Crop Control Bill Passes House By Vote Of 268-129

Measure Provides Ben- efit Payments For Reduction Of Crops

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Administration leaders broke the House rebellion against the new crop control bill yesterday and obtained passage of the measure 268 to 129, the first concrete action taken on President Roosevelt's program since the special session convened four weeks ago.

The bill, which is designed to stabilize prices through production control of cotton, wheat, corn, rice and tobacco, now goes to the Senate which is considering a widely differing measure.

Prior to the roll call on passage, Administration leaders mused defeat by only nine votes, when a powerful coin bloc offered a motion through Rep. August H. Anderson (R. Minn.), to recommend the bill to the Agriculture Committee for revision. This was rejected 206 to 197.

Because of the differences between Senate and House bills, it was doubted that they could be reconciled in time for final enactment of the measure at the special session.

The Senate, which is expected to vote on its own bill next week, is considering a proposal to pay cooperating farmers "parity" prices on the 1939-40 average while the House payments are on the present floor debate in which Administration forces led by Majority Leader Sam Rayburn (D. Texas), and Chairman Marvin Jones (D. Texas), of the House Agriculture Committee, secured approval of the bill in almost its original form.

Their efforts forced the House to rescind two previous crucial amendments — one eliminating marketing quotas on wheat and the other changing the cotton acreage.

Lighthouse Tender Ties Up At Pier

The United States Lighthouse Tender, Althea, has made the Sanford Municipal Pier a base of operations in Lake Monroe for the past few days.

The trim little tender docked at the Sanford Municipal Pier late Thursday evening. All day yesterday and today the boat and her crew have made their annual inspection of beacons and have removed all debris found in the boat channel in Lake Monroe.

Captain H. H. Vaughan is the commanding officer aboard the craft and he stated that Fort Pierce was the home port of the vessel.

A trim pleasure craft, Zella Moratta, owned and operated by Frank Van Nardin of Miami also docked at the Municipal Pier yesterday afternoon, and these aboard left immediately for Orlando. It was estimated that the craft will remain in Sanford for about two weeks.

35 Persons Killed In Scot Train Wreck

CASTLEBARY, Scotland, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Thirty-five persons are dead and 91 injured after a crash Scottish express train, speeding through a blinding snowstorm, smashed into the rear end of another train stalled on the main Edinburgh-to-Glasgow line.

The first two coaches of the express were wrecked and the locomotive ploughed up an snow-covered embankment in Great Britain's worst railway disaster in 23 years. Of the 91 injured persons, 244 remained in hospitals after all had been given emergency treatment.

When news is left out, the public is quick to condemn and slow to appreciate the mechanical difficulties involved in printing so much news matter and so much advertising matter and having it all come out even in just so many pages. If we knew in advance exactly how many ads we would get and how many news stories would develop, the problem would be simple, but these facts are always subject to the vagaries of life. Often we are faced with the situation where the acceptance of a six-inch ad or the development of a small story will mean the necessity of printing two extra pages or the alternative of leaving out some other news story. The reading public can help by turning their stories in early, and the advertiser can assist by getting his advertising in at the earliest possible moment.

SATURDAY, DEC. 11, 1937

Many a time when a lady appears pensive she is really just thinking to be very expensive. -MAGNOLIA Commercial Appeal.

There seems to be an almost unanimous opinion among newspapermen that the foremost thing needed to revive business is more advertising.

It's funny that this cold wave spread over the country just as President Roosevelt was preparing to turn in the heat at his special session.

Vittorio Mussolini has written a book in which he describes the slaughter of innocent women and children as "beautiful". We've got some people like that at large in this country, too. The Pardon Board should look into it.

Labor disputes are said to have been the country's biggest financial drain. It would not be so bad if the people could afford such luxury, but with nearly ten million unemployed, millions more underemployed, it's a wonder if it can.

Some people are really talking seriously of Col. Lindbergh as the Republican nominee for the presidency. They probably figure that his vast experience in the air would aid him in the halls of Congress while his many long distance hops would help to keep him at least one jump ahead of the job hunters.

Gov. Landon insists he will not be a candidate for governor in 1940; in fact, he will not even accept the nomination if it is handed to him on a silver platter. In short, he has had his fill of Republican nominations. There is absolutely no future in them, just a lot of hard work trying to learn to talk over the radio. Let someone else be the goat next time.

WPA allotments are expanded $23,000,000 a month in order to take care of the increasing lists of unemployed. It is estimated that more than 350,000 additional work relief jobs will have to be furnished during the current winter. Unfortunately who are laid off as industry seeks to retrain must of course be provided for, but one wonders how much longer Uncle Sam will be able to do it. An extra $23,000,000 a month is a lot of money, even for the Uncle.

The Brazilian government, recently gone Fascist (which, to you, is another way of saying nut), has decided that it can't allow any "Mickey Mouse" cartoons to be shown in that country, maintaining that they are of an "anti-democratic" nature and hence derogating to the public morals. One can't imagine how anything subversive could be read into any of the "Mickey Mouse" strips which we have seen. We rather suspect that a government which can't endure "Mickey Mouse" is in a position where it can't endure at all.

What happens when the use of abandoned tenement houses is prohibited by government despite their hazard to human life and adjacent property, is shown by the recent Knoxville fire in which nine persons, seven children and one adult, perished. Local building inspectors condemn buildings which are structurally unsafe. Why should they not condemn tenements which are fire traps? Funds from the Federal Housing Administration will help to rebuild on a safe and decent basis. Benefiting from this program, among others, is Jacksonville, where a new million-dollar housing project is under way.

A Far Reaching Evil

Recent raids conducted jointly by the police department and the sheriff's office on various establishments where "Cuba" tickets and various lists of buyers have been seized, provide the interesting indication that this form of gambling continues a menace to the welfare of this whole community despite efforts of the Grand Jury and law enforcement officials to put a stop to it. It is now perfectly clear that only the most drastic action on the part of the public and officials alike can possibly crown these efforts with success.

For anyone who is familiar with the extent of "Cuba" operations in this county, or who realizes the profits which are derived from the sale of these tickets to thousands of buyers, it is not difficult to understand why the operators do not withdraw from this field since the heat has been turned on and they realize they are running the risk of a prison sentence by their persistence in this illegal activity. There is too much money in it. They are willing to take the chance because of the enormous profits they make.

The Herald has it on good authority that there are no less than twelve major "Cuba" rings operating in this county. It is estimated that each operator has from forty to fifty salesmen disposing of tickets among the people. That would make between 480 and 600 "Cuba" salesmen in this community. Now if each salesman disposed of only ten tickets apiece on the average, that would make a total of around 6,000 "Cuba" tickets which are sold in Seminole County every week.

These figures indicate the far-reaching effect of this lottery racket in this county. They show clearly how "Cuba" contaminates this whole community. In order to dispose of 6,000 tickets in a county of only 21,000 population, they must be sold to a large proportion of our negro population, which ordinarily earns barely enough for the most meager kind of an existence; to many of our boys and girls, who are thus cultivating early in life the habit for gambling; and some of our more prominent citizens, who possibly can afford the losses they incur, but whose obligation to their fellow man should require them to set a better example.

Because so many of our people are being victimized by these lottery racketeers, it may be argued that the rest of us should sit complacently by and watch this lawless element continue to depoll our entire community. We do not think so. That is the same argument which was advanced in favor of slot machines. It is the argument which has been offered in behalf of every crooked and contemptible vice which has ever fastened itself upon mankind.

The way to get rid of rattlesnakes is not to tolerate their existence, but to stamp them out.

Night Driving

Did you know that it is twice as dangerous to drive at night as in the day time? Very likely the main reason for this is the difficulty of seeing adequately. Brilliant headlights do not always suffice. And then too, there is the problem of the other fellow's brilliant headlights, the glare of which is likely to blind you. Furthermore, there is always the chance that someone may be driving on the highway without any lights at all.

A speaker at the recent League of Municipalities reported 60 percent of the automobile fatalities and 48 percent of all motor car accidents occur at night," says the Tampa Tribune. "Night driving may be still more dangerous than the percentage indicates, because there is probably more traffic during the day. If the night driving mileage increased to equal the day mileage, the accident total would increase. As it is, if you are in an automobile accident at night, you are 92 percent more likely to be killed, than in the day.

"The speaker was urging better lighting of streets and highways. Meanwhile, the figures show need for more careful driving at night, and more attention to headlights. Both bright and dim lights are essential. By dim lights, one means bright lights which cast their rays downward, adequately lighting the road close in front while not blinding other drivers. If you only had one light arrangement, the dim lights would be the one you must have.

"You can drive all night anywhere with dim lights. But you cannot drive faster than about 30 miles an hour with dim lights. For faster driving you want lights casting a bright illumination on the road farther ahead. If you are driving at the speed which requires 100 yards in which to stop your car, you demand lights reaching 100 yards—unless you hope to commit suicide by running into a washout, a parked car, or a cow.

"Motorists who enjoy living will not motor unless their car has bright lights, dim lights, and a tail light."

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 10. — Shirley Temple is supposed to be the kiddies' delight, and yet my operative in the foyer of a Glendale theater, the other preview night, will stake her sympathy on the truth of this conversation between two auto-graphing moppets: First: "Gee, but I hope I can get Shirley Temple tonight." Second: "Aw, you can have Shirley. What I want is Beemona Beemona..."

CANDLELIGHT

By NINA OLIVER DEAN

In the December issue of "Fortune," there's another example of the many exciting things that have a way of happening at Rollins. In the story of "Warner Brothers," one learns that it was Richard Burton of the Rollins English faculty who was called to Hollywood by the Warner Bros. and Henry, to hold the final torch of history outside of their production of "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Given by the Rollins publicity office, told me that when "Midsummer Night's Dream" opened in the largest cities, Warner Brothers sent Mr. Burton along to present the literary angle in a lecture. Given says he's such an interesting person that he can even compare with Anka Louisa dressed up in moonbeams and fairies dancing in an enchanted wood.

Given is an interesting person too, and she's very convincing about Rollins because she so sincerely believes in it. She is very much a part of Winter Park and now she is on the verge of becoming a Central Florida resident for Terry Patterson, the boy she is to marry in December lives in Orlando and has invited Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon Patterson to live in Sanford. For that matter, we would all like to claim her.

Lawrence Vincent Benet, the inventor and retired head of the French manufacturing company, La Societe Hotchkiss and Cie, will visit the home of his forefathers in St. Augustine and speak before the St. Augustine Historical Society on the fourteenth of December. The Benet name is one to conjure with, both in Florida history and in the world of literature. Mr. Benet's grandfather was Pedro Benet, a prominent figure in the life of St. Augustine.

Last night in my column, I mentioned a man called "The Situation of the Dawn." I had heard once and when I could remember, I may mail today came a copy of the poem. There wasn't a note attached so I'm taking this way of thanking you, unknown friend I wonder if you know what a thrill I got, not only out of having the poem again, but in the realization that the idea had struck a responding chord somewhere. I can't help but wonder what you are like—whether you are a silver-haired lady, a busy business man with a taste for poetry or a high school student who does "The Big Apple" one day and yawns for the stars the next. Anyway, here's the poem just in show how much I appreciate it. And it's just as splendid as I thought it was and did not derive all its glamour from the sunrise over the "most beautiful lawn in America" at the University of Virginia where I first heard it: "Listen to the Exhortation of the Dawn!"

Look to this Day, For it is Life, the very Life of Life. In its brief course lie all the Vertices and Realities of your Existence; The Bliss of Growth, The Glory of Action, The Splendor of Beauty; For yesterday is but a Dream, And Tomorrow is only a Vision; But today well lived makes Every Yesterday a Dream of Happiness, And every Tomorrow a Vision of Hope.

Look well therefore to this Day! Such is the salutation of the Dawn. From the Suffolk Street girls in the world she's married, too, to Anthony Quinn. —Man Marriage Agency. But June Lang's free again. Mike. How about that? She probably will be married again, soon. He predicts cheerfully, "I've been dating her again recently and I'll have her married off in no time. That's a genuine matrimonial agency. I guess when you add it all up, the thing I do want to do is to introduce the right man."

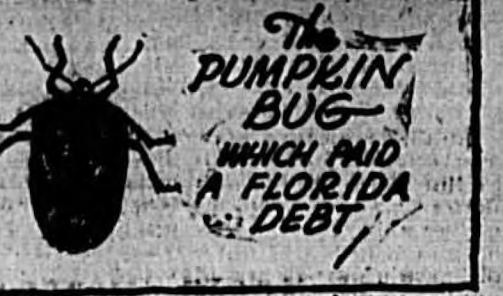

With the "Lucky" full of reports of discommoding among the U's high-ups (all reports do add) the best consolation I've heard is that they turn the stink over to Beemona Beemona. Along with that other one's out.

FLORIDA HIGHLIGHTS

Located on exclusive Bayshore Boulevard in Tampa, is Florida's oddest house. The fourteen colors on its exterior are arranged without rhyme or reason. Even the pillars that support the roof are of different colors and the balcony is of separate shades from the porch. The inside is still more of a conglomeration, as no two curtains, no two shades, no two walls and no two sheets on the beds are of the same color. The dining room is decorated with all the colors of the rainbow. The eaves of the garage are decorated in bas-relief with frogs, lobsters, pelicans, bears and other animals native to Florida. If it is the ambition of the owner, W. L. Blocks, to make it the oddest house in the country, he is about to succeed. Years ago the Australian lady beetle was sent from Australia to California and thence to Florida and it saved citrus groves of both states from destruction by the cottony cushion scale. Recently the pumpkin bug became established in Florida the tachinid fly is the most efficient parasite of the pumpkin bug. It lays its eggs on the back of the pumpkin bug and, when hatched, the tiny grubs bore into its body and it dies. It was only natural that Australia should ask Florida for the parasites to help in combating its own serious pumpkin bug problem. Entomologists of the Florida Experimental Station at Gainesville got busy and collected pumpkin bugs with freshly laid tachinid fly eggs on their backs. They were rushed to Australia by boat and thus one of the queerest debts in Florida's history was paid.

Roosevelt Calls For Higher Rates For Rail Carriers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11. —(AP)—President Roosevelt called yesterday the Interstate Commerce Commission should seek to preserve the solvency of the Nation's railroads with a view to retaining them under private management and private ownership.

Discussing the financial situation of the carriers at a press conference, the President said the quicker a final determination was reached on the roads' application for higher freight rates the better it would be all around.

He said he wanted to avoid government ownership but at the same time, he reminded railroad receiverships could not continue without some steps being taken to adjust their financial set-up.

No Definite Plan. Mr. Roosevelt said the administration had no definite plan to help the railroads, adding the Interstate Commerce Commission was the only Federal agency authorized to deal with the problem.

5 Year Pact Signed By Union Publishers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11. —(AP)—The American Newspaper Publishers' Association and the International Printing Pressmen's union signed a new, five-year arbitration agreement yesterday. It is designed to prevent strikes and lockouts in newspaper press rooms.

James G. Stahlgam, publisher of the Nashville Banner and president of the ANPA, said the agreement "should point the way to others as the only sensible, satisfactory and fair" method for settling employer-employee disputes.

Senator Berry, democrat, Tennessee, president of the pressmen's union said the publishers and the pressmen, in renewing the arbitration agreement, reaffirm their allegiance to peace and to the normal, orderly processes of determining economic differences through the instrumentality of sanity and good will.

The agreement covering 453 daily newspapers provides that the publishers and the union must submit any differences to arbitration if negotiations and mediation fail.

Light for Tommy Jekyll-Hyde!

At this point in his career Tommy is a junior edition of Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde. As Tommy "Jekyll," he snaffles pie, fights, tears his pants. Master Thomas "Hyde," on the other hand, studies hard, washes behind his ears, helps mother. Let's not forget that in either role, he is only a little boy, dependent upon us for help along the way.

Eighty-seven per cent of a child's impressions... including the influences that build character and ability... must reach him through his eyes.

The very least we can do for our children is to make sure they have plenty of the right kind of light for studying and reading. I. E. S. lamps will give correct, glareless, diffused light that makes learning easier... helps to wear off the "Jekyll," add to the "Hyde," make a better citizen!

Sanford Theater News for the Coming Week

Gladys George Has Title Role In Stirring Film

A motion picture to stir the hearts of old and young alike comes to the Ritz screen Tuesday and Wednesday with the presentation of "Madame X" with Gladys George in the memorable title role and a featured cast of artists which includes John Hall in the role of the son and Warren William as the father. Based on the play by Alexandre Dumas, with a fresh screen treatment by John Mosher who adapted such Norma Shearer hits as "The Divorcee" and "A Free Soul," the new picture emerges as a classic of all time, its heart-stirring story of a woman's degradation and ultimate sacrifice to save the name of her son completely modernized in its narrative and the psychological treatment of its characters.

The title role of "Madame X" is no stranger to Gladys George who made it one of the greatest successes in stock previous to her sensational Broadway hit in "Personal Appearance" and her subsequent triumph on the screen in "Valiant" and "The Word for Carris" and "They Were Him a Guy."

John Hall, who played opposite Katherine in "Little Minnie" now appears in his most difficult and most dramatic part as the son who, not recognizing his mother, is forced to defend her in a melodramatic charge. Warren William comes to his new role fresh from his recent hit with Jeanette MacDonald in "The Firefly" and others who have important parts in the new production include Reginald Owen, William Henry, Henry Daniell, Phillip Reed, Lynne Carver and Emma Dunn.

The direction of "Madame X" was entrusted to the veteran Wood, who has established himself as one of Hollywood's foremost directors in both serious and comedy pictures. He is the only one laureate for his masterful direction of "The Sign of the Cross" and "The Sign of the Cross."

MANY LAUGHS IN "DOUBLE WEDDING"

Double stars... double romance... double laughs... that's the combination offered in "Double Wedding," new William Powell-Myrna Loy comedy at the Ritz Theater Sunday and Monday. The hilarious roman's comedy of an itinerant artist and a fashionable modiste is crammed with laughs and grand entertainment for the whole family.

George O'Brien Plays Lead In Film Featuring Adventure And Romance

Thrilling adventure dealing with the boat, just leaving for Honolulu, and later to combat the sea. Previous sea pictures, one of which was "Sea Beneath," which proved a tremendous hit with his followers, convinced producer George A. Hirliman that the public would welcome a change from O'Brien's western roles.

In "Windjammer" O'Brien, as the sea assistant of the California state's attorney, is entrusted with the task of serving a multi-millionaire politician with a ship. He is entrusted to get aboard the boat, just leaving for Honolulu, and later to combat the smugglers, who pick up the yacht party following a storm and shipwreck, make an exciting story against the salty background of the Pacific.

One of the most spectacular scenes in "Windjammer" brings O'Brien and William Hall, who enacts the leader of the smugglers, together in a terrific fight in the hold of the ship, an old four-masted schooner, loaded with munitions. The climax of the scene sees the boat set after by oil lanterns, blown to matches by an explosion.

Constance Worth, beautiful young blonde Australian screen star, who made her American debut in "The Princess" and "The Sign of the Cross," is featured in a supporting role.

Bill Powell And Myrna Loy In New Romantic Comedy

A side-splitting laugh treat is in store for moviegoers who attend the opening at the Ritz Theater this week for the attraction playing there Sunday and Monday will be "Double Wedding," contriving those perennial favorites, William Powell and Myrna Loy, in what is described as a picture even funnier than their famous "Thin Man" series.

Based on the continental stage success, "Great Love" by Fernand Noizet, the new romantic comedy tells the story of four people—Charlie, a penniless but happy-go-lucky artist who makes his home in a trailer; Margit, owner of a fashionable New York gown shop; Irene, her sister with yearnings to be a movie star; and Waldo, Irene's half-hearted suitor.

It is Margit's determination that her sister should marry the somewhat unromantic Waldo, but instead Irene meets the devil-may-care artist and falls completely under his spell. The dignified Margit enacts all the persuasion she can command to break up the affair between Irene and the artist, only in the end to fall a victim to his adaptable charms herself.

It is Powell, of course, who plays the likeliest artist. Usually seen in a heret and smooch, although once making his appearance in nothing more than a pair of pajamas and a comical coat, he has a role which gives him ample opportunity for the sly comedy and wit which has made him celebrated as one of the funniest actors in pictures.

Miss Loy is equally at ease in the part of the gown shop proprietor whose dignity and pride gradually crumbles before the barrage of mirth fired by Powell. Her new role gives her a chance to wear a stunning assortment of gowns, designed by Adria and heralding the latest in fashion innovations.

In the other two leading roles are Myrna Loy as Miss Loy's movie-struck sister, and John Hall as her misquoting suitor. Hall who recently scored in the dramatic role of son in "Madame X" now shows what he can do with strictly comedy portrayal.

CO-STARS IN "MADAME X"

Gladys George and Warren William come to the Ritz Theater Thursday and Friday in "Madame X," which is said to be an amazingly dramatic film filled with heart-stirring tenderness. John Hall, Reginald Owen and William Henry top the list of the supporting cast.

Tim Fish Is Hero Of Sea Picture Coming To Ritz

Making a picture with a "fish" as the hero of the story, and the picture to move or be fascinated, people, a lot of technical backbone that the picture will have, which is what it will win it is what it is.

"Submarine D-1," which opens next Tuesday at the Ritz Theater, is that type of a production and the word "type" isn't used to get it in a class with other pictures. "Submarine D-1" is unique in the respect that the "fish" or "D-1," as it is usually known, is a real personality and goes out to be the hero of the piece.

And another picture dealing with Uncle Sam's forces on land or sea, people a lot of attention on the part of the theatrical management.

First, the story, after our week-end cover in the studio we expect audience interest in to tell the audience just what they can do and what they can't do, in the case of "Submarine D-1," a Warner Bros. production, it was shot in the story line, the picture, the general concept, and then to give hands-on. One, when most of our pictures are made for careful check by the censors who have just what they want to kill.

With these things out of the way, the entire company went to the San Diego, Calif. Naval Base and for more than three weeks went to get daily on submersible, surface, rescue tests and whatever. Even though official photographs had been obtained from Washington, extreme care had to be taken in actual shooting in the different of San Diego was instructed to cooperate only in the spot where a ship's submersible with people continue duties.

Exciting Sweethearts Of The Screen Are Co-Starred In "Second Honeymoon"

Acclaimed by increasing numbers of fans with each new picture as the most exciting sweethearts of the screen, Tyrone Power and Loretta Young are co-starred again in Twentieth Century-Fox's "Second Honeymoon," coming Thursday to the Ritz Theater. Already hailed as the merriest, "marry-out" romance of the year, the film is said to be their perfect picture together. Their love is never again, but this time they mean it with all their hearts.

Love at first sight is romantic enough, Tyrone and Loretta agree, but love at second sight—MMM! They fall for each other twice in this gay hit. After "Lovers and a Turning Point" and "The Sign of the Cross," Tyrone and Loretta have fallen in love all over again.

Having left Tyrone because he was mad, irresponsible and gave her no sense of security, Loretta finds the words him back for the same reason. But a honeymoon renewed is not so easily accomplished as a honeymoon "break," especially when Loretta's second husband is considered. Played by Lyle Talbot, he is a common garden-variety of spouse out-bloomed by the hardy perennial that is Tyrone's and Loretta's love.

There are others, also, who have a say in the matter. There is Stuart Erwin, who is crazy about pretty Marjorie Weaver and, as a conscientious gentleman's gentleman, wants his wife to marry Tyrone, to enter into a similar state of bliss. Then there is Charles Trevor and J. Edward Broderick, a sophisticated couple, carelessly throwing interesting bits of monkeybusiness into the act—unusually running machinery of matrimony.

Jury Being Drawn To Consider Case Of Joe Jarrell

22 Persons Summoned For Jury Duty In Local "Coke" Cases

The legal procedure by which the State will attempt to convict Joseph Jarrell and Simon Kirke on charges of violating the lottery law is set on in recent indictments of the Grand Jury. The case will be tried in the Sanford court. The case will be tried in the Sanford court. The case will be tried in the Sanford court.

Two of the jurors first selected from the venire of 22 persons called for duty were excused following questioning by the attorney for the defendant. However, it is expected that a jury meeting the approval both of the State and the defendant will be selected this afternoon.

The trial of Jarrell is the climax of the extensive investigation of the Seminole County Grand Jury into the operations of the so-called "Coke" racket in Sanford and vicinity.

In their investigating action, a search was made for persons who had been indicted for violation of the lottery law in Sanford and vicinity.

In addition to the two who are being tried, Lewis E. Mitchell was indicted but cannot be located by law enforcing officers. The Grand Jury, whose authority extends over a period of six months, may recommend to the court further information against those believed to be connected with lottery operations in Seminole County.

Empty Stocking Fund Gets $12.50 In 1st. Day Of Drive

Gordon Barnett of Fern Park committee to purchase adequately the first to come forward filled Christmas baskets to leave with a contribution in Seminole at the homes of the poor of Sanford and vicinity.

Pointing out this morning that less than two weeks remain before Christmas, Capt. Fred S. Feren urged all who are financially able to do so and who do not wish to see their neighbors, less fortunate than themselves, go hungry on Christmas day, to get their contributions in early so that proper arrangements can be made for providing for the poor.

"The need this year, I believe," Capt. Feren said, "is greater than ever before. You would be shocked to know how many families there are in Seminole County who will have barely enough to sustain them on Christmas day unless this campaign for the Empty Stocking Fund is successful."

It is the plan of the campaign

Letters To Santa Claus Pour Into Herald Office As Christmas Nears

The fact that Christmas is near can be readily seen in the number of letters addressed to Santa Claus which The Herald has received during the past few days.

Numbers and many times odd are the children's requests of the Yuletide Spirit and all are sent him with a plea for a visit on Christmas Eve.

Some of the letters The Herald has received are as follows:

Please bring me (Robert Hill) age 7, an Indian Suit and a white cap, Marbles airplane that will fly up and down. And me (Joe Hill) age 4, an Indian Suit, a fire chief cap, a G man cap, a little airplane cap. I thank you Santa Claus.

Christmas Spirit Pervades Sanford Survey Discloses

Stores Of Local Merchants Are Decorated For Christmas

A festive spirit pervades the downtown section of Sanford as local merchants decorate their store windows and interiors in preparation for the annual influx of Yuletide shoppers. From one end of First Street to the other, Christmas decorations have either been arranged or are in the process of taking form, and on every hand there are the familiar signs that Santa Claus will soon be here.

As one walks along the main business artery of Sanford, eastward from the Roussell and Anderson Drug Store, by Ivey's Shoe Store, Yorell's and West's, the casual observer will be visibly impressed with the efforts made to dress up for old Saint Nicholas.

On the other side of the street, across a block, the store of the Yonkers Drug Co. has decorated its display with the holiday scene, while further along Joe's and Elizabeth's, the Florida Power and Light Co., Loney's Book Store, and Sedgwick's have all decorated in the spirit of Christmas by generous use of colored crepe paper, tinsel and other ornaments.

In the next block the Hill Hardware Co. has an extensive window display featuring the many lines this firm handles and attractively arranged in the Yuletide spirit. Across the street, the Sanford Furniture Co. is decorated in yards and yards of colored streamers. Further along Tule & Mathies, the Seminole Creamery, Home's and Mow's have decorated up their windows with attractive decorations.

Along Magnolia Avenue, the Scott Caraway window stands out as an example of decorative skill, emphasizing the holiday spirit. The note of Christmas is evident at Mathew's with a large display of toys displayed while Sally's Baby Shop goes in strong for a winter atmosphere reveal for doors and windows illustrating the work of Jack Frost.

Colman's, Randall Electric Co., Berzen and the Sanford Electric Co. are gay with crepe paper, tinsel and imitation Christmas trees, and this same motif is carried out by the Hagyard Pharmacy and by Stanley's Reggae over on Sanford Avenue.

All in all, Sanford presents a festive appearance and the influx of throngs on the streets are sure indication that the efforts of merchants to make their stores attractive have not been without avail.

St. Mary's Celtics Begin Arriving For Tilt Wednesday With Blackcats

The St. Mary's Celtics, professional football team of the Dixie Pro League who engage the local Blackcats here Wednesday night at the Seminole High School Field in the first of a series of three games planned for central Florida teams arriving here over the week-end for their mid-week appearance.

The Celtics, highly touted team of the southern outfit, worked out at the Jacksonville Municipal Stadium, Saturday afternoon as a large crowd looked on. Coaches of the three senior high schools at Jacksonville and the two junior high schools had their squads out to watch the top-notch gridiron performance.

Other central Florida games the Celtics will play are at Leesburg, Friday evening Dec. 17 with George Miller's All-Stars and at Orlando the following Tuesday evening, Dec. 21 with another All-Star aggregation.

One American Seaman Is Killed, 18 Are Injured In Attack On Yangtze River Boat

Vigorous Protest Is Made By Hull

President Says Action Will Be Determined On Patriotic Basis

SHANGHAI, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Tuesday the British gunboat Bee reported early today she had rescued eight Americans, seven of them seamen from the United States gunboat Panay, sunk in the Yangtze River above Nanking by Japanese warplanes Sunday. These rescues brought to 81 the known survivors among the 72 persons believed to have been aboard the Panay when she was bombed. The report from the Bee further said it was understood the two other Americans—not included in the 81—were safe ashore. One seaman died of wounds. Fifty-four were known to be ashore at Hsiaohai about 35 miles upriver from Nanking. 15 of them wounded, some gravely. At Washington, Japanese Ambassador Hiroshi Arima called on Secretary Hull to express his government's "deep regret" over the bombing.

It was believed the Panay was hit late Sunday and that she went down almost immediately. The last direct radio from the ship were heard at 1:30 P. M. Sunday, when she was in contact with the U. S. gunboat Lason. The operator on the Panay stopped sending in the middle of a sentence, and it was feared then the Panay had been hit. United States officials in Shanghai attempted throughout the night to get in touch with the Panay, and were not gravely worried until 10 A. M. when the first reports the ship had been sunk came in.

The U. S. State Department received reports in Washington that the following 15 American nationals were in Nanking on December 7 and some of them may have been on the Panay. Dr. Earle M. S. Italy Formally Withdraws From League

ROME, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini Saturday announced Italy's formal withdrawal from the league of nations and defied the world's democracies to clash with his military strength. To 100,000 rain-drenched and cheering fascists, Mussolini shouted: "We are leaving a tumbling temple where there is no talk of peace, but where wars are prepared."

"We are not afraid of the threats of democracy, which leave us indifferent. We have many land, sea and air weapons tempered in two victorious wars." He stood in a driving rain on the balcony of Venice palace, a searchlight dramatically picking out his unformed figure. Widens Gulf

Mussolini's announcement to the crowd massed before the palace carried him into closer alliance with Germany and Japan, which previously had renounced the league, and widened the already threatening gulf between the fascist bloc and the Geneva powers led by France and Great Britain.

Many diplomats believed Mussolini's announcement brought the league of nations to the crossroads of its prestige, because four of the world's great powers—the United States, Germany, Japan and Italy—are not represented in the forum. Mussolini denied that Germany and Japan, with whom he aligned himself six weeks ago in a pact against communism, brought pressure resulting in his decision.

"Our Berlin and Tokyo friends have been very discreet," he said. New Course Seen

He proclaimed Italy's intention to continue a policy of "collaboration for peace" despite her recent denunciations. Observers believed the move meant a new (Continued on page two)
