By Margaret Conley
The 12 street light locations in North Orlando that were designated for re-illuminating some time ago are now in service. Bob Johnson, general manager of the Florida Power Corporation, advised that the lights did not go into service as early as originally scheduled, because he had to put all his manpower into repairing the damage caused by Hurricane Dora.

However, the following street lights are now functioning: Seven on the Longwood-Orlando Road; nine on the north and south sides of the village; two centrally located in the Coronado Homes area, and one on Algiers.

Senior Citizens For Johnson Chairman Will Speak Friday

By Dottie Austin

Mrs. Margaret Collins Schweinhaut, Maryland former state senator and now national chairman of the Senior Citizens for Johnson Committee, will speak at 10:30 a.m. Friday at DeBary Civic Center.

Mrs. Schweinhaut is campaigning in Florida for the Johnson-Humphrey ticket because she "believes this election has special significance for the senior citizens of the Sunshine State."

Following her campaign speech, Mrs. Schweinhaut will lunch at DeBary Manor and then be available in the afternoon for appointments at the DeBary Manor and interested persons are advised to call NO 2-4425.

Mrs. Schweinhaut was graduated from George Washington University and the National University Law School. She was elected to the Maryland House of Delegates in 1954 and later to the State Senate. She was appointed by the late President John F. Kennedy as consultant to the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare on the problems of aging. She also has served as chairman of the Maryland State Commission on Aging, and as secretary-treasurer of the National Council of Senior Citizens.

In the Maryland State Legislature she sponsored programs for education of preschool handicapped children; for establishment of forestry camps for delinquent boys; for financial relief for families of long-term mental patients; for establishment of a children's care center and for day care centers for mentally retarded children.

In 1961 she sponsored a Senate resolution setting forth state policy against discrimination in employment by reason of age.

Mrs. Schweinhaut is the wife of a federal district judge and lives in the Washington (D. C.) suburb of Leesington, Md.

Record 92 Per Cent Vote Expected Here

By Julian Stenstrom

Election officials declared today they now believe a record 92 per cent of the registered voters will jam Seminole County's 23 precincts Tuesday.

If this prediction becomes a reality, it means that you and 21,797 others will have to have your minds made up before you enter the voting booth or be prepared to queue up for a long wait.

In fact, if you plan to vote after getting off work you might as well pack a late evening snack, take your Herald and perhaps transistor radio with you.

There are 23,829 registered voters in Seminole and qualified a disinterested qualified elector is far more difficult than locating an old campaign poster for Calvin Coolidge.

This coupled with the fact that there will be only 53 voting machines plus a little arithmetic equals problems.

Bill Tanner, chairman of the Johnson for President committee, figures it this way: "Looking at the entire county," Bill, "each of the 53 machines must handle 418 voters. There are only 720 minutes in the voting day — that is unless you're in line at 7 p.m. and this means each voter has only 16 minutes to vote."

Taking Tanner's calculations, we applied them to Seminole's precinct 1. There are 1,907 registered voters in that precinct. If all vote, the three machines must handle an average of 636 voters. If 90 per cent or 1,716 electors vote, each machine must handle an average of 572 voters.

To do it a voter must enter the booth every 1.2 minutes. The law, according to Florida statutes, permit a voter no more than five minutes in the booth to make his or her choice. If a voter takes his full five minutes, other voters had better get there early or be prepared for a long wait.

Camel Bruce, supervisor of registration, said today that at 7 p.m. a deputy will get in the voting lines. Only voters in line at that time, ahead of the deputy, are legally entitled to vote.

The largest of the county's precincts is No. 3 (at the old Home Demonstration Building at Sanford Ave. and 25th St., where 2,018 electors are qualified to vote. The second largest is No. 15 (at the Sanford Shrine Club) where there are 2,069 registered electors.

It was suggested by one County official this morning that employers make themselves committees of one to permit their employees time off to vote during the so-called slack hours which normally occur in mid-morning and mid-afternoon. This would certainly help.

Mona Grinstead Quits Council At North Orlando

By Margaret Cusby

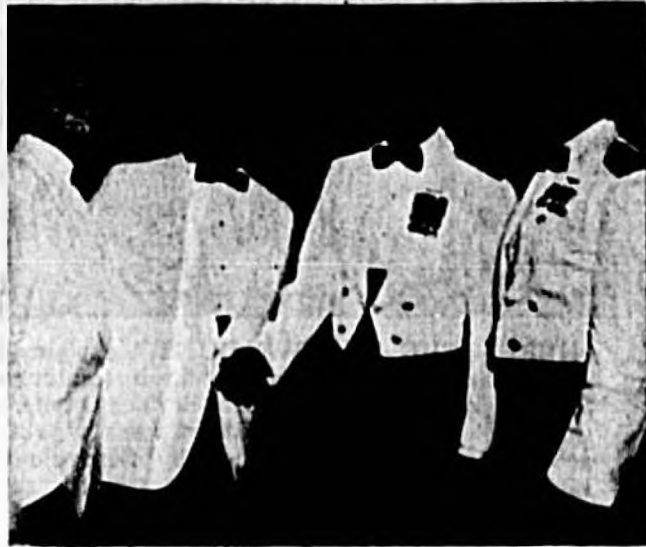

Mrs. Mona Grinstead has resigned her office as a member of the North Orlando Council, she announced today. Her resignation was due to the transfer of her husband, J. D. Grinstead, to Cocoa.

Mrs. Grinstead served as health, welfare and recreation chairman on the council and said she regrets having to leave at this time when officials are working together on many projects to benefit the entire village.

She worked as a Sanford Herald correspondent for more than three years, resigning to run for office, and edited the first regularly issued community newspaper in North Orlando, "The Newsette."

Active in community, school and civic affairs, she is a charter member of the North Orlando Garden Club and the Civic Association, taught in the summer recreation program, worked with the teenage club and was on the executive board of the Longwood Elementary School.

The Grinsteads have been residents of 41 North Third Street for the past 3 1/2 years and have three children, Duncan, eight, Timmy, five, and Patti Lou, almost two. They will make their home on Merritt Island. He has been with General Motors Acceptance Corporation in both Sanford and Orlando for more than seven years and has been transferred to the Cocoa office.

Florida For Johnson, Gov. Bryant Predicts

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant disagreed today with Democratic gubernatorial nominee Haydon Burns over which presidential candidate will get Florida's electoral vote.

Burns, mayor of Jacksonville, predicted Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP candidate, would carry Florida by a slim margin. Bryant, who has been holding back a prediction in past weeks, said he now believes Johnson would win.

Bryant, in his weekly news conference, said he would make the state by about 100,000 votes on Nov. 3. He said he reached his decision that Johnson was ahead about the time of the Southern Governor's Conference a month ago.

"It's just a general feeling," said Bryant, who also said he had been looking at polls that showed Johnson's strength was on the increase. "It's a reflection I have received—not scientific—just a feeling I have after talking to a lot of people."

On other election matters, Bryant said he would vote for most of the proposed constitutional amendments going before the people at the general election. He said his opinion was divided on the proposal to extend the road bonding power of the state for additional years. "Probably I'll vote against it, but I'm not sure," he said.

He said he probably wouldn't vote for or against a proposal to tax the first $2,000 value of Sarasota County homesteads for school purposes, exempting from property taxation the next $5,000 in valuation. Bryant said the experiment would be helpful in looking for solutions to county financing problems, but it was his usual policy not to vote on matters of a local nature to some other part of the state.

Bryant said he would support other amendments. The Governor said one reason the State Cabinet turned down a request by State GOP Chief Tom F. Brown for deputies to watch voting booths on Nov. 3 was it didn't want the state to intrude any more of its power into local voting matters. He said Brown asked for nothing from the state that the parties or the candidates themselves couldn't handle.

"Sunday Punch" BRADENTON (UPI) — Warren M. Goodrich, chairman of the Florida State Democratic executive committee, today flatly predicted a "substantial victory for the Johnson-Humphrey ticket in Florida — possibly by 150,000 votes."

The recent visit of President Johnson to Miami, Orlando and Jacksonville was credited by the chairman as "a Sunday punch that will insure a Democratic win on Nov. 3."

Directed Verdict Ordered In Citrus Fraud Trial

By Harry L. Johnson

A directed verdict of innocent in all counts except that of grand larceny was made late this morning in Circuit Court as the bombshell hit the citrus fraud trial being heard here.

Judge Tom Heasley made his decision shortly before noon today and after a morning filled with a maze of legal huddles by defense and prosecuting attorneys and in the judge's private chambers.

There was no activity in the courtroom except for the legal strategy meetings held by the opposing attorneys.

On trial is Ralph Alderman, who is alleged to have entered into a scheme which resulted in the raising of citrus test readings and which netted him thousands of dollars.

Alderman's attorneys shortly after noon had on the stand a citrus inspector, identified as S. Davis, who was showing how the citrus checks could vary in solid contents even within the same grove, the same truckload and same box.

Court was recessed until 1:30 p.m. when the defense was scheduled to continue the effort to get Alderman absolved of the last remaining charge.

He had previously been charged with grand larceny, conspiracy to commit grand larceny, bribery and two counts of conspiracy to commit bribery.

The defense request for a directed verdict was made late last night. Judge Heasley adjourned court soon after it was made and this morning continued deliberating the request in his chambers.

After nearly 3 1/2 hours, he returned to the bench and issued his verdict.

Demo Hopeful Parade Saturday A motorcade parade of Seminole County Democratic candidates will wind its way through Seminole County Saturday morning, leaving the Sanford headquarters office at the corner of First Street and Magnolia Avenue at 9 a.m.

It is expected that about 30 automobiles will join the parade and interested persons are asked to call headquarters for further information. Mrs. Betty Smith, headquarters secretary, said today that candidates may pick up their decorations and materials anytime today or Friday.

The parade route has not yet been announced but it is expected that it will wind its way through every community in the county.

Teenager Faces 3-Murder Trial CLEARWATER (UPI) — Steve Washington, 16, was ruled mentally competent by Circuit Court Judge B. J. Driver and ordered to stand trial for murder Nov. 20.

The St. Petersburg youngster is charged with the strangling of three elderly women last year. Judge Driver ruled Washington was sane after hearing testimony from two St. Petersburg psychiatrists.

Goldwater Charges 'Smear'

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — President Johnson said today that he has received a "heartening" offer of assurance from Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin that the new Russian regime will work with the West in a continuing quest for peace.

Johnson said this in a campaign speech here at the Mormon Tabernacle, and, in apparent reply to a speech made there three weeks ago in which Republican presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater blamed the administration for moral decay, Johnson told an audience of more than 8,000:

"We are all God's children and the true morality of private life is the true morality of a free society; the golden rule—do unto others as you would have others do unto you."

In telling about Kosygin's message, which arrived Monday night, Johnson declared that it was in answer to his own assurance to the Soviet Union that America's basic foreign policy "remained unchanged" despite the toppling of Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"This is a heartening response," Johnson declared. "We must not underestimate the danger of Communism—but neither should we underestimate the danger to all the world if nuclear power is unleashed and if we do not move toward peace."

"Smear" Tactics EN ROUTE WITH GOLDWATER (UPI) — Republican presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater campaigned across Pennsylvania today and accused President Johnson of using "smear" tactics. He predicted that "unhappy and disgruntled" voters will give him a stunning upset victory on Election Day.

In Lewistown, where police estimated Goldwater's train-side crowd as high as 3,000, Goldwater said the U. S. is "going downhill" all around the world while the President talks about the "get-up-early-and-vote" issue. He was referring to recent campaign comments of President Johnson.

"The President has delighted in this campaign in not discussing issues and misrepresenting my stand on the issues," Goldwater said.

Bid Rejected WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court has rejected Sen. Barry M. Goldwater's attempt to require the television networks to give him equal and free time to reply to President Johnson's recent broadcast on world affairs.

Ex-County Officer Endorses Swofford

By Donna Yates
Vernon Dunn, former county commissioner, appeared at a meeting of the Democratic campaign workers of South Seminole County Tuesday evening at Altamonte Springs to state his full support and endorsement of W. Lawrence Swofford to the office of county commissioner.

He said that he had known Swofford for eight years and served with him on the county commission and respected him for his ability, honesty, and integrity.

Swofford, in a short talk to the group, said that he is running on a record that is open to the people of Seminole County and one endorsed by the people of Altamonte Springs and Seminole County for the past 17 years.

Other candidates appearing included Jim Birkenmeyer, who reported that properties had been acquired in North Orlando, Weathersfield and Orlando for the future needs of the school system. He said that surveys indicate 30,000 students will be in Seminole schools by 1970.

Al Davis, candidate for justice of the peace, urged the candidates' supporters to work hard and not just sit back and hope the voters will come out.

Miss Anna Krepel Area Guest

By Margaret Cosby

Mr. and Mrs. Jakob Harich, 31 South Cortez Ave., North Orlando, are delighted to be entertaining Miss Anna Krepel of Philadelphia for a few weeks.

Elizabeth Harich and Anna are cousins and met for the first time in Pennsylvania this past summer when the Hariches visited their former home in Pottstown. Elizabeth also met her 72-year-old Aunt Anna for the first time. It was a joyous union and, surprisingly enough, within minutes, they all felt as though they had known each other intimately for years.

Anna's mother, however, was somewhat disappointed as she had hoped that Elizabeth would surprise her with a visit from her (Anna's) brother whom she had not seen since she left Rumania almost 50 years ago. Elizabeth's father is still in Reuil, near Stuttgart, Germany and they are anxiously anticipating a visit from him in the spring.

CHRIS AND GEORGE BAUMAN at birthday dinner party given for Chris at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Zeller in DeBary.

Mrs. George Bauman Honored

By Margaret Cosby

Mr. and Mrs. George Zeller, 30 Sanford Ave., DeBary, recently gave a small dinner party to celebrate the birthday of Mrs. George Bauman.

Chris and George Bauman have recently come to DeBary from Rockville Centre, N. Y., and are anxiously awaiting completion of their custom-built home on Enterprise Road. Until the time for getting settled arrives, the Zellers are showing them around and introducing them to their friends and the various organizations.

George is a retired printer and was active in the Masons and Shrine, and the Oceanside Fire Department Band. Chris is an Eastern Star.

Homemakers

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson

From one of our readers of "The Corner" I received not only a recipe but a sample, too. Wasn't that nice? I must say that the sample was simply delicious and I certainly thank Mrs. Charles (Gladys) Carlson for the sample and recipe. So here it is and be sure to try it. I think you can still find a few of the permutations around. She got hers from her tree.

PERSIMMON CAKE

- 2 1/2 cups sugar
- 1 1/4 cups shortening
- 3 eggs
- 2 1/2 cups plain flour
- 2 tps. soda
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 2 tbsps. allspice
- 3 tps. cinnamon
- 2 cups nuts
- 2 cups raisins
- 2 cups persimmons (4 large ones, mashed)
- Mix nuts and raisins with 2 tps. flour and set aside. Mix sugar and shortening. Add eggs and mix well. Add dry ingredients which have been sifted together. Add nuts and raisins. Add persimmons last and mix well. Bake in tube pan 275 degrees for 2 hours.

Someone asked for a Pumpkin Chiffon Cake recipe. I found this one which sounds very good.

PUMPKIN CHIFFON CAKE

- 2 cups sifted cake flour
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 3 tps. baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/2 tsp. each of cloves, nutmeg
- 1/2 cup vegetable oil
- 8 egg yolks
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup canned or fresh pumpkin
- 1/2 tsp. cream of tartar
- 1 cup (8) egg whites
- Sift dry ingredients into mixing bowl; make well in center. Add in order, vegetable oil, egg yolks, water, pumpkin. Beat real smooth. Add cream of tartar to egg whites and beat very stiff. Pour egg yolk batter over the whites and blend. Bake in ungreased 10-inch tube pan in slow, 325 degree, oven for 55 minutes, then increase to 350 degrees and bake 10 minutes longer. Frost with favorite frosting.

GRAPE, PEAR AND CELERY SALAD

- 1 1/2 cups seedless grapes
- 2 pears, diced
- 2 celery hearts, sliced
- 1 cream dressing
- lettuce
- additional grapes
- Combine grapes, pears and celery hearts. Toss with the dressing. (Recipe below). Wash the head of lettuce and shake dry. Cut out the center with a sharp knife to form a hole. Fill with the fruit salad. Too add color put the additional grapes around the lettuce or any other fruit you wish. This will serve 4.

CREAM DRESSING

- 1/2 cup heavy cream
- 3 tps. mayonnaise
- 1 tsp. grated orange rind
- Whip the cream, add mayonnaise and orange rind. Blend thoroughly.

Here are some more "hunters' recipes."

FRIED RABBIT

- salt
- paprika
- flour
- rabbis
- bread or cracker crumbs
- melted butter
- sour cream, 1/2 cup milk
- 1 egg (more if needed)
- Clean rabbits and cut meat into small pieces. Sprinkle lightly with paprika, salt and flour. Beat 1/2 cup of milk together with egg. Dip portions of rabbit into mixture, roll in crumbs. Melt 1/2 cup butter in skillet and heat very hot. Brown meat in this and add 1/2 cup water, cover and place in 325 degree oven. Cook until tender. Use thickened drippings for gravy, add sour cream if you like. If you use more than one rabbit, increase ingredients as required.

We have a request for a repeat of the Venison Roast we had in last year's column. This hunter says he expects to get a deer and he wants to have the recipe "ready." Here it is. I tried this last year on a guest of ours visiting us from Indiana, and he certainly enjoyed it.

VENISON ROAST

- 4 lbs. venison roast (leg, loin or saddle)
- 1/2 lb. sliced bacon
- juice of 2 lemons
- 1/2 lb. butter
- 1/2 cup worcestershire sauce
- Venison is a lean roast and needs extra fat in cooking. Rub the roast with salt and pepper, and wrap in bacon slices and roast at 275 degrees for about 2 hours. Use an uncovered pan. Allow 25 minutes to the pound. Melt the butter, add lemon juice and worcestershire sauce and baste the venison with this frequently while cooking. When the meat is almost done, increase the oven to 450 degrees to brown the roast.

Here's a party confection idea.

HONEY-NUT CRINKLES

- 1 jar (1 lb.) honey (1 1/2 cups)
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1 bottle 7-Up (7 oz.)
- 1 tsp. salt
- 5 cups crisp rice cereal

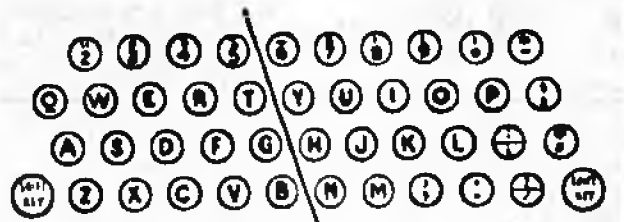

Corner

- 2 cups broken pecan halves
- 2 cups walnuts
- 2 cups blanched toasted whole almonds

Combine honey, brown sugar, 7-Up and salt in a heavy deep saucepan. Cook on low heat, stirring until sugar dissolves. Bring to a boil and cook gently to the hard-crack stage (205, candy thermometer). Place cereal and nuts in a large buttered bowl. Pour syrup in a fine stream over cereal-nut mixture, stirring until mixture is evenly coated. Quickly drop by heaping teaspoonfuls onto a well greased platter or baking sheet; or with well-greased hands, shape into 1 inch balls. Cool. Makes 4 1/2 dozen confections.

Ghost Burgers for Halloween.

- This recipe will serve 6.
- GHOST BURGERS
- 6 sliced sandwich buns
- 6 cooked hamburger patties
- 12 (1 oz.) slices processed cheese
- On each bun half, place a hamburger patty. Cut faces from cheese slices and place one over each hamburger. Place bun halves on a cookie sheet and heat in a moderate oven for 1 or 2 minutes, or until cheese starts to soften.

Miss Barrett Honor Guest Of Bridal Shower

By Maryann Miles
Mrs. Harry Williamson of Forest City and Mrs. Charles Barrett of New Smyrna Beach gave a shower in honor of Miss Cathy Barrett, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Harold Barrett of Winter Park, recently.

Miss Barrett will be married Thursday Oct. 29 to James Wiley Pittman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wiley Pittman, Sr. of Orlando. The wedding will take place at the Orlando Air Force Base, where Miss Barrett's father is stationed.

The Williamsons' and Barretts' lived in the same apartment when the two men were stationed in Germany.

For the miscellaneous bridal shower, the dining room table was set with a Swiss embroidered cloth. The center piece was a bouquet of salmon pink roses, with long sprays of ivy outlining the setting. The 40 guests were served Irish coffee, which was served in footed glass tumblers which were imported from Ireland. The guests were also served Irish coffee cake. Mrs. Williamson said they all acquired a taste for the Irish coffee and cake over in Germany also, the guests enjoyed individual little petit fours.

A number of the guests were friends whom the family knew over in Germany, and are now stationed in the area.

Miss Barrett is presently employed at the Base Post Exchange and Mr. Pittman, Jr. is with his father in the citrus business.

The young couple have a home ready in the Conway subdivision.

Study Guide Assists Pupils Before Testing

High school students worried about their college entrance exams have received a helping hand from an encyclopedia publisher.

A study guide and examination program, prepared by Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc., is designed to help prepare students for the college tests.

"Based on selected readings in the Britannica, the series consists of seven study guides and a user's manual," a company spokesman said. "The study guides and sample college entrance examinations will help a student to evaluate his own progress and needs in any of the seven areas."

Five of the guides are devoted to organized review of high level courses in chemistry, physics, mathematics, biology, and social studies. The other two cover reading comprehension and mathematical aptitudes.

The guides concentrate on fundamentals and their application and provide reading suggestions and review questions. "Authors of the guides are high school teachers and college instructors whose experience has included heavy responsibility for first-year college courses," the spokesman said.

"With two exceptions, they all have served as members of the committee of examiners of the College Entrance Examination Board," he said.

All of the examinations are aptitude tests which will be scored by an independent

Program Trains Blind Persons

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—A program to train blind persons to operate computers for pay has started at the University of Cincinnati Medical Center.

The initial class of 12 includes one student who is deaf as well as blind. The program was proven effective last year when two blind persons were trained and placed in jobs.

Dr. Theodor D. Sterling, director of the Medical Computing Center, said a blind person has an "advantage in programming for computers, due to his highly trained memory and acquired ability to orient himself and physical objects in any unseen environment."

"The blind person may be superior to a sighted person of equal intelligence in writing and analyzing of complex programs," he said.

The program is supported by a four-year grant of $240,000 from the Vocational Rehabilitation Administration of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Birthday Party Fetes Pennie Glazier

By Joann Mays
Pennie was the theme of a party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Glazier in Geneva. The party was in honor of their young daughter, Pennie, who was seven on Oct. 24. The clever invitations sent to each guest read, "A Penny Party for Pennie." The words Penny and Pennie were omitted and in their place Mrs. Glazier placed a coin.

The invitations gave the time of the party as 2 p.m. and the guests began arriving at this time. Under the watchful eye of Pennie's older sister, the children spent an hour playing, but were not willing to wait any longer for they knew what awaited them inside the house. Before Mrs. Glazier could yell for help the little girls were inside the house playing with her to eat.

Pennie's gifts were not opened, so this had to be taken care of first, and she went to work on the many gifts without any encouragement from anyone. Pennie received many lovely gifts but the one that won the hearts of all present was a small puppy. This was a gift from Pennie's parents and she named the pup Blanche. Following the opening of the gifts, the cake, a most unique two-layer cake, which was decorated with edible pennies, punch and ice cream were served to the guests.

PENNIE GLAZIER (holding puppy) and some of her friends are shown at a party celebrating her seventh birthday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Glazier in Geneva.

The program before lunch was presented by Mrs. R. E. Miegel of Titusville, who gave a complete history of the National Organization, including many Memorials which had been placed.

After the luncheon which was served from a beautifully appointed table decorated with quantities of vari-colored biscuits, Mrs. Laurel B. Hobbes of Jacksonville, National Chairman of the Ghent Committee, showed beautiful pictures that she had taken while a visitor in Ghent, Belgium. These pictures included houses where negotiations took place, and the building where the Ghent Treaty of Peace was signed by the United States and Great Britain on December 24th, 1814. A Plaque, commemorating this event has been placed by the City of Ghent and the United States Daughters of 1812, in the building where the Treaty was signed.

Twenty-nine members and friends attended from Titusville, Jacksonville, Sanford, Mt. Dora, Clermont, Tangerine, Edgewater, Eustis, Maitland, Winter Park and Orlando.

Rushes Entertained With A Gypsy Caravan Dinner

The home of Mrs. Art (Kay) Lee was the scene of the Gypsy Caravan Dinner Party held recently by the members of Theta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi in honor of their Rushes. The gay evening was further enhanced by the original and colorful gypsy costumes worn by the girls.

The hostess cleverly decorated her living room to represent a gypsy camp site. The decor also included a large iron kettle situated in the center of the room from which a delicious beef stew was served to the girls. Mrs. Kiazane, mother of the hostess, Kay Lee, entertained the rushes by reading tea leaves and telling their fortunes. Kay Lee displayed a definite talent in Palmistry for the other girls.

Following the festivities, the group held a business meeting conducted by president Joanne Bohannon.

It was announced that the Chapter would embark upon a new Ways and Means project. The girls are planning to hold a drawing for a Schwinn Bike for Christmas. The drawing will take place in downtown Sanford on Friday night, December 18th at 9:00 P.M.

Guests for the evening were: Mrs. Walter (Joanne) Gardner, Mrs. Pat Helm, Mrs. Don (Mary Jane) Pope, Mrs. A. D. (Irene) Laney and Mrs. Michael (Sylvia) Pickering.

Members attending were: Mrs. Walter (Joanne) Bohannon, Mrs. Stern (Sherry) Bolte, Mrs. Don (Jan) Cahill, Mrs. Al (Sharon) Davis, Mrs. Bob (Barbara) Dekle, Mrs. Jack (Betty) Erickson, Mrs. Bob (Jo) Kuhlke, Mrs. Tom (Pat) Larsen, Mrs. Art (Kay) Lee, Mrs. Paul (Betty) Lewis, Mrs. Bob (Betty) McKee, Mrs. Randy (Nancy) Reynolds, Mrs. Faye Stetson and Mrs. Rick (Mona) Walker.

BAKED HOT DOGS

hot dogs (1 lb. serves 4) ketchup corn flake crumbs

Cut the surface of the hot dogs slightly. If you wish you may use wooden skewers to insert in one end. Roll each hot dog in the ketchup, then roll them real good in the corn flake crumbs. Line a shallow baking pan with aluminum foil. Place the "dogs" on the foil. Don't place them too close together. Bake them for about 15 minutes.

MINCEMEAT MUFFINS

Combine 2 cups biscuit mix and 1/4 cup moist mincemeat in mixing bowl. Add 1 egg and 1 bottle (7 oz.) 7-Up all at once; mix until well blended. Spoon into greased muffin cups, filling 3/4 full. Bake in 400 degree oven for 15-20 minutes. Makes 12 muffins.

Use vegetable shortening or lard when greasing pans to keep food from boiling over.

Cattle On Cactus Diet During Drought

SANTA FE, N. M. (UPI) — That was when tales of early Spanish settlers in New Mexico were recalled. The stories said the settlers gathered cactus during heavy snows, burned off the spines and fed the pulp to cattle.

It all began with the still-remembered drought of 1935. Cattle were dying in New Mexico by the thousands because the grass was gone. Water was only a memory. Cactus was the only living plant that covered the parched ground.

The hungry cattle tried to eat the cactus, but often they died of punctured intestines.

But Pino's methods were modern. Armed with blowtorches, his cowboys burned off the spines. To Pino's delight, his livestock actually began to gain weight. He found that one acre of grass land, grown over with cactus, would feed five head of cattle for five months. During the drought, it took 35 acres of grass alone for one cow.

Pino's practice caught on in the state. Other ranchers began feeding cattle prickly pear cactus and even Spanish dagger or Yucca.

The blowtorch used by the cowboys really is a type of flame thrower which uses kerosene. A five-gallon can is filled with kerosene and a long rubber hose is connected. The kerosene is forced through the hose under pressure and ignited through a long-mounted nozzle at the end.

Grass still is the preferred feed by ranchers in New Mexico. But in severe drought years, such as this one, the blowtorches are brought out again.

Southside Shudders

By Spook Spook
A beauty shop just like Mommie's, almost will be among the many attractions at the Southside School annual Halloween Carnival Friday night.

Spook Bobby Reeves reports that this one will be so professional it will feature hairdressers that "won't tell." Just to make sure of this, Bobby has arranged to have real, live operators who not only "won't tell" but will make your little miss a real glamour puss.

On hand in the beauty shops will be Helen Smith, Dawn Kiddy and Mrs. Phillip Boyd. In addition to this, Bobby sent a message via the hats, that each patron of the beauty shops will be given her own tube of lipstick. This big attraction will be set up in one of the class rooms.

What's a carnival without the chant of an auctioneer. Well, Susie doesn't know but just to make sure that Southside has a complete carnival, Head Spook Bud Rawls has arranged to have one on hand. The auction will be held in connection with the country store, so just follow the crowd.

Oh, and if any of you are missing some of your old hats, don't think some ghost got them. Probably they'll appear at the Hat booth, where Mrs. Welsie Dominey will be in charge. Hang on to your hats, folks, the dart board is just a few steps away!

Then too there'll be those funny clowns hawking balloons, birds and pandas. The spirits tell, too, of scrumptious pony rides and a merry-go-round, and homemade cakes and coffee.

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: Although I read your column regularly, I missed your letter criticizing the clergyman for asking the prospective bride if she were pregnant or not. However, if the letters which appeared from some clergymen today are representative of the Protestant clergy, I am ashamed to be numbered among them. Any clergyman who performs 556 marriages in one year, unless he has a congregation of 6000 or more members, is not a clergyman, but an operator of a marriage mill, and can expect the abnormality he reports. I am aware, of course, that some brides are pregnant. But the number of brides who are NOT pregnant is so far in the majority that a clergyman can assume that she is not. Neither I, nor any pastor of my acquaintance, has ever felt the necessity to ask a bride routinely if she is pregnant. Should I be the only one to uphold your right to criticize the clergyman for having asked that question, please let me know so I can update my conscience. Sincerely yours, REVEREND D.

DEAR REVEREND D.: No need to update your conscience. It is as modern as tomorrow. Because so many people wrote at first to say, "Shame on you," than "Good for you," I pulled in my claws. But in the final tabulation, more readers agreed with you.

DEAR ABBY: I wonder how many women are not on speaking terms with their daughters and daughter-in-law because they had the nerve to say NO as I did when asked to baby-sit with my grandchildren? This generation of grandchildren is wild and uncontrollable, and it is an exhausting job to run after them. Well, I'm too old for that sort of nonsense, and I said so. I refuse to buy my children's affection by looking after THEIR children while they do all the things I would like to have done but couldn't because I was too busy raising THEM.

PHILADELPHIAN
DEAR ABBY: I am at my wit's end trying to decide how to handle this problem. I have a cousin who is 50, unmarried, and employed by a well-known religious organization. She lives in a large city and comes to visit me every few months for a week-end. She was always quite careless about her person, but each time she visits me she's worse. She has been here during the hottest spells without taking a bath once! I have hinted that have plenty of hot water, but I got nowhere. When she leaves, the room she occupied smells to high heaven. It nearly kills me to have such a sloppy, dirty creature in my home. And I know it isn't fair to my family. She has always been one of my favorite relatives, but I can't take any more of this. What can I do without hurting her feelings?

COUNTRY COUSIN
DEAR COUSIN: Forget her feelings and think of her future. One of these days she'll lose her job unless someone tells her how offensive her carelessness is. If you truly like her, for HER sake, tell her.

Highlights

TV Time's Show of the Night: 10-11 p.m. ABC. Jimmy Dean Show. Grandpa Jones, one of the best of today's country-western singers, almost steals the show with his inspired interpretations of "Good Ole Mountain Dew" and "Eight More Miles to Louisville" and when he joins Jimmy and Molly Bee on "Old Dan Tucker" the show really sizzles. Other high spots include Jimmy's "Singin' the Blues" and "Remember Me," the Cassey Singers' "San Francisco Bay Blues" and Molly Bee's "Invisible Tears." Also on hand, for them as likes 'em, are Johnny Tullison and Rowlf, and there are laughs from the ever-reliable Don Adams.

8:30-9:30 p.m. NBC. Dr. Kildare. "The Sound of a Far-away Hill." A standard situation for this and all other

9-9:30 p.m. ABC. Bewitched. "The Witches Are Out." A timely comedy, about Halloween, with Shelley Berman appearing as a good comedy villain. He's a candy manufacturer whose ad campaign is unfair to real witches.

10-11 p.m. CBS. The Defenders. "The Man Who." This is what is known as a timely drama. Ernie Kinoy's script has Lawrence Preston (E. G. Marshall) stepping in as an emergency candidate for congress when the man who's supposed to run has a stroke. But, since it's close to election, Preston finds himself being molded to fit the already plotted campaign instead of being able to create his own.

10-11 p.m. NBC. Perry Como (Season Premiere) Perry debuts his season with an hour "live" from Detroit and with a cast of supporting entertainers calculated to make this another successful kickoff to another successful year.

Horoscope Forecast

Friday, October 20, 1964
GENERAL TENDENCIES: You find all kinds of sudden and unpredictable events can occur that will require much attention to all details, and NO going off on any tangent whatever, or you can have some very difficult events follow for you. Take time out to show you are conscientious in doing for those less fortunate than you.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Be sure you buy the mechanical devices that equip you better for the important work at hand. Also listen to good suggestions from fellow workers. Excellence of output determines amount of success.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) It is better to accept any opportunities that suddenly arise for amusement, rather than try to plan ahead. Dress nicely. Show that you are a most desirable and capable person.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Anything connected with home and family can be handled so that everyone will be pleased. Know how to maintain a fine financial equilibrium. Make small investments that are safe, sure.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Getting reports, correspondence, business appointments properly handled is relatively easy today. New outlets are also fascinating. However, they require more study on your part.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) Before you jump into new endeavor that will increase income, be sure to first consult with some fine expert. Make improvements to property that are necessary. Budget more intelligently.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) It is important that you are more broad-minded if you want to have success in those new interests upon which you are to embark. Take health treatments you need. See that you are in top condition.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Looking for data that will make present operations more profitable is best way to spend part of this day. Officials give confidential advice. See that you keep it that way.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You have many good friends who are in the mood to be of assistance, provided you state your desires simply, honestly. Avoid the social in PM. There is an element of strangeness then.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Getting support from higher-ups requires that you do something in return for favors. Your finest opportunity can bring fame. Be very circumspect, high-minded.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) Forget whatever is out-moded now and concentrate on the new, the modern, for best results. Your sign has the most power at this time. Make the most of your friendly planet.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) Carrying through with work at hand efficiently, and then studying new interests is best for today. Pay particular attention to detail. Success will increase.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) Arguments may arise in dealing with associates, but you can solve matters very nicely just the same. Don't try to handle things alone. Double harness brings real progress.

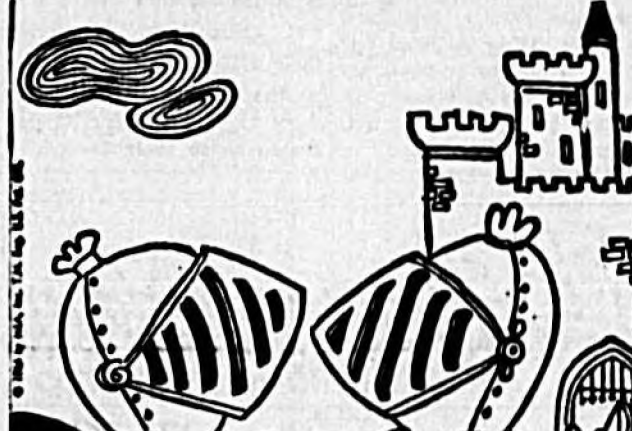

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be one of those very orderly, clean persons everyone likes to have around, even from the very earliest age. However, you must early teach to give more attention to the big issues of life, otherwise your fine progeny can get bogged down with the mere essentials and not make the big time, or progress indicated in this interesting chart.

"The Stars Impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Armed Forces Pushing For Traffic Laws

Armed Forces in Florida, including Sanford Naval Air Station, have endorsed and are pushing for the passage of five proposed traffic safety laws during the next session of the State Legislature.

The endorsement came at a recent Armed Forces-State of Florida traffic safety workshop in Tampa.

Capt. C. W. Swanson, Sanford Naval Air Station commanding officer, stated at a safety conference at the base that the military is not only endorsing the new traffic safety proposals but is taking every opportunity to put them before the public and to push for their passage.

The station conference was attended by station, city, county, and state law enforcement officials.

Briefly the five proposed laws are:

1. A mandatory seat belt law which would require 1965 and subsequent models of motor vehicles to be equipped with seat safety belts.

2. Re-examination of drivers involved in accidents where there has been bodily injury or property damage in excess of $300.

3. A motor vehicle inspection law which would provide that this inspection program be turned over to the Florida Highway Patrol and handled with existing personnel and facilities without additional cost.

4. A good Samaritan law providing that doctors and others of the healing sciences which render in good faith emergency care to persons in motor vehicle accidents would not be held liable for rendering such care.

5. An implied consent law would provide that any person operating a motor vehicle is deemed to have given consent to a chemical test of his blood if arrested while driving.

Sen. Mack Cleveland Will Speak At Farm Bureau Dedication Meet

Sen. Mack Cleveland will officially dedicate the Seminole County Farm Bureau office on Hwy. 17-92, South of Sanford at 5 p. m. Friday.

Cleveland replaces Rep. Syd. Herlong, who was originally scheduled to appear.

Farm Bureau President Joe Baker has announced that following the dedication ceremonies, the annual barbecue dinner will be served, with Cleveland as guest speaker.

The new office building is about five miles south of Sanford, across the highway from the County Agricultural Center (the site of the former county home).

Farm Bureau members are invited to attend and bring a prospective member with them.

8 Candidates Outline Abilities

Candidates of both parties running for office in Tuesday's election appeared at the meeting of the Seminole County Classroom Teachers Association at Lyman High School.

Ernest Conley was moderator and candidates speaking were S. J. Davis Jr., Democrat and Dr. Robert Hoover, Republican, state representative; W. Lawrence Swofford, Democrat and E. Pope Bassett, Republican, for county commissioner; Mary Earle Walker, Democrat, and Guy Allen, Republican, for tax assessor; and Jim Birkenmeyer, Democrat, and Walter Hoberg, Republican, for the school board.

Leading off the program was Swofford, who stated that he had spent 17 years in office in municipal and county government and would be a full-time commissioner, if elected.

Bassett stated that he is a lifetime resident of the county, and, if elected, would devote whatever time necessary for the office of commissioner.

Davis stated that the man elected for the House of Representatives should be able to work in harmony with the state Democratic leadership and pledged to continue working for better education.

Hoover said that 100 per cent evaluation of property statewide is necessary and feels that the state needs the constitutional limit of 20 mills.

Mrs. Walker pledged to maintain the present program and level of assessment, if re-elected. Her opponent, Allen, stated that voters must decide between principal and political expediency, socialism and self respect in the election.

In his bid for re-election to the school board, Birkenmeyer stated that Seminole has the best education for the least money in the state and listed his past experience on the school board and board of trustees. Hoberg, a professor at Orlando Junior College, for the past seven years, stressed the need for a trade school and school for retarded children.

Robin Hill Community Opened

Robin Hill, the community designed for "tension-free living," is now under construction and its first home following completion of the streets, curbs, drainage and water installation.

Sandler Homes, who are the exclusive builders in this new development, broke ground last week for a home for Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Marchand, in an informal ceremony at the site. Norman R. Sandler, building firm president, turned the first shovel of ground.

Several more homes have been sold for this exclusive and highly restricted area with construction to start in the very near future. In addition, work is progressing on the design and installation of an unusual entranceway, parkway and home planning center.

Robin Hill, consisting of about 40 acres of rolling, tree studded land, is located for easy access to both the great

Record Of Achievement

According to the Legislative Reorganization Act, the U.S. Congress is required to adjourn each year by July 31, except in time of emergency or unless Congress provides otherwise.

Since the law was passed in 1946, it has been a rare session that Congress has not found it necessary to provide otherwise. In 1963, the first session of the 88th Congress worked right up to Dec. 30, only a week before the second session was to convene. This year, only the impending elections spurred the congressmen to quit as early as they did.

As government and the times we live in become increasingly complex, year-long Congresses may well become the rule.

Longevity, however, is not necessarily equivalent to productivity. In 1963, the one distinguishing accomplishment of the legislative branch was the Senate's ratification of the nuclear test ban treaty. The only major bills passed were aid programs to colleges, nursing schools and mental health. President Kennedy's two urgent concerns—the tax cut and civil rights—were locked in committee.

This year it was a different story. The list of important legislation enacted by the 88th Congress, Second Session, is long and includes:

The $10-billion income tax cut, the civil rights law, aid to urban mass transit, the federal pay raise, the anti-poverty program, extension of the food stamp plan, the wilderness bill. On the debit side, Congress failed to take any action on such long-standing matters as:

Setting up a basic—and enforced—code of ethical behavior for congressmen. In the wake of the Bobby Baker scandal, the solons postponed the disagreeable job by creating a commission to study the whole area of government ethics for a couple of years.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Campaign with Sen. Barry Goldwater for any fair length of time and you begin to be struck by a major irony.

That irony is that one of the facets of his public performance which most accounted for his winning the Republican nomination now looms as his biggest obstacle to election.

Goldwater, despite a reserved speaking style, is the master of the extravagant attack — and millions of Republicans have a special love for the punishing assault. Yet this very extravagance is the source of the senator's difficulties with many voters.

Having watched political audiences for a generation, this reporter feels safe in saying that Republicans, uniquely, find intense pleasure in hearing the Democratic opposition torn to pieces.

Goldwater, more than any other Republican in the last 30 years, suits this appetite for fire and brimstone.

Listening to him in this campaign, highly charged partisans applaud only perfunctorily when he unravels a calm argument on some such subject as defense spending. But the hall explodes when he says of the Johnson administration:

"They have a wishbone where they need a backbone." Goldwater's listeners plainly love best the weapons of scorn and ridicule, which he is adept at using. They hoot derisively at the mere mention of the names of leading Democrats, from President

Nothing was done to curb the mail-order of guns to anyone with the purchase price. Senator Dodd of Connecticut, the one-man backer of a gun-control bill, can be expected to reintroduce it in the 89th Congress.

Although the Senate passed a proposed Constitutional amendment dealing with presidential disability, the House took no action. The House was also silent on Medicare, after a bill was passed by the Senate.

There was also the fiasco of trying to nullify the ruling of the Supreme Court on state voting district reapportionment, then trying to orate it into going away and finally begging the court for more time, which it had already granted.

Potomac pundits have explanations for the remarkable difference between the first and second halves of the 88th Congress:

The abeyance of partisan politics following the assassination of President Kennedy, which carried over into the honeymoon period usually allowed a new president; the solidifying of the Democrats behind the President because it was an election year; and perhaps the most important element year; and perhaps the most important element of all, Lyndon Johnson's masterful touch on the delicate chords of Congress which, if not handled correctly, produce more dissonance than sweet harmony.

At any rate, both the candidates and the electorate definitely have a "do-something" Congress to talk about this campaign.

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There is an old Watusi proverb that translates into something like this: "A successful man is one who earns more than his wife spends."

Step up and shake hands with a total failure. My case is so hopeless I am even beyond redemption by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. But never let it be said that I gave up without a struggle.

When I learned that the department had published a new pamphlet called "A Guide to Budgeting for the Young Couple," I ordered a copy right away.

Considering the shape it is in, you might be wondering how the Agriculture Department qualifies to offer budgetary advice. I wondered that myself.

You also might be wondering what budgetary advice for young couples has to do with agriculture. I wondered about that, too.

And finally you might be wondering why anyone who has been married 15 years would order a budget guide for young couples.

All I can say in regard to any of these curiosities is that I was desperate. When you are grasping at straws, you don't challenge the haystack's credentials.

Anyway, I obtained a copy of the pamphlet and looked it over as I was going under for the third time. "Newlyweds are often more romantic than factual about what it actually costs to run a household," the pamphlet says.

"Your views on what you can afford may be a little unrealistic at first."

That is true enough, so far as it goes. But it neglects to point out that the longer you stay married, the less romantic and the more unrealistic your views become.

"The solution to money problems is not necessarily more money," the pamphlet says.

Hah! The Agriculture Department should meet my wife. She has never yet had a money problem that couldn't be solved by more money.

Only on one point does the pamphlet set forth what I regard as practical advice. This relates to couples who have cut expenses all they "can or are willing to do" and who still have more commitments than they "can reasonably expect to pay for in the future."

When that happens, the pamphlet says, "you may want to consider ways of increasing your income."

That is a capital idea, and so is the pamphlet's suggestion that "you might be able to make some hobby or talent pay off."

I have already decided how to increase my income through some hobby or talent. I plan to write a pamphlet called "A Guide to Budgeting for the Agriculture Department."

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Claude brings out a widespread complaint of both men and women so read his case carefully. Then add it to your scrapbook or mail it to friends whose attention is likely to become focused WITHIN their epidermis. Don't become preoccupied with your "innards!"

George W. Crane, Fr. D. M. D. CASE U-416: Claude R., aged 42, has a common problem.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I am almost crazy with frustration."

"For last week I was lying on my pillow, ready to go to sleep."

"Then I suddenly became aware of a steady ringing in my ears. And it got much worse as I began to focus my attention on it."

"Since then, I keep hearing this steady humming all the time. I can't quit paying attention to it."

"Am I going deaf or crazy or what?"

Ignore Your "Innards" As long as our attention is focused on things or people outside our skin, we usually stay well adjusted.

But as soon as we begin to analyze our "innards," then watch out!

For the mere paying attention to an organ or an ache or pain will quickly magnify its intensity.

You may thus sleep contentedly beside a loudly ticking alarm clock for years without even noticing its ticking.

But if something focuses your attention on that clock, then it looms so loud that you may need to move it outside your bedroom.

As regards ringing in the ears, that is a normal noise in healthy people.

And the humming is much like the electrical noise when you put a telephone receiver to your ear.

For there is always a steady ringing noise or crackling in such an electrical circuit, unless the phone is "dead."

If you then focus on that electrical hum, you may doubt if it will ever be possible for you to hear the voice of the other person on the far end of the circuit.

But as soon as that individual says "Hello," you get so interested in the conversation that you entirely forget about the basic hum of the wires.

That's what usually happens to the steady ringing in our ears.

If we focus on the outside voices, bird calls or musical instruments giving off their typical sounds, we instantly forget the steady hum of our hearing mechanism.

Alas, Claude has become neurotic about his hearing so he is now focussing WITHIN his ear instead of projecting his attention upon the outside world.

Sometimes Meniere's disease will cause an abnormal ringing of the ears, but Claude's case is purely the neurotic type.

Many other folks also get so preoccupied with their bifocals that they begin to focus on the glasses instead of looking THROUGH them at the beauties of external reality.

And many dental patients likewise become so preoccupied with the "feel" of their new dentures that they also focus WITHIN their mouths, instead of looking out at the savory foods on the table.

Note this old poem that illustrates the hazard of paying too much attention to the mechanics of hearing, eating, seeing or even walking:

"The centipede was happy quite Until the toad, in fun, Asked which leg followed after which. This raised him up to such a pitch He lay quite prostrate in the ditch. Inquiring how to run!"

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Sanford Herald, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

The Anchor Club of Seminole High School is sponsoring a "Get Out the Vote" campaign Saturday. The girls will be in the downtown area wearing "sandwich signs" urging every registered voter to go to the polls on Nov. 3. In addition each girl will telephone 20 people reminding them of the election and offering aid as babysitters.

There's Halloween fun going on all over the place this weekend. Southside School is having a carnival Friday night and Saturday night there will be school carnivals at Osteen, Oviedo and at Wilson School. In Longwood the fire department is sponsoring a Halloween fete for Longwood youngsters in the city park.

Despite all that is going on—final campaigning, Halloween parties, football game—you'll be sorry if you don't find some time somewhere to slip over to the Civic Center and spend a little time going through the exhibits there. You'll be amazed!

You can tell the political race is coming down to the wire—in one county race, partisan spectators have come to the boeing and beehing stage. Saturday is kids' day at the Conservation Exhibit at the Civic Center—take them—they'll be fascinated and so will you. Besides the static displays there'll be Walt Disney movies.

Mrs. Cami Bruce, Seminole County's supervisor of registration, will discuss voting procedures from 11 until 11:30 a.m. Monday during a special program on WTRR.

We didn't mean to confuse you good Geneva people by the precinct listing in Thursday's Herald wasn't right. Precinct 6 is in Geneva Community Hall, not Oviedo as reported.

They were squeezing oranges in the county courtroom the other day. The task was to demonstrate the use of a device in measuring the solids in the juice. Circuit Judge Thomas A. Beasley watched the proceedings for a few minutes, then reached forward, grabbed a paper cup and commented that he'd probably enjoy a taste. Didn't get it.

The episode is one of several instituted by the DuFurak Springs Jurist here to conduct a Circuit Court trial and shows how he lives up to even the most rigid of courts. He's a stickler for efficiency and seeks constantly to expedite proceedings in a judicious manner but still retains the ability to ease tensions with an appropriate word.

Things we didn't know till now. West First Street becomes Gertrude Street and finally Highway 46 as you travel west.

Did you ever wonder what you'd do if you stepped on a snake? Ask Mrs. Helen McGill of Geneva. Wednesday night she stepped off the front porch and onto a 20-inch coral snake. She was wearing sandals. The snake wrapped itself around Mrs. McGill's ankle as she hopped back into the house where her husband, Ray, killed the reptile with a board and a hammer. She wasn't bitten, but it's a wonder!

Correction

The advertisement carried in Wednesday's edition of The Herald by Public Markets indicated that the "Customers Bonus" mixing bowl offer was good at both the Sanford and Casselberry stores. The offer, however, is good only at the Public Market in the newly opened Sanford Plaza.

Ralph Alderman Held Not Guilty By Local Jury

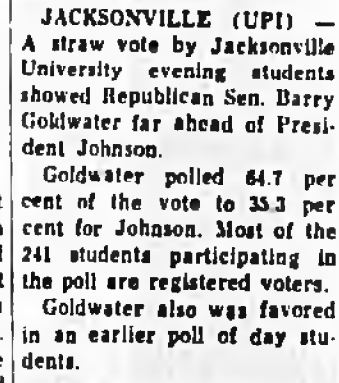

Ralph Alderman, Orlando citrus man, went free last night when a six-man jury returned an innocent verdict on a charge of grand larceny. The jury deliberated slightly more than an hour in reaching its verdict after Circuit Court Judge Thomas Beasley had previously dropped four other counts against Alderman as not being under the jurisdiction of his court—the alleged activities having been held in Orange County. Alderman was charged with having an "agreement" with A. T. Hall, Orlando, former state agriculture inspector, to alter Hall's inspection records so that the two could split a 10 cent boost in the price per box of oranges. Alderman was alleged to have taken thousands of dollars from the Hi-Acres concentrate plant in Forest City—the figure was estimated as high as $200,000. Judge Beasley told the jury to ignore testimony on the other counts which consisted of bribery, conspiracies to commit bribery and grand larceny. The grand larceny count was permitted to stand late yesterday morning and the defense counsel, J. Russell Hornsby, began his portion of the case. He brought in five witnesses who testified as to the character and veracity of Alderman (good) and Hall ("very bad"). Hall testified during the four-day trial that he had entered an "agreement" with Alderman to blik Hi-Acres of the money by changing the inspection records. He was arrested years ago when the sensational citrus case broke and turned state's evidence in this case and a similar one lodged against C. R. Lowdermilk, of Altamonte Springs. Another jury convicted Lowdermilk of the same charges which faced Alderman. He is free pending sentencing. The Florida Agriculture Department has shown considerable interest in the cases which rocked the industry when first exposed. Serving on the jury this week were Richard S. Costello, Winter Park; Clinton F. Gore, Maitland; James S. Ever, Apopka; Lewis Albert Roberts, Robert N. Klimeck, Casselberry. The alternate was Joseph B. Shaw, Sanford. The prosecution was handled by State Atty. Arthur L. (Mike) Steed of Orlando and William D. Hopkins of Tallahassee.

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant ordered a state audit of the accounts of the town of Altamonte Springs requesting the audit from half the freeholders. Mayor E. Lawrence Swafford and other members of the town council asked for the audit after George Bolrow was defeated by Swafford in the primary race for county commissioner. Johnson Leads Sen. Goldwater, UPI Poll Tells WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson is leading in 26 states and the District of Columbia with 433 electoral votes and Sen. Barry M. Goldwater is ahead in 10 states with 71 electoral votes, according to a United Press International survey. In doubt are four states with 34 electoral votes. These are Indiana, Florida, Vermont and North Dakota. This outlook for next Tuesday's election is based on statewide polls, interviews with political leaders and the findings of veteran correspondents throughout the nation. With a Johnson landslide apparently in the offing, the Democrats also seem likely to ride his coattails to slight gains in the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives, and in state governorships. The UPI survey shows the Democrats now hold 34 governorships to the Republicans' 16.

Road Open For Bypass Of Sanford

By Harry I. Johnson
Another ribbon of interstate highway was set in motion this morning when Interstate 4 was opened from Sanford to Highway 436 at Altamonte Springs. Highway 436 has just been rebuilt and widened and the interstate opening was delayed until this was completed. Road officials reported the delay was necessary as without Highway 436 the traffic would have been dumped on a narrow two-lane road near Orlando. With the opening of the section, Interstate 4 is now open from Daytona Beach to Altamonte Springs and from a point in the southern portion of Orlando through to Tampa-St. Petersburg. A short section in Orlando is yet to be completed. District Engineer Richey Green of the State Road Department and Lt. H. Aaron of the Florida Highway Patrol headed a list of officials on hand to watch the removal of the barricades. Green reported the new highway is 10.9 miles long and that traffic travels another 2.8 miles on 436 to reach 17-92. It will then go slightly more than another mile to reach the southern Seminole County line. Asked when the remaining link of the highway would be opened, Green said "not before February of '65." He called that construction project "a major one" and it involves three contractors. When it is completed, traffic will whiz from Daytona Beach to the Tampa-St. Petersburg area in a fraction of the time it took on older highways. The effect of traffic through Sanford on 17-92 was noticed almost immediately. Sanford now is bypassed by the opening of I-4.
