Lake Mary Couple Sees Friends, Relatives During Vacation Trip

By FRANCES WESTER
Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Anderson of Lake Mary returned recently from a fifteen day vacation. They flew from Orlando to Pittsburgh and visited not only their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Anderson and four children in Beaver, Pa., but stayed briefly with other relatives there. In New Castle, they saw Mrs. Carl Haug and her three daughters, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. McNickle, Mr. and Mrs. William Smith and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Alexander and Mrs. J. L. McConaghy; in Mahoningtown, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McConaghy and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Henry and two sons; in Harmony, Mrs. R. J. Anderson and her 85-year-old mother, Mrs. Eppinger; in Ellwood City, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Meyer and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Fitzgerald, Mrs. Jack Gerlack and three children, and Mrs. Wilber McKim and three sons; in Allegheny, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hodges; in New Wilmington, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Mansell and Dr. and Mrs. John Mansell and two children. Navy personnel here will remember Dr. Mansell who spent two years at NAS, Sanford. He now has a new office building, complete even to a telephone answering service for weekends and in the parking lot, a hitching rail for the horse-drawn buggies of the Amish. Perhaps the brightest memories of the trip for the Andersons are of the Rainbow Installation Service they saw when they were guests of their granddaughter, Miss Cheryl Anderson; the tour of Westminster College, where her brother, Raymond, is a freshman this year, and of three generations of Andersons attending the church service.

Seven of ten living Americans are too young to remember World War I.

Girl Scouts Find Canoeing Not As Easy As It Looks

By SUSIE WALBACK
There were many sore muscles at Seminole High School Monday morning as the 11 members of Senior Girl Scout Troop 10 limped back to classes after a fun filled weekend of camping, canoeing and eating. Early Saturday morning they arrived at Juniper Springs in the Ocala National Forest with their leaders, Mrs. James Buckler, Mrs. Jack Wilbur and their husbands. The girls pitched their tents and eagerly prepared for a 12-mile canoe trip.

The trailblazers in the first canoe were Bucky Buckler, Sharon Milko, and Jean Fletcher and they marked the way for the second group, Brenda Brown, Susie Halback, Gay Hunt, Judy Lavelle and Susan Deas. Bringing up the rear were Norma Whittier, Carol Oxford, Maria Rowland and Carol Samuel. The trip was off to a rousing start as Carol Samuel stood up, slipped and fell out of the canoe. Soon the intrepid canoeists were on their way, going sideways down the river and running into the bank at nearly every turn.

The stream began to widen into a sawgrass swamp and the fearless Girl Scouts ran aground only 20 or so times. As the day wore on they grew tired and hungry and never were a group of p-'s happier to find civilization once again. After eating supper and singing around the campfire, the girls crawled into sleeping bags, too tired even to talk. Sunday was anticlimax to the events of the day before and everyone spent it lying around eating and preparing to go home. They broke camp at 1 p.m. and in spite of colds and aching muscles, declared it was a weekend never to be forgotten. E.A. note: We thought this was such a good story, we are printing it just the way Susie wrote it.

Nikita Makes Berlin Offer

West Welcomes Russian Move With Caution

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev offered today to withdraw his year-end deadline for signing an East German peace treaty if the Western Allies "show readiness to negotiate" on Berlin.

In a marathon speech to the opening session of the 22nd congress of the Soviet Communist party, he also announced that Russia will end its current nuclear test series by the end of this month after setting off a 50-megaton nuclear explosion, the biggest bomb ever exploded by man.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. officials reacted cautiously today to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal for a Berlin settlement. The initial reaction was "let's not jump too fast" to evaluate what he said.

He told the more than 5,000 delegates, Communist visitors from abroad and a handful of Western newsmen gathered in the glittering, new, glass-walled House of Congress inside the Kremlin walls that the West appeared ready to settle the Berlin and German problems on "a mutually acceptable basis."

In London, Western European government sources gave an initial guarded welcome to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's dropping of the year-end deadline for a Berlin settlement.

The reaction was something like this: "The West has won the first round in the diplomatic battle with Russia over Berlin, but we must expect mounting Soviet pressures for early East-West negotiations of a settlement on Soviet terms."

(A preliminary diplomatic assessment of Khrushchev's let's-have-peace address to the Communist party congress in Moscow today interpreted Russia's climb-down from its 1961 German settlement deadline to be a result of Western firmness and defensive maneuvers in the face of Moscow's threats and ultimatums.)

Khrushchev previously has hinted that he might not carry out his threat to sign a separate treaty with Communist East Germany by Dec. 31 if negotiations could be stated. But his statement today was his first firm offer.

On announcing that the current nuclear test series would wind up this month with the massive explosion, he said that Russia already has a 100-megaton bomb. "May God grant that we never have to explode it," he added, "because we might then blow in our windows."

Ask Probe Of North Orlando 'Promised' Program

Residents attending a special meeting called by the North Orlando Civic Assn. Monday, decided to send letters to F.H.I. district headquarters and to the Homebuilder's Assn. offices requesting that they make an investigation of the North Orlando Company to determine just what steps it will take on promised improvements and setbacks in the village.

The decision stemmed from a recent resolution, drawn by the association which criticized the company for lack of action on promised improvements and stated that within 14 days the group would go ahead with available steps to effect the desired action.

W.W. Anderson, president, read a letter from the company stating that its offers of financial and property assistance still remain and that the association's resolution, explained that its purpose had been to find out when the work would get underway, particularly on the civic building much needed in the community.

Those at Monday's meeting also decided to take a membership vote at the groups next regular meeting on Nov. 6 to determine whether or not it will join the North Orlando Homeowner's Assn. in drafting a resolution calling for the matter of a new village charter to be put to a referendum vote of village residents.

Navy Reassures School Officials On Flight Safety

The Navy Monday assured school officials and members of the Chamber of Commerce that they have been and will continue to take every safety precaution in flying aircraft around the city.

Navy officials told the group that less than five percent of the planes based at the station fly close to the school and that while the school is immediately south of the east-west air corridor, it "definitely is not directly in the flight pattern."

The air corridor is laid out to provide the greatest safety factors possible in all cases they emphasized.

Officials explained that just about all of Sanford could be considered in a flight pattern, one way or another.

Carrier Randolph Catches Fire As Tanker Rams It

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—The aircraft carrier Randolph collided with a Liberian tanker and caught fire Monday night, the Navy reported today.

Atlantic Fleet headquarters here said the collision scene was about 825 miles east of Charleston, S. C. at 6:20 p. m.

The Navy said neither the Randolph nor the oil tanker Atlantic Viscountess was in danger of sinking. There were no serious injuries reported.

A spokesman said the Atlantic Viscountess "knifed into" the port bow of the 40,000-ton aircraft carrier, which had a destroyer on its starboard side taking on fuel only moments earlier.

A gasoline line from the carrier ruptured upon collision and caused a flash fire aboard her, the spokesman said.

"Prompt, efficient firefighting extinguished the blaze in less than five minutes," he said.

A crewman aboard the tanker was injured and reported to have been suffering from shock.

There were "minor injuries to firefighters" aboard the Randolph the spokesman said. The number of injured was not reported, but none were said to have required hospitalization.

The Navy said the Randolph would remain at sea with the destroyers in its task group and would return to port upon "completion of her present schedule."

Firing Of Saturn Rocket Delayed For Improvements

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The federal space agency said today it has postponed the maiden flight of America's first "super-rocket," the Saturn, to make improvements on the vehicle.

The launching of the 660-ton rocket had been scheduled within the next few days at this huge spaceport. The delay may push the firing date back a week or more.

"We'll have a better idea about a new launch date next week," a space agency spokesman said.

Already They Ask

Old St. Nick had better be about his business—and quick! Already the Herald has received two letters to Santa Claus which are being forwarded to the old gentleman at the North Pole.

They came in Monday and one youngster is preparing for a bang-up Christmas, listing 14 items including the Holy Bible. The second letter listed only three gifts.

We are suggesting that Santa place these orders with the Sanford merchants and that he join all the people here who do their shopping on Friday nights. With all that fur and stuff old Kris wears he had better shop in the cool of the evening.

The kids signed their letters Hal and Jerome. Hal makes a modest request for just three gifts, but that Jerome—man he's really got a mouth full of "gimmies."

Polling Place Change Sought

There will have to be a change in one of the new polling places in the county, Supervisor of Registration Camilla Bruce reported today.

Mrs. Bruce said that Precinct 22, the Jewish Educational Building on the northeast corner of Magnolia, can not be used as a polling place.

She added that she would appear before the County Commission this afternoon to inform the board on the need to change that polling place.

Mrs. Bruce stated that $900 post cards was supposed to have been sent out informing residents of polling place changes in the wake of realignment of the county commission districts.

This will have to be delayed until Dec. 31 if negotiations could be stated. But his statement today was his first firm offer.

On announcing that the current nuclear test series would wind up this month with the massive explosion, he said that Russia already has a 100-megaton bomb.

"May God grant that we never have to explode it," he added, "because we might then blow in our windows."

The Lions Clubs sponsor a year-round sight-saving program of testing and eye clinics to try to discover and remedy eye troubles.

Allied Differences 'Teapot Tempest'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy today was reported "seriously concerned" that Allied differences on Berlin strategy have been blown out of true proportion.

Aides said Kennedy felt the recent cancellation of Allied strategy talks in London was a tempest in a teapot, that undue divergence has been read into it and that all this dangerously damages the Allied cause.

The proposed meeting of Allied foreign office experts was vetoed by France.

The basic split between the United States and France, officials said, is on whether there should now be any Allied appearance of willingness to negotiate with Russia.

Bus Of The Future: No Driver Needed

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Until you get used to it this ride of the future may be a bit eerie for Americans.

It looks like an ordinary city bus. It sounds like an ordinary bus.

But there's nobody to shout: "Move to the back please . . . plenty of room for everybody."

The accelerator moves up and down, and so do the brake pedals.

The steering wheel turns to the right and left and you can hear the gears shifting.

The only thing missing is the driver. The bus does not need one.

So far it is a demonstration model on display today at the American Transit Association meeting. The owners of the diesel-powered bus are trying to prove it is feasible in the near future.

Flexible Co., owners of the bus, had it electronically adapted so that a narrow piece of magnetic tape that can be "grooved" into the pavement of a street then seals in quick, simple operation.

To get aboard, you press a button at a bus stop and in a few minutes it is flagged down. Once settled in a comfortable seat, you punch a "start" button.

There are other electronic buttons to punch to stop the bus so you can get off.

Engineers say that for the present, the bus is not for downtown traffic, but would work better in solving transit problems from outlying communities into a downtown area. Once on the fringe of the city, a regular driver would take over.

Peace Corp Girl To Stay In Nigeria Despite 'Uproar'

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI) — The steaming African jungle was a strange setting for a young school teacher from Smith College in Massachusetts.

Margery Michelson had a burning desire to bring enlightenment to the Dark Continent. She was well on the way to achieving her goal when she was accepted as a "Peace Corps" volunteer and sent to Nigeria.

But when she arrived in Nigeria, she suffered an "initial terrified shock" at what she termed the "squalor and absolutely primitive living conditions" of the Nigerians.

Margery was brought up in a prominent Foxboro, Mass., family and she never knew what extreme poverty was like. Her first encounter with misery in Africa disillusioned her and left an indelible impression on her mind.

Without realizing what her action would lead to the pretty, 28-year-old teacher wrote a postcard to a friend of hers in the United States, giving her impressions on life in Nigeria.

She said she was shocked to find that Nigerians live and cook in the streets. But after the first shock, she wrote, she found her assignment a very rewarding experience.

The postcard was intercepted in the mail by unidentified persons, reproduced and copies were distributed among the students at the University College in Ibadan.

where she had been training.

This touched off an uproar with the students demanding that the Peace Corps members be sent home.

Margery said she was sorry for her comments and offered to resign. In a letter of apology to the university, she said she understood the "sense of insult and offense" Nigerian students might be feeling.

A U.S. Embassy official here said Miss Michelson would be kept in Nigeria at least temporarily to let the affair simmer down and to "avoid any precipitous action."

Both the Nigerian government and a Student Christian Movement appealed for calm and stressed that Miss Michelson was not "the Voice of America."

In Washington, the Peace Corps said Monday that demonstrations sponsored by Miss Michelson's postcard showed that "certain groups" are out to destroy the corps. But a spokesman vowed that the corps was in Africa to stay. He said the intensity of efforts to discredit the youth groups "is an indication of the value of the Peace Corps."

Chickens Next On Kennedy's Agenda

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Kennedy administration is preparing to appoint an advisory committee to consider proposed market stabilization programs for broiler chickens.

The committee could recommend that Congress authorize the adoption of federal marketing orders for broiler chickens and chicken hatching eggs, which could include authority for marketing controls on handlers, but not on producers.

The advisory group could not recommend immediate steps to put a market control program into effect without congressional action. There is no authority for such programs for chickens or chicken hatching eggs under current law.

Dade Voters To Decide On Metro Government Today

MIAMI (UPI) — Dade County voters trooped to the polls in cloudy, windy weather today to decide whether to discard their four-year-old metropolitan government system in favor of a more conventional type.

About 160,000 of the county's one million residents were expected to vote in referendum on the so-called McLeod amendment, creation of former County Commissioner John B. McLeod.

McLeod contends METRO, an experiment in countywide government, has pushed taxes too high and places too much power in the hands of "appointed bureaucrats."

Under METRO, the 8,000-employee county government has authority over all countywide problems, among them traffic control, tax collection, building codes, water, sewage and garbage. In these areas, it overrides the authority of the cities, of which Dade County has 37.

McLeod's amendment would abolish the appointive post of the county manager, administrative head of the $40-million-a-year government. It would return all governing power to the county commission and reduce METRO's authority to the county's unincorporated areas only.

Most civic groups—the Chamber of Commerce, the Parent-Teachers Association, the League of Women Voters — backed METRO in today's fight. The Miami City Commission went on record 9-2 Monday in METRO's support. Both Miami newspapers opposed the amendment.

Drug Patent Provisions Attacked By Chemist Head

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A prominent biochemist has told a Senate subcommittee that proposed legislation to tighten patent laws on drug discoveries would discourage pharmaceutical research.

Dr. Johan Bjorksten, president of the American Institute of Chemists, attacked patent provisions of a bill by Sen. Estes Kefauver, (D-Tenn.), in testimony before the Senate Antitrust subcommittee.

Kefauver called two patent attorneys and a spokesman for the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) to testify today at hearings into pricing and licensing practices in the drug industry.

They were Harold M. Vagonius, Chicago patent lawyer; Roberts B. Larson, president of the American Patent Law Association, and Thomas M. Ferrill Jr., of New York representing the NAM.

The opening of the hearings Monday featured a renewal of an old quarrel between Kefauver and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Dirksen challenged Kefauver's opening statement that "prices and profits in the ethical drug industry are excessive and unreasonable," Kefauver later amended the statement by saying it represented his belief and was not the subcommittee finding.

Kefauver contends that 17-year patents on new drugs give medicine makers unusual protection and permit them to form restrictive agreements with other firms to control markets.

His bill would permit exclusive patents on drug discoveries for only three years, and require patent holders thereafter to license any other manufacturer in return for a fixed ceiling of 6 percent royalties.

How to invest wisely in stocks and bonds

It's getting hard to find anyone these days who hasn't heard about the advantages of owning stocks and bonds. What's not so widely known is how to go about investing wisely. Here are four suggestions.
FIRST: Make use of a broker whose full-time job is helping people choose securities sensibly. You'll find him in a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. Every Registered Representative there has met the Exchange's requirements for investment knowledge. From the variety of securities available he can help you select the kind he thinks best fits your needs and today's conditions.
SECOND: An important rule of wise investors is to get facts about a company—never invest on tips or rumors. They know that many a telephone is ringing with calls from high-pressure salesmen urging unwary people to buy risky or worthless stock. They know that prices of both stocks and bonds vary almost every day, some companies may fail to make a profit, may not pay dividends or interest. So the wise investor begins with money not needed for living expenses or emergencies.
THIRD: Which is most important to you—income, growth or safety of principal? Some companies pay relatively high dividends. Some may reinvest a large part of their earnings in the business and pay smaller dividends or none at all, but may have better prospects for growth. Bonds, on the other hand, usually offer greater stability of income and safety of principal.
FOURTH: A good way to start is to read our useful guide to common stock investing, "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS." This valuable booklet gives you the records of some 470 stocks that have paid a cash dividend every year for 25 years or more. It also describes the Monthly Investment Plan, through which you can acquire stock in famous companies with as little as $40 every three months, or as much as $1,000 a month. Newspaper Week

This is newspaper week so here are some thoughts on newspapers.

The politician obviously has to please the public or at least a majority of it.

A Newspaperman, if he is to be effective, must try to react like the public . . . to be the eyes and ears of the public.

This doesn't necessarily mean he will please the public or the politician.

At times, he must make the public mad—and, on occasion, the politician mad.

The COLLISION BETWEEN POLITICIAN AND NEWSMAN IN MANY INSTANCES IS THE ONLY WAY IN WHICH PUBLIC ISSUES GET A FULL DEBATE.

This brings us to the old feud—freedom of the press.

That feud in our mind boils down to this. To make a free society tick, the public must have access to information on how its government is run.

Without a free press, this information would be severely limited.

Newspapers aren't perfect and don't pretend to be. But like em or not—the record is pretty overwhelming that a free press is the best safeguard the citizen has in protecting his rights.

Politicians like to argue that secret meetings are necessary.

We can conceive of situations in which they may be necessary, but as newsmen, we are willing to make THAT DECISION.

Instead, if a public official thinks a secret meeting will best serve the people, we'll be happy to report it, and still raise the roof about his participating in a secret meeting.

If it's important enough to meet in secret, it's IMPORTANT ENOUGH FOR HIM TO TAKE THE HEAT.

We don't expect him to whine about being picked on just because we "misunderstand" some situation that we as newspapermen, and you as the public, aren't intelligent enough to know about.

We love our political friends, but we still have an obligation to our readers.

Let's Give Him a Big Hand . . .

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE K-48: Dolly R., aged 29, is a very efficient housewife.

"Dr. Crane, I have a wonderful husband and two children that we both adore," she began with a radiant smile.

"So I suppose I ought to be entirely happy. But I'm not, for I keep worrying about this profuse growth of hair on my chin.

"I'm sure people must talk about me behind my back because of it. And although I have pulled out the hairs, they always come back.

"Is there any way I could get them removed permanently?"

CRIPPLE COMPLEX

We psychologists often talk about the "cripple complex" which refers to the tendency to overly magnify any ailment or minor facial blemish which you may suffer.

It develops because the victims see their defect every time they look in the mirror, so they keep paying more and more attention to it.

Soon it seems mountainous, though it is usually of only mole-hill size to the general public.

Thus, I hadn't noticed hairs on the chin of Dolly as she sat across from me at my office desk. It wasn't till she mentioned the "profuse growth" that I had thought to analyze her chin.

But millions of girls and married women grow unduly self-conscious about hairs on their lip or face, or on their legs or even their breasts.

If the hairs on the face cause chronic unhappiness, you can have them removed by the electric needle.

But physicians seldom recommend such treatment, for they realize that the usual woman is making much ado about nothing.

Dolly, for example, is not only a vivacious woman, but she has won a devoted husband and has two lovely children.

So what more could she have, even without hairs on her chin?

Why should she complain?

"No who grumbles has too much," runs the old adage, quite apropos here.

BWARE INVOLUTION

Her chief problem is simply the fact that her surplus mental energy isn't completely used up in external activity.

So she has enough surplus time and attention to start scrutinizing herself. And when you do this, sooner or later you become a victim of some complex.

Either you develop imaginary heart trouble or grow alarmed about cancer, or start wondering if your mate is faithful to you, etc.

To avoid this dangerous "involution" of personality, as we psychologists described it, arbitrarily turn your attention outward upon people.

Join the "Compliment Club" and pay an honest compliment each day to three different people.

From Rome Henry McLemore

Little Things That Worry Me Big: The never-ending use of the word "exciting" in advertisements of every kind . . . Exciting bread, exciting cigarette taste, exciting new lard, exciting tail lights, exciting pillow cases . . . And on and on . . . Do people really get excited over such things? Do their hearts beat faster at the sight of a new perfume? . . . I hope not for if they do then I'm not normal . . . I can look at a new shade of shirt material and remain as cool as an unexcited cucumber.

The inability of man to manufacture an unbreakable shoelace, a spot-proof tie, shorts that don't creep like a caterpillar up a tree, and a can-opener that really works . . . It seems that these would be simple problems in a world where the atom is split, tigers are crossed with lions, double-breasted chickens are hatched and garage doors open at the wink of an eye.

The use of 350-400 horsepower motors in cars to be used on highways where the top speed allowed is 60 miles per hour, and even then a cop is liable to get you for going 58 . . . Why not chop the motors in half and use the space saved for a small washing machine for use by the family on trips, or for a kennel for the pets when owners are on the road?

The plan in England to build a by-pass to by-pass a by-pass . . . It requires no imagination to see that, once started, this sort of thing could have no end . . . After a by-pass to by-pass a by-pass will come a by-pass to by-pass that by-passes a by-pass.

The existing belief held by many that all we need to have peace on earth is to have Russia sign an agreement to have peace on earth . . . What is the historical source for the belief that Russia's signature on a treaty or agreement is any more permanent than "Yes, We Have No Bananas" written on water? The favorite indoor sport at the Kremlin is going back on one's word and renegeing on promises, and the mixed-doubles double-cross.

The objection to jaywalking. It is still the fastest and, I believe, the safest way to cross a street. When jaywalking a man takes his own risks, so is extra careful and extra spry. When crossing at a marked pedestrian lane he is careless and trusts the oncoming motorists — which is as foolish as bidding seven no-trump with 13 cards of one suit.

The price of peanut butter sandwiches, which range anywhere from 35 to 75 cents. No matter how you make a peanut butter sandwich — even the ones like Mother used to make, with loving care and devotion — it cannot possibly be worth more than ten cents. At 10 cents there must be an 8-cent profit, even if a great chef from France is brought over to make one.

Roger Maris' off-the-diamond charm. He is going to wear himself out being so thoughtful, considerate, and gracious to kids who, rightly enough, idolize him. Roger should become a little more self-centered, if only for his own health.

The inability of wrinkle-resistant suits to resist wrinkles. I have one, and it doesn't even put up a fight when a wrinkle challenges it, but bows its synthetic material and takes a licking.

Liz Taylor's overweight. It keeps me awake at night.

Letters To The Editor

Editor:

A letter to the people of Sanford and Seminole County:

I would like to propose that we, the people of this area unite our efforts and good will to build a memorial to all the dedicated men and women serving in the Navy, and especially to those who have lost their lives while being stationed at the Sanford Naval Air Station, or being attached to one of its squadrons.

Ever since I came to Sanford three years ago my thoughts and prayers have gone out for these men and women daily.

The names of those that have given their lives for their country during the past wars are remembered in books or stones in our churches and in the hearts of many people—but, I ask you, are the men that fly over our homes daily not engaged in fighting a war?

Whether we realize it or not, our country is fighting a war. They say it is a cold war. Nevertheless it is fought in hundreds of battles daily and these men in the air, on the ground and on the seas are helping to win it. They are risking their lives time and again and when a life is lost, it is for our country, our constitution and our freedom.

Since I have been in Sanford, the thought has been uppermost in my mind that we should do something special to honor these men, but never was I more convinced of it than on Thursday afternoon, when I saw the flames about up, not yet knowing the extent of the tragedy.

Never will anyone be able to make up for the loss these wives and children have experienced, but we can make them feel more proud of their husbands and fathers. We can make them more proud to be Americans.

We can give them a sense of belonging here, if they wish to stay. We can give their children

Tuberculosis takes an annual toll of about 20,000 lives in the United States.

Peter Edson's Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — The 21 American citizens now known held as political prisoners by the Communist Castro government in Cuba present cases far different from the 15 cold war captives imprisoned behind the iron curtain.

Some held in Cuba are adventurers, gun runners, mercenaries. They were captured in guerrilla-type rebel operations against Castro forces.

Others were American citizens doing legitimate business in Cuba, who were picked up on suspicion and held "for investigation."

Several hundred Americans held for varying periods on various charges have been released. But at least six have been executed.

Regardless of circumstances in capture or arrest, continuous efforts have been made to secure the release of any and all Americans held by the Castro government. Negotiations have been carried on through the Swiss government. Its embassy represents U. S. interests while diplomatic relations with the Communist government are broken.

Some cases are so touchy that the Swiss have asked the U. S. State Department to withhold all publicity that might upset dealings with Cuban officials.

In other cases, families of the men have asked that there be no publicity so as to avoid embarrassment.

In the light of these circumstances, State Department has adopted a policy of withholding detailed information on any of the cases—including even their home towns—although in some instances this had been published locally at the time of arrest, sentencing or imprisonment.

This follows a policy set when nearly 100 Americans were held captive by Communist China after the Korean war, while efforts were being made to secure release.

Without identification, therefore, this is the list of Americans now imprisoned in Cuba:

—Sentenced to 30 years and now held on Isle of Pines on charges of being counterrevolutionaries:

Tommy L. Baker, James E. Beane, George R. Beck, Rafael Del Pinto, Alford E. Gibson, Donald Joe Green, Michael Allen Pecora, Leonard L. Scheidt, Austin F. Young Jr.

—Sentenced to from 10 to 25 years on conviction of crimes against the Cuban nation:

Leslie Bradley, Daniel Carwell, Eustance Danbrunt, Darie Phobias Bello, Edmund Taransky.

Holding Americans hostage is an old Castro trick that goes back to when he was a rebel leader in the Oriente hills. In June 1958 his hands seized 10 American and two Canadian engineers at a U. S. Navy and Marine personnel on leave from Guantanamo. All were released within a few days.

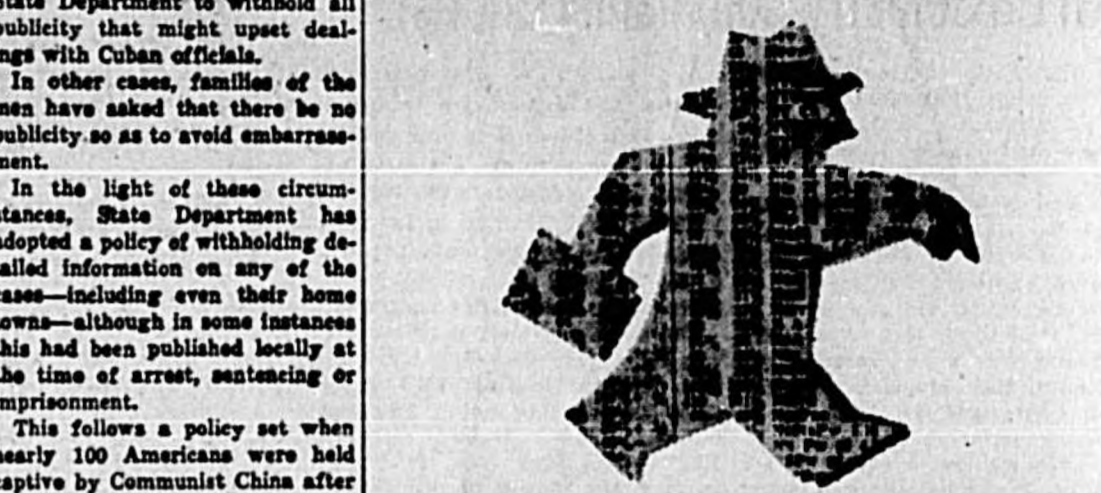

Since that time several hundred Americans have been held for days or months, then released.

The most recent release was Draxal W. Gibson of Greenwich, Conn., on Sept. 7. He had been imprisoned with 19 other Americans after the Bay of Pigs invasion last April.

Mrs. McCall announced that the Sanford flower show this year will be held in the Seminole High School Gymnasium, next April. The circle has been invited to the home of Mrs. W. J. Fleming in Tavares for the November meeting and luncheon. She was a member of the Dirt Gardeners when she lived in Sanford. Guest speaker for the day was G. N. Wagner Jr., of Goldenrod. For more than 30 years he has been interested in rare plants and orchids and has been to South and Central America many times to bring back unusual types of orchid and bromeliads. He showed slides of the natives and their ways of living and of the colorful flowers they helped him find. Of special interest was the picture of a plant that he had developed, by crossing a very dark purple orchid and a brown one to get a plant that produced a bloom almost black. Mr. Wagner is now making plans for a trip to Peru.

Mrs. Eric Vihlen and Mrs. J. C. Sikes were co-hostesses for the opening meeting of the Hemerocallis Circle and covered dish supper at the Vihlen home. Mrs. J. M. Fahey gave a very enjoyable talk on "Bonsai." She told how it originated in Japan and displayed some beautiful plants that she had grown. During the business session, plans were discussed to organize a men's garden club. It was decided to try to contact at least 15 men who would be interested before the next meeting. Mrs. Vihlen told of a workshop to be held in Winter Park, Oct. 23. Several members made plans to attend. Others present were Mrs. Bea Newsome, Mrs. R. L. McKnight, Mrs. Richard S. Miller, Mrs. C. E. SINKS STATE

By JOHN SPOLSKI

First off, we had some unfinished business with you by not covering—of the action in the Thursday night, Friday and Saturday leagues of last week.

So, here we go!

One of the most co-operative groups of bowlers we have in our midst is that of Douglas Aircraft. Whenever there's a bowling meeting or an extra hand needed, you can bet your bottom dollar that Douglas will come forward. Before reporting on their league's action, just wanted to get that bouquet in print for one and all to see and hear! It's sure nice having you folks with us.

From the Tail Enders, Bill Moody and teammate Ed Gonzalez topped top honors with 203/325 and 200/330 series respectively. On the distaff side, Harriet Cowley had a 433 while Rosemary Laubert bowled high with a 156 game.

Following Douglas at 9 p. m. is the Thursday Nite Mixed League who had John Ogden and Robert Hobbs sailing in the way-up area. John banged home a 277 while Hobbs topped him by four with a 321. Hi series was that of Ogden's with a 381.

Wowee! Dot Powell was a 'chompin' away, too, wasn't she? Had games of 191, 191 & 186 for a nifty 548 series.

Others in the charmed duce circle include Appleby 210 for Appleby's Restaurant as well as teammate Harry Pentecost's 211/568. Stone's Allstars were led by the sponsor, affable Ken Stone who had a 204/555 and again a teammate, Dwight Blackwelder came thru with a 202/537.

In the event you missed last week's column and you didn't know who was high gal for the Holler Motors / Navy Wives League, don't despair cause Kay Bowman's name is on top of the heap once again with a 190/524 series.

A couple of other high games in this league were Alinea Franklin's 182, Dot Holbrook 165, Martha Kinnard 178.

On Friday afternoon it's the Jolly fellas from DeBary way—the Spare Ribbers.

Yanks Hope To Make Roberts Another Sain

United Press International

The New York Yankees are hopeful that Robin Roberts will turn out to be another Johnny Sain.

In fact, it will be Sain, now the Yankees' pitching coach, who will be handed this major reclamation project next spring when Roberts reports to the world champions' training camp at Fort Lauderdale.

Sain, you may remember, was purchased by the Yankees from the old Boston Braves in 1951 after slipping to a 5-13 record that year. The old Arkansas side-armed won 35 and lost 25 as a Yankee pitcher for four years helping them to pennants in 1951, '52 and '53.

The Yankees acquired Roberts for slightly more than the $20,000 waiver price Monday from the Philadelphia Phillies. The sturdy, 35-year-old had been with the Phils since 1948 after signing what was then a fabulous $25,000 bonus contract.

During 14 seasons with the Phillies, Roberts won 234 games and lost 190. He won 20 or more games in six straight seasons (1950-1955), reaching his peak in 1952 when he posted a 28-7 record. He has pitched 35 shutouts and a pair of one-hitters, and was named to the National League All-Star squad seven times.

The 200-pound six-footer from Springfield, Ill., reached a career low-water mark with the little Phils this year when he pitched only two complete games in 16 starts and finished with a 1-10 record after injuring his right knee in mid-season.

Bob Carpenter, owner of the Phillies, admitted he was "sorry to see Robbie go, although it's no surprise to either of us."

"I told him if I had an opportunity to place him with a first place club, I would do so," said the proxy of the last-place Phils, who finished 46 games back of the NL pennant-winning Cincinnati Reds this year. "He certainly is getting that."

"I sincerely believe this will be another Sain case," Carpenter added.

"We have nothing to lose and everything to gain by this purchase," said Yankee General Manager Roy Hamery.

Roberts apparently agreed.

"I would like to think I'm capable of pitching regularly and Philadelphia didn't appear to be the place to do it," Robbie said.

"I just want a chance to work hard and be a part of the Yankee team."

The New York Mets also picked up another old NL pitching star Monday when they purchased Billy Loes from the San Francisco Giants for a reported $25,000 on a conditional basis. Loes, 32, was hampered by arm trouble during the past season when he posted a 6-8 record and will be returned to the Giants if he fails to impress Mets Manager Casey Stengel in spring training.

Loes was with the old Brooklyn Dodgers from 1950 through 1955, helping pitch the Dodgers to pennants in 1952, '53 and '55. He went to the Baltimore Orioles early in the 1956 season and remained with them until last year when he was traded to the Giants. His overall big-league record is 60-63.

In addition to Loes, the Giants sold pitcher Dick Denton to Springfield of the Eastern League and four other players to Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League. They also added 12 new players from minor league clubs, including shortstop Hal Lanier, son of former pitching great Max Lanier, and right-handed Gaylord Perry, who had an 18-8 record with Tacoma of the PCL this year.

The Phillies also asked waivers on veteran pinch hitter Elmer Valo, promoted 10 farmhands, released three regulars and lost infielder Ruben Amaro to the U. S. Army. Pitcher Ruben Gomez was among the trio released outright to Buffalo of the International League.

In other transactions, the Los Angeles Angels farmed out five players, including outfielder Faye Throneberry and Chuck Tanner; the Baltimore Orioles purchased former Yankee pitcher Johnny Kucks from Rochester of the IL and the Cleveland Indians promoted six minor leaguers, including pitchers Tom John and Larry Patterson.

The Houston Colts purchased the contracts of veteran pitcher Hal Woodeschick from Denver of the American Association and Jim Fendleton from Jacksonville, Fla.

Punt, Pass, Kick Contest Set Tonight

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mississippi edged Michigan State for the No. 1 spot in the United Press International college football ratings today by a slim margin of five points.

The Rebels of Ole Miss, who have won their first four games and yielded only 13 points, were the first-place choice of 17 members of the 85-man UPI Board of Coaches. Michigan State, which drubbed Michigan, 28-0, for its third straight win, had 16 first-place votes.

Notre Dame (3-0) and Ohio State (3-0-1) made advances in this week's ratings, while Georgia Tech (3-1), Colorado (3-0) and Louisiana State (3-1) moved into the top 10 group.

Texas (4-0) and Alabama (4-0) clung to the third and fourth rankings; Notre Dame moved up two notches to fifth; Iowa (3-0) fell one place to sixth, and Ohio State jumped one place to seventh.

Georgia Tech advanced from 14th to 8th place; Colorado from 12th to 9th, and LSU from a tie for 18th to 10th.

Michigan, Baylor and Maryland dropped out of the top 10 class. Arkansas headed the second 10 group, followed in order by: Missouri, Syracuse, Michigan and Utah State. Purdue was 16th, and Minnesota, Tennessee, Rice and Wyoming completed the second 10 in that order.

Cleveland Brown Grid Star Mitchell Recalled To Army

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Bobby Mitchell, the Cleveland Browns' outstanding halfback, has been recalled to active duty with the U. S. Army, but Coach Paul Brown was encouraged by word that quarterback Milt Plum did not suffer a fractured right thumb in Sunday's game with the Green Bay Packers.

Hudgins has stressed that "there will be no physical contact among the contestants. The contest will be judged solely on the basis of distance and accuracy in punting, passing, and kicking the football."

The winning scores in each of the five age groups will be compared with other high scores in this region. Regional winners will win an all-expense-paid trip with their fathers to a National League football game.

Hudgins has stressed that "there will be no physical contact among the contestants. The contest will be judged solely on the basis of distance and accuracy in punting, passing, and kicking the football."

Publishing Of Grid Odds On Games Hit

NEW YORK (UPI) — The publishing of college football odds, both in newspapers and football cards, has been denounced as a demoralizing influence upon the "kids playing the game" by John Bateman, head coach at Rutgers University.

Tom Nugent, coach of Maryland, and Joe Foss, president of the American Football League, supported Bateman at Monday's football writers' meeting.

Nugent said the printing of odds had a "reverse psychological effect on my team" and Foss said that "any remedy, no matter how small, should be tried" to prevent a gambling scandal.

Bateman pointed out that he was not concerned with the big bettor, because they "always can find out the odds," but he was concerned about the small bettor. He pointed out that "fraternity brothers bet $5 on them at the published odds and the players feel they're letting down their friends if they don't win by the point-spread."

"We've got to pressure down the gambling," Bateman said, "and if we reduce gambling by one-tenth of one per cent it's worth it."

Nugent, whose team lost to Maryland, 14-8, last Saturday, said, "this is no all-out, but the word got to the kids that the oddsmakers didn't think we could pass in the rain."

"And it was a psychological disadvantage," he said, "we couldn't pass in the rain. I'm certain that being picked by two and three touchdowns had its effect on us."

Foss revealed the AFL was particularly alert and wary against

Two Teams Tied For Loop Lead

A two way tie exists for first place team between Ivey's and Harriet's in the Jet Bowlerettes bowling league. Ivey's won four games from Mary Esther's with high bowler for Mary Esther being Lucy Mayer, with a 100 and Verna Bolton leading Ivey's with a high series of 528.

Shirley Martin led Richard's to a four game win over Toy Corral and Jane Bollinger was high bowler for Adams Falata three game win over Bill's Tavern. Fran Mackey's high game of the week of 192 was a big factor in her team's win of three games from Dawn's. Pat Dearolph paced her team to a three game victory over Yowell's with a high game of 182.

Spills made were by Kay Bowman, 5-6-10; Elaine Kostival, 8-10; Shirley Martin, 5-6-10, Celeste Smith and Verna Bolton, 5-10; Arlene Deering, 5-7; Pat Dearolph 3-7 and Louise Gray, 5-8-10.

Braves Blame Competition Lag

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Manager Birdie Tebbetts said today "lack of competition" had hurt the Milwaukee Braves the past two years, and cited the case of pitcher Joey Jay as a player who wasn't used enough.

Jay, traded to the pennant-winning Cincinnati Reds last December, won 21 games for his new team last season, and was cited by UPI for a "comeback of the year."

"It's possible Jay might still be with Milwaukee if he'd been given a chance to pitch, Tebbetts said.

"You learn by mistakes, and I'm not going to make the one of having three men start something like 100 games in a season. That leaves 54 games for seven others."

Slim Lead Held By Contractors

LeRoy Benton's General Contractors held on to a slim lead in last week's action in the Tuesday night Businessmen's League. Town Pump and Sanford Electric Company moved to within one game of the leaders by taking four points each while the Builders could garner but a two and two split with Seminole Sporting Goods.

Benton's efforts give them a record of 14 won and 6 lost, while the Pump and the Electricians show a 13-7 total, with the town pump ahead in total pins by almost 700 to earn the second line of the standing sheet. Owens Gulf 13 and 9, and Davis Builders and A.C.L., both with 11 and 9, complete the first division this week.

Owens Gulf led the team scoring last week as they recorded a 913 scratch game and a 2587 scratch series in downing Autonetics No. 2 by a three to one count. Gerald Dehrens led the Gulfmen with a 211-348. Lenny Biondi showed a 210-368, Bill Horn, a 210-321, Dick Richards a 203-329, and Richard Barnes a 203-318 to round out the double features. Others topping the 500 figure included Earle Shipman, Von Herbulla, Zuckerman, Spolski, Coffman, Ken Stone, Balsler, Proctor, Gudding, and Floyd Martin.

Murphy and Balsler mastered the baby 3-10 split, with Gene Paris picking up the 3-7, gudding the 5-10, and Joe Carsley the 2-7.

This week's schedule: ACL vs. Davis Builders; Owens Gulf vs. Town Pump; Wallys Phillips "66" vs. Autonetics No. 2; Smith's Amoco vs. Sanford Electric; LeRoy Benton's vs. Park Ave. Pharmacy; And Seminole Sporting Goods vs. Autonetics No. 1.

London, Machen Clash Tonight

LONDON (UPI) — Aggressive Brian London of England says he'll try to chase heavyweight contender Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore., out of the ring tonight, in their 10-round fight before an expected 10,000 at the Wembley Pool Arena.

"That's the way to handle timid counter-punchers like Machen," explains the former world challenger, who caused a riot in his bout with Dick Richardson at Portlathaw, Wales, last year and was fined $2,500 and suspended six months.

Coach Resigns

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI) — Wilbur N. (Sparky) Stalcup, whose name had become synonymous with University of Missouri basketball during the past 15 years, announced his resignation as coach Monday to accept the position as the school's assistant director of athletics.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 23 years, and my husband hasn't kissed me since 1945. He never calls me "Darling" or "Honey" like most husbands call their wives. He doesn't care if he pleases me or not. He is a good, faithful man, and we get along fine—like father and daughter. He has no hobbies or interests outside his work. He never wants to go any place. I feel so alone for a married woman. I am 45 and he is 61. How do I get out of this fix?

DEAR ALONE: If you have been sitting around for 15 years waiting for your husband to kiss you, you are as much to blame for his indifference as he. You are both still young enough to enjoy life. Take the initiative. Humor him, pamper him, entertain him and try to put a little zing into your marriage.

DEAR ABBY: The woman who signed herself "Willing to Wait" (for a married man) brought back memories—Thirty years ago my husband had an affair which lasted two years. They couldn't wait for "something to happen" to the wife who didn't understand him. Well, Abby, I found out about the affair, and had every reason to divorce him, but "something happened" to my husband instead. Now, thirty years later, the wife who didn't understand him is the one who wheels him around in his wheelchair. I wonder if the girl friend would want him now? WITHHOLD MY NAME

DEAR ABBY: We moved into this lovely new home only a few weeks ago, while the moving van was unloading, the lady across the street came over and invited me to her house for coffee. I thought she was extremely generous. She gave me all the dirt on all the neighbors so fast I couldn't get the stories straight with the people because I knew no one. She has been coming over here daily, offering to help me get settled, but I notice she has nothing to do with any of the other neighbors.

My problem is that none of my neighbors has made a move toward me. My husband said my friend across the street is probably the neighborhood troublemaker and, if I have anything to do with her, I am dead. How can I get rid of her and meet some nice neighbors?

JUST MOVED IN

DEAR JUST: Tell your "friendly" neighbor that you appreciate her offer of help, but here are certain things you must do yourself. Then discourage her visits and don't visit her. When the other neighbors see that you are no longer chummy with her, they'll come around.

What's troubling you? Write Abby, care of Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Include self-addressed stamped envelope.

BUS STOP

Jacoby On Bridge

South hasn't much of an opening bid when you look at his high cards only. But in practice, his fourth hand spade bid is eminently correct.

To start with he has spades and since neither opponent could open the bidding it is unlikely that they will be able to go far against that most important suit.

Then, if they do start to compete and North decides to double them South has two aces which will represent two defensive tricks against them.

North's jump to three spades is not a force. When we come to the discussion of responding to third and fourth hand bids we will see that in all systems the jump to three shows from 11 to

Some players would pass three spades with the South hand on the theory that they did not really have an opening bid and should be satisfied with a profit.

Such players are penny wise and pound foolish. Once North jumps in spades the South hand moves way up in value and South should go to game.

There is nothing to the play at four spades. South loses two diamonds and one heart. He can ruff two of his hearts in dummy. Actually, he is unlucky not to make five. Put the ace of diamonds in the West hand and he would.

Highlights

7:30-8:30 p. m. (NBC) Laramie — "The Mountain Men." Color. Murder is the plot behind this episode in which Ben Sanford (guest-star Dan Duryea) and his two sons overpower Slim and Jess. Sanford and sons are out to get Vance, accused killer of their kin, while being taken via stagecoach to prison. Reckless mountain boys, they are out for vengeance. Starring John Smith and Robert Fuller.

8-8:30 p. m. (CBS) Dick Van Dyke — "Food for Comedy." The springboard for this laugh entered segment. Bob's wife, Laura, decides to turn matchmaker, leading Sally, his boisterous, gag-minded co-writer, with cousin Thomas, a restrained pharmacist. The romantic pharmaceutical combo mixes, like fire and water; Sally's comedy antics going up in steam. Starring Dick Van Dyke, with Mary Tyler Moore as his well-intentioned wife. Rose Marie co-stars as writer Sally Rogers, and Eddie Firestone is the "victim" guest at the wacky dinner party.

8:30-9 p. m. (NBC) Hitchcock Presents — "Hang, You're Dead." Hitt suspense bull's "eye" on target. There's nothing potentially more deadly than six-year-old Jackie Chester, playfully entering a supermarket, brandishing a loaded gun. The customers are unaware of the danger, believing it's a toy pistol. So for that matter, is the climax; loaded with suspense! Starring Billy Mumfy, as the boy; also in the cast are Bill Elliott and Lucy Prentiss.

9-9:30 p. m. (CBS) Red Skelton — "Dandies and the Gunslinger." Red's ad libs are often more hilar-

TV Time Previews

Rhonda Fleming brings beauty and charm to her portrayal of the widow.

10-11 p. m. (CBS) Garry Moore Show. Durward Kirby is back, and in fine form, particularly in what virtually amounts to a lampoon of Washington interview shows. This one, titled, "Meet Your Senator," has Durward in the role of the Bombastic Senator Fittler; he also does the rocking-chair gossip routine with Garry in a "Little Old Ladies" skit. Other guests include singers Jo Stafford and George Chakiris, as well as regular Carol Burnett.

10-11 p. m. (ABC) Alcoa Premiere — "The Fugitive Eye." Excellent suspense. Charlton Heston stars as a carnival performer who can't convince police he has witnessed a murder and is also rebuffed when he himself becomes a target for mayhem. Entire production has an air of Hitchcock at his best, but it's Heston's performance that makes it extraordinary.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

"Don't let your husband leave the house in a $150 suit, carrying a leaky bag of garbage," says yet another writer of yet another how-to book, this one with a section offering special advice to wives on how to pamper their husbands.

Many wives aren't going to like that bit of advice. What, they are going to wonder, are they supposed to do? Say, "Look, darling, don't touch that nasty old garbage wearing your nice, new, $150 suit. Let me carry it. After all, I'm just wearing the $3.98 housecoat I put on so that I could cook your breakfast."

Or is the wife supposed to say, "Honey, the last time you carried out the garbage in a paper sack the darn thing leaked all over one of your $150 suits as well as on the kitchen floor! Wouldn't it be better to carry out the garbage in its own leak-proof container?"

Or is the wife supposed to get up early on garbage collection day, wake her husband and say gaily, "Time to get up, dear, and put out the garbage before you don your $150 suit?"

Those are three possibilities that just might occur to the loving wife who is told she mustn't let her husband leave the house in a $150 suit, while carrying a leaky bag of garbage.

Another—but I don't think the author had this suggestion in mind at all—is for the wife to say: "How come you can wear $150 suits when we don't even have a garbage disposal in the kitchen?"

But I somehow have the feeling that the only solution the man who offered the bit of advice to wives would approve of is No. 1.

TV Doubleheader Of Bout Seen

NEW YORK (UPI) — Whether boxing shall have its first closed-circuit TV doubleheader on Dec. 4 will be settled this week at Philadelphia.

The three-man Pennsylvania Athletic Commission will decide some time this week whether a proposed (Sonny) Liston-Albert Westphal fight can be staged at Philadelphia on the same night as the Floyd Patterson-Tom McNeely heavyweight title bout, which was officially signed Monday for Toronto on Dec. 4.

While challenger McNeely of Arlington, Mass., was a luncheon guest in New York today, attorney Alfred Klein in Philadelphia, a member of the Pennsylvania commission was communicating with chairman Jim Crowley of Scranton and attorney Paul Sullivan of Pittsburgh as to which would be the best date for their Philadelphia meeting this week.

Whether Liston of Philadelphia, who was top heavyweight contender before his indefinite suspension on July 15, shall be re-instated, and Whether unranked Albert Westphal of Germany shall be approved as an opponent for Liston on Dec. 4, in case big Sonny is reinstated.

6 Persons Killed In Head-On Crash

HOUMA, La. (UPI)—Two cars swept into a curve Sunday night and crashed head-on, killing six persons, four of them teenagers.

The lone survivor, Juli Ledet, 15, was in fair condition at a hospital. The impact was so terrific police said it tore the engine out of one automobile and hurled it more than 30 feet in the air.

Police said one of the cars drifted into the wrong lane on the curve. There were no skid marks, police said, indicating that neither driver had a chance to avert out of the way or slow down.

Top Commies Gather For Meet

MOSCOW (UPI)—The top leaders of the Communist world—with the apparent exception of those from Albania—gathered here today for the ceremonial opening Tuesday of the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress.

Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, Hungary's Janos Kadar and East Germany's Walter Ulbricht were among the list of foreign Red officials who will gather in the brand new Kremlin theater to hear Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's report on Soviet and world affairs.

Khrushchev went personally to Vnukovo Airport to greet Chou Sunday, giving the appearance that the much-publicized rift between Peking and Moscow is closing.

Man Goes Berserk; Kills 1, Shoots 2

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—A 37-year-old carpenter went berserk with a shotgun Monday night and killed an aged woman, wounded two policemen and tried to kill his mother before police brought him down.

Police said David Harris Burkhardt, who lived with his mother and her companion, told them he decided "they were picking on me."

They said he opened the door of the room where his mother's companion, 71-year-old Mrs. Mary Fix, was sleeping, and killed her with a blast from his 12-gauge shotgun.

Then, armed with more than four boxes of shells, he raced downstairs and loosed two shots at his mother, Mrs. Saullia Burkhardt, 61, who fled into the street unhurt.

Police said Burkhardt raced into the street after her, firing charges of shot through windows of neighboring houses.

When police arrived, Burkhardt fled into his own back yard and hid behind a hedge near his barbecue pit.

Then patrolman Martin Fitzinger, 31, approached. Burkhardt, firing in all directions, shot him through the lungs. Fitzinger, in critical condition, was undergoing emergency surgery early today.

Lt. L. L. Jones raced to his patrol car to call for help and a blast ripped through the windshield, wounding him superficially about the face.

Police cordoned off the resort area and surrounded the backyard where Burkhardt was hiding. Patrolman A. Lee Brown crept around behind the yard and said he saw Burkhardt "crouched behind some shrubs."

"I circled him and said 'Drop the gun and stand there.' He wheeled and when he did I shot him."

The bullet hit Burkhardt in the thigh, knocking him down. "He went down on his knees and whirled around," Brown said, "and I rushed him and hit him over the head with my pistol."

Other officers rushed up and wrenched the gun away from the dazed Burkhardt.

Detective David Blair said Burkhardt made a statement saying he killed Mrs. Fix and tried to kill his mother because they were persecuting him.

As for the rest, Burkhardt said, "I must have gone out of my mind."

Canal System Up To Us - Adams

By DOTTIE HIGGINSBOTHAM
Secretary of State Tom Adams said here Tuesday night that Florida is the key to unlock the greatest inland water highway in the world.

Adams spoke to the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and 150 guests at the Civic Center.

"We now have the tools and the resources, but the primary responsibility lies in men," Adams said. "Let us now join hands to work toward this great water highway."

"With this area having been determined the home of the lunar project, linking our two great waterways from the Gulf to the Atlantic will become the greatest boon Florida has ever known."

"Florida is at the dead end on both her coasts," Adams said. "The Atlantic Intercoastal Waterway, which comes all the way down from the Great Lakes on the east and the vast system of waterways on our Gulf side stretching to Texas and up the Mississippi River basin to the Great Lakes ends in Florida."

"We must tie these giant waterway systems together to sustain an economic development and put Florida on a Gulf to Atlantic super-highway of water-borne commerce," he said.

"But these things don't just happen," the secretary of state said. "What will we do? What have we done? What can we do?"

In answer to his own questions, Adams told his audience that the Florida Legislature has now undertaken a conservation program for all aspects of water use, such as never before seen in this nation.

"Your representatives and senators have provided the leadership to create a new board with total responsibility, set up on a divisional basis."

"Every waterway project in Florida is now a part of this program," he said. "The Governor and his cabinet for the first time, went to Washington to promote the Florida Waterways program."

"We have achieved, in one year, advances fought for for a generation."

"We now have leadership in the proper places. The Canal Authority of Florida is headed by Bill McCree of Orlando. Outstanding men have been chosen for the committee, from all over the state. These men can evaluate the needs of the entire state."

Concerning the Sanford-Canal Canal, Adams said that when an alignment is completed, the new Canal Districts Act will provide the authority to create a canal district. The governor can appoint members to obtain rights of way and an application for Federal funds can be made.

Tropical Storm Kills 4 In Cuba

MIAMI (UPI) — A tropical disturbance carrying heavy rains that left four persons dead in eastern Cuba moved toward the Bahamas about 200 miles off the coast of Florida.

The low pressure area, called a tropical depression, had not yet turned into the season's seventh tropical storm, but showed signs of slowly developing.

In an 11 a. m. bulletin, the Miami Weather Bureau said hurricane hunter planes found the disturbance poorly organized.

The board area of low pressure extended from the northern Caribbean to the Bahamas about 200 miles off the coast of Florida.

Call Off Big Test, U. S. Asks Russia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House has asked Russia to call off its planned test of a 30-megaton nuclear bomb late this month because of the "mass" of radioactive fallout it would unleash.

The White House statement, issued Tuesday night by presidential Press Secretary Pierre Salinger, said that "such an explosion could only serve some unconfessed political purpose."

"We believe the peoples throughout the world will join us in asking the Soviet Union not to proceed with a test which can serve no legitimate purpose and which adds a mass of additional radioactive fallout to that which has been unleashed in recent weeks," it added.

Rumors He Will Resign Denied By Hutchinson

County Commission Chairman J. C. Hutchinson today scotched rumors that he is considering resigning his commission post.

"There's just no truth to that report," Hutchinson said.

Hutchinson made the statement after the Herald questioned him that on recent county commission roll call votes he has been on the minority side 99 percent of the time.

The chairman also stated that he felt that the people would never vote for a half million dollar civil defense program unless it is explained in more detail to the public.

The chairman stated that the committee was following executive orders from the governor regarding the microfilming of county records. "That can be expensive," Hutchinson also said that action was tabled Tuesday afternoon on employing a county attorney and health director.

"There was a lot of whispering around the table about tabling action on the attorney," he added.

He also said that choosing a health director was in committee made up of Commissioners James P. Avery and John Fitzpatrick.

METRO Wins In Close Dade Vote

MIAMI (UPI) — Dade County's controversial METRO government system won a close vote of confidence in a special election Tuesday, but the narrowness of the record referendum vote may dictate changes.

More than 200,000 persons voted on a package of 40-odd amendments that would have amounted to a new charter for METRO, an experiment in local government designed to meet the new and special problems of mid-century urban population growth.

Complete unofficial returns however showed 104,575 votes against the so-called McLeod amendment which drew 95,380 favorable votes more than double the 44,047 votes which first put METRO into effect on May 21, 1957.

Reds To End Tests After Big Blast, Dean Says In UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — A U. S. charge that Russia seeks a new moratorium to prevent nuclear tests by others after it winds up its own series with a 50-megaton blast on Oct. 31 confronted the United Nations today.

The charge was made Tuesday by Arthur H. Dean, chief U. S. negotiator for a permanent, controlled and inspected nuclear test ban. Dean made the charge as the General Assembly's 101-nation political committee prepared to wind up a week-long argument on which its agenda items should be debated first.

As a result, the committee postponed its vote until today when it will decide on the discussion priority of an Anglo-American demand for an immediate test moratorium and a Russian demand for debate on overall disarmament as the first order of business.

Dean pointed out that Russia resumed nuclear testing in September without warning and with obvious preparation carried out while a moratorium was in effect.

Pilot Says X15 Can Top 4,000 M.P.H.

EDWARDS AFB, Calif. (UPI) — Pilot Joe Walker — who set a speed record of 3,920 miles an hour — is convinced the X15 rocket plane will fly faster than its designed goal of 4,000 m.p.h.

The reason? He put the black research plane's speed brakes on Tuesday to keep his speed down during a scorching 10-minute ride that signaled the X15 is ready for an all-out flight.

"I'll go out on a limb," Walker laughed after his flight. "If I hadn't opened up the speed brakes, we would have been over 4,000 — maybe by 50 miles an hour."

Scientists wanted to study control problems in the speed range he flew. At that, he went 35 miles an hour faster than he was supposed to.

County Commissioner James P. Avery Tuesday recommended that the board give serious consideration for an immediate engineering survey on a six lane "direct shot" highway from Seminole County to the Cape.

"If we don't do anything now, we are going to be bypassed as we have been in the past," Avery declared.

"We need a completely new road," he added.

Avery suggested a road, possibly from Ocala Road through Farm Park but added, "That would be up to the engineers."

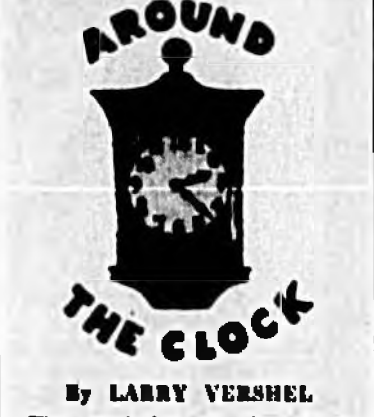

"We would have to provide money. Our engineers wouldn't have time to do the job."

The board took the matter under advisement.

In other business, the commission set public hearing on raising septic tank fees for Nov. 14; also a public hearing on rezoning property behind the Seminole Trailer Park.

Authorized Commissioner Ted Williams to get a cost estimate

By LARRY VERNHEL
The majority of the County Commissioners want a straw vote of the people on whether they favor a half million dollar Civil Defense Program. Nobody asked me, but how about a straw vote on whether the people favor recent county commission policies?

Look for an announcement soon on the new post office for Sanford.

How about some support for the Hospital Auxiliary's show Thursday night.

How come there isn't a cub scout den in the Country Club section of the city? ... It's the most populated.

Looks like it will be Joe Baker and Mrs. Rita Crews battling for the city commission post Nov. 7. Today is the final day for qualifying.

Commissioner Vernon Dunn called last night telling us he has established a county commission record. According to Dunn, he set a new 48-year-old mark for a commissioner who had made a motion that either died for lack of a second, or was defeated.

By the way did you know that out of the last eight roll call votes at the County Commission, Chairman J. C. Hutchinson was defeated seven out of eight times.

I think the County Commission has accomplished one thing: I went down to register to vote today... but they tell me I'll have to wait for the registration books to open Nov. 14... Seems when they get started they don't leave a guy nothing.

Poll On Fallout Tax Proposed By County Board

County Attorney Mack Cleveland Jr., Tuesday afternoon was authorized by the County Commission to get the attorney general's ruling on whether the board can use Civil Defense funds to conduct a double-postcard "vote of the people" poll on whether they would be willing to pay an additional three mill levy next year to finance a half million dollar Civil Defense program.

A three man county commission committee made up of John Fitzpatrick, Ted Williams and James P. Avery presented the report which calls for a $75,000 warning system, hospital building, educational program which, according to Civil Defense Director A. B. Peterson Sr., would put this county among the "foremost" in civil defense in the county.

"I neither approve or disapprove of this program... I had nothing to do with it and it's not what I asked for," Peterson said.

Peterson had requested $25,000 for a skeleton warning system and bringing the local CD office up-to-date.

At the same time, the three-man committee beat down a motion by Vernon Dunn that $21,000 be transferred from the hospital aid to the incident program to carry out Peterson's program. County Commission Chairman J. C. Hutchinson went along with Dunn.

In discussing the three-man committee's report, Fitzpatrick said the program speaks for itself. A "skeleton warning system" wouldn't help persons in out-of-the-way places. If we are going down the road, it might as well be the highway and go all the way," he added.

Avery called for the immediate post card survey citing the pressure put on this group from minorities that were not from the majority of the people.

Among the so-called pressure groups cited by members of the committee was the grand jury and local press.

Williams said the whole county should be protected and the only way was a complete warning system and education program.

The committee recommended that Federal Housing and Home Finance Loan or "other available financing agencies be contracted to get a one-year loan to pay for the program which would cost $312,000.

The committee recommended that the loan be retired through a three mill levy to be included in the 1962 county tax roll.

"Since a considerable amount is involved, we believe that the registered voters of the county should have their wishes known and should therefore be polled as to their decision in the matter," the report said.

A comprehensive analysis of the cost of the report reveals: Warning system, $75,000; production of documents, $130,000; protection of personnel and continuity of basic government, $235,000; education, $32,000.

Recommendations included a warning system comprised of fixed sirens, a radio warning network, mobile devices and any other new developments that would provide for all citizens of the county.

All essential records to be microfilmed and copies stored in a suitable location.

Construct a "control center" that will house, feed and protect, from all dangers of nuclear attack, a minimum of 100 key personnel;

Establish a fuel and supply pump at the same location;

Employ a full-time civil defense director;

Establish suitable storage facility for 200 bed packaged hospital for food and other essential supplies.
