Suit filed in child's death

SANFORD — The parents of a 11-year old boy killed in October by a run away trailer while he waited at a school bus stop have filed a damage suit against the driver, his supervisors and the employer.

Sandra Carson and Kenneth Millhouse filed the suit as the result of their son Jeremy's death last fall. The boy was one of 12 children at a bus stop outside the Hills of Lake Mary subdivision when a trailer being pulled by James Garner unhooked from his truck and struck the group. Jeremy died of his injuries and two other boys were scriously injured.

The suit was filed against Garner, Allan Hall a supervisor at Garrison Farms, Carl Reeser and Joseph A. Garrison and the garden company.

The suit claims Garner should not have been hired by the company due to his past driving record. The parents claim the trailer was not roadworthy and not secured by a chain as required by law. Hall should not have released the trailer to Garner, the suit claims. The parents also allege Reeser and Garrison should have known the trailer was unsafe.

Each count of the suit seeks unspecified damages over $15,000 as compensation for medical and funeral expenses, "extreme mental pain and anguish," and loss of companionship.

Teacher charged: 33 counts of sexual activity with student

By SANDRA ELLIOTT Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - A June 1 trial date was set Tuesday for suspended Lakeview Middle School band instructor Stephen A. Paterson who was formally charged with 33 counts of sexual activity with a child and lewd and lascivious assault on a child.

Assistant State Attorney Stewart Stone said the information was filed in court at Paterson's arraignment before Judge Alan Dickey. Previously, Paterson's attorney had filed a waiver of appearance and not guilty plea on his behalf so the teacher did not appear in court.

Stone said about one third of the 33 counts are first degree felonies of engaging in sexual activities with a child in custodial care. The remaining two thirds of the counts are second degree felonies of lewd and lascivious assaults on a child.

Although Stone said he had not added up the years in prison conviction on all the counts would yield, he commented, "It would mean many, many years in prison."

Complaint: Cops harass owners of night club

SANFORD - According to community activist Johnell Jackson, the Sanford Police Department has been harassing the owners of the Party Machine night club on Park Drive in Sanford.

"Last week they came in looking for problems and when they did not find any they closed the doors on the place," Jackson, speaking for the owners, asserted.

113 single family homes may be built in Sanford

SANFORD - Over 100 moderately priced homes may be built in Sanford.

The city Planning and Zoning Commission has scheduled discussion tomorrow night on a proposed subdivision in Mayfair, at the northeast corner of S.R. 46A and Oregon Avenue.

Preliminary site plans call for 113 lots on 29.35 acres. Maronda Homes of Orlando is proposing single family homes to be constructed on lots that are generally 40 feet in width and approximately 115 feet in depth. Some of the homes and lots would be larger.

Originally, the property was proposed for the final phase of Mayfair Meadows, a townhome community. The site has been approved for multi-family type units. The MR-1 zoning would permit a density of eight dwelling units per acre. Several conditional uses will be required, including a narrower distance between houses and property

Storm kills 6 in family

LAKE CITY - Six people were killed when a visit to Dekle Beach turned into a "nightmare in the dark" after a raging Gulf storm roared ashore and washed away a rented house.

Killed were Levy Sapp Jr., his 4-year-old son Levy "Tre" Sapp III, his toddler daughter Anissa, his mother-in-law, Bobbie Murray, Murray's son, Timothy Murray, and a family friend, Shanda Chauncey.

They were among 13 people who had gathered in a beach house for a weekend getaway that had been planned for a

News of the deaths sent the towns of Live Oak, Lake City and Wellborn into shock Saturday. Friends and co-workers told The Gainesville Sun how the group had checked the 11 p.m. weather report Friday and thought the worst of the storm was over.

The worst, however, was yet to come - screaming winds gusting to hurricane strength and a storm surge of nine to 12

The group tied sheets together around furniture and hoped that mattresses would stay affoat until the wild surges and winds subsided, said Bishop Terrell McRae of the Lake City Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, where the Sapp family had worshiped for years.

"It was just a nightmare in the dark," McRae said.

Computer under investigation

TALLAHASSEE — A state computer error that paid Medicaid benefits for over 100,000 ineligible people will now be the subject of a Senate investigation.

A panel scheduled to convene today will examine the $28 million mistake and a pending Department of Education contract with the company that originally installed the system. Electronic Data Systems Corp., said Sen. Jim Scott, R-Fort Lauderdale.

Gov. Lawton Chiles has also ordered an inquiry by his inspector general into the mistake at the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services.

The error left over 200,000 Medicaid cases on the rolls that were supposed to be taken off. Two computers were involved: the EDS-developed $112 million FLORIDA supercomputer and a Medicald system.

Somehow, as Medicald recipients were taken off the rolls because they were no longer eligible according to the FLORIDA computer, the information failed to reach the Medicaid system. Benefits were actually paid for about 100,000 ineligible recipients, it was revealed last week.

Bill passed on moving court trials

The proposal would provide that if a judge decides to move a trial, prosecution or defende attorneys can request a move to a county with a demographic makeup similar to the county where the alleged offense occurred.

Coast Guard searches for sailboat

DETROIT - The U.S. Coast Guard has begun searching the choppy Atlantic Ocean for a sailboat bearing a restaurateur with operations in Michigan, Florida and elsewhere.

Chuck Muer's 40-foot sailboat, Charley's Crab, was due Saturday in Jupiter, Fla., said Lt. Mark Dolan of the Coast Guard's rescue coordination center in Miami.

Muer was sailing from Berry's Island, about 20 miles northwest of Nassau in the Bahamas. He was accompanied by his wife Betty and George and Lynn Drummey Jr. of Grosse Pointe Park, said Coast Guard Petty Officer Bob Coombs.

The sailboat was last seen Friday at a marina in the Bahamas, Dolan said. The 200-mile trip to Florida normally takes up to two days, Coombs said.

Muer's daughter, Mary, reported the four missing Tuesday to the Coast Guard in Miami.

'We have started the first stage of a search, which is a communications check of all the areas along their projected route," Coombs said. "There are a lot of places in the Bahamas

Gallery exhibit to open

75 photographs depict people of Sanford in action

By NICK PFEIFAUF Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - A new exhibit, featuring photography of a local nature from the Crealde School of Art in Winter Park, will be inaugurated at First Street Gallery Friday

According to Dr. Karen Copp, president of the Gallery's board of directors. "This long-awaited exhibit will launch the gallery's charter membership drive. The beauty and diversity of a populace wanting to preserve its historical past will be portrayed in 75 photographs, caught in black and white stills," she explained.

Led by instructors Peter Schreyer and Rick Lang of the Crealde staff, 11 photographers have devoted months of their spare time in order to capture their subjects which define the social, cultural and architectural portrait of the town founded over 100 years ago by Gen. Henry Shelton Sanford.

Lang said the 11 students spent weeks learning about Sanford and its history, then went into the community to try to get it on film. "Each week they would bring in many new photos to show along with interesting stories of the people they met." he said.

"A number of the students grew a great deal in their abilities to photograph, but all grew in their appreciation of Sanford and its people," he added.

The students roamed the city and its environs, attended government commission meetings, political campaigns and parades. They also went into a soup kitchen, visited schools and a ballet class and covered the Golden Age Games and St. Lucia Festival.

They also shot photos of some of the historic buildings, downtown stores, and the waterfront areas as well as fields and groves in the outlying areas.

Among photos to be displayed are those listed as Shop Class Crooms School of Choice, Sanford Fire Department answers call. Late Afternoon at the Sanford Civic Center, Mail delivery, and many others.

Included in the photo titles for downtown businesses are Don Knight Shoe Store, Park Drive Laundry, Petite and Pretty on First Street, Higgins House Bed & Breakfast, Closed Ritz Theater and others.

Schreyer commented, "Photographs of our daily environment and a population's social interaction can improve a community's self-image as well as what it is projecting to the outside world. Much richness can result from an increased awareness and appreciation for the cultural, historic and industrial diversity of a city and Its inhabitants.'

'Sanford Documentary will be inaugurated with a special gathering, open to the public this Friday evening from 5 until 9 p.m., in conjunction with the beginning of the membership drive.

The exhibit will then be on display through April 27. The First Street Gallery. located at 203 E. First Street in downtown Sanford, is open from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, and from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. on Saturdays.

Gallagher sets a deadline to help settle hurrigane claims

By Associated Press

TALLAHASSEE - Saving "enough is enough," state Insurance Commissioner Tom Gallagher set a deadline Tuesday to help settle claims against seven insurers that failed due to losses in Hurricane Andrew.

An association created by the Legislature and run by the insurance industry has paid $310 million so far, but the claims may total $500

"Many citizens whose policies were written by bankrupt companies feel ignored, betrayed and worse," Gallagher said. "Enough is enough."

The Florida Insurance Guaranty Association has run out of money twice, and homeowners with unresolved claims have been waiting nearly seven months since the storm. But since FIGA is not a state agency. Gallagher has limited authority to control their operations.

He ordered the association to make a final settlement offer by April 16, expand its claims auditing and customer service staff by one-third, open a claims center in south Dade County, keep it open on weekends and solve problems with incorrect addresses.

Gallagher stepped in to set a deadline once before. He ordered insurers to send adjusters to damaged houses within two months of the Aug. 24 hurricane after widespread complaints that consumers were not getting adequate service.

FIGA director Jerry Service said he understood the emotional strain of the storm damage.

House debates bill on officials setting pay

By BILL BERGSTROM Associated Press Writer 14 0004

TALLAHASSEE - County commissioners and school board members would set their own salaries and be accountable for them under a bill debated Tuesday in the House.

But first, an amendment to the measure (CS-HB 949) would call for a study of those and other public salaries, from lawmakers to judges, with recommendations to the governor and Legislature by Jan. 1, 1994.

Perhaps it's time the Legislature no longer dictated to county commissioners and school board what their salaries should be," said Rep. Buzz Ritchie, D-Pensacola, who sponsored the bill. "This lets those elected bodies back home make those decisions.

The local bodies also would have to enact, and take the heat for, their own yearly cost-ofliving allowances. The bill would eliminate automatic cost-ofliving raises.

After action on amendments

Tuesday, the bill is ready for debate and a final floor vote at a future House session.

Ritchie sald some commis sioners' and school board members' salaries have jumped more than 200 percent since the Legislature adopted a formula setting them in 1973, reaching levels some local governments can't afford.

County commissioners' annual salaries under the formula range from a low of $14,404 in Franklin County to a high of $55,088 in both Dade and Broward counties. School board members' salaries range from $14,071 in Franklin County to $24,484 in Dade and Broward countles.

On a voice vote, the House approved an amendment by Rep. Dennis Jones, R-Treasure Island, calling for the study of public salaries by a ninemember commission appointed by the governor, Senate president and House speaker.

"It's time for us to fish or cut bait," said Rep. Tracy Upchurch, D.St. Augustine. opposing the study.

High school teammates convicted of raping a mentally retarded girl

By FRED PIERETTI Associated Press Writer

Hamming it up

NEWARK, N.J. - Three former high school football teammates were convicted of sexually assaulting a mentally retarded teen-ager in 1989 with a baseball bat after luring her into a basement with the promise of a date.

The defense had argued the woman was a willing partici-pant. Jurors delivered their verdicts Tuesday, saying the victim, a 21-year-old woman with an IQ of 64 and the social skills of an 8-year-old, was incapable of consenting to sex because of her mental defects.

Christopher Archer, 20, and Kevin Scherzer, 22, were found guilty on two counts of aggravated sexual assault, the equivalent of rape, for using foreign objects to penetrate the woman's vagina. They also were found guilty of conspiracy.

Kyle Scherzer, Kevin's fraternal twin, was found guilty on one aggravated sexual assault count and conspiracy. A fourth defendant was convicted of con-

People make the Olympics special

The Seminole County Special Olympics offers a great opportunity for some very special athletes to show off their talents and to reap the rewards for their hard work.

. The Special Olympians are mentally handicapped. Some also have physical impairments, but all have ambitions to be the best they can be.

We laud director Jim Shupe and his staff for the fine work they did recently in bringing the games to Lake Mary High School. More than 50 athletes were on hand to compete in track and field events, relays, softball throw, cycling and roller skating.

Shupe and his volunteers hug, cheer and encourage the athletes to keep trying. Finishing the race is more important than crossing the finish line first.

Putting the events together and making sure that everything runs smoothly and that the athletes are encouraged to continue to do their best is no easy task.

Shupe, assisted by Joan Helms, an instructional assistant in the district mentally handicapped program and the mother of one of the athletes, worked with a staff of volunteers to make the Special Olympics special indeed.

On health care reform

With this year's session of the Florida Legislature moving at a rapid pace on the health care reform saue, pending legislation has taken a number of wists and turns.

- Throughout the debate on this crucial issue, the Florida Medical Association and its physician members across the state have steadisstly proposed that any health care reform enacted must guarantee that patients maintain their right to select the physician, hospital and insurance plan of their choice.

Unfortunately HB 701, as recently passed by the Florida House, fails to include patient choice or tort reform which is vital to lowering costs.

Presently, the Florida Senate is deliberating on the House version of health care reform, along with the Governor's proposals which include creating giant state-controlled Community Health Purchasing Alliances, called CHPAs. As virtual monopolies that would each control vast geogrphical areas of the state, these CHPAs threaten to limit their members to a few or only a single health care plan and to restrict choice of providers. The physicians of Florida have serious concerns about the impact such a plan will have, especially on our state's elderly and indigent.

To best serve the welfare of Floridians, any bill ultimately crafted by the Senate should be based on realistic and equitable reform concepts that will effectively address problem areas while preserving the tremendous strengths of our health care

Areas that must be addressed under insurance reform include developing an economical basic benefits policy, providing for insurance portability. establishing community ratings and creating tax incentives for small business employers who offer health care insurance. Additionally, there must be meaningful liability reform in a pluralistic managed competition environment. Above all, the patient's right to choose must be protected.

Health care consumers need to tell their legislators today that they should not be forced to forfeit their right to select the physician, hospital or insurance plan of their choice.

After all, health care is everyone's most personal concern and shouldn't be compromised.

Decision muting the voice of liberty

Spending cuts? Leave it to your government to Liberty - which broadcasts in 15 languages

Consider the case of budget-starved State Department bureaucrats conning the Clinton administration into an attempt to terminate "Radio Free Europe," "Radio Liberty," and their parent organization, the semi-autonomous Board for International Broadcasting. What seems like an arcane government turf war has potent implications.

In one swoop, the budget decision manages to 1) violate another Clinton campaign pledge, 2) work against democracy in Russia, 3) and China, 4) harm Clinton politically, 5) reward that stalwart of freedom, the emir of Kuwait and 6) display confusion.

To America, Russia is still the most important foreign country. The nuclear arsenal remains: in the wrong hands the weapons could threaten global stability. Further corrosion of Russian democracy could yield anarchy and an ugly global lesson: What follows totalitarianism may be worse. Clinton knows that. He is proposing financial aid, and he will soon be meeting with pro-democratic President Boris Yeltsin. ·

throughout the Former Soviet Union, which trains journalists in transitionary societies that often still regard news as a propaganda weapon. which provides the best objective reporting of Russia by Russians to Russians - the Clinton budget proposes a Kevorkian solution.

Job can be done by the Voice of America, an agency that — surprise! — would like to get its hands on RFE/RL's federal purse. But VOA is the "national service" voice of America, not of Russia. It is run by an always nervous State Department, inherently reluctant and unable to do

China may be America's second most important foreign nation. The repressive communist government is building up nuclear-tipped military forces and sending arms to unsavory states. The economy is booming. If a second global superpower emerges, it will likely be China. America wants such a superstate to be democratic. which is why Clinton favors setting up "Radio

In a campaign position paper Clinton endorsed the report of the Commission on Broadcasting to the People's Republic of China, saying, "I am especially pleased by its principal recommendation: that a new surrogate radio service for Asia be initiated under the aegis of the Board of International Broadcasting.

Good idea. Emigre-based home service broadcasting would give non-propagandistic news about China, by Chinese, to China — encouraging democracy. Good idea, except that the Clinton budget zeroes out the aegis, the BIB. Again, Clinton gives the action to the VOA.

Radical pro-lifers: Terrorists

BOSTON — The shocking part is that so few people were actually surprised. When they heard that Michael Griffin, dressed in his Sunday best, armed with a .38 caliber revolver, had gone down to the clinic and shot Dr. David Gunn in the back, it was as if the other shoe had dropped.

It was inevitable, said a pro-choice leader who heard about the murder. It was just a matter of time, said a doctor-legislator in Florida. I'm surprised it didn't happen before, echoed a colleague.

Had we all been waiting beside the escalator, watching the violence rise, unable to stop it? First came the shouting at the clinic door, then the harasement. The assaults on clients with pickets and then pickled fetuses. The telephone calls from men taking down license plates in the parking lots. The counselor who found her cat decapitated.

Then the death threats. The stalkings. The fire bombings in Texas. The foul-smelling acid sprayed into clinics in California. The shotgun that wounded two in a clinic in Missouri. And finally - well, of course, what else did you expect? - murder in Florida.

The right-to-life movement was surely no more to blame for the death of Dr. Gunn than Muslims were for the bombing at the World Trade Center. But it was no less to blame than the person who put Dr. Gunn's face and address and telephone number on a mostwanted poster. No less to blame than Randall Terry of Operation Rescue who had told a rally that"we've found the weak link is the doctor. We're going to expose them. We're going to Anyone who wants to check the fertile soil in which fanaticism grows has only to listen to the leaders' responses to the assassination of the 47-year-old doctor and father of two:

"While Gunn's death is unfortunate," said Don Treshman of Rescue America, "it's also true that quite a number of bables' lives will be

While it is wrong to kill, said Randall Terry. "we have to recognize that this doctor was a mass murderer. 'Praise God,' said a protestor at a clinic in Melbourne, Fla., "one of the (baby) killers is In the days ahead, we will probably learn about Michael Griffin's private demons. But will we learn how he was encouraged by those who made demons of doctors like David Gunn? If abortion is murder, after all, then the moral arithmetic taught by this rhetoric would seem to justify killing one life to save hundreds. The 31-year-old with the "God is pro-life" bumper sitcker on his car, the zealot who prayed aloud in church that Dr. Gunn would return to Jesus, had every reason to regard his act as justifiable homicide.

Rescue America, it should be noted, has set up a fund. Not for the family of the doctor, but I have often thought that word "terrorism" is used too often and too lightly in our country to describe every sort of violence. Violence is often random. Terrorism is deliberate. Violence is personal. Terrorism is also political. This time, however, the word terrorism is, if anything, too mild. With a pro-choice president in the White House, some anti-abortion groups have raich-eted up violence. The action has shifted from making abortion illegal to making it impossible. The goal now is leave women with the right to abortion but no access to that right. The escalation from mayhem to now murder is an attempt to rule by fear rather than by law, to win by intimidation expect? murder in Florida. rather than persuasion. The attack on one clinic is meant to terrorize the others. The murder of one doctor is also meant to scare the rest out of

And finally well, of course, what else did you

The passage of the congressional bill — The Freedom of Access to Clinic Entrances Act — would make the blockading of abortion clinics a federal crime. It would draw the line between one person's freedom of speech and another's freedom of choice.

But there is still more to be done. During the Reagan and Bush years, radical pro-life groups like Operation Rescue and Rescue America were handled with kid gloves. They were tolerated, treated like honorable protestors engaged in a civil rights argument over one of the deep moral questions of our age.

Now the law, the FBI, the new atterney general from Florida must begin dealing with them as domestic terrorists. Terrorists as deadly as the groups that spawned the men who parked their rented van under a Manhattan skyscraper. Cultists as fanatic as the people holed up in a Waco compound.

Michael Griffin cannot just become the next. logical step on the escalator of violence. He must be the last step.

Brady bill sends NRA scrambling

WASHINGTON — There's a rare spectacle unfolding on Capitol Hill:

The National Rifle Association — one of the most feared and formidable lobbying organizations - is running for cover, the victim of a combination of self-inflicted wounds, the election of Bill Clinton and some rare political miscalculations.

"Their number is up," Rep. Mike Synar, D-Okla., told us. "In this session we will pass the Brady bill and major legislation on assault weapons. My colleagues have known for a long time that the NRA was wrong. They were just afraid to take them on. All it took was to stand up and beat them.'

The first omen was the NRA's inability to defeat Synar, despite targeting him as one of 14 members of Congress that they wanted to topple. The NRA admits to spending at least $130,000 against Synar in his race. "The only reason is running for cover. they have a voice at all is from the money they raise to intimidate people," Synar told us. "They wanted (my colleagues) to see the price you pay for standing up to them."

The National

Rifle

In the current battle over the Brady bill, which would create a five-day waiting period on the purchase of handguns, Synar's survival has emboldened many once feinthearted colleagues. One recent Gallup Poll found that 80 percent of gun owners support the Brady bill. Nevertheless, the NRA has gone all out to successfully kill the bill three times in the past six years.

"There are probably five or six members (of Congress) who are sitting on the fence over the Brady bill." one congressional source told our associate Ed Henry. "If Synar had gone down because of the NRA, it would have certainly given those members something to think about when they're voting on the bill.'

The second omen came when Clinton opened fire on the NRA. Ten words in his State of the Union address sent the NRA scrambling for cover: "If you pass the Brady Bill." Clinton told Congress, "I'll sure sign

As one congressional source put it: "I don't think they're quite smoked out yet. But they're going to have to focus a lot more because they don't have the veto pen to rely on anymore.

With the political tide turning against them, the NRA has been feeling a little trigger-happy, which may explain their latest

The NRA's chief congressional lobbyist. David W. Gibbons, started peddling derogatory and unproven allegations about Attorney General Janet Reno to aides of the Senate Judiciary Committee in the days leading up to her confirmation hearings. Among the smears spread about Reno was that she had been stopped several times for drunk driving but enjoyed special treatment by police and was never arrested. The committee had the charges investigated by the FBI, which found no credence to the reports. Shortly thereafter.

Reno made the NRA hit list because she was, according to an NRA bulletin, a "hardcore anti-gun zealot." She is an ardent supporter of the Brady bill, and she has also endorsed a ban on semiautomatic assault

Gibbons agreed to resign.

"It's not surprising to me because the NRA basically stops at nothing," Rep. Charles Schumer, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Crime and Criminal Justice Subcommittee, told us. "They're worried. ... On a normal person's scale of scurrilousness - from one to 10 - (the Reno incident) would be a 10. But for the NRA. It would be a seven. It's not out of the ordinary for them."

The NRA has seen the writing on the wall for some time.

Four leaf clovers are not so rare any more

On this St. Patrick's Day, Piergross is trying to fill a void in the floral industry.

"There is no official good luck plant, and this will meet that need," said Piergross Tuesday. "Right now. I haven't sold (the idea), but by this time next year. I hope it will be a staple in the in-

Storm rips up birds' homes too Seminole Wind survives in Tampa home

By The Associated Press

People weren't the only Florida residents whose homes took a beating during last weekend's storm.

Along the state's west coast, birds - many of which are building nests and raising young at this time of year — also suffered.

About 60 percent of the brown pelican nests on two Tampa Bay islands were destroyed, said Rich Paul, manager of the National Audubon Society's bird sanctuaries. The islands, at the mouth of the Alasia River, are among Florida's most important nurseries for pelicans and wading birds.

Paul said as many as 250 pairs of pelicans already had set up housekeeping. A survey on Monday found perhaps 100 nests still intact — with a few stalwart pelicans still in residence on the outer edges, where the storm's fury would have been most feroclous.

"I don't know how they did it," Paul said. "They must have had suction cups on their feet or

There was some good news, though.

Seminole Wind, the eagle chick rescued and returned to the wild after its original nest in Pinellas County was cut down, survived another close brush. Officials told The Tampa Tribune the famous eaglet and its two foster siblings made it safely through the weekend.

Wading birds also were troubled by the storm. Most herons. egrets and spoonbills had just: begun to establish territories and build nests, he said.

Beer company warns about over-drinking

By NICK PPEIFAUF Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD - The Wayne Densch company, wholesaler of Anheuser-Bush Beers, is urging caution on this St. Patrick's Day, and suggests designated drivers will help save lives in the Sanford area as well as throughout the Wayne Densch has a major facility under construction in the 2900 block of W. S.R. 46. Vice President Nancy Roth says the Sanford location is expected to be completed and operational by mid-August of this year.

The facility will be used basically as a warehouse and distribution center for the Central Florida area, north of the present facility operating in Orlando.

Consumer Awareness Coordinator Debbie Kirby, spoke on behalf of the company in regard to the St. Patrick's Day observance. She is suggesting those who volunteer to be designated drivers for the wearing-of-the-green gatherings today and tonight be honored. "They help in doing what even the luck of the Irish cannot: stop drunk driving." she said.

"In fact, they are part of a growing national awareness that has led to a 22 percent drop in drunk driving deaths in the last 10 years," Kirby added. On this St. Patrick's Day, Wayne Densch, along with several of the more popular gathering places in the area, will be working to keep that trend improving by reminding customers to use a designated driver, and drink responsibly.

"As the Irish and would-be Irish congregate around town this St. Patrick's Day," Kirby said, "let's all remember that having a good time means looking out for ourselves and others, especially when it comes to drinking.

Ex-Green Bay Packers player Lewis Billups and his roommate. Gregory Calloway are being charged with sexual battery upon an impaired female, extortion, conspiracy to commit extortion and burglary to a conveyance. Calloway is a library worker. Billups was cut from the Packers in October. He had also played for the Cincinnati Bengals.

Assistant State Attorney Stewart Stone said an arraign-ment is scheduled March 23 for Billups but his attorney. Lori Wheeler, earlier filed a not guilty plea and waiver of appearance for her client. Calloway is not represented by an attorney. Stone said, and will appear in court. He said he will try to have the court schedule both arraignments for bond each.

The two men were arrested in December after a Longwood woman claimed she was drugged and raped after accepting a lunch invitation at Billups' Alaqua home in November. The woman told police ahe started feeling strange after drinking a cocktail. She claimed Billups raped her while Calloway videotaped the assault. Further, she claims that the pair said they would give the tape to the her husband if she did not pay them $20,000.

Stone said the burglary charge against the pair stems from when they allegedly reached into the woman's car to get mail.

Sociologist says Griffin fits the pattern for anti-abortion violence

By BILL KACZOR

Associated Press Writer

PENSACOLA - A chemical plant worker charged with first-degree murder in the shooting of a doctor fits the pattern of those who have committed anti-abortion violence, a sociologist says. A grand jury indicted Michael

F. Griffin, 31, of Pensacola on Tuesday He is scheduled for arraignment Thursday before Circuit Judge Kenneth Williams.

State Attorney Curtis Golden has said prosecutors would seek the death penalty, standard policy in cases of premeditated murder

Griffin is accused of shooting Dr. David Gunn in the back three times a week ago as he arrived at the Pensacola Women's Health Services clinic in the midst of an anti-abortion demonstration. Police say Griffin admitted the slaving

The defendant is typical of those who have been involved in anti-abortion violence, said Dallas Blanchard, a University of West Florida sociology professor who has studied and written about the subject.

"All of the violence, 100 percent of it - bombings and arsons - were committed by what I call fundamentalists." Blanchard said. "Most of themare males under 35 years of age and of the working class, which parallels the profile of rapists and torturers. I call this religious rape, a way of controlling females, keeping them in their

Court records show Griffin had no attorney as of Tuesday. At his first court appearance last week, he had asked permission to represent himself and said he planned to use the Bible as a defense document.

Blanchard, also a Methodist minister, has written a book due out in April, "Religious Violence and Abortion: The Gideon Project," about four young abortion opponents who bombed a clinic and two doctors' offices on Christmas Day 1984 in Pensacola. He is working on a second book on the national anti-abortion movement Blanchard said those involved in anti-abortion violence usually are socially isolated, shielded from opposing views and "in very tight-knit little circles of relationships that reinforce their belief system constantly.

Police have said they believe Griffin acted alone and was not part of a larger conspiracy.

The defendant, who is married and has two children, is being held without bond at the Escambia County Jail.

Gunn, 47. of Eufaula, Ala., was the only physician working at Pensacola's only two abortion clinics, but both will resume abortions later this week with other doctors, staffers said.

"We know we're starting a little bit late, but we've had trouble with the weather in late February and early March in the past. We still feel we can get league play done before the end of June, before everyone starts going on vacation. Among the teams in the Competitive Division will be four-time Spring tournament champion Sanford First United Methodist, defending regular season Spring champion Sanford Church of God of Prophecy, and defending Fall League champion Sanford Central

Also in the Competitive Division are St. Stephen Catholic from Winter Springs, Sanford Church of God and All Souls Catholic of Sanford. All six teams in the Competitive Division have won league championships at some level over the last three years.

The four-team Fellowship Division will consist of last Spring's division champion (Sanford First Nazarene). last year's Spring Fun Division winner (Holy Cross Lutheran from Lake Mary) along with Trinity Assembly and the Nativity Catholic Crusaders from Lake Mary.

The Fun Division will also be a four-team division consisting of Grace United Methodist from Lake Mary, Sanford Christian, the Nativity Catholic Disciples and Antioch Missionary Baptist from Oviedo.

This Saturday's schedule at Chase Park has First United Methodist and Church of God of Prophecy meeting in a rematch of last year's tournament finals at 8:30 a.m.; St. Stephen Catholic facing Church of God at 9:30 a.m.; All Souls Catholic taking on Central Baptist at 10:30 a.m. and Trinity Assembly tackling First Nazarene at 11:30 a.m.

At Lee P. Moore, Holy Cross Lutheran battles the Nativity Catholic Crusaders at 8:30 a.m.; Grace United Methodist squares off with Sanford Christian at 9:30 a.m. and the Nativity Catholic Disciples playing Antioch Missionary Baptistat 10:30 a.m.

Last year's postseason tourna-ment was one of the most competitive in years, with several games going to the final at bat. Church of God of Prophecy, which went a league-best 8-2 in the regular season, advanced to the finals unbeaten, but First United Methodist came back to beat Prophecy twice, including 4-3 in extra innings in the finals, to win its third araight tournament title.

BARBERVILLE — Six racing classes, including the Spring Fling Hoosier 100 for Late Model Stocks, are scheduled for a full night of racing at Volusia County Speedway this Saturday, March

Late Model Stocks return to the Speedway, located 15 miles west of Daytona Beach on Highway 40, for 100 laps of short track racing on the half-mile asphalt oval, competing for a $1,500-to-win top prize.

Also loaded up and ready to race Saturday night are cars racing in the Sportsman. Street Stock, Mini Stock, Hobby, and Florida Modified

The pit gate opens at 4 p.m. Saturday with the main gate opening at 5 p.m. Time trials begin at 7 p.m. with racing set to start for 7:30 p.m.

Florida Modifieds will run a 25-lap feature while the Sportsman, Mini Stock, Street Stock, and Hobby Classes will race in 15-lap main events.

Late Model Stock drivers will run both time trials and heat races to set the field for the 100-lap feature event.

The Spring Fling Hoosier-100 gives the 1903 racing season at Volusia County Speedway a proper start with the 1993 VCS Track Point Season scheduled to open the next week, Saturday, March 27. Also feature on the March 27 program will be the Tampa Bay Area Outlaw Sprints.

Racing continues every Saturday night at VCS with the Winston Racing Series Regional Points season kicking off with a full program on Saturday, April 17.

Other special events during the 1993 season on the asphalt track include the Baxley Oil 100 for Late Model Stocks (May 1); the Winston All-Pro Series and Gatorade Mini Stock Championship (both set for May 29); the track's Triple Crown Series (May 22, July 17, and Aug. 28); and the NASCAR Dash Series (Sept. 25).

Besides March 27, the Tampa Bay Area Outlaw Sprints will be featured eight more times throughout the season on April 10, May 8, June 12, July 10, Aug. 14, Sept. 11, Oct. 9, and Nov.

Also on tap near the end of the season is Octoberfest '93, a two-day racing event scheduled for Oct. 16-17.

Other promotional events on the 1993 agenda include an Easter Egg hunt and dash series (April 10): Winston Night (May 15): Scout Night/Pepsi Night (June 12): Mid-Season Championships (June 19); AC Delco Night (June 26); as well as the first (May 8) and third (July 31) quarter championship nights.

Second baseman Robyn Dazey (No. 16, right) accounted for a third of Lake Mary's hits by herself Tuesday night, collecting a pair of singles in the Rams' 2-1 loss to the Lake Brantley Patriots.

Lake Brantley -Continued from 18

its best offensive nights either, but we made the plays that we had to make."

Frank made two changes in her defensive lineup, moving Kelly Treat to right field and inserting Jamie Quinn at third base. While the Treat and Quinn didn't do anything extraordinary on defense to win the game, neither did they do anything that cost the Patriots the game. "Jamie played a good game against Lake Mary in the tournament (the Early Bird tournament last month), so we started her tonight," said Frank. "She did a nice job."

Frank had nothing but praise for all the Patriots, who came back from a lackluster effort against Lyman last Thursday and played seven strong innings against Lake Mary last night.

"This was a pivotal game," said Frank. "It was a huge game for us, not only to get some of the confidence back that they were letting slip away, but in the conference. Winning this game keeps us alive in the conference. We need a lot of help, but there's still a backdoor chance for us to win the conference." Offensively, the Patriots managed seven singles but only needed Stuller's hit to score both runs. Trailing 1-0, Anne Freeburg led off the bottom of the first by reaching on an error. After Rachel Poppe walked, Stuller ripped her single to left. Freeburg scoring on the hit and Poppe coming in on the misplay.

Lake Brantley continued to put runners brilliant defensive effort by Lake Mary. In the first inning, for example, Ram shortstop Angle Snow threw to Diane Duber at first base to retire Nicole Rathbun. Stuller, who was on second, tried to advance to third but was cut down by Duber on a on base but were repeatedly frustrated by a perfect throw to Marissa Messier. The Rams also turned double plays in the second and fourth innings. In the sixth, Messier made a leaping stab of a Tracy Brown line drive that appeared destined for extra bases.

Offensively, Lake Mary was even more ineffective than the Patriots, managing just six singles and stranding nine runners on base. The Rams scored their only run in the top of the first inning when Snow reached on a two-out single, advanced on a fielder's choice and scored on Diane Duber's single

"I don't think we hit the ball that well tonight," said Lake Mary coach Jeannie Fischer. "We hit too many fly balls (14 of the Rams' 21 outs came on fly balls). Not to take anything away from Lake Brantley, but anyone can field a fly ball.

"The kids played a heck of a defensive game, but we didn't so anything on defense. We have to start hitting in the clutch. We've been harping on intensity, but I don't feel we're getting it all the time in all aspects of the game."

Providing the offense for Lake Brantley were Stuller (two singles, RBI), Freeburg (single, run scored), Rachel Poppe (run scored), and Nicole Rathbun, Brown, Quinn. and Julie Helmers (one single each).

For Lake Mary, doing the hitting were Robyn Dazey (two singles), Duber (single, RBI). Snow (single, run scored), and J.R. Spires and Messier (one single each).

of the fifth and sixth innings to close the gap

Oviedo sent the game into extra innings by coming up with a run in the seventh. With one out. Jenny Jakubein singled but was crased on a fielder's choice grounder by Andrea Sparrow. Beth Janson reached on an error to keep the rally alive and Shydonna Tossic singled to score Sparrow.

The winning runs came in the eighth inning as Beth Pratt and Michelle Field singled. Pratt was forced at third by Carrie McAulisse for the first out, but Mindy Kracht singled to senter to load the bases. The next batter struck out, but Jakubein singled into the left center field gap to score Field and McCauliffe.

Jamie Dugan (9.4) then closed out the ictory by retiring the Greyhounds in order in the bottom of the eighth.

The girls are having fun," said Register:

and are balically having a blast. With good teams like Lake Mary, Lyman, Lake Brantley, and Lake Howell, the conference is still wide open. We just want ot keep playing hard and having fun."

Jakubein paced a 16-hit Lions offense by going three-for-five and driving in three runs! Also having good games were Dugan

Virginia won the NIT last year and is in the NCAA tournament this year. Stanford won the NIT in 1991 and moved into the NCAAs last season. The natural progression was reversed this year, when a number of tradi-tional NCAA heavyweights were queezed out of the 64-team field and slid back to the NIT.

So Powers' tournament inherits some of college basketball's most familiar coaching faces, including Rollie Massimino, Billy Tubbe, Jud Heathcote, Hugh Durham, George Raveling, Clem Haskins and Randy Ayers, all in action on opening night. Some of them aren't thrilled to be there. Haskins at Minnesota and Tubbs at Oklahoma were particularly vocal after their teams were snubbed by the NCAA.

Less strident was Massimino. One coach who won't complaim is Wisconsin's Stu Jackson.

Cook of the Week

Multi-talented teen likes to bake "the sweet things"

Jodiene "Jodi" White says she has an overactive sweet tooth.

By RENEE KEITH Herald Correspondent

Jodiene White, known as Jodi to family and friends, demonstrates that age is definitely not a deterrent when it comes to having that certain "knack" turning out those special recipes.

Jodi is only 15. Cooking is just one of the many achievements and activities she enjoys that contributes to her very impressive list of accomplishments. Jodi has lived all her life in Sanford. She currently is attending All Souls Catholic School where she does maintain a B average, however, "keeping my grades up is a lot of work for me. It doesn't come as easy as I would like it to.' Dance is Jodi's first love. She has spent the last 12 years perfecting herself in the art of tap, jazz and ballet. For the last six months she's been applying her dance talents by teaching tap dancing. She is currently employed with the Lake Mary Dance Academy. As a teacher's assistant, she has the responsibility of the 10-to 12-year-old "dancers to be."

In the summer months you'll find Jodi at the YMCA where she is involved with their competitive swim meets. She's been swimming since the age of 7 months, and for the last three years, her team has placed first in their meets.

Jodi's family members are the delighted recipients when it comes to listening to Jodi and her accomplished beauty with the piano. Site's been playing the piano and doing recitals since age 8.

All in all, with such a busy schedule, Jodi still has time to get out in that kitchen and rattle those pots and pans. "I like to bake the sweet things." "I guess I have an overactive sweet recipe is one that Jodi makes no tooth," says Jodi. Ice Box Cake is one of her favorites. It's simple, fast, and it tastes just great.

Everyone seems to have their tuna casserole. With the recipe Jodi uses, she will take away a little something or add something new just to give it a different twist. Adding some crushed potato chips, for instance, gives this recipe that extra crunch.

Enjoy St. Patrick's Day specialties all year long

Everyone can be Iriah on St. Patrick's Day and enjoy the celebration with traditional foods or those that would carry out the theme of green, orange and white, the colors of the Irish flag.

Try this recipe for corned beef and cabbage in the microwave using a clay or simmer pot. The slow moist cooking required for corned beef can be perfected in this type of container. Cabbage is added the last part of the cooking time.

CABBAGE

21/2-3 lbs. corned beef brisket 1 clove garlic, minced

1 medium onion, quartered

I small head cabbage, cut into wedges.

Presoak simmer pot and lid. Place corned beef in simmer pot. Add seasoning packet from corned beef. Add garlic and onion; cover meat with water. Cover with simmer pot lid. Microwave on 50 percent power 60 minutes. Turn meat over. Then microwave on 30 percent power 40-45 minutes or until cabbage is tender. Let stand a few minutes before removing meat and cabbage to serving plate. Slice meat diagonally across grain. *If corned beef does not have a seasoning packet, substitute 1 bay leaf, crushed, and I teaspoon peppercorns. A regular size cooking bag may be substituted for the simmer pot. Add 21/2 cups of water and tie bag loosely with a string and place in 12x8-inch baking dish.

One of the nicest things about fish cooked in the microwave is that it can be served in so many different shapes. Here, fish fillets are rolled up with vegetables (orange and green) inside and topped with a touch of dill butter.

DILLY FISH ROLLS 2 medium carrots

1 medium zuechini 1 lb. fish filets (roughey. pollock, sole) Salt

1 Thep. butter or margarine 1 Thep. lemon juice I tap. dillweed

Cut carrots and succhini into thin strips about 2 inches long. Place in microsafe baking dish. Cover with plastic wrap. Microwave on 100 percent power 2 minutes or until tender crisp. Cut fillets into serving-sized pieces; sprinkle with salt. Divide about half of vegetables among the fillets. Roll up fish with vegetables inside. Place seamside down on remaining vegetabics. Cover with plastic wrap. Microwave on 100 percent power 4-41/2 minutes or until fish flakes easily with fork. Combine butter.

lemon juice and dillweed in small glass cup. Microwave on 100 percent, uncovered, 45-60 seconds or until melted. Spoon

Asparagus is plentiful now and will make a delicious green soup.
CREAM OF ASPARAGUS BOUP

11/2 lbs. fresh asparagus 1 small onion, chopped 14 cup water 2 Thep, margarine or butter 4 cup all-pui pose flour 1 Thap, instant chicken

bouillon 1 Tbsp. snipped fresh tarragon 14 tsp. salt 16 tsp. pepper

3 cups milk 1 Thap, lemon juice

Wash and snap off tough lower portion of asparagus stalks. Break remainder into 11/3-inch pieces and place in 2-quart casserole. Add onion and water. Cover with lid. Microwave on 100 percent power 10-11 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Uncover and cool 10 minutes. Transfer to blender or food processor container; process on medium speed until smooth. Let stand in container. Place margarine in empty 2. quart casserole. Microwave on 100 percent power, uncovered, 45-60 seconds or until melted. Stir in flour, bouillon, tarragon, sait, pepper and milk. Microwave (100 percent) uncovered 6-8 minutes or until mixture boils and thickens, stirring twice. Blend in pureed asparagus mixture. Cover. Microwave (100 percent) 2-3 minutes or until heated through. Stir in lemon juice. About 6 servings.

My favorite Irish dish is Colcannon. It is a mixture of mashed potatoes, mixed with light cream and butter and sauteed grated or finely shredded cabbage. Season with salt and pepper. I usually prepare the potatoes on the surface unit of the range and microsaute the cabbage with bacon or butter. Try it! Happy St. Patrick's Day.

Nowadays, with yogurt sold in every imaginable flavor and color, and frozen yogurt as common as shopping malls, it's hard to remember that back in the culinary Dark Ages, yogurt was a bit suspect. It was considered "health food" and then, by the 1960s, equally suspect "hippie food" (suspect, that is, unless you happened to consider yourself a hippie).

in these enlightened times. however, yogurt is everywhere. It is sold in all shapes and sizes.
"Swiss-style," "fruit-on-thebottom" style, plain, fruitflavored, and packaged with colored sprinkles or granola-like toppings.

Being somewhat of a purist (my husband says "food snob") I like my yogurt as natural as possible. I avoid so-called "Swiss-style" yogurts, which are made with artificial binders and stabilizers. I favor yogurt flavored with honey or sugar (I'm not a total purist) over the stuff made with artificial sweeteners: I think they impart a distinctive chemical taste. I try to buy yogurt made with "live active cultures," which aid in digestion. And I also look for added Lactobacillus acidophilus. (On a trip to Mexico many years ago I was the only person in our party of three to consume acidophilus tablets daily, and the only one to avoid "Montezuma's revenge." It may have been a coincidence, but I've been an acidophilus fan ever since.)

NOTICED, BUT SINNERS"

What are the facts about blue blood?

DEAR DR. GOTT: I seem to remember learning in school that part of the blood in the body is blue in color because it is exhausted of oxygen and must return to the heart to be reoxygenated and distributed again. Am I correct? My friend and I have an ongoing argument over

DEAR READER: You are absolutely on the money. This is why veins are blue. Arterial, oxygen-rich blood is red.

Once venous blood returns to the heart, it is pumped through the lungs, enriched with oxygen and expelled (through other heart chambers) into the aorta, from whence it circulates throughout the body. Your friend must not have been listening during this anatomy lesson in school.

DEAR DR. GOTT: A few months ago my fingernails began breaking and peeling. Now they are down to the nub and peeling below the quick. I'm on Nolvadex because I had breast cancer, and I also take Synthroid. My doctor doesn't think the nail splitting is a side effect, so what is causing this condition?

DEAR READER: Nolvadex (tamoxifen) is an anti-estrogen agent, meaning that it blocks the effects of female hormone, a useful goal in women who have had breast cancer that may be enhanced by estrogen.

I can find no reference to the drug's effects on the nails. It can, however, cause rash, cataracts and itching; this suggests that it could have an effect on natl formation and growth. Ask your oncologist (cancer specialist) about this.

I don't believe the Synthroid (thyroid hormone) is to blame.

Because anyone taking chemotherapy for a malignancy can develop protein/vitamin/mineral deficiencles, I suggest you discuss the issue of a well-balanced diet with your doctor. Perhaps a protein supplement or multi-vitamin might help your nail growth.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "An Informed Approach to Surgery." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 plus a long,
