

Postman Gets Year In Jail

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Postman Walter Glenn Bonhart was sentenced to one year in prison Monday for failing to deliver mail. He blamed his misfortune on an irate husband.

Prosecutor Odell Horton Jr. told federal court here that Bonhart, 46, stopped on his route about three years ago to visit a housewife and was caught by the husband, who shot at him with a pistol.

Horton said a bullet damaged Bonhart's right arm, the one used to carry heavy mail bags. By last Christmas, the arm hurt so much Bonhart quit delivering the first class mail and dumped all second and third class mail at his home.

Postal inspectors recovered the undelivered letters. Bonhart pleaded guilty to concealment of mail.

Finch Waives Insurance Right

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Dr. R. Bernard Finch, who is serving a life prison sentence for the notorious "bludgeoning" slaying of his wife, has waived claim to an insurance policy in the name of Mrs. Finch, court records showed today.

Superior Court Judge Clyde C. Ferguson Monday approved an agreement giving the $20,000 proceeds from the policy to the slain woman's children.

Proceeds of $20,000 from another policy have been deposited with the county clerk pending an agreement as to the beneficiary.

The children of Mrs. Barbara Finch are Raymond, 16, and Patricia Dea Daugherty, 15, the girl by a prior marriage.

The Finch case was convicted in 1951 along with Carlo Terzoff, 27, his admitted partner, of conspiring to kill Mrs. Finch in July 1950. Two previous trials had ended with hung juries.

Finch is serving a life sentence at San Quentin prison and Miss Terzoff is confined in a women's prison with an identical sentence.

Two Papers Ban Cigarette Ads

SARASOTA (UPI) — The Sarasota Herald-Tribune and the Sarasota Journal announced today that the newspapers no longer will accept cigarette advertising.

The policy went into effect with this morning's issue of the Herald-Tribune and involves all types of cigarette advertising, from the national level down to the mention of the product in local grocery ads.

In light of the recent government and state action in smoking we see no justification for publishing cigarette advertising and we no longer accept it in our papers," a Herald-Tribune editorial read.

The newspapers, published by Lindsay Newspapers, Inc., have a joint circulation of more than 40,000.

The editorial called on the nation's publishers and broadcasters to voluntarily discontinue such advertising "before the federal government moves to force such action and before the courts decide to hold the advertising media liable along with the manufacturer and vendor for assisting in the sale of a toxic product without identifying it as such."

The editorial also commended the National Association of Broadcasters' television board of directors for its lightning up on cigarette advertising.

New Storm Sweeps Nation • State Arraigns 36 Cubans

By United Press International

A new snowstorm blew down from the northern Rockies today and heavy rain fell from southern Illinois to the Carolinas. The snowstorm South-east, struck out of its worst storm of the winter.

Wind-driven snow fell through the night from northern Colorado to Montana and eastward into the Dakotas. Wind gusts of more than 60 miles an hour reduced visibility to zero.

The Weather Bureau posted warnings of snow, much colder temperatures and strong winds for the mountain states. Motorists and stockmen were advised to take precautions for "severe conditions."

The storm was expected to spread across the western states during the day.

The storm that dumped snow on the Southwest triggered blizzards along the Mississippi River valley east into Dixie, Greenville, S. C., reported 12.5 inches of rain in six hours during the night and Belleville, Ill., reported 20 inch during the same period.

Snow drifts in Texas and New Mexico stacked 8 feet high and hampered the efforts of road crews to clear highways.

The National Guard helped ranchers feed stranded cattle. About 25,000 cattle were mated near Clayton, N. M., without food since early Monday.

We conferred Wednesday night with Chamber Manager John Krider and Peter Schall of Orlando and attempted to get more definite information on the possibility of Sanford having an entry in the Florida State League this summer. Sorry to report there's no more information at this time.

If you're planning to get sick this weekend it may not be the right time. About 200 physicians from all over Central Florida will converge on Sanford this weekend Saturday night to hear three prominent specialists in their respective fields lecture to the M.D.'s.

Dr. Bruce Logan and Dr. P. Waid Moore of Emory University will be here along with Dr. Peter C. Gases of the Medical College of South Carolina.

Quite a bit of interest has been stirred up as to how the name of Lake Monroe originated. We learned Wednesday that at one time the body of water was once named Lake Valdez. But that's as far as we got. We can report, however, that a number of people are working on the answer. We have a number of people who are working on the answer. We have a number of people who are working on the answer.

Casselberry Offers Site For Camporee

By Jane Casselberry
Senior patrol leaders and adult scout leaders from Boy Scout Troops in the Wekiwa District gathered in Casselberry Sunday afternoon to make plans for the Spring Camporee to be held April 17-19 and to inspect the site which has been offered by Hibbard Casselberry for the occasion.

The scouts were enthusiastic about the property which is high and wooded and includes a small lake. The area is located east of Crystal Bowl Lake.

The Camporee will emphasize pioneering and the theme will be on "Our American Heritage." It is hoped by the committee that having the Camporee in Casselberry will enable more families of the scouts to visit the camp site and attend the Campfire Program on Saturday night.

Scoutmaster Ted Daniel and Troop Committee Chairman Leonard Casselberry of Troop 841 have worked with the steering committee and have been instrumental in having the event located here.

7 Groups Join Forces To Offer Educational TV

WESH-TV of Daytona Beach-Orlando, five Central Florida junior colleges, and the Florida Institute for Continuing University Studies have banded together in an educational television project in a major breakthrough in the state's system of higher education.

This group is producing a college credit course in World Civilization estimated to benefit some member of every family in the 20-county viewing area of Channel 2.

The two-semester course in World Civilization is the first in which a group of institutions worked together in planning and producing a course for their joint use.

The programs are video taped daily at the Channel 2 studios in Daytona Beach and shown at 6:30 a.m. every day for eight weeks each semester.

This unique project is bringing to Central Florida an opportunity to follow the development of civilization from primitive man through the reformation. Students can participate while having their morning coffee, milk, bacon or eggs.

An attractive semi-syllabus is free to all credit and non-credit participants who write to WESH-TV or their local participating junior college. The programs are hosted by a dozen specialists from the arts, social sciences, humanities, and history fields. There are many fine teachers in the Central Florida Junior College teaching system, and this affords an opportunity to bring their teaching talents together for the benefit of all.

Ruby's Lawyer In Hot Water Over Publicity

DALLAS (UPI) — Melvin Bell, the colorful defense attorney for Jack Ruby whose courtroom antics have raised some eyebrows, was in hot water today because of statements to news media made outside the courthouse.

Ruby is charged with killing Lee Harvey Oswald, accused of assassinating President Kennedy.

Hugh D. Johnson, Dallas Bar Association president, said if Bell was a Texas lawyer he would be courting trouble for publicizing ending litigation.

Bell, in New York, charged that Dallas wanted to cleanse itself of blame in the assassination by giving Ruby a "fair trial" and sending him to the public slaughterhouse.

Anchorage, Alaska, Judge Ralph Moody said Wednesday he denied Bell permission to participate in a personal injury suit because Bell was quoted as saying insurance companies "are running the courts and court calendars in Alaska."

Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade, Ruby's prosecutor, said he was trying to abide by the "no publicity" rule of the Texas Bar Association "but it's most difficult when you have an opposing attorney who violates the canon daily."

Bell was in New York to publicize a book he wrote. He took the opportunity to support his contention that Ruby's case should be moved from Dallas.

"If a Texas lawyer did the same thing," Johnson said, "he would be subject to a call by the state bar functionaries."

North Orlando Firemen Set Intensive Training Course

By Moss Grinstead

An intensive training program for the 15-member North Orlando Volunteer Fire Department has been announced by Fire Chief Bill Hahn who will serve as instructor for one of the courses.

Arrangements have been made for the North Orlando men to attend next week's course to be conducted in Altamonte Springs by instructors from the State Fire College.

Hahn's course will include 11 monthly sessions to be held on the fourth Wednesday of each month beginning March 25.

Areas of instruction to be covered, one each meeting, will include size up, forcible entry, rescue, handling ladders, handling and using hose, ventilating, handling ropes, salvaging, overhauling, fire extinguishers and first aid.

Hahn, in announcing the training sessions, reminded village residents that the volunteer department is in operation and should be notified when individuals wish to burn trash or lots within the municipal limits. Those doing otherwise are in violation of a village ordinance and also are subject to fine by county and state officials if other properties should be damaged, he advised.

The next regular meeting of the North Orlando department will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday in the Civic Building.

County's Four Cage Teams In Action Friday

Oviedo Only One Playing At Home

All four of Seminole County's high school cage teams will be in action Friday night. Seminole travels to Orlando to meet the lowly Oak Ridge Pioneers, Oviedo's high scoring Lions host the Titusville Terriers, Lyman's faltering Greyhounds will try to bounce back into the win column at Wildwood and Crooms Panthers move into Titusville.

Seminole has racked up only four victories in 16 starts this season in overall play. In Metro Conference competition they have dropped four contests while winning only three. However, unless they fall apart at the seams Friday night they should be able to whip the cellar-dwelling Pioneers of Oak Ridge.

Meanwhile, the Lions of Oviedo will run into a most formidable foe in the Titusville quintet. The Terriers have beaten the Seminoles in two previous engagements

Sanford Braves, Hurricanes Play Tonight

The Sanford High School Braves and the South Seminole Junior High Hurricanes will tangle tonight at Seminole High's Fleming Gymnasium in what should be the highlight of junior high basketball in Seminole County this season.

The principal event will get underway at 8 p.m. while a preliminary contest between the junior varsity fives of the two schools will start at 6:30.

The Braves will start Ron Dudley at center, Chuck Piggott and Frank Whitgam at the forward posts, and the guards will be Ralph Stumpf and Lefty Oxford.

The Hurricanes will probably go with forwards Bruce Stuart and Ray Gaines, center Bruce Stuart, and guards Larry Leit and Dave Straughan.

Last week when these two clubs collided the Hurricanes racked up a 40 to 39 victory when Stuart was fouled with one second remaining. Stuart took two shots at the charity line and sank the first to knot the score at 40-all and calmly dumped in the second toss to give the South Seminole quintet its one-point victory.

The junior varsity tilt last week was also a thriller with South Seminole taking a 26 to 25 decision.

All contests are slated to follow immediately junior varsity engagements which will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Bob's First In All-Star Loop

Last Wednesday night in the Jet Lanes all star league Bob's Restaurant with the help of team captain John Wright's big 596 series, took a clean three game sweep from the Larry's Mart trio.

Big John Uhr was high for Larry's with a 642 series.

In other league action, Betty Anne's trio took two games from Inland Material to knock Inland out of first place. John Bridges was the big gun for Betty Anne's with games of 214, 103 and 202 for a 609 series. This was also high for the league.

Harry Pentecost was high for Inland with a 211/501. The Meadors Marine team finally got started this season with two wins from Allied Van Lines with George Swann being high for Meadors with a 544 series while Robert (Curly) Steele was high for Allied with a 223 game which was also high for the night. Curly's series was 663.

There were only 10 games over the 200 mark with Steele leading the way with his 223, followed by John Wright with 212 and 214, John Bridges with 202 and 214, Harry Pentecost 211, Eddie Monroe 208, John Uhr 204 and 205 and George Swann with a 203.

Autograph Seekers Press Olympic Stars

INNSBRUCK, Austria (UPI) — A small but patient army stands a long, relentless vigil daily at the Olympic Village.

The troop, of different sizes and in varied uniforms, are young autograph seekers and their prey are the many athletes from the 36 nations competing in the ninth Winter Olympics.

Most of them are youngsters from about eight to 14, and one of the energetic workers is alim Othmar Kopp who lives in downtown Innsbruck.

Kopp, 11 dressed in a blue parka with grey pants and a cone shaped dark blue hat with a tuft of white on the top, carries a five by seven inch autograph book with him. It is almost full, too, of signatures scrawled in many varied hands.

"I have most of the famed athletes here, except my favorite, Egon Zimmerman, the skier," Othmar said with a frown. "But I will get him before the games are over."

All of the children, sometimes numbering as many as 20, gather around the entrance to the village because they have 10 days off from school, thanks to the games. "Most of us come from downtown on the streetcar,"

Joe's Laundry In Clean Sweep

By Pat Siple
 Beverly Meeks, Fay Roberts, Doris Omev, and team captain Vivian Howberry — that's the position of Joe's Laundry, a team that has been spluttering the pins ever since Joe Nicholas bought those lovely lavender blouses. They always wear them for league competition. From bottom to top in 10 weeks of league play and it couldn't happen to Jollier Jilal!

Joe's Laundry made a clean sweep against Hunt Realty and Stenstrom Realty holds the number two spot with a split of points against Art Brown Pest Control, 2-2. Cook's Corner edged into fourth position when they won three points from Shoemaker Construction. The DeLary Debs won three points from Southern Air and the C.P.O. Wives made a clean sweep against M. & R. Bar. The Acey Deuce Wives split their points, 2-2, with the Grapeville Nursery.

Beverly Meeks, Joe's Laundry, picked off the 6-7 split and Dot Johnson, bowling for Cook's Corner, converted the 5-8-10. Doris Omev, Virginia Skelly, and Pat Siple converted the 5-7; Jean Sheridan the 8-7; Connie Ringo 4-5; Pat Siple 5-6; Kathy Gray 3-10; and Carolyn Salice the 2-7.

Rita Glaser rolled the only turkey. Pat Siple rolled the highest game of 186 and Sophie Woodson had high series with a 515.

Star-Studded $50,000 Phoenix Open Under Way

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — The Open champions of the United States, England and France; the American PGA and Masters king, plus most of the top money winners of 1964 tee off today in the opening round of the $50,000 Phoenix Open Golf tournament.

And that's pretty good for competition that was considered as good as dead a couple of days ago.

With all their troubles patched up, the sponsoring Phoenix Thunderbirds open their 29th annual tournament with this attractive list of names:

- National Open champion Julius Boros.
- British champion Bob Charles of New Zealand.
- French Open champion Bruce Devlin of Australia.
- PGA and Masters champion Jack Nicklaus.
- Gary Player of South Africa, making his first start of the year.
- The king of them all, Arnold Palmer.
- And the beleaguered Hebert Brothers, Jay and Lionel, who have felt the wrath of the sponsors and the fans because of their firm stand on the television clause in PGA contracts.

About Sports

Thinking Out Loud

BY JULIAN STENSTROM

The Orange Bowl

Now that the Orange Bowl committee has decided to present the annual classic in Miami at night, and now that they've also decided to put aside their pact with the Big Eight Conference, the annual affair could very well become the one major bowl affair to put on the feature attraction of year-end collegiate gridiron engagements.

This business of the major bowls tying themselves down with pacts with various conferences has taken away the edge of importance to many of the presentations.

The Rose Bowl, for example, is simply an annual deal between the west coast champions and the number one or the number two team in the Big Ten. Many times the Big Ten title holders have not been in the classic because they were there the year before.

There are plenty of football fans on the west coast who would like to see the Rose Bowl untie itself from such an arrangement so they could go after the best in the nation.

Apparently the Orange Bowl people have realized that such a pact with the Big Eight has deprived them of having one of the major attractions. And we're no less than delighted to see the committee put itself into a position whereby they can go after two of the best in the nation. It'll mean much to the Orange Bowl and much to the entire state of Florida.

Now, if the committee will move the game from New Year's night to some other night it'll be that much the better.

Friday Matinee At SOKC To Be Benefit

The first Friday matinee program of the season is slated tomorrow at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club and the proceeds from the card will go to the shoes for the shoeless charity fund.

I.A. Richard Leatherman, representing the Salvation Army who administers the fund for the sponsoring Goodfellows, said: "There are always more requests for shoes than there is money in the fund."

Last year the Salvation Army had some 1,500 requests for shoes for needy children. Requests come from school teachers, other charity workers and interested citizens.

Austrian Beats American Girl

INNSBRUCK, Austria (UPI)—Tall, reckless Christ Haas led Austrian girls in a 1-3-3 sweep of the women's downhill ski race in the Winter Olympics today, blocking American Jean Saubert's bid for a third medal, while Russia won the men's 1,500 meter speedskating to cap the greatest medal spree in Olympic history.

Victory in the 1,500 meters, by handsome Estonian university student Ants Antson, gave the Soviet Union its ninth gold medal and 22nd medal of all kinds in the games—both all-time Olympic records.

OK Tire Gets Tighter Grip

In this weeks action in the Sandspurs bowling league, the OK-Tire team secured their first-place position even more with a clean sweep over their opponents Howe Tire Shop. This gave them a 15 point lead over the second place team and with only nine weeks to go will prove a difficult challenge to the opposing teams. Helen Altman was the spur for OK-Tires with a 496-189, while teammate, Dot Johnson, came through with a 404-165.

McRoberts Tire Co. in their match with Factory Paint Outlet won three points, with their star bowler, Midge Woods, racking up the high series for the night, a big 562, with games of 200 and 218. Evelyn Uhr and Louise Housford, of the Factory Paint team, turned in high games of 170 and 189. Stempers Real Estate won three points from their rival, Jet Inn, with Shirley Hartman and Ruth Phillips turning in fine games of 167. Lili Donat was high for Jet Inn with a 471-171.

Another clean sweep was made by Pierra Mfg. Co. over Pryors Ins. Co., with Edith Zeuli leading the way for Pierra's with a good 474-175. St. Johns Realty Co. came out three to the good after their bout with Mar Lou, with Jean Monroe taking high honors for St. Johns with a big 523-182. St. Johns' newly acquired teammate, Jean Adeock, came through with a nice 510-177. Margaret Price was high for Mar Lou's with a good 467-195.

In the split department, Mary Smith toppled the 5-7 and Louise Owens the 5-10.

Cats Must Beat 3 Challengers

ATLANTA (UPI)—Don't let all that hoop-la about Kentucky mislead you. The Southeastern Conference basketball race is far from over.

First man to admit that is Adolph Rupp, coach of the SEC-leading Wildcats, ranked third best in the nation.

"It's nice to be in front," said Rupp whose team handed him his 700th victory this week while taking the lead in pursuit of his 21st Southeastern Conference championship.

"But, we've still got to visit Tennessee and Auburn and Vanderbilt here at home. While each win helps, we've got a long way to go before we can start cheering."

As the SEC race now stands, Kentucky is on top with a 6-2 mark, Georgia Tech and Louisiana State are close behind at 5-2; and 8th-ranked Vanderbilt and 10th-ranked Tennessee another notch back at 4-2.

Since each plays 14 conference games, the fact that five of the teams have only two losses shows just how tight this race is.

Something has to give Friday night when Georgia Tech is host to Louisiana State. On Saturday Kentucky is host to Mississippi, Vanderbilt to LSU and Tech to Tulane.

There were no games the past two nights and the only one tonight is a non-league encounter—Clemson at Georgia. Friday night, in addition to Tech-LSU, Tulane will be at Vandy. Saturday night's other games are Florida at Alabama, Georgia at Auburn and Mississippi State at Tennessee.

Although Kentucky will be a heavy favorite over Mississippi, their game will be a key attraction because of the expected scoring duel between Cotton Nash of the Wildcats and Donnie Kessinger of the Rebels. Nash leads the SEC in scoring with a 26.9 average and Kessinger is close on his heels at 25.3.

Louisiana State's slim hopes of upsetting both Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt in two nights and thus grabbing a share of the SEC lead rest largely in the hands of Dick Matik. He has paced the Bengals to four straight wins.

Badcock Team Leads League

The Badcock Furniture team took four points to put them in front with 42½ wins and 29½ losses. The Karns Insurance team took two to put them in second spot with 39½ wins and 31½ losses.

Seminole County Motors are in third spot with 39½ wins and 32½ losses. Fourth is Cut N Curl with 38½ wins and 33½ losses, next is Mary Carter Paints with 33½ wins and 38½ losses and just a half point behind is Mary Estier's with 33 wins and 38 losses.

L. J. Buggers are next with 31½ wins and 40½ losses and Sanford Sewing Center has 29 wins and 43 losses.

Elaine Kostival had high game and series of 185 and 488. A 178 was rolled by Isabel Gashorn, a 174 by Elma Sexton and a 168 by Thelma Unger.

The 5-10 split was the most popular, being picked up by Jeanne Wolfe, Nancy Conway, Alice Best and Barbara Rohrer. The 3-10 was picked up twice by Thelma Unger and once by Midge Cummins. The 4-5 by Alice Hall and Elsie Oldham. The 6-7 by Tena Parker and the 5-7 by Shirley Martin. Lucy Pope rolled the only turkey.

Dempsey Asks Boxing Law

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey has suggested "a national boxing law and commission to bring about uniform enforcement of safety measures."

He expressed his approval of proposals to eliminate the "saved at the bell" and have the referee continue counting at the end of the round.

Loscutoff Fined

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jim Loscutoff of the Boston Celtics has been fined $100 by NBA President Walter Kennedy for his unprofessional conduct during the St. Louis-Boston game at New York Tuesday night.

He was fined $50 for using profanity and $50 for entering the referee's dressing room after the game.

Landry Signs 10-Year Contract With Cowboys

DALLAS (UPI)—The Dallas Cowboys Wednesday crushed repeated reports that Tom Landry was on his way out as head coach by signing him to a 10-year contract, longest on record for a coach in the National Football League.

Gorillas keep on the move constantly, stopping only to sleep at night.

The new contract actually gives Landry an 11-year pact. It becomes effective at the end of his current contract which has another year to run.

Terms were not revealed, but General Manager Tex Schramm said Landry got a pay increase. Landry declined to comment except to say it was a "pretty good salary."

The longest in professional sports history that we know of," NFL headquarters said it was the longest on its records.

The long-term contract ended repeated reports that Cowboys owners, unhappy with the progress of the team since it was founded and Landry installed as coach in 1960, would fire Landry unless he had a good 1964 season.

New Cancer Cases

During the year of 1964, up to 17,000 new cancer cases will probably develop among citizens of Florida, including men, women and children of all ages. The estimate is given in the "1964 Cancer Facts and Figures", a publication of the American Cancer Society.

Types of cancer and estimated new cases listed are: cancer of the colon and rectum, up to 2,200 new cases; lung cancer, 1,800; breast cancer, 1,700; uterine cancer, 1,400; cancer of the prostate, 1,100; stomach cancer, 750 and leukemia (cancer of blood-forming tissues) 600 estimated new cases.

Another form of cancer which may be expected to develop in thousands of persons, particularly in southern states where the sun's rays are most intense, is skin cancer. This type of cancer is described as a sore that does not heal, or an unusual change or growth in a wart or mole. Skin cancer is easier to detect than most types of cancer and if proper medical treatment is given promptly, ly, a high percentage of cases are curable.

In commenting on "Cancer Facts and Figures", a spokesman of the American Cancer Society said, "In presenting information about the number two killer disease to the public, it is not done to scare people." "Rather," he added, "we hope to make more people aware of the disease, to know more about Cancer's Seven Danger Signals and to have regular medical checkups so that trained physicians can give prompt, early treatment if cancer is detected. If this policy were followed, many thousands of people might be saved."

Thought For Today

And set up false witnesses who said, This man never ceases to speak words against this holy place and the law;—Acts 6:13.

Nature knows nothing of rights. She knows only laws. Man, on the other hand, has ideals and aspirations.—James Truslow Adams.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

He is an intense patriot, believing firmly in a balanced federal budget, as well as all those wonderful freedoms in our Constitution.

Recently he gave some shrewd advice to all American citizens apropos of their letters to Senators and Congressmen.

Mr. Hunt mentioned that such mail is seldom opened by the lawmakers to whom we address it.

For they obviously haven't time to indulge in such clerical details.

So their secretaries usually handle the letters that arrive. Mr. Hunt thus suggests that if you really want your lawmakers to see your comments, then address your letter to your newspaper.

Mention your Congressman therein and explain your political argument.

Then have some interested friends add their signatures, too. For a letter with several names attached will attract far more attention.

Mr. Hunt's advice is superb. In fact, if you then mail your Congressman a copy of that printed letter from the editorial page of your local newspaper, the secretary of that Congressman will be sure to call it to his attention.

That's especially true if it contains several additional signatures, for then it looks more like a petition.

Remember, petitions suggest that a lot of voters are involved.

When you mail your clipping from the newspaper, mark it with red pencil.

And on the outside of the envelope, run these two words: "marked copy."

It even helps to encircle them in red or green pencil.

For then the secretary of your lawmaker will be doubly interested in what that envelope contains.

Politicians are very much aware of the vast influence wielded by any medium of public opinion, and the newspaper rates tops in this respect.

So any item from a newspaper thus exerts tremendous influence.

For example, a newspaper of 10,000 circulation has an estimated 35,000 readers.

And a metropolitan daily of 100,000 circulation is read by at least 350,000 people.

Congressmen thus realize that your printed item in a newspaper may often wield enough influence over voters to sway a state-wide election!

Mr. H. L. Hunt is a very experienced practical psychologist who has maintained a radio chain to help enlighten American citizens on good government.

But when he also urges that you channel your letter to your Senators or Congressmen via your newspaper, he shows his "horse sense."

Congressmen diligently analyze the paper from their home districts, so your letter thus has a double impact.

In general, too, an envelope with a printed name and return address on it carries more weight than a plain envelope.

And printed letterheads likewise suggest a more educated, influential writer.

Send for my booklet "How to Write Salable Copy," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. It offers more psychology on letter writing.

Letters

To The Editor

The Herald welcomes letters from its readers on public affairs. The editor may use a pen name provided the letter also carries the writer's true name and address. Letters of fewer than 250 words will be given preference. Letters addressed to others are unacceptable provided they do not deal in personalities. Poetry is not published by The Herald.

Dear Mr. Editor:

Last week, a highly esteemed friend of mine who is a salesman for the Borg-Warner Corporation, Ken Lundy who lives in Dallas, Texas sadly informed me that their pet Gopher, Wilbur by name had accidentally frozen to death by being under their home and not in his hole where he belonged.

Mr. Lundy informed me that this tragic loss of their pet had greatly disturbed his 10-year-old daughter, consequently he was making a personal appeal for another Gopher and would be happy and willing to pay the top going price. The only stipulation being that he wanted a Beag one! (everything in Texas has to be large you know). They have everything in Texas but Gophers.

Therefore, if anyone knows the whereabouts of a real large Gopher residing in Seminole County that we could create up and place on a big jet for Dallas in a few weeks when the weather warms up, it would be greatly appreciated.

I am authorized and prepared to pay on the spot for this transaction. Anyone able to help out in taking care of this urgent plea, will be rendering a great humanitarian service. Please let me hear from you.

Ford Cavanaugh
Forest City, Fla.

Editor, Herald:

Let me compliment you on your forward looking policy regarding letters to the editor. I believe if this is encouraged it will give you and our politicians some grassroots thinking on a variety of subjects.

You have, of course, heard that those who get Florida sand in their shoes come back to Florida.

I'm looking forward to an influx of moonmen and martians since they fired those tons of sand into orbit the other day.

And where will they come? Why, to Sanford, the shad capital of the world, to try our shad fishing, Jan. 1 to Apr. 13. Does that sound fishy? Well, what would you expect from a fishing camp operator.

WASHINGTON (NEA) —

The harmless little term "project grant" crops up increasingly in federal spending plans. It could turn out to be quite a sleeper.

Its meaning holds no mystery. Funds funneled out by this method are pinpointed on problem areas: slums, bad schools, centers of delinquency, concentrations of polluted air.

But as this approach comes into wider vogue—and this is happening—it seems certain to alter further the already troubled ties between the federal government and the states and cities.

The matter cannot be dismissed either as small potatoes or as obscure stuff. A good portion of President Johnson's attack on poverty may be mounted through project grants. Said he in his budget message on just one phase of the assault:

"Of particular significance will be the education proposal for project grants to meet special educational needs."

This proposal is expected to loom fairly large in a poverty program that may call for more than $1 billion in spending authority and upwards of $300 million in actual outlays for fiscal 1965.

The advantages of the project approach — sharp focus on the target of trouble — makes it steadily more attractive to government planners. They argue that the money goes only where it is needed.

Yet there is a counter-argument, as some determinedly anonymous specialists in public finance point out. The question is how the anti-polluters, from Sen. Barry Goldwater on down, have managed to miss this juicy line lying on their doorstep.

What it comes down to is the prospect of greater federal control over a variety of programs involving U. S. monies.

From far back, federal "grants in aid" have gone to the states by the "formula approach," under which allotments flow to all states according to population differentials or other typical gauges. Most often the states must match part or all of the federal outlay. The inevitable exemplar: the interstate highway program.

McNamara's information was intended to convey to

way program.

Generally, the states have kept a pretty fair grip on these standard aid programs. Some critics suggest their hold may be much weaker on funds in project grants—even though the President and others stress federal reliance on action begun by states and cities.

Under the "project" strategy, not just money but teams of specialists, in education, delinquency, health, housing, are drawn into the assault.

Usually, though not always, the federal experts thrown into the breach prove to be the best trained. Their superior experience can become a major influence on what is done.

Actually, federal "technical assistance" crews, operating from Washington or regional offices, exert some of this influence in the "formula" aid programs. But the latter tend to hedge them in with more rigid restrictions, to the evident advantage of the states.

This issue of federal influence is not one-sided. One ardent advocate of the states' role in U. S. affairs says federal experts have given an important lift to the technical competence of state and local officials in many fields.

Nevertheless, the "project grant" approach to federal spending may be opening the door to new and riskier territory. The lure is great, but if Washington leaps too hard, some folk at the lower levels could get trampled.

clear weapons in space.

The next test of how serious each side is about going farther on arms reduction will come at the disarmament talks that resumed in Geneva. Both U. S. and the USSR representatives have new proposals. Whether there is new determination to reach agreement remains to be seen.

Helen Fuller Says

Quiet Togetherness

WASHINGTON — Far more important in the international game of diplomatic tic-tac-toe than General De Gaulle's recognition of Communist China is the quiet coming together of the U. S. and the USSR in search of a tenable truce in the Cold War.

The shift in U. S. strategy was already in motion before President Kennedy's assassination. Under President Johnson, it appears, the word has gone out to seek argument on every subsidiary question at issue that could smooth the way toward slowing down the arms race.

The basis for a change in thinking came last fall when Defense Secretary McNamara revealed that new calculations showed the west to be substantially stronger than the East in conventional military forces as well as missiles. The new power situation was further revealed when the CIA took the unusual step of releasing data demonstrating that the Soviet economy is now lagging rather than growing.

McNamara's information was intended to convey to the public that the U. S. can afford, in fact would benefit by, an arms "freeze". The CIA data suggested that this should be a good time to sell the Soviets on ways to economize on arms.

It is easy to change political gears in a totalitarian country. The new "line" is simply handed out to the government-controlled press and radio which impress it on the public. In a democracy, shifting gears takes longer. The press, the public and the Congress must have time to weigh and consider what is proposed. A wise administration of either political party in the U. S. always allows for that.

Some of our most sophisticated newsmen believe that we are in such a period of conscious preparation for change. One foreign affairs expert describes the present as a time of "brushfire peace." Kennedy and Johnson and Khrushchev between them in the last few years have brought about a demilitarized Antarctica, the "hot-line" teletype, a partial test ban and an agreement to ban as-

Iberian Life Enchanting

(Editor's note: Here is the sixth of a series of articles on the latest news from European countries. Other articles will follow.)

By A. M. Haskell

LISBON (Special) — Any time one travels one has to expect inconveniences and annoyances. You either ignore them or adapt to them. But the American traveler to the Iberian peninsula will run into nuisances which take special adjustment.

There is, for instance, the Spanish dinner hour. Most restaurants open at 9 o'clock, but no one ever shows up until about 10. The crowd arrives at a hotel at 3 o'clock tired from a day's drive or sight-seeing, you take a bath, change your clothes, read an English language newspaper if you are lucky enough to find one, rest a bit, and find you have two and a half or three hours before you can decently have dinner.

You can go out and mill around the streets, which is what the Spaniards do. But you have generally already walked your feet off and this is not very appealing.

You can write letters and postcards to your friends and relations, but no one has enough friends and relations to last for several weeks.

You can take a nap, but, in my case at least, this only makes me groggy after I wake up and unable to sleep at night.

You can go to a bar. But even the slowest drinker cannot make two drinks last long enough, and if you are a washup, like me, you go to dinner half drunk, eat too much, and are less than a good companion in the morning.

The only answer is to acquire a collection of books and read. This is not ideal, either, for after you have crossed an ocean and spent a great deal of money, spending several hours a day reading in a hotel room makes you feel gully. But it's restful and it's safe.

When you do get to a restaurant, you will generally find the waiters so eager to serve you they hardly give you time to read the menu. All through the meal they hover and watch every bite you take for approval. Until you want the check. Then there is not even a bus boy within hailing distance. Either the proverbial politeness of the Spaniard (which is no myth) presents him from suggesting by his presence any idea so crude as that you should pay for a meal, or there is a crap game going on in every Spanish kitchen. Anyway, in Spain, and often in Portugal, you wait for your check.

No matter how elegant hotel accommodations are, there is always something that does not quite work. Drains are slow and hot water may be a mere trickle, but toilets run like Niagara for hours. Locks tend to stick, and bathroom doors do not quite close. A banging shutter can wreck havoc with a night's sleep.

And why the ankara always number one or more is beyond me. Maybe the hotel people do not worry about fire, but I do.

In rural Spain and Portugal it would be well to travel with a seeing eye dog for getting down corridors, and a flashlight for reading in bed. Electricity is expensive, and the Iberians are thrifty, but after dark it is almost impossible to see your room number and the one low watt bulb that is usual in the elaborate reading light fixture probably accounts for the abnormal number of oculists in Spain and Portugal.

If you do not speak Spanish or Portuguese, you know before you start that there are going to be difficulties in communication. That is your fault for not knowing enough. But it is frustrating to explain to a smiling and willing Spaniard or Portuguese, who professes to speak English, what you need and have him either disappear forever, or turn up with something diametrically opposed to what you have ordered. It is also devastating to work out a request in hesitating Spanish, and be inundated with a flow of language of which you cannot understand one word.

Another thing that does not lead to secure feeling traveling around Spain and Portugal is that you can call a head for reservations, and get them confirmed, but that doesn't mean that when you arrive at a hotel after a hard day's drive that they have ever heard of you.

Put not your trust in Spanish road maps, either. We had a beautiful map book of large-scale regional maps put out by the Spanish government, which purported to show national highways in red, good highways in green, and hard-surfaced local roads in yellow. Don't you ever believe it. A yellow road can be excellent and a red one almost impossible. Roads that are marked "winding" may be reasonably straight, one that appears straight on the map may resemble a roller coaster in bad repair. Don't rely on road signs, either.

Your destination may be plainly marked, kilometer by kilometer, until that last turn. Either the sign for it is on a side where you would not logically look for it, clump of bushes where you can hardly see it, or just plain is not there at all. This makes it very easy to overshoot your mark and get lost. Watch your mileage, and if you are more than five miles off your course, ask.

And speaking of signs, in the villages no one bothers to put up shop signs. You can walk around for half an hour looking for a garage or a bakery or a drug store, and find you have passed it three or four times, thinking it was a private residence. I am sure everyone who lives in the village knows where to buy things for they have probably been sold at the same place for 300 years. But a tourist will save time if he will ask directions before he sets out for a picnic or an aspin.

When you get to a shop, most things are of good quality with one exception. The Spaniard and Portuguese have invented a paper which is slick on one side, corrosive on the other, and absolutely non-absorbent. It undoubtedly would have some industrial use, but for paper towels, paper napkins and toilet paper it is no good at all. These are the uses it is put to in the Iberian peninsula. Carry a nice big box of paper tissues, made in U. S. A.

Once crossing the Spanish border, make up your mind that everything is going to take longer than you think it will. To insure an even temper, figure out the longest possible time it will take to drive 100 miles, see a museum or get a minor repair on a car. Then add an hour, for there will always be a fascinating, but loquacious guide, unexpected road repairs, or a smiling but meddlesome slow automobile mechanic to cope with.

I suspect all this is a plot worked out by the Spaniard and Portuguese to keep things from being too perfect. Because the Iberian peninsula is so enchanting, and the people have so much charm, if something did not go wrong you would not believe it.

George T. Haig was installed as chairman of the Chuluota His and Her Garden Club at the February meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Boulden.

Each member had a coconut and was shown how to connect the two halves by light chains so that the bottom half served as a container for the food and the top as a roof. Leslie Carol Jones Complimented With Tea

Leslie Carol Jones, bride-elect, was complimented with a tea Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ted Williams on Plumosa Drive. Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Williams, Mrs. J. H. Lee Jr., Mrs. W. W. Tyre and Mrs. Ernest Southward.

Mrs. Marvin Dyal greeted the guests at the door and presented them to the receiving line composed of the hostesses, the honored guest, her mother, Mrs. Ashby G. Jones, and Mrs. T. A. Best.

The tea table was covered with a yellow cloth overlaid with a white outwork cloth, centered with an arrangement of yellow and white chrysanthemums in a silver bowl and balanced with yellow tapered in silver holders. Tea and coffee were poured from the silver service by Mrs. C. L. Echols, Mrs. John T. Adams and Mrs. James Pigott. Dainty open-faced sandwiches, tea cakes and mints provided additional decorative color for the table.

Mrs. Bess Herman, Rosemary Southward, Sheila Best and Mrs. Harold Whithern assisted in serving.

The hostesses presented the bride-elect with a silver serving tray as a lovely reminder of the occasion, and gave her a white orchid corsage. Some 120 guests called during the appointed hours of 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

LESLIE CAROL JONES, bride-elect of Tommy Best, was honored at a tea Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ted Williams. Hostesses for the party were: (standing, from left) Mrs. W.

W. Tyre, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Ernest Southward and Mrs. J. H. Lee Jr., Mrs. T. A. Best, Leslie and her mother, Mrs. Ashby G. Jones, are shown at the tea table.

Business, Social Meeting For Class

Daughters of Wesley Sunday School Class, First Methodist Church, held its regular business and social meeting in McKinley Hall Tuesday evening. Mrs. O. R. Estridge, Mrs. J. P. Thurmond, Mrs. Robert Futrell and Miss Aline Chapman were hostesses.

The speaker's table and the serving table were decorated with vari-colored carnations. Mrs. C. M. Flowers, class president, presided during the business session and reports from all committee chairmen were given.

Mrs. Marguerite Paul gave an interesting interpretation of the Lord's Prayer for the devotion. This was followed by the group repeating the prayer in unison.

Mrs. Roy Tillis, Mrs. Harry Brown and Mrs. Estridge made donations to the birthday bank.

During the social hour the hostesses conducted two games and served cherry pie, mints and coffee to those attending: Mrs. M. B. Smith, Mrs. Roy Tillis, Mrs. C. M. Flowers, Mrs. Grace Gregory and her daughter, Mrs. Helena Rickert, who is visiting her from Pittsburgh, Pa., Mrs. W. E. Raines and her sister, Mrs. Sarah Polley, Mrs. R. G. Hickson, Mrs. O. E. White, Mrs. A. B. Stevens, Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. Marguerite Paul and Mrs. Lucy Courier.

Big, bold chiffon scarves in prints or solid colors serve beautifully as stoles for evening wear. They come in prints and plaids as well as floral patterns.

When you buy a pair of handy plastic rainboots, look for the ones that have steel reinforcement in the heel. They will wear longer, especially if your shoes have thin heels.

Jaycee W. C. Schedule Film, Dr. Largen Speaker

Mrs. Charles Tetenbaum was hostess to the Jaycee Wives Club Tuesday evening at her home on Elliott Avenue.

A demonstration on mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, using the dummy "Resusc-Annie," was given by Sally Neider and Martha Kilpatrick, American Red Cross volunteers. Members were shown the proper technique, individually, and each one given the opportunity to practice what she had learned.

Mrs. Tom Price, president, conducted the business meeting and heard reports from officers and committee chairmen. Tentative plans were made for a luncheon in March and final plans discussed and approved for a project to benefit the "Little Red Schoolhouse."

The members will co-sponsor a silver tea, for the benefit of Sanford Public Library, with the Woman's Club. Mrs. Philip Skates was appointed chairman from the group to work with Mrs. C. P. Harkey, representing the Woman's Club. The tea will be in the library, Feb. 16, from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. and the public is invited.

Final plans were made for the cancer film-showing Feb. 18 and each member was asked to telephone five persons about the program and offer transportation. Two films, provided by the Florida Division, American Cancer Society, will be shown in the Florida State Bank Lounge at 8 p.m. This is being done in the public interest and all women in the area are urged to attend. Dr. Thomas L. Largen will narrate the films, "Millions Club," and "Time and Two Women." He will answer all questions relating to the subject.

During the social hour Mrs. Tetenbaum served coffee, cream puffs and Valentine mints from a table covered with a white cloth and centered with an unusual arrangement of red carnations in a silver, heart-shaped dish.

Household Hints

The new canister-type coffee cans, with plastic lids, are very useful but they sometimes mark the cabinet tops or shelves. Save extra plastic lids. Put them on the bottom of the cans you are using to eliminate marks.

Most every mother knows that she can save her toddler innumerable bumps and bruises by sticking strips of adhesive tape across the soles of shoes. This eliminates the hazards of slipping on waxed floors. Use the same treatment on work shoes and travel down highly polished corridors or slick floors with no effort.

BILL'S BARGAIN BARN</

WITH 41 YEARS of experience between them, these three photographers will have the grand opening of the Bridges and Bush Photo Studio Friday at 318 East First Street. From the left: W. P. (Bill) Bridges, Joe Bush and the manager, W. R. McDaniel.

Bridges & Bush Opening Friday

The Bridges and Bush Photographic Studio will have its grand opening Friday at 318 East First Street, Sanford. The two owners and a third photographer have 41 years combined experience to assure a smooth running studio with service and photographic work of "distinctive quality."

W. P. (Bill) Bridges and Joe F. Bush, owners, are Navy trained photographers with specialized training in every phase of photography. Being stationed at NAS Jax, Jacksonville, before transferring to Sanford, Bill was in charge of the studio and the color lab specialist. Joe was in charge of and specialized in the movie lab there.

Throughout their Navy careers, Bill and Joe have had the opportunity as navy photographers to photograph outstanding events such as the "Man into Space" missile shots and President Kennedy's many visits to various Florida locations. These mention only two of the many, many highly technical photographic jobs assigned to them. They will be available to assure the people of Sanford, Seminole County and Central Florida the same careful skill and quality such as those jobs required.

W. R. McDaniel, better known as "Mac" to his many friends and customers, comes from Athens, Ga. Mac previously managed Crow's Photographic Company in Athens for the past 19 years. "Mac" has experience in every photographic and sales field which will enable him to better serve in every photographic need.

During his 19 years with photography, he has received specialized customer service and sales training at the University of Georgia and studio and lab management and training by Eastman Kodak instructors.

Mac, along with Bill and Joe, wish to invite each and every citizen of Sanford, Seminole County and Central Florida to visit their studio at 318 East First Street.

"We are educated, equipped and available to serve your every photographic need including, to name a few, portraits, weddings, aeri-als, color, commercial, investigation, ID, passports, advertisements, movies, etc. and no job is too small or too large for the Bridges and Bush Studio," they said.

Missile Club Has Program

By Jane Casselberry
 Brian Stehli, ninth grade student at South Seminole Junior High School and vice president of the Missile Club, presented a program last week based on the book "Nine Planets" by Alan E. Nourse.

Several theories presented on formation of the universe were challenged vigorously by other bright, young minds in the group during the lively discussion period.

Mrs. Catherine Martin, South Seminole Science teacher, is advisor for the group which keeps abreast of the latest developments in missiles and space exploration.

Several field trips are planned by the club each year and an annual banquet is given for members and their parents.

Meetings are conducted every other Wednesday and often there are guest speakers connected with the space program to talk on current developments of interest to the students.

Boy Scout Roll At 5.5 Million

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (UPI)—The Boy Scouts of America has grown into the Free World's largest boys' organization.

Latest membership reports, issued in conjunction with Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7-13, 1964, show an all-time record enrollment of more than 5.5 million boys — Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers — and their leaders.

BSA statistics reveal that since the organization was founded in 1910, more than 37 million boys and volunteer leaders have participated in the movement. This is about 7 million more persons than served under arms in all the wars in which the United States has been involved, starting with the American Revolution.

Joseph A. Brunton Jr., chief Scout executive, said the growth of Scout enrollment has been steady since the first membership count of less than 62,000 in 1911.

"The Boy Scout movement has become a national force because Scouting satisfies a basic need in the lives of boys and young men," Brunton said. "Scouting provides youth with an organization with which to identify itself. It provides outdoor life and adventure. It promotes the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others. It teaches them patriotism, courage and self-reliance, and encourages boys to be faithful in their religious obligations. And for the boys in the upper ranks of Scouting, it opens vistas to dramatic and rewarding careers."

"The early Scouts were satisfied to concentrate on cooking, camping and other outdoor activities," he explained. "The new generations of Scouts, while still greatly interested in outdoor projects, also is busy earning merit badges (awards for achievement) in such sophisticated subjects as atomic energy and oceanography. Scouting today offers merit badge programs in 107 subjects ranging all the way from hiking to electronics."

Lake Monroe. How did it get its name?

We've had a lot of calls and Thursday we talked with Guy Strickland, retired Navy commander who teaches history at South Seminole Junior High in Casselberry.

Strickland explained, off the cuff—so to speak, that he believed the lake—originally named Lake Valdez—was named in honor of President James Monroe who shortly after the United States acquired the territory of Florida, appointed Andrew Jackson its first governor.

If anyone has further information we'd appreciate it.

Judge Vernon Mize said this morning that the final presentation of the Mutual Concert Association for this season will be given at the Seminole High School Auditorium Monday at 8 p.m. Association officials said that Lord's International Puppet Show, an adult type presentation, is a "fantastic" demonstration of puppet control. There are times when as many as 20 of Daniel Lord's 200 puppets are on stage at the same time and controlled by Lord himself. His shows also feature sky-rockets, smoke, snow, rain and waterfalls.

Fellow employees of Jack Jones at Hunter Ice and Fuel Company have issued a plea for children's clothing. Jack's home on Southwest Road in Goldsboro was hit by fire Wednesday and all the family's clothing was destroyed. The children are four boys, eight, five, two and one, and two girls, six and four. Donations may be left at the company, 706 West 13th Street, where Jack is employed.

It is rewarding to see, after three or more years of talk and promises on the proposed widening and repaving of SR 427 (the old Dixie Highway), that at least north of Longwood the shoulders are being filled and leveled. This, we're told, helps driving conditions in part, especially in such weather as we've had this week.

The JayCee Wives Club and the Fine Arts Department of the Sanford Woman's Club will co-sponsor a silver tea for the benefit of the Sanford Public Library. The tea will be held in the library, Feb. 16, from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m., and the public is invited.

And that reminds us that we would still like to see the library open at least one night a week.

We visited the Feb-Tool Company's building on Seminola Boulevard which will be occupied by Dearborn Electronic Laboratories, Inc. Workmen have almost completed partitioning the space into offices and work rooms. Shelving and work tables have been installed. One thing is certain—Dearborn isn't wasting any time getting back into operation.

We're wondering if the Sanford Seminoles JayCees got permission from their wives to stake out that black goat on members' lawns until that particular member gets a new member?

And JayCee Glenn McCall says that quite a few members will attend the statewide JayCee confab at Panama City next Friday.

U.S. Ponders Action To Counteract Castro

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson called in his top military and diplomatic advisers today to assess Cuba's action in cutting off the water supply to the Guantanamo Bay naval base and to consider possible retaliatory measures.

Officials said that those attending the session at the White House held a two-hour strategy conference at the State Department Thursday night to consider the implications of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's action and what counter-measures it required, if any.

Fidel Plays Trump
HAVANA (UPI)—The U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay, cut off from its water supply by Premier Fidel Castro, today began rationing water to conserve its 15 million gallon reserves.

Castro played his long-threatened trump card against the base Thursday, hoping to force the release of 38 Cuban fishermen and four boats held at Key West, Fla., on charges of poaching in Florida waters. He directed that the owned water company be cut off Guantanamo's pipeline, except for a one-hour daily period for women and children on the base.

U. S. Prepared
FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI)—The Fort Lauderdale Utilities department was "alerted" Thursday night to be ready to supply the Guantanamo naval base with emergency water rations under a standing contract with the U.S. Navy.

Motel Fire
Fire caused from electrical shorting in the Mar-Lou Motel neon lighting system at about 7 p. m. Thursday was quickly brought under control and resulted in only slight damages, motel officials reported today. Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Department responded to the alarm.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Support C. Of C.

Since the first of January the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce has been engaged in its annual membership campaign. Last Tuesday morning the senior trade body kicked off a special effort to enroll both new members as well as those who had not yet renewed their memberships.

Two weeks ago the people of Seminole County were completely united in their effort to land the proposed East Central Florida University. When the Board of Control decided to place the school on the Seminole County line in Orange County, The Herald called for a continuation of the complete unity developed among our people.

Seminole County still has problems. It also has many projects in the fire. We must find the answers to the problems and devise ways and means of finalizing the projects. The Herald contends that the best way in which to accomplish these tasks is for our citizens to stand united behind the Chamber of Commerce.

Complete unity will be required. Participation in the Chamber's program by all of our citizens is a must. There are plenty of places for our citizens to serve within the Chamber's program and numerous ways in which the talents of our people can be utilized.

A few years ago two-thirds of Seminole's population was situated in or very near Sanford. Today the figure has been reversed. Now is the time for Sanford to realize that it needs Seminole County and for the county to realize that it needs Sanford. And there is no better way to maintain this unity than to participate in every organization to participate in the formulation of the Chamber's program as well as in its effort to successfully accomplish the organization's aims.

Here Lives A JAY-CEE Who Has NOT Signed Up A New Member YET!

THE 'GOATS' in the Junior Chamber of Commerce membership drive, which opened Thursday, will receive a real, live goat to park on their front lawn until they sign up a new member. Phil Skates (left) was the first to receive the animal from President Jim Smith (right) Thursday but Phil passed it on today to Glenn McCall, past president of the Jaycees. Thirteen new members had been signed by noon today in the rush to escape having to accept the real live goat. (Herald Photo)

Christian Youth Rally Set Here Saturday Night

A city-wide inter-denominational Christian youth rally, for all youth from the seventh grade through college age, will be held at 7 p.m. Saturday at Seminole High School.

Rev. John Mangrum, rector of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, Avon Park, will be the guest speaker, discussing, "Who Really Wins the Battle?"

Sponsored by the Sanford Ministerial Association, the youth rally also will feature a dramatic Christian musical movie about the teen-age idol, Tony Fontane, who, after nearly losing his life in an automobile wreck, became a Christian. He and his wife, Kerry, a former night club singer, now dedicate their lives and talent to full-time Christian service.

Fontane and his band appeared at Daytona Beach during the Easter holiday last year to play for the college youth vacationing there. He came under the sponsorship of the Board of Evangelism of the Methodist Church.

During the worship service at the rally, special music will include a quartet, a trio and other numbers by the students. Steve Sewell, president of the student body, will introduce the speaker. Other students will be ushers.

Adult youth counselors and pastors are urged to bring the youth of their churches.

C. Of C. City Committee Proposed

Seminole County Chamber of Commerce President Karl Housholder today proposed the creation of a Sanford Promotion Committee to carry out the objectives outlined by a group of Sanford business and professional men who are making an effort to organize a Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

Housholder, in a letter addressed to A. B. Peterson Jr. and Don Bales, proposed that the group join with the Sanford Merchants' Division of the Chamber in comprising the promotion committee. He said that "The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce is always willing to use the talents and worthwhile ideas of all the residents of our County."

"Since your recent efforts to organize and incorporate a Sanford Chamber of Commerce have not materialized," continued Housholder, "I would like to point out that the Chamber of Commerce now has a committee, known as the Sanford Merchants' Division, which elects its own officers, prescribes its own rules for membership, votes its own membership fees, establishes its own projects, governs itself and has the co-operation of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and the use of its facilities."

"The aims of the group," Housholder stressed, "are much the same as your proposed organization."

Housholder went on to say that "As president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, I would like to suggest to your group, through you, that you join with the Sanford Merchants' Division as a committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, to be known as the Sanford Promotion Committee, and to operate as the Merchants' Division has. Under this plan, you could immediately organize and go to work, without the necessary incorporation, to carry on the continuing projects of the Merchants' Division and any others upon which you may decide."

Found: P. O. With Profit

HONOLULU (UPI)—While most U.S. post offices operated in the red last year, the one in Honolulu earned a profit of more than $3 million.

Honolulu Postmaster George Hara said the profit, which was turned over to the U.S. Post Office Department, was made possible by heavy mechanization of the delivery system.

Man Burned By Blast

A 73-year-old Lake Harney man, suffering from severe burns received in an explosion, was reported in "good" condition this morning by Seminole Memorial Hospital attaches.

W. L. Sieg was reported as helping a neighbor, B. D. White, clean a cistern Wednesday evening. After the cleaning, they placed a heater to dry it out.

Later Sieg re-entered the narrow opening, discovered the flame of the heater had been extinguished. He lit a match and the explosion resulted.

Three Charged In Bolita Operations

The reputed "kingpin" of bolita operations in Central Florida and two other Seminole County residents were arrested Thursday evening by Seminole and Orange County sheriff's deputies.

The three were charged on old charges issued by Orange County Criminal Court with conspiracy and violation of lottery laws. Sheriff J. L. Hobby reported this morning.

Arrested at their homes were Harlan Alexander Blackburn, alias Thomas Davis, of Longwood; Dorothea Howell Radford, 800 Pine Street, Fern Park, and Cecil St. Clair Merritt, Altamonte Springs.

Blackburn, reputed bolita leader, and Mrs. Radford previously had been arrested on bolita charges in Orange County.

Sheriff Hobby said Blackburn and Mrs. Radford, under orders from Orange County, were released on their own recognizance Thursday evening. Merritt posted $5,000 bond and was released.

All are scheduled to be arraigned Feb. 23 in Orange County Criminal Court at Orlando.

SHS Outbrains Lyman In Bowl

By Jane Casselberry
Seminole High School outbrained Lyman High School with a score of 18-10 in a lively "Brain Bowl" match Thursday evening in the Lyman auditorium.

Both teams were "on the buzzer" with one and then the other sealing the initiative. Lyman was ahead at the end of the first period but lost to Seminole in the closing minutes of the last half.

The winning team included Ron Goers, Susie Halback, Doug Firestone and Jim Thomson. The losing team was comprised of Kenny Amen, Dorian Thermanos, Peter Carlson and Frank Renew Jr.

Roy Pharr, assistant principal at Lyman, who served as moderator of the difficult quiz, said later "even I found myself confused by the questions at times."

Judges were Mrs. Paul French and Mrs. David McCoy.

Field Day

Plans are shaping for the annual field day for growers at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the Central Florida Experiment Station farm on Celery Avenue, according to Cecil Tucker, county agricultural agent.
