Club. The

Chapman, Lee, Meisch Elected To Control Body

B. Dighton of Sanford. Mr. Meisch was elected, unanimously, as the representative of growers on what is known as the "West Side," while Mr. Symes was elected as Mr. Meisch's alternate. Nominations were made from the floor.

Mr. Chapman was elected, by secret ballot in which he polled 42 votes as against 23 votes polled by Mr. Dorrer, as representative of "East Side" growers. Mr. Dorrer was elected as alternate to Mr. Chapman.

Mr. Lee was elected by rising vote in which he polled 44 votes against 11 votes polled by James Wilson of Chuluota.

Election of Mr. Partin as Mr. Lee's alternate came by secret ballot in which Mr. Partin polled 47 votes, C. W. Morgan polled nine votes, and Mr. Wilson polled eight votes.

Mr. Dighton, presiding over the meeting after he had been selected by unanimous vote from the floor, explained that the principal purpose of the meeting was the selection of three grower-members to represent the Sanford-Oviedo section on the control committee if and when the agreement is signed by Secretary Wallace, and on the temporary control committee pending approval by Secretary Wallace.

He pointed out that the meeting was primarily a grower's meeting, and that due notice had been given through the press and by other means, in an effort to attract every celery grower in an area which included Sanford, Oviedo, Winter Garden, Titusville, and Avon Park.

He also stated that in any balloting which might arise during the evening only those persons who were growers would be permitted a vote. Grower-shippers are to have no official voice in elections, although their views and the views of any person in the audience, were solicited in the interest of insuring at a comprehensive discussion of the agreement, he stated.

At the start of the meeting only the Sanford and Oviedo sections were represented by growers. Oviedo representatives arrived late in the meeting, while none represented themselves as being from Winter Garden, Titusville, or Avon Park.

Mr. Dighton introduced as a guest speaker, Mr. Raoul of Bradenton, whom he called upon to explain what he understood to be the agreement since the public hearing in Lakeland on Mar. 5.

Mr. Raoul's first words were in compliment to Department of Agriculture officials at Washington, from which city he had just returned with Mr. Dighton after a conference in relation to the agreement.

"The government through its agents is really trying to be fair to every grower," Mr. Raoul explained in stating that every word of testimony and every criticism either by opponents or proponents of the agreement, was read carefully and impartially, with a view toward adequate protection for all persons involved.

Mr. Raoul stated that there are three principal changes in the agreement as it now reads.

The first important change made at Washington he said, is that the agreement is to be terminated on or before July 1, 1935.

The second change refers to the service charge which a shipper, excepting a grower's association which operates on a strictly non-profit co-operative basis, shall ask of any grower.

The third change provides that no celery left standing in fields under any protection order shall ever reach regular trade channels.

Mr. Raoul explained again that the control committee shall be composed of seven growers and seven shippers. Five of the shippers, he said, were to be representatives of the five Florida organizations which shipped 600 or more cars of celery last season.

He named these organizations as Sanford-Oviedo Truck Growers, Inc., American Fruit Growers, Inc., Chase and Co., Manatee County Growers Association, and the Palm Bay Packing Corporation at Sarasota.

One shipper in the Sanford-Oviedo section and one shipper in the Manatee-Sarasota section shall be selected by majority ballot, he stated.

THE REAL DRIVER

Within recent years automobile traffic on streets and highways has increased tremendously. Every motorist were permitted to drive as he pleased, serious accidents and utter confusion would result. Traffic regulations, signals and signs were devised for the benefit of the majority, to protect each individual. They are useless unless obeyed.

lot, he stated, cast by representatives of shipping organizations which handled less than 500 cars last season.

Mr. Raoul pointed out that no shipper can be represented upon the committee unless he sign the agreement.

As to growers, Mr. Raoul pointed out that the Sanford-Oviedo district was to elect three grower-members of the committee; the Manatee section was to elect two grower-members, and the Sarasota section was to elect two grower-members.

Mr. Raoul gave as a reason why the Sanford-Oviedo district was granted three grower-members. "We thought that you growers might elect two men from Sanford and one from Oviedo, the Sanford men to come, one from the East Side and one from the West Side."

However, he pointed out, the manner and method of electing representatives is a responsibility of the growers alone. "Although the Oviedo section has indicated that it is not interested," he stated, "I feel it my duty to tell you that we had in mind that you, as a grower, from that section."

Mr. Dighton stated that although it might not be a successful slogan, he was of the opinion that the "underlying element behind this agreement is that what we ship is bringing a loss—then the control committee can declare that an emergency exists and curtail shipments."

"At first blush," Mr. Dighton stated, "this may seem as a sacrifice that is about to be made, but actually it isn't because what you growers do ship returns you a loss, so there is no sacrifice involved."

He also expressed the opinion that as a result of his association with the agreement "I believe that there is no intention on the part of the Department of Agriculture at Washington to handle the agreement for us in any way cause us any hardship."

Steps leading to the election of the grower-members of the committee were set in motion after Mr. Dighton's short talk when Mr. Chapman moved that the growers present nominate and elect a member and alternate from each of the East Side, the West Side, and the Oviedo district.

Mr. Chapman referred to his motion with a reference to the Oviedo growers. "It seems," he stated, "that the people in Oviedo think that we are trying to force something down their throats. I regret that this impression has gained ground. It may be that because they have had three or four successful seasons, they are not down to rock bottom as we are and therefore they are unable to grasp the need for the agreement. My personal opinion is, however, that the opposition has worked that area pretty well, and the work is evidenced in the green attitude."

"I think, however, that we ought to elect a representative from that area," Mr. Chapman said, "My idea being that we should express to our Oviedo friends the idea that we are not trying to ram things down their throats. We are just pushing the thing along because we know what we need."

Mr. Schmal of Lake Monroe covered the motion with the objection that "this would eliminate some men in Sanford who worked hard to get this agreement over."

Mr. Dorrer, coming forward with a petition in his hands, stated to be said, "Growers are very reluctant to say that they are not interested in Oviedo. I speak an afternoon at Oviedo on Monday, and talked with dozens of the growers, but not one of them would sign. This pe-

Eddie Cantor Opens At Milane In New Movie

Eddie Cantor in "Roman Scandals" comes to the Milane Theatre today. This is the pop-eyed comic's fourth annual screen musical comedy for Samuel Goldwyn.

Ruth Etting, Gloria Stuart, David Manners, Edward Arnold and Verne Treadwell are his companions as he frolics among the gorgeous slave girls gathered for the pleasure of a Caesar; in and out of prison dungeons or flying over dusty roads at the reins of a thundering chariot, with lives at stake.

to forestalling a strike in the industry, Nicholas Kelley, attorney for the Chrysler Corporation, and Richard L. Byrd, employe of General Motors at Pontiac, Mich.

Kelley is the industry's representative, Byrd the workers. The first meeting was held today at Detroit.

The Senate Labor Committee on the hearings on the Wagner labor board bill, yesterday heard from a spokesman for the National Association of Manufacturers, James E. Emery, a suggestion that a tribunal of non-partisan character be set up to settle disputes. He proposed this as a substitute for the National Labor Board which the bill would equip with definite legal powers.

Sanford Women's Club Honors National President Al Perrydell

Ranking high in importance among events of the club year, was the informal reception and luncheon given yesterday morning and afternoon at Perrydell in Orlando by the members of the Sanford Women's Club in honor of Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole of Washington, D. C., president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs. Sharing honors with Mrs. Poole was Mrs. E. M. Shearer of Orlando, newly elected president of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs.

Immediately after the arrival of the members of the Sanford club they were ushered into the library of Perrydell where Mrs. Poole talked to them informally for a short time. In explaining some of the work of the national federation she urged that the women contribute to the foundation fund which is planned to bear expenses of extension work.

Mrs. Poole said that the general federation is the only one of its kind in the world, has a membership of 2,000,000 and participates in over 127 kinds of activities. The only source of revenue which the organization has is 10c from each woman's club member every year.

Industry Can't Absorb Jobless, Claims Biddle

lief came during exercises aboard the Navy hospital ship Mercy, anchored in the back channel at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. The vessel was turned over to the Philadelphia County Relief Board to house 500 homeless men.

"Whether we like it or not," declared Mr. Biddle, "relief measures are with us for many years to come. Don't be deluded into thinking relief will be over in a few weeks."

The Administration in Washington is motivated by a feeling that recovery is just around the corner. Therefore, relief measures, such as the CWA, have been cut down. For a few weeks 4,000,000 unemployed men were taken care of by the government, but this was only long enough to give them a taste of security.

"The government, in cutting down on its relief program, is assuming that industry can absorb the huge numbers of unemployed and the local relief agencies can take care of them. Well, you know the state of finances in the city of Philadelphia. There will be just as many people on the relief rolls here a year from now."

"You know the state's borrowing capacity is limited, and to increase that borrowing power it would be necessary to pass a constitutional amendment that would take five years."

"I anticipate that we shall soon see in this state considerable controversy about which agency is going to pay for relief."

"Don't let people tell you that relief is a temporary problem."
