Sheriff's Office investigating robbery

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office is investigating a late night crime that occurred Monday where employees of a Walgreens Drug Store were robbed, threatened and tied

The robbery happened just before 11 p.m. at the Walgreens, located at 1201 South International Parkway near Lake Mary. Three suspects entered the store, armed with handguns. They were described as either black or Hispanic males, and they had their faces obscured by, what witnesses described as, either rags, T-shirts, or masks.

As they entered the business, one of the store employees tried to grab one of the suspects' guns. The employee was struck on the forehead and the back of the head.

The trio then began to round up money from within the store. One employee, who tried to explain to them how the safe worked, reportedly had a barrel of a handgun stuffed into his mouth. The employees were tied up with telephone cord and put onto the office floor. The three left the store with an undisclosed amount of cash. Witnesses, who pulled up to the store just as the suspects were leaving, saw the suspects get into a mini-van.

The investigation continues. Anybody with information is asked to call either the Seminole County Sheriff's Office at 407-665-6600, or Crime Line at 1-800-423-TIPS.

Riverwalk receives boost from CR.

SANFORD — The Downtown Community Redevelopment Agency agreed Tuesday to assist the city of Sanford by funding possible shortfalls in the Riverwalk project after the original contractor withdrew its Board members voted unanimously to make the offer and recommended the city commission accept the second-lowest bidder, Wharton-Smith Inc.

The best bang out of the reinvestment

Downtown agency offers financial aid for city's estimated $11.4 million project dollars we're charged with overseeing is to spend it on hard-money projects — bricks and sticks," said CRA board member Tom Ball. "The Riverwalk project is an important one for downtown and would be a positive use of our money."

The city needs to find $1.2 million to fund Riverwalk if it moves forward with Wharton-Smith's $11.4 million bid. The city has secured $10.2 million in state and federal funding to pay for the project, which includes replacing the seawall from Mellonville to French avenues.

Harbco Construction Inc. was the original low-bidder, with a price of $9.1 million. However, Harbco changed seawall contractors after the bids were unscaled, and the city would not qualify the replacement contractor. The company withdrew its bid last Wednesday.

Sanford City Manager Tony VanDerworp said the city is faced with two options: put the project out for rebid or accept the second-lowest bidder. VanDerworp said rebidding the project would take a minimum of 45 days because city staff would change project specifications to hopefully meet the $10.2 million budget.

The city commission was scheduled to make a decision on the two options

2 suspects arrested in chop shop operation

From Staff Reports

Two more suspects have been arrested for their alleged involvement in a Central Florida chop shop operation that stole motorcycles pickup trucks and utility

The suspects are identified as Steven Wayne Noc, 39, and Mark Lee Steward, 36.

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office said both are accused of racketeering, conspiracy to commit racketeering, grand theft auto and dealing in stolen prop-erty. Noe is being held in the Seminole County jail under a half million dollar bond. The arrests came Tuesday after a sealed, 1,094- page affidavit was filed with the Circuit Court in Seminole County last week.

A number of agencies were instrumental in putting together the case including the Office of Statewide Prosecution, the City-County Auto Theft Bureau and its member agencies which include the Seminole County Sheriff's office, Sanford police, Winter Springs police, Altamonte Springs police and the Brevard County Sheriff's Office.

The arrests are part of an operation that became public last November when a search warrant was served at 1511 Mellonville Ave. in Sanford. At that time, authorities discovered a stolen box-type trailer, a stolen travel trailer and a stolen pickup

Other stolen property was discovered in the house and the workshop. Subsequent search warrants at other sites yielded even more stolen goods. Eventually, an estimated $300,000 worth of stolen property was recovered. Early on, authorities arrested Richard VanAlstyne, 38. He is now serving time in prison. VanAlstyne and Noe were allegedly partners in the criminal enterprise. Steward was one of those who worked for them, as was Timothy Suwalski, 37, and Mark Gizeskowaik, 44, both of whom were arrested earlier this

Now as also arrested in March, 2001 on another chop shop charge and was awaiting trial in that case.

Special Master to determine future of billboards

By Nick Pfelfaut Staff Writer

Whether or not William Kirchoff will receive a billboard permit is still undecided. Kirchoff had first proposed the billboard on July 25, 2000, to be located in the northwest quadrant of Interstate-4 and Highway 17-92 near the St. Johns River. On Jan. 23, 2001, however, the Seminole County Commission adopted an ordinance establishing a 180-day moratorium on the issuance of development permits for billboards (within unincorporated Seminole County) stating that pending applications would be part of the moratorium.

Since that time, the matter has been batted back and forth during a number of County Commission meetings, zoning department meetings, St. Johns River Water Management, Flor-ida Department of Transportation, and others.

The subject of allowing billboards however, is not just a few years old. Between 1995 and 1999, approximately 20 meetings were held with billboard companies and county staff regarding billboard issues.

During Tuesday morning's commission meeting, it was suggested that the matter go before a Special Master Hearing officer. Commissioner Grant Malloy, however, spoke against the pro-

"I would support by-passing the Special Master and allow the applicant to go ahead," Malloy said. "I think that's the fair thing

Commissioner Carlton Henley said he agreed with Malloy. "It's not that I want more billboards in Seminole County, but we have to think about fairness."

Commissioner Randy Morris reiterated that when the moratorium was first established, it included applications which were still pending, which includ-ed that of Kirchoff plus several others. "The only way we're going to resolve this is to take it to a Special Master," he proposed.

Dual Diagnosis Program offers clients chance for brighter future

By Michelle Jerla Managing Editor

SANFORD - State and local officials gathered last week to honor a new county program that improves the quality of life for individuals suffering from mental illness and substance abuse.

A ribbon cutting ceremony was held last Tuesday at the Dual Diagnosis Program's 919 E. 2nd St. location. The facility offers a service that has often gone ignored within the community. "Research has found 75 percent of people suffering from mental illnesses also have a substance abuse problem," said Charlotte Giuliani, director of Dual Diagnosis and Forensic Services for Seminole Community Mental Health Center

For a variety of reasons, our local jails have become the mental health treatment centers of last resort.

Director of Dual Diagnosis and

In the past, people suffering from mental illness and a substance abuse problem could not find help for both problems at one facility, Giuliani said. Many, who See Program, Page 12A had difficulty finding treatment for both problems, entered a continuous cycle of living on the streets and in jail.

According to the U.S. Department of Justice, 22 percent of the nation's local jail inmates in 2001 were mentally ill. On average, a mental health offender costs more to manage in jail, stays longer and recidivates at a higher rate than other inmates, Giuliani

"For a variety of reasons, our local jails have become the mental health treatment centers of last resort," she said. "This transference of responsibility for treatment of the mentally ill to the criminal justice system is not only ineffec-

Soon to be father-in-law flirting with danger

DEAR ABBY: My fiance, "Eduardo," and I have been a couple for nearly four years. We plan to marry in 2004.

Eduardo's parents ("Maribell and Guillermo") have had their share of marital problems but have remained together. My father died six years ago, and my mother

raised my sister and me by herself. She is an attractive woman with high standards who chose not to date until last year.

Our "combined family" has always enjoyed getting together on birthdays and holidays. However, recently Guillermo has been hitting on my mother! He stares at her, vies for her attention, and makes no secret of the fact that he loves to be near

My mother is not — and would never be interested in him, especially since she and Maribell have become close friends.

I think the behavior of Eduardo's dad is outand-out inappropriate, but if I mention it to Eduardo, he refuses to acknowledge there's a problem. He insists his father would never behave "like that." Eduardo won't discuss it with me anymore and refuses to bring it up with his dad.

Should I approach my future father-in-law myself, Abby? If so, exactly what should be said? I don't want to say anything to Maribell because if she hasn't already noticed her husband's behavior, it would only hurt her. Please share any suggestions you have.
DISTRESSED AND DISTURBED

DEAR D AND D: You say your mother is attractive and has high standards. I'm sure this isn't the first time since your father's death that a man has "put the moves" on her.

Rather than involving yourself in this delicate situation, let her speak up for herself in putting Guillermo in his place.

DEAR ABBY: I surprised myself. I seduced a man not long ago, with the sole intent of having a one-night affair. We agreed that we didn't want to get seriously involved at the

Well, the one-night affair turned into six encounters in three weeks, and it is very enjoyable on a physical level. The problem is, the sexual aspect is all there is. I would like to go out and have fun, like the night I met him. I have brought this up, yet the subject remains unanswered.

How do I firmly express that I want more without him thinking that I'm looking for a relationship?

ASKING TOO MUCH IN CHICAGO

DEAR ASKING TOO MUCH: But you ARE asking for a relationship - you want to make plans, go out and have fun. That's a lot more than the one-night stand you indicated to him that you wanted. The irony is, you are getting more — and less — than you asked

Tell him straight out in plain English what you want. But don't be surprised if he's unwilling to cooperate. You're changing the rules after the game has started.

DEAR ABBY: I am a new stepfather to two adorable girls, ages 4 and 7. I explained to them that I am their stepfather - but they call me Dad or Daddy anyway.

Their father heard them call me Daddy, and he's extremely upset. He is accusing me of "undermining his importance."

Abby, what should the girls call me - and how do I handle this overbearing father? INSTANT FAMILY IN CENTRAL CALIFORNIA

DEAR INSTANT FAMILY: The girls should call you anything they wish. However, ask them to come up with several new options, and you pick the one you like best. When the girls and you have decided on a new name, your problem with their father should disappear.

Executive Source equips new computer lab at Lake Howell

Computer Systems (ESQ), one of Central Florida's largest computer companies, on Monday donated 26 computer systems to completely outfit a new computer lab at Lake Howell High School.

The computers, which were built by ESQ and equipped with software based specifically on the high school students' needs, are valued at more than $30,000.

In a dedication ceremony Monday, ESQ President Ray Bazzi also announced his company's commitment to become a business partner of Lake Howell High.

Bazzi said ESQ will provide technical training for teachers on computer software and lead classes to instruct students in building computers. ESQ also will offer students field trips, allow our advanced students as well as provide grant writing assistance to the school.

"Executive Source has long believed in getting engaged in the community. What better place to give back than to our future workforce - the students of Central Florida?" Bazzi said. "By getting the proper technical training, these students will be better prepared to enter the workforce."

Students in grades 9 through 12 will use the lab for the school's program of emphasis in broadcasting arts.

Lake Howell is expanding its areas of TV production, computer technology, Web design and Web radio, according to school Principal Shaune

"The higher-end lab will

For the past 15 years, Executive Source Quality Computer Solutions (ESQ) has provided built-to-order PCs and servers throughout Central Florida.

The company continues to grow by offering total IT solutions to schools, local governments and corporations. ESQ is the largest Intel premier partner and Microsoft Gold partner in Florida.

ESQ was recently named one of the 10 largest computer companies in Central Florida by the Orlando Business Journal. The paper also named ESQ the seventh fastest-growing computer company in Central Florida.

"The MMAI is a true mark of distinction that helps business owners in selecting advisors for their M&A transactions," says Read. "I have put the education to use for my clients and have seen the payoff. Through the M&A Source, the MMAI sets the standard for professional intermediaries. It's a designation I carry with tremendous professional pride."

SHS drama students provide some 'Grease' for classic car show

Merchant of the Month is Molly & Me Antiques

They came to see classic cars and hear 50's music, but hundreds of visitors to Main Street's monthly classic car cruise got an unexpected treat Saturday night in Magnolia Square.

Seminole High School's drama troop livened up the scene with dance routines that ranged from doing the Macarena to song and dance skits from the movie Grease.

money for our bake sale in Magnolia Square - but we ended up having great fun while giving one of our liveliest performances ever," said Kira Vinikas, a drama student at Seminole High.

In addition to handing out cruiser trophy awards, fifty-fifty raffle money, prizes for the children's hoola contest and door prizes, Sanford Main Street held a drawing for "Merchant of the Month" which entitled the winning merchant to be showcased announcements in association with the monthly Car Cruise. Molly and Larry Meyerholz of Molly and Me Antiques - the winner of the drawing - were one of 18 open merchants who participated in the drawing.

"We're trying something new to proactively engage the downtown merchants while giving them an opportunity for more exposure during a captive audience," said Main Street director Marlene Frith. "Molly and Larry have been active supporters of our mission to revitalize downtown, and I congratulate them on receiving this award."

Commissioner Art Woodruff, "We actually came, to raise a member of Main Street's board of directors, presented the trophies to the cruiser for Best of Show and the cruiser traveling the greatest distance. "This was definitely a great car cruise," Woodruff stated. "The high school group certainly added to the event and with the vendors, merchant participation and good turn out, there was a lot of activity on the street," he added. Woodruff estimated the crowd to be at least 500 visitors.

Is we approach the one-year anniversary of the tragic terrorist attacks on New York and Washington, D.C., we are reminded of how truly precious our freedom is and how important it is to defend our ideals as a nation. As Americans, we must continue to be vigilant against intolerance and hate wherever it occurs. After all, our best defense against terrorism is the solidarity and strength of our communities. By living with our eyes, ears and hearts open, we can all do our part to defend America and the freedom we cherish.

On this sad day, our deepest sympathies and prayers remain with the victims and their loved ones.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS TO BE VOTED ON NOVEMBER 5, 2002

NOTICE OF ELECTION

I, Jim Smith, Secretary of State of the State of Florida, do hereby give notice that an election will be held in each county in Florida, on November 5, 2002 for the ratification or rejection of proposed constitutional amendments of the State of Florida:

NO. 1 CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT ARTICLE I, SECTION 17 (Legislative)

BALLOT TITLE: Amending Article I, Section 17 of the State Constitution

BALLOT SUMMARY: Proposing an amendment to the State Constitution identical to a proposed amendment to Section 17 of Article I of the State Constitution which was approved by a statewide vote in 1998. The Supreme Court of Florida struck the 1998 amendment in a ruling in which four of the seven justices found that the ballot summary was inaccurate. The proposed amendment expressly authorizes the death penalty for capital crimes and expressly authorizes retroactive changes in the method of execution. The amendment changes the prohibition against "cruel or unusual punishment," currently provided in Section 17 of Article I of the State Constitution, to a prohibition against "cruel and unusual punishment" to conform with the wording of the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. The amendment prohibits reduction of a death sentence based on invalidity of an execution method and provides for continued force of the sentence. The amendment permits any execution method unless prohibited by the United States Constitution. The amendment requires construction of the prohibition against cruel or unusual punishment and the proposed prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment to conform to United States Supreme Court Interpretation of the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. The amendment would prevent state courts, including the Florida Supreme Court, from treating the state constitutional prohibition against cruel or unusual punishment as being more expansive than the federal constitutional prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment or United States Supreme Court interpretations thereof. The amendment effectively nullifies rights currently allowed under the state prohibition against cruel or unusual punishment which may afford greater protections for those subject to punishment for crimes than will be provided by the amendment. Under the amendment, the protections afforded those subject to punishment for crimes under the "cruel or unusual punishment" clause, as that clause currently appears in Section 17 of Article I of the State Constitution, will be the same as the minimum protections provided under the "cruel and unusual" punishments clause of the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. The amendment provides for retroactive applicability.

Specifically, the proposal amenda Section 17 of Article I of the State Constitution, to read as set forth below. The word striction is a deletion; words underlined are additions:

SECTION 17. Excessive punishments.—Excessive fines, cruel and or unusual punishment, attainder, forfeiture of estate, indefinite imprisonment, and unreasonable detention of witnesses are forbidden. The death penalty is an authorized punishment for capital crimes designated by the legislature. The prohibition against cruel or unusual runishment, and the prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment, shall be construed in conformity with decisions of the United States Supreme Court which interpret the prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment provided in the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. Any method of execution shall be allowed, unless erohibited by the United States Constitution. Methods of execution may be designated by the legislature, and a change in any method of execution may be applied retroactively. A sentence of death shall not be reduced on the basis that a method of execution is invalid. In any case in which an execution method is declared invalid, the death sentence shall remain in force until the sentence can be lawfully executed by any valid method. This section shall apply retroactively.

Salvation Army service continues for September 11 victims statistics, The Salvation Army assisted more than 121,000 people in the almost one year since the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks, providing grief and mental health counseling, financial assistance, and other basic social services.

In addition, Salvation Army officers, staff and 107,169 volunteers - clocking more than 1.6 million volunteer hours served almost 5 million meals to relief workers and victims at disaster sites in New York, Washington and Pennsylvania.

Although the work at the sites of the attacks has ended, The Salvation Army continues to serve those in need through its corps community centers in New York and around the country.

The statistics also show that The Salvation Army has received nearly $88 million in donations for its September 11 relief work, and that to date, about $65 million has been spent on programs for those impacted physically, financially and emotionally.

Primary services include financial aid to victims' families and others whose livelihoods were impacted, and continued counseling for a variety of workers involved in the disaster aftermath and clean up. The Salvation Army estimates that the remaining $23 million will be spent by the end of 2003, according to a two-year spending plan developed by the Army in late

"We are incredibly grateful for the many Americans who have supported The Salvation Army's September 11 relief work," said Commissioner John Busby, National Commander of The Salvation'Army. "Their generosity has enabled The Salvation Army to continue to serve those in need, and we remain committed to doing whatever we can to assist these victims for as long as necessary."

Civil Air Patrol to conduct mission pilot check flights

The DeLand Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol (CAP) will be conducting check flights for members who are pilots on August 31, 2002.

Six aircraft will be flying in from around the state with CAP officials to test the skills of CAP pilots. Flying skills for a number of different missions CAP members perform include slow flight, precision tracking and emergency radio beacon searching.

The Civil Air Patrol is the United States Air Force Auxiliary. The CAP's three main missions include Emergency Services (Search and Rescue, and Disaster Relief), the Cadet Program (leadership training for young people age 12-18), and Aerospace Education (to further public awareness of the history and advances in aviation and space exploration).

The Civil Air Patrol was created in December, 1941 and quickly became the mainstay of coastal patrols of the United States. During WWII, the CAP was responsible for the sinking of at least two German U-Boats, and for doing serious damage to countless others. After the war, a high-ranking German military official confirmed that U-Boat patrols off the coast of the US were halted as a result.

The CAP was on site directly after the 9/11 attacks, providing the first reconnaissance photos used by emergency agencies for damage assessment, as well as transporting much needed blood and supplies, and securing crop duster aircraft from terrrorists across the country.

If you are interested in learning more about the Civil Air Patrol, please contact the commander of the DeLand Squadon, Capt. Joe Friend, at 386-763-1836.

According to Giuliani, it costs between $25,000 and $40,000 per year to incarcerate a misdemeanor offender. However, it costs between $12,000 and $15,000 for community-based treatment per year for the same offender.

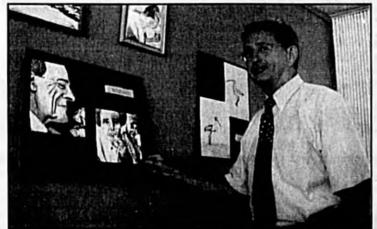

A few years ago, a small group of individuals from Seminole Community Mental Health Center Inc., decided to find a treatment solution for people suf-fering from dual diagnosis — taking the burden away from law enforcement. They approached state Rep. David Mealor about sponsoring a bill allocating funds to the Seminole project.

"David Mealor took the ball on the house side, and then Sen. Lee Constantine picked it up in the Senate," said James Berko, Seminole Community Mental Health Center Inc. executive director. "The bill got the backing of House Speaker Tom Feeney, and he really punched it through."

The program received more than $300,000 in state funding and about $100,000 in local matching funds. According to Giuliani, the program's staff is also aggressively pursuing grants for the new treatment alternative in Seminole.

Services in the Dual Diagnosis Program include assessment/ psychological evaluations, crisis stabilization, detoxification, inpatient treatment, out-patient treatment, case management, vocational rehabilitation and day treatment. In-patient clients are usually referred to the program through the court system or law enforcement agencies.

"Individuals charged with a low-level misdemeanor may be diverted from jail to our program," Giuliani said. "Here, we can offer them help with their substance abuse and make them realize the importance of the

The in-patient treatment lasts a minimum of 45 days, and longer if needed, Giuliani said. Each client works with a personalized team comprised of psychological and substance abuse professionals.

"During the treatment, the client establishes their personal goals, and our staff tries to make those goals happen," Giuliani

Although the program's focus is treatment for dual diagnosis, it also offers clients vocational training and GED courses.

We want to see the re-integration of the homeless into society, Giuliani said. "We want them to go from living on the streets to becoming a member of society

Mayor Brady Lessard has said he is opposed to rebidding the project and believes the city must move forward with Riverwalk because it is a vital component in revitalizing downtown.

"The people of Sanford are tired of hearing us talk about the Riverwalk," Lessard said. "I think the city commission should take under advisement the recommendation of the CRA to go with the next bidder. Those five people feel as strongly and have followed this process as closely as the city commission."

Commissioner Art Woodruff said it's a tough decision for commissioners.

"I think you have to weigh whether you think we could save enough money to justify the delay," Woodruff said. "I don't think we should leave the think we should leave the Riverwalk half undone."

Projections by VanDerworp indicate the CRA could bond up to $3 million for projects. City Commissioner Art Woodruff, whose district includes the downtown/waterfront area, cautioned against dipping to deeply into the CRA's bonding capabili-

"I don't want the CRA to lose the ability to fund other projects that are needed in downtown," Woodruff said.

Lessard agreed. "I think it's great that the CRA members share the city commission's view about the importance of the Riverwalk," Lessard said.

"That's a great spirit of coopera-tion, but I'm hopeful that the city can identify funds that will make the CRA's participation as minimal as possible. They've got their own projects to fund."

With little further discussion, the commission voted unanimously to let the matter be brought before a Special Master.

Commission Chairman Daryl McLain said the county has several persons under contract who could serve as Special Master. "They are all attorneys," he commented, "so we'll be contacting someone in the near future.

There was no indication when the Special Master hearing might take place.

Tax notices mailed to property owners

From Staff Reports

Monday, Aug. 26, Seminole County Property Appraiser H.W. "Bill" Suber mailed 156,000 Notices of Proposed Property Taxes (TRIMS) for 2002, to taxpayers. The notice represents estimated values for property as of January 1, 2002. The 2002 Preliminary Just (Market) Value for Seminole County is $23,623,757,674. This represents a 10.96 percent increase in value over the past year. The 2002 Preliminary Taxable Value for Seminole County is $18,401,147,317. This represents an 8.59 percent increase over the past year. These percentages represent an overall increase but may not be reflective of individual property values. For the first time, a new service is available for taxpayers to view "on line" the 2002 Notices of Proposed Property Taxes. This may be accomplished by accessing www.scpafl.org and following the simple directions from the Property Appraiser's Home Page using "Record Search".

When asked about this new feature, Mr. Suber said he is confident, "this innovative use of web technology will efficiently provide information to the public enabling them to view and print their proposed tax notice." Taxpayers without Internet access may receive a duplicate copy of their notice by contacting the Customer Service Department at the Property Appraiser's office.

Questions regarding property value or how it was determined may be answered by contacting the Property Appraiser's office at 407-665-7506. Additional questions regarding proposed taxes, budgets or other assessments should be addressed directly to the taxing authorities. Their phone numbers are listed on the Notice of Proposed Taxes. The Property Appraiser has no role in establishing tax rates or levying special non-ad valorem assessments

ORLANDO — The University of Central Florida football team, once again with the weather on its mind, took to the practice field on Monday and was able to outlast the storm clouds that came rolling in.

For the first time in nearly three weeks, the Golden Knights will not have an inter-squad scrimmage to look forward to at week's end as they will start the regular season against a formidable

Schneider ready to shoulder the load for Golden Knights

With all the hard work of two-a-day practices behind them, the Golden Knights are preparing themselves to open the season in hostile territory in one of the hotbeds of college football in front of a raucous crowd of nearly 107,000 people.

"I am trying to look at it as just another game," said junior QB Ryan Schneider. "I am sure the magnitude of the game will hit me on the way to the stadium and when I get on the field, but once you take that first snap all your focus is on the game. You don't hear the crowd, you put yourself in a zone."

Boaters could face problems from heat

Special to the Herald

ALEXANDRIA, VA. - With Labor Day fast approaching, July and August's hot oven-like temperatures across much of America could spell trouble for some boaters over this holiday weekend, said BoatU.S., the nation's largest association of recreational boat owners.

If you haven't run the boat a lot this summer, there's a potential for gasoline to 'go bad' or oxidize in the tank, said Bob Adriance, director of BoatU.S. Technical Services Division. Unfortunately, the first sign of the oxidized gas which can eventually turn to a gooey sludge – is a coughing, sputtering engine. Adding an off-the-shelf stabilizer to suspect gas before you go out on Labor Day will not resolve the problem. The same is true with diesel fuel - adding a microbiocide also won't restore bad fuel. Such treatments need to be added before fuel goes bad, not afterwards.

Other than draining the tanks - an expensive proposition - most boaters will simply elect to run whatever fuel that's been in the tank through the engine. Jerry Cardarelli, vice president of BoatU.S. Towing Services, advises that if you think your fuel may be old, you may want to travel with other boaters, within range of on-thewater help, and bring some extra replacement fuel filters.

Another concern for those who haven't boated in a while is that we all forget routines that we haven't regularly per-formed, says Ruth Wood, vice president of the BoatU.S. Foundation for Boating Safety and Clean Water. Wood recommends that boaters take their time before casting off this See Outdoors, Page 2B

SANFORD — It has been a busy and highly successful summer for two local girls basketball teams.

As usual, the Fifth Grade and Senior (7th and 8th grade) teams from All Souls Catholic School took part in the summer Catholic Youth League basketball program.

But this time it was a little different as both squads brought home the first place trophy.

Not bad for the smallest Catholic school in the Diocese of Orlando!

"It's exciting to have two young teams with so much potential and enthusiasm," said See Champs, Page 3B

All Souls Catholic School of Sanford recently won two summer basketball league championships. Members of the Fifth grade team (above) were Gina Scheraldi, Anne Russi, Jessica Russi, Monica Vergara, Jaime Seda, Sara Russi, Krysta Murphy, Elisa Bucholz, Meg Frank and Katle O'Leary. NASSAU WMA -

JEWEL OF NORTH-EAST FLORIDA

Nassau Wildlife Management Area (WMA) in extreme northeast Florida may just be one of the state's best kept hunting secrets. Situated between Yulee to the east and Callahan to the west, the 25,000-acre WMA offers hunters an excellent opportunity to bag a whitetail buck in an area of planted pines, hardwood forests and swamp bottom habitat.

In order to hunt on Nassau WMA, hunters must apply for and receive a recreational use permit which costs only $197 for the 2002-03 hunting season.

The good news is, there are still about 190 permits available as of August 15," said Joy M. Hill, public information coordinator for the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC). "However, it's only mid-August and I suspect that once people start get-ting into the hunting frame-ofmind, those remaining permits will go fast."

Lt. Mike Edwards, a law enforcement supervisor for the FWC, has lived and worked in Nassau County for a long time. He says the WMA is loaded with deer and squirrel, and hunters should take advantage of the opportunity to hunt there.

"The average hunting lease in Nassau County costs about $500 per year per hunter. The hunting at Nassau WMA is as good or better than most of those private hunt clubs for a fraction of the cost," said Edwards.

"Unfortunately, people have the perception that since it's a public hunting area it's not as good as a private club but that's simply not true in this case."

He thinks one of the reasons the WMA has such an outstanding deer population is because access is extremely limited and allowed only during the hunting season to those who hold a valid recreational use permit.

"The gates are unlocked a week before the opening of archery season and remain open throughout the hunting season. After that, they are locked for the rest of the year," said Edwards.

For those willing to pay $197 for a permit, there are many hunting opportunities: Archery from Sept. 21 through Oct. 20; Muzzleloading Gun from Oct. 25-27; General Gun from Nov. 9 through Jan. 5; Small Game from Jan. 6 through March 2; Spring Turkey from March 15 through April 20; and Trapping from Jan. 6 through March 1.

"This is really an exceptional place to hunt," said Edwards.

Christopher L. Inman knows that. Last year during archery season he bagged an 8-point buck at Nassau WMA that qualified for the Florida Buck Registry with a score of 129

While there is no camping allowed on the property, there are campgrounds within a few miles in the Yulee and Callahan great thrill to be able to compete against one of his teams, and I look forward to shaking his hand at the end of the game. It will be something I will always remember.'

The junior quarterback has seen limited action since late last week due to soreness in his shoulder, but is aware that the rest was precautionary and his arm is ready for the season.

"My arm feels as good as it did at the start camp," stated Schneider. "I was able to put some zip on the ball and was able to make it explode out of my hand. I would not miss this; we are all looking forward to the challenge.

The team will continue to prepare throughout the week and will get an early start on things. Due to a brooding weather forecast and the possibility of afternoon washouts, the Golden Knights will be up before the sun to take the field from approximately 5:15 a.m. to 7:15 a.m. allowing the players enough time to make their morning class-

The opener will be televised live this Saturday (Aug. 31) at 12:10 p.m. on ESPN. NO SURPRISES AT GOLDEN KNIGHT CLAS-

The outcome was never in doubt, but UCF coach Mike Kruczek saw what he wanted Saturday at UCF's Golden Knight Classic scrimmage at the Citrus Bowl.

The event was a scripted game, right down to the final score that had UCF's varsity defeating the scout team 28-23. The 90-minute simulated game in helmets and shoulder pads encompassed 37 plays for the varsity offense and 30 plays for the varsity defense.

Prior to the game the players went through what will be their pre-game routine from the time they wake up to the time the game is over, including getting taped, meeting with their coaches, warming up and playing the game.

"The guys got an idea of the kind of routine they are going to go through when we play Penn State next week," Kruczek said. "There are going to be a lot of nerves going into that situation so we had to rehearse everything that could happen in a football game. I know the people sitting in the stands probably didn't realize what we were trying to get accomplished with snaps over the punter's head and all that went on, but you really have to go through those situations before you get into the battle in the first game so that you don't suffer the mistakes that can happen early in the season."

The game did not go completely as planned as the scout team scored a legitimate touchdown against the varsity for the first time in recent memory. On a scout team drive that was supposed to result in a field goal, Brandon Marshall ouchdown pass from Ger Connell. As if that play never happened, though, the scout team lined up to kick a field goal on the next play.

Afterward Kruczek joked about the touchdown pass that was not scripted. "I told the defense we've never been scored on in this game and I don't intend to be scored on," he said. "On the script you are scored on, but that's not supposed to happen in execution out there."

Several key players sat out the scrimmage while recovering from injury, including starting quarter-back Ryan Schneider, leaving Brian Miller to take all the snaps for the varsity. Schneider is expected back to practice Monday after resting a shoulder bothered by tendonitis.

TICKET SALES CONTINUE TO RISE

With a less than a week before UCF's season opener at Penn State, and still a month before the first home game, UCF's season ticket sales have already topped the 12,000 mark and are expected to soon exceed last year's final total of 12,467. At the close of business Thursday, the ticket count had reached 12,044.

"We've seen a steady increase in ticket sales in the weeks leading up to this point." UCF Athletics Ticket Manager Shawna Potts said. "If the demand for season tickets continues to grow as the first home game draws near, we could pass

With a win in any of UCF's first three road games, all of which are on television, that number is expected to go even higher. With an 0-3 record before its first home game in 1997, interest in tickets skyrocketed after UCF lost a close game to eventual national champion Nebraska. Fans waited in long lines all week to purchase tickets for the home game against Idaho. A record crowd of more than 41,000 showed up at that night as UCF went on to average a school record 29,585 fans

"A lot of fans do not sense any urgency to buy season tickets at this time because we plays in such a large stadium," UCF sports marketing director Gert Garman said. "If you take a good look at the numbers, though, there are more reasons than not to buy season tickets now. Soon enough, all the best seats will be sold out."

Despite the fact the Florida Citrus Bowl, has permanent seating for 66,000, and with temporary scating can hold as much as 70,000, some of the best areas are already sold out. The lover-level priority seating on the west side (home) of the stadium is already full and other sections are not far behind.

Because the upper-level seats are not available for advance sales, and the student section accounts for a large portion of seating on the east side, there are less than 8,500 sideline tickets remaining before all the sideline seating is sold out. That number will continue to shrink in the coming weeks.

In addition to the attention that will be generated by the beginning of the season, Garman hopes to spark interest in tickets with a carefully planned marketing campaign that includes a television commercial that will began airing this past

"We are targeting young UCF alumni and the general sports fan, as well as entire families," Garman said. "UCF football is a great entertainment value. There are season ticket options to fit into a variety of budgets and the games are a fun atmosphere."

The six-game ticket package is only $102 for reserved sideline and just $72 for end zone seating. A family of four can purchase a season ticket package for the entire year for $150, which is a tremendous savings. Possibly the best deal is the one targeted toward young alumni. Those who have graduated from UCF in the past five years can purchase a season ticket for just $30.

After spending the past 23 seasons as an independent, UCF, finally has a conference to call nome. That in itself will give fans to cheer about this year. The Golden Knights joined the Mid-American Conference and will begin conference play this season. They will have the opportunity to play for the MAC title as well as the league's bowl game slots.

The season kicks off at Penn State Aug. 31 in a game televised nationally on ESPN. The team will play at Arizona State on Sunshine Network, and at Marshall on ESPN2, before its home opener against Liberty Sept. 28. Another non-conference game against Syracuse and games against four MAC teams, including defending champion Toledo, round out the six-game home schedule.

Interested fans can purchase UCF season tickets by calling the athletics ticket office at (407) UCF-

Champs

The Fifth Grade team had to compete against fifth and sixth grade teams from Annunciation in Longwood, Good Shepherd, Holy Family and St. James from Orlando, and St. Mary Magdalene in Maitland, but proved to be up to the task as they posted a 4-1 record in the regular season. The team then won three games in the tournament to earn a shot at undefeated Good Shepherd in the Championship

Good Shepherd had dominated the regular season, including getting past All Souls by four points.

But the finale proved different as Jessica Russi hit a threepointer as All Souls jumped out to a 6-0 lead before Good Shepherd could even get off a

The locals were clinging to a one-point lead, 11-10, when Jaime Seda was fouled with three seconds remaining.

Seda made one of the two from the charity stripe and Good Shepherd was unable to get off a shot as All Souls prevailed, 12-10.

It was the first championship ever for the Fifth grade team which was made up of Gina Scheraldi, Anne Russi, Jessica Russi, Monica Vergara, Jaime Seda, Sara Russi, Krysta Murphy, Elisa Bucholz, Meg Frank and Katie O'Leary.

The Senior Girls had a much easier time of it, having only two teams, St. Mary Magdalene and Holy Redeemer from Kissimmee, to compete against.

GOT YOUR HANDS FULL? CALL...

Those two teams proved to be no match for the All Souls five as 5-foot-11 Ashley Bucholz and Jamie Delude controlled the paint and guards Rachel Marsicano and Bianca Ganthier dominated the outside.

Members of the Senior Team were Rachel Marsciano, Maria Todaro, Jamie Delude, Kristen Solass, Jessica Ryan, Danielle Cosco, Ashley Bucholz and Jaime Emory.

In addition to the excitement of winning the championships, both teams also got the opportunity to play at the TD Waterhouse Centre and got to met several of the Orlando Miracle WNBA players

Cheryl Russi was the head coach for both teams with her husband, Mark, and Judy Marsicano serving as assistant coaches for the Senior Team.

Both teams hope they can carry the success from the summer over to the school year as the fall basketball season opens uarterbacks ready to let it fly in 2002

Sports Editor

Will this be the year of the quarterback in Seminole County?

With the graduation of most of the top running backs from the 2001 season and with a good looking group of strong-armed youngsters who are not afraid to throw the ball, five of whom are veteran signal callers who started at least part of the time last year, the quarterback position could be the glamour position in the Seminole Athletic Conference this season.

Leading the way will be Lyman senior Victor Johnson, who established himself as one of the top quarterbacks in Central Florida last year, Oviedo's Lee Sloan, Lake Mary's Jon Clarke and Lake Brantley's Jonathan Venters, all of whom led their respective teams into the playoffs last year.

Johnson, 6-foot-4, 195-pounds can do it with both his arm and his feet as he passed for 601 yards and ran for another 1,370 as a junior. He also has one of the better receivers, senior Travo Woods, returning.

Sloan, who's father Frank was a standout athlete at Seminole High in the 1970's, did not begin 2001 as the starter but impressed the coaches enough to become the starter and played well enough to earn Honorable Mention in the Seminole Athletic Conference. Senior tight end Matt Lougee will probably be his favorite target, but seniors Robert Santilla and Joey Cameron and juniors Jason Raulerson and Charlie Parker are all capable

Venters led the Patriots to an undefeated record before being suffering a broken collarbone in the fifth game of the season. He did not play again in the regular season, but came off the bench in the playoffs and led a comeback effort that very nearly let Lake Brantley upset Edgewater.

Seminole also has Carl Harris, who played parts of every game last year and even started a couple of games, but he is being pressured by newcomer Mike McKinzie who has shown great promise.

The two newest quarterbacks in the county, however, will also probably be under the most pressure.

Jacob Garcia will be behind center for coach Steve Katz's Winter Springs squad and he will be under the microscope because he has the top two returning receivers in the county in 2001 All-SAC selections Kyle Hill and Chris Narsesian. Narsesian, who has already committed to the University of Central Florida, transferred over to the Bears for his senior season after emerging as a standout at Lake Howell last season.

Sophomore Jeremy Francis will have the world on his shoulders at Lake Howell as the Silver Hawks have the county's only new head coach for this season in Tim Smith and also must find a way to score after losing All-SAC standouts in Brandon Marshall (UCF), Naresesian, fullback George Ashworth and running backs Dre Goree and John Williams. Not to mention the fact that Lake Howell plays in questionably the toughest district in Florida

And while most teams, especially Winter Springs, are expected to throw the ball more, the running game has definitely not been forgotten.

At Lake Mary, coach Greg Stanton will have a stable of running backs led by senior Reggie Campbell who has rushed for 2,890 yards on 360 carries and scored 30 touchdowns in his first two seasons.

But he is far from the only Ram capable of leading the offense as seniors Derrick Grayson and Will Allison and junior Cameron Bateman all showed signs of brilliance at times last year.

At Oviedo, juniors Will Harrison and Brice Patrick were the top two rushers for coach Greg Register, but they will get pressure from juniors Travis Gallo, Johnny Girard and Brett Joyce and seniors Ladarin Rudolph and Howard Lingard, a transfer from Pine Ridge.

At Seminole, junior Deon Casey was outstanding at times last season, while seniors Chris Castillo and Tyler Flavin will add depth as the Tribe tries to replace several graduated stars.

As usual, defense and line play will also be strong in the county

Lake Brantley senior Gordy Lipsey is the leader on the offensive line. The 6-foot-4, 265-pound threeyear starter at center is being touted as one of the best ever in the SAC and is being heavily recruited by just about every name school in the country.

Lyman has a pair of 6-foot-3, 315-pounders in Dustin Stone and John Ford, Oviedo has 6-foot-4, 265-pound Matt Beard and Seminole has 6-foot-4, 252-pound Marcus Hubbard.

On defense, Oviedo's Clint McMillan, who is an honor student and concert planist, is making the move from defensive line to outside linebacker. The 6-foot-3, 265-pounder impressed the University of Florida coaches enough in their camp this summer that he has already been offered a ride and has given his verbal acceptance.

Lake Mary all-county selection Keith Rivers is another terror at linebacker with his 6-foot-3, 220pound frame.

The 2001 season did not go as well for the SAC schools as was hoped, with only three teams, Oviedo (8-3), Lake Brantley (7-4) and Winter Springs (6-4), recording winning records. But all seven of the schools were competitive in nearly See Outlook, Page 6 every game and showed that they could play with anyone. But with all seven also playing very difficult schedules and usually pounding on each other on a given Friday, it was still a successful year despite the final records.

This season doesn't figure to be any easier as it is the second year of the new district alignments and most of the new-SAC teams look to be strong.

most of the non-SAC teams look to be strong.

In Class 6A-District 1 all three of the Jacksonville schools, Mandarin, Sandalwood and Ed White, are rumored to be very strong and DeLand is expected to be much stronger this season.

In Class 5A-District 3 Mainland and Spruce Creek are always strong.

And then comes Class 4A-District 5, which features Palm Bay High School, which won 12 straight games before losing in the State Championship Game last year and is ranked in the Top Five nationally in most preseason polls, and always strong programs in New Smyrna Beach and Merritt Island

"I don't think we've ever played a stronger schedule," said Lake Brantley head coach George Clayton. "It may be the toughest in the state. Oviedo is loaded and we hear the Jacksonville teams are all strong and we have to go up there twice this season after beating one team by one point and beating the other in overtime. DeLand is going to be stronger this season and Apopka is always very good.

As mentioned by Clayton, most coaches have tabbed Oviedo as the favorite in the county with so many young and experienced players returning. not to mention 35 seniors on the roster.

But opponents had better not overlook Lake Mary, which returns eight starters on defense and has by far the best running attack, allowing the Rams to control the game.

A darkhorse figures to be Winter Springs, where second-year head coach Steve Katz finally has some depth and the Bears are still flying high after making the playoffs for the first time in school history last season.
