The Southside Primary School building addition will be completed within the next 10 days and will be ready for occupancy when school opens Sept. 27, according to Elton J. Moughton, architect. The addition to the old building consists of 10 class rooms and an auditorium with a seating capacity of 500.

Equipment for the building has not arrived, but is expected in the next few days and will be installed before the opening of school. The new high school building is 50 per cent complete, and will be ready for use by January 1, said Mr. Moughton. Work is being rushed on the building, which will be one of the model high schools of the state when it is completed.

The architecture is taken from that in vogue during the Spanish Renaissance period and the building is copied from pictures of similar structures in Salamanca, Spain, it is said. The present structure will be only the first unit of the Sanford High School and is built so that it can be added to in future years. It is planned to increase the size of the building about three times its present dimensions before it will be complete.

An auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,000 is one of the features of the new building. The stage of the auditorium is large enough to be used as a gymnasium and a basketball court. Under the stage there are lockers and show-ers, and is planned a modern school cafeteria in this section for the convenience of the students. The cost of the unit under construction will be about $250,000. There are 22 classrooms, four study halls, a principal's office, a library, and a nurse's room.

The manual training department and the agricultural school will be in a different building. Plans are complete for the new vocational building of the Sanford High School and it is hoped that the money will be raised for the building in a short while so that work can be started. The building will be a two-story structure and will be in harmony with the architecture of the high school building.

One half of the building will be devoted to horticulture and the other to manual training. There will be several experimental rooms and a first class manual training shop. The cost of the building will be about $12,000. According to County Superintendent T. W. Lawton it will serve a great need in this country as agriculture is the principal means of livelihood here and the establishment of a school here will improve the farming methods of this section.

A. Bissett, general foreman of the Atlantic Coast Line shops here for a number of years, died at 10:30 o'clock this morning at his home in Sanford. The body was taken to Sanford and funeral services were held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Miller & Erickson home.

Mutinious Situation in Greece Is Now Under Control Of Officials
ATHENS, Sept. 10.—(AP)—At 8 o'clock tonight (Thursday) Premier Kondylis and his government had mastered the mutinious situation. The mutineers had surrendered and the republican guard was definitely dissolved. The men are being sent to different islands in the Aegean sea, but the officers will be promptly court-martialed. Probably the main reason for the trouble was that officers of the guard had been plotting for the escape of former Premier Pangalos and thus preventing his trial for treason, which they feared might reveal evidence incriminating them.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(AP)—An unusually severe earthquake was recorded by the seismograph at Fordham University today. The quake began at 6:48 and reached its greatest force at 6:58 o'clock and continued until 7:15 o'clock.

Where Twenty-Seven Met Death in Wreck of Limited

Twenty-seven deaths and injury to 50 was the toll of this wreck of the Denver & Rio Grande Railway's "Scenic Limited" near Saluda, Cal. The locomotive, a baggage car, two coaches, and a pullman plunged from the rails to the bottom of the Royal Gorge as the engineer attempted to round a curve at 40 miles an hour. This NEA Service picture, rushed to The Sanford Herald by airplane and fast mail, shows in an extraordinarily graphic manner how the cars piled up in the Arkansas river alongside the right-of-way.

MORE EVIDENCE GIVEN TODAY IN HALL-MILLS CASE

Ralph Gorsline and Miss Rastall Admit Being Within 300 Yards of Slaying
SOMERVILLE, N. J., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Ralph V. Gorsline and Miss Katherine Rastall, both of New Brunswick, have admitted that they were within 300 yards of the spot at which Rev. Edward Wheelock Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills were killed four years ago. Detectives who grilled Gorsline for 21 and half hours and Miss Rastall for nearly as long today announced they had confessed hearing the shots, voices and a woman's scream.

Through their confession the state is expected to obtain important corroboration of the testimony of Mrs. Jane Gibson, a woman pig raiser, as to what she saw on the night of the murder. The two have told three different stories, detectives said, and are to be questioned further in an effort to reconcile their varying accounts of what happened on the murder, and to make sure that their later account of their activities will stand up.

Gorsline and Miss Rastall at first stuck to their story of four years ago, that he had accompanied Miss Rastall to her home after a motion picture show. From Miss Rastall was secured the admission that they had been at the entrance of Debusse's Lane which borders the Phillips farm where the murders took place.

Coolidge Planning To Spend Rest Of Vacation Quietly
PAUL SMITH'S, N. Y., Sept. 10.—(AP)—President Coolidge apparently plans to spend the last days of his vacation as much rest and recreation as possible in the intervals between his visits to the executive office. No more home guests are expected at White Pine camp and the chief executive will have opportunity to pass the week regaining before his departure for Washington in the seclusion which he maintained for a fortnight or more after his arrival in the Adirondacks on July 7.

Except for the usual Friday afternoon press conference, Mr. Coolidge had no engagements today. James R. Sheffield, ambassador to Mexico, who with Mrs. Sheffield and their son, were guests at the summer White House, have gone to their camp near Saranac Inn, where the ambassador will spend part of his vacation. President Coolidge ordered the executive offices here and in Washington closed from 2 to 4 o'clock this afternoon as a mark of respect to Major Arthur Brooks, a negro, who for years was steward at the White House and valet to four presidents and whose funeral was set for that time in Washington.

Transmission Line Almost Completed
A transmission line between the plants of the Florida Power and Light company here and in Daytona will be opened about Sept. 15, said Clyde A. Byrd, manager of the plant here today. "We have been busy on the line of the new plant on Oct. 1." The opening of the new line will mean a tie between this city and Daytona and it will practically be completed by either of the cities to be used for lighting facilities and other plant will be able to furnish power for both cities.

Upshaw Charges 'Big Rum' Interests Spent $100,000 To Defeat Him In Primary

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Charging that "big liquor interests in Baltimore, New York and New Jersey had sent more than $100,000 into the district" to defeat him, W. D. Upshaw, defeated in the Democratic primary Wednesday for renomination by L. J. Steele, said he probably would ask a re-check of the votes in Campbell county before conceding defeat.

Campbell county's two unit vote went to make up the 10 county units in Steele's column and thus gave him a majority and the nomination. "While I am not in a position at this time to name the contributors to the campaign sent here to defeat me," Mr. Upshaw said, "private investigations have revealed that there is indubitable evidence of more than $100,000 of liberal wet money having been sent into the district to defeat me." Of 114 unit votes of the state.

M'MILLAN HAS BIG SUCCESS ON HIS EXPEDITION
Commander Radlova Museum At Chicago That Expedition Trip Was Worthwhile
TENNANTS COVER, Maine, Sept. 10.—(AP)—By word of mouth and the language of dots and dashes, the radio today informed the field museum directors in Chicago of the complete success of Lieutenant Commander Donald B. McMillan's expedition trip into the Arctic circle on their behalf.

Paul Magee, chief operator on the Trigg, communicated with Chicago in the early hours from Commander McMillan's little auxiliary schooner Bowdoin, flagship of the expedition which arrived here yesterday with the Sackum from Sydney, N. S.

Working through stations 9 CEF and 9 CXG, Magee permitted the scientists of the trip to make the first direct verbal report of their finding to the Museum. Later he opened a general broadcast to the Chicago press inviting the papers to an air interview with the commander and his fellow voyagers. Questions flashed through the ether in code were presented to the explorers for answer.

Since sailing north last June the two stanch little schooners covered 4,000 miles, their path lying along the Labrador and Greenland shores and uncharted coast 800 miles north of the Arctic circle. Evidence that ancient Vikings settled off Labrador long before Columbus sailed to the new world was found among ancient ruins on Sculpin Island. The expedition brought back a rich collection of birds, fish, minerals and botanical specimens. Returning with the 28 members of the expedition in an Abram Brownfield Eskimo interpreter, who got his first glimpse of a horse, motor car and train when the party arrived at Sydney, N. S.

SANFORD SURVEY FOR INDUSTRIES ENDORSED TODAY

Board Of Governors Approves Program Of The New Industry Committee For A Complete Survey
Col. George W. Knight, speaking before the Sanford Chamber of Commerce today outlined the plan of the new industry committee of the trade body for an industrial survey of Sanford with the object of inducing new factories and jobbing houses to come to this city. The program as outlined by Colonel Knight received the endorsement of the Board of Governors and the Finance Committee at a joint meeting preceding the gathering of the membership.

"There has been a vital need for a survey of this kind for some time," said Colonel Knight, "but the new industry committee has been slow to act because of the lack of a system of keeping the data in an effective manner. The plan that was finally adopted is a modern loose leaf system that will keep the latest information on all manufacturing and jobbing houses in Sanford within easy reach of any prospective investor who desires to know the actual conditions here."

"The system that will be used by the committee is the work of S. G. Gray, resident manager of Hall, Pontland, Cowles & McCall, accounting firm, and will not cost over $2,000. Since the appointment of the committee last year we have investigated many methods of making a survey of this kind but the one offered by Mr. Gray is the most practical one we have seen."

"The establishment of new industries here will naturally increase the credit rating of this city, and the only way to induce prospective investors to come to this city is to have a means of furnishing them with the information they require before they invest."

"The finance committee will act on the matter of the survey before the end of the week, E. A. Douglass, president of the trade body said. A motion to employ a new secretary was adopted.

First Shipment of Big Bulb Order Is Received Thursday
The first consignment of an order for 1,000,000 paper white narcissus bulbs arrived in Sanford Thursday from California. The bulbs were contracted for by Serfandole and Orange county growers of the Florida Bulb Growers Association, it was announced. The shipment included 800,000 bulbs. Sanford is destined to be the center of the new bulb growing industry of Florida, according to C. M. Berry, secretary-treasurer of the Florida Bulb Growers Association. Growers are planning to make the bulb industry in the state second to none, Mr. Berry said. The location of the bulb sterilizing plant in the Farmers Exchange plant will be an agency for making Sanford the center of the new industry, it was said. The sterilizing plant is virtually ready for operation, it is said, and a government inspector is here to check on the work.

TWO WOMEN ARE GIVEN ONE YEAR EACH IN SLAYING
Pair Jointly Charged With 2 Men In Murder Of Cop Are Sentenced After Companions Are Found Guilty
CLEARWATER, Fla., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Phyllis Thomas and Bernice Spaulding were sentenced to one year each in prison by Judge Freeman P. Lane in circuit court today following their plea of manslaughter in connection with the death of Patrolman E. E. Hlewfield, who was shot and killed August 10, last while attempting to prevent the robbery of a grocery store at Tarpon Springs.

The young women were jointly indicted with Louis Thomas, alias Curtis and Arthur Reid, alias Duvoisier, who were convicted of first degree murder by a jury last night. The four were arrested on the afternoon of the murder near Dade City. Hlewfield was killed while attempting to prevent the robbery of a grocery store at Tarpon Springs. Prospective jurors had been called and sworn today when Arthur W. Jordan, attorney for Bernice Spaulding told Judge Freeman P. Lane that he was prepared to enter a plea of voluntary manslaughter in behalf of his client. Shortly afterward attorney Arthur W. Thompson, representing Phyllis Thomas, made a similar address to the court.

Judge Freeman granted a recess during which attorneys for the state and defense held a conference into which the judge was invited. When they returned to the court room, attorney Jordan made a plea for leniency of the court, saying the two women had been coerced into their present circumstances by their male companions. He gave a life history of Bernice Spaulding, 13, who, he said, had been born and reared near Houston Texas, and following a breakdown in her husband's health, had removed to Florida.

White living near Palmetto, the attorney said, the young woman had grown tired of hardships endured while making a living for herself and her husband and in a moment of weakness had fled with Thomas, Reid and Phyllis Thomas, who promised to take her back to Houston. They started for Houston, said Jordan, but the men in the party were planning robberies without the knowledge of the woman and doubled back to Tarpon Springs. There, he said, they sent the young women for a walk, while they robbed the grocery store.

The attorney contended that all state's evidence against the women was circumstantial and urged the court to consider this in passing sentence. State's attorney Pasco Wilson, in accepting the plea of manslaughter, told the court the state was satisfied that the real offenders in the case had been caught and would be punished in the electric chair.

Draw Shades When Hiding Valuable Chief Of Police Warns Local People
Criminals make a practice of pacing the sidewalk in front of apartments and houses at the hour of night when many people are retiring, according to frank statements made by robbers to Sanford police. The burglar will patiently walk and walk, and when he finds a probable victim in a bed room, where the shades are still up, he will stop and watch every move made. Many persons are indifferent, it is said, and fail to pull the shades down, even when undressing.

With an electric light burning, any burglar with a pair of good eyes can easily spot the hiding place for money and jewelry. He will watch the man employ a watch or a roll of bank notes from his pockets, or the woman take off her necklace or bracelet and hide it in a drawer. All of this taken in the hurried glance and comes back to the mind of the police when he believes the shades are being pulled.

The chief of police, who has been investigating the case, said that he had been told by a reliable source that a man had been seen in the neighborhood of the crime. He said that he had been told that the man had been seen in the neighborhood of the crime. He said that he had been told that the man had been seen in the neighborhood of the crime.

Commuters' Trains Time For Performances In Most Of The Theaters

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(AP)—though it runs a year, constant "touching up" is done to keep it fresh.

Length of theater performances in New York houses is founded on custom and stage, but a product of modern times, the commuter train schedules.

These suburbs include the wealthy and well-to-do men of New York.

Regular train schedules are made at midnight.

Opening night of a musical usually sees the final curtain down about midnight.

It is too late but it seems impossible to organize most musicals otherwise, as the players and house are not accustomed to the show to allow for the spots which need "touching up."

Nothing Lost

One week after the show has closed every member will remain in the show may be as much as five minutes shorter.

It is an invariable rule that no "numbers" those displaying "shores" can be taken out as they form the real appeal of a show.

Between each of these numbers is a comedy skit, and none of these may be removed, also there would be insufficient time for the girls to change.

Thus the cutting is a matter of seconds here and there.

If a dance has eight beats of introductory music, these may go, thereby saving that many seconds. If a joke is too "long" a few lines are removed.

Many Rehearsals

It is literally a case of "running the tooth comb through the show, and from this process develops the finished product, which is the reason why many theater shows go to the same musical twice: the first time they are as planned; the second as it has been refined.

However, this cutting, which is so simple, is no easy matter. The original scripts from which the show was built have been worked over they are useless there is no definite written record of a show which can be pruned with a pencil, for often numbers are changed at the last minute before opening.

The making over process involves long rehearsals after the performance at night, others in the day time, sometimes continuing for weeks. In fact, a musical production is never finished, for even

Chrysler Model Numbers Mean The Miles Per Hour

With the belief that motor car designations should convey a real meaning to the motoring public, the Chrysler Corporation has standardized and simplified the naming of its models, just as it has standardized the quality of its four great markets. The Charles L. Fuller Motor Co. is the Sanford sales and service agency for the Chrysler Corporation.

The Chrysler organization believes the public is most greatly interested in these points regarding an automobile: Appearance, quality, comfort, value, performance and dependability. It believes that the best method of indicating the capacity of its motor cars is the simplest, and it has, therefore, designated its models the "50," "60," and Imperial "80."

A statement issued by the corporation through the local agency says: "These numbers mean the speed capacity of each car in miles per hour and are an index to the abilities of each. Miles per hour has a significance far beyond mere speed alone.

"Comparatively few people, for instance, may care to ride as fast as 70 miles an hour; but the power in the "70" which is indicated by 70 miles plus represents acceleration and smooth performance, as well as in sheer speed.

"It means the highest possible quality in design and materials and the finest of precision manufacture. It means a soundness and a stability that assure unequalled Chrysler performance for the entire long life of the car."

AMATEURS TUNING UP

SHORT HILLS, N. J., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Amateur golf stars are tuning up on Baltusrol links for next week's tournament, in which Bobby Jones, Atlanta, will attempt to set another record and win the national amateur title for the third successive year. There are more than 150 entries, including stars from all corners of the United States.

U. S. Ships Said To Have Been In Fight

SHANGHAI, Sept. 9.—(AP)—A report in shipping circles says that American warcraft were involved in the Yangtze engagement Monday and suffered some casualties, however, neither the American consul nor the North American naval office have any verification of the report.

The Yangtze engagement referred to was a brief battle between Chinese land troops and British gunboats at Wanshsien, on the Yangtze river, in which several British naval officers and seamen were killed or injured. There was nothing in the detailed reports of the affair received here to indicate that American vessels were involved in any way.

Farmer Refuses To Pay $2 Fine, Kills Two Officers, And Later Loses Own Life

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 9.—(AP)—Granville Holben, farmer, killed a sheriff and his deputy last night rather than pay a fine of $2. Then Holben was shot to death while fleeing his burning home where he barricaded himself to prevent capture.

Sheriff Mark Sensebach and Deputy Sheriff Harry Sigfrid, went to Holben's home to serve a warrant calling for the farmer's appearance in court to be sentenced for failure to send his children to school.

Mrs. Holben informed the officers that her husband would not give himself up. Meanwhile Holben came across a field with a shot gun over his shoulder. He ordered the officers off the premises, and opened fire when they refused to comply.

The shot went wild and Holben fled into his house and barricaded himself. The sheriff induced Holben's daughter to ask her father to surrender. Her father finally gave her the gun. When Sensebach and Sigfrid started to enter the house, the farmer wrested the weapon from his daughter and let both barrels go.

Sigfrid was instantly killed and Sensebach died on the way to the hospital. Several policemen and state motor patrolmen hurried to the farm, 10 miles away, in response to telephone calls. Efforts to dislodge Holben were fruitless and two officers were slightly wounded during the siege, which continued several hours.

The officers then set a hen house near the dwelling on fire. Finally the flames spread to the farm house and Holben called to his daughter: "Here, Ted; come here, Ted." A few minutes later he dashed from a rear door. A few shots brought him to earth, mortally wounded.

Holben, his neighbors said, styled himself the "Son of God" and had the hallucination that the world was soon to end. He made no effort to till his acres last spring because of this belief.

The offense for which he was convicted last January and which he appealed "for a principle," carried a maximum of $2 fine and costs or five days in jail.

DEAD IN WHICH MID-WEST

Property And Crop Loss May Exceed $100,000,000. Latest Statistics Show Disturbance Is Third In Ten Days

Clear Skies Promise Some Relief Today

Automobile Tourists Held Up By Submerged Highways; Bridges Weakened by Flood

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—(AP)—The central west today counted seven deaths and guessed at millions in property and crop loss in the flood-wake of the third visitation within 10 days by storms of equine fury. Industry and agriculture were at a standstill in many localities, paralyzed by floods which swept fields and factories alike.

In central Illinois and Indiana the torrential rain and lightning were more damaging in their effect than last week's storms, from which a broad area from Ohio to Nebraska was only beginning to recover from the "Zuni" onslaught.

Clearing skies and forecasts of warm weather promised relief today and strengthened hope that the peak of the downpours had been reached Wednesday night, although the weather bureau hinted a return of unsettled conditions tomorrow. The fear today was of swollen streams, freshened by torrential rain, inundating territory miles from the principal outlet.

At Terre Haute Ind., conditions were the most serious since the disastrous flood of 1913, the 7.38 inches of rain at Mattoon, Ill., was the heaviest fall since 1907 and Jacksonville, Ill., recorded eight inches of rain for the first flood in its history.

Throughout central Illinois hundreds of automobile tourists were stranded, cut off by submerged highways or weakened bridges. Railroad service was impaired by washed out tracks and bridges and in some sections was not attempted.

Near Terre Haute 25 coal mines were temporarily abandoned and a number of industrial plants in the city were idle. Some houses were partly under water. One block of the storm was the washing away of ground at the foot of a highway at Lake Branch, near Danaburg, Ill., disclosing a five foot vein of coal clay.

Bachelor Is Facing Death Penalty For Killing Judge Smith

WETUMPKA, Ala., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Clyde Reese Bachelor was today found guilty of murder in the first degree in connection with the death of Judge Lamar C. Smith, Bachelor's father-in-law.

The verdict of the jury carried the death penalty. Notice of an appeal was expected to be filed in a motion for a new trial is refused.

The reading of the verdict marked the climax to one of Alabama's most sensational criminal trials. The legal drama brought into court two of Elmore county's oldest and wealthiest families. Until the assassination of Judge Smith there had never been a hint of discord. Bachelor married Elisabeth Smith seven years ago. They have one son, 3 years old.

According to Bachelor's confession he plotted the death of his father-in-law with Hays Leonard, a negro tenant on his plantation. Judge Smith was slain while he was lying in bed reading on the evening of August 30. By his side lay Mrs. Smith who suffered slight facial wounds from scattered buckshot.

The New York Hat Shop will be formally opened tomorrow in the Illinois Theater building. New York creations in millinery will be featured.

Miss America To Be Chosen Tonight From Group Of 15 National Beauties

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Fifteen beauties remained today of 78 competitors for the 1926 title of "Miss America" and these faced reduction to five in the afternoon and to the winner tonight. The winner must have brains as well as beauty, the judges have decided.

There were three favorites this morning, the winners in an evening gown contest last night, Miss Tanager Oklahoma (Norma Smallwood) took first place, Miss Greater New York (Ruth K. Patterson) second, and Miss Washington Majorie Jeasting) third. They were given cups by Miss America of 1925 (Fay Lamphier) and board-walk gossip promptly displaced a former favorite, Miss Denver, to hail them as chief contenders for the title. Miss Tulsa wore a delectable gown of velvet and the other two white satin trimmed with rhinestones.

SANFORD SURVEY FOR INDUSTRIES IS ENDORSED

(Continued from Page 1) retary as soon as a suitable man can be procured was passed. According to President Douglas there has been about 25 applications for the position and the choice now lies between three men. A decision on the man to be employed as secretary of the local chamber will be made at a meeting of the Board of Governors within the next week.

Manager Clyde Hyrd of the Florida Power and Light Company, explained that the white way would be darkened for the next three weeks while the company is laying the new lighting system of the city to be turned on about Oct. 1.

James L. Wells, commercial agent for the Atlantic Coast Line railroad was asked to investigate the reason why no cities in the central part of the state were included in the published advertisements of railway excursions into this state.

The membership committee reported that they had mailed about 450 letters to citizens of this city asking that they renew their $25 pledge to the Chamber for the coming year. Secretary Holly said that several replies had been received at the offices of the chamber from recipients of these letters and that the outlook for raising money to finance the organization for the coming winter was fairly good.

The merchants of Sanford plan to put on another "Dollar Day" within a short time, according to the Retail Merchant Association officials. The sale will be held the latter part of this month if plans of the committee materialize.

H. S. Wheeler, of Orlando, who is in Sanford on business with the sale of city bonds, said that this city was regarded throughout the north and other parts of the state as one of the most substantial cities in Florida.

Following the disposal of the regular business of the chamber President Douglas called on a number of prominent Sanford men for talks on "Present Conditions in this City, and Prospects for the Future."

Mayor Forrest Luke stressed the increase of the bank deposits in this city in the past year, pointing out that they were over two million dollars greater than last summer when the town was supposed to be in the middle of the boom. The municipal wharves to be erected by the city in the near future is having a beneficial effect for Sanford, he said.

"Prospects for Sanford are better than ever," said A. P. Connelly in a short talk. I have always been working for the betterment of the conditions along the waterfront, and hope to see the day when we will have a much deeper channel to the sea than we now have. I am heartily in favor of the building of the St. Johns Indian River canal, and I cannot understand why anyone should seriously object to the project going forward."

"As long as we have money and industries we can get anything else we want," said J. G. Hill. Business conditions in this city are good. I think the industrial survey is an excellent idea and I, too, am in favor of building the canal as soon as possible."

Constant Miller, furniture dealer, and M. B. Hutton both talked on the prospects of this city getting new industries here as a means of bettering the business conditions and credit here. Hutton cited the example of Savannah in losing several chances at big industrial developments because, he said, real estate men of the city ran the price of the sites offered the investors to an unreasonable figure. Judge James G. Sharon compared the chamber of commerce to a de-

He appealed to Spain not to leave the league. Foreign Minister Briand, of France, mounting the tribune to welcome Germany was applauded for several minutes. M. Briand said a real tangible step had been taken toward a new international understanding.

Peace is the significance of this day, he added, particularly for Germany and France, this day is finished between us no more war, no more seeking brutal blood solutions, away with machine gun, cannon and rifles, the time has come for understanding and peaceful arbitration."

Merton Testifies In Daugherty Trial On Charge of Defrauding

NE WYORK, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Richard Merton, German metal magnate, testified today that it was he who suggested paying the late John T. King "something" for his aid in obtaining the return to allegedly German owners of $7,000,000 realized from the sale of American Metals Company stock during the war.

Merton is the government's star witness in the trial of Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general and Thomas W. Miller, former Allen property custodian, for conspiracy to defraud the United States in the transfer of the $7,000,000. John T. King, who died soon after the first indictment in the case was returned, is alleged to have "pulled the strings" in the deal.

Dennis Ford of Lakeland spent the day here Wednesday attending to business.

GREEN, WILCOX QUALIFIED FOR SPECIAL DUTIES

(Continued from Page 1) men had the status of de factor officers in the county. "I have authorized the policemen of the Sanford department through Chief Williams to act as a deputy in an emergency," Sheriff Hand said today in discussing the legal question that came up in the Bridgman trial. "I have investigated and found them qualified. I could make exceptions. If a policeman was hot-headed and otherwise not qualified, I would make an exception. I have this authority."

"We co-operate here. The sheriff and police departments here work together. I made this arrangement in the interests of the public."

The regular deputy sheriffs file surety bonds when accepting a commission, and in case a deputy is held in a civil action, his bondsmen are responsible, it is declared. Members of the Sanford Police Department, while authorized to act as deputies in emergencies, have not filed the usual bond with the clerk of the Circuit Court, the sheriff said.

"They will be individually responsible," the sheriff declared in response to a query as to who would be liable in the event of an injury or death to a person while being placed under arrest on a misdemeanor charge.

WALTER MAIN SHOW

Horsewomen Here

Those who witness the performances of the Walter L. Main Circus, which will be exhibited in Sanford on Sept. 17, will see the world's greatest and most daring horsewomen perform. The collection of women riders with the Walter L. Main Circus is said to be unsurpassed by any other circus in the entire world. It includes winners of the noted steeple chase classics of England, Frontier Days celebrations at Cheyenne, Wyo., and the Calgary Stampede, in Canada.

The outstanding horsewoman in the United States today is accredited by all to be Miss Dixie Baldwin, a girl from the "Golden West" who lives up to all of the traditional heritages of that section of the country. She is one of the leaders of the horsewomen with the Walter L. Main Circus, this year and is being paid a salary by Mr. Main that is unprecedented in the American circus history.

Following her sensational success at the Frontier Days celebration in Wyoming and at various other noted rodeos, Mr. Main approached Miss Baldwin with a view of signing her for a tour with the Walter L. Main Circus. At that time Miss Baldwin would not consent to talk of a circus tour.

"Wait," she said, "until I have proved myself to be what the news papers and authorities say I am now, 'America's leading horsewoman.' When I have tried my skill at the Calgary stampede in competition with the most skillful women riders of the world and if I am successful I will talk to you about a contract."

Mr. Main waited. A few months later while reading the morning paper aboard his private car he read headlines on the front page which told that Miss Dixie Baldwin

...a perfectly good left over as impossible as a one-legged man at a Charleston frolic.

I imagine that the new hat will be about as becoming to some women as a derby hat is to the average man, but the women will wear them. What matters it if a woman gets herself up so that she looks like she's made up for a masquerade party, so long as what she has on is in style?

But let me give you one concluding thought. The skirts will still be short. And with the skirts as short as they have been, who's going to see the kind of hats the women wear? Hats will be above the line of visibility.

I know of some girls who could walk down town with a wash pan pinned on their bobbed heads and not one man in fifty would see the pan because statistics show that only one man in fifty would have to squeeze and throw his head up so he could see the top.

But I don't care what kind of hats the women wear. What I am interested in is that the Essex Coach continues to perform as faultlessly and to be priced as reasonably as they are today.

Automobile accidents at various street intersections are becoming more numerous in Sanford. Almost every day a car is smashed up somewhere in the city and several times in recent months they have been rather bad accidents. Some day a collision will result in the serious injury or death of some person that will cast a gloom over the whole city.

We are no longer in the small town days when hit or miss systems, if any, can get by. Sanford has outgrown its dress of big cities. Thousands of new people have come here in the past two or three years, bringing with them their automobiles. Many miles of newly paved streets are inviting these newcomers, and oldtimers as well, to speed and often recklessness.

The Herald has no objection to speed. The Herald believes that while speed is frequently wasted energy, oftentimes it is of great assistance in building a city. At least very few large cities have "fifteen miles an hour" speed limits.

But the Herald does believe that such speed should be controlled. The Herald believes that a traffic system could be worked out, if conscientious and intelligent men put their heads to it, which would completely eliminate intersection accidents. And the time has come, before some serious accident makes it too late, when such a system should be worked out.

For instance, Sanford Avenue and Park Avenue could be made through streets with the right of way at all intersections except at First and Thirteenth Streets. A resident in the Heights going home to lunch, could speed as fast as he liked on Park Avenue, only coming to a dead stop at Thirteenth Street where that traffic must be allowed to pass before crossing. He would be in no danger at any other intersections because all traffic on any other streets would have to stop before crossing Park Avenue.

On the other hand anyone traveling east or west across the city could easily get on First Street or Thirteenth Street could drive as fast as he wanted to without being in any danger at intersections.

We do not offer this as a complete plan or system, but think it worth while. At least we are quite sure of this, that anything is radically wrong with a traffic system which results in as many accidents as does Sanford's.

The Mosquito Mightiest Of Rome's Enemies

Young people studying Roman history in high schools and colleges are entitled to a few chapters on the real reasons for the fall of the Roman Empire.

They have been told for these many years that general wickedness and idleness destroyed the strength and courage of Roman citizens, making them weaklings who went to pieces mentally and physically.

And so far as it goes that explanation of mighty Rome's downfall makes excellent material for the history books, reasons for the disintegration of the Roman Empire ought to be given their due.

Malaria overthrew Rome. The mosquito caused the downfall of the Roman Empire. True, Rome became too wealthy, its people divided into the rich and the poor, the too wealthy, the intemperate, self-destructive lives of the Sybarite, the parasite living the enfeebling, manhood-destroying life of the parasite.

But Rome "went to the dogs" after its people became so infected with malaria that they were utterly without the stamina to resist any evil power that came their way. They became the prey of disease. Then they became the prey of dissolution. They were a weary, weary-eyed race, too utterly shivering and jaundiced. Out of the marshes of the Latin quitoes bringing malaria germs to destroy a mighty government.

Young people in American schools should have that information. They should be told that if some great engineer had made Rome clean, and taught its people the ordinary laws of health, all history would have been changed. The world would never have swung farther into Italy. They would have been crowded farther and farther into the north, and have been made subject to the brilliant leadership of the Latins.

When you come to think about it, if Roman men had kept their strength and courage, our blessed America would be a Roman province today. Fancy being in debt to the pesky mosquito for the supremacy of the Anglo Saxon race!
