ELECTION GERMANY TO APRIL 26TH

Yesterday's Returns
Show None of The 7
Candidates Received
Required Majority

Socialists Were
Greatest Gainers

Apr. 26 Candidate
Polling Most Votes
Will Be Elected

WIN, Mar. 30.—The elections in Germany announced this morning that none of the seven candidates received a majority, making a second round necessary. The second day is fixed for April 26. On this occasion, the candidate having the highest number of votes will be declared elect-greatest gainers in the election. The Socialists received the most votes of the expense of the Communist party. A shooting affair at a meeting, were the Communist returns in the presidential election

Sunday at midnight
between the Liberal represented by Otto Braun,
former Chancellor Marx,
and Dr. Brüning, Democratic leader. The joint vote polled by the Socialist and Communist party, Dr. Brüning, was the highest in the final count. Dr. Brüning will poll the most votes, but his showings are viewed as insignificant as he represents a moderate and conservative policy in Germany, and has received active support from the middle and upper classes of the nation.

standing feature of the election is the substantial gains made by the Socialist party.
The individual party in Germany returns from Berlin, Hamburg, Breslau, and other cities showed a heavy loss of votes in the election. The Socialist party
maintained his position.

Weather is Good
The weather seemed to have a beneficial effect on the voters. The day in excelsis, rather than the gloomy atmosphere of the previous days, was much lower than in previous elections.

COOLIDGE RELIES UPON HOUSE FOR PARTY POLICIES

President Abandons Hope In Senate and Looks to House Alone for Support Establishing
New Party Formula

WASHINGTON, Mar. 30.—With the senate a total loss, politically, President Coolidge is relying upon the house of representatives, under the leadership of Speaker Longworth and Floor Leader Tilson, of Connecticut, to establish the Republican policies with which the administration will go to the country in the congressional elections in 1926.

Political conferences which have been going on during the past few weeks among administration leaders have reached the conclusion that in the house alone is to be found the nucleus of support which will enable the president to establish a new party formula.

SANFORD BUILT AT ASHEVILLE

To Open New Suburban
Residence District
Which Will Be Held
Open To Floridians

Will Build Golf
Course And Lake

Purchase Is End Of Negotiations That Began Last August

Consummation of the sale of a 1,500-acre tract of land in Swiss Valley, 15 miles from Asheville, N. C., by a trio of Sanford capitalists for the purpose of promoting a Floridian colony, was announced today by Col. George W.
Knight, president of the Sanford Loan and Mortgage Co.

The property was purchased late last week by Edward Higgins, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Dr. Samuel Johnston and Col. Knight. Following negotiations of six months, the opening of a new suburban residential section, to be settled almost wholly by residents of Florida, is planned by the local men. Erection of a club house, the construction of a golf course and building of a 50-acre lake are the initial developments proposed by the investors.

Purchase of the North Carolina property terminated negotiations opened last August when the trio of Sanford residents spent several weeks in Asheville, on pleasure trips, according to Col. Knight.
"It is probable that several other Floridians will be taken into the investment at a later date," Col.
Knight stated today. "The site is considered ideal for the opening of a suburban residential section and its popularity as a colony for residents of Florida should be established soon after the construction program is completed."

Several hundred thousand dollars are involved in the purchase of the tract of land, and the developments contemplated, it was stated. Swiss Valley lies alongside the National Highway between Asheville and Canton. The platting of the Swiss Valley tract will be started as soon as possible to enable the owners to offer for sale the lots. A 30-foot dam will be built for lake purposes on a nearby creek. There are many springs near the location from which to supply an abundance of cold spring water at all seasons of the year.

H. G. Stone, real estate dealer of Waynesville, N. C., has been placed in charge of the sales force.

LIMIT OF ALTITUDE HAS BEEN REACHED

Sum of Speed at Which Change of Direction Can Be Made Already Has Been Reached

Air Experts State That 40,000 Feet Height Limit

French Hold Height Record of 39,586 Feet and Speed Record of 278 Miles Per Hour

WASHINGTON, Mar. 27.—Flight surgeons of the army air service believe that man has about reached the maximum flying speed at which he can suddenly change direction, owing to the centrifugal force exerted on the body and its effect on the blood. This speed is placed in the vicinity of 250 miles an hour. The limit of speed on a straightaway course, they say, probably is placed much higher than is now mechanically possible, but experience will have to settle the actual figure. The height limit, they add, is around 45,000 feet.

This contention regarding the maximum speed for turning, the flight surgeons point out, is predicated upon the experience of Lieutenant Alvin J. Williams of the navy, at the Pulitzer air races at St. Louis in October, 1923, who said he became practically unconscious at the turns of the triangular course, when he rounded at 23.07 miles an hour.

The flyer at the turn banks his craft at right angles, the centrifugal force acting at right angles to the new direction of travel and the blood being carried away from the head toward the stomach, and probably even into the legs, causes faintness and possibly unconsciousness. Blood circulation quickly adjusts itself, the flight surgeons say, and the direction of centrifugal force is rapidly changed, although at turns at very high speeds airplanes, brain injury or rupture of a vital blood vessel might result.

It is folly, he declared, "to keep on increasing our citrus fruit acreage and garden acreage if the price of the products of the fields and garden to the consumer is beyond the reach of his purse."

Gov. Martin said there should be provision for an industrial survey of Florida, by the state, to determine her natural resources which have never been explored and consequently with few exceptions exploited; and after the state's resources are known steps should be taken to tell the world about them. This, he thought, should be done by the state itself because "advertising on the authority of the state would give the story a force and prestige that can not be otherwise obtained, altho chambers of commerce, municipalities, corporations and individuals are expending thousands of dollars annually for this purpose with gratifying results."

Modern, Beautiful School Building

HOLLYWOOD

By - the - Sea
Florida's Year-Round Resort City

Pictured above is the new school building just completed at HOLLYWOOD BY-THE-SEA. Architecturally beautiful, and standing in commodious school grounds, it represents the educational ideals of that city. The builders of Hollywood By-the-Sea believe that in the proper education of the child much of the future strength of that city rests. The school building has ten large rooms, well lighted and ventilated—everything making for the health of the child—mentally and physically. The building is of characteristic Spanish architecture, the grounds are sufficiently large for proper beautification—all blending with the splendors of the school building—and for outdoors recreational facilities. The school has provisions for all grades. Its capacity is ample for the present, but there is room for growth as the number of pupils increase. A high school is, of course, in Hollywood's educational plans. The school makes By-the-Sea an ideal place for the education of children—perhaps the greatest essential to modern home life. Yet the school is but one unit of many that induces home-owning in Hollywood By-the-Sea, the miracle city of Florida—the city that in three years has built its hotels, streets and boulevards, public utilities, apartments, business houses, and the wide and diversified development in the Beach and Lakes sections. Hollywood By-the-Sea is generally proclaimed to be Florida's greatest development.

Thought for Today

They have wings:—Lament to be rich; cease from vain wisdom. For riches make themselves wings; they away. Proverbs 23:4-5.

Women in Business

Many years I'd worked and worked always on the square; but, "Now sexes equal are, really must be fair."

Man's wife I left behind, set to with a vim, reamed how soon the boss would take in the firm with him.

Red most conscientiously never once complained the boss, the staff, the work, now my poor head pained.

Came a day I noticed that I wasn't getting far, my ladder; lingered yet at the bottom bar.

I went, a new job found, re at the boss I smiled; I work much, I'll admit, was so coy and mild.

So I did, and rapidly, and soon became, and did more than work e'er could.

Very long before, boss asked me to wed, I'll relieve a sigh I sighed, gently "yes" I said.

It pays to be honest and hard.—New York Evening

No Time to Sleep

Rumors have recurrently brought the matter to the attention of The Herald that forces are at work in the city endeavoring to influence the State Road Department to bring the Dixie Highway down the lake front boulevard and out French Avenue. Ordinarily we do not take much stock in rumors, but there seems to be some basis of fact in this case, and the result of the attempt, if successful, would be so disastrous to the city that we feel we must warn the people.

Scarcely can we conceive why any citizen, or group of citizens, of Sanford would be so selfish, nearsighted, or have the interest of the city so little at heart as to encourage through traffic to avoid the business district entirely. Yet such seems to be the case. It is said that a certain syndicate has purchased considerable property on the lakefront for the sole purpose of declining a right of way through for the boulevard, thus to divert traffic to French Avenue.

The result of such procedure, if successful, would be ruinous to Sanford. Northern motorists on their way to Orlando, Tampa, or St. Petersburg, would drive down the boulevard to French Avenue, where it is "rumored" it will be necessary to swing the boulevard away from the lake around a certain piece of property. Consequently through traffic would not resume the boulevard, but would continue straight out French Avenue, and later when arriving in Orlando, Tampa or St. Petersburg, tourists would say, "Why, yes, we came through Sanford, but we didn't see anything but a railroad crossing and a couple of arches."

It goes without saying that such free publicity would scarcely react beneficially to this community. It would be decidedly more desirable to have them say, "Yes, we came through Sanford. We drove down their beautiful boulevard, right along the lake, as far as Park Avenue. There we turned to the right and drove past their new city hall, the court house and the magnificent Masonic Temple. We drove several blocks east on First Street and must confess that they have a most attractive business district. There are a number of tall buildings, of modern construction, which certainly indicate financial backing there. We were especially pleased by the attractive windows the merchants display. These induced us to stop and make a few purchases, where we found exactly what we had been looking for ever since we left home."

Such advertising would be of inestimable value to Sanford, and it is advertising which Sanford must have. If an attempt is being made to make French Avenue a part of the Dixie Highway, it is a most insidious attempt, and should be combated by every means available, by every man, woman and child in Sanford who has the interest of this city at heart and who is looking to its future welfare and development.

"I Don't Know"

During the recent war men in the training camps were urged not to hesitate to say, "I don't know," if they did not know. It was found that in too many instances men striving for promotion or desiring to make a good impression upon superior officers would often say, "I understand," when orders were given them, when they really did not know at all what was actually wanted of them.

It is certainly considerably better to say, "I don't know" and demand a little further explanation, than to appear to understand perfectly what is wanted and then go ahead and ball things up through imperfect understanding. During the last political campaign Teddy Roosevelt Junior was continually criticized for saying, "I don't know." Yet it takes a great deal more of a man in his position to say that than to bluff as all of us are capable of doing and most of us do.

The Palm Beach Post has compiled a list of definitions for the phrase, "I don't know," which shows infinite wisdom on the part of the editor. Read them over and then analyze each one carefully and see just what it means to you.

"I DON'T KNOW"

- Is the hardest admission some of us ever make.
—Is an answer a truly educated man is not ashamed of.
—Is no excuse for not trying to know.
—Is sometimes a mark of intellectual laziness.
—Is the best reply we can make when in doubt.
—May be a confession, an evasion, a tragedy or a defense.
—On the lips of an egotist is the beginning of wisdom.

Florida For All, and All For Florida

ST. PETERSBURG TIMES

The City is full of visitors from all parts of the state as the annual migration at the close of the season is taking place. From the east coast they go to the west coast, from the west to the east and from the highlands to the coast.

So every section of Florida is saving an opportunity to show the Florida spirit to these investigators. This presents an excellent opportunity to impress upon the stranger the facts that the true lover of Florida is boosting the entire state and interested in the development of every section of it.

The nation is made up of individuals whose tastes and ideas differ. No two people get the same impression from the same sight, so the appeal of one section of this state of diversified conditions may not meet the approval of another. Why then attempt to argue someone into agreeing that his section of the state is far superior to every other. Every locality has advantages and disadvantages, which either deter or attract, depending entirely upon the tastes of the individual.

Florida offers a diversified field of opportunities in every line of endeavor and the newcomer may start either from the raw undeveloped pioneering of virgin land or establish himself in a modern city to date city. Between these extremes there are degrees of civ-

As Brisbane Sees It

So They Put Them Down. That "Genuine" Scotch. Good Health, Mr. Baker. Chapman, Arch Criminal. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1934)

THE LITTLE stocks dropped yesterday, and the Stock Exchange reminded you of the Dorchouse's watch at the Mad Hatter's tea party. Nothing seemed to please it.

One of the Wabash stocks that have bankrupted many a man solemnly declared a five per cent dividend. And prices broke worse than ever.

"All right," say the big fellows, "if we can't put them UP, we'll put them DOWN." So they put them down. They know how to make money both ways. You DON'T; that's why you shouldn't gamble.

ARE YOU buying some of the "genuine Scotch" now peddled and storing it inside your mucous membrane?

Seventeen manufacturers of "Scotch" whiskey have been arrested in Germany. They had copied Scotch bottles and labels perfectly. Heaven knows what the whiskey is like.

The German government arrested them for imitating British trade marks and interfering with British bootleg profits among the Yankees.

GEORGE F. BAKER, one of the four richest men in the world, Henry Ford, Rockefeller and Mellon being the other three, celebrates his eighty-fifth birthday today.

To live, eighty-five years, is nothing. Millions do it. Turtles live four hundred years, and whales even longer.

MR. BAKER interests you because, at eighty-five, he is actually doing the work of ten men.

He is the ruling power, absolute czar in dozens of the nation's biggest railroad and industrial enterprises. One little item in his daily routine, for instance, is control of the great railroad system built up by the old working Vanderbilts. To be able to do that work at eighty-five means something.

SPEECHES in the House of Commons and the House of Lords will go out "on the air" for all of Great Britain to hear by radio. The appropriate remark would be: "This solves the lifetime story problem and will put all England to sleep. The fact is that the best speeches in the English language are made in the House of Commons, where they fight things out on the floor, instead of "trading" them out in committee rooms, as we do here.

THE MURDER trial now absorbing the American intellect is that of Chapman, romantically described as the "arch criminal and brigand."

What would interest civilization in this case, if there were any civilization to be interested, is the history back of this criminal. He began in crime an underdog, underdog, mentally and physically starved little Irish boy. When they caught him in his first theft, they sent him to the university of crime, which is the prison.

In one penitentiary and then another he took post-graduate courses. His present notoriety is the result.

With a decent chance in life, the energetic, desperate courage and resourcefulness that now frighten the police, and cause them to keep this criminal heavily chained, might have made a useful and successful man of him. The same steel can be made into a plow or a dagger.

THE FRENCH are cheerful, and the English exultant, over the excellent prospect of reaching an agreement on security among nations. Austen Chamberlain's speech seems to have started something in the right direction.

BUT THE French are worried about their constantly falling birth rate. Last year new French babies outnumbered French deaths by only 72,216. The year before the increase was 95,000.

AS FAR as safety goes, however France needn't worry. The millions that used to be needed for "cannon fodder" are needed no longer. Great caterpillar-like armies of crawling infantry will be replaced by a few thousand fighters in the air. Fifty such men as the great Geynere could demoralize an army of a million, and kill one-third of it.

A LADY of Spokane demands a divorce because her husband, at breakfast, milked a goat directly into his cup of coffee. He keeps the goat in the house. The lady declares that such "table manners" could not be endured by any person of refinement.

THE WEALTH of this country is now figured at $330,000,000,000, which means three hundred and thirty times one thousand million dollars. That amounts to only $2,000 for each inhabitant which is, of course, ridiculously little. The population would bring more than that if all the people could be sold as slaves, at their fair value as money earners.

PASSIVE RESISTANCE

MACON TELEGRAPH

The Passive Resistance movement in India, headed by Gandhi, has reached such large proportions that it is a matter of interest to the whole world. It was said a few years ago that Gandhi's name would soon be upon the lips of the human race. Now his name is not only the best known and most honored of any name in India, but it is one of the best known and most respected names of the world.

In the new edition of Gandhi's famous book, "Sermon on the Sea," he says that he is far more interested in "non-violence" than he is in a non-co-operation with English governmental officials. He defines non-violence as the kind of rule he is seeking for the members of his own race and for the whole of India, as "self-rule and self-control."

DARWIN REPEALED BY STATUTE

LOUISVILLE COURIER JOURNAL

The Governor of Tennessee has signed a bill passed by the Legislature at Nashville prohibiting the teaching of the theory of evolution in the public schools of Tennessee.

With a few pen-strokes, the Chief Magistrate of an American Commonwealth answers the fifty-year-old question, "How can or theodicy refute the teachings of Darwin?" The answer is a simple one. It consists of two words—"By statute."

Perhaps the Tennessee Governor has forgotten that Galileo was denounced as "an upstart astrologer, who strives to show that the earth revolves" by none other than Martin Luther, or that Luther ever added his opposition to Galileo's finding that Galileo was "a fool who wishes to reverse the entire system of astronomy."

Bacon was another member of this martyr-band of truth-seekers. He had an idea that the rainbow, instead of being accounted for on the theory that it was "a sign in the Heavens" might be readily explained by simple and easily understood natural laws.

time in a grave along the Potomac.
Lieutenant Baker of the Potomac
Service, who had often seen Booth, and his men were watching the fugitive. When he crossed the river he was suspected and chased to the Garrett farm.
"Baker and his men surrounded the house and after some parley they ascertained that Booth and Herold were in the barn. They demanded several times that he come out. Colonel Conger's men were surrounding the barn. They threatened to set fire to the barn and Herold emerged and surrendered.
Booth refused, saying he would die in the last ditch. The barn was set afire.
"Boston Corbett, a sergeant, saw Booth through a crack and disobeying orders, shot him. He was brought out by Conger's men and died in three hours. His body was brought to Washington and identified by various men who knew Booth. One, Dr. John F. May, identified the body by an ugly wound on the neck, from an operation performed some time before.

Against his physician's advice,
Booth insisted on acting, and resulted in the wound, which healed badly.
"Booth was buried under a false name in an accurate, detailed report made of position and condition as required. Later Edwin Booth, actor-brother of the slayer, obtained an order, allowing him to see the body, hoping that a mistake had been made. He viewed the body and identified it as that of his brother. He also called in dentists who identified fillings in the teeth of the body, which made identification positive.
Edwin Booth claimed the body and buried it in the family burying ground at Baltimore in an unmarked grave."

"John Wilkes Booth eluded his pursuers for 11 days. He was fed

A Pair of Sport Kings

Tilden is showing Walter some of the fine points of the net pastime, which Hagen seems greatly interested in learning.

Mickey Walker Says Dempsey Now Is In Condition For Championship Bout

NEW YORK, Mar. 30.—Mickey Walker report on Dempsey makes it certain that Dempsey at least expects to fight again. The welterweight champion has been at work in Dempsey's new gymnasium in Los Angeles, and he tells me that the heavyweight king is his own best customer.
"Jack works as hard as any heavyweight preparing for a title bout," said Mickey today.
"He is as fit as a man could be without actual ring work. Dempsey isn't a fellow who allows himself to take on weight, and it has been his custom to keep fit by a systematic application of a few simple rules of being in the pink. Dempsey will need work, of course. Any man who fights as seldom as he does needs real hard fighting to bring himself up to battle to importance, yet he is ready right now to start on intensive spell of training. I've come to the conclusion that I can whip any man in the world except little Johnny Dempsey. My only regret is that I can't take up that row. Why, I wouldn't even box with him out there. Dempsey doesn't know what easy hitting means, and I need my brains just now," said Mickey with a wink.
Pepper Martin, that eccentric child of the ring comes back to the fold Tuesday night for the first time since his unfortunate fracas with Mike Ballerino, in which he was severely injured.

Martin is to meet Joe Celmiers in a twelve-round affair at the Pioneer Sporting club. Both have faced Ballerino, Joe going ten rounds to no decision and Pepper winding up in a hospital two months ago because of the alleged foul blow.
Pepper has a new manager, Big Jim Drum, who is holding Pepper to a chalk mark, one of the few who have ever been able to keep a halter on this great little warrior with any degree of success.
Martin might have been champion of the world at the 130 pound limit had he been held in check before this. There's no use beating about the bush in Pepper's case. He has belittled training and the other fellows prowess at times to his sorrow.
Martin can fight like a blue streak when he is fit. He has been a handicap horse most of his career. When he was at the height of his success around Boston it was no unusual thing for him to face and knock out welterweights, though he was hardly more than a bantam himself. He is a hard hitter, is game and one of the best showmen in the ring.

Gibbons To Meet Either Tunney Or Harry Wills Soon

CHICAGO, Mar. 30.—Eddie Kane, manager of Tommy Gibbons, left tonight for New York to close a match with either Gene Tunney, light heavyweight champion, or Harry Wills, negro challenger for Jack Dempsey's heavyweight crown, to be decided in New York within the next three months. Unless something unexpected happens, Kane expects to sign for the bout not later than Tuesday.

The manager of the St. Paul heavyweight was accompanied by Jimmie DeForest, matchmaker for the Polo Ground A. C., New York, who is bidding for a match between Gibbons and Tunney.

If Gibbons elects to box Tunney, the contest will be decided at the Polo Grounds, New York, June 12. If he chooses to meet Wills the bout will feature the milk fund program to be decided in the Yankee stadium May 28. Kane said he had promised the milk fund promoters first call on Gibbons services, and if they can get Wills to sign articles the match will be closed at once.

Kane said he was satisfied with the terms that both clubs had offered him, which means that he has accepted the percentage of 30 per cent for Gibbons to meet Tunney. It is not known, however, what term were offered him to box Wills. Before DeForest left for the East, he had obtained Gibbons' Tunney will receive 20 per cent of the gate which DeForest expects to be between $400,000 and $500,000.

Florida Is Praised By Judge Landis As A Training Ground

JACKSONVILLE, Mar. 30.—Judge Kennesaw Mountain Landis, high commissioner of the baseball world, is a visitor in Jacksonville, stopping, with Mrs. Landis, at the Windsor hotel.

The noted visitor is on his way north from the southern part of the state, where he has been spending some weeks visiting the various ball teams in training throughout Florida, of which there are more than 20.

Judge Landis thinks this state is the ideal place for training, and speaks enthusiastically of the climate and weather conditions that enable the teams to train from week to week without a day's interruption.

"Florida is at the threshold of a very great development. She has already done wonders, but I do not believe the half has been told. The entire country is interested in the strides that are being made along the road of progress, and you people have the greatest opportunity the world ever saw of making a great state to order," was said.

The speaker said that a little patience and wisdom combined was necessary for the final completion of the picture, and that many a beautiful canvas has been spoiled by too restricted ideas.

"This is the country's playground. They come here to play and have a good time. Remember these things, you who are at the helm of the state, and use a little latitude. Provide a measure of the things they want, without running riot, and you will be astonished to see the wonderful results.

"Believe the state is one of the greatest places in the world to recuperate. It is no wonder, therefore, that all the teams want to come here for training. I want to come myself, and I want them where I can keep an eye on them. Thus we will all be satisfied, said the visitor.
