HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL. For Wednesday, May 4, 1977. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You're prepared to pull out all the stops today for someone you love. Even though you may overdo it, it's for a good cause. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's likely you'll be the life of the party tonight. It's fine to enjoy yourself, but watch that tendency to overindulge. CANCER (June 21-July 22) Boldness and effort will bring you rewards today, but wishful thinking won't be a person of action. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your social plans won't work out if they encompass too many people. Everyone will have a better time in a small, controlled group. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) This could be a profitable day, but it may not live up to your expectations—perhaps because you aspired too high. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Let your heart rule your head today when one you love is concerned. Your emotions will supply better answers than your logic would. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your chances for acquisition are very strong today, but not because of luck. It will only happen in areas where you contribute work or service. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You are both a doer and a talker today, but you'll still get results. However, they'll be better if you were less vocal. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you have to make a choice today as to where to devote your energies and resources, place the family first. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) People are impressed by your dynamic personality today. You'll really captivate them if you keep a low profile. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Something opportune might develop for you today carelessly. Handled wisely, it could increase your earnings. ARIES (March 21-April 19) Others, especially members of the opposite sex, find you particularly appealing today. You make more points with charm and wit than with logic. While attending a demonstration in radiology, student PETER PARKER was bitten by a spider which had accidentally been exposed to RADIOACTIVE RAYS. Peter soon found he had GAINED the insect's powers... and had become a human spider...

Leg Amputation Was Not Cancer

DEAR DR. LAMB - I have heard of several cases of Burger's disease. It caused one acquaintance to lose his leg because a small sore on his toe wouldn't heal but traveled up his leg and higher until it healed. I have always wondered if this was a cancer and if so would it be inherited? Also how many generations back is cancer inherited? My grandmother's father died of a cancer and it worries me. DEAR READER - No, Burger's disease is not cancer. It is a rare disease that is associated with inflammation of the terminal arteries and veins and the formation of clots inside both. The inflammation and the clots are the basis for its other name, thromboangiitis obliterans, thrombo - meaning clots; angiitis - inflammation of the blood vessels; and obliterans - referring to obliteration of the opening in the blood vessels. Gangrene is common because of the loss of blood supply to the toes or feet. Your friend's leg would not heal because he didn't have enough circulation to the area. When the amputation was done high enough, where the circulation was adequate the amputation site healed. The exact cause of the disease is not known but it is made much worse by smoking. Anyone with this disease simply must not smoke at all. Nicotine stimulates the progression of the disease. It affects men more often than women by a ratio of about 75 to one and occurs most often in men between the ages of 20 and 45 who smoke. Because of inadequate circulation the disease may cause severe muscle cramps in the foot and leg. Painful cramping in the leg muscles from walking is common. As the disease progresses the victim may be unable to walk shorter and shorter distances without pain. Stopping to rest will eliminate the pain. Foot cramps at night can and do occur on Burger's disease. The disease may also be associated with thromboangiitis. Often thromboangiitis in a young person is the first sign of underlying Burger's disease. Although it occurs in all races it is most common in Ashkenasic Jews. One in 5,000 develop Burger's disease while the rate for the general population in the U.S. is less than half that. About inheriting cancer, common types are not directly inherited at all. In general, if someone in your immediate family has had cancer it increases your probability of developing it - but that doesn't mean you will. Your grandmother's grandfather is too far back for that to be a consideration. There are some familial tendencies to develop cancer. One of the most common of these is breast cancer. A woman who has an immediate family member who has developed breast cancer is five times as likely to develop breast cancer as a woman with no immediate relatives who has had it. It is generally believed that a person may have an inherited increased susceptibility to cancer but that is not the same thing as inheriting cancer. A few rare cancers do occur in families but this has nothing to do with inheriting the more common forms of cancer. ## Oviedo Wiretaps Spark Perjury Claims In Drug Case

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer. Seminoles Sheriff's agents and Orlando police used court-ordered telephone wiretaps to eavesdrop on more than 400 conversations in a three-month probe of Central Florida illegal drug traffic. Agents say the wiretaps resulted in identification of at least 35 drug law violators and that a number of arrests are pending in investigations spawned by the wiretaps. The wiretaps were sources of information agents used last month to get a search warrant for an Oviedo raid in which four persons were arrested and 42 pounds of marijuana and a quantity of cocaine seized. Lawyers for the four have accused an Orlando police vice agent, who also is a sworn and bonded Seminole sheriff's deputy because of alleged misconduct and intentional misrepresentation by sheriff's agents. Agent David James Goode denied Tuesday in testimony before Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor at Sanford that he made any false statements in an affidavit for the search warrant issued March 14 by County Court Judge Harold Johnson. Goode said the affidavit and search warrant were carefully worded, upon advice of Orange and Seminole prosecutors, to show information from a "Confidential Reliable Source" as the basis for the search warrant so as not to alert suspects to the wiretaps. Attorneys for Robert Edward Crawford, 29, LaFonda Jean Morrill, 21, both of Oviedo; Deborah M. Ackerman, 21, of Cape Canaveral, and Paul Wayne Ellis, 31, of Gainesville, are trying to get drug possession charges dismissed and evidence seized in a

Missionary Group 'Agrees' To Purchase Naval Academy Site

By MARK WEINBERG Herald Staff Writer. An official of a non-profit, tax-exempt Christian missionary group this morning confirmed his group has concluded a "verbal agreement" to purchase the 5.41-acre site of the Mayfair Hotel-Naval Academy in Sanford for use as the organization's international headquarters. The group plans to renovate the old resort hotel for its operation. Billy Barron, chairman of New Tribes Mission, said the organization made a verbal offer "last week" which was accepted Saturday by the sellers, a California liquidating trust, selling the land through Sun National Bank of Orlando.

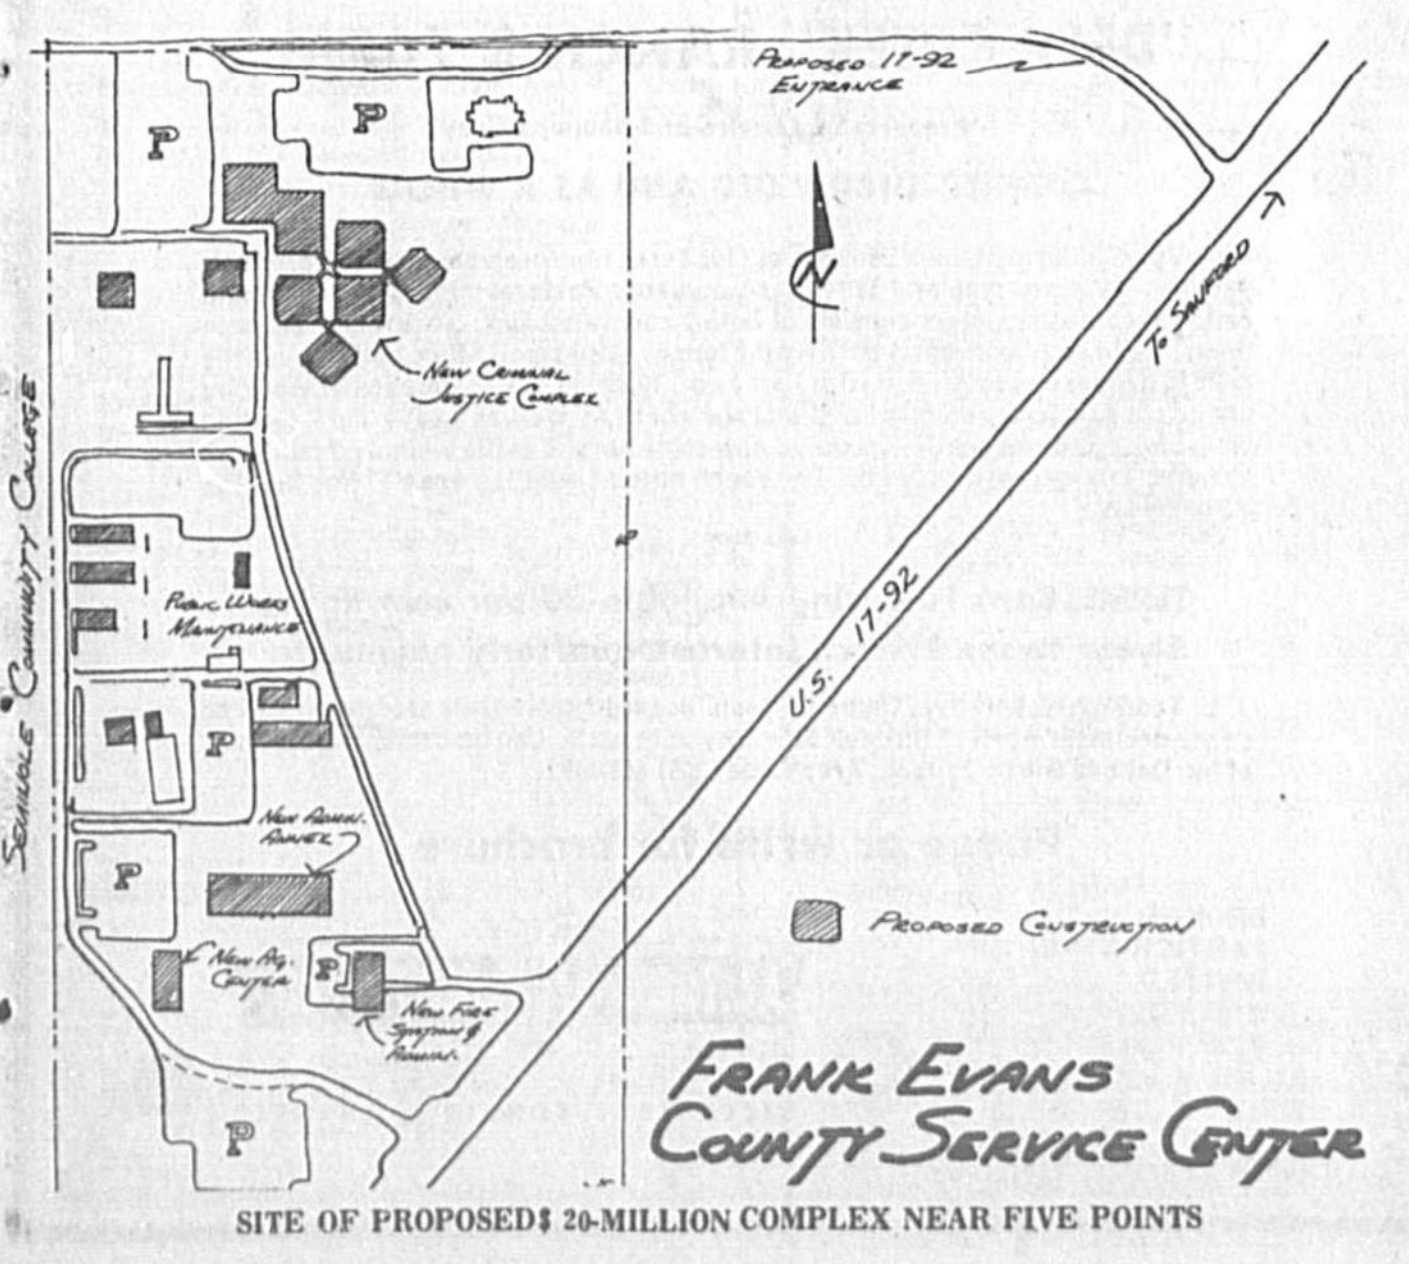

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN. In the Spring a young man's fancy might turn to romance, but in Sanford it's more likely to turn to bug-killer: the 'blind mosquitoes' have returned for their yearly onslaught on Sanford and its environs. So break out the fly-swatters and find yourself an environ to hide behind.

Law Complex 'Sure Thing'

Sheriff John Polk and Commission Chairman Dick Williams were optimistic today Seminoles will receive some $5-million for the sheriff's complex from President Carter's $4-billion public works bill that cleared the House Tuesday. "It will be a hell of a bet, I'd say it's a 98 per cent sure thing," Polk said. Polk and Williams flew to Washington in January this year after learning Seminoles' new jail had been eliminated from the list to receive federal dollars. Other Seminoles governments received funds, but the jail money was cut. While in Washington, both Polk and Williams were assured by administrators that the jail would receive top priority when, if, Carter's new $4-billion economic stimulus program was enacted. "I'd say that chances are very good," Williams said today. "It will save taxpayers a few million dollars over the next few years." Polk asked for a new facility because of overcrowding at the 67- inmate county jail now located in Sanford. The sheriff's complex would be constructed on 80 acres of county owned property near Five Points. The $44-million measure passed by the Senate last week would provide jobs for 600,000 persons nationwide. The bill was stalled for nearly seven weeks. Polk said he expects to hear something official by the third week in this month. The sheriff said he was in contact Tuesday with federal officials in Atlanta. — ED PRICKETT

U.S. Drops Its Opposition To Vietnam U.N. Admission

PARIS (AP) - The United States has agreed to drop its opposition to Vietnam's admission to the United Nations, a joint communique issued by the United States and Vietnam said today. The international headquarters would employ "about 30 families," Barron said. New Tribes Mission was created in 1942. It is a worldwide Christian organization, which Barron described as "non-denominational and non-profit." The group is organized as a tax-exempt foundation. The organization's purpose is "to prepare missionaries to go into remote, primitive jungle areas and establish a relationship with tribal people, learn their language and culture. "Then we begin to introduce" the Christian religion, said Barron. The group operates on a worldwide basis, with missions in the Philippines, Indonesia, South America and Southeast Asia. It operates Bible schools in Australia, Pennsylvania, California, Missouri and Wisconsin. Barron said he did not know when the organization would move into the old hotel, but "we hope to begin repair and maintenance work in the very near future."

Facility Will House County Offices

5 Points Complex In Works

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer. Plans are being drawn for a $25-million Frank Evans County Service Center to house many of the sheriff's and county commission offices on 80 acres of county-owned property near Five Points. Drawn by Seminole Planner Jim Chanarty, blueprints call for three major sections in the complex. Chanarty estimated the final cost could reach the $25-million mark. No estimates are available when construction might get underway on the buildings. County officials say that depends on federal, state and county dollars that are made available for the new service center. The blueprints are being readied so Seminoles County will be in a position to quickly apply for federal or state dollars, when available, for construction of the buildings envisioned for the new service center. Public Works consisting of storage and maintenance buildings. Administration building consisting of all offices related to the county commission. An agriculture center. A new fire station. Chanarty has plans for an access road for sheriff's deputies running from U.S. 17-92 to the proposed sheriff's complex. The sheriff's complex would cost about $5-million, the new agriculture structure about $450,000, a new fire station about $150,000 and the access road about $60,000, or more. Percy said for some time commissioners have discussed moving the board functions to Five Points. That, Percy said, would leave the courthouse for use as courts and courthouse functions that must remain in Seminole. Florida Law states all records maintained by Circuit Court Clerk Arthur Beckwith Jr., must stay in the officially designated county seat, which is Sanford. The courthouse in Sanford is overcrowded. And, county officials have discussed several times the possibility of moving county commission offices to a new location somewhere in Seminole. The officially designated county seat.

Their Boards Are Sail-Powered

'Wind Surfers' Hanging Ten In Oklahoma

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Surf Oklahoma! That's the message on David Grassbaugh's business card. He promotes a growing sport as ingenious as it is unlikely in this land-locked state.

A 23-year-old carpenter, Grassbaugh is in a growing legion of "Wind Surfers" — a cross between a sailor and a traditional surfer.

Only a few years old in Oklahoma and common for less than a decade in North America, windsurfing uses a floating contraption that looks like an ironing board rigged with a sail. The goal is to stand on the board — made of plastic with a foam interior — and pull the sail out of the water into a vertical position.

The rider holds the mast upright with the help of a wooden beam that spans the sail horizontally. If the rider doesn't plume head first off the board trying, there's a good chance a gust of wind will send the craft skimming across the water. Speeds of 20 to 30 miles per hour are possible, "and I've heard lies about 40 m.p.h. in Hawaii," Grassbaugh says.

"All you need is water and wind, and Oklahoma has plenty of both," says Grassbaugh as he climbs into a full-length wetsuit on a blustery spring afternoon at Lake Thunderbird. "My dream is to make Oklahoma wind surfer heaven," he adds.

Today, when only the most intrepid sailors are cutting the whitecaps, Grassbaugh has surfer heaven to himself. He's teaching a young woman, also encased in black rubber, how to catch a ride.

"Now remember, the wind is where the dark spots are in the water. You can see it coming," the teacher says. "And don't go too far out, you'll never get back on a day like this."

Grassbaugh maintains most beginners can ride adequately after one day of practice.

"That's part of the beauty of this. You don't have to be a super athlete to have a good time," he says. Grassbaugh's students range in age from 9 to 64.

After flopping into the icy lake in a few vain attempts to position the sail against strong winds, the struggling student qualifies that statement. "It's better to learn on a calm day," she says.

But Grassbaugh, the 1976 Midwest regional wind surfing champion and a participant in national competition, makes it look about as challenging as rowing a boat. Standing on the base, he tugs up the 56-square-foot sail and swooshes off, leaving behind a foamy wake and a small crowd of bemused spectators.

Introduced in this country at Marina Del Rey, Calif., in the late 1960s, wind surfing has been called "the purest form of sailing." There are windsurfers in every state, Grassbaugh says, but most of this country's estimated 9,000 participants are in California.

Windsurfing has taken off in Europe, where there are an estimated 45,000 enthusiasts, Grassbaugh says.

Work-Learn Programs Pay Off Two Ways

By MARVLYN SHEEDAN
Herald Writer

Over a million dollars in income: that is what 452 students at Seminole Community College (SCC) totalled last year while attending the school's cooperative and career education programs.

Miss Catherine Cornelius, director and coordinator of the program, commends it as an opportunity for a student to find out if what he thinks he wants as a career is what he really wants.

"It also gives the employer an opportunity to look the student over," she says.

"For women and minorities cooperative education is a natural step to what we call 'nontraditional careers,'" says Miss Cornelius.

"It is particularly effective for people who might come from a home where no one has ever gone to college."

The program permits a student to select one of two alternatives. He may either work part time all year or he may select to attend classes one term and work full time the next term.

Students can earn enough to pay their entire tuition, says Miss Cornelius.

"We like to think that our program is a combination apprenticeship and internship," she says.

Work opportunities are always arranged within the field the student thinks he wants to pursue. "We may get a student in who thinks he wants to go into medicine, so we arrange for him to work in a hospital for a year," she says.

"When he gets through with that year he has participated in everything from surgery to autopsies. He knows for certain whether he wants to stay in medicine or if it is simply not for him."

"We think that's very important," says the spunky brunette, "to find out before you spend all the time and money getting educated."

The cooperative education program is especially good for liberal arts students, says Miss Cornelius.

She has three degrees, including history, government, with a minor in Spanish, and a Master's Degree in Education with a Spanish major.

"We can show a liberal arts student how to keep what he loves and combine it with something to make a career," says Miss Cornelius.

When the student is employed through cooperative education programs he is also required to form a "learning contract" with his instructor and Miss Cornelius.

"In this contract will be defined certain learning experiences which he is expected to have during his work," she says.

She cites the instance of one student who was working for an engineering firm as a draftsman. His learning contract required that he (a) re-design the intersection of Interstate 4 and Highway 436 to correct its present problems and (b) that he go back to the beginning and show how he would have designed the intersection in the first place.

When he finished his research and presentation his employers were so impressed they gave him a raise.

Milk, Penicillin Not Related. Dr. Lamb. DEAR DR. LAMB - I am allergic to penicillin. While I know this is a common allergy I have been informed that all milk products should be eliminated from the diet in cases of this sort because they give rise to penicillin molds in the body. Can you comment on this?

DEAR READER - You have been misinformed. If you were drinking milk from an animal that was taking penicillin there might be some in the milk but otherwise there is no danger of this at all. Milk allergies are not related to penicillin allergies. It is that all that is bothering you, enjoy your milk.

Seminole, Lyman Advance To Thursday District Semis

Wiggins Homers, Has One-Hitter

By SHARON REMPE Herald Correspondent
More than once a baseball game has been lost on errors, but never so true as in the 1-0 edging by Lyman over Lake Brantley in the quarterfinal game of the District 5 baseball tournament Tuesday.
Hound centerfielder Don Andriano scored on an error by Brantley second baseman Randy Jones, registering the game's only run and doing the Patriots' hopes of advancing in the tourney.
Also chalking up wins for the first day competition were the Gainesville Purple Hurricanes over Seabreeze, 4-3; the DeLand Bulldogs over Spruce Creek, 4-0; and Seminole, using the 10-run rule to stop Mainland, 10-1, in 4 1/2 innings.
The slate for Thursday's semi-final round pits Lyman against Gainesville at 4:30, and Seminole faces DeLand, at 7:30.
The error by Jones came as Lyman first baseman Tony Lopez's single on the 3-1

SCC Netters Eye A Crown

OCALA — Seminole College's crackerjack tennis team, which has relied on sheer talent through the last two years defeated in junior college competition, looks to luck in this week's state tournament at the Central Florida Community College courts starting Thursday morning.
"It's the draw — all luck — that means so much when one accesses their chances of winning the tournament," said SCC coach Larry Castle before heading for Ocala this morning.
"We got a lousy draw last year but played out of our minds and finished second by one point."
SCC went on to finish seventh in the national tournament.
This season Seminole is 32-4 overall with losses only to four-year powers, Kentucky, Miami of Ohio, Flagler and University of Indiana. Among victories were impressive wins over Florida International, Western Kentucky, and Central Michigan.
SCC will field Steve Cox, Stuart Thompson, Peter Roberts, Colin Davis and Mohamed Cassim in the three-day tournament. Cox, No. 1, is 25-10 this season. Thompson is 30-5 against No. 2 competition and was 22-1 last year, having lost just one JuCo match in his career.
Roberts is 28-5 in No. 3 while Davis is 15-2 in No. 4. Cassim is 30-5 in No. 5.
Cox and Cassim will play together in doubles, as will Thompson and Roberts. The Cox-Cassim duo is 31-4 while Thompson-Roberts are 32-3.

Lakers Hopeful

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I don't see any reason why the home court advantage won't continue," says Lucius Allen.
If it does, he and his Los Angeles Lakers will go into the National Basketball Association playoff semifinals Tuesday in the Lakers vs. the Golden State Warriors at the Forum, where the Lakers have beaten the Warriors seven straight times, dating back to Jan. 2, 1976.

Bell No. 1, Dorsett No. 2 In NFL's Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — The ink on Ricky Bell's contract, was hardly dry when Tony Dorsett was chosen as the first overall pick in the draft.
Bell, the star running back from Southern California, was the No. 1 selection in the first round of Tuesday's National Football League draft, picked by his former college coach, John McKay of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.
Within a few hours, he'd flown from New York to Tampa and had signed what was reported to be five-year contracts worth close to $1.5 million.
"Whoever Bell gets will be the going rate for Tony," he said.
And Dorsett topped a mild threat in Dallas' direction, suggesting he might head for the Canadian Football League if the right numbers didn't filter out of Texas, too. Last week he did a bit of negotiating with Toronto Argonauts.
"I would love to play for the Cowboys but I will go where it is best for me," Dorsett said.
Presumably the Cowboys have no plans to let Touchdown Tony get away. What they Candy Clinger and Karen Wainwright combined to pitch a no-hitter as Civitan trounced Mainland 10-2 in the Junior League Tuesday.

Clinger was also the game's leading hitter with two hits. In the only other game played Tuesday in the Ladies League, the Kiwanis topped Western 5-2, 7-5. Pat Campbell had two hits for Kiwanis. Sabrina Melton tripled and homered in her only two at bats for Sizzlin.

Sanhedrin In Derby Field... Of Course

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A few of the top-ranked individuals whose teams did not qualify Pensacola and Okaloosa-Walton represent Division 1 while Seminole and Central Florida are from Division 2. Manatee and St. Petersburg are from 3 with defending state champ Dade-North from 4.
The top two teams in each of the state's four divisions comprise the field, complemented by a few of the top-ranked individuals whose teams did not qualify.
Sanhedrin in the Derby Field... Of Course
Reason bloodlines. He has two and a third year and two wins and two thirds as a 2-year-old.
It's Darby Dan Farm's sixth try at winning the Derby. It was John W. Galbreath, master of the Darby Dan Farm in Ohio, calling about Sanhedrin's fast-closing second-place finish to Seattle Slew.
"Do you think..." said Rondinello Galbreath interrupted him with: "Of course, we're going to the Derby."
So Rondinello arrived at Churchill Downs Tuesday for Saturday's 103rd running of America's most famous horse race, worth a purse of $125,000.
Sanhedrin is one of the group of non-winners this year which will make up a bulky field of 14-15 to oppose heavy favorite Seattle Slew, winner of all six career starts.
"We'd like to duplicate the Wood Memorial," said Rondinello of his chestnut colt's charge on April 22 from seventh at the top of the stretch to close within 3/4 lengths of Seattle Slew. The trainer said he felt his colt might be able to catch Seattle Slew at the 1/4 mile Derby distance, a 10-11 mile longer than the Wood Memorial.
"Darby Dan has a talent for breeding horses for stamina and distance," the Harrison, N.Y., native said. "Sanhedrin has the pedigree to go a mile and a quarter. We have a shot at it. The question about Seattle Slew is — can he go the distance?"

Somebody Pulled Plug On Gunter's Insurance Speech

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Someone decided to censor Insurance Commissioner Bill Gunter when he appeared before the Senate Commerce Committee to explain his plan to cut auto insurance rates.

Lawmakers have generally maintained a hands-off policy toward Public Broadcasting, but it appears there was a plot to keep Gunter off the air before that evening.

Commerce Chairman W.D. Childers, D-Pensacola, and Sen. Tom Gallen, D-Bradenton, denied knowledge of involvement in the camera incident.

Gallen had donned dark glasses and complained about the bright TV lights shortly before Gunter spoke to the committee.

The lights were turned off and a number of persons took up positions near the switch. When the camera resumed operation, the crew taped for a while without lights.

Lawmakers have continued to complain about the TV lights in the main Senate committee room and a meeting has been arranged to negotiate a settlement.

Gunter, meanwhile, lost some precious air time because someone decided to sabotage his campaign for lower auto insurance rates.

Gov. Reubin Askew, who wants to raise the sales tax on four to five cents on the dollar, is turning the heat on legislators.

Flake Turnips In Chinese Delicacy

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Since the mid-40s when a book on Chinese cooking for American homes was privately published and became extremely successful, cookbooks on Chinese cuisine have appeared. And they are still appearing.

COOKING IS FUN

One of the most recent, "Mrs. Chiang's Szechwan Cookbook" by Ellen Schrecker with John Schrecker (Harper & Row), is one of the most rewarding — authentic, detailed and down-to-earth. That's because it is an out-of-the-ordinary, three-way partnership. The Schreckers are husband and wife; she teaches expository writing at Harvard and he is associate professor of Chinese history at Brandeis. In 1969 they went to Taiwan to live for a while and there met the Mrs. Chiang of the book's title who had grown up in Szechwan.

Place a heaping tablespoon of the Turnip Filling in the center of each circle; bring up edges and pinch together on top, flattening with your palm. With the rolling pin, gently roll each into a circle about 3 inches in diameter. One at a time, dip the cakes into the egg, into the sesame seeds, pressing in the seeds with your palm.

Fill a large heavy iron skillet with enough peanut oil to come up 1/4 inch and heat over moderate heat; add the cakes to the oil and fry until bottom sides turn a light gold — about 4 minutes; turn and fry until other sides are golden — about 3 minutes. Place well apart on an ungreased cookie sheet and bake in a preheated 400-degree oven for 10 minutes; reduce heat to 250 degrees and continue baking for 15 to 20 cakes.

TURNIP FILLING
1 1/2 cups loosely packed coarsely grated pared white turnip
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 scallions, finely chopped with green tops included
2 teaspoons soy sauce
2 teaspoons sesame oil
In a small bowl sprinkle the salt over the turnip; mix well and let stand for 15 minutes. Turn into a strainer to drain, then with a spoon or by squeezing with your hands, remove excess moisture. Mix well with the scallions, soy sauce and sesame oil; taste and add more salt if desired. Adapted from "Mrs. Chiang's Szechwan Cookbook" by Ellen Schrecker (Harper & Row).

Make Fast Simple Sweets Friends Share Dessert

When you're in a merry mood, share the good feeling — give a gala dessert-coffee. Bring out your best china and treat friends to one or more of this dazzling trio. All taste fabulous too and, believe it or not, are easy to prepare. Apple-Spiced Flan starts with a cake mix, a sweetened condensed milk gives the sprightly topping smooth creaminess. (Bake a spice cake in a Bundt pan. Beat 8 ounces cream cheese, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 1 teaspoon each of vanilla and cinnamon or allspice with one can sweetened condensed milk. Top cooled cake with this mixture. Crown with prepared apple pie filling. Chill.) Peanut Chocolate Tortie is a truly delicate blend of flavors. complement the tart-sweet cranberry. (Recipes below.) All three will earn you compliments — enjoy!

BANANAS AND CARROTS COMBINE

Fiber is the latest concern of those who think about what they eat; but getting more fiber in the diet doesn't have to mean a radical change in eating habits. Consider the mellow banana — a favorite of children, older adults and everyone in between. It's an excellent source of food fiber.

Why is fiber suddenly so important? Some medical experts feel that the lack of fiber in the American diet is a contributing factor in cancer of the colon, the second most frequent cause of cancer death in this country, and in other intestinal diseases, such as diverticulitis.

The versatile banana, in quick and easy desserts and unusual side dishes, is an excellent means of increasing your family's fiber intake. Stir-Fry Carrots and Bananas you've got a colorful side dish of sliced bananas and carrots that are sprinkled with raisins and cooked until heated in a brown sugar glaze. It's fresh, natural, full of fiber, and tastes great with chicken.

Honey Baked Bananas will complement ham or fish as a side dish or stand alone as a dessert. Just brush peeled bananas with butter, pour a mixture of honey and orange juice over them, garnish with nuts for more fiber, and bake for 15 minutes. Your family gets its fiber and you've triumphed with a quick, luscious and healthy dish.

Sugar Both Seduces And Pollutes People

Health Highlights
Rita Cohen

Sugar: that wily seducer of the palate and polluter of the body is so omnipresent in the average American diet it is almost impossible to purchase a prepared food which does not have it as one of the ingredients.

Butter which can stand on its own as a delicious food is made palatial with the addition of sugar. The same applies to tomato soup, mayonnaise, and myriad other products. Sugar masks the natural flavor of foods. If you try foods sans sugar (and other additives) you will begin to notice a wide range of marvelous flavors that you have forgotten.

For starters, try the peanut butter sold in health food stores; better yet, make your own. It is a treat!

Sugar is as totally unnecessary in the parade of products as it is in your daily diet. Not only is it unnecessary in the diet, its consumption has been implicated as a causative factor in tooth decay, hypoglycemia (said to afflict 10 million to 30 million Americans), obesity, and coronary disease — to name a ghastly few.

Dr. John Yudkin, Emeritus Professor of Nutrition at London University and author of "Sweet and Dangerous" goes so far as to say "If a small fraction of what is already known about the effects of sugar were to be revealed about any other material used as a food additive that material would promptly be banned."

At the very least sugar replaces the important nutrients needed for your mental and physical well-being. (Could be too much sugar in your feet are dragging, and your love life is lagging.)

How to go about weaning ourselves away from the diet of Sweet and Dangerous goes so far as to say "If a small fraction of what is already known about the effects of sugar were to be revealed about any other material used as a food additive that material would promptly be banned."

Richard Nixon Revisited

--And What Did You Think...?

1. Did it change your opinion of Richard Nixon?
2. Do you think he's lying?
3. Are you going to watch the rest of the series?

These were the questions posed by Herald staffers in a random telephone sampling of Central Floridians immediately after Wednesday evening's first of three interviews between former President Nixon and David Frost. Some of the sampling was done this morning.

Of a total of 43 contacted, only 17 had watched the program: a less-than-representing 39 per cent.

Those who did watch, however, were ready to react:

John W. Scott, 40, production manager for Channel 2: "I think he knew what he did was wrong, but he had an awful hard time feeling he was lying from to time."

Mrs. Betty Roderick, 34 Winter Park housewife: "I don't know if Nixon lied. You don't know what to believe."

Michael V. Hunter, Summit Apartments, Casselberry, didn't watch. "I had wanted to but I played racket ball and missed it. Isn't that terrible?"

George S. Fender, 36, C.P.A., 658 Devonshire Blvd., Longwood, had "more sympathy" for Nixon "after hearing the human side" of the firing of Haldeman and Ehrlichman. "I still think he screwed up," he said.

L.W. Scott, 40, production manager for Channel 2: "I think he knew what he did was wrong, but he had an awful hard time feeling he was lying from to time."

Donna Crosky, Winter Park: Monosyllabic replies. "No. No. Yes."

Roy Kennedy, 992 E. Normandy, Deltona, Sanford auto parts business. "My opinion of Nixon is that he has been put on. I support the man. I especially go along with his comment about the sword. He handed a sword to the Congress — and the media — and they twisted it with relief."

His comments on the cover up impressed me. I don't think he engineered it — he was motivated by political, not corrupt motives."

Reid Morton, P.O. Box 308, Geneva, salesman: "I think we've been ripped off. I think he (Nixon) got ripped off last night. Those questions have been asked over and over and they're getting old."

Tony Russi, 247 S. French Ave., insurance agent: "I always thought he lied to the country. He doesn't seem to be able to say 'I'm sorry I told a bold-faced lie.' I don't think anything he can say will change the attitude of the country. "Frost really laid it on him."

Kitty West, 628 E. Cambria, Sanford, legal secretary: "I give it to him. When he was wrong, he admitted it. That's to his credit. But I

Gun Permits: County Seeks Capital Aid

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County officials today disagreed with a recent Florida Supreme Court ruling which said the county commission hasn't the right to deny issuance of permits to carry concealed weapons.

County Commission Chairman Dick Williams has appealed to the state legislature for a bill that would permit the county commission to draw guidelines that would allow persons to carry concealed weapons for "bona fide" reasons only.

Sheriff John Polk blasted the concept of issuing such permits to anyone other than police officers and vowed to fight the April 29 Supreme Court ruling which says any person over the age of 21 who has good moral character cannot be denied a permit.

"I'm a private citizen carrying concealed weapons. If I see anyone carrying a concealed weapon, I want that person to be a police officer. I think the courts are opening a Pandora's Box," the sheriff said.

"What we are saying is we want the legislature to pass a law that requires a person show a real need and proficiency," Williams added.

No permits have been issued in years in Seminole County. Last year a private investigator from South Seminole applied for a permit, but he failed to get it because Polk wouldn't recommend for or against. Without Polk's recommendation, the commission refused to grant the permit.

Office Supervisor Dot Wade said about 11 persons have asked for applications to carry concealed handguns since the Supreme Court ruling.

Commissioner Bob French said he agreed with the letter Williams mailed to the Seminole Legislative Delegation. In essence, the letter asked for a bill requiring a person applying for a concealed weapon permit show a "bona fide" need to carry the weapon. The term "bona fide" would be defined either by the state legislature or by the Seminole County Commission.

Why would a person need a gun, why a concealed weapon?" French asked.

Polk said it's not against the law to own a gun as long as it's kept in the home or in a car. But, he said, he is "philosophically opposed" to allowing anyone but police officers to carry a concealed weapon.

The argument presented by private investigators is that hidden weapons are needed when investigating certain types of cases.

Mrs. Wade said no permits will be issued until the issue is cleared up. A person desiring such a permit would be required to appear before the county commission before it is formally issued. Security guards carry weapons in open view on their hips. Permission for that comes from the state, not the county commission.

Polk said security guards cannot legally carry a concealed weapon without a county permit.

The Unwanted Pregnancy: Many Choose Abortion

By JANE CASSELBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

Teenage girls who become pregnant are often little more than children themselves, yet they are faced with an important decision that will not only affect their own life, but that of their unborn child.

Should she give birth to her baby and give it up for adoption? Should she keep the baby and raise it herself or rush into a hasty marriage to "give the baby a name?"

Or should she have a legal abortion (an option not easily available before the Supreme Court decision four years ago)?

These are the choices open to young women who find themselves in this situation, but if they prolong their decision their options diminish.

A pregnant teenager, though still a minor, can undergo an abortion on demand without her parents' knowledge or consent. Ironically, should an abortion result in complications which might necessitate corrective surgery in a hospital, the hospital and the physician would require parental consent. With the pregnancy rate rising among young Seminole County teenagers — and even pre-teens — many are resorting to abortion as a way out of the unwanted pregnancy.

One county social worker estimates about 50 per cent are making this choice.

Dr. S.J. Barr, director of the Epoch (abortion) Clinic on Lee Road in Winter Park says that in the four years of operation he has treated 20,000 women ranging in age from nine to 53.

of other clinics which do abortions in the Orlando area, but Epoch is the largest and closest to Seminole.

Dr. Barr says a girl can be in and out of the clinic for an abortion in four hours and can resume normal activity. "Most go back to work or school the next day experiencing no more discomfort than heavy flow during menstrual period," he added.

The clinic only performs abortions through the first 12 weeks of pregnancy. "Not because it is a legal requirement, but a question of the safety way to handle the problem medically," said Barr.

There is a clinic in Miami which performs abortions past this period, but the risk is greater to woman and chances that the fetus will be a viable

DDC By Any Other Name Worth 20Gs

By MARK WEINBERG
Herald Staff Writer

Downtown Development Corporation (DDC) has received "unofficial" notification it will be awarded a $20,000 federal grant to continue planning improvements in Sanford's downtown area. DDC consultant Sara Jacobson told a board of directors meeting of the group this morning.

The DDC board also voted to recommend DDC's membership change the name of the organization to Greater Sanford Development Corporation. The name change "will help people understand that what we're doing will help all of Sanford. I think we'll get more support," said DDC Chairman Gib Edmunds.

The federal grant can be used for planning, traffic, engineering and landscape studies, Miss Jacobson said.

The money comes from the U.S. Commerce Department's Economic Development Administration (EDA) and must be matched by DDC funds totaling $666.

DDC had originally applied for a grant of $80,000. Official notification of the grant from the Atlanta EDA regional office is expected "in about a month," Miss Jacobson said.

Federal officials have told Miss Jacobson "it is possible" DDC will receive more EDA money if the federal agency's proposed budget for the fiscal year beginning in October is fully funded by Congress.

The EDA officials said they would "try and come up with an additional $60,000," according to Miss Jacobson.

Atlanta EDA officials at first turned down DDC's grant application, but "with the productive assistance of Jeno Paulucci, we were able to gain immediate recognition in Washington," Miss Jacobson said.

The name change proposal reflects an effort by DDC to increase participation in its activities by a broader segment of the city's population, including the Chamber of Commerce, Sanford Plaza Merchants Association and other public and private groups.

As a part of this effort, the DDC board has added several "liaison members" to its board from other organizations, including Downtown Businessmen's Association, Florida Public Utilities, Southern Bell, Lakefront Development Corporation, the city government, Seminole County government,

Like the nickel cup of coffee, those healers who used to make housecalls have vanished. But in Seminole County, many have been replaced by a new breed of medical professionals: the paramedics. How do they operate?
