But Redevelopment Foe May Appeal

Sanford Wins Downtown Lawsuit

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The city of Sanford has won the lawsuit on redeveloping the downtown area.

Circuit Judge Roger Dykes denied the request of Sanford lawyer G. Algernon Speer, representing himself and 10 other property owners, to stop the city from improving the downtown section.

Sanford banker John Mercer today said he is elated with the decision. Mercer was chairman of the Greater Sanford Development Corp. in 1979 when the City Commission approved the concept of improving the public property in the downtown area.

"It's a step in the right direction," he said, adding that he hopes Speer doesn't appeal "so we can proceed with the redevelopment of the downtown area."

"I hope Speer lets his civic pride take precedence over his personal feelings to allow the city and the Greater Sanford Development Corp. to go to work to make Sanford the beautiful place it is," Mercer said.

But Speer said today he is considering filing a motion with the court asking Dykes to change his decision. He may also appeal the decision if Dykes refuses the request for a rehearing.

He has 10 days to file for the rehearing and 30 days after that court decision is made to appeal Dykes' decision to the Fifth District Court of Appeal.

"The court can change its decision if he is convinced he is in error, and I'm confident he is in error," Speer said.

"I'm astounded at the court's decision. This plan of the city is not going to be implemented," he added.

In the lawsuit, Speer said the planned improvements for the downtown area would hinder emergency vehicles, adversely affect the safety and convenience of motorists, and double the flooding hazard in the downtown section.

He said it would also reduce the number of parking places, and that if the city spent money for the improvements the expenditures would be illegal.

Dykes ruled that the city has the power to adopt the downtown redevelopment plan, adding that it is "for the benefit of the general public and does not constitute a nuisance, private or public."

He ruled that the downtown development plan was properly approved by the City Commission and that the improvements will beautify the downtown area for the benefit of the public.

Dykes said it would not adversely affect access of emergency vehicles or the safety or convenience of motorists or pedestrians, and would not affect drainage in or around the downtown area.

The judge said the number of parking spaces would not be reduced and that Speer and his clients would not be "seriously or materially injured by implementation of the downtown development plan."

The Sanford City Commission adopted the downtown development plan in May 1980 and budgeted some $251,000 for materials and labor in the 1980-81 fiscal year. While the lawsuit has been going on the city has continued funds for the project in the budget.

The plan calls for reconstructing the north half block of Magnolia Avenue between First Street and the adjacent alley to turn it into a pedestrian plaza. It also provides for improvements to a two-block section of First Street between Park and Palmetto avenues, with additional landscaping and lighting. Additional parking is to be provided through construction of a new parking lot at the corner of Second Street and Magnolia.

Dykes, in his ruling, gave the city the right to ask the court to order Speer and his clients to pay the city certain court costs of the lawsuit. Court costs generally include the services of a court reporter and transcripts and costs of depositions. Those costs are estimated at less than $1,000.

However, the costs of the lawsuit to the city may reach as much as $60,000 in one point.

Lawyers' fees from the time in 1980 when the suit was filed for services by then-City Attorney Vernon Mize and current City Attorney Bill Colbert and associates through the full week of court hearings, March 29, 30 and 31, and April 1 and 2, are estimated at $12,000 to $15,000.

At the same time, city officials estimate the cost in city personnel time and materials for preparing court exhibits and other activities in the case at $5,000.

Increases in cost for materials over the original $251,000 budgeted may be as much as 15 percent, or $37,500.

City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles said today the city will be ready to begin work on the project as soon as the appeal period has expired. Currently the city staff, he said, is revising cost estimates and getting paperwork updated.

Colbert said today that if Speer appeals, the case could be in court for another year.

Man Nabbed After High-Speed Chase

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

A 27-year-old man is being held in the Seminole County jail on $8,000 bond following a high-speed chase this morning by area law-enforcement officers that ended when the fleeing car crashed into a tree along Lake Mary Boulevard in Lake Mary.

Robert Karl Rosenthal, whose address is listed as Gunderland, N.Y., and Sawgrass, Fla., is being held on charges of failure to maintain a single lane, attempting to elude a police officer, willful and wanton reckless driving, and possession of cocaine, jail officials said.

Altamonte Springs police said

Rosenthal was involved in a minor accident in their city but that he fled the scene in a 1982 Chevrolet. Police radioed sheriff's deputies, who pursued the suspect from Altamonte Springs through Longwood to Lake Mary at estimated speeds of 85 m.p.h. or more, deputies reported.

Deputies caught up with the runaway driver at about 4:30 a.m. after the vehicle he was driving "broad-sided a tree at Lake Mary Boulevard and High Street, ripping the roof off the car and tearing a wheel and axle off it," deputies said. However, the driver jumped from the car and began running from deputies, but was later caught, reports indicate.

Altamonte Springs police responded to the scene and charged Rosenthal with failure to maintain a single lane and attempting to elude a police officer. He was also treated for cuts and bruises on his left arm by Lake Mary rescue workers and transported to Seminole Memorial Hospital, Sanford, by Herndon Ambulance personnel, deputies said.

At the hospital, deputies reportedly informed Rosenthal that he could be facing criminal charges concerning the crash but that "he just started laughing, thinking the whole thing was a joke," they said.

After being treated for injuries suffered in the crash, Rosenthal was taken to the jail and booked for the traffic-related offenses and for possession of cocaine. Deputies searching the demolished vehicle said they discovered a plastic bag containing 23 grams of cocaine with a street sale value of about $1,000.

Asked by deputies at the jail why he ran from the police, Rosenthal reportedly said he did it to "have a little fun." He added that judges are a piece of cake and that he "kissed off" lawyers in high places who could get him off," deputies said. He also reportedly told deputies that the FBI would and could "get him off of any charge now and in the future," deputies added.

County Students Following Trend To Popping Pills

By JOE DeSANTIS
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County Sheriff's Department spokesman John Spolski says a check with members of special investigation units and officers participating in the Officer In The School program reveals that local high school students are following a national trend toward more use of amphetamines and a decreasing use of marijuana.

"Kids have taken the officers in the schools into their confidence," he said. "They're telling them that there is less use of marijuana and more pill popping."

Spolski indicated in his discussions with members of the special investigation units that they've observed that the trend toward amphetamines and other pills, such as Quaaludes, started in the Midwestern states and has spread east and south.

"Pill use is especially noticeable in the middle schools, because Quaaludes are easier to get," he said.

"Kids still do about the same amount of partying, but popping pills is a lot more difficult to detect. There's no smell like that of a burning marijuana joint, and it's less detectable to take a pill than to have to hold something and smoke it," Spolski said.

Tom Roll, the Seminole County School Board's drug education officer, said he believes the two drugs on the increase in use by students are cocaine and Quaaludes.

However, he said he hasn't seen a significant decrease in the use of marijuana among school-aged youths. "Alcohol remains a steady factor also," said Roll. "Alcohol is accessible in the community, and schools are part of the community."

Meanwhile, in Washington, William Pollen, director of the National Institute on Drug Abuse, joined law-enforcement officials from Florida, New York and Washington in presenting generally pessimistic testimony to the House Foreign Affairs Committee on Tuesday about illegal drug use.

"It can be conservatively stated that we are no better off today than we were 20 years ago. To put it mildly, abuse of drugs by our citizens, young and old alike, flourishes," said the New York Police Department's organized crime control chief, Daniel Courtenay.

Police officials said white-collar employees and junior executives are a big part of the illicit drug market in New York's financial district.

Pollin said the recent figures on high school seniors reflect a decrease in the use of marijuana and most other drugs.

"The same data have alerted us to an apparent rise in the use of stimulants. We are concerned because a further increase in the abuse of amphetamines and amphetamine-like substances has been observed in a number of countries," Pollin said, adding that the use has reached epidemic proportions in Japan and Sweden.

He said the number of youths using illicit drugs has risen from about 1 percent to 2 percent before 1960 to about two-thirds now. At least 22 million Americans use marijuana, over 4 million cocaine, and 375,000 to 450,000 heroin, he added.

Courtenay and Florida Attorney General Jim Smith told the House Foreign Affairs Committee that the nation's drug problems are getting worse and that most illicit drugs come illegally from other countries.

Smith said that despite federal help in fighting drug imports in Florida, there is increased trafficking. He said that in 1981 seizures of marijuana rose 60 percent over the previous year, heroin 250 percent and cocaine 1,100 percent.

"The higher seizure rate signifies increased trafficking, because there has been no change in official estimates that seizures represent about 10 percent of the contraband coming in," Smith said.

Both officials flatly rejected any possible legalization of marijuana.

Huge Star Heading For Explosive Death

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A massive star 9,000 light years away in the Milky Way has shown signs it may be heading toward an explosive death "soon" that would be so bright it could be seen in broad daylight.

Dr. Kris Davidson of the University of Minnesota said in a National Science Foundation report released Tuesday the stellar explosion could occur any time — next week or 100,000 years from now. Either would be soon by cosmic standards.

The star is Eta Carinae — the largest star in the Milky Way and one of the most massive known in the universe. It is called a unique blue supergiant and has more than 100 times the mass of our sun.

When it blows up, astronomers said it would release an enormous burst of energy — light equal to billions of suns and lasting a matter of weeks.

Such an explosion, called a supernova, is believed to occur when a star has used up all its available fuel and collapses.

Expansion?

It's A Possibility For Iron Bridge Sewage Plant

Following a meeting between officials from Orange County, Orlando and the Seminole County Commission on Tuesday, the three entities have agreed to continue exploring expansion possibilities at the Iron Bridge Sewage Treatment Plant.

"The commission agreed to send a letter to Orlando saying it has no overriding philosophical objection to Orlando's request for expansion," said County Administrator Roger Neiswender. "However, Orlando's request must meet environmental and land-use regulation requirements, and Orlando must show the citizens that the expansion will have no adverse effects on the environment," he added.

Under pressure from the state Department of Environmental Regulation to stop dumping treated sewage into the Little Econlockhatchee River by 1984, Orlando had asked to gain additional treatment capacity at the proposed $20 million expansion of the Iron Bridge Plant located near Oviedo.

However, Orlando's original additional-capacity request exceeds the proposed expansion. Orlando Mayor Bill Frederick had requested an additional 24 million-gallon-per-day share, but the plant's proposed expansion will increase from 24 to 40 million gallons per day.

"The question of capacity still has to be worked out," said Neiswender. "Seminole County and the other entities involved have to get a reasonable amount of any increase."

As a result of Tuesday's meeting, Bob Haven, public works director for Orlando, will now prepare a rough outline detailing alternatives to Orlando's increased-capacity request, what expansion study costs would be, and what costs would run for expansion design and permits. Once Haven's rough draft of the study is completed, he will present it to Seminole County, Oviedo, Winter Springs, Casselberry, Maitland and Winter Park, which share in the Iron Bridge capacity question.

The meeting was good news for Orlando, but Neiswender cautioned that expansion of the plant won't solve every entity's problems.

"The problem is not expansion of Iron Bridge," he explained. "It's a question of what to do with treated effluent and what effect that effluent will have on water quality."

Neiswender said an expansion of the plant would be beneficial in that it would eliminate secondary treatment plants dumping into the Little Econlockhatchee and eventually the St. Johns River.

"Expansion would eliminate several of the larger secondary plants not complying with higher quality treatment standards," he said.

Neiswender said some 8 to 12 of Orange County's secondary plants — the two largest being at Conway and Azales Park — would be allowed to hook into the Iron Bridge plant. The result would be a higher quality of treatment.

However, Neiswender added that even with expansion at Iron Bridge, not all of the area's sewage treatment problems would be solved.

The Weather Channel

Airing Around-The-Clock Forecasts

SMYRNA, Ga. (UPI) — Who cares about the weather in Alaska besides residents of the 50th state? Nearly everyone, according to John Coleman.

Coleman, the meteorologist on ABC's Good Morning America, is jumping into the growing cable TV market with a Weather Channel that will offer national, regional and local forecasts 24 hours a day.

Coleman has signed up some of the nation's top television weather forecasters and a corps of off-camera meteorologists to staff the channel he is offering to 250 cable systems at no charge.

The Weather Channel, a $18 million investment by Landmark Communications, is scheduled to make its debut May 2. Coleman said there are still a few kinks in the operation, but nothing serious.

"Most of the problems we are having are minor technical problems," he said, "but I'm not nervous. Ours is the most sophisticated television meteorological center in the country."

Landmark, which has already signed up cable systems in Atlanta, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Houston, Denver, Oakland and Miami, plans to make its money off national advertising on the Weather Channel.

The programming, transmitted via satellite from atop Vining Mountain northwest of Atlanta, will offer constantly updated national, regional and local forecasts.

Coleman says his network has developed a unit known as Weather STAR — satellite transponder addressable receiver — which will instantly insert local weather warnings and special weather statements to cable affiliates.

The heartbeat of Coleman's operation is a multi-million dollar computer system linked directly to the National Weather Service. Forecasters with video display terminals can get instant weather updates from anywhere in the world, and Coleman says that is the attraction of the system.

"Our research shows 82 percent of all Americans are interested in weather in other parts of the country," he said, "and cable is a booming, constantly growing industry."

The Weather Channel will reach 3 million people when it hits the air, Coleman said, and will add 4 million a year after that. By that time, Landmark Communications will have $30 million in his dream.

"It will take at least three years to produce black ink," Coleman said, but added he doesn't expect any competition. "We got the last possible berth on the best satellite. Meteorology is a very specialized field and we raided the market, hiring them (top weather forecasters) quickly. We pay very well and I have a good reputation."

"I regard my reputation as being on the line, but gamble? There is no gamble involved. We have absolute confidence in what we have."

The short, sandy-haired weatherman said 30 percent of the homes in America are wired for cable. He predicted at least 60 percent of the cable subscribers will tune in the Weather Channel once a day and 30 percent will tune in up to five times per day.

"An average tune-in of six to eight minutes is a conservative, but salable, estimate. This will make the Weather Channel an outstanding local sales vehicle for the cable operator," said Coleman, who still under contract with Good Morning America until the fall.

Local systems will have time for two one-minute commercials an hour, Coleman said, and the Weather STAR will automatically switch from the commercial to the network.

"If the cable system operator does not have a commercial scheduled, and the STAR unit does not detect video at the time the commercial switch is to be made, the satellite network programming feed will continue uninterrupted," he said. "The Weather Channel will provide a video and audio fill of meteorological information and music during this period."

PEOPLE

Little Willie Aames Is Now All Grown Up

Willie Aames, that cute Tommy Bradford on "Eight Is Enough," now is 21 and old enough to do nude scenes in his latest film, "Paradise," a romantic adventure complete with camels and evil sheik.

The nudity — "There's not a whole lot of it," Aames told UPI — doesn't bother him. "What he did was in good taste," he said, "so why should it bother me?"

"Funny thing, though — I won't dance in front of people."

Aames has three actor-heroes. One is Henry Fonda, with whom he did a commercial. "He wouldn't remember me," Aames said, "but I remember him, the dignified way he acted and the caring way he treated other people."

The same dignified, caring attitude makes him admire Bill Bixby, with whom he did "The Courtship of Eddie's Father," and Chad Everett, of "Medical Center." Aames says, "Those guys are stars in the true sense."

A Rather Sheepish Honor

Britain's Michael Oldfield, best known for his 12 million-selling soundtrack LP for "The Exorcist," piloted a helicopter from his country cottage to London recently to become the first rock musician to be given the Freedom of the City of London by London's Lord Chancellor.

Oldfield, 29, who has sold more than 15 million records world-wide and staged massive European tours since his "Exorcist" days, was being honored for the export revenues his record sales generate.

The award carries with it the privilege of driving his sheep across London Bridge — which was moved some years ago to Arizona.

"My sheep will be delighted," Oldfield said.

Fallen Flowers In Song

Country singer Dave Howland sings a new song, his first solo, about "Flowers" picked while still in bloom — female movie stars who died in the prime of their careers.

Called "Natalie," Howland's mellow ballad mentions Natalie Wood, Marilyn Monroe (Norma Jean), Jane Mansfield, Judy Garland and Jean Harlow.

One line goes: "It's so beyond me why heaven picks a flower still in bloom."

Howland said of the song, "Natalie" is a very touching song that means a lot to me because I loved all the ladies that are in the song and I think everyone else did, too." The song was written by Dean Dillon and Gary Stewart.

Allens' Marriage A 96

Steve Allen and Jayne Meadows have that rare thing — a successful show biz marriage.

ABC Radio's Bill Diehl asked Allen about it and got this reply: "Well, I make her laugh a lot and I write her poems and kiss her a lot and write songs to her and so forth. We argue, however. I think young people should hear this."

"There is no such thing as a perfect marriage. Ours has been persistent for about 27 years and I would give it a rating of about 96."

"That's a very high mark. If you got that in history or geography you'd say, 'Wow, big mark.' But that means it's less than 100 percent and it's important, as I say, for young people to know that."

Bits And Pieces

Cubie Blake, 99, will be honored by the Friars Club April 28, with Friars Dean William B. Williams as emcee ... Bob Hope, producer Joe Kipneas and realtor Harry Helmsley will co-chair the Fight for Sight benefit April 25 in New York ... John W. Galbreath, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates and two Kentucky Derby winners, and former Ohio Sen. John W. Bricker have been inducted into the Columbus (Ohio) Hall of Fame ... Sir Richard Attenborough is in Los Angeles for post-production work on his film, "Gandhi, starring John Mills, Ben Kingsley, Candice Bergen, John Gielgud and Edward Fox.

'Machinegun' Ronnie Keeping A Low Profile

MACON, Ga. (UPI) — The flamboyant former mayor they used to call "Machinegun Ronnie" is continuing his quest for new challenges. On top of his many other ventures since leaving office in 1978, Ronnie Thompson has gone back to school.

As a matter of fact, during the last two years he has attended six universities in five states, earning enough credits to make him a third-year student.

Appropriately, perhaps, this man who was often front-page news across the nation during his two terms as Macon mayor, is also writing for a newspaper, making jewelry and "just basically keeping a low profile."

"I'm keeping busy," he adds.

He has already turned down an offer from Hollywood to make a movie about him that "would make Walking Tall look like a Boy Scout outing."

He said the movie makers wanted to put too much fiction in it, and "There is enough truth in my story to still be interesting."

He has gone to so many schools, he says, because "I wind up challenging the courses with my experience. There is no need for me to sit in class for hours when I already know what is being taught."

Thompson is currently majoring in history — "Renaissance to the present" — at the University of Western Illinois in a course sequence he calls "experimental learning." It involves some correspondence classes, which allows Thompson to stay home to continue writing a bi-weekly editorial column for the Macon Telegraph.

"The column allows me to relate to the readership some of my experiences," Thompson said, and one can't help

Cost Overruns Surpass Deficit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As last September, cost overruns on hundreds of government projects reached nearly $18 billion — more than triple the federal deficit, a report to Congress showed today.

The study by the General Accounting Office found these cost overruns averaged 140 percent above the initial estimates given to Congress by contractors.

Sen. William Roth, R-Del., chairman of the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee, reviewed the report and said cost overruns in several agencies are "spinning wildly out of control."

Roth's committee was to hold a hearing on the matter today.

The GAO focused on civilian federal agencies and did not involve the Defense Department, the only agency required to report cost overruns to Congress.

Roth said most of the information on civilian agency cost overruns had to be "pulled like teeth" by GAO auditors.

Said Roth, "As flawed as the cost reporting system for DOD is, at least there is a cost system in place and in use. No such system exists for major civilian acquisitions, despite the fact serious cost overruns are occurring in those agencies."

He said when the GAO surveyed 585 major projects in 1979, their average cost growth was $253 million per project. When GAO conducted a similar survey last year, the average cost growth per project was $540 million.

The biggest cost overrun identified by the GAO was the construction of the Appalachian Development Highway in the eastern United States.

In 1965, the Appalachian Regional Commission estimated the 3,000-mile network of highways covering 13 states would cost the government $805 million. By last September, the U.S. share of the project had soared to $9.5 billion, GAO but get the feeling he has a very smug when he says his experiences are the things movies are made of.

Besides his studies, writing, and part-time jewelry work — he is, after all, a licensed gemologist — he also is a pilot, has a real estate license and occasionally talks to high school civics classes, whose students he says "ironically, are only interested in me as a personality."

In 1967, during the heat of the Vietnam War, which he calls "the saddest era this country ever saw," Thompson was elected mayor. Before he left office in 1978, he had carved out a national image. His nickname propagated that image. A sniper had pinned down a police squad car on a Macon street. The mayor drove up and became a new target.

"I dove under a car at first," Thompson recalls. "Then I picked up an automatic carbine and returned fire. I didn't hit anything but a newspaper the next day called me 'Machine Gun Ronnie.' The name stuck."

Thompson continues to say he never liked the name, but that didn't stop him from selling machine gun lapel pins to help finance an unsuccessful congressional campaign. He is also writing an autobiography that he has tentatively titled "Machine Gun Ronnie: A Political Portrait of Ronnie Thompson," which he says may be published next year.

That machine gun incident may have started his national reputation, but telling his police officers to shoot anyone caught violating an illegal curfew was the cream that kept him there.

It was after the Martin Luther King Jr. assassination in 1968. Riots were cropping up in several cities and Thompson decided his town was not going to be like that. He ordered a four-day curfew and issued "shoot to kill" orders to police.

During a law-and-order campaign, Thompson put up billboards that read "Beware! Looters will be shot!"

The stand-off with the Army also brought in a share of the national limelight. Thompson had heard Pentagon officials were going to ship lethal nerve gas through Macon. He didn't like that and told the Army so. The Army said it was none of his business, but the mayor didn't see it that way.

He threatened to "personally block the train," but the Army eventually convinced him the gas was safe.

"All that stuff added to the image the nation was interested in," Thompson now recalls. "People have always been interested in Georgia and Georgia politics in particular."

HOROSCOPE

By HERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Friday, April 23, 1982

YOUR BIRTHDAY April 23, 1982

This coming year will mark a time of new beginnings. You will become more daring and adventurous and explore areas you've never looked into previously.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Promises made to you today may be offered with good intent, but there is a possibility something could occur to make it impossible for others to fulfill their vows. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in each of the seasons following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph, Mail #1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) An important matter you're now involved in may not work out to your satisfaction if you leave too much to chance. Direct every step yourself.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't become so involved with new acquaintances at this time that you fall to keep in touch with old friends. Be a loyal pal.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Setting new and lofty goals for yourself is admirable, but don't fall into the trap of talking about them more than acting on them. Make a move.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Treat seriously any new subjects or courses you are starting to study at this time. If you are neglectful or unattentive, it will prove a waste of time.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you are entering into a joint venture, be sure your counterpart's contributions equal what you have to offer. Lopsided deals will fizzle.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You're in a lucky cycle now and you should get your fair share of breaks, provided you don't associate with persons who could put a damper on your good fortune.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) Be careful today not to commit yourself to something where you're banking more on hope than reality. Be logical when making assessments.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 19) Don't be drawn into situations with friends at this time that have political connotations. You may think you're on the winning side, but you could end up the loser.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you are now making any major changes or improvements in your home, be sure they're ones you can live with over the long haul.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) There is a possibility at this time you could lack adequate faith in your concepts and ideas, and rely on counsel from others who might not be as wise as you.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Proceed with caution today if involved in any new investment or financial programs. Study every aspect before making a final commitment.

Pill Addicts Need Pro's Evaluation

DEAR DR. LAMB — Recently I saw your column about the lady who was fed up with her mother's addiction to Valium. That lady should not believe her mother's claim that she has stopped taking pills.

My mother was a pill popper for 35 years and died at 71 begging for a pill or a shot. She loved it. She fooled us all for years. She was incarcerated in a mental clinic. She was secretive, sly and lied like a trooper. Like the woman in your column, she gave up housework and general living years before she died and simply lived for her pills.

Tell that lady her mother hasn't quit, just gone underground.

DEAR READER — I was surprised at the large number of people who wrote about the problems of getting a relative off Valium. One former Valium addict, however, wrote that the children were at fault and shouldn't expect her to do work. And the children should look after themselves.

But I'm sure from the letter the original lady was referring to her mother looking after herself in the basic aspects of living and remaining an active member of society.

To all of those who wrote about this case, I would like to point out that my original column emphasized that the Valium victim should be seen by a psychiatrist to evaluate her true status. Anyone faced with a problem of addiction in himself or a member of the family should not try to solve the problem alone. It is a job for a professional.

It is just too difficult to sort out which things are drug effects and which are basic psychiatric problems that started the use of such medicines in the first place. Both will need treatment.

And I would like to add that Valium is not the only drug available that can cause such problems. Many tranquilizers, phenobarbital and others, can cause similar problems.

All of these drugs and even antihistamines interact with alcohol and cause further increased depression of brain functions. It is important for people to know this about commonly used drugs. So am sending you The Health Letter number 13—Sedatives, Hypnotics and Tranquilizers: The Pi Problem. Others who was this issue can send 75 cent with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. I am, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1561, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Who would cause the blood not to go through the bypass graft after surgery?

DEAR READER — For one thing a clot may form in the bypass and plug the opening. Am not sure which bypass you are speaking about. A number of veins can be used to make multiple bypass grafts in the heart. This popular operator routes or bypasses the obstruction that has developed in a coronary artery to the heart.

The coronary artery bypass operation was preceded by many years with the bypass operation for plugged arteries in the legs and elsewhere. In these instances synthetic material has been commonly used with great success. It is less likely to plug or fall after surgery than the coronary bypass vein grafts.

In the course of time, the coronary bypass grafts can undergo fatty-cholesterol deposits and become plugged as severely or more so than the coronary arteries were originally. That is why a good preventive program is essential for the best success, even after a bypass operation. Remember that many patients, even after a heart attack, do not need bypass surgery.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

This article sets a new record for Oswald Jacoby. It is his 10,000th. Someone else may get there some day, but no one has as yet. Another Jacoby record is that he was the first to reach 10,000 master points. Others have gotten there since.

He reached it in October, 1964, by winning a Dallas team with his wife, Mary Zita, son Jim and daughter-in-law Judy.

Here is one of their winning boards. Judy sat South and her four club bid was a mild slam suggestion. In the Jacoby family, as in most others, when the wife invites a slam the husband is inclined to take over and Jim Blackwooded there.

The 4-0 spade break made the hand far from routine, but Judy was equal to the task. At trick two, she led a heart. West won to lead a second trump. Judy won, ruffed her last heart and played two more rounds of trump to pull West's last tooth and squeeze East out of a diamond or club. Actually, he chucked a club. Now Judy played three rounds of diamonds, using her last trump to ruff. Had East thrown a diamond earlier, dummy would have held a diamond winner. As it was, the four clubs were all good.

The board was a real win. At the other table, South played four spades and made only five.

Film Directors On Broadway

NEW YORK (NEA) — It seems like every big-name director in Hollywood is draining his swimming pool and moving here to make a splash in the theater.

William Friedkin, the man who gave you "The Exorcist" and "The French Connection," zoomed in this season on "Duet for One," a two-character English drama with Anne Bancroft and Mac Von Sydow.

Louis Malle, director of the critically acclaimed "Atlantic City," mounted a new play by John Guare that starred Be Cross of the Academy Award winning "Chariots of Fire."

Robert Altman, the quirky and sometimes masterful director of "M-A-S-H," "McCabe and Mrs. Miller" and "Nashville," engineers Cher's Broadway bow in "Come Back to the 5 and Dime, Jimmy Dean, Jimmy Dean."

Karel Reisz, who helms "The French Lieutenant's Woman," directs Sam Waterston in two new one-acters — also by John Guare — due mid-April.

Meanwhile, Joan Micklin Silver, the New York based director of the films "Head Over Heels," "Between the Lines" and "Hester Street," has just launched an off-beat, off-Broadway musical entertainment called "Maybe I'm Doing It Wrong." The show is drawn from 32 songs by the very talented composer-lyricist Randy Newman.

This is Mrs. Silver's second theatrical stab — last season she put on a popular comedy about four teen-agers growing up in the '60s, called "Album." She fully understands why so many film directors are suddenly getting a taste for the footlights.

"The thing about movies is that each one costs loads of money to make," she explains. "So right now, Hollywood isn't that hospitable to directors of less than mainstream material. In the theater, you can try things out — experiment, do a workshop for a few hundred dollars. In the theater you don't have to go for the big enchilada every time."

"Maybe I'm Doing It Wrong" is a sort of a cabaret act in which four performers act out 32 of Newman's songs. Newman's seven albums have earned him a devoted following. He is just now becoming known to the general public thanks to his hit song of a couple of years back, "Short People," and his

Joan Micklin Silver is a film director who has just launched an off-beat, off-Broadway musical. "In the theater," she says, "you can try things out — experiment, do a workshop for a few hundred dollars... you don't have to go for the big enchilada every time."

Oscar-nominated score for the film "Ragtime." Some of his other hits include "Sail Away" and "Mama Told Me Not to Come."

Some of his songs are funny, some are sad. Some of the cabaret sketches succeed, some don't. That's another point in favor of the theater, especially off-Broadway — you can afford to fail.

"We invented and improvised," says Mrs. Silver. "The actors brought a lot to it, helped shape the characters that emerge from his songs. He really tells a story with each one. The rehearsal was heaven, it's the best part of directing in the theater. I don't know why more directors don't do both movies and stage."

Mrs. Silver is one of a very small group of women who have succeeded as film directors. She acknowledges she is a role model for many others, but says she doesn't feel like one. "I'm looking for a role model myself," she says, laughing.

She grew up in Omaha and lived in Cleveland for 11 years before coming to New York to write and direct educational films. She was unable to make the jump to commercial films or TV. "I ran into shocking sexism," she recalls. "People saying things like 'We already have enough problems as it is..."

So she and her husband, Rafael, a real estate developer, decided to produce a film themselves. The film, "Hester Street," put them on the map. "We were too naive to realize how improbable it was," she says.

Today the Silvers run Midwest Films, a small company devoted to small, carefully nurtured projects that emphasize actors, not special effects. Rafael is also directing now — he did "On the Yard," which she produced, and is set to direct a film about three youngsters who join the Peace Corps in Brazil. She's working on another musical.

She says the climate has improved for women directors, particularly in the theater. "Film has staped up too since I started. A woman just directed 'Grease II.' I don't think it's really an issue now. As good woman directors improve their skills they'll get more work. Now the issue is what kinds of films are the studios going to make."

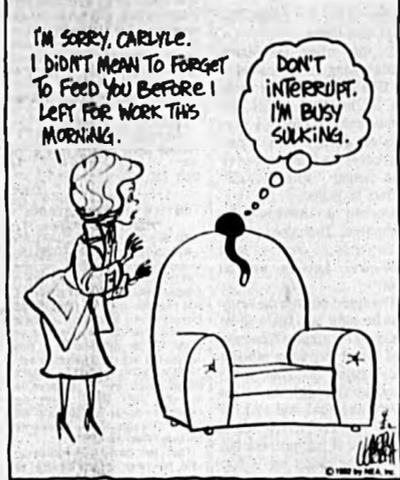

It's easy to tell the kinds of films they're not making by looking at all of the people who are suddenly directing plays.

Smuggler Gets Plane Back Thanks To City Council

ORLANDO (UPI)—The City Council has sold a twin-engine plane seized last July in a drug raid to an admitted drug smuggler for $40,000.

City officials say the money from the 1968 Piper Navajo will go into a law enforcement trust fund and will be used only for police training or to purchase specialized equipment, such as electronic surveillance devices. Three months after the plane was seized, a judge awarded ownership of the aircraft to the city. But the city agreed to sell it back to its owner, James Taylor, 46, of Vero Beach when Taylor challenged the judge's order. Police said Wednesday they have no immediate plans to spend the plane money.

SCC Showcase

The Second Annual Seminole Community College Showcase was held Saturday on the college campus. Beginning at noon, the showcase featured a continuous program of exhibits, musical interpretations and demonstrations involving personnel and facilities from all sectors of the college. Among the programs featured were fashion shows, performing arts presentations and an exercise featuring units of fire, police and paramedic training. Open to the public, demonstrations featured small business computers, chemistry, physics and biology labs in operation and physical education. SCC serves about 20,000 people per year.

Wife's Clock Drives Husband Cuckoo

DEAR ABBY: This is a second marriage for both of us. Elsie is 69 and I'm 70. We both lost our mates a few years ago and met at a retirement complex last year.

Elsie moved into my place, which is well-furnished, but she brought in a few of her own favorite pieces. One is a cuckoo clock that belonged to her parents. (She says she can't sleep without it.)

I have a grandfather clock that strikes on the hour, half-hour and quarter-hour. It keeps perfect time. Elsie's clock is very erratic. The cuckoo is supposed to come out of its house on the hour, but this one comes out whenever it feels like it, several times an hour, and cuckoos like crazy. Plus, the ticking of that clock is extremely loud and disturbing.

Last night at midnight I heard 12 gongs followed by endless cuckooing. Then in between the gongs of my clock, I heard the cuckooing of her clock continually until 5 a.m. That did it!

I told Elsie that those clocks were driving me crazy, and I would get rid of my clock if she'd get rid of hers. She wouldn't hear of it. I'm getting very impatient. How can be settle this? Aside from our incompatible clocks, we get along fine.

TROUBLE IN TAMPA

DEAR TROUBLE: Elsie should get her clock fixed so that it will cuckoo only once on the hour when yours gongs. Otherwise you'll both wind up alone — with time on your hands.

DEAR ABBY: Mack and I own a little home in the suburbs, and last spring we planted a vegetable garden. With food prices going so high, we thought it would save us money.

When our tomato plants got about half a foot high, Mack started singing to them! He'd take his guitar, a six-pack of beer and a chair outside, plunk himself down in the middle of the tomato plants and sing. The more beer he drink the louder he sang.

Mack claims it's a scientific fact that plants that get music produce more than plants that don't. Is there any truth to this?

MACK'S SKEPTICAL SPOUSE

DEAR SPOUSE: My agriculture experts say yes! But a word of caution. Better buy your tomatoes. No matter how expensive they get, it's cheaper than drying out Mack.

DEAR ABBY: My ex-husband and I are planning to remarry. We were married for 11 years and have three children. After being divorced for two years, we realize that we really love each other and we think we can now make a go of it.

Dear Abby

We were married the first time at the city hall by a justice of the peace. It was a five-minute ceremony and there was nothing spiritual or beautiful about it. This time I want a real wedding in a church with a white wedding gown and veil. I've heard that white gowns and veils are for virgins only. I earned the right to wear one the first time but couldn't afford it then. My ex-husband is the only man I've ever slept with, so I still feel entitled to wear white. Am I wrong?

ENTITLED OR NOT

DEAR ENTITLED: You're entitled. And it's not true that white wedding gowns are for virgins only. Traditionally, white gowns are for the first marriage, but even that tradition has faded.

Search Is On For Outstanding Mom

May 9 is Mother's Day. The Herald is searching for the annual "Outstanding Mom," but we need the help of readers.

Who is your favorite mom and why? What has she done that makes her so special?

Tell us in your own words why you think a certain mom is outstanding. First, write your name, full address and telephone number at the top of a page. Then add the mom's full name, address and telephone number. About a page and one-half of information on standard size paper is sufficient.

The deadline is noon on April 28. Mail entries to OURSELVES EDITOR Doris Dietrich, 300 N. French Ave., Sanford 32771.

Atlanta Wins Lucky 13th Sinatro's A Big Hit With Braves

ATLANTA (UPI) — It wasn't the kind of hit Matt Sinatro had in mind. But being hit on the heel by a batted ball may have been just as important as the single that won the game Wednesday night when the unbeaten Atlanta Braves came from behind in the last of the ninth to nip Cincinnati 4-3 and extend their record-setting winning streak to 13.

On the surface, it appeared Sinatro being hit was a fatal blow to the Braves' streak. It left runners at second and first with two out and the Braves a run behind rather than third and first with one out and the tie scored. But it really may have been a blessing in disguise since some — the Reds in particular — feel that if the ball hadn't hit Sinatro, Cincinnati shortstop Dave Concepcion would have had a good shot at starting a game-ending double play.

"I don't know about that," said Sinatro. "Brett Butler (the batter) is fast and probably would have beaten the throw. But, the ball was hit hard and it might have been a double play. We'll never know."

"There's no doubt about it, it was a double play ball," said Reds pitcher Mario Soto. "It's just the way they're playing. When a team gets on a hot streak, everything goes their way." "It had a chance (to be a double play)," said Reds manager John McNamara who wasn't in a very good frame of mind. "That's all I can say. Butler runs very well."

After Sinatro was hit, a wild pitch by Jim Kern moved the runners up a base so Biff Poceroba was intentionally walked, loading the bases.

The Braves had the bases loaded with two outs in the eighth, but that time Bob Shirley came in and struck out Chris Chambliss to snuff the rally. In the ninth, the Reds sent in Joe Price to face Claudell Washington and 1-

'Slight' Pull For Raines

If you're a boxscore watcher in that other paper that's available in this locality, you probably noticed that Tim Lincecum went 0-for-3 Tuesday and then left the game.

Raines pulled a muscle in his hamstring in Montreal's cold weather and sat out the final innings of Tuesday's game and Wednesday's victory against Philadelphia.

"It's a very slight pull," said Montreal publicist Richard Griffin. "It's 30 cold (35 degrees) up here that he warmed up, but then it got cold and the hamstring tightened."

Raines rapped up seven hits over the weekend in New York to bring his average up to .265. He was hitting a lowly .185. Raines has three steals in four attempts. New York's John Stearns threw him out.

The Expos are off today, but Raines will be in the lineup Friday, according to Griffin.

Braves outfielder singled up the middle on a 1-0 pitch to score two runs.

"It was a fast ball — and I was looking for it," said Washington who also drove in the winning run Tuesday night when the Braves won 4-2. "I talked with Bob Horner in the on-deck circle while Price was warming up. I figured I would (first) get a brush-back pitch since I got hit by a lefty when we played in Cincinnati last week and missed four games and that the next one would be over the plate."

The Reds seemed primed to snap the Braves streak when Larry Bittner hit a three-run homer in the third that seemed to provide all the margin needed by Soto who struck out the first five batters he faced.

But the Reds got only two of their nine hits over the last six innings while the Braves picked up a run in the fifth on Chambliss' homer and another in the seventh when Dale Murphy led off with a double and scored on Rafael Ramirez' sacrifice fly.

"This wasn't your everyday loss," said Bittner. "But when you are going good like the Braves, these things happen."

Getting back to the Sinatro incident, the Braves reserve catcher said he "was concentrating on getting a good lead. I started to take off, but at first I thought it was a line drive and I may have hesitated a moment. The ball just nicked the back of my left foot. I was surprised it bounced that high. Luck has been with us."

By extending their unbeaten string to 13 games, the Braves moved out of a tie with the 1984 New York Giants for the longest start-of-the-season streak in National League history. They set the modern (since 1900) major league record Tuesday night but are still seven games off the all-time major league record set by St. Louis of the short-lived Union Association, also in 1884. "I don't care about the record," said Braves manager Joe Torre. "What counts in we won another game, that we pulled another game ahead of Cincinnati."

"It's getting to be a bit of a strain," said Washington. "Not that I want to lose, but it may take something like that to bring us back down to earth."

But the beat goes on. Tonight, the Braves go after No. 14 when they send Bob Walk (2-0) against Bruce Berenyi (2-1).

"Nothing should be as tough as No. 12," said Torre. "After we set the (modern) record, we seemed more relaxed. We've had to come from behind three games in a row now, but we just hold on until we win."

Orioles Or Dead Birds? Eckersley Notches 100th

United Press International
The Baltimore Orioles and their lame-duck manager are looking very much like dead birds.

Rich Gedman's three-run double capped a six-run third inning and Dennis Eckersley notched his 100th career victory Wednesday night, leading the Boston Red Sox to a 6-5 triumph over the hapless Orioles.

The loss was their eighth straight and the Orioles' 29 record is their worst since the team moved to Baltimore in 1955. "We had the people out there and we couldn't get them in," said Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver, who says this will be his last season. "We were one out short every game. They asked me before we went on the trip what I wanted. If I'd said one win they'd have thought I was crazy ... I would have settled for that one win."

The Orioles opened a 2-0 lead when Eddie Murray extended his hitting streak to 11 games in the first inning with an RBI double following a single by Al Bumbry, who had four hits to celebrate his 35th birthday. Joe Nolan singled home Rich Dauer in the second inning.

In the third, after walks to Rick Miller and Jerry Remy, Jim Rice singled Miller home and Carl Yastrzemski singled home Remy off loser Dennis Martinez, 1-2. Carney Lansford singled home Rice off reliever Sammy Stewart and after Glenn Hoffman walked to load the bases, Gedman sent Stewart's 3-2 pitch to the 379-foot sign in left-center, giving

American League

Boston a 6-2 lead. "I just went with the pitch and hit it to left-center," Gedman said. "I didn't know whether it was going to hit the wall or not. I just hit it hard and started running."

In other AL games, Detroit defeated Kansas City, 4-1, Oakland stopped Minnesota, 5-2, Milwaukee edged Toronto, 3-1, New York blanked Chicago, 1-0, Texas topped Cleveland, 4-2, and Seattle downed California, 5-3.

In the National League, it was Montreal 5, Philadelphia 2; New York 7, Chicago 4; St. Louis 6, Pittsburgh 2; Atlanta 4, Cincinnati 3; San Diego 7, San Francisco 6; and Los Angeles 6, Houston 0.

Tigers 4, Royals 1
At Detroit, Kirk Gibson hit a two-run homer in the first inning and lefthander Pat Underwood checked Kansas City on four hits to give the Tigers their fifth victory in a row.

A's 5, Twins 2
At Oakland, Calif., Joe Rudi belted a three-run homer and Jeff Newman added a two-run shot to support the eight-hit pitching of Tom Underwood.

Brewers 3, Blue Jays 1
At Milwaukee, Paul Molitor belted a two-run homer and Ted Simmons collected three hits in helping the Brewers snap a five-game losing streak.

Knights Tops Elks, 7-6

Ward Waiting For Grayson

Wait until next week. That's what Elks coach W.J. Ward must be thinking after his team lost a one-run decision to Knights of Columbus Wednesday night in the Sanford Junior League.

Elks gets a big boost next week when Donald Grayson joins the team for the remainder of the season. He was ineligible for the first six games of the season because he was playing for the Crotons Panthers.

Playing their last game without Grayson, Elks was beat 7-6 by Knights of Columbus. The win moved the Knights into a tie for first place with Hotby, but Hotby can regain sole possession of first place with a win Friday. K of C is idle Friday.

In Wednesday's other game, Master's Cove Apartments won its first game of the season, topping Wooden 17-7 in four innings.

Darrell Wooden led off the first inning for Elks and walked. He stole second, went to third on an error and scored the first run of the game on a passed ball.

Elks picked up another run in the second inning. Terry Williams led off with a walk, stole second and third and scored on an error.

Knights of Columbus put five runs on the board in the bottom of the second. Albert Armstrong walked, moved to second on a passed ball and took third when Stewart Gordon was safe on an error. Gordon stole second and Armstrong then scored on a passed ball. Gordon went to third, but was tagged out on a hidden ball trick. Curtis Rudolph followed with a triple and scored on a single by David Daniels. After Bernard Barke walked, Alonzo Gainey tripled to drive home two more runs. Gainey scored the final run of the inning on a ground out.

Elks added one run in the third when Reginald Hayes walked with one out, stole second and third and scored on a passed ball.

An error and four straight walks, all after two outs, gave Elks two more runs in the bottom of the fourth and tied the score at 5-5.

Brian Ashcraft opened the Knights of Columbus half of the fourth with a triple and scored the go-ahead run on a Theron Liggins double.

After two quick outs in the bottom of the fifth, Bernard Barke walked, stole second and third, and scored what proved to be the winning run when Gainey was safe on an error.

Reginald Hayes led off the seventh with a single for Elks, went to second on a passed ball and stole third. He scored on a ground out, but the run left Elks one run short.

Ashcraft, the winner in relief, improved his mound mark to 4-0.

Trailing 7-3, Master's Cove Apartments scored 10 runs on just one hit in the bottom of the third and then ended the game under the 10-run slaughter rule with four runs on no hits in the bottom of the fourth.

Dee Johnson, who went the distance on the mound for the winners, also led his team with two hits.

Vernon Ramassar had two hits for Moose.

Torre Code—Have Faith Until The End

NEW YORK (UPI) — Joe Torre, who jumped the gun a little, is so far out ahead of everyone else as Manager of the Year with the Braves, he can blot the Mets entirely from his mind.

But they won't forget him or his code. His code is to go with a ballplayer he has faith in until the end then — stay with him a little longer.

No matter what, Joe Torre has never forgotten he was a ballplayer once himself. That has a lot to do with the way he sticks with his players. Lee Mazzilli was a good example with the Mets. Mookie Wilson, too.

"I'm glad he did," says George Bamberger, the Mets' present manager, who figures to be the chief beneficiary of Torre's patience with Wilson. "If you ever wanna talk about someone with a wonderful attitude or someone who gives everything he's got, that's Mookie. What I admire so much about him is his enthusiasm, the way he plays. Even when he hits a ground ball to one of the infielders, he's already flying to first base."

Torre saw the same thing. That could be why he stayed with Wilson and finally made him the club's regular centerfielder last May 22 in his first full season up from the minors.

Mookie began last year playing right field and you could see he was struggling, trying to make it practically on his extraordinary speed alone. He was hitting barely above .200 when he was benched in late April. Torre assigned him to spot duty and then put him in the lineup as his everyday center fielder after a nine-game losing slide in the west. That was when Wilson's batting average began climbing and he had gotten it all the way up to .288 by the strike.

Milton Richman

Mookie isn't what you'd call a powerhouse at 5-foot-10 and 170 pounds. He hit only three homers all last year and the fact he has two already this season has made him the target of some kidding in the clubhouse.

"The fellas make jokes about my home runs and so do I," laughs Wilson. "Zack (Pat Zachry) or somebody else will come by and say 'look at what happened to our powder-puff hitter' and I get a kick out of that. I told George (Bamberger) I was going to hit 30 this year. Now I tell him I've got only 28 to go, but I know I'm not a home run hitter. It would be destructive for me to try to be anything I'm not."

Right there you have the key to why the 26-year-old speedster from Bamberg, S.C., has excited Shea Stadium fans so much. He's a natural with his timely hitting, his electrifying fielding and his exciting base running.

"I can see why Joe Torre stuck with him," Bamberger says. "He makes things happen by the way he plays. Ballplayers like him are a pleasure. They don't need anyone to manage them. You just say hello and put his name in the lineup, that's all."

Although Dave Kingman and George Foster, the Mets' two dynamiters, have grabbed most of the headlines, Wilson has gotten his share. With the friendly, easy-going type personality he has he doesn't ever figure to have any trouble with the media.

"It's good to be recognized," he says regarding the recent spotlight put on him. "The way I feel it is if I do good, the sports writers write about it, and if I do bad, they have to write about it, too, but I'm not playing for them. I'm playing for the fans, for the management and for myself. But if they appreciate what I'm trying to do, that's all right, too."

All the other Mets like Wilson because he never plays anything less than at full capacity or short-legs the ball.

"He worked very hard in spring training," says coach Jim Frey. "I imagine he'd work hard in a beer league. He's just one of those guys who enjoys playing."

What intrigues Mets' third baseman Hubie Brooks most about Wilson are his eating habits.

"I never saw anyone who loves fish so much," says Brooks. "It doesn't matter what kind it is, he'll eat it as long as it's fish."

Wright Fires No-Hitter

Johnny Wright pitched a no-hitter and belted a pair of home runs Wednesday to lead S&H Fabricating and Engineering to a 12-2 win over Seminole Petroleum in the Sanford Little American League.

Butch's Chevron picked up its second straight win, dumping Jack Prosser Ford 14-4, while Krayola Kollege pulled to within a half-game of first place Adecock Roofing with a 13-2 win over Atlantic Bank. Adecock Roofing was idle.

In today's action in the Sanford Little American League, first place Poppa Jay's plays Cardinal Industries at 5 p.m. at Fort Mellon Park, while Sunland Corporation plays D.A.V. at the same time at Westside Field. First Federal plays Rinker at 7 p.m. at Fort Mellon Park.

Leading just 3-2, S&H scored seven runs in the bottom of the second and coasted to the win over Seminole Petroleum. The big hit in the second inning was a grand slam home run by Wright.

Wright fanned 10 in the four-inning contest. He survived a streak of wildness in the second

Little American

Inning when he walked five and gave up two runs.

Eric Hansen drove in four runs with a home run and double for S&H and John Lewis also homered.

Butch's Chevron scored seven runs in the first and six in the second to take a 13-1 lead. A triple by Belo Morino and a single by Jerry Harkness were the only hits for the winners.

Ronald Cox went the distance on the mound for Krayola Kollege, allowing just three hits and striking out five in the four-inning game. He improved his record to 4-0.

Krayola Kollege scored seven runs in the bottom of the first and led 1-0 before Atlantic Bank pushed its first run across the plate in the top of the third.

Jason Heffington belted his fifth and sixth home runs of the season and capped off a perfect day at the plate with a double as he drove in five runs for the winners.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Rumler, Stuart Lead First 400 Soccer Victory

Goalies Sherri Rumler and Jon Stuart were a perfect couple Saturday against Pine Hills 4-1 in Sanford Soccer League action.

Rumler and Stuart divided time in the net as Sanford 400 rolled to its first victory of the season, a 4-1 verdict over Pine Hills.

Keith Royster zoomed Sanford off to a flying start by taking the ball 30 yards and then ramming in the first 400 goal.

Royster also had a hand in the second goal. He fed Stuart who booted in the goal for what proved to be the winning kick for a 3-1 lead.

Rumler added her first goal later on in the game and then assisted Royster who booted in his second effort of the day for the final 4-1 outcome.

Coach Stry Reno lauded the net work of Rumler and Stuart along with the defensive work of Robert Brantley and Aaron Adamson.

Sanford 400, 1-3, takes on Downtown Orlando 401 at the Sanford Airport Saturday.

Elsewhere, Sanford 201 Celeste Industry used a second-half goal by Chuck Roll to deadlock F.C. United 2-0, 1-1. Mitch Albert accounted for the assist.

Celeste, 4-0-2, had outstanding net play from Troy Deppin and Danny Bachrach. David Farr and Chan Tyre were praised for their defensive play.

Sanford 201 hosts F.C. United 280 on Saturday at the airport.

Despite Matt Williams' best effort of the season, a 10-man Sanford 000 lost to Southeast Orlando, 5-2.

Troy Brewer booted home both of Sanford's goals, the first on an assist by Ben Davis and the second on a pass from Chet Tulp.

000, 2-4, plays College Park Saturday at the airport. In the only other game played Saturday, Sanford 001 dropped its sixth straight game, 8-0, to F.C. United 060.

Sanford travels to Ward Park Saturday to take on Winter Park 061.

Games involving Sanford 480, Sanford 200 and Sanford 080 were all canceled. All three squads will play this Saturday.

Grant's Homer Keys Cardinal

Kip Grant slammed a home run and two singles Wednesday night as Cardinal Industries bombed Seminole Hospital, 13-1, in Sanford Men's Softball League action.

Lowie Lively socked two doubles and a single to help Cardinal, while Scott Melson and Rick Dunn paced the Hospital with two hits each.

In other action Slim Washington tossed a six-hitter and Randy Brown continued his torrid hitting with a home run as Harry's Bar crushed Sessions, 16-1, to remain unbeaten.

Brown also had a double and two singles, while Billy Griffith rapped three hits as did Rod Turner and Tony Dunkinson.

Clay Meinke and Bill Stole had two hits each for Sessions. Stole was the losing hurler.

In Wednesday's third game, Tom Szabo spaced seven hits, while Terril Ervin and Beau Bridges each smacked two hits as The Barn edged A&T Raiders, 4-3, 3.

Jimmy Taylor stroked three singles for the Raiders. Tim Bulleman, who gave up just nine hits, was the loser.

In girls softball action in Sanford Tuesday, Hamp's Angela clubbed Cooper's Pub, 14-4.

Antonette Johnson and Joyce Randall had three safeties for Hamp's, while Ruth Burke roped two hits for Cooper's.

In the second game, Cardinal Industries walloped Ruah-Hampton, 21-0. Kendall stroked three of the 21 Cardinal hits. Cardinal scored 10 runs in the first inning and added 11 more in the second to end the contest.

Weston and Hart combined for a no-hitter.

Brodeur Saves Shaky Vancouver; Rangers Win

United Press International
Every time Vancouver looked shaky, goalie Richard Brodeur provided the proper bedrock.

"We had a shaky start but we managed to come back," Brodeur said Wednesday night, after backstopping the Canucks to a 3-1 victory over the Los Angeles Kings that clinched their Smythe Division title in five games.

"Now, I'm just going to relax, get a few days rest and get ready to start again," Brodeur continued, referring to the upcoming Campbell Conference final against either Chicago or St. Louis. "These games were so close I didn't think it would last only five games."

Darcy Rota notched a pair of second-period goals for the Canucks, holders of an 11-1-1 mark since Coach Roger Neilson took over the reins from suspended Harry Neale.

With Vancouver leading, 2-1, after the opening 20 minutes, Rota upped the edge to two goals at 3:30 of the middle period, after Jim Mill, who had opened the scoring for the Canucks, picked up an errant clearing pass in the Los Angeles corner and slid the puck to the rugged winger, who pushed a backhander under goaltender Mario Lemard from 8 feet out.

Defenseman Larry Murphy appeared to have revived the Kings' hopes with 37 seconds left in the period. With Dave Williams serving a holding penalty, winger Charlie Simmer corralled the puck in the Vancouver end and passed to Murphy in the slot, where his 26-foot wrist shot easily sailed over the prone Brodeur.

At St. Louis, Bernie Federko scored 3:28 into overtime to cut the Black Hawks' lead to 2-1 and force a sixth game Friday night in Chicago.

Dawkins Douses Hawks

United Press International
Philadelphia supporters must have wished Darryl Dawkins good luck before the 76ers began in the playoffs.

"I owe thanks to the Lord for letting me shoot like that," Dawkins said Wednesday night after hitting 12 of 17 shots in leading the Philadelphia 76ers to a 111-76 laughter over the Atlanta Hawks in the opening game of their Eastern Conference mini-series. "I haven't shot the jumper like that since high school."

NBA Playoffs

The 76ers can wrap up the best-of-three series Friday night in Atlanta. A third game, if necessary, will be played Sunday in Philadelphia.

Dawkins, who returned to the lineup last month after breaking his leg in January, scored 27 points. His 10 first-quarter points keyed Philadelphia's 28-20 period.

"I've seen Darryl play as well or better," said 76ers Coach Billy Cunningham. "In the last two games, he's made a lot of progress. He helps us at both ends, especially when he goes after the ball like he did tonight."

Julius Erving scored 12 of his 20 points in the second quarter, but the 76ers took control by holding Atlanta without a field goal for the first 5:30 of the quarter, and limited the Hawks to 16 points on 22 percent shooting from the field en route to a 53-36 halftime lead.

"It was awesome, the best defense we've played all year," said Erving.

The Hawks were led by John Drew with 18 and Dan Roundfield added 13.

"I thought they (the 76ers) were great," said Atlanta Coach Kevin Loughery. "They were as aggressive as I've ever seen them. They took us out of our offense."

In the Western Conference, Seattle stopped Houston, 107-87, to take a 1-0 lead.

At Seattle, Gus Williams scored 23 of his 27 points in the second half and the SuperSonics

Stanley Cup

But Rota bounced back to restore the Canucks' two-goal cushion with 11 seconds remaining, piffing the puck deep in the Kings' end and firing a sharp angle shot that beat Lemard to the short side for his fourth goal of the playoffs.

"I was fortunate because it was a bad angle shot," said Rota.

Curt Fraser put the game out of reach at 1:23 of the final period, combining with Stan Smyl and Thomas Gradin to raise the Canucks' lead to 5-2.

In other games, Quebec nipped Boston, 4-3, the New York Rangers surprised the New York Islanders, 4-2, and St. Louis edged Chicago, 3-2, in overtime.

Nordiques 4, Bruins 3
At Boston, Peter Stastny collected two goals and an assist and John Garrett again supplied solid goal-tending to lead Quebec to a 2-1 lead in its Stanley Cup playoff series. The Nordiques can clinch the series with a victory Friday night in Quebec.

Rangers 4, Islanders 3
At Uniondale, N.Y., Don Maloney scored two goals to support the spectacular goal-tending of Ed Mio, enabling the Rangers to force a sixth game Friday night in Madison Square Garden.

Bears 3, Black Hawks 2
At St. Louis, Bernie Federko scored 3:28 into overtime to cut the Black Hawks' lead to 2-1 and force a sixth game Friday night in Chicago.

Julius Erving

'I haven't shot the jumper like that (12-of-17 shots) since high school.' —Darryl Dawkins took command in the third quarter to take a 1-0 lead in their best-of-three playoff series. Game 2 of the series is slated for Houston Friday night.

Williams, the leading scorer for Seattle during the regular season, came alive in the third quarter after hitting just 1-of-8 from the field in the first half.

The Washington Bullets led the New Jersey Nets, 1-0, in the other Eastern Conference miniseries. Game 2 is Friday night at Landover, Md. The winner takes on the Boston Celtics.

The surprising Denver Nuggets travel to Phoenix Friday night with a one-game lead in the second Western Conference series. Los Angeles is the next obstacle for the survivor.

Japanese Trade Deficit

The Reagan administration seems to be having no more success than its predecessor in persuading the Japanese to lower their barriers against the importation of American goods.

The result, a $15.8 billion trade deficit with Japan last year, is helping to fuel protectionist sentiment in Congress.

If it is any comfort, Western Europeans are finding themselves similarly frustrated and increasingly angry over huge trade imbalances with Japan. Even Taiwan was recently driven to imposing retaliatory restrictions on more than 100 categories of Japanese products.

The Japanese argue, in turn, that they have lowered tariff barriers in recent years in compliance with the latest GATT (General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade) guidelines. If Europeans and Americans cannot compete in Japanese markets, Tokyo whispers, it is because Europeans have lost the work ethic and Americans are too inefficient.

Like most generalizations, there is a grain of truth in these countercharges, but they don't begin to explain why Europeans, Americans, and even the efficient, industrious Taiwanese have trouble penetrating Japanese markets.

The truth is that Japan effectively discourages imports by imposing a bewildering array of non-tariff barriers.

Consider, for example, the bureaucratic hurdles raised by the Japanese to limit automobile imports. The interminable quality inspections and performance tests required of every foreign-made automobile shipped to Japan add at least $500 to the retail price.

The required standards and testing documents for each car model fill six volumes and inspectors are so strict that defects are found 80 percent of the time. Long waits then ensue before vehicles can be retested. And, as if all this were not discouraging enough, American and European automakers have trouble finding Japanese distributors.

Imports of American-made cigarettes and other tobacco products are controlled by Japan's state-run tobacco monopoly. Typically, American cigarettes are sold to a limited number of retailers at 50 cents a pack more than Japanese brands. Which is why popular American brands that sell well throughout the world command less than 1 percent of the Japanese market.

An even more egregious example of Japanese protectionism is the price barrier erected to limit beef imports and protect Japan's half a million cattle producers. According to the American Meat Export Federation, a steak that would sell for $3.75 per pound in Los Angeles costs $8.47 per pound at a Tokyo supermarket and $38.40 per pound at a first-class Tokyo hotel.

Applying a comparable formula to, say, Hondas would limit the American market for this staple Japanese import to the tonier sections of Beverly Hills.

The point in all of this is that, whatever the disclaimers coming from Tokyo, the Japanese haven't done much to comply with the spirit of free trade.

The protectionist groundswell now building in Western Europe and the United States would prove mutually destructive if translated into higher tariffs and a no-win trade war.

But that is what may happen if Japan can't be persuaded to relent.

"You and your 'let's retire to the Falkland Islands, where nothing ever happens!'"

By JANE CASSELBERRY

Several Seminole County parents are involved in a core group of about 10 couples who have been meeting every two weeks since October of last year to put together their ideas for a new school, which would be an alternative to current public and private school education now available in this area.

They have incorporated under the name Wider Horizons and are looking for rural property in Seminole County as a site for the school, which they hope to open in September.

On Saturday, May 1, there will be a meeting at the Friends Meeting Hall at 316 E. Marks St. (corner of Broadway) in Orlando, for those interested in learning more about the concept. There will be a covered dish dinner at 6 p.m. followed by a meeting at 7:30 p.m. The group is non-sectarian, non-profit and apolitical.

Dennis and Vicki Holmes of Geneva, parents of a 5-year-old son, are among those involved in organizing the school. "The school will have an openness where the child can learn at his or her own speed," said Mrs. Holmes. "We want to develop responsible children who will become responsible adults. It will be a more democratic type school where children help in the decision making process."

The group plans to open the school with grades 1-3 and eventually expand to through 12th grade.

"A big thing is social interaction where children will be able to interact with other age groups and the older children can help the younger children," said Mrs. Holmes. "There would be a family feeling. It will be as non-sexist as possible."

"We are looking for a country atmosphere with five to 10 acres with room to explore and run and where they can learn about gardening and animals as well as the basic skills," she said. "I personally want a school to develop good self-confidence in the child and not put in a certain mold. Some just don't fit in very well in the traditional classroom situation."

"Everyone feels strongly about the arts being integrated into the curriculum so that the children can see how art, dance and music relate to other subjects," she added. "There will also be community involvement with the students helping in community projects and the school providing a learning place for the community."

The school is a cooperative venture and decisions in formulating the philosophy and concept of the school are to be the consensus of the core group. The school will be a learning experience for the parents as well as the children. They will be able to volunteer their time to help in the school and be a part of their child's education, Mrs. Holmes said.

She said there are several certified school teachers in the group who are helping set up the school to meet state specifications.

One unusual concept is that the children may be involved in helping support the school with an enterprise such as growing a crop.

On The Special Interests

When Ronald Reagan defeated Jimmy Carter, many conservative pundits proclaimed a major political realignment in this country. It now appears that they let their optimism run wild.

President Reagan is running into heavy sledding in Congress. His opponents, who were in disarray a year ago, have regrouped and believe they will obtain reinforcements in the next congressional election. They have been helped immeasurably by the sharp downturn in the economy.

The conservatives erred in thinking that Americans are an ideological people. They have their values and their causes, but interests are the basic factor in American politics. These interests may be regional or economic in character. They transcend loyalty to any party or officeholder.

It's true that there was a major realignment in the Roosevelt era. Many profound social factors were at work at that time, however. Conditions were unique. A charismatic leader, Franklin Roosevelt, managed to put together a powerful new political coalition. The country, however, was in a state of economic shock.

The country today is encountering rough times as a result of 20 years of excessive spending and mistaken social policies. It is not at the point it was in 1932, however, when people were desperate for a change and dramatic national leadership.

President Reagan has offered a new set of priorities, and many people believe they are important. They are conservative reforms designed to reduce the swollen size of government.

The task of reform is painful, however. People have become accustomed to government handouts — from food stamps, to urban action development grants to help developers build new hotels in prosperous cities. The beneficiaries scream with pain when the candy is withdrawn.

As President Reagan attempts to introduce reforms, he can't avoid stepping on many toes, on striking at vested interests such as the massive welfare establishment, the coddled education establishment, and the huge pensioners class.

I recall writing a column some years ago on the abuses of the military PX system by retired military personnel. Nothing I ever wrote produced so many outraged letters. The pension class strikes back if anyone suggests that its privileges be curbed.

Today, we have a colossal pensioner class — former government employees, among others, who receive automatic cost of living increases. They represent an enormous vested interest. No one opposes free medical care for former servicemen who were wounded in the line of service. But why should every military retiree, many of whom never heard a shot fired in anger, enjoy all sorts of perks at public expense? Why should Social Security recipients get automatic increases when other citizens are having a rough time making ends meet? The answer is that they should not receive benefits at the current level.

JACK ANDERSON

Giveaways Roll On While Some Suffer

WASHINGTON — Big Business led the cheering section when Ronald Reagan promised to get the government off the backs of American industry. But turnout isn't considered fair play in the corporate boardrooms: Big Business has no intention of getting off the government's back.

While bleating continuously about the stifling of "free enterprise" by the federal government, the corporate welfare recipients happily line up for their share of direct and indirect subsidies and tax breaks from Uncle Sam. Even Budget Director David Stockman, the guru of government economizing, described the greedy businessmen as "pigs at the trough." It was an apt description.

There is no Department of Corporate Giveaways, so it's not easy to arrive at an overall total of corporate welfare benefits each year. Ralph Nader's Congress Watch estimates the handout at $100 billion a year; though this includes some arguable items, it also excludes others, like wasteful pork-barrel projects and non-competitive contracts.

The $100 billion figure is probably close to the mark. It might even be a conservative estimate. In other words, corporate welfare benefits are roughly the size of President Reagan's budget deficit.

In these circumstances, it might be reasonable to expect the arch-enemy of Big Government now occupying the White House to lead the attack on the corporate dole. But it's not for nothing that Ronald Reagan is viewed as a friend of Big Business.

Instead of slashing corporate welfare payments, the president pushed through an additional $11 billion in tax breaks this year, rising to nearly $33 billion by 1986. Most of the breaks are in the form of accelerated depreciation allowances on the rationale that Big Business needs an economic stimulus.

Sooner or later, of course, all this largesse to the businessman is paid for by the average taxpayer, who must bear a bigger share of the federal tax burden. And as consumers, we all pay for Big Business giveaways in the higher cost of price-supported products, and in continued high interest rates caused by the government's deficit-stimulated borrowing needs.

While the president likes to think of himself as a "soft touch" for the needy, it's invariably the fatcats who manage to tap the wellsprings of Reagan's generosity, not the poor and the elderly. My reporter Matt Berke has compiled some interesting samples of this:

—The administration cut $2.2 billion from the food-stamp program this year, and proposes an additional $2.2 billion cut next year. As luck would have it, $2 billion a year is lost to the Treasury by allowing businessmen tax deductions on meals and entertainment.

—Payments in Aid to Families with Dependent Children were cut by $1 billion this year, and the administration wants to cut $1.2 billion more in 1983. Yet the $1 billion tax break for the mining industry was left untouched.

—The "tax leasing" program, supposedly intended to help weaker firms survive by letting them sell their tax breaks, has been a bonanza for healthy, profitable corporations. For example, General Electric, the company that in 1951 hired a fading actor named Reagan to extol "the merits of free enterprise over big government," will actually get a tax refund of $90 million to $100 million this year as a result of tax leasing.

—The oil industry, hardly a struggling sector of the economy, rakes in more than $5 billion a year in tax breaks. Meanwhile, energy assistance allowances to the elderly will be slashed.

—Exporters, including some of the country's biggest corporations, enjoy indirect subsidies of more than $1 billion a year through the Export-Import Bank's loans to their foreign buyers at below-market interest rates.

—The nuclear-power industry is subsidized to the tune of about $1 billion a year.

—The synthetic fuels industry gets $6 billion a year in various subsidies.

—Maritime interests receive $622 million in direct subsidies, plus some $7 billion worth of loan guarantees.

—Federal regulation gives major trucking firms a billion dollars' worth of protection from potential competitors.

—Owners of private airplanes are not charged their fair share of airport service expenses, at a cost to the rest of us of some $700 million a year.

Demise Of Checker Cab

By RON KOEHLER

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (UPI) — An April 6 headline in the Kalamazoo Gazette — "Checker to quit manufacturing cabs" — hit Ron Mulvaney, manager of the only cab company in town, like a speeding hack.

Mulvaney took over the small outfit only 18 months ago. One of his first decisions was to phase out other vehicles and operate only the familiar, boxy Checker Motors Corp. taxicab, a hometown product.

It is not the end of the world, Mulvaney said, but gradually switching his 22-cab fleet from the durable Checker to another vehicle will cut deep into a profit margin he describes as "slim to none."

Kalamazoo residents and economic analysts say the death of the Checker taxicab will cost the city even more dearly, not only in jobs, but in identity. Checker cabs are linked to the city about as much as the song "I've Got a Gal in Kalamazoo."

"Any time you lose an employer (or product) that is unique, you lose a bit of identity," said E. Earl Wright, director of the Kalamazoo-based Upjohn Institute for Employment Research.

Some Kalamazoo residents, particularly Checker employees, say the plans to end taxicab production — outlined in an April 1 letter to the company's 800 factory workers — are merely a threat to get union employees to renegotiate their contract.

The company would not go out of business. The letter said Checker would rely totally on subcontractors from other manufacturers.

Approximately 225 employees would be laid off unless new contracts to make parts for other manufacturers could be obtained, a company spokeswoman said.

Checker has tried during the past year to convince members of the Allied Industrial Workers' Union Local 682 to reopen its contract. Union officials say they are "concerned about the future of Checker Motors" but have resisted efforts to renegotiate their contract, which expires May 31, 1983.

It is difficult to tell whether Checker is bluffing. President David Markin refuses to discuss the letter or the circumstances leading to its release. Other company officials have been ordered to decline comment.

There is no doubt the company's financial situation is deteriorating along with all the other Michigan automobile manufacturers. Checker lost $448,000 last year and tabled plans to phase out the square-nosed cabs in favor of smaller, front-wheel drive vehicles.

One automotive analyst, Dan McCosh of Wards Automotive Report, said Checker is being hurt because cab companies "who are looking to cut overhead are looking to conventional cars."

Mulvaney and former International Taxicab Association President Marvin Glassman could not disagree more. Glassman, part-owner of United Transportation in Columbus, Ohio, operates a fleet of 243 cabs — all Checker.

"It would be a great loss to the industry because we need a car that meets the special needs of the taxicab operator," said Glassman, who purchases approximately 40 cabs a year.

"It will create a problem for us in ... stocking parts and retraining mechanics," he said. "With other cars, every model change means a different transmission or a different front end or something else."

Mulvaney predicts a Checker shutdown will dry up the supply of used cabs for small operators, who can stock their fleets with used cabs because Checkers run an average of 50,000 to 100,000 miles more than a regular vehicle.

Joe Furber, head of the Kalamazoo County Economic Expansion Corp., said the area will lose far more than 225 jobs if Checker cannot put its assembly line workers on subcontract work.

Kalamazoo would stand to lose nearly $5 million in personal income, more than $2.5 million in retail sales and about $123,000 in sales taxes each year, he said.

And So, As Laurel Goes . . .

Trend-setting New Hampshire and Vermont have already voted on the issue.

Petition-happy California is getting ready to, with half a million signatures backing an initiative on the November ballot.

Activist groups are gearing up campus demonstrations, congressional leaders and followers are taking it seriously and it has received what amounts to an Eastern Establishment seal of approval in the article co-authored for the Journal of the Council of Foreign Relations by McGeorge Bundy, George Kennan, Robert McNamara and Gerard Smith.

In fact, it's suddenly a publishing event, the subject of newsmagazine cover stories and a half-dozen new books in the last few weeks alone.

So much for the headline activity. While the issue may be news, the pattern is familiar. But how does a community off the beaten news track feel about it? Laurel, Montana, for an example?

Pretty much like all of the above, on the evidence of a resolution the town's Democrats submitted to the state party organization calling up Montana's congressional delegation to oppose continued proliferation of nuclear arms.

What makes this worth commenting upon is the kind of a town Laurel is.

Located a few miles down Interstate 90 from Montana's big city, Billings, Laurel is a railroad and refining center that is largely blue collar and entirely no-nonsense.

"It is not a city of Adlai liberals," comments Roger Clawson of the Billings Gazette, from whose account of the situation we will now proceed to quote liberally.

"The man who had mounds the flag, mother, apple pie or the AFI-CIO in the Caboose or Sonny O'Day's in Laurel might drink his beer at home for the next two weeks while nursing bumps that have appeared all over his head."

Given that community mind-set, the anti-nuke resolution cannot be dismissed as a whim.

"Laurel Democrats — not given to giddy new political trends — are expressing a grass roots fear that none of the country's problems, not the threat to the environment nor the sickness of the economy, will be solved if the globe is vaporized."

And not only Laurel Democrats. Their call for a nuclear freeze proved to be "the hottest item on the agenda" at a state policy conference, Clawson reports.

"There are men in Washington," said its sponsor, State Sen. Chel Blaylock, "who think we can win a war that will leave nothing behind but the grass and the insects."

"Most cheered, though some grumbled," Clawson continues, "but afterwards, Democrats poured cash into the party's coffers. An idea that profitable will not be cornered by one party. Republican doves will be singing the same song soon."

Meanwhile, back in Washington an administration that has been taken unaware and aback by the anti-nuclear movement is trying to come to terms with it.

Morrissey Goes For It, 'Hounds Snare District

By SAM COOK

Lyman's Brian Morrissey admits he likes to go for it.

The 6-foot-1, 160-pound senior is not going to bore you to death on the tennis court by hitting yawn after yawn lob back to his adversary. "I like to hit the ball hard. Make things happen," the articulate Morrissey said Thursday. "I want to control my own destiny."

Wednesday at Evans High School, Morrissey did just that. First, he annihilated Oviedo's Scott L'Heureux 6-1, 6-1 for the Division I singles championship. Second, he teamed with sophomore Jeff Cohen to drop Bishop Moore's Robert Green and Scott Shafer, 6-2, 7-5, for the doubles title.

"The last three days he could have taken anybody," Greyhound coach Mike Cahill said about his splendid senior. "When he's on, he's hard to beat."

Along with Morrissey and Cohen, Lyman received excellent play from David Kasdin and Kenny Lee. Kasdin cleaned up in the Division III singles as did Cohen in the Division II singles. Kasdin and Lee swept the Division II doubles.

Prep Tennis

After all was said and done in the 90 degree heat, Lyman and Bishop Moore were tied with 21 points. Now, it came down to head-to-head matches to determine the District Championship.

In the no. 1 singles, Morrissey made quick work of Green, 6-1, 6-3. Super soph Cohen whipped Shafer, 6-2, 6-3. Kasdin, a transfer from Lake Brantley, whipped John Larkin, 6-0, 6-2. And, when Lee disposed of Sanford's Kevin Huaman, 2-6, 6-0, the Greyhounds had their first District Championship.

"I feel pretty confident about the team," said Cahill about his squad who heads for the State Tournament next Wednesday at Gainesville. "We don't have the talent some of these teams do, but we are a tournament team and that's been the difference so far."

Along with the fact that they have a no. 1 singles player that "goes for it."

In girls district action, Trinity Prep swept four of five singles and doubles matches Wednesday to nose out Winter Park, 28-25.

As usual, Trinity's Mary Dineen led the way. The talented Saint tripped Gineen Tribe, 6-0, 6-3, for the Division I title. Dineen's cohort, Alice Reen, clobbered Robin Poston, and Division III player Sany Mowery dropped Lake Mary upstart Rae Ryerson, 6-1, 6-0.

Ryerson had knocked off Seminole's Patu Edgemon and second-seeded Kathy Houston in previous rounds, but her drive for the title stopped with Mowery.

Brantley, Howell Collide At Stadium

There should be a pretty good baseball game on tap tonight at Sanford Memorial Stadium when Lake Brantley takes on Lake Howell.

The winner will advance to the title game Friday against either Mainland or Apopka. Game time for that one is 8 p.m.

Tonight's 7:30 combatants have similar ballclubs. Both have three good hitters, although the lofty batting averages of Doug Chiodini (.377), Bill Lang (.375) and David Martinez (.365) give the Howell bunch the edge in that department.

Brantley's Bombers, consisting of John Simas, Scott Killam and Joe Mincey, crushed Seminole pitching for five extra base hits Tuesday. When you throw in sophomore Jimmy Robbins' triple, it gives the Pats four three-baggers, a pretty uncommon sight on any level.

While Howell holds the hitting edge, the Pats hold the upper hand on the hill. Tonight's starter Billy Green has three shutouts among his five wins. Green relies on a dipping curve and a decent fastball.

Chiodini will be Birto Benjamin's choice for tonight. The curve-balling lefthander posted a 3-2 mark during the year with a 2.20 earned run average. He's real tough on lefthanders, but most of the Brantley punch comes from the right side.

"We're hot," intoned Brantley coach Sam Momary. "That's five in a row for us." The victory over Seminole not only propelled the Pats into the semifinals, but was a milestone for Momary. It's the first time he's ever beaten rival manager Bobby Lundquist in a district game.

While everyone is looking at tonight's starting pitchers, the key may be one Mark Cochran if the Patriots get into trouble. Cochran, a junior, went all eight innings in a 2-1 victory over Lyman last Saturday.

In Thursday's 4:30 p.m. game, Sonny Wise's Apopka boys will be tough to beat. Mainland used its best pitcher Rich Preis to beat DeLand, and the junk-balling lefty didn't overwhelm anybody.

The Bucas will send Dave Garris (3-2) against the Blue Darters' super sophomore Rodney Brewer. The 6-foot-2 lefthander is 4-1 with 56 strikeouts in 43 innings.

Wise has turned Apopka into quite a haven for baseball during his four years. His first team won 30 games and made it to the final four when the Darters were still 3A.

Wise rates Brewer and fellow soph shortstop Billy Johnson as two of the best he's ever had. Lefthander Gary Sackett joined the two on the All-Five Star team.

If the Darters win today, they will probably come back with righthander Lamar Chandler against the Hawks or Patriots. Brantley will bring back Novak if it wins and the Hawks will probably counter with Ready Ramroth, who pitched so well Tuesday.

'Noles Lose Late, Howell Ambushed

By SAM COOK

DELAND — Seminole County's softball participation in the District 4A-9 Tournament here Wednesday lasted about three hours.

Tournament top seed Lake Howell (6-1) was embarrassed by winless (0-7) Apopka, 4-1, to set the tone for the county teams.

Spruce Creek topped Seminole, 3-2, DeLand stopped Lake Brantley, 6-3, and Mainland upended Lyman, 6-2.

Coach Jo Luciano's young (one senior starter) Hawks could never get their bats working. Apopka jumped to a quick lead and turned in some fine defensive plays in the later innings to thwart each Howell mini-rally.

Nicla Blackwell supplied the Silver Hawk tally with a long home run.

Seminole, meanwhile, had similar aluminum problems. The Tribe was blanked on four hits until the sixth inning when it broke loose for two runs to take a 2-1 edge.

Dee Hogan slapped her second hit to start the rally. Cindy Pendarvis forced Hogan at second and Susan Bagley skied out to left for the second out.

Shortstop Johnnie Bennett hit a ground ball to second, but the Spruce Creek shortstop — Peaches Bennett — didn't cover the base in time and both runners were safe.

Robin Higgins then hit a sharp one-hopper which caromed off Bennett's jaw in the outfield, knocking her reeling. Pendarvis scored easily and Johnnie Bennett scampered around third for the go ahead run.

Prep Softball

In the bottom of the sixth, however, Colleen Moriarty socked a home run to right field with Karen Abney on first to hand the Hawks a 3-2 victory. Seminole went out in order in the seventh.

"I saw their outfield in close," said Moriarty. "So I said, 'this is the time to do it.'"

"She usually hits short on us," said Tribe coach Beth Corso. "We were playing about medium on her, but I guess it was too close."

In the Lyman-Mainland clash, first baseman Michelle Kuhrt was responsible for both Greyhound tallies. In the third inning, Kuhrt followed base hits by Valerie Price, Chris Giglico and Rhonda Tempesta with one of her own for the 'Hounds first run.

In the final inning, Kuhrt reached on an error with two out to drive in Giglico, but Kathy Richardson popped out to first base for the final out.

In 2A District play, Lake Mary upended Tavares, 6-5. The Rams will play Mount Dora, a 10-8 winner over Umatilla, today at Umatilla at 4 p.m. for the title.

Lake Howell coach Jo Luciano (left) consoles his despondent Silver Hawks after an upset loss to Apopka. The Hawks were top-seeded in the District 4A-9 Tournament, but lost to the Blue Darters, 4-1, at DeLand.

Lake Brantley's 25-2 golf team tunes up with a dual match against Winter Park today before wading into a tough district tournament next Thursday.

Coach Jim Dawson's squad has been almost unbeatable in the area this year while placing second in the Five Star Conference Meet last week. Four seniors—Mike Benford, Bob Underwood, Reid Callahan and Brian Lentz—along with junior David Turley comprise Brantley's top five.

"All five of them shoot between 37 and 39," points out Dawson. "Actually, we have nine kids who can shoot under 40 at any time." Pushing the first five for starting berths are seniors Tom Meyer and Von Alveahire along with junior Larry Black and sophomore Bob Ventilla.

Although the Patriots were second in the conference to Mainland, 309-316, Dawson figured to "be in the hunt" when Thursday comes around.

"Some of our better players didn't shoot as well as they could have," surmised Dawson. "The district should be tough with Oviedo, Bishop Moore and Colonial. I think we'll be in the thick of it though."

NATION IN BRIEF

Fire Levels Neighborhood, No Fatalities Reported

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — Sparks from a wind-whipped power line ignited a palm tree, touching off a firestorm that raged through a section of densely packed apartments near Disneyland and sent 1,500 residents fleeing the $50 million holocaust. Flames stoked by howling 65-mph winds and fed by wood-shingled roofs jumped from rooftop to rooftop in a three-hour inferno that gutted an entire neighborhood Wednesday morning. Although 50 buildings housing 1,000 people were destroyed, no deaths were reported in the 3-square-mile swath of blackened rubble.

P&G Loses Case

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (UPI) — An attorney says the $300,000 toxic shock syndrome judgment he won against tampon manufacturer Procter & Gamble may set a precedent that could cost the company millions of dollars.

"In my opinion, P&G is in serious trouble," Tim Riley, attorney for Michael Kehm, said. Kehm had sought more than $30 million in the death of his wife, Patricia, who died of toxic shock four days after using Rely tampons.

Gun Linked To Murders

NEW YORK (UPI) — A shell casing found in a van seized in Kentucky was fired from the same gun linked to the slayings of a federal witness and four other people, authorities say.

The driver of the van, Donald Bowers, 46, was arrested in Kentucky on a fugitive warrant and returned Wednesday to New York. He was held overnight in a maximum-security cell at the Brooklyn House of Detention and was to be arraigned today.

Immunizations Huge Success

ATLANTA (UPI) — The success of a five-year, $120 million national immunization effort to protect American children against seven dangerous diseases is "incredible," a federal health official said today. "The immunization levels in children have never been higher and diseases have never been lower," said Dr. Allan Hinman, chief of immunization for the national Centers for Disease Control.

NASA Blows An Engine

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (UPI) — NASA engineers destroyed a $30 million space shuttle engine by hot-rod-ding it in an attempt to achieve 109 percent efficiency, officials confirmed Wednesday.

Schools Giving Away Old Textbooks Free

The Textbook Services Department of the Seminole County public school system is inviting the public to select old textbooks free of charge.

The old textbooks no longer used in the schools will be given away April 26-30 from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the school textbook depository, 911 South Palmetto Ave., Sanford.

Mrs. Nancy R. Haigh, consultant-coordinator of printed instructional materials, said those wishing to select books must provide their own containers, labor and transportation.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: The Midwest and Northwest began warming up today, shaking off bitter cold that set records in Michigan and threatened Western fruit crops. Showers and thunderstorms dotted the South and Southeast. High-temperature records were set Wednesday from Washington to California as the mercury pushed into the high 70s. Chicagoans looked forward to temperatures in the 60s today and the 70s by Friday. Fifty-five-mph winds fanned a firestorm that raged through Anaheim, Calif., forcing 1,500 people from their densely packed apartments near Disneyland. Rain showers and cloudy skies prevailed from Texas through Florida. Light snow showers dusted New Mexico and Arizona while the rest of the nation reported clear skies. Back-to-back nights of freezing temperatures took an unknown toll on Colorado's Western Slope fruit crops despite all-night stands by growers trying to keep their orchards warm.

Man, 20, Killed In Car-Motorcycle Crash

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

An early morning crash involving a motorcycle and car at the intersection of State Road 426 and Howell Branch Road near Goldenrod today resulted in the death of a 20-year-old Maitland man and the hospitalization of his passenger.

William Joseph Shernanski, of 731 Brookside Drive, was reported dead at the Winter Park Memorial Hospital at about 1:05 a.m. after the 1979 Kawasaki motorcycle he was driving ran a stop sign at the intersection, colliding with a 1978 Toyota, according to the Florida Highway Patrol. Shernanski's passenger, James Stones, 22, of 2128 Brookview Drive, Winter Park, was listed in stable condition at the Winter Park hospital suffering from a dual-fractured leg and a severe cut on his head, officials said.

The driver of the car, Deborah Jean Witt, 23, and her passenger, Michael Corduci, 25, both of 7937 Shoal Drive, Orlando, were not injured in the crash, troopers said. Troopers said no criminal charges have been filed in the accident.

THIEVES STEAL JEWELRY

Thieves broke into a Longwood man's home sometime between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Tuesday and stole $1,180 worth of gold jewelry.

Richard P. Rost, 38, of 399 Sanford Ave., told deputies someone broke into his home through a bedroom window and stole a gold watch, cufflinks, class ring and five necklaces.

SHOOTING SUSPECT ARRESTED

A 35-year-old Orlando man is being held in the Seminole County jail today without bond following his arrest Monday on charges of aggravated battery and discharging a firearm in public.

Tyrone Jones, 524 Lakeland Ave., is being held as a suspect in the March 8 shooting which occurred at the Altamonte Mall and injured four people, police said.

Police said a man became involved in an argument between Dwight and Daisey Riles, then fired one shot and fled. Riles, of Augusta, Ga., was wounded on the side of the head and fragments from the bullet injured three bystanders, police added.

CASSELBERRY HOME BURGLARIZED

Thieves broke into a Casselberry man's garage and stole about $1,500 worth of tools and fishing equipment.

Thomas Albert Billings, 37, of 711 Laurel Way, told deputies the thieves broke into the garage sometime between 7 p.m. Sunday and 6:30 p.m. Wednesday.

FERN PARK MAN JAILED

A 25-year-old Fern Park man is being held today in the Seminole County jail on $2,500 bond, released from $8,000, following his arrest at 9 p.m. Monday on charges of aggravated assault with a knife.

Harold Eugene Burge, 71 Seminole Trailer Park, was arrested at the Cumberland Farms convenience store, South Street and U.S. Highway 17-82, Fern Park, after witnesses told deputies man had threatened to cut them with a knife behind the Circus-Circus bar, U.S. Highway 17-82.

The arresting deputy said he was issuing a traffic citation to a motorist when several people shouted to him that a man had threatened them with a knife behind the bar and that the attacker was fleeing south along U.S. 17-82 on foot.

Upon investigation, deputies discovered a man with a large hunting knife in a belt sheath entering the convenience store. Deputies said the man was also carrying three cartons of cigarettes, which all bore the name and number of the store.

The suspected attacker told deputies he had "bought the cigarettes a month ago at K mart." Deputies added that the man was also carrying a camera, which he said was a present from his cousin.

Ned M. Jarvis, 25, of Winter Park, night manager of the Circus-Circus bar, told deputies a man, whom he identified as Burge, had been told to leave the bar three times after he reportedly had been trying to sell cigarettes to the bar customers. He added that when the man was forced out of the bar, he pulled a knife and threatened him, deputies said.

Economic Recovery As Easy As Revising Basic Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A growing number of private economists are urging two basic policy changes to bring about what they say would be substantial and lasting economic recovery.

First, they believe a budget compromise that clearly will reduce the federal deficit in future years is essential. Second, provided the first step takes place, they believe the Federal Reserve should somewhat ease its money policy.

These positions were aired Wednesday before Congress' Joint Economic Committee by three economists — Lawrence Chimerine of Chase Econometrics, Robert Gough of Data Resources, Inc., and Maury N. Harris of Paine Webber, Inc.

A similar message came earlier in the week from another group of economists — several associated with past Democratic administrations — at the Brookings Institution. Testifying shortly after the Commerce Department reported the economy declined another 3.9 percent in the first quarter of this year, the three told the committee they believe the recession is nearing its low point, and all expect some kind of recovery around mid-year.

The next installment of income-tax cuts in July, cost-of-living increases in Social Security checks, increased military spending, moderate inflation and the fact business inventories are lean, should aid this recovery they said.

But all said that whether this recovery is healthy and sustained, or whether it is diminished or choked off entirely, will depend on whether currently high interest rates can be reduced.

Essential to reducing these rates, they testified, will be the reaching of a compromise between Congress and the administration that would clearly signal to financial markets this year's $100 billion deficit will be reduced in future years.

Brookings estimates without such a compromise, if the administration's planned defense increases go forward the deficit would rise to $230 billion by 1985.

"It is absolutely essential these deficits be brought down," Chimerine testified, adding any budget compromise also must be "credible" in order to convince financial markets the budget is under control and interest rates can come down.

All three also agreed once such a budget plan is in place, the Federal Reserve would be free to somewhat relax its hold on the nation's money supply, and this would allow interest rates to decline without rekindling inflation.

Lower interest rates would in turn revive business investment, home building and consumer buying, they said.

The Brookings study also said the key to recovery must be a two-part process of deficit reduction and easing of money policy.

Charles Schultz, former President Carter's chief economist, and one of the Brookings authors, said to produce good economic growth "a reduction in the deficit must be accompanied by an easing of monetary policy."

Energy Conservation Loans To Become More Available

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A bill designed to make home energy conservation loans more available has been signed into law by Gov. Bob Graham.

The measure (SB 373) authorizes the Florida Housing Agency to purchase loans made by banks to homeowners for energy improvements.

"That will have the effect of encouraging financing institutions to make that kind of loan," Graham said.

The bill also mandates the Department of Veteran and Community Affairs to update the state's thermal efficiency code for building construction every two years to incorporate the latest in technology.

Graham also signed a bill (HB 931) re-enacting the Hospital Cost Containment Board, which came under a Sunset review this year.

The board has legal authority to investigate the charges of individual hospitals and then publish them in reports available to consumers.

One controversial provision of the bill also requires the approval of local planning boards before the state Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services issues a certificate of need for a new hospital to open.

"The increasing costs of health is one of the most significant social and economic problems in our nation today," Graham said.

Also signed into law Wednesday were bills regulating the transportation and disposal of low-level nuclear wastes and providing for the payment of medical expenses for victims of sexual battery crimes.

The nuclear wastes bill imposes restrictions on the disposal and transportation of the material and is intended to facilitate the disposal of Florida's wastes at out-of-state sites. It makes Florida a party to the six-state Southeastern Compact on Low-Level Radioactive Waste.

The other measures provides for the payment from the Crimes Compensation Trust Fund of medical expenses for victims of sexual battery. It also requires that persons convicted of sexual battery crimes reimburse the fund for the expenses if they have any assets.

"I have long endorsed the concept of providing maximum assistance to victims of crime," Graham said. "Florida's tough stance against criminals must also include a strong element of compassion and compensation for innocent victims. This bill takes us one step further in that direction."

He signed legislation earmarking a portion of severance tax revenues to the cities and counties where the mining occurred.

The plan also allows the nonmandatory Land Reclamation Trust Fund to be used to purchase mined lands, which would become available to the public for hunting, fishing and other outdoor recreational activities.

Deaths On Bad Roads Not The State's Fault

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The state isn't responsible for traffic deaths just because they occur on overcrowded or outdated bridges and highways, an appeals court has ruled.

The 1st District Court of Appeal Wednesday rejected charges by the family of a Dade County youth killed in an accident on Miami's McArthur Causeway that the Florida Department of Transportation was negligent for not resurfacing and expanding or replacing the causeway's draw bridge.

Jose Perez was killed in October 1975 when a car driven by Alphonso Joe veered out of control on the steel grating of the draw portion of the causeway bridge and vaulted through a handrail into Biscayne Bay. The car was traveling in excess of the speed limit and on a rain slick roadway.

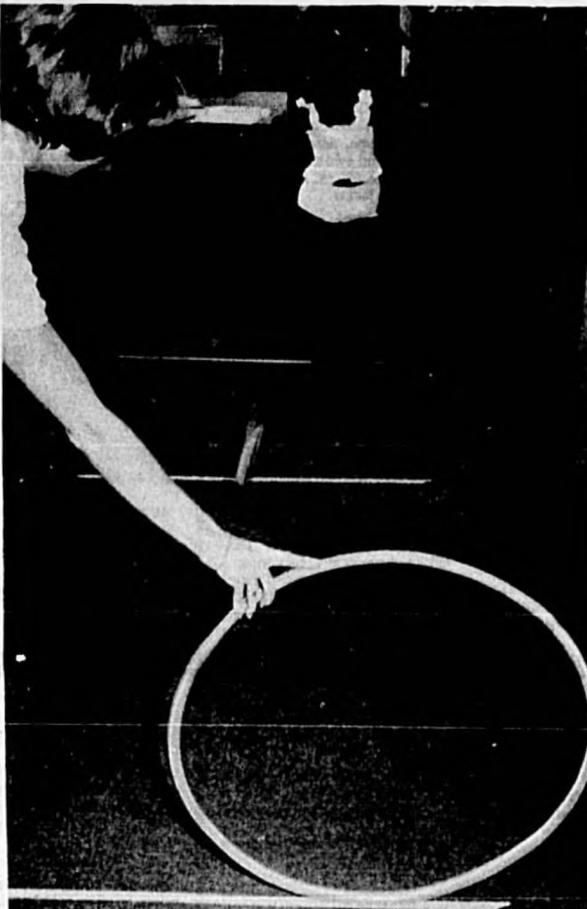

Perez's family sued Joe and DOT. Joe filed his own suit against the road department.

The Perezes and Joe contended, in effect, that the causeway and bridge were no longer adequate for the volume of traffic the system handles every day and that the bridge should have been modified or replaced.

If these contentions are correct, "the state could easily be liable for more than 98 percent of the accidents occurring between Miami and Key West," Judge Ford L. Thompson wrote in Wednesday's opinion.

"It would probably require the entire budget of the DOT ($800 million to $1 billion) to reconstruct the roads and bridges on that route to meet modern standards."

DOT has to use available road funds "in a manner that is of the most benefit to the public," the appeals court said. Department officials must determine the best use of the money as part of their management and planning responsibilities.

Executions To Resume?

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Despite a court's blocking of two executions scheduled for this week, Gov. Bob Graham believes the federal judiciary is about to clear the way for Florida to resume imposing the death penalty. Graham told reporters Wednesday federal judges appear ready to say: "This is the end — now is the time for justice to be done."

Graham has signed 30 death warrants since taking office 3½ years ago but only one has been carried out — that of John Spenkelink, who went to the electric chair in May 1979.

Late Tuesday, the 11th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeal in Atlanta stayed the executions scheduled for 7 a.m. Wednesday of Stephen Todd Booker and Carl Elson Shriner.

"Again, the finality of justice has been denied," Graham said, noting that 14 other Florida death row cases are pending before the same court.

Still, he said, there are signs some of these cases "should begin to move toward finality." "We may see a number of cases bottlenecked in Atlanta moving toward resolution," the governor said.

Booker, 28, was convicted of the 1977 rape and murder of a 94-year-old woman and Shriner, also 28, was found guilty of murdering a young mother of four during a 1976 convenience store robbery. Both crimes occurred in Gainesville.

Naval Officers In Hot Water

ORLANDO (UPI) — Two petty officers who claim they were handcuffed to bunkbeds while awaiting court-martial dramatized their opposition to nuclear arms by fasting and refusing to wear their uniforms, a Navy spokesman says.

Paul Wheeler and Brian Kokensperger, who claim to be conscientious objectors, face a court-martial on charges of failing to attend class, refusing to wear the school uniform and being absent without leave for 16 days.

The officers, students at the U.S. Naval Nuclear School at Orlando, have been held in a Navy brig in Jacksonville, since last weekend because there isn't a brig at Orlando's Naval Training Center, the site of the school.

The men were expected to be returned to Orlando today or Friday for a hearing before a military judge. The hearing, tentatively set for Friday, will determine if they can be released from confinement pending the court-martial.

Fate Of Keys Roadblock Rests With Federal Judge

FLORIDA CITY (UPI) — A federal judge in Miami today may decide whether to close a controversial Border Patrol roadblock just north of the Florida Keys which has caused a war of words between U.S. and state officials.

U.S. District Court Judge C. Clyde Atkins will hear lawyer David Hartfield Jr.'s request for a temporary injunction against the five-day-old federal checkpoint, which created a 19-mile traffic jam Sunday.

Skinner Says He Won't Run

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Senate Majority Leader Pete Skinner says he has decided not to run for Congress because of Gov. Bob Graham's opposition to the district other Senate leaders had planned to draw for him.

Skinner's decision will make it easier for the House and Senate to get together on a congressional reapportionment plan because it eliminates the need to split Orlando and Orange County into three districts.

It was also the basis for the House trying to run a Seminole Senatorial district all the way to Alachua County.

Graham says he will call a special session on congressional redistricting for early May if legislative leaders can make some progress in behind-the-scenes talks that resume again next week.

Castro's Sister Busted

MIAMI (UPI) — Fidel Castro's sister Juanita has been charged with sale of a controlled substance to an undercover narcotics detective, police say.

Ms. Castro, 49, was arrested at 4 p.m. Wednesday in a little Havana pharmacy where she works for allegedly selling without a prescription 25 tranxene tablets, Miami police said early Thursday. Tranxene is a type of tranquilizer.

Israel Shatters Truce; PLO May 'Wait And See'

United Press International
Palestinian leaders met into the early hours today discussing Israeli air raids deep inside Lebanon that killed and wounded more than 100 people, and Israel stepped up security along the border in case of reprisals.

But a source close to Palestine Liberation Organization chief Yasser Arafat said the guerrillas might heed the U.S. call for restraint and take a "wait-and-see" position to avoid giving Israel an excuse for invading southern Lebanon.

New Drug Holds Hope For Fatties

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Fat, impotent mice became slender Don Juans despite a steady diet of sweets when given a drug being tested at Temple University for treatment of chronic overeaters.

The study, conducted by Dr. David I. Margules, found the drug naloxone depressed the appetites of male laboratory mice and caused them to burn up more calories. This prevented them from becoming overweight even when they overate.

In addition, Margules found naloxone heightened the sexual interest of male mice previously suffering from stress-related impotence.

"This drug has been shown to turn them into studs," Margules said Tuesday.

Test results on female mice were inconclusive he said. Margules, a psychology professor at Temple University, believes the drug works by blocking the body's release of morphine-like substances known as endorphins that slow the metabolism and prevent calories from being burned.

In the study, mice were fed steady diets of cookies and sweets to fatten them. Then they were administered the drug. "Even though they were still able to eat sweets, they didn't get fat," Margules said.

The drug, patented by DuPont Corp., has been used outside of the United States for treatment of morphine addiction. It has not been approved for use on humans in the United States, Margules said.

"Because we believed there is an addiction to food in obese people, we thought this drug would be a good tool," Margules explained. "It has to do with the whole problem of addiction and the feelings of well-being people get when they eat."

The sexual effects of the drug also are promising. "This drug might be possibly helpful for treatment of secondary impotence, due to stress and psychological causes, and not due to a lack of testosterone," Margules said.

Potential side effects of the drug are still unknown, but Margules suspects it may impair the body's ability to ward off infection.

Among the 42 police recruits who were graduated this week from Seminole Community College were: (left to right) James G. McClure Jr., sponsored by the Langwood Police Department; Winter Springs City Commissioner Maureen Boyd; Sanford police officer Donna Cameron; and Frederic "Ric" Stanley Jr., Lake Mary attorney.

SCC Graduates Police Recruits

Forty-two police recruits, sponsored by 22 law enforcement agencies in the central Florida area, have graduated from the Seminole Community College (SCC) Police Training School and received state certification.

In addition to state certification, they received 17 college credits as a result of 16 weeks intensive schooling in criminal justice.

The students ranged in age from 19 to 45. The class included seven women and one black.

The recruits are now full-fledged police officers and may be hired by any law enforcement agency in the state.

While 19 of the students were sponsored by Seminole County law enforcement agencies, the majority of the students were sponsored by agencies from Orange, Volusia and Brevard counties.

Seventeen city police departments, the Seminole, Orange and Brevard counties sheriff's departments, the University of Central Florida security force, and the state Department of Natural Resources were among the student sponsors.

Meanwhile graduation ceremonies for 250 SCC students receiving associate of arts and associate of science degrees will be held at 8 p.m. today at the gymnasium on the east side of the main campus.

It will be the school's 15th annual commencement exercise.

Robert E. Hudson, president of Hudson Distributing Co. of Palatka, will deliver the commencement address.

Hudson, a native Floridian, has been a leader in business, civic and education communities of the state for many years.

Prior to his becoming head of the Hudson Distributing Co., he served in various management positions with the Hudson Pulp and Paper Corp. and the St. Regis Paper Co. He is a member and past chairman of the State Community College Coordinating Board of Florida.

Some 22 students in the registered nursing program will receive associate degrees in nursing during ceremonies scheduled for 2 p.m., June 27. Ceremonies will be held in August for graduates of the practical nursing program. —DONNA ESTES

Justices Clash Over High Court's Powers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Supreme Court justices seem deeply divided on a key issue confronting the nation's judicial system — the extent of the high court's power to reach out and settle social and political controversies.

The sharp split is surfacing while more than 30 bills are pending in Congress that would slash federal court authority to rule on cases involving issues such as abortion, school prayer and busing.

It also comes at a time when the Reagan administration and its conservative supporters are arguing for curbs on what Attorney General William French Smith recently called "judicial policy-making."

The clash among the justices became apparent Wednesday, when they ruled in a First Amendment case that government cannot favor one religion over another by regulating the finances of some — but not all — groups of worship.

On a 5-4 vote, the court struck down part of a Minnesota law it said forced non-traditional religious organizations to open their financial records to government audits, while failing to monitor established religions.

In a victory for Rev. Sun Myung Moon's Unification Church, the court declared invalid a requirement that religious groups disclose their funding sources if they collect more than half their money by public fund-raising.

Writing for the majority, Justice William Brennan said Minnesota created an "official denominational preference" that conflicts with the Constitution's religious freedom guarantees.

Brennan's opinion provoked a vehement dissent, led by Justice William Rehnquist, who accused the majority of practicing "judicial wizardry" by issuing an "advisory" opinion.

Rehnquist argued the majority improperly settled a "hypothetical" dispute, because Moon's group has not proved under Minnesota law it is a religious organization.

"There can be no doubt about the impropriety of the court's action this day," Rehnquist charged. He was joined in dissent by Chief Justice Warren Burger and Justices Byron White and Sandra Day O'Connor.

White also filed his own dissent, in which he said Brennan made "factual determinations" about the case that were never raised in lower courts.

The criticisms of Rehnquist and White reflected the same kind of concern over the judicial activism issue that has been raised by the administration, some Capitol Hill lawmakers and some conservatives.

Under the Minnesota law, religious groups obtaining more than 50 percent of their contributions from their own members or an affiliated church group do not have to register with the state and keep records.

"The provision was drafted with the explicit intention of including particular religious denominations and excluding others," Brennan concluded.
