

HOME FOLKS ARE BEST

Revelation That Came to Girl About to Elope.

By JOANNA SINGLE.

The cool stillness of the September evening came into the little upper room where Drusilla sat huddled on the floor with both arms on the window sill while she waited for the dusk to become darkness. She hardly breathed, though she knew that her door was locked, that she was supposed to have gone to bed with a slight headache, and that her parents would not disturb her. It was a task for her heart to keep on feeling hot and angry enough so that she could leave them without a word and slip off to marry a man—any man—but least of all one like Henry Main, whom they had done their best to keep away from her. They told her she was too young to know. Worse than that, they wanted her to marry Max just because she had been engaged to him before Max came into the neighborhood for his summer's vacation.

At thought of Max she rose, smoothed down her blue serge skirt and put on her hat. Max had gone too far when he ordered her absolutely not to speak to the other man. She did not like jealousy. He would see now that he had made a mistake. If he had just asked her not to—but no, even then she could not have helped loving the older, more sophisticated man, with his tender, masterful ways. She did not like to go to him in this way.

Finally she heard the little clock on the shelf downstairs strike 10, and though she was shivering with fear and the misery of leaving her own little room, she slipped into the hall, her shoes in her hand. She waited, heard her father's deep breathing from the open door, and then slipped down the back stairs to the kitchen and out into the yard.

There was no moon, and Drusilla, child as she still was, shrank from going alone in the dark through the field to the bit of wood where he would be waiting for her. Max was always prowling about, since his farm was neighboring, and might come upon them. Now the staid girl stole about the barn where old Beauty, the mare, thrust out her head and whinnied softly for attention. Drusie stopped a moment to lay her face against the kindly old creature, and then passed through the orchard, trembling at every step, wondering whether in the morning her mother would cry, or whether she would just look gray and old as she had done when she saw that her daughter was dismissing Max.

As she came to the bit of pasture between orchard and wood, she suddenly remembered Henry, and the magnetic half-hypnotism of him numbed her senses and made her forget all but him. He would take care of her; he loved her; they would go to the city and real life would begin for her.

Then she recalled her big, bluff, blue-eyed lover and his angry contempt for the other man, his injustice, his almost violence. As if she couldn't tell a good man from a bad one. What right had he to forbid her to see any one she liked?

By this, now fearless, she was entering the wood path where a little farther on was the big tree where Henry was waiting, and where under some bushes waited a suitcase with a few things she had taken out there, one by one, during the last few days. She almost laughed to herself to think she had reached the place without somehow meeting Max—he had been almost omnipresent the last few weeks, although she would not speak to him. Henry had gone back to the city, and even now no one was supposed to know that he was driving over for her from a neighboring town, from which they would later take a night train. She was glad she had not met Max.

Once safe in the trees she gave a little low call like a quail and waited for an answer; but receiving none, called again, and then listened. What she heard was a crashing of bushes and some distant, angry voices, the angry voices of men. Instantly she hid herself. Probably Henry was waiting for these people to pass before he showed himself.

Flat on the ground under the brush the girl lay, her heart going like mad with fear and suspense. The voices were louder, and the men came nearer—she had put her hands over her ears, but took them away now and deliberately listened. The first tone she recognized was Max's voice, and despite herself a great relief and sense of safety crept over her. At least nothing dreadful could happen with Max about.

"I'll be policeman, spy or anything else when it comes to her safety and happiness, you dog! She doesn't have to marry me; I don't want her to unless she wants me more than she seems to, but at least I have put you out of commission! You're not even a first-class scoundrel—just a cheap sneak! Do you suppose it took me long to get your record looked up? What about your being fired by Mattox & Co? What did it cost your people to buy them off from prosecuting you?"

Something inside Drusie stopped. She loved honesty. The men had come so close that she might almost have touched them, and she saw that Max held the other man by his collar, and that suddenly he broke away and aimed a blow at his captor.

In a moment the two were fighting desperately, crashing into the bushes, Henry Main cursing. She was afraid they would tread upon her, and slipped up and hid behind a tree trunk. She wanted to call for help, she wanted to stop them, but she dared not move. They might hurt each other—he might—hurt Max. Then she knew where her heart was. Why didn't Max speak?

The thrashing about stopped, and peering about, she saw dimly that one man lay on the earth and that the other knelt upon him. To her infinite relief it was Max who spoke.

"Now, you get out of here, and if you want a decent home life go and try to win back the wife you chased until she divorced you, and be a father to the boy you're not fit to have! But you let my girl alone! She is mine, and when you're out of the way she'll come to her senses. Now, you can tell me where she is pretty confounded quick! I know you came here to meet her, and it would be like you to let her be frightened somewhere in the dark waiting for you!"

"Let me up and I'll get out of here!" Max let him rise, and in an instant he was running, crashing off through the brush. Drusie found her voice—the dark was now a terror to her.

"Max! Max!" Her call was clear and loud, and Max answered her. He came toward her, and she went trembling to meet him.

"Are you—all right, Drusie?" Suddenly she went to him, putting both her hands on his arm.

"Take me home," she said, breaking down and crying and sobbing. "Take me home!" He put a firm arm about her and led her from the wood and across the pasture, but he said nothing about loving her. The unreal, the dream of the man who had gone left her mind, and she saw how close she had been—not to a great danger to herself, but to the calamity of losing Max—if indeed she had not already lost him.

"Drusie," he said at length, "I don't want a wife who doesn't want me. When you have made up your mind you can send for me and I will take your decision. But what I do want to know is whether you have seen enough tonight to make you sure you don't want—that fellow. Do you?"

She shivered. "You know I—hate him," she breathed. "You know—I must have been crazy! You know I have never really wanted anybody but you! You know I want you to forgive me!"

As they came to the barn old Beauty put out her head again, and Max laughed and turning to Drusie took her in his arms.

"Home is best, isn't it? Even if home folks are common and plain. But they love you, girl!" As they came toward the house the girl's father put his gray head from the window of his room.

"Who's there?" he demanded beltingly.

"Max," he said quietly. "I coaxed Drusie out a couple of hours ago. It took us a long time to make up. Sorry I'm bringing her in so late. She's all right."

Drusie knew that her father's grunt was a grunt of deep joy. She knew he would sleep that night.

GROCERY TRUST IN COURT

Florida Wholesale Grocers Up For Contempt

ARE ACCUSED OF RESTRAINT

The Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association Will Be Handled By Uncle Sam

The petition for rule and attachment in contempt in the case of the United States against the Southern Wholesale Grocers' Association, et al., was filed in the office of the United States Marshal at Jacksonville, for the Southern District of Florida, Saturday evening, and the process was served on Secretary Moore, and C. W. Bartleson this morning requiring them to appear in Birmingham March 3 and answer.

Service was not made on President J. H. McLaurin, or C. W. Baker, they not being found prior to a short while before noon today. Mr. Bartleson is out of the city, and Mr. McLaurin being out of his office at the time Deputy Marshal Pinder called this morning. However, as Mr. McLaurin has stated that he will not attempt to evade service, he will probably be served during the day.

The petition for the rule, as filed by the Federal attorneys, is a voluminous printed document, and deals in detail with the averments made relative to the alleged contempt, and gives in full the letters of President McLaurin upon which the petition for contempt are based.

The specific acts of contempt are based upon nine letters alleged to have been written by J. H. McLaurin, president of the association, and sent to the following: Mobley and Smith, White Springs, Fla.; T. S. Saleeby Co., Fayetteville, N. C.; H. Hamseur, Fayetteville, N. C. (relative to the Adams Grain and Provision Co., Fayetteville) Baum and Patin, Glynn, La.; W. B. Ashworth and Sons, Brevard, N. C.; Tennie Grocery Co., Tennier, Ga.; Miller Grocery Co., Clinton, S. C. (relative to the Merchants' Wholesale Grocery, Clinton); A. Wilberts' Sons, lumber and shingles, Palquimine, La., and Cuthbert Grocery Co., Cuthbert, Ga., the averment being that the defendants conspired, confederated and agreed together, or with other persons, to prevent manufacturers and producers from selling directly to the retail dealers or directly to the consumers, and have sought to compel the manufacturer and producer to market his products through the medium of the wholesale dealer, and have conspired, confederated and agreed together, or with other persons to prevent the retail dealer or the consumer from dealing directly with the manufacturer or producer who was engaged in selling or shipping commodities in interstate commerce.

Based on their further allegation upon letters alleged to have been written by President J. H. McLaurin to the following other parties, namely, Merchants Grocery Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.; Borden's Condensed Milk Co., New York City, and A. J. Long, of the A. J. Long Cigar and Grocery Co., of Macon, Ga., the defendants are charged with having "sought by coercion, threat, intimidation or persuasion, to prevent manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers from reducing prices on commodities employed or intended to be employed in the commerce between the States and District of Columbia."

In addition, the defendants are charged with having issued at least two editions of their "green book" which was ordered not to be distributed by them in the decree consented to referred to in the petition.

The defendants are cited to appear in Birmingham on March 3 and show cause, if any they have, why the rule should not issue, and they be adjudged in contempt of the court so served.

Big Oviedo Cabbage

The Herald received a fine head of cabbage yesterday from the farm of N. F. Lettels of Oviedo. At first glance it seemed to be a winner of The Herald's cabbage subscription, but upon weighing it fell short. However, it was a fine cabbage and was large enough to weigh fourteen pounds, just missing the prize by six pounds. Come again, Mr. Lettels, with a larger one for Oviedo can certainly grow them.

INSTALLATION JUBILEE

Opening of Sanford's New Pipe Organ Tuesday Evening Next

The new pipe organ for Sanford will be heard for the first time by the public Tuesday evening next, beginning at 8 o'clock promptly. The whole town is eager to hear the new instrument, and there will be a crush, but no more seats will be sold than there are sittings provided for the occasion. So those that purchase their tickets early will be sure of admission and of a comfortable seat. All are requested to be in their seats at least ten minutes before eight o'clock, so as not to have to wait outside while a number is being given, as none will be admitted during the rendering of a selection. The big chorus and the orchestra will be in their places early and will peal forth their first glad acclaim exactly as the clock strikes eight.

With C. E. Wade at the grand organ, Miss Irene Brady at the piano, Prof. I. N. Nash, W. L. Harvey and W. S. Thornton, cornetists; M. C. Aspinwall, mellophone; and Mrs. O. W. Brady and Mrs. J. D. Langley, violinists, the orchestral quality and volume is superb, and when all these instruments accompany the splendid chorus of over forty of Sanford's finest vocalists, the effect is magnificent in its powerful, thrilling, captivating grandeur. Never before in Sanford has there been anything that approaches this, as a unique musical demonstration of what the talent of this city can artistically produce.

A brief description of the new organ may be of interest. The instrument has been several months in construction for Sanford by the well known M. P. Moller, Bulder, at Hagerstown, Maryland. This famous builder has perhaps the largest pipe organ factory and certainly puts up the sweetest toned, most dependably constructed and greatest number in output instruments of medium size known to modern, up-to-date musical skill. The Sanford organ is built on the latest principle, by which every pipe is playable from either manual, thus doubling the capacity and capabilities of the instrument. It is a two manual, Moller's patent tubular-pneumatic action, every part conforming to the most approved modern methods of making the best and most effective in a genuine king of musical instruments. The great organ has five speaking stops of 61 pipes each, and the swell organ four stops of the same number pipes each, the pedal thirty 16-foot Bourbons. With the mechanical and couplers, as organs for show only are made, there would be twenty stops, but this is made for convenience and utility, and therefore speaking stops appear as they really are, the mechanicals and couplers being placed and arranged so as to be most easily manipulated by the player, a great advantage to the latter.

At an interval in the program next Tuesday night there will be several one-minute speeches by our representative business and professional men, which will be a felicitous feature of the occasion, and in which opportunity will be given for expressions of approval, or disapproval, if there is reason for same after hearing the new organ.—It is expected that all will be delighted with the instrument, but if any are disappointed, it is desired that he or she shall feel perfectly free to express opinion during this interval.

Library Notes.

Harper Bros.' edition of Mark Twain's works, recently published, have been received and are ready for circulation. There are twenty-five volumes, printed from large type, convenient in size, and will prove a delight to Mark Twain's admirers.

History: Makers of History, by Abbott, (20 volumes).

Fiction: "Uncle Bob," by Laura Fitzhugh Preston, cleverly written. Uncle Bob's memories 'ob do long time 'go' are full of pathos and the quaint humor of the old time darkey. Try it for reading aloud.

Mint Jubel, by Martha James. A Sanford reader after reading this story said, "If you ever have a blue day and need cheering up try Mint Jubel."

The requests have been so numerous for a good edition of Dickens, that the following plan has been adopted, by which it is hoped before long one can be placed on the shelves. On the librarian's table you will find a paper, headed, Dickens' subscription. The name and a quarter from every friend of the library, will give, soon, a chance for our younger readers to enjoy the boys and girls of Dickens creation.

MANY VISITORS ARE HERE

Sanford Has Best Season In City's History

ACCOMMODATIONS DIFFICULT

Many Hotels and Boarding Houses Filled With Winter Visitors

Sanford is experiencing the most prosperous season in her history in the matter of new visitors and homeseekers. The hotels and boarding houses are comfortably filled and all the people here whose lines of business place them in contact with the visitors say that this season is ahead of the list in the number of tourists and visitors and investors.

One of the best judges of the visitors to the city and the trade conditions generally is the barber and one of them stated the other day to The Herald representative that his shop was working all the time and that the barbers hardly had time to get their meals or get home at night. That never before in his memory or during his residence in Sanford had there been so many strangers in the city and they were staying over here for some time looking the city over.

There have been more private pleasure yachts tied up at the dock this season and this is a sure indication that the tourists with their friends are seeking Sanford for the fine fishing and hunting that abounds here and every one that takes the river trip is most enthusiastic over our resources.

With a fine tourist hotel next season and the twenty-five miles of country roads paved with brick Sanford will indeed be the tourists' Paradise and they are coming here.

Sanford in Orlando

Macaulay said the "thing dearest to Rome was the manhood of Rome," and equally as well can it be said that the best representatives of Sanford are its pretty and attractive women. A number of these are in Orlando today, and no city could hope to be better represented than Sanford is by these charming ladies, most of whom autoed over from the Colery City. Driving her own car Mrs. R. J. Holly brought with her Mrs. E. B. Brown, Mrs. M. H. Holborn, Miss Madeline Hill, Miss Mabel Hand and Miss Charlotte Hand, all of whom enjoyed the drive over and say the roads between Sanford and Orlando are in excellent condition since the rains.

Among other Sanford people in the city today are Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woodruff, Mr. Will Watson, Mr. E. B. Brown and Mr. Guy Zetour. Reporter-Star.

Vegetables Doing Well

From Florida Growers News.

Five hundred cars of celery will be shipped from this county this season, 175,000 crates. The acreage planted from Wimauna on the north to below Sarasota on the south, is 355; the majority of this being in Bradentown and Manatee. The first car was shipped the second week in January, and the season will probably close in April. The crop is good this year. Some growers are having trouble with rust or blight, but by spraying are keeping it well under control. About $1.75 a crate is the price received.

Four hundred and fifty cars of lettuce have been shipped with about 200 waiting on weather and market conditions. This has brought about $1.25 to $2.25 per basket.

Egg plants and peppers are in good demand in New York markets, bringing fairly good prices, the best quality $2.50.

The tomato crop will be close on to 2,200 acres. The shipping will commence in April and the last of the crop marketed in June. The probability of heavy frost this should be a banner year.

The citrus crop is moving and it is estimated the packing houses will keep busy until the season closes.—Sarasota Times.

Music Club

The Music Club will have a called meeting at the home of Mrs. F. L. Woodruff Saturday afternoon, to which every member is requested to be there promptly at 3 o'clock, as the chorus will have a practice after the meeting.

NEW BOAT ON RIVER

Atlantic Timber Company Will Use One on Geneva Run

The one hundred and ten foot steamboat of the Atlantic Timberland Corporation Co. will make its first trip up the river to-day, bringing the new saw mill which Mr. P. S. Fortson bought of the Farqua Co. in Jacksonville a few days ago.

This mill with a capacity of 15,000 ft. will be located at McLain Landing, where work has already begun, clearing the ground and laying the foundations.

The company have some very fine timber near this place and millions of feet will be loaded there in the next two years.

Mr. G. N. Montgomery will bring his new and handsome automobile on this boat and unload at Sanford and drive through to Orlando where he will locate at present.

The woods around Geneva will soon be swarming with wage-earners and the new road to Sanford will be a constant scene of activity.

Wednesday Club.

The Wednesday Club held their regular meeting at their pleasant club home, with Mrs. Henry Wight, Wednesday afternoon.

The program was opened by a delightful vocal solo, "A Perfect Day," sung by Miss Dameron, who was accompanied by Mrs. D. L. Thrasher. Mrs. C. R. Walker, who was leader for the afternoon, was invited to take the chair by Mrs. G. L. Maria, the president.

Mrs. Walker read a very interesting paper on the "First Revolution of Mexico." Miss Nell Whitmer gave a short sketch of "Hidalgo," the priest who instigated and led the revolution.

A sketch of "Morelos," another priest and leader of the revolution, was prepared by Mrs. Lyman Phelps. The story of the revolution was continued by Mrs. S. O. Chase, in a sketch of "Ezurbide," another leader of the continued revolution, who was made emperor of Mexico. A sketch of "Santa Anna," was given by Mrs. Chappell.

The roll call and current topics was omitted in order that the club might have more time to discuss a matter of paramount interest, relative to the welfare of the club, before adjournment. Program for Feb. 25th.

Mrs. S. O. Chase, Leader.

Music.

"Story of the Mexican War."

Mrs. S. O. Chase.

Boquet for Chase & Co.

Theo. J. Miller reports that he received a check for $54.15, representing proceeds of claim collected on car of oranges shipped Jan. 27th, 1912. Mr. Miller considered this as "money from home," as he never even knew of the fact that Chase & Co. were taking the matter up with the railroad company.

Mr. Miller has given most of his business to Chase & Co. for years past and recommends them most highly as one of the most reliable and progressive firms of its kind.

Presbyterian Church

At the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning the pastor will preach to the children, boys and girls, and all the young in heart. In his previous ministry it has been his custom occasionally to preach object lesson sermons to the young, and they have been his most popular services. The children of the town are cordially invited to this service, seats at the front will be reserved for them, and this will be their service. At the evening service the song service begins at 7 o'clock.

All Honor to Couch

Most of the success of the Sanford exhibit at the county fair is due to C. D. Couch, who had full charge of the exhibit and worked day and night to make a creditable showing. The exhibition was praiseworthy and deserves the special mention that it received from all the Orlando papers.

COUNTY DIVISION TRUTHS

Orlando Speakers Did Not State the Facts

ABOUT THAT OVIEDO MEETING

There Are Two Sides to Every Question and Douglass Has One

In order to give the readers of The Herald a true account of the Oviedo meeting Mr. E. A. Douglass was requested to write it up, and below he gives a fair and truthful account of the meeting of last Friday:

Oviedo, Feb. 17th, 1913.

Editor Sanford Herald:

Dear Sir—It was not my intention to dip my oar into this county division question through the press, but finding on my desk tonight quite a lengthy article in the Sunday Times-Union of Feb. 16th, also one in the Reporter-Star of Feb. 15th, I am constrained to do so.

The barbecue at Oviedo on Friday, the 14th, was what could be expected, a grand success. Everybody seemed to enjoy themselves. The ants came from Orlando and other parts of the county to see us, as did the divisionists from Sanford and other parts some days ago.

Our little town turned out to receive them in true old Oviedo style. There were differences of opinion, to be sure, that is what they came to discuss. The ants from Orlando came by invitation, as did the divisionists from Sanford. We wanted them, we invited them and they came.

The first speaker of the day on Friday last was my friend, Mr. C. E. Howard, editor of the Orange County Citizen. He prefaced his remarks by saying, "You will wonder why they put up that little fellow first," and he would tell us why. He said always before a storm you would see the little ripples come first and then the big blow hards (he meant the wind, he said).

The Times-Union would make Mr. Howard say that the taxable property in the proposed new county would amount to little more than one million dollars. In justice to Mr. Howard, I did not so understand him. If he did say so, where did he get his figures? Furthermore, Mr. Howard admitted that he had not time to search for all this data and frequently asked some bystander if he was not correct. In dealing with this question we should be prompted by a spirit of fairness and make no statement that the facts will not bear us out. One thing in particular, that I am sure my friend, Howard forgot was to tell the whole history of the proposed new law, whereby the state is to get all the railroad tax. He went as far with that matter as I have here and left the impression that the counties would suffer thereby. The absurdity of such a proposition will be plain to any thinking man.

Pardon us for referring to myself in this and perhaps other matters before I close, and if I misquote a fact here I will ask Senator L. C. Massey to correct me, and I will not consider myself corrected through any other source, as if my memory serves me right he was a member of the Florida senate when these things came up. If I am not mistaken the idea of the railroad tax was conceived by our talented Comptroller Croom, but never intended to rob the counties, as the counties would still receive their pro rata. Just how to accomplish this was why the committee was appointed. All these facts Mr. Howard was certainly familiar with or he should not have tried to enlighten us. Hence I take it, that at this stage of the game he put a wail of the rich aroma of the good coffee or the baked pork, or once more his mind wandered back to his native health in Pennsylvania, and he entirely forgot in his enthusiasm to give us benighted Oviedoites the real facts in the case.

Next to have Mr. Strozier. He is a very entertaining talker and well deserves the title of the silver-tongued orator from the west. Following him was Mr. W. P. Watson. If you don't know Mr. Watson it is your loss. Mr. Watson only spoke a few minutes, but it was the same Watson of old. Courteous polite and smiling, he bowed himself off the platform to give place to Mr. L. G. Starbuck, a well known attorney from Orlando, who is now a candidate for county solicitor (excuse me, the article

FLORIDA

NEWS from the COUNTY

CAMERON CITY CLIPPINGS

Prof. Maris is in Orlando this week, acting as judge of the educational display at the county fair.

Mrs. F. F. Dutton is enjoying a visit from her friends Mrs. Middleton of Trenton, N. J., and Mrs. Taylor of Lancaster, Pa.

Several people from the neighborhood are attending the fair at Orlando this week.

C. G. Beck is planning to make his park even more beautiful and attractive than it is now. Many tourists visit it and are very enthusiastic over the natural beauty of this grove, often declaring it to be the most beautiful they have seen in Florida.

Our people are still planting beans. R. Duke has a fine prospect for both beans and corn.

Geo. Chamberlain has twenty acres of as fine lettuce as ever seen in the Celery Delta. Mr. Chamberlain is an artist in this line and his earnest effort deserved success.

W. W. Dressor's hand, bitten recently by a cross dog, is nicely healed.

Potatoes and cucumbers are looking fine here and growers are well pleased with the prospect.

J. W. Powell spent Monday on Lake Jessup with gun and rod. Results proclaim him somewhat of an expert in this line.

Miss Grace Rich writes from Wichita, Kansas, that she is enjoying her visit in her former home town, among her friends there but is getting anxious to see Cameron City again.

Miss Bessie Schumpert spent Saturday night and Sunday at Minnick Place and Miss Minnick accompanied her to Sanford Sunday evening.

Several ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. Minnick Tuesday evening to meet Mrs. Greenwood of Tampa and hear her tell of Mr. Enshinger's visit to the Cuban population at West Tampa. She told of his school and home work there, of the growth and spreading influence of these young and struggling institutions and made those who heard her long to be able to help in some way. Notice of her coming was so short that only a few could be notified. The ladies who enjoyed the afternoon were Mrs. Dressor, Mrs. Beck, Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Duke, Mrs. Grier, Mrs. Trego, Mrs. Minnick and Miss Minnick.

County division is an all absorbing topic at this time. Every voter is enthusiastically in favor of it and working to bring it about.

Mr. Welker of Richmond avenue was in Cameron City several times the past week on business. On one of his trips he was accompanied by Mrs. Pope of Ohio, who is a guest at the Welker home.

Among our tourist visitors the past week were: W. U. Yeagy, Gary, Ind.; R. T. Herndon, Georgetown, Ky.; E. W. Herndon, Louisville, Ky.; E. H. Harris, Quincy, Fla.; L. L. Stocking and wife, Morrison, Ill.; I. W. Davis and wife, Davenport, Iowa; A. J. House, wife and son, Kniston, N. C.; B. W. Downs and wife, Augusta, Me.; Aaron R. Anders, Frederick City, Md.

GENEVA JOTTINGS

Miss Emma Proctor is here for a few days visiting home friends.

Albert Geiger and Miss Fanny Brewer were quietly married at the home of H. H. Pattishall last Wednesday evening, that gentleman officiating. As witnesses there were Mrs. Pattishall, Mrs. J. Q. Adams, Miss Blanche Pattishall and Miss Addie Gresham. After the ceremony the bride and groom went to the station where they were greeted by their acquaintances with showers of rice and a serenade. On the coming of the train Mr. and Mrs. Geiger were glad to make their escape. They were followed by the very best of wishes for their future happiness.

Mrs. Etta Roberson gave a luncheon last Saturday for Mrs. Claude Raulerson and her guests. Covers were laid for seven. Those invited were Mrs. Raulerson, Miss Blum and Miss Barver of Camden, Ohio, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Mack and Mrs. Morris.

The first meeting of the newly formed Epworth League was held after Sunday school at the Methodist church last Sunday. The president, Mr. McLain conducted the meeting. This organization is mainly for our young people and we wish for it the best of success. The officers are Mr. McLain, Miss Blanche Pattishall, Miss Marie Daniels, Miss Mayme McLain, Miss Kate Flynt, Mrs. Roberson and Mrs. Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Adams are very pleasantly tied in their camp house on Buck Lake, proving the Kenyon Take Down House a perfect success.

Our whole community was saddened by the death of Mrs. Rehbinder, which occurred Wednesday morning at the age of 52 years. She had been taken for treatment. Everything possible was done to restore this dear wife and mother to health, but all in vain. Since losing her daughter in October the health of the mother gradually failed and Wednesday morning her spirit passed on to the great beyond. Mrs. Rehbinder had lived in Geneva over thirty years, where she passed a very useful life. As a teacher she had no equal. Most of the young teachers who have gone out from this place owe their success to her untiring efforts. For eight years she had been teacher of the Buda school, where she was loved and respected by all of her pupils and where she will be greatly missed. Her ambition and aims were always for higher education. To the sorrowing husband and son we as a community extend our heartfelt sympathy. One by one our dear friends are called from us, leaving a heartache that only God can heal. The remains were laid to rest Thursday morning in Geneva cemetery, funeral services being conducted by Rev. C. A. Saunders.

Miss Irene Peters left Saturday morning for a visit to her sister, Mrs. Oscar Nicholson of Daytona Beach.

Carroll Culpepper, who has been quite ill, is able to be out again.

Mrs. H. H. Pattishall was the hostess at a delightful luncheon Monday at high noon, in compliment to Mrs. L. C. Eichner of Baltimore, Md. The table was very attractively centered by a bowl of beautiful roses, places being laid for eleven. A delicious seven course luncheon was served. Seated at the table were Mr. and Mrs. Pattishall, Mrs. Eichner, Mrs. Curlett, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Daniels, Mrs. George Peters, Mrs. J. Q. Adams, Miss Blanche Pattishall, Miss Belle Eichner and Miss Marie Daniels. After luncheon Miss Blanche Pattishall entertained the guests with some beautiful selections and Mrs. Curlett sang a German love song in the native tongue, her sweet voice being just suited to this kind of music. More music followed and all too soon the day was gone and it was time to leave. All who ever enjoyed Mrs. Pattishall's hospitality know that she is an ideal hostess, and nothing more can be said, only "such a good time."

Mr. Wagner, a winter visitor in Geneva died Sunday morning and was buried in Geneva cemetery Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Curlett, Mrs. Eichner, Mr. and Mrs. Burley, Mrs. Fry, Miss Belle Eichner, Miss Hawe, Mr. Musselwhite, Mr. Jackson and Mr. Wallers of DeLand were a pleasant house boat party, going up the river for a few days last week.

Mr. M. Rehbinder and Mr. Leo Rehbinder and wife take this means of thanking their friends for kindnesses shown during the sickness and death of Mrs. Rehbinder. Especially do they thank the Buda school and the Buda ladies who were so kind in helping them.

MOORE MOVEMENTS

Sunday, Mar. 2nd, will be the next date Rev. H. T. Gaines will preach here. The week preceding he will be here visiting among the people.

Mrs. Kemp of Woster, Mass., arrived here recently to be the guest of her niece, Mrs. E. E. Boardway of Cameron avenue for a few months.

Levi Luke of Starke is a visitor at the home of his sister, Mrs. James Mitchell. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Knight's little son, Austin, has been very seriously ill during the past two weeks and is still very low. Dr. Robson is in attendance.

Mrs. A. B. Cameron, who was stricken with paralysis last July while at Coronado Beach and has been confined to her bed since, is said to be slowly gaining in health under Dr. Walker's care.

I. D. Hart of St. Augustine was calling on friends here last week.

George Mitchell has been on the sick list the past three weeks.

Miss Maud Cameron is mourning the death of her pet pony, Fannie, who it is thought died of heart failure within three days of her fourteenth birthday.

Robert Brown of Ft. Christmas was a visitor at the McClelland home on Sunday. Mrs. E. L. Brown and children, Nellie, Winnie and Patrick are visitors there this week.

J. C. Ellsworth, Jr., of Beardall avenue received a communication from the Los Angeles, Calif., College of Osteopathy, announcing that his sister, Miss Glendora Ellsworth graduated from there, Jan. 30th.

The Orange County Fair is bigger, better and broader than ever before, and the attendance is all that could be desired.

In this issue appears a good report of the Oveido meeting from the pen of E. A. Douglass. Read it and get the facts about the anti-division balloon ascension.

Sanford has a majority of the voters in the new territory signed up in favor of county division and we will say to Orlando: What are you going to do about it?

J. P. Morgan is sojourning among the ruins of Egypt. He might have stayed in this country and witnessed the ruin of the banking trusts as soon as Wilson gets in the saddle.

During a recent visit to Orlando the editor of The Herald did not talk with one prominent citizen who was fighting county division. All the splutter at Orlando has simmered down to the newspapers, lawyers and office seekers.

We ask our friends in the new territory to give the matter of county division a careful study before expressing an opinion. Those Orlando people will put you in jail if you express an adverse opinion.

Sanford is filled with new people, three new families removing here this week to make their home. All the city needs is a new tourist hotel and a strong pull from everybody. County division is already assured, having been settled several months ago without Orlando's consent.

AN HOUR IN ORLANDO

The editor of The Herald had the pleasur of spending an hour at the Orange County Fair on Wednesday, the time being limited because there is so much to do in Sanford that we could not stay at the county seat any longer. The fair is a success in every way and the public spirited people of Orange county should be commended for the 'get together' spirit demonstrated by the fine displays from every part of the county. The people of Sanford, as usual, have a fine display and the sad thought came to us that this would probably be our last as next year we will be busy arranging a Harney County Fair and will be unable to lend our assistance to Orange county again.

We also had the pleasure of visiting our fellow sufferers at the different newspaper offices in Orlando. The main guys of the Reporter-Star were at the office. Who ever heard of editors eating lunch at twelve o'clock? Editor Howard was busy somewhere taking views of the sewerage system and did not hear about our advent. At the Sentinel office Editor Schuman was on the job, for like a true newspaper man he never eats. Bro Schuman was glad to see some Sanford specimens and found us very much like other people that he had seen in his younger days and promised to pay a visit to Sanford some day and go fishing. He is getting out a most creditable morning daily with the assistance of that veteran, Josiah Ferris.

Orlando as usual, was filled and running over with winter visitors and the city is very prettily decorated for the big fair. Orlando is undoubtedly the prettiest inland city in Florida and has a bunch of boosting newspapers and a bunch of boosting citizens. All of them gave us the glad hand for they are good friends of the Herald man even if we do have our differences. Great is the fair and great is Orlando.

Welaka Club Notes

A very important called business meeting of the Welaka Club will be held on Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 25th, at 3:00 o'clock. Every member is urged to be present.

The colonial card party and dance for Feb. 25th has been postponed until Thursday evening, Feb. 27th, at 8:00 o'clock. There is to be a library shower and every member is asked to bring fifteen cents.

On Tuesday afternoon there was an informal business meeting, followed by the monthly bridge party. There were not a large number of ladies, as this is Lent, and a number went to the fair at Orlando. Those there had a very pleasant game. Mrs. R. M. Marks made the highest score and wears the pin for the next month. Mrs. Robt. Newman was Hostess.

Fancy Work Circle

Mrs. T. S. Davis was hostess of the Fancy Work Circle-Thursday afternoon. The members of the circle spent a very pleasant social afternoon together in the enjoyment of their pretty fancy work.

Delicious strawberries with whipped cream and wafers were served by the hostess, whose guests were Mrs. J. D. Roberts, Mrs. J. J. Purdon, Mrs. W. L. Milteer, Mrs. D. A. Caldwell, Mrs. C. C. Woodruff, Mrs. M. H. Hill, Mrs. W. T. Johns, Mrs. J. T. Brady.

Lend a Hand Sale

The Lend a Hand Club will conduct one of their popular sale of good things to eat at the store of J. D. Roberts Saturday afternoon, consisting of chicken and potato salad, bread, baked beans, pies, cake, doughnuts and candy.

Six Days Left

To Take Advantage of Second Bonus Offer

Now Is the Time For Candidates in the Great Voting Contest to Make Effort Count

The line between success and failure is so slight that you scarcely know when you pass it, so fine that you are often on the line and do not know it.

This is true in regard to a number of candidates in The Herald's contest, they are on the line and do not realize it. As the present time a very large percentage of the active candidates are in the grand prize class, and it would be a difficult task to pick the winner. The effort of next week will mean much to all of these candidates. NO source that will yield a subscription should be overlooked. There are many virgin fields into which candidates have not entered. Subscriptions can be secured right around you. Candidates should open their eyes to the opportunities around them before looking away for subscriptions. This week will be a week of hustle and those candidates who get out early and work late will reap the harvest of votes. The bonus certificates are the ones that will win the prizes, and the present bonus offer is 25,000 extra votes for every $14.00 worth of subscriptions sent in before noon Saturday, March 1st.

If any candidates are under the impression that they will get more votes at the close of the contest than they will now, and are holding subscriptions for that purpose they will be sadly disappointed. Subscriptions will count more in votes next week than they ever will again. There is no limit to the number of bonus certificates a candidate may win, and the more they do win the easier it will be to keep in the prize class.

Voting Power of Subscriptions Payments on all subscriptions will earn votes according to the following schedule. Renewals and back subscriptions count the same as new subscriptions:

Table with 2 columns: Subscription amount and corresponding votes. 1 year $ 2.00 2,000 votes; 2 years' 4.00 7,000 votes; 3 years' 6.00 12,000 votes; 4 years' 8.00 18,000 votes; 5 years' 10.00 25,000 votes; 10 years' 20.00 75,000 votes

The list of candidates and their vote exhibit as counted up to noon Thursday Sanford, Fla.

Table listing candidates and their vote counts: Miss Ruth McDaniel 92,750; Miss Esther Miller 22,350; Mrs. R. L. Griffin 95,200; Mrs. R. A. Newman 106,650; Mrs. L. V. Stanstron 59,600; Miss Gladys Green 78,400; Miss Ethel Hickson 56,400; Miss Maud Cameron 109,700; Miss Perry Lee Bell 5,150; Miss Sallie Lipford 22,450; Mrs. David Speer 64,600; Mrs. L. S. Miss Gertrude Green of Sanford, at the public recital in Emerson College of Oratory at Boston, this week, read "Aunt Polly's George Washington." The exceptionally good darky dialect added a great deal to the humorous piece.

Seats for the grand organ dedicatory next Tuesday night are going rapidly and music lovers are therefore requested to secure their tickets soon as possible, as only so many will be sold as there are sittings to accommodate. Those who love and appreciate great music are especially wanted present, and this request is made in order that none may be debarred from seeing and hearing in comfort.

Misses Madge and Veda Ward, Miss Mabel Bowler and W. C. Hill motored to DeLand today to attend the second concert of the music festival that is being held at Stetson University. Public Lands Withdrawn Gainesville, Feb. 20.—Receiver Henry S. Chubb and Receiver Shields Warren, of the United States Land Office for Florida here, have received instruction from the general land office at Washington directing the withdrawal as a phosphate reserve of the land containing 57,863 acres. Twenty counties are affected, and in Gadsden, Leon and Suwannee every acre of public land has been withdrawn. DeSoto is among the other counties most effected by the order, which leaves subject to homestead entry only 180 out of a total of 29,102 acres that was available to entry in that county when the present fiscal year opened.

It is said that some of the area withdrawn is far removed from sections where phosphate has been located in the past, and it is possible that the Florida representatives in congress will be asked to cause a more pronounced investigation to ascertain if deposits of phosphate can be found in sufficient quantity on some of the land to cause its withdrawal.

On the first day of last July there was less than 250,000 acres of public land, subject to entry, in Florida, and the withdrawal of the vast area above mentioned will not be likely to diminish the number of homesteaders this year, but it will greatly decrease the revenues accorded to the office held by Register Chubb and Receiver Warren, and which are now sought by many prominent Floridians, owing to the Democratic victory last fall. The remuneration attached to these offices comes solely from fees, and quite naturally a decrease in the public land area will mean a decrease in the office receipts.

The order is one that will create interest not only in agricultural circles, but in political circles.

A Personal Tribute

Editor of The Sanford Herald: In view of the fact of my probable absence from Sanford next week at the time of the public dedication concert of the new pipe organ in the Congregational church I wish to take this opportunity to make a statement. Whatever of advantage shall come to the church and the city from the installing of this fine instrument I believe we owe very largely to Mr. E. T. Woodruff. Not forgetting the generosity of citizens both within and without the congregation it is due him to say that but for his generosity and his persistent efforts nothing would have been done at this time to meet the time limit imposed by Mr. Carnegie, whose gift for the organ was promised two years ago.

Not only has Mr. Woodruff labored day and night in gathering together the funds needed to pay for the organ, but he has spared neither skill nor pains to secure the very best instrument that can be had for the money. Sanford is to be congratulated upon such public spirited citizens as he is.

Birthday Party

Dr. and Mrs. M. N. Robson entertained the young friends of their little son Claude, Tuesday afternoon, on the occasion of his fifth birthday, at a very pretty orange birthday party, at their handsome home on Sanford Heights. The little guests were entertained by Miss Susie Brown on the spacious and beautiful lawn, the attractive loveliness of which is greatly enhanced by the rich foliage of the handsome orange trees in the yard, with the beautiful clusters of deep yellow oranges and the profusion of dainty, sweet orange blossoms, nestling among the green leaves.

The children were served delicious orange punch by Mrs. W. T. Fields, who with Miss Susie Brown assisted Mrs. Robson in entertaining and caring for her son's little guests.

The little folks marched by invitation into the dining room, which was darkened, for the occasion, and the handsome white birthday cake, with its five little candles, which was the lovely centerpiece on the table, the handsome white cover of which was artistically decorated with fern leaves. The corners of the hall were ornamented with oranges.

After the guests had admired the prettily decorated birthday table they marched back on the lovely lawn and were served ice cream and cake. When the party was over and the children were ready to leave, they were given an orange tied in red paper and ornamented with a little cluster of snow white orange blossoms, as a souvenir of little Claude's fifth birthday party.

In Sunday's Times-Union says none of these gentlemen are county office holders or office seekers).

I will now quote from the Herald of Saturday, the 15th, a daily paper published in Orlando. This is supposed to be a part of Mr. Starbuck's speech, which I think is correct.

One fallacy of the Sanford crowd (Note, the Sanford crowd) he cited was with relation to the abolition of the criminal court. He said Sanford proposed to save money by not having a criminal court, but it is proved that such cannot be the case, for the reason that considering the long delay in handling the cases at hands of another court, during which time the prisoner would have to be supported by the county, any saving would be more than offset. Now note two things: First, Mr. Starbuck is a candidate for county solicitor; second, he left or tried to leave the impression on the minds of his hearers that what he said was the whole truth in a nutshell and the bubble was burst. Now, I want to say that I cannot deal as charitably with my friend Starbuck as I could with friend Howard, because he is a lawyer and knows that under our laws there are other ways to dispose of these cases than to lodge them in jail and feed them, awaiting the regular term of circuit court. I called his attention to this fact later and his laughing answer to me was that he was not testifying to everything he knew. Another thing Attorney Starbuck cited a case way down in Palm Beach county, where a friend of his owned one mile square and paid something like $17.00 taxes. Since division his taxes are over $100.00. Now I am not very good in figures, but most any schoolboy can figure it for you. I showed him from where he stood, tops of trees in Oviedo section, more than six square miles, that the increase in assessed valuations have beat that without improvements, and it is in Old Mother Orange, that has not been divided. In Palm Beach county this speaker was perfectly familiar with conditions, but on land where his own cattle graze he did not know. Oh when shall the blind quit trying to lead those that can see? When will we reach the point where we are willing to settle every question on its merits and not seek to force our own ideas on a real truth? The question of county division is a business matter. Let's settle it in a business way. Do not get it into your heads that you are the only man that has a right to think. Now I am not speaking to any particular man or set of men, but to all. It has been left to the Orlando correspondent of the Times-Union to say of our new bank into their county division fight. I did not suppose that any one would so far forget themselves. It is true T. C. Brannan is an anti-divisionist. He has also recently been elected a director in our bank, but why the bank's name should be connected in any way with county division I do not know. All the directors and officers are not of one mind on the matter, but we act as individuals on public matters and as bankers in our directors' room.

Treat us fair. Give us the right to think and act as free men and don't try to drag our institutions that we are trying to build up into such things. One stranger standing on one of our principal street corners asked where Oviedo was. From where he stood he could have thrown a stone into the postoffice, four general mercantile establishments, meat market, one church, drugstore and almost to the bank. The writer told him that he was right. That we were a very insignificant little community and that was why we had been so grossly neglected, and to try to better our condition we are for county division.

Now, this is not a personal matter. It is a public matter to be settled by those interested. It is not a matter for Orlando or Sanford to settle. In quoting figures, why do you confine yourselves to only those that apply to the two big towns. Why don't you meet the proposition fairly and squarely? The propositions laid down in the statement over the signatures of Mr. Bates and Mr. Forster apply to the proposed new county, not to Orlando and Sanford alone. When you tell the people of Oviedo that Sanford gets more than her share of the school money, why don't you also tell us what proportion we get? Have you ever denied the fact that Sanford did not get her pro rata? Send us the figures. Facts about the whole county is what we want. Let us have them. Sanford has furnished them to us. If they are not correct we would like to know. If the north end of the county is such a burden why this activity. Please answer these questions without any frills. Let's talk business.

E. A. DOUGLASS.

Kissimmee's Next Mayor
Fred Bass of Kissimmee was in the city yesterday shaking hands with his many friends. Fred is a married man now, having taken one of Lake City's fairest daughters and has eschewed base ball and other sports and settled down to prosaic business and the philosophy of life. Fred is one of the most active, energetic and versatile young men of our sister county, and just now is a candidate for Mayor of Kissimmee. He will get the office, for he generally gets what he wants and The Herald predicts that in Fred Bass Kissimmee will have one of the most progressive mayors in the state.

Moving the Cottages
O. P. Swope has purchased the portable cottages that were on the lots at the corner of Fifth and Park, and is removing them to Oviedo, where he expects to have his office and be closer to his lands in Black Hammock. The city should vote Mr. Swope a medal for removing these houses from one of the finest building lots in Sanford, and it is to be hoped that the owners of these lots will erect thereon the handsome residence which this fine location warrants.

PRESIDENT MADERO SHOT

Other News from the World at Large by Telegraphic Ticks

Francisco I. Madero and Pino Suarez are dead. In a midnight ride under guard from the national palace to the penitentiary they were killed. The circumstances surrounding the death of the deposed president and vice president of the republic are unknown, except as given in official dispatches which do not in all cases conform. The only witnesses were those actually concerned in the killing. Provisional President General Victoriano Huerta, says the killing of the two men was incidental to a fight between their guard and a party attempting to liberate them. The minister of foreign relations, Francisco De La Barra adds that the prisoners attempted to escape.

Gov. Sulzer of New York, has been informed of an alleged plot to assassinate him. The governor tonight related that on Friday a man, with head swathed in bandages, called at the executive chamber, and was referred to Owen L. Potter, his legal assistant. To Mr. Potter the man, whose name the governor would not divulge, said on Thursday night when in an abandoned cider mill he had overheard two men discussing a plot to kill the governor. When the conspirators learned of the presence of the governor's informant they assaulted and robbed him.

Policies of a new administration and plans of a new congress will be fairly well outlined within the next ten days. Democratic leaders have prepared for party reorganization and the outlining of legislative action immediately after Mr. Wilson assumes office. Points about which congressional speculation has centered for many weeks will be cleared up, it is believed, by March 5. These include the make-up of President Wilson's cabinet, relations between Mr. Wilson and William J. Bryan, a subject of much gossip the last week, the personnel of the Democratic membership of the tariff making ways and means committee, the scope of the reorganization fight in the senate, and the approximate date for convening the extra session of congress.

With the largest number of cases under consideration at any particular time in recent years, the supreme court is expected to announce many decisions upon reconvening tomorrow after a three weeks' recess. Exactly 155 cases are before the court for decision, including the forty-five state rate cases, the intermountain rate case, the newspaper publicity case, the white slave traffic, corporation tax suits and the California oil land cases.

Expert on Squabs

making headquarters in Jacksonville was in the city last Saturday looking up the squab farm industry and expects to return here and purchase some property. In order to demonstrate his system of raising squabs, Mr. Cone thinks the future of the squab farm industry in Florida is very bright and that this section of the state would be a good shipping point and is otherwise well situated for the raising of squabs.

Death of George Armstrong

The funeral of George Armstrong, Sr. took place from his residence on Elm avenue Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. J. D. Langley of the Congregational church, of which the deceased was a member for many years.

The music was sung by Mr. E. T. Woodruff, Mrs. Geo. Speer, Dr. C. E. Walker and Mrs. C. E. Walker.

The following gentlemen acted as pall bearers: Walter Peters, Julius Hutchinson, Thos. S. Davis, Henry Witte, Chas. R. Walker, Chas. F. Hawkins.

The flowers were beautiful and in large quantity, several handsome set designs and many bunches and masses. A fine pillow design was sent by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, to which Mr. Armstrong belonged for an extended period.

The house was filled with sympathizing friends, who felt the grief of the stricken family.

Mr. Armstrong was a highly respected and honored citizen, who lived a quiet life, discharging all his duties in a simple, unostentatious way. He was a faithful friend and neighbor of kindly spirit and pleasing manner. To his family he was a loving husband and father, and in the home all his finest qualities shone brightly forth. In his church relations he was true and sincere; a humble Christian and an interested and faithful worker. Though for many years sorely afflicted, and a great sufferer, he bore his pain with patience and fortitude, showing to the last his unflinching faith and dependence upon his Heavenly Father.

He leaves a wife and two sons, Frazier and George, Jr., to mourn his loss, to whom is extended the sympathy of their many friends.

An exceedingly pretty but quiet home wedding was celebrated at the home of Mrs. Elaine S. Munson when her niece, Miss Mercedes Frances Munson was united in marriage to Mr. M. H. Tibbals by Rev. A. S. Peck, pastor of the Episcopal church at 9:40 Sunday evening. The room in which the ceremony was performed was beautifully decorated with a profusion of lovely cut flowers from the bride's many friends and also many palms and ferns.

Miss Mercedes has a host of friends in this city where she has lived nearly all of her life, who are wishing her a long and happy life, enriched with the beauty and joy of living. Mr. Tibbals is from Somerset, Kentucky, and has been connected with the D. L. Thrasher Pharmacy while a resident in the city. By his pleasing address and sterling qualities Mr. Tibbals has made many friends in Sanford, who will regret to have him leave the city, while congratulating him on his good fortune in securing so charming a bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Tibbals left on the mid-night train for Savannah, Georgia, where Mr. Tibbals has secured a position with Knight's Pharmacy. Mr. Tibbals' decision to leave the city hastened the marriage which was to have been solemnized several months later. The best wishes of all their friends accompany the young couple to their new home.

The Gibson Reunion

The ladies of the Welaka Club are arranging to produce a home talent musical comedy, the Gibson Reunion, at the Imperial Opera House. This is to be an immense affair, with a cast of 200. Three of the large features are: The Moon Chorus, with 75 little girls between the years of 3 and 9 years; the Barn Dance, with 48 little girls between the age of 9 and 12 years; and a Tramp Chorus, with 50 little boys between the ages of 6 and 11 years.

No expense is incurred in the costuming of the children, as the little girls wear white dresses and the boys wear tramp suits or any sort of ragged old clothes.

The rehearsal takes place at 8 o'clock each afternoon, beginning with Mar. 3rd. First rehearsal will take place at Welaka Club rooms.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

Best Medium for Exploiting City's Advantage

BENEFIT COMMUNITY'S INTEREST

Any City or County Could Afford to take Extra Copies of Weekly Papers

The commissioners of Osceola county formerly paid for several thousand copies of the county papers and sent them to people in the north, and the remarkable growth of the county was directly due this system of advertising. Recently the board became peeved at the newspapers' attitude on the good roads question and discontinued the subscriptions. The action called forth the following article from Secretary Bates of the Sanford Commercial Club Sanford, Fla., February 8, 1913.

Editor Valley Gazette: When the county began to purchase subscriptions to its home papers by the hundreds and send them out to prospective home-seekers for periods of three months, free of charge, it appeared to me to be one of the very best indirect methods of advertising that I had ever heard of. I was in Denver at the time the innovation was inaugurated and read of the plan at great length in the Rocky Mountain Daily News. That editorial was worth the price paid for the subscriptions.

Your town at that time was not overly great and my memory of it was not of a very flattering nature. However the advertising plan adopted by the entire people was unique, and as I was interested in all kinds of advertising I made up my mind to keep my weather eye out for the effect that this plan of publicity could have upon the commerce and industry of your town and county. Since the inception of the idea I have made several visits to your city and each visit has convinced me of the worth and practicability of this method of advertising.

There are always a bunch of home heads in every community that make a concrete four ever, time a nickel slips through their ribs and lodges in the pocket of the other fellow. Go to one of these and try to secure a subscription to an advertising venture having for its purpose the furthering of that individual's own personal interests along with the town, and he will sit down on it so hard that the bosom of his trousers will become perforated by the friction. He does not believe in advertising and it's very hard to teach an old mule new tricks. So he has to be carried by the progressives of the community.

Then there is the non-resident who is a big property owner and usually "big rich." He chucks in a few dollars at the right time, lays back on his oars and lets the progressive dig down in the depths of their jeans for the wherewithal to make his property more valuable. When it has doubled "seven" times in value he comes down, blows out his chest, sweaters around, is petted and coddled, then sells out his holdings, takes profits and makes his getaway. Ask him for a few dollars to help out with advertising stunts and he laughs you in the face. He is a parasite. The progressive element in the town and county he operates in have made him richer. There is a way to get at this fellow and make him pay his portion of the advertising expense. Your county commissioners had the key to his wallet and it is to be hoped that they will continue to use it.

All kinds of publicity are good. The main point is to intelligently discriminate between the good and the better. It is easy to get the better. You were getting the better. You have discovered it and should continue in possession of it. However, from your last edition I would gather that both the good and better is to nimbly pass away from you to reverse himself when he finds he has erred.

It is unjust to allow a few progressive gentlemen to bear the brunt of the expense in advertising a city, community or county. It can and should be obviated. The money should be taken from the taxes collected, thus placing expense equally upon the property owners. Then the grouch has to come across. The non-resident is made to put up his

Sunday School Class Social

Misses Mell and Alice Whitner entertained their Sunday school classes at a very pretty and delightful "George Washington Party" Friday evening last. The rooms were very attractively decorated with red roses, orange blossoms and smilax, with the ever suggestive Washington hatchets of various sizes in red and green, the charming color motif.

Delicious punch was served by Misses Lillian Herring, Lottie Caldwell and Annie Whitner.

The young guests spent a very pleasant evening in the enjoyment of music and various interesting and amusing parlor games.

Ice cream and cake were served in the dining room which with the table was tastefully decorated with the prevailing colors and hatchets. A unique feature of the refreshment table was that the dainty dishes were folded to represent colonial hats, which were so much admired by the guests that they were desired as souvenirs of the delightful occasion.

Those composing the two Sunday school classes were Misses Lillian Herring, Lottie Caldwell, May Thraasher, Helen Peck, Fern Ward, Dorothy Davis, Florence Walters, Gertrude Stafford, Alice Caldwell, Eleanor Herring, Irene Bruton, Mary Howard, Edna Chittenden, Adel Runge, Edna Thompson, Perry Lee Bell, Emmie Mann, Marjorie Packard, Elizabeth Stafford, Reginald Holly, Ernest Woodburn, Carl Bruton, Willie Leavitt, J. Off For Panama

Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Langley leave for Panama tomorrow where they will spend a few weeks taking in the sights of the big ditch. They will be accompanied by their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Crockett of Pueblo, Colorado.

Big Catch of Perch

Speckled perch are biting fine now and Sanford is the fisherman's Paradise for fish of all kinds. One day last week Messrs. Tyler, DeCotte and Overton and Walter Ruby of Maitland, Ky. went fishing. They fished within sight of the city dock along the shore of Lake Monroe and in four hours caught 125 pounds of speckled perch. They came in too late to have a picture made of the fish as Mr. Ruby wanted to show his Kentucky friends some Florida fishery.

Washington Musicals

The Washington musicals at the home of Mrs. Greenland on Cameron avenue Friday evening Feb. 23rd, was a complete success and surprise to the music lovers of Moore City and surrounding country. An unfortunate accident that befel the accompanist, Mrs. Curtis, on Thursday put a slight handicap on the program published, but Mrs. Greenland stepped in and filled the gap to the satisfaction of every one present. The soloists did themselves honor and received hearty encores.

The house was beautifully decorated with orange blossoms and vines, and Japanese lanterns and the American flag draped over the portrait of Mary Washington, the illustrious ancestor of the hostess, Mrs. Greenland. After a lengthy program of both vocal and instrumental music, light refreshments were served by young ladies in Washington costumes, while the guests enjoyed a social hour. A GUEST

Has New Fire Extinguisher

A new fire extinguisher has made its appearance in the city and it is bound to prove popular especially with the auto owners. It is called the Fyro and is a manipulative and throws a stream twelve feet or more with good force. Not only will the liquid extinguish any small blaze but positively will not soil the most delicate fabrics. The extinguisher can be carried on an automobile or hung up in a dwelling or store room and operated by simply turning on a small faucet. It is the best thing in a fire extinguisher on the market and can be purchased at Chalker's garage or of M. A. Miol, who will take pleasure in demonstrating the apparatus at any time.

DEEP WATER AT SMYRNA

Permanent Organization Was Formed Last Night.

PROJECT WILL BE PUSHED NOW

Other State News Items that will Interest Busy Herald Readers

Last night at New Smyrna a permanent organization was formed for the purpose of pushing the bill for an appropriation for deepening Mosquito Inlet. A large crowd was present and representatives from all the cities and towns within a radius of 150 miles were in attendance and most enthusiastic over the project.

Plans for a hotel to cost not less than $10,000 are being matured at Homestead. An acre of ground as a site for the structure, has been secured in the heart of the town.

With the finances of the board of public instruction in a shape which made the action necessary, the board at its regular meeting yesterday decided that practically every school in the county with the exception of the white city schools, will lose one month's work this spring. Lack of the necessary funds to carry on the work the full allotted time is the cause of this decision and action on the part of the board and it may be that the white schools of the city may later on have their term shortened for this same reason. Times Union.

Lubin's company of moving picture players are in St. Augustine working daily on a series of moving picture films. They are said to be producing a series of Arabian pictures and much of the most effective scenes are being produced at the Zoraya Club in that city which is furnished in beautiful Oriental settings.

The board of public works in Tampa on Tuesday awarded a contract for 5,000,000 paving brick, and 50,000 lineal feet of granite curbing.

Hastings has voted to issue improvement bonds to the value of $10,000 and the little city will expend the money on streets and for better fire protection sidewalks and paving are matters that will receive the best attention possible and real estate values will go up as the place assumes more the appearance of a well kept municipality.

Women's Clubs to Organize

Some weeks ago a representative committee was called from the various clubs of Sanford to consider the formation of a Women's Club with departments, which would include the activities which at present engage the women of Sanford. This movement has for its object the broadening of the organized work of the community, and the unifying of its interests.

This committee has brought the matter before the West Side Improvement Association, the Music Club, the Welaka Club, the Wednesday Club and the Land a Hand Club and in each organization the subject of union is being thoroughly discussed in all its bearings.

It is not the idea for any one club to absorb the other clubs. It is believed that by a more general organization, which will act as a medium for exchange of ideas, the civic and social interests of Sanford can be furthered more efficiently than by the smaller groups of women acting independently, while the cultural influences of the literary and musical study will be more far-reaching under the new plan.

The committee expects to set an early date when all the club women may assemble to consider the formation of a permanent organization. Tentative plans which are being formed, and to decide definitely whether it is wise to enter into the undertaking at present. If so decided, the Woman's Club of Sanford will go into active existence in the fall, leaving the present organizations to complete their year according to their programs.
